

Education Offers Leadership Course

Y.W.C.A. Secretary Instructs Class In Fundamentals Of Girl Groups

A girl leadership course is being offered by the School of Education this year for women interested in the study of girl groups. Mrs. Esther Lough, secretary of the Reno Y.W.C.A. and a social service worker for a number of years, is instructing the course. Although girl leadership has been offered before, this year's course takes up the fundamentals rather than the technicalities of leadership work.

The course has its background in the national and international program of girl groups: Girl Reserves, Campfire Girls, and Girl Scouts. The girl in this community, the relation between the girl and the leader, physiology, and psychology are included in the work of leadership. Games, nature craft, handicraft and first aid are also to be taken up in the class work. The course has another purpose of training women for camp and playground work.

Eighteen university women and seven Reno women are enrolled in the course and will demonstrate the work in actual contact with girls groups in Reno.

Y.M.C.A. Head Will Study Recreations Of Hill Students

February 22 has been set aside by the Federated Church in Reno as "University Day." The University Glee Club has been invited to take part in the program of the day, and the Campus Club of the church is holding a banquet at which Hugh Landram, regional commander of the Y.M.C.A., is to be guest speaker. Mr. Landram will also speak at the evening services of the church. His purpose in coming to Reno is to investigate student activities at the University of Nevada.

Greatly interested in student welfare Mr. Landram will interview several of the leading men and women on the campus to sum up Nevada's activities and recreations. Several talks will be given by him while he is in Reno.

P.E. Minors Receive Mills College Books

All of the girls who are taking a minor in physical education have received a bulletin from Mills College on the Field Hockey and Sports Camp, June 27-July 26, 1931.

This bulletin states the purpose of the camp, the admission requirements, etc. The courses given for credit are listed. The curriculum includes courses in archery, basketball, volley ball, field hockey, tennis, swimming, golf, canoeing, equitation, tumbling, dancing, camp leadership, and teaching the above named sports. A very interesting daily camp program is given.

Any girls who are interested in it and who did not receive such a bulletin can secure the information at the physical education department.

Cap and Scroll to Aid In W.A.A. Convention

Cap and Scroll, honorary society for upperclass women, held its regular monthly meeting and dinner at the Colombo last night.

A discussion followed on the part Cap and Scroll would take in the W.A.A. convention to be held on the campus in April. President Gwendolyn Pierson will appoint a committee to handle arrangements for a dinner at which members of the society will be hostesses to the convention delegates.

Women's Rifle Team Loses To So. Dakota

and was defeated by a score of 490 to 472. This week the club will shoot a match with Carnegie Tech.

In several weeks a varsity team of only five women will be chosen, because of the small number who turned out for it. The chosen girls will be given rifle No. 1 and will be entitled to purchase a rifle pin.

President Walter E. Clark left Wednesday to spend the week-end in San Francisco.

Big Break for Dreamers Hit; Bubble Bursts

Pleasant dreams of fabulous salaries, little work, and constant association with beautiful women, faded abruptly when the law took a hand and placed "Billy" Murray, self-styled musical comedy promoter, behind the bars awaiting California authorities. Two of the hardest hit dreamers were "Bushy" Graham and Elmer Mayden. Saturday was the day of awakening. Mayden had been signed up for $80 per week and Graham for $50. The only work to be required of these two terpsichorean artists in the coming musical extravaganza was sitting around and watching chorus girls go through their paces.

Pretty dancers crowded the office of this "big-time" promoter every day begging for a chance to appear before the footlights. Mayden and Graham waxed more enthusiastic hourly. Big things were planned, including different tours of the state.

Then came the crash. A portly gentleman with the proverbial cigar and faded walked into the office Saturday morning. His statement that Murray wasn't the promoter that he claimed to be and that the police in California wanted him for other schemes that bore a striking resemblance to the one he was working on here in Reno, broke the bubble on which Graham and Mayden had been floating.

The boys may still see their names in electric signs on Broadway, but it will decidedly not be under the tutelage of Mr. Murray.

Trips Are Planned For Women's Meet Held This Spring

Two trips, one to the W.A.A. lodge and one to Virginia City, has recently been added to the tentative program of the Women's Western Conference to be held at the University of Nevada this spring.

The trip to the Galena creek lodge will be in charge of Helen Peterson, while Marjorie Blewett is chairman of the committee arranging the trip to Virginia City.

Ideas for souvenirs for the visitors have been plentifully submitted. Among these ideas are: A handbook from "Roughing It," by Mark Twain, a hand book on Virginia City, and pamphlets on Reno from the Chamber of Commerce.

Saddle and Spurs To Soon Commence

According to Marlon Nichols, Saddle and Spurs manager, horseback riding will commence soon this semester, and probably after the rifle and basketball season. This sport was very successful last semester and it is hoped that more women will go out for it this season. Women interested in this sport will watch bulletin board for further announcements.

Flu Epidemic Subsides

Since the hospital has had the quarantine removed, there have been no patients confined to the hospital. The doctor is treating several cases each day at his office in the hospital, but reports that the flu epidemic has subsided to a great extent. He has issued a warning to the students to take immediate care of their colds.

Archery Season Starts Soon

Archery, the last sport for women of this year, will probably start about March 16 under the management of Ellen Olsen.

Class Games Called For Women Hoopsters

Frosh Doped Out As Winners When They Meet Sophs In Tourney Finals

This week class games are being played off in the women's basketball tournament. So far the freshmen are doped out to be the winners, with Nell Lozano as their captain. The upperclassmen, headed by Matilda Belmont, were defeated Tuesday afternoon in a tilt with the freshmen. Doris Shaver is the sophomore captain, and so far this team has been considered a dark horse, with good possibilities in the runner up which will be held Friday afternoon.

The big event of the women's sport season for basketball and rifle is the big feed which was held February 19 at the Century Club. The price was 75 cents for all who had signed up for either one of these two sports.

Old Artemisia Bill Settlements Asked

Organization accounts with the 1930 Artemisia must be cleared up on or before the 1st of March in order to establish credit with this year's annual and to enable last year's staff to pay off the debt owed on the book, according to Fritz Wilson, manager. If settlements are not made by the above date a panel of the organization will not be run, as there is no assurance that payment will be made on that. To date, the following organizations have not yet paid:

- Men's Glee Club
- Mask and Dagger
- Nu Phi Nu
- Clonia
- Square and Compass
- Sundowners
- Cosmopolitan Club
- Sigma Gamma Epsilon
- Normal Club
- Block N

Basketball Dinner Given This Week

Amy Yarrington presided as toast-mistress for the women's basketball and rifle dinner given at the Century Club Thursday night, February 19, at 6 o'clock.

Each class team composed a W.A.A. song to a popular tune and presented it. These will probably be added to the W.A.A. song book. The dinner was open to any women who have been out for basketball or rifle. The presidents of the basketball class teams are: Upperclass team, Matilda Belmont; sophomore team, Doris Shaver; freshman team, Nell Lozano. The captain of the rifle team is Amy Yarrington.

Hoover Dam is Lecture Subject

Series of Five Discussions Are Held Before Students During Semester

A series of five discussions about the Hoover Dam, commonly known as the Boulder Dam, will be presented by the University of Nevada Faculty Science Club during the remainder of the present semester.

Geologist First
Alfred M. Smith, class of 1900, who is the geologist for the Southern Pacific railroad, will lead the first discussion, on February 26, with a detailed report upon the flooding of the Imperial Valley during Roosevelt's administration, and will stress the necessity for the construction of the Hoover Dam. He will also discuss the effect the dam will have on the Colorado river.

Dr. J. C. Jones of the geology department of the University of Nevada, will explain the geology in the vicinity of the dam.

On March 12, Professor H. P. Boardman, head of the Civil Engineering department, will lead the discussion, and will present the big problems of construction and outline the methods to be pursued. S. G. Palmer, head of the electrical department, will speak on the installation for and the generation of hydroelectric power from the dam.

Creel to Speak
The benefits to agriculture, which will be derived from the dam, will be discussed by Cecil W. Creel, director of the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Nevada, on March 26. John A. Fulton, director of the Mackay School of Mines, will speak on the benefits to Nevada industries from the low cost of electric power.

George W. Malone, state engineer for Nevada, will explain, on April 9, the political problems connected with the project as a whole.

These discussions will take place at the meetings of the Faculty Science Club on every second Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and those interested in hearing the discussions on the problems of the Hoover dam are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

Baby Son is Born to Former Nevada Gold Medal Student

A son was born to Lieutenant and Mrs. William Organ of San Diego, California. Mrs. Organ was formerly Miss Alice L. Norcross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Norcross of Reno, and a Pi Beta Phi at the University, graduating in 1925 as the gold medal honor student.

Cahlan, '20, Visits Campus

A. E. Cahlan, graduate of the University of Nevada with the class of 1920 and former business manager of the Sagebrush, spent the day in Reno last Tuesday.

As State Commander of the American Legion, he addressed a gathering of the Reno Post of the Legion on Tuesday evening.

Press Ball Notice

Bids to the Press Ball, formerly the Mardi Gras, which will be held next Saturday night, February 28, will be given out to all staff members of the three publications and the News Bureau next Tuesday afternoon, February 24, at the Sagebrush office, between the hours of 1:30 and 4.

All members of the staffs are requested to call at that time for the bids. Students who are working on more than one of the publications will receive one bid for all. Bids are not transferable and must be presented at the door for entrance.
