WOLF PACK SET FOR CAL. AGGIES

Nevada Varsity Host to Conference Foes Tomorrow

Nevada Team Shows Best Condition for Homecoming Game in Years

Parsons, Backer, H. Hill and J. Hill Will Start at Backfield

By BILL M'EMENAM

A new Wolf Pack, swift and machine-like in its precision of movement...

Speed as no Nevada team has ever had before and the driving punch that is needed for a winning team...

Traditionally strong in Homecoming day contests, the Wolves are expected to turn in an even finer performance...

Tricky plays, smashing power and a varied attack make this an outstanding eleven...

Hitting mid-season form in its first conference game is an exceptional state for the Wolf Pack...

More than three full strings of men are now working out on Mackay field in preparation for tomorrow's contest...

Nevada's starting forward combination will be composed of Austin and Bankofer, ends; Thies and Madriaga, tackles; Haynes and Beemer, guards, and Cashill, center...

Nevada's backfield is filled with hard-driving clever ball carriers from whom it is hard to pick the starting eleven.

Greetings

The University of Nevada campus in 1932 offers the Homecoming alumni an even broader welcome than has been evidenced in the celebrations of previous years.

It is apparent that every member of the student body has entered into the spirit that should rightfully accompany this outstanding event of the college year.

A program of interesting and appealing attractions awaits the graduate on every hand.

We welcome each and every alumnus in the hope that he or she will evidence the growth of the proverbial Nevada spirit which is so dear to them.

Homecoming Dance Staged Tomorrow Night Gala Affair

Plans Are Complete for Yearly Dance in Washoe County Library Building

300 Members of Elks Order Expected to Attend Celebration

Climaxing Nevada's thirteenth Homecoming celebration will be the Homecoming dance, which will be held tomorrow night in the Washoe County Library building at nine o'clock.

The music will be furnished by Dudley Nix and his eight-piece orchestra.

The Elks, who have been holding a state convention in Reno for the past week, will go to the dance tomorrow night.

Tickets will sell for seventy-five cents...

No Special Student Train to Nevada California Game

That there will be no special train with its carload of Nevada rooters leaving for Berkeley and the Nevada-California football game on October 29...

Due to the fact that the Bear-Wolf game date is approximately two weeks earlier than usual, there will be many who will travel to Berkeley by auto.

Hartung stated, however, that due to the fact that many followers of Nevada will go to the game by rail, there will undoubtedly be a decided cut in the rates for the round trip.

In previous years there have been several "specials" chartered for this game, the last one being for the 1930 game.

As the university band will not accompany the regular passengers, there will be none of the gayety that was present at the previous "baggage car" dances and "pep" talks.

Homecoming Sees Great Many Changes Since First in 1920

First Homecoming Held 1920; Originated by "Corky" Courtwright

First Reunion of Alumni Held, Wolves' Frolic, Parade, Others Enter Later

The thirteenth annual Homecoming celebration is an entirely different institution from the first Homecoming day held November 11, 1920.

The original reunion was supervised by the Block N society "Corky" Courtwright, then coach of the varsity football team, first conceived of the idea of inviting all graduates and former members of the University to Nevada to gather here for a great campus reunion celebration.

In 1922 the Wolves' Frolic was added at the behest of the finance control committee for the purpose of raising funds to employ an assistant football coach.

The Alumni association cooperated with the university in 1923 and changed the date of its annual banquet to Homecoming day.

In 1924 Aggie day joined the other Homecoming features and provided agricultural, livestock and poultry exhibits.

The first genuine Homecoming parade was held in 1925. Until that time the parade consisted of a few cars occupied by former student body presidents and football men.

In 1927 the engineers changed their day to Homecoming. It had previously been held on or before St. Patrick's day.

The first interfraternity song contest was won by the Sigma Nus. Gamma Phi Beta won the prize for the most original sorority float.

In 1931 the Nevada varsity defeated the Fresno State Teachers' College 31 to 13.

Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Delta Delta won the float prizes.

Band Will Make California Trip

Tentative Plans Call for Trip To Be Made by Automobile

The University of Nevada band will probably accompany the Wolf Pack when the fair of the Golden Bear is invaded October 29, according to Professor T. H. Post.

The tentative plans are that the members of the band will make the trip by automobile, arriving in Berkeley in time to form part of the Nevada rooting section.

Festivities Begin As Alumni Gather For Celebration

Nevada Wolves' Frolic Will Climax First Day's Activities

Starting with a bang of enthusiasm which prevailed at last night's bonfire rally, Nevada's thirteenth annual Homecoming celebration got under way with Joe McDonnell, committee chairman, acting as master of ceremonies.

An air of enthusiasm prevailed on the hill throughout the day as students cooperated with Nevada Alumni Association in welcoming former Nevadans and visitors.

Various exhibits were the center of interest during the afternoon following the annual sprog-sprog tug of war, in which the frosh were victorious.

The thirteenth annual Wolves' Frolic will be staged at the Granada theater this evening as the high spot of the day's entertainment.

With keen interest being shown in tomorrow's parade of floats and football game, Nevada's annual Homecoming celebration progresses.

The complete program of events following last night's bonfire rally was announced by the committee in charge, as follows:

Friday 10 a. m.—Start of cross country race in Sparks.

2:30 - 5 p. m.—Exhibits by various 2 p. m.—Sophomore - freshman tug groups and automobile show in the gymnasium.

8:30 p. m.—Wolves' Frolic, Granada theater.

Saturday 11:20 a. m.—Homecoming parade formation.

12 noon—Parade will reach business section of Reno.

12 noon—U. of N. frosh vs. Reno high school, Mackay field.

Men, Women Tie For Intelligence Ratings in Tests

Home Economics Students Are First, Engineers Second, Results Show

Two Men, Two Women Make Highest Scores of Entire Freshman Class

University of Nevada freshman men and women are exactly equal in intelligence, according to completed tabulations of mental tests given recently by Professor R. A. Irwin.

With a general average score of 91, and two men and two women in the first four highest places, results closely approximate those made by freshmen in past years, as shown by records in the psychology department.

The first four ranking freshmen are Dorothy Shoup, Reno, with the highest percentage in the class; George F. Francis, Las Vegas, second; Andrew Morby of Sparks, third, and Mary Correco, Reno, in fourth place.

Group averages show that the records of the engineers and the arts and science students are the same, within a fraction of a point.

George F. Francis, an engineer, is the second most intelligent freshman, he and several other engineers appearing among those in the "upper tenth."

The results, on the whole, are more or less consistent with those of former years, although a new test was used, Irwin states.

Freshmen will be compared further on a basis of records by the counties in which they live, and with freshmen of other states, as an added part of the research projects of the class in mental measurements.

Those freshmen who qualified for the upper 10 per cent intelligence division are:

Arts and Science Women Paula Bradshaw, Tonopah. Mary Correco, Reno. Roberta Browne, Reno. Elda Haslett, Reno.

Men Walter Bowrin, Sparks. Gerald W. Davis, Las Vegas. Fred Hartman, Reno. Charles Green, San Francisco. D. W. Lucas, Reno.

Engineering George F. Francis, Las Vegas. Gail Jensen, Ely. Claude Hunter, Reno. J. D. Stephens, Fresno. Ross Wainwright, Reno. Joseph Winter, Reno.

Atcheson Breaks Leg Fixing Float

Attempting to move a two ton trailer which carried a float for the Homecoming day parade, Donald Atcheson of Reno, student of the University of Nevada and a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, received a compound fracture of the leg this morning.

The accident took place in the Scott Motors garage on South Virginia street when Atcheson, assisted by several of his fraternity brothers, attempted to move a large two wheeled trailer upon which was constructed the Homecoming float of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

GREETINGS

Welcome, alumni and former students! Welcome, parents of the students! Welcome, all friends of the university! Every laboratory, classroom and museum latch string on the campus is out for these two Homecoming days.

Hundreds of the students and scores of the staff have beautified the grounds and prepared the departments for your inspection.

Welcome! Look the campus over. Enjoy yourselves, renewing your youth with these happy hard working students.

WALTER E. CLARK, President.

Sagers May Change To Pledging System If Plan Is Adopted

All Service Tryees Would Be Sagers While Trying Out for Other Groups

New System to Enable Tryees to Organize and Elect Own Officers

With the proposal that the Sagers become a pledge organization to Blue Key, the revised constitution of the Sagers is being considered by the members of Blue Key.

It has been proposed by the Sagers that all men trying out for the other organizations automatically become Sagers and be known as such until they receive membership in Blue Key.

The amount of time that will be given these men to try out for Blue Key has not yet been decided, but it is expected to comprise two school semesters.

The duties of both these organizations at the present time are similar, and include such work as selling tickets and ushering at football games.

If this petition is passed by Blue Key, and according to both organizations it is expected to pass, the Sagers will adopt their new constitution outlining the pledge work and the change will become effective immediately.

Taus Win Annual Race From Sparks

Lambda Chi Alpha Places Second, With Sigma Phi Sigma Following

The Alpha Tau Omega cross country runners finished first in today's annual classic defeating the teams of Lambda Chi Alpha, which placed second, and Sigma Phi Sigma, which took third.

Unofficially, Charles Scatena, Yerington High school student, won the race in the fairly fast time of 22:48 after sprinting the last 220 yards with Fred Lohse, post-graduate and holder of the record.

In winning the cross country race the A. T. O. team upset the dope. The Sigma Phi Sigma team was picked to win, with the Lambda Chis to place second.

Miss Lois Carmen will be a visitor at the Gamma Phi Beta house during Homecoming.

Bonfire Rally Starts Annual Homecoming Fete

Ross, Mitchell and Jepson Speak to Assembled Group

Huge Fire Lights Up Mackay Field for Opening Ceremony

By ED MONTGOMERY

Gathering last night before a huge bonfire that lighted Mackay field and the surrounding countryside with a shimmering glow of orange-red, graduates, townfolk, students and faculty joined in the opening ceremonies of Nevada's thirteenth annual Homecoming.

Introduced as a graduate of '06, Ross addressed the assemblage over the loud speaker system provided for the occasion.

He briefly compared the "good old days" of his time with the present and told of his experiences as a student "on the hill."

As a former rugby star who returned in 1908 and 1909 to coach, Ross described the dirt playing field of the early years.

"We cleared the field of rocks one night so we could play on it the next night," he said.

Coach "Brick" Mitchell was next called upon to address the crowd.

Making no promises as to the outcome of tomorrow's game, he commended his charges on the vigorous training and hard work they had undergone.

"We have given them fifteen plays half the number that an average college varsity possesses," stated Mitchell.

Calvin Jepson '11 concluded the pep talks of the evening.

Pausing to describe the sensation of hearing his voice "bounce back" in his face from the dynamic speakers, Jepson related his experiences on the campus.

"We had no walks in those days, and in crossing the campus after a rain..."

Entertainment Planned for Homecoming

Entertainment will be plentiful for the football fans at the Homecoming game Saturday, according to Graduate Manager Bernard Hartung.

Jane Archer, '34, spent the week end with her mother in Mono Lake.

Men's Glee Club Members Plan Activities

Professor Theodore Post, head of the department at the University of Nevada, gives views about the Women's Glee club. He says, "There has a Women's Glee club here for the past eight or nine years. This is selected group of from 25 to 30 in whose voices are naturally have many plans for the glee this year. The first is a song in 'Wolves' Frolic tonight, worked out in collaboration with the Men's Glee. It is a popular tune, 'Lullaby of Leaves.' The Wolves' Frolic orchestra will accompany us.

The next public appearance of the men's Glee club is again with the when they will sing at the Adorability program in the State building on October 31. One song that will be used is 'Home Means Nevada,' a song written by Mrs. Bertha Stoddard, and likely to become the Nevada song."

Professor Post mentioned that the men's Glee club was working on for a concert to be held some in December in the State building. The Men's Glee club and the University of Nevada orchestra will all in this concert.

Both glee clubs," said Professor Post, "have been invited to sing in the evening. Professor Tapscott, superintendent of schools at Fernley, was in Reno last year when the glee sang there, so he was evidently pleased with their performance to them again."

The officers in the organization are: Bulmer, president; Louise Durbin, treasurer, and Leone Clark, librarian.

Soph Hop Declared Financial Success

The annual Soph Hop, which was held at the State building on Saturday evening, October 15, was a financial success, according to Bob Hansen, chairman of the committee.

Dudley Nix and his orchestra furnished music for a fairly large crowd. The hall was decorated with streamers of pastel ribbon which gave the effect of a rainbow when huge colored flood lights were played on them. The affair was the second formal to be given on the campus.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Clark and Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Thompson, Miss Margaret E. Mack and Miss Louisa M. Sissa were the chaperones.

The dance was planned by Bob Hansen, who was assisted by Dorothy Nason, Peggy Smith, Clark Weigand, Sally Fagan, Wilbert Petersen, Reed St. Clair, Jack Quaid, Marjorie Cannon, Ellen McFarland and Perry Priest.

Nevada Couple To Wed Soon

Miss Louise Sourwine, '33, announced her engagement to Mr. Perry Hayden, '31, Tuesday evening, after having kept it secret for nearly six weeks. The couple intend to be married some time before January, when Hayden will leave for the University of North Carolina, where he will continue work towards his master's degree in economics, which he intends to receive in about one year's time.

Miss Sourwine took part in a few dramatic productions on the campus last year. Hayden belongs to the Delta Sigma Lambda, and received his B.A. degree in economics.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

Sorority Alumni Return to Houses For Homecoming

Six National Groups to Greet Many Grads During Celebration

Many sorority members have returned this year to attend the annual Homecoming Day in order to renew acquaintances and live again the years they spent at the University of Nevada. The number in each house is quite evenly divided, there being eight living at the Delta Delta Delta house, six in the Pi Beta Phi house, seven at the Gamma Phi Beta, eight at Kappa Alpha Theta and five at the Beta Sigma Omicron.

The presidents of these houses are: Delta Delta Delta, Enid Harris of Reno; Pi Beta Phi, Helen Peterson of Elko; Gamma Phi Beta, Margo Evans of Reno; Beta Sigma Omicron, Mildred Goble; Alpha Delta Theta, Blanche Radcliffe, and Kappa Alpha Theta, Ermyne Goodin.

Alumni who are planning to visit at the various houses during the Homecoming celebration are Louise Gastanaga, Winnemucca; Jane Harcourt, Palo Alto; Mae Vuich, Hawthorne; Lois Carman, Tonopah; Betty Allen, Carson; Marryemma Taylor, Carson; Louise Rawson, Austin, at the Gamma Phi house; Delta Delta Delta house, Ethel Hansen, McGill; Mary Baird, Wells; Mary O'Neill, Ely; Elizabeth Wallace, Ely; Edith McLaughlin, Vallejo.

The sorority members visiting Pi Beta Phi are Helen Webb, Oakland; Mrs. Dave Burns, Winnemucca; Mrs. George Vargas, Carson; Grace Bordewick, Carson; Ethel Maraska, Westwood, Cal.; Farlee Smithson and Bernice Griffith, Ely, and Belva Murphy, June Grantley, Lois Nicholades, all of San Francisco.

Visitors at the Kappa Alpha Theta house will be Thelma Pedroll, Franktown; Beatrice Patterson and Bery Moanally, both of Susanville; Joe Bernard, Truckee; Ellen Harrington, Ely; Idel Anderson, Ely, and Margaret Fuller, Dayton.

W.A.A. Riding Class Will End Monday

The W. A. A. riding class will end Monday. This class is under the instruction of Sergeant Grant Hustis, and twelve co-eds have ridden every Monday and Wednesday afternoons since the beginning of the semester.

The class went on a two-hour ride last Wednesday afternoon. They left the university at four o'clock in the afternoon with no definite destination in mind and rode in the foothills around Reno. After cooking their supper over an open fire, they returned to the university. This ride unofficially concluded the season.

Riding, a sport which was not offered at the university last year, has been so successful that it is hoped that it will be continued as a regular fall sport according to Myra Sauer, manager.

SAGENS PLAN ACTIVE YEAR

Thirteen Women Are Allowed Membership of Pep Organization

The Sagens, Nevada women's newest organization on the campus, was organized two years ago to promote better cooperation among the women students, and to help develop full support by the women to every campus activity.

Lois Carman '31 and Katherine McCormack '33 are responsible for the beginning made by the Sagens. The membership is constitutionally limited to thirteen members who are elected at the close of each spring semester according to their interest in and support of campus activities, their scholastic attainments and class rating.

13 Members Now

The women who boast membership to Sagens for the coming year are: Katherine McCormack, president; Louise Tidball, Kathryn Ligon, Elsie Kibbee, Caryl Carman, Hazel Davis, Ellen Prince Hawkins, Doris Shaver, Florence Lehmekul, Margaret Martin, Gladys Morris, Sally Fagan and Genevieve Wolfe.

Friday afternoon the Sagens showed their spirit of hospitality when they conducted a tour of Reno and the surrounding vicinity for the Cal Aggie football men.

Saturday afternoon the football enthusiasts will be made to feel at home on the bleachers when the Sagens will help the members of A.W.S. sell candy and hot dogs.

W.A.A. Sponsors High School Girls' Athletic Meeting

At a general meeting of W. A. A. held last Thursday afternoon in the Education building, Margaret Kornmayer was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the Nevada High School Girls' Athletic association meet to be held here October 29.

One girl from every high school in the state has been asked to attend this meeting. The purposes of the convention are to draw up a uniform constitution that will be used in all high schools, to find out what sports the high schools can offer with their limited equipment and to promote a general feeling of athletic interest among all high school girls.

The common constitution will be formed by the various high schools, with the university W. A. A. acting as an advisory board. The constitution then developed will be presented for voting at the next G. A. A. convention.

Dean of Women Completes 18 Years on Nevada Campus

Began Career as Instructor in Biology Department in 1913

By KATHERINE WRIGHT

Fifteen years have slipped past since Margaret Elizabeth Mack was appointed dean of women of the University of Nevada. Dean Mack became affiliated with the Nevada curriculum in 1913, when she took a position as instructor in the biology department. She has continued to serve on that staff and at the present time is teaching a class in nature study to normal students as well as administering to the wants of many resident coeds, in the capacity of mother and advisor.

Miss Mack graduated from the University of Nevada with the class of 1910 and took graduate work at Columbia university, from which she received her A.M. degree in 1913. Returning to this state, she became an instructor in the biology department, which position she held until 1917. From 1917 to 1922 she was assistant professor of biology, and in that year she was elected associate professor in biology, the position she still holds.

The office of dean of women was created at the University of Nevada in 1915, when Miss Louis Fargo Brown accepted the appointment. Before summer school in 1917, Miss Brown resigned. Margaret E. Mack temporarily filled the office of matron of Manzanita hall during the summer session, and when school started in the fall she succeeded to the position of dean of women. Since that time she has successfully administered to the academic and social welfare of the women students.

The dean's job is not always a pleasant task. Her responsibility as a member of the student affairs committee often leads to criticism, but it must be remembered that such work is necessary, not only for the welfare of the individual but for the best interests of the school. It is especially desirable advisors. Miss Anita Beccas '30 is filling in that position now.

In this her eighteenth year at the university and her fifteenth as dean of women, Dean Mack is still fulfilling her duties, slightly handicapped by a lame back as the consequence of an accident last spring.

"I am looking forward to attending all the Homecoming celebrations that my back will allow," says Miss Mack, and she is impatiently awaiting the return of many familiar faces to the campus.

Editor of Sagebrush:
During that early period of education in which Horace Mann successfully instilled in the minds of his countrymen the necessity of organized learning, the three "R's", readin', ritin' and rithmetic became the immortal foundation of all education.

Along with the three R's, thanks to some thoughtful soul, there was added the dreaded Latin, the scanty history and the novel science. It was not long before these subjects were not only offered to those desiring to become educated but forced upon the seekers of learning as "required" subjects.

"One's education can not be complete without them." "The broadening of one's mind rests solely on these courses." Such were the thoughts and explanations regarding required subjects of earlier days.

That, however, was yesterday. Today is a new day and a new era. An era of specialization, in which the majority of students of higher learning have chosen a single field of knowledge from which to gather the education needed for their specialized task in life.

In this day of high finance and commercialized existence, it is essential that one prepare one's self along one given line or within a given field and in so doing major in those courses which are of greatest value. Time being of great importance in this our "modern age," it is necessary that one attain essential knowledge in as brief a period as possible and with as little interference as possible.

Requirements have served their day. There is no longer need of students burdening themselves with dry, uninteresting and unwanted required courses.

The good of a little "forced" broadening of the mind through the medium of requirements is greatly outweighed by the veil of "time robbing." Time spent half-heartedly on required subjects of no interest whatsoever to the victimized student is time taken from those courses of interest and greater desirability.

How unreasonable it is that a young man planning on a journalistic career and looking forward to the occasion when he might edit the "big sheet" should spend hours of his time over a Bunsen burner pouring acids over gaseous metals—all for the sake of a little broadening. How perfectly possible it would be for that young man to attain what little general information on chemistry he may later desire in but a few brief hours of reference work. The scanty knowledge obtained so begrudgingly under pressure of "requirement" is quickly forgotten. The majority of students upon whom such science is forced find it necessary to consult a reference when, if ever, they are confronted with a scientific problem.

Looking at the moral side of the issue, required courses often given impetus to cribbing and dishonesty. Haunted by an unfamiliar and uninteresting subject, a student often resorts to the "easier way out," in a desperate effort to rid himself of a loathed requirement.

Why not drop once and for all these interfering requirements, so unwanted, so non-essential? Designed for an "old time" purpose in a day long past, required subjects are decidedly out of place in this day of specialization.
"HOPEFUL"

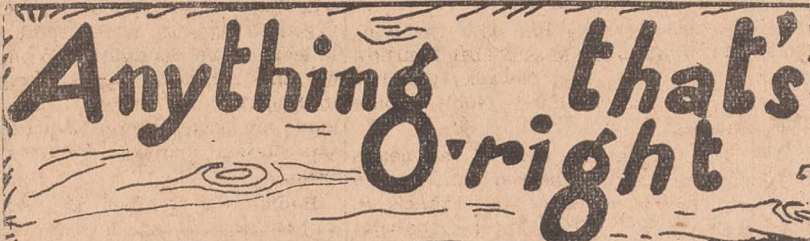

Dear Editor:
Statistics recently compiled by the New York Evening Post rated educationally the forty-eight states of the Union. The rank of each state was determined by various considerations, such as the average number of days each child of school age spends in school and the average expenditure per child in school.

As might well be expected, the state of New York leads all others. In second place, however, and separated from New York by less than 1 per cent, is Nevada. Surprisingly though it may seem, Nevada outranks her neighboring "Sunshine State," California being in third place with an average 4 per cent less than that of Nevada.

Other high ranking states whose averages are overshadowed by Nevada are New Jersey, Illinois, Ohio, Washington and Massachusetts.

Nevada may point with pride to her rising from a "frontier" state whose educational facilities were indeed humble to one of foremost rating and importance. Affording unlimited opportunity along the lines of agriculture and mining, Nevada in her development has not overlooked the importance and necessity of an educational system of highest standard.

Nor is Nevada in danger of losing her position as the second ranking educational state. With agriculture now her basic industry, Nevada's future is sound and certain. What with the continued application of irrigation, the return of better market prices and the possibility of the standardization of silver, Nevada shall steadfastly maintain her high standards of education.
"APPRECIATION"

Here's hoping that the new Frosh class comes up to snuff.

There is nothing so nice as to be walking down the library aisle, and have such people as Bobby Maher and Roy Bankofer at the other end commenting on the walk and figure of the sweet young thing who happens to be wending her way at that particular moment towards the great outdoors. How two boys can laugh and giggle at such a childish amusement is beyond understanding. That is, it would be for other people, but seeing that it is they it makes it entirely different. It's too bad they can't see themselves as others see them. Picture of Roy strolling out, binder in hand and with that bored expression and look of lofty contempt cast in the direction of the little frosh gals. Bobby isn't far behind. Is it the eyes or just the collegiate slouch that gets the women? Probably it should be Mr. Maher and Bankofer to you. But it is just Nertz to other people.

Since when has Mariani turned assistant prof? He may be trying to do his best, but, at the same time, have a little consideration for the girl. No wonder Nell Kilpatrick has to apologize to the student body. Maybe he was only trying to help her with her school work, but a library is a very poor place to turn out scholars by that method.

WELCOME, ALUMNI

This weekend marks the thirteenth annual Homecoming celebration and again the University of Nevada campus is reviewed and old memories are restored to the minds of the thousands of visitors and former students who once struggled hard to grasp the meager essence of learning.

The entire undergraduate organization and student body turns the campus and their facilities over to their guests for their comfort and approval during this festival.

The work and unselfishness exhibited in order to make this celebration a success has been remarkably well demonstrated and the Homecoming committee has spent every effort to make this occasion one that will long be remembered by visiting alumni.

Last night the bonfire rally gave a real insight into the Nevada spirit of old times in comparison with the new, and our distinguished speakers spoke to students and alumni as a body of Nevadans that are for the best interests of their alma mater at all times.

OUR MEMORIAL

Work has finally begun in a businesslike manner towards completing a permanent memorial for our late beloved deans of men, Charles Haseman and J. Claude Jones. This memorial bench, which will be located on the east shore of Manzanita lake, will be a permanent landmark by which students of the future will remember the spirit of Nevada as exhibited by these two men.

It is a year ago tomorrow that work on the Haseman memorial was started. A drive was sponsored by the A.S.U.N. for donations and then, with the passing of J. Claude Jones early last spring, it was decided by the unanimous approval of the student body to make this memorial one in honor of these two Nevada sponsors and benefactors, who as members of the faculty did not only accomplish much in raising the standard of Nevada scholastically but also in all lines of activity.

Last spring students who signed a circulated petition allowed one dollar to be taken out of their blanket deposit. A considerable amount of money was raised in this manner and together with other donations finances allowed a suitable memorial plan to be worked out.

With plans already completed and a renewed interest taken it will please the backers and sponsors of Nevada to know that after a year's duration a permanent memorial will be erected to commemorate the deeds of these two beloved Nevadans.

CINCHES

Cinches, for many years, have been the one mar on the celebration of Homecoming. This year again their warning comes to all students who have been too busy playing and have been optimistic enough to feel that "I'll get by some way without studying."

Too late many students realize their error and find they cannot make up back work, and their last ray of hope fails them when the professor says, "You'll have to take a cinch unless that report or examination is made up by today."

Then the student remembers the morning that he wanted to sleep and couldn't be bothered with an examination, or the night that a dance sounded more enticing than a 5000 word report, and although he probably won't admit it to his fellow students he silently wishes that he had not been so easily tempted to take the easier way out when the day of the examination appeared.

Last year around 400 cinches were sent to students who were delinquent in their work, and numerous comments could be heard for the next few days concerning the "profs who didn't play fair" or "I didn't deserve that cinch any more than some of these other fellows, who didn't get one."

This year the same procedure will be repeated, but both the professors and the students are hoping that there will be fewer cinches due to the fact that the majority of the students may have been getting down to work and have not left too many of their assignments to the last minute.

Announcements

Mackay museum some specimens of ore from the area around Frisillo, Zatecas, Mexico. Herbert is the chief engineer of the Fresnillo company there.

Herbert started out with many specimens, and a number of maps of that country to be used in the mining school, but on account of a washout on the way, he was forced to take an airplane. At this point he had to throw away much of his baggage and a great deal of the ore, but he succeeded in bringing most of the maps with him.

Making telephone equipment presents many an interesting problem to the engineers of Western Electric—manufacturer for the Bell System.

A case in point is the drying of telephone cable before putting on the protective lead sheath. This step is of utmost importance, for the tiny copper wires cannot carry your voice properly unless their paper insulation is thoroughly dried. To this end, Western Electric engineers devised special drying ovens in which the air is thirty times drier than desert air!

The same ingenuity and thoroughness go into every step of making cable, telephones, switchboards and many other kinds of telephone equipment. The dependable apparatus that results is one reason why Bell System service is dependable.

Professor Hicks Speaks to Y. W. Members on Japan

Tells of His Experiences in Teaching English to Japanese

Reciting his experiences while teaching English in a boys' school in Japan, Professor Charles Hicks addressed the members of the Y.W.C.A. Floating university group at their bi-monthly meeting Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hicks described the school as being in the beautiful old city of Kyoto. The students were boys from the ages of 13 to 19, and among the subjects studied were composition and grammar, facial movements necessary for pronunciation, the art of wiggling the ears, as well as such academic studies as history, geography and science. Physical education was an important part of the curriculum, Mr. Hicks said. Japanese field day was the biggest event of the school year, and such sports as lantern races, foot races and feats of strength were held.

Professor Hicks cites as the three things he feels are most noticeable in Japan, flowers, children and adult respect. The love of the Japanese for the beauty of nature is in no way better expressed than in the profusion of flower gardens, declared Hicks.

Speaking briefly of the characteristics and customs of the people, Mr. Hicks mentioned as one of their outstanding traits, that of cleanliness. He ended by mentioning the fact that to get the most out of traveling in the East, one must have an understanding of Eastern history.

After the address, Japanese tea and dried rice cakes containing fortunes were served to the guests.

Those present included Paula Bradshaw, Alice Traynor, Oora Hendrickson, Maryann Peck, Daudee St. Cyr, Mary Pappas, Anna Lucas, Louise Reil, Alice Batchelder, Helen Steinmiller, Frances Slavin, Fernley Rechel.

Many New Sports On W.A.A. Program

For the first time in several years soccer will be given on the fall women's athletic association program. The game is played in the larger high schools of the state, and is especially popular in Reno high school. Women who have never played the game are urged to sign up as the sport is easy to learn as well as exciting to play. Soccer, like American football, originated in England and various forms of the game are played there. Peaches Stark was chosen manager for this year's team.

Badminton, another English sport, will be given on Mondays and Wednesday's at 3:45 under the management of Kathryn Martin. Miniature tennis racquets and quito are used and the principles of the game are the same as those of tennis. The game develops speed and accuracy and is not as strenuous as tennis or handball. As this is a comparatively new sport on the campus a demonstration will be held in the near future for those who have never seen or played the game. Badminton is one of the most popular sports in the larger eastern colleges.

Charlotte Pope, hiking manager, has planned several worth-while trips from the W.A.A. lodge at Galena creek. A hike to Hunter creek will take place before the snow season, and at least one hike must be attended in order to be eligible for the annual Mount Rose hike. A motion was passed in the last W.A.A. meeting that hikes count toward W.A.A. membership and anyone interested should attend.

CO-EDS OF 1924

Sunday, October 20, at 9:00 a. m., five members of W.A.A. started cheerfully for Moana Springs on their bicycles. As this was such a long journey, it was necessary to stop at intervals and devour bits of their crushed sandwiches. Everything taken into consideration, a merry and gay time was had by all.

The regular meeting of the W.A.A. was set for October 27. To encourage attendance, a penalty of 50 points was to be deducted from each girls record if she failed to attend.

The Sagebrush of 1924 found that although the finest of slippers found at the Soph Hop in 1913 cost only three dollars, the best in 1924 cost $16.

Pauline Wren won a ticket to the "Cal" game by selling flowers during the Aggie Day celebration. Besides the winner, Edith Martin and Barbara Bulmer rated special mention for their work.

Among women alums returning to the campus in 1924 were Louise Pray Sadleir, Milla Coffin, Mrs. T. Since writing this thesis she has worked out the corrections for this bacteriological problem and will present them in conclusion.

Freshmen Meet Reno Huskies In Grid Game

Preliminary Game to Nevada-Calif Aggie Homecoming Game Starts at 12:45

Members of Chet Scranton's Officiating Class to Act as Officials

What promises to be one of the games of the season the frosh will meet the Reno High School team tomorrow on Mackay field. This will be the preliminary to the game and will start at 12:45. Chet Foster of Reno has developed a light team out of a green squad although Reno has lost two games this season they have at last their stride and had little trouble defeating the highly touted Auburn team, 6-0, and Lovelock High 10-10.

Majority Men New
The majority of the Reno men are in their first year in high school. All, but Foster has an aggregation will give the Frosh a good run for their money.

Ends Foster will probably start at center and Byington. Byington is a man from last year and is good on the offense and defense. Sullivan is playing his first year for Reno and has broken up quite a few behind the line. Others who will see action at this position are Ponzani, Devore and Bianco. Foster and Varnum will hold down position of tackles. Beecher is regarded by many as a probable all-tackle and is one of the most valuable men on the Huskie line. Varis is a new man but has shown up ably.

Williams and Palmer will start the ends as guards. Both these men are new and play a game of heads-up. All Rauch, Shirley and Horgan substitute at this position.

Center, Foster is starting. Conone of the fastest and hardest hitting men to play for Reno for several seasons. Jake Hook and Kirk Hurst will alternate at this position. The backfield, Foster is starting as quarterback, Robinson at fullback and Kane at halfback positions. Kane and Kane are speedy and are to stop when they find their feet. Robinson, Foster's only two man, is the power house for the team, weighing close to the 200 pound mark. Other backfield men who will see action are Kepl and Falconi, quarterbacks Guido Pincolini, full and Breen Pitzer, halves.

Freshman Team Strong
Scranton's team is at its peak now is one of the best developed teams in this section. Although ten on the field have never played football before Chet has drilled the fundamentals into them and has a well balanced team.

The backfield Scranton has four talented players that work speedily and powerfully. Becasas at quarter, and Cockrell at halves and Walker full is a combination that is hard to beat.

Robinson and Austin, who will probably start at end position, are able to get through their opponents' defenses. Cummings and Hadlen, tackles, hard fighting men and will hold their own against any in the district.

Block N Gleaming With New Coat For Homecoming

The big Block N on the side of the Peavine mountain received its semi-annual painting Saturday morning by the class of '36, as they carried on the old tradition.

This tradition is carried out twice a year by the freshman class, usually a few days before Homecoming and Mackay day. It is sponsored by the Block N society, and this year was under the supervision of Ole Theis, member of the Block N.

The report comes from Ole that the freshmen did a good job of it, and all of them were willing to get in and work, and consequently they finished about 10:30. The women got right in and helped the men in whitewashing and carrying buckets up and down the hill.

There were 39 names of freshmen turned over to the upperclass committee for failing to show up and reporting. These people will be dealt with in the near future by the upperclass committee.

One feature of the game will be two brothers playing against each other. Max Kepl, Frosh half, and Jimmy Kepl, Reno quarter, will both probably see action at the same time.

Final Season

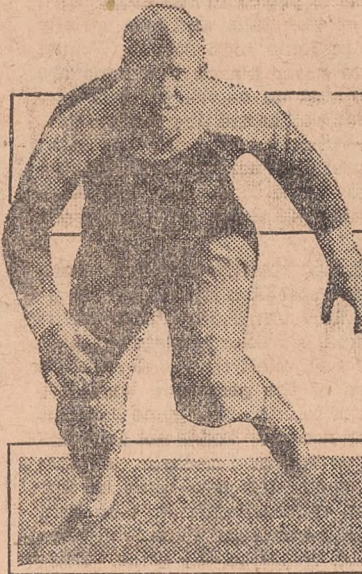

Bob Madriaga, 210 pound tackle and outstanding Nevada griddler for the past three seasons, plays his last Homecoming game tomorrow. He started in the 1929 and 1930 games, was out of school last season and this year he is expected to materially help in scoring a Nevada win.

Final Season

Gail Parsons, fullback and starter in the last three Homecoming games, will again be holding down that difficult assignment tomorrow against the Mustangs. This will be the fourth year that Parsons has smashed into the Aggie forward wall and stopped their plays before they reached the secondary defense.

Final Season

Ole Thies, giant Swede who flanks Madriaga at the right tackle, is another reason why Nevada's forward wall is considered of the most powerful in coast football circles. Thies has been a mainstay for the Pack during the past three years and this season is having his best year.

Nevada Takes Lead In Ten Seasons of Games with Aggies

Three of Nevada's Victories Were Won With Decisive Leads by Wolves

Out of the seven games played between the California Aggies and Nevada during the last ten years, Nevada has won four times. The outstanding feature of these games is that three out of the four Nevada victories were taken with large scores. In the fall of 1930 Nevada beat the California Farmers 31-0, and in 1926 the game resulted in a Nevada triumph of 45-7. The clash of 1923 showed a score of 41-0 in the Wolves' favor. In the 1922 season came the Wolf-Mustang game, which ended with a 6 to 2 victory for the Pack.

Last fall in the opening conference game for the Nevada team, held at Sacramento, the Wolves came out on the small end of the score. Perhaps one reason for Nevada's ill luck was that this game was their first experience playing football at night.

The game was featured by the flashy drives of Sweet of the Aggie team, and the splendid offensive and defensive work of Harvey and Jack Hill. The game ended with a 12 to 0 score chalked up against the Wolves as the result of two touchdowns carried over by the two Aggie backs, Sweet and Hoffman. Three times Nevada was within scoring distance of the Mustang goal, but each time she seemed to lack the power to force the ball over.

This year Sweet is coming back as captain, along with fifteen other letter men from Coach Crip Toomey's last year's squad.

Mathew "Bull" Mohorovich, veteran center, has been one of the best defensive players in Nevada football history and if his recent knee injury heals sufficiently he will make his last Homecoming game one which will long be remembered by the fans.

HARTUNG HEARS FAVORITE SONG

Bernard Hartung, graduate manager of the university, had the pleasure of hearing his favorite song played over the radio last Saturday night as a part of the Associated Oil company's weekly program.

The song, which is titled "Captain Stratton's Fancy," is a well known sailor's song. The favorite songs of the graduate managers of the west's leading colleges were played over this program.

The Associated Oil company broadcasts its Spotlight Review, which includes some phase of university activities, every Saturday night. One of the main features of this program is the talk by Herb Dana, leading coast referee, on the football game he refereed that day.

College of Pacific Defeats Wolf Cubs By Score of 7 to 6

Tapogna Scores for Nevada, Randall for Pacific; Conversion Wins

Holding a lead of 6 to 0 for three quarters of the game, the frosh football team lost to the College of Pacific's Cubs by a score of 7 to 6. Vernon Tapogna, frosh substitute quarterback, made Nevada's touchdown and Randall, Pacific fullback, scored for the College of Pacific.

Teams Matched
Neither team seemed to have the advantage as neither made much advance in scrimmage. Both sides put a great deal, Becas kicking for the olives and Randall for the Bengal ribs. The first quarter started with Pacific kicking off to Nevada, both teams tried to advance on line plays and trial attacks failed. Becas, frosh quarterback, was injured and taken out of the game while Tapogna substituted for him.

Nevada Scores
In the second quarter, Tapogna took the ball in center field and raced down the field for sixty-five yards to a touchdown. The frosh failed to convert and the score stood 6 to 0 in favor of Nevada as the half ended.

In the third quarter, Tapogna and Walker advanced the ball down to Pacific's six yard line, and Becas was out in to attempt a field goal, he failed and the score stood 6 to 0.

Pacific Wins
Pacific took the game when Randall, fullback, got the ball on his forty yard line and went through the entire frosh team to a touchdown. Instead of trying to convert on a kick Pacific completed a pass over the line and the score stood 7 to 6 in Pacific's favor.

Nevada Varsity

Every one of the men is clever and capable enough to start.

Hill Fast
Mitchell has chosen Lee Priest, one of the most dependable men on the squad, to start in the tailback berth, the key position of the Wolf offense. Priest has shown plenty of football wisdom so far this season. But the real speed king of the Nevada backfield is Harvey Hill, sophomore flash, who carried the ball 76 yards in 20 plays against the Utah Redskins two weeks ago. He promises to develop into one of the finest ball carriers on the Pacific coast. He is a 10 second man in the 100 yard dash and Nevada rooters will not be too greatly surprised if he breaks loose for a long run through the Mustangs, when he goes in at quarterback.

Veterans Present
Fern Ambrose, kept from being the best back on the Nevada team only by his weight, is also ready to go into the quarterback position. He passes and kicks extremely well along with being a snifty ballcarrier.

A host of halfbacks are at Mitchell's beck and call. Jack Hill and Backer, two seasoned veterans, have been picked to start the Homecoming contest at these positions.
Jack Hill was moved from quarterback to halfback in the last game because Mitchell believed that he would prove more effective closer to the line.

Bill Backer, one of the most experienced members of the team, has had two years of varsity competition and played first string quarterback on the team last year. He does the blocking assignments. Kelly Bannigan will also see service in this position.

Men Powerful
"Toby" Guffrey, a 185 pound back with plenty of drive and speed, and Bud Beasley will also probably see service in the halfback berths.

Gail Parsons, a veteran of three years of varsity play, will start at fullback. Dependable, heady and a strong defense man, Parsons is one of the mainstays of the Pack. Vic Carroll, the biggest man in the Nevada backfield, will substitute for him. He is over six feet in height and weighs 198 pounds.

Aggies Strong
The California Aggies are a strong team this year and Coach "Crip" Toomey is bringing his Mustangs here with the determination to bolster up his conference record by a win over the Nevadans. In conference play, the Aggies defeated Fresno State, 3 to 0, and lost to the College of Pacific Bengals, 30 to 0.

The Mustang outfit upset the dope early in the season by losing to the California Bears at Berkeley by a close 20 to 7 score. They held the Bears on even terms until the last quarter. They lost to U. C. L. A. 21 to 0.

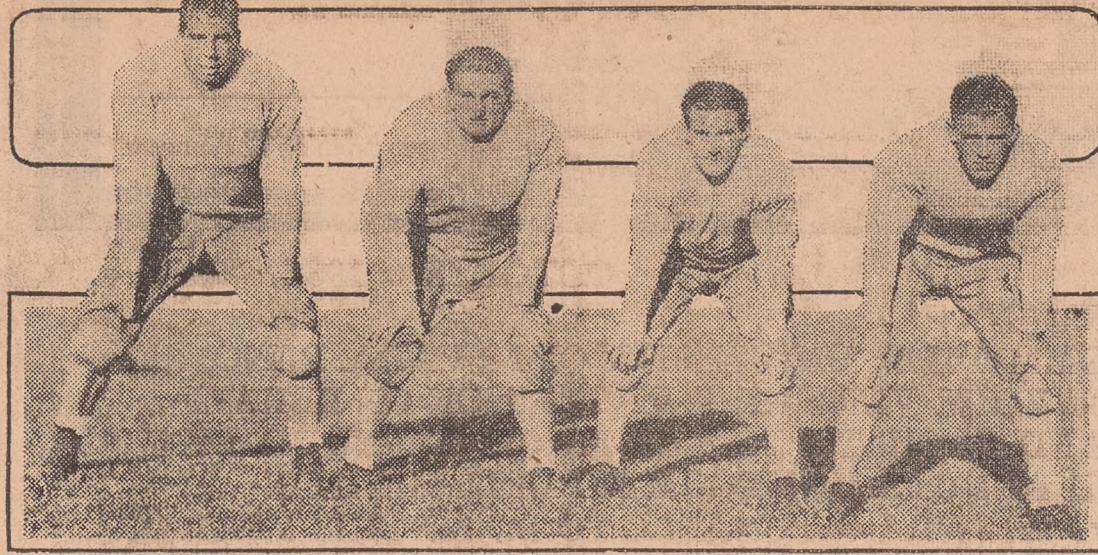

Sweet Is Star
Russ Sweet, halfback, the big cog in the Aggie grid machine, will not play in the game. He is rated as one of the outstanding backfield men in the Far Western conference. Coach Toomey arrived here today without him. He is in a hospital suffering from an attack of influenza.

Gil Borba, starting fullback for the Mustangs, and De Martini, quarterback, do the line smashing. They have gained consistently so far this season and show plenty of speed.

Ellithorpe, 220 pound tackle, and Joe Fiack, 200 pounds, pair at the tackle position for the Aggies. They supply most of the Aggie defensive strength, although Barone at center, Bob Frazer and Bill Page at guards; and Carl Frazer and Bill Jones at ends are outstanding men, who will start in this contest.

The game will probably turn into a duel of backfield speed and stamina, since both teams have light fast backs. With the most serve strength, Nevada should have a slight advantage.

Intra-Mural Sports Competition Keen As Games Continue

S. A. E., Lambda Chi lead in Doubles, Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi in Singles

Interfraternity competition is growing keener as the different fraternities battle for supremacy in the various contests on the intra-mural sports program.

This spirit is plainly evidenced in the slashing battles that have been taking place out on the tennis courts.

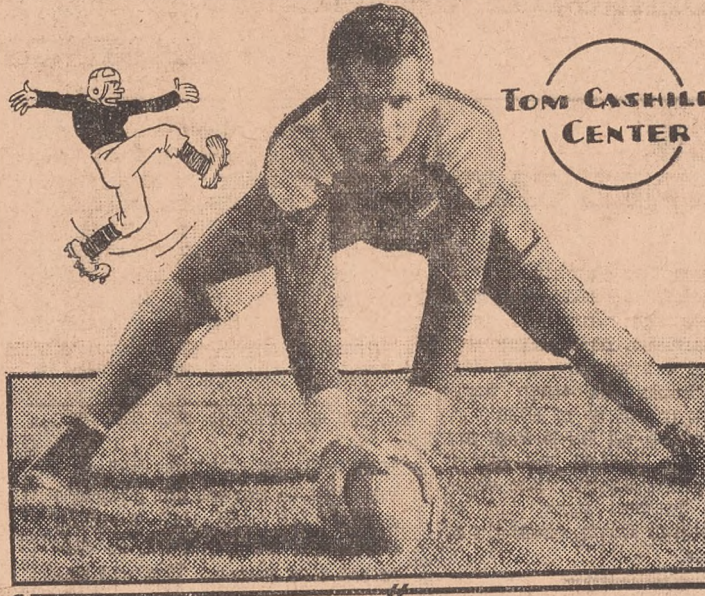

At this time the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternities are leading in the doubles division.

The Sigma Nus and Lambda Chis are leading in the singles division. Each team is allowed three losses before they are eliminated from the tournament.

The standings of the teams in the order in which they appear are:

In concluding, Jepson assured the crowd that with plenty of cheering, band music and spirit "Victory will be ours."

A good impersonation of what is to happen tomorrow afternoon was presented when a loping Wolf proceeded to chase a bewildered Mustang about the gridiron.

The university band, under the direction of T. H. Post, provided music for the occasion, while the frosh were called on from time to time to clear the playing field of grammar school boys who persisted in staging their own demonstration in midfield.

Joe McDonnell, Homecoming committee chairman, gave a brief resume of the program of events. He announced that three eight-inch cups would be awarded for the most beautiful floats in tomorrow's parade, while one eight-inch cup would be awarded to the best decorated house.

WOLVES' FROLIC PREVIEW WELL DONE BY ENTIRE CAST

By KAY WARDLEIGH

With a high stepping chorus, cleverly costumed against a modernistic set representing the silver and blue for the Nevada Wolf, the thirteenth annual Wolves' Frolic cast went smoothly through the entire nineteen acts last night in a preview with the precision of veteran performers.

La Marsna Featured

Fred La Marsna, presenting several singing selections, will be a big attraction of the show. Blythe Bulmer, comedian, entertains the audience with a clever monologue, and Dudley Nix, director of the fourteen piece band that provides music and atmosphere for the affair, and Mildred Nagy present a comedy singing skit which is one of the show's highlights.

Margaret Martin and Jean McIntyre present a tap dance specialty number, while Nichols and Nichols perform with a clever adagio dance.

Piano Feature

A double piano number, featuring Denise Denson and Don Butler, is also an act that will contribute heavily toward making the Frolic a success. The Stray Greeks' presentation of a modern Shakespearean skit is the cleverest comedy act of the entire performance. Spectacular lighting effects and blackouts, together with the set, will feature the show.

Chorus Good

The coeds making up the chorus, which is under the direction of Ruth Ryan, are Mary Ann Severne, Lena Perri, Helen Lewis, Ellen McFarland, Edith Mortensen, Nell Kilpatrick, Margaret Martin, Katherine Slavin, Ruth Lyons, Margaret Walker, Leone Clark, Muriel Bikker, Evelyn Anderson, Dorothy Cooper and Margaret Enlow.

Elbert Walker has charge of the sale at the Roxie. "The Greeks Had a Name for Them," featuring Ina Claire, Joan Blondell and Madge Evans. Playing today and tomorrow.

of tickets, Wayne Van Voorhis is head of the promotion of the affair and Ken Johnson directs the newspaper publicity. Bob Harrison, head usher, will have charge of the seating, and Wyman Evans directs the stage work. Dwight Leavitt, president of Blue Key fraternity, of which all these men are members, has the general supervision of the entire performance. The stage managers are Herbert Peck, Charles Nichols and George Davis, members of Campus Players.

Misses Mildred Basta and Maryalice Loomis spent the week end at Lake Tahoe.

Just what is "rough cut?"

THE tobacco that is cut best for pipes might be termed "whittle cut" or "rough cut," like Granger. It requires a type of tobacco different from the tobacco used for chewing tobacco or cigarettes. Then again, Granger is made by Wellman's Method.

Granger has a pleasing aroma. It is slow burning and cool. Just try it!

Plans for Winter Festival Under Way

Preparations are under way for the Winter Festival, given by the dancing classes of Miss Elsa Sameth, professor of physical education for women at the University of Nevada. The festival will take place in the evening in the university gymnasium on December 10, according to present arrangements.

Tryouts will be held from which approximately twenty-five girls will be chosen.

Because space in the gymnasium will be eliminated, the affair will be invitational.

Miss Sameth will be helped by Czerna and Glenna Dell McQuerry, Margaret Richards, Louise Sourwine, and Sarah Graves.
