

MARION STONE ELECTED HONORARY MAJOR FOR ARMY BALL

Part of Blanket Deposit Will Be Given By Students

Collegiate Boxing Committee Gives Report on Its Activities
Students Urged to Move Into Historical Building Offices

Students who wish to contribute to the proposed Haseman Memorial will sign their names to a petition requesting the turnover of fifty cents from the $10 blanket deposit when they register at the beginning of next semester. This was the decision reached at this morning at the A.S.U.N. meeting after the committee had reported an unsuccessful ending of the memorial drive conducted here this week, and came after numerous other suggestions as to how to raise money for the memorial to the late dean of men had all been deemed inadvisable.

The memorial drive committee reported that very few students had made contributions towards the memorial in the drive which was conducted this week, and it was the consensus of opinion that the campaign should no longer be conducted in this manner.

Faculty to be Approached
Men from various fraternity houses who have paid the money to Blue Key collection men will be exempted from the deposit turnover, as will all others who have already contributed to the fund. That professors and members of the faculty who might wish to contribute to the memorial will not be slighted, it is understood that such persons will be the subject of an intensive drive in the near future.

With regards to this phase of the collections, it is believed that the money is ready whenever the collection agents come around for it, and that a representative sum will also be forthcoming. It was also believed that various publications and organizations would be asked for separate contributions.

Little Response
The proposal to turn the fifty cents over from the blanket deposit was originated by Clifford Devine in response to the statement by Phil Daver, Haseman Memorial committee chairman, to the effect that the efforts of his committee had received little response from the students.

It was Daver's suggestion that a box be placed outside the door of the Education auditorium in which members of the A.S.U.N. would place their contributions as they filed out the door. This plan did not meet with the approval of the group, however, and further discussion centered on the blanket deposit suggestion which was approved. President Cantion referred the drawing up of the petition to the committee, and also added Fritz Wilson to the committee.

Varsity Boxing Impossible
Despite the unanimous vote of the student body at its last meeting to sponsor intercollegiate boxing, with a schedule to include colleges in the Pacific Coast conference, a report from the committee appointed to investigate the situation showed that the appearance of a rowing team this year would be almost impossible. Fritz Wilson, in making a report for the committee, said that the body had held conferences with both J. E. Martie, director of athletics, and President Walter E. Clark on the subject.

Wilson said that both men had pointed out convincing reasons why the University could not possibly sponsor a boxing team this year. He said that it would be impossible at this time to secure a suitable coach who would be affiliated with the physical education department, that previous boxing programs had been termed slugging matches by both men, that the plan was practically impossible from a financial standpoint, and that equipment, such as gloves, ring, uniforms and other accessories was either in poor condition or had disappeared altogether, and that President Clark was of the opinion that boxing would not make money this year under the present business conditions.

Plans Necessary
The University head is in favor of intercollegiate boxing next year, however, Wilson said, if the sport can be carried on under different conditions than it has in the past. He added that next spring would not be too early to making a schedule, secure a coach, and organize the sport on a profitable basis.

A resolution offered during the meeting by the committee which has been investigating the condition of the frame house and the old historical building, both of which are now available for student use as a temporary union building, urged that no move be made to occupy the old frame building, but that the brick structure be converted into a union building. An itemized estimate of changes which will be required to make the latter suitable for occupancy approximates $1000, and the committee said that this estimate will be placed before Finance Control for the consideration of that body at its next meeting.

Names of the Wolf Pack football players who are entitled to wear block N's as a result of playing the required amount of time on the gridiron this fall, which were passed by the Executive committee in its session of yesterday, were unanimously accepted this morning in A.S.U.N. meeting.

A statement of the finances of the associated students showed a balance on hand December 1 of $2809.40.

CARNEGIE LECTURER CLAIMS LEAGUE WOULD FAVOR JAPAN

Treating mainly on the Manchurian question in her lecture entitled "Present International Situations," Miss Hemingway Jones, representative of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, gave the last lecture of the semester Tuesday evening in the Education auditorium.

In regard to Manchuria Miss Jones stated that in her own opinion, Japan has been insolent in its relations with China, but nevertheless believed that had Japan consented to present its claims to the League of Nations, that body would certainly have reached a verdict in favor of Japan. She also stated that she is in sympathy with Japan regarding this situation, but can see no excuse for continued warfare.

Under the heading of the League of Nations, Miss Jones reviewed the foundations of some of the present world disputes and pointed out that the need of such a judiciary body is greater now than ever before because of the closer contact between nations due to the great acceleration of speed developed in transportation in the last decade.

Bank Wants to Avoid War
The International Bank composed of bankers of the different nations who "want to avoid war as much as possible," but who in reality "make as much money as they possibly can" was discussed. Miss Jones also spoke concerning the labor office in Geneva, which is composed of the people of the labor parties who do not see fit to join the World Court or the League of Nations. The speaker expressed her regret that the United States has not taken a more active part in the affairs of the league, but remarked that "it

Carnival on Lake Planned By Sagers, Sagens This Year

Fancy Skating and Ice Hockey Will be Featured in Huge Festive Affair
Provided the cold weather, so much in evidence at the present time, continues, a new entertainment is planned for the Nevada campus but the Sagers, men's underclass service organization. The nature of this new diversion will be in the form of an ice carnival and will be held on Manzanita Lake within the next few weeks, should present plans materialize.

It is proposed to flood the lake so the ice will be in first class shape for the occasion, and to provide a lighting system that will blend in with the carnival atmosphere. Hot dogs and coffee will be sold on the shores of the lake by members of the Sagers and Sagens organizations, and a fire will burn on the north shore.

Fancy skating and ice hockey will be the order of the evening and from a reliable source comes information that several prominent campus personages will display their talent on the ice. Prizes will be awarded for what is judged to be the best exhibition of fancy skating by both men and women students.

Several fraternities have had hockey teams on the ice for the past several weeks, and as a result of these practice games, two have been chosen to play the hockey game.

John Brooks, Sagers president, and Louise Gastanega, Sagens president, are in charge of the festive affair, and request that anyone interested in the carnival report to them at once.

Finance Control Considers Sending Delegates to Coast

Nevada Will be Represented at Western, Pacific Conferences
It has been tentatively agreed upon by the Finance Control committee to send four representatives to the Far Western conference meet and also to allow expense money for three of them to attend the Pacific Coast conference.

At its meeting Tuesday the committee also decided to postpone improvements on the tennis courts until early next spring in time for tennis activities there.

Graduate Manager Hartung gave a complete financial report of the status of the A.S.U.N., which included an itemized list of all expenditures since the beginning of the school year. At the suggestion of the editor of the Sagebrush, Joe Jackson, the entire report will be published so that the students will know how the money is being spent.

The graduate manager was requested to confer with the editors of the three publications to try and devise a plan by which a cooperative system of keeping books could be inaugurated. This plan would make it possible for him to keep in close connection with the student managers regarding their expenditures and receipts.

It was found necessary to change the meeting hour from 11 o'clock to 4 on Tuesday. In order to complete tentative plans there will be a special meeting next week.

Nevada Will Have Boxing Team Next Season, Says Clark

"While the undergraduates of America plot their spring proms and winter carnivals, or ecstatically shout, 'Hurray for our side,' at autumnal pigskin frolics, their contemporaries in Europe are polishing rebellious sabers and hatching up man-sized revolutions all the year round," according to Henry Morton Robinson in an article "Students See Red" published in the January issue of College Humor.

"The university student is the living spark in the powder barrel of European politics. In his ink stained hands he carries the torch of republicanism, and once that torch is ablaze no reactionary government is worth insuring for a brass knigger."

The student in politics is feared and dreaded by all conservative ministers; there is no handling or calculating him. Like a true 'enfant terrible' he bursts onto the scene with a republican war hoop just at the time when everyone else has been lulled to sleep. And usually an election or abdication comes training in his wake."

It is Mr. Robinson's contention that the majority of political upheavals in Europe can be laid at the entrance to campuses, in direct contrast to the situation in America.

The American undergraduate's lack of interest in politics in the United States can be directly traced to the success of that government, according to Mr. Robinson.

On the other hand, he says: "We can be certain that the same throats that yell themselves hoarse at the annual game with Harwash, would effectively clamor for the head of a dictator if such an animal should unwarily seize the reins of the American government."

"When," concluded Mr. Robinson, "I am tempted to think that the undergraduates of American colleges have abandoned themselves to rhumba, football and gin.I call to mind the picture of young Alexander Hamilton musingly his Columbia classmates against the Hessian lobsterbacks at the Battle of University Heights—the epic courage of those Virginia Military Institute lads who died to protect their state from the Yank invaders in the Civil War."

Enjoys Boxing
"Nobody enjoys a boxing match more than I do," the president said. "However, I feel that in the past two years Nevada boxing teams have almost with out exception slugged and fought and battered their way to victory, and have not boxed scientifically at all. For this reason I am forced to back Martie in his decision to have no intercollegiate boxing contests until a competent instructor can be secured who will coach the team from the amateur standpoint."

"I do favor, if possible, intercollegiate boxing matches next year," he added. "Boxing as it has been carried on in the past two years is wholly undesirable, and it would be a good idea to leave the situation rest this year. Next year, with a competent amateur coach, a new start in the right direction can be made."

Favors Novice Bouts
The president expressed himself as being highly in favor of the proposed novice tournament, saying that a large crowd could be expected to attend such a meet, and that the meet would be well worth attending. He also spoke of the possibility of the Nevada novice ringman meeting amateur fighters in Nevada, including members of the Reno Antlers club.

It was Clark's opinion that the director of athletics was capable of handling the situation and that the students should abide by Martie's decision as, so far as he could see, it was a just one to all concerned.

If Martie should change his opinion and sponsor a Nevada ring team this season, Clark said that he would leave this up to Martie, saying that he relied on Martie's judgment in the matter entirely.

Financial Outlook Bad
That the financial aspect of the situation had not been fully considered so far was another of the president's statements. It was his opinion that (Continued on Page Five)

Marion Stone Cops Honor Major Post In Vote Of Students

Marion Stone, prominent senior co-ed, was today elected to the honorary major post and will reign in that capacity at the military ball tomorrow night in the State building, it was announced late this afternoon by Arvin Boerlin, president of Scabbard and Blade, which organization sponsored the election.

Stone received 129 votes and McIntyre received 127, out of a total of 554 votes cast. Mary Donaldson, Mary McCulloch and Betty Seeds were the three other co-eds in the contest and ran almost neck and neck with the two leaders.

The election was held this morning in front of the library and considerable interest was evidenced as to the outcome. No pools were reported to have been made up, but numerous bets are said to have been placed on the outcome, and it may be that some male students will find their pocketbooks considerably cramped for the remainder of the year.

Marion Stone is a senior student here and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She has been active for the past four years in campus life, being a member of Chi Delta Chi, national honorary English society, and was chairman of this year's Pan Hellenic dance. She has been the recipient of numerous scholarships, is a graduate of the Reno high school, and is the daughter of Mrs. George Stone of Reno.

Presented to Colonel
Tomorrow evening at the military ball Miss Stone will be presented to Colonel Robert M. Brambila, and following the grand march will act as hostess for the military department for the remainder of the evening. At the beginning of the grand march, Colonel Brambila and Mrs. Brambila will lead. After one circuit of the floor, the presentation ceremony will take place, after which the grand march will continue with Colonel Brambila and Miss Stone leading. The grand march will end up with Miss Stone distributing the programs for the evening.

After the programs have been distributed she will be presented to the rest of the honored guests. Later in the evening she will accompany Arvin Boerlin during the ceremonies of pledging for Scabbard and Blade. She will pin the diminutive pledge ribbons on the following cadet officers: Wayne Van Voorhis, Arthur Choupek, George Davis, Bob Anderson, Lowell Horschman, Charles Nichols and Fred Needham.

For the rest of the year Miss Stone will act as sponsor of all military social affairs and will attend the annual review of the cadet corps which will be held in the spring. She will receive a full page in the Artemisia this year, with one large face picture and also a full length view.

This is the first time in several years that any such contest has been held here, and it is absolutely the first time that an honorary major contest has been carried on among the co-eds.

Ball Begins at Nine O'Clock
The military ball will begin tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock, and will be held at the Nevada State building under the auspices of Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternity.

A committee headed by Arvin Boerlin, president of the group, has been working out elaborate plans for the dance which in previous years has been voted the most popular affair of the school year by the students on the campus.

The auditorium will be decorated to follow the fashion of the modern day idea, and will represent a "Hall of Columns." The decorations have been prepared under the direction of Oscar Robinson and are said to be absolutely unique.

Programs for the affair are of heavy blue suede, printed in gold, and the orchestra will consist of an eight piece band under the leadership of Orville Anderson.

Guests of Honor
Guests of honor for the military ball are Governor and Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., of California; Governor and Mrs. F. B. Balzar of Nevada; President and Mrs. Walter E. Clark, officially representing the University of Nevada; Dean and Mrs. J. Claude Jones, Colonel and Mrs. J. P. Ryan, Lieutenant and Mrs. H. B. Wilcox, Mayor and Mrs. E. E. Roberts, representing the City of Reno, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Blackler, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Palmer, Dean and Mrs. Maxwell Adams, Major and Mrs. K. S. Gregory, Sergeant and Mrs. Grant H. Hustis, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Morley Griswold, Dean and Mrs. J. W. Hall, Dean and Mrs. Robert Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Farrar, Miss Louise M. Sissa, and Miss Margaret E. Mack.

Interest Shown

Dodo Is Awarded Prize As Cleanest Humor Magazine

California Pelican Rated as Best in Art at Association Meeting

The Colorado Dodo yesterday was awarded the prize for having the cleanest humor of any of the Western Association of College Comic magazines by the association. Prof. Ralph Crossman is the censor of the magazine, and Frank McDonough is the editor.

The California Pelican received first prize for having the best art work at the same time. Other prizes were awarded the Arizona Kitty Kat for having the best short material of any of the magazines.

Richard Martin, chairman of the expansion committee, reported yesterday to the association on the work of that committee. It is practically assured that the Western Association will merge with the Midwest Association in the near future.

Merrill Beckwith gave his talk to some of the delegates Thursday morning on art work in the comic magazines. A discussion followed upon make up of the magazines and general art work.

College Humor relations problem was thoroughly discussed and reprint rights will be definitely broken, although Editor Swanson, College Humor did not arrive until 9 o'clock this morning. He will be entertained at the different houses until Sunday evening. The reprint rights given College Humor in the past proved a detriment to local magazines, in the fact that College Humor would have the cream of the comic material, and then use these in getting advertising for the magazine, saying they completely covered the college field. On this account advertisers would favor advertising in College Humor and ignore pleas of local comics.

Late arrival of some of the delegates, and financial difficulties on the part of some, forced the original schedule to be changed. There are only ten delegates present. However, all but of the magazines are represented.

The delegates here include Ford Sibley of the University of California, James Dannenbaum of the California Pelican, Mark Finley of the Arizona Kitty-Kat, John Mariani of the Nevada Desert Wolf, William P. Gray of the Washington Columns, Frederick Reynolds of the Utah Crimson, Harvey Platt of the Arizona Kitty-Kat, Jack Zidell of the U. S. C. Wampus and Hugh Cooper of the Nevada Desert Wolf. Frank McDonough of the Colorado Dodo is president of the association.

It was decided that the 1932 convention will be held at Berkeley, Calif., Silver and Gold.

Maxwell Wright, '30, and Mrs. Wright (formerly Miss Helen Duffy) also a graduate of Nevada, are living in Chuquicamata, Chile, where Mr. Wright is engaged in mining engineering.

Here, MEN, smoke a man's smoke

A PIPEFUL of good tobacco is distinctly a man's smoke. The women (long may they wave!) have taken over most of our masculine privileges. But pipe smoking still belongs to us.

The pipe is not for pretty girls.

In every walk of life you'll find that the men at the top are pipe smokers. And most college men agree that the pipe offers the rarest pleasures a man could ask of his smoking.

When you smoke a pipe, be sure you choose the tobacco that will give you the greatest enjoyment. In 42 out of 54 colleges Edgeworth is the favorite. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold. Or for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va. Sample is free.

Here's the smoke for men, a pipe and good tobacco.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive eleven process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 15¢ per package to $1.50 per pound humidor tin.

Nevada Graduate Killed By Hindu Wednesday Night

Failure to Return to Native Country for Marriage Causes Death

Because he had been betrothed to a girl he had never seen and hence refused to return to his native India, L. B. Manrow, who graduated from the University here in 1928, was shot and instantly killed in Marysville, California, Wednesday night.

His slayer, a countryman named Bhagat Sings, turned the gun on himself before he could be apprehended by police, who say he was a member of a rival Hindu faction.

Manrow was 34 years old, and had graduated from Nevada in 1928, going to the University of California for a postgraduate course in business administration. Following the completion of his work there, he had gone to Marysville, and up until the day of the fatal shooting had been in the employ of a Hindu mercantile store there.

Doris Thompson, who graduated with the class of '30, has gone to New York to study dietetics at the Fifth Avenue hospital. She is a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

CAMPUS PLAYERS SEARCH FOR ATMOSPHERE FOR NEW PLAY

Contents of old files, age-yellowed pages of books, and pictures of all types are being sought and scanned by the Campus Players art staff in an effort to reproduce the interior of a drawing room of an English 18th century town house for the setting of the play "Berkeley Square," which is to be given.

This is the first Mask and Dagger presentation of the year and every effort is being expended to make it as realistic and perfect as possible.

The decorative scheme of the times was very elaborate and thus it is necessary to construct large paneled walls, arched, domed ceilings, pelmetted windows, and sweeping, scrolled fireplaces.

William K. Colman, the players' director, stated this week that representations of this type and furnishings have been studied, as well as actual photographs of the settings used in the London premiere of the play, with the addition of material supplied by Dr.

Sylvia Crowell, '31, is now living with her father in Portland, Oregon. During her senior year at the university Miss Crowell was president of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and the Pan-Hellenic council.

Granville Leavitt, A. T. O., '28, is teaching in Wellington, Nevada.

Mabel Mariani, '28, is now a Spanish teacher in the Reno high school. Miss Mariani is a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

AUTOMOBILE COASTS INTO MANZANITA LAKE

Now that the swans have retired and even the mud hens are in hiding, Manzanita lake kept her winter coating of ice intact until last Friday night when a large sedan belonging to Ray Trask, Reno business man, decided to go skating and coasted down the hill behind the govt house and onto the lake.

But the ice was not thick enough to support the weight of the adventurous automobile, and like many other would-be skaters, it broke through the ice and went to the bottom.

Attempts of the party of skaters to rescue the car were unavailing until two wrecking crews were called on to help. The lake froze solid the next morning but skaters are still wary of the spot.

Students To Hold Mock Arms Confab

Delegates from Colleges will Represent Many Nations at Disarm Meet

U.C.L.A. (P.I.P.) colleges throughout southern California will send representatives to a mock disarmament conference, held at the Mission Inn, Riverside, as a part of the annual meeting of the Institute of International Relations, December 4 and 5.

At this conference, college students will impersonate the leaders of many nations, discussing the major problems of disarmament. In the assembly which is to be modeled after the coming world disarmament conference at Geneva in February, 1932, U.C.L.A. will represent Great Britain; U.S.C. the United States; San Diego State, France; Occidental, Japan; Pomona, Germany; Redlands, Italy; Whittier, Russia; Arizona, Brazil; Pasadena Junior College, Spain; Compton, Czechoslovakia, and Los Angeles Junior College, Poland.

The student delegations will be chosen within the local chapters of the International Relations Club. Students of the organization may apply for the various positions and will be chosen by the club in general.

Program Presented By Musical Groups

The men's and women's glee clubs of the University and the municipal orchestra entertained a large crowd at Virginia City last Thursday night with musical numbers and skits.

Principal Tapscott of the Virginia City high school and members of the student body extended a welcome to the visitors and presented each with a paper key to the city. After the program a dance was given in their honor.

Following is the program:

- Orchestra — Overture, Egmont (Beethoven.)
- Men's Glee Club—Alma Mater (Turner); Friendship (Haesch); Indian Camp Fires (Turner).
- Elwin Jeffers—Specialty number.
- Phil Mann and Pearl Lunsford—songs.
- Orchestra — The Old Refrain (Kreisler); Indian Lullaby (Klemm); Babes in Toyland (Herbert).
- Mrs. Post—Specialty songs.
- Quartet composed of Ralph Robinson, Al Bernes, Fred La Marsna and Bill Squires.
- Fred La Marsna — Lonesome Crooner.
- Women's Glee Club—Hungarian Dance (Brahms); The Tragic Tale (Bullock); Chit-Chat (Moffett).
- Orchestra — Tannhauser March (Wagner).
- Finale—Triumph Hymn.

Co-ed Rifle Team Starts Practice On Thursday, Nov. 19

Completing a week's activity of sighting exercises, 25 co-eds of the women's rifle class last Thursday began actual firing practice on the range.

During the first week of preparation, the class, under the instruction of Sergeant E. Hustis and Arvin Boerlin, devoted its time to sighting and marking "triangles."

The women are required to use the standard 30-30 gauge army rifles with bore size reduced to 22 gauge. After two and a half months of rifle practice the 15 highest scoring members of the class will become eligible for the Circle N award.

Adams Sponsors Red Cross Campaign For Student Membership

A crusade for student membership in the American Red Cross, starting Armistice Day, is being sponsored by Dr. Maxwell Adams, dean of the college of arts and science. The campaign on the campus will last until November 18, while the annual roll call is between Armistice and Thanksgiving—November 11 to 26.

The year 1931 is the golden anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross. These fifty years have been dedicated to the service of humanity and much has been accomplished toward building healthier, happier communities, Dean Adams said.

Membership in the Red Cross may be purchased for the sum of $1.00.

Frances Millar, a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, and a graduate with the class of 1931, is teaching in Yerington, Nevada.

LESS HOSPITAL, MORE MEDICAL CARE GIVEN

There has been less hospitalization and more medical attention given to students this year than ever before in the history of the University. This startling fact comes from Miss Ethel Shurtleff, matron of the University hospital. She also added that the reason for more medical attention being given is that the students are learning to catch their illnesses in the early stages, thus avoiding being interned.

This week the only person convalescing in the infirmary is Victor Clyde, a freshman student from Carson City, who is recovering from a recent operation.

Physical Education Classes to Present Colorful Final Ex's

Beginning next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock each gym class will give a demonstration before all of the other classes as they did at mid-semester, according to Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the department of physical education for women. These demonstrations will be in the nature of a final examination in that the women cannot lower their grades by them, but may raise them if they perform as well as in the preliminary examinations which will begin this coming Monday. The preliminary tests will be held in small groups so that the women may have a better opportunity to prove their ability.

The purpose of the demonstration is to give the women in each department an idea of the work in other departments so that when the time comes for them to choose other activities, they will know the nature of each course. Anyone interested in the event is cordially invited to be present.

Women's Glee Club Makes Contribution Toward Y.W. Piano

Contributing to the fund paying for the piano being purchased by the Y. W. C. A., members of the women's glee club voted $5 out of the organization treasury at a meeting Monday afternoon, to go toward this purpose.

Both the men's and women's clubs have been working on new music, and additional members are expected to try out for positions next semester. There are at present several trees singing with the men's organization, who have not yet been elected to membership.

At present the orchestra is working on eighteenth century music which is to be used in the "Campus Players" coming production, "Berkeley Square." Only a part of the orchestra will conduct the music for the play, due to the small size of the pit at the Granada Theater. The remainder of the orchestra is practicing selections to be presented at basketball games during the season next semester.

Catherine Curieux, a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and a graduate with the class of '28, is teaching in Ely, Nevada.

How It Stands

Students will do well to drop all discussion of the proposal to maintain a boxing team for this year if they expect at any time in the future to be represented in the intercollegiate field by a ring team.

On the whole, the views of both men are sound. It may be that some hidden motive is responsible for the failure of both the athletic department and the administration to comply with the wishes of the students and OK boxing for this year, but if there is such a motive, no one has been able to discover it.

In general, Martie and Clark agree to such an extent as to make collusion evident. Nor is this collusion harmful when one considers the sound arguments resultant therefrom.

Both men know whereof they speak when they object to the manner in which boxing was carried on here last year and the year before. In the first place boxing of the type displayed by the Nevada team was out of place in an amateur ring, and in the second place the Nevada boxers were being exploited by a man who wished to sign them up to fight under him—a situation which is certain to occur as long as boxing is coached by professional men in Reno (professional boxers).

Nevada's boxers are not at fault in this. The orders given by a man who was himself a They have been fighting under orders, and professional boxer, and who could see the fight game from none other than the professional standpoint.

This would make the contention that boxing ought not be carried on as it has been in the past seem pretty sound, and would also furnish fairly definite proof that Martie's wishes are sound with regards to the procuring of a competent coach who would teach students the fight game from the amateur standpoint and not the professional.

Some students have expressed doubts that this would prove a success. It is Martie's contention that a boxer can take care of himself in the same ring with a slugger. Some of the men who have fought here say that actual facts fail to bring out the truth of this opinion. They say that if one fighter slugs the other fighter has to slug also, and that the fans like slugging much better than boxing.

However, most of the men on the boxing squad have done nothing but slug, so they could not hope to be able to pass a fair judgment on the situation.

The view that it is too late in the season to even consider the boxing proposal seriously this year is also acceptable. Clark has pointed out that the proper coach could not be secured, the schedule arranged, the equipment secured and actual training begun, not at the start of the next semester, but by the end of the next week—an impossibility which is self evident.

Most important of all is the financial aspect. The University, frankly, cannot afford to hire a boxing instructor, nor can the student body itself make such a move with any surety. The students might hire one at a very cheap price, but that price, the only one they are at all able to pay, would not bring a man here who would be acceptable to the athletic department, mainly because he could be none other than a professional coach, interested chiefly in the development of one or two men whom he might sign to fight professional bouts under him at the end of the University season. And this is the very thing which students, faculty, and administration alike are fighting against.

It is true that many of the down-town men think that boxing should be continued here. But the down-town men do not know the situation as well as they might. Perhaps this will clear it up for them.

Then there is the question of the rumor that many of the boxers will fight amateur fights under the direction of a professional coach, carrying the banner of the Reno Antlers Club. This might be true to some extent, but it is doubtful if any many men will fight for the club as is generally supposed, and also this is a situation which the University finds unfortunate, but for which there is really no help.

Furthermore, there is the question of salaries, considered in this light: A.S.U.N., or rather Finance Control, which is the money ruling body for A.S.U.N., is putting out $6000 annually for coaching, and it is doubtful if the finances could withstand the added burden of not only paying a coach, but of securing the necessary ring equipment.

There is also much doubt as to whether the season would prove a financial success. Two years ago the sport lost heavily, so heavily, in fact, that no one will ever know how much money was poured into the sport with very little return. Last year but three dollars profit was realized over the whole season. The crowds who attended the contests last year, however, were not as large as those of the year before, which would indicate that the popularity of the sport year before last was evidenced only because so many people were able to secure complimentary tickets. Either this, or else the gate receipts were not accurately checked.

This is a semi-complete and perhaps incomprehensible review of the existent boxing situation. Martie passed the buck to President Clark. Clark passed the buck back to Martie. Yet both had arguments strong enough to convince at least several students that it would be impossible to carry on a boxing campaign this season in the intercollegiate field.

In the face of this, it would seem that the students should consider the case closed for this year, but also that they should look ahead to next year, when it will be possible to have a ring team. And the students should remember the situation as it exists this year, so that they will be able to start early with their boxing proposal, and see that the sport is carried on in the proper manner.

Faculty-Student Athletic Control

Out of the boxing situation has risen the question as to just how much the students have to say with regards to their own government on this campus, and especially is this true regarding athletic control. Students feel that since their proposal was rejected by Martie and Clark, they have nothing whatever to say as to just how their affairs should be conducted, and they feel that this is not right.

Their feeling is justified to a certain extent. They can only tear down, they can never constructively shape an athletic policy unless their wishes happen to coincide with those of the administration. Their only control lies in the money to be expended through the Finance Control committee.

But in the past the wishes of the students have been followed by both Martie and Clark so far as those two gentlemen have felt the wish to be logical. Both men have several times conceded a point or two and have always met the students half way. They attempt to be fair to both sides.

Still many students feel that they should have more say in the matter since they are furnishing the material as well as the wherewithal to develop the material. It is their contention that new system should be introduced wherein the students will have an equal say. Their idea is a sound one, and should be followed out.

Anything That's Right

THIS WEEK'S WHAT-A-MAN Although his deeds of renown are not generally known to the campus, Granville Fletcher rates mention this week because of his all-around ability to run over fire hoses and get people fined, all because he is so busy thinking about his term reports in English that he does not know where he is going. Fletcher once won a scholarship in English, and from now on you may watch his smoke. He made a perfect portrait of himself after he leaves college when he appeared as an initiate to the Sdowners organization this week.

The Fletcher is a most acceptable young man, as many a Maize will vouch for, and has no end of trouble keeping out of getting a date with any co-ed. He refuses to explain his technique, however, but says that during senior week he will make an address to the senior class on the subject, "How I Got Across."

Now that Epperson's "Coming-out" and "Going-to-town" are becoming stale from long use. The Sigma Phi Sigmas are urged by slang users to invent some new expressions. "Ketchunking" is among the latest, but Fulmis should be able to break out with something original.

It is tough to give the Sigma Phi Sigmas so much publicity in one issue, but the evident shortage of razors may be mentioned before the big thirty is placed over the paper and it is put to be where, so many good works have gone before, etc.

To get back to the main subject of discussion, Oscar Bryan and a few of his brothers have been going around without shaves for the past week, and all on a silly bet, so they claim. Personally, the scribe thinks the boys have gone broke buying peppermints and can't afford razor blades.

This is especially true of Bryan, the man who is so liberal that he gets poor innocent people fined for doing so much as playing a game of checkers. This is the meanest trick anyone could play on a fellow who is supposed to be his pal, and the fellow resents it so deeply that he refuses to leave the office until this article has been written up.

WHAT OF IT Johnson and Peck are considering the launching of a cracker eating tournament. Johnson ate seven crackers in four minutes one day, and Peck consumed seven in a half minute less the day previously. Johnson would not have eaten the crackers only Peck bet him a quarter and he had the win the bet or else 250 freshmen, 200 sophomores, 103 juniors and 21 seniors will probably attend the military ball tomorrow night. Oscar Bryan has been traveling under a false name for the past four years. His real name is Abner Zilch, and he is known far and wide as the boy orator of Wyoming, something we cannot doubt the credence of after hearing him pop off several times on various occasions. The temperature in the Sagebrush office is 60 degrees at high noon, 70 at 5 o'clock when the editor starts swearing at the staff for not turning in copy, and 19 below zero while he is reviewing the pitiful efforts of a staff which is so mixed up in the business of term themes, Christmas plans and love affairs that it cannot ever be bribed into turning in enough copy for one page which runs 65 per cent advertisements.

In The know!

By P. C. D. There are many on the campus who were much interested in the statements of Bill Ligon at the famous mass meeting. Bill was off to a flying start when Canton and Jones stopped the proceedings. There is that old maxim, "True words are often spoken in jest."

During the past few weeks we have been hearing much about the merits of boxing when conducted on a scientific basis rather than with the idea of a rough slugging match. The physical education department has brought out the fact that if boxing were handled properly, under the said department, and the finer points of defense were stressed, it would constitute a better sport. On the evening of December 11 there is to be a boxing exhibition in the University gymnasium. We shall have a splendid opportunity to see whether or not the physical education department can develop boxes. Sentiment from those in the know seems to be that the public will never have seen such SLUGGING as they are to see on the evening of December 11.

Your correspondent has maintained that the students had little or nothing to say about the control of athletics at Nevada. Contention is evidently proved—NOTE THE OUTCOME OF THE AGITATION FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE BOXING.

Our idea of the last word in HOOEY or HOKUM or something of the kind is the following newspaper article, sent out over the wires from Reno and picked up by at least one contemporary

NEVADANS RETAIN WESTERN HABITS

Nevadans Continue to Carry Guns In Accordance With Tradition

Many Nevadans still return at least one habit as a throwback to the old West—gun totin'. The custom of carrying a six shooter in an armpit holster or in the hip pocket, is general to the surprising degree among the native Nevadans. The law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons is strictly enforced against the idler or stranger, but the bone fide resident seldom is taken to task for totin' a gun.

He is often prone to use it as a jest, or sometimes in earnest when he is angry. Bell Livingstone, "Empress of the Barnyard," famous for her night clubs in New York and Paris, was quite surprised one night at her resort here when a skunk walked into the dining room and men started pumping lead into it.

An oil painting which hangs in her bar of the club in Reno exhibits a number of bullet holes made by some of her playful customers. Police Judge Bryson recently fixed the sum of $10 as the penalty for each shot fired at a human being in anger.

Of all the ultra moronic reports which have been circulating concerning the situation in Reno, this takes the grand prize. Unfortunately, however, there doesn't seem to be any way in which such utterly foolish statements can be counteracted.

Frank Barnagan, former student at the University of Nevada, is director of research at chemistry for the DuPont Company at Buffalo, New York.

Hazel Greninger, '28, is visiting in Reno after having spent three years in Chile, South America, visiting her parents. She is a member of Beta Sigma Omicron sorority.

State Prep School Football Title Is To Be Contested

Lovelock and Las Vegas Will Play Game for Charity in Southern City

Climaxing a long series of preliminary dickerings, arrangements have finally been made for a state championship grid battle between the Las Vegas Wildcats and the Lovelock Invincibles, to be played tomorrow for charity on the Butcher Memorial stadium field at Las Vegas under the auspices of the Elks club of that city.

Undeclared champions of the southern part of the sagebrush state, the Las Vegas eleven is favored by comparative scores to win the game. They defeated the Reno High School Huskies 14 to 0 in an inter-sectional game played in the southern city. Lovelock had a hard time defeating the Red and Blue warriors 6 to 0 to win the west state championship.

However the invincible line driving power of the "Four Horsemen of Nevada," star Lovelock combination, may be too much for the Las Vegas defense to withstand. The ferocious line plunging of Justi, dynamic Lovelock full-back, is as hard to stop as a buffalo on a rampage. Oleata's sweeping end runs work surprisingly well behind the perfect interference of the Pershing county linemen. The Lovelock signals are called by the small but able Joey Lang.

Las Vegas apparently has a one man backfield. That one man is Beatty, star halfback and one of the most outstanding backs ever produced in this state. He hits the line like a battering ram, his passes are as true as a bullet; he kicks an average of 50 yards and his open field running is a sight for sore eyes. But without him the Las Vegas offense would be badly handicapped.

In the strength of their forward walls the two teams line up fairly even. Both have shown the power needed to stop an opponent's offense in the shadow of their own goal. As far as weight is concerned they are nearly even with the Wildcats perhaps a little the heavier.

In reserve strength, the southern outfit has a distinct advantage. This advantage may be of little use to them, however, due to the fact that most important high school games are played entirely with one string of players.

Passing will be a Las Vegas strong point with Beatty whipping the pigskin to both flank men. Lovelock completely bottled up the passing attacks of both Sparks and Reno and may do the same to the Vegas squad.

Frosh Basketball Practice to Start After Holidays

Due to the difficulties faced by the members of the freshman class in the last few weeks of their first semester in keeping up with their work, the Yearling basketball team will not start practice until after Christmas vacation, it was announced yesterday.

However, this will not handicap the freshman squad to any great extent. The high school team that will meet the frosh quintette do not start practice until about the same time.

No definite schedule has, as yet, been determined for the first year men, but arrangements will be made for it at the Western Nevada coach's convention which will be held on December 12.

With a large number of former high school cage stars in evidence among the members of the freshman class, the prospects of a successful season for the Wolf Cub hoopers is hopeful.

Coaches To Meet At U. N. Dec. 12

Athletic coaches of the Nevada high schools will meet Saturday morning, December 12, in the rooms of the Mackay training quarters of the University of Nevada to draw up high school basketball schedules and to discuss matters of mutual interest.

Stanford May Need New Grid Coach Next Year

Warner Reported Considering Offers from Eastern Universities

Fox of Football Might Coach at New York in 1932, Dispatch Says

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 4.—(P.I.P.)—Stanford's "old fox of football," Pop Warner, is glancing around for a new position in more promising grid fields.

Wire reports from New York indicate that the Cardinal coach has agreed to sign a contract with New York University, replacing Chick Meehan, and while local authorities are inclined to doubt the dispatches, it is pretty definitely established that "Pop" has been considering at least two other offers.

According to Mrs. Warner, Pop intended to confer with representatives of the colleges concerned while in the East on a trip to Boston for the Dartmouth game. N.Y.U., however, was not one of those which he was considering.

No Statement Made
Acting President Robert E. Swain yesterday declared that University authorities knew nothing of any plans which Warner may have made or of his reported agreement with N.Y.U.

No shift in the Stanford coaching staff has been considered, Swain said.

Dr. T. A. Storey, head of the School of Physical Education, was skeptical in regard to the eastern dispatches, recalling the unfounded rumor of a Pennsylvania offer to Pop which came up at this time last year.

Contemplates Change
However, Warner's recent comments on the falling off in football material here, due to curtailment of the freshman class, have given rise to a belief that he would like to shift the scene of his operations to a more favorable location.

Pop is not returning from Boston with the team but is expected to reach the campus Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Student Referees Will Officiate In Basketball Games

With basketball practice now replacing football on the Nevada campus, the men enrolled in Assistant Coach Chet Scanton's refereeing training course have the opportunity to show their ability as referees by officiating at encounters between the junior and senior basketball varsity squads.

Although Coach Scanton's class ends at Christmas time, the refereeing students will be coached in basketball official technique, floor work, the duties this semester, so that when the schedule for high school basketball games is drawn up early next January, the University men will be prepared to take over the high school contests. As in the past University students who are called upon to officiate at basketball games will be recommended by Scanton.

During the last football season the following Nevada students acted as referees at the various high school grid contests: Earl Handley, Lloyd Guffrey, Raymond Hackett, Walter Linehan, Dan Bledsoe, Edgworth Farnsworth, Tony Tosone and Kenneth Johnson.

Current Magazines Are Discussed by Honorary Society

Members of the Chi Delta Phi, national honorary society for English majors and minors, held a regular meeting at the Pi Beta Phi house last night. The meeting was a combined business and social one. The topic for discussion was "Current Magazines."

New members will be elected to membership at the beginning of next semester, after this semester's grades are in. A committee was appointed to see which students will be eligible.

Pop is not returning from Boston with the team but is expected to reach the campus Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Football Manager Named At Meeting

Fuhrman Chosen by Committee to Handle Grid Affairs for 1932 Season

Football managership is the reward Rector Fuhrman has received for two years labor carrying whitewash and painting five yard lines on Mackay gridiron.

Fuhrman was chosen Wednesday afternoon by a committee consisting of Coach George Phillbrook, J. E. Martie, director of athletics; Leslie Tomley, president of the Block N Society; Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, and John Chism, football manager.

Selection was made on the basis of the past two years work. The new manager was highly recommended by both the football coach and manager.

Assisting Fuhrman will be Ralph Menante, Eddie Olson, Jack Quaid, and John Majors, who were the men chosen from this year's freshman tryees.

Prof. Wilson Leaves For Livestock Show

Professor F. W. Wilson left last Wednesday night for Los Angeles where he is to be superintendent of the sheep department at the Christmas Livestock show. He will be gone for two weeks.

While in Los Angeles, he will attend a meeting of the Chuck Drives Association of which he became a member this last summer.

The financial depression, for one thing, would not tend to make the sport self supporting because of decreasing gate receipts, and also brought up the question as to where the money to hire the coach would come from. It could not come out of the University funds, and it was doubtful if the A.S.U.N. could afford to hire a coach.

President Clark also said that there was hardly time this year to seriously consider a coach. A competent and acceptable man would have to be secured within the next ten days, he said, and in addition to this, equipment would have to be secured, a schedule arranged, and actual practice started if the team hoped to show any form at all.

When questioned on the matter of finances Wednesday night, Paul Harwood, chairman of the Finance Control Committee, said that it was almost impossible for the students themselves to hire a coach. He pointed out that there was already $6000.00 annually being paid out for salaries to coaches, and that it would be hardly feasible, in the face of the financial condition of the student body, to add any more burden at this point.

On the question of the sport being self supporting he said that the receipts of last year amounted to but

Antlers, Indians Meet Tomorrow

A final opportunity for grid fans in this section of the state to witness their favorite sport once more this year is afforded in a charity tilt between the Reno Antlers club and the Crimson clad Stewart Indian school warriors, when the two teams meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 on Mackay field.

The game is being sponsored by the local lodge of the Elks Club and the entire proceeds will be turned over to charity. When the Antlers Club eleven met the Reno high school Huskies in a charity tilt last year, the gate netted more than $300.

Both teams carry a fairly good record and they appear to be well matched. Steward this year has produced one of the strongest eleven ever developed at the school. They finished near the top in the race for the western Nevada conference championship.

Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder

WHAT you want in a cigarette is taste. You want mildness... smoothness... and satisfying pleasure when you smoke.

All right then... get this straight.

CHESTERFIELD pays top prices... yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.

The curing and conditioning is done by specialists... men carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos.

IN BLENDING, also, Chesterfields are different... Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together... we cross-blend them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder... and a more pleasing aroma.

Cigarette paper? Only the purest that's made is good enough for Chesterfield.

PICK UP a package. Note its clean appearance... free from heavy inks. It's moisture-proof, too.

And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you.

Good... they've got to be good. Because they're made that way. And most important of all... you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.

Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield.

Let the cigarette do its own talking.

You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words... "They Satisfy!"

"Yes Sir—Mild yet they Satisfy"

Artemisia Scores First Class Honor Rating In Contest

Minimum of 860 Points Places Nevada Book in Annual College Selection

The 1931 Artemisia, University of Nevada yearbook for last year, has been awarded first class honor rating among colleges ranging from an enrollment of 500 to 999. The selection was made by the All-American Critical Service, which is conducted each year under the supervision of the National Scholastic Press Association.

This organization is composed of nearly three thousand publications from colleges and high schools throughout the country. Its purpose is to further the interest of all forms of collegiate and scholastic journalism.

Making its selection on a point basis the association divides the publications into all-American, first class and second class ratings, according to the merits of the books. In judging each annual, use is made of a 20-page score book especially designed for this purpose. A minimum of 860 points was necessary to place the Nevada book in the first class group.

Coast Schools Rate

Two years ago the Artemisia was awarded all-American honor rating with a score well over 900, being recognized among the few best college annuals in the United States.

Other schools receiving first-class honor rating in Nevada's class are Carleton College, Minnesota; Manchester College, Indiana; St. Lawrence University, New York; University of Hawaii, Honolulu; Ohio Northern University, Ohio; Valparaiso University, Indiana; and Wheaton College, Illinois.

Among those receiving all-American rating this year were Occidental College and Pomona College, both in California.

Francis Smith was editor of last year's Artemisia, while Fritz Wilson was business manager.

Announcements

Regular Home Economics meeting will be held Wednesday evening, December 9, at 7 o'clock in the home ec. rooms of the Aggie building.

Meeting of the Nevada Section of the A.I.M. & M.E.
Place—Mackay School of Mines.
Time—7:45 P.M. on Wednesday, December 9, 1931.

Speakers and Subjects—Director J. A. Fulton on the "Aims and Accomplishments of the Nevada State Bureau of Mines." Messrs. J. E. Haffner and E. E. Pennebaker, general manager and Geologist of the Consolidated Coppermines Corporation, on "The Purpose and Methods of a Recent Geological Study of the Robinson (Ely) District." Mr. Pennebaker will bring with him many aerial photographs and explain in detail the problems and methods of the company's recent aerial survey of the district.—Henry M. Rives, Secy.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS

Kindly bear in mind the fact that there is to be no smoking anywhere within the library building. This applies to the corridors, seminars, basement, and inside the revolving doors. Since this is the case and until the regulations are altered by the common consent of everyone concerned, please refrain from putting cigarettes or pipe in your mouth until you have stepped out of the building. Several outsiders upon observing students with cigarettes in their mouths have remarked: "Oh, do you allow smoking in the library?"

The seminars are for the use of students who are registered in seminar course. If you are not entitled to the use of any one, kindly do your studying in the main reading room upstairs.

There is an increasing number of students who fail to respond to overdue and fine notices. After the third notice you are dismissed from the library for one week, and upon expiration of that time you are expected to settle your account at your earliest convenience if you wish to again enjoy library privileges.—Librarian.

Hicks Will Speak To Science Club on Japan Controversy

Speaking on the present Manchurian situation, Professor Charles Hicks will talk to the Faculty Science Club Thursday afternoon at its regular meeting in Room 110 of the Agricultural building.

Professor Stanley Palmer, president of the club, said that all students of the University of Nevada are invited to attend any meeting of the Faculty Science Club. He also stated that there are often meetings at which topics of interests to different groups of students are discussed.

In Professor Hicks' class on Thursday he will give chiefly those points of the Manchurian situation which are relative to the present controversy.

STUDENTS TRAVEL IN BOX CAR Garage Shelters Relic of Los Angeles Journey WHEN AUTO WILL NOT FUNCTION

It was no fault of Rowen Colgan, Vic Carroll, and Dan Bledsoe that they did not appear for class Monday morning. After some 42 hours of continuous effort, the trio completed the return trip from Los Angeles Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock, after keeping company with a lonely box car for 200 miles. All members of the party had been home enjoying the holidays with their parents.

Making a successful start from Los Angeles Sunday noon, the gallant trio, with "Cannon Ball" Colgan at the wheel, hurtled across the Mojave desert, and on to the north through Owens valley. All went smoothly until the top of Montgomery Pass was reached, when it was discovered that the four dependable cylinders of the Colgan Chevrolet Special were in a state of extreme heat.

Water was promptly poured into the more or less leakless radiator to bring things down to normal temperature, but due to the age-old law of physics, which states that all metal has a certain amount of contraction and expansion due to heat, and such quick changes of temperatures as occurred in this case often result in dire difficulties, an elongated and gaping crack appeared in the head of the aforementioned Colgan Chevrolet Special.

Undaunted by the turn of luck, all members of the party voted to continue the trip notwithstanding the condition of the car. Finally after an average speed of approximately five miles per hour the party reached Mina, and there the automobile gave distinct signs of going no farther.

After some time spent in Mina, all baggage of the three was transferred to a likely looking box car, and our heroes became members of the organization known as "Knights of the Rail."

On into the night rode the three travelers, until the pangs of the mountainous sub-zero weather proved to be unbearable, and while the train awaited the famous Goldfield Express to pass it, the three friends abandoned their box-car bedroom, and pooling their resources, obtained the necessary financial backing to terminate the trip in push-chaired cars.

"Cannon Ball" Colgan, it is rumored, is thoroughly disgusted with the antics of his great Colgan Chevrolet Special and is contemplating letting it rust into oblivion in the confines of a struggling Mina garage.

Part of Blanket Deposit Will Be Given By Students

The current question of the present status of Blue Key, honorary service organization, was brought up for discussion. Keith Lee, treasurer, stated that since Blue Key had not sent copies of its constitution and by-laws to the A.S.U.N. office, it would remain on probation until further action of the Executive committee. Lee cited the section of the constitution of the associated students which delegates to the Executive committee the power to supervise organizations which fail to place copies of their constitutions and by-laws in the files of the associated students office.

Between-dances entertainment will be furnished by the musical organizations on the Hill at the Glee Club jamboree, which will be held at the Washoe County Library building a week from tomorrow night, it was announced by Phil Mann.

Arvin Boerlin, president of Scabbard and Blade, announced the annual military ball which will take place tomorrow night in the State building.

Mark LeDucque, former student at the University of Nevada, is chief chemist for the Great Western Chemical Company at Pittsburg, California.

Bickford Shields is studying for a doctor's degree at the University of Illinois.

Lincoln Hall Men Plan December Jig

Plans for the next Lincoln Hall dance are progressing splendidly, according to Fred Fader, President of the hall association. This dance, the last of the present semester, is to be a Christmas affair. It will be held on Friday, December 11, instead of December 12, as previously stated. Callahan's orchestra has been secured for the evening.

A committee consisting of LeRoy Chancellor, chairman; Gerry Brummond, George Mann, Bill Crowle, Hugh Rossolo, and Bob Liddell has been appointed to make all arrangements.

Barnard Sets Precedent

A petition favoring world-wide disarmament was sent recently to Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the Senate committee on foreign affairs, by 650 Barnard College students. This is the first time that a student body in America has sent a formal declaration of opinion regarding the policy of the United States government in international affairs to a senate committee.

Mines Bureau, Ely District To Be Discussed

The Nevada section of A.I.M. & M.E. will hold a meeting at the Mackay School of Mines here next Wednesday evening at 7:45, according to an announcement released from the office of Professor J. A. Carpenter, chairman, last night.

Director John A. Fulton will speak on the subject "The Aims and Accomplishments of the Nevada State Bureau of Mines," and Messrs. J. E. Haffner and E. E. Pennebaker, general manager and geologist of the Consolidated Copper Mines Corporation, will talk on "The Purpose and Business Methods of a Recent Geological Study of the Robinson District," the announcement says.

The Robinson district is located in the vicinity and is rated as one of the highest copper producing districts in the world. Considerable interest is evidenced in the forthcoming discussion, and although Professor Carpenter did not say what the basis of the lecture was to be, it is generally conjectured that the copper pit at Ruth, the smelter at McGill, and other points of interest not only to Nevadans but to people the country over as well, will be discussed.

According to the announcement, Mr. Pennebaker will bring with him many aerial photographs and will explain in detail the problems and methods of the Consolidated Copper Company's recent aerial survey of the district.
