Article VIII—Operation of Organizations

1—Athletics

Section 1. All major expenses incurred by athletic activities shall be directly handled by the Finance Control committee through the Athletic Manager.

Section 2. To cover minor expenses the Athletic manager of A. S. U. N. shall have at his disposal a minor expense account of $100 as follows:

a. By written request of the Finance Control committee, the Comptroller of the University shall place $100 in a separate account, to be used by the Athletic manager for minor expenses.

b. The Athletic manager shall retain receipts of all expenditures from this sum, which receipts shall be checked by him in the presence of the Comptroller when the $100 is exhausted.

c. Upon the exhaustion of this fund, the Athletic manager shall notify by written statement the treasurer of A. S. U. N.

d. Upon notification by the treasurer and Athletic manager to the Finance Control of the exhaustion of the fund, the Finance Control shall cause another such fund of the same amount to be created.

2—Campus Players

Section 1. Campus Players shall submit to Finance Control, a budget covering the estimated expenses of any production. If at any time the estimated budget fails to cover the necessary expenses of any one production Campus Players may petition Finance Control committee for additional fund to the extent that that organization has credit in the central treasury.

Section 2. After all expenses have been paid for each production, the surplus shall be turned over to the central treasury along with receipts covering all expenses incurred during the current production.

Section 3. For miscellaneous expenditures—Campus Players shall have a minor expense account of $50.

a. The minor expense account shall be created for the general manager of Campus Players.

b. The operation of this account shall be similar to Section 2 of Article VIII of the athletic manager's.

Section 4. Campus Players may use a maximum of $200 throughout the school year for their own expenses and functions providing that such an amount is available as indicated by the treasury account.

Section 5. Campus Players manager shall receive as salary, 20 per cent of the net profit of each production. This shall be limited to a maximum of $50 for each production.

3—Block N

Section 1. All moneys derived by admission to any Block N function unless otherwise designated by Finance Control committee shall be turned over to the central treasury.

Section 2. For any function requiring advances, Block N shall submit a budget to Finance Control committee.

Section 3. Block N Society may use a maximum of $250 a year for their own expenses and functions providing such an amount is available as indicated by their treasury account.

4—Blue Key, Debating Society, W. A. A. and Glee Club

Section 1. At the beginning of each semester the above named organizations shall submit to Finance Control committee a budget of their estimated expenses.

Section 2. Any activity that any of the above named organizations wish to sponsor will be backed financially by Finance Control committee providing that that activity is authorized by that committee.

Section 3. All surplus accruing by the student activities or functions of these organizations shall be turned over to the central treasury.

Section 4. By petition to Finance Control anyone of the above named organizations may be authorized to give a function for the benefit of the respective organization.

5—Publications

a. Sagebrush—Section 1. The Comptroller of the student fees 75 cents each semester which shall entitle the student to receive one copy of each edition of the Sagebrush.

Section 2. Sixty per cent of the fund shall upon request of the Sagebrush manager be transferred to the regular treasury of the Publication, the A. S. U. N. treasury receiving receipt for the same.

Section 3. Forty per cent of the fund shall be expended by the Sagebrush in the purchase of publication and exchange with other University publications, and cuts, of scenes and contests about the campus, and in the publication of extra or enlarged editions upon the occasion of important events in the campus calendar; said expenditures to be accounted for to the Finance Control committee in separate statements with attached receipts and vouchers.

Section 4. Business manager and editor shall each receive a salary $60 per month, provided this amount is earned, four issues to constitute a month.

Section 5. Any surplus above this salary shall revert to the central treasury.

Section 6. The possibility of a surplus shall be ascertained at the completion of each month during the school year.

Section 7. Surplus turnover may be used in the payment of back wages during current year.

Section 8. Wages may not be paid by surplus accruing from previous years.

Section 9. Surplus from previous years may not be used for direct betterment of any publication.

b. Artemisia—Section 1. Comptroller of the University shall collect as part of the student fees during the second semester four dollars which shall entitle each student to a copy of the Artemisia.

Progress Begun On Frosh Bible

The new Frosh bible will make its bow for the Freshmen this semester, and will be leather bound book with a hundred pages of type and some cuts. The bibles being given out at registration are only temporary and will be replaced by the new ones after the revised constitution is voted upon.

John Walsh '29, who is in charge of the work, has been working on the book during the summer and plans to have a very stunning bible for the Frosh to wear around in various sections of their clothes this semester.

Section 2. This sum shall be in the central treasury until such time as the audit of the Artemisia book shows that the publication is on a sound business basis.

Section 3. When the audit indicates that the Artemisia is on a sound business basis, the Artemisia fund shall be turned over to the Artemisia treasury by requisition to the central treasury.

Section 4. The business manager and editor shall each receive a salary of not more than three hundred dollars per school year, providing that this amount is available above the liabilities.

Section 5. This salary shall be paid at the final audit of the books.

Section 6. Any surplus above this salary shall revert to the central treasury.

Section 7. Wages shall not be paid by surplus accruing from previous years.

Section 8. Surplus turnover during the school year may be used in the payment of back wages.

Section 9. Surplus from previous years may not be used for direct betterment of any publication.

Vienna Students Object to Negro

Vienna—(IP)—Vienna University students who object to her appearing here have been the cause for throwing a police guard about Josephine Baker, American negro dancer, who is appearing here.

Students assembled in front of the hotel to which she had been escorted, but were kept from doing damage by police. At the theater they threw tear bombs which caused several women to faint. Twelve of them were then arrested, according to police headquarters.

Section 1. Comptroller of the University shall collect as part of the student fees during the second semester four dollars which shall entitle each student to a copy of the Artemisia.

Section 2. This sum shall be in the central treasury until such time as the audit of the Artemisia book shows that the publication is on a sound business basis.

Section 3. When the audit indicates that the Artemisia is on a sound business basis, the Artemisia fund shall be turned over to the Artemisia treasury by requisition to the central treasury.

Section 4. The business manager and editor shall each receive a salary of not more than three hundred dollars per school year, providing that this amount is available above the liabilities.

Section 5. This salary shall be paid at the final audit of the books.

Section 6. Any surplus above this salary shall revert to the central treasury.

Section 7. Wages shall not be paid by surplus accruing from previous years.

Section 8. Surplus turnover during the school year may be used in the payment of back wages.

Section 9. Surplus from previous years may not be used for direct betterment of any publication.

b. Artemisia—Section 1. Comptroller of the University shall collect as part of the student fees during the second semester four dollars which shall entitle each student to a copy of the Artemisia.

Section 2. This sum shall be in the central treasury until such time as the audit of the Artemisia book shows that the publication is on a sound business basis.

Section 3. When the audit indicates that the Artemisia is on a sound business basis, the Artemisia fund shall be turned over to the Artemisia treasury by requisition to the central treasury.

Section 4. The business manager and editor shall each receive a salary of not more than three hundred dollars per school year, providing that this amount is available above the liabilities.

Section 5. This salary shall be paid at the final audit of the books.

Section 6. Any surplus above this salary shall revert to the central treasury.

Section 7. Wages shall not be paid by surplus accruing from previous years.

Section 8. Surplus turnover during the school year may be used in the payment of back wages.

Section 9. Surplus from previous years may not be used for direct betterment of any publication.

b. Artemisia—Section 1. Comptroller of the University shall collect as part of the student fees during the second semester four dollars which shall entitle each student to a copy of the Artemisia.

Section 2. This sum shall be in the central treasury until such time as the audit of the Artemisia book shows that the publication is on a sound business basis.

Section 3. When the audit indicates that the Artemisia is on a sound business basis, the Artemisia fund shall be turned over to the Artemisia treasury by requisition to the central treasury.

Section 4. The business manager and editor shall each receive a salary of not more than three hundred dollars per school year, providing that this amount is available above the liabilities.

Section 5. This salary shall be paid at the final audit of the books.

Section 6. Any surplus above this salary shall revert to the central treasury.

Section 7. Wages shall not be paid by surplus accruing from previous years.

Section 8. Surplus turnover during the school year may be used in the payment of back wages.

Section 9. Surplus from previous years may not be used for direct betterment of any publication.

Students Read Chinese Puzzle

Palo Alto, Calif.—(IP)—Reading Chinese characters is the latest puzzle devised by the Stanford University psychology department to determine whether the students are quick, alert and observing.

Professor Walter R. Miles has issued a chart containing rows of Chinese characters, 212 in all, which are placed upright, upside down, ninety degrees to the right or ninety degrees to the left. The student is asked to indicate under each one what he thinks its position is, and at the bottom of the chart to indicate what was his method of deciding.

He is further asked to say whether he reads Chinese comprehensively, has had lessons in it, recognizes a few of the characters, knows the general nature of it, or is entirely unfamiliar with the tongue.

NEBRASKA TO MEET YALE

For College Men Who Must Be "Right"

Style counts . . . on the Campus . . . and College men have their own ideas about style. Those very ideas have been incorporated in the new Quadrangle Club models, tailored by Adler, which are making such a hit with the fellows on the Hill.

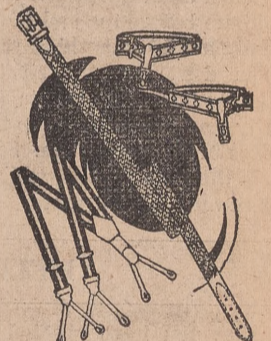

Tailored strictly in the college mode, they put one at ease, mentally and physically, for they're "right." You'll like the quiet liveliness of pattern and they will stand by you long after the price is forgotten. TWO PAIR OF TROUSERS IF YOU CHOOSE.

START NOW

It has been said that the freshmen year is the year that makes or breaks a man or woman in college, because it is surely the year to get started in the various activities on the Campus.

Most freshmen come to college with the idea that they are just to be subjects of jokes and hazing by the other classes. Or that a brilliant High school record is enough to gain them recognition and a place in the various activities. These two views are far from being the truth; the fact is that on your entrance to the university you are for the first time being treated as men and women and it is for you to justify the treatment.

A brilliant High school record will never carry you through a four-year college course, neither will a poor one doom you to four years without recognition at the university. It is up to you alone to make your position and name on the Campus, and that is at least a three year job. Some men and women come to the university totally unsung and by the time they are Juniors and Seniors they are the leaders of the school; others come up with a prep school and high school reputation and usually pass out of the picture before the end of the first semester.

To really achieve anything you must plan on at least three years of hard work in the activity that you choose, whether it be politics, publications, sports or service organizations before you really find yourself at the top of things and being one of the leaders in the school life. So plan to spend an hour a day at least in the activity that you choose and in your Senior year a fitting reward will be yours.

HELLO!

Now that you have greeted most of your friends with a "Hello Bill, glad to see you back, and did you have a nice vacation," line of chatter, why not try in on some that are not so close a friend and build up a more unified and get together spirit on the Campus.

Nevada isn't such a large school that one doesn't meet at some time or in some way nearly every other student enrolled in the school. We are a western school and proud of it, we are a small school and just as proud of it. Both these factors stand for more wholehearted acceptance and less social scale than are being achieved on the Campus at the present time. It doesn't cost anyone a single cent to say 'hello' to any student they pass on the Campus unless of course they are enemies over a woman or over a man, and there is an excellent chance to warm the cockles of some lost freshmen's heart by the simple greeting of "hello."

Let's get together more and revive and build up that spirit of small school fighting spirit and pride that only can be built up by working together.

NEVADA NEVER REPAID FOR CIVIL WAR EXPENDITURES

(New York Sun Editorial)

A memorial recently presented to Congress by State officers of Nevada reviews the almost forgotten service of that State to the Union in the Civil War. Nevada was created a Territory a month before the firing on Fort Sumter, and it became a State about a year prior to the surrender at Appomattox. It was asked to assume Statehood in Lincoln's administration at a critical time in the Nation's history. When the administration at Washington decided that the constitution should be amended so that slavery should be abolished, "the issue was seen to be so close," said Charles A. Dana, then assistant secretary of war, in his "Recollections of the Civil War," "that one more State was necessary. The State of Nevada was organized and admitted into the Union to answer that purpose." In assuming the obligations of statehood Nevada was "morally bound to assume also the territorial debts and obligations."

When Nevada was made a Territory in 1861 it included about 100,000 square miles of desert and mountainous land, and its population, exclusive of Indians, was not more than 15,000. The territorial government was necessary owing to the discovery of rich deposits of gold and silver and the need of protecting these properties and the persons engaged in developing and mining them. The Government had withdrawn virtually all of its troops from the Pacific Coast and had left as military guardians of the entire Mexican concession and the Oregon country only one regiment of infantry and three batteries of artillery. Two years later activities at sea closed the route to the Pacific and the overland trails were then the only means of communication with the East. When these lines of travel were endangered by bandits and warring Indians the Territory was called upon to furnish protection for them.

It answered the Government's call by authorizing a bond issue to maintain a regiment of cavalry and a battalion of infantry. And, says the memorial, "the overland route was kept open to California and the Comstock Lode and other Nevada mines permitted to continue operations. These mines turned into the Treasury of the United States during the years and immediately following the Civil war a half billion dollars of gold and silver." The Secretary of the Treasury in a statement made pursuant to an act of Congress, March 3, 1899, reported that the total amount expended by Nevada, or by the Territory of Nevada and assumed by the State, "for and on account of the United States, and at its most urgent call," was, with interest, $471,001.58. The deduction of a payment made by the United States "leaves the sum of $462,441.97, for which the State of Nevada has not been reimbursed."

Well, folks, here I am, back again. Kinda early but as most of you know the circus came to town. Among our foolish contemporaries present were: "Eddie" Duerr, the David Belasco of our Campus? Our worthy Editor and 11,998 other prominent people.

Mr. Christie, who owns the show, showed wonderful business acumen—but it did him no good. He wanted to feature Eddie as the child marvel of the universe. He could not meet Mr. Duerr's demands so the deal fell thru. Edwin knows his kopeks.

25c to see me do the hootchie cochie. By gosh allhemlock, she was almost buried under a torrent of quarters.

Now all you little freshmen, read the pretty welcoming messages that fill the first page and be sure and do everything that you are told. For the benefit of the good looking little freshmen girls the rules are only for those who have no friends among the upperclasses. Now little girls you must get some friends—and quick.

How are you—spend a good summer? Yeh-u did! Hell no—had to work. Tough on a college education.

D.A.E. should be able to give a real scandal show this year with the aid of the men to be drafted in the plays.

Many of the married men in Reno have ordered frigidaire since our last year's Sagebrush editor took up the ice business.

"Kelly" Lyon, upon his arrival from Winnemucca, brings word of a new sensation. The new addition to his stable is a promising blonde with deep brown eyes. All applicants will put in bids, early as Mr. Lyon states that his protege is in great demand.

Of all the lager in the west, new style is the best.

Fate plus: Being student body president and having to watch your step with the ladies.

Our big football captain "Buck" Bailey, feels rather cut up over one of the many marriages of our fellow student during the summer.

We see that the Tri Deltas have replaced their bottle (we meant bottle) scarred furniture. All the real he-man athletes will be welcome to try out the new overstuffed furniture. Catch as catch can rules to prevail. President Aljets states that all players must keep one foot on the floor at all times.

Now that all the prominent men on the campus have duly welcomed the new freshmen, I will kindly offer some very valuable advice to the new crop. Do not loiter upon the tram when some upperclassman is teaching the beautiful and dumb the technique of tramming.

'Tis rumored that Ex-Editor Admson is considering majoring in political science. Due to his extensive red appling of our worthy professor his success is assured.

Seeing that the industrious Campus Players managers have plastered all the joints in town, including the Tri Deltas house, with snowbound and Bad Men we wonder what they will do with "Rollie's Wild Oat", the new play that will be put on to glorify Eddie's stagecraft.

Latest quotations from the steps in the Ed building: Two to one that the little blonde in the red hat goes Phi Phi. Three to two that the Tri Deltas are stung with that willowy brunette. Five to one that the Thetas beat last year's bust. Any odds that the beautiful red head doesn't consider the Gamma Phi.

All the managers and editors of our worthy publications have asked me to announce that any beautiful (dumbness to objection) little freshman girls who would like to become known among the bigger and better men of the campus will communicate with them in their respective offices. They (the B.L.F.G.) will be welcomed with open arms (and hearts) as PRIVATE secretaries.

For the benefit of all prospective pledges of our numerous organizations may I take the liberty of suggesting that the wonderful palatial mansions be visited some Saturday morning. Such a wonderful insight into the private lives of our great and mighty cannot be obtained in any other way.

Send the U. of N. Sagebrush to your friends.

EAST ADVOCATES OPTIONAL R.O.T.C.

Princeton, N. J.—(By New Student Service).—An opponent of compulsory military training has been discovered by the Daily Princetonian in Captain L. Wardlaw Miles, former professor of English at Princeton, whose bravery during the war won for him the Congressional medal.

"I am against compulsory military training in the colleges," said Captain Miles, because I am not convinced that compulsory training is desirable for America in general, and because I am sure it would be a bad thing for the colleges in particular. Colleges ought to be places where young men go to satisfy intellectual curiosity. The less compulsion—except the compulsion to make intellectual slackers get out—the better.

"On the other hand I am for optional military training in colleges because I am glad to believe there are a certain number of college men who want voluntarily to prepare themselves for war should it come."

Semenza Resigns From Hill Staff

The business department of the University will offer a new system in their courses which are to be given this year. Lawrence Semenza, instructor in economics, business and sociology last year has turned in his resignation and will enter into business. To meet his resignation, Earnest Brown, graduate from the University in 1926, will act as instructor in these courses. Also two senior student sin the department will give quiz sections and the lecturing will be handled by the older members of the staff. This system is somewhat on the order of the systems used at the University of California and Stanford.

FRATS QUESTIONED

Ithaca, N. Y.—(UP)—The Cornell Daily Sun in an editorial points out that the Cornell fraternities and sororities pay $50,000 a year to the national organizations for "traveling secretaries, publications and conventions," and asks what the lasting advantages of national fraternities over local fraternities are.

A medical student at Stanford University is earning his way through school by raising rattle snakes and selling them.

Nevada Graduate Dies of Injuries

Charles Hicks, graduate of the University of Nevada in 1928, and employed since that time with the Haverhill Gas and Light Company, of Haverhill, Mass., died as the result of injuries received in a baseball game played July 10.

Hicks was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity at the University and was well known on the Campus for his work in engineering. His death came as the result of internal injuries received from an accidental kick in the abdomen while the Haverhill Gas and Light Company nine were played the Merrimac City aggregation.

Dr. Church Gains Honors For Work

Dr. Church, Nevada's only Arctic explorer, has gained much recognition for his work during the last two years in Greenland. Besides having several articles printed by various magazines he has been made a member of several noted explorers societies.

He is now a member of the New York Explorers Society, fellow of the Royal Geographic Society of Denmark and also a member of the Greenland Explorers Society.

Leo Calland, director of athletics at the University of Southern California at the age of 26, is the youngest head coach in the country.

MUSEUM MADE FOR JOURNALISM

A museum for the preservation of relics of early Nevada newspaper days has been established in the news room laboratory of the Courses in Journalism at the University of Nevada.

Fred W. Egelston, editor and publisher of the Western Nevada Miner, Minn., is the first contributor and through his gift the one who suggested the idea.

The relics will be put on display in the laboratory, where they will be seen daily by university students in Journalism, by the members of the Nevada State Press association when in annual meeting, and by others who wish to call.

When Fred took over the Miner from the late J. Holman Buck, he found electrolyte headings of the old Aurora, Borealis and two other papers published by Buck in the early boom mining days of that section of the country. This summer, Fred wrote the university, offering the headings for just such a museum.

There probably are many relics of the old days knocking about the offices of Nevada newspapers which would make interesting additions to the initial exhibit. Copies of old newspapers, Washington hand presses, photographs of editors, editorial chairs of distinction, discarded title headings, type sticks and other similar relics probably exist.

The Courses in Journalism at the University of Nevada wishes to preserve by such exhibits the history of Nevada journalism. It will welcome gifts from present or former Nevada newspapermen and will take good care of them that posterity may not forget the days of the past.

STANFORD MAN DISDAINS ACADEMY APPOINTMENTS

Palo Alto, Calif.—(IP)—Frank Sauliere, junior at Stanford University, has refused appointments to both the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, and to the United States Military academy at West Point.

Such action, it is believed, is unique, and it is rare that a student ever refuses an appointment to either one of the national military institutions.

Sauliere, who saw active service in the World war, says that he prefers to continue his studies in law.

WOMEN'S SMOKER

Vassar College seniors will spend $1000 or more to decorate their new smoking room on the first floor of Main Hall in quarters formerly held by the Bureau of Publication. The seniors are raising the money by private subscription. The room will accommodate about thirty girls with comfort.

Few Students in Religious Trend

Princeton, N. J.—(IP)—Only one hundred out of ten thousand college undergraduates today can be said to be religiously minded, according to President Ernest Hatch Wilkins, of Oberlin College, who gave the opening address at the gathering of college presidents here recently to discuss the problem of undergraduate religion.

According to Wilkins ten per cent of the student body feels itself definitely opposed to religion, eighty per cent cares little one way or the other, and ten per cent are "religiously minded." The president declared that this is nothing about which to become alarmed, for the students are showing their sincerity in the manner in which they attack their problems of life.

Bowles Hall, a dormitory for men and the first at the University of California, the gift of Mrs. P. E. Bowles, soon will be completed. Its cost is about $350,000.

'28 GRADUATING CLASSES LARGEST IN U. N. HISTORY

The University of Nevada has held thirty-six commencement exercises and during that time has graduated 1173 students with degrees from the different colleges.

This thirty-seventh year will see the total close to the fourteen hundred mark. Since 1922, 473 have graduated and yearly the number is increasing and 1928 saw the largest class go out from the University of Nevada.

WOMEN BALK

A junior at the University of California advertised that he was willing to go 50-50 on a date with any coed "who was sport enough to set a precedent by assuming her share of the financial outlay." Many answered his advertisement, but no coed was willing to make the "dutch-like" proposition.

The Teachers' College at Wayne, Neb. is building a $78,000 wormitory for the girls.

Fraternities at the University of Illinois must file with the dean of men information concerning each student they wish to rush.

Gifts approximating $50,000 were reported to the regent of the University of California by President W. W. Campbell, at the last board meeting.

When unforeseen examination questions rise like spectres in your path, no doubt it has occurred to you that a Freshman is expected to acquire altogether too much information.

Since we're not Sophomores, we have the right to sympathize with this point of view. Far be it from us to add to the burden!

However—in case you don't know and should ever be curious, we'll just casually mention the fact that our store's an excellent place to buy college clothes.

We wouldn't give this information merely on our own authority. If you'll ask around you'll find that most campus men who dress well in the collegiate manner get their clothes here. Kappa Lambda Goes National Kappa Lambda, local fraternity, organized on the Hill in 1921, received notice during the summer that their petition to the National fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha, had been accepted and that the national chapter will be installed here during the early part of the semester.

Kappa Lambda will make the seventy-seventh chapter of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity to be organized and also marks the end of any local fraternity on the University campus.

DEBTS JUSTIFIED

Grades depend on the amount of time a student puts on his work, according to Professor Paul Lawson of Kansas university. He also pointed out that a student who works too many hours a can not do justice to a school job. He believes that it is better for anyone to end school heavily in debt and to have enjoyed his studies, than to break even and to just scrape through his courses.

OFFICERS RESIGN

The manner of administering punishment for infractions of college rules, and the habit of the college in employing a watchman to spy on students while an honor system was supposedly in effect, has led to the resignations of the officers of the student government at Amherst college.

STUDENTS BEGIN WORK TOO LATE

Cambridge, Mass.—(IP)—American college students begin active life work entirely too late, according to Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university.

"American secondary schools," he says in his annual report to the Harvard board of overseers, "do not complete the secondary teaching that ought to be done at the age our young men come to college. The result is that with the preparation now required for professional and business life—much longer than it was formerly—the young man does not begin his active career until a later age than is wise.

"An artisan at the age of 20 may be earning as large an income, and be as well able to support a family, as he ever will be; but his contemporary who is looking forward to the bar or to medicine, for example, is only half way through college at that time. The ordinary age of entering an American college is over 18, so that if the young man completes his four years before beginning his professional studies, he is over 22 at graduation."

President Lowell went on to explain that it is a fallacy to believe that sending a boy to college at the age of 17 is to make him at a disadvantage socially and athletically. He said that to wait a year after high school graduation before entering college is a mistake.

Law students maintain the highest average grades, according to statistics at Notre Dame University. There are almost twice as many students in the college of law receiving grades between 95 and 100 than there are in any of the other five colleges.

Oxford boasts of having more queer societies than any other university. According to reports of a questionnaire, Yale student admire Mussolini.

A section of the library at the University of California has been fitted with soft chesterfields, plush chairs, and bridge lamps.

NEVADA FACES STRONG TEAMS ON SCHEDULE

1928 VARSITY UNKNOWN QUANTITY UNTIL SHAW RETURNS

With "Buck" Shaw and "Doc" Martie still absent from the Campus little is known as to the football material to be had and as to the returning veterans of last year's team.

A hard schedule faces the Nevada gridgers again this year and they will have to put in some extensive training to take a majority of their scheduled games.

The first game of the season is scheduled for the 29th of September with the St. Ignatius eleven furnishing the opposition to the Wolves. The next team to face Nevada will be the strong Utah eleven, contenders for the Rocky Mountain Conference title every year. This game will mark the start of relations again with the Utes for the first time since the games in 1923.

October 13 will see the Wolves battling with the Santa Clara Broncos on the latter's field. The next two games will be played at home, the first being with the College of Pacific and the second with St. Mary's. The next contest finds the Wolves battling Davis in Sacramento and then on November 17, the Wolves tangle with California in their annual battle.

This schedule shows Nevada facing a lot of strong team and one that with victories will bring glory to any college.

Emerson Wilson '28, has been attending summer session at Stanford University and will continue with his legal studies during the coming year.

TROJAN TOUR OF ORIENT SUCCESS

Los Angeles.—Fifteen University of Southern California baseball players are home this week after an oriental tour of nearly four months playing leading diamond teams in Japan, Manchuria and Korea.

Highly successful, especially from the standpoint of promoting good feeling between Japanese and Americans, is Coach "Wahoo Sam" Crawford's judgment in regard to the Trojans' great 12,000-mile jaunt, and while every man on the traveling squad is glad to be home again, they all are enthusiastic over oriental hospitality and friendship.

As to the victory side of the trip, the Trojans won 15 out of 27 games, one of the best records ever made by an American university team in the Orient. Eleven of the games were played with the Waseda University team of Tokio, one of the best nines in all Japan, the Waseda men having the advantage in this series with six victories.

Trojan ball players making the trip were Morley Drury, Karl Kreiger, John Von Aspe, Floyd Welch, George Williamson, Dick Schultz, Ted Sahberg, Lawrence Dibel, Ferdinand Manlove, Al Welch, Elmer Gorman, Howard El-Hott and Webster Gibson. Dr. Bruce

NEW GRASS FOR FIELD

Los Angeles.—New turf will protect the sprawling knees and elbows of the grid candidates at the University of Southern California when they report for football practice next month. New grass, planted last spring, has made Bovard Field one of the best practice fields in the country and the turf will be in practically perfect condition when the grid call is answered on September 15.

CALIFORNIA LEADS

The University of California has the greatest fulltime enrollment of all the universities in the United States, according to data recently compiled. Illinois ranks second in the classification of state universities, and Minnesota ranks third. When all schools are considered, Columbia university ranks ahead of Illinois.

Nevada Praised Over Journalism

Six years ago this month, the first course in journalism was established at the University of Nevada. By leaps and bounds the course has expanded until today the school of journalism at the University of Nevada is ranked equal to the best in the country.

The Pulitzer School of Journalism of Columbia University, the best-known in the country, is placed in Class A with Nevada. In the east such schools as Missouri, Wisconsin, Medill at Northwestern, and Iowa rank in Class A, while in the west, Southern California, Stanford, Oregon, Washington, Montana and Colorado are in Class A with Nevada.

Since the establishing of the course in journalism at Nevada, nearly 75 per cent of those who have graduated in journalism or who took a major portion of the subjects have gone into some field of journalistic work. Quite a record according to statistics, and better than most of the long established professional schools, such as engineering and agriculture.

The Nevada Editor concludes an article on the merits of the journalistic courses at the University of Nevada by saying: "It is not surprising that persons are coming from other states to study journalism at Nevada. No Nevada editor will make a mistake by suggesting to young people in his community who come to him for advice as to where to study newspaper work that they go to Nevada."

Yale University might dispense with the formalities of hiring professors and passing out degrees to assume the tting role of a high-class athletic club. Her gross income from all branches of athletics in 1927 totalled $1,104,359. Not bad, for a "side issue," not bad.

Approximately 65 per cent of the clothing industry in America today is dominated by college and university style trends, according to a style survey published recently.

Co-eds in 1899 at Indiana University were not allowed to ride in a horse and buggy beyond the city limits, it has been discovered from the archives of the Indiana Daily Student.

DEGREES GIVEN IN LAW COURSE

Important changes in the degree requirements of the School of Jurisprudence of the University of California have been put in effect, according to the announcement of the school just published for the coming academic year.

At present two degrees are being awarded at the completion of the professional curriculum: the Bachelor of Laws degree to candidates who have entered the school with senior standing, and the Doctor of Jurisprudence degree to those entering with a bachelor's degree in arts or science who have maintained a "B" average during their professional course.

After May, 1930, the degree of Bachelor of Laws will be the only degree granted upon completion of the three-year course. Students who enter the school this year will be candidates for the LL.B. degree rather than the J.D. degree.

A higher degree in law has been established, that of Doctor of the Science of Law, to be granted only to students

STUDENTS WORK ON NEWSPAPERS

Practical experience is a help in any sort of business according to the best known authorities, and journalism is no exception. Therefore some of the would-be newspaper men and women taking courses at the University of Nevada have been trying out the idea, and several newspapers over the state have had the service of Nevada journalism students throughout the summer.

Warren Monroe '29, has been chief assistant to Editor Smith of the Fallon Standard during the summer, while Homer Raycraft '29, has had his old job on the Gardnerville Record-Courier, where for the past few summers he has been assisting Editor Sekirk. Eber Steninger '31, has been working on the Elko Free Press, and Carol Cross '30, is on the editorial staff of the Nevada State Journal.

Walter Cox, graduate of the courses who already hold a suitable bachelor's degree and a professional degree from a program of research in law, according to the requirements for the degree.

HOSKINS WORKS WITH EXPERTS

Dr. Werner Schmidt, M.D., one of the seven men sent from Germany to America each year by the International Educational board, has arrived in Berkeley to spend his year of research at the University of California, with Dr. C. L. A. Schmidt, chairman of the department of biochemistry.

In addition to Dr. Schmidt, a number of visitors from other states and places outside of the United States will take part in the biochemistry department research, which lists among its early contributors Dr. Jaques Loeb, internationally known scientist. Those who are present this semester are Prof. W. M. Hoskins, associate professor of chemistry at the University of Nevada; C. V. Smythe, who for the past two years has been connected with the Institute for Animal Nutrition at Pennsylvania State College; O. H. Emerson, from Hawaii, who has been awarded a university fellowship in biochemistry to work under Dr. L. R. Cercedo, and Harold Goss and Norval Burke, graduate student candidates for the degree of doctor of philosophy.

On the regular research staff also are Drs. P. L. Kirk and T. E. Rawlins, who recently received their Ph.D. degrees in the department and are continuing work there.

Sophomores—
 Jake Prior, President.
 Geraldine Blattner, Vice-President.
 Oma Harney, Secretary.
 Albert Davis, Treasurer.

The following were named for the Upperclass committees: John Higginbotham, Douglas Ford, Robert Adamson, Allen Crawford, Hoyt Martin, Claire Lemkuhl, Gene Tucker, Laddie Miller, Fred Couch, Carl Fuetsch.

Survey Made of Athletes Grades

In a survey of scholastic standing made in 44 colleges by the Carnegie Foundation, it was stated that athletes in 23 colleges showed a slightly lower scholastic standing than non-athletes.

Fourteen schools gave the athletic group a higher rating, while in five the two groups were equal. Of two institutions reporting on football men, one placed all but 25 per cent of the gridiron players below the average of their groups.

CANTLON LEAVES

Vernon Cantlon, president of the Associated Students at the University of Nevada last year, will leave the earlier part of the month to take up his studies in medicine at Harvard.
