Class of 1933 Completes Plans For Senior Week

Tuesday, May 9, Set as Date for Senior Picnic
at Tahoe

Speakers Selected for Annual Campus Pilgrimage by Graduates

Final arrangements for Senior Week were definitely completed by the Senior Week committee Thursday, and the programs are to be printed and distributed to members of the senior class and faculty late next week.

The high point in the week of festivities comes with the senior ball to be given at the State building on Friday, May 12. Bruce Gould, chairman of the committee appointed from the junior class, promises that the affair will be one of the best given in late years and that it will be a fitting climax to Senior Week.

On Monday, May 8, the initial day of the final week, a baseball team, picked from the outstanding players of the senior class, will play for the last time as students on the university baseball field when they meet a picked team of faculty players, headed by such men as Silas Feemster and "Doc" Martie. The traditional battle between students and professors has always been a real contest, since for one time during their college careers the seniors are able to meet their instructors on a common field of battle.

Tuesday, May 9, has been tentatively set as the day for the senior picnic. During the past two years this outing has been neglected, but a promise has been given by the committee this year to the effect that the picnic will definitely be arranged. The probable place is Tamarack lodge near Tahoe City. Senior students will meet in front of the Student Union building at 10 o'clock in the morning and transportation will be provided for them.

Dean Margaret E. Mack and Mrs. Walter E. Clark will entertain the senior women students at a tea Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock all senior students are to meet at the Student Union building in their caps and gowns to begin the annual senior pilgrimage. Keith Lee will deliver the first address.

Under the direction of Katherine Ligon the group will then proceed on the pilgrimage, with short addresses being given at each of the familiar campus haunts: Tram, Maryanne Peck; bulletin board, Mason Myers; Hasek-Jones memorial, John Pant; Morrill hall steps, Margaret Rawson; Mackay statue, Eva Edwards, and Mackay field, Al Seeliger.

Friday morning all seniors are to attend the last A. S. U. N. meeting of the year, and in the afternoon from 3 to 5:30 o'clock Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity will entertain the senior women at a tea given in their honor at the fraternity house on Evans avenue.

Nine o'clock Friday evening members of the senior class will be guests of the junior class at the annual senior ball to be given at the State building.

Coffin and Keys and Cap and Scroll will entertain all members of the senior class at a tea dance to be given at the Alpha Tau Omega house Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Each senior will be assessed $2.50 for the senior picnic and if it is agreed upon the rest of the general fund will be left as a memorial to be used in making additions to the Student Union building.

Press Club Members Honored by Banquet

The University of Nevada Press club held its first annual banquet last night at the El Cortez hotel in honor of the twelve new members of the club. President Walter E. Clark of the university was honored guest and principal speaker of the evening.

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the courses of journalism and a charter member of the club, addressed the group on "What the University of Nevada Press Club Can Do."

Jack Myles, president of the Press club, welcomed the new members telling them the purpose and plans of the organization.

Martinez to Head Intergreek Council For Fall Semester

Ed Martinez, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was elected president of interfraternity council at a meeting of that group last week. Jack Smith and Antoine Primaux were chosen by members of the organization to fill the positions of vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Martinez will replace Jim Wallace as head of the intergreek governmental body, and will begin active service in this capacity when the new student administration goes into effect in the fall. During the last few weeks the members of the committee have been at work on plans for the interfraternity picnic which, if a success this year, will probably become an annual affair.

Complete arrangements announced by Lee Priest, chairman of the committee, state that the picnic will be held at Sutcliffe's, Pyramid Lake, on Sunday, April 30. Cars carrying students will meet in front of the gymnasium Sunday morning, and all travel to the picnic grounds together.

Pacific Cops Meet By One Point Win

Nevada Drops Victory by 66-65
Score; Leonard, Hromadka
Wolf Stars

By DENVER DICKERSON

A scant quarter of an inch in the broad jump spelled defeat for Nevada in a lively track meet held here with the College of Pacific last Saturday. Bardin of Pacific nosed out Jack Hill in the broad jump and then the visiting relay team easily took that race to cap the meet, by a score of 66 to 65.

The fastest and most outstanding race of the day was exhibited by Hoobyar of Pacific, who ran the 440 in the fast time of 50 flat to easily capture that event.

The high hurdles proved to be the closest race of the day, with Hromadka of Nevada nosing out Richardson of the Bengals on the home stretch. In the low hurdles Hromadka again won, but in this race he was not so hard pressed as in the previous one.

Paul Leonard, Wolf miler, cut two seconds from his previous performance in the mile, and took that race in 4 minutes and 35 seconds. Leonard recently ran the mile in 4:37 to win at the meet held with the Cal Aggies.

The following are the results of the meet:

100 yard dash—H. Hill (N), Bardin (P), J. Hill (N); time, 10.3 seconds.
440 yard run—Hoobyar (P), Ulmer (P), Beemer (N); time, 50 seconds.
120 high hurdles—Hromadka (N), Richardson (P), Seiber (P); time, 15.8 seconds.

Two mile run—Arentz (N), Synthe (N), Parsons (P); time, 11 minutes 9 seconds.
880 yard run—Wicker (P), Leonard (N), Hatch (P); time, 2 minutes 8.2 seconds.

220 yard dash—H. Hill (N), Bardin (P), Hoobyar (P); time, 22.4 seconds.
220 yard low hurdles—Hromadka (N), J. Hill (N), Richardson (P); time, 26.2 seconds.

Pole vault—Bledsoe (N), Dennison (N) and Easterbrook (P) tied for second; height, 10 feet 6 inches.
Javelin—Farina (P), Kjeldeen (P), Bledsoe (N); distance, 172 feet.

Shot put—Brown (P), Russel (P), J. Hill (N); distance, 40 feet 8 inches.
High jump—Bledsoe (N) and Harvey Hill (N) tied for first, Corsen (P) second; height, 5 feet 11 inches.

Discus—Russel (P), Thies (N), Seiber (P); distance, 125 feet 7 inches.
Broad jump—Bardin (P), J. Hill (N), Farina (P); distance, 20 feet 10 1/2 in.

Relay—Pacific team composed of Hoobyar, Wicker, Ulmer and Richardson; time, 3 minutes and 31 seconds.

Mask and Dagger Initiates Members

Mask and Dagger initiated Jean McIntyre of Reno, Herbert Peck of Ely, Donald Butler of Sparks and William C. Miller, dramatic coach, at a banquet at the Virginia inn Wednesday evening.

The affair was in the fashion of a reunion for Mask and Dagger members, since several of the old members were present as were the active members and initiates.

Alumni members there were Renee Duke, Helen Prenderville, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Trevitt, Bernard Hartung, Hoyt Martin, Gwen Pierson, Joe Jackson and Tom Wilson. The members are Blythe Bulmer, Geraldine Harbert, John Mariani, Paul A. Harwood and Robert Griffin.

As a part of the program, Helen Prenderville recalled the activities of Mask and Dagger when she was an active member. Robert Griffin gave a "pep" talk, urging the members to take advantage of their opportunities as members of the organization, and William C. Miller outlined his plans for future productions.

Sir Francis Wylie Speaks to Students On Noted Educator

Rhodes Scholarship Secretary
Heard by Large Crowd of Students

"Cecil Rhodes and His Ideals"
Is Subject of Speech

Addressing a large crowd of students and faculty members on the subject of "Cecil Rhodes and His Ideals," Sir Francis Wylie, secretary of Rhodes Scholarship, this morning gave an intimate sketch of the man's ideals and how he made it possible to carry them out.

Sir Francis Wylie was knighted in 1929 by George V of England for his work with the Rhodes Scholarship movement, and was introduced to his Nevada audience as one of its most able exponents. Charles Chaffield, Nevada Rhodes scholar in 1921, who made the introduction, accredited the distinguished visitor with twenty-seven years' service with the Rhodes movement since its beginning in 1903.

In his crisp Oxonian English, Sir Francis mildly corrected the speaker to state that he had been secretary for twenty-eight, not twenty-seven, years.

Characterizing Cecil Rhodes, the speaker said that he wore a mask which hid the idealism that was there behind his quiet, practical exterior. "A reviewer said of Rhodes, 'that he despised of getting people to understand his mystic side and retired into the shrine of his imagination,'" Wylie declared.

Sir Francis spoke of Cecil Rhodes' burning ambition for the future of the world to make "a foundation so great and so powerful as to hereafter render your work impossible." Through the young men of all nations, he proposed to spread those ideals and to educate the world in them.

How Rhodes did this, and where those ideals found their beginnings, was the substance of a talk which characterized Rhodes from his early manhood in the Union of South Africa to his later influential position in English politics and education.

Rhodes was said to have started life with no particular advantages. The son of a parson, he was early sent to South Africa for his health, and at about 19 he went to the Kimberly diamond fields.

He was pictured by the speaker as a young man whose imagination was far away from the diamond fields, always slightly aloof—sitting in old flannels on an upturned bucket gazing into the distance, dreaming of the future of England and the extension of British civilization.

Contacts with Oxford university, where he was educated, were said to be influential in crystallizing his earlier idealism. In England, where he was a statesman and altruist, Sir Francis said that Rhodes formulated his plans, making no less than six wills up to the time of his death in order to provide for his educational plans.

In conclusion, Sir Francis explained that he "liked to end up stating that scholarships were not Rhodes' only legacy, a fund being left to promote the peace of the world and esteem for the performance of public duties." He declared in impressive fashion that "You and I can be scholars of Rhodes, if we keep before us disinterested service to the community and to our fellow men."

Sophs and Juniors Choose Managers

Franzen Loomis, Sigma Nu, and popular sophomore on the campus, was elected junior manager for the coming year at a sophomore class meeting held last Tuesday afternoon. Joe Clark, freshman and member of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, was elected by the freshman class as sophomore manager.

Loomis has been prominent in campus activities and is a member of Blue Key. He was a nominee for the Rhodes scholarship to Oxford university this year.

Louise Reil '33 spent Easter vacation in Winnemucca visiting her parents.

Nevada's Desert Wolf Makes Last Howl Good One in Thursday Issue

By KAY WARDLEIGH
The Desert Wolf took a last long laugh at the University of Nevada students yesterday when it made its final bow to the campus. The last issue, edited by Denver Dickerson and managed by Lino Del Grande, is one of the best in the life of the comic.

Full of quips and clever "dirt," an Inside Dope story gives the "lowdown" on many campus luminaries, while that brilliant contributor, known to his fans as Brent Colewood, makes his bow with several tales of student life. "Meet Annie Laurie's Double," "Relatives Galore" and "College Laments" are all products of his ingenious brain. Those two mysterious originals, Abdul

Greek Letter Men Celebrate Sunday At Pyramid Lake

And another cold glass of fluid is gulped down amid a handful of pretzels. Yes, you're right. The place is Pyramid Lake, the day is Sunday, April 30, and all the Greek letter men are celebrating their first annual picnic.

Entertainment will include swimming and baseball. Lee Priest is the chairman of the committee and expresses the idea that this picnic will be more favorable with the students than the heretofore annual interfraternity dance.

A special lunch providing enough for two persons can be bought for 60 cents by all those wishing to take a guest.

Advice to Lovelorn Study Is Made by Prof. Higginbotham

Women More Interested in Love Than Men, 80 Per Cent Count Shows

College Students Have Many Worries and Ask Lots of Questions

"Newspaper 'advice to the lovelorn' columns, which receive an undue amount of ridicule, are an important social factor in solving the matrimonial problems of America," Professor A. L. Higginbotham, of the department of journalism, said in his address before members of the Faculty Science club yesterday afternoon in the Agriculture building.

Higginbotham stated that few people who laugh at such articles realize that they have a very definite confessional value, and that "getting things off one's mind" is an important step toward solving the problems even though the advice is not directly followed.

Interesting facts brought out in his talk on "A Newspaper Confessional" were that practically all of such letters are genuine, and that every class of society, from people who live in tenement districts to social registerites, are among the inquirers. Many of the letters are written by college graduates.

Eighty per cent of all questioners are women, which, Professor Higginbotham stated, carries out the general opinion that love is of more interest to women than to men.

Questions on a great variety of subjects are asked, but the more common include lovers' quarrels and how to patch them up; differences in tastes, temperament and ideals of prospective mates in marriage, and the propriety and morality of petting.

Professor Higginbotham's findings were based upon a study of 100 letters appearing in lovelorn columns selected from fourteen daily newspapers widely representative of the United States and Canada. His analysis included the answering of questionnaires by such well known affectional columnists as Dorothy Dix and "The Chaperone."

Partridge Etchings On Exhibition Now

A group of etchings by Rol Partridge in conjunction with twenty pastels by Ray Boynton was on exhibit this week in the library, sponsored by the Fine Arts group of the University of Nevada. The Partridge etchings will be shown next week also.

Rol Partridge is rated as one of the best of 100 etchers in the world. He belongs to the California Society of Etchers and California Print Makers. His most famous etching, which was classed in 1928 as one of the best of 50 etchings in the world, that of Snow Fields, was on exhibit and created much talk. Partridge is on the faculty of Mills college.

Ray Boynton's exhibit, shown in the library last week, was held over this week also.

Members of the Fine Arts group acted as guides at this exhibit.

Solons Stop Many School Activities With Budget Cuts

$75,000 Bond Issue Authorized to Cover Federal Funds
in Closed Banks

Nevada State Bureau of Mines
Hardest Hit by Budget
Reductions

By PETE WALTERS

Changes made in the budget of the recently adjourned session of the state legislature affected the funds of the University of Nevada and curtailed the activities of affiliated organizations. Other legislative bills affected the different departments of the university in various ways.

A bill was passed creating a $75,000 bond issue to be used to replace federal funds of the university which are tied up in the closed banks. This emergency bond issue was necessary to insure continued federal aid under the second Morrill act of congress. Federal appropriations to this university along with other land grant colleges, constitute a large part of the support of the institution. A provision in the congressional act makes it necessary for the colleges to redeem sums lost in bank closures.

The legislature authorized the comptroller to transfer the $88,200 in the permanent building fund to the general fund. Authorization was also granted to sell part of the University of Nevada farm to the state for a highway right of way on the widened Carson highway. The sale of this land amounted to one dollar. At present the farm is being leased to Ted Baker of the Denny Riding stables.

The Nevada Bureau of Mines was virtually abolished in the curtailment of the budget, being appropriated only $100 annually. This bureau, under the direction of the board of regents, was established in 1929 with an annual appropriation of $5000, which was increased to $10,000 in 1931. A. M. Smith, active administrator of the bureau's work and its mining engineer, will automatically be released at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

The bureau will exist in name only, with an information service being maintained by the teaching staff of the school of mines, as was the case before the legislature established a bureau. The public assay work will still be carried on by the school of mines. Five thousand dollars was appropriated to carry on that work.

Appropriations for the work of the university agricultural extension service were cut in half. The bills, which originated in the house ways and means committee, set the appropriation for work in western Nevada at $6200, for work in eastern Nevada at $6800. There will be no drastic changes in the department because of federal aid enabling the continuance of the extension work.

The department of education was affected by the passage of a bill which renewed the certificates of normal school graduates. By the passage of this measure teachers who, according to their certificates, should take at least three hours of college work, were eliminated from this necessity.

Dr. F. W. Traner says that the bill merely excuses some teachers from their negligence in failing to renew contracts. This bill will be in effect for only the next two years.

Two other bills of especial interest to the department of education were lost in committee. One was to prevent married women without other means of support from teaching, and the other was to make compulsory the hiring of 90 per cent of teaching staffs who are residents of Nevada, with preference to be given to U. of N. graduates.

Dr. Traner is not disappointed in the failure of these bills. He believes that 90 per cent of teachers from one state is not the best thing for the interests of the students. Married women in some of the smaller localities are best fitted to teach in those places in some cases, according to Traner.

Attracting the most attention of bills pertaining to the university was the one proposed and passed by both houses to limit to $6000 the salary of the university's president. After the close of the session Governor Balzar vetoed the bill, saying that he believed such powers should be left in the hands of the board of regents.

Reduction of the tax rate prohibits additions to the permanent building fund, going away with that fund altogether.

Other bills having a university angle were: the bill to limit the cost of any state cars to $1000; the bill changing the name of Admission Day to Nevada Day, perhaps necessitating the regular observance of this day by appropriate exercises, etc.; the bill which prohibited the sale of any goods on state property by student cooperatives or similar organizations. This bill was lost in committee.

Donald Atcheson, whose leg was fractured while playing baseball, was operated on Monday morning and is reported as doing very well.

Coeds Entertain Men of University At Matinee Hops

In order to raise money for their annual $25 scholarship for the most deserving woman student, the Associated Women Students of the university are sponsoring a matinee dance this weekend. The scholarship is usually made up from donations by each woman from her registration fee, but funds are tied up in the closed banks and so are unattainable.

Plans for the affair include music and entertainment at each of the sorority houses and Manzanita hall, between the hours of 3 and 5 tomorrow afternoon. All men on the campus are invited to attend, the admission being 10 cents at each house. Refreshments are to be served, it was stated by the committee in charge.

R.O.T.C. to Undergo Annual Inspection

Major Charles E. McCarthy,
U. S. Infantry, to Inspect;
Awards Also Given

The time has come when at least the male freshman and sophomore students of the University of Nevada must shine their shoes. The occasion is the annual R. O. T. C. inspection, which is to take place Wednesday afternoon at the Mackay field.

The inspection this year will be made by Major Charles E. McCarthy of the U. S. infantry. Used to seeing shining saddles and trappings, it is rumored that the major will have a particularly sharp eye out for dust on the shoes and rifles.

Another incentive which has the boys all busy is the awarding of the prizes which are given out on this day. An award is given to the best trained company as well as to the best trained individual soldier. Sergeant Major Russell R. Elliott and his company C won the respective prizes last year.

Lieut. Herbert B. Wilcox of the military department will enjoy the inspection more than he thought he would, because it will not be his last one at the University of Nevada. The U. S. army has a habit of moving its college lieutenants every four years. Lieut. Wilcox, who has been at the University four years, has just received a letter from the war department in which permission to remain another year is granted to him. This is pleasing news to the lieutenant, who likes his position here and has bought his own home on Arlington street.

The administration side of the department was inspected last week by Col. Jerome Pillow of the corps area headquarters in San Francisco.

School Problems Threshed Out by Prexies in Meeting

Means of publishing an annual under present financial conditions, the desirability of five year students and similar problems confronting high schools throughout the state were threshed out at the second annual Nevada High School Presidents' convention which was held at the university recently.

Following a series of banquets and luncheons tendered by different sororities and fraternities, the presidents held three meetings.

A University Day, to be celebrated yearly by every high school represented at this meet, was favorably received. The purpose of this celebration is to acquaint high school students with university life. An alumnus of the high school who is attending the university will be a speaker at the program and will tell of university conditions. University Day came as a result of a great number of students in Nevada high schools being ignorant of the doings of their state university.

A plan that high schools should hold their elections of student body presidents earlier in order to send the incoming president to this yearly convention gained unanimous approval.

A plan suggested to have the state mapped into five school districts was accepted. The largest school in each district will be the leader. Through this it is hoped that a closer relationship among schools will grow up.

Lack of spirit in high school was discussed at length by the presidents. Reno high school suggested that the schools organize pep clubs which will be honorary for the purpose of inciting enthusiasm among the students. It also suggested to hold dances and rallies where talks by prominent local men and short skits would be featured.

Russel Byington of Reno was elected president of this group and Catherine Bates of Ely was chosen as vice president.

Robert Leighton '34 and Helen Oimsted '33 visited their homes in Wells.

Commencement Day Program Outlined By President Clark

John E. Carver Will Deliver
Commencement Day
Address

Baccalaureate Sermon To Be Given by Bayard
H. Jones

Reverend John E. Carver, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ogden, Utah, will deliver the commencement day address on May 15 in honor of the graduating class of 1933. His subject will be, "The Peril of Power." Reverend Carver is an experienced public speaker, having delivered the commencement addresses at several universities. His speaking has made him known throughout the state of Utah as well as in several larger western cities.

The baccalaureate address will this year be delivered by Reverend Bayard H. Jones, dean of Trinity cathedral in Reno. The baccalaureate service will be held Sunday, May 14, at 10:30 a. m., in the university gymnasium.

Both the commencement and the baccalaureate services will be presided over by President Clark. The baccalaureate program plans recently confirmed are as follows:

Prelude from "Orpheus," by University Community orchestra, Professor Theodore Post, conductor.

Invocation, Chaplain F. D. Graves. Reading of Scripture, Professor F. C. Murgotten.

Soprano aria, "Jerusalem" from "St. Paul," Miss Marjorie Stout and the orchestra.

Sermon, "Pioneers of the Future," the Very Reverend Bayard H. Jones. Hymn, "O Worship the King," congregation with orchestra.

Benediction, Professor R. C. Thompson.

The commencement day program will start with the assembling of the academic procession at the south end of the quad between 10 and 10:15 a. m. The procession will start marching to the gymnasium before 10:30, at which time the exercises will begin. The program is as follows:

Processional march, "Tannhauser," by University Community orchestra, Professor Post, conducting.

Invocation, Reverend Brewster Adams.

Address, "The Peril of Power," Reverend John E. Carver.

Baritone aria, "Where'er You Walk," Lawrence Carter '32.

Announcement of prizes, scholarships, senior honors and gold medal awards, Professor J. C. Carpenter, chairman of the scholarships and prizes committee.

Administering of civic oath to the candidates for the baccalaureate degree, Judge B. W. Coleman, justice of the supreme court of Nevada.

Conferring of degrees and presenting diplomas, President Walter E. Clark.

Benediction, Reverend Carl M. Warner.

Guests of honor at the baccalaureate services will be the General C. M. Mitchell post No. 27, members of the Woman's Relief Corps and the officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the Thomas H. Barry camp No. 7, United Spanish War Veterans, and officers of the American Legion.

Nevada Men Hurt In Auto Accident

Bruce Thompson '32, who was injured in an automobile accident shortly before Easter, will probably spend the next two months in a Palo Alto hospital, according to word received here by his father, Prof. R. C. Thompson, dean of men.

Prof. Thompson said that his son's injuries, though serious, apparently had not harmed the spinal cord, and that with a long rest the injured vertebrae would return to their normal positions. X-ray pictures, he said, showed no evidence of a break, which augured well for young Thompson's full recovery.

A law student at Leland Stanford university, Bruce Thompson was riding with George Vargas, son in law of Governor F. B. Balzar and also a law student, when the accident occurred. Neither could account for the accident, except to say that the driver had probably dozed temporarily or both of them had fallen asleep.

When the car hit an obstruction both were rendered unconscious, and Thompson was thought to have landed on his shoulder or side in such a manner as to spread vertebrae. Vargas, also a University of Nevada graduate, received only minor cuts and bruises.

A GOOD IDEA

Looked upon by many campus skeptics as a failure before it was staged, the "Campus Night" show to raise funds to support the university track team surprised its critics and proved to be a complete success. Funds enough to help the university track team through the remainder of the season were easily raised by the group of energetic workers in Blue Key, Sagers and Sagens who turned out to sell tickets.

When proposed by Bernard Hartung, graduate manager, the plan was cried down with a tremendous howl of protest by many seemingly sage students and faculty members. Now that it has proved its worth here as well as at other universities their arguments against it can have little weight. The practice of putting dramatic talent at the university to work in producing acts for a local theater, where they are assured of a much larger audience than ever attends purely college productions, also gives an ideal outlet for the dramatic ability which we know that the students on this campus have.

The efficient way in which the Sagers and Blue Key, with its junior organization, the Sagers, went about disposing of tickets to students, Reno merchants and townspeople is also highly commendable. Under their new form of organization the Sagers are proving more capable than in the past. We are expecting them to do much to assist Blue Key in the handling of rallies, football games and the Wolves' Frolic during the coming school year. With such organizations as these on the campus to sell tickets, "Campus Night" shows cannot fail. May we have many more of them.—W. M.

KEEP THE NEWS BUREAU

"Lack of funds" recently necessitated the abolishment of the news bureau by the Associated Students. Permanent discontinuance of this publicity department will in time prove a fatal boomerang to the student body and the university as a whole. Every educational institution is partially dependent upon favorable comment or publicity for its successful maintenance. If the University of Nevada is to continue soliciting statewide and out of state registration, it must rely to a very great extent on the maintenance of a well organized and properly supervised news bureau. An active publicity department is undoubtedly the greatest drawing card that the university could possibly maintain.

In regard to financing the work of a news bureau there should be no great expense incurred. Copy paper is cheap and proceeds from program sales could and would easily defray the cost of picture cuts used in out of town news stories.

If kept out of politics and placed under the supervision of some capable individual trained and experienced in the field of journalism, there is no reason why an active and efficient news bureau could not be maintained by the Associated Students to great advantage.

If Nevada is to be held in esteem, her name must be carried on a standard with other universities. Only an efficient news bureau can accomplish this end. Outsiders must be informed of Nevada's activities if they are to consider entering this institution. A well supervised news bureau can inform them.

In view of the imperative need of a news bureau at Nevada and in consideration of the favorable benefits to be derived from such a publicity department, the present A. S. U. N. administration and publications board would do well to think twice before permanently abandoning the news bureau.

Wolf Howls

By WALT HERZ

Not only should we devote a few spare moments to the reading of the last official issues, the farewell number of the Desert Wolf, but it is an example of what we've been howling for. Not so cluttered with the scrawlings supposed to illustrate stories, it represents originality with a punch. Reed St. Clair has done some fine work with his poems. Bud Loomis also broke loose with a vitality unnoticed in his previous writing. Twas Bud who also created the letters, Gus to Charlie. Most polished work was done by Brent Colewood (Harvey Dickerson) with College Laments. Here's hoping the other publications may lure such talent to continue their writing. Fritz and Tom Wilson enriched the issue greatly with stories and verse under the Arabian monickers of Abdul and Mohammed.

Spring has been devastating, but how come Florence Kirkley and Stan Leahigh are looking over the wedding rings? And how about Helen Peterson's recent trip home to Elko? Plans, just plans for the future. Florence Ford is supposedly engaged to a youthful salesman from Penney's. Anyhow, it is nice to have some advance dope, and be surprised by that old bugaboo, Secret Nuptials.

Dissension is reported in the ranks of S. A. E. over the election of John Chism to the new senate. Offered in opposition was Gene Salet, who seems to represent a definite wing of the fraternity. Just emblematic that political conniving is part of the campus setup.

Mary Murphy used the old bean in angling the secretary-treasurer's job in the independent group. She declined to run for vice president, feeling that Dick Bagley would beat her out, but slid gently into a job which she had better chances of landing. More power, lady.

Property transfers in the county of Washoe, township of Reno, district of Manzanita lake, were reported to the recorder's office this week. They are, a maltese cross of gold from Merle Acheson to Mary Adelaide Thompson, a pearl decorated emblem of gold from the possession of Jim Cazier (who knows the wherefor of such forms of transfer, being a philosopher of the old school) to Maurine Graf, a white faced star of gold to Lois Midgely from glib tongued Don Brown II. No amount were released to indicate the value of exchanged property, but according to the candy and cigars donated in celebration there must have been some goody figures involved.

Is This Jim Cazier?

There may be a heart balm suit originate yet from the throat cutting of 'Ansome Swede Olson performed on friend Goon in regard to Peaches. Who remembers a similar incident centered about Queen Jean, which was the result of a bet?

It would take Clark Gable, or Prince Edward of Wales, or Mahatma Gandhi to draw a crowd to a 4 o'clock lecture. Even such a topic as "The Advice to the Lovelorn Columns" interested but five students to attend. No wonder the faculty shakes its spectacled head doubtfully sometimes. True, we get fed up on lectures, but even special speakers attract only a small proportion of those who claim an intellectual interest in such things. Maybe it's the high altitude.

If the Sparks De Molays ever invite you on a picnic, wear your tin drawers and a football suit and brass knuckles. Such is the report of Sunday's encounter, with Wilbur Peterson, Jerry Tucker, Ross Whitehead and many others engaging in the old "Hey, Rub" rough and tumble. And there are still plain words in the congressional records that 3 hic, burp, point 2 is non-intoxicating.

sure a welcome. It ought to be a progressive affair all the way through, with a stag party a la Heidelberg as a culmination. Or maybe I haven't romance.

Tuxedos are sure getting a working over these days, and the air is indigo with oaths on the lowly lost collar button.

As stirring a talk as ever they heard was delivered to the newly organized Press club last night by President Walter E. Clark. Prexy made about sixteen stanch supporters, loyal defenders and champions of the cause of constructive journalism, or I am an esthetic dancer in hob-nailed boots. Would like to hear him give the same talk to the entire student body. I'd bet it would roll them out of their seats.

John Fergusson, janitor of the library building, has us baffled with this one. Maybe you can decipher it. He says "there was a mild earthquake at his home. The horn was knocked off the cow and two sacks of onions were chaken out of the granary, but I am looking for a better crop next year." Jim Leonard thinks it worthy of printing and it may take our posterity to confirm that.

CAME THE DAWN—Keith Lee has acquired a new personality with his going collegiate and parting the golden locks on the side. Hromadka takes a pretty hurdle, even though no one can spell his name on the first try. Mazie Ryan is almost never to be seen without friend Cockrel in the offing. The goose on Manzanita lake is getting so civilized that it follows cars about now. The picture, "Age of Consent," presented a fairly accurate account of the necking problems of college life. Former Graduate Writes Feature

An article appearing in the current issue of The Forum magazine entitled "Farewell to Good Eating" was written by Faith Maris, graduate from the University of Nevada in 1918.

Her life since she left college has been devoted to literary work in New York and abroad, where she has gained fame in literary circles. In her article, "Farewell to Good Eating," she gives the viewpoint of the French, Germans and Americans concerning habits of eating. The author is particularly fitted to speak of foreigners and foreign countries as she has traveled extensively in Europe.

Miss Maris was very active in student affairs while attending the university. She was a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority, Delta Alpha Epsilon, women's dramatic society, Artemisia, Phi Kappa Phi and in her senior year she was the recipient of the regents' scholarship.

Marjorie Mullen took advantage of the Easter vacation to visit her folks in Tonopah. Miss Mullen is a pledge of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Everyone seems to go for Phil Harris and Lea Ray in a big way. But imagine youse guys, that rasping in your ear all the time, and youse dames, that belly growling as a lullaby.

Carpenter Given Mining Institute Committee Post

J. A. Carpenter, professor of mining engineering in the Mackay school of mines, received notice this week of his appointment as chairman of a committee of the American Institute of Mining Engineers to study relations between mining students and the institute.

Carpenter gave an address on the relations between students and the institute at a meeting held in New York, earlier in the year. He stated that he proposes to develop a closer contact in the future between the various university mining fraternity groups and the institute and would start this work by corresponding with the heads of these groups throughout the nation, immediately.

Margaret Martin, president of Kappa Alpha Theta, spent Easter weekend in San Francisco with her parents.

Campus Y.W.C.A. Holds Asilomar Supper Party

Campus Women Gather in Annual Meeting at Hall

The campus Y. W. C. A. held its annual Asilomar supper party Wednesday evening in the women's student room in the basement of Artemisia hall.

The affair was in charge of the hostess committee of the Y. W., headed by Betty Howell, Winifred Walsh and Mary Correo. Decorations of apple blossoms carried out the seasonal theme.

Mary Trudelle and Florine Frank gave short talks on their experiences as former delegates to the Y. W. conference grounds at Asilomar, near Carmel, Calif.

Those present included: Misses Mary Gates, Florence Diskin, Louise Tidball, Peggy Maher, Adeline Belmonte, Mary Trudelle, Marjorie Myles, Margaret Rawson, Esther Ronzone, Nevada Solari, Mary Pappas, Alice Parnen, Kathryn Nichols, Mary Correo, Betty Howell, Mary Louise Durkee, Eunice Caton, Sallie Fagan, Frances Burke, Winifred Walsh, Camille Cerrita, Ailene Daniels, Colene Hollan, Rita Jenson, Alma Schiappacase, Frances Slavin, Elsie Seaborn, Wilma Chanslor, Florine Frank.

W.A.A. Ends Season With Class Games

Baseball will be the last sport offered by W. A. A. this semester. The interclass games will start next week, but because of the short time left in the semester there will be no intramural contest. Charlotte Pope is managing the sport.

After the interclass baseball games W. A. A. will end the semester by holding a senior farewell party. Although the place has not been definitely chosen, it will probably be held at the Wa-Ne-Va lodge at Galena Creek.

Announcements

The annual home economics competition for high school students will not be held at the University of Nevada this year, it was announced by Miss Sarah Lewis, head of the home economics department, this week. The reason for the discontinuance of the competition, which has been held for the last eight years, is the lack of sufficient funds on the part of the competitors to come to the "biscuit baking bee."

Home Econ Women Choose Officers

Officers of the Home Economics club for the coming year were selected at a meeting held last week.

Virginia Wheeler is to be the president, Alice Batchelder vice president, Blanche Keegan treasurer, Margaret Goman secretary, Neca Jones historian and Ruby Hoskins press agent.

Margaret Goble, Lois Barber and Katherine Wright were elected to Sigma Sigma, home economics honorary organization. The selections were made on the basis of scholarship, interest and application of the principles taught in that department.

Honorary English Club Celebrates

Commemorating the absorption of Delta Alpha Epsilon by Chi Delta Phi, national English honorary society, the campus chapter held its annual anniversary banquet last Tuesday night.

The guests of the sorority were Prof. and Mrs. A. E. Hill and Miss Kate Riegelhuth. During the dinner short speeches were made by Prof. Hill, Marjorie Myles, past president, and Dortha Robertson, incoming president.

The sorority recently put a plaque on the Shakespeare bust which was donated by D. A. E. in memory of the original group.

National President To Honor Local Phi Kappa Phi

Nevada's chapter of Phi Kappa Phi will be honored by a visit from the national president of that organization, Dr. Aven Nelson, on May 3, according to Dr. George Sears, president of the local group.

On that day there will be a special meeting of Phi Kappa Phi, at which Dr. Nelson will speak and discuss the current problems confronting the local group. It will be impossible, thinks Sears, to have a gathering of the whole student body on this date because of the nearness of the completion of the term.

Continuing his tour after leaving Reno, Dr. Nelson will visit the chapters at the universities of California, Washington and Oregon. Then he will return east.

Dr. Nelson holds the distinction of being the only president of Phi Kappa Phi ever to be elected from the Rocky mountain region, and was president of the University of Wyoming for six years.

Seven Win Awards In Varsity Track

H. Hill, J. Hill, Hromadka, Smythe, Bledsoe, Leonard, Arentz Win Letters

Seven members of the University of Nevada track team have qualified for a letter in track so far this season. There is still one more conference meet this year, the Far Western Conference meeting in Sacramento, May 6.

The men who will receive their block N are Jack Hill, Harvey Hill, Ralph Hromadka, Howard Smythe, Dan Bledsoe, Paul Leonard and Sam Arentz. To be eligible for an award in track, a participant must score 5 or more points in a dual meet, or place in the Far Western Conference meet.

Hill Wins Award
Jack Hill placed second in both the shot put and low hurdles in the California Aggie meet to win his letter. This places Hill in the "three letter club" of the university, as he has won awards in basketball, football and track.

Harvey Hill, Nevada's dash star, captured both the 100 and 220 yard dashes in the College of Pacific meet.

Ralph Hromadka, hurdler, took both the low and high hurdle events last weekend, while Howard Smythe, former Oregon State star, defeated the Cal Aggie man in the two mile run and placed second in that event in the College of Pacific meet. Sam Arentz took first place in the two mile event last weekend.

Paul Leonard, sophomore star, won the mile event last weekend for his award, and Dan Bledsoe, senior and all around athlete, won the pole vault.

Mrs. Edith Pope spent the weekend at the Beta Sigma Omicron house recently as the guest of her daughters, Dorothy and Charlotte Pope.

Mildred Goble '33 spent the weekend visiting relatives in Vinton, Calif. Miss Goble is affiliated with Beta Sigma Omicron, having been president of that sorority the past year.

Spring Concert to Have Glee, Music

In celebration of national music week, the annual spring concert, in which the orchestra and both glee clubs will participate, is scheduled to take place May 9 at 8:15 in the auditorium of the Washoe County Library building.

The program as announced by Prof. Post is as follows:

Orchestra—
"Tannhauser March" Wagner
"Two Waltzes" Brahms
"Louis XIII Air" Ghys
"Rondino" Beethoven

Sextet—
"The Last Lullaby" T. H. Post
Marjorie Stout, Miriam Clark, Mary A. Thompson, Genevieve Wakefield, Violet Rebaletti, Evelyn Matson
Accompanists, Helen Spina, Mary A. Thompson, Sarah Graves, Donald Butler

Orchestra—
"Egmont Overture" Beethoven
"Minuet d'Orpheus" Gluck
Solos by Lois Brooks and F. D. Graves

Aria, "Jerusalem" from "St. Paul" oratorio Mendelssohn
Marjorie Stout and orchestra
Women's Glee club—
"My Little Banjo" English folk song Taylor
"Lines from Tagore" Music by Prof. Post
Accompanied by strings

Men's Glee club—
"Goodbye" Tosti
"My Little Banjo" Diehmont
Chorus—
"Creation Hymn" Rachmaninoff-Bornshelm
"Listen to the Lambs" Dett
Orchestra and Chorus—
"Finlandia" Sibellus
"Finlandia," by Sibellus, a Finn, will prove an interesting number. Instead of singing words to the piece the chorus will accompany with vowel sounds or voice color, which serve the same purpose an instrument does.

Senate Members Ready for Action

Final election of senate representatives was held this week when Herbert Peck was chosen to represent Lincoln Hall, Joe McLeod Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and James Cazier Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity.

Peck has been active in Lincoln Hall affairs for three years and is a prominent member of Campus Players. He is from Ely.

Joe McLeod of Reno is a junior student in the college of engineering and a member of Coffin and Keys.

Baby Wolves Score Over Reno Huskies

University of Nevada Freshmen, in a dual meet with the Reno high school on Mackay field last Saturday morning, scored eight first places and a sufficient number of seconds and thirds to win 74 1/2 to 47 1/2, over the Huskies. Ernie Rodriguez, diminutive Reno high sophomore, made the only good time of the meet when he easily won the half-mile in the time of 2:37.7. Rodriguez also scored a win in the mile run.

Booth was high point man for the Huskies, and Hunting scored the greatest number of points for the Baby Wolves.

Sigma Nus Win Over Lamba Chis

Playing fast ball in spite of the April shower which insisted on sprinkling the field, the Sigma Nu baseball nine defeated Lambda Chi Alpha last Monday by a score of 11 to 5, thereby winning the right to meet Sigma Phi Sigma for the championship of the Blue bracket.

Developing a hitting streak in the fourth inning, the Sigma Nu players ran up an impressive lead and by virtue of Jack Hill's pitching were able to shut out the Lambda Chis.

The Sigma Nu win over Lambda Chi by 6 points places that house on an even basis with Sigma Phi Sigma, which also defeated Lambda Chi by a 6 point margin.

These two teams are the only undefeated contestants in the Blue bracket, and the winner of the game to be played today between these two will determine which one is to meet the victor of the White bracket for the league championship.

CAMPUS ALL STARS LOSE

Unable to cope with the slugging of Tesone and Beasley, the university All Star team was handily defeated by the Reno Garage nine last Sunday at the Threlkel ball park, by a score of 17 to 1. Dan Bledsoe, first baseman, and Gail Parsons, left field, showed well for the university men. The All Stars used two of their own pitchers and were loaned another by Jack Threlkel to finish the game.

Clara Willison '36 visited her parents at her home in Carlin during the Easter vacation. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Prospector Class To End at Lovelock

The four weeks' prospectors' course which has been in session at the Lovelock high school under the direction of the department of vocational education and the Nevada State Bureau of Mines, will come to a close on April 28, states Jay A. Carpenter, professor of mining.

The Lovelock course is being given along much the same lines as that which was given at the University of Nevada last February.

D. C. Cameron, mining graduate of the University of Nevada, 1912, is director of the state vocational work, while J. A. Fulton, mining graduate of the class of 1898, is director of the school of mines.

Courses in the Lovelock prospectors' course are being given by A. M. Smith, mining graduate of 1900. Special lectures have been given by Jay A. Carpenter and Walter Palmer, graduate of 1905. V. P. Gianella, who holds an M.S. degree at the university, is also connected with this school.

According to Carpenter, it is doubtful whether a prospector's course will be offered at the University of Nevada in 1934. It will be largely a matter of finances, he stated.

TURKISH TOBACCO
comes to this country in bales. The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO
is stored in huge wooden hogsheads. Each hogshead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone
Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.
Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco — Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.
These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.
