Line's Busy

Diary of a Collegiate Pepys—Tuesday, Apr. 15: This day unenthusiastically to work on term themes, etc., etc., looking forward throughout the daylight hours to a slight relaxation in the form of a talkie at night.

To the Majestic, where I did sit patiently through one news-reel, one pie-sliding comedy, very, very rotten, and three trailers for coming attractions before I was allowed to view "Devil-May-Care." This did set me to pondering on the manifold means devised by Mr. Bob Ray for the torture of his patrons. One may forgive the occasional appearances of the Reno Junior Stars, because, after all, Mr. Ray may be foolish enough to think they are good; but there is absolutely no excuse for the other instruments of torture, such as abundance of trailers, some of which one has seen already (they are, of course, cheaper than Vitaphone short subjects), pie-sliding comedies about fat men and moronic realtors, and typewritten slides which greet the audience as "Hello, folks!"

Election Day—The recent unpleasantness was prolific in amusing incidents, not the least of which was the spectacle of Candidate Stromer paying her election fee of fifty cents in the form of dimes, nickels, and pennies.

The largest amount of money lost, so far as I know, is credited to Mr. Epperson, who dropped somewhere in the neighborhood of five or seven dollars. Some say seven; some say five, he having won a dollar on Secretary-elect Walts. I have not had a chance to interview Mr. Epperson himself on the matter.

Mr. Duerr completely floored the "I-told-you-so" faction by remarking that he knew it was always his fate to belong to the intelligent minority.

And then there were the two members of the election board, Messrs. Guisti and Semenza, who took the absent voter's ballot to Miss Cornelia Williamson, glaring at each other and using the power of mental suggestion on the lady as she retired to the other side of the room to cast her ballot.

The honors for hard and consistent work go to young Mr. Eddie Robertson, to whose sex appeal was largely due most of the ballots cast during the afternoon of election day.

Of the evening of election day there is, perhaps, little that need be said, except that a more than merry time was had by winners and losers alike.

From New York—Comes a letter from Mr. Lehmkuhl, at present sojourning in the village of New York, claiming that the situation there is practically ideal. There are, he says, a total of 33,000 beer gardens and 11,000 cops. Obviously, he goes on to state, one cop can't be in three places at once, so it's a cinch.

Absent-minded Professor Anecdote—Professor Jones tells it on himself that he went to classes, to the Lion's club, and to a horse-shoe pitching match with President Clark one day last week with his collar neatly buttoned, but minus a tie. It was not until he got home that night and happened to glance at himself in the mirror that he knew he didn't have one on.

Paragraphs

NOW THAT everyone is through trying to be a politician it is about time that they attempt to act as students once more. No doubt there are several people on this Campus who should join with the Democrats and the Republicans this fall. The Democrats seem to need the most help. There are several others who should rent a room, stuff up all the cracks with paper, lie down on the bed, and turn on—not the heat—the gas.

WHEN WE have left the University and are sweating and swearing over something or other some of us may wonder why we all didn't try to stay over and be ritzy—yes, be five-year men. This has some disadvantages as not a few of the hang-overs have been taken for pros.

EASTER VACATION is a good time to do something. The best suggestion we can make is to catch up on lost sleep. Surely no one needs to study at this time of the year!

THE DEBATING team returns from Utah victorious and full of mountain ozone. While the squad did not discuss the marriage problem from the platform it is predicted that Griffin's fledglings will have a very formidable background on the polygamous aspect of the situation next year.

ORGANIZATION dances are said to be very unpopular this time of the year. The example of the Cosmopolitan club last Saturday should be a lesson to enterprising and dance-ambitious groups.

THE ARTEMISIA will be out Senior week. An expectant student body—over 800 souls—will be thrilled, pop-eyed, gossipy as a result.

IT IS THE opinion of many attending the University that the time has come when the school can readily support a semi-weekly newspaper and find it an undertaking well worth the additional effort and slightly heavier expense. There are many advantages to come from doubling the number of newspapers that each student will receive, aside from the mere opportunity to read more often of what is going on. However altruistic it may sound to state that a Campus paper issued twice a week will bring about a much greater understanding between groups and individuals, it is, nevertheless, a truth that need not be proved. Unity, harmony and all other things that work for cooperation come through understanding. Understanding may be had to a greater degree if the discussions, problems, and bickerings of the future may be given light of publication. A semi-weekly Sagebrush would open the way for a more common ground of working out these problems together, where all may be kept in contact with that under consideration for the moment.

With four more issues given the students before they are offered an opportunity to vote as to whether they wish two papers a week they will be given ample time in which to form a definite, just decision. The question will be put to the student body April 25, the last meeting of the year. The Sagebrush requests that everyone connected with the University look and think the thing over before it is presented—then vote.

A PERSON'S greatness is said to lie not in how he accepts victory but rather, that more gallish dose, defeat. One who can take the bitter, take it smiling, and come back with his head up and with his heart not tinged with petty hatreds, is the man who will go the furthest, and he respected the most, throughout his life. If college can not teach this most fundamental of lessons there is little to be gained for those who enter.

Campus elections are over. One "combine" out-generated another. Those candidates who are to fill next year's offices are officially elected. They now should be supported.

STUDENTS OF the University are fortunate in being so located geographically as to be within the path of the eclipse of the sun, set to occur April 28. Reno is so near the path of totality that the greatest planet in our universe will be 99% in eclipse as viewed from the city of Reno. Such astronomical events of cardinal importance occur but a few times in the lifetime of an individual man. Nevada students will, no doubt, see such an occurrence but once or twice again in their existence on this earth. Let them look long and well.

THE STEPPING-OFF place lurks for all Nevada seniors. With the completion of a simple little act—that of being handed a diploma—over one-hundred students of this University will be face-to-face with a number of hard, cold facts. Earning a living, settling down to a "grind", and acting as an adult should act are several of the tasks with which the graduating person will be burdened. These conditions are such that, to the man and woman who has spent the greater number of his days within a school room and in comparative ease, all who are "going out" will not readily fit into the groove. A realization of what is to come will make the hoeing of the row a bit more easy.

AN INDICATION that the present officials of Greek letter groups are getting lazy is the great number of elections held within the past week. All the semester's dirty work is turned over to the new members to do while their dignity and vim is still intact and working 100 per cent.

Dinsmore Finds Inspection Plant

All Eggs To Be Canded In Future Before Going On Market

Enforcing the law passed at the 1927 session of the legislature, S. C. Dinsmore, commissioner of the laboratory for pure food and drugs and weights and measures, has established an egg candling station at Fallon.

An inspector for eggs in the Las Vegas district has been appointed and there is a possibility that another candling plant may be established in the eastern part of the state.

Dinsmore recently returned from a trip through the southern part of Nevada, where he investigated the advisability of establishing additional stations for grading eggs and farm products which are now being shipped from the Moapa Valley and graded and inspected by the federal-state inspection service.

The egg-candling station at Fallon is operated in connection with the state milk testing plant, and the inspection is done at actual cost. This inspection assures a uniform grade to the consumer, and enables the producer to secure a fair price for his product.

Library Adds Books

Ten Volumes, Three Magazines Placed On Shelves

Ten new books and three magazines have recently been added to the University library shelves, including works on home economics, history, and biographies. The list includes:

Jouvenal—Story Life of Mirabeau.
Soule—Wolf Cub: the great adventure of Count Gaston de Raousset-Boulbon in California and Sonora, 1850-1854.
Larsen—Sigrid Undset.
Felles—French furniture under Louis XIII; French furniture under Louis XIV; French furniture under Louis XV; French furniture under Louis XVI.
Lamb—The Crusades.
Reitz—Commando, a book of Boer War memories.
Doubleday (Blanchan). Nature's Garden, a book of flowers.

The new magazines are: Journal of Higher Education; Journal of Adult Education; Social Science Abstracts.

Magazine Invites Younger Poets To Send In Contris

Opening a new field for younger poets on the Nevada campus, "The Poetry Journal" has sent the announcement here of its entrance into the field of verse offering from one to twenty-five dollars for the publication of each poem in the monthly magazine. This new magazine is trying to promote the unheralded and unknown versifier, and hopes to embrace modern thought as expressed by a new generation of moderns.

An annual poet's prize will probably be announced and all poems should be sent including self addressed envelopes to "The Poetry Journal", 192 North Clark street, Chicago, Illinois.

Fortunately for us the weather has taken on the aspects of Arctic climes, and studies and trundle beds receive sunshine and blue skies return books will once again be thrown aside and that old pastime of tramping along with Purdy highway will again come to its own.

Florence Frohman and Peggy Craft have turned Manzanita into a gambling den. They call up fraternity houses and bet on whether the fellow answering the phone will say A. T. O. house or Alpha Tau Omega, S. A. E. or Sigma Alpha Epsilon, or what have you. The winner gets a Milky Way bar.

The News Bureau, because of a distinct lack of typewriting machines, vigorously uses those of the Sagebrush every Tuesday afternoon. The News Bureau organization is in possession of but one machine.

Several students have taken to parking their cars on the Campus during the afternoons before 4 o'clock. This practice is against University rules. This is also a sure sign of spring.

Joe McDonnell, Edwin Duerr and Semenza held an informal discussion in the teaching room of Mr. Duerr. It is believed that they discussed politics.

Renee Duque attended her French classes yesterday morning.

Several Campuses are still owing money as a result of election bets. Howard Sheerin and Bruce Thompson each have two dollars coming.

Tom Wilson was engaged to paint two signs directing students where to obtain their papers yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Charles Chatfield, former Nevada Rhodes scholar, approves the policy of this newspaper in commenting upon student actions in the library. As Mayor Roberts says, "these remarks of praise come so seldom we will have to file this one away."

Marjorie Blewett wore no stockings on the Campus Monday afternoon.

Hal Overlin is reported to be very well satisfied over the outcome of the elections.

Members of the A. T. O. fraternity invaded one room of the Gamma Phi house Friday evening.

Cinnabar Specimens Received at School

Some cinnabar specimens have been received by the Mackay School of Mines, from Takuji Mori, of the Yamato Sulgizan Kogyosho Company, whose mines and plants are situated in Osawa, Udamura, Uda-Gun & Nora Ken, Japan. The company has recently installed a Gould rotary furnace and they are doing their best to get the deposit opened up. They have been in communication for some time with J. A. Fulton, director of the Mackay School of Mines.

These specimens and some others that will follow later, are helping the School of Mines to realize its policy of obtaining representative ores from the larger mining camps all over the world, to be displayed in the Mackay Museum.

Don Budge wants to get married soon after school is out; out for Helen Webb. A member of the 'Brush staff says that he hasn't sprung the question as yet.

Several persons working on this newspaper would like to know whether George Adamson has received, or merely has his order in for, another A. T. O. pin?

Workmen handling the erection of the derrick in connection with the construction of the new Science building say that the trees lining the quad are strong enough to hold the guy ropes down as the roots are very deep ones.

Julian Epperson is practicing for a summer's job in Glacier National Park this summer by explaining everything of interest on the Campus to anyone who will listen to him.

S. B. Doten has been visiting the fraternity houses during the last week urging the members to go to the Chamber of Commerce and be entered in the census for the city of Reno.

"Short" Berner will visit his relatives in Yerington over the Easter vacation.

Fred Foster has had one of the big "black jobs" to ride around in during the past week.

Clarke Bowles and Smith Brookes are intending to spend the Easter vacation at Mono Lake where they will be met by their parents.

Sergeant Grant Hustus of the military department is the proud father of a baby daughter born last Sunday. Drop around to the basement of Stewart hall for the cigars.

The seven chaperons at the Cosmopolitan club dance last Saturday must have felt rather lost. There was hardly a couple a piece to look after.

Competition was not very keen for the dancing cup at the dance last Saturday. It was a cute little cup too.

The A. T. O.'s are experiencing difficulty in getting dates for their formal, which is the 26th. They claim that the Sigma Nu's had an unfair advantage in that they knew about the date of their formal several weeks before the A. T. O.'s did, and now all the desirable women have Sigma Nu dates. Lists of prospective dates may be submitted to Howard Sheerin or Tank Smith.

The Sagebrush may be had in the future by calling at the University postoffice. All students living in Reno and Sparks who are on the Campus will receive their papers general delivery.

Budd Stevenson has been hanging around Reno for a week or so now. He says that if "something" turns up that he will be here permanently; if not that his plans will take him to San Francisco. It is rumored that he is after the graduate manager job, if students vote to create such a position at the last meeting, April 25.

The new publications editors and business managers will be elected some time this week it is thought. The present Publications Board names the new students to these jobs.

California Schools Request Nevada Ore

The Mackay School of Mines has had numerous requests from California high schools for samples of Nevada ores. To comply with this request, J. A. Fulton, director of the School of Mines, has had twelve cases made, each with twenty specimen divisions.

These cases are to be filled with various representative ores typical of Nevada and sent to some of the larger high schools on the coast. Mr. Fulton states that in due time he hopes to do the same for the high schools in Nevada on a larger scale.

Jones Given Office In Mines Society

Professor J. Claude Jones, geologist of the Mackay School of Mines, just received notice that he has been elected regional vice-president of the western division of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary mining fraternity, at their recent convention held in Norman, Oklahoma, on April 3, 4, 5. Wallace White, president of Lambda Chi Alpha, has just returned from the convention, as representative from this district.

...at the finish it's SPURT!

...in a cigarette it's TASTE!

CALL A SPADE a spade... a cigarette is only as good as its taste.

Which makes Chesterfield mighty good! No magic about it... just good tobaccos, perfectly blended and cross-blended, the standard Chesterfield method. Finer aroma, more pleasing flavor, because that's the one thing we work for:

"TASTE above everything"
