

WOLVES FROLIC ACTS DECLARED GREAT SUCCESS

PACKED HOUSE ENJOYS COMBINED CAMPUS TALENT

Playing to a packed house, the combined dramatic talent of the university last Saturday presented an array of varied acts quite in keeping with the standard set by Nevada's greatest Homecoming Day, the occasion being the annual Wolves Frolic.

The program consisted of fourteen acts, nearly every campus organization and group being represented. One of the most novel acts of the evening was the fencing exhibition put on by Boyden and Duffy, both '31. The act was short, fast, and full of action and given a round of applause by the audience.

Court Scene

Phi Sigma Kappa presented "Still a Chance," showing a comical courtroom scene, parodying the frequent miscarriages of justice, with a mere man in the role of accused instead of the usual beautiful woman. The act scored a distinct hit and was greeted by a continuous ripple of laughter.

The Gamma Phi presented an interesting "A Street in India." A carefully planned setting and clever costumes gave a realistic glimpse of the eastern land; and the players were rewarded by a hearty round of applause as the curtain fell.

Rosalie Scores

"Rosalie," a one-act play, was the contribution of Campus Players. Presenting the story of a little French maid who demanded her rights and succeeded in securing them. The act proved to be one of the hits of the evening.

Rainbows

"Rainbows," by the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, proved to be one of the biggest successes of the entire performance. Staged after the manner of a revue, the act presented a combination of beauty, costuming and music which proved irresistible and provoked a storm of applause.

McIlwaine Stars

"Campus Scandals," assembled by Ralph McIlwaine was the final act of the evening. Various clever skits, and a solo by Kathleen Malloy made up the program, the final skit being a parody of "Venus at the Bath" with a slightly muscle bound Venus, an almost unrecognizable fountain, and a chorus of hoboes which threw the audience into veritable gales of laughter.

The program closed with the singing of the "Triumph Hymn" by the entire ensemble and the audience, a fitting conclusion to what has been heralded as the greatest Wolves Frolic in history.

their second consecutive victory by pulling their inexperienced Freshmen rivals through the ice cold waters with comparative ease.

At 12:30 the Nevada Freshmen and Susanville high school football teams met on Mackay field in a preliminary to the big game. The yearlings managed to beat the school boys by a score of 14 to 12 after a hard-fought game. At 1:30 the Shrimers, dressed in their gaily colored costumes and paraded before the crowd in the bleachers. In the most evenly matched contest seen here in some years, the 1927 Nevada varsity battled to a 7-7 tie with the University of Santa Clara.

Saturday night the Agricultural students were the hosts at their annual Barn Dance in the university gymnasium. Ray Hackett's five-piece orchestra played while one of the largest crowds ever to attend a campus dance this year danced.

Alumni from practically every class which has graduated from the university attended the annual banquet in the Hotel Golden. Harold Hughes, president of the alumni association announced the plans for the proposed Students' Union Building and a means for raising the funds was discussed.

FROSH DEFEATED IN TUG OF WAR

Amid the shouts and encouragement of a great crowd of spectators, the class of '31 went down to a damp defeat in the annual Frosh-Soph tug-of-war on Homecoming Day.

Fifteen men were picked as representatives from each of the two classes. The rope was stretched across the lake and the Frosh were stationed on the side near the dining hall while the Sophs took their position on the lawn behind the Aggie building. At the crack of the gun both sides pulled their best and although the Frosh seemed to gain at first but their lack of coordination defeated them as the Sophs, profiting by experience pulled together. The crack of the gun announcing the time up found fifteen Frosh pulled "gracefully" across Manzanita Lake.

BLEACHERS CAUSE FROSH TO GROAN

"Off again, on again, gone again, Finnegan," is just about the way of it, according to certain disgruntled members of the freshman class. No sooner were they up than they had to tear them down and put them away again, and neither the Frosh nor the Sophs appealed strongly to the case-loving first year men.

You see, it was this way. Because of the crowd expected for Homecoming Day, it was deemed necessary to set up extra bleachers; and as it is beneath the dignity of an upperclassman to do menial labor, it fell to the lot of the frosh to do the job. No sooner were the bleachers properly in place than the game was over, or so it seemed, and the work of several hours had to be done by the same ones who had accomplished it.

According to one frosh, "It's a regular, ring around the rosie, Thank goodness there's only one Homecoming Day."

COLORS STIR UP VIVID MEMORIES

The royal purple of old robes, and kings and ermines—crimson hues coloring the bleachers, and the blue and silver of the Wolves predominant on the field, made our Eighth Homecoming the greatest in live action, an event that will long be remembered.

Red began the celebration; a great throng of peppy students serpentine down Virginia street, Thursday night and then went to the Bleachers, where a huge bonfire cast a red glow over all the sky, enthusiasm was great, and Nevada's friendly, co-operative spirit was at its height. Then, early the next morning, groups of students arose early to work on floats that the parade might be crimson with color, as warm as the Nevada spirit itself. Coming always with the red was a deep, brilliant blue, symbolic of friendship or returning grads and the blue for Nevada's colors.

Fantasy

Friday night, the blues and reds were supreme, when, with a blare of trumpets the Wolves appeared and entertained with their Frolic. Crimson Spain, red-gold India came before the crowd in artistic pageantry, vying with dainty, rainbows, and amusing comedy for public approval.

But as blue is stronger in purple, so was it stronger in Nevada's day. Silver and blue—the football field, these are the colors that will stay longest in the memories of the "grads" who returned in 1927 and watched the Wolves fight for their Alma Mater. The spirit that is bound up in Nevada's colors, also made itself felt in the hearts of the students, and as they cheered for their team, Nevada's Eighth homecoming day slowly began to fade, but with memories vivid and lingering.

PROGRAM DRAWN UP FOR Y. W. C. A.

A Y. W. C. A. meeting for the freshmen women was held Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the lecture room of the Aggie building. The purpose of the meeting was to arouse the interest of the freshmen women in the Y. W. C. A. Discussion, for the purpose of answering questions concerning the Y. W. C. A. and various campus organizations, was first held.

A program for the coming year was discussed and it was definitely decided to have classes in handicraft, also a Thanksgiving breakfast for the women of the campus, who would be unable to go home; and discussion meetings, in which problems of the freshmen women would be answered. There will be further discussion of the program at the next regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

"CORKY" UNDER YOST

NORWAY THEME OF D. A. E. MEET

January 14 has been set as the date for the annual D. A. E. play at a meeting of D. A. E. at the Pi Beta Phi house last Thursday evening. The play chosen is "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. A definite cast will be selected November 14 and work begun immediately. The play is under the supervision of Grace Basset '28 with the aid of Edwin Duerr, instructor in English.

Also, a discussion was held regarding the D. A. E. gift to the library which is to be in the form of Shakespeare. It was decided that if a marble bust could not be secured in a reasonable length of time that a bronze bust would be purchased instead for the English Seminar room.

The meeting was turned over to the social committee and a Norwegian program was presented, a Norwegian atmosphere being created by the dress of the members. Long billowing skirts, beaded shawls, and stiff white aprons were worn. The program was designated to give a Norwegian background and the life and customs of that people as revealed through their literature.

Ruth Streeter '29

read a Norse legend; Ruth Bart '31 gave two piano solos of Norwegian origin, "The Bridle Party" and "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen" from Grieg; Ellen Baldwin '29 gave a resume of "Sigfrid" an old Norwegian ballad that has come down by word of mouth from the old Norsemen and has recently been put into an opera by Wagner. This was followed by the playing of a record, "Sigfrid's Funeral" from the opera by Wagner. To add a modern touch to the meeting Margaret Hartman '29 summarized a modern Scandinavian novel, "Singalla" by Victor Rydberg, translated by Alex. Joseph.

Refreshments were served in true Scandinavian style.

ORPHAN'S PARTY GIVEN BY Y.W.C.A.

The Social Service Committee of the University of Nevada Student Y. M. C. A. entertained the orphans at the Orphan's Home in Carson City with a party Sunday afternoon. Game captives had been appointed by Margaret Hartman '29 who was in charge of the affair. Mae Bernasconi '28 was the game captain of the youngest group between the ages of three and six years, Lucille McKenny '30, of the group between seven and eleven, and Idel Anderson '30, of the group between twelve and sixteen years. Games were played and entertainment was furnished by the orphans, and by Mary Hancock '30, and Corinne Nelson '30. Refreshments concluded the affair.

The women who made the trip were: Elizabeth Shaber '29, Margaret Sullivan '30, Mae Bernasconi '28, Margaret Hartman '29, Mary Hancock '30, Margaret Lewis '30, Lucille McKenny '30, Eva Adams '28, Idel Anderson '30, Corinne Nelson '30 and Marjorie Blewett '31.

POTATO EXHIBIT IS WON BY LYON

Farmers from all over the state sent their choicest potatoes and apples to be placed on exhibition in Nevada's Fifth Annual Potato and Apple Show, held last Friday and Saturday. Ranged on tables occupying nearly half of the upper room in the University Barracks, the potatoes made an imposing exhibit, showing what Nevada is capable of raising.

The silver loving cup awarded by the Durham Chevrolet Company to the county having the best exhibit was carried off by Lyon county, while Douglas and Washoe counties took second and third places respectively. Individual awards for the best specimens of each variety of potato were made on the basis of form, uniformity, size, depth and frequency of eyes, flesh and skin, and condition; and the winning exhibits were chosen more for their freshness to type, rather than for any abnormality tending to make them unusual.

The apple exhibits, while perhaps less imposing, were more appetizing, as was attested by the rope which barred the public from too close contact with them. Small boys leaned over the rope, gazing longingly at the plates of fruit placed carefully beyond their reach.

Although the year has not been favorable for the growth of a good crop of apples, most of the varieties grown in Nevada were represented.

GAELS LOSE FEW MEN

St. Mary's backfield is composed mainly of sophomores this year, and next season, in addition some promising 1927 Frosh will be set to play. The line loses several men, including Captain Larry Bettencourt, but all may be replaced from the yearlings team of this year's Varsity.

NEW IDEA GIVEN TRIAL BY GROUP

Y. W. C. A. of the Nevada Campus hopes to organize a corresponding membership. The group met last Tuesday night to formulate plans, which are being carried out by the district committee, Eva Adams '28, acting as chairman. The committee is being backed by the president, Margaret Ernst '28 and former presidents of Y. W. C. A., Theilma Pray '27, Esther Summerfield '26, Claire Williams '25, Lyndale Adams, Greenwalt '24, Genevieve Chatfield Boardman '23, and Helena Shade '17.

The purpose is to keep former members and students in touch, through letters and magazines, with the affairs of Y. W. C. A. and the Campus. The plan aims, especially, to keep in

SPECTATORS SEE METHODS USED IN ENGINEERING

THIRTEEN PROVES TO BE LUCKY NUMBER FOR ENGINEERS

Unique exhibits from each department of the Engineering School attracted attention during Homecoming, as visitors were conducted through the show by students in the department, and each phase of their work depicted explained in detail by members of the classes which constructed the various attractions on display.

Miniature Dredge Shown
In the mechanical engineering building, miniature dams and bridges constructed true to type in every way to the "real thing" by students in the School of Civil Engineering, gave practical instructions on the constructive work done along these lines. Sections of reinforced steel, and detailed reproduction of the various strusses found in the original of these structures were clearly depicted.

Mill in Operation
A gold mill in actual operation featured the exhibit shown by students in the school of Mining Engineering. Seventeen tons of high-grade ore, brought to the University particularly for the Homecoming display were run through the mill during the day, each operation being clearly shown and explained by the students. Following the running off of the tests, small nuggets of "gold" were presented to visitors at the exhibit, the "gold" being a unique combination of two metals, aluminum and brass, giving a realistic effect.

The seismograph, or earthquake recorder, was also a part of the Mining school exhibit, charts of several local and foreign earthquakes being shown, with complete descriptions of the minute action of the sensitive instrument.

Electrical Display
In the Electrical laboratory, synchronous motors, used to convert alternating currents to direct currents, were shown; and converters and transformers as well attracted decided attention in the light of their uniqueness and completeness in display.

An airplane engine, set up in full operation, was exhibited outside the Electrical building by the Mechanical engineers. Model steam engines and turbines featured the major part of the Mechanical displays in the laboratories of that department.

STATE NORMALS TO HAVE PARTY

Plans for a Thanksgiving party were discussed at a meeting of the Nevada State Normal Club, held Thursday afternoon in the Education building. November 16, was set as the date for the party. The following girls were appointed as head of their respective committees: Bessie McDonald '31, entertainment; Thelma Gerber '30, preparation and reception; Grace Uhart '30, refreshment; Mary Branson '31, decoration and Opal Curieux '30, cleanup.

Plans for having pictures taken for the Artemisia were discussed, and it was announced that a definite time would be set for those who have not yet had their picture taken.

UNIQUE LIBRARIES SOUGHT BY FROSH

"Good Old Libs." whispered one Frosh girl to another, "it surely comes in handy, doesn't it?" and they tripped out of Manzanita Hall to meet the boy friends on the porch.

Well we all know that the library is not on the Carson Highway, but that is the direction in which they went in the high powered Ford owned by one of the "frat" brothers.

And then—well, I know, but I won't tell, oh yes, I will too, what does it matter. Miss Mack also went to the library that night and not to the one on the Carson Highway either, but to none other than the one we love so dearly on our campus. And what do you think she found? Well, she didn't find the two Frosh girls who had asked her permission about two hours ago. No indeed! Nor could she find but a very few of the many girls who had gone out to study. Little did she guess that there was a library on the Verdi highway, Idlewild Park, Purdy highway, Majestic Theater, or what have you?

And guess what happened? Well, it was just too bad because Miss Mack was quite angry and I ask you who wouldn't be in a case like that, but those girls were severely scolded and were denied the privilege of going to the library for a very long time. We all feel very badly because we miss their smiling, intelligent (why yes, at times they are) faces at the "good old Libs."

AGGIES FEATURE POULTRY EXHIBIT

A prominent feature of the Aggie show was the poultry exhibit. Under the supervision of Mark Menke, Oregon, it was possible to arrange the first display of this kind since 1925. To secure the greatest variety of fowl was the aim of the committee in charge. Nine varieties of chickens, three kinds of ducks, two types of geese, and one species of turkeys was the result.

Chickens were exhibited as follows: Bantams by Naylor Douglas, Black Minorcas and Leghorns by Bob Scott, Rhode Island Reds by Peter Finn, Orpington-Brahmas and Brahmas by C. A. Howard, Barred Rocks by Mark Menke, White Rocks by Alfred Peckham, and Guinea Hens by A. J. Sweezy. The Barred Rocks and the Leghorns laid eggs while at the show. J. P. Raines exhibited White Peking Drake and Muscovy or "Quackless" ducks; while Mallards were shown by Mrs. Hoskins. Alfred Peckham, the potato king, displayed the two kinds of geese, namely, Toulouse and Andeenn. Bronze Turkeys were also caged from Raines' flock.

MINING SCHOOL RECEIVES RARE ORE SPECIMEN

PORCELAIN COMPANY'S PRESIDENT SENDS GIFT

Five hundred pounds of high grade dumortierite ore is being shipped to the Mackay school of mines by the president of the Champion Porcelain Company, as an expression of his thanks for the work done by the men here on the dumortierite problem.

The ore, which is rather rare, is to be used in trading with other museums, whereby the Mackay school of mines, can secure other specimens to round out their museum in return for some samples of the ore.

The president, also expressed his thanks in a letter to J. A. Fulton, director of the school.
The study of dumortierite ore has been taken up by the Mackay school of mines as one of the greatest non-metallic problems this state presents. Although known since 1881, the mineral has never been studied until now, when the Champion Porcelain company has begun a commercial use of the ore.

The ore is used chiefly in making spark plugs, but can also be used to make unbreakable dishes, etc. A high degree of development of this ore will reduce the danger in airplane plugs, and other delicate machinery to the nth degree.

Dr. Jones and Dr. Grawe, of the geological department are doing a microscopic study of the mineral, the chemistry department of the University of Nevada is making a careful chemical analysis, and professor Palmer is running a series of tests to see if the ore can be freed of its impurities.

"We hope to achieve something of international interest," stated Fulton, "and our work so far on the problem has given excellent results."

Bettencourt May Be All-American

Captain Larry Bettencourt of the St. Mary's varsity football team looks like a unanimous choice for All-American this year. Bettencourt, according to eastern and western grid authorities "ranks with the best centers of all time." Not only did the big player hold down his own position, but he also played in the backfield.

ELLEN HAWKINS IS PRIZE WINNER

A prize of $100 for the best essay on "Emancipation from the Drink Custom" was won by Ellen Prince Hawkins '30. The contest was conducted by the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Miss Hawkins also won the twenty-five dollar prize which was given by the local organization of the W. C. T. U. for the best paper written on this subject by a student of the University.

The statement was made by the National Director of the Essay Department that the work submitted, on the average, was on the highest level, as to quality, of any of the years since she had been director. Another contest of this character will be held next semester.

Those receiving honorable mention were: Mary Ullery, De fiance College, Defiance, Ohio; and Kirk Reasonover, Siloam Springs, Arkansas.

OLD GRADS PLAY AT AGGIE DANCE

Taking their place on the orchestra platform during the annual Aggie dance held Saturday night in the gymnasium, three of the original Campus Five orchestra, "Howdy" Wilson '23, Harold Hughes '24, and "Walt" Reimers brought back vivid memories to the many "grads" in attendance.

The dance was the last event of the Homecoming Day celebration and was attended by one of the largest crowds ever seen at an informal Hill function. The gymnasium was decorated with cornstalks, creating an authentic atmosphere.

The Lincoln Hall orchestra furnished the music, and elder made by the Aggies caused many to gather round the refreshment booth.

OUR NEW DREAM

A goal to be attained. Something to look forward to. Something to take an interest in and in which that interest can be built into something worth while. That is what is embodied in Nevada's latest project, a Student Union Building. At last we students have a project all our own, something "of the students, by the students and for the students."

Now, with the rush of Homecoming over and before the scramble to get by our final exams, we have time to pause for a few moments and consider what this building would mean to us. The need for it was never realized so much as now that something definite has been initiated. Nevada, in the past few years, has grown till she is now a real University with a university's needs.

The necessity for such a building hardly needs to be dwelt on because of its self evidence. A place where students may meet and effect better cooperation, an adequate place for campus functions which must now take place in the barn-like Gym or down town at the cost of exorbitant rental fees, offices for the publications and Student Body officers and, perhaps most important, an Alumni headquarters where the old grads may feel they have an interest, where they may come back except on Homecoming without feeling like strangers.

Some few have had the initiative and foresight to start the work toward this building. It is the duty of all to see that it does not become a dead issue, forgotten in the light of the first new fancy that strikes. It won't be here for us as students. Some of us will probably never even see it. But we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have helped this ideal along, brought it a bit nearer completion. It is our duty, and should be our pleasure, to talk this project up, to work for it, and to back anything that may further its fulfillment. In this way only can this dream of Nevada's students come true.

THANKS AND VALUES

Homecoming—gone again into the past—and to the future. Friendships have been renewed, old ties resumed, memories of the past revived—and the work of weeks carried out to finality—with criticism and applause giving way to new interests.

Thanks are now in order. Thanks to those that make it possible for us to have a University wherein such associations and fellowships exist that anyone should wish to hold them indefinitely inviolate. Thanks are due to those who prepared the elaborate arrangements for reception, entertainment, amusement—one thousand and one details unnoticed by casual on-lookers and yet inextricable in a successful whole. The Homecoming Day committee functioned quietly but thoroughly as a unit for one of the finest celebrations yet put over as a welcome to returning Nevadans.

Thanks incidentally are due in a large measure to those on the Hill who worked and planned unassumingly behind the scenes to put over what was necessary for success—individuals and organizations turning out en masse to participate and as well to appreciate. In this category we find cooperation and support coming from many sources—those who directed, those who judged, those through whose efforts countless exhibits and attractions were possible—alumni, faculty, students, townspeople all joining in one great effort for an undertaking of huge proportions.

And we want to thank those who came—those who expended efforts to return—to "come home" for Homecoming. For them these efforts were made, and through them these efforts are made worthwhile. Those who came back to the Hill—who answered the call of old associations, and returned to be once more a part of it all—to them is due the real success of Home-

WE HAVE REFORMED-AT LEAST TEMPORARILY. THERE WILL BE NO MORE DIRTY DIGS IN THIS COLUMN UNTIL WE HAVE GATHERED MORE INFORMATION ON THE SUBJECT. WE WANT YOUR OPINION AS TO WHETHER YOU WANT DIRT OR NOT. IN THE MEANTIME, THIS WEEK'S EFFUSION WILL BE A MODEL OF PROPRIETY.

Those who were surprised at the popularity of the assaying department in the mining building Friday probably did not discover what a fine place it was to warm one's hands.

And all the Physics Building needed to make it an ideal children's playground was a scenic railway and a peanut stand.

The inventor of the "Flapper Test" really should have provided some way of taking the ladies' temperature also.

WE NOTICED THAT THE BRONCOS WERE QUITE UP TO THE MINUTE IN THEIR LACK OF HOSIERY.

The enthusiastic alumnus who huddled three people at one leap in the bleachers when Nevada made a touchdown, may boast as long and as loudly as he wishes about the pep and spirit of good of '19, we are ready to listen and believe.

We couldn't help wondering if the Pi Phi act in the Wolves Frolic was supposed to take place in the Pi Phi house, where the House Mother was all that time?

coming. And in their example is found the true root of values—of values reaching beyond actual campus days, to that indefinite future when the call of the past will be heard and those of today will make the long trek home in some tomorrow as a Nevadan—to be once more at and a part of Nevada and all it holds true. —E. A FUTURE KEY

Every student, when he or she graduates from the University and goes out into the hard-boiled world, should carry with them some souvenir of their college days. Some may take an education, some may take memories of good times, but others may not even be that lucky. There is, however, a chance for all to have something by which they can remember their Alma Mater. On the front page of this issue is a news item announcing the placing on sale of a limited number of volumes of the History of the University of Nevada. Our college days are reputed to be our best ones and what could be a better reminder of those days than a history of that university. For one dollar there can be purchased the means for bringing back in future years priceless memories of our present days. It should be the self-imposed duty of every one of us to obtain one of these future keys to our store of memories.

How will your office look?

Not like this, of course

Yet you will find in it a dozen jobs that can be done more quickly and effectively by electricity—and done so quietly as to be practically unnoticed. In fact, electricity has completely revolutionized many office methods.

YOUR FATHER probably will recall the days of high stools, eyeshades, and evenings overtime.

But visit a modern office! A thousand letters to go out by four o'clock. A new price list to all customers in to-night's mail, without fail. Enter electricity. Two or three people turn switches, and the finished letters come out of an ingenious machine. Another motion and they are sealed and stamped. Only electricity could get that job done.

Here's a statistical job. The reports are in; thousands of figures to analyze. Looks like overtime for fifty clerks. "Certainly not," answers electricity, as a button starts the motor-driven sorters and tabulators. Key cards are punched with lightning fingers. Electric sorters devour 24,000 cards an hour. Tabulators add quantities and amounts in jig time, and print the totals.

Go to almost any bank today. Hand in your account book. Click, click, click, goes the electric book-keeping machine and back comes the book to you. Five operations performed in that brief moment. Everybody saves time,—you, the clerk, the bank,—when electricity is the book-keeper.

In the office of to-morrow you will find "electrical fingers" doing more work than even to-day.

NEVADA'S WOLF PACK OUTPLAYS SANTA CLARA U IN FAST GAME

BIG HOMECOMING CROWDS WITNESS BATTLE ON MACKAY FIELD

GREEN-SHIRTED BRONCOS SWEEP OFF FEET BY WOLVES

Playing before one of the largest homecoming throngs which has ever witnessed a football game on Mackay Field, eleven Nevada Wolves outplayed and outplayed the Broncos from the University of Santa Clara last Saturday in sixty minutes of fast, clean football.

The final score does indicate the manner in which the two teams fought for it was a battle of blood all the way through. The Nevada Pack seemed to be the stronger of the two teams and made nine first downs to five made by their green-shirted opponents. The score remained the same throughout the greater part of the game.

Nevada Fumbles

The contest started with Nevada kicking off to Santa Clara. In the middle of the first quarter Nevada started its old hoodoo by fumbling three times, these fumbles costing her plenty of yardage. These however, failed to shake the determination and courage of the Pack. The quarter ended with a 0-0 tie.

On the fourth play in the second quarter, Simoni hurled a perfect pass to Haakinson who ran over the line for the first score of the game. Simoni converted and the Broncos were off to a 7-0 lead. From then on till the end of the half the ball see-sawed up and down the field.

Nevada Scores

The turning point of the game came early in the third period when Jim Bailey, plunging half-back of the Wolf Pack, took the ball for an end run from kick formation and ran 65 yards behind perfect interference over the goal for Nevada's score. He converted it with a place kick and the score was tied 7-7.

Near the end of the third quarter, the huge throng of spectators became restless when a pass from Simoni to Valine carried the ball to the ten yard line of the Nevada Pack. Three vain thrusts at the Wolf line gained but five yards. Then Simoni dropped back to pass. The pass was completed but it was outside the safety zone and Nevada took the ball on the 20 yard line.

Bailey Stars

Jim Bailey, halfback, and "Swoed" Anderson were the outstanding players for the Wolf Pack. Bailey's run was one of the many thrills of the game. Coupled with his excellent playing was the guarding of Anderson. He was one of the main reasons for the Santa Clara losses of yardage. Others who were outstanding during the contest were: Captain Hansen, tackle; Max Larsen, tackle; "Buck" Farnsworth, center and Jake Lawlor, end.

The outstanding players of the Broncos were Haakinson, quarter-back; Simoni, fullback and Granucci, center. It was the passes of Haakinson and Simoni that were the most consistent yard gainers for the Santa Clarans.

Nevada made no substitutions at any time, thus disproving the theory advanced by the majority of sport writers that the Wolves were "not in condition." The whole team worked as a unit and the fierce tackling of the Nevadans wrecked the morale of the Santa Clara team. Exactly eleven men played the whole contest and each man played the typical Nevada game; a hard-hitting, hard-fighting game.

The lineup of the contest is as follows:

LASSEN COUNTY BUSTERS GIVE FROSH BATTLE

HEAVY SUSANVILLE TEAM THROWS SCARE INTO YEARLINGS

Playing mediocre football in the first half but coming back in the second period with a determined attack, the Lassen County Busters, aided by the breaks of the game, last Saturday threw a scare into the U. of N. frosh, and though emerging defeated, succeeded in running up the creditable score of 12-14, the closest game that the frosh have played with an outside team this year.

The Busters came to Reno with the heaviest team that has faced the first year men this season, their line averaging almost 180 pounds to the man. Heralded as a powerful team but one lacking in experience, the visitors proved that they knew more than a little about the gridiron game, and put up a stubborn resistance which would have done credit to a college team, as well as showing a strength on offense which proved decidedly surprising.

Frosh Start Scoring

The first half was all frosh, despite the determined attempt of the "Susanvillians" to stem the advance of the Nevada men. Two touchdowns, one in the first quarter and one in the second, gave the first year men an apparently safe lead, the half ending with the score 14-0.

In the third quarter the Lassen Co. gridlers seemed to gain confidence, and succeeded in stemming the fresh man advance. Near the end of the quarter Jensen, Susanville end, got away for a fifty yard run to a touchdown, which the visitors failed to convert. The quarter ended with the score 14-6.

Frosh Fumble

The final frosh found the Nevada youngsters in the throes of fumbling fever. Several times they pushed the ball into Susanville territory only to lose it by a bad pass or a loosening grasp. About the middle of the quarter another fumble gave the ball to Susanville on the forty yard line. An end run gained thirty-five yards, and with four downs in which to make five yards, the visitors succeeded in putting over another score, bringing the tally to 14-12, when they failed to convert.

Frosh Have Clear Slate

Their victory over Susanville leaves the freshmen with a clean slate for the season. The first year men defeated Stewart 18-0 on October 15, on Mackay field, and the following Saturday nosed out the Reno High school eleven, 16-13.

Next Saturday the freshmen eleven will play Sacramento Junior College at Sacramento, a game which is fairly conceded as almost a sure freshman victory, and the following week they will play a return game with the Lassen Busters at Susanville, winding up their schedule for the year.

LANGUAGE PROF. GETS NEW MEDAL

Once more a member of the faculty of the University of Nevada has been singled out as the recipient of unusual honor. Prof. B. F. Chapelle, heretofore noted only for his command of languages, has now sprung into the limelight as a peerless sportsman, having been presented with a medal for his prowess.

Last week Prof. Chapelle told of an experience he had undergone while duck hunting. It seems that a large flock of mallards took flight from almost under his feet, rising so quickly that he had no time to bring his gun into play. With rare presence of mind Dr. Chapelle reached out and seized one of the birds in a firm grasp, capturing the feathered songster securely. That same duck, according to Dr. Chapelle, now forms one of the flock that graces Manzanita Lake.

Gets Medal

An admirer of the Professor, feeling that such prowess should not go unrewarded, prepared a suitable medal, and mailed it, with an anonymous letter of congratulation, to the mighty scholar. The medal consists of a metal bar affixed to a safety pin, on which (the bar not the safety pin) is written the word "Champion." From the bar is appended a disc of tin alloy, on the obverse of which is inscribed the words "A really great Duck Hunter (or catcher)," and on the reverse an inscription to the effect that the medal is "Good for one cake of soap, if presented, etc. etc." Altogether, a much more useful bauble than most medals.

The letter which accompanies the medal lauds Prof. Chapelle as a mighty hunter, fearless explorer, and peerless linguist, and concludes, "Yours for bigger and better stories." And so Nevada now reigns supreme in another field of endeavor.

Athletics Given For Town Women

Miss Verrel Weber, women's athletic instructor, is holding a hockey class every Saturday morning for town women who are not connected with the university but who are interested in athletics.

There are about ten women in the class at the present, most of whom are teachers. Swimming instruction is also given to these women on Saturday mornings, and other sports will be taken in their seasons.

PREP SPORTS

By winning a decisive victory over the Sparks eleven, last Saturday, the Lovelock team has won for itself a record to date of two victories, no losses, and no tied scores, in the conference games, which brings it to the head of the contenders for the conference State championship.

Sweeping Sparks, the main contender for the State Championship, off their feet with a prolonged aerial attack, the Pershing boys got away with the long end of a 12 to 6 score. Sparks made their touchdown playing straight football. Despite their heavy line, the Railroaders could not check the aerial barrage. Pete Cleats did the tossing for Lovelock. Walter Hansen made the first touchdown and Malcolm Hill ran the ball sixty yards for the second score after connecting with a long pass.

The Stewart Indians eleven won a conference game from Carson last Saturday, beating them by a score of 18 to 6.

Lovelock tied Fallon 6 to 6 in a non-conference game on Oct. 8 and beat Winnemucca 18 to 0 in a non-conference game. On Oct. 22 they beat Carson 18 to 0 in a conference game.

Sparks and Fallon played a 6 to 6 tie on Oct. 22 and Reno trimmed Fallon last Saturday by a score of 12 to 0, outplaying them during the entire game.

Sparks beat Reno 9 to 6 in the first conference game of the season, getting the jump on all of the teams in the conference and getting a name as the strongest contender for the championship, but this dope was all upset last Saturday when the Pershing boys defeated them.

University of Kansas

The college man must be protected. At least this is the opinion of the Cambridge police force, which has started a drive to put an end to flappers driving sport cars and picking up college men.

DOCTOR CHURCH SENDS ACCOUNT OF ADVENTURES IN COLD NORTH

WILL SPEND WINTER IN GREENLAND MAKING OBSERVATIONS

PICTURES ARE TAKEN OF FIORDS AND ICE FOR ILLUSTRATION

From the land of snow and ice, where he has gone into seclusion for the winter, (since the last boat of the year has already left Greenland) comes an interesting account of his adventures, by Dr. J. E. Church.

Dr. Church, Radio Operator Belknap, and Observer Kallquist, are the only ones of the original party that will remain in Greenland throughout the winter. Concerning this, Dr. Church in letters to friends says: "I am a sort of a Peter Pan now that the building work is done, for Kallquist of the Weather Bureau has consented to stay all winter and manage the Observatory. This, fortunately, leaves me free to roam. I am planning now to accompany Hedge Bongsted, an Arctic explorer, to the inland ice to live there most of the winter or early spring to feel the pulse of the weather."

Although we cannot physically share with him the wonders and glories of the frozen north, Dr. Church gives us glowing accounts of his adventures which pulsate with life and real meaning.

He also intends to bring back many photos with which to illustrate his word pictures, as he talks. "When the ice goes out of the fiord, or preferably late in June, Peter, a native boy, and I plan to fill our motor dory with camp stove and camera and photograph the stuff and scenery down stream. It's the longest and perhaps grandest fiord in the world."

"But science and business come before pleasure," says Dr. Church, "so in April, with Peter as companion, I shall run competition with the men in Nevada and make a snow survey from the inland ice to the coast."

Fred Herz of Reno built the observatory in which they conduct their experiments, and which, Dr. Church says, "has been very essential at every turn." Belknap and I took a canoe load of equipment in a glacial stream and experienced subjects and incidents enough for a complete outing magazine."

Mr. Herz left Greenland early in September for his return trip to America, by way of Denmark and Germany. He will spend two or three weeks in Germany before he returns home sometime in November.

RALLY TO SEND OFF TWO TEAMS

A rally will be held tonight just before the train leaves at 9:05 to send off the varsity and freshmen football teams who are invading Cal. this weekend. The students will meet at Manzanita at 8:30 and parade down town.

Russell Garcia '29, president of the Whelps, received a letter from the Santa Clara team expressing their appreciation for the enthusiastic hospitality extended to them by Nevada.

According to Lawrence Niswander '28, there will be no grid-graph showing of the College of Pacific game tomorrow.

Homecoming Day Pictures Taken

Mr. Alexander A. Brown, who took motion pictures of the Homecoming parade, the football game, the tug-of-war, and parts of the campus as seen on Homecoming Day, has departed for New York where these pictures will be added to those taken last May.

The film when completed, will be presented to the University for educational purposes by Mr. Clarence H. Mackay who sent Brown here to film a picture of the history of Nevada.

NAMES WRITTEN BY OLD TIMERS

Morrill Hall has stood as a sentinel through many long years in the life of the University of Nevada. Not only within its walls are memories of the bygone days but also on the walls. If one should climb to the top story of this building and open a little cupboard door he would be greeted with a bevy of names from "way back." Names of all sizes and descriptions are scribbled or carefully written here. The oldest dates back to 1893 with the name of Donald R. Fraser.

Next the names of T. Cowin and Edgar Leavitt represent the class of 1900. Charles Mayer, J. M. Clay, J. D. Scott and W. F. Fulton represented 1901. P. Quinn and Viola Devins in 1902 were delegates to the third floor. W. Catlin, J. S. Case, E. S. Wedertz and Ed Kenny in 1904 registered at Hotel Morrill. In 1907 when the class of '28 was still creeping Bob Sawyer, J. M. Ezell and Henry Atcheson signed up. Hazel Hotelling, M. M. Mihill, Otto Cresler, Roy Ritcher, and W. P. Crane were among those present in 1908 and 1909. The representative of the class of 1910 is more profuse—Frank Wilkin, Edna Bates, Hattie Brown, "Spike" Henderson, and Donald Knopp. Jimmie Odbert, Kathleen McKenon, Marjory Clark, Genevieve McCormick and Bob Donovan show that the class of 1918 was not to be left out.

"John Henry's" are still being placed in this little nook and in 1950 our signatures will be looked upon as curious remains of the fossilized class of 1928.

MRS. CLARK TO ENTERTAIN WAA

Mrs. Walter E. Clark has sent an invitation to all of the members of the Women's Athletic Association to attend a party to be given on the lawn of her home on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. A large number of girls have already signed up on the Gymnasium Bulletin board accepting her kind invitation and there probably will be others who will sign up later.

All Freshmen girls who are taking dancing for W. A. A. credit or who are going for any athletics but who do not yet belong to the Association are also invited.

PRIZE AWARDED TO GAMMA PHI'S

A silver loving cup will be presented to the Gamma Phi Beta sorority for the best float in the Homecoming Day parade, at the next A. W. S. meeting. Theta received honorable mention.

This year the sororities and fraternities and other groups put more time and money into their floats than ever before. As a result, the parade was the most elaborate of any Homecoming parades. The business men and down town people cooperated and helped to make it a success.

The judges of the floats were: Mr. W. M. Kennedy, Mr. R. H. Sheehy and Mr. G. F. Overmier.

CROSS-COUNTRY RACE ENDED IN CLOSE CONTEST

KAPPA LAMBDA CARRIES AWAY HONORS IN DISTANCE RACE

Running the first Intra-Mural cross-country race last Saturday, the Kappa Lambda fraternity with three men finishing first, ran away with the honors. The big feature of the race was the individual race between Clover, Sigma Nu and Bailey, Delta Sigma Lambda, for first place with Clover winning out by about one hundred yards. Bailey led the Pack for the entire distance and came onto the track a few feet in the lead at the training quarters. Clover made his great bid and gradually drew away from Bailey.

The entire race was hard fought and the Kappa Lambdas with their first three men to finish ran a pretty race. The three men finishing for them were Lohse in third place, quite a distance behind the two leaders; Webb in ninth place and Morrison in twelfth position. Sigma Nu with Clover first, Levensaler sixth and Baker in thirteenth position came in second.

Many Finish
The following men finished in order, Clover first, Bailey, D. S. L., second; Lohse, Kappa Lambda, third; Edie, Unattached, fourth; O'Dell, Lincoln Hall, fifth; Levensaler, Sigma Nu, sixth; Vargas, A. T. O., seventh; Lyons, A. T. O., eighth; Webb, Kappa Lambda, ninth; Geyer, D. S. L., tenth; Stoll, Sigma Phi Sigma, eleventh; Morrison, Kappa Lambda, twelfth and Baker Sigma Nu, thirteenth. Besides these men several others finished and most everyone was in good condition the result of intensive training.

This cross-country race was the first of its type ever attempted at Nevada and the results of it were so satisfactory that it will probably become an annual event and possibly develop into quite a sport.

The course of the race was from the front of the Sparks high school onto the track at Mackay field and one lap of the track completed the race. Clover finished the race with the exceptionally fast time of twenty-five minutes and fifty-six seconds.

ENTRANCE GATES TO BE ERECTED

The campus will soon be further beautified by the addition of the new gates at the southeast entrance to the campus near Lincoln Hall. The gates are the gift of the class of '27, and were to have been up by the end of last semester, but work has been delayed due to the fact that the widening of the entrance was being considered.

The job is being done by William Barrett, contractor, who also constructed the entrance in front of Morrill Hall. The new entrance will consist of two stone pillars like those at the Morrill Hall entrance, set at a distance allowing a thirty five foot roadway. The foundations have already been laid and the stone is being quarried. According to Barrett, the job should be finished by the end of this month.

U.S.C. Intermural Sports at Best

Despite evidences of rainy weather, the Intermural season at U. S. C. is at its height. Director Leo Galland, assistant grid coach, has found time to launch an inter-fraternity basketball league, a handball tournament, a man's singles and doubles tennis tournament, a woman's golf tournament for the edification of the students. Record entry lists have been received for each event.

R. M. OLIVER TO TAKE FIELD TRIP

R. M. Oliver, who has been working on the exhibits in the Mackay school of mines museum for the past two months, is leaving next week on a trip, from which he expects to return with some valuable fossils for the museum.

Oliver will tap some virgin fossil fields on the northern border of Nevada on this trip, and will probably secure some very worthwhile specimens, according to J. A. Fulton, director of the school.

According to his present plans, Oliver will visit the Death Valley fields before going to the northern part of the state. All of the specimens collected by Oliver will be added to the Mackay school of mines collection.

The opening of these new fossil fields, and the addition of the specimens to the school will be but the forerunner of far-reaching results caused by this wealth of new material, according to Fulton.
