

Successful Homecoming Program Draws to Close in Blaze of Glory

Homecoming Fiesta Rated Among Most Colorful Ever Held

Program Combined for Great Celebration as Many
Grads Return

Wolf Pack Furnishes Big Thrill by Troucing Fresno's Bulldogs

With a mouting onrush of enthusiasm that reached its highest peak Saturday afternoon, when Nevada's dark horse gridiron eleven snatched an easy game from the Fresno Bulldogs, the 13th annual Homecoming celebration reached a satisfying finish Saturday evening as the last strains of music at the Hard-times dance died away.

That the celebration was a decided success and one of the most colorful and interesting in the history of Nevada's reunions, there is little doubt in the minds of anyone, as hundreds of graduates and former students gathered to celebrate the yearly event.

Rally Opens Celebration
Opening with the rally Thursday evening, the celebration began with a bang and whirl, which the obliging wind made literally true. Attempts to arouse a cheering spirit in the face of the wind that blew a 60-mile an hour gale and generously pelted the onlookers with cinders and sand, were somewhat difficult. It was cold also—so cold that many persons were seen to abandon the stone bleachers and huddle around the blazing, blowing bonfire, or climb into cars that encircled the field.

The leaping flames sent out huge funnels of black smoke that rolled on to the field and seemingly formed a long procession of faintly outlined figures, that softly blotted out in the distance—symbolizing the return of Nevada's loyal grads.

Exhibits Opened
The program got well under way Friday morning with the opening of exhibits in the home economics and engineering departments at 10 o'clock. The frosh-soph tug-o-war had to be postponed because of the lack of men and the failure of the frosh to put in an appearance.

Parade Colorful
A gigantic parade, one of the most colorful ever staged in the history of the University, started its line of march at 1 o'clock, proceeding up Virginia street to the old Hatch building, and from there to Mackay field.

Prizes Awarded
Proceeding to the University campus, the parade marched onto Mackay field where the winning floats were chosen and prizes awarded them.

Classes Continue
Admission Day
Classes will be held as usual Saturday morning, October 31, president Clark announced last week. Although it is Admission Day, Governor Balzar has not officially proclaimed it a state holiday this year, and the University is not authorized to observe it as such by discontinuing regular work.

President Clark stated that without official proclamation or legislative enactment the University, as a state institution, cannot act in the observance of any date as a holiday.

'FLU' EPIDEMIC THREATENS, BUT TURNS TO COLDS

A rumored "flu" epidemic here has been nothing more than a series of colds with mild sore throats, lasting, in all, about ten days and being practically over now, according to Mrs. Ethel Shurtleff, nurse at the infirmary. Since school started this year there have been fewer hospitalizations than at the same time in former years, and university students have been much more farsighted about treating their troubles before they become serious. Although few were confined to the hospital on account of colds many came for treatment and this precaution may have been the means of averting the epidemic that is usual at this season of the year.

Few Contributions
Made to Haseman
Memorial So Far
Plans for Monument Must be Changed if Donations
Do not Increase

Initial contributions to the Haseman Memorial fund has fallen far below the expectations of the committee, Chairman Phil Dayer said. "The only explanation of this tardiness is that it is near the end of the month. However, I sincerely hope that better spirit will come early next month."

$1500 Necessary
The sum of $1500 is the goal, and it must be had if an appropriate monument is to be erected. If it is not raised a cheaper, less suitable and less beautiful memorial will have to be substituted for the fine stone bench and sun dial suggested by the committee.

400 Foreign Books
Donated to the U.
Library by Friend
Four hundred volumes, including 177 books in French and 214 in German, with a few volumes in Italian and English, have been donated to the university library by Mrs. Lydia C. Flower, who lived in Reno throughout the earlier part of this last year.

Farnsworth Visits Campus
Ralph "Buck" Farnsworth, '28, who is a chemist with the Standard Oil Company of Richmond, and Charles Boyd, '24, who is with the Bell Telephone Company in Fresno, were guests of the Phi Sigma Kappa house last week end.

Army Builds Citizenship
With reference to the value of military training in the country, Colonel Brambila said, "No means has been so uniformly successful in the unbuilding of American citizenship as military education in our educational institutions, and, in addition, it enables a latent interest in our ideals of liberty, union, justice, peace, and common defense to be made active."

Freshman Girl Has Highest Average In Intelligence Test

Score of 134 Shows Decrease of Five Points from Last Average

22 Students Ranked in Upper Tenth; Seven Hail from Reno High School

Sarah Graves, a freshman from a Fresno high school, scored highest among the freshmen in the intelligence tests given September 22 and 24 in the Orientation classes.

In reality, the highest score was achieved by Robert Downer of Alhambra, California, who averaged 276 points which is the highest score reached in the last four years.

Students who ranked in the upper tenth and whose averages range from 200 to 276 points are as follows:

Sarah Graves, Fresno; Robert Downer, Alhambra, Calif.; J. W. Bennett, Reno; Richard Clewett, Yerington; Ruby Bliss, Sparks; V. Clyde, Carson; M. Clark, Reno; P. B. Priest, Yerington; E. J. Kneebone, Grass Valley; F. Leonard, White Pine; A. B. Mason, Reno; G. D. McQuerry, Reno; P. O'Connell, Ely; G. Semenza, Reno; R. St. Clair, Elko; B. C. Walker, Ely; M. English, Los Gatos; F. Frank, Reno; R. Frolich, Reno; M. Gibson, Las Vegas; L. E. Gundelach, Montello; D. Haight, Sparks.

The purpose of the tests is to determine the average intelligence of the college student.

That the class of 1935, as a group, has a lower intelligence quotient than that of freshman classes for several years was indicated this week when E. A. Irwin, assistant professor of psychology, announced the results of the 1931 tests for new students.

The median score of the freshman group as a whole is 134 points this year, with a range from 30 as the lowest to 276 for the highest individual scores. The engineer group has a median score of 138, the home economics girls a score of 162 1/2 points, and the normal school registers a median of 112 points, this last lower because of a smaller group. The arts and science men and women show an equal score of 132 1/2.

R.O.T.C. CORPS TO TAKE PART DURING PARADE

Despite considerable reduction in the number of cadets because of the many expecting to attend the California-Nevada football game, the R.O.T.C. of the University of Nevada will take part in the Admission Day parade on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Nevada students will be included in the first division of the parade, of which there will be eight divisions in all. Beginning at Chestnut street, the parade will continue for one hour and a half through the entire business district of the city, then across the Virginia street bridge to the court house and the reviewing stand.

In the parade will be represented the public schools of Reno and Sparks, and the business organizations of the city, as well as many nationalities, including English, Irish, French, Italian, Chinese, Japanese, and others.

Alumni Re-elect All Officers For The Coming Year

Resolution Endorsing Action of Executive Committee Made at Meeting

The alumni demonstrated their approval of their last year's executive committee by reelecting all the officers and members by a unanimous vote. This action took place at the alumni dance in the Elks building Saturday night which concluded the Homecoming activities. Joe McDonald is again president of the alumni association. Earl T. Ross is reinstated as vice president and Mrs. Louise Lewers of Reno is secretary-treasurer. M. E. Jepson, Prof. J. A. Carpenter, Leslie Johnson, all of Reno, Proctor Hug of Sparks, F. N. Dondero of Carson, and Chris Sheehan of Elko, were reelected as members of the executive committee.

At this meeting a resolution was presented by P. A. McCarran, chairman of the committee named by the executive committee to investigate the football situation, to commend the action of the university directors in the dismissal of the three football players for breaking training rules. The resolution was endorsed by the unanimous vote of the alumni. The same alumni committee that acted in this matter intends to cooperate with the university as an advisory board concerning the policies to be pursued in Nevada athletics and other activities.

Short talks were made at the meeting by the old-time football players who were greatly pleased with the showing of the Wolf Pack against Fresno, not only in touchdowns but in spirit. President Clark spoke on the present day student body activities.

Movements Shown On Seismograph As Six Quakes Recorded

Earthquakes kept the seismograph at the Mackay School of Mines on the jump last Friday night and Saturday morning until five or six tremors had been recorded.

Late Friday night the first one came in and from then until the next morning one shock chased the other across the record sheet, stopping after about six quakes had been recorded.

Dr. J. Claude Jones announced that as yet he had not succeeded in untangling their interwoven tracks, or in calculating their exact position. He said, however, that the quakes were distant ones, probably five or six thousand.

Nevada evinced throughout the game a high standard of spirit, both in the grandstand and on the field. And never before, said one authority, were more hot dogs and popsicles consumed. Nevada won, 31-13.

The celebration closed with two very successful dances Saturday night, one an alumni affair at the Elks Home on First street, and the other a hard-times dance in the gymnasium at the University.

A committee consisting of Dr. J. E. Church, Dr. Peter Frandsen, Coy. Robert Brambila, A. M. Smith, Prof. S. B. Doten, John A. Fulton and Carl Stoddard was on hand to greet the returning alumni. The Homecoming Day committee, which was greatly respons-

Freshmen Advisors Plan Activities

Freshmen Women to Meet for Purpose of Learning Traditions

At the first meetings of the four groups formed by the freshman commission, which was introduced to the campus by Mrs. Mae Simas and the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, future plans for the orientation of freshmen women were introduced by the four sponsors: Mary Alice Loomis, Helene Turner, Beatrice Patterson, and Jean Hughes.

One advisor has planned a question box to which the freshmen women will contribute so that various topics such as correct campus clothes, dates, traditions, activities, and organizations may be introduced to the group in the form of questions and answers.

Another advisor has appointed a committee of freshmen women to find out what the group is interested in and to report on the subject at the next meeting.

These groups, which meet once a week, consist of about twenty first-year women and an advisor appointed by Margaret Walts, A. W. S. president.

The freshman commission plan is used extensively by many eastern universities where the enrollments are very large. The women meet in small groups throughout the year, the groups meeting in a body at times specified by the freshman commission.

EIGHT PLAYERS WIN LETTERS IN FOOTBALL

Eight Wolf Pack members have definitely earned their football letters so far this year.

Having played the required 65 minutes of action on the field these eight men have remitted their block Ns: Theis, Turner, Mohorovich, Rampoldi, Harvey Hill, Keats, Jack Hill, and Parsons. It was announced this week by Graduate Manager Hartung.

The first two letter games, and those in which the men earned their letters were the Brigham Young U. and the Fresno State games. Other members of the Pack are expected to win their letters in the forthcoming University of California and University of San Francisco games.

Conducting a contest among college students, "The Thinker" announces that the subject will be "What Do You Hope to Get Out of College?" The first prize will be $25, the winner of the second prize will receive $10, and two $5 awards will also be given.

Contributions of not longer than 500 words are to be mailed to the essay editor of "The Thinker" not later than November 15, and the best two will appear in the January issue of the magazine.

SWANS WILL BE GIVEN WINTER QUARTERS SOON

To prevent any decapitations or other brutalities on Manzanita lake this coming winter it has been deemed advisable by authorities to send its two occupants on their annual winter vacation. When the lake becomes a sheet of ice and adventurous souls begin to skim swiftly over its smooth surface, a sudden collision between a feathery bunch of dynamite and some sweet co-ed would hardly have beneficial results.

The two swans, seeking winter seclusion, have obtained passes to the University Experiment Station and will leave as soon as the weather gets a little cooler for a prolonged visit to their winter home.

Sunday morning in honor of their returning alumni. Those attending the breakfast were Gus Newman, '28; Sidney Robinson, '26; Clark Amens, '26; Harry Harper, '23; Bill Howard, '20, and Horace Bath, '29.

Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Return
Among the alumnae of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority who returned for the Homecoming celebration was Miss Clementine Shurtleff, '25, who has been teaching in a Sacramento school. Miss Mildred East, ex-'24, who is living in Ely, was a guest at the chapter house. Miss Louise Rawson, '31, returned to Reno from Ruby Valley, where she is teaching this year. Miss Maryemma Taylor, '30, of Carson City, was a visitor at the sorority house, and attended the annual banquet of the Publications Board, of which she was a member. Miss Lucie King, '31, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Frank Humphrey.

Baffling Objects Demonstrated In Engineer Exhibits

Homecoming Displays Feature Scientific Mysteries, Robot Wagon

Visitors See Voice Vibrations, Model Steam Engines, Equipment

Free radio service to the public was offered by the electrical engineers Saturday when the annual display of engineering equipment and machinery took place as a function of the Homecoming Day celebration. The mechanical engineering building was the scene of many of the modern day scientific mysteries, and the attendant were kept busy describing just how and why a person can see his voice, or how water can run out of an unattached faucet.

In the main part of the building, where most of the large equipment is located, several large steam engines were running. Among these was the model steam locomotive built several years ago by members of the school of mechanical engineers. It is an exact replica in every respect to the giant power plants now being used.

One of the most baffling exhibits was the "mysterious" faucet, a common water faucet suspended on a wire from the ceiling which despite the lack of pipe connections flowed clear cold water continuously.

In the electrical laboratory was a small black box to which was connected a set of common ear-phones. When the earphones were placed on the head a voice made comments as to what type of person the listener was, or as to the condition of the weather.

Robot Wagon Shows A small robot wagon which was run up and down the floor of one of the lecture rooms created a great deal of interest, as it was entirely controlled by radio-transmitted power. In this same room was a screen upon which a minute white line was visible. To this machine was connected a common telephone microphone, and if this microphone was talked into the vibrations of the voice were transmitted to the screen, and shown by the oscillations of the white line.

In the electrical laboratory were several attendants who attempted to explain the workings of various forms of gauges, voltmeters, tachometers, and transformers.

Clarence H. Mackay has presented a picture of Goldhill, painted in 1862, to the museum of the Mackay School of Mines. The picture has been framed and will be hung in the mining library. The old map of Nevada, printed in 1863, has also been framed and was hung in the museum a week ago last Monday. The map is one of the first ever made of Nevada.

To MEN only!

NO NEED to park a "Girls Keep Out" at the top of this advertisement. They'll shy off quick enough when they find out what it's about.

For it's a strictly masculine privilege—solace, satisfaction, retreat, call it what you will—the joy of smoking a pipe!

It's the smoke "for men only," any girl will agree—one of the few rights the women haven't crowded us on. And the only smoke for men, many a thoughtful smoker calls it. For the deep consolation and rare comradeship of a mellow, richly aged pipe are something every man does well to know.

And you taste the rich satisfaction of pipe smoking at its best when you fill up your bowl with Edgeworth. There's a tobacco that's made for a pipe. Cool, dry, slow-burning. Blended of fine, mellow, full-flavored burleys.

You've a rare smoke coming if you've never tried Edgeworth. You will find Edgeworth at your tobacco dealer's. Or send for special free sample packet if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Virginia.

DANCE ENDS HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

Amid corn stalks and straw, with an ancient wagon gracing one corner, students and alumni of the University participated in the informal Homecoming Day dance which annually marks the end of the Homecoming celebration.

An unusually large crowd dressed in informal old clothes, entered into the spirit of the affair with a will. Gymnasium paraphernalia and open doors served as coat racks and checking booths, and even the radiators and the wagon tongues held their quota of wraps and hats.

No difficulty was experienced in hearing the music in the far ends of the gym, because an especially large orchestra was secured for the occasion. The dance was held in the University gymnasium last Saturday night and was sponsored by the Homecoming Day committee.

Freshmen Tackle Fallon Tomorrow

Fighting mad over their humiliating defeat at the hands of the Reno high school Huskies last Saturday, the University of Nevada Wolf Cubs attack the Fallon Melon-Pickers tomorrow with the determination to put over a smashing victory.

Past victories over other Fallon high school elevens seem to point to a victory for the freshmen. However, Fallon has developed a strong team this year and may give the University yearlings a tough fight.

Going into intensive training this week to iron out the defects revealed by their defeat at the hands of the Huskies, Coach Chet Scranton's men have shown considerable improvement.

Harrison Gardner, graduate with the class of 1926, an S. A. E., has returned for Homecoming and has been visiting old friends and relatives.

A.T.O.s Lead in Inter-fraternity Hoop League

With the completion of the third week of intra-mural basketball today the Alpha Tau Omega aggregation still holds the favored first place in organization standings. The A.T.O.s eliminated one of the two undefeated teams last Friday when they took the S.A.E.s down the line to the tune of 29-7.

The Evans avenue men were excellent on defense, but the superior height and pass offense was too much for them, and the second half saw the Tau jump into a well deserved lead that the Sig Alphas could not overcome.

One of the biggest upsets of the tournament took place this week when the Lambda Chi organization outfought the much faster and cleverer Sigma Nu team to win a close decision 12-10. The Hilltop boys showed a much improved offense, and passing attack in this game, and should give the S.A.E.s a tough fight next week.

Sigma Nu Defeats S.A.E.

Punishment Given Ten Freshmen for Disobeying Rules

As the weather is now too cold for lankings, paddings were the form of punishment administered Friday noon to ten freshmen tradition breakers.

The ten men paddled were: R. Hannes, F. Hickly, C. Elkin, W. Crabtree, J. Clark, R. Clewett, C. Sanford, W. Kennedy, H. Brannels, and John Sienello.

ability demonstrated earlier in the season, and could not seem to hit the bucket when they did get the ball worked into Sigma Nu territory.

Delta Sigma Lambda scored the first basket in their game with the A.T.O.s, but could not hold their lead against the accurate shooting of the entire Tau team, and lost a 54 to 3 decision.

In sizing up the individual players so far outstanding in the tournament, it would appear that "Doc" J. E. Martie will have a wealth of new material for the Wolf Pack basketball varsity for the 1932 campaign.

Nevada Smashes Fresno Bulldogs By 31-13 Score

Hills Star in First Wolf Pack Win of 1931 Football Season

Revamped Team Takes Victory Before Large Crowd at Homecoming

In its first win of the season a smashing Wolf Pack swamped the Fresno State Teachers College eleven by a claim Nevada twelfth annual Homecoming score of 31 to 13 last Saturday to promising a success. The renovated team showed a fire and drive equal to the highest expectations of any of the 6000 fans who made up that most colorful Homecoming Day throng.

Nevada's powerful line, which deserves most of the credit for seeing that its opponents were held to small scores so far this season, outdid itself, few substantial gains were made against the Fresno Bulldogs, and very through this sector. For the first time in several games the varsity backfield clicked with bewildering accuracy. For clever running, Jack Hill shared honors with Harvey Hill, Neil Scott, and George Bloedel, while line smashers John Griffin, Milton Young, Hugh Towle, Bill Backer, and Galle Parsons garnered their share of yards for Nevada. Bloedel did the nicest bit of blocking seen in the local stadium for some time.

Coach Philbrook used two separate sets of backfield material during the first half, and started a freshened Pack in the third quarter, which chalked up three of Nevada's five touchdowns in that period. The other two scores were made in the second and last quarters. Fresno's two tallies were made in the fourth period after Philbrook had made several second and third string substitutions. Jack Hill, halfback, carried the ball over for three touchdowns, Harvey Hill scored once, and Towle, substituting for Hill, romped into the scoring turf once, opponents.

The one dampening incident of the game came in the fourth quarter when Ewing, Fresno guard, broke his ankle while making a tackle. He will not be able to play in any more games this season.

The statistics of the game show that Fresno gained 112 yards from scrimmage and lost 39, while Nevada gained a total of 404 and lost only 7 yards. Nevada attempted 11 passes, two of which were intercepted, and three of which were completed for a total gain of 79 yards. The Bulldogs completed four passes out of 18 tries for a total gain of 92 yards. The Nevada eleven returned the eight Fresno punts a total of 97 yards, and the Bulldogs returned the five Nevada punts 45 yards. Nevada punted an average of 34 yards per kick, while the Fresnoans out-punted the locals for an average of 42 yards per kick. The home team was penalized five times to lose 60 yards. The visitors were penalized four times to lose 25 yards. Nevada fumbled three times to lose the ball, while the Bulldogs fumbled only twice and recovered.

The bleachers, encouraged by the first Wolf Pack touchdown made by Harvey Hill when he skirted the Fresno end for a 23 yard gain over the goal line, showed the traditional Homecoming spirit by continued enthusiasm throughout the rest of the game.

Out of six attempts to score the extra point after touchdowns, the Wolf Pack converted once by a well executed place kick. Over-eagerness caused low kicks which failed to clear the goals in the other five attempts.

To date Nevada has scored 45 points to its opponents' 43. Jack Hill has accounted for four touchdowns and two conversions, Harvey Hill has crossed the opponents' goal line twice, and Hugh Towle has scored one touchdown.

Among those Nevada players who were put in the Homecoming game by Coach Philbrook at the close of the fourth period, Salet at end and Harris at right halfback, looked impressive on defense and should develop into valuable varsity material before the season closes.

Looking over the Sagebrush files for October 6, 1921, the Brush sports editor ran across an article stating that "Big Bill" Ingram was the star in the Pacific Coast Fleet's 14-13 win over the Wolf Pack. Ingram played a smashing game at fullback and made both points after touchdown, the margin of victory. In scoring Nevada's second touchdown Jimmy Bradshaw is accredited as having crawled through Ingram's legs for the final Nevada score.

Navy Bill Ingram is the present coach of the 1931 California Bear varsity and ten years after he played against Nevada, tomorrow, his charges are favored to take the Pack into camp, not by a lone conversion but by an overwhelming score. Nevada has other ideas as to the outcome of this contest.

In the 1921 season California beat Nevada 51 to 6.

Statistics released from the graduate manager's office at the University of California show that Nevada has scored 31 points in 32 years against the Golden Bear. With Coach Philbrook working up an offense built around speed, Nevada hopes to score against California tomorrow, alternating Harvey Hill, speedy halfback, and Neil Scott, fast running guard, on wide end runs. Scott and Hill, both good track men, are rated among the fastest men in football suits on the Coast.

Ken Austin, taking Levy's left-end position, demonstrated his fighting spirit in last Saturday's game by cutting out the Fresno interference, so that the Nevada secondary defense could stop the Bulldog rushes around his end.

Sigma Nus Take Second Place Honors by Dumping S. A. E.s

Prospective firemen are numerous in two of the organizations on the hill. The A.T.O.s and the Beta Kappas have the edge on other Greek letter organizations as far as horseshoe pitching is concerned. The tournament is in its third week and these two are the undefeated teams.

This week the A.T.O.s continued their string of wins by defeating the S.A.E. duet in two straight games. Bob Bankoffier and Keith Lee got off to an early start and were never headed in these games.

The Beta Kappa aggregation played S.A.E., Stray Greeks and the Sigma Nus this week and registered wins over all three. In the S.A.E. meet the score was 2 all and in the third and deciding game the count was 20-18 in favor of the Sig Alphas, when one of the B. K. pitchers showed his cool headedness by placing a ringer on to take the game and the meet.

Interest is high among certain faculty members as to which organization team will come out in front, as they have challenged the winner of the tournament to a match to decide the championship of the University.

Sam Arentz First Man Across Tape Homecoming Race

Sigma Phi Sigma Winners of Long Trek with First Men Across

Sam Arentz, running for the Lambda Chis, won the annual Homecoming day cross country run when he broke the tape in 25 minutes and 44 seconds. He was led by Linder of Susanville, who was running to get in trim for the Olympic games next year.

The winning team was the Lincoln Hall boys but they were not eligible to receive the cup that was given by the inter-fraternity council. The Sigma Phi Sigma team, who were the defending champs, again finished first by placing Sheehan, Smalley and Chevez over the finishing line before any other fraternity had three men over it. The A. T. O.s came second with the Lambda Chis and Sigma Nus also having a team finish.

Mahoney and Hart Make Visit

Peter Mahoney, '24, who, at the present time is residing in Salinas, California, and Jeff Hart, '03, who has mining interests in Tonopah, attended the Homecoming celebration.

Nevada Team Has 2 More Games on Mackay Gridiron

San Jose State and University of San Francisco Remain on Home Schedule

Still remaining on the Wolf Pack schedule are two more home games. The first of these is with San Jose State, November 7, and the other with the University of San Francisco two weeks later, on November 21.

Nevada should have an edge on San Jose State, who is at the bottom of the Conference standing. They have failed to score a Conference win so far this season, so that the Wolf Pack becomes the favorite in at least one game for the season.

S. F. U. Last Game

San Francisco University has shown everything to be desired; however, at the present time they have 13 injured men on the squad who will be out of this week's game, but should be ready for duty by the time the team comes to Reno.

Reno High School Defeats Frosh In Annual Grid Tilt

Catching the entire University of Nevada freshman eleven asleep on their feet on the opening kickoff, "Spot" Ayers, fleet-footed Reno high school Huskie halfback, ran 80 yards to a touchdown and a 7 to 6 victory for the Red and Blue eleven.

Following the opening score with a conversion with Pearcy carrying the ball through the center of the "powerful" freshman line, the Huskies completed their victory over the Baby Wolves.

The University yearlings managed to smash through for a score in the last quarter, when Hart, halfback, drove through center for a five yard gain. Their attempt to tie the score with a conversion failed. With the failure went their hopes at an undefeated season.

Harvey Hill, the freshman sensation of the 1931 Nevada grid team, literally crawled to a touchdown in the second quarter of the game with Fresno State last Saturday, demonstrating his ability to stick to his job.

Not So Many Going

Rock bottom was indicated to have been reached in the University depression situation when a mere handful of student had signified their intentions of attending the Cal-Nevada game this morning.

Whether the present situation is due to the general depression or to lack of enthusiasm and boosting, cannot be determined. If the former is the case, economists would surely declare it to be the crisis at which no lower depths could be reached.

That the arrangements were entirely out of the hands of the students is a plausible reason for the poor show of interest. The usual ack of initiative on the part of individuals has again been demonstrated, and it is fully proved that they can accomplish nothing without able leadership.

Beat California

A revamped Wolf Pack, fresh from the kill of last week, meets the Golden Bear tomorrow. Nevada is not going down for the express purpose of holding the mighty Ingram men to a close score, Nevada is going to Berkeley to win.

Only once since American football replaced rugby has Nevada even tied the mighty Californians. Only once since that tie has Nevada even come close. Both of these times Nevada claimed a moral victory. Tomorrow, the Pack will not have to claim a moral victory.

The team is hot to go. Every man on the squad is hungry for Bear meat. Every student in the school is equally anxious to chew on the hide of the Bear.

The Pack will not be cheered on by a thousand rooters in the flesh. Only about a hundred students will be able to sit in the stadium to cheer their team on to victory. But all the rest will sit by the radio and will send their unvoiced prayer for victory.

And the Spirit of Nevada will be there, too. It will take a great team to beat California. Nevada is that great team.

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

To everyone who helped in any way with the production of the Wolves Frolic, we extend our sincere and most grateful thanks—small payment, perhaps; but we hope that the satisfaction gained from a job well done will serve to make up the difference.

The splendid cooperation we received, usually without even asking for it, was especially gratifying. When approximately 150 members of the A.S.U.N. are willing to give unstintingly of their time and effort to achieve a common goal, we cannot believe that the traditional Nevada spirit is on the wane or that such effort is wasted.

May all of your "delinks" be forgiven!

ANYTHING THAT'S RIGHT

That animals are more attentive than humans, is the decision recently arrived at by A. L. Higginbotham of the journalism department. The important zoological and psychological fact was reached yesterday morning when a small white fox terrier attended a class in news editing.

Hansen has turned green-pea artist, and stepped out on the Adamson son and heir with so beautiful a finesse that it is the cause of much speculation as to why the young lady does not turn to bridge for a living instead of going to school.

Adamson has had a lot of tough luck lately, but you can't keep a good man down, and he will undoubtedly be back among the best of them before long. And for Miss Hansen, it is wondered who the next victim will be to fall before those gorgeous eyes, etc.

THIS WEEK'S WHAT-A-MAN

While several other campus celebrities broke forth with startling contributions this week. They were all overshadowed by Cliff "The Bat" Devine, who did nothing whatever except run the Homecoming dance.

Devine, who has cleaned up on everybody but Joe Lang and the Cal bantamweight in intercollegiate boxing circles, might have gone through the season undefeated this year, only there will be no boxing team.

In addition to being handy with his mitts, Devine is a fine debater, the only Forensic clash he is known to have lost being a telephone conversation. This last came Saturday when he was unable to talk Mildred Easta into going out with him after it had been rumored that she made the long trip in from Ely for the express purpose of seeing him.

These two were chummy last semester, but it seems that the newer axiom—absence makes the heart grow fonder—for somebody else" proved correct in this case, and Mildred deserted the "Bat" to accept a date with his hated rival.

NEVADA FROSH GIVES SENIOR THE GATE AFTER WEEKS OF PERSISTENT WOOLING FAIL TO WIN.

Fern Hansen, well known freshman co-ed, gave George Adamson the gate yesterday, according to current reports. It seems that

THINGS TO RESENT

People who boast about going to Cal... People who make the trip... Smashed thumbs... Investigations... Fellows who show up at the social hour all dressed up... People who don't show at all... Lack of enthusiasm at rallies... Editorials... Windshields and cars without them... Necessity for sleep... Interfraternity referees... everything.

WHAT OF IT?

Fran Armbruster boasts that she can strike matches on her riding breeches... and George Adamson won't make the Cal game this year. He says the atmosphere isn't good for him, or for Fern Hansen... Not so many going to Cal... The special has been cancelled... But you can still get the rates... Miss Mack is making the girls get permission from home, and the letters must be sent direct to her... So the Manzanita co-eds won't be able to fool the mother this year... But they'll probably work the angles anyhow... The Desert Wolf is said to be a shocking book rather than a sensational one... and it may get

THE PACK ON THE TRAIL OF THE GOLDEN BEAR

This cut was run last year. Now it is to be run again, not because no other cut was available, but because it best expresses the spirit of the Nevada team which will take the field tomorrow. Last year the Wolves came close—8-0 was the score. California has improved greatly over last year. Whether the improvement has been enough to withstand the onslaughts of a team of Wolves ready to chew and rip and tear their way to the first victory since 1903 remains to be seen.

WOLF HOWLS

Dear Editor:

What this Campus needs is some professor who would use the same text books from year to year. You go to class. The prof stands up and violently expounds on the merits of the book to be used in his course.

You have already found out what the book was last year and you naturally think "same prof, same book." But wait. You delve into the darker corners of your fraternity or sorority house, or your dormitory, and by a miracle, that is unless someone has already gotten ahead of you, you find the book. Putting one over on the book stores, sez you.

But professors seem to be in some sort of an agreement with the publishers of some of our higher text books, for just as you hold up your book to show your neighbors how clever you are to find a book and not have to spend that precious $3, $4, or whatever the case may be, and you can take out a date on the next week-end, the professor sweetly smiles and announces that the text this year will be a new one.

No sir, there just ain't no justice in this world.

The Standard Oil Pest Announcer was at the game Saturday in all his glory. He is a throwback of the species of movie nuisance which used to insist on reading subtitles out loud behind you in shows. Besides insisting that Nevada is situated somewhere in Reno, and repeatedly calling the University of Nevada "Reno" he intruded his hawking on our delicate sensibilities by giving his interpretation of the game, as though anyone with the brains of an ant couldn't understand football.

Stragglers who failed to show up for the parade on time and consequently did not march included four Thetas on horseback who were finally punished for showing up thirty minutes late for dates with the excuse of "I'm a wreck—Louise has all my clothes, etc." The girls really did look good in their riding habits, and would have been an addition to the parade, but we men can't help being glad that we are avenged for all those half hours we have spent waiting for them to come down stairs.

The five bands sounded fine on the field. Everything from the cradle to the grave was represented as the druggists, undertakers and lawyers vied with the little Sparks high school boys hardly big enough to keep up the pace in giving us enough band music to enlist us all in the navy. Despite the heterogeneity of personnel all the bands managed to give us some of the best band music we have heard when the girl drummers and senile buglers combined at the stadium.

The Stray Greek float in its heavy underwear would have given Pericles a turn. The boys put their idea over and got lots of comment, but it's still hard to reconcile Munsingwear with Mount Olympus.

Roy Kipp was at it again, this time passing out his programs off the campus. Some of the jokes in his pamphlet are enough to bounce him from any self-respecting college in the country. Any publication which has to resort to unspeakables to attract attention will ultimately be a failure.

Ina Winters, '29, Theta alumna, who has been teaching in Tonopah, Nevada, is expected to be here for Homecoming.
