

Subject: It's Fall! Here's what's happening at the University Libraries

Date: Wednesday, September 9, 2020 at 11:59:09 AM Pacific Daylight Time

From: University Libraries

To: Darren C Young

The header features a large green circle containing the letters 'PS'. To the right of the circle, the word 'primary' is in white and 'source' is in yellow. Below this, the text 'THE E-NEWSLETTER OF UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES AND TEACHING & LEARNING TECHNOLOGIES' is written in a smaller, white, sans-serif font. In the top right corner of the header area, the text 'Fall 2020' is displayed.

Have you heard? The Libraries has a new podcast!

Checked Out!, the official podcast of the University Libraries and Teaching & Learning Technologies, launched in mid-April as a way for the Libraries to stay connected with users and friends during these uncertain times. With more than nine episodes available, and new episodes in the works, Checked Out! highlights the departments, resources, accomplishments and stories of the University Libraries and TLT students, faculty and staff. Visit the Libraries website or Anchor.fm to tune-in!

A photograph showing a person's hand holding a smartphone. The screen displays the 'Checked Out!' podcast app interface, featuring a red 'CHECKED OUT!' button on a white background. The phone is held against a light-colored wall with some cables visible.

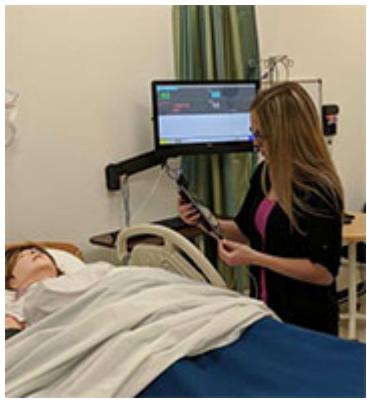

University Libraries now OPEN

The University Libraries has continued to support users during the pandemic. The Libraries provided virtual support to students, faculty and staff beginning in mid-March and continuing until July 5. On July 6, the Libraries began the gradual and safe reopening of its locations. Between July 6 and August 17, both virtual support and limited-access, in-person service was provided to users. Now, with the Fall semester underway, our locations are open to users, but things are a little different. Please visit the Libraries website before coming to campus for the most current information on virtual support opportunities, building or department hours, and what to expect when you visit one of our locations. For the safety of all users, face coverings are required to enter all of the Libraries locations, and users are kindly asked to please enjoy their food and drink either outside the building or in designated areas.

A photograph of Jessica Maddox, a woman with short brown hair, wearing a blue face mask, a black floral top, and a lanyard. She is standing in an office or library setting with desks and computer monitors in the background.

Jessica Maddox, collections management archivist for Special Collections and University Archives, wears her mask in the atrium of the Knowledge Center.

VR research study featuring work of Libraries faculty published in the Journal of Organizational Behavioral Management

@One faculty members Michelle Rebaleati and Luka Starmer worked alongside a team of interdisciplinary researchers to design and execute a pilot study where they incorporated virtual reality \(VR\) technology into the educational curriculum for third-year nursing and medical students. The study sought to improve communication accuracy among medical and nursing students. More than 100 students participated in the study.

"Coming from a team that specializes in media production and digital content, it's a special honor to be part of this peer-reviewed, published study." - Luka Starmer

Libraries faculty featured on NSights blog

- Libraries reopen their doors July 6
- Reflections on working from home

University Libraries
University of Nevada, Reno

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES
1664 N. Virginia Street
Mail Stop 0332
University of Nevada
Reno, NV 89557

Click here to unsubscribe from the University Libraries