MANY ARE HONORED

Outstanding Students Listed on Annual Graduate
Honor Roll

Attaining an average grade of 1.4 for their four years' work at the University of Nevada, Miss Margaret Rawson and Alvin Jacobs, both of Reno, divided honors last spring and were each awarded a gold medal. It was the first time in many years that two students have been tied for the award.

Both Miss Rawson and Jacobs were students in the college of arts and science. Miss Rawson secured 126 credits and Jacobs secured 126.5 credits in the four-year period. During his senior year Jacobs attained an average grade of 1.19 with 37.5 credits, while Miss Rawson attained a grade of 1.27 for 34 credits.

Margaret Rawson is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and Alvin Jacobs is a member of the Kappa Kappa Psi musical fraternity.

Miss Elsie Seaborn of Reno, with a grade of 1.43 for 134.5 credits the four years, took third scholastic honors in the graduating class, with Marjorie Myles of Austin fourth and Miss Helen Peterson of Elko fifth. Miss Myles' grade was 1.44 for the 129 credits and Miss Peterson made 1.49 for 123 credits. All were students in the college of arts and science.

Lee Honored
Keith Lee of Panaca, Nev., who is a graduate from the college of agriculture, received the Henry J. Albert senior public service prize of $25, one of the most coveted honors, as the award is given to the graduating student having the most satisfactory combination of good scholarship, good character and a record of worthy service in behalf of the university during his or her college career. Lee was president of the student body at the university during his senior year. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and numerous campus organizations.

Honor Roll
The honor roll for the college year 1932-33 contained the names of ten members of the graduating class who attained grades of 1.5 or better for the year. They are as follows:

| Name | AV. | Credits | Grade |
|--------------------------|------|---------|-------|
| Alvin Jacobs, A.&S. | 37.5 | 1.19 | |
| Margaret Rawson, A.&S. | 34.0 | 1.27 | |
| Ruth Bixby, A.&S. | 28.0 | 1.29 | |
| Walter Sutherland, A.&S. | 36.0 | 1.33 | |
| Harry Dunseath, Eng. | 35.5 | 1.39 | |
| Helen Peterson, A.&S. | 29.0 | 1.41 | |
| Elsie Seaborn, A.&S. | 33.0 | 1.42 | |
| Helen Olmstead, A.&S. | 28.0 | 1.44 | |
| Marjorie Myles, A.&S. | 32.0 | 1.48 | |
| Leroy Russell, Eng. | 43.0 | 1.50 | |

The winners of other scholarships and awards included the following:

Mitchell Award
Gen. O. M. Mitchell Woman's Relief Corps scholarship of $50 to sophomore students in R.O.T.C., who shows best soldierly attainments, awarded to Donald Odell of Fallon, with Frank Hickey of Las Vegas as alternate.

Women's Athletic Association scholarship of $75 a freshman, sophomore or junior woman student who has best athletic record coupled with good scholarship, awarded to Myra Sauer of Franktown, with Blanche Keegan of Reno as alternate.

Mrs. Carl Otto Herz scholarship of $50 to electrical engineering student of senior standing selected on the basis of good scholarship and character, awarded to Howard Hart of Piedmont, Calif., with L. Dellamonica of Yerington as alternate.

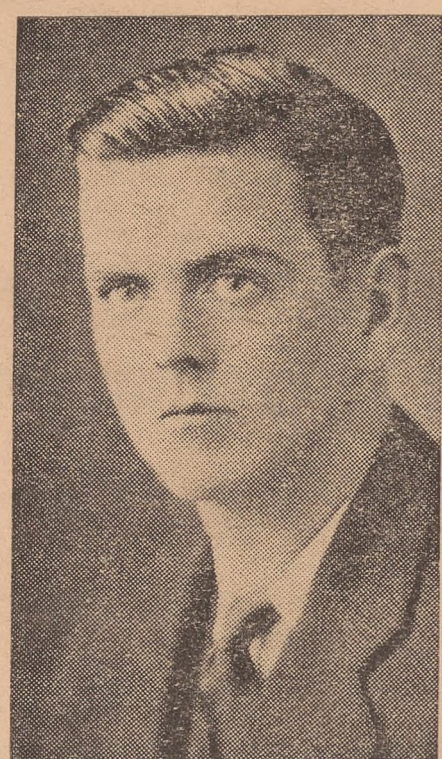

Ella S. Stubbs memorial scholarship given by Women's Faculty Club of the University, $100 to student entering junior or senior year, who is working his or her way, awarded to Jean Sauer of Franktown, with Mary Williams of Sparks as alternate.

Butler Honored
Lewis D. Folsom scholarship of $100 given alternately to a man and then a woman student of the junior class considered worthy by the committee, awarded to Donald Butler of Sparks, with William Beemer of Sparks as alternate.

Washoe County Bar Association scholarship of $100, to worthy student, who has earned sophomore standing and has made marked progress in written and spoken English, awarded to Bryce Rhodes of Reno, with Carl Dodge of Fallon as alternate.

Pre-Med Scholarship

McDonnell Assumes Executive Duties As New Secretary

Joseph McDonnell, graduate student of the university, has taken over his duties as executive secretary to the University of Nevada finance control committee with the beginning of the fall semester in his office in the Student Administration building.

A leader in student affairs during his undergraduate years at the university, McDonnell is fully equipped to handle the position to which he was elected by the finance control committee at its last meeting of the spring semester. He will assume many of the duties of the former graduate manager.

McDonnell will take charge of the distribution of tickets and admissions to athletic contests, keep the books of the student body central treasury, keep records of the association and the budgets of the various organizations and assist the finance control committee in other ways in the performance of its duties.

Re-established on the University of Nevada campus for the purpose of handling university news releases to state, coast and other college papers, the news bureau this year will be headed by Howard Umber, senior student and an active worker in student publications.

The news bureau was handled last year by the graduate manager, who sent news releases out for publication. This year the bureau is under the direction and supervision of finance control committee.

The semester program for the bureau includes a weekly radio program over radio station KOH. The university has been allotted one-half hour each week, during which time entertaining and unique programs will be presented by students on the campus. This courtesy was given the bureau by Mrs. Joy True, manager of KOH, who willingly co-operates in all university functions.

The news bureau will be guided by the "brain trust," who are a group of people assisting with ideas for the betterment of the bureau.

Tryouts for the staff were held Wednesday afternoon and many eager students who desire to write have signified their intention to work out for membership on the staff. Umber stated that he plans to run the bureau by giving out bi-weekly assignments to his staff, and in this way he will cover the entire campus news sources in much the same manner as the Sagebrush.

Used Text Books Exchanged, Sold

The Y.W.C.A. book exchange, started last year, made its second appearance on the campus Wednesday in the basement of Morrill hall and will be open for the first two weeks of school.

Students who wish to sell their old text books make their own price and the Y.W.C.A. deducts 10 per cent for the transfer. Last semester at least 150 books were sold, and due to the depression the committee, headed by Louise Tidball, expects to top the mark by about seventy-five more copies.

The booth is open every afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 and the main demand is for economic and first year Spanish books. There is also a shortage of engineering and math texts. If a student needs assistance in getting books to the store, he can find transportation by inquiring at the booth.

Those assisting Miss Tidball in the exchange are Mary Vaughn and Dorothy Jackson.

Milan Webster has returned to the business department of the university after being on leave for a year completing work for a P.H.D. degree at the University of Colorado.

High Rankings for Rankings

Outstripping all previous records for scholarship in the entire history of the University of Nevada, the student body average for the spring semester ending May 13, 1933, was a rating of 2.3588, with Paul Hartman, junior electrical engineering student, leading the roster with an average of 1.02.

Hartman made the mark which won him the award given annually for attaining the highest university scholarship while carrying a twenty hour schedule of studies. He is the son of Professor L. W. Hartman, professor of physics, and is a graduate of Reno High school.

Co-Ed Brilliant
Ina Johnson, junior arts and science student, also of Reno, made the highest average for women with a semester rating of 1.08 for 17 hours work, with the women's general average attaining a new high of 2.2177. Miss Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris C. Johnson of this city.

As in previous semesters, the general average of women students eclipsed that of the men students, but records for the spring semester show that they also brought up their general average, final figures being 2.4694.

The student body average for the spring semester, as released a year ago, was 2.394.

Average Higher
Artemisia hall, women's dormitory, had a higher average than either of the two other dormitories with a rating of 2.260, with Beta Sigma Omicron sorority and Phi Sigma Kappa leading the Greek-letter organizations.

Complete records of the spring semester honor roll are as follows:

Blue Key Dance Proves Success

A complete success both financially and socially, the annual Blue Key dance was held last Tuesday night at Tony's Spanish ballroom, with most of the students of the university in attendance.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the dance was headed by Dan Harvey, junior engineering student. The music was played by an orchestra composed of university students.

Sagebrush Staff Tryouts Are Set For Next Tuesday

Freshmen may now sign up for work on the editorial and business staffs of the University of Nevada Sagebrush at a tryout period to be held Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock, in the offices of the paper in the Student Administration building, William McMenamin, editor, and William Crowell, business manager, announced today.

The hub of campus activity, the Sagebrush offers new staff members valuable training in newspaper and managerial work, an opportunity to make a wide variety of new acquaintances and a chance for salaried positions in the senior year.

Positions on the editorial staff are open to all students of the university who are regular members of the Associated student body, having paid their dues at the time of registration. Freshman and underclass students who feel they have ability in the lines of work offered are especially urged to try out.

The organization of the editorial staff is such that freshmen require no previous experience and work from the ground floor up to newswriting and editing. Members of the staff are required to write stories assigned to them, to do office work and attend staff meetings held at 4:15 p. m. each Monday. Advanced reporters will be given a beat to cover.

Positions on the managerial and business staff of the paper are open to all A.S.U.N. members who prove their ability in tryouts. Students interested in business and advertising are desired, according to William Crowell, business manager.

The managerial staff offers a thorough business training, contact with prominent business men, valuable experience with business management and an opportunity for financial remuneration.

Song Book Issued

Theodore Post Edits New Edition of Book of Songs

Edited by Theodore H. Post, director of the department of music of the university, and dedicated to the late dean of men and leader of the university men's glee club, Charles Haseman, a new revised edition of the University of Nevada songbook made its appearance on the campus with the beginning of the fall semester.

All members of the freshman orientation classes will be required to have a copy of the book to use in class in learning the university songs. Elaborately illustrated with pictures of familiar scenes about the campus, the songbook contains all of the pieces printed in the last edition and several new ones.

The book will be placed on sale in the offices of Joe McDonnell, executive secretary to the finance control committee. It contains thirty-seven pages of songs and was produced by photolithographic reproduction of the author's manuscript by Edward Bros., Inc., of Ann Arbor, Mich.

NOTICE

The semi-annual meeting of the University of Nevada campus calendar committee will be held in the Agriculture building at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the main lecture room. All groups wishing dates on the calendar must send representatives to the meeting.

Margaret E. Mack,
Dean of Women.

The executive and upperclass committees of the student body will meet with all members of the freshman class to elect a freshman manager and get acquainted with student body government.

Jim Wallace,
A.S.U.N. President.

CAMPUS THESPIANS WINNERS McIntyre, Koontes Take Screen Tests

IN MOTION PICTURE TRYOUTS

That the university holds the cream of the Nevada and Sierra California crop in the way of both feminine and masculine pulchritude, was proved when two students were chosen the best fit for Hollywood stardom, in a contest held by the Majestic theater and the Nevada State Journal.

Jean McIntyre, senior student, and Chris Koontes, a member of the freshman class, received first places, giving them the right to compete with winners of other sections in a worldwide enterprise conducted by Paramount Productions, for film contracts to be awarded 15 men and 15 women for feature pictures.

Screen tests of the winners were shown at the Majestic theater the week following the contest, which took place July 16. Both students are popular in social activities in Reno circles as well as on the campus.

Miss McIntyre is a student of dramatics and English literature, and has had training which should be of considerable help in motion picture work, including a study of dancing for four

Enrollment Trails Fall Record at End of Week's Registration

PRESIDENTS' GREETINGS

TO ALL STUDENTS — NEW AND OLD:
Greetings and a cordial welcome!
Our beautiful campus, well-equipped plant and devoted teaching staff are all at your service for this new university year.
Our campus traditionally mingles hard work with a reasonable proportion of joyous play. Work and play, wisely proportioned, co-operate to develop during campus years democratic leaders.
The outcome is in your hands, students. If, with industry and enthusiasm, you make the most of your campus opportunity in basic terms of growth in mental power, in character, in craftsmanship and in citizenship, then will this be a great year for our university.
Welcome, students all, to this blessed opportunity to grow in soul power through and for service.
August 30, 1933.

The A.S.U.N. welcomes all of its old members back to school, and extends greetings to the freshmen and all new students.

You are invited to participate in the many activities that are offered on our campus and to back Nevada teams and Nevada organizations with plenty of real spirit.

Take advantage of the privileges of the Student Union building. Support our new constitution—its success depends on your co-operation. Attend rallies, games and student body meetings.
Be a real Nevadan!

JIM WALLACE, President A.S.U.N.

Fraternal Groups Announce Pledges

Practically exhausted after a trying week of booming "Helios," talking about potato crops and wool clips and in general endeavoring to convince bewildered freshmen that their best bet was "to take the button," the eight Greek letter fraternities on the campus today rested on their collective arms.

Leading the field is Sigma Alpha Epsilon with nineteen men, followed closely by Alpha Tau Omega, which pledged seventeen. Lambda Chi Alpha took third place with fourteen recruits. Sigma Nu signed up twelve newcomers. Delta Sigma Lambda one, Phi Sigma Kappa five, Sigma Phi Sigma eight and Beta Kappa three.

Sigma Nu pledges are Stanley Smith, George Tharp, Oliver Aymar, Lyman Clark, Ed Rose, John Petrinoch, Michael Elcana, Fred Corle, Jimmy Herz and Ray Gonn.

Delta Sigma Lambda pledged Joe Littlefield.

Phi Sigma Kappa pledged Pat Stewart, Richard Sauer, Cletus Libby, James Dopson and Frank Burn.

Sigma Phi Sigma pledged Richard Haman, Frank Sherwater, William Cashill, George Strom, John Robb, Allen Cromwell, Louis Lazzorovich, Eldridge Nash.

Beta Kappa pledges are Albert Manahan, John Cleary and Ned Taylor.

Miss Sameth, who is in charge of the women's physical education department, has announced that a first aid course under title P.E. 23 will be open to students on Fridays from 2:15 to 4. This one unit course will last for ten weeks.

University Student Tahoe Crash Victim

John T. Blum, prominent sophomore student and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Blum of Reno, was instantly killed in an automobile accident near Tahoe Vista, Lake Tahoe, early this month. Jack Blakely, well known junior student, and Miss Josephine Weeks were badly injured.

The party was returning from Brockway after swimming and as they rounded a turn they failed to clear a truck loaded with lumber. The dead youth, Blakely and Miss Weeks were riding on the running board of the car and they received the impact of the falling wood. Five other young people were in the small coupe but they escaped injury. The driver of the truck was absolved of all blame and a coroner's inquest found that Blum died as the result of an unavoidable accident.

John Blum was a native of Reno, where he attended the Reno schools. He was prominently identified with school affairs both in high school and in college. He was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity in college and of the Delta Sigma while in high school.

Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Betty.

'Bibles' and 'Dinks' Will Greet Frosh By Next Tuesday

Distribution and Sale To Be Donated by Blue Key Fraternity

The freshman "bible," traditional publication for yearlings, will make its appearance on the campus next Tuesday, according to Bill McMenamin, chairman of the committee which is revising the book.

This year's "bible" will include the new A.S.U.N. constitution, inaugurated last semester, as well as revised constitutions for the Interfraternity council and Associated Women's Student governments.

The "bible" committee, consisting of Bill McMenamin, Jim Cazier, Myra Sauer and Caryl Carman, has been working on the book during the summer months, with the result that it is now complete and in the printer's hands. Two hundred and fifty copies are to be printed.

Blue Key, service fraternity, will handle the sale of the books, and on Tuesday will offer both the "bibles" and frosh "dinks" to students. The "bibles" will cost 50 cents each.

As usual, campus traditions are listed in the forthcoming publication, and some which have not been enforced in the past few years have been revived. School songs, yells and other useful information are included.

Civil Engineers Listen to Lecture

A lecture was given by Edward F. Berry, professor of structural analysis at Syracuse university, at a meeting Thursday of the University of Nevada student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers on "The Great Bridges of the World."

The lecture was illustrated with slides and pictures. This was the first meeting of the semester of the group. The officers of the group for this year are Robert Leighton, president, and James Wallace, secretary-treasurer.

The revolving scholarship cup which is given by Dean of Men R. C. Thompson, and won by Lincoln Hall last semester, will be presented to the winner at the first student body meeting next week. Lincoln Hall won the trophy by a close margin from the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

A. S. U. N. UNAFFECTED

Post-Labor Day Enrollment
Expected to Raise Figures

By ED MONTGOMERY
With the first four days of registration completed, President Walter E. Clark officially announced that of the 854 registration cards issued 757 students had officially completed enrollment at 4 p. m. Thursday. Ninety-seven cards were still out at that time.

According to official tabulation, of the 757 students entered to date 233 are freshmen, 222 sophomores, 151 juniors, 101 seniors, 23 graduate students, 15 unclassified and 13 special students. Of the total enrollment 421 were men and 336 women.

Figuratively speaking, the registration to date is trailing the enrollment of the 1932 fall registration by 85 students. During the first four days of registration one year ago 908 cards were issued, with 822 completed registrations. The first week of registration in 1931 closed with 861 cards out and 785 registrations completed as compared with 857 out and 772 completed for the same period of time in 1930.

Though hesitating to venture a responsible estimation of what this semester's final registration figures will be, President Clark expressed confidence in the anticipation that post-Labor Day entrants will cause a marked increase in the present figures.

"This having been an unusually hard summer financially for a great number of students, it is quite probable that many of them are holding summer jobs as long as possible before returning for the fall semester," stated the president. "Should there be a slight decrease in this year's registration, as compared with the immediately preceding years, it will prove not at all alarming. During the past three years the University of Nevada has had its largest enrollments despite the depression conditions."

A. S. U. N. Not Affected

A possible decrease in this year's enrollment will have no immediate effect

DISSENSION MUST BE AVOIDED

Facing a condition of slowly returning prosperity and looking forward to a year of new policies of student government and a new constitution, the students of the University of Nevada can well hope for an outstanding year that they may well be proud of. Only one thing can keep this year from being a successful one and that is dissension within our ranks. It has been the policy in the past of many students at this university to attempt to hinder anyone trying to help the university who was not a member of his own social group or political organization. It has also been the policy of some students to hunt for faults in the characters and actions of others, to complain about the athletic teams, to criticize the faculty and to advocate wild and radical changes of an unsound nature. It is this type of agitator of whom we must beware. No matter how strong the individuals of a group are, if they are divided they are weakened. If the students of this university present a broken front to townspeople and to other colleges, they cannot hope for respect or assistance. We must pull together toward the common aim of helping each other or this new student government will fail, as other governments not backed wholeheartedly by the people who made them have failed.

This paper will do everything in its power to boost activities aimed at improving the university and will refuse to print critical comment not based on sound, unbiased thought. It will not become an organ for the publication of the hair-brained thoughts of wild agitators. It will, however, strive to do everything in its power to back movements for the improvement of the university and report faithfully throughout the year the activities of the students without bias or prejudice. It is up to every member of the student body to set an example for the incoming freshman students by wholeheartedly co-operating with the new student body officers, the new student senate and the Sagebrush in a drive for a better university year.

THOUGHTLESS STUDENTS

Scholarships are a long-established factor of college life, many students being enabled to continue their studies through the helpfulness of societies and individuals who are interested in their welfare.

Contrary to general opinion, a number of the donors of these scholarships are not well-to-do. Many of them are put to some hardship in order to perpetuate their gifts, especially in these times of financial distress. Some societies find it especially difficult to raise the money, it being necessary to work hard the year around for it.

The attitudes of different scholarship recipients toward the donor of the award they receive differ widely. Many are deeply grateful. Some, however, seem to believe that the award was coming to them all the time; that they deserved it and that they owe thanks to no one.

Frequently these students have failed to express even a word of thanks to those who gave them the scholarship. Many times the donor has never known the student who was awarded his scholarship.

The use to which scholarship money has been put by the student has also caused comment at times. In several instances it has been spent for things not connected with educational pursuits.

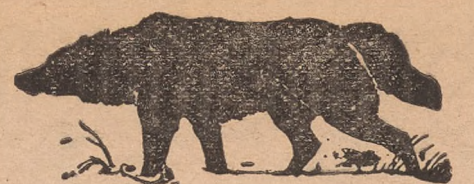

Perhaps these students just haven't thought, their actions being unintentional. Fortunately, they are few. But those who follow them should realize that those giving the scholarships are very discouraged when anyone acts in such a manner, and that the continuance of the scholarship is jeopardized when students act so.

A little thoughtfulness will prevent the recurrence of these unfortunate episodes. It is hoped that everyone who receives a scholarship will sincerely appreciate it; that he will express his feelings at the time, and that he will put the money to good uses in furthering his education.

NEWS SERVICE BUREAU

A news service bureau, financed by the Associated Students of the university and managed by students, has been installed with the beginning of this semester, meeting a need which has made itself felt since the office of graduate manager was abolished last semester. The graduate manager's office handled this material in past years capably enough, but it has been felt that it could be handled with more thoroughness by students of journalism who would gain valuable experience in this publicity work. A regular allotment from the student body budget will be made to the bureau which will furnish state papers and the publications of other universities with material about the activities of Nevada students.

Important to the future life of the university and vital to its growth is some organ through which news of the university is spread throughout this and other states. The news bureau satisfies this need. Stories on athletics will not be the only type covered by the bureau, which will be equipped with information about every leading student on the campus and will be aided by the journalism classes of the university in gathering the news which will be sent for quick release to papers throughout the west. In past years the news bureau has been handled by students with considerable success and with the co-operation of the student body in supplying information the new bureau is expected to be a success.

Wolf Howls

"Wolf Wisdom," the few words of advice given to frosh in their "bible," which is usually ready on registration days, stresses the absolute necessity for friendship on the campus and the turning loose of a "Hello" now and then. Also there is always found the caution to forget high school achievements—"You are in college now." It might be well for upperclass men, too, to be less mindful of their own accomplishments if they forget that it is Nevada they serve.

And the usual gang is swearing to buckle down "for a change" and knock over some grades. About time, considering that nearly everyone else has grasped that fire, or at least the spark, that the profs encourage and work for in their prize students. Since the good days took a furlough from the campus there is even said to be a much higher moral code, with less hot and guzzling and—carrying-on!

It is hoped that the students will somehow or other take a keener interest in the Sagebrush this year and use its columns as a medium to air opinions and to present worthwhile literary material in lieu of that formerly published in the extinct Desert Wolf. It seems funny that so few get off the dime only when the mud hurling starts for the A.S.U.N. elections in the spring.

Practically every couple who had any idea on the matter were married during the summer, leaving us almost too many to offer congratulations or felicitations as the case may be. And now whirs the rumor or practically announcement that the first to the bat for the new term will be Ronzone and Re-canzone. Doesn't saying those names together make you want to go scrub your teeth.

Oyez, Oyez! Right up with times we are, with a nudist colony being started and students being solicited this week. Back to nature registration cards are being distributed by a broad minded sophomore girl. With a Sierra street estate as the rendezvous. Bring on Creps with his camera for a few front page cuts.

Wouldn't it be pleasant for a change to hire a graduate manager who wasn't consumed with the apparent importance of his honored position. And we hope he realizes the need of social hours, even if they have to be held in the Student Union building, and to the exclusion of expenses on other activities. The houses won't have the money and Tony's just won't do.

Ken Johnson Injured In Automobile Wreck

Kenneth Johnson, senior at the University of Nevada and former editor of the Sagebrush, was injured in an automobile accident during the summer. He received a compound fracture of his upper arm and a severe leg injury. Johnson, together with three friends from Tonopah, was driving toward Goldfield at night when the driver turned the car from the road to avoid running into a culvert and the machine turned over.

Johnson was hurled from the car and although his arm was broken he freed the two passengers pinned beneath the car and then struggled to the highway, where he summoned aid from a passing motorist. The four were taken to Tonopah, where Johnson received first aid treatment at the Tonopah Mines hospital, later being taken to Reno.

Sufficiently recovered to continue his studies, Johnson is now back on the campus.

Difficult Season Faces Nevada Grid Squad This Year

Thirteen Lettermen and Many Reserves Expected to Return

SIGN-UP IS HELD

Cashill, Beemer, Priest and Hill Will Form Squad Nucleus

By FRANK MILDREN

Facing one of the toughest lists of games that has ever confronted the Wolf Pack, the outlook for a winning season is not strong, according to Coach "Brick" Mitchell, who points to the fact that Nevada lost all but Cashill and Beemer on the line, Hill and Priest in the back field, of last year's first team.

Mitchell will build his team around the thirteen lettermen from last year's squad who have returned. These men are: Ends, Austin, Salet, Harris; guards, Beemer, Turner, Haynes; center, Cashill; halfbacks, J. Hill, Guffrey, H. Hill, Backer; quarter, Priest; full-back, Carroll.

Promising Reserves

Mitchell will also have plenty of material in men who played varsity last year but failed to earn a letter, namely: Freudenburg, Beasley, Dellano, Sterrup, Adams, Stock, Stowell. There are many promising men from last year's frosh team who will be out contesting for positions and lettermen will have to work hard to keep these sophomores from getting their positions.

Schedule

The Wolf Pack will tackle the U. of San Francisco, U. of California and Olympic Club on September 22, 30 and October 7, respectively. Then they will make the trip to Los Angeles to play Loyola, the team that gave U. S. C. its hardest battle last year. College of Pacific will be Nevada's opponent for the Homecoming day game on October 21. The game October 27 at San Francisco will be against the powerful St. Mary's squad while November 4 is still an open date. Chico State and Cal Aggies on November 11 and 18, respectively, completes the schedule. The games on October 7, 21 and November 11 will be in Reno while the U. of S. F. and Loyola games will be played at night.

Strong Last Year

Last year's team was the best in several years, Nevada being co-holder of the Far Western Conference championship with San Jose. This is significant because of the fact that it was Mitchell's first year as head coach here at Nevada. A good impression of Mitchell's first year of coaching at Nevada was made with high school students of the state that are coming to Nevada and who might have gone elsewhere.

Las Vegas sent up two all state stars from last year's state championship team and one from the team of two years ago. Ely is sending up several of her stars, as are Reno, Sparks, Lovelock and several other high schools.

Varsity sign-up was held Wednesday and the frosh Thursday. All men were required to take a medical examination before starting the season. The first practice will be held Tuesday, although Mitchell cannot get on the field until September 10, according to the conference ruling.

Mitchell Building Strong Grid Squad

Nevada Coach Asks Support of Student Body to Back Team

Basing his hopes for a successful football team not solely upon playing ability and muscle but on support from the student body as a whole, C. L. "Brick" Mitchell, Nevada's grid mentor, emphatically declares that "with plenty of co-operation from every student the time will come when Nevada's football teams will command respect and recognition from every major team along the Pacific coast."

Mitchell is entering his second year as coach at Nevada. He was confronted with the usual problem of having no material so he started from the bottom and has built the team to its present state. He sincerely believes that the time is not far off when Nevada will emerge from the backwoods realm and step into the ranks of the better known teams.

Deserve Credit

"The men who play on Nevada football teams enter each game with the determination to win and whether they succeed or not they deserve credit," Mitchell said.

The question often arises as to why Nevada attempts to compete with the big college teams. He answers this by pointing out that to be good in anything you must associate with good things. "Playing big teams gives the smaller team a chance to improve its game and at the same time there is always the chance of getting a tie or making an interesting game out of it," the coach explained.

Lack Spirit

Using the expression "United We Stand, Divided We Fall" to good advantage, Mitchell explained the present situation regarding Nevada's football aspirations. "It all goes back to one thing and that is non-support from a certain percentage of the students."

He concluded by saying "this new deal can start right now and if everyone pulls together it will not be long before this school has a real team and every person who helped co-operate will be a pioneer in the campaign and can say to himself 'I contributed my share'."

Former A.S.U.N. Prexy Returns to Campus

A former president of the University of Nevada student body and leading journalistic graduate of the university, Elmer "Kelly" Lyon, who has been doing journalistic work in South American, returned to the campus for graduate work this semester.

Send the 'Brush home. Be proud of your university.

RECOVERING

Bruce Thompson, prominent graduate of the University of Nevada, who was injured in an automobile wreck this spring shortly after he entered the Stanford law school, is recovering rapidly from his injuries at the home of his father, R. C. Thompson, dean of men of this university. Thompson is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is a former manager of the university basketball team.

Frosh Prospects Appear Promising Declares Scranton

Prospects for a successful frosh football team this season are promising, according to Varsity Coach C. L. "Brick" Mitchell and "Chet" Scranton, freshman coach. Although nothing definite concerning the frosh squad will be known until the sign-up is completed, there are a number of the yearlings on the campus who have had experience in Nevada and California high schools. The squad will start practice on Mackay field every afternoon at 4 o'clock and will play preliminaries to the varsity games and feature games in the absence of the varsity.

All students interested in turning out for the frosh team should report for a physical examination immediately and then to Student Manager Ralph Menante for equipment, officials stated.

The 1933 schedule for the frosh as arranged at a meeting of coaches recently is as follows:

September 23, Reno, here; October 7, Fallon at Fallon; October 14, U. of N. Frosh vs. College of Pacific Frosh; October 28, Ely, here; November 4, Susanville at Susanville; November 11, Las Vegas at Las Vegas. The game with the College of Pacific Frosh is tentative.

Nevadans Leading In Tennis Tourney

Students and graduates of the University of Nevada again are playing a leading part in state tennis competition this year, with most of the leaders as former Nevada tennis stars or attending the university at the present time.

With the opening of the state tennis tournament last week, the top seeded players include Douglas Busey, former state tennis champion and former member of the Nevada tennis team; Hoyt Martin, former Nevada man, and Kerwin Foley and Walter Bowrin, two undergraduates.

Busey captured the Wingfield park and Reno city tennis championships. Foley and Martin won the doubles championships in the same tournament.

It doesn't take more than one glance on the part of the most casual observer to see that the freshman football squad this year will make things quite warm for local high schools. With a galaxy of new material from parts hereabouts the frosh coach has plenty of muscle with which he can work and mold into a strong team if size is a predominant factor. There is one of those boys who looks like a first cousin to the Empire State building and as for the rest of them they appear to be eating quite regularly.

"Brick" Mitchell, entering his second year as Nevada's grid mentor, is all for getting down to business providing he can get the needed support from the student body. Mitchell knows that Nevada has a tough schedule, but that is all the more incentive for the team to fight and for the students to co-operate.

There is a rumor prevalent of the return of fistcuffs to Nevada and as yet it has met with no rebuffs at the hands of even those old diehards who

SOCIETY

Both faculty members and students of the Nevada campus were principals in a score of marriages which took place during the past summer vacation.

Among the faculty members a marriage of interest was that of Miss Delpha Wood, matron of Manzanita hall and member of the home economics teaching staff, and Cruz Venstrom of the agriculture department. The ceremony took place at the home of Professor and Mrs. A. L. Higginbotham on July 22. Mrs. Venstrom was graduated from Oregon State college and her husband from the University of Nevada. They are making their home in Reno and both are teaching on the campus again this year.

Another faculty wedding was that of Alden J. Plumley, instructor in the economics department, and Miss Martha Huber. Mrs. Plumley was graduated from the university in 1929 and has been assisting the veterinary department since. She was affiliated with the Alpha Delta Theta sorority.

William C. Miller, English instructor and head of campus dramatics, was married in Long Beach this summer to Miss Frances Campbell. Mrs. Miller plans on joining her husband in November.

Miss Jean Hughes '31 and Francis Duborg '28 were married in New York City this summer. The bride took the train to New York shortly before the date of the wedding to meet Mr. Duborg, who arrived there from England where he had been attending Oxford as a Rhodes scholar. Mrs. Duborg was a popular campus figure, being affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority and was A.W.S. president during her senior year. After she was graduated she was retained in the veterinary service bureau of the university.

Miss Jean Burroughs became the bride of Aubrey Cupples May 8. Mrs. Cupples was affiliated with the Delta Delta Delta sorority and Mr. Cupples with the Sigma Nu fraternity. They are making their home on Nixon avenue.

Miss Helen Elizabeth Mitten of Utica, Kan., who has resided in Reno for the past three years, and Elwood Boerlin of Hawthorne were married on May 18. Boerlin was graduated with the class of '31.

On May 20 Olga Pirtle and Arthur F. Loveridge, member of Sigma Nu, were married. They have made their home in Berkeley, where Loveridge is pastor of the Richmond Baptist church.

The secret marriage of Florence Shedd and George Davis was revealed this summer. They were married August 29, 1932. Mrs. Davis was a member of Beta Sigma Omicron and Davis of the Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity.

Anita Louise Sourwine, popular for her dramatic ability, became the bride of Perry Hayden, member of the class of '31, on September 19, 1932. Hayden is doing graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

One of the first of June marriages was the wedding of Sheila Parker, graduate with the class of '29, and member of the Alpha Delta Theta sorority, and Herbert W. Rast Jr.

Valborg Olsen, former teacher in the Sparks schools, and Stanley R. Anderson were married June 11. They are making their home in Pleasanton, Calif.

Miss Neva Shaw and Nell Scott were married on August 6. Both people were active and popular on the campus. Mrs. Scott was women's editor of the Sagebrush, representative to publications board and member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She was graduated last spring. Scott was graduated in 1932 and while on the campus was prominent in athletics. He is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity. Since graduating he has been teaching in Pioche, Nev. Mr. and Mrs. Scott will live in Pioche, where Scott is on the teaching staff.

Louise Jones, member of Beta Sigma Omicron and graduate with the class of '28, and Byron Stetler were married June 11. Stetler was affiliated with Delta Sigma Lambda and graduated with the class of '29. Stetler has been teaching in Wadsworth for the past four years.

Amy Goodman of Ely and member of Pi Beta Phi and Gerald Stambaugh, teacher in the Ely schools, were married June 11. Mrs. Stambaugh was a member of the class of '25.

June 18 was the day of the marriage of Kathryn Robison, former Sparks teacher, and Henry C. McKenna of San Francisco. Mrs. McKenna was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi. McKenna is assistant manager of the Langendorf company in San Francisco, in which city they will make their home.
