Fulton Lectures Held Next Week In Ed. Building

Cousins Brings Native Indian Paintings for Talk

ORIENTALIST TO SPEAK
Educator, Irish Poet to be Presented Jan. 20

Dr. James H. Cousins, Irish poet, educator, and orientalist, who is making his second lecture in America, will give this year's Fulton Foundation lectures in the auditorium of the Education building, beginning Tuesday, January 20, at 8 o'clock.

He will bring with him, for exhibition in the University library, 100 native Indian paintings.

Schedule Told
The schedule of his lectures is: Tuesday, January 20, "India, Its People and Culture"; Wednesday, January 21, "The Philosophy of India"; Thursday, January 22, "The Poetry of India"; and Friday, January 23, "Architecture and Sculpture of India." All of these lectures and the exhibits are open to the public.

Dr. Cousins has spent thirteen years in India in intimate contact with its cultural life, and is regarded as probably the most active worker in the cause of the advancement of Hindu art. He has organized exhibitions and given lectures all over India and in European art centers like Florence, Brussels, Paris, and London.

Life Outlined
Before he had reached the age of 20, Cousins had published his first book of poetry, "Ben Madhuan," and since then he has published 19 more, one of the best of which is "The King's Wife," which is based on Hindu tradition, and which has been performed all over India and Burma.

As an educator, he was Professor of English Literature and afterwards was Principal of Madanpalle college, affiliated with the University of Madras. He was a visiting lecturer in the International University of Rabindra Nath Tagore and the Vidyia Pith of Mahatma Gandhi, and he was also visiting professor of Modern English Poetry in Keiojuku University, Tokyo, and received the first foreign doctor of literature degree conferred by the Imperial Ministry of Education, Japan.

Lecture Fund Founded
The series of lectures which Dr. Cousins is to give at the University of Nevada comes under the Fulton Lecture Foundation, which was established in 1924 by Mrs. Mary Bragg Fulton in memory of Robert Lardin Fulton, constructive citizen of Nevada for over half a century. The income from this foundation is used to bring annually to the University some leader in the field of science, art, literature, or public affairs, who gives lectures on his special theme.

Since the establishment of this foundation, the University of Nevada has had many noted lecturers brought to it, among which has been Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Dr. Edward T. Devine, Upton Close (Josef Washington Hall), Dr. Will Durant, Count Ilya Tolstoy, and Dr. E. Morton McMurtry.

Nevada Graduate Talks to Engineers
Mechanical engineering students enrolled in the exceptionally large strength of materials class, under Wayne Buerer, had the pleasure early this week of hearing an address by Albert D. Curtis, 1924 Nevada graduate, who is now employed in a structural steel plant at Gary, Indiana.

Engineer Curtis told of practical applications of strength of materials. He also told of beam construction necessary to allow riveting machines room in which to operate. Wind bracing of skyscrapers, designs for transmission towers for power lines, and a new type of angle iron being developed by his firm were other subjects of interest which he discussed for the students.

Junior, Senior Officers Named for Spring Term

Present officers of the senior class are as follows: President, Vernon Hirst; vice-president, Marjorie Ligon; secretary, Elizabeth Johnson; treasurer, William VanDoren. The officers of the junior class are: President, Adelbert States; vice-president, Doris Welch; secretary, May Vnich; treasurer, Joe Jackson.

Women Elected to Honorary Society

Lois Carman and Jean Hughes, recently elected to membership in Cap and Scroll, honorary society for upperclass women, will be initiated into the organization next Tuesday night at 5:30 at the Federated Church.

All alumni of Cap and Scroll are invited to be present at the ceremony.

Last Schedule Set For Sittings At Riverside Studio

Students Are Urged to Have Pictures Taken for Artemisia

The last schedule for Riverside Studio sittings has been framed by "Tank" Smith, Artemisia editor, and it is urged that students heed these dates and get their pictures taken. On the dates given below all new pledges of sororities and fraternities may have pictures taken for the usual fee of fifty cents. Any old member may have pictures taken at the same time but a fee of one dollar will be charged. All members of the junior and senior classes and all special members may have pictures for fifty cents until January 31. After January 31 absolutely no pictures of any group will be accepted.

Faculty members' photographs were taken this past week and also next week. It is very important that members and pledges of fraternities and sororities who have not already had their photos taken do so on the dates scheduled:

Monday, Jan. 19 — Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Kappa.
Wednesday, Jan. 21 — Delta Sigma Lambda, Lambda Chi Alpha.
Thursday, Jan. 22 — Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
Friday, Jan. 23 — Sigma Phi Sigma, Sigma Nu.
Saturday, Jan. 24 — Lincoln Hall, Manzanita Hall.
Thursday, Jan. 29 — Beta Delta, Delta Delta Delta.
Friday, Jan. 30 — Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta.
Saturday, Jan. 31 — Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Alpha Omega.

161 Students Live at Houses
Fraternities House 137; Sorority Residents Only 24

As a result of a check up on the number of members living in sorority and fraternity houses, it was found that a total of 161 members are living at various houses. The number of men living at fraternity houses was 137, Alpha Tau Omega leading with 33 men. Beta Kappa and Lambda Chi Alpha were second with 19 men each, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon was third with 16 men. The other fraternities ranked as follows: Phi Sigma Kappa 15, Sigma Phi Sigma 14, Sigma Nu 15, Delta Sigma Lambda 9.

The number of women living at sororities was 24. The three sororities having houses had 8 members each. These houses were Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, and Kappa Alpha Theta. Many women, especially those whose sorority has no house, are living at Manzanita and Artemisia Hall, as well as in apartments and private homes.

This list includes neither the students who board at the houses nor the alumni living at some of them.

Librarian Says

Students having long-standing overdue or fine charges against them will be indefinitely dismissed from the library if charges are not satisfactorily settled by January 15th.

May we remind you again that unnecessary talking and laughing in the corridors is a "subject to dismissal" offense?

946 Students Take Out Cards For Registration

Indicate That Three Records in Past Will be Broken by Enrollment

Indicating that three registration records will be broken this year, the complete enrollment last night was 902, with 946 cards taken out. On Thursday of the second week last spring semester there were only 840 completed cards and 880 blanks taken out.

The record established last fall of 963, together with the record that will probably be made now for spring semester, and the indicated total registration for the year will make 1930-31 a high water mark in the history of Nevada.

The figures for classes are divided as follows:
Sophomores—258.
Juniors—101.
Seniors—101.
Graduates—37.
Unclassified—14.
Special—13.

There are 540 men and 362 women who have completed registration. A fine of $5.00 is being imposed upon every one taking out cards from now on and after the third day on which a card is taken out a seventy-five cent fine is levied until the registration is completed. Courses may be added until January 27, and dropped until February 17.

Haseman Named As Candidate

Rotarians Propose Dean as Officer of Second District

Dr. Charles Haseman, Dean of Men and professor of mathematics and mechanics, has been proposed by the Rotary Alliance of Nevada as a candidate for the office of governor of the second district of the Rotary International.

The second district is the largest district from the point of clubs in the organization. It includes clubs in Nevada, California and Hawaii.

Dr. Haseman is past president of the Reno club and has been prominent in its affairs for many years. He will be the first man the Nevada Rotarians have ever proposed for the office of district governor. Besides being president of the local club, Haseman has held the office of president of the Nevada Alliance for two years.

Rotarians Feel Hopeful
The Reno Rotarians feel that Haseman's scholastic attainments, coupled with his forceful manner from the rostrum, will give him a candidate almost certain of election. It was in 1909 that the name of Charles Haseman, Ph.D., first appeared upon the roll of the Nevada faculty. For twenty-one years he has taken a part in the life of the college and the activities connected with it as well as devoting a great part of his energies to the fraternal life of the surrounding community. He graduated from Indiana University in 1903 and received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Goettingen, Germany, in 1907.

The Rotary clubs of the Nevada Alliance who are sponsoring the candidacy of Haseman are: Susanville, Alturas, Bishop, Reno, Fallon, Tonopah, Minden, Elko, Las Vegas and Ely.

C. E. Students Meet As Slides are Shown

Civil engineering students convened Wednesday evening for the first meeting this semester of the American Society of Civil Engineers. At the close of the business meeting a set of forty-five projection slides were shown.

The slides, sent through the courtesy of the Society's New York office, were of construction work on the New Cascade Tunnel in the State of Washington. The tunnel was constructed by the Great Northern Railway Company at the cost of over $20,000,000 and extending over a period of 35 months. It is a straight bore eight miles long through the Cascade Range, connecting the towns of Scenic and Berne, Washington.

Student Leader Urges Backing For Philbrook

Campus Traditions to be Enforced A. S. U. N. Members Learn

President Jack Walther opened the first A.S.U.N. meeting of the 1931 semester by urging the student body to stand back of Coach George Philbrook, whom the committee selected to coach Nevada football for the next two years.

Several announcements were made concerning the enforcing of campus traditions, and President Walther declared that student body privileges would be taken away from anyone cutting campus, until that person apologized to the A.S.U.N. New freshmen must have their dinks by Monday morning, and a penalty will be imposed upon all underclassmen wearing cords. Freshmen were also reminded that "queening" in the library is a punishable offense.

Cards Necessary
A.S.U.N. cards for basketball games must be presented at the east door of the gymnasium, and students are to sit in the sections near the door down stairs.

The following committees were appointed by President Walther: Frosh Bible Committee: Bruce Thompson, Katherine Wright, Howard Umber, and Elbert Walker. Mackay Day Committee: Walter Wilson, Harold Taber, Margaret Purdy, Ed Cantlon, Ray Rackett, Al Davis, Ben Johnson and Delbert States.

Constitution Committee: Bill Ligon, Tank Smith, Paul Harwood, and Jack Walther.

The student body passed unanimously a recommendation of the Executive Committee that a Block N sweater be awarded to Gale Parsons, who due to injury was not able to play full time on the football team this year.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the Nevada hymn.

Shaver Addresses A. I. E. E. Meeting

Electrical Engineers Hear Plan for Storage of Lake Water

A. J. Shaver of the Sierra Pacific Power Company addressed the members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at their regular meeting Wednesday night. Mr. Shaver has represented the power company in recent investigations of proposed storage projects.

In his talk which concerned "Upstream Storage on the Truckee River," Mr. Shaver presented to the engineering students and instructors a full view of the various phases of upstream storage. He mentioned the plans that have been considered and the places which would be used as storage basins. Donner, Independence and Weber lakes and a point on the Little Truckee River about five miles above Boca, were considered for storage sites. Donner lake and the area on the Little Truckee, the speaker stated, would be the only two basins used. If such is the decision of parties concerned, a dam will of necessity be constructed on the river soon.

Besides the Sierra Pacific Power Company the parties who would derive benefit from the storage project are the farmers of the Truckee Meadows, farmers of the Carson irrigation project, and Lake Tahoe property owners. The main object in securing storage basins is to diminish the drain of water from Lake Tahoe. Mr. Shaver added that if the project is started the farmers will no doubt be forced to seek aid from the U. S. government.

Nine Men Initiated In Seaboard, Blade

Nine men were initiated into Seaboard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, in the Armory building, Wednesday night, following the initiation, a short business meeting was held. Nevada-San Jose Relations Break Looms When Gilmartin is Declared Ineligible by State Teacher Officials

QUESTIONNAIRES WANTED

Senior questionnaires are wanted at the Artemisia office right away! Many were given out last semester but those people who took them have been tardy about handing them in. They may be returned to the office or to Lucie King. At the present time they may be obtained from the office.

Questionnaires will be sent out to Manzanita Hall, Lincoln Hall, and sororities and fraternities by the first of next week where members will be able to get them from the president of their organizations to whom they may also return them. Seniors are requested to cooperate with the Artemisia in this matter and to conscientiously try to get in these questionnaires without delay.

Independent Is Freshman Leader

New Combine's Candidates Are in Office for First Time

An Independent was elected to the leadership of a class office Thursday afternoon for the first time in six years, when Bob Mearan of Fallon, a member of Lincoln Hall Association, was swept into the freshman class presidential chair on a rising tide of votes after scheduled combines failed to click in the crucial moment.

Campus political leaders were agog today at the outcome of the elections, and loud shouts of approval were to be heard in some quarters, while anxiety was prevalent in others. Whether or not the note struck yesterday will have any great outcome on the results of the A.S.U.N. elections next spring was open to question.

Some students felt that the affair yesterday was a mere bubble, and that the natural order of things would return in time to leave combines a clear field in April. Others predicted a campus political upheaval which would exceed all bounds.

Gene Salet, running for the S.A.E.-A.T.O. combine, which has been working for the past two months in preparation for the election, was defeated for the presidential office by a two-point margin, while Eddie Olson, who was nominated by the Sigma Nu-Sigma Phi Sigma group, was defeated by a single vote in a hectic election meeting.

Bruce Gould, Beta Kappa, was swept into the treasurer's office, defeating three other men. Harold Curran, A. T. O., furnished the strongest opposition, but he could not surmount the combined votes of Beta Kappa, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Lincoln Hall men. Jack Kerner, also a Beta Kappa, was nominated, as was Fred Steiner, S.A.E. These two men were said to have been named in an effort to split up the S.A.E. combine, and the Beta Kappa combine, but apparently the efforts went for naught.

With none of the freshman women belonging to houses or associations other than Manzanita Hall, voting was not so spirited for the women's offices in the freshman class. Hazel Davis of Yerington was elected vice president over Clara Galvin of Sparks by a wide margin of votes. Frances Smith of Lovelock was elected secretary.

Officers took over the class reigns immediately following the elections. A statement of Mearan's policies was not obtainable today.

Additions Made To Pledge Lists Of Fraternities

Phi Sigma Kappa, who led the race for pledges last week with six men, reports one new member. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has just pledged three new men, and Beta Kappa and Sigma Nu have each one new pledge.

Sigma Nu—Bill Clarke of Taft, California.
Phi Sigma Kappa—Fred Fletcher of Bureka.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Dick Hobelman of Reno, Jack Beckley of Santa Monica, Fred Spears of Marin, California.
Beta Kappa—Jess Christensen of Fresno.
Lambda Chi Alpha—Sam Arentz of Smith Valley.

Staff Members Of Sagebrush Are Advanced

Reorganization Leaves Four Junior Editors as Cut Due Soon

Changes in the organization of the Sagebrush staff for this semester were made at the office this week. The new plans will go into effect next week.

Instead of six junior editors on the staff as there were last semester there will be only four, consequently beats have been increased in size and staffs have been added to.

The positions of junior editors will be held by Frances Armbruster, Lucie King, Margaret Fuller, and Katherine McCormack. The other junior editors will serve on the staff but in different capacities. Joe Jackson has been advanced to the position of assistant editor. Margaret Ede has been named news editor, and will check up on all news assignments which are given to the staff.

Howard Sheerin will continue as night editor and will have charge of the copy desk. Lois Carman, woman's editor, will check over all copy before it is ready for the printer.

Kenneth Johnson, sports writer for several semesters, has been given the position of sports editor, to succeed Bruce Thompson, whose duties as basketball manager caused him to give up the work.

Seven students reported to the office this week for tryouts and will continue to work for positions on the staff. The reportorial staff now consists of 30 members, but will be reduced one-half before the list is ready for the Artemisia panel.

Seniors Revive Annual Picnic

Efforts to revive an old custom are being made this semester with preparations for a senior picnic. This supposedly annual affair has not been held for three years due to lack of interest of former classes in the matter of raising funds. Jim Henricks has been put in charge of the promulgation of the picnic plans and will attempt to get all the seniors, if possible, and enough Juniors to make up the one hundred quota for the trip. Each man and woman student is expected to pay $5.00 some time during the semester to attend the picnic. The plan is to go to Lake Tahoe, by train via Truckee, a trip around the Lake on the steamer, and back to the Tavern for dinner and dancing, after which the party will return to Reno.

A special appeal is made to all seniors to take an interest in this project and cooperate with Henricks to make it a success. This can be done only through a cheerful willingness on the part of the members of the class to pay the fee and turn out to the last man, Henricks says.

This is to be a no-date affair and will take place during Senior Week, the first week in May.

Dietrich Injured In Sled Accident

Suffering from a fracture of the neck, breast bone, and a rib received in an accident, Clarence Dietrich, a former University of Nevada student, is reported to be resting easily in St. Mary's Hospital by his physician, Dr. Stadherr.

The accident in which young Dietrich was injured occurred on the morning of January 8 when he bobbed on which he was riding, accompanied by four companions, skidded into a telegraph pole on E. Fourth street. Dietrich was maneuvering the sled when the crash occurred and received the full impact of the blow.

INELIGIBLE

Jack "Goon" Gilmartin, varsity basketball center and team mainstay, who was declared ineligible for conference competition by San Jose officials on the eve of the Nevada-San Jose game. The action aroused the ire on the part of Doc. Martie, Nevada coach, who declares that no games with San Jose will ever be scheduled after the present series.

Howard Sheerin will continue as night editor and will have charge of the copy desk. Lois Carman, woman's editor, will check over all copy before it is ready for the printer.

Kenneth Johnson, sports writer for several semesters, has been given the position of sports editor, to succeed Bruce Thompson, whose duties as basketball manager caused him to give up the work.

Seven students reported to the office this week for tryouts and will continue to work for positions on the staff. The reportorial staff now consists of 30 members, but will be reduced one-half before the list is ready for the Artemisia panel.

Epperson Chosen News Bureau Head

Adamson withdraws Leaves Assistant Director as New Chief

At a meeting held Monday afternoon the members of the Publications Board elected Julian Epperson as the new manager of the News Bureau. George Adamson, the present head, a junior, has been recommended to the Marchfield Aviation School at Riverside, California, by Senator Odile of Nevada. He will begin his course about March 1. George Adamson has made the News Bureau an active organization; he was president of the Sagers and among his projects were the bleacher caps, rally wagon, buses for the incoming athletic teams, and many others.

Julian Epperson has been very active. He is a Sager, has worked on the News Bureau, is a member of the Desert Wolf staff and played a lead in "The Whole Town's Talking." He has been successful in his undertakings and should make a success of the News Bureau, according to publications members.

Former Student is Private Secretary

Alice Thomas, ex-'31, is private secretary to Renee Davies, the West Coast manager of "Zit's," a national theatrical publication. Renee Davies is a sister to Marion Davies and has had wide experience in dramatic productions of both legitimate and screen productions. The Hollywood office was opened up only about six weeks ago and Alice started in the day the office opened.

In addition to acting as secretary to Miss Davies, Miss Thomas reviews new pictures, helps with the advertising and hopes in time to be given interviews with various stars.

After attending the University of Nevada two years Miss Thomas transferred to U.C.L.A., where she went the first semester the new campus at Westwood was occupied. After a semester at U.C.L.A. she attended the Hollywood Business College and since then has been working at various offices. "Zit's" office is shared by Al Cohn.

Spartans Quote Conference Rule As Action Basis

"Doc" Martie Wroth as Last Minute Message Ousts Star

WAS TEAM MAINSTAY
Mentor Declares Wolves Not to Meet State in Future Games

"No team over which I have supervision will ever meet San Jose State Teachers College after the series tomorrow night and Saturday night." This was the statement made by Coast J. E. "Doc" Martie when he entrusted for San Jose last evening minus Jack Gilmartin, main stay center, who was declared ineligible for basketball competition by telegram Thursday afternoon.

Gilmartin, according to an announcement released last night, was ruled ineligible by San Jose officials who based their judgment on a conference eligibility rule which has to do with transfers. The officials claimed that the man in question transferred to Nevada the year the Far Western conference was formed and not the year preceding, as was the general belief in Nevada athletic circles.

Attended Santa Clara
Gilmartin attended Santa Clara but one semester, was stricken with pneumonia, failed to participate in athletics, and, in the following year, transferred to Nevada. The San Jose officials hold that this transfer cost him the right to enter four years of competition, and this was to have been his fourth year.

Martie, in a statement to Dean Charles Haseman, who is an official in the Far Western conference, said early last evening that Gilmartin's ineligibility was not previously known to him, and that he had based most of his formations for the year on the rangy center. Haseman also disclaimed all knowledge of the Nevada star's ineligibility.

Martie Says Teachers "Out"
The Nevada basketball mentor's wrath was expressed in no uncertain terms yesterday afternoon in his office, when he declared that as far as he was concerned, Nevada and San Jose were at odds. He intimated that several times in the past conditions have arisen between Nevada and the Spartans which he described as being "not too pleasant."

As an example of threatened strains in past years, Martie, along with Coach Philbrook, grid mentor, who directed the track team last year, pointed to the Far Western track meet, held in Sacramento last year in which Nevada was nosed out by San Jose for the conference championship by a score of 45 to 40 1-2.

Ineligible Man Wins
In this meet, the coaches said, the two-mile event was won by Wattenburger, Teacher distance man, who nosed out "Red" Rossiter of the Wolves. Wattenburger was ineligible. (Continued to Page Five)

Robinson Will Manage Work of Arranging for Prep Students

The public speaking tournament, which will be conducted by the Nevada Forensic League, will be held on April 16, 17, and 18. It will be held in the auditorium of the Education and Agricultural buildings. In charge of the tournament is Oscar Robinson, high school relations manager. He stated that this year's tournament will differ greatly from those of previous years, in so much as the various phases of the work will be in charge of one person. Chairmen of these committees are: Clara Tomlin, representative of Campus Players; Delbert Leach, who is in charge of the programs and mimeograph work; Myra Sauer, who has charge of the awards; Ruth Fish and Josephine Knowles, who will take care of all secretarial and typing work; Pat O'Brien, who is in charge of the accommodations; Bob Griffin, who is debate coach; William Kelly Colman, who is dramatic coach, and Jack Walther, who is financial manager.

Plays Divided
The one-act plays are to be divided into serious and humorous divisions. Mask and Dagger will give to the best boy and girl a medal for the best acting. The judges for this year will be professors and professional dramatists who will judge the one-act plays.

Last year, out of 34 high schools in the state, 17 were represented. This year an even larger proportion is anticipated. An invitation will be extended to adjacent schools outside of the state who wish to take part for the first time.

It is estimated that there will be over 150 participants who will be housed in fraternities and dormitories. The contests will include: Oratory, Shakespearean scenes, one-act plays, debates, extemporaneous readings, and declamation.

Menke Captures Golden Eagle

Mark Menke, graduate of the class of '29 from the College of Agriculture, is exhibiting a big golden eagle which he captured Tuesday afternoon in the Lamolle district near Elko. He arrived shortly after the bird had gorged itself so heavily on a sheep carcass that it was unable to fly.

Menke chased it through the deep snow, but it was unable to lift its body high enough to get away. The bird flew into a tree, where the weight of its body turned it downward, and it hung like a bat for a few minutes until it was captured and brought to Elko.

Nevada Newspapers Urged To Promote Nevada Market

Members of the Nevada Press Association met for their annual convocation Saturday in the library of the Mackay Hall of Science. At the morning session of the meeting, M. C. Moberg, Pacific Coast representative for a large number of newspapers, was the principal speaker. He urged the Nevada newspapers to promote an advertising campaign for the Nevada market. Ralph Heppie, Pacific Coast manager of the Associated Press, and Earl Lief, Nevada manager for the United Press, also spoke during the morning session.

At the business session Saturday afternoon, R. C. Stitzer, publisher of the Humboldt Star of Winnemucca, was elected president, succeeding Vail Pittman of Ely. The following members also were elected to offices of the Association: Leigh Sanford of the Reno Evening Gazette, vice-president; Claude H. Smith of the Fallon Standard, secretary, and W. C. Black of the Lovelock Review-Miner, and Bert N. Selkirk of the Gardnerville Record-Courier, members of the executive committee.

A banquet was held at the Golden hotel Saturday evening for the association, closing the meeting for this year.

About thirty members of the association attended the meeting at the science hall. A majority of the visitors had never seen the new building and expressed their pleasure in the building advancement of the Nevada university.

While on the campus the members of the association were guests of Prof. J. A. Higginbotham, journalism instructor.

Former Students Married in Reno

Jack Hopkins, former student of the University of Nevada, was married to Mary Skinner of Bridgeport, California, a week ago last Tuesday, according to an announcement made by several of his friends yesterday. The ceremony took place in Reno. Hopkins was affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity while he was attending this institution and he was very prominent in several student activities.

Katherine Hanson, former student at the University of Nevada, is teaching school near Elko.

John Brooks returned from Carson last Saturday after a visit with his parents there.

Duane Mack, '30, who is studying in Stanford law school, was a Reno visitor last week.

In every college town there is one outstanding smoking tobacco

At Illinois it's

ALONG Green Street, where a campus leaders stroll . . . in the great slate-roofed fraternity houses of Champaign . . . there is one pipe tobacco which always rolls up the biggest vote. At Illinois it's Edgeworth, every time.

A pipe—Edgeworth. That is the smoking combination which has won the college man. Harvard, Cornell, Michigan, Stanford, Dartmouth—all agree with Illinois. Natural merit has made Edgeworth the favorite tobacco in America's leading colleges and universities.

College men everywhere respond to the appeal of pipes—packed with cool, slow-burning Edgeworth. Be guided by their verdict: try Edgeworth yourself. Find it at your nearest tobacco shop—15¢ the tin. Or for generous free sample, address: Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive "eleventh process." Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—"Ready Rubbed" and "Plug Slice." All sizes, 15¢ pocket package to pound humidior tin.

Sagens Hold First Meet of Semester Large Nevada Banner to Be Used at All Hoop Games

The first meeting of the Sagens for this semester was held last Tuesday evening in the Desert Wolf office. Plans are being made to construct a new scoreboard for the basketball games to be used at the end of the term. The large banner made by the Sagens last semester is being used at the basketball games. Members are selling candy and eskimo pies during the halves.

Vaughn Visits Nevada Campus

Harold "Speed" Vaughn, '31, graduate of the Mackay School of Mines, and his wife were in Reno last Wednesday on the business trip for the B and B Quicksilver Mines of Mt. Montgomery, California, with which he is now connected. He was affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity when he was attending this institution.

Spelling Bee Features Dinner Party of Faculty

An old fashioned spelling match, in which all of the professors took part and of which Prof. Frederick W. Trauer was the schoolmaster, was a feature of the annual faculty party, held Tuesday, January 6, at the Century Club.

A New England dinner was served and group singing was enjoyed. The party is usually scheduled for Christmas week, but this year it was postponed.

Lucie King Returns to Campus After Illness

Lucie King, who underwent an operation for appendicitis during the Christmas holidays at her home in Susanville, returned to the campus Monday. She has resumed classes, although she is convalescing; but she will not resume her work as junior editor on the Sagebrush staff until next week.

Willis H. Church Gets Big Position

Designs Inner Court of Supreme Court Building

Willis Humphrey Church '23, son of Dr. J. E. Church, Jr., professor of the classic at the University, is now designing the inner court of the Supreme Court Building in Washington. Church has been engaged by the firm of Zantinger, Borie and Medary of Philadelphia, to carry on the work left unfinished by Mr. Medary, who died last year. The firm is the architect for the new system of repaving, re-laying of streets, and building construction for the government.

Following his graduation from Nevada, Church went to the University of Pennsylvania, where he took an A.B. degree in architecture. He then made a trip around the world, sketching the principal examples of architecture from their originals. Returning to Philadelphia, he became associated with the firm with which he is now working.

Classical Ideas Used
His ideas of architecture are based on the permanent beauty of classical architecture, modified by only the best and most promising of new ideas in architecture.

While at Nevada Church was especially prominent in athletics, having been a four-year football man and a letter man in basketball and track. He was also editor of the Artemisia, a member of the Sagebrush staff, a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, Block N president, and made the Honor Roll his senior year.

In the department of Home Economics two new students have registered and two have returned: Angie Recanzone and Florence Lehmkuhl.

Wilma Merrill, former student here, was married to Earl E. Lloyd of Reno during the holidays. The ceremony was performed at Quincy, California.

Ellen Harrington, '28, visited her aunt in Reno last week, returning Saturday to Fernley, where she will resume her duties as instructor in the Fernley high school.

180 Enrolled in Engineering School

One hundred and eighty men are registered in the School of Engineering at the University of Nevada for the spring semester. At the close of last semester 218 men were enrolled in the four departments of engineering.

Dean F. W. Sibley says that the registration is very close to what it was a year ago at this time. The number of students in each department has not been definitely determined up to the present time.

Mary Earthquakes Recorded at School

According to seismograph records, there have been more earthquakes in the last four weeks than were recorded during the whole year of 1930.

In the last two or three weeks, four or five earthquakes have been recorded in the vicinity of Eureka, Calif. One shake-up was also recorded in Mexico, but the exact situation has not been determined. All recent evidence points to 1931 being a more shaky year than 1930.

Who Spends the Greatest Amount of Money in Reno ?

The Undisputed Answer

Students and Those Connected With the University

No matter what your business may be, you are dependent directly or indirectly on the students for your largest volume of trade.

To reach these students, to tell them what you have to sell there is but one medium to use. That is—

The U. of N. Sagebrush

It reaches 100 per cent of the University students and faculty, besides a large number of alumni, high school students and outsiders, on Friday afternoon of each week. What more could you ask?

Extension Workers Meet at University

Creel, Buckman, Buol in Charge of Annual Convention

The fourteenth annual conference of the Agricultural Extension Department of the University of Nevada which is being held this week on the University campus, will be concluded tomorrow after a week of intensive work.

Members Given
Members of the extension service located on the campus and members of the faculty who are taking part in the conference are: Cecil W. Creel, director of the extension service; Thomas Buckman, assistant director of the agricultural division; Mary S. Buol, assistant director of home economics; Vernon E. Scott, dairy and poultry specialist; A. L. Higginbotham, extension editor, and dr. Edward Records and V. E. Spencer of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

It is the purpose of the agricultural extension division to promote the adaptation of the most advantageous and modern farming methods throughout the state. For this purpose, local agents are placed in the various outlying farming communities to advise and teach those seeking agricultural or farming information and advice. The home economics department functions likewise in the realm of home economics.

Creel Presides
The conference started last Monday morning with a meeting of the extension agents, at which Cecil W. Creel, director of the extension service, presided. Mr. Creel gave a resume of the White House conference he attended last November in Washington, D.C., at which questions pertaining to the extension service of Land Grant colleges were discussed.

General sessions were held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the final session will start tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, when Professor A. L. Higginbotham discusses "The Extension News Service," before the assembled agents. Higginbotham, professor of the English department and instructor in journalism, has charge of the extension news bureau.

The agriculture section of the convention held sessions for agricultural agents Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and will conclude with a talk tomorrow at 1 o'clock when J. H. Wittwer, district extension agent, speaks on "The Use of Phosphate Fertilizers in Alfalfa Production."

Professor Minor Talks to Y.P.F.

Professor E. A. Minor, formerly of the University of Fukien at Fuchow, China, delivered an informal address to the Young People's Society of the Federated Church in Reno last Sunday evening. The Young People's Society is composed mostly of University of Nevada students and instructors.

Unique methods used of advertising the Fukien University were related by Professor Minor. One of them was the unusual manner in which the faculty members attracted prospective students by giving demonstrations in chemistry and physics on various street corners of the outlying town near Fuchow. Mr. Minor said that his association with the Chinese developed in him a great respect for their intelligence, for their industry, and also for their pleasing good humor.

Courses Offered In Home Economics

Two new courses are offered in the Department of Home Economics, one a course of two credits in costume designing, under the instruction of Miss Pope, and the other nutrition in disease. There are no prerequisites for the first course, but only students who have taken a previous course in dietetics and are planning to go on in that field can register in the latter.

Miss Pope's class is to be held in conjunction with the Physical Education department and special attention will be given to consuming of pageants and dances. The class will also study the different dresses of the various countries, the art of dyeing, and the use of water colors in relation to light effects and color. A fee of $2.00 is charged.

The class in nutrition dietetics is given for the first time this semester and consists of a laboratory and a lecture period. Some of the work will contain the study of all diets in relation to disease and the preparation of diets for the sick people.

H. A. Doermer of the local station of the United States Bureau of Mines is doing special work at the Berkeley station but will return in a few days.

Seismograph Shocked; Has Hectic Day

The University of Nevada seismograph had a most shocking experience Wednesday. Starting at 5:57 p.m., it was kept busy for an hour recording the tremors of an earthquake 1800 miles away.

Beginning with almost infinitesimal markings, the seismograph scratched away diligently and finally, with pride, produced the largest movement it had ever recorded. This maximum movement measured three inches and lasted approximately four minutes.

Having broken all previous records held by itself, the seismograph now rests, patiently waiting for the next opportunity for even greater accomplishments.

Special Botany Course is Given By Lehenbauer

A new seminar class in botany is being taught this semester by Professor P. A. Lehenbauer. The class meets once a week on Tuesday in the evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock and only advanced or graduate students in botany are eligible to attend.

The teaching of the class is done by the students themselves. Assignments are given to each one and it is the work of the student to specialize in a certain topic, to resort to independent study and research and give a report in the form of a lecture to the class on what he has found. Because of the great amount of time devoted to the research of the subject the student is only required to report twice during the semester.

There are 12 students registered in this course.

Louise Grubnau is Subject of Sketch

Former Nevadan Lauded For Work in Her Field

Louise Grubnau, 24, member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, has been chosen as the subject of a biographical sketch by Mary Field Patton in the February issue of the McCall's magazine. It is one of several lauding the success of various western women in their chosen fields of work.

While attending the University of Nevada, Miss Grubnau was prominent in all student activities. She was a member of Phi Beta Phi, Phi Kappa Phi, and Gothic N Society, as well as going in extensively for the various athletics — basketball, baseball, hockey and volleyball.

The Louis D. Folsom scholarship was won by Miss Grubnau and she was an honor student all four years of her university work.

Story Given
The story from McCall's follows: "It's an uphill pull for the stoutest engine over the ridge of the Sierras. Louise Grubnau's father, a locomotive engineer, had been making it for years, threading transcontinental trains through the little town of Sparks, where his wife and daughter lived. Sparks is a mountain town with a short main street of one-story wooden stores. The coming and going of trains is the town's business and diversion.

"Going somewhere!"
"As a little girl Louise Grubnau watched for her father's engine, waved, followed the train as it ascended the mountain, gazed longingly at the trail of smoke. She would go, too, some day.

"After school and the University at Reno, she taught school in McGill, a tiny mining town. Over the desert hung a luminous mirage—a turreted city piled high on Malapai rock.

"What was beyond the mountains? Teaching would never reveal that secret, so Louise Grubnau left the desert for California.

"The president of a local firm was in San Francisco. He met Miss Grubnau and offered her a position in his new New York office.

"Now walk through the marble lobby of an ultra modern building on Fifth Avenue, step into an elevator, tell the attendant 'Eleventh floor,' enter the office of the Cosby

Transcontinental Excursion of Council Plans Stop in Reno

Professor J. C. Jones of the Geology Department, left Monday night for San Francisco in order to spend Tuesday at a meeting of the committee on the Transcontinental Excursion of the International Geological Congress to take place in 1932. At the meeting it was decided that a representation from the excursion will spend one day in Reno. In the evening Professor Jones was a guest at a meeting of the San Francisco branch of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

In connection with the Transcontinental Excursion of the International Geological Congress, it is expected that approximately 154 geologists will be the guests of the Geology Department of the University of Nevada, for one day. No

Twelve Wolves Travel to Meet San Jose Five

Bledsoe, Griffin Out of Line up Due to Various Injuries

TO PLAY TWO GAMES
Games May Decide Winner of West Conference Championship

Coach "Doc" Martie and his squad of twelve hoppers, departed last night at 9:40 for San Jose, where they will meet the San Jose quintet in a two-game series, and first conference games for Nevada this season.

Considerably weakened by the loss of Dan Bledsoe, star sophomore forward, who will in all probability not see action due to his weakened condition from an attack of chicken pox, and the absence of John Griffin, stellar guard of the squad, who is suffering from a badly sprained ankle, the Nevada squad will have an uphill battle to defeat the strong San Jose team.

Coach Martie, however, has been working his boys hard and all are in excellent shape. With "Goon" Gilmartin, smooth working center, and Johnson and Weaver at forwards; and with Captain Joe De Reemer and probably Bob Bankofier at guards, the San Jose boys will be up against a tough outfit. With plenty of able reserves able to enter the fray at any time, among them being Lombardi, Freitag, Farnsworth, Hill, Dakin, and Salsbury, the Nevada five should look for a good contest.

San Jose will be gunning for Nevada, as they probably have not forgotten the double defeat administered them last season. The San Jose team is slated as being the strongest in the conference this season, with four of their regulars back. They have already chalked up a win against the Stockton Amblers, and only went down under Stanford by the scant margin of three points.

In looking over the dope sheet it is to be presumed that whoever emerges with victory in this series will be the most logical candidate for conference honors.

If it is at all possible the games will be played in the new San Jose gym, which is in the last stages of completion. This gym is the largest on the Pacific Coast.

Bruce Thompson, basketball manager, accompanied the team.

Prep Hoopsters Open '31 Season

Reno High Seems Strong;
Lovelock, Ely Play
Fast Game

The Nevada interscholastic basketball season started in full swing last week when many close and thrilling games were played. Although none of the teams have shown championship form in the few games that they have played it is rumored that Ely, last year's champs, will again have a strong team. Reno High, coached by Herb Foster, seems to be one of the strongest outfits in this district. In the northern district Winnemucca and Elko will more than likely fight it out for the championship of that district.

Ely toured the southern part of the state last week and played three hard games. They defeated Moapa Valley 30 to 25 the first night, and on Friday they defeated Las Vegas by one point with the score being 19 to 18 at the end of the game. Saturday night they ran into some very strong opposition when they lost to Bunkerville 28 to 31.

Perhaps the most exciting game was played on Lovelock's court when they defeated their old rivals from Winnemucca by a one-point margin. At half time the score was 8 to 7 in favor of the Humboldt lads and when the final period began the score was deadlocked at 11 all.

Reno Defeated Virginia 32 to 20 and thus avenged the defeat handed to them in the state tournament last year. Saturday night the Virginia City lads met the Yerington outfit and in the final minutes of play sank a foul and won by one point, the score ending 20 to 19.

Battle Mountain defeated Carlin 18 to 6 the same night that Lovelock was defeating Fernley 29 to 4. Friday night Garderville defeated Fallon 25 to 20 while on Saturday Sparks defeated Garderville 22 to 17.

Tomopah defeated Panaca 27-21 in a badly played game. Other interesting games were played between Panaca and Goldfield, with Panaca on the long end of a 27 to 18 score. The two games that Carson City played, winning one from Wellington and losing one to Sparks, were very interesting.

Stewart-Int. defeated the light Wellington outfit.

Goldie Holmes to Broadcast Games

Goldie Holmes, '32, former Compton Junior College sports announcer, has taken over the microphone for station KOH's broadcast of the play-by-play description of all the University of Nevada home basketball games.

Starting with the Montana-Nevada fray last week, Holmes gave a very clear and concise report of the programs of the game and most all who tuned in for the broadcast have given their approval of the new Nevada sports announcer. The next games to be broadcast will be the Wolf Pack-Chico State Teachers' series, January 23-24.

Mike Oliver, '30, handled the broadcast last season.

BRUSH SPORTS

WOLVES TO BATTLE SPARTANS

Three of these men will march against the Spartans of San Jose State tonight, but will attempt to reverse the tale of the ancient Greeks. Johnson, Freitag, and Weaver, are set to play good ball. Griffin won't play. He has a broken ankle and is out for the season. Gilmartin was ruled ineligible for varsity competition by San Jose Officials, so will not take his place as regular center.

Wolf Pack Meets Chico State Hoop Quintet in Series

First Conference Games to be Played Here
Jan. 23, 24

Meeting the fast Chico State Teachers' quintet in the opening Far Western conference home series, Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie's basketball team will show itself to the local fans in conference play January 23-24.

Last year the Wolf Pack split a two-game series with the Chico outfit, winning the first game 33-20 and dropping the second game 37-22. In both of these games, Garagan, diminutive Teacher forward, was easily the star of the series. This year he will be a marked man, and hopes for a double win for Nevada are very high.

In the final conference standing last season, Chico closely followed Nevada with a creditable record, holding one victory over the conference champions, College of Pacific.

The Chico State players have a peculiar style of play in direct contrast with the Nevada system. Their system consists of a loose defense and a quick breaking offense with spectacular one-handed shots for scores.

Final Cut Made In Boxing Squad By Coach Wallace

Strenuous Practice Marks
Preparation for Meet on January 30

Cutting the Nevada Wolf Pack boxing squad to thirteen men, Coach Dick Wallace is fast rounding his leather pushers into shape for their first meet of the 1931 season with the University of California Bears January 31.

Starting the second year of boxing as a minor sport on the campus, prospects for a banner year are bright. Under the temporary guidance of Cliff Devine, clever bantamweight from last year's squad, Wallace's charges are fitting into their various weight limits. Wally Rusk, veteran heavy, has reported for the light-heavy berth left vacant by Art Levy. Ote Theis, giant football guard, is assured the heavy-weight place due to the movement of Rusk to the lighter division.

Ures Enters
Wallace is well fortified in the middleweight division with Nick Ures, Nevada state middleweight champion having a slight edge over Stovall and Austin, newcomers to the squad.

Due to the ineligibility of Jim Olivas, captain-elect of the squad, Spud Harris, popular welter, is providing the high spot of the squad. Harris, a newcomer to the Nevada boxing realm, is a fast, clever welter, and from all reports carries a dynamic punch in both hands.

Horton Works Out
Joe Horton, pride of Battle Mountain, and veteran featherweight, has been working out in the lightweight division, taking the place left by John Winters, southpaw ace, who ible, which should have given the race, and the meet, to Nevada. Martie's chief grievance was not in the fact that Gilmartin was declared ineligible, but in the fact that the San Jose officials failed to inform the Nevada coaching staff of this until the eve of departure for the game.

The Nevada coach described the San Jose telegram as "rather belated," in view of the fact that it came at that time. "Technically," Martie said, "Gilmartin is ineligible. But in my opinion, it was very petty of the San Jose officials to reveal the fruits of their researches at this late date."

Gilmartin was to have entered his fourth year of varsity competition in the San Jose game tonight, and was Martie's first string center. In pre-season games so far this winter, the "Goon" had been the main cog in the Wolf defense, as well as being one of the strongest men defensively to be seen on the local hardwood in many years.

Discussed in the Nevada State Journal recently as "One of the coolest and smartest cagers ever to perform on the hill," the rangy center acted as a constant inspiration to his teammates. He was regarded as invaluable to the team in critical games, was a dead-eye shot, and a fast and accurate passer. Around him was centered the whole of Martie's offense, and with this man out of the game, Wolf chances for a win in the coming series are dimmed.

Last year, his third on the Pack, he captained the team through a successful season. Gilmartin learned the art of basket shooting under the tutelage of both Chet Scranton and Bill Martin in Sparks high school, and "made good" from his first appearance on the University court, when he acted as a substitute for Bozo Watson, who was captain that year.

Basketball is only one of the sports from which Gilmartin will be barred this year. Nevada fans were counting on his prowess on the cinder path to no small extent. Holding the University high jump record with a leap of 6 ft. 2 1/4 inches, he runs a mean 100-yard dash, and can be counted on for points in both the hurdles and broad jump. He is also a member of the relay team which holds the Nevada mile record.

What effect, if any, Martie's attitude will have on the grid game

Wolf Pack hoop ranks were hit heavily this week with a mild epidemic of chicken pox threatening the whole squad, and John Griffin receiving an ankle injury which may keep him out for the rest of the season.

BLEDSOE, star forward, was the only member actually hit by chicken pox, but his loss in the San Jose game will be felt in a large way.

With these two men out of the lineup, and San Jose putting forth her strongest squad in two years, the series seems in a fair way to be written in the red on the Nevada side of the ledger.

THE GAME, however, cannot be taken as a real indication of Nevada's strength, because the Griffin and Bledsoe losses caused Martie to do much shifting of positions among the members of the Pack, and with new men in the holes, the Pack cannot be expected to function very smoothly.

Nevada's one ray of hope lies in the forecast that Lombardi and Freitag may—just MAY—start clicking. If they hit on all eight these two flashy forwards might pull the game out of the fat.

IF SAN JOSE makes use of the new gymnasium, then Nevada's chances will be even better. The old gymnasium does not show much in the way of illumination, with one light in the whole court, and that over one of the baskets. The new gym is a nice structure, and has adequate facilities, but may not be ready for the Pack invasion.

The Pack will open its home conference series next week-end scheduled with San Jose for next fall, was not known today. If athletic relations suffer a total break, it is believed the game will be cancelled and another contest with some other team secured in its stead.

against Chico State, when the Teachers will bring a strong squad to Reno for a two game series. Having dropped one contest to the strong Oregon State by the slim margin of one point, Chico will be set to clean up on the Pack, and Martie's men will have to show everything they have to come out with a win.

Dick Wallace's boxing squad received its final cut Wednesday night leaving a good looking stable for the coach to work with in preparation for the either Cal. or University of San Francisco on January 20.

Men left on the squad after the cut look good enough to better last season's record, and this is saying much. Ole Theis shows up well as a candidate for the heavyweight division. Leading the light-heavys is Wally Rusk, last year's regular heavy, who has shown a big development. Other light-heavys who show well are Stowell, new, but good, and LaMarsna, who once fought at Stamford.

Nick Ures and Ken Austin will battle it out in practice for the middleweight division. Both show much promise, with Ures having the edge in experience. Austin has shown development during the past week. Spud Harris, who will make his debut to Nevada fans in the welterweight division, has a big reputation, and lives up to it even better than was expected. Harris should put most of his opponents away easily.

Joe Horton, who fought lightweight last year, is back in the squared circle this year with a dash of speed and a heavier punch which should rank him well up there when the season gets under way.

Battling Cliff Devine steps high in the bantamweight class and is going to give his opponents plenty of tough evenings, as he did last year. He gave Cal's Pacific Coast champion a run for his fight, and looks much better, having a few more battle under his belt during the summer. The Bat is active captain in the absence of Punchy Olivas, who at last word, has definitely been declared ineligible.

In the ranks of the featherweights Hawkins is the only one who looks good enough at the present time to warrant much consideration. Unless Wallace can spring something, pickings will be lean in this division during the coming season.

Harvey Dickerson Picks Men With Help of School Coaches

Certificates of recognition as members of the University of Nevada Sagebrush mythical All-State football team were sent out early this week to eleven outstanding high school grid warriors.

Of a size suitable for framing, the certificates bear the recipient's name and are signed by Harvey Dickerson, former sports editor of the Sagebrush, who picked the team, and by Harvey Dondero, editor of the paper.

It is an annual custom of the Sagebrush to place eleven men, representing the best football players in the state high school league, on a mythical team.

In selecting men for the All-State team three requisites were considered. 1—All-around ability; 2—Consistency, and 3—Morale. Dickerson, when choosing the team, consulted with the coaches of the different high schools. In view of their opinion, together with his own analysis, he chose the following men and they will receive the certificates:

- Left End.....Phillips, Reno
- Left Tackle.....Aizzi, Yerington
- Left Guard.....MacLean, Reno
- Center.....Pirtle, Reno
- Right Guard.....Davis, Ely
- Right Tackle.....Brown, Las Vegas
- Right End.....Steele, Stewart
- Quarterback.....Denison, Reno
- Halfback.....Beatty, Las Vegas

Freitag Coaches Goof Hoop Squad

Schedule Will Include Two Trips to California Cities

Under the guidance of Oscar Freitag, varsity basketball forward, the University of Nevada goes basketball quintet, started regular practice Monday.

Freitag has a squad of over 15 men, which includes many former frosh, junior college and prep stars.

The goof schedule has not been drawn up, but efforts are being made to schedule the usual games with Susanville, Westwood, and some Nevada high school quintets. These games are to be played besides the regular series with the frosh and participation in the City League.

Several members of last year's gools graduated to the varsity this season, notably Speed Weaver, Roy and Bob Bankofier, and former coach Ellsworth Paragworth.

Members Told

Those men who have been working out for the first string berths are: Walt Clark, Ken Johnson, Lee Priest, Buzz Madsen, Seib Caldwell, and Fred Spears, forwards; Earl Seaborn, White, and Swede Johnson, centers; Lowell Hutchman, Davis, Les Tomley, Bill Beemer, Oliver Seamore, and Lee Weathers, guards.

Intramural Sports Undergo Changes

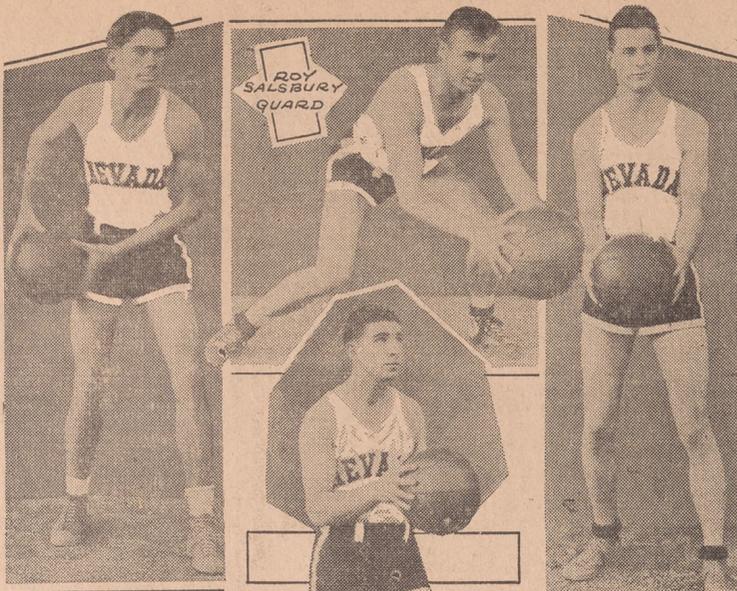

Old System of Fraternity Teams to be Replaced by Groups

Intramural sports for this semester will undergo various changes before the inter-fraternity sports are under way this spring. There will be no fraternity teams in basketball or handball, and only those men sufficiently interested in the sports themselves are to come out for group competition.

J. E. "Doc" Martie feels that when fraternities are left to build their own teams they do not enter with the proper attitude and are very lax in their attempts. Consequently, according to Martie, the spirit in the games is considerably lessened. This new system of interfraternity sports will be only a trial and developments will be watched.

Martie expects to start basketball and handball next week. An exhibition team in gymnastics is being considered by the Physical Educa-

TO DEFEND NEVADA'S HONOR

Defending Nevada's honor on the basketball court, these four stalwarts are set for the fray with San Jose State Teachers College in San Jose tonight. Bledsoe, because of a recent illness, will not be in the starting lineup, but the others should make things hot for the teachers.

THE "LOM"

Yearlings Will Play Virginia City

Scranton to Take Team of Experienced Players to Hills

Tonight Chet Scranton will take his Frosh hoopers to Virginia City to play basketball with the high school squad.

The squad has not been cut as yet, but playing has been more or less confined to those with more experience. Those who will start the game tonight are Gould at center; Ole Glusovich and Bob Leighton, forwards; Harold Curran, right guard; with the other guard position a toss-up between Gene Salet, Earl Elliot, and Jim Ronnow. Don Atcheson, Ebe Dolan, Monty Boland and McElroy will be reserve forward material.

The boys from Virginia City registered a win from Yerington, but lost to Reno High last week-end. The coach from Virginia City reports that he has his big guards back for the game, and that the frosh will have to play basketball to win. These guards did not play in any of Virginia's previous games.

Plans Started for Next Desert Wolf

A two-color cover will be used to encase the harrowing adventures of Little Nell, Redskins biting the dust, and Two-Gun Pete robbing the stage in the forthcoming issue of the Desert Wolf, which is due the latter part of February.

This is the third edition of the campus magazine, and will be a western number, says Editor Wm. Herbert, although definite material and not been collected. Besides the longer stories, it will contain the usual amount of short subjects and jokes from contemporary publications.

Neil Austin spent the holidays in Lovelock.

Athlete Insurance Being Advocated

Editor of "College Humor" Urges Protection For Players

College Humor carries the following article advocating insurance for the college athlete, the same as business institutions insure their workmen against injury and death:

"Present day football has shown us that the successful coach (meaning one who wins games and fills stadiums)," says H. N. Swanson, editor, in the February College Humor, "will be known hereafter not as a mentor who believes in sports and build a man's body and mind, but as a crafty stage director who drives his men and sacrifices them whenever scoring is at stake. The successful coach (still meaning the best showman) will urge his men to play hard and dangerously. The public loves a fast running attack, with plenty of spectacular tackling and spills. More men will be hurt and permanently crippled. Literally, it will be dying for dear old Goofus.

"Games of this sort cause the outside public to lift the burden of higher education. For the price of a cheap theatre ticket the dear old public is, knowingly or not, doing a great service. And that's fine. But I say that since the players of football, basketball, hockey, and other sports are so important to the school, the school should—do something about them. Business institutions are required by law to insure workers against injury or death. I feel there should be a state law, requiring every school to take out compensation insurance for all players, except in intra-mural sports. In case a can is injured, a certain sum should go to him until he recovers—no matter if he leaves school. Today's undergraduate doesn't ask that his expenses be paid or his academic way be made easy. But he is entitled to the assurance that if he does get a shattered knee or broken collar bone, his future will be protected. I am certain the schools will need no laws to force them to this. As business institutions they cannot help seeing its worth."
