

Nevada Hoopsters Meet Stanford Reds On December 22d

Many of Last Year's Men Are Signed Up for Season

Wolf Pack Will Play in Ten Conference Games

A hungry Wolf Pack composed of the same men who copped the Far Western conference basketball championship last season will swing into action early this year when they meet the Stanford Indians on the home court December 12.

Coach "Doc" Martie has been giving the squad a stiff practice session every night in order that they might be in condition to weather the hard schedule which confronts them.

With the exception of Bob Bankofer, John Griffin and Edge Farnsworth, the 1932 edition of Wolf hoopsters will be made up of men who saw plenty of action in last season's drive for the championship.

Ten Conference Games

Besides the ten conference games await the Wolves there are also six other contests to be played against seasoned veterans who have shown themselves to be among the best in the United States.

On February 1 the bearded House of David team will engage the Wolves in a one game contest on the university floor. The House of David made its appearance in Reno during the baseball season and showed plenty of good material. It is said that the basketballers have even more potentialities than the bat swingers.

Two barnstorming teams, the Davis Elkins from West Virginia and Meiji university will also make their appearance to the local fans, besides Stanford and St. Mary's, who will play non-conference games with the Wolves on the home court.

Nevada's last year's championship team defeated all of the conference teams, suffering only one loss out of ten conference games, and only four losses in a total of seventeen contests. The Wolves dropped one game to Olson's Terrible Swedes, two to the University of San Francisco and one to Chico State.

The Wolves easily downed the St. Mary's quintet as well as Fresno, College of Pacific and Son Jose. Chico State and Cal Aggies were the only conference games with which last year's Wolf hoopsters experienced any difficulty. Nevada trimmed Chico in the first night of play to the tune of 34 to 23, but the Chico men turned the tables on the second night, and after two extra periods of play managed to nose out the Pack 34 to 32. The last games of the year were played with Cal Aggies, who put up a stubborn defense, but were unable to stop the scoring of the Nevadans, who cinched the trophy by defeating them.

A total of nine wins and one loss gave the Wolves a percentage of .900, which was the best of the league standings.

An incomplete schedule calling for sixteen contests awaits this year's Wolf Pack.

- Dec. 22—Stanford at Reno.
- Dec. 23—Davis Elkins at Reno.
- Jan. 20 and 21—Chico State at Reno.
- Jan. 27 and 28—San Jose at San Jose.
- Feb. 1—House of David at Reno.
- Feb. 3 and 4—Fresno at Reno.
- Feb. 7—Meiji university at Reno.
- Feb. 10 and 11—College of Pacific at Stockton.
- Feb. 17 and 18—St. Mary's at Reno.
- Feb. 24 and 25—Cal Aggies at Sacramento.

Badminton Games Nearing End of Fall Competition

With only three more games left, the Independent badminton games are rapidly being played off.

The winners will represent the Independents in the intramural tournament, which is expected to get under way as soon as the games between the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes have been played off. The class games will begin Monday.

Women students who will play off the Independent games are: Clara Deilevot, playing against Ruby Bliss and Genevieve Wolf playing against Beatrice Cobb.

The winners of these games will play against each other to decide the winner among the Independents.

CLARA GALVIN RECOVERS

Miss Clara Galvin '34, who underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday morning at St. Clara's hospital, is reported by hospital attendants to be resting easily and recuperating rapidly. She has been ill for the last year, although no serious complications had set in. It is expected that Miss Galvin will be in the hospital for at least eight more days and then about one week more at her home in Sparks. She is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Martie Picks Basket Squad; 16 Are Named

Announcing the choice of sixteen men for the varsity basketball squad this season, Coach J. E. Martie began intensive drill this week for the first game Dec. 22.

Veterans from last year's squad who will again represent Nevada are Dan Bledsoe, Vic Carroll, Mike Gould, Ray Hackett, Toby Guffrey, Jack Hill, Keith Lee, Roy Bankofer, Harold Curran, Cecil Stowell and Robert Leighton.

Men who will replace Griffin, Bob Bankofer and Farnsworth, who graduated last year, are Floyd Holt, Clayton Phillips, John Flournoy, Gary Callahan and Ralph Haynes.

President Clark Is Back from Meeting of College Heads

Clark First Nevada President Chosen to Lead National Education Body

President Walter E. Clark returned Sunday from the east, where he attended meetings of the National Association of State Universities, of which he is president, and the Association of Land Grant Colleges of America at Washington, D. C.

The forty-one members of the N. A. S. U. represent such state universities as New York, Pennsylvania, Alabama, California and Oregon. President Clark stated that he considers the presidency of such an organization the greatest honor that has ever been conferred upon him.

He is the first Nevada president to be given this office, although Edward Stubbs, president of the University of Nevada from 1894 to 1914, served as head of the Association of Land Grant Colleges.

President Clark stated that the meetings were secret sessions, featured by frank discussions of university problems at which no reporters or non-members were present.

George Denney of the University of Alabama was the former president of the National Association of State Universities.

Junior Varsity Proves Big Help To Nevada Wolves

Ten Loyal Men Important to Success of the Wolf Pack

How many football enthusiasts or sports readers know the men on the junior varsity, and the work they have done throughout the 1932 football season?

With the close of the football season the Wolf Pack receives its due credit for the excellent showing it made in the Far Western Conference. Every man on the squad who saw sixty-five minutes of action in the conference games is to be awarded his letter. All members of the freshman squad who played creditably will receive their numerals.

Worked Hard

Night after night, on Mackay field, there was a group of men working like Trojans under the mentorship of Assistant Coach Weaver. Before each game they learned the opponents' plays and scrimmaged against the varsity, so that the varsity could learn a defense to combat this offense. Every man on the junior varsity worked hard and showed his ability to fight, according to Weaver. But how many realize the importance of these men to the perfecting of the Wolf Pack eleven?

The men who comprise the junior varsity and who were an important factor in Nevada's success, according to the coaching staff, are: Ends, R. Colgan and Swede Johnson; tackles, Ken MacLean and Jack Sullivan; guard, Fred Kingsley; running guard, John Lee; center, D. Fox; quarter, Paul Heilman; halfbacks, Brinkerhoff and Ed Pine. Other men who also played on the junior varsity are Dan Bledsoe, Ben Sheehan, Pat Sanford and Herm Frudenbergh.

Swans Retire to Winter Quarters

The placid waters of Lake Manzanita are no longer graced by their feathered navigators. The swans are gone.

J. B. Lynch, superintendent of buildings and grounds, has decided that even though the weather is still conducive to bathing, the birds ought to be removed to winter quarters. Accordingly, he transported them to the university experiment farm, where they may pass the winter in comfort.

Reorganization of Press Association Proposed by Editor

Joseph Jackson, Former Head of Sagebrush, Suggests New Organization

Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association Disbanded Last Year

With the recent disbanding of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press association, a new press association has been proposed by Joseph Jackson, former president of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press association and former editor of the Sagebrush.

The Pacific Intercollegiate Press association was forced to disband due to pressure brought to bear by various agencies and also due to the inability of some of the editors to attend the convention, which was to have been held in Reno during the first part of this semester.

Desire to Reorganize

Early this semester a number of colleges which belonged to the disbanded association announced their desire to reorganize into a new organization, which would include more college editors among the smaller colleges on the Pacific coast than the former had.

Jackson and Con Gillespie, editor of the Idaho Argonauts, are working together to arrange a meeting of the majority of editors and business managers of the various colleges who would join the new press association in Reno during the Christmas holidays in an effort to make definite plans and arrangements for organizing the association.

If this meeting proves successful and the new press organization is formed, the convention will probably be held in Reno next spring, according to Jackson.

The purpose of this press association will be practically the same as was the disbanded association. It will be to give the various editors of the Pacific coast colleges the opportunity of coming in contact with other editors in the association and thereby gaining new ideas and suggestions for their own papers. The business managers will also attend the convention, and the contact with other business managers will be beneficial to them.

Among the colleges which are expected to belong to this association are Nevada, Whitman, Willamette, Oregon, Oregon State, Idaho, Washington, Washington State, Gonzaga California, Stanford, U. S. C., U. C. L. A., Montana, San Jose, Pacific Fresno, California Agriculture college, Whittier, Pacific university, Loyola, Santa Clara, St. Mary's, San Francisco university, Monmouth Teachers' college, Puget Sound, Redlands and Occidental.

Nevada, San Jose Win Championship

Perfect Record by Leaders; San Jose, Nevada Play Tie Game

Far Western Conference football ended last weekend when the University of Nevada Wolf Pack defeated the Fresno State college gridlers 7 to 0 in a Turkey day tilt and the College of Pacific went down to a 27 to 13 upsetting defeat at the hands of the gallant little Chico State college eleven.

Nevada Ties

With the conclusion of the season, the results find the Wolf Pack in a tie for the conference championship with the strong San Jose State outfit. Nevada won two games, lost none and tied one. San Jose won three, lost none and tied two. Since tie games are not considered in figuring conference standings, both teams have a perfect record of 1.000 per cent.

The big upset of the entire conference season came when the Chico State eleven, not expected to have a chance against the College of Pacific, upset the dope bucket and downed their touted opponents by a disastrous 27 to 13 score.

Chico Strong

Chico displayed more power this season than it has shown before in the conference.

Nevada's Wolf Pack has tied for the conference championship with only one other team in the history of the university. Their goal was not crossed once by a conference team during the season. They outgained the San Jose team, the outfit they tied with for the championship in yardage and made 15 first downs to San Jose's 4 when the two teams met.

The conference standings complete for the season are as follows:

Team	W	L	T	Pct
Nevada	2	0	1	1.000
San Jose	3	0	2	1.000
Chico	2	1	0	.666
College of Pacific	2	2	0	.500
California Aggies	1	4	0	.200
Fresno	0	4	1	.000

Seven Students Initiated Into Phi Kappa Phi

Professor Higginbotham Gives Initiation Address to Organization

The highest honor, with the exception of the gold medal, that can be given members of the graduating class was conferred upon seven students Tuesday evening when they were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholarship society.

The initiates, elected on the basis of outstanding records in study and activities, are Harry Dunsath Jr., Edward Dyer, Alvin Jacobs, Helen Peterson, Marjorie Myles, Elsie Seaborn and Margaret Rawson.

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, first past president of the organization, gave the initiation address on the subject of "The Newspaper and the Government." In the past, it has been the society's custom to present the annual address at the second semester initiation, but since the inauguration of Phi Kappa Phi day on the campus last year, when an outside speaker commemorated the celebration, it was decided that the past president would speak at the first semester initiations of the future.

Development Traced

In his address Mr. Higginbotham showed "how the newspaper, especially in this country, has developed from being despised and feared and suppressed by the government to its present position of being an integral part of government, without which such a government as ours might not be able to function."

Tracing the outstanding steps in the development of the paper in the past 600 years, he told of the difficulties in establishing freedom of the press, and how it was "born in 1734 in New York as the result of the Peter Zenger trial."

Special guests for the evening included President and Mrs. Walter Clark and the parents of the initiates. In the past, the initiation has been closed to all except members of the organization.

At the social hour which followed the formal ceremonies the new members were introduced by the professor of their major subject.

Football Awards Go to 19 Players

Gail Parsons Is Only Four Letter Man on the Team

Mohorovich, Linehan and Handley, All Seniors, May Get Awards

The closing gun of the Fresno State-Nevada contest last Thursday marked the end of the football season for Nevada and gave four additional men their football letters, making a total of nineteen players who will receive this signal award this year.

The men who made their total of sixty-five minutes of play in the last game are Lee Priest, Marvin Turner, Floyd Holt and Gail Parsons.

Seniors Eligible

The total number of letters given out this year may be raised to twenty-two if "Bull" Mohorovich, varsity center, Walt Linehan, captain of the 1930 team, and Earl Handley are recommended for awards.

Mohorovich and Linehan, both two letter men, were kept out of games most of this season because of injuries, while Handley, a one letter man, played the entire sixty minutes in the Fresno State game, placing a total of sixty-one minutes to his credit.

These three men are all seniors and veteran football players, and, on the recommendation of Director of Athletics J. E. Martie, Coach "Brick" Mitchell and the Block N society, with the approval of the A. S. U. N., may receive their letters.

Gail Parsons is the only four letter man on the team, while Jack Hill, Bill Backer, Bob Madruga and "Ole" Theis will receive their third award. Two letter men are Ken Austin, Bill Beemer, Harvey Hill and Marvin Turner.

Ralph Haynes, Lee Priest, Floyd Holt, Gene Sale, "Spud" Harris, Vic Carroll, Roy Bankofer, Tom Cashill and Manager "Rocky" Fuhrman receive their first letter this year.

Football Men Uninjured in Auto Accident

Two University of Nevada football men had a narrow escape from serious injuries when their car overturned two miles this side of Colfax Monday afternoon. They were Lloyd Guffrey '34 of Sparks, affiliated with the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and Victor Carroll '34 of Alhambra, of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

After hitting a rock in the middle of the road, the car overturned a number of times after going over the cliff. Neither of the men were hurt.

Oregon University Dean Will Speak to Nevada Students

Problems of Religion on the University Campus to Be Discussed

Speaks This Afternoon in Mackay Science Room

Dr. Philip A. Parsons, dean of the school of applied social science and head of the department of sociology at the University of Oregon, will speak on "The Problems of Religion on a University Campus," today at 4 o'clock, in room 227, Mackay Science building. Before the open meeting, Dr. Parsons will hold a conference with the student leaders of the campus in order that he may receive information for his writeup on religion, which he intends to do in the future.

The representative here in Reno, Bishop Thomas K. Gorman, has asked Dr. Parsons to speak before the students of the university and faculty members, today on the subject of religion. Dr. Parsons will not favor any particular religion, but instead will give his points of view on the religion of all campuses that he has visited in the past.

Dr. Parsons has spoken on this subject of religion at a number of outstanding universities in the last few months. Some of these institutions at which he has spoken are University of Minnesota, Chicago university, University of Arizona, Stanford university and the Agriculture college in Davis, Calif. After Dr. Parsons leaves Nevada he intends to give his speech at the University of Washington.

Concluding his state tours of colleges Parsons will write a survey on the religion problem at all universities and colleges he has visited.

Dr. Parsons received his A.B. from Christian university, Missouri, in 1904, and his M.A. in 1905. He received his LL.D. at Culver-Stookton college in 1927.

Lectures in New York State

During the years 1912-1918 he was a lecturer for the department of immigrant education, in the state of New York. Then, from 1920 to 1927, he was the director of the Portland School of Social Work, and was appointed dean of the Portland School of Social Work in 1927, which position he still holds.

Honorary Society Elects Officers

Blue Key Bids Fifteen New Men for Honorary Society

Meeting Thursday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the spring semester, Blue Key, honorary men's service organization, chose the following men to head the group: Robert Harrison, president; Bill Beemer, vice president; Wyman Evans, secretary, and Lawrence Kearney, treasurer.

Those men elected to office assumed duties immediately upon election. The former officers of the organization were Dwight Leavitt, president; Howard Umber, vice president; Bull Mohorovich, secretary, and Alonza Priest, treasurer.

At the next regular dinner meeting, scheduled for December 13, it was decided to confer membership upon those men who were recently elected to the society. This meeting will be held at one of the downtown hotels, but as yet has not been decided upon.

U. of N. Band Plays For Grand Opening

Thanks to the cooperation of the University of Nevada band, new Christmas sales were speeded up immediately upon the grand opening of all the stores which took place Wednesday night.

The band played several numbers on the corner in front of the National Dollar store, meanwhile attracting quite a large gathering of Christmas shoppers.

From their band marched through the streets and played on nearly every one of the more populated corners.

A broadcast of the Nevada-Fresno game, played Thanksgiving day, was received by amateur radio students of the University of Nevada.

The broadcast, transmitted by an operator from Fresno, in code, was received by a small group at Lincoln hall.

Prof. Irving Sandorf, of the electrical engineering department, was one of the audience and stated that the broadcast came in very clearly. He also expressed the opinion that most of the out of town games to be played next season will be broadcast in this manner.

Giant Rule Purchased for Mathematicians

If embryo engineers fail to master slide-rule operation in Prof. C. L. Searcy's classes, it won't be because they can't read the figures. For the express purpose of practical class demonstration, Prof. Searcy has in his lecture room a gigantic slide rule, hung on the wall.

The rule is a regular Kussel & Effer product, and was purchased by the university this year. It is nearly six feet in length and two feet in width, is reversible, and has all the scales dear to the hearts of engineers.

The slide of the rule has two large thumb holes bored into it to facilitate operation. Students in the rear of the room can easily see the huge figures. The cost of the instrument was approximately nine dollars.

Rhodes Scholarship Committee Soon to Choose Candidates

Alvin Jacobs, Alden Sibley and Frandsen Loomis Three to Be Considered

The Nevada Rhodes scholarship committee will consider the Nevada applicants for this year's scholarship award, which gives the opportunity to study at Oxford university in England, at a meeting Thursday, December 8.

The three candidates who are to be considered for this scholarship are Alvin Jacobs, Alden Sibley and Frandsen Loomis. The two selected will be sent to San Francisco for the meeting of the district committee, which has been tentatively set for December 17. Applicants selected by the district committee will go to Oxford next year.

Those composing the Nevada Rhodes scholarship committee are: President Walter E. Clark, chairman; George A. Whitley, assistant United States attorney; Professor Paul A. Harwood of the University of Nevada; Dr. Emile Hoffman, Stanford university hospital head, and Charles M. Chatfield, secretary.

Loomis is in his junior year at the University of Nevada, while Jacobs is a senior, and Sibley, who completed his freshman year at the University of Nevada, is now a cadet at the United States military academy at West Point.

Cosmopolitan Club To Hear Traveler Give Experiences

Speaker From Isle of Cyprus to Talk on Customs of Little Island

The Cosmopolitan club will present Paul Ralli, speaking on the subject of the Island of Cyprus, at its first meeting of the month to be held at the home of Maryalice Loomis, Dec. 8.

Ralli, of French descent and born in the island of Cyprus, will discuss the Mediterranean island as to the customs of the native residents, their viewpoints on Americans and American institutions, topography of Cyprus, and its importance from the economic standpoint.

Well traveled in Europe and speaking both French and English with fluency, Paul Ralli's sojourn in this country has included a two year study of the Hollywood movie industry, in which he says the people of Cyprus are most interested.

Ralli's purpose in the United States is to enter the legal field, which includes a certain residence qualification. The Cosmopolitan club will elect officers for the spring semester at this meeting. The concluding part of the program will be an informal social meeting, with the serving of refreshments.

Montgomery's Father Seriously Injured By Holdup Men

Ed Montgomery '34 was called to Sacramento today, where his father is in a hospital in a serious condition following a holdup during which he was severely beaten. Montgomery left immediately.

The sophomores, not forgetting that the frosh are still on the campus and still open for punishment, ordered the following freshmen to appear in back of the Aggie building at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Those who felt the paddle were Joe Clark, Don Brown, Ed Paradis, Frank Millar, Vernon Esemann, George Hickey, H. Christensen, Lynn Gerow, H. Addenbrooke, Peter Guisti.

Wolves Beat Fresno In Final Minutes of Games; Score 7 to 0

Victory Gives Nevada Tie for Conference Lead With San Jose State

Hill Scores Only Touchdown; Nine Men Play Their Last Game for Nevada

Stopped in four touchdown drives and keeping the ball in Fresno territory throughout the game, the University of Nevada Wolf Pack finally pushed over a touchdown in the final minutes of play to defeat the Fresno State Bulldogs by a 7 to 0 score, in the Turkey day tilt. This victory gave the Pack a tie for the conference championship with the San Jose State Spartans.

The score came when Jack Hill, slippery Nevada quarterback, running behind perfect interference, swept around end to a touchdown from the six yard line and crossed the final stripe standing up.

Playing their best in the final game of their college football careers, nine Nevada gridlers put up a spirited battle in the game last Saturday. They were: Fern Ambrose, quarterback; "Bull" Mohorovich, center; Walt Linehan, guard; Gail Parsons, fullback; Roy Bankofer, end; Al Thies, tackle; Earl Handley, halfback, and Robert Madruga, tackle.

More than 7000 spectators watched the Nevada Wolf Pack complete a successful season under their new coach, C. L. "Erick" Mitchell, with the pleasing record of not having once been scored upon by a Far Western conference team.

Nevada threatened to score the first time when they blocked a kick on the Fresno 37-yard line and recovered it on the 15-yard line. A pass, Hill to Guffrey, put the ball on the Fresno 5-yard line. Parsons, Nevada fullback, made it to the 3-yard line on two bucks through center, but the Fresno line held and they took the ball to punt out of danger.

The Bulldogs had their only chance to score in the second quarter when one of Hill's punts traveled only five yards from the scrimmage line. Fresno taking possession of the ball on the Nevada 44-yard line. Two passes and a couple of line plays took the ball to the Nevada 25-yard line, the closest the Fresno team came to scoring.

Nevada made 180 yards from scrimmage to 58 for Fresno. Nevada lost, however, 41 yards from scrimmage to 6 against Fresno. Playing clean football, the Nevada team lost only 20 yards on penalties, while Fresno lost 60 yards.

The Wolves made 12 first downs to 5 for Fresno; attempted 19 passes and completed 7, while Fresno tried 11 passes and completed 4. Nevada intercepted one pass, Fresno 2; fumbled twice to two fumbles for Fresno.

Nevada averaged 37 yards on punts to 42 for Fresno and attempted one field goal which went wide, to none for Fresno.

Annual 'Scandal' Reveals Many Campus Secrets

Thirty Women Take Part in Performance of Comedy

Hidden secrets of campus celebrities were revealed today at the annual scandal show given by members of the Y.W.C.A. before a large gathering of students and faculty members in the auditorium.

About thirty women took part in the production, which consisted of three acts—"The Wolves Frolic," "The Sagebrush Office" and "Anything That's Right," a takeoff on the column run in the Sagebrush every week. The Wolves' Frolic act consisted of six women representing Dudley Nix's orchestra, and four women as the chorus, which gave several dances. All were in comic costume and their antics brought much applause from the audience.

The second scene, the Student Administration building, revealing several members of the Sagebrush and Desert Wolf staffs, brought many laughs from the audience as the characters depicted the supposed scenes which take place in this building.

The third act revealed to the campus the "dirt" which had been accumulating during the semester, and behind a screen an unseen reporter told of the escapades and actions of many of the popular students and organizations. At the conclusion of this act the "Dudley Nix" orchestra again played and the "chorus" danced again.

POSTPONEMENT OF DANCES

A great deal of discussion is being carried on on the Nevada campus concerning the postponement of the college dances and formal affairs. Many claim that it is not fair to the students to cancel these dances because it is destroying the few traditions that Nevada has left.

It is true that these are three of the most looked forward to dances of the fall semester, and it is hard for many students to understand why they should be canceled. The reason given for deferring these affairs is that the bank holiday has caused a shortage of funds and that it would inconvenience many students, and it is very possible that the dances would all be failures due to lack of attendance.

The committees in charge believe by postponing the dances until next semester that they will be able to give the students the type of party that the tradition calls for. The fact that so many students on the campus can be heard to say that the bank holiday has affected them directly has caused the committees and the sponsors to investigate the possibilities of giving the dances on the scheduled dates and having them turn out successfully.

It has been shown on the campus at previous affairs that when the word gets around that a few couples do not care or are not able to attend, the majority of students feel that the dance will therefore not be successful and there is no reason why they should go and have a poor time. This was shown a year ago at the junior jump, a dance sponsored by the class of '33, for which the committee made plans for a good time and then the students failed to cooperate by not attending.

If they are postponed until next semester, more definite plans can be made and more members of the student body would be able to attend, and it is up to each student to cooperate with these committees by understanding that it is for the purpose of making these dances a success that the dates have been postponed.

UNAUTHENTIC INFORMATION

Frequently in the past Reno has been the target of writers who misunderstood, and who have criticised the freedom here. Because the university is situated in Reno, both the school and the students have received their share of the criticism. On the average of once each year this university receives notoriety of one sort or another, most of it bad, through the works of some writer who, perhaps unwittingly, has seized a situation and who has placed Nevada students in an unfair light.

It is not often, however, that a writer deliberately, to make material for his column, capitalizes on such an unfortunate situation as the state finds itself in at the present time, badly twists facts, and sets them down as truths for a critical public. Last Tuesday, however, W. B. Stafford, managing editor of the Daily Californian, University of California student newspaper, in his column "Lights and Shadows" attempted to tell his readers how the banking situation has affected Reno and the university here. He presents a brief, an inaccurate resume of the present banking and financial system, and with reference to the University of Nevada he says:

"The university shares in the general bankruptcy. It came within an ace of closing its doors on Thanksgiving day for the remainder of the year as there is no wherewithal in the treasury to pay administrative and faculty salaries. The torch of education still burns, however, with the professors working free while plans are afoot to issue script, to be redeemed at a later date."

Continuing, Mr. Stafford says: "I went to the Cowshed, a superannuated dive which has come into popularity since the destruction of the Willows by fire. Few students were admitted at the Cowshed. I asked why. 'The dean of women often comes out here,' I was told, 'and she doesn't like to have the college kids around.'"

It is unfortunate that Mr. Stafford failed to inform himself as to the real situation in Reno, because had he done so he might have given his readers a good deal of interesting information. It is regrettable that Mr. Stafford, having enjoyed Reno's hospitality, should have failed to appreciate it. It was unkind of Mr. Stafford to present an utterly wrong impression of Nevada's dean of women, and it is very deplorable that the Daily Californian should have stooped from the high standard it occupies in college journalism as to print Mr. Stafford's words without making an investigation of Mr. Stafford's sincerity.

Bricks and Boquets

By STILL THE SAME PERSON
This week the 1906 pair of fur lined ear muffs that we found goes to Granville "Puggens" Fletcher for his masterful art of lovemaking in a classroom. Moonlight, the tram, the bleachers, the back seat of a car, rumble seats, chesterfields, overstuffed chairs and front porches all fade into oblivion with this young Lothario, because he has found that there is no better place than all wrapped up in his work. And all this comes without the objection of Francis Slaven, who was the party of the second part when the party of the first part decided right in the middle of class discussion that there was no time better than the present. It's too bad, Fletch, old fellow, but profs do have to reserve all rights in their own classroom.

What is this ugly rumor that is going around the campus (the better people have it) about the business manager of this year's book having become a benedict? And right in the face of all this depression and everything. Or is the Artemisia going to show a vast amount of profit this year, Buck? When interviewed by the press, all the Little Woman could say was, "Can you im-ag-ine that!"

The "Last of the Captains" has entered new fields, and from the latest reports from the front, he is conquering all. Linehan equipped with two hours of looking over 1928 girls' basketball rules, h1123456 123456 123456666 of the Junior H1 schools every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, to instruct a group of business girls in the art of tossing the spheroid into the hoop. The only thing that bothers Linehan at the moment is that they tire themselves all out trying their little darndest for him on the court, and cannot accept dates after training hours . . . all for the good of the team. Ah, Me! Such is a coach's life.

Hey, Vic! Now that football season is over, clean the mud out of your ears, take a shower, to get the smell of the ruckaway, shine your shoes, press your trousers, go down to the river and wash your shirt, put some bacon grease on your hair . . . then go out and show "Handsome" John Flournoy that you still stand ace high with Helen. Will you?

Scene—The shore of Manzanita lake. Time—Very late, Monday night. Character—A former student and Sigma Phi Sigma. Position of Character at opening of scene—He is on his little (?) tummy on the shore of the lake, very near the water line, and the slope of the hill makes it very hard for him to keep his equilibrium. (There may have been other reasons, but we'll let it lay.)

The action begins—When the Character reaches out his hand to pat the waves into little wavelets and . . . The climax—Splash! (Curtain.)

Oh! That we were the person known as the "Suffering Hero" that we might get all those long and lingering glances from admiring women, when we studied in the Library. They say he is a Sigma Phi Sigma from Cal.

Wonder who that shiny piece of brass belongs to that adorns the chest of our Virginia Hill? And speaking of Pi Phi we can't help but remark about that Pineapple bob which THE Miss Kilpatrick, of the NAWTH Karolina Kilpatrick's, is wearing these days. What has us all het up is . . . Does that sort of thing last for ever, or can it be overcome with age?

Can it be that handsome Ed Montgomery is becoming absent-minded? Perhaps it was the presence of his charming companion at the football game Saturday that caused him to forget to take notes on the game for a Brush story. More power to you, Ed!

Men Humble Women In Psychology Ex

The men of the psychology 5 class humbled the women in the tests of social intelligence which were given last week by Professor Ralph Irwin of the psychology department.

"Women usually rate higher in these tests than men because their world revolves about people in contrast to the men's world, which revolves about things," Professor Irwin stated.

The medium score of the men was 91, while the women made a mark of 88. Women greatly outnumbered the men in both sections.

The honor student has an advantage over the varsity letter man in that he can look forward to a longer life. According to the University of Southern California Daily Trojan, statistics based on the life of 38,269 graduates of eastern colleges have shown that the members of Phi Beta Kappa, honor society, can expect to live two years longer than the major letter man.

EXCHANGES

Illegal voting in student elections on the University of Wisconsin campus resulted last week in probation of three students, all workers. The faculty committee's action will make them ineligible for extra curricular activity.

So many women at one of the women's dormitories on the University of Michigan campus are named Helen that they have formed a new social group known as the "Troy" club.

Gary Cooper, who tried three times to get into Grinnell college's dramatic club, has now been invited to join. If he attends homecoming his key of honorary membership will be given him then; if not, it will be sent to the University of Southern California, where the induction ceremony will take place.

Co-eds at Boston university cause twice as much trouble as the men students, according to police records.

Physical education has done much to improve the posture of the co-eds at the University of Minnesota. This was proved by the comparison of records at the beginning of the semester and at the end.

According to James Rowland Angell, president of Yale, it is impossible for the college student of today to earn his way through school. He said that students without living expenses would fare badly at Yale at present.

Because residents of the Fresno State college district have complained about fraternity and sorority houses being too noisy that they lessened property values, the societies are under orders to move into a restricted district near the college.

Wilma Kennedy '32, who recently withdrew from school because of illness, left today for California for her health. Miss Kennedy entered the university this semester as a graduate student. She is affiliated with Beta Sigma Omicron.

Engineering Notes

Professor Jay A. Carpenter, mining engineering instructor in the Mackay school of mines at the University of Nevada, entertained the officers of the Crucible club, mining students group, and the freshman mining engineers at his home this week.

The freshman mining engineering students who attended the gathering were Albert Borghi, John Daszkiewicz, Vernon Eisenmann, Eugene Gordenez, Morgan North, John Noyes, J. D. Stephens, Edwin Sullivan and Edwin Taylor. The Crucible club officers at the entertainment were Ted Overton, Edward Usnick and Renard Farrar.

Benton Turner, a senior mining engineering student of the University of Nevada, accompanied Congressman S. Arentz on a mining examination tour in the Pioche mining district last week. He returned with an old one-man piston drill which he discovered and presented it to the Mackay school of mines for use in class work.

Robert Prince, an honor graduate of the University of Nevada in mining with the class of 1931, has returned here and is doing work at the present time in the Mackay museum and aiding in the geology department.

Sagens Plan Active Year

At the regular weekly meeting of the Sagens, held Tuesday, November 29, plans for the remainder of the 1932-33 school year were discussed. No definite action could be taken because of the uncertainty of the financial condition of the majority of the students on the campus.

An informal dance to be held sometime in the near future was discussed. It was planned to give the funds resulting from the dance to the Hase-man memorial fund or to some similar cause.

The Sagens will take their usual interest in the basketball games and the boxing matches. It is planned that they will sell candy and Eskimo pies at all of the athletic contests which are scheduled to take place in the next semester.

W. A. A. to Choose Outstanding Co-Ed

Health Week Climaxed Today by Selection by Secret Committee

One woman will be chosen by W. A. A. this afternoon as the most outstanding woman in the organization in posture, sportsmanship, appearance and general health. This selection will close W. A. A. health week, which started Monday, November 28.

W. A. A. has been sponsoring health week in connection with the National Amateur Athletic Association of College Women.

Mrs. Ebba Bishop, state health nurse, spoke to the organization Tuesday afternoon on "Health in the Schoolroom." Mrs. Bishop emphasized the facts of proper sleep and nourishment in connection with general health. Miss Bishop said that physical defects may be started from incorrect posture or awkward seats in the schoolroom, and she urged that both the students and the teacher make the proper adjustments to correct this fault.

Speaks Today
Dr. Alice Thompson will speak at 3:45 this afternoon to a general assemblage of W. A. A. on "The Why of Medical Examination." At the conclusion of this speech, the award will be given to the chosen W. A. A. member. The selection will be made by a secret committee. This committee will also choose one girl from each class as the most outstanding girl in the group.

Maryalice Loomis Speaks at Meeting Of Campus Y. W.

"Educational and Social Customs of Mexico" was the subject of an address given by Maryalice Loomis, senior student at Nevada, at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the campus Y. W. C. A. floating university group on Monday afternoon.

Miss Loomis attended this year's summer session of the University of Mexico. In speaking of the academic life of the college, Miss Loomis said that it was surprisingly Americanized. Social activities of the students are well organized, she stated.

Mexican Spanish, which differs from the regular Castilian mainly in pronunciation, is the langue spoken. The English courses, which are very popular, are divided into three classes—lawyer, Mexican and active.

Miss Loomis is a member of the graduating class and is active in campus affairs. She is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Two Fraternities Hold Semi-Annual Election of Officers

Two national fraternities, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Sigma Lambda, have elected their officers for the spring semester.

Officers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are: President, Raymond Poncia; vice president, Gail Parsons; secretary, Ross Whitehead, and house manager, John Chism.

Lowell Russell heads Delta Sigma Lambda, with Grant Rice vice president and Forrest Bibb secretary.

Other fraternities will hold their elections later this year or at the first meeting next semester.

Winter Festival Plans Completed

22 Women Will Participate in Annual Function December 10

With only a week and a half left, the practices for the Winter Festival are gradually coming to a close.

The festival, given by some of the women students on the campus under the direction and teaching of Miss Elsa Sameth, professor of physical education for women, is the second to be given this year, the other one having been given in the spring, and will take place December 10.

A series of dances will be given by groups of girls and there will also be a solo dance featuring Sarah Graves, supported by Camille Cerrita and a chorus of girls.

Dancers participating will be Juana Barber, Clara Beemer, Beatrice Bollschweiler, Marjorie Cannon, Caryl Carman, Sarah Graves, Virginia Murgotten, Kathryn Wardleigh, Nell Kilpatrick, Dorothy Shoup, Glenna Dell McQuerry, Czerne McQuerry, Dorothy Roseberry, Evelyn Anderson, Florence Doyle, Florence Gulling, Camille Cerrita, Bernadine Cupit, Margaret Richards, Louise Tidball and Anita Sourwine.

The program has not been fully decided on and will be announced later.

50 Women Sign Up for Basketball

Changed Rules Make Game Faster, More Interesting, Says Simas

Women's basketball season is now in full swing, with approximately fifty students participating in the sport. Practices are held on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at 3:45, with a special practice at 5 o'clock for those who are unable to come at 3:45. Dorothy Pope, manager, has announced that those wishing to play in class games must have practices to their credit, while participation in intramural games requires six practices.

The official rules for women's basketball have undergone considerable change, and according to Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor, the new rules make the game much faster and more interesting. Formerly guarding with the arms was limited to a horizontal plane, but this restriction has been withdrawn and guarding with the arms extended in a vertical plane is no longer a foul.

The game may now be started either with the usual tip-off at center or may be taken in the center by the side opposite to those who have last scored. With fewer restrictions on the guards the forwards must be constantly alert and moving, as must the entire defense.

Interclass games will take place before Christmas vacation, and the intramural games shortly after. Interest in the intramural games is always high as a silver loving cup is offered to the winning team. The cup must be won three times for permanent ownership, and it is at present held by the Independents, who won the tournament last year.

Las Vegas Cinches Conference Title By Defeating Ely

Wildcats Challenge Stewart to Contest for State Championship

The Las Vegas Wildcats cinched the Southern Conference football title on Thanksgiving day when they defeated the Ely Bobcats.

Immediately after the game, Las Vegas wired a formal challenge to the Stewart Indians to play them for the state championship. Stewart accepted the challenge, and the game will be played at Las Vegas on December 4.

Las Vegas had the state champion football team last year. They also have one of the best records of any high school team in the United States. The Wildcats have not been defeated since the fall of 1930. They have a string of twenty-two games without a defeat. In this string of victories they have piled up a score of 956 points to the opposition's 63 points.

Numbered among the victims of the Wildcats are practically every important high school team in Nevada, several schools of California and Arizona, and the Nevada Wolf Cubs. They also have a tie with the Junior College of Cedar City, Utah, scored two weeks ago.

On the other hand, Stewart has one of the best teams developed in the northern part of the state in several years. They have waded through seven conference games without a tie or a defeat this year.

Military Society Has Saber Drill

At the regular Scabbard and Blade meeting held November 17 the junior military class executed a saber drill which was headed by Paul Nichols, cadet major.

This drill was held for the benefit of the military class 51 in order to interest them in the activities of the Scabbard and Blade organization.

All members of military 51 will take an examination later in the semester which constitutes part of the work required for Scabbard and Blade.

The chief purpose of this military society is to teach advanced students the art of military tactics.

Miss Patricia Harrison, a freshman student of last year and a pledge to Pi Beta Phi, was visiting friends on the campus this week. Miss Harrison has been in San Francisco this fall and is returning to her home in Gardnerville.

Rifle Team Is Matched With 15 Universities

The rifle team of the University of Nevada will be matched with rifle teams of fifteen other colleges and universities, according to Colonel Brambila of the military department.

The first of these matches will begin on February 4 and they will continue all of that month. In order that the best selection of men can be made the team will not be selected until just before that date.

Mildred De Witt '32 spent the week-end visiting at the Beta Sigma Omicron house. Miss De Witt left Sunday for North Ruby Valley, where she is teaching in the rural schools.

Frosh Basketball Practice Starts Monday Night

The first practice of the season for the frosh basketball squad will be held Monday, December 12, at 7 p. m. in the university gymnasium. Coach Chet Scranton urges everyone who is planning to go out for the squad next semester to report for practice at this time. Students who wait until next semester before turning out will not stand as good a chance of making the team, according to Scranton. Practice will not interfere with studies and will be held for about an hour at 7 o'clock every Monday, Wednesday and Friday and at 8:30 every Tuesday and Thursday. Practice will be held for only a week or ten days this semester.

A schedule has not yet been completed but will be arranged at the meeting of the high school coaches which will be held during the latter part of December. The Frosh will not play their first game until sometime during the early part of next semester.

Frosh Numerals To Be Awarded Early Next Week

Frosh football men for the 1932 season will probably receive their football numerals the early part of next week, if the numerals that had to be sent away for arrive the latter part of the week as expected.

The numerals are usually given out either by Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, at the Student Administration building or by Chester Scranton, frosh football coach, whose headquarters are in the P. E. department at the gym.

Jack Hill Given All Coast Mention

Selections Were Made Last Week by United Press

Jack Hill, veteran halfback of the Nevada Wolf Pack, was given honorable mention on the all coast football team which was selected by the United Press last week. Hill has played three years for Nevada and has one more year on the gridiron.

Receiving honorable mention on this team is an honor when the caliber of men who were chosen on it are taken into consideration. The following are some of the coast men who gained honorable mention: Gaddy of San Francisco, end; Jorgenson of St. Mary's, tackle; Christie of California, center; Bowerman of Oregon, quarter; Keeble of U. C. L. A., fullback, and Cadel of Stanford, Valonios of California, Arbelvide of Washington State and Hill of Nevada, halfbacks.

Nevada has not had any men who have come into football prominence in this way since Jack Walkers '31, Al Levebre '33 and John Griffin '32, received honorable mention on the all-American football team which is selected by a board consisting of Howard Jones, coach of Southern California; Glenn "Pop" Warner of Stanford, Alonzo Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago; "Tad" Jones of Yale; Alexander, coach at Georgia, and Christie Walsh.

Semester's Work Finished for Band

The University of Nevada band has completed the biggest part of its semester's work with the conclusion of its outside engagements. Prof. Theodore Post announced today.

Outside engagements have kept the band busy, along with the regular class work, which takes place in the Education auditorium. Playing for the three football games held here on Mackay field, the band contributed a lively note to those occasions.

The trip to the California game won the band a chance to appear before a large crowd and also earned it the commendation of a San Francisco paper.

Other occasions at which the band played were Admission day, Armistice day and the ground-breaking for the new postoffice and civic building.

Besides playing for two political rallies the band played for the Homecoming parade.

The band comprises about forty members, but there are only about

But please bear this in mind. It is what happens before the tobacco goes into this machine that matters most, but not nearly as important as the selection, blending and treatment of the tobacco.

That's why we keep telling you about the tobaccos used in Chesterfields. They're fine, mild, and pure tobaccos. We tell you about ageing and curing the tobaccos... about blending and cross-blending them... because they are things that count.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. Prove it for yourself... Just try a package.
