

UNDERCLASS FIELD DAY BATTLE TOMORROW

Sophs, Freshmen Prepare to Fight For Class Honors

Upperclass Committee Takes Charge of Annual Scramble

BLOCK N TO HELP

Fight Captains of Classes Are Still Unnamed by Groups

Surprising the campus with a last minute notice, Bill Beemer, chairman of the men's upperclass committee, announced today that the annual lowerclass brawl between the sophomore and freshman students of the university will be held tomorrow on Mackay field. The opening event will take place at 2 o'clock.

With the upperclass committee and members of the Block N society looking on to prevent broken heads, jaws and noses, the two classes will pitch into each other in a rough battle for class supremacy, smear each other with paint, tie each other up and fight over tires in an effort to win the right to hold their heads high during the year.

In spite of the late notice, a big attendance at the annual joust is expected and Nevada's oldest traditional rivalry will be witnessed by a happy, noisy band of students.

Neither class has as yet selected its fight captain for the annual brawl, but several husky prospects are being considered by the leaders of both classes and the names will be announced shortly before the contest takes place.

The annual frosh-soph battle, scheduled for tomorrow, promises to surpass all previous underclass battles, not only from the standpoint of black eyes and bruised noses but also from the ferocity of the entire combat, according to Beemer, chairman of the committee.

The class of '36 will be handicapped by fewer men than the frosh outfit, but the sophs promise to more than offset their lack of men by useful experience which they received last year. According to sophomore advance dope, strategy is to be the main causation for the frosh defeat this fall.

The program consists of the usual events, including the tie-up, the tire rush, the jousting match and boxing matches. In all except the latter event the amount of men on the field is usually the deciding factor.

The present sophomore class suffered defeat last year in the jousting match and tie-up and they claim they are more than ready to avenge themselves in this year's fracas. The newcomers to the campus don't seem to be standing by and taking this "mole-skin drawl" to heart, but they themselves have a few threats for the high and mighty second year men.

The warriors of last year's clash have nothing to lose but their honor in this coming battle, but the freshmen have the opportunity of some day wearing the coveted derby and white vest and, with this in mind, should be ready for an afternoon not to be taken lightly.

Forty-five Sign Up For Weekly Paper

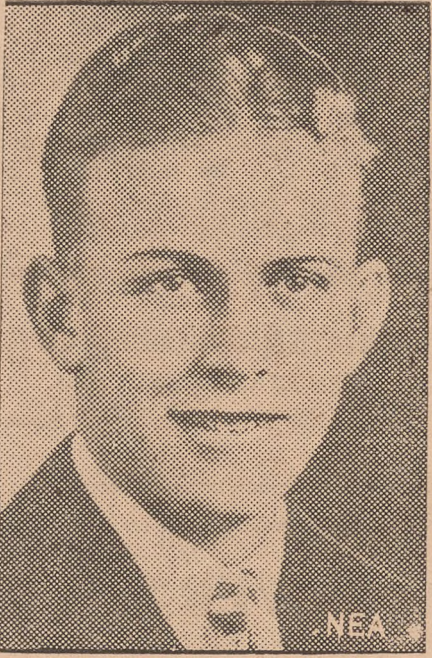

Signing up for service in the Sagebrush office in the Student Administration building early this week, one of the largest turnouts for staff in the history of the weekly paper of the university was put to work on both the business and editorial staffs.

Twenty-six new tryees have been set to work on the editorial staff to write up material about the various campus groups and their plans for activity throughout the year. They will be assigned to obtain other material to be placed on file in the "Brush office" this week.

New tryees will report to William McMenamin, editor, in the Sagebrush office in the Student Administration building Monday for more advance assignments between 1 and 4 p. m. A meeting of regular staff members will be held in the A.S.U.N. building at 4 p. m.

Nineteen students have turned out for positions on the business and secretarial staff of the Sagebrush under William Crowell, business manager, and some positions on the staff are still open to students who desire to sign up in the Sagebrush office Monday afternoon.

HOWARD UMBER

Tryouts Are Held For News Bureau

Nevada Professors to Speak;
Orchestra to Play on Radio Programs

Tryees for the University of Nevada news bureau staff signed up this week and began work under the direction of Howard Umber, new publicity director, who immediately began distribution of news material to state and college papers.

The system takes in the state, the Pacific coast, various college papers on the Pacific coast and eastern syndicates. The method consists of sending out pictures and stories on campus life and activities.

Plans have been made to arrange for a radio program that will take place once each week and will last for a period of fifteen minutes. On this program various college professors, students and downtown business men will speak and university music will be heard. The first program is set for September 15, and there is a possibility that each Friday will be the day reserved for it.

At present the bureau is headed by Umber and the staff will be arranged similar to that of the Sagebrush.

The tryees thus far are Theresa Jauregui, Lorraine Johnson, Betty Howell, Claire Fitzgerald, Frances Smith, Grace Armbruster, Tyrus Cobb, Adelyn Rotholz, Fae Witmer, Caryl Carman, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson.

Tryouts are still open for anyone interested.

Nevada Student Scores Highest in Camp Matches

Leading all competitors at the R. O. T. C. camp in scoring on the rifle range, Ned Morehouse, senior University of Nevada student, shot 231 points out of a possible 250 at the training camp at Monterey, Cal., this summer, according to official announcement from the headquarters of the ninth corps area.

This score qualified Morehouse as an expert marksman, the highest rating given by the United States army. The score needed to meet this rating is 224 points out of a possible 250. There were three other students from other schools at the camp who qualified as expert. Had the rifle meet at Camp Perry, O., been held this year, these four men would have attended it, it was announced.

Of the six University of Nevada students attending the summer training camp, five qualified with either the rifle or the pistol. Col. Robert M. Brambila stated, "This is an exceptionally high average for students who have never fired the .30 caliber service rifle before," the colonel continued.

The men who qualified as marksman at the camp were Paul Fontana, Dan Harvey and Gene Salet, while Bruce Moore qualified as marksman with the pistol at Edgewood Arsenal, Md., where he attended the chemical warfare service camp.

CAL. PLANS MADE

Joe McDonald, executive manager, is endeavoring to get the lowest rates possible for the trip to Berkeley for the first big game of the football season scheduled for Saturday afternoon, September 30, at the Memorial stadium on the University of California campus, Berkeley, he announced today. So far reported no hotels are giving any special rates, but he urged students to back the team by their presence.

Greek Letter Men Announce Latest Lists of Pledges

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Still
Leading in Pledge
Derby

BUTTONS GLISTEN

Alpha Tau Omega and Lambda Chi Place Second and Third

The eight Greek letter fraternities on the campus are still hard at work pledging new members. The bewildered freshmen are just beginning to find out where they "are at," and many shiny buttons grace masculine chests as fraternal leaders announced the latest pledging lists.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is still heading the list with twenty-two men, having pledged three new men this week. They are Al James, Jens Sanford and Harold Herz. The other pledges are John Armbruster, Russell Byington, Ed Connors, Dearing Dixon, Kirk Fairhurst, Ed Gilly, William Horgan, Les Gray, Bob Hodg-William Horgan, Les Gray, Bob Hodg-Wayne Poulson, John Robinson, Silas Ross Jr., Frank Smalley, Bob Smith and Aldo Vachina.

Alpha Tau Omega is second on the list with eighteen men, having pledged Walter Scott this week. The complete list of pledges at present are Charles Allen, Ralph Mongam, Floyd Hand, Gerald Roberts, Locky Maulle, Jack Roquan, Douglas McDow, Emory Graunke, Guido Dullio, Bill Johnstone, Kevin Callahan, Joe Wallace, Bob Kemper, Joe Jones, Bert Cummings, Bob Zadov, Fred Wood and Walter Scott.

Lambda Chi Alpha places third, having sixteen recruits, one of which, Bill Devore, was pledged this week. Other Lambda Chi pledges are Walter States, John Carr, Jack Elliott, Cliff Prussia, Wayne Kennedy, Glenn Roeder, George Kitchen, Emil Geslin, Walter Palmer, Dick Clewett, Jerry Havans, Kenneth Cobb, Lester Kitch and John McNabney.

Although Sigma Nu failed to pledge anyone this week, it still holds fourth place, having pledged twelve men, who are Ray Gonn, James Herz, Fred Corie, Michael Elcana, John Petrionovich, Ed Rose, Lyman Clark, Oliver Aymar, George Tharp and Stanley Smith.

Sigma Phi Sigma runs a close fifth with eleven pledges. They are Richard Haman, Frank Shwalter, William Cashill, George Strom, John Robb, Allen Cromwell, Louis Lazzarovich, Eldridge Nash, Craig Moore, Jack Becker and Albert Aggie. The latter three were pledged this week. Phi Sigma Kappa's pledges remain the same, namely, Pat Stewart, Richard Sauer, Cletus Libby, James Dopson and Frank Burn.

Beta Kappa pledges are Ned Taylor, John Cleary and Albert Manhan.

Delta Sigma Lambda pledged Joe Littlefield.

Delta Sigma Lambda announces the pledging of Joe Lubin of Westwood, Calif., this morning.

Famous Orchestra Will Appear Tonight

A dance at which Ted Florito's famous radio orchestra will play will be held in the Washoe County Library building auditorium on Friday, September 8, from 9 to 12 p. m. University students have been invited to attend.

MYSTERY OF MISSING FRAT

DELTA SIG HOUSE UNDISCOVERED HOUSE BAFFLES ALUMNUS

Lost! One fraternity house, no less, and not even the members know where to find it.

Joe Jackson, popular member of the class of '32 and one-time editor of the U. of N. Sagebrush, returned to his alma mater this week on a visit and inquired of a fraternity brother where to find Delta Sigma Lambda house, which he himself had failed to find in his rambles along fraternity row. Naturally he was surprised when the brother, in a puzzled manner, told him that he had no idea where it was located.

Now Jackson is a patient man and a reasonable one, but this situation was beyond him—not knowing where to find one's own fraternity house. He began to wonder, and meeting another brother who was a member of the old guard he buttonholed him and asked him where to find the Delta Sigma house. He did not know, but, scratching his head, said that

Finance Control Passes New Requisition Ruling

Any requisitions for the expenditure of A.S.U.N. funds by any of the departments must be placed with Joe McDonnell at least a week and a half previous to the time the money is needed and by finance control before the voucher is authorized, according to the decision made at the meeting of finance control August 30.

In previous years requisitions were made directly to the graduate manager or executive secretary. As a result too many of a minor nature were granted, it was stated at the meeting.

According to the new ruling, McDonnell will accept applications for requisitions and present them to finance control, but he will not be able to grant them as formerly.

Freshman Women Entertained at Rushing Parties

Official 'Rushing' Period Is Opened Tuesday as Thetas,
Phi Phis Entertain

PARTIES FILL WEEK

Women Will State Preferences
to Pan-Hellenic Lawyer
Next Saturday

With wholesale sorority pledging finished, University of Nevada women have officially started their semi-annual attempts to "fill the houses." Sorority women have been "nice" to freshmen women since registration day, when they dragged them about the campus and entertained them at lunch.

Relations for generations back have been looked up by loyal "sisters" to give them some claim on the new women; pins have been polished up so there will be no doubt as to which sorority they identify, while best boy friends are generously loaned to help in a little rushing on the sly.

Official rushing opened Tuesday with the Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Beta Phi sororities entertaining some 35 women at their sorority houses. The Tri-Deltas and Alpha Delta Thetas entertained approximately the same number Wednesday, while Beta Sigma Omicron and Alpha Delta Theta sororities were hostesses yesterday afternoon and evening.

Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Beta will entertain today between the hours of 4 and 6 p. m., respectively. The schedule for the remaining parties are: August 9, Beta Sigma Omicron, 4 p. m. until 6 p. m.; and Kappa Alpha Theta 6 p. m. until 8 p. m.; August 11, Beta Sigma Omicron 4 p. m. until 6 p. m. and Gamma Phi Beta 6 p. m. until 8 p. m.; August 12, Kappa Alpha Theta 4 p. m. until 6 p. m.; August 13, Gamma Phi Beta 6 p. m. until 8 p. m. and Pi Beta Phi 4 p. m. until 6 p. m.; August 14, Delta Delta Delta 6 p. m. until 8 p. m. and Alpha Delta Theta 4 p. m. until 6 p. m.

Rushing will close Thursday evening at 8 o'clock and silence day will be Friday. Saturday is "bid" day when rushees state their preference to the Pan-Hellenic lawyer, and Saturday evening is the date set for the "preferential dinner."

Annual Under Way

Work on the 1934 Artemisia, University yearbook, is showing signs of progress even at this early date. The editor, Robert Creps, assisted by last year's staff, with few changes, has completed the opening section, the foreword and the title pages. The majority of the work during the first semester, however, will be the organizing and collecting of material. Regular commercial ads will be included as well as the names of subscribers that were used last year.

The book itself will be the same size or larger than that of the previous year. In order to cut expenses and yet give the students a better book at less cost, it was decided to concentrate on building up the book material, and to leave out the leather and art work, the latter to be replaced with more photography.

Ten or twelve pages of regular commercial ads, in addition to the list of subscribers that composed the only advertisements in the 1933 Artemisia, will be printed in the yearbook, adding a very substantial sum to the publication's finances. The expenses for the book have been nearly one-fourth of the former amount.

The whole of the Artemisia regime has been reorganized, inaugurating several new departments. The only permanent members of the staff for this year are Robert Creps, editor, and Donald Brown, business manager.

Former members are acting for the present.

Freshman Students Physically Strong

According to J. E. "Doc" Martie, the sophomores are going to have a lot to worry about when field day rolls around this year. In his estimation the incoming freshmen are about the highest ranking class physically it has ever been his privilege to examine. Almost all of them will be able to either take gym or participate in some athletics.

Wolves' Frolic Tryouts Announced by Miller

Student Rally
Set for Monday,
Fontana States

The first rally of the year will be held at Mackay stadium next Monday afternoon, according to Paul Fontana, yell leader. The occasion is the formal taking over of the team by Coach "Brock" Mitchell, to start the season's grid activities.

Men and women students will gather at the stadium at 4 o'clock in the afternoon for a program which is expected to last approximately half an hour. Songs, yells and a few speeches will be followed by a serpentine over the football field.

Fontana expressed the hope that a goodly crowd would turn out in order to usher in "Old King Football" with appropriate pomp and glory.

Elections to Fill Senate Vacancies

Elwin Jeffers, Elna Jensen and Esther Ronzone Leave
Offices Open

At a special independent meeting Wednesday, Ned Morehouse was unanimously chosen to replace Elwin Jeffers as representative to the A.S.U.N. senate. Henrietta McElroy was this week elected by the Pi Beta Phi, replacing Elna Jensen.

Nell Lozano has been selected by the Gamma Phis to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of Esther Ronzone, thus bringing the senate up to its full membership.

Elections of new members to the University of Nevada Associated Students' senate to replace students who are not returning to school will be held some time this week or early next week, in order that the new representatives may be duly installed and regular meetings of the senate held. The houses which will select new representatives are Pi Beta Phi, Gamma Phi Beta and the Independent students' group.

Elna Jensen, former representative for Pi Beta Phi, will not return to school until next semester, as she is working, while Esther Ronzone, Gamma Phi Beta, and Elwin Jeffers, Independent men's representative, have failed to return to the university and register.

Several important offices within the student senate are vacant because of the absence of these members. Esther Ronzone was a member of the nominating committee and women's representative to finance control committee, while Elwin Jeffers was also a member of the nominating committee.

A new panel for these vacancies will be drawn up at the next senate meeting, and the new representatives will be sworn in to fill their respective positions.

This is the first year for the new student government, which has as its principal features a student senate, class managers and the abolition of all elective offices except those of A.S.U.N. president and president of the Associated Women Students.

Clark Releases Latest Figures on Registration

Final official figures released Thursday night by President W. E. Clark for ten days' registration showed a decrease of students.

Of the 892 cards issued, 859 students have completed registration, leaving 33 cards still out, and as is usually the case the number of men exceeds the number of women, there being 492 men and only 367 women.

The ranking of the classes according to their size is as follows: Freshmen, 248; sophomores, 253; juniors, 175; seniors, 112; graduates, 39; unclassified, 15; special, 16.

Since 1929 the enrollment at the university has been 900 or more for the first semester, and it is expected that this year's 900 mark will soon be reached, as there are still a few more late graduates who intend to register.

President Clark said yesterday that he was very well satisfied with the showing, and that the decrease in enrollment was slight considering present conditions.

Extensive Program Planned by Miller For Coming Year

Tryees for Wolves' Frolic
Begin Work Next Week;
Many Stars Back

MACK IS MANAGER

University Play Production
Replaces Campus Players
as Active Producer

With an extensive program for the coming year, W. C. Miller, university dramatic coach, announced that tryouts for the first production of the year, the Wolves' Frolic, a campus musical comedy, begins next week. The annual frolic will be held in the State building this year in an effort to cut down expenses, if the suggestion made at finance control meeting Tuesday is followed.

Four other plays are planned for the season, Miller said. Among the tentative selections is "Bell Bent for Heaven," a Carolina mountain melodrama that won the Pulitzer prize for 1924. The author is Hatcher Hughes.

"Mrs. Bumstead-Leigh," by Jones, a social comedy that was Mrs. Minnie Madder Fiske's starring vehicle, is another presentation being considered. "Pygmalion and Galatea," a farce based on the Greek myth that was written by Gilbert of comic opera fame, is also planned. A Shakespearean play is the fourth presentation being considered.

Instead of being produced by Campus Players directly, the plays this year are to be handled by a branch organization, the University Play production. Miller will act as director while Ernest Mack will take charge of all plays as general manager. Tryees for the staff will be called to assist Mack during the year.

Players of the past season who will again be connected with dramas this year include Blythe Bulmer, Marjorie Mullen, Jean McIntyre, Gordon McCaw, Don Butler, Gene Salet and Griffith McDonald. New talent is also expected to add stimulus to the dramatic season.

Working under a new constitution, Campus Players this year plans to make its organization one of the liveliest groups on the hill. The constitution revision committee for the group includes Don Butler, Blythe Bulmer, Doris Shaver, Herbert Pack and Ernest Mack.

Men's Dormitory Renovated During Summer Vacation

Glistening with new paint, porcelain and paper, a completely renovated Lincoln hall greeted the old students and gave welcome to the new, as early this month the influx of Lincolnites began.

Beginning at the close of the spring semester, mechanics, painters, plumbers and laborers moved into the hall. Under the supervision of Joe Lynch, the old building underwent a major redecoration. The original plan was to refinish only eight rooms but was altered so that the work included the entire building.

Renovation included tinting and papering of all the rooms and refinishing and painting of all woodwork and floors, recovering and painting of tables in all the rooms. New chairs and beds have been furnished and the mattresses were rebuilt and recovered. Much of the antiquated plumbing was renewed and all necessary repairs were made.

Labor of the work was furnished through the office of the Reconstruction Finance and Construction committee of Nevada. Materials and supplies came from university funds.

WEEKLY SOCIALS

NOT TO BE HELD

Wednesday evening socials, which were held last year for the purpose of making new acquaintances and renewing old friendships, will probably not be considered this year, according to Joe McDonnell, finance control executive.

DRAMATIC RENAISSANCE

With a group of seriously minded students in charge of preparations for the dramatic presentations of the year, it appears that dramatics on the Nevada campus is preparing to stage a comeback that will set it in its former place of importance in student life. For the last several years the dramatic attempts staged by students of this university have sent the department further and further in debt without giving the student body and townspeople the type of production that they paid for. This year under a director and manager with new ideas and a real sense of economic values, the annual Wolves' Frolic will be put on a paying basis and the best possible show under these conditions will be produced. The finance control committee has decreed that the university will no longer stand for exorbitant prices for hiring a local theater for the production and declare that it will be produced in the State building. More funds for better productions will be given to dramatics by the finance control committee this year. With the natural revival of interest in dramatics that will come with the improvement in the quality of the productions, acting as an activity will again take its normal place on the University of Nevada campus.

SOCIAL ISOLATION

A success from apparently every standpoint, the social hour is in danger of being purposely ignored this semester simply because it is "too much trouble to arrange and put across." Our A.S.U.N. executives are elected to look after the social welfare of the campus as well as the administrative and if they don't feel like fostering the social hour they can and should appoint individuals or service groups whose hobby is just such a thing. Social hours have always managed to pay for themselves. Executives who expect them to be lucrative must content themselves with the reward of seeing their fellow students have a good time dancing and getting acquainted. If the students themselves don't figure it is too much trouble to turn out every Wednesday evening for a bit of good clean fun, why should a couple of persons who get all the honor anyway feel that social hours are too much effort for so little profit? Many fraternal organizations on the hill are frankly worried about where their formal and informal dances are going to come from this year. Financial conditions are no better with any of them and many that could afford dances last semester are wisely going to continue this policy. College men and women have to have a certain amount of good times and they feel, rightly enough, that it is up to the college itself to provide it. Cast a backward glance at last year's Wednesday turnouts and you'll remember that the students seemed to be all for them. A close investigation will no doubt show that everyone has even 15 cents. Orchestras are cheap, the gym won't be used the whole semester, so why not give the poor social hour a chance?

LINCOLN HALL IMPROVED

Lincoln hall has been immeasurably improved by the complete renovation during the summer months. New chairs have been placed in the rooms, study tables rebuilt, rooms decorated, new beds installed and the entire hall completely gone over with the view of making it as pleasant a place to live in as possible. This work has been needed for several years, but due to lack of university funds it has not been possible to undertake it heretofore. With the laborers furnished by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, however, the authorities found their way clear to buy the needed materials, and the work was accomplished. These new improvements, combined with the many recognized advantages of living in a dormitory, may induce a number of men to take up their residence in the hall. There is no place in Reno where a large number of students may live as cheaply as is possible in the dorm. It is felt that the hall members will take excellent care of the furnishings and rooms, for they cannot but help appreciate the change that has taken place. Lincoln hall association could do well to pass stringent rules to take care of any acts of vandalism, for undoubtedly they would be upheld by a majority of the residents.

RALLY TIME

Coach "Brick" Mitchell takes to the field Monday for the first time this season to take charge of the football practice sessions of the University of Nevada Wolf Pack and a rally has been called by student leaders to welcome Mitchell on his return to work. The rally will give the students the thrill that comes with greeting a man who really knows his job and will give the new students an opportunity to see the athletic leaders and hear them speak. It is a splendid opportunity for a test of just how much of the old Nevada spirit that the students of this university have instilled in them this year. It is an opportunity for the students to show Coach Mitchell and the team just how much confidence they have in them and how they intend to back the Wolf Pack this year.

Education School Graduates Receive Teaching Positions

Three-Fourths of Class Gain Positions Teaching School

More than 75 per cent of the graduates of the school of education with the class of 1933 have received positions as teachers. Of the 35 students who completed the four year course in education in the spring, 27 have schools for the 1933-34 year. As some of the applicants have entered other fields of work or have married, there are only a few who are still applying for positions. Several of these are being considered at schools which have not yet completed their list of instructors.

Seniors of last year who have received positions are: Frances Ambruster, Gerlach elementary school; Roy Bankoffler, Lund, agriculture; Frances Barnes, Tonopah, home economics; Hugh Bernecker, Coire elementary and high schools; Denise Denson, Dayton high school, music, Spanish and English; Eva Edwards, Panaca, commercial subjects; John Fant, Lovelock elementary school; Mildred Goble, Yerington, home economics; Katherine Hanson, Yerington, elementary school; Geraldine Harbert, Oregon; L. E. Kehoe, Lovelock, chemistry; Keith Lee, Panaca high school, English.

Kathryn Ligon, Virginia City high school; Frederica Lippman, Sparks elementary school; Mildred Madsen, University of Nevada, part time instructor in mathematics; Eileen Martin, Pioche elementary school; Isabelle Matley, Glendale rural school near Sparks; Marguerite Miller, Fernley high school, Spanish; Theodore Moore, Golconda elementary school; Marvel Ranson, Fernley high and elementary schools; Margaret Rawson, Wadsworth high school, commercial subjects; Violet Rebaleati, Battle Mountain elementary school and music in all Battle Mountain schools; Elizabeth Saxton, Sparks elementary school; Oliver Sturla, Wadsworth elementary school, physical education in high school; Mary Trudell, Smith Valley; Velva Trulove, Sparks junior high school; Willard Weaver, Montello.

Students enrolled in the normal school last year who received positions are: Gerald Davis, Indian Springs rural school near Las Vegas; Lena d'Alessandro, Kings River rural school; Mrs. Rebecca Peterson, Bushee rural school near Winnemucca.

HOLDS COMMAND AT NEVADA C.C.C. CAMP

Returning from three months' work during the summer with the Civilian Conservation Corps camps in Nevada, Lieut. H. B. Wilcox, assistant professor of military science and tactics, resumed his work at the department Tuesday morning. On May 23 Lieutenant Wilcox was assigned to the camp at Lamolle, Nev., where he remained for a month as second in command of the work under Capt. Rycroft of Fort Douglas, Utah. At the end of this time he was placed in command of the camp at the southern end of Ruby valley.

A total of 210 men, including some University of Nevada students, were engaged in the work at Lamolle, according to the lieutenant.

HUNDREDS ATTEND WALTHER FUNERAL

Hundreds of college friends and associates of Earle Walther '26, gathered in the chapel of the Ross-Burke mortuary on Monday of last week and paid honor to the former Nevada, who died August 26 of injuries received in an automobile accident near Dixon, Calif.

While attending the University of Nevada, Walther was outstanding in athletics and student affairs. A member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, he played three years of varsity football, served as student body president and held various class offices. Following graduation Walther worked for a time in the Henderson bank at Elko and was in recent months engaged in the insurance business in Reno.

Alvin Jacobs Gets Medical Frat Bid

Alvin Jacobs, graduate of the University of Nevada in the class of '32, has received a "bid" to join Nu Sigma Nu when he enters Johns Hopkins university medical school this fall. Nu Sigma Nu is one of the distinguished medical fraternities in the United States.

Jacobs is only the second student from the state of Nevada to ever be admitted to Johns Hopkins and he will leave the last of September to enroll. He has received many honors while attending the University of Nevada, being a member of Phi Kappa Phi, and one of the recipients of the gold medals awarded for high scholarship.

He is a graduate from Reno High school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Jacobs of Reno.

Marion M. Green, a graduate of the University of Nevada and of the Stanford medical school, has recently completed his graduate work and passed the examination given by the California state medical board for physicians, surgeons and chiropodists, making him a full-fledged surgeon and physician.

Wolf Howls

This pledging business goes so fast it's hard to remember which freshmen to congratulate or which ones to curse for leaching so many meals and then walking out on a pal! Reno and Sparks nuggets haven't half the premium placed on them anymore. House men are eagerly sought, and do the Taus know the line to snag 'em. Wonder what line they used on that old timer, Freddie Woods. The S.A.E.'s are parcelling out pins at their usual helter-skelter. It's a cinch they land a few thick rimmed glasses boys. What's holding back the Delta Sigs? Athlete's foot?

Jeeze, but books are no cheaper than ver, or so it seems. The intellectuals, or is it the publishers, or—well, anyway, it still costs several kopens to get going again on this old eddication.

No matter how blasé the big potatoes on the hill become, they never fail to become all ga-ga for the first week over the new frosh dolls that assume a demureness that's sinful. Especially when the reputation comes along a little later from the old home town. But, thank hizzoneer, the men are reasonable such things. Why?

A rumor was heard last year of a group here starting a pacifism movement similar to those inaugurated at Cambridge and Oxford in England and at Columbia in the U. S. A.

Have heard that the Pan-Hell rushing rules are being broken by all the houses. Why have a council to clutter up the yearbook and the Brush if they can't ever abide by their own rules. The nuggets glitter much too brightly for the eager female eyes to spurn.

Coach Coltrin and Peggy do seem to get along. Likewise, Holt and Smith. While Dickerson, after acquiring "wheels" has practically taken up residence in front of the Trir-Delt house. Campus Structures Undergo Renovation

Many improvements have been made on the campus during the summer due to the aid rendered by the state relief committee. Lawns, flowers and vines are as beautiful as ever before and they have been made so at a minimum expense under the direction of Joseph Lynch, superintendent of the grounds. The grounds around the A.S.U.N. building have been greatly improved by the addition of a lawn.

Lincoln hall, men's dormitory, has undergone a complete renovation. New beds and floors have been installed, while the walls have been completely repapered.

One of the oldest structures on the campus, Horrill hall, was improved by relief laborers. Considerable work was also done in the hospital building, the money for this work coming from the hospital fund.

Announcement has been received at the military department that Col. W. R. Standiford, professor of military science and tactics at the University of Nevada during the period 1929-1931, has been appointed to duty as professor of military science and tactics at the University of Indiana.

Lynch Announces Campus Parking Rule Enforcement

Students who have been getting to 7:45 and other classes at the last possible minute and have been parking their cars at the doors of their respective buildings will have to change their plans.

According to Joseph Lynch, superintendent of grounds and buildings, there have been too many cars parked in the driveways during the last year and some steps must be taken to control the traffic.

This year he will be authorized to give tags to the violators and, after the third offense, the offender must report to the president of the university.

The idea of keeping cars out of the driveways during class hours is for the benefit of the student and not for the professors, university officials said last week. It should be easier to come to classes a few minutes earlier to be sure of quieter classes, they believe. The non-parking hours on the campus now are from 7:30 a. m. until 4 p. m., except behind the gymnasium and the engineering building.

Mitchell Plans Taking Gridders To Start Season

Thirty-seven Men Make Up Varsity Squad for 1933 Grid Season

By FRANK SULLIVAN
With Coach C. L. "Brick" Mitchell ready to begin work at 4:00 o'clock Monday afternoon, when he takes to the field for the first time this season, Nevada's prospects on the 1933 gridiron are picking up. At present thirty-seven men are in suits working for a place on the varsity.

Although the Wolf Pack has one of the toughest schedules in the history of the school, Mitchell is expecting to put forth another fighting team this year. Using Beemer, guard, Cashill, center, and Hill and Priest, quarterbacks, the only veterans left over from the last pack, as a nucleus, "Brick" plans on building his team out of the thirteen lettermen on the squad, the second and third stringers who have returned, and the wealth of material from "Chet" Scranton's 1932 frosh squad.

Limbering Up
The past two weeks the men have been working out on Mackay and every afternoon limbering up from the inactivity of the summer and getting the "feel of the ball." Veteran players have been drilling the green men in the fundamentals preparatory to going under Mitchell's control. Conference rules have prohibited the coaches from taking over their squads until September 9.

Men who were on the squad last season and who will probably see action this year are Bud Beasley, Dan Bledsoe, Vic Carrol, Herman Freudenberg, Harvey Hill, Ken Austin, Clayton Phillips, Marvin Turner, Gene Salet, Bill Backer, Spud Harris and Ed Pine. In addition to these men there are also four "unknown quantities" who will bear watching. These men are George Thorp from Marysville, J. C., Frank Burn from Oregon State normal, Henry Smith and John Flournoy, who made a good showing in the spring practice scrimmage.

The men who have been graduated from Scranton's frosh and who are new to varsity ball are Harry Austin, John Benson, Vic Becas, Bill Cockerell, Walter Hunting, Max Kepl, Jack Horgan, Paul Walker, Bert Cummings, George Hadden, Jack Stephens, Paul Bohlke, C. Bengoa, Dan Toquero, Sheahan, Morris and Hart.

VARIED SCHEDULE FOR W. A. A. SPORTS

With a diversified schedule of sports, the Women's Athletic Association will sking into its fall semester.

Sign-up sheets are in the gym for tennis, hockey and swimming. Riding will start next week under the management of Margaret Place, who will take the place of Sergeant Grant Husic as instructor and manager. According to Margaret Kormmayer, president of W.A.A., these sports will last until the first few weeks of October, when they will be replaced by rifle shooting, hiking and volleyball.

Two of the sports are scheduled to have interclass games. The volleyball tournament will be held from October 9 to 23, while interclass games in hockey will be played off during the week of October 10. Intersorority games will be played off in tennis and volleyball. The winner of these interclass and intramural matches will receive silver loving cups, which are donated by W.A.A., and if the cups are won three times in succession for the same sport they may be kept permanently.

W.A.A. also plans to have two swimming meets. The first will be a practice meet, held on September 6, and the second a regular meet to take place on September 23. The swimming meets will take place in the Y.M.C.A. pool, where classes are being held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

Activities in any of these sports will make a woman eligible for membership in W.A.A. The managers are: Elizabeth Frey, hockey; Sarah Graves, tennis; Julia Sibley, swimming; Madeline Miller, volleyball; Ellen Eckman, rifle; Margaret Place, riding, and Betty Horton, hiking.

The University of California has done away with hazing and freshman dinks, and in order to enforce this rule has appointed a senior peace committee.

REVIVAL OF BOXING TO BE CONSIDERED

Although the campus officials decline to state whether it will be possible for the University of Nevada to have a boxing team this next season, the outlook for material is favorable, according to advance predictions. No intercollegiate matches have been scheduled as yet, but this may be done on short notice if the authorities approve the finances.

The last two winters boxing has been carried on as part of the physical education work, but outside of that nothing has been done towards any further training of boxers on the hill. C. L. "Brick" Mitchell was the instructor and trainer during the last school year in this department.

Mitchell believes that a wealth of material would turn out if intercollegiate boxing were to be reinstated on the campus. Some of the men who fought on the 1931 squad, under Coach Richard "Dick" Wallace, are still in school. Among these are Spud Harris, Ken Austin, Ole Theis, Jerry Dellanoy and Elmer Hawkins.

"Brick" Mitchell takes the field Monday and reports he has it that there is to be a short rally. A good turnout for a thing of this type cannot do else but instill spirit into a team whose schedule would lead one to believe that its theme song is "Stormy Weather" or "Goodby Blues," but in meeting strong teams Nevada will have an incentive to show the bigger ones that good things come in small packages.

The yearlings and moleskins will tangle tomorrow in the annual field day, staged for the benefit of amused co-eds and upperclass men. Gone are the days of the old can rush when, as the old-timers recall, men really fought. If the old boys thought the cane rush was so tough they should watch the tie-up or the tire rush. In these two events the contestants are so tired after it is over that they flop on the turf and are practically unable to move. When those boys fight out on the field in the tie-up they're not fighting for their class but for the sheer glory of battle. Primitive instinct explains it.

Probably the most discouraging sport as far as supremacy goes is track. The man who starts training six months before the season keeps in training all through the season, and then runs the mile in something like 4:30, looks fairly good. He bears the idea in mind that he is going to cut that time down and he no doubt will, but when he is doing his part there is always someone else who has just run it in 4:7 and that is when hopes are blasted, because there are plenty of steps between 4:7 and 4:30.

Although it is not a sport itself, its interest lies in Nevada athletics and that is why the news bureau deserves a word of commendation. It is through the news bureau that a football team gets publicity and don't ever think that publicity isn't needed—plenty. If Nevada went down to play the University of San Francisco without any forwarded dope on players, etc., the gate receipts would just about be enough to buy the visitors' train fare home. The news bureau handles all matters of this type and it is a contributing factor to the upbuilding of a real football team.

Intramural Sports Has Point System

Copper Loving Cup Award Will Be Given to Winners

Fraternities on the Nevada campus are looking forward with great interest to the new point system connected with intermural sports. The interfraternity council has adopted the plan of presenting a revolving trophy to the organization amassing the greatest number of points in this year's competition, Ed Martinez stated today.

Under the new system smaller houses will be placed on a level with those which have dominated intermural athletics for the past several years. Competition will undoubtedly become much keener and will eventually become an aid to varsity sports, student leaders believe.

The organizations winning the annual baseball league, interfraternity track meet, or basketball tournament, will receive 100 points for first place, 60 points for second place, 40 points for third place, 20 points for fourth place and 10 points for fifth place.

For first place in the cross country race or the volleyball tournament, 60 points will be given, second place 40 points, third place 20 points, fourth place 10 points and fifth place 5 points.

The winners of the handball, tennis and horseshoes doubles will each receive 40 points, for second place 20 points, third place 10 points, fourth place 5 points and fifth place 2 1/2 points.

In the singles of handball, tennis and horseshoes, 20 points will be given for first place, 10 points for second place, 5 points for third place, 2 1/2 points for fourth and 1 point for fifth place.

The coveted trophy will be a large beaten copper cup, which after being awarded to the house totaling the greatest number of points will remain with its proud possessors until the following year.

Anderson Receives Added Fellowship

Fred Anderson, a graduate of the University of Nevada in 1928, has received a fellowship to Harvard university where he will study surgery under some of the leading medical surgeons in the United States.

Anderson also had a scholarship to Oxford, where he attended after his graduation from Nevada. While in Europe he studied under the continent's leading surgeons. He was prominent in athletics, being a member of Oxford's rowing crew.

In his Harvard class Anderson was the only person to receive the scholarship. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Artemisia Editor Puts Wolf Pack Through Workout

On Tuesday afternoon the varsity football team kicked, tackled and jumped for imaginary passes, while cameras clicked and cameramen shouted directions. At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening the same cameramen were industriously recording moonlight views of the lake, the library and the tram.

Robert Creps, editor, and Donald Brown, business manager, of the yearbook, promise that although the appropriation has been reduced 25 per cent the new Artemisia will contain many additional pages. In spite of the fact that strict economy has been observed the volume will be in every way worthy to be placed beside its predecessors, they say.

DINK, BIBLE SALE TO FROSH REPORTED HEAVY BY LEADERS

Believe it or not, the University of Nevada freshmen are spending their money for necessities instead of pleasures, as was evidenced this week by the sale of dinks and frosh bibles, while not only the frosh but also many of the upperclass men have been claiming their student body cards.

According to Joe McDonnell, new executive secretary to the university finance control committee, and Jim Wallace, A.S.U.N. president, there have been distributed among the students about 520 student body tickets and about 300 songbooks.

Bill McMenamin, chairman of the committee which revised the frosh "bible," stated that the sale of bibles had totaled about 160 at the end of this week, out of 300 copies that were printed. About eight dozen dinks have also been sold to men of the freshman class.

The first fifteen students who received student body tickets were Jim Wallace, Adelyn Rotholtz, Leonard Rogin, Douglas McGow, Joe Lubin, Stanley Smith, Denver Dickerson, William Crowell Morgan North, Ned Taylor, Rector Fuhrman, Sam Arantz, Al Gibson and Ed Parmenter.

Freshman Football Turnout Promising

Scranton Looks for Largest Squad in Several Years at First Practice

With over thirty prospective football players out in suits already, the frosh football squad, under the direction of Coach "Chet" Scranton, is looking forward to a successful season.

This is one of the largest turnouts in the history of the freshman squad. From the appearance of some of the men out the 1933 squad will also be one of the heaviest in the history of the school, and it should give the local high schools a run for their money.

Since conference rules have prohibited coaches taking to the field before September 10, the squad has been practicing on field drills and the fundamentals with the varsity, but with Scranton taking them in charge Monday they will settle down into getting in shape for their first game of the season with Reno High school on September 23. Scranton will be assisted this season by Ole Theis, former varsity tackle, who will act as line coach.

Although there are a few inexperienced players on the field, the majority of the frosh have gained experience on the various high school teams in Nevada and California. A few of the men on the squad who are familiar to local fans are Wayne Poulsen, Deering Dixon, Ben MacDonald, Bill Cashill, Harold Herz, Bill Horgan, Jack Palmer and Ed Rose from Reno High school; Jay

Football Season Ticket Sale Is Not To Be Held

There will be no sale of football season tickets this semester due to the fact that only three games will be played on the Nevada field, it was decided at the meeting of finance control August 30.

The only pre-sale of tickets will be made for the Homecoming game to be played with the College of Pacific on October 21. A canvass will be made of the town and tickets will be placed on sale at several of the local stores. At the two other games tickets will be sold at the gates.

Sophomore Vigilance Committee Appointed

Joe Clark, sophomore class manager, announced this week the appointment of the traditional sophomore vigilance committee, whose duty it is to enforce punishment on freshman students for violations of campus rules and traditions.

The committee is composed of 23 men, who are expected to enforce the traditions and customs of the university. After this week all freshmen must adhere strictly to campus rules and traditions. Any freshman who fails to produce his "bible" or forgets to wear his "dink" will attend a "laking party" each Friday noon behind the Aggie building, according to Clark.

Women Students Hold First Meet

Solares Appoints Important Committees for College Year's Work

At a meeting of the Associated Women Students held this noon President Marthine Solares announced the members of the executive committee and the chairmen of the student activities committees.

Those appointed to the executive committee were: Blanche Keegan, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Traner, sophomore representative, and Mary Louise Carmody, freshman representative.

Kathryn Wardleigh Johnson was made chairman of the "Buy a Brick" campaign committee, the purpose of which is to add to the fund for a new Student Union building. This campaign has been conducted yearly for several years and the fund is gradually increasing.

Chairman of the ice cream sales committee, which conducts the sale of ice cream at football and basketball games, is Marjorie Cannon.

The point system is under the supervision of Camille Cerrita, assisted by Sarah Graves and Cornelia Arentz. The purpose of this system is for more even distribution of honors and activities among the students.

Entertainment was provided by Helen Lewis, a sophomore student, who gave a clever and amusing reading. Blythe Bulmer and Mildred Nagy conducted the singing of the college hymn.

Faculty Members Plan for Picnic

The faculty picnic, one of the two annual get together affairs of members of the staff, will be held tomorrow afternoon, on the girls' athletic field. The affair is held primarily to welcome new members to the group and promote a personal contact and friendliness among them.

A baby show will be the high spot of entertainment for the afternoon. Babies under 3 years old and belonging to faculty families are eligible to participate. There will be horseshoe pitching and various games with plenty of time for everyone to become acquainted, it is announced.

Supper will be served at 5:30, each family contributing a basket. Mrs. A. E. Hill is in charge of arrangements.

Pan-Hellenic Group Holds Tea on Lawn

With freshman women as guests the semi-annual Pan-Hellenic tea was held Saturday afternoon on Manzanita lawn.

The six sororities acting as hostesses took part in helping the freshman women to become acquainted.

This event ushers in formal rushing at the beginning of each fall semester. It is sponsored by the national Pan-Hellenic council, of which every sorority on the University of Nevada campus is a member.

Entertainment consisting of skits and songs was put on by members of each house.

A.W.S. Point System To Undergo Revision

The point system of the Associated Women Students of the university will be revised to fit the new constitution by the executive committee, it was announced today by Marthine Solares, president of the A.W.S.

Solares also announced the addition of two members of the A.W.S. executive board to take their places with the beginning of this semester. They are the president of the Sagens and the chairman of the women's upperclass committee.

On June 25 Andrew Young of the University of Nevada extension bureau and Mabel Wilson of Reno were married.

Four Sororities Maintain Homes

With but four of the six sororities on the hill opening houses to accommodate their out of town members, there are only thirty-three women students living on sorority row, Sierra street, this year.

The Beta Sigma Omicron house, which was on West street last year, is not expected to re-open. As yet the Alpha Delta Thetas have not had a chapter house but meet at the homes of the members. The other four houses have retained the same quarters they had last year.

Few Changes Made In Teaching Staff

Comparatively few changes will be effected in the teaching and general staffs of the University of Nevada this semester, except for the appointment of a new hall matron at Manzanita hall and the return of two professors from their leaves of absence, is the recent report from President Clark's office.

Miss Mary O'Leary this week assumed her duties in Manzanita hall as matron and also as supervisor of the university dining hall, replacing Mrs. Cruz Venstrom, former matron, who will continue with her position as assistant professor in the home economics department.

Returning for the new semester, S. Allan Lough, assistant professor of chemistry, and Milan J. Webster, assistant professor of economics, have resumed their positions on the university teaching faculty. Professor Lough spent a two years' leave of absence at the University of Michigan, teaching for a time in the chemistry department during the absence of one of its members and completing work which will entitle him to the degree of doctor of chemistry. Formal notification of the degree is expected soon.

Professor Webster has been studying at the University of Colorado in sociology and economics, and returned here after an absence of some time.

Armena Fritz has taken the secretarial position in the veterinary control service left vacant by the departure of Jean Hughes for England, where she was wed to Francis Duborg, former University of Nevada student. Resigning from the veterinary control service, Mrs. Alden J. Plumley, formerly technician there, will continue her studies toward a master's degree in zoology, while Verdie Pant, also a technician, will continue with the work in that department.

Adelaide Shogren, a former student at the university, became the bride of Donald Knapp of LaJolla, Calif. Mrs. Knapp was affiliated with the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority.

On July 15 Miss Mercer Gregory, student of the university in 1928 and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, and Jack Ryan were married. The couple are residing on University terrace.

Teams Sign Up for Intramural Debate

With twenty-one men and two women signed up for competition in the intramural debate tournament to be conducted this semester by Prof. Robert Griffin of the speech department, regular work on the debate question will start next Tuesday evening.

The question to be debated by the men is, "Resolved, that congress should provide for purchase for monetary purposes of the silver output of the United States." The women will debate a different question, which will be announced later by Professor Griffin.

The tournament will last most of the fall semester, and debates will be conducted every week between different house teams. A cup will be presented to the winning house.

The different houses are being represented by the following students: Lambda Chi Alpha, Jack Richardson, George Lohse, Richard Clewett, Leland Ward, Jim Wallace and Emile Gezlin; Phi Sigma Kappa, Guild Gray, C. J. Libbey and Wilton Margreave; Sigma Nu, Fransden Loomis; Sigma Phi Sigma, Ralph Myers, Albert Agee, John Franklin; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Bob Hodgkin, Robert Smith and Edward Connors; Beta Kappa, George Jackson; Independents, Frank Margreave, Fred Eikelberger, John Williams and Gordon McCaw.

The two women signed up for the women's debate tournament are Blanche Lucas and Guinevere Ericson. Professor Griffin expects more women to enter the tournament as soon as rushing season is over.

Hazel Davis and Morgan Gardner were married on August 9. Mrs. Gardner was a popular student at the university and was one of the three Mackay day queens in 1932.

Kennedy Elected New Frosh Class Student Manager

The freshman class held its first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon, in the auditorium, in an election marked by considerable excitement, named Wayne Kennedy, former Las Vegas High school student, class manager. Kennedy is the first freshman to hold this office, which was created under provisions of the new student body government.

Men nominated were Wayne Kennedy, Charles Allen, Bill Guild, Albert Agee, Deering Nixon and Jas. Herz. A ballot vote was taken and Kennedy and Allen led the field. A standing vote was then taken on these two men and Kennedy won by the narrow margin of four votes. Approximately one-half of the class was present.

Kennedy, former student body president and football captain of his high school, expressed his gratitude for the confidence placed in him. He is affiliated with the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Oiga Liolo, graduate of '28 and teacher in Austin, became the bride of John Zunino. Mrs. Zunino was affiliated with the Alpha Delta Theta sorority.

It is planned to take about twenty men on the trip, along with several accompanists and solo artists, and Prof. T. H.
