

Women Compete in Intramural Debate

Fiery words, snappy comebacks and angry glances will probably be the feature of the debate meeting next Tuesday evening, when the women compete in their first intramural debate.

The four women who are to participate represent the Delta Delta Delta and the Kappa Alpha Theta sororities. This debate will be each woman's first collegiate experience, and it is hoped by Debate Coach Griffin that new material will be found among the new entrants.

The subject for debate will be: Resolved, that the federal government should own and operate the banking institutions of this country. This is the intercollegiate subject for the year and the men debate aspirants have already debated the subject.

Cap and Scroll Considers Joining Mortar Board

Miss O'Leary speaks on aims of the National Society

First steps looking toward the nationalization of Cap and Scroll, Nevada women's honorary society, were launched at a gathering of the society's members Monday.

Miss Mary O'Leary, new matron of Manzanita hall, and a member of Mortar board, the national honorary fraternity corresponding to the local organization of Cap and Scroll, addressed the organization on the aims of such a society. Its purpose is to honor women who have been active in campus affairs and who have attained a high scholarship.

It was announced by Charlotte Pope, president of the organization, that the Cap and Scroll will offer their assistance in the checking of the point system, which is a record of the activities of junior and senior women students.

The meetings of Cap and Scroll will be held once a month at a banquet to be given in one of the downtown restaurants.

PI PHIS INSTALL NEW HOUSE MOTHER

With eight years of experience in this capacity, Mrs. Claribel Pike is replacing Mrs. Hershey as house mother at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house this year.

Mrs. Pike is from Idaho Falls, Idaho, where for eight years she was house mother in the Latter Day Saints hospital.

Mrs. Hershey is now presiding over the Pi Beta Phi chapter of the University of California at Berkeley. She gained hosts of friends among the campus students during her two years here.

"The Nevada people and climate are so much like Idaho Falls that I feel right at home," the new house mother said. "Lake Tahoe is beautiful, and I like Reno very much. I'm sure I'll enjoy my stay here."

Although Mrs. Pike has passed through Reno several times, this is her first stay in the city.

African Life Told To Y.W.C.A. Group

Point System To Be Installed To Get Away From Sorority Feeling

Speaking on her experiences in northern Rhodesia, Africa, Mrs. Alva Quilici Durham entertained members of the Y.W.C.A. at their first general meeting of the semester, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Durham, former Nevada student, has lived in Africa for several years. She accompanied her husband, who was also a former student at this university. Durham is an engineer and was affiliated with Sigma Nu fraternity.

Mrs. Durham culminated her talk with ideas about her visit to Turkey and other places of interest on her trip home.

A new program of this year was discussed by Miss Florence Diskin, president of the club, in the business meeting preceding the talk by Mrs. Durham. It will be the establishing of a point system.

The point system will be used to get away from sorority feeling, stated Miss Diskin. In this way the most deserving person will be appointed to the cabinet, she said. Positions on the cabinet will be limited to upperclass women from now on, she said.

Miss Frances Burke announced that members of the Y.W.C.A. may try out for the game which will be played in the near future with the A.T.Os. All members were urged to attend this game and root for the Y.W.C.A. team.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess committee.

THREE ADDED TO Y. W. CABINET

Three women students have been added to the campus Y. W. C. A. cabinet, it was announced today by Florence Diskin, president. They are Stella Vucovich, Dorothy Jackson and Peggy Maher, all junior students.

Miss Vucovich will have joint charge of the candy booth with Nevada Solari. She is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta.

Floating university is the group which Miss Jackson and Miss Maher will head.

The three women were chosen for the interest they have shown as general members and for their ability as leaders and workers.

Gothic N Members Express Opinions on New Amendment

Various members of Gothic N have expressed opinions on the amendment to the constitution granting Gothic N members life passes to all University contests.

Margaret Kormayer says: "I thoroughly believe in the amendment because it is another goal for all women out for athletics."

Myra Sauer says: "I believe there should be some permanent award for women interested in athletics, because they maintain just as high standards as the men."

Peaches Stark says: "I think it the only thing because the women represent the University just the same as do the men."

Gothic N was founded in 1913 and is the highest honor that can be achieved by girls interested in athletics. It is the women's honorary athletic group and new members are voted into the society from W. A. A. members. Each member must have a high upper class standing to be eligible to membership.

Ice Cream Sale Brings Profit

Warm weather and parched throats at the football game Saturday made the sale of candy, popsicles and soda pop successful to the amount of $25, according to Marjorie Cannon, chairman of the A.W.S. committee in charge.

The money netted from the sales is applied on the yearly scholarship awarded to the most deserving woman student on the campus.

Miss Cannon asks the co-operation of the entire student body at the next sale to be held during the Homecoming day game.

what makes a cigarette taste better

WHAT makes anything taste better? It's what is in it that makes a thing taste better.

CHESTERFIELDS taste better because we buy ripe tobaccos. These ripe tobaccos are aged two and a half years—thirty months. During this time the tobaccos improve—just like wine improves by ageing.

CHESTERFIELDS taste better because they have the right kind of home-grown tobaccos and Turkish Tobaccos "welded together."

We hope this answers your question.

Nevada Produces Outstanding Men, Adams Declares

Dean States the University Has Produced State Leaders

"Judged by the record of its graduates, the arts and science college of the University of Nevada has furnished a high percentage of the cultural, political and industrial leadership of this state," said Dean Maxwell Adams in an address over radio station KOH recently.

The address was the second one to be presented this semester and was sponsored by the University of Nevada news bureau under the direction of Howard Ueber. In his talk Dean Adams reviewed the growth of the university since its establishment in Elko on October 12, 1874.

There were only seven students in the first class, which was presided over by Mr. Sessions, he stated. After the passage of the Morrill act, which made funds available from the United States government, the school was moved to Reno.

Tells History
The course offered then is now included in the arts and science school. The organization of the colleges of agriculture and engineering soon followed, Dean Adams explained, and the normal school that was established those first years is the present school of education.

From that first small group of seven students the college of arts and science has grown until this year there are 628 students enrolled, more than 68 per cent of the entire student body.

Among the 61 members of the faculty, 17 of them have been listed in the last issue of "Who's Who in America," according to Adams, thus classifying them among the most prominent living Americans.

Graduates Prominent
Dean Adams believes that when one examines a list of the successful men and women of Nevada he will know that the instruction offered at the college fits students for any occasion, for out of the large number who have been graduated from this college more than a score of lawyers, United States senators, governors, supreme judges, United States district attorneys, state senators, assemblymen, superintendents of schools, physicians, military officers and college professors have received their fundamental academic training at the University of Nevada.

The chimes player at the University of Washington is blind.

The University of Washington will get four new buildings this year at a total cost of $1,400,000.

Coast Artist's Works Exhibited By Fine Arts Club

Fifteen modern pictures, water colors, landscapes and western scenes, by Elizabeth Willey, will be the subjects of the third exhibit sponsored by the Fine Arts group of the University of Nevada, which is to be held during the afternoons of October 17, 18 and 19, and on the evening of October 17, in the library seminar, number five.

Miss Willey has exhibited at the Legion of Honor in San Francisco, at the California state fair and at the Arizona state fair.

The Fine Arts group is planning to enter a float in the Homecoming parade and is calling it "Spirit of Homecoming." The above exhibit is also in conjunction with the celebration of Homecoming.

At the second exhibit of the group about 350 persons attended.

Since a recent ruling by Duke college authorities, beer can be served in the fraternity houses.

Journalists Lay Plans for Chapter

Plans are being made by upperclass journalism students on the Nevada campus to petition a prominent men's professional journalistic fraternity to establish a chapter at the university.

Ed Montgomery, president of the Press club, stated recently that men upperclass members of that organization are being contacted to determine the campus newspaper men's attitude toward such an organization.

Membership in the proposed fraternity would be strictly limited to students who have definitely shown that they intend to follow journalism as a profession.

According to Professor A. L. Higginbotham, instructor in journalism, there are approximately a dozen men students on the campus who would be eligible to such an organization.

Co-Eds Blush As Scales Tell Tales At Annual 'Brawl'

Clang! Clang! And another blushing co-ed stepped onto the scales, prepared for the worst but hoping for the best, while her escort made mental calculations.

This was the scene at the annual engineers' "brawl" held in the gymnasium last Saturday.

After this more or less embarrassing entrance, the couple was greeted by a large sign hung on the opposite balcony, bearing the famous phrase, "What the hell, Engineers!" Around the walls of the gym were large placards showing the insignias of the different branches of the school of engineering, together with one very illuminating graph dealing with the results of using the baby's orange juice as a mixer.

Red, yellow, blue and white spotlights were used to light the floor, one light being placed in each corner.

According to Dan Harvey, chairman in charge of the affair, the second annual engineers' brawl was a financial and social success.

HOT DOGS SALE IS SUCCESSFUL

The sale of hot dogs at the first home game of the football season played last Saturday was successful, according to Myra Sauer, chairman of the W.A.A. refreshment committee. The net proceeds totaled $40.

Thirty-five freshman co-eds reported at the rear of the university gymnasium to assist with the sales, and Miss Sauer stated that their co-operation was excellent.

Hot dogs are sold each year in order to provide funds for the W.A.A. scholarship given annually to the woman in the organization having a high scholastic average, outstanding athletic ability and who has not received any other scholarship. Myra Sauer was the recipient for 1932.

Cubs Scrimmage To Prepare for Pacific Battle

Wolf Yearlings Will Play Pacific at Stockton Next Friday

Scranton Is Satisfied With Showing Against High School Teams

With no games scheduled for this weekend, Coach "Oet" Scranton scrimmaged his men against each other in a full game last night.

Well satisfied with the showing made by his men against Nevada high schools, Scranton held the scrimmage with the main purpose of strengthening his reserves preparatory to their annual game with the College of Pacific frosh in Stockton next Friday night.

Last year Scranton lost to College of Pacific, but with a stronger and more experienced team now he does not expect to lose this season's game.

Two Injuries
So far this year the Wolf Cubs have lost only two men by injuries, McDonald and Lazzarovich going out early in the season. The only other serious accident so far occurred in the Reno High-Frosh game when McDow went out of the game with a sprained ankle.

Scranton believes that he has the strongest frosh team in several years, with a heavy line and a speedy backfield, capable of holding their own against all comers. His first string is composed of Lansdon, center; Smalley and Cashill, ends; Showalter and Kennedy, tackles; Canson and Byington, guards; Sauer, quarterback; Robb and Cromwell, halfbacks, and Haman, fullback. Scranton has drilled his charges extensively in blocking and timing.

Caldwell, who has been showing up especially well in practice at various positions, has been moved to fullback position, and is giving Haman, regular fullback, a run for his position.

Other players showing up well in practice are Horgan, Williams, Callahan and McDow. Ole Theis and Gail Parsons, former varsity players, are assisting Scranton as line coaches this year.

FALLON PLAYER KILLED IN GAME

Tragedy in the form of death overtook the Frosh-Fallon football game last Saturday at Fallon.

Fifteen-year-old Howard Bradley, star fullback of the mellow pickers, was fatally injured early in the first half when he attempted to smash through the heavier and more experienced frosh eleven. He was on his feet four or five seconds after the play and was calling time out when he fell to the ground dead.

The referee, "Tip" Whitehead, former Nevada athlete, was about to blow the whistle for the time out requested by Bradley when the abrupt end came.

The frosh up to this time had pushed over two touchdowns and were on their way for a third when they fumbled the ball on the ten-yard line. Fallon recovered and it was following this that Bradley met with the accident.

The game was not continued, leaving the score stand at 13-0 in favor of the freshmen.

Couldn't Make Nevada Squad, Now Star on Don Football Team

When the Nevada Pack met San Francisco university, one of the strongest opponents of the Nevada team was William Hinch, brilliant S.F.U. fullback.

Rated by coast sport writers as one of the best football players to see action this season, Hinch was a student at the University of Nevada, in 1928.

In the fall of 1930 Hinch, former Virginia City basketball star, in 1929, came to Nevada and went out for football. For several weeks he patiently went to practice, but received no notice from Coach George Philbrook or his assistants.

Becoming discouraged, Hinch finally withdrew from school and ended up by entering San Francisco University, where he is this year one of the most valuable men on the team. He was injured early in the S.F.U.-Nevada game, but not before he had shown the Wolf Pack what they lost.

Basketball Upsets Marked in Games

Marked with a series of upsets, intramural basketball is now in full swing with one week of play passed. In the first game of the season the Independents defeated A.T.O. 24 to 18; S.A.E. defeated Delta Sigma Lambda, and Phi Sigma Kappa downed the Lambda Chi outfit 35 to 16.

In the second day's play Beta Kappa defeated Lincoln Hall 15 to 12, Sigma Nu dealt out a decisive defeat of 40 to 4 to Sigma Phi Sigma and the Tau defeated the Lambda Chi 18 to 9.

COCKRELL INJURED

William Cockrell, junior student of the university who plays the right halfback position on the Nevada varsity squad, suffered a fracture of his leg while engaged in scrimmage on Mackay field Wednesday. Cockrell is receiving treatment at the university hospital.

Pack Is Defeated By Olympic Club

Winged O Men Score When Pack Weakens in the Second Period

In the opening game of the 1933 season on Mackay field the Olympic club of San Francisco defeated the Wolf Pack 14 to 0 through the fast playing of Hans Slavich and Jay Todd, Winged O ends.

The visitors made both of their touchdowns in the second quarter, when Coach Mitchell made several substitutions. Line crashing by Baird and Lange, Olympic backfield stars, advanced the ball from the Nevada forty yard line to the five yard marker in six plays, from where Lange broke through center for the score. With but two minutes left in the half, Mitchell sent in more substitutes. Baird flipped a short pass to Todd, who took the ball on Nevada's twenty yard line and raced to a touchdown without a man touching him.

The Winged O forward wall is considered as one of the most powerful on the coast, with many former college stars holding down line positions. Many of the plays attempted by Nevada were blocked before getting started, by the powerful ends, Todd and Slavich. Todd managed to crash in and spoil every pass attempted by Jack Hill.

Nevada showed a strong defense, stopping the visitors several times after they had advanced the ball to the ten yard line. Nevada was never able to penetrate beyond the Olympic club thirty yard line although they managed to make seven first downs.

The Wolves suffered no injuries and are in fine shape for the game with Loyola tonight in Los Angeles.

Lambda Chi, A.T.O. Lead Intramural Volleyball Games

The A. T. O.'s and the Lambda Chi's are leading in the race for the cup in the inter-fraternity volleyball tournament.

Both of these teams are very strong and each have up to date won three games apiece and lost none. The two outfits are being watched with special interest, and the finals will be closely contested if these two come through the remainder of the tournament undefeated.

On Tuesday of this week the Sigma Phi Sigmas bowled over the Phi Sigs, and the Lambda Chi's defeated the Delta Sigs. The games played Wednesday resulted in the downfall of the S. A. E. seven by the Sigma Nu's. The Beta Kappa's were trounced by the last year's champions, the A. T. O's.

Phi Sigs, Lambda Chi, A.T.O. Lead in Tennis

Bringing to a close a week of hectic playing, the Phi Sigma Kappa doubles tennis team will meet the winner of this afternoon's game between the Lambda Chis and the A. T. Os. for the championship.

In the consolation tournament Beta Kappa will meet the winner of the Sigma Nu-Lincoln Hall game for the championship of that series.

The Phi Sigs won the right to meet in the finals by defeating the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team Wednesday. S.A.E. had previously defeated Lincoln Hall in the second day of the tournament. Lambda Chi Alpha defeated the Sigma Nu team in the first day's play and the Sigma Phi Sigma team eliminated the Delta Sigma Lambda representatives. Beta Kappa defaulted to the Phi Sig team.

Hickey Is Injured In Hoop Contest

Misfortune marred the basketball game between the A. T. O.'s and the Lambda Chi's Wednesday night, when George Hickey, a member of the A. T. O. quintet, broke a bone in the lower part of his leg.

The accident occurred after Hickey had left his feet in order to catch a rebounding ball off the backboard. When he came down his foot doubled under him, resulting in the painful injury. He was immediately carried to the university infirmary, where his leg was examined and set.

Freudenburg, halfback, Tharp, fullback, and Buru, tackle, three of the most promising of the reserves that Coach "Brick" Mitchell has been developing in preparation for the conference season. These men saw considerable service against the California Bears and the San Francisco Olympic Club and show ability.

Intra-mural sports are in full swing now, with basketball, volley ball, cross-country race, horseshoes and tennis holding the interest of the Greeks.

Basketball, which started last Tuesday, opened with an upset when the Independents, led by Les Gray from Sparks, defeated the highly touted Tau team. Phi Sigma Kappa defeated the Lambda Chi's and the Delta Sig's were downed by the S. A. E.'s.

Outstanding in the S. A. E.-Delta Sig match were Kornmeyer and Herz for the S. A. E.'s, and Green and Bibb for the Delta Sig's. H.Holt was outstanding for the Phi Sig's and Russel Ellor played a good game for the Lambda Chi's. Roguin, frosh from Westwood, showed up good on the Tau team.

HOME COMING DAY FOOTBALL PROGRAM PLANS ARE MADE

Programs for the Homecoming day football game will be placed on sale at the game and possibly at the Wolves' Frolic, it was announced today. These programs will consist of a three color cover and sixteen pages, four of which will be taken up in photographs of the two teams.

Pictures of both of the coaches as well as write-ups about different phases of the game will be included. Rosters of the two teams will also be given.

As yet the prices of these programs have not been determined but will be known in a day or two when the reports come from Berkeley.

This is the first time since 1931 that programs have been used at any of the football games and they should be well worth the money they will cost, the committee states.
