Student Mass Meeting Set For Thursday

Special A. S. U. N. Meeting Called for Constitution Discussion

Football Awards To Be Given Out by Coach "Brick" Mitchell

Combining a night mass meeting and a victory rally for the basketball team, Associated Students of the University of Nevada will gather at 7 o'clock Thursday at either the Education auditorium or the gymnasium. The first night meeting to be held in years, the main interest of the assembly, outside of the rally, will be centered around the discussion of the proposed new constitution.

Culminating meetings held during the past few weeks in sorority and fraternity houses, the Thursday gathering will take the form of an open discussion.

Basketball Team Present

The basketball team, Coach J. E. Martie and special speakers will take part in the rally to send off the team which is leaving immediately afterwards for a two game series with California Agricultural college at Davis.

The game with the California Aggies is the last one of the Far Western Conference series, and if a double win should result will give the cup to the University of Nevada.

Present Speakers

"Brick" Mitchell, football coach, will present speakers during the rally to football men who won them during the past fall semester. By constitutional amendment, the students voted a new type of sweater on the suggestion of the Block N, honorary athletic organization.

Preceding the discussion meeting, Helen Peterson will be installed as the new A. S. U. N. secretary. She was elected by the executive committee, as no other candidates were nominated by the student body.

Constitutional revision will occupy the second part of the meeting, with a general discussion of the changes by all interested parties. Fraternity and sorority leaders will give their opinions of the proposed changes, which call for abolition of student body offices, the organization of a senate and other measures.

The independent or non-organization factor is also expected to be represented.

The constitution must be voted on by March 3, to put the changes into effect for the annual spring elections. Keith Lee, A. S. U. N. president, announced that any floor discussion will be welcomed at the meeting.

Normal Club Holds Meet to Plan Dance

A meeting of the Normal club was held last Tuesday afternoon in the Education building, and plans for a dance and the taking of a group picture were made.

Gerald Davis, president of the club, appointed a committee to make arrangements for a dance to be held in the near future. The students are trying to secure Artemisia hall and a tentative assessment of 75 cents per person was levied, to cover expenses.

A 30 cent assessment was agreed upon by members of the club, this money to be used in the taking of a group picture for the Artemisia. It is also planned to publish a story telling of the club's history and activities in this year's issue of the yearbook.

The Normal club includes all students at the university enrolled in normal work, and consists of 34 women and 3 men students.

Stagg Will Coach Bengals Next Year

On the sidelines at the Homecoming game between Nevada and the College of Pacific next year there will be a white haired man watching the game with intense interest. The man will not be a mere spectator, but Amos Alonzo Stagg, "the grand old man of football," who will be on hand to see how his Pacific Bengals have reacted and developed under his tuition.

Stagg was recently retired as coach of the famous University of Chicago Maroons on account of the 70 year age limit.

He accepted the position as head football coach at the College of Pacific at Stockton, and will arrive there early in April to begin his duties.

Members Elected To Chi Delta Phi

Members of Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary English society, met Thursday evening to consider new members to be elected to the organization.

According to Marjorie Myles, president, bids will be sent out next week to those women who are majoring or minoring in the department of English, and who have a general scholarship average of 2.0 and the same grade in English courses.

Interfrat Council Discusses Honor Cup

A special meeting of the interfraternity council was held Tuesday at the office of Dean Thompson.

The meeting was called to discuss the requirements of the proposed scholarship cup that Dean Thompson will present to the campus organization that has the highest scholarship record.

The fraternities want all non-fraternity residents of Lincoln hall to be eligible for competition for the cup. A letter will be sent to Dean Thompson asking that this be stipulated as one of the requirements.

Debaters Meet Stanford on War Debt Topic

Debate Called for Tomorrow Afternoon at 3:30 in Auditorium

Nevada's varsity debate team, which is made up of Granville Fletcher and Dudley Nix, will meet the debate team from Stanford university tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the Education building auditorium.

Nevada will have the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the United States should agree to cancel all of the interrelated debts arising out of the World War."

Coach Robert Griffin's men have been working on this subject and will debate Williamette university this afternoon on the same subject.

Both Fletcher and Nix are veteran debaters and are rated as one of the strongest teams to represent Nevada in several seasons.

The Stanford team that will meet them is made up of Wayne Bannister and Ronald Kay. Both of these students are experienced debaters and are familiar with economic subjects on the platform. These two men have both been awarded the Stanford university debate key during the last two years.

Palmer Says Direct Light Bad for Eyes

The picture of the ambitious student poring over his books at his table in the corner with the room in darkness except for the direct glare of a table lamp upon his work may be for concentration and studying, according to Prof. Stanley G. Palmer, but it is very injurious to the eyes.

Professor Palmer, who as head of the electrical engineering department has made an extensive study of modern illumination, stated this week that unless a room has general lighting as well as a light concentrated upon one spot, there is a tendency for eye strain. "It is almost impossible," he said, "to keep the eyes on one spot and not raise them occasionally to rest them. When this is done, and the student looks up from glare to darkness, the muscular effort of the eyes necessary to accustom them to the change is very tiring."

Light Whole Room

It is all right to use a table lamp, according to Professor Palmer, but some kind of light should be used at the same time to illuminate the entire room.

Modern illumination is becoming one of the most important problems of the electrical engineer today, he said. This field of electricity has been sadly neglected in the advance of sciences and invention, but now is coming to the front. The electrical experts are devising different plans of installing lights at various points throughout a room rather than any centralization.

The same theory was applied in the changing of the lights in the University of Nevada library, making possible a stronger light but at the same time making it easy on the eyes by being reflected from the walls and ceiling.

Sororities Abandon Theater Contest

All plans for competitive co-ed entertainment to be offered at the Roxie theater beginning March 7 have been abandoned, according to Graham Kistlingberry, manager of the show house.

Kistlingberry stated that only three sororities had expressed their desire to compete in the show, so it was decided to abandon the project.

It had been intended that each sorority should present a half hour of entertainment in form of skits, songs, dances, et cetera, and that a prize would be given the winning group.

ROY KIPP MARRIED

Roy Kipp, well known university student, was married to Eloise Patterson, a former student of the university, on Valentine's day, February 14. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Brewster Adams.

Helene Per Lee Entered in Contest For World's Queen

The University of Nevada is represented in the worldwide contest for "Queen of the $10,000 Competition," to dedicate the 1933 World's Fair at Chicago with only one co-ed, Helene Per Lee, a prominent sophomore student and member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Miss Per Lee's photograph appeared in the rotogravure section of a San Francisco paper Sunday, February 12, 1933.

To aid the University of Nevada co-eds in entering this feminine charm contest, the Paffrath studio, that takes individual sittings for the Artemisia, will give each co-ed a free sitting.

Former Instructor Has Good Device For Tire Welding

In recent word received by Miss Carolyn M. Beckwith, secretary to President Walter E. Clark, from Arthur Gay '28, it appears that another Nevada engineer has made good in his profession. Gay is engaged in manufacturing a tire welding device of his own invention, known as a "electrical spotter."

He is general manager of the plant at Newark, O., which operates under the name of the Theron Manufacturing company, and owns half interest in the patent titles to his invention. The Theron company plant was constructed with the capital of the Ebers Manufacturing company of Cincinnati, O., and has been producing since August 15 of last year.

Two features of the Gay spotter have made it unique as a welding device. It has a thermostat for measurement of temperature and thereby insuring the preservation of life in the rubber. It is also adjustable and designed to fit any size tire.

Although Arthur Gay has added final touches to give longer life and make for better heating characteristics of his product, the creation took place while he was an instructor of mechanical drawing and descriptive geometry at this university after he had graduated with a B.S. in electrical engineering.

He has asked Miss Beckwith to enter his subscription to the U. of N. Sagebrush and also wanted an alumni directory.

Dramatic Honorary Initiates Members

Seven new members were initiated into Campus Players, dramatic organization, at a meeting held at the Tri Deit house Wednesday night. They were Marjorie Cannon, Doris Shaver, Ernest Mack, Helene Per Lee, Ruth Bixby, Don Butler and William C. Miller, dramatic coach.

After the initiation ceremony a business meeting was held at which plans for putting on plays over the radio were perfected. Geraldine Harbert was put in charge of the first presentation, tryouts for which will be held very soon.

The organization voted its complete support to Mr. Miller in putting on the Shakespearean play which is now under way.

Officers for the coming term were nominated and election will be held in about two weeks.

Nevada Musicians To Give Concert

The University Community orchestra will assist the Twentieth Century Choral club at a concert to be given Sunday afternoon, February 19, at 3 o'clock. The concert is free and open to the public.

The following Friday, February 24, the men's and women's glee clubs and the orchestra will give their scheduled concert at the Gardnerville theater. This is under the auspices of the Consolidated Schools of Gardnerville.

Sunday afternoon, February 26, the University band will play for the Reno Auto show, to be held at the Scott Motors showroom at 3 p. m. In the evening at 8 the men and women's glee clubs will entertain for the show. Incidental solo numbers will also be featured.

Student's Article Printed in Trident

Myra Sauer has received word that a prose work of hers, entitled "Character Sketches of a Forgotten City," will appear in the March issue of the Trident, a quarterly magazine published by the national organization of Delta Delta Delta.

For her sketches Miss Sauer will receive an honorarium.

Millicent Johnson, senior student, received honorable mention for a poem called "Rain."

Delta Delta Delta is the only undergraduate society which offers an outlet for the literary talent of its members.

St. Mary's Squad Will Appear Here Against Wolf Pack

Gaels Arrive to Battle Pack in Last Home Basket Contest

Exciting Game in Prospect As Teams Clash in Annual Tilt

Nevada fans will be served with their last dish of varsity basketball on the college court tonight and tomorrow night when the University of Nevada's giant Wolves tackle Vince McNally's St. Mary's hoopers in their final home contest of the 1933 season.

Ten Moraga Gallopers arrived here with Coach McNally this morning and started getting the kinks out of their muscles before grappling with the Wolves in the first game of their annual series here tonight. The game is slated to begin at 7:45.

Ten Men

The men who made the trip here for the annual affray include: Captain Albert Dupper, guard; LeRoy Lazzari, center; Elwood Land, guard; James O'Donnell, forward; Bill Meade, forward; Dominic Mora, forward; Fred Cavaglia, forward; Dick Johnson, guard; Harold Johnson, guard, and Wayne Pendleton, guard.

McNally's squad, despite an indifferent season, packs plenty of strength and may give the Wolves their hardest contest of the year. However, the Nevadans have been defeated only once on their home court and have proved hard to master on any court.

Lineups

The starting lineup for the Moraga men will probably include Meade and O'Donnell at forwards, Lazzari in the mid-court circle and Johnson and Lang at guard. Pendleton may start instead of Johnson at one of the safety positions.

Undaunted by a setback at Pacific last week, Coach "Doc" Martie's Packers will go on the court tonight with the thought of repeating their double victory of last season over the Gallopers. The Nevada opening lineup will probably include Blecko and Giffrey, forwards; Gould, center; Carroll and Curran, guards.

Only a fair season has rewarded the efforts of the St. Mary's squad this year and their schedule has been filled with as many ups and downs as a scenic railway. The big moments of their season to date include victories over Pacific, Santa Clara and Davis-Elkins.

The big defeats suffered by the Moraga ball tossers include losses to University of California, U. S. C., San Francisco university and Santa Clara. They lost to the Broncos in the San Francisco Civic auditorium last Saturday, 34 to 30.

The outstanding player on the St. Mary's team is little Bill Meade, snappy little forward who has consistently led the Gaels in chalking up points this season. In the game against the Broncos last Saturday he chalked up 11 of the 15 points which the Gaels had on the scoreboard at half time and ended the game with a personal tally of 15 points.

Sigma Phi Sigma Win Interfraternity Handball Tourney

Tom Cashill and Bud Beasley, playing for Sigma Phi Sigma, captured the interfraternity handball doubles trophy Tuesday by defeating Leonard Voorhis and Roland Boyden of Lambda Chi Alpha in two straight games by scores of 21-12 and 21-17.

The Sigma Phi Sigma team won the first bracket to remain at the top in the first week of play. Lambda Chi Alpha went down to the lower bracket as the result of its first defeat by the Sigma Phi team, but it easily defeated all of the teams in the lower bracket and came back to take another crack at the trophy, and met defeat again. This marks the second consecutive year in which Sigma Phi Sigma has won the handball doubles cup.

Singles in the handball tourney began Thursday when S. A. E. played A. T. O. and Sigma Phi Sigma met the Independents.

Students to Hear Hicks on Japan

At the request of the committee on assemblies and lectures, Doctor Chas. R. Hicks, professor of history, will give an illustrated lecture on Japan during the first part of March.

The committee has sent to the Japan Tourist bureau for one hundred colored slides, and will probably also secure a short film of the country which Doctor Hicks will use in his lecture.

After graduating from Clark university Hicks went to Japan, where he became an instructor in the first commercial school in Kyoto. He was there from 1916 to 1918 and experienced a great deal of Japanese life while teaching.

Official Rifle Team Chosen for Future University Matches

Final selections of the University of Nevada rifle team were made last week by Lieutenant Herbert B. Wilcox. This team will be the official rifle team of the university and will shoot against the universities and colleges every week until March 4.

Selections for the team were: Robert Anderson, team manager; Ned Morehouse, Bela Harcos, Walter Hunting, Paul Fontana, Paul Walker, Robert Palmer, William Kottke Daniel Harvey Nell Plath, Doyle Wakeling, Also Gibson, Arthur Chloupek, George Mann and Donald Odel.

Team Now Shooting

The team is now shooting in the last two stages of the Corps Area matches. This week they will shoot against Michigan State college, Alabama Polytechnic institute and Alaska college at College, Alaska.

Last week the team met the University of Wyoming and the University of Missouri. The results will be announced next week.

Nevada - Fresno Controversy To Be Settled in May

That the controversy between Nevada and Fresno State college over the eligibility of Charles Secrist, Fresno's lanky center, will probably not be settled until May, when the Far Western conference meets on the coast, was disclosed today by one of Nevada's conference representatives.

"There are two ways that the protest may be settled; one by the confirmation of the protest by the Fresno faculty, the other by a decision handed down by the conference members during their meeting," said Dean R. C. Thompson, one of the conference members.

As yet there has been no reply to the protest sent to Fresno by Coach "Doc" Martie soon after the basketball game played here. A copy of the protest was also sent to the secretary of the Far Western conference.

It is expected that other schools in this conference will also file protests against the eligibility of Fresno players, Dean Thompson said.

If the protest is allowed, Nevada will be tied with the College of Pacific basketball leadership in the Far Western conference.

Religious Survey Completed Soon

Whether University students are religious and, if so, to what extent, is now being determined by a survey of the campus.

Questionnaires have been issued to ascertain whether or not the students are atheists, whether politics, sex, and economic problems are discussed more or less often than is religion, or if motion pictures have affected religious belief. Similar surveys are being made in fourteen other colleges.

The study on the campus is conducted under the direction of a committee composed of Dean Maxwell Adams, who is chairman; Dean R. C. Thompson, Dean Margaret Mack, Prof. A. E. Hill and Professor Francis Murgotten.

Similar to the student questionnaires are those being issued to the members of the faculty who teach subjects relating to religion in an effort to determine the extent of religious material being taught in the university, as well as the interest in, or opposition to, religious instruction at Nevada. Other quizzes will be answered by leaders in student religious and social organizations.

The survey is the result of the visit to the university of Dr. Philip A. Parsons, dean of the school of applied social science and head of the department of sociology at the University of Oregon, who came under the auspices of the North American Board for the Study of Religion in Higher Education.

Movies Shown by Crucible Club

"Heirlooms" of Tomorrow," a motion picture, was shown Thursday evening by the Crucible club in the Mackay school of mines.

This movie depicted the manufacture of silver services and certain phases of the metallurgy and mining of silver.

The films were obtained through the courtesy of the visual education department of the United States Bureau of Mines.

ENGINEER GOES EAST

James G. Parmalee, on his way east to attend an annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, of which he is the San Francisco section's secretary, stopped off to visit the Mackay school of mines as a guest of Prof. J. A. Carpenter.

Military Society Holds Initiation

Eight students were initiated into the University of Nevada chapter of Scabbard and Blade, student cadet officers' fraternity, at a meeting held last night.

The new men initiated were Samuel Arentz Jr., Paul Fontana, Daniel Harvey, Bela Harcos, Bruce Moore, Ned Morehouse, Robert Palmer Nell Plath and Eugene Salet.

According to Wayne Van Voorhis, president and captain of the military fraternity, there will be no election of officers until the latter part of April when the date for the election will be disclosed.

Boyle to Honor Washington in Address Friday

Entire Career of First 'Father' Will Be Covered by Local Attorney

"Washington the Man" will be the title of an address to be given the students of the University of Nevada by William S. Boyle, Reno attorney, next Friday, February 24. Mr. Boyle will be introduced by Prof. C. C. Smith of the university and will give his address in the Education building at 11:25 a. m.

Boyle, the former chairman of the state Democratic central committee, stated that his talk will touch briefly on the entire career of the great patriot, from birth to death. He will stress the point that the early history of the United States was essentially a history of Washington.

Declaring that Washington is deserving of the highest national honor, Boyle will go on to show the tremendous influence the first Father exercises, to this day, on the national constitution.

"This subject," Boyle said, "is especially familiar to almost any attorney, as the American Bar association insists on prospective lawyers studying Washington's life, systems of government and ideals."

The speaker will talk for approximately 30 minutes.

Volleyball Series Won by Seniors

The senior volleyball team won the W. A. A. interclass volleyball tournament last weekend.

The tournament was in the form of a round robin playoff, and, in winning, the seniors defeated all other class teams twice.

The members of the winning team are Ida Rogers, captain, Helen Petersen, Helen Olmstead, Eva Edwards, Mary Trudelle and Della Renfro.

Intramural play started this week. This tournament also will be in the form of a round robin, and the contest will last for about two weeks.

The six organizations that have entered teams are Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Delta Delta, Beta Sigma Omicron and the Independents.

'Sweet Sex' Winners At Contest Picked

When it comes to administering to the campus sweet tooth, Agnes Gardiner, Esther Ronzone, Cora Hendrickson, Clara Beemer Whitney, Della Renfro, Nevada Solari, Helen Lewis and Opal Harvey take the proverbial cake.

The girls demonstrated their superior sweetness in a candy selling contest which was held among members of the "sweet sex" selling confectionery at the Y. W. C. A. candy booth. Competition proved keen and Denise Denson and Marjorie Myles, who head the candy committee, announced that the near-winners can be consoled by the fact that this semester they will have another opportunity to prove their ability.

The prizes were powder jars, with which the winners immediately proceeded to make themselves "sweeter."

Chi Delta Phi Plans For Scandal Show

Chi Delta Phi has begun to make plans for their annual Scandal Show which will take place in the auditorium on March 24, the Friday before Mackay Day.

Katherine Hansen and Blythe Bulmer are writing the play to be given. As yet no name has been given to the production.

Chi Delta Phi has had complete jurisdiction over all scandal for their yearly show until last year. At this time Y. W. C. A. introduced a Scandal show of their own. Since then the English society has been working hard to make their show of the best quality to compete with that given by the Y. W. C. A.

Nevada 'Barbs' Plan Meeting Monday at 4:30

Independent A. S. U. N. and Holders Ask for Equal Rights

Leaders Declare Tat More Representatives Are Needed

A meeting of all Independent men and women will be held Monday afternoon at 4:30 in the Student Union building for the purpose of discussing the new constitutional changes.

These amendments give the Independents four representatives in the proposed senate, while sororities and fraternities are represented in a proportion of one to every 40 members.

Seven enthusiastic Independents met with members of the constitutional revision committee last Monday afternoon to discuss the changes. Opposition to the apportionment of senate representation was answered by Howard Umber, spokesman for the committee, who said, "We called a meeting of the Independents on the Nevada campus. Seven students are here, showing that the committee overestimated the number of Independent A. S. U. N. card holders who would be interested in gaining any voice in the student government."

At the meeting members of the committee explained the purpose of the new constitution, giving logical reasons why the new plan will better the condition of politics at Nevada, and why the non-sorority and fraternity students on the hill will be greatly benefited by it.

The meeting Monday will be the first meeting of what is hoped will be a strong organization of Independent men and women. Such organizations are a prominent part of campus life at other universities, and with the large number of Independents at Nevada, the group will become an influence for the betterment of campus activities.

"The plan for organization must be supported by every independent student on the hill, or it cannot be a success. The new government will be the first step towards equal representation for this group, and unless the support of all is given will undoubtedly be voted down."

"It is hoped that this meeting will be a success, and that it will prove to be the beginning of a strong power for the boosting of the new governmental changes."

A second meeting will be held Monday, February 27, with the constitutional revision committee, who have stated that they are only too glad to help the Independents gain their demands if proof is given them that this formerly inactive body of students is willing to help and take an active part in the student activities of the University of Nevada.

Ed Building Gets Needed Plastering

In the program of remodeling and reconstruction being carried on through the campus by workers of the state's emergency relief committee, under the direction of Joe Lynch, superintendent of grounds, work will next be done in the Education building.

Plastering is being done in several rooms of this building, but, according to Lynch, it is feared that work will have to be suspended for some time until more funds are sent to the state's emergency relief for workmen's wages.

Work on the Agricultural building was completed last Wednesday. This work included refinishing the animal husbandry lecture room, plastering the first and second floor hallways, ceilings, and a small amount of roof repairing and re-laying of bricks.

Independents Win In Rifle Contest

The intramural rifle tournament which has been going on since the first of the semester ended last Thursday, with the Independents taking first place. The Kappa Alpha Theta sorority won second place and the Delta Delta Delta third. Their respective scores were 4886, 4609 and 4459.

Of the individual scores, Ellen Eckman was high with 1495, Myra Sauer second with 1424 and Dorothy Gordon third with 1418.

The contesting teams in the matches were Manzanita Hall Association, Independents, Kappa Alpha Theta, Tri Delta, Pi Beta Phi and Beta Sigma Omicron.

TREVITT'S RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trevitt, former university students, have returned to Reno. Trevitt has been working for several months as an assistant in the botany department of the University of Illinois. Mrs. Trevitt was formerly Dorothy Rose and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

SUPPORT THE CHANGES

Thursday night the members of the A.S.U.N. will have the opportunity to discuss the proposed changes in the present student body constitution in a special student body meeting which will be held in the Education building.

This meeting will give everyone an opportunity to air their views on the new form of government and the proposed changes made in regard to the Desert Wolf and Artemisia which will result in balancing the student activities' budget.

Every student who is a member of the associated students should be at this meeting and all free minded individuals should support these changes as proposed by the constitution revision committee in their entirety.

This new form of government that was presented two weeks ago is so inter-related that any changes from the original form would do away with its effectiveness.

The proposal to abandon the publication of the Desert Wolf was made not because of any personal grievances but because the A.S.U.N. treasury could not stand the drain of $900 a year. This money is needed to carry out the minor activities program of the student body and the abolishment of the Wolf appears to be the only solution to the problem of balancing the treasury.

With these thoughts in mind then all students should be at this meeting Thursday and voice their direct sentiments and offer any solution to the perplexing problems that are now faced by Nevada.

INDEPENDENTS MUST ACT

The proposed constitution changes will affect the independent students on the campus greatly in one provision, that of representation in the student senate. This representation will give the independents four votes out of nineteen, two of which will be the Lincoln hall and Manzanita hall association votes.

Many independents are not satisfied with this allotment because, while they represent practically half the student body, they receive only about a third of the votes of the senate. To discuss this question a mass meeting of the independent students of the University of Nevada will be called for Monday afternoon, the exact time and place of which is announced elsewhere in this issue of the Sagebrush.

So important is it that all independent students attend this meeting that unless a representative number of students show up any attempt upon the part of independents to gain more equal representation will fail.

The independents on the Nevada campus have too long been indifferent to all their opportunities to gain recognition, saying merely "it can't be done." If sufficient students turn out for the meeting Monday it will be done. The independent students, as fraternity men freely admit, hold the balance of power on the campus—if they would only see and use it.

It is therefore of the utmost importance to all independent students to show that they are not willing to let their opportunities slide.

Come to the meeting Monday and show that you are an independent, not an indifferent.—J. Mc.

LAST GAME

The two game series with St. Mary's being played tonight and tomorrow night mark the final appearance of the Pack on the home court. Although there remains the conference series with Cal Aggies, to be played next weekend, these games will be played away from home.

To date the spirit and support afforded this season's team have been anything but commendable. Constant pleading for organized cheering on the part of the yell leaders has met with very limited response. Although very much in the running as regards the conference title, the Pack has been denied the consistent support of the student body. Only on rare occasions have those in attendance at the games displayed any noticeable enthusiasm, and on each occasion the Nevada quintet responded to the cheering with increased efforts.

Nevada, as present conference champions, is out to repeat. Next weekend will decide whether or not the Far Western Conference trophy will remain in our possession. In that few if any supporters will be able to follow the Pack to Sacramento for that crucial series, it is imperative that the team be given exceptionally strong support in this their final home appearance.

Each loyal Nevadan can best show his or her appreciation for the efforts and endeavors of the Nevada aggregation by turning out on Friday and Saturday nights to BACK THE PACK.—E. M.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Sagebrush—Not that I am anxious for a part in the current student-alumni row over the Desert Wolf, but I do object to the efforts being made by certain persons to misrepresent the point of view taken by the finance control committee on the question.

I want it definitely and clearly understood that the committee:

(1) Recognizes that at present the Desert Wolf is financially sound.

(2) Is not at all concerned over the amount of advertising which the Desert Wolf is, or is not, taking from the Sagebrush or Artemisia.

(3) Realizes that the Desert Wolf is an outlet for journalistic and artistic endeavor, not all of which would find a place in the Sagebrush or Artemisia.

(4) Is recommending the abolishment of the Wolf and the reduction of the Artemisia fee only because such action would release approximately $1760 to the general A. S. U. N. fund.

(5) Will be very glad indeed to hear of any alternative plan which would assure the A. S. U. N. of a like amount.

Attempts to throw a smoke screen over the real issue, as outlined in last week's Sagebrush, by dragging Campus Players into the picture, are ill-advised. The statement made by a former Campus Player in a letter to the editor that "... in those times we were proud of the fact that dramatics paid their own way" does not agree with the facts.

The A. S. U. N. has no record of Campus Players' receipts or expenditures before 1929-1930, but the following figures represent the net loss to the A. S. U. N. as charged to Campus Players and Mask and Dagger in so far as records are available: 1929-30, $225.89; 1930-31, $346.09; 1931-32, $574.14—or a total "in the red" of $1146.12.

But I would like to add that the present coach of dramatics, William C. Miller, has given every indication of a willingness to cooperate on the reduction of costs; does not insist, as have previous directors, that to be successful a play must be staged in town, and has already presented a budget of only $98 for his first production—the lowest budget estimate for a full length play since Campus Players saw the light of day.

All this, however, has no bearing on the abolishment of the Desert Wolf. The finance control committee is still waiting for an answer to the question which I left with you last week.

Where else are we to get the money? Paul A. Harwood, Chairman, Finance Control Committee.

Editor Sagebrush—After observing the various reactions concerning the proposed amendments in the A. S. U. N. constitution during the past two weeks, we would like to present to the readers of this paper the following suggestions concerning certain phases of the proposed amendments.

"Once in a

It is an established precedent that in all democratic governmental systems wherein the representatives of the people are chosen by popular vote, all people to be governed are represented in this vote, and not by any set part of the electorate. In the amendments proposed by the constitution revision committee only A. S. U. N. women members would be allowed to vote for the vice president of the student body, and both the men and women would be allowed to vote for the president. Herein lies a marked inconsistency.

We believe that it can readily be seen that this is unfair to both groups concerned, and all clear thinking students should seriously consider this aspect before the new constitution is voted upon.

The provisions embodied in the A. S. U. N. constitution as well as in the A. W. S. constitution that the vice president should also be the president of the A. W. S. is also unfair to the women, in that since the A. W. S. is purely a women's organization it would be only proper that they have sole power in the selection of their governing body.

Reviewing these two phases it can easily be seen that the proposed constitution would be unfair from either standpoint and could only be remedied by a complete revision of the present setup regarding the selection of these two officers.

Therefore, we would propose that the entire A. S. U. N. personnel be given the distinct privilege of electing their vice president and president and that the women be given their distinct privilege of selecting their own president of the A. W. S. as a separate office.

Wolf Howls

Leaf, loose again, has gone in for chiseling on our stuff in a big way. Since he enrolled in the prospector's short course he has the idea that he is "just one of the fellas." But he slipped up in trying to pat Higgy's back by remarking that he has the gait and hungry look of the typical newspaperman. Even we amateurs have observed that Prof. Higginbotham is developing a paunch and almost always beams a contented countenance.

Knowing that the Artemisia staff was beginning to get panicky about the decline in advertising, I inquired from the business manager, Buck Wheeler, as to what was going to happen. His reply was to "Ask the editor," which was done promptly, only to have Goon Gilmartin answer, "Ask the business manager." So I guess that takes care of that.

Slushy, wet weather gives the women on the hill their grandest opportunity to outdo the men in sloppiness. When they don their hundred and one kinds of galoshes, dirty cords appear neat in comparison. Swish, swish, plop, swish, plop, they come through the buildings. Very few attempt to pick 'em up and lay 'em down in a ladylike fashion.

We do not believe that this would in any way tend to defeat the purpose of the proposed constitution. And we believe that in its entirety it would be the solution of a very complex problem that has been facing the A. S. U. N. student body. J. M. Dixon, Gene Salet.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT—Freshmen are the worst cigarette fiends this year on the hill, not being able to leave the buildings without poking a "weed" or a "snipe" into their faces. Clara Beemer Whitney attitude smacks of "I've got my man, now let's see you get yours". Helen Peterson is over-conscious of her posture perfection. Wyman Evans could pose for an "It pays to look well" advertisement for any barber shop. Nothing gets Bernie Cupit's goat quicker than to remind her of her resemblance to Charlotte Greenwood. It's a pleasure to have someone like Mazie Ryan working on the campus. The irony of fate has induced "Wild Bill" Collanon to go back into army life, and it is said that no longer is he the same Bill of the famed braggadocio. Add to co-ed accomplishments the name of Charlotte Robinson, who has developed something new in campus poises, that of blase droopiness. Walden Kline has a large collection of the best in classical phonograph records, and he holds miniature concerts on Sunday afternoons for his friends who are interested.

NOTICE

Volleyball Tourney For Women Begins

Round Robin Form of Competition Used This Year by Six Teams

The first games in the intramural women's volleyball tournament were started Tuesday. Competition is in the form of a round robin tournament, with every team playing every other team. Five sororities and the independents have teams, each team playing every day for three days. The organization winning will be presented with a silver loving cup. The independents now hold the cup.

Due to the large number of women out for volleyball the W. A. A. executive committee voted to have an extended season and to have the round robin type of tournament, which gives every team more opportunity to play. It is hoped that this idea may be carried out in basketball competition next winter, in place of the usual elimination tournament.

Art Exhibit Held In U. of N. Library

An exhibition of twenty-three modern French etchings by Louis Icart was displayed Tuesday and Thursday in the University of Nevada library.

This exhibit was the second to be presented Nevada students and visitors, and was given under the auspices of the Fine Arts group, a campus organization.

Louis Icart is a student of the modern French school of etching and each of his works is noted for exquisitely graceful representation of "young Parisian womanhood."

On February 24 and 25 another exhibition will be shown in the library. It will be "A Tour Around the World in Water Colors."

Hospital Cases Fewer At U. N. This Year

The university hospital has handled a comparatively smaller number of cases this semester than were treated during the first semester, according to Mrs. Ethel Shurtleff, matron.

Mild accidents and injuries, several cases of influenza and convalescents occupy only a minor portion of the time of doctor and nurse, and no one is confined to the infirmary this week.

Mrs. Shurtleff said that the cost of hospitalizing people who belong to the university medical association was nominal, but that the cost of hospitalization of athletes did not altogether refer to the infirmary.

SPRING AND CO. TO APPEAR ON CAMPUS SOON

Although Spring is not scheduled to make a personal appearance until March 21, many members of his company are already in Reno.

His business manager, the Thaw, has been busy signing contracts. The Lake, doubtless anticipating much queening in the library, is ready to cooperate, and for the first time in many weeks is not entirely covered with ice.

The chorus has been holding rehearsals every morning. One member, Woodpecker, made strenuous attempts to obtain the gymnasium for this purpose, and almost broke a window in the office of the women's physical education department in his efforts to get in.

Despite a heartless rebuff and such difficulties as much snow remaining on the ground and nightly freezing, the stage is being set and all plans made to open the show on the date set if not before.

Mrs. Trevitt Leads Series of Talks

"Love and Marriage" was the subject of the first of a series of ten talks given Monday night by Mrs. Viou Stewart Trevitt, graduate of the university last semester, to members of the Reno Business Girls' club of the Y. W. C. A.

The meetings are in the form of discussions, which Mrs. Trevitt leads, and questions on such subjects as courtship, "blind" dates and the psychology of relationships between men and women.

The talks are sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and will be held every other Monday night from 7:30 to 9:30.

Year Book Cagers Defeat Brush Staff

In a wild and woolly game featured by the star performance of Editors Gilmartin and Johnson of the Artemisia and Sagebrush, respectively, the yearbook cagers defeated the reporters by a score of 28 to 19, at the gymnasium last weekend. The game is the first of a series of three.

EMPTY TUB!

ILLUSION:
Right before your very eyes the man of magic draws rabbits, vegetables, flowers, fruits—even babies—all from an empty tub! What an astonishing fellow he is!

EXPLANATION:
The assorted rabbits, babies, carrots, cabbages, ribbons and other magical "props" are not created by magic. The tub has a false bottom that is conveniently displaced, and numberless wonderful things spring to life in the magician's nimble fingers. They do literally "spring" because they are made to compress into the bottom of the tub, taking their natural shape as the magician lifts them out.

*It's FUN TO BE FOOLED
...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW*

Tricks are legitimate on the stage but not in business. Here's one that has been used in cigarette advertising...the illusion that blending is everything in a cigarette.

EXPLANATION: Blending is important...but it makes a lot of difference what is blended. Inferior tobaccos can be blended to cover up their humble origin. But your taste soon detects the trick.

The proper use of blending is to bring out the full "round" flavor of mild, high-grade tobaccos. It's the costliness of the tobaccos, as well as the blending, that counts.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent by others in the attempt to discover just how Camels are blended. The blend is important.

But all the while Camel spends millions more for choice tobaccos...to insure your enjoyment.

Light up a Camel. Relax, while the delicate blue smoke floats about you. Enjoy to the full the pleasure that comes from costlier tobaccos.

Keep Camels always handy...in the airtight, welded Humidor Pack.

Pack Splits Series With C.O.P. Bengals in Close Contests

Nevada Loses by Close Margin in First Game of Stockton Contests

College of Pacific Defeated by Nevada for Only Loss of Season

Splitting their second conference series of the year, the Nevada basketballers fell before the high pressure tactics of the College of Pacific last Friday, to come back the following evening and give the Bengal hoop artists their first trouncing of the conference season. The games were played on the Pacific floor.

The Bengals edged out in the lead in the first game, 33-31. Saturday night the score was, Nevada 33, Pacific 24.

Although the Nevada team has a reputation for being one of the bravest outfits on the Pacific coast, the Wolves found their equals in the boys the Bengals sent out to meet them. Gould, towering Nevada center, found himself outreached by Odale, Pacific pivot man.

Both games were among the roughest the Pack has encountered. Although the action was fast and loaded with spills and crashes while the ball was in play, constant fouling by both teams held up the games and brought out the free throw artists.

In the Friday contest the Wolf Pack held a 14 to 11 lead at the half. On coming back on the floor for the second period the Pacific cagers quickly recovered; the score went up rapidly with first one holding the edge and then the other. With one minute to play, and the teams even up with 31 points, Nevada fouled. Odale dropped both free throws through the loop to win the game for Pacific. Nevada made 14 of her 31 points on free throws.

Coach J. E. Martie used nine men in this contest. He started Lee and Carroll as forwards, Gould at center and Guffrey and Curran at the guard positions. He substituted Bledsoe, Hill and Leighton. Gould with 13 points and Bledsoe with 12 were the scoring aces of the evening.

Saturday night the Wolf cagers did not get started until after the half, when the Bengals held a 14 to 2 lead. Going back on the floor with a driving determination to register a victory against the conference leading Pacific team, the Pack started a scoring streak with which the opposing outfit could not cope.

Coach Martie started Lee and Bledsoe at the forward positions in the second contest. One substitution was made, which replaced Lee with Carroll. Gould again took high point honors, with 13 markers. Bledsoe was a close second with 8 points to his credit.

APPRECIATION

On behalf of the finance control committee, I take this means of thanking publicly the sophomore class for its unselfish action in releasing its claim on the $102.50 which would have been payable as class dues this semester from the A. S. U. N. funds.

This amount made it possible for the committee to approve a substantial part of the annual W. A. A. budget. Had the money not been released we would have been obliged to refuse the women's request.

Paul A. Harwood, Chairman, Finance Control Committee.

John Wittwer, Clark county extension agent, was the guest of Gamma Phi Beta at dinner last Saturday. He is the father of Fern and Fae Wittwer.

Two Graduates In Legislature

Albert Cahlan and Ernest Brown, two graduates of the university and well known business men, are active in the state legislature, now open at Carson.

Cahlan graduated with the class of '20 and was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is the managing editor of the Review Journal of Las Vegas.

Brown was a graduate of '27 and is an attorney in Reno. He has recently assisted Professor Sutherland in the economic department.

Honorary Major

Mary McCulloch, prominent junior student and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, will lead the grand march as honorary major of the University of Nevada R. O. T. C. at the military ball to be given February 25.

Miss McCulloch received this honor at a general student election held Wednesday, February 15. Second and third honors went to Rita Jepson of Pi Beta Phi and Maryalice Loomis of Gamma Phi Beta. Each sorority and Manzanita hall was represented by one candidate in the election.

The military ball, a formal dance sponsored every year by Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, will be held this year at the Washoe County Library building.

Five Freshmen Try Out for Managership

Five freshmen answered the call of basketball manager Ed. Recanzone this season when he announced that try-outs for the managership were open.

The four sophomore managers, Frank Hickey, Gene Kneebone, Reid St. Claire and Ross Wainwright have all returned.

With this working force of nine men, Recanzone has been able to adopt a plan in which one sophomore manager takes charge each night of the week. This plan does not take too much time away from the tryees, and it enables each man to gain a little practical experience.

Charles Jensen, Brook Parke, L. Greene, E. Spencer and W. Fancher are the new men who have answered the call for tryees.

ATTENDS NEW YORK MEETING

A. M. Smith, mining engineer connected with the Nevada State Bureau of Mines, left Wednesday to represent the Nevada branch of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers at a meeting to be held in New York City February 21-22.

While in New York City Smith will visit both his sons, Thor and Dale, who are former university students. Thor Smith, graduate of the journalistic school, is working in the advertising department of one of the New York dailies. Dale Smith is a cadet at West Point.

Students Surprised At Rabbit on Quad

Someone has said that if things don't improve we will have to give the country back to the Indians and the jackrabbits.

But it looked as if the rabbits had taken things in their own hands last Monday when student going to 8:40 classes actually saw a long legged Nevada jackrabbit "take off across" the campus.

The rabbit, which was probably driven from the hills by the heavy snowfall, loped down the quad, amazing students as it scampered about in the snow. Observers said that the animal was a plain, ordinary rabbit, such as Mark Twain immortalized under the name "jackass rabbit."

At least a foot of snow was on the ground at the time and humorists suggested that the rabbit more appropriate should have been a snowshoe rabbit instead of the common "sagebrush" variety.

The jackrabbit's prompt disappearance after its discovery on the campus apparently indicated that it had no use for higher education.

Judge C. D. Souter, Reno attorney, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Student Chapter of the American Society of Engineers, held in the E. E. building at 11:25 today. Speaking on engineering law, Judge Souter's address was of an informative nature. Plans were laid for a trip to the Boulder dam project to be taken by the Nevada engineers later in the semester. In concluding their meeting the group selected a number of engineering motion pictures to be shown at future meetings.

CHARLIE

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A meeting of the Faculty Science club will be held on February 23, with Dr. Walter E. Clark as the principal speaker of the evening. The meeting was originally called for the ninth of the month but has been postponed to the above date. Dr. Clark has selected for his subject "The College Goal."

Mid-semester grades are due at the registrar's office on March 8. This means that the delinquent notices will be out about March 11, and serves as a reminder that there are only three weeks left in which students can keep their grades above a 3.5 and avoid receiving a slip. Students have until February 23 to drop a course without receiving a flunk.

All women who have dropped physical education are requested to call at the comptroller's office and receive their dollar refund. Unless these students call soon for their money it will revert to the university, Louise M. Sisson, registrar, announced.

Many students give the excuse of "Love" for flunking courses, according to Dean Herbert T. Conon of the University of Washington.

Bluebird Flocks Choose Campus As Winter Refuge

"It looks like a long, hard winter, boys." Such must have been the opinion of the large flock of bluebirds which has recently invaded the university campus.

Evidently feeling at last the depression which has been weighing on their human contemporaries, the little birds have descended en masse from the hills where they usually winter. Lack of food seems to be the cause of the migration.

The small strangers make a delightful picture with their bright blue coats, lining up the bleak expanses of white snow. They appear to be finding food a-plenty in the vicinity of Manzanita and Lincoln halls, and numerous co-eds have been seen enticing them with morsels of food, purloined, no doubt, from the dining hall.

Tobacco to smoke right

has to be a different kind of tobacco from that used in cigarettes... and it has to be made by an entirely different process...

OUT in Kentucky, where they have pretty women, fast horses, and blue grass, there grows a tobacco called White Burley. It doesn't grow anywhere else in the world.

There is a type of this White Burley that is best suited for pipe smoking. It is neither too thick nor too thin. It is not light and chaffy; at the same time, it is not rank or strong. "U. S. Type 31" is the government classification for White Burley.

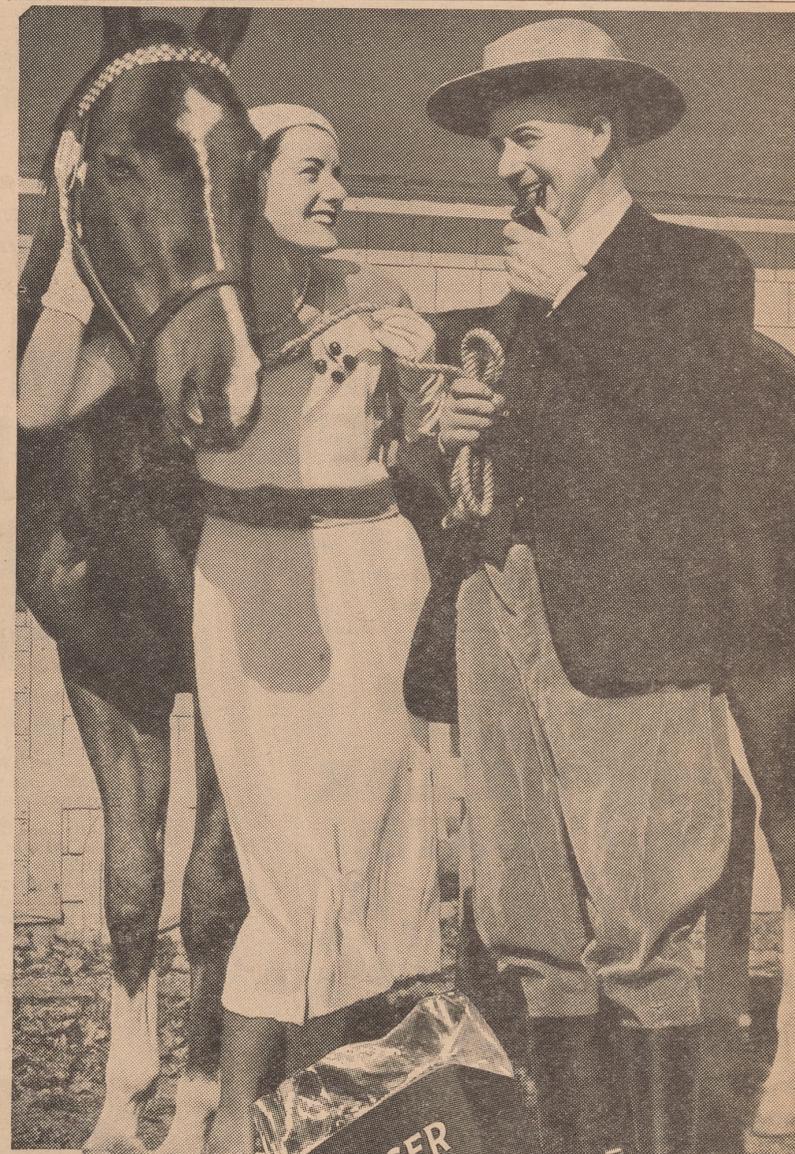

Since no other pipe tobacco has yet been found which seems to equal White Burley, this is what we use in making Granger Rough Cut.

Next, we use the Wellman Method, a famous 1870 method of making pipe tobacco, to give Granger its fine flavor and fragrance. Then, too, Granger is "Rough Cut"—just like they used to "whittle" their tobacco off a plug with a jack-knife. It smokes cool, lasts longer and never gums a pipe.

And finally, we want to sell Granger for 10 cents. Good tobacco—right process—cut right. So we put Granger in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package.

Granger has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. Folks seem to like it.
