College of the Pacific Frosh Will Play Wolf Yearlings Tomorrow

Coach Scranton's Yearlings to Meet Real Test of Season

Freshmen to Clash With Rival College Team for First Time Since 1928

Playing their second game of the season Nevada Wolf College will meet the College of Pacific freshmen tomorrow afternoon on Mackay field at 2:15. This will be the first time that the yearlings have met a freshman team since 1928. In 1928 the Sacramento Junior College defeated the Frosh by a score of 13 to 7.

Coach Scranton is expecting to take to the field against a powerful and highly developed team. Scranton is optimistic about his men. He has been training his men hard during the past week and intends giving the visitors a good game, providing his men play heads-up football and show up better than in the Frosh-Fallon game.

The tentative lineup for the Frosh is as follows: Toquero, center; Peters, Morris, guards; Hadlen, Cummings, tackles; Austin, Benson, ends; Cockrell, Kepl, halfbacks; Walker, fullback; and Tapogna, quarter. Other men who will probably get in the game are Gerow, Wanke, Mathews, Horgan, Stevens and Becasas.

In their first game this season the Frosh won from Fallon High School 7 to 0. The game was slow, both sides fumbling continually. The only touchdown in the game was made by Walker and Becasas converted.

The Frosh showed up good on fundamental plays and were the aggressors throughout the entire game, but they were greatly handicapped by the repeated fumbling.

During the first quarter the Frosh held the edge over the Melopickers and ran the ball down to Fallon's five yard line, where they lost the ball on a fumble. Fallon brought the ball down to the Frosh 44 yard line. In the second quarter the Frosh scored their only touchdown when Walker took the ball across the line and Becasas converted, making the score 7 to 0.

In the third quarter Fallon staged a comeback and came within scoring distance for the first time, only to lose the ball when the Frosh line stiffened and held back their attack. The fourth quarter was marked by the number of fresh men Scranton sent on the field.

Kepl, Walker and Becasas were outstanding for the Frosh, and Callahan, Fallon half, made several spectacular runs. The lineup for the game was as follows:

Fallon	Position	Frosh
McDonnell	REL	Austin
Kinney	RTL	Hadlen
Keller	RGL	Morris
Miller	C	Toquero
Arrizabalaga	LGR	Peters
Ahern	LTR	Cummings
Waldron	LER	Benson
Inman	Q	Becasas
Edwards	H	Kepl
Evens, Callahan	H	Cockrell
Hugel	F	Walker

Tentative Results of Intelligence Test Given by R. Irwin

Dorothy Shoup, Geo. Francis Are in the Lead at Present

Incomplete results of freshman intelligence tests rank Dorothy Shoup of Reno and George F. Francis of Las Vegas as first and second, respectively, in the mental measurement tests given several weeks ago by Professor Ralph A. Irwin to the class of '36.

Miss Shoup is a graduate of Reno high school with the class of '32 and is enrolled in the college of arts and science. Francis, who graduated in '31 from Las Vegas high school, is registered at the university as an engineer.

The findings of the psychology group in mental measurements will be completed during next week, at which time the statistics will be released through Professor Irwin.

Faculty Club Hears Psychology Lecture

The Faculty Science club met this Thursday in the agriculture building. Professor Irwin spoke on "The Causes of the Migration of 70 Families." This was a study of 70 indigent itinerant families, who asked for aid in Seattle. Irwin presented the answers to a host of questions as to what manner of people these were.

In general they were restless, poorly-educated younger couples born of the same kind of people, claiming no legal residence. They were forever out of work and forever traveling to some new Utopia, expecting charity wherever they stopped. At this time of worthy unemployed, this roving class is a serious problem to all cities.

Two Scholarships Go to Alternates After Registration

Margaret Rawson and Paul Fontana were pleasantly surprised the other day when they received in their mail an order on the university comptroller's office for scholarship money.

Both students were alternates in the scholarship awards announced at graduation last spring. Russell Elliott, the former holder of the General O. M. Mitchell Women's Relief Corps Scholarship, could not take the prescribed military courses due to conflicts in his program. Consequently, the $100 scholarship went to Paul Fontana.

John White did not return to the university this fall, and as that was one of the requisites in holding the $50 Senior Regent Scholarship, the award went to Margaret Rawson, alternate.

Winners of the other 26 scholarships listed in an early issue of the Sagebrush this fall all returned to college. The amount of the order presented to the comptroller totaled about $2900.

Engineer's Exhibits To Feature Model Railroad and Mine

All Equipment To Be Running and Student Work Will Be on Display

During the Homecoming celebration the engineers will prove that lightning, operating mines and railroad systems can all be active on the Nevada campus.

Jack Smith, president of the Associated Engineers, announced that in addition to these unusual exhibits, equipment will be running in the mining and electrical engineering buildings and there will be a display of student work in the machine shop.

The exhibits will be open all day Friday, Saturday morning and from four to six o'clock on the afternoon of the game.

Guides will conduct visitors around the campus and through the buildings. The operating exhibits will be explained by the engineers in charge of their management.

Some of the most unusual features will be a short wave radio station, a wind tunnel and a lightning machine. A miniature railroad system will be in action around the Quad.

One float will represent the combined efforts of all four departments of engineering.

Those on the committee are Dean F. H. Sibley, Harry Dunseath, Ed Usnick, Charles Thompson, John Bryan, Howard Galloway, Fred Needham, Paul Hartman, Milton Murphy and Jack Smith.

Agricultural Bldg. To Feature Exhibits On Homecoming

Aggie Club Will Be in Charge of Exhibits, as Well as Entering Float

That the College of Agriculture will offer an exhibit for the approaching Homecoming exercises is assured, according to Marshall Woodward, president of the Aggie club. The exhibit is to be presented in the agricultural building Friday and Saturday, October 21 and 22.

Although the exhibit will not be as large as in past years, it is expected that several interesting displays will be presented.

The zoology room, botany room and soil laboratory will all be open for inspection, and an interesting collection of living studies, such as rats, gila monsters, rabbits, etc., will be stationed in the veterinary room.

It is expected that S. B. Doten, connected with the agricultural experiment station, T. E. Buckman, assistant director of the agricultural extension division, and the Washoe County Farm Bureau will all contribute to the exhibit, offering production charts and other interesting data of this nature.

The Aggies also are contemplating entering a large float in the Homecoming parade which was not disclosed.

Sagers to Change Rules; Seniors Will Remain Active

A radical change in the constitution of the Sagers was proposed in a meeting of that organization held recently. At the present time, the constitution reads that students who have belonged to the organization during their underclass or junior years are ineligible during their senior underclass. Each year this disqualifies about twenty students who have been active during the previous three years.

Nevada Upsets Dope By Outplaying The Strong Utah Eleven

Wolf Pack Scores in Second Quarter and Leads Fighting Utes Until Last Quarter

Ambrose Crosses Utah Line Standing Up to Make Score After Recovered Fumble

BY BILL M'EMENAMIN

A slashing, fighting Wolf Pack played stubborn defense and crashed through the University of Utah Redskins with a smart running attack to gain a 6 to 6 tie with one of the nation's leading grid elevens in Ogden last Saturday.

The victory shows that Coach "Brick" Mitchell's gridders are coach enough to fight a major grid team on even terms for the first time in years. It gives warning that the Wolves are to be reckoned with in the fight for the Far Western conference championship.

Playing heads-up ball, the Nevadans early in the second quarter recovered a fumble on the Utah six yard line after a well placed punt by Ambrose, Nevada quarterback. Ambrose went through a hole in the Utah line big enough to drive a freight train through to make a score. He crossed the goal line standing up, untouched by tacklers. The attempted conversion by Guffrey failed.

Make Good Stand

Making a brilliant stand, the Nevada gridders held back all of the Redskins' offensive attack until the last quarter when the Utes made a 75 yard march down the field to a touchdown. Only a belated attack by the Mormons, in which they brought new reserve strength into play against a tired Nevada line, won them a tie.

Rollie Sleater, substitute halfback, made the score for the Utah team on an end-around play. His battering at the line, coupled with the ebbing power of the Sagebrush team's line, were the cause of a tie. The Ute attempt at a conversion failed.

Power on Defense

Nevada showed a new power on defense that was discovered in the St. Mary's game in Kezar stadium two weeks ago. It promises well for the Wolf Pack's chances of victory in their Homecoming Day tilt with the California Aggies.

What kept the Ute backfield men worried was the charging ability of Ole Theis and Bob Madriaga, giant Nevada tackles. Nevada showed an unmistakable ability to take advantage of the breaks of the game.

The fact most pleasing to Coach Mitchell a strong exponent of clean sport, was the good sportsmanship of his charges. Nevada was not penalized once throughout the game, while the Mormon eleven was punished several times with severe penalties for illegitimate play.

Hill Stars

Harvey Hill, the fastest man on the team, playing his first game in the tailback position, was the sensation of the Wolf Pack's offense. He consistently made long gains. Twice it appeared that he had broken loose with a clear field to the goal and a touchdown, only to be caught by the arm of his jersey as he sidestepped a Ute tackler.

Nevada's big weakness appears to be in the kicking department, although Coach Mitchell states that the Wolves have gained more yardage on punts from their opponents so far this season than any other team. The lack of a good kicker has been felt in the consistent failure of the Nevada team to score conversions. If the Wolves had this ability, they would have defeated the Redskins.

Carroll Powerful

Vic Carroll, Nevada substitute fullback playing his first game in that position, was like a brick wall to the Ute offense. He played the entire game without a helmet, ripped through the Utah line for substantial gains and his tackling was hard and deadly.

In pursuing the statistics of the game, it was found that the Utah team gained little yardage through the Nevada line but made most of its gains via the air. Utah made 264 yards from scrimmage to 150 for Nevada but fumbles and penalties and a stiff Nevada defense stopped them at crucial moments.

Hill, already proven an able ball carrier, was the work horse of the Nevada team, carrying the ball often and clipping off good yardage. Captain Christensen, spark plug of the Ute offense, was the outstanding Mormon in the game until he was injured in the first quarter and taken out of the game.

Mitchell kept no statistics on the game, declaring that he was "not" interested in any statistics but touchdowns. Mitchell believes that first downs do not win a football game, since they are never counted in the final tally.

According to the Salt Lake Tribune not one of the Nevada backfield men lost more yards from scrimmage than he made. The yardage gained of the Nevada backs was as follows: Jack Hill, 29 yards in five attempts; Priest, 12 yards in four attempts; H. Hill, 72 yards in 22 attempts; Ambrose, five yards in three attempts and Hackett, one yard in three attempts.

Brush Staff Additions Are to Be Made

The first eight-page edition of the Sagebrush will make its appearance on Homecoming day, containing details of the day's activities, and put out by an augmented news staff.

The staff, which now includes every member of the news writing class of Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, will receive more permanent reporters from the group which has been on probation.

According to Editor Ken Johnson additions or changes in the news staff will be made by the following assisting editors: Ed Montgomery, general staff manager; Neva Shaw, women's editor; Bill McMenamin, sports editor.

Haseman - Jones Memorial Bench Work Underway

Fontana and Schilling Work on Plans for a Flat Top Memorial Bench

With the rejection of the original plans and bid submitted last year by the Rome Monumental Works, two students from the school of engineering, Paul Fontana and George Schilling, are working on plans for a flat top bench as a memorial to Deans Charles Haseman and Claude Jones.

The memorial will probably be a semi-circular bench about 14 or 15 feet long, and will be situated on the east side of Manzanita lake, near the library building. The bench, which will be placed in the center of the triangle formed by the three trees that were planted last Mackay Day, will be constructed out of gray Rocklin granite.

There will be a bronze plaque, with a suitable inscription on it, on or near the memorial. Plans are being made to add to the original memorial, the bench, as soon as enough money can be raised, stated Keith Lee, A.S.U.N. president.

A drive for funds, started last year by a committee appointed by Edwin Canton, last year's A.S.U.N. president, $388 was collected from petitions circulated among the students of the university. This fund has been added to by small donations until it is large enough to cover the total cost of the memorial, which will be around $400.

Sophomores Stage Annual Soph Hop

Dance to Be Held Saturday at State Building, With Rainbow Theme

The second formal of the year will be held tomorrow night when the Sophomores stage their annual Soph Hop in the State building.

The committee, headed by Bob Hansen, has put in a considerable amount of work in order to make this affair successful. Following a rainbow theme the entire stage will be lined with various colors to bring out the rainbow effect. Owing to the size of the hall and its recent renovation, complete decoration was not necessary.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Dudley Nix and his orchestra. Novelty skills and singing by Nix will be a feature of the affair.

The advance ticket sale shows that the attendance will be large, according to Jack Quaid, who is in charge of ticket sales.

The members of the committee who worked to put on the hop are: Robert Hansen, chairman; Dorothy Nason, Peggy Smith, Marjorie Cannon, Sally Pagan, Denver Dickerson, Margaret Richards, Wilber Peterson, Jack Quaid, Ellen McFarland and Reed St. Clair.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN OVER N. B. C. NETWORK

In order to make the presidential campaign definitely educational, a "Message to the University Men and Women of America," will be delivered on Monday, October 17, at 7 p. m., over the NBC network, by the Republican and Democratic parties.

The program will last an hour, the first thirty minutes consisting of the program of the Democratic party with Governor Albert W. Ritchie of Maryland, as speaker. The remaining thirty minutes will be for the Republican program, presented by Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur.

President Hoover will speak only long enough to express his approval of the occasion.

The national advisory council on radio in education suggests that, at the close of the programs, groups of students, alumni and faculty members, assemble to discuss the programs.

Homecoming Plans Are Announced by Head of Committee

Many Donations Being Made by Downtown Merchants for Celebration Awards

Dance Saturday Eve to Climax All Festivities; Alumni Will Be Present

BY H. UMBER

Final plans for the Homecoming celebration, which is to be held next weekend, have been announced by Joe McDonnell, chairman of the Homecoming day committee.

Proceedings for the celebration will officially get under way Thursday night at 7:30, when the bonfire rally will start. This rally is under the direction of Phil Mann, and he is being assisted by Sagers, Underclass service organization, and Blue Key fraternity, honorary service organization. Material for the fire has been in the process of being gathered for the past two weeks, and Mann states that the pile will approximate a height of thirty feet. Present plans also call for the Block N on the side of Peavine to be lighted with red flares. This is under the supervision of Jack Smith, president of the Associated Engineers.

Speakers at the rally will be Silas E. Ross, member of the board of regents; Melvin E. Jepson, district attorney of Washoe county; Coach "Brick" Mitchell of the University of Nevada and Joe McDonnell, chairman of the Homecoming day committee.

Friday morning the annual cross-country race will be run off. This race is between Sparks and Mackay field, and all fraternities and Lincoln Hall have entered three men in the race. The winner of the race is decided by the organization having the first three men cross the finish line. The award for this event is a silver loving cup, given through the courtesy of the Interfraternity Council.

Following the cross-country, the annual tug of war, between the freshman and sophomore classes, will take place on Manzanita Lake at 2 o'clock. Under the supervision of the men's upperclass committee, of which Pat Sanford is chairman, a goodly portion of the members of each class have signified their intention of being out to pull the other through the lake.

All exhibits, which include displays by the Aggie department and the Associated Engineers, will officially open at 10 o'clock Friday morning, with the exception of the Automobile Show, which will open at 2:30 in the afternoon with a radio program from station KOH. A feature of the engineers' exhibit will be the placing of the miniature steam engine on the quad, where it will be put through its paces by those in charge.

Another exhibit will be the display sponsored by the Chemistry department. Ed Dyer, president of the Chemistry Club, is in charge of the exhibit, and all displays will be held in the Mackay Science Hall.

Wolves Frolic Friday night the annual Wolves' Frolic, the university's vaudeville show, will be held at the Granada theater. The show is under the direction of Professors William Miller and Robert Griffen, and includes all university talent. Dudley Nix will assist with the musical scores and the show is centered on one theme. A chorus of women from the university will also be featured. Miss Ruth Ryan has been directing the chorus numbers.

Saturday morning the parade will get under way at 11:30. Fraternities and sororities as well as other campus organizations will have floats in the parade, and the returning grads and old-time football players will be the honored guests. Cups donated by Gray-Reid-Wright company, Ginsburg's and Herz & Bro. jewelry companies, and the President Clark trophy will be awarded to the three best floats, as judged by a downtown committee. A cup will also be awarded to the best decorated house among the fraternity and sorority groups. Many houses have also included in their plans a welcome for their alumni members.

Saturday afternoon the football game between the Nevada varsity and the California Aggies will be played. A surprise has been promised in the way of a stunt between halves of this game. Just who is putting on this affair and of what it will consist is being kept secret. However, it gives promise of being the attraction of the afternoon.

This year the Homecoming dance is being combined with the one usually given by the Alumni Association, and it is to be held in the Washoe County Library building. Tickets may be secured in the Riverside pharmacy and from Sam Arentz, student body treasurer. Dudley Nix will furnish music for the dance, and novel entertainment has been provided. The committee in charge has decided that, in order to cut down the number of stags who usually attend this affair the price for anyone who wishes to attend without a woman companion will be double the usual admission charge.

All features of the celebration will be announced by the Standard Oil company and H. E. Saviers & Sons' respective sound trucks. The Standard Oil truck will be posted at the corner of Virginia and Second streets during the parade, and will give the pedestrians on the street a brief account of each feature.

Bernard Mergen '36 has withdrawn from the university in order to continue his work with the Nevada State Journal. He plans to return to the university next semester.

Weather Will No Longer Play Tricks on U. N. Students

Old man weather has been beaten at last by University of Nevada students. There is no more guess work on the part of students concerning how tomorrow's weather will be. There will be no more plans shattered by an unexpected turn in the weather. Students can now tell whether tomorrow will be a nice day for a picnic, whether they should bring umbrellas and rain coats to the football game.

The "lifesaver" of the students is the barometer located in the display case of the physics department in the Mackay Science building. A change in the barometer indicates a change in the weather. A rapidly falling barometer indicates a sudden, violent storm, while a gradually falling barometer means a moderate storm of longer duration.

Sigmund W. Leifson, associate professor of physics, has also placed in the display case several radio sets of former years, a Westphal specific gravity balance, which determines specific gravity of liquids; an early and modern wheatstone bridge used in measurement of resistance, and a group of scientific photographs of various planets.

Preparations for the Homecoming bonfire to be held in connection with the football rally the evening of Thursday, October 20, are being carried out under the direction of Phil Mann, chairman of the committee in charge.

The "fire rally" will be carried out in the manner of the California and Stanford rallies. The bonfire will differ, however, from the latter type by being built at the north end of the stadium instead of being placed in the center of the rally.

The bonfire will be made of a framework of railroad ties, filled with old boxes and crates. These boxes and crates are being collected from the downtown merchants.

All frosh are required to assist the Homecoming committee in gathering wood for the bonfire. Each freshman MUST obtain five boxes or crates and the women three. Someone will be stationed at the north end of the stadium from one until five o'clock all next week, and will check off the names of those bringing boxes. Failure to have names checked off will result in those freshmen being punished.

Trucks that are being used to haul the wood have been obtained from the state highway department, Tommy Penrose and the Osen Motor Company.

Miss Alice McAndrews, the speaker of the day, introduced as one of the most prominent business women of the town and state, gave a talk on "Women in Business." In relating of her many and varied experiences Miss McAndrews told of a convention she had attended last June composed of 500 business women of unusual occupations. Among the women engaged in odd professions was one who was a manufacturer of garters for bow-legged men. For the bow-legged men, the speaker said, she invented pads for the inside of the leg, and for the knock-kneed men, pads for the outside of the leg.

Another woman was a sand blaster for buildings fifteen to twenty stories high, another owned a chain of laundries, another was a steam boat inspector on the Mississippi, another a manufacturer of candies, two were mining engineers and still another was an architect.

The meeting was closed by singing the college hymn.

Many Unique Acts To Be Presented In Annual Frolic

Best Wolves' Frolic Yet, Says Miller, the Director; Eleven Acts

The curtain for the sixteenth annual Wolves' Frolic will rise at 8:30 Friday night, October 21, at the Granada theatre, on 17 flashy numbers presented against a unique revue set.

The nature of these acts cannot be revealed, but the audience will be pleased and satisfied with them, stated William E. Miller, director of the production. Eleven of them, one a number that has been particularly written for Homecoming, are "knock-out" acts and should literally "stop the show," he said.

The material this year is fine, and the acts are well balanced so the Frolic this year will be even a little bit better than past Wolves' Frolics have been, Miller announced.

The chorus girls for the show, although criticized by the "Brush" dirt column, will stack up against any material available on the campus, said Miller. The sixteen chorus girls will wear the same costumes being used for a stage presentation this week at the Paramount theatre in Los Angeles. They have been picked out by a personal representative of the production in Los Angeles.

There are about 110 people directly connected with the show, including 30 principals, 16 chorus girls, and a 14-piece band besides the many helpers and sub-directors.

Between fifteen and twenty university students have received daily treatment, this fall at the campus hospital, reports Mrs. Ethel Shurtleff, matron. About two-thirds of those treated were men, many of whom had received football injuries. Colds and sore throats are the more numerous ailments.

At present there is only Frances Slavina, freshman student in the hospital receiving treatment for an infected heel.

Women Conduct Open Meeting At 11:25 Hour

Men Join Women for First Time in History of Campus

Attending an A.W.S. meeting for the first time in the history of Nevada university, men joined with the women this morning to hear Homecoming reports and announcements and incidentally to hear a talk on "Women in Business," by Miss Alice McAndrews, Reno business woman.

Since this was to be the last meeting before Homecoming, an invitation had been issued to the entire A.S.U.N. by Katherine Ligon, A.W.S. president, to attend in order that unfinished business could be attended to before the Homecoming celebration.

In order that the men might know how an A.W.S. meeting is conducted the women remained in complete charge, calling on the men only to lead and yell and the final song. The meeting was opened with the "Mackay Song" under the leadership of Blythe Bulmer.

Joe McDonnell, Homecoming committee chairman, announced that the parade would start at 11:30 Saturday morning, organizing at Tenth and Virginia streets, with divisions which form between Virginia and Sierra streets, having all joined in by the time Seventh street is reached. This method of adding sections of the parade as it advances will eliminate the possibility of traffic congestion, McDonnell said.

A mailing list telling the order for the floats had been sent out to all float entries. Wayne Van Voorhis, president of Scabbard and Blade, will be marshal. Student lieutenants will be in charge of each division of the parade.

Sam Arentz is in charge of selling tickets for the Homecoming dance and they will also be on sale at the Riverside Pharmacy all day Saturday, October 22.

Frosh Bring Boxes It was announced that all frosh men are required to bring boxes for the bonfire Thursday night. Those men driving trucks only will be excused. Women also are expected to contribute boxes.

Painting of the block "N" will take place tomorrow morning. It was announced, and all freshmen must be there at 8:30, will roll being called at nine o'clock. Football players and managers are excused from this annual task.

An A.W.S. report revealed that $26.60 had been taken in from ice cream sales at the last football game. Thanks were extended by the president to those girls who had cooperated and encouragement was given to girls in future ice cream sales.

No Trip Marjine Solares reported that the A.W.S. budget would not permit of the annual trip of the incoming president to the national conference to be held this year at Ithaca, N. Y. She indicated that the budget would again be presented in the spring for a vote.

Miss Alice McAndrews, the speaker of the day, introduced as one of the most prominent business women of the town and state, gave a talk on "Women in Business." In relating of her many and varied experiences Miss McAndrews told of a convention she had attended last June composed of 500 business women of unusual occupations. Among the women engaged in odd professions was one who was a manufacturer of garters for bow-legged men. For the bow-legged men, the speaker said, she invented pads for the inside of the leg, and for the knock-kneed men, pads for the outside of the leg.

Another woman was a sand blaster for buildings fifteen to twenty stories high, another owned a chain of laundries, another was a steam boat inspector on the Mississippi, another a manufacturer of candies, two were mining engineers and still another was an architect.

The meeting was closed by singing the college hymn.

Pre-Medical Society May Join National Organization Soon

Definite Decision To Be Made at Next Meeting of Local Group

Possibilities of its becoming affiliated with Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-medical fraternity, were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Omega Mu Iota, University of Nevada pre-med society.

No definite decision of going national was reached at Wednesday night's meeting, and the question was left open for outside discussion. According to Dave Clark, president of the local organization, a definite decision will be made at the next meeting when the organization will either accept or reject the bid to affiliate nationally.

With thirty active members now enrolled in its membership, Omega Mu Iota will initiate ten new members at its next official gathering.

Officers of this organization, which is open to pre-med students of the campus, are Dave Clark, president; Leo Namini, vice president; Marcella Barclay, secretary-treasurer.

Wolf Pack Plays Cal. Aggies First Conference Game

Aggies Won Last Year 12-0; Russell Sweet, Mustang Star, Shines

Fresh from a hard fought tie game with the University of Utah Redskins, the Nevada Wolves have a week and a Saturday of practice in which to prepare for the Homecoming battle with Coach "Cris" Poomey's California Aggies on Mackay field October 22.

With one win, one loss, and one tie to their credit, the Wolves have proven themselves to be a strong contender for the Far Western championship. Although none of the games played so far has been a conference game, the teams which Nevada has battled are conceded to be stronger and more highly rated than any of the conference teams.

The Homecoming game will be the first of the conference series for Nevada, and it is upon the behavior of the Wolves in this contest that Coach "Brick" Mitchell hopes to establish the supremacy of his team. However, the Aggies are aiming to put their feet in Nevada's pie, and these two old foes are sure to put up a real battle.

Last Year

Still smarting from the 12 to 0 defeat administered to them last year by the Mustangs, the Wolves are anxious for revenge. The Aggies are again chafing to kick the pelt off that same Wolf and take it home as a souvenir, but the Wolf is not so lean this year and he will have plenty to say about that hide of his.

The two teams will go on the field on almost even terms, the Aggie line averaging close to 190 pounds and the Wolf forward wall tipping the beam slightly over 187. Like Nevada, the Mustangs are fresh from a victory, having defeated Coach "Stan" Borleski's Fresno Bulldogs 3 to 0 in a conference game last week. Although the Aggies were lucky to win the game, which was a dual of punting, they nevertheless hope to keep their record clean.

The three games which Nevada has played has given confidence and experience to the players. Saturday's game against Utah proved that power has been developed in the forward wall and speed and deception in the backfield.

The fleetness of Harvey Hill will be a match for that of Russ Sweet, Aggie quarterback, who tears off the hundred yards in some ten seconds. Nevada ends have shown real crashing power, and promise to make it plenty tough for the "educated toe" of Di Martini, Aggie point getter in the Fresno game.

Chemists Swallow Flesh of Ancient Mummies in Initiation Ceremonies

Grim reminders of a dead past roamed the corridors of the Mackay Science Hall last Thursday night. Trembling neophytes beheld old Arabian alchemists called up from their moldy graves at the order of the Chemistry club. The speakers took a group of beginning chemists in hand and tested all their five senses to see if they had the spark of scientific genius. And although, it must be said in all fairness, that these shades of alchemists knew very little chemistry, neither did the initiates.

Thus spake the alchemist: "I see by this crystal sphere, innocent neophyte, that thou art about to be subjected to a critical and severe examination. Thou art to be examined in the five senses, and in thy ability to use thy feeble, flickering brain."

"If thou dost pass this examination, perhaps thou canst write thy name upon the membership roll of this sacred organization."

Are Blindfolded
Conducted from room to room blindfolded, they tasted things with vile tastes, they smelled things with vile smells, and they saw things that made the hair raise on the napes of their necks and their knees beat a devil's tattoo against each other.

They swallowed the flesh of ancient mummies. They ate the eyes of very defunct holy Egyptian cats and beheld the fires furnished by courtesy of Me-phisto-phelus. They swallowed mysterious little blue pills and asked one another covert questions. As the light flicked and cast awesome shadows on the walls, they signed their names to the scroll containing the names of the illustrious dead and their hands were paralyzed in a way that made them think whole regiments of hardy ghosts had laid hold.

As the last trembling initiate was led from the chambers of horror, the alchemists returned with unearthly shrieks to their clammy abodes, there to rest until called forth a year hence. The lights flashed on and to the tables in the library were groaning with punch, cake, sandwiches and orange juice.

But in the calm glow of the electric light, reason and dignity returned, and plans were discussed for the chemistry exhibits and float for Homecoming day. Plans are being kept secret, but the Chemistry club will enter a float in the parade, and will have on

Automobile Show To Be Staged in Gym Homecoming

Dealers to Enter New Model Cars and Men Will Show Main Improvements

The University of Nevada gymnasium will be transferred from an athletic court into a showroom on Homecoming Day when a complete automobile show will be staged there.

According to Howard Umber, who is in charge of this phase of the celebration, the show will open at 2:30 Friday afternoon, and will remain open until the football game Saturday afternoon.

With an array of various plants from the university greenhouse, the gym will be fully decorated. If it is possible decorations from the Soph Hop may be used to fill in the space on the northern part of the gym. Tentative plans says that the program will be broadcast over the radio station KOH.

The companies that are entering their cars in the display will have men there to show the visitors the main features of the new automobiles. Ac-

In The know?

WASHINGTON—(IP)—Announcement was made here last week that early in October a "depression university" will be opened not far from here in the hills of Virginia—a university at which the faculty will teach for its board and room only.

The university, it was said, plans to have about 100 students, who will pay a fee of $250 each, covering all expenses for the year.

There will be no football team at Depression University, but anyone wishing to win his "D" can do so in fishing.

Hunting, too, may be a major sport, with the idea that after a hard day on the athletic field, the students can bring home their dinners. The university is to be the result of a plan evolved by Dr. A. C. C. Hill, Jr., professor of economics at Springfield College. Those making preparations for the opening of the school say that it will involve no revolutionary teachings, nor will it be unduly conservative.

The main idea, it seems, will be to make use of some unemployed faculty members who might otherwise be wasted.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE FORT DEARBORN MASSACRE
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the artist, N. C. Wyeth... inspired by the heartless treachery of a band of vicious Miami Indians, who massacred the settlers with inhuman ferocity... August 15, 1812.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

Honorary English Society Initiates

Margaret Martin and Mary Williams Initiated Into Chi Delta Phi

Margaret Martin and Mary Williams were initiated into Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary English society, last Sunday afternoon. The initiation ceremony was held in the women student room in Artemisia hall and were presided over by Marjorie Myles, president of the organization.

To become eligible for Chi Delta Phi, a student must have made a grade of two or above in three semesters of English and have attained a high scholastic standing.

The public performance of this organization is the annual scandal show. The event was scheduled to occur this semester but the society has relinquished the date to the Y.W.C.A., who will present its first scandal show this year. Chi Delta Phi will hold its show next spring.

CO-EDS OF 1924

Marcella Coates '25 was elected chairman for the Aggie day celebration of October 21.

A cry of "Dinks for Women" was made on the Nevada campus following the step taken by the women of Fort Collins, Colo., who wore green caps to show their school spirit.

Fern Lowry was elected women's representative to finance control to succeed Lucile Blake, who resigned her position.

Women aid chasers of the Sagebrush were given high honors by Sydney Holt, business manager. He said, "It would take twice as many aid chasers if I did not have the women."

The best story contest conducted by the editorial staff of the Sagebrush was won by the women on a 9-4 score.

The home ec. department adopted the point system to aid in choosing the woman best suited for winning the home ec. scholarship.

The D. A. E. English honor society planned to carry on a series of meetings dealing with various countries. The study will include art, music, dancing and amusements of different peoples. Freda Humphrey was elected entertainment chairman, with Lucile Blake, Teima Hopper and Ruth Olmstead appointed to work with her.

One hundred and twenty-one coeds sent requests for rooms at Manzanita Hall, but the maximum accommodation was 98. The dining hall, which should have seated 180 persons, was also crowded, and it was necessary to place an extra table. Counting the waiters, there were 208 persons eating regularly in the dining hall.

Miss Gertrude Reilly was recovering from a badly sprained ankle. She was a member of the freshman whitewashing party and had a bad fall down the hill.

JANE ARCHER LATE TO SCRUB SENIOR BENCH

Jane Archer, junior student and tradition breaker, took time off Tuesday morning to scrub the Senior Bench in atonement for having sat unrightfully upon it recently.

With but one member of the women's upperclass committee in evidence, the erring co-ed swabbed down the gray cement bench, sacred and non-usable except to seniors. A small crowd viewed with critical eyes Miss Archer's efforts, commenting on the usual lack of dexterity with the tooth brush and pail, bored with the sight of another girl whose misdemeanor a disinterested upperclass committee must punish.

Scheduled for 9:30, Miss Archer and her scrubbing implements did not arrive until almost 10, when most of the would-be spectators were in class. The few who did appear said that Miss Archer's performance fell far below that of past offenders who paid the "extreme penalty."

Mr. Hoge is connected with the Hoge Development company.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

At the next official A. S. U. N. student body meeting the sections of article IV numbering seven and eight are up for the consideration and vote of the students. These sections deal with Nevada's minor sports awarding system and changes in Nevada's minor sports awarding system and change present obsolete and unfair compensating procedure.

Nevada's minor sports do need some recognition and this splendid opportunity for the undergraduates to show that they are interested in seeing that these students who are eligible awards are given an emblem or placard of which they can all be proud.

PAINT THAT N

Tomorrow morning both frosh men and women make the trek to Peavine mountain and give the huge Block N its semi-annual coat of whitewash under the supervision of members of the Block-N society. The class of 1936, our present group of frosh, have shown a real class spirit and they are out to surpass any achievements that their predecessors have accomplished.

Last year our present sophomores did a miserable job and showed an upardonable lack of spirit, but this year, from outward appearances, the frosh have gotten into the real spirit of university life and as a result a better class bond has been established and a good job is expected.

OUR CELEBRATION

Next Thursday night, starting with the Soph-Frosh bonfire to be held on Mackay field, our annual Homecoming celebration gets under way. This affair is an all-university function and our grads, former students, and all other university members and supporters join together with the Associated students and foster that old-time Nevada spirit — back the Pack.

This year's Homecoming celebration will be marked by elaborate plans and entertainment provided by the entire university working for one end, that of giving our alumni an idea of what kind of a college we have to compare with the kind of a college that they made Nevada. They will be able to go back to their old haunts and have fond memories of the "good old days."

The Homecoming committee has spared no efforts thus far in preparation for this celebration and now it is up to the student body to get behind every feature and function on the program and demonstrate the real spirit of Nevada as it now exists.

CHANGING ATTITUDES

At the beginning of the semester Professor Jay A. Carpenter, chairman of the University of Nevada scholarship committee, gave his annual address to the freshman orientation group. His speech was one that could well be appreciated by all undergraduates and shows a new trend in education in relation to the attitude that will be shown in the future toward ordinary curricular academic endeavor.

Instead of handing out the ordinary "bouquet" in telling the frosh what intelligent or fine looking class they are, Carpenter stated that the present crop of first year students was the most serious minded class to ever enter a university during the past fifteen years.

In context the scholarship committee chairman stated, "About 1915 this country entered an era of great activity with work for everybody. This happy condition continued for about fifteen years. During that time, it was not much a case of finding a job as choosing which one you would take. Now it is a case of losing a job as jumping up to a new and possibly better one. Prosperity reigned under these circumstances; even grown people failed to exert their best efforts, and the new trend was toward extravagance and carelessness."

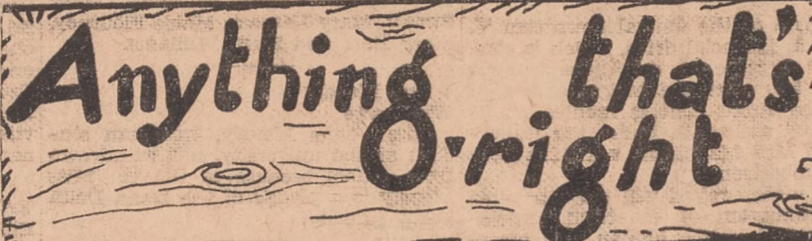

"They sent their children to college in great numbers with this thought in mind: 'When we were young we had a bitter struggle against adversity. We want our children to enjoy their youth.' And then shared their liberal bank accounts with their college youngsters."

"The youngsters naturally imitated the grownups—then enjoyed college to the fullest extent and did not in general take their college work seriously enough."

"Why should they? Every graduate found a job. Large companies even sent representatives to the universities to sign up the best seniors for jobs. Under such circumstances why should a student spend a large proportion of his time in studying?"

"Those were the happy days! How things have changed in these days of depression! Most of you students know how lucky you are to be here. You know how scarce the money is at home and how carefully you must guard your expenditures here. Keeping this in mind, you have figured out the adage, 'The more hours study a day the less money I will spend!'"

"Then the word must have reached you that a large number of our graduates, as well as those of other colleges and universities, in the last year or two have been unable to find employment. Dozens of applicants for every job. The employer of college graduates can pick just the combination of high scholarship, high moral qualities and general fitness for the job that he desires for the particular job."

It seems that the fascinating Chris Kocotens, injured freshmen griddler, has quite a following of co-eds, who persist in draping themselves around his hospital room. We wonder, is it the mother instinct coming out in these fair damsels when they see a man helpless, or do they like the roses he has a habit of giving to them?

Eleven ages of man, expressed in menu style run about like this:

1. Milk.
2. Milk and bread.
3. Milk, eggs, bread and spinach.
4. Oatmeal, bread and butter, green apples, and all-day suckers.
5. Ice cream soda and hot dogs.
6. Minute steak, fried potatoes, coffee and apple pie.
7. Bouillon, roast duck, scalloped potatoes, creamed broccoli, fruit salad, divinity fudge, and demi-tasse.
8. Fate de fole gras, weiner schnitzel, potatoes parissienne, egg plant a l'opera, demi-tasse, Roquefort cheese.
9. Two soft-boiled eggs, toast and milk.
10. Crackers and milk.
11. Milk-Alabama.

Intra-Mural Hoop Tourney Play Close

Phi Sigs, Independents Lead With Two Wins and No Defeats

The intra-mural basketball tournament is well under way with the teams of Phi Sigma Kappa and Independents at the top of the league by virtue of two games won and none lost.

The Phi Sigs led by their center, Floyd Holt, transfer from Oregon Normal, have encountered little difficulty in defeating their opponents so far. The Independents, a big rangy team, have shown up well, but they have not played the strong teams that the Phi Sigs have.

Tying for third place in the tournament are S.A.E., the Sigma Nus and the Lambda Chis. These teams have won two games and lost one. Jack Dolan and Paul Leonard are outstanding for the Sigma Nus, while Russell Elliott and Walt Christian, exhibits tricky playing for the Lambda Chis. Colonel Grabbe and Flournoy, star for the Sig Alphas.

Alpha Tau Omega are tied for sixth place with one game won and two lost. The A.T.O.s have one of the strongest teams in the league, having defeated the Sigma Nus and losing to the Phi Sigs, and the S.A.E.s.

The Beta Kappas, Sigma Phi Sigma and Lincoln Hall are in sixth place with their scores of one game won and two lost. These teams have shown plenty of fight in their matches, but have been against difficult competition. The Delta Sigma Lambdas are in last place in the tournament.

The rules of the tournament are as follows:

1. Games must start on time and officials must be chosen before the game. 2. Managers will be in charge at all times.

3. No games can be postponed without the consent of the basketball coach as the tournament must end by November 11.

The following is a chart showing the results of the games up through last night:

Team	Won	Lost
Phi Sigma Kappa	2	0
Independents	2	0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	2	1
Sigma Nu	2	1
Lambda Chi Alpha	2	1
Alpha Tau Omega	1	2
Beta Kappa	1	2
Lincoln Hall	1	2
Sigma Phi Sigma	1	2
Delta Sigma Lambda	0	3

Next week will find the following teams opposing each other: Lambda Chi vs. A.T.O.; Beta Kappa vs. Sigma Phi Sigma; Lincoln Hall vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; S.A.E. vs. Independents; Lambda Chi vs. Sigma Phi Sigma; Sigma Nu vs. Delta Sigma Lambda; Lincoln Hall vs. A.T.O.; S.A.E. vs. Phi Sigma Kappa

Nev. Upsets Dope By Playing Tie

by the mayor and then paraded through cheering crowds to their hotel in the heart of the city.

On Friday evening, the Nevadans were given passes to the leading shows in the city and on Saturday evening were guests of honor at a football dance at Berthania hall in Ogden. On Saturday morning they were taken on scenic trips through the mountains around Ogden. Their entertainment was provided for by the Ogden Chamber of Commerce.

The entire city was plastered with signs advertising the game and a crowd of approximately 5500 persons witnessed the game.

The Nevada starting lineup was composed of Austin and Bankofer, ends; Madriaga and Theis, tackles; Haynes and Beemer, guards; Cashill, center; Priest, quarterback; Backer and H. Hill, halfbacks, and Parsons, fullback. Other Nevada men who entered the game are H. Hill, quarterback; Carroll, fullback; Hackett, Guffrey and Beasley, halfbacks; Harris and Salet, ends; Stowell and Delannoy, tackles; Linehan and Sherrup, guards.

Students at Stanford who are unable to pay their speed fines will take it out in work. Mopping cell blocks, washing barred windows and barbering the jailor are some of the duties.

Former Nevadan To Train for Major League Baseball

The first University of Nevada student to have a chance to play baseball in a major league, Oscar Freitag ex-32, will train with the St. Louis Browns at their southern camp next spring.

Freitag made his letter here in basketball a few years ago. He also played shortstop with the Reno Garage team for the last two years.

Freitag is affiliated with the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

A few former students have played with the Coast leagues, but Freitag is the first to break into the big leagues as far as is known.

College of Pacific Tiger Cubs Meet Frosh Tomorrow

Visitors Primed for Big Game of Year With Nevada Wolf Cubs

Randal, Pozzi, Hammond and Bowers in Backfield Will Give Nevada Trouble

Boasting of an inexperienced but fighting group of freshmen the College of Pacific rooters will see their Tiger Cubs off this Friday night for what will be their "big game" of the year with the University of Nevada freshmen.

The Tiger Cubs are headed by Bob Randal, scrappy blonde fullback, who doesn't know the meaning of fear. This lad is a great punter—so far this season having averaged over forty yards per boot.

In the last game, in which the Tiger Cubs lost a 7 to 0 decision to the San Jose State frosh, he booted one from behind his own goal which traveled 60 yards in the air. Coach Jim Corson likens him to "Smoke" Hamilton, ace of Far Western conference kickers.

Along with Randal in the backfield are found a dynamic little half in Pozzi, whose gain specialty is showing a wicked, twisting pair of hips to the opposition; Hammond, a smashing halfback who likes the going tough, and Bowers a steady, dependable, blocking back who has a mania for snagging passes.

In the line we find Eakes and Childress at ends. Eakes is a little runt who is more troublesome to the opposition than any other two men. This boy hails from Kansas where he played on a championship lightweight squad. His experience stands him in good stead. Childress is a San Francisco boy along with Randal and Keyston, a guard.

At the tackle posts are Curtis and Cobb, two hefty 190 pounders. These men are the mainstay of the Pacific Babes' line.

Gracing the guard positions are Keyston, young brother of Al Keyston, all-conference a few years ago, and Bill Strummie, a Vallejo product. McLoughlin and Martin alternate at center.

The record of the Tiger Cubs this year is as follows:

Scrimmaged St. Mary's high and ran over several scores. Held the Modesto Jaysee reserves to a scoreless tie. Lost a close decision to the San Jose State Babes when Coach Jim Corson made an illegal substitution which gave the ball to the Garden City men on the five yard line and only two minutes to go.

The Cubs are out to win, make no mistake about it, and they'll fight tooth and nail for the distinction of having beat the Wolves' Cubs.

RIGHT END

The "Erog" gave a good account of himself in the Utah game last Saturday and should be an outstanding wing man this year and next.

1930 VETERAN

Eddy Kell was out last year because of leg injuries but worked well in the St. Mary's game. He should develop into as rugged a tackle as possible as soon as his leg is completely mended.

Coltrin Coaching Cross Country Men

Working out daily on Mackay field under the direction of Assistant Coach Fritz Coltrin, runners who intend to compete in the annual Homecoming Day cross country race started training this week.

An added attraction will feature the race this year with two high school runners competing with the university pavement pounders in the race. Hand, high school star distance runner, who unofficially broke two state high school records, will run the race. He will represent Hawthorne. Yerrington has also signified an intention to bring men here.

Plans are underway to make the cross-country race an annual competition between the various high schools of the state, and, although this cannot be done this year, it is expected that it will be next year, according to athletic department heads.

"Fritz" Lohse, holder of the university record for the cross country race, is attending school here now to complete post graduate work. He has been in training since school started and is expected to run in the race unofficially.

Mohorovich Back On Football Team

Surprising his teammates and boosting Nevada's hopes of a successful season, Mathew ("Bull") Mohorovich returned to the University of Nevada Wolf Pack grid roster this week and announced that the doctors will allow him to play in the Homecoming game against the California Aggies.

Mohorovich's return to the lineup should help to strengthen an already strong Wolf Pack line. He is playing his fourth year of varsity competition at center and is one of the outstanding veterans on the team.

Mohorovich received a fractured kneecap in the midst of a play against the Oregon Normal School in the first game of the season.

Several of the Olympic athletes have enrolled at U. S. C. Outstanding among these are Simeon Toribio, third place medal winner in high jump and Peli Ripper who represented Austria in

Hoover Club Being Organized Among Nevada Students

First Meeting Will Be Held in Mackay Hall of Science October 17 at 4:30

Designed to arouse among the students of the university a greater interest in the forthcoming presidential election, a "Hoover for President" club is being organized under the direction of Theodore Overton, Ed Montgomery and Graham Kislignbury.

Senator N. H. Getchell, local republican headquarters manager, in discussing with Ed Montgomery the undertaking, stated that the campus organization would be given the full-hearted support of the downtown headquarters.

"We shall be glad to provide the student group with necessary emblems and material," said Senator Getchell.

"It is pleasing to know that university students are becoming so interested in national politics. This year many of the students will be voting, nationally, for the first time. That they should discuss the issues at hand among themselves is indeed timely and fitting."

With over thirty students already enlisted to assist with the republican cause, plans are complete for the first meeting of the "Hoover for President" club, to be held in the Mackay Hall of Science lecture auditorium, at 4:30 on Monday, October 17. A tentative program of activity will be outlined at that time, according to Montgomery.

It is intended that two or more speakers of statewide prominence will be heard on the republican policies and platform during the course of the student campaign. According to Overton and Kislignbury, who are arranging for a series of addresses to be given prior to election day, November 8th.

Any and all students who are interested in the presidential election are being invited to join the "Hoover for President" club and are urged to attend Monday's meeting. Membership is also open to faculty members who may be interested in the student undertaking, according to the sponsors of the organization.

Examination for Life Saving To Be Given Here in Nov.

University of Nevada students ambitious to become certified life saving examiners may realize their ambitions when Harold Terwilliger, first aid and life saving field representative of the American Red Cross comes to Reno November 7 until the 10.

He will recheck and appoint life saving examiners and also hold classes for anyone wishing to work for a life saving examiner's certificate.

These examiners, of which there are none in Reno at the present time, are sent out once a year by the American Red Cross to examine life savers' certificates and appoint new examiners.

Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor of physical education for women of the University of Nevada, and Miss Evelyn Nelson, a graduate of the university, and until recently, a physical education instructor at the Billingshurst junior high school, were formerly life saving examiners for Reno.

Mr. Terwilliger will announce the time of his classes when he arrives.

13 UNKNOWN STUDENTS MUST SEE DEAN ADAMS

A call has been sent out by Miss Mazie Ryan, secretary of Dean Adams, stating that 13 students who have already had their pictures taken must come to her office and identify them.

Those students whom Miss Ryan wishes to see are Ruth Atcheson, Harry Austin, Bernard Bronson, Jack Cameron, Eleanor Doan, Catherine Dondero, Opal Harvey, Anne Jenkins, Rita Jenson, Annie Lucas, James W. Miller, Ralph J. Hromadka, Thomas H. Roberts.

Co-ed Injured at Rally Improving

Lillian Funk, University of Nevada co-ed who was injured the night of the midnight rally for the Oregon Normal football game, was removed from St. Mary's hospital to Artemisia hall Sunday night.

Miss Funk is able to get around with the aid of crutches, but it will be some time before she will return to her classes.

Band Honorary Initiates Pledges

Kappa Kappa Psi gave its first banquet of the semester at the Colombo Hotel yesterday evening for the new pledges, Murry English and Hebert Peck. Kappa Kappa Psi is a national honorary band fraternity. The local chapter was organized in 1929 by Professor T. H. Post.

Margaret Fuller, who teaches school at Dayton, spent the weekend in Reno with her parents. Miss Fuller was a graduate with the class of 1932 and winner of the senior gold medal. She was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta.

"Barnyard golf" was causing great interest among the freshman and sophomore physical education women. By October 9 the freshmen were leading with 16 ringers, while the sophomores had at total of 14. Keen interest was shown in the approaching tournament.

Tom Hilberg and Jackson Stevens were luncheon guests at the Sigma Phi Sigma house Monday.

Homecoming Plans Made by Home Ec. Club at Meeting

Discussion of a float and other plans for Homecoming was the main feature of a meeting held Wednesday night by the Home Economics Club. The float committee submitted several plans, which were discussed by those present, the main object being to keep within the budget allotted for this enterprise.

A budget for the coming year was presented and approved. The membership has fallen off considerably, necessitating a revised budget much lower than for former years. The suggestion that the regular meeting night be changed on account of the social hour was left for discussion until another meeting.

Ideas for a program throughout the year, to be furnished by the class groups, were presented and the meeting closed with the singing of several Nevada songs.

Applications for Rhodes Scholarship Due on October 17

All student applications of the university Rhodes Scholarship committee will have to be turned in to the office of Dean Maxwell Adams by Monday, Dean Adams is chairman of the committee.

A meeting to recommend these applicants to the state committee for final selection will be held Tuesday evening. Other members of the committee are: Dean R. C. Thompson and Professor Hicks.

Although several applications have been received so far, Dean Adams stated that he hoped to receive several more before Monday.

Student recommendations which are sent to the state committee by October 22, are considered until December 10, when the committee meets to select not more than two students to represent Nevada at the district committee meeting held a few days later.

Last year Nevada was represented by Fred Weeks, a student in the college of agriculture, and Norman Blundell, from the college of civil engineering. Neither student was elected by the district committee.

Rose Sala Injured During Laboratory Experiment Tues.

Miss Rose Sala, '33, secretary of the Chemistry Club, and a prominent University of Nevada student, was severely hurt last Tuesday in an advanced chemistry laboratory in the Mackay Science building, when apparatus blew up, as she was distilling an organic compound over sodium. Some foreign matter flew into one of her eyes.

Miss Sala was rushed to the hospital where treatment was administered immediately, and at first it was thought that she would lose sight of one of her eyes, but later on it was found that merely a slight blindness would be caused for about two weeks' time.

She remained home the rest of the week in a dark room and will have her eye bandaged for the next week or so. Miss Sala will return to school in about three weeks.

U. of N. Delegates To Attend Chemical Society Meet Sat.

Chem. Department Makes Plans for Homecoming Show

Several exhibits for the Homecoming celebration are being planned by the chemistry department on the University of Nevada campus. The chemists will reproduce an old fashioned alchemist laboratory and they hope to have it in operation during exhibition hours. Research work and various types of laboratory work will be exhibited and arranged in such a manner that the public may see just what is being done by both beginning and advanced students in the chemistry department.

In the boiler room in the basement will be found exhibits of many kinds. On one table will be a display of the making of soap from the raw product up to the finished product. Similar displays will be found in both the making of paper and of Montic Explosives. There will be a display of all chemical apparatus used, from the beginning chemist up to the advanced.

To mark the half hours, during which the public, students, faculty and alumni may visit the exhibits, there will be a large flask in the entrance hall and above it will be a solution which will change color every half hour.

Students who are putting on these exhibits are Fred Spriz, Kirby Stoddard, Adelyn Rotholz, Reed St. Clair, Walter Bell and Leslie Upson.

Womens Athletic Association Holds Annual Banquet

Chemistry Students Burned by Acid in Lab. Accident Thurs.

An accident occurred Thursday at the Mackay Science building in the beginning chemistry class, in which Anthony Whitney, a special student, was severely burned about the neck and face by sulphuric acid mixing with water. Howard Christensen, '36, received burns about the face. Whitney was rushed to the campus hospital, where treatment was administered immediately to relieve the pain.

Christensen was pouring sulphuric acid into the sink, which had been stopped up, allowing water to remain in it, when the two mixed and splattered up to the ceiling. All students near by had holes burned in their clothes, while Christensen was burned in three or four places about the face.

Whitney, who is recuperating from an accidental shot in his foot, could

Lesson Preparing Discussed by H. N. Brown Tuesday

Harold N. Brown, assistant professor of education, talked to the orientation class yesterday morning on "Preparing a Lesson."

Professor Brown, in his speech, stressed several important facts concerning a college education. He remarked that students going to college think studying is like making bread and that it is self-rising, but this is very seldom the case and it usually turns out to be a four-loaf.

The professor of education also stated that if students would put their studies first and their pleasures afterward, they would have a better time at college.

not move away fast enough, and received the worst burns. Both students returned from the hospital and continued their laboratory work.

Journalism Class Straw Vote Gives Hoover Majority

If the vote of some Nevada journalism students can be taken as being indicative of public opinion, then Herbert Hoover will be the next president of the United States.

A poll taken Tuesday morning in Professor A. L. Higginbotham's class in editorial writing, netted nine votes for Hoover and six for Franklin Roosevelt.

The ballots were not cast for personal choice, but rather as to which way public opinion points at the present time.

The vote was not entirely representative, since two members of the class were absent, and if the feeling of these two members was toward the Democratic nominee rather than the Republican, then President Hoover's lead would not be a very staunch one.

Editorial writers should be able to sense the trend of political feeling before election so this balloting was given as a sort of test to the students in order to give their intuitions a chance to speak.

Martha Hansen left Sunday for the College of Pacific, where she is a senior student, after having spent the weekend with her parents. Miss Hansen attended the University of Nevada during 1931 and 1932, and is a member of Beta Sigma Omicron.

Pat Sanford and Ralph Byers of the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity visited in Fallon over the weekend.

Latimer Art Club To Exhibit Painting Of Manzanita Hall

A painting of Manzanita Hall by Dorothy Boardman will appear in the art exhibit which is being given by the Latimer Art Club of Reno on October 22, Homecoming day.

Only sketches of the historical places in Nevada will be shown. Manzanita Hall was chosen by Miss Boardman because it is one of the oldest buildings of the Nevada campus, and because it has a historical and a traditional reputation that is known and appreciated by every one who has been connected with the university.

The painting will be of postcard size and will serve to commemorate one of the landmarks of Nevada.

Miss Boardman is the daughter of Professor Horace Boardman of the engineering department. She graduated in 1924 from the botany department and also took several art courses while here. She has been a member of the Latimer club for several years and has painted a number of scenes around Reno and Lake Tahoe.

There are about fifteen other Nevada graduates in the club.
