

Annual Senior Week Nearing Completion

Seniors' Ball Will Be Final Social Event

GRADUATES FETED

Pilgrimage Is Held On Campus Today

Climaxing a week of social activities that marked the exodus of the class of 1933, the annual senior ball will be staged by the class of '34 in the Washoe County Library building tomorrow night.

The senior ball committee, headed by Bruce Gould, has announced that former precedent will be broken on this occasion by allowing all underclass men to attend.

Despite continued stormy weather which prevailed throughout the week, the mighty class of '33 neared the conclusion today of one week of pleasurable loitering. An extensive program of activities planned by the Senior Week committee was carried through as arranged with but one exception—adverse weather made the staging of the senior picnic impossible and hence the graduating Nevadans had to forego the annual outing. Other activities included in the extensive program of the week overshadowed the loss of the picnic, however.

Starting with a senior parade to the final student body meeting held last Friday, the graduating class began a week of frolic and reminiscing. Joining in on the "Nevada Hymn" for the last time as undergraduates, the class of '33 paused for a thought of days that had been before parting from the auditorium.

Monday found the seniors and faculty staging their annual battle for supremacy on the baseball diamond. With flashy performances being turned in by professors and graduates alike, the struggle ended with an 8 to 3 tie.

The senior women were partly recompensed for their loss of the picnic by attending a luncheon given in their honor by Mrs. W. E. Clark and Dean Mack on Wednesday. The affair was held in the Century club, with all senior women attending.

Today the graduating seniors met for their final tour of the campus. Gathering at 2:30 this afternoon before the Student Union building, the class of '33 held the annual senior pilgrimage. During their farewell tour of the university grounds the seniors listened to speeches given by various leaders of the senior class and outgoing student body officers.

Keith Lee, the first to speak, spoke of the A.S.U.N. building and what it meant to the student body. Maryann Peck followed with a few words at the podium. Of the bulletin board Mason Meyers added comments to the pilgrimage inspection. John Pant spoke of the Haseman-Jones memorial while the graduates recalled with sincerity the associations they had known with these two faculty leaders of the past. The front steps of Morrill hall were the subject of Margaret Rawson's comments. Eva Edwards spoke to the assemblage as it gathered for the last time at the status of our great benefactor, John Mackay. Concluding the program of speeches, Albert Seeliger recounted the thrilling moments of the many battles waged on the gridiron of Mackay field.

Tea Dance

Following the senior ball of tomorrow night, the graduating seniors will enjoy a tea dance, to be held at the chapter house of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, from 3 until 5 Saturday afternoon. This affair is being given under the auspices of the Cap and Scroll and Coffin and Keys societies.

English Sorority Submits Poetry

Chi Delta Phi, national honorary women's English sorority with a chapter on the Nevada campus, sent five poems written by University of Nevada women, to the National Poets' Guild for publication in an anthology of student verse being compiled by that group. The poems chosen are: "Lines" by Marguerite Miller, "Sometimes I Dream" by Mary Sourwine, "Requiem" by Lois Hutchison, "Spring" by Margaret Place and "Spark" by Janet Newton.

STUDENTS HEALTHY

"The university is in a state of excellent health," Mrs. Ethel Shurtleff, matron of the university hospital, said when interviewed this week. She went on to state that "the rarity of communicable diseases was unusual in a university with such a large enrollment."

Faculty-Graduate Baseball Tussle Ends in Deadlock

With the help of Umpire Harold Curran, the Nevada faculty managed to eke out an 8 to 8 tie with the mighty graduating senior baseball players in the traditional annual game on the university diamond early this week.

Featuring the star playing of Feemster and Searcy, the faculty team was strong in the pitcher's box but weak on the fielding. With a little encouragement, Feemster, the faculty pitcher, could not help putting the ball in for strikes that were well out of reach of the best of the senior battery.

All went well for the faculty and they were in the lead until Searcy's hat blew into the ditch at the side of the field when he was getting ready to catch a fly. He left duty to procure his lost headpiece. Underrated by the seniors, who thought that they would be a bit rusty, the faculty had the upper hand in the early innings.

Staging a rally with Keith Lee, Spicknall and Rampoldi blasting the ball about the lot, the seniors made up for lost time in the late innings, but the lead of the faculty was too much for them to do more than tie. Lee and Rampoldi did most of the twirling for the graduates, however.

High School Men In Annual State Track Meet Here

Reno and Yerington Favored to Take Honors in Contests

A few weeks ago Reno and Yerington's track and field teams tied in a dual meet, held at the university, with 60 points apiece.

Next Saturday the two teams will again get a chance to fight it out when the annual state meet takes place on Mackay field. Yerington and Reno are the favorites to win the meet due to their showing in recent meets.

Little hope has been heard of the possibility of the schools from the east and south part of the state. Except that Las Vegas has a half and quarter miler who is able to run both races in good time. He has run the half-mile in under two minutes, which is good time in any track meet.

There is a little red haired fellow from Ely who won the pole vault last year from a group of good jumpers, with a vault of 11 feet 3 inches and a new state record. Last Saturday the pole vault was won by Goni of Carson at 10 feet.

There is a good race assured in the half and mile at this year's meet when Hand of Hawthorne, last year's winner of the events, meets Scatina of Yerington, Rodriguez of Reno, Lynn of Carson and the unknown runner from Las Vegas. All these boys have been timed under 2:05 in the half-mile and around 4:45 in the mile. At the last state meet Hand unofficially broke both state records in these events, but due to a high wind they weren't allowed.

Another good race will be seen in the high and low hurdles. For some time high school stick artists have been at a minimum, but this year there are more than enough. Lommopol of Yerington, Ingelbloom of Hawthorne, Booth of Reno and Maule of Gardnerville are all good hurdlers. Ingelbloom has been timed in the highs at 16:2 and in the lows at 25. If he can do as good next Saturday he is a sure winner in both events.

Whatever the outcome of the meet the high school track and field men are sure of making things interesting when they meet on Mackay field next Saturday. Trial heats will be run off at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with the regular meet scheduled for 2 p. m.

Conference Title Won by Fresno Men In Annual Contest

Nevada Wolf Pack Places Fifth in Final Meet of Season

Smythe, Leonard, J. Hill and Bledsoe Garner 10 Points

Competing against some of the outstanding track and field athletes on the Pacific coast, last weekend, the University of Nevada Wolf Pack placed fifth in the annual Far Western Conference meet, which Fresno State college won by a comfortable margin.

The team results of the meet were as follows: Fresno State, 66; San Jose State, 49 1-2; College of Pacific, 16 1-3; Chico State, 13 1-2; University of Nevada, 10 1-3; California Aggies, 8 1-3.

Smythe, smooth running Nevada two miler, turned in one of the best performances of the day when he ran his race in 9 minutes 58 seconds, to finish more than 90 yards ahead of the field. A drizzling rain handicapped the athletes throughout the meet.

Leonard, Nevada's sensational miler, placed second in his event, which was won by Hotchkiss of Fresno State in 4 minutes 30 5-10 seconds. Leonard came in a scant few yards behind the winner.

Harvey Hill, Nevada sprinter, took a third place in the 220 yard dash after leading the field for the first 50 yards. Bledsoe of Nevada tied for fourth in the high jump.

FINAL ART SHOWING WILL BE SATURDAY

The last exhibit of the Fine Arts Group for this semester will be held Saturday at the home of Mrs. V. P. Gianella, 300 Nixon avenue, during the hours of 4 to 6, in the form of a tea.

An exhibit of water colors by Maurice Logan of Pacific Grove, Calif., will be shown and explained during the tea. Most of these paintings will consist of redwood and wharf scenes.

Mr. Logan is one of the best known water color artists of the Pacific coast, and has won numerous prizes in Santa Cruz.

Patronesses for this thirteenth exhibit of the Fine Arts Group of the University of Nevada will be Miss Cornelia Williamson, Mrs. L. A. Culling, Mrs. Alice Bartlett, Mrs. H. J. Frost, Mrs. W. E. Clark, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. A. Addenbrooke.

Committees Chosen By Student Senate At Final Meeting

Publications board members, men's and women's upperclass committee chairmen, a representative to the rally committee, members to the by-laws committee and A.S.U.N. historian were all elected at a meeting of the student body senate, held last Monday night in the Student Administration building.

Elna Jensen, Pi Beta Phi, Kathryn Wardleigh, Independent, and James Cazier, Sigma Phi Sigma, were elected to the publications board. They will assume office Saturday evening and will elect their chairman at that time. Bill Beemer, Sigma Nu, defeated Forrest Bibb, Delta Sigma Lambda, in the race for the position of chairman of the men's upperclass committee. Charlotte Pope was elected chairman of the women's upperclass committee.

Herbert Peck, Lincoln Hall, was named to the rally committee for the coming year. Sam Arentz, Lambda Chi Alpha, John Chism, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Marthine Solares, Beta Sigma Omicron, were elected to compose the by-laws committee, whose function it is to draft all senate amendments and other legislation.

Miriam Clark, a junior student and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, was elected over Carl Carman, Gamma Phi Beta, for the office of A.S.U.N. historian. The historian is chosen at large from the junior and senior classes.

Student Body President James Wallace presided at the meeting and gave a short talk outlining plans for next year, when the senate will again meet to take up the reins of student government.

Pasteurizing Unit Believed Perfected By Nevada Student

Electrical Process Expected To Revolutionize Dairy Industry

An electrical sterilizing device, which may revolutionize the dairy industry, has just been perfected by Laurel Nichols, a former University of Nevada student, and John Bisagno, local dairyman, working in conjunction with the engineering experiment station and biological department of the University of Nevada.

This process, if it tests out successfully, may displace the present expensive pasteurizing process. The bacteria in the milk will be killed by electricity as the milk flows from the cooling room to the bottling plant. It would eliminate the present process, which consists of heating the milk up to 142 degrees Fahrenheit by a network of steam pipes.

In the twenty tests conducted so far the new electrical device has apparently killed 75 per cent of the bacteria present, without perceptible heating of the milk. The other 25 per cent of the germs cannot be killed because they are in an undeveloped stage.

The great advantage of the electrical method of killing the bacteria is that by this process it is likely that the vitamin content of the milk will not be injured. By the present pasteurizing system these vitamins are lost, which is the reason for the feeding of raw milk to babies. If the heat from the electricity killed the germs in the test, it is likely that the invention will be a failure, because the heat kills the vitamins. On the other hand, if the electricity, by itself, killed the germs it is probable that the device will be a success.

Because of the lack, at the present time, of an adequate test which can determine whether the vitamins are in the milk, it will be necessary to feed the electrified milk to a guinea pig for the endurance of its life to tell whether the vitamins are in the milk. Because of the necessity of this and other tests before the adaptation of the process, it is possible that further experiments will be conducted at a better experiment station.

The invention, which was inspired by the working of the electric chair, works on the same principle as the "hot seat." Charges of 10,000 volts are stored up in five condensers of 2000 volt capacity each. This charge, in the tests, was released into small containers full of raw milk. In the middle of the container there was a rod, which acted as one pole of the electric current. The electricity leaping from one pole to another, or from the condensers to the rod, crossed through and killed the bacteria in the milk.

An interesting part of the experiment became known when it was discovered in the samples taken of local raw milk that some of the milk contained as high as 1,500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter.

Alvin Jacobs, senior student and Rhodes scholar troyee, handled the experiment from the bacteriological angle. Prof. Irving Sandorf and Dean F. H. Sibley of the college of engineering cooperated in the experiment and helped in setting up the condensers.

University Music Groups Celebrate Annual Concerts

Orchestra, Glee Clubs, Band Take Part in Week of Music

Concluding an active year of musical programs and concerts, the university's music organizations presented their sixth annual spring concert Tuesday night as part of the celebration of national Music Week, under the direction of Theodore H. Post, head of the music department.

The community-university orchestra, the men's and women's glee clubs and several soloists took part in the program.

The orchestra played a number of classical pieces and also an arrangement of "Play, Fiddle Play," featuring Dudley Nix as soloist. A vocal sextet consisting of Miriam Clark, Marjorie Stout, Mary A. Thompson, Genevieve Wakefield, Evelyn Matson and Violet Rebeleati, presented "The Last Lullaby" by Post. Marjorie Stout accompanied by the orchestra sang the selection "Jerusalem" from "St. Paul" oratorio by Mendelssohn.

The men's and women's glee clubs sang separate selections and also joined to do the "Creation Hymn" and "Listen to the Lambs." Flute solos by Lois Brooks and F. D. Graves were given in conjunction with the orchestra.

The university-community orchestra, now in the sixth year of its existence, is a permanent organization of student and town players. There are about 30 members, and it has almost a complete instrumentation. The two glee clubs add about 40 people, making a total of some 70 performers. These organizations have appeared in concert at Gardnerville, Carson City, Virginia City, Fernley, at the Granada theater and the Century club in Reno.

With the exception of the music for commencement, the affair Tuesday night was the last the organizations will take part in this year.

Seven High Schools Are Represented At W.A.A. Play Day

Athletic Events Hold Interest for Eighty High School Girl Students

Seven state high schools were represented by about 90 girls at the W.A.A. Play Day held last Saturday in the gym. The schools represented were: Reno, Sparks, Yerington, Dayton, Virginia City, Gardnerville and Carson.

The morning was taken up by athletic events held on Mackay field. The girls were divided into color teams and competed in volleyball, baseball, track, tennis, horseshoes, crock golf and bowling. The blue team was the winner in these events.

The morning activities were climaxed by a posture parade in which all the delegates took part. Reno high school won first place and Yerington second.

In the afternoon a statewide constitution was drawn up under the guidance of W.A.A., which will regulate all high school sports and place them on an even basis.

This was the sixth W.A.A. Play Day, and it is an annual affair in which the university stimulates interest in athletics among the high schools.

The committee in charge was Helen Olmstead, chairman, Miriam Butler, Marjorie Cannon, Kathleen Haffey, Virginia Hill, Rita Jepson, Madeline Miller, Dorothy Pope, Charlotte Pope, Charlotte Robison, Helene Stark and Fae Wittwer.

SENIORS HAUNT FAMILIAR SPOTS ON CAMPUS TO GET PHOTOGRAPHS

With Senior Week in full swing, various members of the senior class have been seen haunting familiar spots on the campus, carrying the inevitable camera with which to snap friends and cronies.

One amateur photographer held up "traffic" for several minutes outside the Hall of English one day between classes while she posed a bevy of girl friends on the senior bench. To the annoyance of exam-ridden undergrads,

McDonnell Given Post of Finance Control Secretary

Nevada Graduate Student Will Take Many Duties of Graduate Manager

Taking over many of the duties of the position of graduate manager, which has been abolished, Joe McDonnell, graduating senior of the University of Nevada, will be executive secretary to the finance control committee of the university with the beginning of the fall semester, it was announced this week.

On the campus to do work for a master's degree in the college of arts and science, McDonnell will take over the duties of executive secretary in addition to his scholastic work. His duties have not yet been specified by the committee. He will be under the direct supervision of the finance control committee in all of his work.

At its final meeting of the semester the committee also decided to appoint Fritz Coltrin, assistant football coach for the past year, as assistant athletic coach and trainer in football, basketball and track for the coming year, his salary coming from all three athletic budgets. Professor F. Wilson officially accepted the position of chairman of the finance control committee at the meeting.

At the meeting it was also announced that the budgets of student publications will be approved at a meeting of the new finance control committee in June.

Thirty Undergrads To Receive Awards At Commencement

Scholarship Committee Will Select Winners This Week

Not only to the graduating seniors does commencement day bring the supreme moment of the college career but to many deserving undergraduates comes announcement of those who have been selected to share in nearly $5000 in scholarships. More than thirty students will be named as recipients of these scholarships at the close of the commencement exercises.

This week the scholarship committee, with Professor Jay A. Carpenter, chairman, has been busy selecting the students. Most selections are made by the scholarship committee upon recommendation of the faculty members, but some require the heads of various departments, the individual donor, President Walter E. Clark or the organization which grants the prize, to choose the recipients.

Most scholarship awards are granted upon the basis of need, character and scholastic averages of the students concerned. There are, however, awards for prowess in particular courses, including English, military science and mathematics; and awards to those in particular schools with exceptional ability, most of which go to the school of engineering, and one for outstanding work in premedical or prenursing courses.

For the 1933-34 awards, the qualifications arrange for the restriction of eligibility to 11 men for certain prizes, and five women for others, the remainder may be obtained by either men or women. Twelve of the number will have attained at least sophomore standing, six at least junior standing and three at the senior rating.

This year some difficulty is anticipated in the payment of some of the scholarship prizes due to the funds from which they accrue being frozen in closed banks. Nothing definite is known yet as to which scholarships have been affected or to what extent.

Mildred Basta, junior, a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, underwent an operation for appendicitis at a local hospital last night. She is resting well.

THEODORE H. POST RECEIVES POSITION

Professor Theodore H. Post has been selected by the National Federation of Music Clubs of America to act as a judge for the bi-annual contest for young vocal and musical artists, which will be held over the National Broadcasting system on May 24.

The committee choosing the judges is selecting them from the nationally known musicians of the United States. Professor Post is to be one of a hundred judges who have been selected. The contest will take place in Minneapolis, where all the young artists will gather to perform. The judges will select their winners in a manner similar to the way they are chosen by the judges of the usual audition contests.

President W. E. Clark Will Preside at Fetes

GET SCHOLARSHIPS Gymnasium Is Scene Of Concluding Ceremonies

By ED MONTGOMERY

As the concluding gesture of the 1932-33 school year, one hundred and thirty-five students will receive their bachelor's degree and ten graduates will receive master's degree master's degrees at the commencement exercises to be held in the University gymnasium Monday morning.

Assembling at the south end of the quad at 10:15, the graduating class of 1933 will form for the last time as students and stage their academic procession to the gymnasium.

Presided over by President Walter E. Clark, the commencement exercises will begin at 10:30. The university-community orchestra, conducted by Professor Post, will play the processional march from "Tannhauser" by Wagner.

The Reverend Brewster Adams will offer an invocation prior to the address, "The Peril of Power," which is to be presented by the Reverend John E. Carver, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ogden, Utah.

Lawrence Carter '32 will render the baritone aria, "Where'er You Walk," by Handel, at the conclusion of Reverend Carver's address.

Professor Carpenter, chairman of the committee on scholarships and prizes, will announce the awarding of scholarships, prizes, senior honors and award the gold medal given annually to the most deserving graduating student. Graduates receiving honors will not be known until that time.

Judge B. W. Coleman, justice of the supreme court of Nevada, will administer the civic oath to the candidates for the baccalaureate degree. Immediately following the oath acceptance, President Clark will confer the ten master degrees and present diplomas to the 135 graduates.

The Reverend Carl M. Warner, offering the benediction, will conclude the exercises that mark the University of Nevada's final tribute to the 145 men and women who, having completed four years of educational training, depart from the ranks of students into a newer realm of life's realities.

Chemistry Teacher To Return From Eastern College

S. A. Lough, professor of chemistry, who left the university two years ago to take special work at the University of Michigan, will return to the chemistry department here in August with a Ph.D. in physiological chemistry, according to word given out today by Dr. George W. Sears.

Lough has spent two years at the University of Michigan and has been assistant professor of physiological chemistry there this year during the absence of a regular staff member who was studying abroad. The position was gained through a graduate fellowship awarded to Lough at the conclusion of his first year's work.

Dr. Sears said that Lough would probably spend the summer in Denver, where his father lives, reaching Nevada about the first of August. Francis Oakberg, who has been instructor in Lough's place, will enter a different line of work upon leaving.

One year of Lough's graduate work was spent in Colorado Medical school, but preferring a doctorate in physiological chemistry, he enrolled in Michigan. Dr. Sears states that with his return it will mean that every member of this department holds a Ph.D.

Wolf Howls

By W. H.

Well, here goes the last stirring of the old ink pot, ending the terrific struggle of a year, which, to say the least, was mighty trying for everyone. So we'll clean up the scrap book and get in a few more straight punches and gentle back slappings.

First let us bid a respectful farewell to the prey of the associated student body, Keith Lee. Perhaps no other student has had to face and overcome the adversity as Lee has. Elected under combine pressure, he has had to withstand and win over the groups who voiced a passive resistance opposition. Then the banks closed and financial backing of the university and student activities decreased greatly, necessitating the cancellation of much of his program and curbing the rest. But, with his back to the wall, he stood firm on those things which he believed, opposing his own cohorts at times as well as those who were on "strike." Let the thanks go in your own perusal of the constructive measures which have been effected by the Lee administration.

What a pity that the Brush office gets cleaned up only at the end of the year, and it is too late to have open house up here. And somebody gets paid good dough to brush up the Brush office.

The tram is getting a rest this last week on account the sunshine is too terrifying and the snow too disconcerting. "Lover, come back to me," will be the theme song when summer does come round next year. And I'll bet a certain scribe will be singing a lead tenor part to Cornelia Arentz. Any hoo, there is something wrong of late with Artemisia's editor-elect.

Some day there will be a crime committed on the campus if people don't stop asking "Hey, whatja get in that ex?" Of course they never ask unless they feel sure they did better than you.

Some of th would-be grads are cussing Si Feemster for putting the screws on them at the final check-up when they should be handed at least a 2.5, and with a smile, so they are inclined to think.

Mary Tholl is still true to her high school lad. She may be able to show him the angles when he becomes a collegian. And likewise the little lady born in far away Russia, Odessa Bick, who is stepping with the younger generation.

Can you imagine the nominating committee meeting to fulfill their very important duties, and then not knowing for what jobs they had to nominate officers to fill. It has happened already.

Several have remarked that they think Clara Willison is a very unemotional type of person; you know, that cool, arm's length, "Oh, have me before" type. Well she is not that at all. In fact, she is—very nice, and—well, very nice.

What a swell time for appendicitis operation, Miss Garside. With your graduation scheduled for Monday. Seeing as how you are game enough to go to the services, anyway, guess it'll be okeh.

You know, it ought to be a grand relief for some people to be out of school for the summer. Think of all the sleep Loveridge will get, and then Dolores Hartour doesn't have to show up late all the time, or Don McDonald, either. And Goon can pine peacefully for Peaches without professorial interruption. And Van Voorheis can drill in soldiers without the chiding of awful, awful ribbings from evil studumps. And Salet can gigolo with the sleek maneuverings of a Parisian male choruser without having to conform to convention.

Speaking of convention, the parties who saw Jim Bailey necking in the Pi Phi house Tuesday night suggest that instead of turning out the lights he resort in the future to pulling down the blind.

And I know intimately a guy who took out a gal on a picnic and because they had to stay in out of the storm she forcibly necked a pal of that guy, who ain't his pal anymore, don't you guess so!

The Brush staff is sure to carry out the plan of fencing off the office with chicken wire which Myra and Twin Jean Sauer are going to donate, because next year the Campus Players are going to move into the old Desert Wolf office. The journalists (?) have, of course, a lot of respect for their fellow artists, but are a bit choosy about their association.

Relative of Church Taken by Death

Mrs. Phebe Humphrey, mother in law of Dr. J. E. Church Jr., head of the classics department at the University of Nevada, passed away at her home early Monday morning.

She had been a resident of Reno since 1896, coming here from Michigan. In Reno, she took an active part in social and church work. She was a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Woman's Relief Corps and was a charter member of the Elderberry club.

ENGINEERS ELECT

John Chism, prominent junior student in the school of electrical engineering, was elected last week to head the Associated Engineers of the University of Nevada next year. Dan Harvey was elected vice president and Paul Hartman secretary-treasurer.

Chism is the Sigma Alpha Epsilon representative to the student senate and a member of the varsity tennis team. He has been active in engineering affairs during his three years on the hill. He is from Reno.

LIBRARY RECEIVES IMPORTANT BOOKS

During this last week the library has received a number of new books which are recent editions. There are among these books several that may be of interest to the fiction reader as well as to the reader of the non-fiction books.

One of the books is the recent accomplishment of Sinclair Lewis. It is "Anne Vickers." This story deals with the life of a girl through her school years and during the war. It also tells of her accomplishments after the war in reform and prison life. This is the first book ever written by Lewis about a girl.

Other books that have been added to the library shelves are "Nine Plays" by O'Neill, Economics and Politics by Bonn and many other books on similar subjects.

Miss Lois Garman, who is teaching in Tonopah, was a guest at the Gamma Phi Beta house last weekend.

Fine Arts Group Receives Official Student Sanction

Art Students Formed in New Activity on Nevada
Campus

Exhibits of Past Year Declared
Successful by President
Clark

By ADELYN ROTHOLTZ
With the ideal in mind of affording the university students an opportunity of self advancement in the more cultural lines of life by sponsoring fine arts exhibits, the Fine Arts Group has just been officially recognized as an activity on the Nevada hill by both President W. E. Clark and the student body.

This group, composed of all college students having an interest in art, has presented to the general public and to the students of the university, thirteen exhibits, all of which were held in the philosophy seminar, room No. 5, in the university library, which was donated for this purpose by President Walter Clark.

Pottery Exhibited
The first exhibit was that of modern contemporary pottery, including sixty pieces from the best potteries of our country, such as Dedham, Cowan, Nil-oak, Overbeck, Fulper, Newcomb and Rookwood. The second exhibit was a showing of 25 modern French etchings, done by the French artist, Louis Icart, who is very well known in the field of etchings in France and also in the United States.

"A Tour Around the World" in water colors was the title of the third exhibit, sponsored by the Fine Arts Group, which consisted of 20 water colors of various buildings and people, by Willis Church, son of Dr. J. E. Church Jr., professor of classics.

Wedgewood Shown
The fifth period of Wedgewood ware was the content of the fourth exhibit, all of the pieces being purchased direct from the factory in Wedgewood, England, including pieces such as medallions, cups and saucers, clocks, pepper shakers and lockets.

A group of 20 portrait sketches, by Robert Cole Caples, composed the fifth exhibit of the semester. "Reno Roofs," a prize picture, Max Baer, Walter Clark Jr., Indian heads and negro sketches were the main portraits on display at this exhibit.

Period furniture was collected in Reno and displayed as the sixth presentation of the Fine Arts Group. English, Italian and Spanish periods were shown in this display that dated as far back as the fourteenth century. A collection of French periods in furniture was shown for the seventh exhibit.

Landscapes, portraits, still life and character studies by Leonard Wilbur constituted the eighth exhibit, which were done in pastels, oils and charcoals. In conjunction with this exhibit the group also put on for the general public an exhibit of fifteen fine water colors, done by William Ross Cameron, which were all shown in the Legion of Honor Palace in San Francisco, the first part of this year.

Etchings Viewed
The tenth and eleventh exhibits were also combined into one. Twenty-five pastels by Ray Boynton, director of art at the University of California, and a

Teaching Positions Hard to Procure, Traner Declares

With about 100 students about to be graduated from the school of education, the outlook for their obtaining positions seems slim this year, according to Dr. F. W. Traner, head of the teacher appointment committee.

Dr. Traner, who is head of the department of secondary education, stated that this year's class is the largest class ever to be graduated from the education school.

For the last five years the chances of obtaining a teaching place has been gradually becoming harder, he said, with more applicants each year, and openings remaining about the same in number.

Statistics compiled by Dr. Traner show that in 1928, of the people receiving bachelor degrees who enrolled for teaching positions, 80 per cent, or 28 students out of a class of 35, found places. A slight increase occurred in 1929, making a total of 84 per cent, or 26 out of a class of 31; while in 1930 a decrease came, with 80 per cent receiving positions, or 36 out of a class of 44. In 1931 a considerable drop came, when only 70 per cent were placed, or 32 out of 46. Last year a much larger drop was noticed, when only 55 per cent of the graduating class received positions, or 28 students out of a class of 51.

According to Dr. Traner, only three students know definitely where they will be placed during the fall of this year. Kathryn Ligon has received a post in Virginia City, Marguerite Miller in Lyon county high school at Fernley, and Keith Lee, in Panaca.

group of twenty etchings by Roi Part-ridge composed this exhibit.

The twelfth exhibit was really the most interesting of any, as this one was not so "arty" as the others, and was of more interest to the general public than any of the others, and included a group of masks of Oriental characters with their beautiful head-gear and a complete collection of masks that was used in a New York presentation of "Alice in Wonderland."

Football Prospects Appear Brighter, Mitchell Declares

Plenty of Material Expected to Build Strong Aggregation

Thirteen Letter Men Will Return for Practice Next Fall

Prospects for a championship football team at the University of Nevada next fall are bright, despite the fact that several lettermen have been lost through graduation, Coach "Brick" Mitchell declares.

Coach Mitchell demonstrated last fall his ability to coach high class football, by giving Nevada its best football team in several years.

Nevada was co-holder of the Western Conference football championship with San Jose last fall. This is significant because of the fact that it was Mitchell's first year as head coach here at Nevada.

Has Theory

With a team next fall that has had one year's coaching under him, Mitchell will stand a good chance of proving his theory of "Nevada high school graduates for Nevada university football players, and hold their own with California universities."

Plenty of material will be here for next year, with thirteen lettermen from last year's squad to form the nucleus. These men are: Ends, Austin, Salet, Spud Harris; guards, Beemer, Turner, Haynes; center, Cashill; halfbacks, Jack Hill, Guffrey, Harvey Hill, Backer; quarter, Priest; fullback, Carroll.

Men coming back who played varsity last year but failed to letter are: Freudenberg, Beasley, Dellano, Sherrup, Adams, Stock, Stowell, Sheehan. Many of these men will be on the first string next year.

Fresh Promising

Many promising men from last year's fresh team will be out contesting for positions next year as sophomores, and the lettermen will have to work hard to keep these fresh from getting their positions. Some of these men are: Eissenman, H. Austin, Benson, Wakeling, Gerow, Cummings, Hadlin, Wakeling, Birchard, Guisti, Toquero, Lansden, Walker, Matheus, Becaas, Tapogna, Cockrell, Horgan and Kepl.

So good an impression has Mitchell's first year of coaching made with the high school students of the state that many who would have otherwise gone to out of the state universities have signified their intention of coming to Nevada next year.

Las Vegas seems to be in the lead in this respect, with two all-state stars from last fall's championship football team, and several other football men of lesser prominence coming up next year. Ely is sending up several of her football stars next year, as are Lovelock, Reno, Sparks and several other high schools.

Nevada looks to be headed for another team like the one that tied California's national champion Golden Bears several years ago.

CRUCIBLE CLUB TRIP

Professors V. P. Gianella and Jay A. Carpenter and the newly elected officers of the university Crucible club made a two day trip to the Silverado mine in Mono county, California, last weekend. The new officers of the Crucible club who made the trip are: Ben Sheehan, Elmer Hawkins, Herman Freudenberg and Max Crowell. The group slept in the open and prepared their own meals.

PHI KAPPA PHI ELECTS

The Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholarship fraternity, elected officers for the coming year at a meeting held early this week. The new executives are: Sara Lewis, president; George W. Sears, treasurer; William Smythe, secretary; Martha Huber, corresponding secretary; Verdie Fant and Cruz Venstrom, marshals.

New Officiating System Explained At Coaches' Dinner

Previous to the meeting of the Managers and Coaches' Association, held last Friday in Sacramento, a banquet was held in the famous Gold Rush dining hall of the Hotel Sacramento.

The purpose of the dinner was to acquaint the individual representatives with the affairs of the conference as they exist at the present time.

Dana Speaks

Following the banquet the coaches and managers met and discussed details connected with next year's football and basketball schedules. Herb Dana, the newly elected commissioner of officials on the Pacific coast, attended the meeting and presented his plan for the selection of all athletic officials during the coming year. This system is now being adopted by all Pacific coast colleges and in many instances the high schools and junior colleges are arranging with Mr. Dana for their officials.

The two day conference in Sacramento was culminated by a second meeting of the faculty representatives on Saturday morning. It was at this meeting that strict eligibility rules were given attention and it was decided to formulate a new code for presentation at the December meeting.

Football Award Method Changed At Annual Meet

A definite change was made in the manner of awarding football championships at the annual meeting of the faculty representatives and managers' association of the Far Western Conference which was held last week at Sacramento.

The following is a provision that was adopted by the two groups: "In football, it will be necessary for teams of the conference to participate in not less than four conference games during the season. The final championship would be allowed after an accurate check on percentage wins had been made."

While this rule will not be applied until the 1934 season is under way, the teams will be required to participate in as many conference games as possible next fall.

The championship question was settled. It was decided to apply strict eligibility rules on the freshman teams inasmuch as several contests are contemplated between their first year teams.

Faculty members in the Far Western Conference decided that a change be made in the constitution concerning article 2 of section 17. It was changed to read: "An eligible player must be registered in eleven hours previous to athletic participation, must have passed eleven hours, and must be taking the same amount of studies at the time of their participation in competition." This question arose over the recent problem of the eligibility at Fresno State college during the last basketball season.

Alpha Tau Omega Elects Officers

George Schilling of Hayward has been elected to succeed Ted Moore as president of the Alpha Tau Omega house. Dan Bledsoe of Los Angeles is vice president, Alfred Theis of Hayward is treasurer, Elmer Hawkins of Grass Valley is secretary and Al O'Connell of Ely will be house manager.

Artemisia Appears On Campus May 13, Editor Announces

Two Hundred Page Book Will Be Distributed to Students

Rigid Economy Plan Followed in Printing of the Yearbook

A 200 page book which has been published under the most rigid economies, the University of Nevada Artemisia, will appear on the campus Friday, May 12, it was announced this week by William Gilmartin, editor of the publication.

Every possible cost has been cut to a minimum in order to cope with the financial crisis, which for a time threatened the publication of the book.

The color work has been greatly reduced from that of former issues, and the sections have also been shortened. Most of the photographic work was done by Gilmartin, eliminating further cost.

The cover is printed in solid black with a silver wolfhead engraved in the upper corner. The page size has been reduced to 8 by 11, the size which was used in former years.

Receive Donations Sessions Wheeler, business manager, inaugurated a new policy by receiving donations from people throughout the state, instead of using an advertising section supported by downtown merchants.

The yearbook is divided into four sections, university, activities, organizations and features. The organization of these divisions is distinctive from those of previous numbers.

Portraits of campus leaders are depicted by John Mariani, editor of the Desert Wolf, and a four page section is given to the Mackay Day queens and the honorary major.

Five campus scenes done in woodcut style, by A. A. Anderson, well known western artist, lend to the artistic beauty of the book. There is a six page section giving the history of Nevada from its birth to the present time. An innovation is found in the res-

Block N Awards Will Be Given to Seven Track Men

Seven Nevada Wolf Pack track and field men are eligible to receive Block N sweater and letter awards for competition on the Nevada squad during the past year, it was announced today by C. L. Mitchell, track and football coach.

The seven men are: Howard Smythe, Paul Leonard and Sam Arentz, distance runners; Harvey Hill and Jack Hill, sprints; Dan Bledsoe, high jump, and Paul Hromadka, hurdler.

To be eligible for a track award an athlete must take 5 points in a scheduled intercollegiate meet or take a place in the Far Western Conference meet.

The track manager for the coming year to succeed Floyd Smalley will be appointed early next week. The men eligible for the post are Charles Worn, Fransden Loomis and Antonio Chavez.

The track letters will be granted by the Block N society at a meeting to be held late this week.

rection of the late dirt section which was discontinued last year.

Establishing a precedent for depression times, the book proved to be a financial success, the report handed in to the finance control committee this week by Sessions Wheeler, business manager, shows.

Through efficient management and various economy measures, the cost of the book was lowered to almost one-third of the expense incurred by last year's issue.

An income of more than $5000 was realized, and expenses amounted to approximately $4000. Both the editor and business manager will receive their allotted salaries, and a substantial surplus will be turned in to the finance control committee.

Belmonte Elected Aggie President

Anthony Belmonte, member of Beta Kappa fraternity, will head the University Aggie club next semester, with Don Small vice president, Walter Bell secretary-treasurer and Nolan Gault historian.

The outgoing officers are: President, Marshall Woodward; vice president, Mike Sherrup, and secretary-treasurer, Oliva Sturla.

Jean Burrows, freshman student last semester, was married Saturday night to Aubrey Cupples, former university student and member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. While attending the university she was a pledge of Delta Delta Delta sorority. After a honeymoon in San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Cupples will reside in Reno, where Mr. Cupples is employed by the United States weather bureau.

New officers for the coming year were elected by Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity of the university, at a meeting held recently. The new officers are: Fred Negel, president; Herbert Peck, vice president; Murray English, secretary, and Bill Durbrow, treasurer.

SUPPOSE YOU TELL ME WHY YOU SMOKE GRANGER

"WELL, it's like this. Back in the old days, when men wore high hats and frock coats, they had plenty of time to think things out, and they had sense, too. They used to sit down on a log and take the time to whittle their tobacco from a plug, to be sure of having a cool smoke.

"In those days, a man named Wellman, right here in Quincy, Ill., made about the best tobacco you could get. He knew how to keep the flavor fine and mellow.

"Well, sir, the people who make this Granger Rough Cut acquired Mr. Wellman's method, and they must have known how the old boys used to whittle their tobacco to make it smoke cool. Yes, sir, this Granger is the real stuff. The same mellowness and fine flavor that Wellman used to hand out to his friends. And it's whittled into big shaggy flakes all ready for the pipe. 'Rough Cut' they call it--'cut rough to smoke cool' is the best way I can describe it.

TEN CENTS

The Granger pouch keeps the tobacco fresh

"Regardless of price, Granger is about the best pipe tobacco I ever smoked. That's why I smoke it, and that's why they call it America's Pipe Tobacco, sir."

Now we wanted to sell Granger for 10¢. It was just a question of how to do it for the price. So we pack Granger in a sensible foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package. We give smokers this good

GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10¢.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it--we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.
