

MINE EXHIBITS DRAW INTEREST AT EXPOSITION

HISTORICAL MILL, ORES ATTRACT WIDE ATTENTION

A joint exhibit of the Mackay school of mines and the United States bureau of mines, in charge of J. A. Carpenter, professor of mining, and with the cooperation of the mining faculty, was displayed during the Nevada transcontinental Highways Exposition.

The United States bureau of mines had many types of milling ores, and the School contributed many individual mineral specimens. The different specialists of the bureau of mines illustrated phases of metallurgical investigation work.

In conjunction with the bureau of mines a metallurgical exhibit was made, consisting of a five-stamp mill, with amalgamation plates, a classifier, a concentrating table, and a flotation unit.

The five-stamp mill attracted attention, not only by the noise that it made but also due to its historical interest. The mill was a gift of the late Emmett D. Boyle, and A. J. McCone. It was originally a gift to James Fair as a Christmas gift. As a child he used to stamp out high grade ore given him by his father for pin money.

Idle 20 Years
This small mill was put in operation after an idleness of 20 years, and used ore from the Ramsey Comstock mine, which is once more attracting attention to the Ramsey District.

An interesting mining exhibit was made by contrasting mining tools and implements when John W. Mackay mined on the Comstock in 1876, with the implements used by the graduates of the Mackay school of mines today.

Among the curiosities of the Comstock days, was a powder keg which came around the horn in 1861, a drill used in driving the Sutor tunnel and a lamp used such as General Grant carried when he was shown through the Comstock Bonanza by John W. Mackay.

In addition the United States bureau of mines car was stationed in Reno for two weeks, and entertained and instructed crowds in first aid and rescue work.

As a result of the exposition the school of mines has obtained much of value to add to its museum and classroom exhibits.

Neil Lamb, '30, was the attendant at the exhibit.

Lincoln Hall Is Filled to Limit

Due to the fact that the enrollment at the University this semester is heavier for out-of-town men than last year, and that there are more Nevadans looking for rooms at Lincoln hall, the dormitory there is crowded, and there will not be room for all the California men, according to Dean Raymond Leach.

The latest addition to the rules of the Hall, he said, is to the effect that there will be no more yelling and that much of the noise formerly carried on will be done away with. This is being done to bring about better studying conditions.

PICTURES MADE OF UNIVERSITY FROM AIRPLANE

S. B. DOTEN GETS VIEWS FOR COMPLETION OF MACKAY FILM

Views of the University of Nevada campus from a height of 2,000 feet were taken August 2 and 4 by and under the direction of Sam Doten, '28, director of the agricultural experiment station of the University, to complete the work of Alexander A. Brown and Al Wetzel who were in Reno in May taking the feature film of Nevada for Clarence H. Mackay.

A series of six stills were made by Roy Curtis, local photographer, on the first flight. Of these pictures three turned out suitable for Mr. Mackay's use. Two days later Doten made the trip again, taking some more stills, accompanied by B. A. Seitz who took a reel of moving pictures. Seitz is an Alaskan amateur photographer who has gained nation-wide recognition for his Alaskan films. This reel has since been completed and was sent east to Brown along with the stills. No word has been received from the east yet as to their disposal.

As soon as the pictures taken are released by Mr. Mackay they will be shown here along with the feature film which was made in May depicting the growth of the University and the history of the Comstock with its relation to the growth of the state.

The pictures were taken from the Queen of the Yukon, sister ship to the plane used by Charles Lindbergh to cross the Atlantic ocean. The difference in the ships is in the position of the fuel tank. It was flying from Blanch field at the time of the Exposition.

The campus stands out nearly square in the air views which Doten has. The buildings and the trees dot and line the lawns and Manzanita lake to make the University stand out very markedly at the edge of the residential district.

RUSHERS AROUSED BY ADVENT OF NEW GIRLS

"What color did you say?" "Pink." "Oh, yes, with the blue flowers?" "Yea, and the dash of black." "M-m-m very good-looking." "But look at the keen number over there."

"I'm not so enthusiastic about the purple effect." "Active?" "Don't suppose—more the proverbial butterfly."

"I know, but a wonderful family tree." "Listen, you find out about the orchid one and I'll see about the pink."

"See you at meeting." "Rushing tactics have been brought into play once more."

WORK ON BRUSH

paragraph. Enlarge on them and explain in detail as the story is lengthened.

"Always get all of the information that is possible to get. Prepare your questions ahead of time to insure against a haphazard interview. See everyone who is directly or indirectly connected with it."

"Never be discourteous. Our best news sources are men and women on this campus that have to be interviewed each week, and when they are not treated in a respectful manner they will not give out stories or tips."

"Refrain from being editorial by giving an opinion of your own. If there is an opinion to be given out credit it to whoever said it. "Let the Sagebrush know it can depend on you."

"Be constantly on the lookout for extra stories, and when you run across one don't hesitate to bring it in."

"All assignments will be posted by Friday afternoon, and they are to be taken from the office before Monday evening."

"Make every possible effort to get in touch with the people who can give you the information necessary to complete your story, and get it in on time. Deadlines are highly important and it will be necessary to either have the story or an excuse in the Sagebrush office when deadline time arrives. Use the telephone if necessary."

"Begin the first page half way down, and number all pages. The name of the writer is to be placed in the upper left-hand corner. There is to be no title or headline written on the copy as the night staff will attend to that."

The method to be used in choosing the new staff members from the tryees will cover a tryout period lasting six weeks. A point system will be used whereby each writer is credited with five points for every inch of first-class printed matter turned in. The length and quality of the story will decide the number of points to be awarded. Extra stories will count as well as those which are assigned.

The try-out period will begin next Monday.

Sports Discussed
Stating that sports furnish a more interesting line of work than general reportorial work, Walden Kilne, '28, asked that any one who was interested in that line of work to see him about getting on the sports staff. He stated that the members of that department were rather low in number right now.

Sheila Parker, '28, feature editor, also asked that those who could or cared to write features see her. The Sagebrush, she said, is in need of many features at all times to liven up the run of news stories.

Deadlines was the topic taken up by Marvin Robinson, '29, when he emphasized the points already brought out on getting copy in on time. He said that if he University men and women were working for a newspaper down town they would be discharged for missing deadline, and in the future the policy of the Sagebrush would be to dismiss any member of the staff who could not abide by the deadline ruling. Either the stories or a reasonable excuse must be in the office at the designated deadline time, he said.

P. A. is a grand little pal

PRINCE ALBERT is the kind of a smoke you get clubby with, right off the bat. You'll be calling each other by your first names after the very first pipe-load. It is so genuinely friendly, in spirit and in fact.
P. A. treats your tongue and throat as gently as a mother handles a new-born baby. Never a bite. Never a parch. These are details, of course. The thing you'll remember longest is that wonderful taste! So cool, so sweet, so soothing.

No matter how hard you hit it up, this long-burning tobacco never hits back. You can go to it before classes, and right through to Lights Out. Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. The School of Experience has never produced a greater smoke than good old P. A.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Varsity Grid Practice Begins With Large Turnout

VETERANS TAKE OUT GRID SUITS IN FIRST WEEKS FOOTBALL GRIND

SEVENTY EIGHT OUTFITS GIVEN OUT TO GRIDDERS

NEW MATERIAL PLANNED ON TO FILL HOLES IN VARSITY

With over seventy-five men signed up for football in the first two days one of the largest squads ever on the field is expected to greet Coach Shaw when he takes charge on the fifteenth of September. Due to a conference ruling no coaches are allowed on the field until this time but during this time practice will be held under the charge of Captain Hansen.

With a large number of veterans reporting for practice Coach Shaw will have a strong nucleus around which to build his 1927 Varsity. In practically all the positions with the exception of the ends there will be three and four veterans fighting for their job.

Battle at Center

At the center position two men from last year's squad will fight it out. These two men, Farnsworth and Krack, should put up a hard struggle for this position. At the guard positions the two regulars from last year, Anderson and Larson but should get a lot of competition from Kline, a veteran of last year's squad, and Newton, a new man from California.

There should be another hard struggle for the two tackle positions with several men out for each position. Hansen, Nevada's Captain for the year, plays one of these positions and is one of the strongest men at the tackle position on the Pacific Coast. Besides Hansen there are three other tackles that all proved very valuable men at that position last year and these men, Newton, Cooley and Jake Lawler, should show up good. A new man, Thorp, from Salinas should make them all fight for a job.

Ends Look Weak

With only one veteran back at end position this looks at present like the weakest place on the team. Glenn Bream, a Varsity man of two years experience will ably handle his end of the line but a new man must be developed for the other wing position. Going to the backfield positions, Ne-

'SPUD' HARRISON SIGNED AS COACH

Echoes of football glory of a few seasons past comes drifting over the Pacific from Honolulu way in the form of reports dealing with the activities of one 'Spud' Harrison, '25, whose exploits on the Nevada gridiron are known to football fans throughout the coast. Harrison has undertaken to coach the Oahu Blues, a football contingent comprising for the most part ex-university stars now living on the islands. The team is rated locally as the most formidable in the Island League.

Harrison's athletic career dates back to his first years in Reno high school, where he won distinction for his versatility in all sports. In prep school he set the record for winning the greatest number of block 'R's of any athlete. The record still stands at eleven letters.

His debut in college was marked with corresponding success and on a greater scale. He was active in all three major sports between 1921 and 1925, and made the unique record of earning three letters a year in each of his four years on the Nevada campus.

Harrison was next heard from as a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club team. It was when that aggression invaded Honolulu to engage the territorial gridirers that he was signed on as coach of the University of Hawaii.

Previous to his coming the university's chances in the light of a basketball championship were decidedly grim. From what appeared to be a hopeless situation 'Spud' groomed his charges into an aggressive quintet and romped through the finals the possessor of the championship. His last year's track team took first in the conference meet.

Again essaying his old role on the wing position Harrison last year starred on Honolulu's home town team, which made a clean sweep of all opposition, including a visiting eleven from the University of South Dakota.

At the halfback position Nevada has three letter men back in Bailey, Mike Lawler and Sullivan. With these three men and the new men that are bound to show up there should be plenty of capable halfbacks. At Fullback Nevada will miss the all-round playing of their last year's captain, Max Allen, but Tommy Towle of hurdling fame and Stockton, both experienced men from last year, will put up a great battle for this place. It is really too early for any definite dope on the chances of the team but from the great number of last year's men and the host of good looking material a very prosperous year should be had by the Nevada Wolf Pack. For these first three week's practice will be held under the eyes of Captain Hansen and will consist mostly of conditioning exercises, the strenuous work commences as soon as Coach Shaw and his assistant, O'Boyle, take the field.

VARSITY CINDER MEN ARE BACK TO FALL GRIND

FOOTBALL HOLDS A FEW FROM GETTING OUT FOR PRACTICE

Aspirants for fame on the cinder track will have a chance to limber up and get a little preliminary training beginning Monday, August 28, announced Coach "Doc" Martie yesterday.

Many of the old men who were out last spring will be back this fall and will be seen working every evening on the Mackay field. A few of the varsity men will not be seen due to interference from football. Bailey, javelin and relay man, Towle, hurdler and Tom Ravecraft, quarter-miler are a few of the varsity track men who will not report until regular spring training begins. A few were lost by graduation. Among these is Ede, holder of the record for the two-mile run in the Far Western Conference. His loss will be keenly felt even though he was hampered by sickness during last season's track, Martin said.

Among the varsity men who will report for fall will be Hartung, half-miler, Robinson, dash man, Crew and Leavitt, pole vaulter; Kellogg, dash man; Watson, high jumper; Clover last year's captain of the track squad

Men Win Honors At R. O. T. C. Camp

Eight cadet officers from the University of Nevada attended R. O. T. C. training camp at Monterey, from June 16 to July 28, according to Captain Johnson. Those attending were Herney Archias, Tony Blum, Ernest Clays, Cyrus Dam, Bill Downey, Granville Leavitt, Louis Skinner, and Archie Watson, all of '28.

Of these men Blum qualified as sharpshooter and Clays, Dam and Leavitt as marksmen. Clays and Downey received commissions as second lieutenants of the infantry reserve.

1931 Has First Meeting of Year

The class of 1931 held its first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon and elected Thorpe Fight captain. Election of officers will be held next week.

During the meeting student body president, Cantlon, outlined Campus activities and their meaning to the individual. "Red" McElwaine, '28, then led a few yells as a conclusion to the meeting.

and Worden, milers, and Lobse, two-miler.

The workouts this fall will be equal to spring training and those who do not expect to work need not report this fall, the coach said.

FEMININE SPORTS TO START SOON

Women's athletics are again to the fore and all women are urged to enroll in the three sports offered this semester—archery, tennis and hockey.

Archery was first introduced into women's sports two years ago, and since that time its scope of activity has developed considerably. This sport has always acted as an added attraction in the May Day program.

Tennis is played during the entire fall season. Interest is always maintained through competition made possible by class tournaments, elimination ladders and other incentives.

Up to date, hockey has been one of the most enthusiastically supported of women's sports, calling for accuracy of eye and hand it proves to be a very fascinating game.

The respective managers are: archery, Mary Donohue, '29; tennis, Isabel Loring, '28; and hockey, Sheila Parker, '29. They plan to place the sign-up lists Friday afternoon. The schedule will be given at a later date.
