

GIRLS TOURNEY IS VOTED DOWN BY W. A. A. AND BY BLOCK "N"

NUMEROUS OBJECTIONS MADE TO GIRLS CONTESTS SECTIONALIZING STATE MAY BE EFFECTED BY OFFICIALS

The eighth annual high school basketball tournament which was held at the University from February 29 to March 3, may be the last tournament for the girls' teams of the state. Championship play of the future may be confined entirely to the boys.

The matter has been given considerable discussion, but as yet nothing has been decided as final. However, several facts have been brought out concerning the matter. W. A. A. is declared as not being in favor of a girls' tourney—not only because of the inconvenience for the women of the University to handle the various girls' teams, but because the tournament is growing year by year, and it is getting to a point where it will be impossible to handle such numbers. In addition, various people around the state, including the high school authorities and girls' coaches, have voiced their objection to a prolonged basketball season, and declare that competitive sports among the girls of high school age are detrimental to their health.

Many Objections

In view of the numerous objections, it has been stated that the Block N society has voted to go on record as not favoring a tournament for girls in the future.

A possibility for holding girls games which may come under discussion is that of dividing the state into sections, with the champions of each section meeting in probably a two-evening affair at the University, and deciding the championship in that manner—thus eliminating the large numbers of teams represented, and the extended series of games.

Much interest has been created by the girls' tournament in the past, and such a step as banning the women's part of the tourney, if it is so decided, will be a disappointment to many basketball fans interested in girls' competition.

$10,000 WILL BE OFFERED TO TRAFFIC FANS

The students and members of the faculty in all departments of the University of Nevada are eligible to compete in a $10,000 Traffic Contest being conducted by Nation's Traffic, the national publication devoted to street and highway traffic published in St. Louis. The contest is intended to induce new ideas on traffic control and regulations and to cut down the tremendous death toll taken in motor vehicle mishaps.

Fifteen cash awards will be made. First prize will be $2,500 and the second $1,500. The next awards will be of $1,000 each, with the sixth prize $750 and the others ranging in amounts from $100 to $500.

Twenty traffic experts of national recognition will act as the judges of the contest. The contest will close April 30 and the Committee of Awards will announce their findings in May.

Subjects For Essay

The subjects to be written on are as follows: Text for uniform traffic ordinance, plan for regulating movement of traffic with signals and signs, plan for the solution of municipal parking problems, typical city plan to better traffic conditions, curriculum for adult education, plan for handling traffic violators, plan for regulation of pedestrians, curriculum for juvenile education, plan for reducing railroad crossing hazards, plan for traffic police organization, street lighting plan to aid traffic, plan for motor vehicle registration and identification, and plan for handling tourists.

Two special bonuses will be given for the neatest and most carefully prepared manuscript and for the most helpful idea or suggestion. Further information may be obtained by writing Nation's Traffic, Title Guaranty Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

DeMille's Choice In Beauty Contest Is Announced At Artemisia Festival Six Winners Representing Three Sororities Come From Nevada and California

Gaining the right to have their portraits reproduced in a special section of the Artemisia, six University of Nevada co-eds last Friday night were announced winners of the Beauty Contest sponsored by the year book, Fred Anderson '28, manager of the contest, made the announcement of winners during the first six dances of the Artemisia Beauty Festival, a ball staged at the Winter Garden in honor of contest winners.

All winners were given equal rating by Cecil B. DeMille, famous motion picture director, who judged the contest. A facsimile of his letter, in which the winners are stated, will appear in the Artemisia. DeMille's choice of Nevada's most attractive co-eds was as follows: Evelyn Turner '30, Belva Murphy '30, Margaret Harris '30, Bessie Davies '30, Marion Cheney '30, and Rose Mahana '31.

Honors Divided

Honors were divided equally between California and Nevada, as well as between the three sororities represented, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Delta Delta, and Pi Beta Phi.

Misses Murphy and Davies are both of San Francisco, and are members of Pi Beta Phi.

Misses Cheney and Turner, both of Reno, are members of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Miss Mahana of Calexico, Cal., and dance. The hall was packed, and speculation on possible winners was the main topic during the days preceding the dance.

An element of suspended interest was added to the Festival, when it was decided to announce only one winner at a time, holding one name for each of the first six dances. By the time the final name was announced the crowd was intensely excited.

New Idea

The beauty contest, an innovation on the Nevada campus, created an unusual amount of interest, and competition was keen. Mr. DeMille, in a letter to Robert Adamson '29, editor of the Artemisia, stated that choosing the pictures was one of the most difficult tasks he had ever undertaken because of the large number of uniformly attractive women. He declared that the percentage of good-looking Nevada co-eds was unusually high.

That all were interested in the outcome of DeMille's judging was evident from the large crowd attending the

UNIQUENESS TO FEATURE PLAYS

The three unique features of the "One Act Plays From the French," to be given April 4th are:

First: they are to be student directed. Mrs. Duer is giving those people who intend to do play production a chance to obtain practical experience and to use their own ideas. Renee Duque and Edwin Semenza are in charge of "The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife," Leonard Sledge, "The Pie and the Tax," while Eva Adams will supervise "Three Blind Men and A Donkey."

Second: the casts are completely of the contest. Each winner's portrait will receive a full-page display. Pictures appearing in the year book will be altogether different from those already in circulation or published. Special sittings were arranged this week, and winners posed for views which will be seen only by the editor until the publication of the Artemisia on Mackay Day, March 31.

A portrait of DeMille and reproduction of his decision also will be included in the display. Several suggestions have been made as to a name for the Beauty section. Among the titles suggested are: Flowers of the Artemisia, Desert Flowers, Flowers of the Sage. No definite title has yet been chosen, but Editor Adamson, elated over the success of the contest, declares that it will be hard to find a name worthy of the successful ladies.

Fear of 'Delinks' Causes Ambition

A casual observer might think it strange that there has been a general rush to the library lately and students seem very particular about getting to classes—and all this just when approaching spring should be luring the student away from his books. But there are several good reasons why it doesn't, and those reasons can be briefly expressed—delinks!

Otherwise, why the increasing tenacity, the spurts of ambition, and the unusual respect with which all profs are being regarded—Delinks!

Now is a time when one does not composed of new actors and actresses. Much new talent is expected to be discovered.

Third: all the proceeds are to go to the A. S. U. N. treasury. In order that a larger house may be had this production is to be given at the Granada.

The casts for the three original one act plays to be given April 26th are now being selected.

classes. Rather, they fight for a chance to recite. It is amazing.

There will be those who are rewarded for their noble efforts, who will send a word of thanks to heaven, but there are others who, with pale cheeks and trembling hands, will receive a mysterious envelope, tear it open, and sink away, disillusioned. Delinks!

Because they felt there was no work for the Y. M. C. A. on the University of Ohio campus officers of the association have decided to disband.

Reno High Takes Eighth Annual Basketball Tourney

TOURNEY TITLE TAKEN BY RENO FALLON CAGERS IN FAST TILTS

CHAMPIONSHIPS TAKEN IN CLOSE RACE FOR BIG TROPHIES MEET DECLARED TO BE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER HELD

By FRED LOHSE

Outplaying and outclassing the best basketball competition that has ever been seen in the State High School basketball tournament, the Reno boys won the championship for the third consecutive time, and the unbeaten Fallon girls carried off the cup for the eighth time in eight years. The strong Tonopah Muckers fell under the Reno sweep by a 25 to 19 count, and the Reno girls lost to the Fallon sextet by a score of 33 to 16.

With 22 boys' teams and 10 girls' team entered in the tourney, this year's was the biggest that has ever been held, and from the showing made by some of the new teams that have entered into the race for the championship for the first time, it is safe to say that they will be back fighting for glory in the future and will have to be reckoned with. Now that the tourney is over and the teams that were doped to win have done so, the ever-busy hostesses have figured out for next year that the Reno boys can't win again and that the long string of victories by the Fallon girls is sure to break. If this is true, then there will be greater chances for any or all of the teams in the state, which should make the competition become greater and of a better class steadily.

Clever Play

From the first, the playing that was exhibited as a whole on the University of Nevada gym floor this year was without a doubt far superior to any that has ever been developed in the state before. With the largest crowd of hometown people to cheer their teams to victory, the games were very strongly contested and several of them were not only close but very spectacular as well.

During the first two days the Reno High School and the gym were under the simultaneous and constant, to facilitate the quick wedding out of the lighter teams and to give more time to the final and more strenuous games during the last two days. Several of the earlier games were very fast and closely contested, and some of the new teams such as Carlin, Virginia City and Overton showed up better than was expected at the start.

On Friday afternoon and Friday night the most decisive and the hardest fought games were played off. Reno, Tonopah, Sparks and Winnemucca were left in the race for the senior championship, while the junior championship was to be won or lost by either Elko or the flashy little Stewart Indians. In the girls' tourney, the Fallon girls unceremoniously walked off with the lion's share of the points that were rung up between them and their opponents, and the Reno girls outplayed and defeated the Sparks lassies in a hard fought game, putting themselves in the bracket opposite the Cantaloupe heavies to battle it out for the crown on the following evening.

Elko Junior Champs

On Saturday afternoon the Elko boys took the junior championship from the Indians, but they had the fight of their lives in so doing. At the end of the first quarter the score was 4 to 2 in favor of the winners, and when the game ended the half it ended a wild passing contest in which the Stewart five made three baskets in three minutes and saved the surprised and nervous Elkoans from an irresistible rally of their opponents. In the second half the Indians lost sight of the hoop and though they had dozens of shots they made only seven of the 19 points that were scored in the half. The floor-work and the shooting of Roberts and Thorpe, the Elko center and forward respectively won the game for them by a wide margin. Thacker and Dunn starred for the Stewart whirlwinds.

Starting the season with only two veterans on the squad, the Sparks team showed the development of some fine team work in their semi-final game with the Reno boys Friday night, and though they lost the game, they kept the score wavering back and forth from one side to the other during the first three quarters of the game, losing out only in the last quarter when Reno drove home several markers in rapid succession. In this game the Railroaders brought out some of the best playing that Reno has ever done, for they needed it to down their opposition.

Muckers Win

Tonopah and Winnemucca clashed—and when it was all over, the Muckers loomed up strong and mighty to the Reno team, the same team that the Muckers could not down in the finals last year, and the same team that they were determined to take to a royal, retaliating cleaning this year. And from the stuff they showed when they dashed Winnemucca's hopes to pieces, things looked not only doubtful, but dark—for Reno.

Then, on the final night, in a gym that had been packed steadily fuller and tighter for two hours by busy Block N men, the rooting sections shook the newly overhauled rafters loose with deafening cheers. The Green and White hoop sextet met the Reno girls, and after a short time spent in warming up for the occasion, they began to drop the ball through the hoop. At the start the Reno lassies did some

Co-eds Play In Color Tourney

Are you red? No, I'm green. When do the yellows play? Don't know, but we're playing the purples today. Say, who's the captain of the oranges? Oh, is she? I don't think the blues have a chance, do you?

What is it all about? Have our fair co-eds become stricken with a color mania? Or is it merely the tragic result of last week's hectic events? We might hazard a guess that the sight of so many different hues in basketball suits had unbalanced their minds. However, this isn't the case.

It's just this. The W. A. A. color tournament for basketball is on this week. Hence, this queer, colorful conversation. All the co-eds out for basketball draw lots to see what team they are to be on, and each team is represented by a different color. There will be games every day this week, and the final will be played on Friday afternoon.

close guarding, succeeded several times in intercepting the ball, and made ten points in the first quarter, but they soon lost their ability to work together as a result of the unnering and uncanny accuracy and ability of the Fallon forwards, Buerer and Morris, to score and score. The whole contest was gamely fought to the finish, but the ball simply would not even go near the Reno hoop, while it dived through the Fallon goal time after time.

Close Game

Playing a nip-and-tuck game for the first quarter, the Reno-Tonopah game furnished more excitement to the packed house than it has ever witnessed. Glusovitch, the shining star of the game, made three long field goals in the first quarter, and kept the Reno squad struggling to down his deadly shooting. At the end of the quarter the score was 6 to 6, with six points made for Reno by Leonard and Brown together. In the second quarter, the Reno quintet guarded Glusovitch so that it was hard for him to get away to an open shot, and when the quarter ended, the score was 14 to 10 with the Renolites in the lead.

During the second half the star Mucker lost his eye for the basket, and though his team-mates helped him as best they could in putting up the best fight of hard, clean ball that has been played by high school teams of this state, Reno ran the ball in under the hoop repeatedly during the end and ended up with 25 points to 19 in their favor.

One of the outstanding features of all of the playing this year was the clean playing and the scarcity of fouls in most of the games.

Reno permanently won the Spalding trophy as well as the big Herz trophy. The Fallon girls won the Monarch championship trophy, and Tonopah and the Reno girls each won a beautiful

ROSSI FLORISTS OUT-PLAY CUBS IN FIRST GAME

ACCURACY OF BAY TEAM IN HITTING BASKET BEAT WILSON'S

The hopes of the Wilson Cubs for a P. A. A. championship were blasted in their first game, in which the Rossi Florists defeated them by a score of 33 to 21. Some of the sting was taken out of the loss, however, by the fact that the Rossi five played the Olympic Club for the championship later in the tourney.

The Cubs took the lead early in the contest and held it till the last minute of the first half, with the Florists unable to penetrate their defense. The score at half time was 11-8 in favor of the Rossi quintet, but in the second half the accuracy of their long shots proved too much for the Cubs. The Cubs could not seem to locate the basket, and so their excellent defensive and offensive work went for naught.

Louie Lombardi, Tony Poloni and Joe Dereemer played stellar basketball for the Cubs and deserve special mention for their work.

It is very probable that a game will be arranged between these two teams to be played here during the early part of the next season, so the Cubs will have an opportunity to redeem their prestige.

U Students Act At Tourney Meet

Although all the refereeing of the girls' teams at the tournament was done by Miss Weber, instructor in Physical Training, many of the University women officiated as umpire, timekeeper, and scorekeeper. This enabled the women to get better acquainted with the game and at the same time to promote good spirit between the high schools and the university, and each and every team went away pleased with the results that had been given them. Practically all of the men's varsity basketball team acted as officials in the boys' games.

S. C. Players On All-Coast Team

Los Angeles—Four University of Southern California basketball players, the largest number to be so honored, were awarded places on the all-southern Pacific Coast conference at the close of the regular season this week. Johnny Lehnert, guard, and Jesse Morrison, forward, were given first team rating, while Captain Jack Bruner, center and Tommy Lewis, guard, were placed on the second team. Bill Barnett, sport writer of the Los Angeles Examiner said that Bruner would undoubtedly have been on the first team if illness had not kept him from being rated as the best on the coast.

U BASKET BALL TOURNEY TEAMS ARE ANNOUNCED

SIX TEAMS ARE CHOSEN AND GIVEN COLOR FOR NAME

The color tournament for the various women's basketball teams started this week. Six teams were chosen, and named a certain color. The teams are as follows: Green—Sanford, Bernasconi, Gerber, S. Clark, V. Olsen, V. Baldini, McDonald, captain. Blue—Huber, Jones, Spencer, Ericson captain, Horton, McLoughlin, Clover, Heaton, Baldini. Purple—P. Mitchell, Green, Bordetvick, E. Oleson, E. Loring, Nash, Mann, Browne, Red—Weeks, Dunn, E. Adams, Holstrom captain, Hilborn, Ligon, Arlang, Middleton, Fant. Orange—Parker captain, Shaver, Donahue, Leonard, Eaton, Morris, Hutchinson, Thomas, Yellow—Becaus, Priest, Pedrolli, Carmell, E. Clark, Welde captain, West, Tobin, Ide Anderson.

The schedule for the games was:

Tuesday, 3:45, Orange vs. Reds. Officials, Sanford and Bernasconi. Blue vs. Purple. Officials, Foster and Becaus. Wednesday, 4:30—Green vs. Red. Officials, Loring and Nash. Thursday, 3:45—Yellow vs. Purple. Officials, Weeks and Adams. Friday, 4:00—Final championship game.

The purpose of this tournament is to create more interest in basketball among the women, by the way of more competition between teams. It also will serve as a guide in picking the class teams. These teams will be chosen immediately after the end of the color tournament. After class games are over the varsity team will be chosen at the banquet which will probably be given around the twenty-third of March.

U.S.C. PRACTICE BASEBALL

Los Angeles.—Freshman baseball practice at the University of Southern California started this week under the leadership of Coach Aubrey Devine. Among the fifty odd former southern California prep stars who turned out for the first workouts was Burke Tanner of San Pedro. Tanner is rated as one of the best prospects ever to enter Southern California, his pitching is exceptional, but his hitting will probably gain him a job in the outfield.

STATE SCHOOLS PLAN TO HOLD CONVENTION AT TOURNEY TIME

CANTON PLEASSED WITH RESULTS OF FIRST MEET

SCHOOLS WILL CHOOSE STATE OFFICERS NEXT YEAR

That the high schools of the state will hold a student body convention every year in conjunction with the tournament was assured by Vernon Canton '28, president of the A. S. U. N. and the originator of the convention idea, as he was telling of its success today.

"The first meeting of the high school presidents was mainly to become organized," Canton said. "At the first meeting next year officers will be elected." The stenographers were appointed to write the functions of the convention during the meetings, and pamphlets will be printed and sent to all the high schools in the state.

Problems Discussed
Many problems were brought to light by the presidents, and they were solved during the round table discussions. They were problems that were difficult for the high school students but comparatively simple for the college leaders. It was Canton's hope that such problems would be brought forth, and he was pleased with the results.

The presidents became acquainted with each other, and as a result will carry on correspondence that will be beneficial to the welfare of the schools.

Meet Campus Leaders
Leaders of practically all the campus activities, and several professors, addressed the members and consequently they have an insight on the university that they could not otherwise procure. Many students will attend the university as a result of the convention, is Canton's belief.

Eighteen schools were represented at the convention, although several of the delegates were not student body presidents. Much praise has been heard of the success of the idea, and high school principals have sent many letters of encouragement.

STUDENTS WILL VOTE ON MONDAY

Every leading college and university throughout the United States is having the students and the faculty members cast ballots stating their preferences of the presidential candidates. The University of Nevada has been asked to do the same. Monday morning there will be a ballot box placed just north of the bulletin board and every student and teacher will be expected to step up and make their preference from among the following candidates:

Republicans—Curtis, Dawes, Hoover, Lowden, and Willis.
Democrats—Doheny, Reed, Ritchie, Smith and Walsh.

The University has been asked to complete the polling of the students by March 26 and consequently it will be necessary to begin immediately. The idea of such a polling of the students is so that it can be seen just how the opinion of the public is reflected by the students of the nation.

This is a new idea as it is the first time that anything of this sort has been tried, and the people who are conducting this campaign are anxious to see just how the preferences of the students will compare after the elections have taken place. The polling is being carried out by the U. of N. Sagebrush.

HILL STUDENTS WILL BE JUDGES

Students of the dramatic and public speaking departments of the University have been enlisted to act as judges in the Reno High school tryouts for the one-act play, oratorical and Shakespearean reading contests to be held March 16 and 19 at the Reno High school. The winners will represent Reno in the Nevada State High School Forensic tournament held at the University from March 22 to 24.

Marian Cheney '30, Renee Duque '29, Don Bernstein '29, Grenville Leavitt '28 and Jack Gregory '29 will select the best one-act play entered in the tryouts.

Eva Adams '28, Ellen Harrington '29 and Isabel Loring '28 will decide the boy and girl of the Reno High school who will enter the Forensic meet.

The judges for the oratorical contest are Fred Anderson '28, Alan Bible '30, and George Vargas '31.

Hill Classes to Edit Newspapers

For the third time in as many years, the journalism classes under Professor A. L. Higginbotham, are preparing to edit the Sparks Tribune, a tri-weekly newspaper at Sparks. E. C. Mulcahey, editor of the paper, turns the editorial end of the work over to the students and they put out the paper one day each year.

VISITORS DANCE AT HALL

As has been customary for several years, Lincoln Hall gave a dance last Friday for high school students who were here for the tournament. Music was furnished by Dick Hillman's orchestra, and the dance was exclusively for the visiting students. Owing to the fact that it was given on the same night as the Beauty Contest announcement dance, the crowd at Lincoln Hall was not as large as it has been in previous years.

Posters Smear Sorority Houses

Despite the unusually warm weather that we have been having the last few mornings, the sorority houses woke up Wednesday morning to find themselves "icebound." Dozens of posters were found pasted on the windows and doors and sidewalks of each house and many were the unfavorable exclamations that filled the air after the women woke up.

"The ambitious trees for the business staff of Campus Players have given up the practice of putting "stickers" on automobile windshields, after many complaints were made and they have resorted to pasting them on sidewalks and sorority windows. Rumor has it that the sororities have failed to take kindly to this practice.

Y.W.C.A. HONORS VISITING GIRLS TEAMS AT TEA

CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS GIVE A VARIETY OF STUNTS

Mabel Mariani '28, presided at the tea given by the Y. W. C. A. last Saturday afternoon in honor of the high school girls' basketball teams.

Nearly every high school in the state was represented by the various teams. There were also a number of university women present.

The program opened by all of the girls getting acquainted with each other, at the suggestion of Mabel Mariani.

Mae Bernasconi '28 then gave a very interesting talk on the Women's Athletic Association, and pointed out to the girls the advantages of other sports for women besides basketball. The Campus Players next presented a skit in which Gwendolyn Pierson '31, Berry MacAnnelly '31 and Katherine Curlex '29 took part.

The next thing on the program was a stunt given by Eva Adams '28, Sheila Parker '29, and Barbara Horton '30 in order to show the significance of the campus publications, namely The Sagebrush, The Desert Wolf, and the Artemesia.

The final number was a stunt by members of the D. A. E., in which Frances Westfall '28, Dorothy Eaton '29, Ellen Harrington '29, and Beverly Bulmer '28 sang several D. A. E. songs. Miss Bulmer also gave a short talk on the activities of D. A. E.

During the afternoon Kathleen Malloy '29 sang several selections accompanied by Katherine Curlex '28.

CANN BROTHERS RECEIVE HONORS

It will be of interest to the students of Nevada as well as the members of the faculty who know William and George Cann '23, to learn that both of these graduates of the University of Nevada have received appointments for Internship.

William and George were both exceptional students while on the hill. George being the gold medal man of '24. He also taught under Professor Frandsen in the university the year following graduation. Both men will graduate from Stanford this semester, receiving their M. D.

Became Internes
In January, 1928, they took the Navy Medical Examination for Internship. This examination is limited to two hundred and fifty (250) doctors and students from the entire United States. From the above number only 117 qualified, William and George receiving respectively twenty and twenty-first rating on the list.

Since their examination they have received appointments for Internship at the Naval Hospital in San Diego. Their salary to start will be $3,158 per year.

TEACHERS BACK AFTER TRIP TO MASSACHUSETTS

HALL, BILLINGHURST AND ANDERSON ATTEND CONVENTION

After more than a two weeks' absence from the campus, Dean Hall returned Tuesday morning from Boston, Mass., where he attended the annual convention of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association, held from February 27 to March 2. Among the 3500 persons present at the meeting, there were three from Nevada, John W. Hall, dean of the College of Education at the University of Nevada, Walter W. Anderson, State Superintendent of Education, and E. D. Billingshurst, Superintendent of the Reno schools.

Among the delegates were normal school presidents, officers of state departments of education, teachers of education from the principal colleges, and superintendents of education in various cities, who went to the convention from every state in the union as well as Canada.

Meetings Held

Every morning during the convention days was devoted to a general meeting held at Mechanics hall, while in the afternoons the convention would divide into smaller groups which discussed every conceivable phase of education, including the problem of the junior college, the expenditure of school money, and the question of vocational guidance for adolescents. The principle topic for the entire convention was the equalizing of educational opportunities in relatively rich and poor school districts. Dean Hall was especially interested in this subject as he is confronted with the same problem here in Nevada.

Lindbergh Speaks

One of the features of the convention was a talk by Lindbergh, after which an honorary membership in the department of superintendence was conferred upon Mrs. Lindbergh. Presidents Lowell of Harvard, Faunce of Brown, and Coffman of Minnesota also addressed the convention.

Dean Hall attended many breakfasts and dinners given at various hotels in Boston for the purpose of helping the delegates to become better acquainted with other members of their profession. One of the most enjoyable of these functions, at which both Dean Hall and Mr. Billingshurst were present, was a banquet given for more than 1400 graduates and former students of the Teachers' College of Columbia.

BOARD WALK REPLACED

Indiana University's traditional old board walk leading across the campus to "sorority alley" is to be replaced by a new sawdust trail. For many years Indiana has given much publicity to the unique old walk, for it has been the only real board walk on any university campus in the country.

GYM GROANS UNDER WEIGHT OF CROWDS

They filled the bleachers and they overflowed the balconies, they swarmed the rafters, they crowded the windows; they shoved through the doorways, they poured through the doorways—and still they came! Little ones, skinny ones, grandpas and babies—mothers and fathers, collegiates and high school sheiks—and still they came! They stamped and they whistled, they booed, and they hissed, they watched team after team go down to defeat—and still they came! When the front row elite raised their voices wildly, and shrilly, only stopping long enough to snatch luscious bites from the melting ice cream and the sticky chocolate, in between yells. Morning, noon, and night, they came. The Libe took on a deserted atmosphere, and profs, dismayed by row upon row of empty seats, dismissed their straggling classes.

Nevadans might well boast that "All roads lead to the Gym." And certainly that austere building was elasticity itself! It filled itself to the eaves, and still they came! Then suddenly, one morning, they came no more. The tournament was ended.

Luncheon Given By Senior Women

Senior women of the University began their annual get-together meetings last Saturday, when they held a luncheon at the Riverside. The event, the first of a series which will continue throughout the spring, was attended by about twenty women.

Among plans for future meetings that were discussed, an Italian dinner at "Deigo" Mary's, and a breakfast were considered. The women hold these meetings to foster a friendly spirit among the class, a sort of co-operation so that the last semester of their college life will be more impressive.

An increase of 100 percent in the enrollment courses at the University of Texas has been reported.

INTEREST MARKS STORY CONTEST

Margaret Smith '30 with a second place story on the Pi Phi Jitney Crawl reformed into first place in the Artemesia best story contest with a total of 275 points.

In last week's edition beside the second place award to M. Smith '30, Edwin Semenza '30, who wrote the story "Players Will Give Icebound As Sixth Play For This Year," won first place and a hundred points. This gives Semenza a third place in the contest with a total of 225 points. Rose Mahana '31, though failing to place in last week's edition, holds second place with her 250 score. A third place was given to Betty Lippincott '30 with her story on the coming debate with the Arizona team, and Fred Lohse '30 secured fourth position with his article on the cinder artists. To date Eber Steninger '31, Barbara Horton '31, Cecelia Hawkins '31 and Warren Monroe have gained points.

Bob Adamson '29 and Carl Feuch '29, editor and business manager of the Artemesia, have been acting as judges of the contest, conducting the present contest after the same general plan used last semester.

A loving cup is to be given to the winner, and three gold engraved Artemesias will be presented to the runners up. The awards are to be announced on Mackay Day.
