

Lee Scores High In Oregon Contest

Nevada Stock-Judging Team Places Fourth Among Strong Opposition

Competing against 138 contestants from seven states, Keith Lee of Panama, Aggie student and member of the Livestock Judging team, captured the honors at Camp Plummer, 4-H Club encampment held in connection with the Pacific International Livestock Show in Portland two weeks ago.

Nevada's livestock judging team was composed of Lee, Derry, Romnow, and Paul Edwards, all of whom were members of the Livestock Judging team, captured the honors at Camp Plummer, 4-H Club encampment held in connection with the Pacific International Livestock Show in Portland two weeks ago.

Genevieve Hansen and Louise Walters, both of Elko, Nevada's high point team in home economics, placed sixth in competition with fifteen other teams from six Western states.

The University's team in dairy livestock and dairy products judging took sixth honors in competition with teams from colleges of agriculture in six other states.

Alfred Weger of Orms, California, of the University team, ranked fifth in the judging of cheese. Wesley Martin, Reno, captured ninth in the Guernsey cattle judging, and Elwood Beorlin came in tenth in judging Holsteins. Martin and Beorlin are the other members of the Aggie team.

Champions from Oregon, Idaho, California, Nevada, Utah, Montana, and Washington were entered in the contests.

The 4-H Club members were trained for competition at Portland by agriculture and home economics agents in the counties in which they reside.

Accompanying the contestants were Prof. V. E. Scott, state extension specialist in poultry and dairying; Miss Helen Stinson, Elko county agent; Miss Orpha Miller, Clark-Lincoln county agent, and Lee Barge, Clark county local 4-H club leader.

$5,500 Is Netted By Y. W. Finance Drive

Taking in $5,500 the Y. W. C. A. closed their annual finance drive. Both the Downtown and the University Y. W. C. A.'s participated in the drive. The University division was given all of the territory north of Fourth street. While the drive has been officially closed, the territories have not been completely covered and more contributions are expected.

Less was taken in on the drive this year than the Y. W. C. A. expected, and because of this shortage the budgets of both divisions are to be made smaller.

Clubs to Present Combined Concert

Combining in a concert to be held in the auditorium of the Education building, the glee clubs and the University community orchestra will appear together Sunday afternoon, December 8.

The program is to consist of Christmas carols by the glee club members, solo numbers and orchestra numbers, with a twenty-five piece orchestra playing. This concert will be the closing feature for the semester by the band or glee clubs, several out of town concerts being planned in the intervening time, and the band taking part in the Armistice Day program in Reno. The concert will be open to the public.

Publicity Bureau Reaches Capacity

Although its work is not generally known on the Campus, the University News Bureau is functioning at almost full capacity and expects to reach its top point of efficiency within a few weeks. An extensive change has taken place on the staff.

A large group of students is trying out for positions. Among them are: Lillian Stigen, Jo Bernard, Fred Wilson, Harold Taber, Howard Limber, Fred Nagel, Tank Smith, Pat Katen, Donald Ronk, Kathryn McCormack, and Newt Crumley. There is still an opportunity for other interested students to try out, according to Tom Wilson.

Production Staff Named By Duerr

Members of English 81 Will Handle 'Androcles' As Part of Course

Announcement of the production staff for "Androcles and the Lion," the next Campus Players' attraction, was announced during the week by Edwin Duerr, director of the comedy.

Senior mining students accompanied by Prof. J. A. Carpenter attended last Tuesday the hearing of a lawsuit between the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company and the Consolidated Coppermines Company held in the federal court at Carson. Besides hearing the many mining and legal terms that accompany the testimony of a mining expert, the visitors had the privilege of studying the model of the liberty pit of the Nevada Consolidated Company.

Mu Alpha Nu Will Reappear On Hill

Mu Alpha Nu, honorary mathematic club, was reorganized yesterday afternoon by mathematic students and professors on the Campus. This club is not a new one, but has been out of existence for about three years.

Those eligible are students who are at least juniors, majors or minors in math, or engineers who have had more than the regular math requirements. Those students invited to attend were: Precious Nash, Evelyn Gault, Esther Sauer, Ione Smith, Geraldine Green, Ethel Middleton, George Sheats, George Lang, Dan Senseney, Howard Sheerin, Helen Mann, Verdie Pant, Ray Griffin, Neil Lamb, Jack Sardle, Walter Ballerstein, Thurber Brockbank, and Bill Ligon.

Sweaters Awarded To W.A.A. Members

Four new Gothic N sweaters have appeared on the Campus this week that should have been awarded on Mackay day last spring but owing to the fact that the style was changed from the lightweight coat sweaters, previously worn by the organization, to the heavy collarless shaker-knit, they were not given out.

The new wearers of the Gothic N are Clara Tomlin, Dora Clover, Valborg Olson and Mary Weeks. Edna Ericson who graduated last May also received a sweater.

Announcements

Will whoever has removed the 1929 World Almanac from its place in the reference section of the reading room of the library please return it? Thea Thompson, Librarian.

Students living outside of Reno whose home address has changed since registration should report their new address to the registrar as soon as possible in order that semester reports may be sent to the right address.

The University of Nevada Y. W. C. A. cordially invites the Campus to attend the Vesper services to be held at the Downtown Y. W. C. A. rooms at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Sport Sallies

By Bill Herbert
The Pack will have a big psychological advantage over U. S. C. in that they will have everything to gain and nothing to lose. A win over the great Trojans would be something.

Delighted as they were with prospect of the trip to the metropolis of the southland to play as the glorious California sun is sinking behind the walls of the mighty stadium, there were those as objected. Some of the fellows who hail from the lower end of California were planning an extended visit with the homefolks. When they found that they would have to shove off Sunday morning, they made threats, and Eudge, engineer of the airplane plot went into hiding until a bodyguard could be mustered.

The boys should put up their best battle of the season when they meet the Trojans. With Philbrook's reputation as a foxy coach, and the failure of the Wolves to show anything but straight football, it would appear that the Pack has been holding something up the sleeve for the southern invasion.

At least the California Bears showed that the team of Troy isn't unbeatable. And an upset by the olives wouldn't be anything new in history. There was that game with the Wonder team in '23.

The cripple situation seems to be well in hand this year. Whether it is due to more material and reserve strength, or the excellent work of Tommy Tompkins, the only man who won't be in playing shape Saturday will be Bull Mohorovitch who broke a bone in his foot in the Davis struggle.

Bob Madariaga missed clinching his letter in the two games played thus far which count toward the award by just forty-five seconds. Unless something happens, the big guard will be sporting a block at the close of the season, for it will only take one play against either Saint Mary's or U. S. C. to get his letter.

Glasgow is another young gentleman who came awfully close to winning his block in half a season. The rainy end lacks just one minute of playing time to be a wearer of the big "N".

Something seems to have happened to rooting sections on the Hill which baffles those who remember Nevada football crowds of a few years back. Even the present seniors can remember Whitey Lawson and Heine Driscoll having to call for quiet in the St. Mary's, Nevada Homecoming tangle of a few years back, so that they could make the team hear their signals of the Fresno game in that last quarter, you could almost hear the showers going in the training quarters.

And remember how the yell leader used to ask, "Will Nevada win?" and everybody would shout back "Hell Yes," and mean it. That is one custom of other years that should be dug up.

Those were the days when a handful of Nevadans, with their team hopelessly outclassed, made the Stanford rooting section in their own bowl sound like three old maids with bad colds discussing the weather.

In a reminiscent mood, this Wier fellow who plays for the Davis team is about the closest thing to Crip Toomey that has appeared on the gridiron since the old boy used to limp around baffling tacklers for the Cal Wonder team. Crip seems to have taught his pupil all his old tricks of spinning around to throw off the clutching hands.

The Reviewing Stand

By Wm. K. Colman MAJESTIC

At last "Movietone Follies" opens at the Majestic Sunday. And what a show. If you liked "The Cocoanuts" you'll certainly like this one. Not quite as much of the comedy element but far more musical hits, plenty of fast dances and beautiful girls.

The picture, if it can be called a plot, deals with a young Southerner who buys the controlling interest in the "Follies" in order to fire his fiancée but it does provide a motive for showing all of the backstage frenzy on a first night.

Stepin Fetchit, the negro comedian, just about walks away with the show and his performance alone is worth the price of an admission. Don't miss this one under any circumstances.

"The Voice of the City," a melodrama of the New York underworld, holds the feature spot on the program starting Wednesday. The picture was written and directed by Willard Mack, who likewise plays the feature role. Looks like a Mack production. It is a typical detective mystery thriller. All of the action takes place within 24 hours, including a jailbreak and a manhunt.

Rehearsals of "Androcles and the Lion" will start next week with the actors in costume every night. The great mob of Christians is being broken in this week and are learning their places in the different acts. We hear DAN SENESEY and MURRAY ADAMS are taking Arthur Murray's dancing course in order that they may wait off the stage more gracefully than they have at rehearsals.

JOHN MARIANA, the managerie keeper, and CLIFFORD DEVINE, the Christian, spend their spare moments off-stage lassoing those who are giving their lines, and sometimes even attacking DIRECTOR DUERR himself. Although everyone came to rehearsals in their "go to meeting" clothes last Sunday, DUERR turned the tables and decked the stage with old coats from the wardrobe in order that CLARA TOMLIN and DAN SENESEY may sprawl on the floor when surprised by the lion.

MYRON ADAMS, so it is said, has been disowned by his parents because of the hideous growls he makes in practice for his part as the lion.

At last things are happening around here in a big way. At least, plenty of rumors are floating around. The latest dope is that we are to have a musical comedy produced through the cooperation of the Glee Clubs and the dramatic department. PROF. POST has been keeping the wires hot between here and New York trying to locate scripts. We understand that the "Merry Widow," "Rose Marie," and "Good News" are under consideration.

Looks like a good break for little MARY COSTELLO, the Glee Club's new hooper. And TED BEACH has taken a new lease on life since he heard the news. Rehearsals of "Androcles and the Lion" will start next week with the actors in costume every night.

JOHN MARIANA, the managerie keeper, and CLIFFORD DEVINE, the Christian, spend their spare moments off-stage lassoing those who are giving their lines, and sometimes even attacking DIRECTOR DUERR himself. Although everyone came to rehearsals in their "go to meeting" clothes last Sunday, DUERR turned the tables and decked the stage with old coats from the wardrobe in order that CLARA TOMLIN and DAN SENESEY may sprawl on the floor when surprised by the lion.

MYRON ADAMS, so it is said, has been disowned by his parents because of the hideous growls he makes in practice for his part as the lion.

At last things are happening around here in a big way. At least, plenty of rumors are floating around. The latest dope is that we are to have a musical comedy produced through the cooperation of the Glee Clubs and the dramatic department. PROF. POST has been keeping the wires hot between here and New York trying to locate scripts. We understand that the "Merry Widow," "Rose Marie," and "Good News" are under consideration.

Looks like a good break for little MARY COSTELLO, the Glee Club's new hooper. And TED BEACH has taken a new lease on life since he heard the news. Rehearsals of "Androcles and the Lion" will start next week with the actors in costume every night.

The Reviewing Stand

By Wm. K. Colman MAJESTIC

At last "Movietone Follies" opens at the Majestic Sunday. And what a show. If you liked "The Cocoanuts" you'll certainly like this one. Not quite as much of the comedy element but far more musical hits, plenty of fast dances and beautiful girls.

The picture, if it can be called a plot, deals with a young Southerner who buys the controlling interest in the "Follies" in order to fire his fiancée but it does provide a motive for showing all of the backstage frenzy on a first night.

Stepin Fetchit, the negro comedian, just about walks away with the show and his performance alone is worth the price of an admission. Don't miss this one under any circumstances.

"The Voice of the City," a melodrama of the New York underworld, holds the feature spot on the program starting Wednesday. The picture was written and directed by Willard Mack, who likewise plays the feature role. Looks like a Mack production. It is a typical detective mystery thriller. All of the action takes place within 24 hours, including a jailbreak and a manhunt.

Rehearsals of "Androcles and the Lion" will start next week with the actors in costume every night. The great mob of Christians is being broken in this week and are learning their places in the different acts. We hear DAN SENESEY and MURRAY ADAMS are taking Arthur Murray's dancing course in order that they may wait off the stage more gracefully than they have at rehearsals.

Clark Speaks On Business of Life

Modern and Medieval Times Differ In Machinery and Business

"One of the most important factors of history is the business of life," President Walter E. Clark stated in his lecture to the freshman orientation class last Tuesday, "because the way in which men get their livelihood largely determines their whole social evolution."

The effects upon society of land forms, natural resources, and climatic conditions were clearly described by the speaker, who gave an illustration of Greece who was forced to the sea for a livelihood by her location in the Mediterranean. He contrasted the democracies of the United States and Mexico, each having a similar constitution, but the latter having seventy-two presidents in a period of forty years due to assassinations and revolution, the speaker said.

The stages of evolution in the social institutions were classified into the hunting, pastoral, and power stages by Dr. Clark. In the early times, hunting was the only form of livelihood, and there was no sufficient food for the population to advance, the class was told, but when the ancients acquired wild pets, and as these multiplied, the pastoral stage began. Later, metals were discovered, which made tools and better weapons possible. This brought on the military age, the speaker explained, and after this the machinery era developed, which extends to our own time.

President Clark offered many illustrations on the economy of many important events of history, such as the crusades, the French and American revolutions, and the Civil War, and gave in nearly every case the cause of the upheaval as a financial one. The lecture was cut short by the bell, but as a last thought, Dr. Clark added that the great difference from the history of medieval times to that of the modern times, is the development of machinery and business.

Seven Eliminated In Tennis Tourney

Sixteen Draw Byes In First Round; Three Defeated In Second Group

Four of those entered in the men's tennis tournament have already been eliminated in the first round which ended last Friday, and a few of the second round matches have also been played off. This round will be completed by next Sunday.

Most of the twenty men competing drew byes in the first round, only four matches being scheduled. Perley defeated Fant, 6-4, 6-1, while Clark stopped Nix, 9-7, 6-1. K. Johnson defeated Dubrow, and Reed overcame Henderson, 8-6, 6-2.

Three of the matches scheduled in the second round have also been run off. Two of these matches ran the full length, three sets. Prof. Fesmter, the only member of the faculty entered, was defeated by Robinson, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Spradling eliminated Foster in three hard fought sets, 6-1, 1-6, 7-5. The other match of the second round saw Brown defeated by Clark, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1.

Rhodes Scholar To Be Chosen Dec. 7

Announcement has been made to the effect that the State Rhodes Scholarship committee will meet here at Reno December 7 to act upon the names of four candidates for nominations to Oxford University in England. The meeting will probably be held in the office of President Walter E. Clark, who is one of the five members of the committee.

The personnel of the committee has not as yet been made complete, according to Charles Chatfield, secretary of the committee. However, appointments of the committee will be made within the very near future by President Frank Aypelatte of Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania, who is the head of the national scholarship body. The committee will be composed of Chatfield, President Clark, and two probable members from California in addition to another person.

Military Students March On Armistice

Armistice Day next Monday will see the University of Nevada R. O. T. C. out in uniform to march in the customary parade throughout the streets of Reno. This has been an annual function of the battalion to perform.

The entire corps, including the band will be formed here on the Campus. The men have been instructed to appear to the east of Stewart Hall promptly at 9 a. m.

Military students will have no other formation to make on November 11 other than that at the time of the parade and the formation on Friday, November 15 will also be excused on this account.

This makes the second drill on parade for the battalion and according to Colonel W. R. Standford, Commandant, all three companies are well prepared for the march.

Victor Pimentel In Bolivia

Word was recently received by the Mackay School of Mines from Victor Pimentel '28, stating that he has accepted a position with the Patino mines and enterprises as assistant geologist. He sailed from New York November 7 to take up his new work in Bolivia, South America. Pimentel was formerly in the geology department of the Anaconda Copper Company of Butte, Mont.

Prep Arbitration By Block 'N' Will Be Discontinued

Influenced by a letter from Lovelock requesting that the result of a recent football game be changed, Block 'N' society, in a meeting held last Tuesday, reached the decision that in the future that body would not attempt to settle athletic disputes rising in the northern portion of the state.

The letter which was the deciding factor in the change of policy was the last of several which have been received by the society protesting the results of games in which schools in northern Nevada have been involved. In previous instances, the settlement reached has been unsatisfactory to both the school and the society.

The present protest was brought about by what Lovelock believed was an unfair decision in the Sparks game. The school requested that either the game be called a tie contest, or cancel the result entirely.

Clark Will Attend College Convention

President Walter E. Clark, accompanied by Dean F. H. Sibley, Samuel B. Doten and Cecil W. Creel, will board a Chicago bound train Friday night, Clark to attend the convention of American State Universities, and the other three men the Association of Land Grant Colleges, both of which gatherings will be held in Chicago next week.

The meetings are held annually to bring the heads of the state colleges together for the discussion of mutual problems. All presidents are expected either to attend or to send a personal representative. Thirty-eight executives will be at the meeting this year.

Dean Sibley of the Engineering College, will represent this branch of education at the land grant convention, while Doten will act in the same capacity for the experiment station of which he is the director at Nevada. Creel, as director of the agricultural service will be Nevada's representative in this line of work at the Chicago gathering.

Chinese Lectures Will Not Be Given

Because of difficulty with the plane in which Tien Lai Huang planned to fly to the University of Nevada, the lectures which he was to give this week as part of the Robert Lardin Fulton lecture series, will be offered the first of next semester.

The prominent speaker was to have spoken in the auditorium on the subjects: "China's Contribution to World Culture," "The Eternal Arts of the East," and "The Land of Cathay."

The Lecture Foundation was established in 1924 in memory of Robert Lardin Fulton, constructive citizen of Nevada. The income from the foundation is used to bring annually to the University some leader in the field of science, art literature or public affairs, who will give a series of lectures upon his special theme.

Prof. C. R. Hicks, who is chairman of the committee for selecting speakers, announces that the program is not yet definitely made out for the year.

Banking Students Are Offered Loans

Prof. L. W. Sutherland has a $250 loan available for some senior who is majoring in money and banking. The loan is made by the American Bankers' Association on a liberal plan and is fostered to promote understanding in banking finance and world affairs.

Under the plan it is not necessary for the student to begin paying back the loan until a year and a half following graduation and interest does not begin until about two years after graduation.

Alden Plumley, who graduated last spring, received the loan last year and has repaid it. He is the first to pay back his loan in the entire University—this makes him the first honorary member to the American Bankers' Association.

Wolf Pack Takes Pacific Bengals In Sloppy Game

Low Score Is Result of Poor Passing By Nevada Backfield Men

Wolves' Second Win

Touchdown By Parsons, Safety By Lawlor Only Scores of Hard Contest

Piling up a score of nine points while their opponents went without a single tally, the University of Nevada Wolf Pack sent the Tiger from College of the Pacific back to its lair defeated after a hard fought game marked by ragged playing and many fumbles last Saturday for their second win of the season.

The Wolf Pack took the field against the Tigers on an apparently even basis, with the psychological advantage all in favor of the Bengals, who were celebrating their homecoming at that time. Both teams were even in conference standing, and both had lost to the highest rating team in the conference—California Aggies, by identical scores—19 to 0.

Wolf Is Different

But the Wolf was an entirely different animal than the one which had been drubbed so decisively by the Cal. Aggies the week previous. Had the Wolf backs been able to hang onto the pigskin at crucial moments, and had not pass tossers and receivers failed in this respect also, the score would have undoubtedly been much larger.

Time and again the Pack was robbed of almost certain touchdowns by fumbles, which gave the Bengals all the breaks, and time after time passes which should have worked for long gains, were either intercepted or grounded by Tiger backs, because the Nevada passers were inaccurate in their judgments.

At only one time, during the third quarter, did the Pack set down to work as a unit. During this time they pushed the Bengals all over the field with line bucks and end runs, straight down to the goal line, where Parsons carried the ball over for the only touchdown of the game.

Score Changes

Previous to this, the score had stood 2 to 0 in favor of Nevada. The two points were gained when Lawlor crashed through to break up a Tiger punt behind the goal line, and fall on the ball behind the end zone for a safety.

As for defensive work, the Pack showed up stronger than at any other time during the season, and halted all goal-ward Tiger advances before they were well under way.

Former Manager of "Brush" Is Present On Homecoming

Among those graduates who attended the Homecoming Day celebrations was Raymond F. Robb '13, who was the first business manager of the Nevada Sagebrush. According to Mr. Robb managing the 'Brush at that time was a "tough" job. "Advertisements in the paper at that time were considered to be mere gifts with no hope of financial return and it was hard to get them," he said. Mr. Robb is now located in Tonopah, Nev., where he is proprietor of a mineral assay office.

Tappan, top left, is playing his third straight year on the varsity; Russ Sanders, backfield man, hopes for All-American mention; Capt. Prep Teams Enter Conference Games

Reno high takes on Carson City's gridders in their annual game, Saturday. Reno is out to redeem themselves and they should play a good game and easily defeat the Carson boys.

One of the most important conference games will be played at Fallon

when Sparks meets the melon-pickers Saturday. Both teams are out in the lead for state honors with Sparks having four victories to Fallon's three wins and one tie. Neither team has been defeated in a conference game this season.

From past performances against the frosh and other strong teams Fallon is conceded a good chance to win but one thing is certain, that it will be a tough game from start to finish.

Stewart to Meet Yerington
Stewart Indian School, conquerors of Reno High, meet Yerington High Saturday at Stewart. The Indians, with much added confidence from their recent wins should easily take the Mason Valley boys into camp by at least three touchdowns.

The powerful Las Vegas High football team journeys to Ely Saturday to meet the copper boys in their "big game" of the season. In the event that Vegas should win, this would give them the undisputed Southern Nevada championship. Vegas has an 18-0 win over Panaca in the other southern conference game that they have played.

Send the Sagebrush home.

Reno Drops Game To Stewart Bucks

Indians Score Upset of Season Over Big Red Eleven On Mackay Field

Reno High school fell easy prey to the invading Bucks from Stewart Indian school, Saturday on Mackay Field. When Reno awoke at the end of the game the final score was 7-0 in favor of the Indians. This is the most outstanding upset in the history of Reno High's football history. With that defeat went Reno's chances for an undisputed Nevada State football championship.

Sparks High, by defeating Carson 20-0, is leading in the race for grid honors. Led by Guffery, plucky half-back, the Railroaders scored at will and showed that they had possibilities for a State championship team.

Fallon Beats Yerington
Another strong contender for the state title is Fallon. They easily defeated Yerington 19-7. The superior line plunging and end-runs of the Melon Pickers spelled defeat for the crippled Mason Valley boys.

Lovelock defeated Winnemucca 20-12. The highlights of the game were in the second quarter when Lovelock made all her points, and in the final three minutes of play when Branting of Winnemucca ran through the Lovelock team for two touchdowns. Branting has been playing a very consistent game all season and he has a big chance of making the All-State team.

Westwood Beats J. A. C.
The Junior Athletic Club lost to the Westwood High team 18-0. The heavier high school boys were too much for the Reno boys. The Junior Athletic Club is developing some good future players for Reno high.

The powerful Las Vegas high team easily defeated the week Needles, California, team 36-0. Vegas is fast developing a team that will soon be as strong or stronger than any of the northern teams.

Panaca Rides Over Ely
Panaca High upset all the dope last Saturday, when they ran rough-shod over the up and coming Ely high gridders. The final score was 19-7 in favor of the Panaca boys. Lee Liston of Panaca was the outstanding player on the field and he accounted for all of his team's scores.

Mining Mill Unit Is Completed

New additions to the Mackay School of Mines in the form of a type for the rod mill in the metallurgy department has recently been installed. According to Prof. S. R. Palmer, this completes the unit for handling and crushing of ores.

Speedy Football Is Exhibited By Frosh

After trouncing Fallon, Stewart Indians, and Reno High, "Speed" Weaver's University of Nevada freshmen have had a week of rest and this week they have been scrimmaging the varsity with some of U. S. C. power plays. The frosh have mastered these plays to much better perfection that they have any of Weaver's.

To date the Frosh have scored 63 points to their opponents 6. Their next game is with the strong Lovelock High team on November 16th, and if the yearlings show anything like they have been playing against the varsity, they should win by a very large margin. The frosh have no especially outstanding men this year, but there is enough football talent exhibited by the team to make it interesting for any and all opponents.

Aviation Students Complete New Test

A series of tests have just been completed by the class in aviation on a new type of an aeroplane carburetor. It is a special carburetor which has not been put in use as yet, but in the near future it will go into production.

The tests were made on a Buick engine in the mechanical laboratory, last Saturday. It showed that just half the fuel formerly required to operate the motors, will be needed now.

Clark Speaks On Business of Life

Modern and Medieval Times Differ in Machinery and Business

"One of the most important factors of history is the business of life," President Walter E. Clark stated in his lecture to the freshman orientation class last Tuesday, "because the way in which men get their livelihood largely determines their whole social evolution."

The effects upon society of land forms, natural resources, and climatic conditions were clearly described by the speaker, who gave an illustration of Greece who was forced to the sea for a livelihood by her location in the Mediterranean. He contrasted the democracies of the United States and Mexico, each having a similar constitution, but the latter having seventy-two presidents in a period of forty years due to assassinations and revolution, the speaker said.

The stages of evolution in the social institutions were classified into the hunting, pastoral, and power stages by Dr. Clark. In the early times, hunting was the only form of livelihood, and there was not sufficient food for the population to advance, the class was told, but when the ancients acquired wild pets, and as these multiplied, the pastoral stage began. Later, metals were discovered, which made tools and better weapons possible. This brought on the military age, the speaker explained, and after this the machinery era developed, which extends to our own time.

President Clark offered many illustrations on the economics of many important events of history, such as the crusades, the French and American revolutions, and the Civil War, and gave in nearly every case the cause of the upheaval as a financial one. The lecture was cut short by the bell, but as a last thought, Dr. Clark added that the great difference from the history of medieval times to that of the modern times, is the development of machinery and business.

Seven Eliminated In Tennis Tourney

Sixteen Draw Byes In First Round; Three Defeated In Second Group

Four of those entered in the men's tennis tournament have already been eliminated in the first round which ended last Friday, and a few of the second round matches have also been played off. This round will be completed by next Sunday.

Most of the twenty men competing drew byes in the first round, only four matches being scheduled. Perley defeated Pant, 6-4, 6-1, while Clark stopped Nix, 9-7, 6-1. K. Johnson defeated Dubrow, and Reed overcame Henderson, 8-6, 6-2.

Three of the matches scheduled in the second round have also been run off. Two of these matches ran the full length, three sets. Prof. Peemster, the only member of the faculty entered, was defeated by Robinson, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Spradling eliminated Foster in three hard fought sets, 6-1, 1-6, 7-5. The other match of the second round saw Brown defeated by Clark, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1.

Rhodes Scholar To Be Chosen Dec. 7

Announcement has been made to the effect that the State Rhodes Scholarship committee will meet here at Reno December 7 to act upon the names of four candidates for nominations to Oxford University in England. The meeting will probably be held in the office of President Walter E. Clark, who is one of the five members of the committee.

The personnel of the committee has not as yet been made complete, according to Charles Chatfield, secretary of the committee. However, appointments of the committee will be made within the very near future by President Frank Appellate of Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania, who is the head of the national scholarship body. The committee will be composed of Chatfield, President Clark, and two probable members from California in addition to another person.

Military Students March On Armistice

Armistice Day next Monday will see the University of Nevada R. O. T. C. out in uniform to march in the customary parade throughout the streets of Reno. This has been an annual function of the battalion to perform.

The entire corps, including the band will be formed here on the Campus. The men have been instructed to appear to the east of Stewart Hall promptly at 9 a. m.

Military students will have no other formation to make on November 11 other than that at the time of the parade and the formation on Friday, November 15 will also be excused on this account.

This makes the second drill on parade for the battalion and according to Colonel W. R. Standford, Commandant, all three companies are well prepared for the march.

Victor Pimentel In Bolivia

Word was recently received by the Mackay School of Mines from Victor Pimentel '28, stating that he has accepted a position with the Patino mines and enterprises as assistant geologist. He sailed from New York November 7 to take up his new work in Bolivia, South America. Pimentel was formerly in the geology department of the Anaconda Copper Company of Butte, Mont.

Prep Arbitration By Block 'N' Will Be Discontinued

Influenced by a letter from Lovelock requesting that the result of a recent football game be changed, Block 'N' society, in a meeting held last Tuesday, reached the decision that in the future that body would not attempt to settle athletic disputes rising in the northern portion of the state.

The letter which was the deciding factor in the change of policy was the last of several which have been received by the society protesting the results of games in which schools in northern Nevada have been involved. In previous instances, the settlement reached has been unsatisfactory to both the school and the society.

The present protest was brought about by what Lovelock believed was an unfair decision in the Sparks game. The school requested that either the game be called a tie contest, or cancel the result entirely.

Clark Will Attend College Convention

President Walter E. Clark, accompanied by Dean F. H. Sibley, Samuel B. Doten and Cecil W. Creel, will board a Chicago bound train Friday night, Clark to attend the convention of American State Universities, and the other three men the Association of Land Grant Colleges, both of which gatherings will be held in Chicago next week.

The meetings are held annually to bring the heads of the state colleges together for the discussion of mutual problems. All presidents are expected either to attend or to send a personal representative. Thirty-eight executives will be at the meeting this year.

Dean Sibley of the Engineering College, will represent this branch of education at the land grant convention, while Doten will act in the same capacity for the experiment station of which he is the director at Nevada. Creel, as director of the agricultural service will be Nevada's representative in this line of work at the Chicago gathering.

Chinese Lectures Will Not Be Given

Because of difficulty with the plane in which Tien Lai Huang planned to fly to the University of Nevada, the lectures which he was to give this fall as part of the Robert Lardin Fulton lecture series, will be offered the first of next semester.

The prominent speaker was to have spoken in the auditorium on the subjects: "China's Contribution to World Culture," "The Eternal Arts of the East," and "The Land of Cathay."

The Lecture Foundation was established in 1924 in memory of Robert Lardin Fulton, constructive citizen of Nevada. The income from the foundation is used to bring annually to the University some lecturer in the field of science, art literature or public affairs, who will give a series of lectures upon his special themes.

Prof. C. R. Hicks, who is chairman of the committee for selecting speakers, announces that the program is not yet definitely made out for the year.

Banking Students Are Offered Loans

Prof. L. W. Sutherland has a $250 loan available for some senior who is majoring in money and banking. The loan is made by the American Bankers' Association on a liberal plan and is fostered to promote understanding in banking finance and world affairs.

Under the plan it is not necessary for the student to begin paying back the loan until a year and a half following graduation and interest does not begin until about two years after graduation.

Allen Plumley, who graduated last spring, received the loan last year and has repaid it. He is the first to pay back his loan in the entire United States—this makes him the first honorary member to the American Bankers' Association.
