

Student Leaders' Views Given on Presidential Race

Platforms of Beemer, Morehouse, Wallace Given for Students

No Additions Made to Mackay Day Nominations as of Last Week

For the first time in two years prospective candidates for offices in the government of the Associated Students of Nevada have given out a definite platform stating what they stand for and what they plan to do if elected.

This election will be on the merits of the candidates rather than because a combine is clicking, and the aims, purposes and ideals of each candidate are stated here, to enable students to make their decision in voting on merit rather than by group support.

William Beemer, member of Sigma Nu fraternity and candidate for the office of president of the Associated Students of Nevada, states his views:

"I believe the adoption of the new constitution is an indication that Nevada students are keenly interested in a new deal and in an active student government. With this in mind, I pledge myself, if elected, to do all possible in my power as the A. S. U. N. president to support the new constitution in spirit as well as in letter, nor will I be influenced by personal friends, organizations or any other thing except the welfare of our school."

Definite acts which Beemer hopes to establish were set forth in an article in this morning's Nevada State Journal. His activities on the campus have been: Freshman president, member of sophomore vigilance committee, Coffin and Keys, Blue Key, interclass committee, Campus Players, junior prom committee, Block N, track, frosh basketball and football and varsity football.

New Morehouse, Independent candidate for the office of A. S. U. N. president, states his beliefs:

"The purpose of the Independent students in running a candidate for A. S. U. N. president is to help gain representation for the entire campus in everything that may come or go. Having no political axes to grind, no ties binding me to any group or clique, I feel that if I am elected I can help the students to realize this aim."

"As a result, I hope to bring the entire campus together so that everyone will work in harmony for the good of the university as a whole. Those whom I may choose to help carry on the work of the university will be selected on the basis of ability alone, and will be directly responsible to the student body for their success or failure, not to their respective groups. I stand for a new deal in student government."

Activities which Morehouse has taken part in are: Member of Scabbard and Blade, charter member of Press club, assistant editor of Sagebrush, U. of N. rifle team, sophomore hop committee, Nu Eta Epsilon, honorary engineering scholarship fraternity, university honor roll from college of engineering for last three semesters, alternate for sophomore regents' scholarship, Artemisia staff member.

Jim Wallace, Lambda Chi Alpha and third candidate for president, says:

"Rather than attempt to inaugurate a great number of new ideas, I would be in favor of stricter enforcement of the present worthwhile regulations and traditions. Of course, if elected to the presidency, I would back to the limit any constructive ideas approved by the senate, and would work with that group to the best of my ability to keep the affairs of the A. S. U. N. in good running order."

"I have made none and shall make no promises to any special organizations. Pre-election promises are not Continued on Page Four

Artemisia to Appear During Senior Week

Carrying out an economy program in the organization of the Artemisia, William Gilmartin, editor, announced this week that the book was slowly rounding into shape for its publication senior week.

This issue of the Artemisia will be the smallest in several years. The difficulties brought on by the bank failure and general depression have not, however, detracted from the makeup of the book itself, Gilmartin stated.

This year the junior class will be given only two pages instead of the usual four. There are no omissions in the organization panels, because it is through the help of these organizations that the book is financed.

All of the art work has been completed under the direction of John Mariani, editor of the Desert Wolf.

The theme of the Artemisia will be that of the pioneer. This was the theme of the 1929 issue, and it proved to be very successful. An innovation in this year's book is the resumption of a "dirt" section, which was absent from the last Artemisia.

Student Tickets Accepted as Pass To Roxie Theater

University nights at the Roxie theater, beginning this week, will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, it was announced Manager Graham Kistlingery. On these nights each student body card accompanied by an adult ticket will be accepted as a pass, admitting both a coed and her escort for the price of one paid admission.

Some excellent pictures have been secured, and it is hoped that the students will take advantage of this offer for the remainder of the semester. All you have to do is buy a ticket, present your student body card and you and your companion will be admitted to the show.

20th Mackay Day Declared Best in University History

Work Turnout Brings Entire Population of Frat Row on Campus

Cleanup, Dedication of Bench, Mackay Luncheon, Dance on Program

Nevada's twentieth annual Mackay Day, passing into history with the close of the Whiskerino dance last Saturday night, was declared one of the most successful celebrations to be held in honor of the university's greatest benefactor.

General campus cleanup was in order for the morning, and fraternity row turned out en masse, with some 400 students taking part. Enthusiasm was so great that several fraternities which signed up with the committee in the morning were represented 100 per cent.

The work consisted mainly of sweeping the stadium bleachers, taking the large crop of rocks off the baseball field and sweeping and re-lining the campus tennis courts. Work was divided among the fraternities and independents in order that all three might be taken care of.

Following the annual Mackay Day luncheon, which was held in the gymnasium, nominations were open for student body president and for president of the Associated Women Students.

Entertainment at the luncheon was furnished by Abigail Hackett, Mildred Nagy, Nell Lozano, Fred LaMarsna and Ray Hackett. Some songs were presented by Jim Wallace, Robert Harris and Bill Squires.

The 1933 Mackay Day committee consisted of Raymond Hackett, chairman; Jim Wallace, vice chairman; Mildred Huber, Al O'Connell, Fransden Loomis, Jack Myles, Ed Bath and Ed Martinez.

Blue Key Plans to Elect New Members

With some ten men graduating this spring, Blue Key fraternity plans to hold election of new members during the middle of next month in order to fill its quota of 25 men.

The new members will be chosen from the newly organized Sager's group, and will be selected from the merit standpoint of their work during the last two semesters.

Election of officers for the coming year will also take place at the next Blue Key meeting. The new officials will take over their administrative duties at the banquet meeting in April, when the newly selected men will be initiated.

At the present time there are 34 members of the Sagers, which is a subsidiary organization of Blue Key, open to all Blue Key tries.

The Sagers are headed by George Steffens, with Junius Dixon as secretary-treasurer, and all of the thirty-four men comprising the group will be eligible for election to Blue Key fraternity, since they have all participated in service work during this school year.

Bill Howard '31 was in Reno for Mackay Day. While here he stayed at the Lambda Chi house. Howard is principal of the Minden grammar school.

Baseball Tourney Starts on Monday As Schedule Fixed

Bracket System of Competition Will Be Used This Season

Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Nu Teams Rank as Favorites

After two weeks of intensive pre-season training, the interfraternity drive for the campus baseball championship will get under way next Monday, when Phi Sigma Kappa, champions of two seasons ago, meets Lincoln Hall.

The tournament this season marks a departure from the from of round robin competition followed in previous years. The ten teams eligible are to be divided into two separate brackets each team to play the four other teams in its respective bracket, and the winners in each bracket to meet in a three game series for the championship.

So that all of the strong teams will not comprise one bracket, it has been arranged to divide the contenders evenly in the brackets with respect to the potential strength of each one. The teams to play in the blue bracket are Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Sigma, Beta Kappa, Lambda Chi Alpha and the Independents. In the white bracket the contenders will be Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Sigma Lambda and Lincoln Hall.

From pre-season showing in practice games Alpha Tau Omega or Sigma Alpha Epsilon from the white bracket will probably meet Sigma Nu or Sigma Phi Sigma in the championship series.

The Taues have been on the under side for a number of seasons in the championship drive, but show all signs of making a large bid for the trophy this year. Either they have just discovered some new material or have been waiting to develop their team and have been keeping it a secret for this year they have "trounced" every team they met in practice, and show no signs of weakening when contest time comes.

Last Sunday Sigma Alpha Epsilon routed Lambda Chi Alpha in a practice game, and looks in fair shape to give the Taus a run for their money.

Sigma Nu defeated last year's champions, Sigma Phi Sigma, in a practice contest Sunday by one point margin. However, both of these teams will have to meet Lambda Chi Alpha in a contest game before they meet each other again, and probably by that time things will be different, since Sunday's game was the first contest this spring for the trophy holders.

The game schedule follows:

April 3—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Lincoln Hall.

April 4—Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Independents.

April 5—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Delta Sigma Lambda.

April 6—Sigma Nu vs. Beta Kappa.

April 7—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Lincoln Hall.

April 10—Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Independents.

April 11—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Delta Sigma Lambda.

April 12—Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Beta Kappa.

April 13—Sigma Nu vs. Independents.

April 17—Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

April 18—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Delta Sigma Lambda.

April 19—Beta Kappa vs. Independents.

April 20—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Lincoln Hall.

April 21—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

April 24—Sigma Nu vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

April 25—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

April 26—Delta Sigma Lambda vs. Lincoln Hall.

April 27—Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Beta Kappa.

April 28—Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Sigma Nu.

April 29—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Alpha Tau Omega.

Students Leave to View Famous Ship

Unusually low rates on the Southern Pacific trains made it possible for many students and instructors to go to San Francisco this weekend to see the historic old frigate the U. S. S. Constitution, "Old Ironsides."

Round trip fares for Reno students were $1.95 and for parents and teachers $3.90. The train left Reno today and will return Monday morning.

"Old Ironsides" is the famous old ship which made early American naval history, and this is the first and probably the last time it will be on the Pacific coast.

Journalism Head To Work on Best News Stories Book

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism work at the University of Nevada, was notified last week that he was invited to act as one of the editors for a proposed book of the best news stories of the year.

Dr. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism at the University of Iowa, and editor of the Journalism Quarterly, is in charge of preparations for the proposed book.

There will be twenty editors throughout the United States to pick the best stories. This book will be used as a textbook of types of news stories in journalism courses in American universities, as well as by the general reader.

The book will be published annually, with the first edition to appear at the beginning of next year.

Campus Players To Present Play 'As You Like It'

Bulmer, McIntyre, Kocotes, Bowen, Brown and Lewis Have Roles

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Set as Date of Presentation

In the last week of rehearsal final touches are being put on the Campus Players' production of the Shakespearean drama, "As You Like It."

The initial performance will be offered Tuesday, April 4, and performances will be held on the two nights following.

It is expected that the players, due to their previous dramatic experience and the long period they have had for practice, will present an exceptional piece of work. The two lead parts, held by Marjory Mullen and Chris Kocotes, have been particularly fine. The long experience of Blythe Bulmer and Jean McIntyre add much to the play.

Blythe Bulmer will give spectators a chuckle in her portrayal of Audrey. She has stolen several shows in which she has appeared in character roles.

John Lewis, Don Brown and H. C. Brown are making their first appearance in campus drama. Lewis, who appears as Touchstone, the clown, will be remembered for outstanding ability in several high school productions. Bowen and Brown have both had a great deal of prep school experience. Brown portrays the cynical man of the world in his roll as Jacques.

A.S.U.N. Candidates To Attend Meet For Presidents

Beemer, Morehouse, Wallace Will Go to Davis Next Week

The three University of Nevada student body presidential candidates will make a trip to Davis, Calif., next Friday, to attend the first annual Far Western Conference Presidents' convention.

The three University of Nevada representatives who are to make the trip are William Beemer, Ned Morehouse and Jim Wallace.

It is probable that Keith Lee, present A. S. U. N. president, will be unable to attend the convention as he will be attending the high school student body presidents' convention.

At the Far Western conference the college representatives will meet to exchange their ideas on student body government of the various schools represented, and will recommend necessary changes.

The six schools of the Far Western conference which have designated their intention of sending their student body presidents to the convention are Chico State college, California Agricultural college, College of Pacific, Fresno State college, San Jose State college and the University of Nevada.

Nevada's representatives will travel to and from Davis on funds appropriated by the Associated Students, but their expenses while at the conference will be taken care of by the California Agricultural college.

Graduate Sends Picture

Clare Tomlin '30, better known as "Happy" Tomlin, is teaching now at Jacobsen's Ranch, near Eureka, Nev.

As well as teaching, she is very interested in picture taking, and recently sent Dr. J. E. Church, professor of classics, a number of snow pictures that were taken near her home.

Dr. J. E. Church stated that Miss Tomlin's pictures are among the best that he has seen in regard to soft, atmospheric effects.

State Forensic Tourney Scheduled For Next Week

Seven Nevada High Schools to Send Representative Teams for Meet

Full Program Outlined by Committee for Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Final preparations for the annual state forensic tournament to be held April 6, 7 and 8, and in which seven Nevada high schools will take part, have been definitely completed, according to Robert S. Griffin, director of forensics at the university.

The schedule of the contests is:

Thursday, April 6
9:00—General meeting of contestants, Education auditorium.
9:30—Registration of all schools and contestants, lobby of Education building.
10:30—Preliminary debate, Tonopah versus Carson City, Mackay Science auditorium; Las Vegas versus Reno, Education auditorium.
2:00—Preliminary dramatic interpretation, Education auditorium.
5:00—Dinner for contestants and coaches (business meeting afterward), Twentieth Century club. All who expect to attend must sign up in Education auditorium Thursday morning. (Dinner, per plate, 50 cents.)
8:00—U. of N. Campus Players present "As You Like It," a Shakespearean play in modern dress. Tickets for contestants may be obtained at time of registration. All coaches and contestants guests of Campus Players.

Friday, April 7
9:00—Preliminary extempore speaking contest, Education auditorium. Drawing for topics begins promptly at 8:30.
1:30—One act plays, class B, Education auditorium.
3:30—Contestants guests of Reno high school at matinee dance, Reno high school.
8:00—Shakespearean scenes, Education auditorium.

Saturday, April 8
9:00—Finals extempore speaking, Education auditorium (drawing begins promptly at 8:30).
10:30—Dramatic interpretation finals, Education auditorium.
2:00—Oratorical contest, Education auditorium.
7:15—One act play finals, winner class B presents winning play. Class A contest, Reno and Sparks. (An admission fee of 15 cents will be charged for all non-contestants. Contestants and coaches will be admitted free of charge.)

Finals—Presentation of awards by President Walter Clark of the university.
This is the second year that the schools have been divided into two classes for the contests. Reno and Sparks, rivals for many years, are placed in class A, while Wadsworth, Panaca, Tonopah, Carson City and Las Vegas will compete for class B honors. Before the new grouping, it will be felt that the smaller schools competing with Reno and Sparks was unfair, these two schools being largest usually carrying off the laurels.

The one act play which crowns the contest will consist of the presentation of any one act play accepted by the university supervisors. Limitations are that there be no more than five players, and only one scene or set be used. Reno last year captured first place in class A with their production entitled "The Boy Comes Home." Class B honors went to Panaca high school for their "Pierrot and Pierrette."

Judging of the plays is based upon the ability of students to develop characterization, to understand and correctly interpret the action of the play and upon the complete integration of (Continued on Page Four)

Desert Wolf Will Appear in April

The farewell issue of the Desert Wolf, Nevada's comic magazine, will appear some time during the middle of April, according to Denver Dickerson, assistant editor of the magazine.

Dickerson will act in the capacity of editor instead of John Mariani, and Lino Del Grande in the capacity of business manager instead of James Cazier.

The last issue of the Wolf will carry no long stories, but instead will specialize in short subjects, jokes and numerous cartoons, the cartoons being done by John Mariani and Edgar Olsen.

The cover has not yet been definitely decided upon, but it is expected that it will carry out the theme of the book, that of bidding the students farewell. Twenty-eight pages will compose this book.

Students at Bennington college for women are allowed a winter recess of two months for research work.

Coffin and Keys Hold 1933 Spring Running

Students Admitted Free to Campus Players Production

Students presenting A. S. U. N. cards at the door will be admitted without charge to any performances of "As You Like It," it was announced yesterday by the executive committee. This is the first time that students of the university will be admitted by their student body cards.

The A. S. U. N. is underwriting the financial obligations of the show, and this permits students to attend free of charge.

The present financial situation would prevent many students from attending, so this action was taken to create special student interest in the production.

"As You Like It" will be presented April 4, 5 and 6 at 8:30 p. m. in the Education auditorium.

Nevada Track Men Meet Each Other in Annual Event

Four Classes to Enter Teams in Well Matched and Fought Events

Sophs Given Good Chance to Continue Victory From Last Year's Meet

Opening the 1933 track season, the annual University of Nevada interclass track meet will be held on Mackay field at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The four classes will enter teams.

Last year the senior class won the meet with 62 points. The frosh were second, scoring 31 1/2 points, and the juniors and sophomores followed with 18 and 11 1/2 points, respectively.

This time the second year men are favored to win. Placing second last year, they have since added some good men to their ranks, who are sure of points.

Although Harvey Hill will not be able to run due to pulling a muscle in practice, the sophomores will still have Ralph Hromadka, a newcomer to the campus, who will probably place well up in both burdle events, and Robert Maher, a good 880 man. This is Maher's first year on the track. Other point winners in the meet are: Dennison and Kottke, pole vault; Paul and Frank Leonard, in the mile, and Turner in the weights.

Dan Bledsoe will probably be high point man in the meet. Bledsoe is entered in the high jump, javelin and discus. He will be the only letter man to compete. Besides Bledsoe there will be Jack Hill, Walt Vance, Ole Theis and Dudley Nix, who will be point getters for the senior class.

Juniors who will be out are Rector Fuhrman, Paul Fontana, Sam Arentz, John Stephens, Bill Beemer and Ben Sheehan. These men should all get points in the meet, with Bill Beemer favored to win the 440.

With Gilbert Mathews leading the frosh class in the dashes, the yearlings will give them all a close race for honors. Mathews in addition to running the shorter races will give Beemer a hard run in the 440. Other frosh who are out are Lynn Gerow, John Noyes, George Hadlin and Max Kepel.

Judges for the meet will be Gail Parsons, Ray Hackett, Lee Priest, Edward Reanzone, Pat Sanford, John Blakely, Chester Scanton, Harold Curran, Silas Ross, Keith Lee, "Doc" Martie, Monty Boland, Ken Johnson, Willard Weaver, Proctor Hug, Gene Salet, Russell Elliott, Mike Sherrup, Herb Foster, Bud Beasley, Lloyd Guffrey, Roy Salsbury, Victor Carroll and Mike Gould.

Rules for the meet as announced by Martie are: Contestants must stay in a restricted area until time to warm up. The meet will start promptly at 2 o'clock. No one except contestants in uniform will be allowed on the field. Contestants will represent the class to which they belong scholastically. One man may enter four events, exclusive of the relay, but only two of the events may be on the track. Coach "Brick" Mitchell will be the final judge of the fitness of the men to take part.

High School Track Meets Are Planned

While the varsity track men are away from home for meets this season the high school teams of the state will provide the thrills on Mackay field, according to an announcement made this week by Coach Herbert Foster, Reno high school mentor.

All of the track teams in this section of the state have already started practice and in spite of low funds will hold their regular meets. The annual state meet that brings together all of the best aggregations and individual stars in the state will be held on Mackay field on May 13. The dates for the two other meets to be held here, the four cornered meet between Reno, Sparks, Susanville and the University of Nevada freshmen, and the western Nevada high school conference meet, have not been set.

The Reno high school track team is working out daily on the track and turf of Mackay field. The Reno field, on which work was begun this year, will not be completed for use this season.

The 35 year old custom of hazing at Lincoln Memorial university was ended recently when a young instructor was mistaken for a yearling.

Annual Running Held This A. M. For Eleven Men

Campus Leaders Presented to Student Body in Play "Robin Hood"

Play Presented Below Tram and on Quad During 11:25 Period

An intimate glimpse of the life of Robin Hood and his merry men was presented to the University of Nevada by Coffin and Keys, honorary fraternity, in the natural amphitheater below the tram which forms the southern border of Manzanita lake.

The production, entitled "Robin Wood (Would You?)" is the initiation service of Coffin and Keys. Eleven initiates formed the cast for this morning's spectacle. They are, as announced by the handbill programs distributed earlier in the morning: 1, Robin Wood (would you?), hero, Jack Smith; 2, Maid Mary (a lady dancer), Roy Banckoff; 3, Friure Luck (the clergy), Dan Harvey; 4, Sheriff of Nottadam (the law), Bill Gilmartin; 5, Philicker Phanny (a movie dancer), Joe McLeod; 6, Chunky Bunky (the child), Mike Gould; 7, Boris Blownard (the trumpeter), Sam Arentz; 8, Ioffen C. Wattikindoo (another trumpeter), Jim Cazier; 9, Waddanight (one knight), Vic Carroll; 10, Count Off, Paul Fontana; 11, King Horser (a big kink), Bud Loomis.

The archers and dancing girls were gleefully casting dice on the outskirts of Sherwood Forest, indicated by a large sign placed against the manzanita brush, when the trumpeter Blownard announced the arrival of the Sheriff accompanied by the street cleaner.

The Sheriff was seized and made captive in the forest while the merry men proceeded to make merry. The knights whooped and shrieked while the dancers swung their gauze drappings to the wind in a dance of ecstasy. At the cry of "Someone is in the offing" Robin Hood commanded the offing to be brought forth, which was done promptly. The Wardboard box which proved to be the offing contained a roman candle, which was set off to the delight of the woodsmen.

At this signal the Kink rode in on a bicycle and was lustily greeted by knights and dancers. The king called for a dance; soon tired of this, and called for a tournament. Waddanight hurriedly went into mortal combat with clergyman Friure Luck and bashed his head in with one hurl of a creampuff.

After more dancing of the hip twirling variety another contest was demanded by the king. Boastful Waddanight then slew Count Off in a jousting encounter. The dancers, crying for more blood, the Sheriff was brought out of the forest jail and matched with Waddanight. The latter won two out of three terrific struggles at the old game, "pop the wrist." After the sheriff took the third fall, both jumped to their broomstick steeds and backed off for a jousting match. After a mighty charge they crashed together and had it out with paper snake-blow-whistles. Sheriff emerged victorious and was granted the hand in marriage of "The Cheild."

The happy couple were showered with eggs as the clergyman pronounced the blessing. In a rapid exit the sheriff and bride were pelted with eggs, no small part of which found for a mark the innocent bystanders.

Engineers Have Banquet

The Associated Engineering students enjoyed a banquet at the Rosebud inn last week. The Crucible club sponsored the banquet, with its president, Ted Overton, acting as toastmaster.

Director John Fulton of the Mackay school of mines and A. M. Smith of the Nevada State Bureau of Mines were speakers of the evening. "Mining Resources in Nevada" was the subject of Fulton's address, while Smith delivered an informal talk about his recent trip to the national mining engineers' convention in New York City.

Wolf Howls

By WALT HERZ

We're supposed to keep our minds on the tangled theories, problems, cold, hard facts when a day like this rolls around. At least that is what the professional warnings are these days.

Now is the time that engineer's dream of mastering some great project, building bridges, roads and dams, founding new processes and the like in some far away land, tortures his studious hours.

Everyone is lagging along between classes, hating like they hate poison to go into a building. Seniors are getting sentimental about leaving the old place, and soon will be donning caps and gowns to traipse from one historic spot to another and blubbering over it. Engineering students have already visualized their names on a bronze plaque on the old bench sacred to them.

Further indications that things are about over for another year are: Hosain Afghan is spending patient hours in front of fraternity houses that couldn't buy his wares if they sold at a cent; Coffin and Keys has turned loose a bunch of madmen to startle the entire campus; lovers are cluttering up the tram of evenings; people are getting picnic panicky, and you know what that means; everyone is taking the grand opportunity of ducking out to San Francisco on the special to avoid the strain of this soul cata-pulting spring weather; many are panting for a tryout at next Friday's deluge (?) of froth.

Mariani is making the national magazines just to prove that success is not a thing of the past. His "oggie-eyed girl" which was used to illustrate a feature article in a recent issue of the Desert Wolf was reproduced in the current College Humor. Take your bow, Capistrano.

Laurels to Fred Collins, that austere econ instructor, for doing one thing which has stumped the rest of us, separating the Pope twins. At least we assume he knows which is Carlotta and which is Dortha.

Freaks, yes, Nevada has 'em, and in bunches. Four well known lads are marked men in this world. They are Don Butler, Cid Maydwell, Ned Morehouse and Skipper Loomis. Each has a distinguished lock of hair which is slightly out of harmony with the rest

Letters to the Editor

Editor Sagebrush—With the adoption of the new constitution Nevada has entered into what is hoped will be a new phase of her activities. Whether or not this hope will be realized depends largely on the choice of chief executive. He will be faced with peculiar difficulties as the first president to interpret and apply this new form of government, so it behooves us to elect the best possible man for this vital position. The new president must not be tied too closely to any one group but must be a leader who is a Nevadan in the sense that he represents the students as a whole.

Among the several candidates Ned Morehouse seems to have the requisite qualities to a higher degree than any of the others. That he is a leader is shown by his record since he has attended the university. He has advanced high among us by individual effort along lines that require initiative and force of character. There has never been any question of favoritism or manipulation in his advancement, for what he has accomplished he has done alone. He is conscientious and painstaking to a fault, as may be verified by his instructors and fellow students.

New Morehouse will represent the entire student body, for he is not shackled by fraternal ties to any single organization. His first consideration will be the good of the greatest number and his opinion will not be modified by factors of favoritism or obligation. His candidacy is sponsored by the "Independent Students Organization," but the nomination was accepted without the understanding that he would not be obligated in any way to them, except to recognize them as an integral part of the student organization, something which heretofore has not been done.

In voting for Ned Morehouse you will be assured that your ballot is cast for the one candidate who is best qualified by ability, character and leadership to carry on the duties of president for the ensuing year.

Yours for better government.
 FRED FLETCHER.

This home ecker, Mildred Huber, is deserving of a big hand for the manner in which she handled the Mackay Day luncheon; and of course Jack Smith, the man behind the scenes, kept things rolling smoothly, too.

The next issue of the Desert Wolf will have its share of beer advertising, according to the managers. Pending, of course, the brewers' sanction.

Here's something big for any of you fraternity men to do: convince the erratic Jim Leonard that your candidate is more suitable than the independent candidate, "whoever he may be," as Jim says.

FIRST TRACK MEET

Tomorrow afternoon Nevada students will be afforded the opportunity of viewing the potential track varsity for this season. To date only two letter men have turned out for this major sport, and with an inexperienced squad with which to work Coach Brick Mitchell has, during the past several weeks, worked his available material up into a representative squad.

The meet tomorrow is the annual interclass fray, and with the spirit of class rivalry dominant the spectator should witness some thrilling contests in both track and field events.

The interest that Nevada students take in this most popular of American college spring sports will in a great measure be representative of the interest that the possible track men themselves will take in future meets.

One of three major sports, track should be as strong or stronger than either basketball or football. In the past, before the Philbrook regime, Nevada's track teams were by far the most powerful in Far Western Conference circles.

If Nevada students are desirous of having a track team that will be sent to dual and conference meets at the expense of the student body, then it is up to these same members of the A. S. U. N. to give this major sport a helping hand and to attend not only the meet tomorrow but all the other home meets on the 1933 schedule.

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Again the student body has an opportunity to vote on new amendments to the present A. S. U. N. constitution. This time worthy amendments have been submitted by the executive committee for the approval of the student body and will be voted on next Friday at the regular student body meeting.

The amendment pertaining to class managers is particularly advantageous for good student government and should be passed by the student body unanimously.

The other proposal in regard to more definite rules for eligibility for publication heads also is worthy of support and should do away with much of the friction that now exists because of inability of underclass men to handle publication jobs though they have satisfied the four semester requirements.

Members of the publications board approve of the new amendments but are planning on making an amendment to this amendment stating that both amendments pertaining to publications shall become effective next spring.

The reason for giving these new amendments a one year duration before becoming effective is in line with the theory that any changes in qualifications for these A. S. U. N. publication positions, without at least one year's notice, would be most detrimental for the selection of the best men for the jobs.

At the student body meeting Friday the students are urged to accept this amendment to the original amendment and to then vote for both the changes in the class managerial system and changes in publication head requirements.

The members of the Mackay Day committee, with Ray Hackett as chairman, is particularly worthy of congratulations for the very splendid celebration that was afforded Nevada students last Saturday. The entire program went off as per schedule and no slips were made by anybody who had work to accomplish. As a result the campus was cleaned up in good shape and all the other events on the day's program were successful in their entirety.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Providing an amendment to Article XII, concerning class officers.

Section 3:

(a) Class Managers shall take an oath of office in a regular A. S. U. N. meeting before such Managers shall be recognized as official representatives of their respective classes.

(b) The oath for such an officer shall be provided and approved by the A. S. U. N. Executive Committee, and shall be administered by each outgoing manager.

(c) In the case of the incoming Freshman class of each fall semester, the A. S. U. N. President shall administer the oath of office to the duly elected Freshman Manager.

(d) In the case of a Class Manager vacancy occurring, the A. S. U. N. Executive Committee shall authorize a class election for the purpose of electing a new Class Manager, and the A. S. U. N. President shall administer the oath of office to the new Manager.

Providing an amendment to Article VII, concerning publications to amend Sections 2a and 2b, Sections 3a and 3b and provide for Section 10, Section 2.

(e) Upperclass standing as contained in Section 2a and Section 2b shall be defined as the minimum number of hours required for senior standing in the particular college in which any individual is registered, Section 3.

(f) Upperclass standing as contained in Section 3a and Section 3b shall be defined as the minimum number of hours required for senior standing in the particular college in which any individual is registered. (Proviso) Sections 2c and 3c shall become effective before the elections of the spring semester of 1934.

Section 10—No Editor or Business Manager of any official A. S. U. N. publication shall be qualified to succeed himself as Editor or Business Manager of that publication, and in addition shall be ineligible to hold such a position on the staff of any other publication. (To become effective the day after passage.)

It takes resourcefulness . . .

Time and again, Bell System engineers have demonstrated their pioneering bent in working out unusual telephone construction problems.

For example, they laid a huge conduit under the Harlem River. They dredged a trench in the river bottom, lowered enormous sections of iron pipe, sent down divers to join the sections, encased the finished tube in concrete. Through this they ran telephone cables forming one of New York's main lines of communication. Across the Gila River in Arizona they constructed a catenary span 2373 feet long. To bridge oceans, they developed radio telephony. They have built telephone lines over mountains, across deserts, through swamps.

Their resourcefulness in getting through, over or under natural barriers makes possible telephone service that is practically world wide in reach.

Activity Awards Presented Students During Mackay Day

Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu Are Winners of Trophies
Bibb, Word and Barrett Are Winners in Beard Contest

The conclusion of the Mackay Day luncheon and the annual Whiskerino dance last Saturday was featured by the presentation of awards for various campus activities.

These awards were given for basketball, men's and women's rifle teams, engineers' chaining contest, Gothic N, volleyball and swimming, beard competition, best costume and for percentage of work attendance of the fraternities.

For participation in 60 per cent or more, of all the games played during the 1932-33 basketball season, ten members of the varsity squad were presented with sweaters and Block N letters by Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie. These men were Dan Bledsoe, Lloyd Guffrey, Ray Hackett, Robert Leighton, Keith Lee, Jack Hill, Victor Carroll, Harold Curran, Bruce Gould, Cecil Stowell and Manager Edmund Rezonzo.

Members of the women's rifle team to receive their circle N included Dorothy Gordon, Margaret Place, Mary Swett, Ellen Eckman, Cathrine Dondero, Elizabeth Frey, Katherine Wright, Myra Sauer, Louise Tidball and Pauline Thompson. Awards for the men's team went to Ned Morehouse, Bela Harcos, Paul Fontana, Walter Huntington, Robert Palmer, Robert Anderson, Neil Plath, Paul Walker, Arthur Chloupek and William Kottke.

The cup for the best time in the annual engineers' chaining contest went to the Independent team composed of Walter Mattson and Bill Squires. These men laid the chain in the record breaking time of 2:26. Other teams competing were: Sigma Phi Sigma, Plath and Gelder; Lambda Chi, Arentz and Steffins; Sigma Nu, Beemer and Seaborn.

Ellen Eckman, an Independent, was awarded the rifle trophy. Miriam Butler of the Pi Beta Phi won the volleyball cup, and the swimming award went to Blanche Keegan, also of Pi Beta Phi.

Itallo Ns for outstanding work on the editorial or business staff of the U. of N. Sagebrush were awarded at the Mackay Day luncheon.

Editor Kenneth Johnson gave the letters to seven members of the editorial staff: Myra Sauer Frances Smith, John McNamara, Ed Montgomery, Bill McMenamin, Ned Morehouse and Jack Myles.

"Ohio" Korner, business manager, presented the Ns to three members of his business staff, Elina Jensen, Bill Crowell and Jim Wallace. Johnson, in commenting on the eligibility necessary for a student to receive a letter, said, "These awards are given to staff members who have done particularly meritorious work during the past year."

Bids to the Gothic N society, women's athletic group, were announced by Blanche Radcliffe. Those to receive the bids were Elizabeth Frey, Helene Stark, Myra Sauer, Marthine Solares, Blanche Keegan, Charlotte Pope and Helen Olmstead. Mary Trudelle and Helen Peterson, graduating members of the society, were awarded Gothic N blankets.

Sharing honors for the biggest and best beards were Forrest Bibb, Bob Barrett and Red Word. Bibb's beard was judged the blackest, Barrett's the longest and Word's the reddest. For the fraternities collectively, Sigma Nu won first place in the beard percentage with Sigma Phi Sigma a close second. Professor C. L. Searcy of the faculty

Women Issue Ninth Edition Of Sagebrush

Last week celebrated the ninth anniversary of the woman's edition of the Sagebrush as an annual tradition. In the years before this the women of the campus and the alumni had published issues of the Sagebrush but not as a regular event. In 1924 the women on the staff of the Sagebrush organized, during the editorship of Paul Harwood, and published a successful women's edition, establishing a tradition on the university campus. The editor of this edition was Bertha Standfast, assisted by Louise Davies.

The first women's edition of the Sagebrush appeared March 6, 1917, under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A., with Faith Maris as its editor. This was published during the height of the World war and was patriotic in nature. At this time it had been fairly common for the classes and the alumni to sponsor the special issue of the Sagebrush, but the women had not braved the venture.

Not until 1927, ten years later, was the custom of printing the women's edition of the Sagebrush on the Friday before Mackay Day established. Dating from April 1, 1927, the Mackay Day women's edition of the Sagebrush has become a tradition.

The men of the campus were given the privilege of suppressing the women's edition in 1924, but never exercised the right. During the following years the men preferred issuing a "Razberry Sheet" to offset the efforts of the women, but that custom has not been as evident in the past two or three years.

Memorial Bench to Be Finished Later

A bronze Nevada wolf which was to be erected before the recently completed Haseman-Jones memorial bench, according to the original plans, will not be placed there until some time next year, when weather conditions are settled. Although the memorial was officially dedicated last Saturday.

At the Mackay Day celebration a bronze plaque was unveiled which bore the simple inscription, "Charles Haseman and J. Claude Jones, Deans of Men, 1929 and 1932, by the Associated Students."

The Reverend F. D. Graves of St. Stephen's chapel spoke the opening and concluding prayers, the crowd standing bareheaded throughout the ceremony. An official presentation of the memorial was made by Keith Lee, student body president, and was accepted by Prof. R. C. Thompson in behalf of the university.

Speaking of the services rendered by Deans Haseman and Jones to the university, President Walter E. Clark commented briefly on their careers, while Silas E. Ross, regent, characterized the men he knew so intimately as "teachers, counsellors, friends."

Cold weather toward the close of Mackay Day caused the cement base of the recently completed memorial to crack by retarding the setting of the cement. Workmen removed the damaged surface this week and replaced it with fresh cement.

and William Beemer of Sigma Nu won the prizes for being the most originally costumed.

Lambda Chi Alpha won the traditional cup for 100 per cent work attendance, with S. A. E. a close second. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority won the award for being 100 per cent costumed.

Furniture Featured At Art Exhibit

The sixth exhibit, that of period furniture, sponsored by the Fine Arts group of the University of Nevada, was held Wednesday and Thursday of this week in the university library. Eighteen pieces of furniture were exhibited, and numerous smaller articles, such as candlestick holders, ash trays and tapestries.

The furniture was all original, including a Queen Ann love seat, Louis quatorize wall print, Dutch colonial chair, Victorian oil painting, Luis quize wall print, sixteenth century English floor clock, Duncan Phyfe table, Victorian straight chair, Empire sofa, Louis sieze wall print, seventeenth century Spanish "capa" wall hangings and two wall sconces.

One of the most famous pieces is a sixteenth century English floor clock. Only one more is in existence and that is in the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts in New York City.

Members of the Fine Arts group who acted as guides at this exhibit were Oscar Robinson, Adelyn Rotholz, Margot Evans, Alyce Couch, Virginia Murgotten and Dorothy Cooper.

A.W.S. Scholarship Benefit Postponed

The jitney dance which was scheduled for tonight has been called off by the Associated Women Students because such a large number of students have taken advantage of the rates and are leaving for San Francisco today.

Katherine Ligon, A. W. S. president, stated that the full cooperation of every student was necessary to raise the fund for the A. W. S. scholarship, for the benefit of which the affair was to be given, and that with so many students gone the dance could not be staged successfully.

If a desirable date cannot be found for the function in the future the women will devise another means of raising the money.

Cap and Scroll To Elect Members

The Cap and Scroll society held its meeting at Wa-Neva lodge at Galena Creek Sunday, March 26. The organization enjoyed a breakfast at the lodge preceding the meeting.

No definite plans were made concerning Cap and Scroll. However, there will be a meeting in a short time to elect women students who are eligible to the organization.

Cap and Scroll is a purely honorary society for women students who have proved themselves leaders on the campus in activities, scholarship, service and citizenship. A woman must be a leader in one activity and be participating in another activity. She must also have an average of 2.03. Approximately seven women are elected at the close of the college year from the incoming and outgoing senior women.

Mackay Day Dance Financial Success

Over $100 was taken in at the door during the Mackay Day dance, and it is expected by Graduate Manager Bernard Hartung that there will be a clear profit of more than $75 to go to the university, after all expenses incurred by the committee are paid.

Since most of the equipment used for the dance was either donated or sold for a small amount, the expenses will not be high.

Mildred Huber, who was in charge of the Mackay Day luncheon, has reported that the home economics department has made a profit of nearly $30 from the luncheon.

Considering the lowered prices for both of these affairs, the profit was in excess of the amount planned, and marks one of the few times during the past year that a university function has been given without incurring a loss.

Plans Are Held Up For College Night

Arrangements for College Night, which is to be held at the Majestic theater, are at a standstill pending arrival of a suitable picture to accompany the affair, Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, stated this week.

The aim of the committee is to have a picture which will coincide with the acts to be put on by campus dramatists.

College Night will be devoted to skits, acts and songs given by students from the university. The purpose of the affair is to raise money for the general A. S. U. N. fund.

C. A. Tompkins, manager of the Majestic theater, has pledged his support to this enterprise.

Blue Key, service fraternity, will be in charge of ticket sales.

There are twice as many swimmers as track and football men at the University of Southern California.

Each Amherst university professor who delays in giving students marks for more than 10 days is fined a dollar for each additional day's delay.

Campus Infirmary Has Busy Week

Two cases of appendicitis, one of influenza and nine inoculations was the work handled by the campus hospital last week, according to Miss Shurtleff, nurse in charge.

Wesley Kennedy of the Beta Kappa fraternity and Harold Brown of the A. T. O. fraternity were both taken to St. Mary's hospital last Thursday suffering from appendicitis. Brown has recovered sufficiently to be released, but Kennedy is still convalescing.

Mary Burt, resident of Manzanita hall, is confined to the hospital suffering from an attack of influenza.

Inoculations to prevent typhoid, paratyphoid and smallpox were administered to the nine students taking advanced military training. These precautions were taken to prevent diseases the young officers might contract while at summer military camps.

Miss Rose Mahana '31, who is now teaching in Hawthorne, was among the visitors for Mackay Day. While on the campus she was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity will have election of officers next Monday night.

Blues Whip Whites In Hotly Contested Game Mackay Day

Flournoy Makes Only Touchdown Shortly Before Last Quarter to Cinch Game

Blues Make Many First Downs and Gain Much Ground Throughout Game

Displaying a greater power in their line and having a slight advantage in ball carrying, Lee Priest's Blues defeated Tom Cashill's Whites in an interesting exhibition of spring football on Mackay field last Saturday.

Flournoy, ball carrying Blue half-back, skirted left end for the lone touchdown shortly after the opening of the fourth quarter. Becas failed to convert. Aside from the lone score and one or two other threats on the part of the Blue team, the ball was kept in the middle of the field for the most part. The Blues' scoring offense began toward the end of the third quarter, with Becas, Freudenberg and Stephens carrying the ball for consistent gains.

Hard to Score
The Blue team made many first downs and gained ground consistently, but when they came within scoring distance the White defense stiffened and the Blues lost the ball on a fumble.

The first threat to score on the part of the Blues came in the first quarter, when they succeeded in pushing the ball to the ten yard line. On the next play the White line held and they took the ball and kicked out of danger.

Best Play
The best executed play of the game came from the White side of the line, however. On a triple reverse, which completely baffled the Blues, Hawkins, White halfback, broke into the clear for a substantial gain, only to be downed by Flournoy, playing safety for the Blues. The play was so deceptive that it pulled the entire Blue team to the opposite side of the field looking for the ball packer.

The White team on a few other occasions started drives which appeared to be scoring threats, but each time they came within scoring distance the heavier Blue team managed to turn them back.

Phillips, Flournoy and Freudenberg played outstanding ball for the Blues, while Sheehan and Austin, linesmen, and Walker and Cockrell, backfield men, played a good game for the Whites.

The game climaxed spring football practice and will be held annually on each succeeding Mackay Day.

Between the halves the spectators were entertained by the engineers' "chaining" contest between two men teams from the various fraternities.

Mary Ruth Seamon, popular member of the class of '32, and Thomas Craven, of Yerington and Reno, former U. of N. student, were married March 23 by Prof. R. C. Thompson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Seamon, on North Virginia street.

The bride who attended the University of Nevada during her junior and senior years, is teaching at present in the Fernley school.

At college she was active in Gamma Phi Beta sorority and was a delegate to the national convention. She was also a member of Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary English society, and the women's upperclass committee.

Craven, who has a law practice in Yerington and Reno, also attended the university for a time and was graduated from Hastings' law school in San Francisco. In Reno, he has been associated with Wm. McKnight, Reno attorney.

Tennis Courts Made Ready for Season

Considerable repair work has been done on the University of Nevada tennis courts during the last two weeks and they are in good shape for another strenuous season of tournaments and physical education classes, according to Chester Soranton, physical education director.

During the Mackay Day work the faculty and members of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity cleaned up the courts, painted the lines and placed a bridge across the ditch at the south side of the courts. Labor hired by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation repaired the nets.

Kappa Kappa Psi Holds Meeting

A regular meeting was held by the Kappa Kappa Psi, national music organization, Tuesday afternoon to take care of reports and make plans for the spring concert.

A budget of band expenses for the ensuing year was drawn up, and it is to be presented to the finance control committee for approval. Preliminary plans for the annual spring concert, to be held April 9, were made and definite arrangements will be published at a later date. The next meeting will be a banquet, April 11.

GAMMA PHI ELECTS

Gamma Phi Beta this week had election of officers for the ensuing year. Those who will manage the Gamma Phi chapter are: Alyce Couch, president; Esther Ronzone, vice president; Donnie Sullivan, secretary, and Mildred Basta, treasurer.

sideration will also be given to stage movement, crossing, "business" during breaks in action, proper balance, et cetera. Judging of the Shakespearean scenes will be upon the same basis.

The dramatic interpretation contest involves the selection by the contestant of a one act play, and after cutting it to fifteen minutes rendering it from the printed page, not memorized. The play will not be acted, but will depend upon suggestion by means of voice and facial expression to interpret the various characters. No classifications will be made according to schools in this event.

"Banking Systems of the United States, Canada and the More Important European Countries" is the topic of the extempore speaking contest. The delivery will be limited to ten minutes, and drawing of the subjects will take place a half-hour before the speech.

Each school must be prepared to debate on either side of the question, "Resolved, that at least 50 per cent of all governmental revenues should be derived from sources other than tangible property." Sides will be determined one hour before the event, and each team will be given two ten minute constructive argument periods and two rebuttals.

A main feature of the tournament is the oratorical contest on the Constitution of the United States, which will be held Friday at 2 o'clock. It was last year won by Carl Dodge of Reno, who was rewarded with a trip to Los Angeles and the opportunity to compete with winners of similar contests throughout the United States.

The tournament is sponsored by four honorary societies of the university, which are The Gavel, Campus Players, Mask and Dagger and Chi Delta Phi. It is in charge of a central council composed of Robert S. Griffin and William C. Miller of the university's faculty and Margaret Martin as general secretary.

Students prominent in the speech arts make up the committee taking care of the arrangements and includes Mary A. Thompson, Wayne Van Voorhies, Granville Fletcher, Jean McIntyre, Blythe Bulmer, Don Butler, Margorie Mullen, Elwin Jeffers, Bryce Rhodes, James Thompson, Vernon Loveridge, George Lohse, Oscar Robb-players to produce unified effect. Mackay Field Made Ready for Season

Assisted by hired labor, the University of Nevada track managerial staff has prepared Mackay field and the Mackay training quarters for the coming season that will open this Saturday with the annual interclass meet.

Floyd Smalley is manager of the team this year, with Charles Worn, Antonio Chavez and Minor Kibby as his sophomore assistants.

During the Mackay Day work the track was carefully raked and cared for. The managers have also been busy preparing the broad jump, high jump and pole vaulting pits for the coming season.

Freshman Tennis Tourney Started

Freshman tennis stars started play this week on an interfraternity tennis tournament promoted by the physical education department heads to prepare the men for a prospective schedule of contests with the high school tennis teams of this section of the state.

A freshman ladder tournament will also be held to determine the outstanding players in the freshman class. A similar tournament is being held in the sophomore class. Among the outstanding players in the freshman tournaments are: Vernon Tapogna, Alpha Tau Omega; Jack Cameron and Jack Blum, Sigma Nu; "Doc" Paradis, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Irvin Wanke, Jack Sullivan and Walter Bowrin, Independents; Joe Clark, Sigma Phi Sigma, and Harry Austin, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Freshmen at Beloit college are required to step off the sidewalk upon the approach of an upperclass man.

kept, as has been shown in the past. No favoritism would be shown in the selection of various committees since such committees must be approved by the senate as provided for in the new constitution. My chief aim as student body president would be to set in operation the new constitution so enthusiastically endorsed by the students in the recent election."

Wallace has participated in the following activities: President of sophomore class, member of mechanical engineers, Blue Key, Sundowners, Sagebrush staff and member of the Mackay Day committee for two years.

Marthine Solares, candidate for the office of president of the Associated Women Students, states her platform: "I think that many women on the campus do not realize that they are members of A. W. S. and that they are needed by that organization to enable it to carry on its work successfully. If elected, I would try to make the meetings interesting to every woman, and to institute new committees for A. W. S. activities and entertainment, thus giving a larger number of women positions in this group."

Frances Smith is assistant editor of the Sagebrush, two year member of the Artemisia staff, secretary of the Student Presidents' Convention committee, sophomore hop committee, frosh glee committee and secretary of the freshman class.

Frances Smith, Kappa Alpha Theta, candidate for A. W. S. president, says: "The Associated Women Students of the University of Nevada are not united in action or spirit. Some of the women on the campus do not even realize that they are members of this important organization. If elected, I hope to stimulate more interest in A. W. S. activities by having lively meetings and entertainment for the women. I shall also try to make the organization more representative of the entire group by allowing no personal feeling to enter into my appointments for po-

GROWING A FLOWER GIRL

ILLUSION:
The magician exhibits a flower pot with hinged sides on a table in the center of the stage. He opens out the sides to show that this container is empty. Closing it up, he places a screen between it and the audience. After a short period of magic incantations he removes the screen. The astounded audience sees a beautiful girl, covered to the shoulders in lovely flowers, rising from the "empty" container. Where did she come from?

EXPLANATION:
The girl was hiding behind the drape of the table. There is a trap door in the bottom of the flower pot, with a hole large enough to allow her to crawl through. The flowers, called "magicians' feather flowers," are a regular part of a magician's outfit. The flower girl wears a rubber tunic and a bathing cap to keep the flowers compressed into small space. She slides the tunic down and the flowers expand when she emerges.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED

...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

A trick frequently worked in cigarette advertising is the illusion that mildness in a cigarette comes from mysterious processes of manufacture.

EXPLANATION: All popular cigarettes today are made in modern sanitary factories with up-to-date machinery. All are heat treated—some more intensively than others, because raw, inferior tobaccos require more intensive treatment than choice, ripe tobaccos.

The real difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. The better the tobacco, the milder it is.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

That is why Camels are so mild. That is why Camels have given more pleasure to more people than any other cigarette ever made.

It's the secret of Camels' rich "bouquet"... their cool flavor... their non-irritating mildness.

Give your taste a chance to appreciate the greater pleasure and satisfaction of the more expensive tobaccos.
