coaches of the Far Western Conference from starting active coaching before September 10th this year the football candidates have been obliged to train under their own supervision throughout the past week. Though still unhardened for the active season ahead, the men are in "fair condition" for Saturday's initial workout. Throughout the five-day training period the squad has been busily engaged in calesthentics, dummy clipping and tackling, charging, passing and punting.

Organized into four groups the squad has carried out a systematic routine of practice and preparation in which some attention has been devoted to passing and kicking play formations.

There are an abundance of ends and guards out for line berths and it is probable that Nevada's 1932 team will be a heavier aggregation than those of recent seasons. With several line and backfield veterans again on the job, Coach Mitchell will have a scrappy bunch of football-minded aspirants from which to mold a smooth working

Though openly disappointed with a smaller turnout than had been anticipated, "Brick" was not to disheartened by the ability and prospects of the material at hand.

"I had expected a larger turnout," stated the new mentor, "for with an enrollment of over five hundred men in the university, there is reason to expect more than sixty men to turn out for football. There are a number of husky, capable men on the campus who would do their school and them-selves good to turn out. We are here to coach football. Experience is NOT essential.'

'Our first few workouts will consist of individual practice and development of players, working up to our first scrimmage about next Thursday," concluded Mitchell in commenting on the present football outlook.

The new suits consist of moleskin pants, white jerseys trimmed with blue and blue and white sox. Each player is to be designated by a larger numeral than those heretofore worn by Nevada players.

Boxing holds the principle interest, and is to be divided into heavy, middle and lightweight classes, the winner of each class scoring ten points. An even number on each side are selected to do battle in the tie-up and in the jousting, but the tire rush is open to all men of the two classes.

ACTIVITIES

With two weeks of association with our new school year and registration practically completed, the activity question again rouses our interest.

College in relation to activities can be either a grind or a loaf. It can be detrimental as well as beneficial.

We are only human. We were once freshmen. We had ideas about college. We became disillusioned. We made the best of it. We are still attending the university.

In part we wish to give a few words of advice to the freshmen as well as all undergraduates in order that they will avoid some of the pitfalls that so often become the lot of those un-

Nevada offers advantages to all students in any line of student leadership and an outlet is presented for all extra energies that may be stored within the individual student. But at all times there are two things which the freshman as well as the upperclass-man must keep in mind. The first is scholarship. The second is extra-curricular activity. The two are essential to the student. They must be co-ordinated.

In publications, athletics, dramatics, student government, pep organizations and other means by which students can well help and foster the best interests of Nevada one must realize the loyalty owed his school and himself and the work therein exhibited should be the very best that the individual student can contribute as representative of himself and his interest in Nevada. MITCHELL TAKES THE FIELD

Tomorrow, September 10, two weeks before the opening game of the 1932 football season, Coach "Brick" Mitchell takes official charge of his new varsity.

Ably assisted by Coltrin and Scranton, Nevada's new mentor has a difficult task before him. Nevada has the most difficult schedule ever attempted and playing four major college teams within the space of six weeks is no easy task.

Sixty men will answer Mitchell's beck and call and all of these true Nevadans want and like to play football. They are out there for Nevada, the love of the sport and the desire to put the Pack at the top of the heap.

FROSH ELECTION

Again a new freshman class shows either the failure of combines to click properly or a new form of independent voice in student government may be witnessed in the future.

The election of Ward of Las Vegas, an independent, to the Frat Pledges office of president of the class of '36 may be the turning point Given Dance toward showing "Barb" strength in our future A. S. U. N. elections.

STATEMENT TO STUDENTS

President Clark has put the Student Affairs Committee in charge of the Student Union Building. The committee is anxious that the largest possible use of the building be made for proper student purposes. That this may be done, reasonable rules governing the use of the building are necessary. The committee, therefore, meeting with Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, and George Ziegler, '34, chairman of the student committee on uses of the building, have adopted the following rules to govern use of the

- 2. The lounging room of the building is open for the use of all students between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m. It is understood that students so using the room will conduct themselves in an orderly manner.
- 3. The building will be locked between the hours of 6 and 7 p. m. and 9 p. m. and 8 a. m.
- 4. Recognized campus organizations may schedule committee meetings between the hours of 4:30 and 5 o'clock, and between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.
- 5. Mr. Hartung is in immediate charge of the building, and responsible to the Student Affairs Committee for the enforcement of rules governing the uses of the building. Campus organizations desiring to use the building for committee purposes within the permitted hours are to make application to Mr. Hartung for such privilege.

These rules, of course, are tentative in character and subject to modification in case need arises. The committee asks the cooperation of all students in making this building a real asset to the campus, and will wecome any criticism or suggestions. It is our desire to be helpful.
