Wolf Howls

Again the formal season has rolled around and again the high stepping "money boys" on the hill will proceed to show up the men short of kale by smothering the gal friend in a corset. It was once a tradition on the campus to pass up the posties when going to formals. A few of the hot-shots would do well to wise up to the fact that they are causing the less fortunate fellows not just a little bit of embarrassment.

Student government obviously means very little to non-Greek men and women on this campus. Their proposed representation in the new senate of two students is exceedingly small in comparison with their number, but according to their vigor is exceedingly high. The funny thing is that they are numerous enough to rule the hill if they ever became a unit.

As an undergraduate at Oregon State, Bob Griffin stirred the independents into demanding equal representation and a fair proportion of elective offices. After a long battle he succeeded, only to have the fraternities and sororities grasp control again after his graduation. Periodically it is attempted here, but if unsuccessful the independents are discouraged until a few leaders rile them up again. And what a chance they missed by failing to groom Bob Marean when he showed such promise as freshman class president.

Lynn Gerow, who boasted a heavy beard when most of us sneaked a shave once a month, is now growing a bit thin on top. Let's hope he can carry it as gracefully as this boy, Dusty Rhodes.

The Phi Phis squawked, not officially of course, about being slighted in the columns. We just thought it wasn't nice to kid Mary Adelaide, for instance, about spending her house bill money on the boy friend.

And then there's Bob Crep's idea of the typical campus big shot, Dan Harvey.

"Coke" Elliott and John T. "Ebe" Dolan are notorious woman haters. Elliott shys at skirts while Ebe just don't give a darn about the fair sex. Here's material for the voluptuous vamps of P. B. P.

The college men and women who come from the wee small towns around the state must exercise extreme care when home for vacations not to arouse the ire of their fellow townspeople by an independent attitude. If they become jaunty almost immediately they are termed as "stuck up," and everyone sneers that college has gone to their heads. Similarly, there are students from the same town who, once pals, split into different houses on the hill and although they may live next door to each other back in old Tonopah, or Wells, or Panaca, they live in different worlds here. Eventually they wake up to the fact that they have shunned the best friends they had known. Pardon the sob, but isn't it so?

With the spirit of contest in our blood we can hardly wait for Sunday's Chronicle to see which co-ed will decorate the rotogravure section.

GIVE IT A CHANCE The new amendment pertaining to the Desert Wolf, as proposed to the student body at the meeting last night, is worthy of consideration. This amendment is the solution to the revision committee's desire, that of securing funds to carry on the A. S. U. N. activities without affecting a majority of the students.

This proposal gives the finance control committee the money that ordinarily would go to the Wolf and the student body still has a quarterly comic magazine in which it may expend its art and exploit its literary abilities in this field.

Under the new plan the Desert Wolf people are given an opportunity to show their real strength and it depends solely upon this group to see whether or not Nevada is able to maintain a comic quarterly.

The power is vested in the finance control committee to oversee the budgets of this publication, and if at any time there is a loss, then this group may recommend its suspension by a majority vote of the student senate. This gives this body an absolute check on its activities; thus the A. S. U. N. has a decided check on the Desert Wolf.

With these checks and other restrictions made upon this publication then the people who are willing to make a try at giving Nevada a worthy quarterly magazine should be given an opportunity to carry out this new program, and in the event of success should be commended highly on their fortitude in undertaking the publication of a student periodical under such adverse conditions. Instead of obstacles being placed in their way in trying to get this chance to prove the worth of the Wolf, these students should be lent every opportunity and given the undivided support of the A. S. U. N. for this project.

A MENACE The proposed assembly bill 126, now in the hands of the committee on education, is indeed a menace to student body activities and if passed will affect seriously practically all of the Y. W. C. A. activities that are devised for the purpose of raising money for much needed budgets.

This bill, introduced by request, appears to be directed at the Y. W. second-hand book shop and candy booth, and in its wording takes in all other commercial enterprises that may be carried on on school property.

The few dollars that are realized from these activities certainly do not affect the downtown merchants, who, according to figures released last fall from the office of President Walter E. Clark, were benefited to the extent of more than $1,000,000 in money expended by the students and the university.

Every student should appeal to his friends in the legislature to see that this piece of legislation does not get beyond the rooms of the committee to which it has been referred.

ORGANIZATION OF INDEPENDENTS The independent students of the University of Nevada have definitely decided to organize in order further the interests of the group.

Last Monday they met at the Administration building for their first meeting. Those present numbered about thirty or more students. At this meeting they decided to organize and insure due recognition for all independents on the hill.

The success of this move depends upon the support given those who have initiated the movement by all the independents on the campus. The first meeting brought out only a very few students, the second about four times as many; yet far from all the independents have appeared as yet.

A meeting will be held next Monday afternoon at 4:30 in the Administration building to go further into the matter of forming a definite body of students. Its degree of success depends upon the amount of support given it.

These meetings are the first moves made to ally the needs of the independent students at Nevada for recognition. So far the prospect is bright for an active body, and if the move is well backed it may well be the first step toward equal recognition of the non-fraternity men and non-sorority women on the campus. For the first time in Nevada's history independents have been given some consideration. It now rests with them to show what they can do with the power given them. —J. Mc.

There is a great need for curtailing the enrollment in American medical schools, according to Dean Elias P. Lyon of the medical school at Minnesota. According to Anthony N. Peterson, Protestant chaplain of the prison, all the best known colleges are represented in Sing Sing prison, but the crimes are different from those committed by non-collegiate men. Mr. Peterson says that college men seldom commit crimes of violence or intimidation, or ones where extreme physical exertion is necessary. They are not safe-blowers nor racketeers and are not addicted to crimes of passion. Under no circumstances does a college man commit murder.

THE HUMAN CRICKET
BEATS OLYMPIC RECORD!

ILLUSION:
Josie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladder! A phenomenal leap for a woman, or a man!

EXPLANATION:
Josie didn't jump... she was sprung! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Josie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED
...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Magic has its place...but not in cigarette advertising.

Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."

EXPLANATION: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobaccos used.

Cheap, raw tobaccos can be "built up" or "fortified" by the lavish use of artificial flavorings.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.

The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos...blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.

And Camels taste cooler because the welded Humidor Pack of three-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane keeps them fresh.

Nevada Hoop Men Split Last Home Series With Gaels

Nevadans Take First Game, Give Tough Fight in Second Contest

By FRANK SULLIVAN
Playing their last games on their home court for this season, Nevada's Wolf Pack defeated the St. Mary's Gaels by a score of 44 to 39 last Friday night, and then lost the second game of the series to St. Mary's by a 44 to 36 score.

The games were played before one of the largest crowds of the year and held plenty of thrills and excitement for the spectators.

Games Rough
Both games were exceptionally fast and the roughest games played on the university floor this season. Saturday night St. Mary's gained 10 points by fouls, with Nevada tagging right behind with 8 points added by fouls.

In the Friday night contest, Bledsoe was high point man, scoring 18 points for Nevada, while Meade of St. Mary's was second, when he tallied 11 points for the Gaels. Saturday night Meade took the honors for the game, scoring 20 points. Gould, center, was high point man for Nevada, scoring a total of 12 points for the night's work. Bledsoe, high point man for Nevada Friday night, was effectively bottled up by St. Mary's and as a result he was held down to 5 points.

Opener Exciting
The opening game was the closer and more exciting of the two. Nevada took an early lead and held it through out most of the game, the score at half time being 25 to 15. In the second half St. Mary's staged a rally and evened the score. With only about five minutes left to play, Pendleton sank a free throw for the Gaels, giving them a 1 point lead. Nevada immediately tightened up and, after several heart breaking tries, Gould made a field goal, giving Nevada the lead. In quick succession Gould and Bledsoe sank two more baskets, making the final score 44 to 39 in favor of Nevada.

Gaels Lead
In the return game, St. Mary's took the lead in the beginning against Coach "Doc" Martie's second string and the varsity was unable to cut it down. Hackett was the favorite of the night when he scored the first 5 points for Nevada on two field goals and a free throw. At half time the score told a different story than it had the night before, with St. Mary's on the long side of a 29 to 15 score. The second half brought the crowd to its feet when Curran, Nevada guard, was knocked out in a struggle for the ball and had to be helped off the floor. With only a few minutes left to play, Nevada made a mighty attempt to even the score, but was unable to catch up with the Gaels. When the final gun sounded the score stood 44 to 36 in favor of St. Mary's.

Engineers Enjoy A. I. E. E. Meeting

What was termed as "by far the most interesting film ever to be shown at an A. I. E. E. meeting" was enjoyed by electrical engineering students recently.

Made even more interesting by an accompanying talk given by H. B. Hodgins, traveling representative of the Westinghouse Manufacturing Co., who brought the film with him, the subject it dealt with was gold dredging.

The film showed the transfer of parts for a big hydroelectric plant by airplane over an 11,000 foot mountain range in New Guinea, a South Sea island. Four thousand tons of food and equipment was carried into the camp of the Bulolo Gold Dredging Co., Ltd., by plane.

It cost but $400,000 for the planes, while to construct a road would have entailed a cost of $1,500,000. Each of several dredges now in operation, however, on the two large gold fields are producing $35,000 per month each.

Friday Social Dance Sponsored At Century Club

Featuring Dudley Nix and his six-collegiate band, the usual Friday get-together dance will be held tonight at the Century club.

Nix, Nevada's varsity crooner, will furnish entertainment and Nevada students will be afforded the opportunity of having an evening of dancing to relieve the present worry in preparation for mid-terms.

Two More Nevada Coeds in Contest

Two more University of Nevada coeds are participants in the worldwide contest for queen at the 1933 World's Fair.

Mabel Louise Armstrong, a sophomore student, and one of the assistants to the circulation manager of the Sagebrush, and Ardis Laub, junior student and member of the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority, are the two new participants.

Helen Per Lee is the only other co-ed who has already entered this queen contest. Her photograph appeared in a rotogravure section of a California paper February 19.

to the plan.
Helen Peterson was sworn into the office of secretary of the student body. She was selected to hold the office after no other nominations were made, by the executive committee. She read the minutes of the last meeting.

Martie Speaks

J. E. "Doc" Martie, varsity basketball coach, spoke to the students and several members of the team spoke.

"We will win these games with the California Aggies," Martie said. "We hope to bring you home a double victory to finish up a successful season."

Varsity Track to Get Under Way Soon

The call for varsity track will be issued Monday by C. L. "Brick" Mitchell, track coach of the university, he announced this morning.

There are now four letter men in track who will be eligible for competition. These men are Harvey Hill, ace sprinter for Nevada; Roy Bankoffier, hurdler; Dan Bledsoe, jumper, and Walter Hunting, former hurdler for Nevada. Roy Salsbury will be unable to compete as he already served four years on the track team.

There will be two dual meets, one with the College of Pacific and another with the California Aggies. There will also be the Far Western Conference meet.

We have to be better this year than last season to win since the Aggies have the same men that they had last year and a more experienced team." Dan Bledsoe, Roy Bankoffier and Jack Hill, veteran graduating members of the team, and Ed Recanzone, team manager, spoke, declaring that the team has had finer spirit this year than ever before.
Dr. Frederick Wood, professor of mathematics of the university, was the principal speaker of the evening. He declared that the Nevada team and coach compare well with the great basketball aggregations of the middle west.

"I am in little doubt but that the Nevada boys will win at Davis this weekend," he declared. "The Wolves will come back with the bacon."

Sweaters Presented

C. L. "Brick" Mitchell, varsity football mentor, presented sweaters to members of his 1932 football team. He declared that in twelve years of coaching he had never enjoyed the task as much as in coaching the Nevada team last year.

Eighteen men received the award. They are Victor Carroll, Marvin Turner, Robert Harris, Jack Hill, Kenneth Austin, Tom Cashill, Harvey Hill, Gene Sallet, Al Theis, Alonzo Priest, Ralph Haynes, Gail Parsons, Robert Madriaga, Bill Beemer, Roy Bankoffier, Fern Ambrose, Bill Backer and Rector Fuhrman, team manager.

SPICY leaves of TURKISH tobacco are strung to dry and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before

—the cigarette that's Milder
—the cigarette that Tastes Better

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.
Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!
