TOTAL FIGURES REACH RECORD AT COMPLETION OF ENROLLMENT

TWELVE STATES AND SIX FOREIGN COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

NEVADA STUDENTS SHOW INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

With registration figures reaching a total of 885, the largest enrollment in the history of the University of Nevada is recorded this semester, showing an increase of 32 over the 1925 figures, and 39 more than last year. The highest previous mark was reached in 1925, when 847 were enrolled.

This year continues the steady increase which has been going on since 1918, just after the war, when 241 students were enrolled.

This year's registration lists 524 men and 345 women. Of the entire enrollment, 60.3 per cent are men. This ratio has remained constant within 2 per cent during the past ten years, according to a statement from the registrar's office.

Senior Class Large
There are now 320 freshmen, 201 sophomores, 197 juniors, 89 seniors, 24 post graduates, 12 unclassified, and 16 specials. This shows a small decrease in the freshman and sophomore registration compared with that of last year, but there are now 16 more juniors and 46 more seniors listed than last year.

According to President Walter E. Clark, this year's senior class will be graduated "115 and 125 candidates for graduation."

Tabulations show 608 students listed in arts and science, 40 in normal, 161 engineers, and 60 in agriculture. This indicates an increase of 12 each in arts and science, normal work, and engineering, and 15 in agriculture. The greatest percentage of increase, 33 per cent, is shown in the agricultural college. Engineers come next with 10 per cent, and arts and science third with 2 per cent.

Six hundred and thirty-four of the students are from Nevada and 212 from California. Last year 609 Nevada students were enrolled, and 203 Californians. Twenty-three are from other states and foreign countries.

Each county in the state is now represented. Washoe county leads with 387. White Pine has 36, Churchill, 34; Elko, 31; Nye, 23; Lyon, 21; Ormsby, 19; Clark and Douglas, 13 each; Esmeralda, 12; Humboldt, 11; Pershing, 8; Storey, Mineral and Eureka, 5 each; Lander, 4; and Lincoln, 2.

Forty of 58 California counties are represented. This is the same number as that of last year. Other states represented are Iowa, Washington, Indiana, Wyoming, Utah, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New York, and Oklahoma.

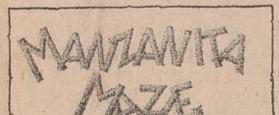

Foreign students are enrolled from the following countries: China, 3; India, 1; Japan, 1; Philippine Islands, 3; South Africa, 1; South America, 1.

Intelligence Ex Taken By Frosh

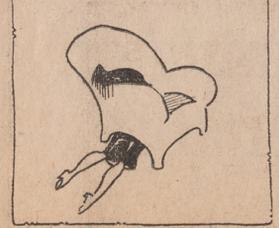

Psychological intelligence tests, which are required of all students of Freshman rank were given this afternoon in the auditorium of the Education Building.

These tests were conducted by Dr. J. R. Young, head of the Psychology department, who gives them each year to all new freshman students entering the University of Nevada.

Failure to take these examinations will count as a delinquency in scholarship, as all students were excused from their regular University exercises for the period of the examination, which lasted from 1:15 until 3:15, according to Dr. Young.

Just another one of life's little tragedies. Is this the end?

'Lindy's' Traits Are Eulogized in Clark Discussion

Kipling's "If" Typifies Lindbergh, Claims President

"I have long thought that I should never meet a man who would come up to the man of Kipling's 'If'; but here," said President Walter E. Clark, in an interview regarding the Lindbergh celebration, "is Colonel Charles Augustus Lindbergh."

"If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch. If all men count with you, but none too much:

If you can fill the unforgiving minute with sixty seconds' worth of distance run, Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it, And—which is more—You'll be a Man, my son.

Keynote Given
Dr. Clark spoke to the effect that the keynote to Lindbergh's speech was that there are two very distinct divisions of aviation, pioneer and commercial.

"Lindbergh was both just and generous," said Dr. Clark, in commenting on the pioneering phase, in that any man who attempts to fly over the Pole or across the ocean, by way of illustration, is a pioneer. He knows not of the conditions to be encountered. Many planes may be forced down by excessive weight caused by fog freezing on the wings. Until some fact is discovered by which this danger may be avoided, such as the temperature at which fog or mist will condense and freeze to the plane, in order that the pilot may, on the air meaning this temperature, rise to possibly 5,000 feet and avoid the fog, the person flying under conditions such as these is a pioneer and should not be condemned as such. It is upon the experience of the pioneer that commercial aviation is based.

As a result of this pioneering there are over 10,000 miles of airways in America today over which commercial planes fly 16,000 miles daily with scarcely a mishap.

"Lindbergh was anxious that these two divisions might not be confused," said Dr. Clark.

Col. Lindbergh lands exactly on schedule at every airport throughout his tour, as a means of proving the dependability of the airplane. So far The Spirit of St. Louis has flown 263 hours an equivalent mileage of 26,000 miles without being overhauled. Lindbergh expects to continue the trip without working the engine over. He also says that this type of engine is good for 1,500 hours or about 150,000 miles before it will be worn out. The body will be obsolete before outworn. All of which compares very favorably with the life of the average automobile. The "We" monoplane landed at Blanch field at 2 P. M. Monday precisely.

Lindbergh arrived at Idlewild Park at 2:30 P. M. after having been taken through the city.

Cadet Honor Guard
The University of Nevada R. O. T. C. acted as an honor guard and was stationed at the point of stopping and formed a passage-way to the stand erected on the grass to the north and west of the California Building.

The afternoon program opened with a selection by the University Band, followed by "America" sung by the school children.

In the absence of Gov. Balzar, the address for the State was given by Judge Frank H. Norcross of the State Supreme Court, also a member of the first University of Nevada graduating class.

Mayor Edward E. Roberts gave the welcome for the city, closing with the introduction of Colonel Lindbergh who spoke briefly and quietly on aviation and the future thereof.

The Idlewild program closed with a solo, "The Star Spangle Banner," by Miss Selma Mayer accompanied by the Silver Star Band.

In the evening, from the steps of the Nevada State Building, Mayor Roberts and Judge Norcross again spoke before the talk of Lindbergh, who at that time gave a more extended address than he had in the afternoon.

At 7:30 a. m. Tuesday morning "We" left Reno.

Campus Players Start Campaign
Definite arrangements for the ticket sale and advertising for the first play "Kempy" which is to be given October 6 and 7 were made at a meeting of the Campus Players held at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Wednesday evening.

Tickets are now on sale by members of the organization, Russel Garcia, '29, manager announced that all aspirants to the managerial staff are to see him in the near future to obtain tickets.

BECAAS CHOSEN BY BOARD FOR NEW BUSINESS HEAD OF BRUSH

SECOND WOMAN TO HOLD BIG POSITION AS MANAGER

CHOICE BASED ON WORK, EXPERIENCE IN DEPARTMENT

Anita Becasas, '28, was elected business manager of the Sagebrush for the remainder of this college year, at a meeting of the publication board held last Friday night.

The election comes as a result of try-outs which have been held during the past two weeks, and is based on the record of the new business manager of three years' experience upon his business staff of the Sagebrush, and an accurate knowledge of the position, as well as the required upperclass standing.

Second Woman
The election of Miss Becasas marks the second time in the history of the University where a woman has been business manager of a major publication. Last year, Tillie Evanson, '27, held the same position during the last semester.

"Pet" Gignoux, '28, and "Jimmy" Sherritt, '28, who have been temporarily managing the Sagebrush since the enforced resignation of John Walsh, '29, due to a nervous breakdown, will turn over the duties of the position to the new staff head for the first time with the coming issue of the Sagebrush.

Feutsch Working
Carl Feutsch, '29, who was last week elected business manager of the Artemisia for this year has begun the organization of his staff, and plans are advancing for immediate work on the yearbook.

COACHES PICK DEBATE SQUAD FOR THIS YEAR

FRESHMAN TEAM ALSO CHOSEN DURING TRYOUTS

Debating tryouts were held last Monday evening in the auditorium of the Educational building to determine the varsity debate squad. Those making the squad are: Emerson Wilson '28, Kara Lucas, '29, Solie Bulasky '29, Alan Bible '30, Melville Hancock '30, Emily Richards '30. This year's debating team will be chosen from this squad. Those making the Freshman squad are: Betty Burritt, Julien Souvine and George Lang.

The candidates spoke five minutes on either side of the following propositions: "Resolved: That President Coolidge should be reelected." "Resolved: That the sole excuse for an uneducated man is the amusement of the uneducated." The judges were Edwin Duerr, debate coach last year, and Paul A. Harwood, '24, this year's debate coach.

Tryouts will be held again next semester for those who were unable to try out this semester.

Gignoux Elected Inter-Frat Head

Peter Gignoux, '29, was elected president and Robert Mitchell, '29, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Inter-fraternity council at a meeting held last Wednesday.

Plans for the cross-country run which is to be held on Home Coming Day were discussed. It was decided that all the fraternities should back this event by entering men in the run. The committee also proposed the purchasing of a cup for the winner of last year's Inter-fraternity baseball series.

Several plans for Home Coming Day were discussed but they were not thoroughly developed. At the next meeting of the council these plans will be further discussed and then announced.

RALLY TO BE FOLLOWED BY PEP DANCE IN GYM

Everyone is invited, with or without escorts, to the Pep Dance that is to be given in the gym tonight. It will start immediately after the downtown rally and will close at 10 o'clock. There are no admittance charges. The feature of the evening will be quadrilles, square dances, etc. Be there.

NEVADA'S MENTORS

FROSH MUST PURCHASE BLEACHER HAT BY SAT.

Have your bleacher hats for the game Saturday without fail, is the warning given by Carol Cross, president of the Sophomore class, to all Freshmen.

Bleacher hats will be on sale at the bulletin board Friday from 9:35 to 12:20 and also at the game Saturday. "This is the last warning, have your bleacher hats or suffer the consequences," echoes the sophomore vigilance committee.

HILL THESPIANS TO GIVE PRIZES

Campus Players are offering three cash prizes of twenty-five, fifteen, and ten dollars to the three best one-act plays that are suitable for local presentation. The stories are to be confined to subjects and history of Nevada, or the treatment of students own experiences. No stories will be taken after December 1.

This contest is to be a part of Campus Players extensive program for the year and it is believed that much enthusiasm will be shown by those students interested in writing because the plays will be produced by the organization and will later be published. All those wishing further information will see Mr. Duerr, dramatic coach, at their earliest convenience.

Wolf Deadlines Set October 10

A meeting of the heads of departments and members of the Desert Wolf staff was held Wednesday, with Editor Lyon presiding. The deadline for all contributions was definitely announced as October 10th, and preference will be given to those who are most prompt in getting in material.

Herbert Jacobs, business manager, held a meeting Thursday afternoon at which time the following appointments were made: circulation department, Henrietta Schwab, '29; and Edward Peck, '30; exchange editor, Arthur Cox.

Competition is keen for the position of assistant business manager and also for placement upon the advertising staff and a meeting will be held next week to select the new members.

ANTHRAX OUTBREAK

An anthrax outbreak among the cattle has been reported in the north-western part of Washoe county and has called out the state and federal forces of animal and disease control.

WOLF PACK ROUNDS INTO SHAPE FOR OPENING TILT WITH SAINTS

LINE-UP OF VETERANS TO FACE COAST GRIDDERS ON MACKAY FIELD TOMORROW

Rarin to go and anxious for the first game to start, Nevada will meet the St. Ignatians from San Francisco tomorrow on Mackay field and from present dope a real battle will take place. The Saints have a real team this year from all reports and are out to eat Wolf meat to avenge themselves for the defeat handed out to them last year by the Pack.

NEWCOMB, SOPH AT UNIVERSITY, DIES SUDDENLY

Morris Newcomb, a member of the Sophomore class at the University of Nevada, died September 21, at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Earl Compton on 327 West Taylor street. His death came as a shock to his large circle of friends and classmates.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY AT BREAKFAST TABLE MONDAY

Morris lived in Reno since he was nine months old and is a graduate of Reno High School. He was an excellent student and an active participant in campus activities. Besides being a member of the Artemisia and Desert Wolf staffs, he was exchange editor of the Sagebrush, a member of the Honor roll, Chorus, Campus debating society, and the Chemistry club. He was awarded a prize last week for knowledge of chemistry laws.

In honor of his memory the annual stunt night of Lincoln Hall, was postponed. The funeral will be Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the Ross and Burke Funeral Parlors. The pallbearers will be his classmates Elmer Lyon, Herbert Roundtree, Elden Pruett, and Neil Lamb.

Each position on the varsity has at least one former varsity man whom the team can depend upon to substitute for them. A few of last year's stars are not back this year, but with experienced men to step in to take their places and a number of new men of proven worth, the outlook is bright for the coming season.

BIG RALLY TO BE STAGED BY PACK BOOSTERS

Nevada's first football rally of the season, to advertise the Nevada-St. Ignatius game tomorrow, will be staged tonight in downtown Reno.

The entire student body, both men and women, after assembling at Manzanita Hall at 7 o'clock this evening, will form a serpentine parade to the business district, traverse the entire central part of town, and meet at the intersection of Second and Virginia streets, where a mammoth demonstration of Nevada spirit will be given.

Many special stunts and other features for the entertainment of the downtown crowds have been prepared by the yell leaders, and a college orchestra, mounted on a truck, complete from drums to piano, will accompany college songs and give special musical selections.

Interest in the rally has been gaining headway by leaps and bounds during the past few days, according to those in charge, and the largest turnout ever accorded a Nevada rally is anticipated.

ENGLISH HONOR SOCIETY PLANS TO STAGE PLAY

Delta Alpha Epsilon is planning to stage "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith early in December. While no director has been decided upon as yet, Grace Basset '28, with the help of Instructor E. Duerr is taking charge of things. The cast will be chosen next week.

SHIELDS GETS U. S. JOB

John B. "Red" Shields, who has been enrolled in the University this semester, as a member of the class of '28, has received a junior chemists appointment in the United States customs house. "Red" will leave Sunday for San Francisco where he will immediately take up his work in the Appraisers building.

DR. W. B. EARL ON TRIP

Doctor W. B. Earl, member of the University Department of Veterinary Control, is on a business trip connected with the department in the southern part of the state.

"CAL OR BUST" CRY OF ROOTERS

While head coach "Buck" Shaw and backfield coach Harry O'Boyle are instructing their proteges in the finer technique of skinning a Golden Bear, plans are rapidly progressing for the insurance of a greater Nevada rooting section at the California-Nevada game to be staged in the California stadium, on Saturday, October 1.

The Southern Pacific Company has announced special week-end rates of $11.20 round trip, from Reno to the Berkeley station, and return. According to the announcement, it will be possible to leave on any Southern Pacific train heading for the coast over the week-end of September 31-October 1.

With Pacific Coast experts predicting that Nevada will give the Bears a great battle, providing the Wolves can take to Berkeley the usual fighting Pack, interest in the game already is at fever heat and close to four hundred Nevada rooters are expected to make the journey coastward Friday.

This year, for the first time, Nevada will stage a number of new rooting stunts as part of the California-Wolves battle, according to Bernard Hartung, '28, yell leader.

Season Tickets Placed on Sale

Season football tickets are now on sale at the Wilson Drug Store and also at the Spaulding Athletic Store, according to Emory Branch '27, athletic manager. These tickets will admit anyone to all the football games played on the Mackay field.

Parking space tickets may also be obtained at the Wilson Drug Store. Everyone will be required to have a parking space ticket in order to witness the games from a car.

The price of season tickets will be $3.50 and parking spaces will cost $2.50.

JOHN WALSH EX '29 ON ROAD TO IMPROVEMENT

John Walsh ex '29, who has been suffering from a nervous breakdown shows great improvement. He is up and around but he will not resume his studies at the university until next semester.

ETHEL WICKES TO TALK

A talk on wild flower paintings will be presented by Ethel M. Wickes in the Education Auditorium on October 6th. 132 portraits painted by her are at present displayed in the library. The pictures consist of various flowers of California and they are classed as a real work of art.

HOT DOGS RAISE COLORING FOR N

How many hot dogs and ice cream cones will it take to raise five hundred buckets of whitewash? Impossible to answer? Ah, no. Quite simple. The whitewash and the apples counters lance perfectly. Fifty-three freshmen raised four hundred and nineteen buckets of whitewash, and lowered one hundred and four ice cream cones and one hundred and thirty-six hot dogs. Do the division yourself and the answer will be easy!

MEN STUDENTS FAVOR WOMEN TO HELP YELL

HARTUNG MAKES PLAIN WHAT HE REALLY STANDS FOR

"We do not want the women to join in the organized cheering. They may do all of the screaming they wish, but need not yell," shouted Bernard Hartung, '23, to the bleachers as he started off the first rally of the year.

A ripple of anger from the women's section has since been partly appeased by a full statement from Hartung. "We want the women to yell, we want the women to join in all standard Nevada yells but—women are barred from participating in the three new yells. It doesn't look right for the women to sway drunkenly on the bleachers or to clap or jump. But we want the women," repeated Hartung hastily.

Statement Misinterpreted

Continuing his explanation he said, "I was afraid my statement had been misinterpreted, when I discovered the general attitude of the women. I can see how this could easily have been done."

Interviews with men prominent on the campus on the question—"Shall the women yell?" have brought the following results:

Women Back Teams

Comer Robertson, '28, said, "Women should be in the rooting section. The people who occupy the bleachers are there for various reasons, but all or nearly all of them would be on the field if they could. That's the spirit of the college. The women gave their money for the suits that the team members wear—they have the spirit the same as the men. When the women sat with the men they aided organized cheering. We want the women to back the teams. In California the women don't cheer, but California is a huge university, and what do we care what Cal does?"

Budd Stevenson, '28, football manager, stated, "I am in favor of organized cheering for women. They have the same as the men. They have the spirit the same as the men. When the women sat with the men they aided organized cheering. We want the women to back the teams. In California the women don't cheer, but California is a huge university, and what do we care what Cal does?"

While Emory Branch, '27, athletic manager remarked, "Women should be allowed to yell, but not forced to. Through some yelling may be rowdyish team support is certainly not unadvisable. However, I do not believe in organized cheering sections for women. That is more predominant in high schools. They should root for their team with the men. Women should not restrain their enthusiasm, especially where the rest of the university is concerned."

Joe Garcia, '28, added, "Women should cheer, they should support their team in fact there would not be much school spirit if they didn't."

Reynold Hansen, '28, football captain "Organized cheering for women is fine, it would be a great help. The way it is now the yelling is too scattered. The women should cheer the team."

"An organized yelling section for women is better than the past method. Women were in no particular place. Their attentions were elsewhere. This is a far better system for both men and women," says Tom Rayercraft, '27, president of Block N.

Leslie Clover, '28, says, "Women spoil yells. Their voices are too shrill for out of doors, but inside they are fine. However, this is too small a university to have the rooters divided. We need every ounce of support that the women will give us."

Soph Barn Dance Gets Good Crowd

The sophomore barn dance given in the gym last Saturday evening was well attended by members of all four classes and by a number of the alumni. The entertainment was furnished by Dick Hillman and his orchestra.

The tag dances were very successful in that they gave stage a chance to get acquainted. The proceeds from the dance will be used by the sophomore class to help finance the annual Soph Hop which will be given by the class of '30 later in the semester.

U. N. ORCHESTRA PLANS CONCERT

The University Orchestra, which has recently been organized under the supervision of Mr. Post has changed its rehearsal from two afternoon periods to one Thursday night rehearsal which will be equivalent to the former two.

It met on Thursday for the first time last week with an attendance of sixteen.

The instrumentation of the orchestra as it now exists is as follows: Ten violins, two violas, one cello, one bass, two clarinets, two saxophones, one flute, one trombone, one trumpet, and the piano.

Mr. Post has announced that there are still places open for a cello, french-horn players, or alto horns with an F shank, and a drummer.

He also stated that kettle-drums are needed, but that it will be necessary for the University to own these instruments as they are very expensive.

There are a number of orchestral scores in the music department and also thirteen orchestras which Post has just received, and which have been loaned to him personally.

As soon as the orchestra has attained a more permanent organization new music will be purchased for its use.

It is hoped that the orchestra will be able to give one or more formal concerts during the school year and join with the organization for the production of some oratorio or secular cantata in the spring, according to Post.

Y.W.C.A HONORS MISS B. COOPER

Miss Betty Cooper of Pomona College, Claremont, California, division chairman of Asilomar division of Y. W. C. A., was here on a visit to the local Y. W. C. A. Student Cabinet on Monday, September 19.

A breakfast was held in her honor at the Golden hotel Monday morning by the local cabinet. Miss Cooper then held conferences with the Dean of Women, Miss Margaret Mack, and with the cabinet members. At four o'clock a special cabinet meeting was called, and Miss Cooper spoke on her recent trip to Cloverdale, New York, where she attended the executive committee meeting of the National Student Council of the Y. W. C. A. Plans were made there for a National Student Assembly to be held in Sacramento next April 14 to 16. The purpose of Y. W. C. A. was also discussed and a definite statement as to purpose is to be worked out at the National Assembly.

While Emory Branch, '27, athletic manager remarked, "Women should be allowed to yell, but not forced to. Through some yelling may be rowdyish team support is certainly not unadvisable. However, I do not believe in organized cheering sections for women. That is more predominant in high schools. They should root for their team with the men. Women should not restrain their enthusiasm, especially where the rest of the university is concerned."

Lost And Found List Is Growing

Have you lost anything? Pens, pencils and note books are numerous accumulating at the registrar's office. Every day more writing paraphernalia, that has been lost, is added to the collection. At present the collection consists of four fountain pens, two pencils, a check book, a note book and a pocket book.

Owners of the various articles may procure their belongings by calling at the registrar's office and identifying them, according to Miss Sissa.

Joe Garcia, '28, added, "Women should cheer, they should support their team in fact there would not be much school spirit if they didn't."

Reynold Hansen, '28, football captain "Organized cheering for women is fine, it would be a great help. The way it is now the yelling is too scattered. The women should cheer the team."

W. A. A. Women Found Operating Taxi Cabs

"Taxi, taxi, here," a loud feminine voice called as the students hurried around the campus.

"Taxi, taxi," complained a frosh to W. A. A. member. "What are they taxiing us for now? All we do around here is pay out money and get nothing for it."

"Oh but this is just where you get your money's worth," explained the W. A. A. member.

"Several girls have cars on the campus today to drive students wherever they wish to go; the taxi fare being a dime."

"Oh, great," cried the Frosh. "I'm tired of walking anyway—Hey taxi!"

AGGIE DINNER TO BE HELD OCT. 28

Invitations have been sent out to Agricultural Alumni, Agricultural upperclassmen and Nevada agriculturists to attend a dinner to be held Friday evening, October 28th, at six o'clock.

It has been the custom during the past few years to have an Agricultural luncheon during the Aggie Day-Homecoming celebration to give all those who have been connected with the college a chance to become better acquainted with the alumni and other men of similar interests in the state.

This year the Aggie dinner committee plans to make the event better by having it in the evening and by having informal talks and stunts. It is planned to hold the dinner at the Century club.

W.A.A. TAXI DAY IS HELD ON HILL

W. A. A. Taxi Day has come and gone again. Today, from 11:25 to 12:20 the W. A. A. damsels caused much excitement among some of our bashful frosh men. With calls of "Want a ride," the girls succeeded in inveigling many of the boys into taking rides to and from the campus and then, at the end of the journey astounding the poor lads by demanding "Ten cents please."

Everyone co-operated with the girls and even the barriers were taken down so the cars could go back and forth the full length of the campus. Kathryn Priest, '30, in charge of the affair, succeeded in getting about 15 cars to act as taxis.

CLUB DISCUSSES YEAR'S PROGRAM

"The purpose of the Cosmopolitan Club is to bring foreign students together, thereby gaining individual contact and an exchange of ideas. The result will have far reaching effects because of the number of countries represented," said F. S. Louie '28, president of the Cosmopolitan Club, at the first meeting of the year held at the home of Altha Pierson '28, September 21.

Plans for the year's program were discussed. The club plans to send student speakers from various portions of the world to the meeting of other organizations that might wish to hear of other countries from one who really knows the conditions. Plans for several meetings to be open to the students of the University of Nevada a chance to become more acquainted with European and Oriental countries. Guests from Russia, Japan, India and the Philippines were present.

Eleven Freshmen Thrown in Lake

Eleven freshmen hit the waters of Manzanita lake last Wednesday. Several struggled but in vain! They were soon persuaded it was useless by a paddle to the amusement of a large crowd who witnessed the mer-mens antics.

The following were introduced to the lake: Jack Walthers, Fred Morrison, Gamble Mery, Lawson Linde, Howard Ballanger, Joe MacDonall, Joe Duffy, Jack Hopkins, Al Kline, Julian Sourwine and Fred Penley.

Carol Cross '30, Sophomore president states that the lakings are proving effective. Many more frosh are turning out for work now.

A lakings will be held next week for the frosh that failed to help paint the block N.

STATE SCHOOLS PLAN SCHEDULE FOR FOOTBALL

FOUR CONFERENCE GAMES WILL BE PLAYED THIS SEASON

The 1927 football schedule for the high schools of Nevada, drawn up at a meeting of the high school coaches of the state, was made public last week.

The schedule provides for four conference games to be played by each of the six conference teams, as well as several non-conference games. Two games between the U. of N. Freshmen eleven and high school teams are on the schedule, one with Stewart and one with Reno, while Winnemucca, though not admitted to the conference, is given a place on the schedule for the first time in several years.

The opening day of the high school season will be October 1, when the Reno high school eleven meets the Stewart Indians at Stewart, while Fallon tackles the Railroaders at Sparks. On October 8, Sparks plays Reno at Reno, Carson meets the Bucks at Stewart, and Lovelock plays Fallon at Fallon.

Reno has no game scheduled for October 15, Fallon travels to Carson to tackle the Capitol City boys, the frosh play Stewart at Stewart, and Winnemucca entertains Lovelock on her home field. The following Saturday the freshmen meet the Reno eleven on Mackay field while Sparks bucks the Melon Pickers at Fallon and Carson makes the long trek to Lovelock. On October 29 the Renettes play Fallon at Fallon while Stewart meets Carson at Carson.

November 5th Busy
November fifth will see the eight teams in action, with Reno meeting the Lasson Huskies at Susanville, Sparks bucking Carson at Carson, Stewart bucking the Fallonites on their own field, and Lovelock playing host to Winnemucca.

On Armistice Day, Carson will meet Reno on Mackay field and Fallon will play Lovelock at Lovelock, while on November 12 the Sparks squad will tackle Stewart at Stewart. November 19 will find the Bucks engaging Reno at Reno and Carson playing Fallon at Fallon, while the final game of the conference season is scheduled for November 29 when Lovelock plays Sparks at Sparks.

To Be Tri-Cornered
The struggle for the state high school championship this year looks like a three-cornered contest. Reno high school, champions for the past three years have lost several men by graduation, but have a wealth of material to fill up the gap, and can be depended upon to put another strong team in the field. Stewart, with comparatively few men lost from last year's eleven, will be out for blood, with a team which will have to be reckoned with. Fallon did not lose a single first-string player from last year, and so is certain to be in the struggle.

On the other hand, both Carson and Sparks have lost many of their best men, and faced with a dearth of new material, can hardly hope to do better than to turn out green, light teams; while Lovelock, lacking the facilities for practice possessed by the schools farther west, and being forced to build a team almost entirely from new material, does not appear to have much chance of turning out an eleven of championship calibre. However, the Lovelock squad is reported unusually heavy, and the boys from Pershing county may prove to be the dark horse of the season.

LETTER-GAMES ARE DESIGNATED

Letter-games for the present football season were fixed at a meeting of the Block N Society held in the Mackay training quarters Wednesday afternoon. Players who participate for one hour and five minutes in the following games shall be eligible for a block N at the end of the season: California, St. Marys, Santa Clara, and College of Pacific.

The organization has decided to gather pictures of all the past Nevada teams and have them framed and placed in the training quarters.

Hill Physician Says Keep Trim

The appearance of a case of poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis is no occasion for hysteria on the campus, according to Dr. Robinson. However, it serves as a warning to be more careful of your physical condition, and not to neglect even the slightest illness," he continues. "The nose, throat, mouth and fingers should be kept clean. If you are not feeling well you should report to the hospital as soon as possible. There is a trained nurse on duty at all hours and Dr. Robinson holds clinics from 4:30 to 6 every evening. All emergency cases should be taken to the hospital immediately and the nurse will find Dr. Robinson.

The hospital is maintained for the benefit of the students and all subscribers are cared for, without extra cost—in all cases of acute illness, or accident as explained in the University Catalogue.

Exhibits Moved To New Building

Nevada exhibits which for years have been stored in the Nevada Historical building on University Avenue have been moved to their new home in the basement of the Nevada State building in Powning Park.

The Nevada Exhibits from the Historical Society and those relics exhibited during the Nevada Transcontinental Exposition were moved during the early part of the week to the basement where they have been arranged temporarily. It will be some time, however, before a permanent arrangement of the exhibits will be made, but they can be viewed at any time in the present arrangement, according to H. E. Higgins, superintendent of the State Building.

A recent act of Legislature provided for the moving of the historical relics to the State building, and also for the sale and disposal of the property on University Avenue.

The placing of windows in the basement of the State building to allow the historical exhibits to be viewed in the proper light was completed last week.

Long Hair Decried For Coming Season

To bob or not to bob, that is the question, and a very important question it is to most of the co-eds on the hill. It is most comforting to the fair ones, who are in the "growing-out" stage to know that the Nation Hairdresser's Association, which has just met in Philadelphia, decrees long hair for the coming season.

Many Reasons
The reasons for growing-out are many. One girl, a pretty blonde, gives as her reason one which applies in most every case; "I am so tired of short hair and I am anxious to look different. I think so much more individuality can be achieved with long hair."

Another pretty miss offers a very convincing argument for her shoulder length locks. "Fred simply hates bobbed hair and so of course I have let mine grow."

Among the "growing-outs" is one brave damsel, who insists that she will never let her hair grow. "A boyish bob is much more becoming to me than long hair would be. I don't think I am the type for an effeminate hair dress and besides long hair is too messy."

One sorority on the campus boasts that every girl in the house is letting her hair grow. "Well . . . misery loves company, on second thought . . . consider the added dignity."

Takes Courage
But it takes courage, only last week two faithful followers of Psyche and her hand of long haired maidens, cut their tresses and seem to feel no remorse at their rash deed. One of them says, "I couldn't stand it any longer, I never looked nice, my hair was always a wreck." The other one offers no excuse except that she got tired of it.

"Why am I suffering all of this agony, asked a tall and stately senior with titan locks, well . . . I hope that I will look better, don't you think long hair is more becoming to my type of beauty?"

Two sisters of the "Dresden Shepherdess" type, one with golden and the other with raven curls, ardently uphold long hair. They insist that college girls should set the fashion and that this fashion must be in keeping with social dignity.

Clonia Members Selected Tuesday

Eleven new members were voted into Clonia at the close of the try-outs Tuesday evening. Those who succeeded in qualifying for membership were: E. Lyons '29, W. Keyser '28, M. Hartman '29, M. Sullivan '30, J. Sourwine '31, E. Boudette '31, W. Wilson '31, E. Burritt '31, H. Robinson '31, E. Lippincott '31, and H. Sheerin '31.

Each contestant spoke five minutes upon any of the subjects submitted by the Clonia tryout committee. The most popular topic was the affirmative of "Resolved, That college does more than any other factor to foster Atheism." Resolved that the modern college life tends toward too much class distinction; was the other topic discussed.

On October 4 the new members will be initiated into the society.

The regular business meeting of Clonia was held at the close of the tryouts.

Five Hall Women See Old Writing

Five women left Manzanita at 7:00 last Sunday on a W. A. A. Hill, driving to Sparks, and hiking from there to the Indian hieroglyphics which are four miles beyond Sparks.

After a picnic lunch they returned to Manzanita. Plans were discussed during the day for a moonlight and other hikes.

THE longer you smoke Prince Albert, the more convinced you become that it is the most satisfying tobacco that ever nestled in the bowl of a jimmy-pipe. You get a brand-new thrill every time you open the tidy red tin and breathe that wonderful aroma.

And when you tuck a load into the business-end of your pipe, light up, and open the drafts—say, Mister! Cool as a letter from home, telling you to cut down your expenses. Sweet as an unexpected check in the next mail. Sweet and mild and long-burning.

So mild, in fact, that it never bites your tongue or parches your throat, no matter how swift your pipe-pace. Yet it has that full, rich tobacco-body that lets you know you're smoking and makes you glad you are. Try Prince Albert, Fellows, and get the joy that's due you! Buy a tin today and get started!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tin, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

OUR SLOGAN

Watch the Wolves.

That is Nevada's new slogan for the 1927 season. It was chosen from all the suggestions submitted in the recent slogan contest conducted by the Whelps and is being sponsored by Blue Key. Short, snappy and easy to say, it is all that a slogan should be and it also means something. The Wolves will bear watching this year as they surge on to victory.

Don't, however, take Nevada's slogan too literally. The Wolves can bear cheering as well as watching. They need it. Tomorrow sees our first game of the season and may the Pack get that support they so richly deserve. But for the present:

WATCH THE WOLVES!

THE PSYCHOLOGY SIDE

Psychology has at last rallied to the support of the long persecuted "Collegian." No longer must he hang his head or feel a twinge of conscience when he draws out from an eagerly opened letter the much-needed allowance. No longer must he be resigned to the quips of humorists or the criticisms of cynics.

When the college student of today pockets the harmless necessary check, he is but co-operating in Nature's most successful experiment, the development of intelligence by the agency of the parental instinct. So let him not be too squeamish in accepting that parental aid. If a college education will really further his intellectual development, let him feel that Nature bids him pursue it, even at the cost of continuing to accept parental care in the sublimated form of a check.

A PUNISHMENT

"They don't give the frosh a chance," seems to be the general opinion concerning the university lakings. Well that's the idea; the frosh don't deserve a chance. Lakings are a punishment and not a Frosh-Soph field day, and if the more pugnacious and blood requiring wishes of the upperclassmen are not satisfied it is up to them to see that more field days or class battles are staged until these wishes are satisfied.

Anyone enjoys the sight of misery in others and such expressions as "In the old days we at least gave them a fighting chance" or "They don't fight like they used to" are uncalled for. Every year there has been every precaution taken, and no one has ever stood on the banks and dared the frosh to come out and be thrown in.

"Fight 'em up frosh," is good advice, but it doesn't help the frosh or advance the spirit of the laking. College life and spirit are considered happy ones, and a good struggle interests any of us; and if by any chance some sophomore is pulled into the lake, we are that much more amused, and the frosh enters the hall of fame instead of getting extra punishment.

Of course the primary purpose of the lakings is to frighten, or at least make the frosh think twice before breaking one of the school traditions and laws and at the same time furnish amusement for those who are privileged to watch them. The ungainly and awkward positions the frosh assume in their descent into the lake furnish enough amusement without the added attraction given by the struggles of the frosh.

A better attitude for the upperclassmen to take would be for them to encourage the sophomores, as they are carrying on school traditions, to quicker and if necessary rougher methods in the lakings. And in place of the time worn "Aw, give the frosh a chance." "Come on men let's see if you can't throw this one a little further," would be a more fitting yell.

It seems that the upperclassmen put themselves in a funny position when they designate lakings as the punishment for tradition breakers and then turn around and applaud the wrongdoers to fight, and if possible, get the better of those they have selected to administer the punishment. It looks like just another case of letting our natures run away with our judgments.

-A. R. C.

How do you like our new roof? As the Acadian said to his wife, when they dropped from a tree to a house floating down on the Mississippi. Every board must have its cracks, and as we're a little bored, we've got a few big cracks, and they're wise too. A back number of the Artemisia, graced with the picture of three Thetas, gives us the statement: "As long as the supply of sisters holds out the Thetas will go strong." Well... just another of life's little tragedies.

And we never in our life saw so many fraternity pledges in one place before, as there were at the Gamma Phi blow-out Friday night. There were two big problems connected with that affair. The first one was whether to fight our way in or use diplomacy. AND THE SECOND WAS TO FIND A GAMMA PHI AFTER WE GOT IN! Pete Gignoux seemed to recognize another problem some place; but we don't know yet whether he wanted MORE music or LOUDER music!

CHORUS OF PI PHIS, TRI DELTS AND THETAS, HEARD OUTSIDE THE GAMMA PHI HOUSE AT THE CLOSE OF THE FUNCTION: "WELL OF COURSE... BUT I THINK OUR HOUSE IS MUCH CUTER!"

Then, coming back to our old love, we'd like to go on record right here as saying that the guy who circulated that dirty dig about a certain sorority preparing too many place cards for a pledge banquet and mailing them to other tongs for use, had a vile sense of humor, and we hope no one will repeat it.

"What are you doing on this fire escape?" "Believe it or not, Miss Mack, I'm waiting for a street car."

AFTERMATH OF BID DAY "Well, I guess we'll get... now, don'tcha think dear?" "Yes, and hon, I really don't mind holding the sack, if it isn't full of lemons!"

And, as sugar goes with lemons, we told the Pi Phis to LUMP it.

Oh, before we forget, the frosh seem to think the world of the Tri-Delts. As we hear, one fell hard for them the other day... a broken heart mends slowly. Well, so does a sprained ankle. We suggest in passing that a hand rail

Book Reviews

"Giants of the Earth" by O. E. Rolvags, is one of the latest fiction additions in the University Library. It is a singularly interesting story of the Norwegian pioneers in the Northwest. The setting of the story is the plains of the Dakotas, and the theme of the story is the married life of Per and Beret Hansa. Per is a rough Norwegian of great strength and determination, while his wife, Beret, is just his opposite in character. The story portrays wonderfully the force and persistence which is needed in the conquering of the stubborn prairie land.

It is interesting to note that this story, which was written by a Norwegian of Norwegian people, was in the Norwegian language in the original manuscript. However, it has an entirely American viewpoint which makes it even more interesting to American readers. This really is a great book and certainly should be read by all who have the opportunity.

Another book by the English author, Percival Christopher Wren, entitled, "Driftwood Spars," has been put on the market in the United States. The plot is laid in India instead of northern Africa as in his other books. There is the usual amount of savage cruelty and torture that characterizes Wren's books. There is plenty of action. Altogether, it is a good book although its popularity will never be that of either "Beau Geste" or "Beau Sabreur."

Carolyn Wells has written another

Nevada Students Eat Much Candy

Are you one out of twenty? No, don't be flattered, but do you prefer Nut Rolls or Nut Hershey's? It must be confessed the nuts seem to be most popular. Are you still in doubt? Well, in fifteen days 670 bars of candy have been consumed by the Nevada collegians from Y. W. C. A. candy booth so by careful computation it is estimated that daily one out of every twenty does his bit toward helping be attached to the steps. We see that the Whelps are desirous of new slogans for this year. Now, nobody ever accused us of a lack of patriotism so we'll just help the boys out a little; and if Nevada hasn't a good slogan this year, we'll know we're not to blame. Here's our suggestion: "NEVADA: THE LAND SAINT PATRICK NEVER VISITED." That is, since prohibition.

Nevada's new song hit seems to be: Oh! such a funny feelin' All through my system's stealin' Where-am I at? At Semp T. Jack's.

The meter and rhyme of the song are perfect and the theme is one that anyone can appreciate but our difficulty is in finding someone to credit this song to.

Several suggestions have been advanced but the most likely one so far is that it is an old negro love song or lullaby, sung in the swamps and morasses.

"Jiggers the cops" was nearly reality at the last laking when one of the honored ones nearly gave the law a pure case of indecent exposure.

"You can play in any flat if you only have the key." MANZANITA MAZIE SEEMS TO BE GETTING A LITTLE TOO SPEEDY FOR THIS CAMPUS. I NOTICED SHE HAD HER HEAD "BOTTOMS UP" LAST WEEK AND THIS WEEK !!!

And though other cities gave the Colonel a grand reception, we'll rise to state that Reno sure was HOT for "Lindy."

A frosh looking for features of the campus claims to have found the original "Man With The Uprturned Face" standing in front of the stairs in Stewart Hall.

And they're not going to run a special train to the Cal game. Isn't that mean? And we had SUCH a good time last year!

"That's all right, fellas, we'll write you another one next week."

INEVITABLE

The mid-night oil is burning, There's not a sound within, For it's time that "delinks" are coming, And everyone feels like "sin".

No use to pout and scold, And sigh in deep despair, For it won't be long, I'm told When "cinches" will fill the air.

Just pack up your troubles and woes, Leave worries and care behind, For then it's time to go When five "delinks" you find.

There's one in Latin and French, Geology and History too, Even in English a "cinch" Well then here's to you-adieu. —Hum.

CONSOLATION

You said that you loved me— It sounded so true I'd like to believe it, But what can I do?

You said you'd remember— I hoped that you would Not just a mere duty Or think that you should.

You said you'd be lonesome— But why feel so blue Just try and remember I'm thinking of you. —III, '28

A COLD SONG

My cold, I hate thee, Dire thing of misery From thee I fling. The cause of why I cry, The cause of my great sigh From thee I now will fly, Thou hateful thing.—G. H.

Awakening

Golden sunsets, silver dawn, Fields and fields of waving corn; Yellow moonlight, rippling waves, Arbors green, and palisades; Flowers bright, with colors rare, All the world, seems, oh! so fair; Yet my mind is soon awake, "Nora! there's the bell, we're late." —A. B.

APPEARANCES

So distinguished looking! Why, who is he? I pondered—thinking— Who can it be? Haven't I seen him? I wonder where, That proud bearing, That superior air, A Prof—perhaps; Upon the hill, No, a great author, Or better still A scientist renowned, Who comes at will.

And then I saw, Yes, there was he, We'd met before, Now I could see, In the "Gow House," Way in the rear You'll find the man Of whom you hear! He's not a prof, Nor has he renown, He's the best dish-washer In all the town.—Faye.

'Reno City Directory' Week's Book Review

The volume to be reviewed this week is "The Reno City Directory," a light novel of more than usual interest, and having a wide range of appeal. There is a slight complexity of characters, but this fault is partially ameliorated by the fact that nearly all are drawn true to life, it being possible to recognize practically all one's neighbors and friends among the characters of the story.

Like Webster's "Dictionary," reviewed last week, the "Directory" subordinates its plot, but the extreme wordiness of the former volume is unnoticeable in the latter. The "Directory" also uses the same scheme which Webster made use of with so much success—namely alphabetical arrangement.

FROSH TEAM IN EARLY PRACTICE SHOW UP WELL

OVER THIRTY MEN OUT FOR POSITIONS ON CUB'S ELEVEN

After four weeks of hard and intensive work for the Frosh football aspirants, no tentative lineup for the team can as yet be given out, stated Coach "Chet" Seranton, of the first year men, during the earlier part of this week. Approximately 30 men are out for a position on the first year squad and are working hard to fulfill this desire.

These men can be seen in action every evening on Mackay Field under the stern eye of their coach, Seranton. Signals of the same kind as the varsity are practiced every evening. Besides these, other fundamentals of the game are dwelt upon, and the football code and tactics of the Wolf Pack are being drilled into the Frosh men. Some scrimmages have taken place but these have not amounted to much as yet. More active work in this line will begin next week.

"There are several reasons why I can not pick out the team now," said Coach Seranton. "Chief among these is the irregularity in the men attending practice. Another is due to the large number of men out for a position on the team, but as the season advances this number becomes smaller and they are more easily handled."

Probable Line-Up

Some of the men that are showing up well in the backfield include Lounigan, Mery, Daver, Riordan, White, Davis, Dumble, King and Thompson. Some of these men may land a position with the varsity before the season is over and will bear watching in their first games.

The approximate men for the line positions include Morrison, Stockton, DeLongchamps, Bender, Ipskip, Perley, Dixon, Merrit, Austin and Baker. There are three or four more positions that have to be filled on the regular varsity and it will be some of these men that will take those jobs before the Pack have played many games.

"It is hard to say now just what kind of a team the Frosh will have this year but in a few weeks it will be easy," said Seranton in reply when the question was asked of him.

MANY TICKETS FOR U.C. SEASON

Almost four hundred thousand tickets will be required during the 1927 football season for the ten contests which California will play in its Memorial Stadium.

Seventy thousand reserved seat pasteboards have already been printed for the University of Washington game on November 12, within a few thousand of the total number of seats in the big bowl.

Last year over 322,000 persons watched the Bears play their home games on the Berkeley lot, while a matter of 20,000 more saw them in action against Washington at Seattle.

This fall two important contests, that with U. S. C. and the Big Game will be played off the campus. The remainder of the games, however, are expected to draw large crowds. Tickets have been printed for them as follows:

Interclass series, 10,500; Santa Clara, 32,000; Nevada, 23,000; St. Mary's 65,000; Olympic Club, 54,000; Montana, 33,000; California freshmen vs. U. S. C. freshmen 12,000; season tickets, 5,000; University of Washington, 70,000.

It is expected that additional pasteboards will have to be printed for some of the games on the Bear schedule.

89 BEARS OUT

California has 89 men out for the varsity squad this year, while the frosh boast a total of 97 men. Of those on the varsity, 54 are experienced.

ST. IGNATIUS GRIDDERS TO OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON AGAINST PACK

IGNATIANS TO INVADNE NEVADA WITH VETERAN ELEVEN SO HARD GAME IS EXPECTED

By EDWARD DUCKER
Playing their first season in the Far Western conference St. Ignatius will open the season next Saturday against the Nevada Wolf Pack. St. Ignatius has nine veterans back from last year, six letter men and three others, that saw considerable action last season.

Among the veterans back from last year is Captain Tom Carothers whom Nevada fans will remember from last year as he was rather badly hurt in the Nevada game and was on the bench for the majority of the season. Carothers is a center of one years experience and from the great game that he played last year he should be a great center this year.

Lettermen Back

The rest of the lettermen that are playing this year are Dan Murphy at guard who was Captain of the 1926 varsity and a strong player as he is a large man and has had two years' experience. Polati at the other guard position is a letterman from last year. With these three men at the center of the line the Ignatians should show a strong front.

The end positions are two other places where St. Ignatius is well fortified as two of their six lettermen are ends. They are, "Red" Vacera and Frank Hanlon. Vacera is a tall rangy man and weighs 180 pounds with his two years' experience and should be a valuable man. Hanlon, the other end, has one year experience weighs 175 pounds and is very fast in going down under punts.

The remaining three men that did not make their letter last year are Jack O'Marie at center who replaced Carothers when the latter was injured here last year. He was originally a guard and has had one year's experience both at guard and at center. Tom Kearney at Half has had one year's experience playing at that position. Jack Casey at half is another man that has a year of play and should have a good season this time.

Frosh Plentyful

The rest of the St. Ignatius team this year will be composed largely of Freshmen and from the imposing list of Prep school stars they should be able to gather a great many valuable players. Among the most promising of the Freshmen class are Frank Horgan who last year was the unanimous choice last year for the All City quarterback at Los Angeles. Great things are expected from this man on his record from last year and he has shown great promise in practice so far this season.

St. Ignatius has another All City star in their lineup this year in Andy Sullivan from Oakland who is credited with doing the 100 in 10.4 and if he is capable of this time he will surely speed their backfield up. Two other back field men are Phillips and Rugg both from Lemoore, HI. They have very good high school records and show very promising.

Good Punter

St. Ignatius this year presents a punter who, if he lives up to his advance notices, will consistently out-punt any man on the coast. His name is Knopp who two years ago in high school competition was punting 55 yards and was doing this feat eight out of ten times.

Among the new men who are trying out for the line positions are Desmond, guard and tackle, who weighs 180 pounds and is showing up well in practice. Jack McQuaid at center, McInerney at guard and tackle. Olsen, a former varsity basketball star and very fast, is out for one of the end positions. Another promising man from the Frosh class is MIT McManus one of the stars of the strong San Mateo team last year. This man was much sought for and was wanted by "Brick" Mitchell, who coached San Mateo last year, and this year is handling the University of California Frosh. This speaks very highly for McManus and he will be closely watched this year.

Team Much Improved

One of the best features of the St. Ignatius team this year is that it will be made up almost exclusively of day students. In the past year there was a great number of night students playing and this caused a great many hardships. The night school men worked by the day and then at 5:30 came out for practice and then practiced until 7 o'clock when they finished and had to be at school at 7:30. By this system they gained very little practice and the practice that they did get was done mostly by the use of ghost balls and are lights. With this difficulty out of the way St. Ignatius should be one of the most improved teams on the coast and give the Wolf Pack a hard fight for an opening game.

FROSH SCHEDULE DRAWN AT MEET

Six Nevada high schools were represented at a coaches' meeting held under the auspices of the Block N Society last Saturday. Plans for the coming interscholastic football season were discussed and a schedule of games drawn up.

The high schools represented were Sparks, Reno, Fallon, Carson, Lovelock and Stewart. Coach Chester Seranton represented the Nevada Frosh and arranged for five games. The yearling schedule to date is as follows: October 15, Stewart at Stewart; October 22, Reno on Mackay Field; October 29, Susanville here (Homecoming Day preliminary); November 5, Sacramento Junior College in Sacramento; and November 11, Susanville at Susanville.

MEMORIAL STADIUM TO BE USED FOR PRACTICE

The University of California football team will use its memorial stadium for early season practice this fall for the first time since its erection. In the past, canvas walls have been thrown about old Hillgard field and preliminary practice held there. Coach Nibs Price made the change in order to avoid confusion of transferring equipment after the season is under way.

VARSITY TENNIS STARS IN MEET

Nevada will be represented in the State western tennis tournament to be held in Carson City this week-end by Douglas Busey, Edward Ducker, Tony Blum, and Loganell Beemer. Busey who recently won the state singles title in the net game is a prime favorite to romp off with the singles matches while paired with Ducker in the doubles, another victory is expected.

The mixed doubles will be represented by Blum and Beemer who, as two of the best players on the hill should make a strong bid for another victory. No entrant is made in the women's singles due to the fact that Miss Beemer would have to play both matches, making it too hard for her. The meet is sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

CAL. GOAL POSTS MOVED

BERKELEY—The goal-posts on the turf of California's Memorial Stadium are being moved for the first time since the Stadium was erected. The new football rules, decree that the goal-posts must be ten yards behind the playing field and the work is being done under the supervision of H. B. Foster, University engineer.

One-Third U. C. Frosh Six Feet

More than one-third of all the men out for freshman football this year at the University of California are six feet tall or over.

A summary of statistics on the 97 candidates who are signed up to play Coach "Brick" Mitchell reveals that exactly 37 are in the six-foot class. Three of the aspirants are 6 feet 3 inches; eight are 6 feet 1 inch, and twenty-one are an even six feet.

There is a plenty of heavyweights on the yearling roster also—Russ Avery, end, is 200 pounds; and Trenholm Meyer and Ralph Hammond, fullback and guard respectively, each confess to 205 pounds. Roland Strehlow, tackle registered from Alameda, is the biggest man on the whole list—although only eighteen years old, he weighs 213 pounds and is six feet three inches tall.

Alex Keir, who played quarterback and end at Santa Clara, is the same age as Strehlow, but is the smallest man out. He is 5 feet 8½ inches tall and weighs only 135.

Gene Chiese of San Francisco is the youngest member of the squad. He is only sixteen, but weighs 165 and stands six feet three. The oldest man on the squad is twenty-four. Averages for the whole squad were computed as follows: average age, 19.03 years; average height, 5 feet 11 6-10 inches, average weight, 168.67 pounds. Taken as a whole, the freshman weigh more than eight tons—16,361 pounds to be exact.

STUDIO PHOTOS TO BE WORKED ON NEW ANGLE

EACH ORGANIZATION WILL BE GIVEN TWO DAYS

In an attempt to remedy the uncertainties of the past method of handling the Artemisia studio photography, this year's Artemisia staff announces the introduction of a system similar to that used by most of the institutions of the same size and larger throughout the country.

In past years when given a period of eight weeks in which to appear at the studio, eighty per cent of the sittings would be made during the last ten days, and studio service could not be given.

Two Days Given

The sororities, fraternities, and Hall associations comprise about 650 of the 800 individual photographs taken, and on this basis of classification each of these organizations will be given two days, or three in the case of the halls, in which to have their pictures taken at the regular rate of fifty cents. A penalty charge of one dollar will be imposed by the studio on those who do not have their sitting made during the allotted time.

Following the sorority, fraternity, and hall sittings members of the junior and senior classes not included in one of the three groups will be given three days at the studio. Members of every other organization that will appear as a panel and not included before will be given a schedule date on which to appear before the first semester deadline on November 25th.

Plan Supported

The support of the plan has been assured by practically every organization president, and an attempt will be made to secure the sanction of the Pahlhellenic and Interfraternity councils in addition, according to Bob Adamson, '29, Artemisia editor.

The reductions for early copy to be received by the Artemisia will be applied as follows: For the first sorority and fraternity with most complete number of sittings made during the scheduled time, fifteen per cent each reduction on their total Artemisia bill; second, ten per cent each, and third, five per cent each.

The campaign will start on October 7th, following group picture week, and the exact dates for each organization will be announced next week upon completion of the census of groups that will appear as panels.

The Riverside Studio at 228 N. Virginia street has again been awarded the Artemisia contract.

STUDENTS START LOCAL TEACHING

On Monday of this week twenty-four second-year students of the Nevada Normal club began their practice teaching in the Reno public schools. The subjects being taught are: History, Language, Geography, Arithmetic and Project work.

The students take complete charge of the class for an hour a day under the supervision of a co-operating teacher.

Mrs. Deering '30, Edith Dowd '28, Louayne Anderson '30 and Lucille McKenney '30 are at the Babcock Kindergarten under the supervision of Miss McCormick. Opal Curieux '30 is also at the Babcock Kindergarten under Miss Semenza.

Miss Warner has charge of Evelyn Rogers, '30, Catherine Curieux '28, Viola Nelson '30, and Tess Chambers '28. Miss Leotarde has charge of Evelyn Boudette '30, Martha Metscher '30, Evelyn Fahin '30 and Thelma Gerber '30 at the Orvis Ring school. Miss Clark has charge of Grace Uhart '30, Alice Xenni '28, Edna Coleman '28 and Anita Becas '28, and Miss Dominguez has charge of Marybelle Douglas '31 and Mary Guthrie '29 at the McKinley Park school.

Zenda Johns '29 Injured by Auto

Zenda Johns '29 was painfully injured last week, when an automobile driven by University students struck her. Miss Johns had just alighted from the bus in Sparks and had started to cross the street when the car struck her, throwing her to the pavement, and injuring her. The young men in the car stopped and rendered assistance, and a doctor was immediately called.

The extent of her injuries did not prove to be especially serious, although her back was badly strained, and she suffered numerous cuts and bruises. She is now improved, however, and probably will be back on the Campus within a few days.

Unique Woolfe Bird Alights on Campus

A Woolfe Bird has alighted on the campus. With a screeching and rattling of teeth, a whirring and flapping of wings, he roars his way down North Virginia Street, and skids to a stop in a red and blue gasoline station. Six ambitious co-eds with colorful imagination have tamed this wild creature, and, crowded on his leathery old back, have visited Tahoe, raced through the hi-ways and by-ways of Reno, and even paid homage to Lindy! Although encased in a plebian Dodge body with mysterious squeaks and rattles in its insides, the Woolfe Bird soars through campus and town with dauntless spirit and unquenchable thirst, as any of its owners will testify, while they desperately count out the shekels for innumerable drinks of gasoline.

Various philanthropic S. A. E.'s have managed to keep the troublesome wires and battery connections together, while the Sigma Nu house, not to be outdone in kindness, has devoted itself to keeping the rubber on the old bird's legs. Although the sum of punctures on one long-living tire has now totaled nine, the heroic bird may still be seen hopping about the campus on the three remaining legs.

GRID GRAPH TO REPORT GAMES

The University of Nevada students will have the opportunity of witnessing the full schedule of football games played away from home this year. A gridgraph will be erected in the auditorium so that students who are not able to attend distant games may obtain a play by play report at home. The gridgraph consists of a large panel with many lights to represent the panorama of a football field. Five men are required to operate the electric lights in back of the board. The messages are reported by telegraph from the playing field and are immediately flashed on the screen.

Last year the gridgraph was sponsored by the athletic department, but will be run by the Blue Key Fraternity this semester. Joe Garcia '28, manager of the gridgraph states that all football games will be advertised beforehand and if the students will patronize it will be a big success.

During the half, any one can send messages to football players by reporting them to the telegraph operator behind the screen.

The audience will be entertained during the half by university actors.

BLUE KEY PLANS WOLVES FROLIC

Plans were discussed and formulated by the Blue Key fraternity for the annual Wolves' Frolic to be given the latter part of October. According to Lawrence Niswander, '28, president of the organization, the new Nevada slogan will be published soon. A great many slogans have been turned in by the students for the contest, and difficulty has been met in determining the best.

The gridgraph operations for the year will be sponsored by the Blue Key, who will endeavor to make a success of this undertaking.

A talk by Dr. Charles Haseman, head of the mathematics department, featured the meeting, which was well attended. Several old members of the organization were guests of honor.

FRESHMEN GIVE N WHITENING

"Hey, down there, hurry up with more of that white wash," was the general cry along the long line of Frosh that extended from the mixing troughs up the steep incline to the letter last Saturday morning. As a result of the efforts of the first year class the "N" has a new coat of white and is vividly seen by anyone looking toward the campus from the city.

Women Assist

Mixing of the lime and water was begun soon after eight o'clock and the line of workers were busy passing filled buckets up and empty ones down to again be refilled. A force of men at the top end of the line were busily occupied in distributing the liquid. Some were mixing the lime while others were going back and forth carrying water from the stream below.

Nearly every Freshman woman was present at the scene of work, and many of them assisted in the carrying of buckets. They also supplied the stronger sex with drinking water.

"Eats" Served

Near noon the job was declared finished and everyone assembled around a large camp fire to partake of hot-dog sandwiches and coffee, prepared by the frosh women. At the rate the "dogs" vanished it was evident that the men had carried several hundred buckets for a good purpose.

Upperclass Men Officiate

The work was supervised by upperclass men, and due to their past experience, the painting was done in a systematic manner. Next semester the frosh class will again paint the letter.

Roll call was taken, near the end of the morning, and many of the yearlings failed to answer. Unless a plausible excuse is given the shunners of work will receive a dip in Manzanita lake, according to members of the upperclass committee.

ARTEMISIA MEN TAKE AIR VIEWS

As the result of a flight yesterday by Bob Adamson, '29, editor of the Artemisia, and John Babcock, '29, photographer on the Sagebrush staff, exclusive aerial views of the University of Nevada campus will be published in the 1928 Artemisia.

Adamson and Babcock, in an Alexander Eaglerock biplane, flew over the campus yesterday at 1 o'clock, when Babcock photographed from the air scenes chosen by Adamson. These pictures will appear exclusively in the University of Nevada Artemisia, and will be something entirely new in scholastic year book photography. Heretofore scenes have been "shot" only from the ground, but the heads of the 1928 Artemisia, in an effort to produce another excellent annual, "took to the air" for their views of the campus.

Frats and Sororities Enjoy Duck Spreads

Over last Friday and Saturday at least two dozen crews filled the guards with humanity and many of them with the occupants hanging from the sides, journeyed to the outlying districts in desperate search of the elusive duck.

Shot guns were shined and hunting licenses procured, (many of them borrowed). The ducks were in for an attack and many visions were seen of platter after platter heaped with the delicate wild game.

Throughout the afternoon and far into the night of Sunday, these mighty hunters returned, disgusted and tired. "What was the matter? No ducks? Plenty of ducks but we couldn't find them after we killed them." And many other such stories. The visions of the platters and the delicate birds vanished and in its place was despair.

Not so in all cases. Many of those of the twitching trigger finger came home loaded with the feathered game. In more than one fraternity house duck was served on Monday and the hunters were commended on their shots. Many of the shots are being shot over and many more are to be shot this week-end, for others have the urge and the old "gat" is being cleaned and the Ford tires repaired for a trip to the land of the marsh and the tules.

Plans Discussed For Tug O' War

At a meeting of the Block "N" last Thursday Erwin Morrison '27 and Reynold Hansen '28 were appointed as a committee to arrange the tug o' war over Manzanita Lake for Home Coming Day.

Also a warning was issued to all Frosh who had been laked twice stating that a third offense merited a meeting with the Upperclass Committee.

Y.W.C.A. FASHION SHOW AT HALL

The parlor of Manzanita Hall became an exclusive Modiste Shoppe on Wednesday afternoon when the members of Y. W. C. A. gave their annual fashion show.

Every year the Y. W. C. A. gives a fashion show for the purpose of entertaining the new-women of the campus and for getting them interested in Y. W. C. A. work. A large number of women attended the show. Papers were passed out and the women signed up for special committee work.
