

Wolf Pack Wins Two, Loses Four On Tour of Coast

Influenza Handicaps Nevada Hoop Squad on Barnstorming Tour

Mike Gould, Center, Leads Wolves in Scoring Honors for Trip

Handicapped by a vicious attack of influenza that placed three of their outstanding players on the sick list and crippled the remainder of the squad, the University of Nevada battled through a tour of California over the Christmas holidays in which they won two games and suffered four defeats.

Without the services of their two outstanding guards, Vic Carroll and "Toby" Guffrey, and Jack Hill, agile little forward, the Wolves had difficulty in holding their own. It was not until the latter part of their tour that they recovered sufficiently to chalk up their two victories.

Opening their tour, the Wolves took a crushing defeat at the hands of the University of California at Los Angeles, losing by a 50 to 26 score. The southerners repeated their victory on the following night, downing the Nevadans 44 to 29.

The game with the Los Angeles Athletic Club was postponed by the Wolves and they journeyed to San Francisco for their next contest, a tilt with the University of California at Berkeley, which they lost, 26 to 23, when the Bears staged a last quarter rally after trailing for more than three-quarters of the game.

Tide Changes
On the following night the Wolves again tasted defeat, losing by a 31 to 25 tally to the United Athletic Club. The game was close throughout and Coach "Doc" Martie's charges were in hopes of a victory until the final gun sounded.

The tide of victory changed and in their game with the Moffat Packers of San Francisco, on January 7, the Wolves downed their opponents by a 52 to 28 score, winning a decisive victory. On the following evening the Packers completed their tour by defeating the San Francisco Olympic Club quintet, 41 to 36, with a thrilling last minute rally.

Ten Make Trip

Ten men, J. E. "Doc" Martie, coach, and Ed Reconzone, manager, made the trip. The players who made the trip were: Forwards, Dan Bledsoe, Bob Leighton, Jack Hill and Bob Bankoffler; centers, Cecil Stowell and Mike Gould; guards, Vic Carroll, Harold Curran, "Toby" Guffrey and Ray Hackett.

Mike Gould took high scoring honors for the trip, sinking 56 points, while Dan Bledsoe, veteran forward, dropped 50 points through the hoop. Gould scored 19 points in Nevada's game with the Moffat Packers and 18 against the Olympic Club.

Nevada Man Builds Announcing System

When it comes to conserving energy, Yell Leader Paul Fontana takes a blue ribbon. He has conceived a plan whereby he will arouse a cheering section and very effectively lead it with only a minimum of voice effort. He is modernizing cheer leading by constructing a public address system. The system will be used at athletic contests and rallies, and at any other gathering where voice amplification is more suitable than ordinary announcing.

Helping Paul in the construction of the address system is Dan Harvey, also an electrical engineering student.

The students say their creation will be ready for use this fall. It will not displace the address system used previously but will enable the cheer leader to make himself heard throughout the stadium or the gym with comparatively little effort.

There is a possibility that by Mackay Day the system will be ready for installation. If so, it will be used to announce the various contests held at that time.

J. D. Layman, librarian emeritus, has returned to the library to give his services to the university so that we may pull through the financial difficulties which we are experiencing. He will stay here until it is certain that all will be under control.

Hoop Schedule For Basketball Is Announced

Graduate Manager Hartung today announced the 1933 schedule for the frosh basketball team. The schedule was drawn up at the meeting of high school coaches held last December, and calls for games with all the leading high school teams in the western district.

The schedule calls for the following games: January 14, Lovelock at Lovelock; January 21, Lovelock at Reno; January 28, Carson at Carson; February 1, Virginia City here; February 3, Sparks here; February 4, Susanville here; February 7, Yerington here (tentative); February 17, Susanville at Susanville; February 18, Reno here; February 24, Winnemucca here.

Freshmen to Open Hoop Season With Game at Lovelock

Coach Scranton's Hoopsters Show Plenty of Strength in Practice

Coach Chet Scranton's frosh basketball team will open the 1933 season when they travel to Lovelock to play the Pershing county five Saturday night. Scranton's men have been thoroughly drilled in the fundamentals of the game for the past month and will give Lovelock a fast game.

The frosh team has already shown that it has a combination hard to beat when it defeated Carson City in a pre-season game last month. Lovelock showed its power last Saturday night when it defeated Winnemucca high school by a score of 39 to 14. Lovelock took the lead early in the game and held it until the final gun. Quilled and Oleata, the stars of the Lovelock team, are expected to give the frosh some tough competition.

Scranton has an unusually big team this year, and can start a team all above the six foot mark. The frosh squad has been strengthened by the addition of Allan Lansdon, former high player, and Ross Tannahill, former all-state center from Virginia City. Scranton expects to take a squad of nine or ten on the trip. Selection of this squad has not yet been made.

Publicity Bureau May Discontinue Part of Service

The activities of the news bureau for the ensuing semester will be determined at the meeting of the finance control next week. Whether or not sufficient money will be available to send out regularly issued news stories to the state papers is doubtful, according to Graduate Manager Hartung. It is very likely, however, that stories will continue to be sent to the local papers and to the schools in the Far Western conference. There are sufficient mats and cuts available in the office of the graduate manager to assure proper publicity on basketball during the remainder of the season. It is also planned to send a quantity of these cuts throughout the state.

During the two weeks' Christmas vacation period material was sent to the schools met by the team during the basketball tour. Adequate publicity was secured from the coast papers due to this move.

Engineers Take Up Fine Art of Cooking

The engineers may seem to be going in for the more genteel arts when they convert the old cement laboratory in the Electrical Engineering building into a kitchenette and locker room, but it is only their way of being practical. When meetings are held this semester by the three societies representing the mechanical, electrical and civil engineering students, and the combined group, the associated engineers, there will be a place to brew coffee and prepare food.

There are also lockers where the clubs may store their records or other data which they desire to keep. Although the deserted lab is too small to hold meetings in, it will facilitate putting on the "feeds" which have been so popular with the engineers after business has been dispensed with.

Y. W. C. A. to Open Book Store This Week

Many Books Listed by Co-Eds As Usable This Spring Semester

The Y. W. C. A. second-hand book shop, which was a new feature last semester, reopened Thursday in its new location in the basement of Morrill Hall near the postoffice.

The exchange was created primarily as a financial aid and convenience to the students rather than a money-making venture.

Miss Dortha Robertson, chairman of the Y. W. finance committee, who is in charge of the exchange, announced that attempts will be made to sell any of the texts listed below, or any other books used in second semester classes which are brought to the shop.

A Political and Social History of Modern Europe, Vol. I; Hayes. General Chemistry; Newell. Qualitative Analysis; Sears. Geography and World Power; Fairgreive. Bolton and Marshall History of America. Bolton and Marshall Syllabus. Solid Geometry; Avery. Advanced Algebra; Hart. Theory of Equations, First Course; Deckson. Math. Theory of Investments; Kahn and Morris. Art of Everyday Life—Goldatine. Textile; Rev. Dyer. Trow's Educational Psychology. Adolescence; Tracy. Reading in Industrial Psychology; Moore and Hartmann. Mental Hygiene; La Rue. Composition for College Students, Third Edition; Thomas, Manchester and Scott. Writing Craftsmanship; Fulton. Century College Handbook; Griever and Jones. American Poetry and Prose; Forester. Shakespeare's Principal Plays. Hamlet; J. Q. Adams. Chaucer's Canterbury Tales; Manly, Edgar. Middle Ages; Munroe and Sontag. European Governments; Munro. Harrington's Chats on Feature Writing. Advertising Copy; Hotchkiss. History of Political Economy; In-Am. Economical History; Falkner. grim. Labor Economy; Blum. Fairchild, Furnace and Buck, Vol. 11 Rev. Principles of World Transportation; Daggett. Public Utilities; Glaeser. Business Management; P. White. Comparative Governments; Monroe.

Unlimited free consultations with the college physician or nurse are granted in emergency cases. Hospitalization at a moderate rate is also offered to members. One dollar a day is charged for those who have paid board at the dining hall, and $2 a day is required for others.

The hospital rules are listed in the registration bulletins and should be read by all.

Expect Busy Season

Concerts and Group Singing To Be Presented in Reno and Gardnerville

The month of February will be a busy one for campus musicians. Theodore H. Post, head of the department of music, announced today. Preparations are being made by the department for a concert to be given in Gardnerville on the tenth, and a program at the Twentieth Century Club on the nineteenth.

The men's and women's glee clubs and the university community orchestra will take part in the Gardnerville concert, and will present musical numbers similar to those in the program given at Fernley last semester. The musicale is under the auspices of the Gardnerville public schools, and is to be presented at the invitation of G. C. Meneley, principal of the grammar school.

Whether or not a dance will follow the program has yet to be definitely decided.

On February 19 the orchestra will furnish half of the music at a Sunday afternoon cantata under the direction of the Century Choral Club headed by Mrs. Louise Zimmer.

Thirty members comprise the university community orchestra.

E. E. Student Builds Needed Apparatus

If all the E. E. students were like Harry Dunsath, the E. E. department wouldn't have to purchase any more equipment to keep abreast of the scientific world, for Harry just sits himself down and makes what is needed. At least, he is making a device at present called a rotary voltmeter, which is designed to measure extremely high voltage.

It will be used as part of the regular work of advanced electrical students, and is capable of measuring hundreds of thousands of volts. The voltmeter Harry is constructing is a very much needed device, but it is inevitable that someone will be rigging up a lie detector soon and then the student affairs committee will have some revelations.

The rotary voltmeter was recently devised by the science staff at Stanford university.

A report on the two issues of the Desert Wolf was given and accepted by the committee.

University Hospital Gives Real Service To Nevada Students

Dollar Fee Insures Prompt Aid To Any Student Taken Ill While on Campus

More students should take advantage of the opportunities offered by the university hospital.

The University Hospital Association, formed in 1923, has as its object the guarding of the students' health and the prevention of illness. It is managed by the university committee on health. The hospital is in charge of the matron, Mrs. Shurtleff, who is an experienced nurse.

The college physician, Dr. Dwight Hood, holds regular daily consultation periods while school is in session, and gives competent and interested service. The medical care given the students is of the highest type at the most reasonable rate possible.

Fee Insures Aid
All students pay a fee of $1.00 a semester at registration, which entitles them to medical attention at the in-taken ill on the campus. This dollar fee does not entitle the student to continued free consultations or continued hospitalization, but does cover the cost of physical education examinations and allows the students follow-up advice.

The benefits of membership in the hospital association should be considered by all students. Those who do not live with parents or guardians in Reno or Sparks are required to pay the $3.00 fee in this organization, but others may also join by paying the $3.00 fee upon registration.

Unlimited free consultations with the college physician or nurse are granted in emergency cases. Hospitalization at a moderate rate is also offered to members. One dollar a day is charged for those who have paid board at the dining hall, and $2 a day is required for others.

The hospital rules are listed in the registration bulletins and should be read by all.

Campus Dance Plans to Be Settled Soon

The military ball and the junior prom, the largest formal affairs of the fall semester, which were postponed until this semester, are not yet a definite part of the spring program.

These dances were postponed because of the bank holiday declared last November. As yet meetings which will decide whether the dances are financially possible have not been held.

A committee to pass on the military ball will meet Thursday night, and further announcements will be made.

Chico State Next Opponent for Pack In Conference Tilt

Wolves to Play First Conference Basketball Game Here on January 20

Chico Team Is Same One That Threatened Nevada Title Last Season

With the prospect of two weeks' rest in which to prepare for battle, the University of Nevada Wolf Pack hoopsters went into extensive training this week under the direction of Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie for their first conference games to be played January 20 and 21 here against the Chico State Teachers.

Recovering from an attack of influenza which handicapped them in their tour of California, in which they won two games and lost four, the Pack started practice last Tuesday. The Pack won from the San Francisco Olympic Club and the Moffat Packers and lost to U. C. L. A., U. C. at Berkeley and the United Athletic Club on the tour.

Chico Experienced
The outfit of veterans that will make the trip here to meet the Nevadans in their first conference game in defense of the Far Western Conference title, are the same men that gave Coach Martie's Wolves their only conference defeat last season.

Since both teams are composed of wary veterans with plenty of basketball experience, the battle should be closely fought and an interesting one for the spectators. The Broncos are reported to be showing plenty of fire in early season practice and may seriously threaten the Nevadans' title.

Illness Gone
However, the Wolf Pack is completely recovered from the illness that threatened to mar its season record and is expected to chalk up a victory. This year, as in past seasons, the Nevadans have shown themselves hard to beat on their home court.

The Pack should be considerably wiser after their battering experiences in California and local fans believe that this was all that was needed to round them into a perfectly functioning basketball unit.

The first string combination of Carroll and Curran, guards; Gould, center, and Hill and Bledsoe, forwards, is a cagy quintet that compares well with the best the Pacific coast has to offer.

Plenty of reserves in Guffrey, Hackett, Bankoffler and Holt, guards; Stowell and Phillips, centers; Lee, Leighton, Callahan and Flournoy, forwards, are available and Martie will probably use most of them against the Broncos.

Lincoln Hall Has Only Few Residents

With only fifty-six students residing in Lincoln Hall this semester, a new low mark has been set, although there is a possibility of new students entering the hall before registration closes.

There are only four new residents of Lincoln Hall this semester. These are: J. D. Layman, Ben Sheahan, McNeely and Mackedon. Fourteen men failed to return, of which number two graduated last semester. These are: Lucas Penido and Ed Dyer. Dan Pimentel, Earl Stevenson, George Mann, Martin Evansen and Herman Freudenburg have moved to other residences in Reno.

Leonard Macy was unable to resume his studies at the university. Chester Smith has transferred to U. C. L. A., while Walter Fancher, Ed Uren and Frank Quilici have moved to the Lambda Chi house. Joe Kelley is now living in the A. T. O. house.

In spite of the small number of residences, as compared to other years, the Lincoln Hall men still expect to uphold their progressive organization, and function as well as possible under the present economic conditions.

Nevada Students Make Honor Roll For Fall Semester

Fifty-one Students Make High Record at University for Semester

Women Lead Men in Scholarship Ranking; William Johnstone Leads

Fifty-one students were given recognition on last semester's honor roll, as released by President Walter E. Clark. Leading the list was William J. Johnstone of Reno, who, as a sophomore student in the school of civil engineering, compiled an average of 1.03 for 13 hours' work. Miss Ina Johnson and Alvin Jacobs, both of Reno, tied for second place in attaining averages of 1.05 for 18 hours.

As usual, the fairer sex led the sturdy men by attaining a mean average of 2.3137, while the men rang up a score of 2.6618. The average for the student body was 2.5117.

Manzanita hall led the dormitories by chalking up an average of 2.4901. Close behind the Manzies was Artemisia hall with 2.6993, and Lincoln hall with an average of 2.5723.

Delta Delta Delta stepped out to win sorority honors by turning in an average of 2.0993, while Sigma Nu led the fraternities with an average of 2.4561. Final tabulations placed the following students at the head of the scholastic standing:

DRASTIC MEASURES

The first issue of the Sagebrush for the spring semester has been cut from a regular seven-column weekly to a six-column publication, a reduction of more than one-fifth in size.

This temporary reduction had to be undertaken by the editor and business manager in order to be sure of publishing a representative paper this week. The advertising revenue of the Sagebrush has dropped to less than one-third of that of normal times and as a result the Sagebrush is in dire financial straits.

It is hoped that this advertising volume may be increased by concentrated efforts of the business staff and with any noticeable increase in revenue the Sagebrush will immediately return to full newspaper size.

With the cooperation of the downtown merchants and business men and added economies in the printing and publishing of the paper, Nevada is almost assured of being represented in collegiate circles with the same high class weekly that has been known for the last ten years as one of the "nine leading college newspapers" in western United States.

Nevada is not the first college whose publications have suffered as a result of the financial crisis, but it is more noticeable here because of the present banking situation, which has caused several hundred dollars of Sagebrush accounts to be tied up until the opening of the banks. Many college papers throughout the country have already been cut to bi-monthly publications and are losing money even with such drastic measures being taken by their managers and editors.

RECOGNITION FOR NEVADA

Returning from an extensive barnstorming tour of the California coast, Nevada's hoopsters have chalked up another record of recognition. Undaunted by an epidemic of influenza, a siege of injuries and the strain of traveling, the Nevada quintet completed a hard schedule with the pick of Pacific coast teams in a manner that calls for high commendation.

In six games played, "Doc" Martie's men turned in brilliant performances. Two wins and four defeats in such fast company is nothing short of remarkable for an institution the size of Nevada.

U. C. L. A., runner-up in last season's Pacific Coast Conference, twice took the measure of the Wolf Pack. Although outclassed and crippled by illness, the Nevadans fought stubbornly. Los Angeles newspapers were highly favorable in their criticisms of the Pack. Coming north, the Wolves dropped a closely contested game to the highly touted University of California quintet. Nevada's men battled the champion Golden Bears on even terms throughout, taking the lead on several occasions. Again the sport writers were keen in their praise for the fighting Wolf Pack.

After downing the San Francisco Olympic Club, Martie's bucket men held the bay district's foremost team, United Athletic Club, to a margin of 6 points. Once more the sport sheets paid tribute to Nevada. In a fitting climax to a strenuous trip, the Nevadans trounced the Moffat Packers and left San Francisco in a blaze of glory.

Financially speaking, this trip was not successful for the Associated Students, but it must be conceded that no greater advertisement for the institution could have been conducted. The good will created by the barnstorming Wolves, the contacts made both by the individual players and the aggregation as a whole and, finally, the favorable comment given the Nevada team by city dailies throughout the coast will in the long run be of greater advantage to the university than would the proceeds of larger gates.

Sincere commendation is due those individuals who have reaped recognition for Nevada and in particular to Coach "Doc" Martie for having guided so worthy an aggregation in the fitting manner he has. Nevada is proud of the record it has been afforded through the efforts of a willing squad and an earnest coach.—E. M.

Sorority Women Return to Campus

Four Houses Open for Spring Semester With Active Members Present

The four chapter houses on sorority row are open and the sisters are all making ready for the rushing season which will officially start next week. Most of the girls have returned to their respective houses with New Year resolutions to get along with the next house as they never have before.

At the Delta Delta Delta house you will find the same girls that were there last semester, namely, Geraldine Harbert, Carolyn Hunt, Ruth Brown, Geraldine Bingaman, Helen Malloy, Nadine Fischer, Anne O'Neill and Elva Neddennrip. Mrs. Florence Kirchen is the house mother.

With Donna Anderson, Mary McCullough and Beatrice Bollschweiller gone from the Theta house, it won't be the same, but Violet Rebaleati and Clara Willison have moved in with Pat McCullough, Katherine Slavin, Frances Smith, Lena Perri and Theresa Jaregui to make a full house. Mrs. Phelps has resumed her duties as house mother.

The Gamma Phi Beta house has the largest number of boarders, and they also have a new house mother, who is Mrs. Mildred Wells of Reno. Fern Wittwer and Lorretta Miller, alumnae, are staying there, as are Virginia Gar-side, Marguerite Miller, Hazel Davis, Mildred Basta, Caryl Carmen and Esther Ronzone.

Mrs. Grace Hershey, Pi Beta Phi house mother, arrived during the middle of the week. As a result Pi Phi's house opened and there are three alumnae and three active members living there. The actives are Helen Petersen, Helen Olmstead and Marjorie Cannon. The alums are Margaret Ernst, Maureen Strohmmer and Alice Le Mare.

Mrs. Lois Albright of Beta Sigma Omicron, kept open house for the Beta Sigs during Christmas vacation. She was the inspiration for many luncheons and parties, and was the weekend guest of Marjorie Fay of Truckee. Mildred Goble, Eva Edwards and Dorothy and Charlotte Pope have returned to the house to reside.

Registration Shows No Marked Decrease

With the completion of the first week of registration, the University of Nevada student body is expected to be approximately the same in size as that of last year, with 852 cards taken out yesterday and 782 completed enrollments, it was announced today by President Walter E. Clark.

A drop in the registration figures was anticipated by university officials due to the banks closing and the general financial depression. To date, however, the figures slightly exceed those of last year.

There are now 428 men enrolled and 354 women. The enrollment by classes is: Freshmen, 232; sophomores, 184; juniors, 185; seniors, 101; graduate, 45; unclassified, 20; specials, 15.

Speaking of get together dances—it's a wonder that immortal service fraternity, Blue Key, wouldn't dust off the seats when they hire a hay loft for their jigs.

Winter Sports May Be Included in P.E.

With Nevada experiencing the coldest weather in a decade, the University of Nevada athletics department has decided to include ice hockey and skiing in its program for the coming semester if present weather conditions continue.

The announcement was made today by J. E. Martie, head of the physical education department. He stated that hockey may be organized as an intramural sport and that the practice of giving physical education department credit for skiing, which started last year, would probably be continued if enough student interest in the sport was shown.

'Brush' Equipment Gets Repair Work

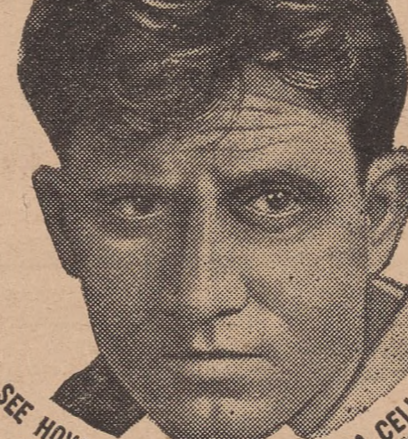

After a hard three months of pounding by cub tryees, full-fledged reporters and editors, all the typewriters in the Sagebrush office have been completely reconditioned and overhauled. One or two ailing typewriters in the journalism news rooms were also diagnosed and cured by the typewriter doctor.

Among other improvements which took place this week in the Brush office was the installation of two new windows for broken ones.

The "chicken wire" proposition, long discussed by Editor Ken Johnson as an office improvement, was left out of the program.

Student Marriages During Vacation Period Announced

Two Nevada student marriages took place over the Christmas holidays. Miss Clara Nevada Beemer, sophomore student, and Arthur J. Whitney, formerly of Asheville, N. C., were married, while Miss Merrie Kathryn Jamerson became the bride of Milan Jeffers, sophomore student at the University of Nevada.

Miss Clara Beemer is a member of Chi chapter of the Alpha Delta Theta sorority and Martha chapter, O. E. S. She has been prominent in student activities, and is a talented violinist and pianist. She is also a talented dramatic reader.

Mr. Jeffers is connected with the General Loan Company offices here in Reno and was also prominent in student activities.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Members of Campus Players, University of Nevada dramatic society, will meet Wednesday of next week to discuss plans for this semester's projected dramatic vehicles and presentations.

W. A. A. volleyball practices will start Tuesday afternoon at 3:45. The practice will be held Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at 3:45 under the management of Ruby Bliss. This practice will be a preparation for the interclass and intramural games that will be held later in the semester. The sport also counts towards W. A. A. membership.

6 o'clock means nothing to telephone service!

Bell System service must go on all the time. Day and night, Sundays and holidays, it must handle with speed and accuracy not only the usual traffic but also the unexpected rush of calls.

To meet this obligation, Bell System men tackle problems of many kinds. At Bell Telephone Laboratories, scientists develop new kinds of apparatus. At Western Electric, engineers find ways to make telephones, switchboards and cable more and more reliable. In the telephone companies, traffic engineers devise improved operating methods that make service faster, more accurate, more dependable.

Result: at noon or in the dead of night, the public reaches confidently for the telephone, knowing that Bell System service never stops.

Pan-Hellenic Announces Its Rushing Plans

Sororities Will Start Rushing Monday With Parties

Dates for the rushing parties, which will start Monday at 4 o'clock, were drawn by representatives of the several sororities at the Pan-Hellenic meeting held Tuesday.

The council ruled that rushing season should last from Monday at 4 until Saturday at 8 o'clock. Silence will start directly after the last party, and will be kept until 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The bids will go in before 9 o'clock Saturday night, and bid day will be Monday morning. The prospective rushes will be expected to go to the lawyers between 9 and 1 o'clock Monday.

According to the new ruling each house is allowed only two dates each for its parties. The Alpha Delta Thetas will entertain Monday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. On Tuesday from 4 until 6 the Tri Deltas will give their first party, and the Beta Sigma Omicrons will be hostesses from 6 to 8 on that same date.

Wednesday at 4 the Kappa Alpha Thetas will have their guests at their house, and at 6 the Pi Beta Phi house will be the scene of a rushing party. The Gamma Phi Betas will entertain from 4 until 6 on Thursday, and the Alpha Delta Thetas from 6 until 8. On Friday at 4 the Gamma Phis will have their second party, and the Beta Sigma Omicrons will again be hostesses at 6 o'clock.

Saturday, being the last day, there will be three parties. At 2 the Phi Phis will hold their last party, at 4 the Thetas and at 6 the Tri Deltas.

Each sorority will choose its own date for the preference dinner.

GRIFFIN SAVES 'LAME DUCK' FROM ICY DEATH

One lone duck surrounded by admirers spent a pampered afternoon recently as the guest of Robert Griffin, English instructor, who, with the aid of one of his students, rescued the bird from the icy Orr ditch and put it under a radiator in his room to thaw out.

The duck, which Griffin has concluded is a helldiver, was found by him struggling weakly in the half-thawed ditch at the foot of the campus, from which he extricated it.

After its recovery from "cold and exposure" it visited several rooms in the English hall, under the proud eyes of its doting "foster father."

Now that he has the helldiver Griffin confesses he does not know what to do with it. Reams of advice have been given him on the care of ducks, but he says he "supposes he will take it home, feed it and see if it will fly away."

When last seen the duck was waddling about, finding its "sea-legs" and pecking with a long sharp bill at a pencil with which his rescuer was stroking him.

LIGHTS FIXED

The library is in readiness for the rush of students this semester by having installed new lights and several ventilators. The lights have been repainted to give the best possible reflection and have been improved in many respects.

Miss Thea Thompson says that under these new conditions studying should be a greater pleasure than before.

Conference Coach Makes Odd Error

Members of the all-opponents' team selected by Coach Stan Borleske of Fresno State college are not so sure that there is much honor in being given a place on his mythical team, since it was disclosed that he had picked Charley Sigstrom as the best center that the Teachers had played against in the 1932 season.

There is no doubt that Sigstrom was a good center, but the fact remains that the player in question graduated from the College of Paic at the end of last semester.

It is said that when Sigstrom at his home in Sonora learned of his selection he was overwhelmed with the honor as he had not been in school since last June.

"DANCE OUT THE ANSWER!"

Hamilton College, All of a-Twitter, Goes Into a Huddle to Talk Over Surprising New Novel

The Hamilton college campus is all a-twitter. Faculty members have adopted the huddle system of conference and are seen talking it over in doorways, halls and quiet corners. Students have abandoned books, jig saw puzzles and the sporting pages for a new game: "How many characters at Hamilton can you identify in that somewhat surprising book called 'Dance Out the Answer?'"

It made its appearance recently as the work of one David McCloud. This is taken to be a pen name since Who's Who and other biographical references give no clue to his identity. In Clinton and on the hill, however, it is said that he seems to have more than passing knowledge of college gossip. In fact, some 15 characters have been at least tentatively identified, as members of the faculty or others connected with the college. Utica also comes in for its share of attention from the anonymous writer.

The tone and method of the book are of such unusual nature that the references can hardly be called complimentary. Some of those included are now understood to be quite indignant about the publication. Others treat it with ridicule or contempt. None denies that it has made a sensation.

Yesterday, it was reported that a semi-official investigation had been started to ascertain, if possible, who wrote the book, who he acquired his information, what its purpose may be and possibly what recourse may be open to those who have acquired unwelcome prominence—or notoriety—through its pages.

Anyhow, it has made a lot of talk.

Faculty Spend Vacation Quietly

Vacations this Christmas were spent quiet by the majority of the university faculty members.

Among the faculty members who enjoyed a vacation free from school routine were Margaret E. Mack, dean of women. She spent the Christmas holidays in Los Angeles visiting with her mother and brothers.

Miss Delpha Wood, matron of Manzanita Hall, journeyed to Idaho, where she visited relatives and friends.

Professor Paul Harwood of the English department was on duty as master of Lincoln Hall dormitory.

Miss Sissa did not leave Reno, as she was busy making out and sending home the semester grades.

Dean R. C. Thompson did not go away during Christmas vacation but stayed in Reno and worked with the idea of having a better course in philosophy I next semester. However, Prof. Thompson, who is president of the Far Western Conference, went to San Francisco, where he presided for last year's meeting.

Colonel R. M. Brambilla, head of the military department, remained here over the holidays to work out a military program for this semester.

Professor Fredrick Wilson of the agricultural college concentrated on keeping the furnace in his home going

Illumination Class To Repair Fixtures

The repaired lighting fixture which was hung in the main reading room of the library last semester has proved successful and the remainder of the lights have been similarly repaired during the Christmas holidays.

Prof. Stanley G. Palmer's class in illumination has been experimenting for some time with the fixtures and has finally gained twice the light given formerly by dropping the globe twice as far from the reflector and painting the latter with a white enamel.

The experimental fixture, which is now in the library, is not in its finished form, but when the remainder of the lights are repaired all of them will be so finished as not to detract from their usual appearance.

Secret Marriage Announced By University Co-Ed

Miss Katherine Nason of Sparks, sophomore student at the University of Nevada, and Gilbert Mathews '32, of Reno, were married secretly at Virginia City September 28, 1932.

Miss Nason is a graduate of the Sparks high school, at which she was very active in student affairs and was for three years a member of the girls' basketball team. She is now affiliated with the Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the University of Nevada.

Gilbert Mathews graduated from the Reno high school and was graduated from the university last year. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Frosh Basketball Turnout Shows Good Prospects

With one of the largest turnouts in recent years, Coach Chet Scranton is now drilling the Frosh basketball squad for a scrimmage with Doc Martie's varsity squad on December 19. Over thirty men have reported to Scranton for preliminary practice. Prospects for a winning team are bright because the majority of the men out are experienced and well drilled in the fundamentals of good ball. During the past week Scranton has been stressing offensive and defensive work, attempting to round his men into shape before the scrimmage so that he will be able to give the varsity a good workout. Practice for this semester will close on the nineteenth, but will begin again early next semester. At present Scranton is trying to get a good idea on prospects for the team and at the same time give the men more experience.

Big Team Looms

Vernon Tapogna, John Benson, Bert Cummings, George Hadlin and Vernon Eisenman are showing up pretty good in practice and will afford some tough competition for the teams the Frosh will meet this season.

Other men out for the squad who are showing potentialities are John Noyes, Jack Cameron, George Hickey, Joe Kelly, William Cockrell, Dan Chiatovich and Tom Prumty. Scranton has not yet chosen his team, but from all appearances he will be able to put one of the speediest teams of this section on the floor. The following men are now out for practice: Doc Paradis, Mark Yorl, Walter Bowrin, Francis Wise, Pete Jensen, Bill Zmack, Dorrance Radcliffe, John Best, Tom Prumty, Charles Leavitt, Frank Millgren, John Noyes, Bert Cummings, George Hickey, Irvin Wanke, William Cockrell, Frank Quillet, Jack Cameron, Dan Chiatovich, John Benson, Jack Blum, Vernon Tapogna, Doyle Wakeling, Vernon Eisenman, Joe Kelly, Jack Hughes, Don Fanning, Schultz and George Hadlin.

Constitution of Block 'N' Revised

With the former constitution of the Block N society proving unsatisfactory, a revision of the constitution has been made by President Gail Parsons and Roy Bankofer.

The revised constitution clearly outlines the duties of the officers, which were merely implied by the former one. These duties now definitely include the handling of the interscholastic track meet, which is held in the spring, and

Nevada Officials Attend Conference Meeting on Coast

Four representatives of the University of Nevada will attend a meeting of the officials and managers of the Far Western Conference at San Francisco today and tomorrow to arrange a schedule for the 1933 football season.

R. C. Thompson, dean of men, will preside as president of the Far Western Conference faculty association. The meet begins at 2 p. m. today.

J. E. Martie, head of the physical education department; Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, and C. L. "Brick" Mitchell, grid coach, are the other Nevada representatives to the meet.

Volleyball to Be on Sports Program

Volleyball is the next sport to be offered on the program of the Women's Athletic Association for the spring semester. Volleyball competes with basketball for the largest turnout of coeds. The season will last about six weeks, with interclass and intramural competition. Practices will begin the second week of the school term on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Hiking, under the management of Charlotte Pope, is one of the major spring sports. Mayberry's, Alum and Hunter creeks, Price's lake, and points in the vicinity of the W. A. A. lodge are the favorite destinations of the hikers as soon as the weather becomes warmer. Outdoor cooking and campcraft are introduced into the hikes. Announcements will be posted on the bulletin board and in the gymnasium for those wishing to go.

the sponsoring of the state high school coaches' meetings, besides planning and arranging all athletic contests. The office of vice president, which was found necessary but was not included in the old constitution, was formed.

The revised constitution, following its acceptance by the members of Block N, will go into effect immediately.

Fine Arts Group to Sponsor Exhibitions

Organization on the University of Nevada campus of a fine arts group, to be made up of members of the student body, which will undertake the problem of sponsoring fine arts in the form of exhibits, has been formed. Dr. J. E. Church Jr., head of the classics department, will act as the faculty representative.

The threefold purpose of this group is: (1) to sponsor fine art exhibits of the works of great masters, (2) to conduct art lectures twice a month on the campus, which will be delivered by local artists as well as artists from both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, (3) to hold volunteer art craft classes, which is left entirely up to the desires of the individuals.

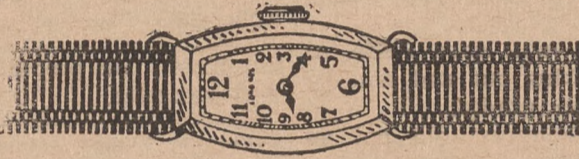

The main idea in mind is to make it possible for the average student to have the advantage of attending exhibits of the popular contemporary and old school artists' work.

Previous to this time there has been no group on the campus which undertook such a task, and it is hoped that a number of students will participate. So far, about fifteen students belong to the club, which will count next semester as an outside activity.

The date committee meeting will be held Tuesday, January 17, at 4 p. m., in room 109, Agricultural building. Each organization is requested to have a representative present.

Salisbury to Coach Reno High School 'B' Basket Team

Roy Salisbury, senior student of the University of Nevada and former member of the university basketball squad, has been appointed assistant to Herbert Foster, Reno high school athletics coach, for the coming basketball season.

Salisbury, who is a former Reno high school athlete, will coach the high school B division team; the basketball team which was organized at the school last year to satisfy the growing desire of the students to compete in the hoop sport.

In taking over the position, Salisbury is succeeding Earle "Goldie" Holmes, former University of Nevada student, who assisted Foster last year. Holmes is now athletic director at Wells high school.

Neil Scott '32 of Pioche and Pat Diskin '32 of Panaca spent the holidays in Reno.

George Lemon, who attended the University of Nevada last year, has enrolled as a junior in the University of Hawaii.

Nevada Rifle Team To Be Chosen Soon

The 1933 University of Nevada rifle team will be picked about the last of January from the results of the firing trials now going on in the barracks, Colonel Robert M. Brambila announced last Tuesday.

Freshman and sophomore marksmen have been shooting for the past two weeks on the rifle range in the armory, trying to win a place on the team.

The members of the team are selected from the students of the basic course of military on their skill with an army rifle. There are from ten to fifteen men on the team.

Colonel Brambila has fifteen postal matches already scheduled with different coast teams.

Y. W. Entertains Children at Party

The social service committee of the Y. W. C. A. entertained a number of Reno children at a Christmas party Friday afternoon, December 23, at the Federated church.

The arrangements for the affair, which is part of the Y. W.'s annual program, were in charge of Camille Cerrita, chairman of the social service committee, and Helen Steinmiller, president of the campus "Y."

To me, they are mild—that is, they don't seem to be strong; and there is certainly no bite, so far as I can tell.
