

Bernard Hartung Named Graduate Manager of A. S. U. N. Activities

Newly Appointed Student Body Official Takes Charge of Finances

Bernard Hartung, of Reno, graduate of the University of Nevada with the class of 1928, was appointed to serve in the capacity of graduate manager of all student activities last semester. He took office beginning the first of this month.

Hartung was a prominent student while on the campus. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, Blue Key service organization, Block N Society, was a member of the Varsity track team, well leader of the University in his senior year, and a member of both the Artemisia and Sagebrush staffs.

There were four applicants for the position, all graduates of the University in recent years.

The office of the Graduate Manager is the inter-channel between the faculty, finance control committee and the associated students. All activities will be under the supervision of the Graduate Manager who will also oversee the books of all publications and will check on the finances of all University organizations.

An outline of the duties of the newly appointed graduate manager and his plans for the semester follows:

Plans for the present year are the establishing of a budget system in all departments of the Associated Student Body. This system consists of the issuance of vouchers and requisits to cover all expenditures. All bills must be verified by the Graduate Manager and in turn referred to the Finance Control Committee. All departments will be required to maintain a separate set of books subject to audit or inspection by members of the managerial staff or professor of business school staff.

It is thought that this year it would be advisable to have some one other than a student in charge of the gate receipts. The students working on the gates will be held directly responsible to this individual.

Athletic Check Made.

Proposal to establish absolute check on all athletic equipment was outlined, the men being made responsible for all materials issued to them and failure to take proper care of this equipment will be checked. Any unnecessary loss will be charged to the student at fault.

The resolution adopted by the Finance Control Committee the resolution enabling the Graduate Manager to have jurisdiction over the trip expenses. He will arrange all details previous to date of trip and will act with coach as to the number of men and as to the necessary requirements.

The proposal to place all publications under partial jurisdiction of the Graduate Manager in this capacity he will merely have the privilege of examining the books and determining the credit of the various publications.

Dramatics Restricted.

It was also decided to restrict the dramatic department to two productions per semester. This was decided after a thorough study of dramatic activities during the past five years.

Graduate Student Manager will make an official check on all box office receipts and a complete check on all other forms of revenue from these productions.

Descriptions as to seating privileges will be absolutely prohibited. The management of the Wolves Frolic and Hills Frolic will be subject to check by the Graduate Manager.

A strict policing of athletic grounds during contests will again be enforced. The graduate student manager will be privileged to select the men to fulfill these duties.

Management Boxed.

Proposal to place the department of boxing under the managerial control of the Graduate Manager was accepted. The student manager in all other sports will be required to present requisitions for supplies to the Graduate Manager. This privilege is also granted to the coach of each branch of athletics.

The motion was made and accepted at the last meeting of the Finance Committee to afford the Graduate Manager voting power in the selection of athletic schedules. In this connection he will attend managerial conferences and in some instances accompany the coach to the meetings especially provided for the selection of schedules.

The privilege of traveling with the team will be restricted to one student manager, the trainer and coaches.

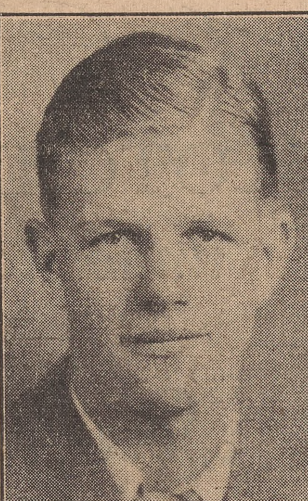

The student employment bureau will be taken care of at the Associated Students Office and will be handled in conjunction with downtown business activities.

The key-note of this year's activities will be primarily to establish a spirit of unity on the campus and in this connection each and every student will be asked to cooperate to the fullest extent in association activities.

The Graduate Student Manager is looking forward to one of the biggest and best years for Nevada and says "Our slogan will again be 'Support the Coach and Back the Pack'."

Couch Philbrook has also assumed an optimistic viewpoint and we have every hope that he and other members of the coaching staffs will be

Innovations Named In Campus Affairs By New Manager

New Customs and Practices Established For This Year

Foremost among the innovations of campus affairs effected under the guidance of Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, are several new practices and customs. A budget system for the handling of athletic affairs similar to that in use at the University of Washington, has been introduced. Under this system each branch of athletics will be asked to submit a budget of estimated expenses for the approval of the finance committee.

New bleacher caps of white linen in style like ordinary summer caps, and supplied with large blue detachable buttons have also been introduced. The caps of University students and pack supporters will carry blue and silver spare-tire covers with the season's home schedule displayed in bold letters. These two articles have been on sale during the past week by members of the Sagers organization.

"Varstonian" is New

Another new idea to be started this year is the first annual "varsity" dance to be given either the second or third week of school. Each year an outside orchestra will be engaged to play for the dance. Tentative plans this time call for the Tahoe Tavern orchestra.

Novices in the comprehension of football will not have to depend upon their own observations to understand what is going on when they go to games at the University, states the Graduate Manager, since arrangements have been completed whereby loud speakers will be installed on the field and an experienced announcer will follow the game and interpret it so that those in the grandstand may hear, thus lending a "big game" atmosphere to Nevada football which it has hitherto lacked.

Martie Returns From East Trip

P. E. Head Earns M. A. Degree at Springfield, Ill., Y. M. C. A. School

Returning to Nevada after a year's sojourn in the east, where he studied advanced physical education methods in the Young Men's Christian Association school at Springfield, Ill., Professor J. E. "Doc" Martie is at present preparing once more to direct P. E. activities here, and is armed with a master's degree to carry out his work.

Martie will have charge of the freshman P. E. classes, as well as most of the advanced work. It is expected that he will take charge of the Pack's hardwood activities this winter, but no official announcement to this effect has been made.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir Injured in Purdy Road Auto Wreck

Mrs. Colin Weir, formerly a student at the University, suffered a broken collar bone in an automobile accident which occurred Tuesday night on the Purdy road, about two miles north of Reno. Mr. Weir,

PRESIDENT'S GREETING

To old students, a cordial welcome back to the campus. To new students, an equally cordial welcome for this your first year with us.

Our campus traditionally mingles hard work with a reasonable proportion of joyous play. Work and play, alike, help to develop intelligent, democratic, unselfish leaders.

Our campus ideals summarize in these terms: Friendship, Scholarship, Service-Spirit. Old and new students, co-operating in accord with these traditional aims will assure another year of growth for each individual student, another year of achievement for the whole University.

Welcome students all to this blessed opportunity to grow in power through and for service.

WALTER E. CLARK,
August 28, 1930.

Women Beat Men in Race For Averages

Lowest Sorority Rates Better Than Highest Fraternity

Twenty-three women and twenty men made the honor roll last semester, with the limit for that term set at 152.

Although Lincoln Hall had a higher average than either of the women's halls, the sororities had a much higher average than the fraternities, the lowest sorority making a higher average than the highest fraternity.

The honor roll record was as follows:

Germain, Adamson in Wreck, Escape Hurts

Their car upsetting forty miles north of Tonopah, Ray Germain and George Adamson barely escaped serious injury early Sunday morning, June 8, while driving from Reno to Tonopah. The sedan car turned over on the left side and was considerably damaged, but the men escaped with only a few scratches. The machine was righted by highway employes, and drove on under its own power, only slightly damaged.

Midnight Crash Results in Death Of Two Students

McKnight, Peggy Johnston Lose Lives in Wreck After Lake Trip

Daniel W. McKnight, '30, of Reno, and Margaret S. "Peggy" Johnston, '32, also of Reno, were fatally injured, and Margo Evans, '33, of Reno, and Theodore Cooper, Stanford University student, are still confined to their beds as the result of an auto crash which occurred on the Truckee river highway west of Boca on June 25 last.

The accident occurred at 2 a. m. when the two couples were returning from a dance at Lake Tahoe. Cooper, who was driving the car at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate the curve one mile west of Boca, and crashed head-on into a bridge with such impact that parts of the car were hurled 50 feet from the road.

Receives Full Impact of Crash
Miss Johnston, who was riding in the front seat, received almost the full impact of the crash, sustaining broken bones, crushed ribs, and a punctured lung, in addition to internal injuries. She passed away five hours later in a Reno hospital.

Hurled Clear of Car
Margo Evans, who was riding in the rear seat with McKnight, was hurled clear of the car and rolled down an embankment to the river's edge, suffering a fractured hip, broken pelvis bone and severe shock. She is now convalescing, but has not as yet been removed from the hospital.

Cooper received minor cuts and bruises, and after the first effects of shock wore off he recovered rapidly.

The car, a Hupmobile sedan, was ruined beyond repairs. Mechanics who towed the wreckage to Truckee, said the wreck was the worst they had witnessed in fifteen years. Five hours were required to tow the car back to Truckee, a distance of but five miles.

Miss Johnston was to have been a junior at the University of Nevada this year, and a native of Reno. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and last year was one of the most prominent sophomores on the campus. A loyal student of Nevada, she had taken an interest in all campus affairs.

She was active in publications work, being a member of both the Sagebrush and Artemesia staffs. She was 19 years old.

Dan McKnight, who graduated with the class of '30 last May, was during his four-year sojourn at Nevada, one of the most active men on the campus. He edited the Desert Wolf last year, producing a comic magazine which rated among the best in the country. He was also a member of the publications board for the school term 1929-1930. He was a member of Blue Key society and Campus Players, and was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Walther, Cross Attend P. S. P. A.

Thorough Study Is Made of Graduate Manager System

Jack Walther, president of A. S. U. N., and Carol Cross, former president, attended the Pacific Student Presidents association annual meeting at the University of Washington, Seattle, Wash., on May 21 to 25.

The purpose of the yearly convention is to discuss student body affairs. Walther and Cross concentrated their efforts in studying the efficiency of the graduate manager system. The meeting consisted of regular routine work interspersed with many enjoyable social functions. One feature of the meeting was an overnight stay at Paradise Inn, Mount Rainier National Park, with skiing and winter sports as the diversion.

The next P. S. P. A. convention will be held in May, 1931, in Arizona.

Phi Kappa Phi Elects Officers For Semester

The officers for this semester elected for Phi Kappa Phi, National honorary scholastic fraternity, at a meeting held May 1, 1930, were: President, Professor J. A. Carpenter; vice president, Miss Sarah Lewis; secretary, Miss Martha Huber, and historian, Miss Katherine Riegelhuth.

Increase Shown In Registration Over Last Year

772 Cards Completed With 85 Still Out at End of Fourth Day

Showing an increase in registration of 44 over the fall semester of last year, the completed enrollment last night reached 772, with 857 cards taken out. Of the completed number there are 454 men and 322 women.

At the end of last term 461 pre-registration cards had been filled out. It is not yet definitely decided whether the plan will be continued, although it was not as successful as was expected.

In respect to classes the Freshman class shows the greatest increase over the number enrolled at the end of the fourth day last year, there being 16 more who have completed registration now. The Sophomore and Junior classes are increased by 13 and the Senior class remains the same with 75 enrolled.

The tabulated results for classes are:

University Awards Announced During Summer Vacation

Some Given at Graduation On May 12; 136 Get Degrees

Awards and scholarships have been announced at intervals throughout the summer, beginning with the graduation exercises on May 12, at which time 136 seniors were given diplomas.

To Miss Verdie Fant of Lovelock went the highest scholastic honors of the graduating class, together with the gold medal which is presented each year to the member of the senior class having the highest grade throughout the entire four-year course. Miss Fant took 133 hours of work during her course, and attained an average grade of 1.19. During her senior year she received a grade of "A" in thirty-one hours of work, and also won the service award of $25.00.

Six members of the graduating class made average grades of 1.5 or better for their four-year course, and nine others made a 1.5 average during their last year. Besides the 136 bachelor degrees, there were granted seven advanced degrees, four military commissions, and eighteen two-year normal diplomas.

With Dr. Edgar E. Robinson of Stanford speaking on "Thoughtful America," the other events of the commencement day services were the usual opening procession, the invocation by Bishop Thomas Jenkins of the Episcopal church, musical numbers by Miss Leota Mastrett and the announcement of the various prize winners and honor roll members by Professor Jay A. Carpenter, chairman of the committee on scholarships and prizes.

Editor Outlines Policies, Changes In U. N. Sagebrush

By THE EDITOR

The most outstanding change which is being made in the general makeup of the Sagebrush this year is the addition of an extra column, bringing the number up to eight, which puts the paper into the class of standard newspapers.

The title cut and the use of "lower and upper case" letters as adopted last year will be retained. The editorial column and the humor column will be increased to two column width.

The traditional humor column will be present and features will enliven the paper. Editorial cartoons will be continued and sports page cartoons will be attempted as an innovation. The "mythical co-ed friend" who makes "wise cracks" will appear next week.

Following the policy adopted last year there will be outside news printed in the Sagebrush with the exception of short cuts from exchanges. The paper will be made primarily an organ for the presenting of campus news. News facts will be found in the news columns of the paper while the editorial column will attempt to analyze frankly and constructively, the happenings on the campus.

As far as possible the Sagebrush will be made as interesting to alumni, downtown people, and disinterested parties as to the students themselves. Stories will be written in such a manner as to clearly identify the persons whose names appear in the news columns. In this way the news facts will hold a greater interest to readers other than campus members.

The Sagebrush this year will be a mirror of campus life, will foster Nevada spirit, uphold its sacred traditions, and present its news in

Brush Editorial Staff Selections Next Tuesday

All students who are interested in trying out for the editorial staff of the Sagebrush are invited to be present at a meeting to be held in the Sagebrush offices next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A. S. U. N. WELCOME

On this occasion I would like to welcome all the students, both old and new, to our campus.

To our new students we extend the privileges and fellowship which will soon make you feel as the older students do toward our beloved campus.

We believe that here we have an organization that exemplifies the highest type of co-operation and good spirit possible and I urge that the new students get this spirit and carry it through their four years of college. The best way to do this is to buy your dink, obey the Freshman rules and school traditions, attend all rallies and campus functions and last but not least, get into an activity and keep busy. To one and all, you are welcome to our University.

Mackay Will Come For Dedication of His New Donation

Will Be His First Visit to Nevada Campus in Twenty Years

To Attend Ceremony Science Building Is Now Being Occupied By Classes

Clarence W. Mackay will be in Reno to be present at the dedication ceremonies of the new Mackay Science Building, October 24, it was announced during the summer by president Walter E. Clark. Mackay will remain for at least two or three days. This will be Mackay's first visit since 1909.

The new hall, situated on the eastern side of the quad, directly opposite old Stewart Hall, will be dedicated during the annual Homecoming celebration, which is scheduled this year for October 24 and 25.

Housing of physics, chemistry and mathematics departments, this new and most elaborate of Mackay's gifts to the University opened this week for class work. It has been visited all week by new students and by those who saw it last spring during the construction.

Five rooms on the ground floor, at the south end of the building, will be devoted to mathematics classes, while the rest of the southern half is outfitted with laboratories, storerooms and lecture rooms for physics classes. Correspondingly ample quarters are provided for students of chemistry in the northern half of the building.

Of red brick with a wide columned portico facing toward the west, the new hall conforms in architecture with the Education and Agricultural buildings and the Clark Memorial building. Its southern exposure, looking out over the city, is decorated with another row of tall columns. It is situated on the eastern side of the quadrangle, directly opposite old Stewart Hall.

First Meeting of A. S. U. N. Called This Morning by President Jack Walther in Education Auditorium

A. S. U. N. PRESIDENT

Jack Walther, who will control the helm of the student body for two semesters.

Moment of Silence Held for Students Who Died in June

Committees Named Special Election Announced To Fill Vacancy in Finance Control

To announce committees and fill vacancies, President Jack Walther called the first A. S. U. N. meeting of the year, at 11:25 this morning. A record filled auditorium responded to yells, led by Byron O'Hara, University yell leader.

Nominations were announced to be open till Wednesday for a new men's representative to finance control committee, which position was left vacant by Doug Calloway who has not returned. The election for this position will take place by secret in the A. S. U. N. meeting to be held next Friday morning.

The new Men's Upperclass committee was appointed as follows: Jim Foran, Vernon Hirst, Edge Fransworth, Phil Dayer, Clayton Byers, Al Randolph, Lee Sidwell, Fred Morrison and George Ladd. It will supervise the enforcing of traditions on the campus for the 1930-31 term.

Bill Woodburn will be chairman of Homecoming Day, which will be held on the 24 and 25 of October, with Irvin Ayers, vice chairman; Bill Ligon, president of the engineers; Bob Bankoffler, president of the Aggie Club; Margaret Purdy, president of the Home Ec Club; Beatrice Patterson and Bruce Thompson constituting the committee in charge.

Vacancies Filled.

Filling the vacancy on the Publications Board left by Jim Golden, it was announced that Howard Sheerin was appointed and Clara Tomlin was selected as A. S. U. N. historian to succeed Lenard Sledge.

A vote of thanks was passed to go in the secretary's minutes to Lenard Sledge for his excellent work last year as historian and to Frank Smith for the revision of the Frosh Bible.

After a moment of standing silence in memory of Peggy Johnston and Dan McKnight, prominent students who were killed in an automobile accident this summer, Phil De Longchamps, the new song leader, led the A. S. U. N. in the Nevada Hymn.

Sagers Report Sell-out in Caps

Wolf Tire Covers, Frosh Dinks, Bibles Sold at Later Date

Sagers, newly formed pep organization has been active this week selling the covers, new bleacher caps and freshman drinks.

The organization reports a sell-out on the new linen bleacher caps. An extra supply is expected before the first game. All of the standard sizes were sold before noon of the second day of registration. It is believed that the caps, due to their improved appearance over the old rooster hats, will be commoner at games in the rooting section than ever before.

According to official reports from A. S. U. N. headquarters, Freshmen will not be punished for not wearing a dink before next Wednesday. The purpose of this postponement is so that the first year men will all have a fair chance to get their new headgear in plenty of time.

The Sagers will be selling them Tuesday morning at the bulletin board, and at intervals for the next week. It will be announced in next week's Sagebrush where dinks may be purchased at later dates. A rush sale was reported on the blue caps yesterday, after the Sophomore president issued a warning that all freshmen were to wear them starting on that day.

The new University of Nevada tire covers are also being sold along with the dinks. The Sagers report that town people have purchased a fair number of them already, but that students are not buying them as fast as was expected. The small profit that will be realized on these three articles is to go toward the Sager's Rally Wagon. It is hoped that this vehicle will become an institution on the campus for years to come. As yet there is not enough money to buy the equipment and although some has already been acquired, it is feared that the wagon will not be ready for use for the next A. S. U. N. meeting, or even for the Pajamerino, first rally of the year, unless sales increase on the covers, according to George Adamson, president of the Sagers.

Dr. F. C. Murgotten Returns to Campus Takes Year Leave at Utah Acting as Head of Classics

After spending the past year on leave at the University of Utah, Professor F. C. Murgotten has returned to take up his position in the language department. While in Utah Dr. Murgotten was professor of Latin, Greek and Ancient History and was acting head of the department. This year he is teaching French, Spanish and German.

Dr. Murgotten has been a professor in the University for eight years. He received his A. B. in Classical Philosophy at Stanford University in 1901 and his A. M. with a major in Greek at Stanford in 1908. In 1924 he received his Ph. D. degree with a thesis in Latin from the University of California.

Date Committee To Fix Calendar On Next Tuesday

Margaret E. Mack, Dean of Women and chairman of the Social Affairs Committee announces that there will be a meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Agricultural Auditorium of representatives of all social organizations on the campus to arrange the social calendar for the semester.

It is urged that all groups have members there to draw for dates on the social calendar in order that there will be no disappointments later on. This will be the only meeting of the date committee this semester and any organization failing to send representatives will have difficulty in placing suitable dates later on.

Orientation Class Again Scheduled For New Students

Campus Leaders Speak to Freshmen on Various Activities

After a successful first year in 1929 and '30, the Orientation class for Freshmen has again been scheduled and convened for the first time Thursday morning for the purpose of acquainting the incoming Freshmen with the organizations, institutions, and courses offered in the University of Nevada, and to help him become adapted to his new environment and college life.

The class is conducted by Dean Adams, who, in a brief introductory speech, gave the purpose and aim of Orientation, namely, to talk things over with a common interest for a united Freshman class, including engineers, agriculture, and arts and science students. "The connotation of Orientation," he said, "can be interpreted to be both foreign and finding latitude and longitude—in other words, helping new students adapt themselves to their new surroundings." To acquaint the Freshman with the University, Dean Adams presented four leaders of campus organizations, the speakers of the day: Jack Walters, president of A. S. U. N., Jean Hughes, vice president of A. S. U. N., Harvey Dondoro, editor of the Sagebrush, and Bernard Hartung, graduate manager for the University of Nevada.

Jack Walters, in his opening speech welcomed the new Freshman class and then explained the rules and traditions of the University. He spoke of the Fresh Bible, the painting of the black "N" by all campus functions, the dink, queening (permissible everywhere but in the library), and prohibition of cords and mustaches. "We are not holding a big stick over you," he said, "you are now part of our student body, and I want you to feel that you are into things."

Jean Hughes Speaks.
Jean Hughes, after congratulating and welcoming the class, spoke of the $100 each. These scholarships were established in 1921 in memory of Fitzgerald, who was for many years registrar general of the Nevada district. They are awarded on the basis of scholarships and general worthiness, to a man and woman completing the freshman year's work, who must be of a Nevada family and receiving no other scholarship.

Harvey Dondoro, editor of the Sagebrush, and Bernard Hartung, graduate manager for the University of Nevada, in a short speech, spoke mainly of college spirit, and urged the class to get behind every meeting, rally and game. He prophesied that this season will be in fact, as well as in theory, "Nevada year."

Campus Players Rate National Recognition

'Theatre Arts' Magazine Prints Snaps From 'Anna Christie'

The University of Nevada Campus Players have been nationally recognized in the July issue of the Theatre Arts magazine, which is devoted to the non-professional theatres of the United States. It publishes a scene from the local presentation of Eugene O'Neill's "Anna Christie."

In the same issue is a photograph of Marion Cheney, former student of the University, in the role of "The Wife of Jonah," as given by the University of Washington, where she has been a student for the past two years.

primarily to the women, telling them of the various activities and organizations that are open to them. She spoke of A. W. S., the woman's organization of the University, with which most Freshmen women have had contact through the "big sister" plan for registration; W. A. A., the athletic organization for women; and Y. W. C. A., which is open to all women; in the honorary groups Cap and Scroll, Phi Kappa Phi, and D. A. E. were explained. She urged that all students take an active interest in all or one of the following activities: Campus Players, the dramatic organization of the campus; Clonia, the debating organization; and the three publications, Sagebrush, Artemesia and the Desert Wolf.

Harvey Dondoro in his talk to the class gave a further invitation to and a detailed description of the three publications. The Sagebrush, weekly publication, was founded, he said, in 1893 as a very small paper, and now has grown to a regular six page paper, and on eventful weeks has as many as fourteen pages.

The Artemesia, Dondoro stated, has shown a similar progress, appearing first in 1900 as a small account, and at the present time being among the best year books of the United States. "An attempt was made last year," he said, "to do away with the Desert Wolf, our humor magazine founded in 1923, but the student body proved by vote that it should stay, and we hope to maintain it in the future." Dondoro invited the Freshman class to take part in all publications and he said that cartoonists were especially welcome.

Bernard Hartung, in a short speech, spoke mainly of college spirit, and urged the class to get behind every meeting, rally and game. He prophesied that this season will be in fact, as well as in theory, "Nevada year."

Co-ed P. E. Director Returns to Duties

Miss Elsa Sameth Attends Columbia University During Leave

Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the physical education department of the University of Nevada, has resumed her position, after a year's work at Columbia where she has been taking courses to apply on her Ph. D. degree. Miss Sameth had as a companion during her year's study, Miss Dorothy Crandall, a former student and faculty member of the University. Miss Crandall is working for her master's degree in music and studied under Professor Richardson who is the father of Mrs. Clyde Souter.

According to Miss Sameth there are no outstanding theories in women's physical education except that more stress is being laid on individual sports, such as tennis, golf and swimming, so that the college woman will have some outdoor sport that she will be able to use after graduation.

Throughout eastern colleges a vogue in colored gym suits is prevalent. Miss Sameth liked the idea and is introducing it to the Nevada campus. The women will have a choice of suits in light and dark shades of rose, lavender and green. One of the most interesting experiences which Miss Sameth had was at a women's industrial home in Pennsylvania where "Iolanthe," the Gilbert and Sullivan opera was presented. Miss Sameth composed all the dances for the piece and became interested in the psychological effect of music and rhythm among the women of the home. She visited the federal women's prison in New York and several others.

WOMAN'S EDITOR

Lois Carman, three-year staff member who represents women on Sagebrush.

Carman Chosen Women's Editor For Sagebrush

Appointment Comes After Three Industrious Years On Staff

Lois Carman has been chosen as women's editor of the Sagebrush for the school year 1930-31. Her appointment comes as the culmination of three years of industrious work on the news staff of the paper. In her first year at the University she served as reporter, and in her second year she was a member of the night staff of the paper.

Last year she served in the capacity of Junior editor on the Sagebrush, which is the highest non-departmental position which is given.

The position of women's editor has been a much-sought one by campus women journalists since the founding of the Brush, and is one of the highest honors which a woman can earn during her residence at the University.

Miss Carman succeeds Marjorie Biewert, who served in the capacity of women's editor last year. The Women's Editor is supposed to serve as one of the chief assistants to the editor and supervise the handling of news and directs the policies of the women's page.

Former Students Marry Here
The wedding of Myra Remington and John Higginbotham took place in Elko during the early part of the summer. Mrs. Higginbotham was a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and the groom was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Mr. and Mrs. Higginbotham will make their home in Taft, Cal.

Students Wed In Reno
Miss Phylis Steinheimer and Mr. Frank Horton, former students at the University of Nevada, were married in Reno last month. Mrs. Horton was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, while Mr. Horton was affiliated with Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity. They plan to reside in Oakland.

P. E. Instructor Is Married
Miss Mae Bernasconi, head of the women's physical education department at the University, and Harry Simas were married in Reno during the summer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Simas attended Reno High School and the University of Nevada. Mrs. Simas was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Mr. Simas with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Mrs. Simas plans to continue her work at the University this semester.

The senior class sponsored the first campus dance of the semester Tuesday evening at Tony's Ballroom. Music was furnished by Dick Hillman's Round the World orchestra. Several hundred students attended this gala affair.

Co-ed Bests Novelist in Two Year Discovery Trip Over Musty Old World

Prying into all the innermost crannies of the hidden countries of the Old World, invading the quietude of places so musty with time that novelists have not yet uncovered them, contrasting this with the bizarre colors of Europe's busiest market places, furnished an interesting two-year tour for Miss Imogene Warder, Nevada graduate, and a girl companion, according to an interesting lecture which Miss Warder delivered before the Reno Rotary Club May 19.

The girls were unhampered by chaparral and time schedules, and drifted over the countryside at their own convenience. Miss Warder told of an 800-mile trip along the creeks and rivers of Lapland, of visiting Irish lords in ivy-covered castles, of a dash up the Alps to visit the crude monasteries, and the St. Bernard dogs, and incidentally seeing a good bit of Europe from this vantage point.

They found that American girls are very well treated in Europe, and that the French language which they picked up stood them little stead in any other country. They gave it up altogether, and used sign language from that time on.

Miss Warder is at present "seeing America last," while speaking to Rotary clubs throughout the country. She plans to return to the University of Nevada next year.

WELCOME!

Welcome! Welcome! The time-worn word is ever new in college life. Each opening semester brings its influx of new students—students who are strange, in a new place, and who want to feel that they can soon become a part of the mass populating the campus. A word of welcome is given through the editorial columns of the Brush every year.

Many heed it; others do not. Nevertheless, each new member on the campus is given a hearty welcome. Though it may not be audibly expressed to each new student he is made to feel that he is a part of the campus; that he is to become an upholder of its traditions and is to cheer its victories and accept its defeats in the true Nevada spirit.

The opportunities for the newcomer to become a part of various campus activities are numerous. Athletics can be indulged in by some. Others can take part in dramatics, publications, debating, glee clubs, and numerous other organizations provide openings for the ambitious and interested student.

By entering these activities the new student will soon find himself one of the many others who are striving for similar goals, and who are working for the betterment of the person.

OUR LOSS

Death marched into our ranks this summer and took from us two of the most popular and prominent students on the campus. We have lost two true friends; in the one an aspiring and beloved undergraduate; in the other a promising and worthy alumnus. The loss of these two can be balanced only by the sacredness of their memory. Nothing strikes one so forcibly as the death of youth. Nothing leaves one so stunned as the loss of those one loves and respects.

We will miss them both, Dan and Peggy. Their memories will linger with us long, and they will forever be remembered. We have lost on the one hand, but on the other we are richer for having had the opportunity to work and to know them in the short while before their untimely death.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS

It is a well known trait of human nature that a man's or a woman's attitude towards another person, a group of people, or an institution, is dictated to an astounding degree by the first impressions aroused by that person, group or institution.

We must remember, of course, that even under identical circumstances, the impressions formed by several different persons will not coincide. However, when we consider the individual impressions of the members of a large group, we shall find invariably that the majority of impressions will very nearly tally.

It immediately becomes apparent that if we wish to have a new group assume a friendly, earnest, constructive attitude towards an institution such as the University of Nevada, and towards those groups which comprise its student body, it is our duty as individuals to greet these newcomers, the Freshmen, with friendship, earnest assistance, and the example of constructive loyalty to the University.

It is these three principles—Friendship, Earnest Assistance and Constructive Example—which will continue, as they have in the past, to perpetuate the Nevada Spirit. Adhere to them daily!

—Wils—

"SAGER SPIRIT"

The Sagers, most recently formed underclass service organization, was deemed worthy last semester of recognition by the executive committee as a campus group. Their ambitious efforts during the last weeks of school last year, earned for them through zealous undertakings, the title of a recognized campus association.

Starting early this semester they have taken charge ably and with great success of the sale of new linen hats and tire covers. They have proved already that their granted title last year has not been given amiss.

The proper Nevada service spirit is displayed by members of the Sagers when they ask that their recognition be granted on the merits of the work they do, and that they be allowed to serve in this capacity with no honor whatsoever. A panel in the Artemesia has not been requested, and members pledge themselves to belong to the organization without a pin or other symbol of identification.

Too many organizations are joined by Nevada people because of the possibilities of gaining one more picture in the Artemesia and the chance of carrying just one more little piece of brass. If all organizations were to hold open the same requirements for admission, perhaps campus organizations would not be over populated.

MACKAY'S HOME-COMING

Nevada students will have the opportunity, during the Home-Coming celebration, of associating with Clarence H. Mackay, Nevada's greatest benefactor. They will see in the flesh this man who for the past twenty years has showered gifts on an otherwise helpless institution.

When Mackay steps off the train for the occasion, will he sense the same spirit in which he moved some twenty years ago, or will he find that spirit buried under the rush of a new era?

Each student should make it his duty to show Mr. Mackay that the old Wolf spirit still exists, and co-operate in every way possible to make his home-coming the greatest

MUD BALLS

Thetas and Tri-Deltas side by side without a single barrier. Looks like a break for the Gamma Phi gang. Ringside seats for the battle of the century. Imagine both outfits giving a lawn party for rushees the same night. Pan-Hell should insist on Marquis of Queensberry rules.

With about half of the divorcee colony registered for a few subjects at the "U" and the reports that the women in the Fresh class outnumber the men, some of last year's high-hats should draw in their horns a little.

When a person can't play poker any better than loosing all the clothes they own with the exception of a pair of shorts they naturally deserve the name of "Shorts." Hence we would like to introduce Mr. Fred "Shorts" Wilson.

If the Sagers get much more active Blue Key will pledge them all and disband them.

Only the first day of school and already a ladder has been seen leading to a second story window of Artemesia Hall.

Now that the first official list of fraternity pledges has been announced the next important thing is the official list of cars the new pledges own.

The fact that Gastanaga's trunk is still locked and the one dress she has is showing signs of its continued use may help account for her absence at the dance Tuesday night.

Byer and Basta may not have new cars now but wait until the end of the year. Our business managers must be rewarded some way.

Lionel Jasper didn't have room for Mary Alice Loomis's suitcase in the back seat of his car when he called at her home in San Francisco to bring her back to Reno. Mary Alice couldn't go without her bag and as a result a search was instigated to see why a touring car couldn't be made to hold one small bag. In the back was found, 1 radio, 4 grass rugs, 1 overstuffed chair, 18 pairs socks, 1 feather mattress, 9 suits of clothes and 7 blankets.

Anyone thinking of taking out Mary Alice please copy list. Another reason why Hanibal lost out.

Wanted: Five secretaries. Apply A. S. U. N. News Bureau, or the Desert Wolf. One of these must be able to type.

No longer can the Theta house be called the Kat house since Artemesia is housing the S. A. O. Beta Delta and Pi Phi. Think how far ahead of Cal we are here at Reno in the idea of housing all the sororities in one building.

Bill Lion wanted Bernice Blair to tell him if the Passion Play was a necking party given in front of a fireplace.

Speaking of Blair—she says the beer in Germany is terrible and the champagne is no better than what is to be had in Reno. That it was nothing new to have either one. Maybe a slight case of braggadocia.

Ellen Prince Hawkins at a public dance rubbing elbows with common students! What is this younger generation coming to!

Only one half of the Graf family has been seen on the hill so far. Where, oh where is darling little Azama?

Beauty operators have found at least one customer amongst the faculty during the summer vacation. Several more should profit by this example.

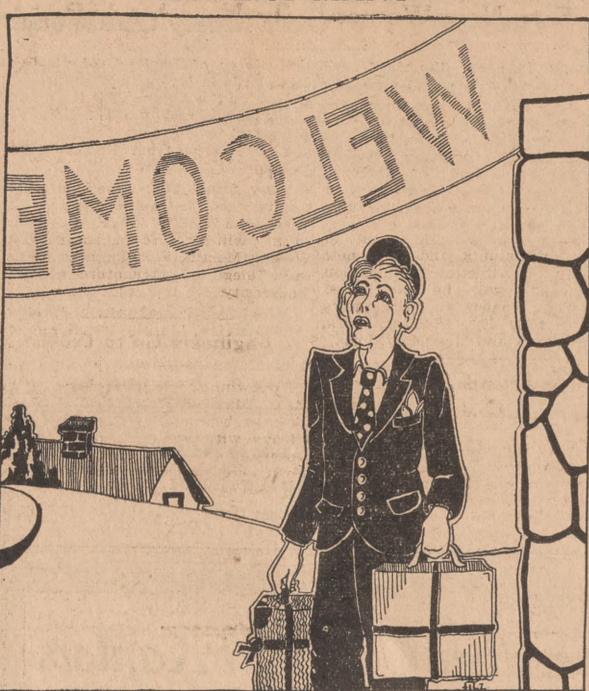

Not being content with keeping a steady hand on Margery Anderson as a high school girl, Adamson has promoted her to the staff of the News Bureau. No doubt in the capacity of confidential secretary.

The beginning of the Where and Why list: Helen Craner, Betty Von Tobel, Cristine Crisp and Elsie Kibbee.

Any time you have nothing else to be sorry for be sorry Duer isn't back. Or else.

Both Beta Delta and Pi Phi members have been seen showing pros-

"Collitch at Last"

A Freshman's Experiences As Told To a Friend.

"Whoop! That's over! I'm now a full-fledged Freshman at the good old U. of N. with four (4) years of 'Collitch' ahead of me. But say, brother, let me tell you one thing. If I'd known what was in store for me, hidden under that mild looking word 'Registration,' I think I'd have remained just John Doe, private citizen! Why, compared to registration, the Spanish Inquisition would look like afternoon tea at the Ladies Aid.

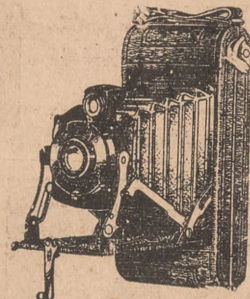

"Although I'm modest by nature, I'll admit I thought I was clever when I stole a march on the common run of Frosh, by going up to the U. about a week ahead of registration day, to learn just what to do when the big day came.

A likeable guy in overalls, (some kind of a gardener, I think) told me to high-tail cover to the Registrar's office in Morrill Hall, Well, Morrill Hall, I discovered, is a three-story building, which, if it was a man, could have voted better than twenty years ago.

"Well, pal, the Registrar, (that's Latin for Bookin'-Agent) the Registrar turns out to be an intellectual-looking female cleric, which same proceeds to hand me a chilly look, as few words as possible, and two booklets, a big one and a little one. After I stumbled my way out of her office, I beat it home, huzzin' the pair of pamphlets to my rough but honest bosom.

I couldn't make much out of the little book, except that it was a schedule of classes, and that I had to keep it all registration day and then bring it with me. (It said all that on the cover.)

The other one was called 'Catalogue of the University of Nevada.' It contained, in addition to two fat 'advertisin' sections, the complete how, when and where of Registration. Well, I read it over a couple of times, and it didn't sound so bad—just a little tiresome, but nothin'!

Despite Happy Tomlin's attempt to break into Hollywood her two rivals (Winnie Lightner and Sophie Tucker by Happy's own admission) seem to still be enjoying box office popularity. But it is hard to believe that our own Clara did her best. A lucky break for Nevada that someone will be on the campus to manage dramatics. Also by her own admission, "Of course," said Happy blushing prettily (leaving space for correction) even a big producer in Hollywood is liable to overlook a good thing."

While on the subject of Pi Phi's why not change the colors from wine red and silver blue to gin and Silver Phizz... or alcohol and orange dry.

Anyone with a car, regardless of make or age, can rate taking a Tri-Delta home. The reason being they want the Thetas to see a lot of cars stopping at their house.

There is a report that there is a girl in the Frosh class named Frances Smith but the report failed to state whether she had earned the title of "Tank" as yet.

Send the 'Brush' home. Wear your bleacher hat.

THE BEST OFFERING OF THE WEEK

In Gay Madrid.

Ramon Navarro, as the scion of a proud Madrid family, becomes involved with a music hall siren and is sent to study in a provincial town of Santiago to study. The picture comes up to his work in "Devil May Care." Again he works with Dorothy Jordan; Lottie Howell playing Goyita, the music hall siren. The high lights of the picture are the balcony and the dueling scenes. Eeryl Mercer, Claude King and William V. Mong are also in the cast. Navarros sings six new songs. The whole thing is light and amusing. There is a good drinking song. Majestic—Sunday, Monday Tuesday.

Let Us Be Gay, starring Norma Shearer, runs "In Gay Madrid," a close second. It is a sophisticated story of smart society people, filled with bright conversation as for instance, when the grass widow (Norma Shearer) remarks when her former husband discovers a new admirer in her bathroom, "It's just like a French farce." Marie Dressler, Rod La Rocque, Ray Hackett and Sally Eilers share honors with Norma Shearer in making it a laughable modern comedy of a woman who acquired "it." Shearer, again wears many beautiful gowns. Really worth seeing. Majestic—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"The Social Lion," a story concerning a fighter who might be good if he kept his mind on his job instead of social climbing and women, is the first starring vehicle of Jack Oakie, the musical comedy chorus man who made good in Hollywood.

To start tearin' your hair about, you know. So, buddy, I heaved a big sigh of satisfaction at my own intelligence and native wit, and set about the un-inspirin' task of waitin' for Registration Day." (To Be Continued)

Waterman's—The fountain pen with SEVEN degrees

Doctor of Letters—that would be an appropriate degree for Waterman's. But the degrees we have in mind are the 7 different degrees of pen points through which Waterman's fits exactly the writing needs of more than 97 out of every 100 handwritings.

Check us on this. Try all seven Waterman's pen points. You'll quickly find the one that suits your hand. Then examine the patented Waterman's spoon-feed. See how gravity and capillary attraction are balanced to supply the ink at exactly the proper rate. Then test for yourself Waterman's size-for-size greater ink capacity—your guarantee of not being stranded some day in the middle of an exam!

Waterman's finest man's pen, the Patrician, comes in five jewel colors, with choice of seven pen points. It is smart in the up-to-date manner—and its style is the outgrowth of an inward mechanical perfection. Great ink capacity. Very large gold pen point. The pen for a man who wants the best—$10. A pencil to match is $5.

When you select your Waterman's ask to have it filled with Waterman's ink—that's the ne plus ultra of writing satisfaction. Waterman's new Blue Ink in the blue carton; Blue Black in the yellow carton. Use the first for note taking and general correspondence, the second where permanency is needed.

Every Waterman's is guaranteed forever against defects.

The laughs come in such rapid succession that there is no time to hear the echoes. The story was written by Octavus Roy Cohen. Lovely Mary Brian plays the engine lead. Others in the cast are Skeets Gallagher, Olive Borden, Cyril Ring and James Gibson. Don't miss this "screemie." The big polo game was played with the Argentine Polo Team. Playing at the Granada this week-end.

Sunday and Monday "Slightly Scarlet," featuring Evelyn Brent and Clive Brooks, plays at the Wigwam. Both Miss Brent and Clive Brooks are finished artists. The story is gripping, being concerned with a pair of very slick jewel thieves who find each other out for what they are quite by accident. If you want excitement see this one.

"Wedding Rings," starring H. B. Warner and Lois Wilson, is a story of a love battle between two sisters, Olive Borden playing the other sister. The story is very usual but the good acting of Warner and Lois Wilson make it a pleasant if not a profitable afternoon's entertainment. Roxie, Saturday to Wednesday.

Vilma Banky makes her bow to the talking picture fans in "A Lady To Love," which is coming to the Wigwam on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week. The story was written by Sydney Howard, Pulitzer Prize winner. It is adapted from the stage play, "They Knew What They Wanted" and made censorship-proof. Vilma Banky is still beautiful but that is about all that can be said for the picture.

Another African melodrama, "Vengeance," finishes out the week at the Wigwam. It is like an old time thriller. Jack Holt plays the he-man, Dorothy Reiver the sweet wife, and Phillip Strange, the disagreeable husband. A double bill is scheduled at the Roxie Theatre for the last half of next week. "Climax" starring Kathryn Crawford and Jean Herlihy, and "Dames Ahoy" starring Glenn Tryon, Gertrude Astor and others. Both are Universal Pictures, the former a romantic drama of a "discovered" voice and the latter a slapstick comedy that is so light that you wonder where the feature picture will begin. If you want laughs, don't miss "Dames Ah."

STAR DUST.
Glenn Tryon, star of "Dames Ahoy," began his screen career as a villain.
Norma Shearer, in private life Mrs. Irving Thalberg, gave birth to an eight-pound boy last Monday. "Let Us Be Gay" was her last picture.

Vilma Banky is the wife of Rod La Rocque, and has been for three years.
Clive Brook, an Englishman, has introduced tea drinking and grass tennis courts to Hollywood.
A few weeks ago Jack Oakie met the star of a Broadway show in which he had worked as a chorus boy and offered to help her meet "the right people" in talkie town. Once she had high-hatted him.

Gamma Phi Beta Plans Conference September 5, 6, 7

Local Chapter Will Be Host to Many Delegates From Coast Schools

Gamma Phi Beta will be hostess to women from California, Arizona and Utah at the third biennial province conference of the sorority to be held September 5, 6, and 7.

Chapters from the University of California, Stanford University, University of Nevada, University of Arizona and the University of California at Los Angeles will send representatives. Representatives from Alumnae chapters of Berkeley, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Reno, and the Alumnae associations at San Diego, Phoenix, Tucson and Salt Lake City will also be welcomed. The grand council will be represented by Alice Camerer, the international treasurer. The province director, Margaret Nachtrieb, and the province secretary, Wanda Westerfield Smith, will also attend the conference.

Besides the discussion of international and province affairs the conference will include a trip to Lake Tahoe and Virginia City, a tea at the home of Mrs. S. K. Morrison; a dinner at the Century Club, supper at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Farrar and a picnic lunch at Bowers Mansion.

Delegates to the conference will be housed at the local chapter house during their stay in Reno.

Y. W. C. A. Entertains Freshman Women

The campus Y. W. C. A. entertained the women of the campus at an informal tea from 4 to 6 Tuesday afternoon. The purpose of the tea was to give the new women opportunity to get acquainted with each other and meet the various women leaders on the campus. Marjorie Blewett had charge of the affair. She was assisted by Dorothy Kallenback, Dorothy Ernst, Elizabeth Johnston and other members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Following the tea a pilgrimage of the campus was made to acquaint the new women students with the various buildings and campus traditions. Clara Tomlin, Virginia Gardside, Faralle Smithson, Marjorie Blewett and Marion Nichols aided in conducting the tour.

Episcopal Chapel Open to Students

St. Stephens Chapel (Episcopal) at the corner of University and Eighth streets has been opened for the use of University of Nevada students, according to the Rev. Howard Harper, who will represent the National Council here. The chapel will be under the supervision of the National Council of the Episcopal church, which has its headquarters in New York City.

The opening of St. Stephens Chapel marks the beginning in Nevada of a work which is already being carried on with great success in many colleges and universities, according to the Rev. Harper.

Father Harper is a graduate of Kenyon college and Baxley Divinity school, both in Ohio, and holds degrees from both institutions. He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity. He comes here directly from the divinity school, where he was ordained on Trinity Sunday of this year.

Panhell Sets Rushing Rules

Previous Regulations Hold To Allow Two Parties For Each Group

Due to the small number of women eligible to be rushed this fall, the Panhellenic council at a meeting held at the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house Tuesday night decided to follow the plan adopted last fall. Each house is allowed two parties, one informal, in the afternoon and one formal, in the evening.

The first party was held yesterday afternoon. The dates for the informal parties are: Delta Delta Delta, August 28; Gamma Phi Beta, August 29; Pi Beta Phi, August 30; Kappa Alpha Theta, September 1; Beta Delta, September 2; Sigma Omega, September 3. Formal parties will be held by the sororities on the following evenings: Delta Delta Delta, August 29; Sigma Alpha Omega, August 30; Beta Delta, September 1; Gamma Phi Beta, September 2; Kappa Alpha Theta, September 3.

Announcements

George Adamson, director of the News Bureau, announces that a meeting of all those interested in working on the staff are requested to meet with him in the News Bureau office on the top of Stewart Hall at 2 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon.

The mysterious disappearance of a small table in the Sagebrush office has caused untold inconvenience to the business manager. Its early return will be greatly appreciated.

Students who are interested in doing art work of any kind for the Sagebrush are invited to attend the tryouts meeting which is to be held on the third floor of Stewart Hall, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Anyone interested in dramatics should appear in the Education Auditorium between 2 and 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for tryouts.

Wilson Lands Position Managing Humboldt Star

Tom Wilson, graduate of the University with the class of 1930, has secured a position as advertising manager with the Humboldt Star at Winnemucca.

Wilson received much experience in the line of newspaper work while a student of the University. He served as editor of the Desert Wolf, humor publication, for one year, and was director of the News Bureau last year. He was a member of the Publications Board for two years.

Library Notice

Beginning Tuesday, September 2, the regular library hours will go into effect. Monday to Thursday, inclusive, the library will be open from 7:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. Friday it will be open from 7:30 to 6 p. m., and Saturday from 7:30 to noon.

Until later in the fall the building will not be open at all on Sundays. The library will be closed on Labor Day.

Ex-Professor Visits Campus in Summer

Dr. Romanzo Adams, for many years head of the department of economics and sociology at the University, was a visitor on the campus during the summer while on his way back to Honolulu, where he is head of the department of sociology in the University of Hawaii.

Dr. Adams has been in Honolulu for almost eleven years. His name still appears on the old schedule of classes which hangs on the wall in the hallway of Morrill Hall.

Haseman Named Manager Of Nevada Radio Contest

Dean Charles Haseman, of the University, will serve in the capacity of state manager of the fourth national radio audition contest in the state of Nevada this year. The contest is conducted by the Atwater Kent foundation.

The winners of the local district contest last year were Doris Thompson and George Gottschalk.

Engraver Visits Campus

C. E. Warburton, representative of the California Art and Engraving Company of Berkeley, California, was on the campus the early part of the week making arrangements with the three publications for art work to be done this semester.

Regents Meet Tomorrow

The Board of Regents of the University of Nevada will meet in the first regular session of the school year tomorrow. New appointments to the faculty will be passed upon and regular business taken up at the meeting.

Y. W. C. A. Runs Candy and Information Booth

On Monday and Tuesday the Y. W. C. A. continued its usual practice of running an information table in the corridor of the Education Building. This year candy was sold at the table. Cecelia Hawkins had charge of the information table.

Candy booth was started on Monday, and according to Helen Olmsted, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. candy booth committee, there is a large selection of fresh bars to appease the "between meal" appetite. The Y. W. C. A. candy booth is situated in the post office.

W. A. A. Plans to Fete New Women

This afternoon the Women's Athletic Association will entertain all the Freshmen women at a picnic at Waa-Neva lodge at Galema Creek. At 4 o'clock cars are scheduled to leave Manzanita for Reno Hot Springs where a swim will be enjoyed. After the plunge the caravan will continue to the lodge where refreshments will be served.

The evening will be spent in games and stunts and the new "Women's Athletic Association Handbooks" will be distributed among the women. Honored guests will be Miss Elsa Sameth, Mrs. Walter Clark and Mrs. Mae Simas.

Phi Sig Attends Eastern Convave

Norman Coughlin is at the present time in Amherst, Mass., where he is representing the University of Nevada at the national convention of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. He was accompanied by Ernest Panelli, who is taking part in the national rifle matches in Toledo, Ohio.

Send the 'Brush home.

Grads Transferred To New Aggie Posts

W. H. Stodieck, '29, White Pine county agricultural extension agent, was transferred this summer to succeed Thomas W. Raycraft, also '29, who has resigned from the Nevada service to go to San Luis Obispo, Cal., where he is employed as an agricultural extension agent by the California service.

Stodieck's place in White Pine county will be filled temporarily by Wesley Martin, a junior student in the college of agriculture at the University.

Engineers Go to Chile

Following their graduation last year, Maxwell Wright and Norman Ericson, both of Reno, accepted positions with the Anaconda Copper Company in Chile, South America. Both were engaged as engineers under three-year contracts.

Duane Mack, graduate with last year's senior class, will enter Stanford University with the opening of the fall term in October. He will take a course in law.

Football Practice Starts on Mackay Field With 60 Men

Philbrook Whips Wolf Pack Varsity Into Shape For First Game Good Year Predicted Losses by Graduation Filled By Incoming New Material

With the first game of the season a short month away the coaching staff of the University of Nevada is anxiously awaiting the time when they may take the field and whip into shape some of the sixty or seventy men who have reported for practice to take places on the Wolf Pack Varsity and uphold the standard of the Wolves during the coming season.

Although it is yet early to make any prediction as to Nevada's chances on the gridiron this fall, present indications point to one of the most successful seasons in several years. When one considers the Wolves' gridiron record for recent years this may not be saying much, but if, under Coach George Philbrook's tutelage, the Pack improves as much this year as the 1929 Varsity did over previous years, we may be assured of a successful record.

Over sixty men are daily arraying themselves in jerseys and moleskins and working out on Mackay field under Captain Walt Linehan and other veteran members of the Pack. On September 15 Philbrook and his assistants may take the field and then the real work of molding a machine out of the husky raw material which presents itself will begin.

Loss By Graduation.

Nevada's losses by graduation, although heavy, should not prove an unsurmountable obstacle. Veterans who have already returned are: Capt. Walt Linehan, guard; Jack Walther, center; John Griffin, tackle; Art Levy, end; Hank Rampold, guard; Gale Parsons, fullback; Goldie Holmes, halfback; Neil Scott, guard; Earl Handley, half; Bull Mahoravich, half; Bob Madraga, guard; and Clem Sultenfuss, halfback.

Much promising material is also coming up from last year's frosh team, where the yearlings learned Philbrook's system under Speed Weaver. Among the best of these are Jack Hill, Bill Beemer, Click Bowles and Gene Harper.

Those in charge are well pleased with the new material which has turned out from the ranks of the freshman class. Many of these boys enter the University with fine high school and prep school reputations, and, if appearances are any criterion, many of these prospects will be found on the regular lineup as the season progresses. Among the most promising of these are: Spud Harris, Tony Tesone, Al Lefebvre, George Drury, and Bill Beasley, all of whom are backfield men.

Wintergarden Club Has Nevada Boxers

The Wintergarden Amateur Athletic club, which was organized in Reno during the summer, had for some of its members, boxers from the University of Nevada team from last year. The club experienced a winning streak in boxing matches and defeated a team from the Olympic club at San Francisco during June.

The Wintergarden club took every match but one from the visitors. The results were as follows:

Joe Bernal, Olympic club, defeated Spud Harris, new addition to the Nevada boxing squad; Art Levy defeated Bunny Higgins from the club; Tony Poloni won from Al Sandoval, Olympic club; Joe Horton won from Tim Timmons of the club; and Clifford Devine, bantamweight of Nevada, won by a technical knockout over Stan Moorhead of the Olympic club.

Gadda Named Coach For New Junior High School

George Gadda, graduate with the class of 1923, and athletic coach at the Virginia City High School last year, has been named athletic director and instructor at the new E. D. Billingshurst Junior High School in Reno this year. He has been engaged during the summer as physical director of the Reno Y. M. C. A.

Gadda was a prominent football player while he was attending the University and served in the capacity of freshman coach for one year.

Robison Shatters 'U' Century Record

At the Fresno Relays last spring a new record was made to be entered among the track and field records of the University when Captain Ken Robison scampered over the cinders to win a trial heat of the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds. This record supplants the mark of Jack Kellogg, '23, of 9.8 seconds. Robison's record was made too late to be included in the 1930-31 edition of the Frosh handbook.

Vargas Wins Ely Tennis Tournament

George Vargas, senior student, was recently adjudged winner of a tennis tournament which had been in progress for some time at Ely, Nevada. He defeated Rod Walker with a score standing at 7-5, 7-5, 6-3. He was awarded a silver trophy for his victory.

Rabbit Bradshaw To Coach Frosh At Stanford U

James "Rabbit" Bradshaw, former Nevada football star, has just received the appointment as freshman football coach at Stanford. According to an announcement made several days ago by Al Masters, Stanford graduate manager, Bradshaw served as assistant freshman coach last year at Stanford. Bradshaw, the most sensational halfback ever turned out at Nevada, has had a varied career at coaching, since his graduation he has acted in coaching capacities at an eastern college, an eastern high school, Santa Cruz high school and finally at Stanford. He played two years of professional football and outplayed Red Grange when their two teams played in San Francisco.

U. S. C. Coach Says College Boxing Is Becoming Popular

In accordance with many opinions held by people on the University campus in regard to the increasing popularity of boxing as an amateur sport since its introduction, Sam Barry, basketball and baseball coach of the University of Southern California, predicted in a radio interview given in May that intercollegiate boxing would rank second only to football from a standpoint of public interest, in the immediate future.

"Boxing," he stated, "has taken its rightful place in intercollegiate athletics and provides a new field of athletic development that is truly wonderful." He does not recommend, however, that amateur boxers turn professional.

Boxing has become a popular sport at the University of Nevada since its introduction last spring and seems to have an increasing popularity at other coast schools which have fostered the sport.

Frosh Training May Be Asked of Varsity Aspirants

A ruling which may seriously hamper Nevada's football teams of the future, will probably be put into effect within two or three years, according to reports prevalent among University officials and campus leaders. The ruling is in effect whereby no student will be allowed to play on the varsity squad until he has completed one year of freshman training.

This regulation has been in practice in most of the large universities over the country for a number of years. While it undoubtedly would aid in discipline and training, the varsity would be necessarily robbed of many good players, due to the small number of students here.

Tom Wilson, '30, spent the week end visiting his family in Reno. He is employed at present by the Humboldt Star in Winnemucca.

Winnemucca Labor Day Card Calls For Four Bouts

Four members of the University of Nevada boxing squad will meet Humboldt county fighters at the Humboldt county fair, to be held in Winnemucca on Labor Day, according to an announcement made by Coach Dick Wallace early this month.

Although school has just started, Wallace hopes to have his men in fair shape. Two of the boxers are members of last year's squad; the other two will be new material this year.

The five bouts as lined up now are as follows:

Ben Jones, Winnemucca, vs. Cliff Devine, University bantamweight; Al Gomez, Winnemucca, vs. Jimmy Rae, University lightweight; Buzz Abel, Winnemucca, vs. Nick Ures, University middleweight; Bill McDermitt vs. Joe Horton, University lightweight, and Bill Scholl, Winnemucca, vs. Albert Fontana, Lovelock, featherweight.

15 Men Awarded Letters For Track

At the close of the season last spring, 15 men were granted track letters and sweaters by the Block N society. These are as follows: Captain Ken Robison, Fred Lohse, Goon Gilmartin, Art Brewster, Roy Salisbury, Red Rossiter, Neil Scott, Fred Wilson, Howard Arthur, Wayne Spencer, Clem Sultenfuss, Stan Johnson, Swede Huntington, Byron O'Hara, and Doug Calloway, manager.

Football Banquet Is Being Planned

Plans have been under way for some time for the annual downtown business men's and football rally banquet which was inaugurated last year. The date for the banquet has been set for September 19, and it will be held at some banquet hall downtown.

Features similar to those of last year will be conined to make the rally a successful affair. The local Rotary club is offering its co-operation in staging the dinner.

The banquet is open to anyone who is interested, and will be attended by Reno business men, University members and the football squad.

Marchand Newman, former student, is at the present time enrolled at the University of California.

Guard of "Wonder Team" Re-Enrolls

Ted Overton formerly a member of the Nevada Wonder Team which held California to a scoreless tie in 1923, has enrolled at the University again.

Overton played guard on the famed team, but did not stay in school to graduate. Now he has returned from Venezuela, where he held a position with the Standard Oil Company, in order to complete his course in the Mackay School of Mines.

Maizie Ryan, who graduated from the University last May has been appointed secretary to Dean Maxwell Adams, head of the School of Arts and Science. She is replacing her sister, Mrs. Katherine Harris who resigned during the summer.

Strong Boxing Team Forecast For Next Year

Amateur Champions Join Wallace's Veterans to Balance Squad

With many new amateur boxers registered at the University this year, Nevada is assured of one of the strongest inter-collegiate boxing teams in the country for the next season.

Among the outstanding new students are Spud Harris, Seattle welter; Jimmy Ray, Nevada State welterweight champion; Nick Ures, Nevada State middleweight champion; Koichi Kozum, Nevada State featherweight champion; and many others. It is also definitely assured that Jimmy Oliva's brother, Bobby Olivas, will enter the University for the spring semester. Bobby is reputed to be one of the coast's outstanding featherweight performers and will greatly strengthen the Wolf squad.

According to Coach Berry, basketball and baseball coach of the University of Southern California, inter-collegiate amateur boxing is going to be one of the most popular sports of the future. In a recent radio address it was his statement that from a standpoint of interest, boxing would attract more fans than any of the other inter-collegiate sports with the exception of football.

Nevada's sensational showing last year placed them in the limelight in inter-collegiate athletics. Colleges on the Pacific Coast that have boxing teams with which Nevada can compete are: California, Stanford, Washington, U. C. L. A., Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State, Santa Clara and Davis. The teams from these colleges are stronger this year by reason of the fact of the interest taken in this sport throughout the coast during the last few years and the expected hard struggle for supremacy.

According to our last year's coach, Dick Wallace, Nevada should make a great showing this year and in all probability win the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Championship.

Radio Amateurs Form Association

Ether Enthusiasts Organize To Promote Interest in Modern Art

Of interest primarily to amateur radio enthusiasts, and to all who wish to pursue the new art of radio in any of its forms, is the Nevada Amateur Radio Association, which will hold its Fall meetings on the Campus, in the Engineering Building.

This new organization was formed during the closing days of the late spring semester and while the majority of its members are University students, membership is also open to townspeople who may be interested.

The purpose of the Association is to promote a greater interest in the art of Radio in general, and Amateur Radio Communications in particular, and to further the development of the widespread fields they cover.

A program which has been outlined for the fall season includes interesting talks on radio subjects by authorities, displays of modern short wave apparatus, and the construction of an experimental laboratory for club members, west of the city.

The next regular meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, September 2, and will be followed by a general social get-together. A hearty invitation is extended to any interested parties to attend.

Five Home Games To Be Played by Nevada Wolves

Nevada will play five home games and three outside ones this fall. The 1930 football schedule calls for the opening game of the season to be played here at Mackay Field with University of Utah on September 27. The following week the Wolf Pack will travel to Utah for the Brigham Young Game.

The next four games will be played here at home. The contests will be with Santa Clara, College of the Pacific, California Aggies (Homecoming Day), and St. Ignatius. Two trips will close the season: University of California at Berkeley, and Fresno State at Fresno. The last game, that with Fresno, will be played Thanksgiving Day.

Former Grid Coach Has Narrow Escape

Lieut. J. R. Glascock, former football coach at the University of Nevada, had a narrow escape from death this summer at March Field, Riverside, Cal., when he lost control of the plane he was piloting and took to a parachute at a thousand feet in the air.

A mechanic in the plane failed to jump when told to do so by Lieutenant Glascock, and was killed when the plane crashed.

Glascock is well known in Reno. He coached the rugby football team and performed other athletic work at the University in 1914, 1915 and 1916, and when the United States entered the World war he enlisted in the aviation corps and remained with the army after the signing of peace.

Scott to Captain Wolf Track Stars

Has Been Cinder Artist Since High School Days

Neil Scott at a meeting of the 1930 track letter men just prior to the close of school was elected to lead the Wolf track and field team in 1931, succeeding Ken Robison, last year's captain.

Scotty first came into prominence as a cinder artist in his high school days in Las Vegas when he made it a practice of coming to Reno every year and taking twenty points in the State High School Track Meet. He consistently took firsts in the fifty, hundred and two-hundred yard dashes in addition to capturing the broad jump event.

Since his arrival at Nevada Neil has augmented his reputation as a track star. He has won his Block letter for two years as a member of the Wolf squad and at the present time holds the school record for the broad jump. He has also been a member of the Varsity football team for two years, earning his letter in that sport the second year.

Golf Offer Made

University of Nevada students are invited to share in a special offer being made by the Reno Golf Club for next month. Instead of the regular charge of 50 cents per game, a special rate of $2.50 green fee per month is being offered.

Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the University of Nevada, spent the summer months at La Jolla, Calif.

W. A. A. Plans Big Hill Sports Year

W. A. A. is planning a big year for women's sports. The managers for this year are as follows: Hockey, Judy Cummings; volley ball, Mary Trudelle; basketball, Juanita Johnson; baseball, Ruth Stewart; tennis, Bea Bollschweiler; riding, Marion Nichols; hiking, Armeta Fritz; fencing, Irma Parker; rifle, Amy Yarrington; archery, Ellen Olson.

Tennis and hockey starts the season off and both are run at the same time. Practices will begin next week. Mae Bernasconi Simas again will coach all outdoor sports and hopes that as many women as can possibly do it would sign up for one or more of the current games.

The athletic field is being put in trim, with clipped grass and fresh lines and newly painted goal posts. There is considerable new equipment all ready for use. All this with the ideal weather conditions should bring a lot of women out for both hockey and tennis.

Local Seismograph Records Earthquake

Proving the extreme sensitivity of the seismograph at the Mackay School of Mines, an earthquake which occurred in early summer at Pegu, Burma, was recorded. This town is nearly directly on the other side of the earth from Reno, and the quake was recorded by only two instruments in the country.

Prof. J. C. Jones in charge of the University of Nevada seismograph said the tremor started at 6:01 a. m. and continued over two hours. It was very faint at first. The instrument indicated that it was about 8,000 miles away.

Fall Term Opens With Changes in Preparation

New Staff Members, Courses Added; Buildings Rejuvenated

Preparatory to the opening of the fall semester, numerous changes were made in the University affairs, additions made to the teaching staff, new courses added, and a general renovation of chapter houses and campus buildings effected.

During the past few weeks fraternity and sorority houses have been undergoing a thorough cleaning and refurbishing in anticipation of the opening of the college year. Some of the houses have been newly painted, while others have been redecorated and furnished. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority is occupying its new home on Sierra street, which it purchased last spring. Other organizations are located in the same houses as last year, except the Pi Beta Phi sorority, which has taken over the second floor of Artemisia Hall.

Science Hall Ready.

The Mackay science hall, which was completed during the summer, houses the departments of chemistry, physics and mathematics. Following the removal of the equipment, the old chemistry building will be remodeled for the use of the A. S. U. N. and student publications. Professor F. C. Murgotten, Coach J. E. Martie, and Elsa Sameth have returned from a year's leave of absence to resume their classes.

Four new members have been added to the University faculty. Horace N. Brown, M. A., is assistant professor of education. Brown is a graduate of Kansas State Teachers' College, and received his advanced degree at Stanford University. Previous to his coming to Nevada, Brown was junior high school critic teacher in the Arizona State Normal School at Tempe, Ariz.

Ernest Inwood, a member of the department of economic geology, graduated from the University in 1927, and received his advanced degree at the University of California. Barbara Schmidt from the University of North Dakota, and William K. Collonan, a member of last year's graduating class at the University, are teaching several English classes while working for higher degrees.

New Matron Named.

Irma M. Wilson, Oregon State Agricultural College, is the new matron of Manzanita Hall and supervisor of the dining hall.

Several new courses in various departments have been added to the curriculum. A course in vacuum tubes and vacuum tube circuits, directed by Professor S. W. Leifson, and an additional course in chemistry are offered this year for the first time.

Collonan Will Be New Drama Coach

Comes Well Qualified to Serve as Production Director

William Kelly Collonan, a former student here, and an experienced actor in both amateur and professional productions, is taking Edwin Duerr's place as director of campus plays and part time instructor in English and dramatics. Duerr is at present working for his Ph. D. in public speaking at Cornell University.

As yet Collonan has not announced his plans for the year but it is understood he will continue the work where Duerr left off. Campus Players held a meeting Thursday night to decide on the policy for the coming year and get organized. Announcement of plays and possibly announcement of the casts will be made next week.

Mackay Will Come

building are paved with red tiles, while glossy brown and red tiles are set breast high in the walls. In the entry-way, facing the door, is a niche in which Maxwell Adams says he hopes to have hung a portrait of Mackay. Doors and woodwork are of dark wood, and all the class rooms and offices are lighted by large windows or sky-lights.

The chemistry section has a large lecture room, seating two hundred people, a smaller lecture room, a quantitative analysis laboratory, two qualitative analysis laboratories, one organic chemistry lab, two for beginning students, and three for advanced students. Besides numerous store rooms and examination rooms.

The labs are equipped with every possible convenience for the working students. Each desk is supplied with outlets for fuel gas, compressed air, vacuum steam, hot and cold water and direct and alternating currents. In order to carry off unpleasant or harmful gases each desk in the elementary laboratories has hoods under which the students may place mixtures

Two new courses in psychology, one in elementary educational psychology for normal school students and another in advanced psychology for teachers, are being given by Professor J. R. Young. Professor E. G. Sutherland is conducting a class in the study of public utilities and Professor W. R. Blackler teaches two courses in advanced cost accounting and income tax accounting.

A new journalism course is being offered by Professor A. L. Higginbotham in the interpretation of the day's news for beginning students in newspaper work.

Duerr Enrolls At Cornell U.

Seeks Ph. D., M. A. Degrees After Heavy Summer Preparations

Edwin Duerr, instructor in English and dramatics coach at the University for several years, is at the present time attending Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., where he will take advanced work leading to degrees. He plans to seek degrees of both master of arts and doctor of philosophy at Cornell, probably taking three years of residence at the university to do so.

Duerr attended both summer sessions at the University of California during the summer in preparation to receiving his advanced degrees. Duerr's position will be taken this year by William Kelly Collonan, graduate of Nevada last May.

which give off such gases. Power-fans in the attic then carry the odors outside.

Showers For Fire Safety.

A unique safety device in each lab is a large shower, to be used in case of fire. Although these showers may not be used once in ten years, they will still be worth far more than the expense of installing them, Dean Adams said. Students whose clothes catch fire can extinguish the blaze at once by jumping under the showers and pulling

Women's Handbook Makes Appearance

A handbook for the women students interested in athletics and the Women's Athletic Association made its appearance on the campus today. It contains thirty pages of text and ten of ads and has a silver paper cover with a blue title and Gothic "N."

"The Women's Athletic Association Handbook" was put out this year on account of the conference of the W. A. A.'s from other campuses in the west which will be held here next spring and to acquaint new women with the athletics for women on this campus.

Clara Tomlin edited and managed the handbook and Cora Hemikson did the art work. There are six attractive cuts in the book.

All work desks in the department are covered with alberine stone, a very rare fire-proof and acid proof stone found in Virginia.

Industrial chemistry and glass-glowing facilities are now offered

—two studies which the lack of space in the old quarters prohibited. There are large and well equipped work rooms for each. The physics department occupies half of the second floor and half of the basement, as well as a few rooms on the ground floor and the entire sub-basement. In the sub-basement are a constant-temperature room, thoroughly insulated from outside temperature changes, a sound-proof room, the battery room, in which are the batteries which supply both departments with direct electric current, and store-rooms for materials which must be kept away from temperature changes. A room for radio experimentation is in the attic. The instructor's demonstration desk in the large physics lecture room is one of the most completely outfitted on the Pacific coast, with facilities for the performance of nearly any experiment the teacher desires to exhibit.

Special Ventilation.

The building will be the best ventilated on the campus. The large amount of air that will be pumped out of the rooms through the covered hoods in the chemistry labs has made it necessary to supply a system of forced feeding of warm air for those rooms, and the same system has been extended to the other departments of the structure. A fan eight feet in diameter in the attic draws outside air in, over an electric baffle-plate to warm it, and then distributes it to the various rooms. The eleven large fans which pump out foul air are also in the attic, as is a large distilling apparatus, capable of supplying one hundred gallons of distilled water a day.

F. J. Longchamps was the architect for the building, J. C. Dillard was the general contractor, Hunter and Hudson of San Francisco installed the plumbing, ventilating and electrical fixtures, and Anderson & Co. of Los Angeles supplied the built-in desk equipment.
