NO ODDS PLACED ON ANY SCHOOLS IN STATE MEET

State Basketball Tourney Should Prove Better Than Previous

26 TEAMS COMPETE

Dopesters Unable to Pick Winners by Comparing Standing Scores

Plans are now nearing completion for the staging of what is expected to terminate in the best basketball tournament this state has witnessed.

Dopesters claim that every team in the state is playing a different and better brand of basketball than they have in previous years. This would indicate that the games played in the University gymnasium on March 5, 6, 7 and 8 will probably be more interesting than ever before.

26 Teams to Compete

Ned Martin, president of the Block N Society, states that he has not heard from all the teams to which he sent entry blanks, but that approximately 15 boys' teams and 11 girls' teams will contest. The following teams will be included: Elko, Reno, Fallon, Carson, Battle Mountain, Lovelock, Winnemucca, Gardnerville, Yerington, Virginia City, Dayton, Sparks and Tonopah.

It is difficult to give any one team the complete edge over the others for Elko, Fallon, Sparks, Carson, Battle Mountain, Reno, Gardnerville and Winnemucca seem evenly matched.

Housing Question Settled

The housing situation will be met by the fraternity and sorority houses, and Lincoln and Manzanita halls. Teams having only a comparatively short distance to come will be required to house themselves. All teams will eat at the "go house" with the exception of Reno and Sparks.

The games begin March 5 and will continue through March 8. The boys' contests will be refereed by members of Block N and, if possible, University women will be obtained to referee the girls' games.

PHOTOS OF DEATH CELL PRESENTED TO MUSEUM

The Historical Society museum has recently added to its collection the mounted pictures of the lethal gas chamber in the prison yard at Carson. These pictures were on display at the Cann drug store at the time of the Gee Jon execution and have since been presented to the museum by the photographer, Roy Curtis.

Other recent gifts are a year's subscription to the National Geographic Magazine, the gift of Miss Grace M. Lamb of Tonopah; a booklet on Senator Francis G. Newlands, published in 1914, and presented by James D. Finch, Reno attorney; the 1923 files of the Inyo Register from the publisher, W. A. Chalfant of Bishop, which contains a series of articles entitled "Outposts of Civilization"; and the 1923 prize stories of the Robert McCutcheon Brown Memorial contest.

Among other western books, the museum now has "Fifty Years on the Trail" by O'Reilly, and "The Building of the Pacific Railway" by Sabin.

ILLNESS DELAYS DR. SHAW

Dr. S. I. Shaw of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, who has been working as a detached member of the Reno staff, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., on the problem of "New Uses of Silver," is now convalescent after a serious operation, and again able to take up his work. This will probably delay his arrival in Reno two months.

Girl Shows Speed But Poor Control

Sunday morning calls and baseball don't go well together. Not if you are a girl and can't throw straight. More particularly if you burn a straight one through the windshield of the traffic cop's car.

Also if the traffic cop shows his star and says, "Come along with me."

But if you are visiting the S. A. E. house, where chivalry is not yet dead, you are safe. S. A. E. will furnish a substitute for you.

Banister and Rutherford were the substitutes recently. They climbed into the car with the splintered windshield and went to jail.

But they're out now.

Saints, Playing Since Early Part Season, Only Twice Have Met Defeat

After two sensational games of last week, the Nevada Wolves are putting a strenuous week of practice in preparation for the St. Ignatius quintet on Friday and Saturday nights.

The Saints are coming to Reno with a fast team, and have a record of being defeated only twice. They have been playing since early in the season and from all accounts are quite the berries of a basketball team.

HILL AND VENSTROM ARE AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS

The Robert Lewers scholarships were awarded this week to Margaret Hill and Cruz Venstrom. This is the first time that the award has been granted since the establishment of the fund for this purpose in 1923.

These scholarships are given as a memorial to Robert Lewers by the Scottish Rite bodies of Masonry in Nevada. They are to be awarded each year in February by the University Scholarship Committee.

The scholarships have a value of $150 each, and are granted to the worthiest man and woman student who have completed the first semester of a regular freshman year's work. The recipients must be of a Nevada family, or graduates of a Nevada high school, and must be enrolled for the second semester's work of the freshman year.

LIFE DIPLOMA GIVEN NEVADA GRAD OF '18

Georgiana Steiner, who completed the two-year normal course at the University of Nevada in 1918, and who is now an instructor at the Orvis Ring school in Reno, was given an elementary school life diploma at the meeting of the state board of education held in Carson last week.

Miss Steiner taught her first year at Wadsworth. Since then she has been teaching the primary grades in Reno schools.

Frances Yerington was called home to Carson City by the death of her father last Sunday morning. Although she will shortly return to college, she was granted a leave of absence.

ENGINEERS PLAN ANNUAL DAY FOR MARCH FIFTEENTH

All Machinery in Labs to Be Running; Classes Excused for Day

TO END WITH DANCE

Afternoon Will Be Given to Entertainment; Comedy to Reign Supreme

By R. P. FINLAY

Friends, Nevadans, and fellow students!

March 15, the "day of days" is fast approaching, bringing with it the traditional abundance of fun and enlightenment. All departments of engineering have been carefully planning and laboring toward the development of a successful Engineers Day. The formula being applied in the process is patience plus determination plus much labor. Great results are expected.

All Labs Open

The entire morning will be taken up with the demonstration and exhibition of all shop and laboratory equipment.

WORLDISTS INTERESTED IN CHINA CONTROVERSY

China today, with particular emphasis on the southern part of the celestial republic and the position taken by the younger generation with regard to the revolution between the northern and southern factions, will be the subject discussed at the meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club this evening. The worldists will meet at the home of Dean Maxwell Adams on West Ninth street.

China, according to those members of the Cosmopolitan Club who know, conditions over there, is proving a tangled question in Far East affairs, and the paper to be read at the mundialist meeting should prove interesting.

Mr. Fawn, who has recently returned from the southern district of the Chinese Republic, is well informed as to the conditions, and his paper on the question is being looked forward to with interest.

The time set for the meeting is 7:30.

WOMEN'S SAGEBRUSH TO BE PUBLISHED MARCH 20

The date for the publication of the women's issue of The Sagebrush has been definitely set for March 20. Upon this date the women will put out the entire edition with as little help from the men as possible.

Several changes have been made in the organization of the women's staff. Eleanor Siebert has been appointed women's sports editor with complete charge of this department. Lucile Blake is now society editor and Freda Fuetsch has been appointed correspondent with full charge of the new Intercollegiate Correspondence organization which has recently added The Sagebrush to its list of staff members.

Two new women have been appointed to take positions on the women's staff. They are Mildred Griffin, '27, and Carol Ames, '27.

ORGANIZATIONS, NOTICE!

The Finance Control Committee will assume no obligations involving the expenditure of student body funds except such as the committee itself shall have specifically authorized. This authorization was written into the minutes of the committee Tuesday night.

A budget system is being worked on by the committee at the present time and each organization will be expected to keep within the limitations of their budget.

Class of '25 to Stage Week of Festivals to Fill an Average Month

A ROARIN' '49 CAMP

Comstock Era of Dance Hall Girls to Be Vividly Shown to Campus

March 17 is St. Patrick's Day and also it is the beginning of Junior Week. Stunts will start early St. Patrick's Day in the mornin' and will continue until Saturday midnight. Thursday of that week will be Junior Cut Day and the entire class will go picnicking with lunch and music.

Impromptu stunts by the talented members of the class will startle the campus at the Friday morning assembly.

Razors Discarded

Sunday was the day that all men should have put the razor away with the cobwebs in the medicine closet along with the sticking plaster and bay rum, for they will have no need of them, since all the men are now on their back-to-nature program. From all appearances some campus men have

WOMEN SUGGEST RULES TO GUIDE TENNIS FANS

Members of the Women's Athletic Association feel that definite rules should be adopted in regard to the use of the University tennis courts, and the following suggestions have been made:

1. When people are waiting to use the courts, the players may finish their set, but should not start another.
2. University students and faculty shall have precedence over all others in the use of the courts.

If these rules are approved at the next general meeting of the association, they will be posted in a conspicuous position near the courts.

D. A. E. TO STAGE ONE-ACT PLAY DURING APRIL

Delta Alpha Epsilon, women's honorary English society, will stage a one-act play at a downtown theatre in April.

Miss Dorothy Ross will conduct tryouts for the cast as soon as the Campus Players' rush is over. While only members of D. A. E. will be eligible for parts, the society has ample material from which to choose. Lucile Blake, Dorothy Ross and Bertha Standfast are among those who have already had some stage experience.

A Shakespearian farce is the task of new members of D. A. E. yet to be bid. This will be a campus affair, however, for the entertainment of the student body.

If the one-act play is a success, D. A. E. may stage several skits in the Education building. Committees are at work on plans.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY SCHEDULED FRIDAY

Classes are being held this year on February 22 because the University is forced to have a certain number of days in its school year to meet the standardizing requirements of the eastern educational boards.

James T. Boyd, Reno attorney, will speak to a general student and faculty assembly in the auditorium of the Education building at 11:20 tomorrow. His subject will be "Washington and Lincoln."

Football Expert Takes Eastern College Offer

Receives Word That He Has Been Appointed Track and Football Mentor at North Carolina State; Has Done Great Work Here in Last Two Years

Lawrence ("Buck") Shaw, Nevada football line coach, will leave for North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C., at the end of this semester. Shaw received word Saturday that he had been appointed head football and track coach at that institution at an increased salary. He will be under J. F. Miller, formerly at Missouri, who is athletic director.

Head Coach R. O. ("Corky") Courtright, when asked concerning his plans for the coming year, refused to comment but stated that he would announce his decision within three weeks.

ACCEPTS NEW POST

"Buck" will coach a team that is a member of the Southern Conference. North Carolina plays such teams as Penn State, Georgia Tech, Washington and Lee, West Virginia, Maryland and Trinity.

Negotiations between Shaw and North Carolina State have been pending since January 19.

Came in 1922

"Buck" came to Nevada from Notre Dame in 1922 and, due to his efforts, in connection with those of "Corky" Courtright, the Varsity has since been the talk of the Coast.

When he first came here as line coach he found a bunch of men who were just suited to his methods and from them he built a forward wall which withstood the attacks of the best teams on the Pacific slope. As a climax Shaw's line held the California eleven powerless throughout the entire game.

Brought New Methods

Before "Buck" came to Nevada, the line had little to work with. With his advent, however, a bucking machine was installed and every night the Nevada forwards were seen pushing the cumbersome machine over and around Mackay field. It was in this way that the line was built up and it was due to his efforts that it has made such a wonderful showing in the past two years.

His activities were not alone on the football field as he was appointed coach of the Goof basketball team and head coach of track. He has done his job well and the entire University wishes him luck on his career in the southern states.

NEW TRADITION TO BE CELEBRATED TOMORROW

Varsity Day, the latest of Nevada's traditional days, will be celebrated tomorrow. Every numeral, sweater and Block N will be worn by those who have earned the right.

Nevada's new tradition is to be started to stimulate interest in wearing letters and numerals earned in any kind of meeting of the Block N society last campus sports. It was suggested at a Wednesday that this would be a way to get Nevada men to wear their letters at all varsity games. This is practiced by other colleges on the coast.

Block N's, Circle N's and numerals have just been awarded so it was suggested that Friday would be an opportune time to celebrate Varsity Day.

BLOCK N ARE HOSTS AT CAMPUS JITNEY

Saturday night the second dance of the semester is due. Block N will entertain the campus at an informal evening after the basketball game.

The chief reason for the affair is a general good time and get-together, though a secondary cause is need of replenishment of the Block N treasury.

The dance will be held at the Century Club on Riverside Drive. The best music available has been obtained. Admission price is set at 75 cents per couple. The time is after the game, and the guests are the whole student body.

LINE COACH "BUCK" SHAW, who will go to North Carolina State College this fall where he has secured the position as head coach of football and track.

40 STUDENTS HEED PLEAS FOR TALENT

Tryouts for Campus Players one-act plays, to be staged next April, were started Monday afternoon with 40 would-be actors trying for roles. This is the largest number that ever tried out for a University play. Of the 40 who signed up Wednesday, 25 were women and 15 were men.

Considerable talent was displayed at the first trying-out having had considerable amateur dramatic experience.

The tryouts, which are being conducted under the direction of Dr. H. W. Hill and Miss Dorothy Ross, will probably continue until the end of next week before the casts are chosen.

While the plays to be used have not been definitely decided on, the final selection will probably lie between "Bad Debts," a Vassar College prize play; two of Booth Tarkington's one-acts, "The Trysting Place" and "The Ghost Story"; and "The Love Pirate," a one-act farce written by George Ford.

The plays are to be presented in the auditorium of the Education Building some time during the first part of April. Members of Campus Players are to assist in directing the plays after the casts have been chosen.

STUDENT RELIEF QUOTA IS FILLED

Faculty Contributes $100 to Swell Nevada Share of Required Sum

By WALKER G. MATHESON

Nevada has come through to the tune of $366 for the Russian student relief. This sum is $66 in excess of the minimum quota expected from this University. The grand total is still incomplete, with several organizations and individuals yet to be heard from. It is doubtful, however, whether Nevada will go over the 400 mark in the number of round dollars contributed.

Reports have been received from the Pacific headquarters in San Francisco expressing pleasure with the way the Nevada students have dug down in their jeans and poured out their allowance money. Although the amount received was the specified quota, those in charge of the relief were surprised at the quick action taken by the students of the Hill. They expected the first checks to come dribbling in their mails beginning with next month. It is believed that Nevada has been the first to fill its quota.

Faculty Contributes

President Walter Clark conducted a personal campaign amongst the members of the faculty. The results are overwhelming. The profs gave over $100 to the relief, which is one-third of the total sum raised on the Hill. The exact figure for the relief has as yet not been announced from the president's office, as all returns are not as yet complete. Even at that, the century mark as far as silver disks are concerned, has been more than topped.

The figures as announced yesterday by Richard Hardin give the men credit for raising something like $117, with $30 still outstanding in the way of pledges. The faculty has given $100 plus. The women have given $119 of hard saved lipstick money, and there are many dollars still pledged, which are not payable until the first of next month, according to Justine Baidt, on the women's committee.

Organizations Come Through

Each fraternal organization on the Hill, with the exception of one, has donated to the relief from the common treasury. Every sorority has sent in a check. This is in addition to the individual contributions made since the day of the opening of the campaign on the campus. Although Nevada has not come through 100 per cent strong, the ratio is 50 cents per student, which is comparatively high.

With the results of the campaign to aid the starving students keep the "Light of Learning" burning brightly, Nevada can well feel proud for what it has done. And now that we have given out mite-on with the dance: there is no niggardliness here!

The clatter, grinding and general productive noises of running machinery will attract the public's attention as they wander about the campus on this eventful day. Miners, mechanics, civil engineers, electrical engineers, engineers of all descriptions will all be at their posts of duty.

The factory atmosphere of the labs will be savored by the amusing and phenomenal scientific stunts that each department will put on in their respective laboratories.

Plenty of Comedy

In the afternoon all seriousness will be dropped and the engineers will resort to amusing the public with all manner of peculiar mechanical devices. Mechanical comedy will reign in all its attractiveness. There is no question but what this part of the entertainment will appeal to everyone, even the Buck Grabbers and Arts and Science people.

To prove the engineers' proud statement that they never do things by halves a big dance will be the feature of the evening. After a whole day of no school filled full of profit and pleasure, all hands should be in prime shape for the call of jazz music. At any rate the gymnasium will be fitted up for a dance and good music is assured.

U. of N.

CONGRATULATIONS IN ORDER

Among the valentines received on St. Valentine's Day by Mr. and Mrs. "Buck" Shaw was a baby daughter, Mary Joan.

The Nevada line coach is receiving congratulations from his many friends on the campus.

A few of the Aggies have whiskers that resemble haystacks; several of the engineers have reported that a few of the early spring robins have sought out their whiskers in which to build nests; a slight fuzz has been reported to have been seen on the faces of some of the cruder Arts and Science men.

Cambodians To Refuse Gift

It is expected that by midnight of March 22, there will have been enough whiskers grown to stuff all the mattresses in Cambodia. Unfortunately these whiskers will be lost, as the Cambodians do not use mattresses. The barbers are already beginning to wail.

The Whiskerino will be the crowning glory of the week's celebration. The days of '49 will come to life again and roulette wheels, gambling tables and beautiful dancing girls will make the old gold-digging days very modern and realistic—gold digging, a pastime of Comstock days, will be a feature of the Whiskerino when the girls start playing the devil-spin wheel for two dollars to perhaps win a five-cent lollypop, the boys shouldn't be frightened. It's gold digging in disguise.

'24 Started Whiskerino

The class of '24 first had the idea of a Junior Week and Whiskerino. It was such a rip-roaring success that the class of '25 decided to make it a new University of Nevada tradition; '25's plans for Junior Week are now complete.

Artemisia Art Says:

The junior and senior pictures for the 1924 Artemisia have been sent to the engraver and the records are in the hands of the printer. The copy, with the exception of two or three write-ups and part of the athletic section, is either in the office or at the printer's.

During the next few days the staff will be busy preparing the panels for the engraver.

If you have any snapshots, get them in to the Artemisia office in the basement of the Physics building as soon as possible. Everyone has at least one or two snapshots which will be of interest to the whole campus. Mark your name on the backs of the pictures or enclose the negatives in an envelope and we will return the pictures or negatives to you.

The staff has been working hard on the semi-centennial feature section which will be composed of many old pictures pertaining to the University from its inception until the present time.

Due to the fact that the semester extends two weeks longer than formerly, the book will not be out on Mackay Day, but will appear shortly thereafter.

ecided to give up his law course and turn baseball player. He signed a contract with the Cincinnati Reds and left last week to join them at their spring training camp. He will be sadly missed by the Red and Blue as he was one of the fastest men on the team and their outstanding star.

St. Ignatius is blessed with a team of veterans who have played together more or less for the past three years. They are all stars and should show the Wolves a mean time.

Center Is New

O'Neill and O'Brien will take care of the two forward positions and should give the fans a real thrill. They are both fast and have a dead eye on the basket.

Ruhlan, a new man on the team, will be in the pivot position and is in line to give "Spud" Harrison two tough evenings. He is a tall, rangy chap and will give the red-head a terrible run for the tip-off.

Morrissey and Capt. Needles are stationed at the guard positions and from all the dope they are about the best on the coast.

Wolves Are Ready

The Wolves are in first-class shape and are ready to give the Saints the toughest battle they have run up against this season. They have been practising hard for the past week and are in better condition than at any other time during the season.

Coach Martie will probably start the same lineup as he did in the Davis games and from the showing made in those two speed-burners, the Wolves will give the boys from Hayes street a merry two evenings.

From comparative scores the two teams are on a par, so with little to choose from it looks as if the games tomorrow and Saturday nights should even eclipse the ones of the past week.

PRACTICAL JOKERS BUSY ABOUT SORORITY HOUSES

Unknown marauders annexed the property of sorority houses and distributed it impartially to the wrong owners last Saturday night.

The Pi Phi house discovered a stone urn belonging to S. A. O. decorating its porch next morning. The looters broke a painted lamp hanging in the sun-porch of the Gamma Phi house and made off with numerous pillows. Kappa Alpha Theta found the Pi Phi coat-of-arms hanging in place of the electric house sign. Only the Tri-Delts were unmolested.

NEWSPAPERS TO BE SENT FIRST CLASS

As a result of several months of investigation and study by experts of the postoffice department, Postmaster General New has issued the first definite, concise and complete program that has ever been put out by the department for the mailing, transmission and delivery of newspapers.

This order is most important. It is far reaching. It gives the same expedition to newspapers as is accorded to first-class mail.

The order is the result of painstaking effort on the part of the postoffice inspectors, under the direction of First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett. Carefully worded and minute instructions have been issued to all employees engaged in handling the mails, so that there will be no possibility of misunderstanding the importance of getting newspapers to the reader with a minimum of delay.

The essence of the order is that newspapers shall not be mixed with parcels post at any point in their dispatch from the publishers' offices until their delivery to the addressees. Papers shall be handled by themselves, and kept in constant transit, not being sent to railway terminals to be reworked. In other words, they are to be handled in the same manner as first-class mail.

An important feature of the order is that no publication shall be given any less efficient or less expeditious treatment than at present. That means that publications other than newspapers will not suffer one iota from this progressive innovation, made by the postoffice department.

YOU CAN'T MAKE A BALL PLAYER, SAYS JOHNSON

"Baseball players are born, not made," said Walter Johnson, famous big league pitcher, at a men's dinner and social evening at the Baptist church last week.

"Love of the game is the first requirement. Monetary attraction alone will not make a ball player. Even the best of ball players have their 'off-days' but they must make up their minds to come back tomorrow.

"You can't watch the crowd and play ball at the same time. The good player doesn't know whether there is a big crowd or not.

"People who think a good pitcher needs to know every curve are wrong. Good pitchers primarily need speed and control." These were some of the replies Johnson gave to questions asked by fans.

The Buck Grabbers, a club of University business students, attended the dinner in a body as guests of Mr. Doyle, an honorary Buck Grabber.

RUNNIN' BLOOD

Part 4—More Gore

Sheriff Willyum was describing the delightfully splendid act of hanging; the condemned man was groaning louder than ever. "Naw, it don't hurt much, Pete," remarked the sheriff, in the tones of a man who had gone through the experience more than once. "Just kinda makes your neck sorta ache a bit, Ah reckon. Anyhow, think o' the entertainment you-all providin' to your fellow cit'zens, who ain't seen a real, honest t'Gawd hangin' since las' Friday. Don' last long, neither. You-all jest stands thur, and th' rope goes over you-all's neck, and then—up you goes, into th' leaves o' the tree like a bird, an' you-all's neck stretches 'til it can't stretch no mo' and then it sorta cracks, Ah reckon, and then you-all's in eternal darkness. Hell, hangin' ain't nothin'!"

On a sudden, through the fast encroaching darkness, a flash of fire shot out, followed by a voice: "Hey, Sheriff! Leggo my ol' man, will ya? Maw says he cussed her out, and she wants t' lick 'im 'fore you-all ties his neck up in a sack."

Dead Eye Pete groaned. "Ooh, Angelina, darlin' daughter. Anythin' but that—don't let yer maw get me. Go ahead with th' hangin', Sheriff. Anythin' better'n havin' that ol' woman o' mine whalin' the stuffin's out'n me."

Sheriff Willyum looked from father to daughter. One, an old weather-beaten, copper-colored type of successful rancher and gold-digger; the other a mere wisp of a girl, beautifully and exquisitely shaped, and an even more successful gold-digger than her father. Then said the sheriff: "Naw, you-all's ol' woman cain't have 'im. He's mine; I shot 'im personally. I'm going t' hang 'im myself, 'thouten th' ol' woman puttin' in her share, 'n maybe killin' the wretch in cold blood."

Angelina put on a pleading air. "But," she said, "if Maw does kill 'im, you kin hang th' ol' woman instead of Paw."

All this time Dead Eye kept up an incessant groaning. He sounded for all the world like a dentist's drill in an overgrown molar. He felt like that, too.

But the sheriff, disregarding Angelina's pleadings, would not give up his victim. Dead Eye was beginning to feel happier than ever before since the time of his fifth wedding. Hanging, he thought, was an easier way out of it all, anyhow. He became philosophical. What is the use of life, he pondered?

Angelina put in her last plea. Tears rolled down her cheeks, and her lower jaw trembled like an aggravated jelly in an earthquake. At the sheriff's emphatic final "Naw!" she pulled her gun and shot.

The keeper of the law fell, writhing in pain.

CAMPUS PLAYERS NOT TO SMEAR UP WALKS AGAIN

The night before the "Irresistible Marmaduke" four industrious members of the student body spent their energy painting signs to advertise the play. The signs caused much attention, but resulted in notoriety instead of publicity.

Murray Johnson, business manager for Campus Players, states, "The Crucible Club had a meeting on Wednesday night. Friday the signs were removed by some of the members of Campus Players, who had decided that they had been there long enough. The following Thursday an article appeared in The Sagebrush to the effect that the Crucible Club had given orders to Campus Players to remove the sign in front of the Mining building.

"None of the members of Campus Players had heard of this order until it appeared in The Sagebrush, but they removed the signs the Friday before. I am sorry that the signs were painted on the sidewalks of the campus, as they are not the place for advertising. Hereafter publicity for the plays will be confined to the bulletin boards."

CORRECTION

A double typographical error in the last issue of The Sagebrush made the score of a basketball game between the Douglas County High School and Sigma Alpha Omega read 404 to 6. The correct score was 40 to 6 in favor of the Gardnerville team.

In God we trust; college students must pay cash!

As for that five bucks we owe you, we would rather owe it to you all our life than cheat you out of it.

When we first entered college we used to think that the Greenhouse was a place where they kept freshmen.

"Old-Timer Spills Hop on He-Jinx"—Headline in The Sagebrush. Careless of him, wasn't it? Of course, that's as good a place as any to spill it; but then hop shouldn't be entrusted to old men with dropsical tendencies.

Which, by the way, wasn't all that dropped in at the He-Jinx. Did you see those five sweet young things that Santa Claus brought to sing for us? Too bad they didn't get there sooner. They missed all the best part of the show.

Due to the increasingly large amount of correspondence received by this column, communications must be limited to 15,000 words and written on the wrong side of the paper to secure publication. Writers will stand a better chance of having their communications answered if accompanied by a self-addressed, plainly stamped, unbreakable envelope, a ten-dollar bill and two ham sandwiches. We have in this week's mail:

Dear Sirs: I am a constant reader of your colyum, and I like it because it is so simple. Could you please tell me why it is that they build the left-hand side to all streets when it is against the law to drive on the left-hand side?

RUTH U DUMM.

Dear Miss R. U. Dumm: That's easy. The left-hand side of the street was built for left-handed drivers and the leaping tuna.

TO "BUCK" SHAW

They tell us that you won't be here this fall, "Buck"—that you've accepted another job.

We think you are the best line coach that ever stepped on the gridiron—and we hate like the dickens to see you leave.

Yes, sir, we are mighty sorry to see you leave—but we're glad, too. Glad because your new position will mean great things to you—because it is a recognition of the work you have done—the wonderful work you've done for Nevada in two short years.

Here's wishing you all the luck and success in the world, "Buck"—but we sure wish you didn't have to go.

AN EXPLANATION

There being a reason for everything, it goes without saying that there is one back of The Sagebrush's change from eight to six pages.

To be perfectly truthful, there are two reasons for the reduction in size—the first is lack of advertising and the second is the editor.

A newspaper is dependent upon its advertising and to keep financially above board, the "ads" must bring in enough revenue to pay for the costs of printing and mailing.

Until the first of the year The Sagebrush had no trouble in securing enough advertising to pay for its operating costs—but since that time there has been a marked falling-off.

The Sagebrush lost money for five straight issues—failed to make expenses until a week ago when the change to six pages took place.

So that's the first reason for a smaller "Brush."

Less advertising means more printed matter—and more printed matter means more work on the editor's part.

Now a college newspaper editor—popular opinion to the contrary—is only human. He can go just so far on an average of six hours sleep a night, black coffee, and no recreation.

He can grind along on such a schedule until Nature steps in and says, "Listen here, you've got to slacken up a bit. If you don't, I'll make you."

Nature said just that to the writer. The problem of filling eight pages with printed matter when there was only enough actual news to fill six, was taking every minute of the editor's time. Every spare minute—every day—seven days of the week.

The editor had reached the stage where he couldn't even get along with himself—much more with anyone else. He had the "heebie jeebies" for fair.

And that's the second reason for a smaller "Brush."

But the reduction is only temporary. The Sagebrush will revert to eight pages as soon as the business manager gives the word.

You may help by showing Reno merchants that advertising in The Sagebrush actually brings results. You may help by simply telling the merchants that you saw their "ad" in this paper. It's an easy thing to say, but the more you say it the quicker we can give you an eight-page paper again.

Meanwhile the editor will attempt to catch up on sleep—and at least look at the pictures in his text books.

INSURRECTION TO PRINT

Must another tradition be abolished? Must the He-Jinx go the way of the Freshman Hay-Ride and the Dummy Rush?

Better it should than risk a repetition of some phases of the Jinx last Thursday night.

A certain freedom in the manner of entertaining a crowd of men is allowable. The "shady" story—the "risque" joke—both are permissible if they have the redeeming feature of cleverness.

But there is no excuse for brazen, out-and-out vulgarity.

We have witnessed dozens of army shows, but we never heard anything that even approached some of the stuff that was ladled out at the He-Jinx.

To classify it as crude and coarse would be putting it mildly. That University men were responsible for it is a disgrace. That the audience—including many alumni—was obliged to listen to it, was an insult.

Don't think for a minute that we are placing ourselves on a high altar of virtue—we're not.

We can laugh at a clever story with the next man, but we fail to see humor in barroom filth, shouted from a stage.

Probably those responsible for the "humor" in question are sorry, now, that they had any part in it—we hope they are.

We don't enjoy writing this type of editorial, but we honestly feel that circumstances make it necessary. We feel, too, that the students will take the matter into their own hands and see to it that another such He-Jinx is made impossible.

Unless such action is taken, we believe that the Jinx has outlived its original purpose and should be abolished.

(From the U. of N. Sagebrush for February 24, 1924)

Certain members of the University Glee Club formed themselves into an association to be the governing body in all affairs pertaining to the glee; membership was to be elective. Prof. Charles Haseman was the faculty adviser.

Dorothy Bird, '15, enthusiastically told of the Stanford basketball trip. "Every girl on the Hill would go out for basketball if she knew the good time we had," she said. The score in the women's game was 23-13 for Stanford.

The engagement of Dorothy Williams and Everett Aine was announced at the Pi Beta Phi house on North Virginia street Tuesday night. The announcement followed the pledging ceremonies of the sorority with alumnae, pledges and active members present. Both Miss Williams and Aine are members of the Class of '24. Aine is a Sigma Nu.

Members and pledges of Kappa Alpha Theta enjoyed a delightful luncheon at the Hotel Golden banquet room given in honor of their guest, Mrs. Charlie Clark of Oregon, vice-president of District No. 6 of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Nevada Delta Iota of Alpha Tau Omega initiated seven men Sunday morning. An Italian dinner was served at the Toseano cafe after the initiation ceremonies. The initiates were Percy Kettelson, Archie Knowles, Ross Crew, William Kinnon, George Grier, Emory Branch and Guernsey Beekstead.

The Associated Alumnae of University Women held their monthly luncheon at the Hotel Golden last Saturday.

The program consisted of violin and vocal solos and a lecture given by Prof. Doten of the Agricultural department

Prof. J. C. Jones of the University lectured at the Grand theatre on February 21 and 22 on the earthquakes which had been occurring in Reno.

The Sagebrush printed a picture of the seismograph at the University, showing its record of the rather severe earthquake felt by Reno on the morning of February 18.

Prof. Sanford C. Dinsmore of the department of food and drugs control bought an automobile for official use—a 1914 wine-colored roadster. Quite an event!

on the "History of the University." After lunch a half-hour was given to a discussion of business matters.

Saturday night Sigma Alpha Omega initiated the following new members: Hilda Boyd, Llahmi Ballard, Mary Ella McInnis, Ada Moore, Lenore Dunne, Wilma Squires and Zona Cooper.

The ceremony was concluded with a delicious breakfast served at 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mrs. R. O. Price entertained the members of Kappa Alpha Theta at an initiation banquet Saturday evening at her home on Court street. Blanche Wyckoff acted as toastmistress and was cleverly responded to by Mrs. Charlie Clark, Alma Boeke, Janet Marshal, Helen Halley, Muriel Conway and Florence Billingham.

Mrs. C. Harvey, an alumnus of Illinois Zeta chapter of Pi Beta Phi, was a guest at the Pi Beta chapter house Tuesday afternoon.

Beta Mu of Kappa Alpha Theta held its initiation dance Saturday evening at the home of George B. Thatcher on Newland Heights.

The ballroom of the Golf Club was the setting for the Gamma Phi Beta formal Saturday night. Sigma Nu orchestra played the music, interspersed with solos by Miss Mary Cox. Two favor dances were the mediums through which formality was transformed into hilarity. Refreshments were served and a final feature dance with Bill Clinch singing completed the evening.

Beta Delta sorority announces as pledges Misses Irene Lewis, Grace Muran and Vera Muran. The pledging ceremonies were held at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Jones at 825 Lake street Friday night. A dinner was served immediately after.

Delta Delta Delta announces pledging of Mae Cupples and Bonnie Mitchell at the chapter house on February 11.

Adele Clemons, Lyndel Adams and William Clinch were among those who contributed to the success of a musical given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hyland Kuhns, 325 Ridge street, last Wednesday evening.

COMMUNICATED

Letters to THE SAGEBRUSH from students and faculty are always welcome, but must be signed. Whenever requested, the writer's name will not be published and will be kept strictly in confidence. THE SAGEBRUSH does not necessarily endorse the opinions expressed in this column and the editor reserves the right to reject communications at any time.

JOHNS NOT ELECTED

To the Editor:
For the sake of fair dealing the editors of The Desert Wolf desire that the general public be informed that Fred R. Johns is not assistant managing editor of the Wolf. Through some mistake The Sagebrush elected him last week. He is merely trying out for the position and being a first-year man cannot, under the present A. S. U. N. constitution, hold it.

The editors further desire that the public be informed that the position mentioned is open to students who will be juniors or seniors next semester provided they try out for the position now. One more issue is left in which they can take a hand and learn the angles.

It is a liberal education and worth while. The lists are open, the experience as good as a year in any other business.

ALEX COTTER.

WOULD PUNISH WOMEN

To the Editor:
The action of the freshman class in punishing offenders against traditions of the University is very commendable, but if they are going to be so zealous they should punish them all.

The new U. of N. constitution states that freshman women shall not queen on the campus, but we see them queening on, every side during school hours. It would seem reasonable to appoint a committee of women to handle these cases. In the interests of justice, let us see that punishment is meted out to everybody.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR LOOMS FOR TRACK

Four Coast Meets Scheduled in Addition to Usual Class Contests

With the heaviest schedule since pre-war days and a wealth of material available it appears that the University will witness one of the most successful track seasons in years.

The tentative schedule includes the following meets: Pacific Coast Conference, P. A. A. Davis Dual Meet, Pacific Coast Relay Carnival and the usual interclass and inter-fraternity meets.

Season Opens March 1

Although no official call has been made for track men, many of the veterans have been going through light work on the cinders. The training season will begin March 1.

The Wolves will be strong in the sprints this season, centering around Jack Nesbit. Nesbit has traveled the century in 9:44 and holds the present Nevada 220 record. Another point-winner is "Buzz" Havens, the hurdler. Havens is a former member of the California Varsity squad and steps the low hurdles around 24:2. He also gets over the high hurdles in fair time.

Record-Holders Out

The mile will be taken care of by Jack Koehler. Koehler has carried the Silver and Blue colors in this event for the past three years and should be in for a successful season this year, which is his last.

Captain Carlson, Harrison and Hobbs are field men and will secure several points for the Wolves in their respective events. Carlson holds the University shot-put record.

Ned Martin, the present holder of the high-jump record, is almost a certainty for placing in most of the meets. Jim Davis, a newcomer, is said to be an altitude climber and will strengthen the Wolves in this event.

Besides stars like Carlson, Harrison and Nesbit a host of letter men will be out, such as Lyon, Kettleson and Decker.

Three Coaches

"All men who show promise," said Coach Courtright at a track meeting last week, "will be given new shoes early in the season. Every facility will be offered the men who will stick. Rubbers will keep away the shin splints and knead the strained muscles."

Coach Courtright will be assisted by Martie, who will specialize in training and in the 440 and relay. "Buck" Shaw will handle the weights and Prof. H. L. Shirley, a big "I" man from Indiana, will take care of the long-distance men.

U. of N.

NAME ADDED TO ROLL

Mrs. Thelma Davis, carrying 16 hours and with an average of 1.37, was accidentally omitted from the list given The Sagebrush and printed in its last issue.

CALIFORNIA AGGIES AND NEVADA SPLIT EVEN ON BASKET HONORS

Farmers Win First Game by One Point; Wolves Do Same in Second

Sensational basketball sprinkled with plenty of breath-taking long shots featured the series between Nevada and Davis last week-end. The two teams got an even break, Davis taking the first game 15-14 and Nevada winning after five minutes extra play Saturday night, 24-23.

Never since the last time the Los Angeles Blues made their appearance on the local floor has such fast and exciting basketball been displayed on a Reno court.

Varsity Takes Lead

The first game started with Nevada in the lead, but it was short-lived. Davis took a spurt and also the lead. It see-sawed back and forth with first one team ahead, then the other, until the end of the half found Nevada on the long end of an 11-9 score.

With the beginning of the second half the Davis men got their eyes on the basket and poured the leather oval through the hoop with surprising regularity and soon overcame Nevada's slight lead. Nevada, near the end of the game, got a bit panicky and started to try long shots, but luck was against them and they were unable to find the range.

Second Game Fast

Saturday night's game was by far the fastest of the two. Both teams were out to win and the result was one of the most spectacular games seen on the gym floor for many years. The passing of both teams was fast and the basket shooting nothing short of marvelous.

The game was on the order of the one Friday night when the lead went from one team to the other. Long shots seemed to be the Davis stronghold and time after time when it look like Nevada was off to a good lead Wetmore or Erb would hook a long one and the score would be knotted again.

The game on Saturday night brought out every kind of basketball that has ever been played. For that reason alone it savored of the spectacular, but the prettiest spectacle of the entire game was to watch "Spud" Harrison break up baskets in his old form.

RAY FREDERICK, Varsity forward and captain, whose fast floorwork and accurate basket-shooting have been notable features of the games played this year.

Harrison Shines

The big red-head had a decidedly "on" night and he worked accordingly. Had not "Spud" been on the job the Davis players might have walked off the floor victorious. He was all over the court breaking up passes, knocking down shots that were labeled "basket" and in general making himself a nuisance to the Farmers' offensive.

The Davis team is the best yet encountered on the home floor and it is a cinch that the defeat which they dished up Friday night was no disgrace. They play a clean, fast game

"COLOR" TOURNEY PROVES EXCITING

Women's basketball practice has assumed a colorful aspect during the last week. The "color" tournament which has been in progress has been living up to its name, and is the cause of the sudden blossoming-out of rainbow-tinted decorations on the women's costumes.

The release from the drab brown of the gym suit and the keen competition have resulted in costumes of great brilliancy. Satin bandeaus, chiffon girdles and hosiery in the pastel shades considered so attractive for spring are being featured.

Although these decorative details require a great deal of attention, they are entirely forgotten while a game is under way, and several fast contests have been played off during the tournament.

The Reds defeated the Greens, the wearers of the Orange fell before the onslaught of the Purples, and the Blues were victorious in their scrimmage with the Whites.

and they have an uncanny ability to rope the pellet from the center of the floor. The consistency with which they made this type of basket abolishes the "lucky" theory. They were a gang of good basketball players, but met their match when they ran up against the Nevada Wolves.

GETTING THE JUMP IN BASKETBALL

With the tournament but two weeks away, basketball fans awaited with interest the outcome of games played last week-end.

The local teams left Reno with a strenuous schedule facing them. Both boys and girls were defeated by Winnemucca.

The following night the Reno boys defeated Battle Mountain in what has been deemed by some citizens of that town as one of the most exciting games witnessed for many years. The game ended 15-11.

Playing their third game in three successive nights, Reno was defeated at the hands of the Elko quintet. The game throughout was anybody's till the finish, when at the end of the first half the score stood 14-14. However, in the second half Elko left her opponent far behind and won by a score of 41-26. The Reno team was considerably weakened when her mainstay, Simas, was unable to play the second half.

In the last game of their east central tour Reno dropped a game to the Lovelock quintet. The score was 14-18.

The Carson teams split honors with the representatives of Sparks and Gardnerville high schools. The Carson boys took their game with Sparks, 16-10. The Sparks girls won from the Carson sextette 19-15. The closest score of the week-end was run up by Gardnerville and Carson boys. In a clean, fast game Gardnerville defeated their adversaries by one point, the score being 20-21. In a preliminary game, the Carson girls piled up 24 points to Douglas' 19.

A strange coincidence occurred when the both of the Fallon teams defeated the Lovelock players by the same score, 23-11.

For the second time this season, the Railroaders were humbled by the Melon Pickers. The Fallon boys won from the Sparks lads to the tune of 18-11. The Fallon girls proved too much for the Sparks girls and won 25-13.

After dancing half the night the Yerington team journeyed over the tiring road to Tonopah where the team of that city easily won from them by a score of 36-8.

MEN FLOCK TO GYMNASIUM FOR THE HILL'S ANNUAL HE-JINX

Acts Keep Crowd in Uproar and Evening Ends 'Mid Clouds of Smoke

A buzz of good natured conversation filled the smoke-streaked Gym last Thursday night, when the curtain rose on the first act of the He-Jinx.

All the time that the men had been filing through the doors, the band played; played everything from classical music to jazz.

As soon as the first rush was over, and everybody was located, cigarettes were passed; the odor of the fragrant weed lending a comradely touch to the atmosphere. The curtain-raiser was an eye-opener. "Red" Dungan and Jack Gilberg, heavyweights, fought three fast rounds to a draw.

Stunt followed stunt in kaleidoscopic succession.

Real Hula Danced

The Sigma Nu's transported everybody to the Hawaiian Islands, land of the Hula dancer and soft, languorous music. Returning to this country, the Delta Sig's presented two comedians who cleverly entertained with some incantations.

Phi Sigma Kappa carried the audience back to the land of King Tut, where dancer the beauties of the harem to the music of tom-tom and flute.

Lifting the crowd in a flight to the realms of pure art, the A. T. O.'s left everybody gasping at the simple gorgeousness of their presentation of the graveyard scene from "The Barber of Seville" (Ohio).

Earl Ross Scores

Earl Ross, '14, went to bat for the alumni and knocked a homer with his impersonation of a colored preacher delivering a potent sermon.

With a thud audible for miles around, Lincoln Hall let the crowd down to earth by their act which included a number of cowboy ballads sung by a "virile" westerner.

No sooner had the curtain fallen on the last words of the ballad than weird, unsyncopated music was heard. To the tune of this and a tremendous screeching, the Kappa Lambda's presented the "Mukden Minstrels."

Bloody Bout Staged

The last stunt was an attempt to settle the long disputed question of whether or not a boxer can whip a wrestler. Two hard bouts ensued between four Federal Board men, but when the dust settled the main issue was still in doubt.

No sooner had the last act finished when food was announced. A rush ensued for the coffee and dogs which had been steaming for some time. With well-tended stomachs the men turned to the bleachers for the concluding parts of the program.

John Belford, president of the Alumni Association, was the principal speaker. He emphasized especially the spirit of good fellowship which always prevails at the He-Jinx.

Prof. J. C. Jones was the last speaker, winding up the evening's performance with some of his famous stories and a resume of the He-Jinx since its infancy.

KLU KLUX SUBJECT OF INTER-FRAT POW-WOW

The debate between Sigma Phi Sigma and Delta Sigma Lambda has been postponed until the next meeting of Clonia.

The subject to be debated is, "Resolved, That Conditions in the United States Justify the Ku Klux Klan." This marks the first of the series of inter-organization debates that Clonia is sponsoring.

Those debating on the teams are Fothergill and Hunting for Sigma Phi Sigma who take the negative and Coleman and North for Delta Sigma Lambda with the affirmative.

SIGMA PHIS SCORE ON KAPPA LAMBDA

Sunday morning the Sigma Phi Sigma baseball team took Kappa Lambda into camp with a 14-4 score. The game was tied up to the seventh inning when the Sigma Phi ball tossers came in with a rally and ran up the runs.

John Kovec pitched for the winners. He pitched a good game throughout, and received good support. Wood, Fowble and Green pitched for Kappa Lambda. Sears distinguished himself by catching a number of flies deep in center field and also making some good hits that were responsible for Kappa Lambda runs.

Do you need a Nevada belt. The Y. W. C. A. candy booth has just received a new shipment of Nevada belts and fobs, in silver, green gold and blue enamel. Pictures of the campus are to be had at the candy booth in handy packets ready for mailing.

FINAL ENROLLMENT TOTALS ANNOUNCED

Registration Has Increased Three-Fold in Last Five Years; Now 855

Registration at the University of Nevada has increased to three times its original number in the last five years. In 1918-19 there were 285 students registered here. This year there are 855, and 519 of these are Nevada students.

All along there has been a noticeable number of students who were from Nevada in spite of the idea that there were more from California and students from other states and countries.

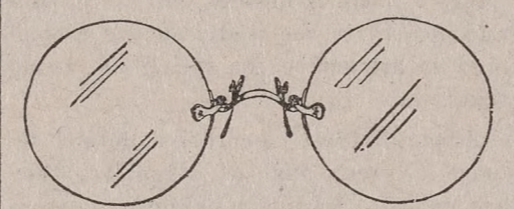

461 Students Last Year

Last year there were 461 registered. A goodly amount of these were from the outside, but the Nevada group still leads.

Washoe county seems to be sending in more people to the University than any other county in the state. A bulletin is being prepared in which the number of students from each county, each state and each country will be recorded.

The University stands as a thoroughly Nevada product in spite of the fact that it has a more cosmopolitan representation than almost any other institution of its size.

CUB REPORTERS THRILL WHEN WORK'S IN PRINT

The students of journalism in the University who are writing for the mythical "Daily Nevada" as part of their classwork, are having the additional experience of seeing their work edited and in print. The Nevada State Journal has accepted on the average of 15 stories a week from the students in the journalism classes.

The students who are acting as reporters on the "Daily Nevada" have been covering the courthouse and city hall beats and any other news that breaks about the town so that what they write is of use to town papers.

Those at the copy desk re-write and edit the copy and by the time a story goes to the office it has passed through four or five hands and needs little re-vision by the editor in whose paper it appears.

ENTER CRUTCHES

Elmer Braggett and Eugene Hardison, both residents of Lincoln Hall, were hobbling about the campus on crutches the greater part of the past week. Braggett was suffering from an infected foot while Hardison sprained his ankle during a gymnasium class.

WOMEN TO CHOOSE HOOP TEAMS SOON

Women's class basketball teams will be chosen the first of next week from the 44 women who have been practicing regularly for over two months, and the games will be played off immediately.

Miss Champlain has announced that the eight best players from each class will comprise the first squad, and that a second squad will also be chosen. This does not apply to the seniors, as Eloise Harris and Frances Westervelt are the only representatives of '24 who have practiced regularly and are eligible for the team.

Although the sophomores began the season with a considerable lead over the first-year women, they are now evenly matched with 15 members each on their respective squads. The juniors are not far behind with 12 women trying out for places.

The schedule of games has not yet been arranged, but it is probable that the winners of the freshmen and sophomore game will tangle with the juniors, while the undefeated team in this contest will meet a senior team, if one can be gotten together.

Immediately after the games have been played and the champions decided, members of all four squads will combine to give a basketball banquet, at which time the varsity honor team will be announced. The honor team will be chosen by Miss Champlain, Anna Maud Stern, basketball manager, and the class captains.

WHISKERINO MONEY TO FINANCE FORMAL

The junior class will be hosts to the seniors at a formal dance on May 2. Probably only upperclassmen will be admitted.

The plan of entertaining the outgoing class with a dance in the gymnasium started last year. The event is formal even to dress suits.

By dating the dance for May 2, committees hope to avoid the rush of term examinations and yet make it the "last formal."

Whiskerino funds will finance the affair.

TAILORED AT FASHION PARK

Men, too, respect authority in style. Women watch Paris; men take note of the Prince of Wales' clothes. Now, the Prince favors loose, easy, comfortable clothes—style developments much like the Royal Park ideas from the Fashion Park designing rooms. We'd like to have you see them.
