U. N. Dramatists Offer First Play Of Year Tuesday

Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh To Start Three Day Run February 27

TWELVE IN CAST

Many New Players Have Roles in Coming Production; Veterans Also Star

By FORREST BIBB Twelve University of Nevada dramatists next will take the stage boards next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, to present "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," the first play of the present semester.

Culminating more than a month of practice, the cast for the past week has rehearsed nightly the production in its entirety, and is now polishing up the rough spots in preparation for the three-day run.

"Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" is a three-act comedy from the pen of Harry James Smith. Its acts grow progressively shorter as the plot gathers impetus. The action is centered around the always amusing vicissitudes of a pseudo social matron.

Helen Lewis, a comparative newcomer to University of Nevada dramatists, is excellent in the role of Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh (pronounced Lee), the lead character in the play. She portrays the dynamic and domineering elder sister who steers her family social bark into the homes of the elite in America and England. Completely dominating her widowed mother, Mrs. de Salle, and almost dominating her marriageable younger sister, Violet de Salle, Miss Lewis ably handles the sudden changes in manners, speech and pace, which make Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh the storm center of the production.

Blythe Bulmer, veteran Nevada thespian who concludes her career this season, will appear as the fluttersome mother, Mrs. de Salle. It is a role similar to many she has portrayed before. Mrs. de Salle, a vacillating, lovable old lady, obeys the dictates of her tyrannical elder daughter and in turn does her best to browbeat her younger daughter Violet. She is successful in neither. An uneasy parvenue, she can not completely forget the past, and because of this constantly has to be watched by her elder daughter.

Violet de Salle, the disobedient and too idealistic 19 year old daughter, nearly ruins her sister's ambitions by refusing to be cowed, as is her mother. This role is taken by Rita Winer, who, in her initial appearance in campus dramatics, gives promise of an eventful future.

The play is set in the dignified Long Island residence of the dignified Rawson family, where Mrs. de Salle and her daughter are visitors. Miss Rawson, the elderly and proud sister of Justin Rawson, has the task of maintaining her family's social status. This sophisticated role is cleverly handled by Evelyn Semenza.

CAMPUS COMEDIAN

Helen Lewis, sophomore student in the college of arts and science and member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, is featured in the title role of the play, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," to be produced by the university dramatic department in the Education auditorium Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week.

World Traveler To Give Lecture

Imogene Warder, Former U.N. Student, Globe Trotter, To Speak Here

A former University of Nevada student, Miss Imogene Warder, lecturer, writer and world traveler, will tell about her adventures as a "girl Halliburton" in 25 European countries, including Algeria, Austria, Poland, Finland, France and Spain, when she speaks here next week.

Sponsored by the university standing committee on lecturers and assemblies, Miss Warder will appear Tuesday night, March 6, at 8 o'clock in the Education auditorium dressed in a colorful Hungarian costume. Professor A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the committee, announced.

Accompanied by a college chum, Miss Warder has traveled through the typical spots of most European countries and from Africa to the Arctic, unaccompanied and without tourist guides. During this time she has visited the schools, factories, homes and quaint villages of these countries, often living in the homes of the natives.

Her thrilling adventures include a 2000 mile bicycle trip through Ireland, a 9000 foot climb alone through the pathless snowy Alps to the famous St. Bernard monastery, a 700 mile trip by tiny river boat from the Arctic ocean down the rivers and lakes through the wild interior of Russian Lapland, and a trip through the harem of Africa. Her lecture is entitled "Fools Go Where Angels Fear to Tread."

Miss Warder has been favorably received in more than 500 schools and colleges in 37 states. Higginbotham said. She has also made successful appearances before more than 700 Rotary clubs in many large cities in America.

In May, Miss Warder plans to leave for Russia, Afghanistan and Persia for further adventures. She and her sister Evelynne attended the University of Nevada during the fall of 1926, being members of Delta Delta sorority.

124 Students Apply for CWA Work MONTHLY WAGE TOTALS $10 to $20 Many Already Receive Positions

Nearly half of those students seeking positions under the federal emergency relief fund for college students have received employment, according to a report given by Miss Margaret Mack, dean of women. Of the 124 applying for work, of which 88 are men and 36 women, 59 were placed, 35 men and 24 women.

Wages received are 37 1/2 cents an hour for general work, and 50 cents for work requiring training. The monthly fee ranges from $10 to $20, with the average receiving $15.

Nevada Debaters Make Success of Northwestern Tour

Fletcher and Rhodes Will Meet Oregon State Team in Contest Tonight

LOSE ONE DECISION

U. of N. Orators Conquer Willamette College Representatives

BULLETIN

Bryce Rhodes and Granville Fletcher, University of Nevada debaters, won their debate last night over the Willamette college team in a critical decision, according to a telegram received this morning from Robert Griffin, debate coach.

In a debate Tuesday night against Whitman college, the University of Nevada traveling debate team lost a close decision in the second debate of their tour of the northwest with Coach Robert Griffin.

The Nevada team will meet Oregon State college at Corvallis tonight, with the same question at issue as has presented itself in the previous debates of the tour, dealing with the powers of the president.

The University of Nevada won its first debate of the northwest tour from the University of Idaho, Moscow, Ida., Monday night, according to word received from Debate Coach Griffin.

Bryce Rhodes and Granville Fletcher participated in the debate.

The question being debated is "Resolved, that the powers of the president shall be substantially increased as a permanent policy." Nevada upheld the affirmative side of the proposition, basing its arguments on the contention that a change in the powers that the president has today is necessary because of existing conditions in the economic and social systems of the country.

Nevada's first intercollegiate debate with the Nazarene college of Napa, Ida., on the same question was a no-decision debate. Nevada has had no defeats this season.

Campus Grounds To Be Landscaped

CWA Employees Start Work on Southeastern Portion Of Premises

Grounds on the southeastern side of the campus will be landscaped as a part of the CWA project, it was announced by Engineer Robert Allen this week.

This landscaping will make the campus appear more uniform, and it will be further beautified when the tracks belonging to the Western Pacific railroad, which are located in this portion of the campus, are moved nearer to the Orr ditch. Grass, trees and shrubs will be planted in this space by the university, Allen announced. When this work is completed the grounds will balance the grassy slope which faces Ninth street.

The CWA plans for other improvements to the campus, including the installation of new sinks at the Mackay school of mines, improvements to the agricultural farm and experiment station, and the repairing of other buildings, grounds and walks on the campus.

Student Recovering In Reno Hospital

Margaret Martin, senior student of the university and president of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, underwent an operation for appendicitis at a Reno hospital last Wednesday morning. It is reported that she is recovering as rapidly as might be expected.

'Mike' Scherupp Suffers From Rare Disease of Blood

That Magnus Scherupp, senior student of the university, is suffering from a rare disease of the blood, known as hemolytic jaundice, was made known by Dr. Lawrence Parsons, a local physician.

Scherupp has been ill for nearly two months with this disease, which is due to increased fragility of the red blood corpuscles. In this condition they rapidly undergo destruction in the blood stream, the physician stated. The result is severe anemia with jaundice. The jaundice results from the pigmentation of the skin by the coloring matter liberated during the destruction (hemolysis) of the red blood corpuscles. The patient's classmates have submitted to blood transfusions at various times in order to improve the anemia, and X-ray treatments of the spleen have been resorted to to allow spleen removal.

Medical men believe that surgical removal of the spleen organ often results in permanent cure, and are hoping Scherupp's condition will improve sufficiently to permit an operation.

Whiskerino Beard Growing to Begin For Men March 1

Rugby Game Between Rival Football Candidates To Be Feature

INTEREST AROUSED

Inter-Greek Warbling Contests Will Be Held At Luncheon

With many men on the campus already sporting lush growths of unsightly whiskers and others looking forward to March 1 for the start of the Whiskerino, interest in the forthcoming Mackay day celebration is running higher than in several years, according to observers on the campus.

The Whiskerino, however, which ends on Mackay day, March 24, is but one of the many interesting features of this annual celebration, according to Edward Bath, chairman in charge of the committee.

Rugby Game
Other highlights will include a rugby game between rival squads of football candidates. In view of the interest aroused by the introduction of this sport in several of the larger coast colleges, the committee assures the campus that it is in for a real treat.

Considerable interest is being shown in the inter-Greek warbling contests, to be held at the luncheon. Each house will be represented by a maximum of eight aspiring crooners, with handsome awards to be given to the winning houses. All organizations will be required to sing one of their own songs, while the judging of the contests will be in the hands of President Walter E. Clark, Dean R. C. Thompson and Dean Maxwell Adams. Ticket sales for the luncheon will be closed one week in advance.

The committee is considering a change in the manner of choosing the Mackay day queen. Through the news bureau, the committee is corresponding with one of the large film companies in Hollywood and it is planned that one of the most prominent directors in the business will choose the queen from a number of pictures submitted by the committee.

Unique Dance
The dance, which will be the climax of the celebration, will be unique in character. The forty-nine theme will be carried out both in decorations and costumes. Bath said, while some rare entertainment will be presented during intermissions. A number of football men and other "heavies" will constitute a chorus which will execute the sprightly maneuvers of the Floradora days, while the best campus acts in the Lions' Frolic will be presented.

Military Group Led by Students

Three University of Nevada students will be in charge of the affairs of the Reno chapter of the Reserve Officers' association for the coming year, with Carl Elges, Robert Anderson and Paul Nichols acting as president, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

These men were elected to office at a recent meeting of the group. They are graduates of the university ROTC department. Both Elges and Nichols were majors in the cadet battalion, while Anderson was adjutant. They are engineers and are enrolled in university courses.

Phi Kappa Phi Bids Thirteen Students In Annual Exercises

Sarah Lewis, Group President, Dr. Hartman Deliver Addresses

GLEE CLUB SINGS

'Youth and Life' Is Subject of Feature Speech Before Students

Thirteen University of Nevada students were bid to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary fraternity, this morning at the third annual Phi Kappa Phi day exercises.

Those bid were: Donald Butler, a major in chemistry and a member of Sigma Sigma Kappa, honorary fraternity; Virginia Cross, languages; Paul Fontana, electrical engineer, Nu Eta Epsilon, Scabbard and Blade; Russell Elliott, history; Margaret Martin, botany, Chi Delta Phi; Ned Morehouse, electrical engineer, Nu Eta Epsilon, Scabbard and Blade; Myra Sauer, English, Gothic N; Nevada Solar, Spanish; Virginia Wheeler, home economics, Sigma Sigma; Mary Williams, English, Chi Delta Phi; Howard Hart, electrical engineer, Nu Eta Epsilon; James Young, engineer; Mrs. Hammit, history.

Miss Sarah Lewis, president of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, reviewed the founding of Phi Kappa Phi at the University of Maine in 1897 and its growth to include 47 chapters and 23,000 members.

Dr. Leon Hartman, a charter member of the Nevada chapter, gave the address for the occasion on "Youth and Life." "Not failure, but low aim is crime," he quoted from Lowell in stressing the idea that things are not beyond the reach of youth. Things which seem small are not often as insignificant as they seem, he reminded the students.

The women's glee club, under the direction of T. H. Post, sang two selections before the address.

The candidates will be formally initiated tonight in the presence of members, parents of the initiates and alumni.

Immediately after the ceremony Dr. George W. Sears, former president of the society, will trace the development of science and its effect on civilization from Roman times to the present when he speaks on "Science and Civilization."

The new members will be honored with a reception to be held in the home economics room, which will conclude the day.

Three Band Men To Be Initiated Into Fraternity

Joint Band Concert Planned By Kappa Kappa Psi For Future

Formal initiation into Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, will be held for Darrel Cain, Tom Morris and Morgan Mills some time next month. The exact date has not yet been set. These three men have been invited to join the fraternity because of the good work they have done in the University of Nevada band.

Kappa Kappa Psi is sponsoring a joint band concert one week prior to the national Music week. Bands taking part in the entertainment include the Reno and Sparks high school bands, the Shirners' band and the University of Nevada band.

Officers of Kappa Kappa Psi for this semester are: Herbert Peck, president; Kistler Rivers, vice president; William Durbrow, secretary, and Professor T. H. Post, head of the university's music department, treasurer.

Students Learn About Themselves YOUTH'S PHILOSOPHY UPSET Have Water on Brain, Show Insanity

Is a complete upheaval of traditional thoughts and beliefs about to take place among the students of the University of Nevada? Are they being taught things that will revolutionize their philosophy of life?

These are some of the baffling questions that are running through the minds of the students in Professor Ralph A. Irwin's psychology 5 class.

Nevada in Condition For Season Windup Games With Aggies

Wolf Pack Points to Final Conference Hoop Contests; Mustangs Bring Fast-Moving Bunch To Reno for Battle

By FRANK SULLIVAN

Nevada's basketball varsity will end its season this weekend by meeting the California Aggies in a two-game series tonight and Saturday. The games will start at 8 p. m., with the Nevada yearlings meeting the junior varsity Whites tonight and the Virginia City High school team Saturday in the preliminaries.

The games this weekend will wind up play in the Far Western conference basketball tourney and, as a result of the tilts, Nevada will either move from fourth place in league standing to third place or be definitely out of the running. Victories by the Aggies, however, will place the Nevada team in bottom position.

Coach Crip Toomey, Aggie mentor, arrived in Reno this afternoon accompanied by ten men. The Aggies are a group of fast going, experienced players. Four men playing varsity for the Mustangs are veterans from last year's team.

Aggies Play Strong Game

The Aggies play a steady game on both offense and defense and, if the Mustangs are able to click tonight, they are likely to upset the dope bucket and return to Davis with a few pieces of Wolf hide.

Nevada, however, will not be found lacking in either experience or clicking plays tonight. During the early games of the season lack of experience on the part of the Nevada players accounted for the defeats by Chico and San Jose, but with time the Wolves have been able to rid themselves of this defect and are now serious threats for a ranking position in the league.

Victories by the Wolf Pack over the College of Pacific Bengals here several weeks ago boosted stock in the Nevada team to a new level, and a win over the colorful St. Mary's Gaels last weekend ended the depression as far as the Wolf Pack is concerned.

Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie, Nevada mentor, has not yet announced his starting lineup, but it is expected that he will start the same team that downed the Gaels. This will see Leighton starting at forward, Carroll at center and Curran and Tapogna as guards. The fifth man who will start at forward has not yet been chosen. The vacancy will be filled by either Hill, Ronnow or Phillips.

In the past Phillips has been starting regularly, but an upset is expected this week, with Hill, who is playing his last year for Nevada, probably starting. Ronnow, first year varsity man, turned in an exceptional game against St. Mary's, and he is expected to see action also. Phillips, however, has proven himself to be a dependable scorer, and will also play.

At guard position Martie has a good pair of men consisting of Curran and Tapogna. They have turned in good games on defense and have accounted for their share of Nevada's scores. Reserves for this position are Tharp and Lansdon, both playing their first year on the varsity but dependable players.

Blue Key Limits Saggers Membership

Blue Key, Saggers and Sagens Sell Tickets for Week-End Games

Membership in the Saggers, auxiliary to the Blue Key service fraternity, will be limited to thirty members. It was decided Tuesday at the meeting of the Blue Key fraternity.

Plans were also made at the meeting to hold short rallies downtown this afternoon and Saturday to advertise the basketball games here this weekend. Members of the Blue Key, Saggers and Sagens will cooperate in the rallies, it was announced.

At present there are approximately fifty men trying for membership in the Saggers, and according to Sam Arentz all those who have previously tried out are still eligible.

The duties of the Saggers are to aid the Blue Key organization in all branches of campus service. This week they conducted the basketball pep rallies and helped to increase the downtown sale of tickets for the Nevada-Cal Aggie games.

Saggers work in that organization until the senior group considers them sufficiently active to be initiated into Blue Key. The trial period is three semesters and at any time within that period they may be initiated.

Katherine Wright and Blanche Radcliffe, both of the class of '33, are working under the CWA. They are working in the dietetics department in the Reno public schools.

Posters have been placed on the various bulletin boards on the campus and tickets are now on sale by members of the freshman class. Tickets may also be purchased at the Riverside pharmacy.

Clever entertainment has been arranged for and Garry Callahan's orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

The committee arranging for the dance is headed by George Anderson. Other members of the committee include Betty Bowman, Elizabeth Juniper, Kenyon Richards, Jeanne Cardinal and Walter Palmer.

Social Calendar

Friday, February 23—Phi Kappa Phi day, at 11:25, Prof. Hartman will be the speaker; Kappa Alpha Theta dance; Sigma Phi Sigma dance; Delta Delta Delta dance. Saturday, February 24—Independent dance.

Many Are Bid to English Honorary At Recent Meeting

Fifteen Women Elected to Membership in National Chi Delta Phi Group

Honorary English Sorority Makes Plans for Annual Scandal Show

Fifteen women were bid by the campus chapter of Chi Delta Phi, national honorary English society for women, at a meeting last week. The women honored by bids are: Alice Boland, Paula Bradshaw, Roberta Browne, Eunice Caton, Mary Corcoran, Ellen Ernst, Frances Graf, Maurine Graf, Florence Gulling, Rita Jepson, Alice Lundberg, Alice Mason, Inez MacGillivray, Orva Selkirk, Margaret Turner, Mary Vauhan, Amelia Zorich.

The standards of the society are high. They require that all members be either major or minor students in English; that they have an average of 2 or better in English, and have satisfactory grades in all other classes.

The annual initiation banquet of Chi Delta Phi has not been held, but will be given later in the semester, although the date has not yet been decided upon.

Scandal Show Planned
The Scandal Show is to be sponsored this year by Chi Delta Phi, a national honorary English society for women.

This show is an annual event that is looked forward to with anticipation and not a little dread by both student body and faculty. No one is spared. The "yellow press" has nothing on the University of Nevada Scandal Show. Dirt is told about everyone on the campus pours in indiscriminately, and the dirtier the dirt the more enthusiastically it is accepted.

Last year the theme was based on the mythological underworld king and his bride. These two acted as a jury. Before them came the players, impersonating various campus personalities. Dirt was told about the characters represented and the king passed judgment on them according to the "color" of the dirt told about them.

This year the theme has not been decided upon, but a special meeting has been called by Dortha Robertson, president of Chi Delta Phi, for the purpose of deciding upon a theme for the show and working out all minor details.

The show will be held in the latter part of March, and an admission of 10 cents will be charged. It will be almost entirely staged by the new pledges to Chi Delta Phi.

Seven Are Chosen For Brush Staff

In the first selection for this semester eleven new members were added to the Sagebrush editorial staff and their names will be put on the masthead.

These new members are Caryl Carman, Mary Connolly, Ray Frohlich, John Brackett, Donnie Sullivan, Elwin Jeffers, Darrel Doyle, Dick Stoddard, Michael Eleano, Annie Lucas and Lloyd Leonard.

Katherine Wright Studies Dietetics

Katherine Wright, graduate of the University of Nevada with the class of 1932, leaves this weekend for the Pacific coast, where she will take up the study of dietetics at the Stanford-Lane hospital.

Miss Wright will make an intensive study of the subject in preparation for making it her profession. The course includes study at a number of the larger coast hospitals on the fundamentals and practices of diet regulation.

A member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority during her undergraduate career, Miss Wright was prominent in campus activities. She was a junior editor on the staff of the Sagebrush. She is a graduate of the Reno High school and has been a resident of Reno for many years.

Newman Club Will Stage Passion Play

A Passion play, entitled "Calvary," will be given by the Newman club on March 25, at the Washoe County Library building auditorium. Tryouts were held last week.

Those who received parts were Maurine Graf, Esther Laiolo, Hugh Rossolo, Paul Fontana, Orison Miller, Joe Kelly, Jack Belz, Mark Yori, Eileen O'Hara, Mary Connolly, Kathleen Haffey, Mary Williams and Lino Del Grande.

Directors for the play are Grace Semenza and Katherine Slavin, while Father Harrigan will act as Biblical adviser. Tom Morris has been named as stage manager for the production. The play is to be a colorful affair, according to Grace Semenza, director, as the club is trying to get typical Biblical costumes.

Prominent German Refugee Added To Stanford Faculty

Stanford university is to share in the Hitler-imposed scattering of German scholars. On April 1 Felix Bloch, a "Hitler refugee" of first rank, known in the world of science as one of the best of the younger physicists in Germany, is to join the university faculty as acting associate professor of physics. His appointment for a period of two years is made possible by the Rockefeller foundation and the Emergency Committee in Aid of Displaced German Scholars.

President Wilbur received Professor Bloch's acceptance of his appointment from Rome, where he is at present a fellow of the Rockefeller foundation in the Institute di Fisica dell'Universita.

Independents Sponsor Dance For U. N. Campus

Non-Fraternity Students Give Dance at Dania Tomorrow Night

The Independents of the University of Nevada will stage their first dance tomorrow night, February 24, at Dania hall. The affair will be a carnival dance, with decorations carrying out the typical carnival atmosphere by the use of balloons and serpentine.

Novel entertainment will be the feature of the evening, with Fern Guyman and Midge Hansen presenting tap and acrobatic dances. The Independents are considering the idea of making this an annual dance, Ned Morehouse, president of the group, said this week.

The committee in charge of the dance consists of Margaret Gorman, chairman, Elwin Jeffers, Dorothy Shogren, Necca Jones and Ned Morehouse.

The chaperones will be Dean Margaret E. Mack, Miss Louise Sissa, Dean Reuben C. Thompson and M. W. Deming.

Music will be furnished by Max Johnson's orchestra.

PLAY GOSSIP

By THE MAD MAJOR
Ernie Mack, the champagne boy with the beer income, claims that the play production class is composed of all artists. Wonder what Mae West thinks about it?

As for potential actors the Sigma Nus could qualify for any part in the Passion play.

Is it true that Campus Players have sold their "mellerdrummer" to the Mackay day committee for a liquid sum? All for the good of the party.

If Helen Lewis doesn't be very careful Rita Winer is going to steal the show from her in "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh."

Blythe Bulmer can always be relied upon to give her usual smooth performance. Too bad that the "Man on the Flying Trapeze" isn't playing opposite her.

Paula—Miss Bradshaw to you—is never around when needed on the stage but always gives her coy little smile when she does arrive, except when she sits on the villain's lap—then it is "art" for "art's" sake.

The greatest piece of acting on the campus could be done if John Benson could only act natural.

Glee Club Appears In Fallon Concert

The University of Nevada men's and women's glee clubs made their first appearance of the semester last night in the Fallon theater when they presented a miscellaneous concert of solos, skits, novelty song features, harmony numbers, sextet, quartet and trio selections.

The newly organized women's sextet and the harmony trio made their initial appearance last night, and were an outstanding feature of the women's glee club.

The first sopranos in the sextet are Marjorie Stout and Miriam Clark, the second sopranos Anna Blundell and Abigail Hackett, while the altos are Mary Louise Durkee and Norma Jean Mills. The accompanist is Sarah Graves. The harmony trio is composed of Barbara Bryant, Abigail Hackett and Anna Blundell.

Both of these groups will take part in the annual spring concert to be held in April.

The second concert of the semester will be a combined production of the glee clubs and the University of Nevada Community orchestra. It will be given in Gardnerville March 9, Professor T. H. Post, conductor of both groups, stated. This concert is made possible by C. C. Meneley, superintendent of schools in Gardnerville. The concert will be given in the Gardnerville High school and immediately following the program there will be a dance.

Members of the women's glee club who made the trip to Fallon are: Jeanne Cardinal, Marjorie Stout, Annie Lucas, Mary Louise Waltenspiel, Frances Graf, Martha Scragham, Kathryn Luke, Miriam Clark, Leone Clark, Anna Blundell, Margaret Tramer, Barbara Bryant, Evelyn Semenza, Mary De Armond, Abigail Hackett, Sarah Graves, Helen Spina, Margery Mullen, Helene Fulton, Betty McCuiston, Roberta Browne, Mary Louise Durkee, Norma Jean Mills, Genevieve Hansen, Lols Brooks and Agnes De Armond.

Home Economics Women Produce Frosh Numerals

The numerals awarded to the last year's spring frosh track and football men last week were made by the home economics department. This is an annual project always done by the home economics department. The women make the white letters and sew them on a blue background or outline.

Chet Scranton awarded these numerals to the following frosh track and football men of last spring. The men receiving track numerals are J. D. Stephens, Lynn Gerow, Fred Hartman, John Noyes, Walter Hunting, Bert Cummings, Victor Becas, Frank Mathews and Don Brown.

COIN DECIDES WHICH GROUP RECEIVES PRIZE

The flip of a coin conceded the attendance prize for the Sagens dance to the Pi Beta Phi sorority last Saturday evening at the annual Sagens dance. Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Beta sororities tied for the prize, each having 63 per cent attendance of the entire chapter membership, consequently the coin was flipped and "heads" lost.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity won the prize for the fraternity having the largest percentage of members present. Approximately 70 per cent of them had "dates."

Both men and women declared the dance successful. Every sorority, fraternity and the Independents were well represented, making the organization popularity contest close.

Garry Callahan and his orchestra played for the dance, which was held in the I.O.O.F. hall.

Nix Now Singing At Bay City Hotel

Dudley Nix, well known crooner of the University of Nevada, is now singing with Tom Coakley and his orchestra at the Palace hotel in San Francisco.

Nix may be heard broadcasting over station KGO several nights of the week. He renders vocal refrains with the orchestra and sings special numbers during the dance intermissions.

Nix is well known as a leader and singer in Reno, where he has directed an orchestra in the Hotel Riverside and in the Tavern. Shortly before leaving for San Francisco his orchestra broadcast over KOH and the Columbia-Don Lee broadcasting system.

While attending the university Nix was active as a debater as well as in musical circles. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Jackson, Sagebrush Former Editor, Is Engaged to Marry

The engagement of Sadie Wardleigh to Joseph R. Jackson of Sparks has been announced by Miss Wardleigh's parents at their home in Wells, Nev. Miss Wardleigh attended the university for a while, and is the sister of Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, who was prominent on this campus. Jackson graduated with the class of '32 and was a member of Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity.

Press Club Ruckus Scheduled March 9

Proceeds Will Be Used for Masquerade Ball Expenses

With a pleasing variety of vaudeville skits and slapstick comedy, the Press club "Ruckus" will be presented to the students on March 9, at 11:25, in the Education building, according to present plans of the organization.

The club expects a large crowd for this event, Forrest Bibb, chairman of the "Ruckus" committee, said, and added that an extensive advertising campaign would be sponsored in order to insure a good turnout from the campus.

All of the regular members of the Press club will probably take part in the show, Bibb said, and imitations of campus characters will be presented along with the other features.

This presentation is being given by the club in order to raise money for the coming masquerade ball, which is scheduled for some time in April. If present plans are carried out this will be the first masquerade ball the campus has had in five years. Ed Montgomery, president, has already appointed a committee to arrange for costumes, music and entertainment.

The "Ruckus" committee is arranging to have programs printed for the show, and further arrangements will be made this week to insure an entertaining hour, Bibb said.

Mrs. Thomas Craven, formerly Miss Mary Ruth Seamon '32, spent the weekend in Reno visiting friends.

Mary Pappas spent the weekend at her home in Virginia City.

Ashworth, Betty Bowman, Joyce Cooper, Joyce Dodge and Helen Wittenberg of Reno; Catherine Armstrong, Ely; Miriam Butler, Sparks; Sue Joyner, Las Vegas, and Betty McCuiston of Carlin. Following the ceremony a formal banquet was held at which active and alumnae members were present. Since the convention of Pi Beta Phi national is to be held this summer, the convention theme was carried out in the decorations and entertainment.

Ann Zorich of Truckee, Calif., was the weekend guest of Amelia Zorich and Odessa Beck.

Before being initiated, the Gamma Phi Beta pledges entertained their mothers at a tea at the chapter house Saturday afternoon. The theme carried out was pink carnations, the sorority flower. The mothers were presented with corsages of pink carnations.

Initiation ceremonies were held Saturday night for eight pledges of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the chapter house. Those initiated were Anna Blundell, Margaret Piercy, Verla Champagne, Frances Burke, Georgianna Harriman, Eleanor Doan, Arlene Boerlin and Barbara Clark.

Following initiation ceremonies an initiation breakfast was held for the initiates at the chapter house. Sunday evening a banquet was given in their honor at the Century club. Pink carnations and candles comprised the table decorations, with unique place cards of brown and mode with the sorority crest engraved on them to mark place for those attending. Toasts were given by several members and the sorority president to welcome the new initiates. Entertainment was provided by the sorority trio.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will be hostesses to an informal house dance tonight at the chapter house.

Co-Ed Marksmen Shoot Collegiate Rifle Matches

Women Win Seven Contests With Other College Aggregations

CIRCLE N IS AWARD

Men, Women Teams Will Fire in Annual Battle Next Week

Out of twelve matches fired this semester with teams in all parts of the United States, the women's rifle team of the University of Nevada has won seven.

Rifle is the only intercollegiate sport for women at Nevada, and each year a team is chosen to fire against other women's teams in various universities. The scores are sent through the mails to each opponent.

Manager of the women's squad this year is Margaret Place, who was appointed to fill the vacancy of Ellen Eckman, who withdrew from the university last fall. The women fire their matches on the barracks rifle range in back of Lincoln hall, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The scores of the matches fired to date are:

Nevada	Opponent—	Scores Given
492	473 U. of Nebraska
492	486 Kas. St. Ag. College
492	485 U. of Georgia
492	500 U. of Vermont
493	480 U. of Hawaii
492	U. of Oklahoma, default
483	U. of Indiana, default
954	951 U. of Montana
482	491 U. of S. Dakota
482	500 U. of Washington
482	489 Penn State
Default	495 Carnegie Institute

The highest possible score for prone shooting is 500 for a team of five women, and is 1000 for a match fired in prone and sitting positions.

This week the Nevada women are firing against women's teams at the Universities of California, Maryland, Michigan, Cornell university and the Universities of Kentucky and Maine.

Next week there will be no intercollegiate matches and the women will conduct their annual match with the men's rifle team and will complete the intramural matches which have been carried on simultaneously with the intercollegiate contests. Last year the women fired against the men's team twice and each time beat them.

The ten women making the highest scores during the entire rifle season receive Circle Ns from the A.S.U.N. at the Mackay day luncheon. Colonel Robert M. Brambila of the military department presents both the men's and women's team members with the N awards on Mackay day.

The following women have so far been firing on the team which represents Nevada in the collegiate contests: Elizabeth Frey, Mary Swett, Catherine Dondero, Allene Daniels, Myra Sauer, Orpha Morgan, Margaret Place, Ellen Creek, Ruth Palmer and Alice Lundberg. There are several other women who are out for rifle, but they haven't yet made the varsity team.

University Y. W. Trains Girls for Membership

Quilt making, social service work, parties and help with relief work are the activities now engaged in by the younger girls in Reno with the help of the advisers' group of the University of Nevada Y.W.C.A.

Each adviser prepares her class of girls for future active Y.W.C.A. membership. Points are given to the women in charge of the groups for recognition in Y.W. and toward cabinet positions, said Frances Burke, chairman of the committee, recently. Students taking part in this work who have stimulated the younger girls to be more interested in social work are Elma May, Georgianna Harriman, Louise Emminger, Marjorie Cannon, Frances Burke and Anne Gibbs.

Mazies Resent Members Wearing Abbreviated Apparel on Hikes

Because the Mazies do not consider shorts sufficient underpinning coverage, Merle Wines and Louise Emminger were punished at the Manzanita meeting last Monday. It seems that Louise and Merle were detected strolling up the Purdy road in extremely short "shorts," offending the Mazies' sense of taste.

As a consequence the two culprits had to present a humorous skit that lasted for fifteen minutes.

Co-Ed Folk Festival Will Be on March 2

Fifty Women to Participate in Folk Dances in Gymnasium

Various nations of the world will be represented in the Folk Festival at the university gymnasium on Friday night, March 2, announced Miss Elsa Sameth, director of women's physical education at the university, today.

About 50 women will participate in the festival, which is for the purpose of showing the social dances of the other countries, she said.

Tickets for the affair will be sold at the sorority houses and the downtown stores. Limited seating accommodations necessitates early sale of tickets, she added.

Dances included in the program will be:

- English—Black Nag and Gathering Peascods.
- Spanish—La Jota.
- French—Coremste.
- Scotch—Highland Schottische and Petronella.
- Slavonian—Daldans and Weaving Dance.
- German—Einzug Tanz.
- Italian—Circolo.
- Irish—Piper's Dance.
- And the Greek dances.

Women Debaters Discuss Questions

While Robert Griffin, coach of the women's debate team, is making the debate trip with the men on the Pacific coast, regular meetings of the team have given way to individual research work in preparation for the debate with Southern California here on March 9.

Blanche Lucas, women's debate manager, announced that meetings will be scheduled next week when regular meetings and gruelling work will begin for the women.

The question to be debated is the same question that was selected by Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary debate fraternity, for the current debate season. The question concerns the powers of the president, a question that should prove interesting and valuable to all interested in political science.

W.A.A. CO-EDS SWIM

Friday afternoon, February 16, ten members of the W.A.A. adjourned to Moana Hot Springs for an informal swim. After this they returned to the university gym for tea. This is another of the series of informal recreations planned for Friday afternoons.

Board of Officials Begins Work for Semester at Gardnerville

With Helene Stark and Charlotte Pope officiating at a girl's basketball game at Gardnerville High school today, the board of basketball officials will begin functioning for the first time as an established campus organization, according to Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor in physical education.

As yet but two women have completed the examinations necessary for determining eligibility to the board. By the end of next week, however, total membership will be known since the practical tests, consisting of officiating at intramural games, will be over at that time.

Mrs. Mae Simas, Miss Frances Humphrey and Miss Verdie Fant will be present during each game and will judge the ability displayed by the women in refereeing. The combined score of the three judges will be the deciding factor in eligibility.

Immediately after the tests are completed a list of those passing will be sent to national ratings committee for approval. After a year's time the local board may petition the committee for membership in the national group.

Women who plan to take their practical tests this week are Elizabeth Frey, Charlotte Pope, Margaret Kornmayer, Madeline Miller and Dorothy Gordon.

Women's Archery Will Begin Soon

According to Mary Swett, manager, archery will start some time during the next two weeks. The start of this sport is being delayed because of the necessity for ordering new equipment, which cannot be done until the W.A.A. budget is approved by the finance control committee.

Archery is a sport which is open to all women regardless of whether or not they may be taking physical education or whether they have been excused from required work in the women's physical education department.

Practices will probably be held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

A.W.S. Delegates To Attend Meet Of National Body

Two Nevada Representatives Will Make Trip to Arizona Next April

The Associated Women Students of the University of Nevada will be represented with fourteen other western colleges at the biennial western sectional convention of Western Intercollegiate Associated Women Students in Tucson, Ariz., April 18-21, Marthine Solares, president of A.W.S., stated this week.

The A.W.S. president and president-elect who will be selected before that time will represent the University of Nevada. Any other members of A.W.S. may also attend if they defray their own expenses, Miss Solares said.

This convention is held every two years. Its purpose is to discuss the problems of American youth in connection with college life. The delegates intend to formulate opinions of value concerning complete social readjustments and problems of education today.

Colleges of Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, west Texas, Oklahoma, western Kansas and Nebraska will send delegates.

Sorority Women In Hoop Tourney

With the close of interclass W.A.A. basketball games, the sororities began plans for intramural competition.

All of the games are scheduled but only a few have been played. The Gamma Phis defeated the Tri Deltas Thursday afternoon, February 15, by a large score. The Pi Phis played the Independents and were defeated by 2 points.

Steve Comish Will Coach Women in Greens Sport

For the first time in several years an effort is being made to give university women an opportunity to play golf.

Beginning March 1, lessons will be given at the country club course, under Steve Comish. Those taking lessons are expected to pay a $3 green fee and to furnish their own clubs.

This sport is open to any university women, regardless of whether or not they are taking physical education. According to Charlotte Robinson, manager, if enough sign up to play golf, an effort will be made to have a tournament, possibly between classes.

At present the following women have signed up: Betty Horton, Cornelia Arntz, Catherine Armstrong, Louise Emminger and Helene Stark.

Ethel Maraska '31 was married August 12 to August Mead. Their home is in Westwood, Calif.

Eva Edwards '33 is teaching home economics in the Lincoln County High school.

Women's Trio Will Make Appearances

Trips Will Be Made to Many Towns of State for Engagements

The women's double trio, under the direction of Mrs. T. H. Post, has a full program for the next few weeks, Marjorie Stout, president, stated today.

Students of the university will be given a chance to hear them when they appear on the Phi Kappa Phi program at the next A.S.U.N. meeting.

The co-eds are also scheduled to make the following appearances: February 22 at Fallon, March 5 at the Lions club in Reno, March 9 at Gardnerville and before the Faculty club at their next meeting. The women's and men's glee clubs will also make an appearance at Fallon and Gardnerville.

The double trio is to be assisted in some of its selections by the harmony trio consisting of Barbara Bryant, Abigail Hackett and Anna Blundell. The singers in the double trio are Marjorie Stout and Miriam Clark, first sopranos; Anna Blundell and Abigail Hackett, second sopranos, and Mary Louise Durkee and Norma Jean Mills, altos.

To cover a deficit of $115, incurred on a recent dance, students of the Tulane college of arts and sciences have been assessed 20 cents each.

Loading a pipe, son, is like building a fire

"NOW if you want to build a fire you've got to have the right kind of chimney, and you've got to have the right kind of wood, seasoned right and packed right in the fireplace. If you've got all this, it's easy to light up."

"It's pretty near the same way in smoking a pipe. Now if you've got Granger Tobacco—the right kind of pipe tobacco—any old pipe will do."

"And if you put in a pinch at a time and pack it down good and tight—the way to load a pipe—all you need to do is strike a match."

A WELCOME COMPROMISE

Careful consideration is being given all of Nevada's traditions and customs by an A.S.U.N. committee composed of students who are earnest in their efforts to help the student body solve some of the problems of campus regulation which have cropped up during the present semester. The failure of the present form of freshman hazing and some of the outworn traditions has made the move essential.

At the present time the tradition revision committee has under consideration a newly proposed plan for solving the difficulty of freshman hazing which appears to be a sound one. The Sagebrush believes that this compromise measure will be a good way out of the present difficulty.

The plan at present consists of doing away with the sophomore vigilance committee, its regulation of the actions of the freshman class and abolishing the use of the "dink." In substitution for the present plan of class battles over hazing at lakings and paddlings, the committee is considering the suggestion of allowing the fraternal groups handle tradition violators in their separate meetings, with the Independents and Lincoln hall taking care of their own lawbreakers. Under the proposed plan, the men's upperclass committee would act only in extreme cases in the punishment of violators, in the old manner.

The plan, we believe, would satisfy both of the opposing sides that have been waging a controversy over freshman hazing. It would do away with the danger of mass pitched battles between the two lower classes and increase the strictness of enforcement of the new and old traditions to be approved by the committee. The plan has its disadvantages, but they are far outweighed, we believe, by its advantages.

In considering the matter of traditions, the committee is reviewing several new rules which could be added to the present list of traditions, to become traditions later if they are approved by the student body after a trial over a sufficiently long period of time. They are also considering a recommendation for the abolition of some obsolete and useless rules listed in the freshman handbook which can no longer be classed as traditions.

Any member of the student body who has a suggestion of a rule of conduct for students of this university which he believes could be developed into a tradition and fitted into the scheme of life here should report his proposal to some member of the committee in order that it can be discussed in a future meeting. In this way it is hoped that some new traditions can be given birth upon the death of the useless ones which are to be done away with.

THE RIGHT KIND OF TEAM

Members of the student body of this university who really give credit where it is due are praising this season's basketball team and its coach, J. E. Martie, for developing one of the finest fighting hoop squads that has been developed here since the university began sponsoring basketball as an intercollegiate sport. They have strong justification for their praise.

Taking over a group of athletes who were inexperienced and lacked confidence at the beginning of the present season, Martie has developed it slowly but steadily into a team that last week triumphed against big odds over the strong St. Mary's college quintet. Only a man who has coached or played the sport can realize the achievement which this little group of fighting athletes and their able coach has accomplished.

Handicapped by the failure to return of some of the star players of last year's squad and the ineligibility of others, the Wolves have steadily gained skill and confidence since the beginning of the season. There is far more to be proud of in a team like this one with its splendid spirit than of one with every advantage at the beginning of the season that, through lack of interest, falls down in crucial competition to be defeated when it should win.

This weekend the Nevada Wolf Pack of the hardwood plays its final series of home games against the California Aggie team. It has everything to win and little to lose in this contest, yet its members inspire us with a feeling of confidence that they will win the two games and take Nevada into a higher place in conference rating. However, the California Agricultural college team is no "pushover" for any team in spite of the fact that they are now low in conference standing. The games this weekend should provide a thrilling sport spectacle for students and townspeople.

Every member of the A.S.U.N. owes it to himself to see the games tonight and tomorrow night. It will be a pleasure to see such a fine team in action in its last home series of the season that spells the end of the basketball competition for some of its players. Win or lose, the Nevada players can be relied upon to give their best and show us what clean sportsmanship and fighting spirit can do to develop a good team out of poor prospects.

RIDE THAT MUSTANG!

A NEW STUDENT MOVEMENT

News comes to us of the beginning of a new youth movement having its root in some of the eastern colleges which may be of infinite importance eventually to the students of this university. In a speech over a national broadcast last week Dr. William Trufant Foster, director of the Pollak foundation for economic research, former president of Reed college and member of the board of advisers of the National Student Federation of America, heralded this movement and told of the work of the N.S.F.A. in promoting it.

In his speech Dr. Foster warned the college youth of America against their lethargic attitude towards national affairs and the new economic revolution which is changing the very basis of our society. He deplored the failure of students to see beyond the petty circle of campus activities and small politics. He tells of the awakening interest of the thinking youth of America who are puzzled by the failure of the old economic order and the old laizze-faire attitude of "let well enough alone" of the average American citizen in economic affairs.

There are a few students on this campus who are finding a splendid new interest in the actions of the great forces working in society. These students feel the need for a concerted youth movement of the college students of America in getting a voice in national affairs so that they will be prepared to take an active part in them after they graduate. They feel the urge to get the strength which students hold in foreign countries over the political leadership of their nations.

If the students who are interested in activities outside their own little world could get together in a group on this campus for discussion purposes, it would be a great step towards enlightenment. We believe that such a group should be formed.

Wolf Howls

A long, loud and lamentable laugh is echoing over the campus as a result of the Sagens' scolded reverse dance last Saturday night. Talk about your irony. The gals call up in a sweet voice and ask their man to go to a reverse dance. Thinks they, everything's jake. Then they are told to bring their cars, and nothing is said about gas. Then they go to the dance, find the gals have the dates all twisted up and end in a muddle. After that, thinks the men, they are on the gray train. But are they? We sez no. Then comes the fun — eats, a night club (in fact, several night clubs), more gas, cigarettes, more eats and lord knows what else. And they call it reverse! Ah, the irony of it all!

Much in evidence at the above mentioned rodent derby was the irrepressible Mud Clay. This man, who last year made the dirt section of the Artemisia and has since been the leader in bizarre conduct, nonchalantly "shucked" his coat and danced around in vest, tra-la.

Along the same lines we point with sneers at the Bulmer faction which, not getting any notoriety by stand-up in the crowd, kneeled en masse, waved arms, simulated a craps game, pointed, whispered and gabbed, until disappointed by the general lack of interest in its actions. Noticeable was "Deadpan" Butler, "Fuzz" Malloy.

Conspicuous by his absence was

And at the same dance, who should be in attendance but a swarm of S. A. Es., greatly enjoying themselves. Everything was aces until Ed Gilly got into a squabble with a husky high school youngster over the respective merits of S. A. E. and Pi Delta Kappa. The storm was short lived, however, as Gilly's brethren flocked around like a bunch of circus hands at a call "Hey, Rube" and escorted their protege away.

And, in passing, a word should be dropped about the hit the recently opened Cocoonut grove has made with the "jump the gun" Sigma Nus, led by the great Beemer. With beards bristling and block Ns much in evidence, these swaggering collegians are demoralizing the ranks of the baby-eyed high school lasses.

The committee meets every other Wednesday in the basement of Artemisia hall and anyone who cares to attend may do so. Talks on various subjects of world interest will be given throughout the semester.

Nevada Mining Grads Wander to Many Countries

Many Former Students Travel To Corners of Earth In Careers

The Mackay school of mines is now represented by its recent graduates in countries throughout the world, including South America, the Philippine Islands, Korea, South Africa, Alaska and the United States, according to Director John A. Fulton.

The most popular of the foreign countries, so far as these young mining men are concerned, are South America and the Philippine Islands. Weaver A. Solomon '29 has spent three years in Chile with a big mining concern and Laurence Fish '29, will leave soon for that country.

Over in the Philippine Islands, Santos Murillo '29 is working for the Benguet Consolidated mines, and at Baguio Norman Ericson '30 is an engineer for the Antamok Goldfields Mining company.

But there are other distant lands which have not been overlooked by the mining alumni. In Johannesburg, South Africa, Frank Bristol '30 is mining gold. Thomas Jackson '32 has been offered a position in Korea and will sail soon.

When it comes to the North American continent it is obvious that Nevada and California attract a tremendous number of the mining graduates, with Alaska also in the race.

In our own state Virginia City and Pioche carry off the honors for having the greatest number. In Virginia City Jackson Woodward '33 is a mining engineer, and Claude W. Hammond '31 has a position with the Recovery mill. The school of mines is represented in Pioche by Paul Gemmill '30, who is a geological and mining engineer for the Prince Consolidated Mining company, and Chas. Thompson '33, who is working for the Comet mines.

Sergei Glyachenkoff '29 is a shift boss for the Tungsten mine at Mill City; Edmund Muth '31 has a lease on a property at Silver Peak, and Earle Seaborn '33 is with the Imperial Placer mines at Yerington.

Several of the graduates have been employed by the PWA in Reno, including Wallace White '31, Fred Roumagne '31 and Norman Annett '32. These men are working under the supervision of the coast and geodetic survey. Harold Vaughn '30 is the Tonopah representative for the survey.

In Wasilla, Alaska, Harve Ashby '31 is working in the Willow Creek mines.

In California Willard Van Doren '31 is an assayer and engineer for the 16-to-1 mine at Allegheny; Minter Harris '32 is a surveyor for a mining company in Meadow Valley, and in Nevada county, Robert Adamson '30 is engineer for the Ziebright mines. Benton Turner '33, who was recently working on the Los Angeles aqueduct project, is now with the Standard Oil company.

NSPA Cleanings

Dr. George Barton Cutton recently presented to his students at Colgate university the possibility of changing the time of the college vacation to the winter months between December and April. Dr. Cutton explained that the change in time of the college vacation would be especially practicable at Colgate because of the cold, unpopular winters which are experienced at Hamilton. The present school year is merely followed through tradition, said Dr. Cutton, and there really is no serious reason why the year should not be mapped out so that the students could attend classes during the pleasantest weather.—Colgate Maroon.

Eighty-four courses in physical education alone are offered at the Colorado State Teachers college. These include such courses as speedball, touchball, volleyball, playground baseball, clog dancing, natural dancing, scarf dancing, folk dancing and dancing technique.—Haverford News.

We are infinitely cheered by the disclosure of Dr. David Segel of the federal bureau of education that the myth about the 12 year old average intelligence of Americans is exploded. The average really comes out to about 17, because there are 3,000,000 at the 12 year level and about 40,000,000 at 17 or above mentally. Of the latter group about 10,000,000 are awfully smart fellows because their average is above 23.—Daily Trojan.

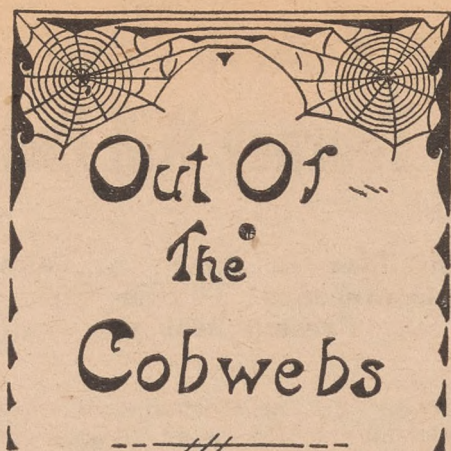

The University of Arizona finds it necessary to substitute outside clerical assistance for student employees when it comes to mimeographing questions for examinations.—Arizona Wildcat.

Art Exhibit Held For CWA Artist

A series of paintings and charcoal sketches by Robert Cole Caples, local CWA artist, were presented by the Fine Arts group to the students and public in the art seminar of the university library during the last week.

The sketches are representations of Indian tribes in various parts of the state, and studies of the Apostles, Christ, and personal sketches.

The exhibit is under the direction of Ellen Creek, freshman manager of the group.

Diving once more into the stacks to pull some little thing from the cobwebs which might be of interest, your scribe decided to confine his activities to the issue of October 15, 1894, of the Student Record. Following are the results:

1. Slugged "Literary," headed "What Is a Sleeper?"

A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which the sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which the sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps. Therefore while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper, the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper under the sleeper until the sleeper which carries the sleeper jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper, by striking the sleeper under the sleeper, on the sleeper, and there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper on the sleeper.

We are glad to herald the organization of a glee club. Nothing could end more enchantment to college life than such an organization. After a week of hard study imagine anything more genial than to congregate at the society hall or elsewhere and listen to the glee club, as they sing those good old college songs. How quick we forget our cares and join in the spirit of the music. When out for a hayride or skate it's pleasant to have the glee club along. When entertaining visiting baseball clubs, it always makes things livelier to

Delta Sigma Lambda Approved by De Molay

Official recognition and approval has been granted Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity by the grand council, Order of De Molay, as an organization in universities for members of De Molay, it was learned by the local chapter of the fraternity this week.

The recognition stipulates that from now on every university man considered for membership in the Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity must be an initiated member of De Molay.

Ever since the inception of the fraternity, the founders stated in a letter to the local chapter, it has been their purpose to consolidate with De Molay. This was because the founders of the fraternity were members of the De Molay group.

Marvin Robinson, graduate of Nevada and former grand president of the fraternity, was instrumental in the consolidation. Robinson now resides in Chicago.

Recent Expulsions At Ohio State U. Cause Comments

Student Spirit Voiced in Protests Against Expulsion of Conscientious Objectors

NEW YORK, N. Y. (NSFA).—The indignation aroused among students in all parts of the country by the expulsion recently of seven students who refused to take military training at Ohio State University has brought a storm of protest to the attention of the university authorities. According to word received from Charles Hart, one of the objectors who was allowed to remain in college, the basis for judging all the cases was the validity of the conscientious grounds, a new aspect of R.O.T.C. resistance. A committee of three faculty members, including the head of the military training department, made the decisions, ruling that Hart was justified in his objection on conscientious grounds but that the others had no justification for such a stand in opposition to the regular university regulation.

The Student League for Industrial Democracy, many of whose branches have joined the National Executive committee in voicing their protest against the Ohio State expulsions, is sponsoring Albert Hamilton, a student recently expelled from the University of California at Los Angeles, for refusal to take military training, on a tour to colleges in all parts of the country in support of conscientious objectors.

R. N. Anderson Speaks On National Defense Over Radio Station

Discussing the United States need of adequate armament and explaining the status of the United States in regard to other nations of the world, Lieutenant Robert N. Anderson, senior student, spoke over radio station KOH Friday, February 16, on "National Defense."

Anderson, who is vice president of the reserve officers, was selected to broadcast the talk in observance of National Defense week.

The North Carolina Tar Heel in expressing the hope that the classmates of the Ohio State students will come to their support with indignant protests, says, "If it could be a universal student expression, this attitude among future citizens would undoubtedly do more than anything else to stem the tide of militarism. With the nations of Europe literally perched on powder boxes, and cries for rearmament already in the air in this country, we can be thankful that there exists such a student attitude to check the militarist. It shows much more bravery than the military zealots of 1914. We hope that the Ohio State students are upheld in their conscientious objections. Even if they are not, their courage for expression of a worthy cause is to be commended."

The Methodist Epworth league will go to Fortola this Sunday as guests of the Portola Epworth league, which is being organized. They have also been invited to a dinner given by the newly organized league preceding the meeting and they will stay for the evening church service before returning.

The Reno Epworth league will have a social before their usual fellowship hour at 7 o'clock the following week.

The Campus club of the Federated church will hold its regular service Sunday at 6:15 o'clock. Rev. Case will be in charge of the program and lead the discussion of "How We Can Make the Most of Lent." Following the discussion, plans will be made for a progressive dinner to be held next week. Throughout Lent special services are being held at the Federated church and the students are invited to attend.

The Episcopal Student fellowship will have its regular devotional services Sunday evening at 6:15, with the discussion hour immediately following. This will be in charge of Chaplain

Graves and the subject to be discussed is "The Problem of Church Unity." Lenten services were observed by a group at the service held Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the chapel and will be held again this Thursday. All students are invited.

Dean Thompson will continue the discussion of "Marriage and Divorce" at the Baptist church for the university student group. This discussion is the third one conducted on this subject.

St. Mary's Splits Series With Pack In Weekend Games

Wolves Win 30-27 Saturday; Moragans Beat Pack by 20 Points Friday

The Nevada Wolves avenged their Friday's 46 to 26 defeat at the hands of St. Mary's by downing the Gaels by the score of 30 to 27 Saturday in the final basketball game of the series, at Kezar pavilion in San Francisco.

After the Moragans trounced them by 20 points in the first encounter, the Wolves came back with courage and determination to reverse the tables, and succeeded in overthrowing the red and blue warriors in the last half of the game.

Nevada made the first basket, but the score continued to run close during the first half. The Pack forged ahead just before the period was over, with 16 points to the Gaels' 12.

In the early part of the second period St. Mary's began to gather buckets, with Meade, veteran sharpshooting forward, accounting for most of the points. With the Moragans leading, Leighton and Tapogna, Wolf forward and guard, came to the rescue and put Nevada one point ahead. Then Tapogna put a long one through the hoop to clinch the game.

The first game saw the Pack trying to get their bearings on the large Kezar court, and the players experienced some difficulties in locating the hoop on the strange floor. They were not at home on this type of court as their opponents were, since Carroll and Curran were the only players who had had previous experience on the floor. A big factor in their winning the second game was due to becoming familiar with the court, J. E. "Doc" Martie, varsity basketball coach, stated.

Martie said that Leighton played the best game of his life Saturday, and that Hill and Tapogna, along with the entire team, were playing the best ball of the season.

He added that Meade of the Gael quintet was one of the best shots on the coast, and that the Pack could be complimented on its near perfect defense, which held such men as Meade and his teammates to 27 points.

SPARKS CAGERS WIN OVER RENO

The only upset to occur in high school hoop circles this last week was Sparks beating Reno on the Reno floor, 35 to 28. Another game in this section resulted with Carson City beating Fallon 21 to 19.

The victories for the eastern part of the state went to Wells by virtue of a win over Carlin, 14 to 11; to Battle Mountain defeating Carlin, 14 to 11; and to Metropolis, which won from Montello 26 to 20. In the northern circuit Winnemucca completed a successful season with no defeats by taking Elko 17 to 14. Fallon beat Hawthorne in a one sided game, 31 to 18.

Nevada Sharpshooters Enter Hearst Trophy Match Next Week

With the Ninth Corps area rifle matches drawing to a close today, the University of Nevada rifle team will begin shooting in the Hearst trophy match which will be held next week. Out of the fifteen men who are shooting in the present match will be chosen those having the highest five scores who will shoot in the Hearst match.

Those who participated in the match which closes today are Bela Harcos, Wendell Duplantis, Leland Hazeltine, Walter Bowrin, Richard Sauer, Alson Gibson, Frank Margrave, Joseph Lubin, Donald Odell, Paul Walker, Ralph Ball, Paul Fontana, Neil Plath, Ned Morehouse and Dan Harvey.

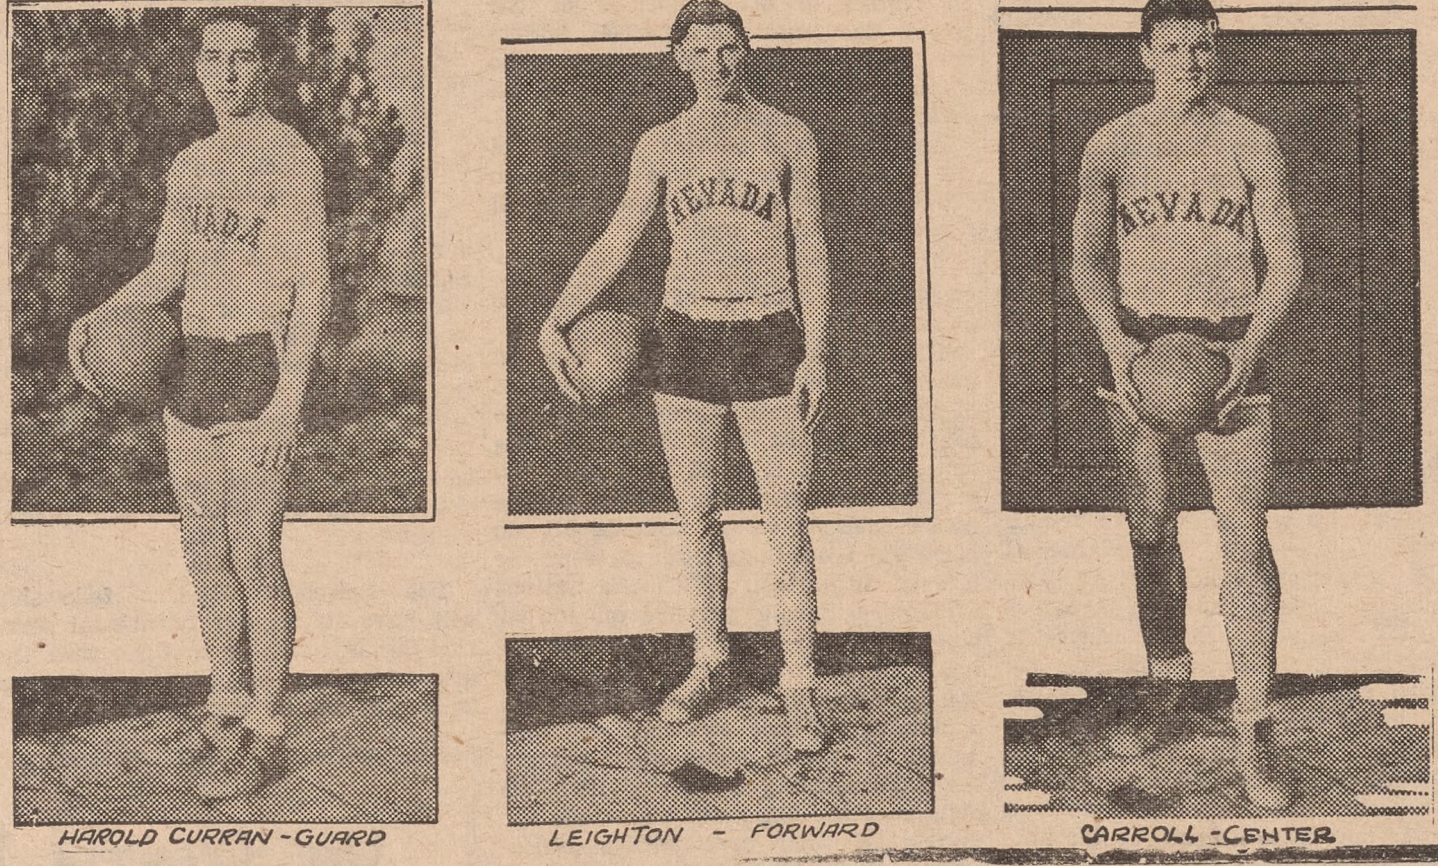

First place in the prone position was tied for by Bela Harcos and Paul Walker, who each shot a score of 98 out of a possible 100. First place in sitting position was tied, with Bela Harcos and Wendell Duplantis each having a score of 94. Other scores have not been calculated yet.

VETERANS PLAY LAST HOME GAMES

HAROLD CURRAN - GUARD LEIGHTON - FORWARD CARROLL - CENTER

STOWELL - CENTER JACK HILL - FORWARD

When Nevada plays Cal Aggies this weekend in the last games of the 1934 season, five members of the Wolf Pack will be playing their last basketball tilt for Nevada.

Jack Hill, flashy forward, has played for the Wolves three years and has also been one of the outstanding threats against Nevada's opponents. This season has found him in most of the starting lineups.

Leighton, also a first string forward, will be greatly missed upon his graduation this spring. He has accounted for a large portion of his team's points and has shown plenty of fight in all the games played.

Carroll, who has probably been the Wolves' most outstanding player, was high point man in the majority of Nevada's games. He played center this season and held down the guard position last year.

Stowell, who is the Wolves' tallest player, has been an able substitute for Carroll in the pivot position. His ability to get the ball off the back-board will be greatly missed.

Curran, who has been the main factor for the Wolf Pack on defense, was also an outstanding player and has been consistent in scoring during the entire season.

With the exception of Lansdon, the entire squad has earned the coveted Block N for the present season. Lansdon is a sophomore and shows plenty of ability to rank among the first stringers in the coming seasons.

U. of N. Athletes Get Coaching Jobs

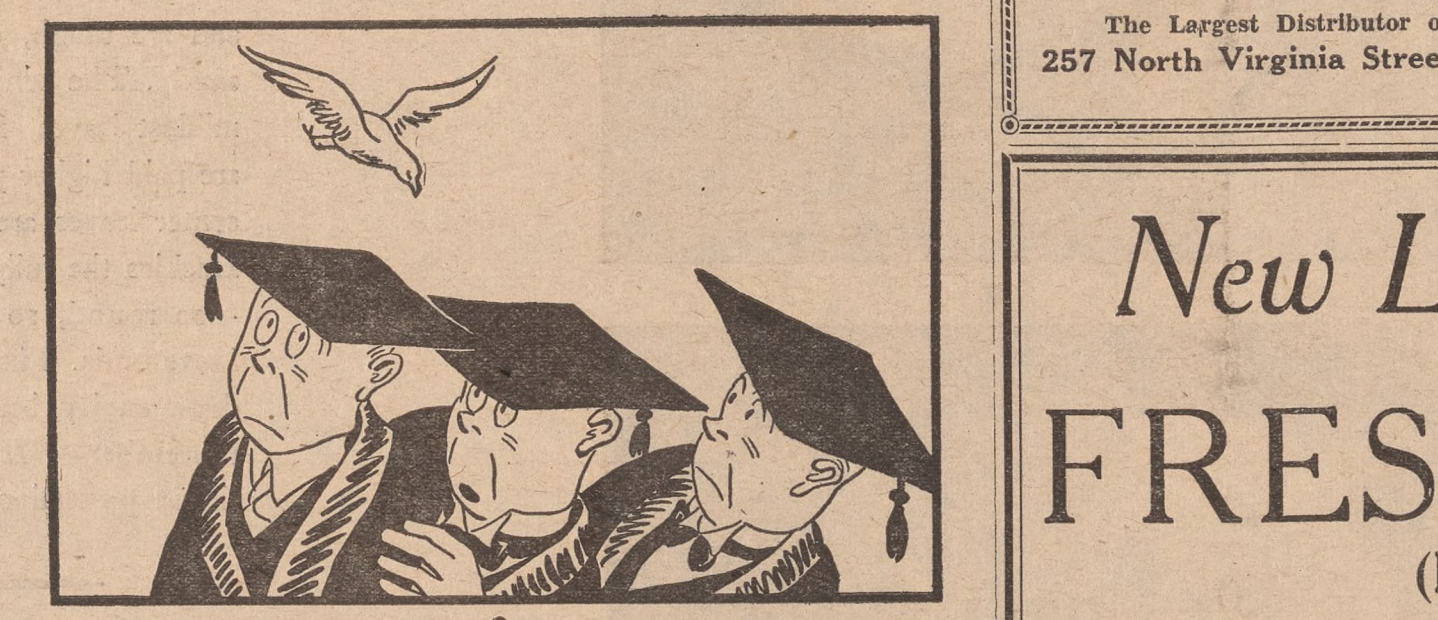

Former students of the university who are becoming noticed for their coaching ability at comparatively small high schools are Elmer Pedroll and James Bailey.

Pedroll, who graduated last year, is now coaching at Smith Valley High school at Wellington. His team has had fair success this season, although he was handicapped by lack of material. Pedroll is from Reno.

Bailey '29, former post-graduate student, handles the team at Dayton High school. His squad has shown much improvement in the last few games. Bailey's home is in Fallon.

Christina Smith, Christmas graduate of the normal school, is teaching at the Northfork school in Elko county.

Coast Basketball Season Nears End In Hectic Games

Southern California Downs Stanford; Bruins Beat Golden Bears

Nearing the end of the intercollegiate basketball season on the Pacific coast, the teams in the western region went through a hectic weekend of exciting competition.

University of Southern California's Trojans made it two in a row over the Stanford Indians over the weekend. By virtue of U.C.L.A. Bruins' unexpected win over their big brother, University of California Golden Bears, the Trojans moved into a tie with California for the southern zone, Pacific Coast Basketball conference, with seven wins and three losses for each.

Washington State college, after suffering a 25 to 20 loss to Oregon's Web-foot basketweavers Friday night, came back the next night to swamp the Webfoot 43 to 29.

University of Washington's Huskies have regained the northern zone Pacific Coast Basketball conference championship.

They clinched it in a bitterly fought battle Friday night with the Oregon State Beavers, their "jinx" this season. The Huskies outlasted the Corvallis men to win, 24 to 21, before 8200 wild eye fans. Saturday night Washington's Huskies continued in their stride and defeated Oregon State again, 35 to 26.

The small statured University of California of Los Angeles Bruins Saturday night accomplished the feat everybody had agreed was impossible — defeated the tall University of California Golden Bear five.

The score was 40 to 38, and the game went to an overtime period after the regulation two halves ended 36 to 36.

Far Western Hoop Tourney Will End Baseball Tourney Starts in March

San Jose in Line to Take Conference Title for Present Season

Completing Far Western conference games for the 1934 season, Nevada will meet the California Aggies, and Chico State tackles the powerful San Jose quintet this weekend in tilts that will be deciding factors for conference standings.

The C. of P. Bengals are the only team that has completed all the games, having won five and lost three. Two of their defeats were administered by the Nevada Wolf Pack, while San Jose contributed the other. Previous to the Nevada games C. of P. was tied for top honors with San Jose. Wins over Nevada would have clinched the conference for them. The double victory over the Bengals brought Nevada into fourth place from the cellar position.

Wildcats May Win
San Jose's only loss up to the present time was to the Bengals. If the Wildcats lose to Chico this week they will be tied for top honors with C. of P., while a double win would clinch the title.

If Nevada scores wins over the Mustangs this week and Chico loses to San Jose, the Wolf Pack will finish the season in third place, while victories for the Aggies will push the Wolves back into the cellar position.

A. T. O., S. A. E. and Phi Sigs Are Particularly Strong This Season

Interfraternity baseball starts on March 5, with a game scheduled between Sigma Nu, last year's champions, and the Delta Sigma Lambda.

Practice sessions started last Sunday and the teams representing the different organizations have been hard at work rounding into shape.

Several of the fraternities have engaged in practice games during the last few weeks, taking advantage of the weather in an attempt to gain experience playing together.

Last year's tournament was won, after a hotly contested fight, by the Sigma Nu fraternity, which is expected to be a dangerous contender for the championship this season.

Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Phi Sigma are particularly strong this year and should put up a thrilling battle for supremacy.

Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa and the Beta Kappas are also expected to have strong teams.

Lincoln Hall, the Independents and the Delta Sigs, while not causing particular comment now, may offer tough opposition to the favored entrants.

Yearlings to Meet Varsity Whites in Preliminary Game

Thrilling Contest in Prospect Between Two Teams Tonight

Playing preliminary to the Cal Aggie-Nevada game, the powerful Nevada freshman squad will meet the Junior Varsity Whites tonight on the university court in what promises to be a thrilling contest.

The freshmen have run up an impressive string of victories and have lost only one game. The Whites, coached by Dan Bledsoe, former Wolf Pack star, are now tied for first place in the Reno City league, by virtue of their recent victory over the Reno Printing Company Bearcats.

An interesting feature of the game will be the struggle between the rival centers, Roguin and Tannehill. Both these men have been leading their teams in scoring and the spectators will get a treat when they clash. The starting lineup of the J. V.'s will be: Tannehill, Robb, Callahan, Kallely and Glusovich, while Coach Chester Scranton will probably start Smith and McDow, forwards; Roguin, center, and Williams and Rodriguez, guards.

The yearlings will conclude their season Saturday night on the local court when they take on the Virginia City Muckers. Early in the season the freshmen defeated the Comstock hoopers in a rough game, and will probably repeat their victory Saturday night. However, Jake Lawlor's quintet is composed of big, flashy men and their colorful type of play will make the game worth seeing. The Muckers will probably start: Boegle, Benner, Harris, Winters and Colletti. Coach Chester Scranton's lineup will probably be Roguin, Smith, McDow, De La Mar, Williams, in both contests.

Frosh Paddlings To Start Again

Paddlings are scheduled for every Wednesday and Friday at 1 o'clock for all freshmen who have been seen without their dink or bible or have been caught "queening" in the library. Edward Sullivan, chairman of the sophomore's vigilance committee, said this week.

Punishment will continue until the freshmen are under control, he stated. One freshman, when asked why he didn't wear a dink, said he didn't want to be the only man to wear one. Walter Bowrin, a member of the committee, said in explaining the committee's stand.

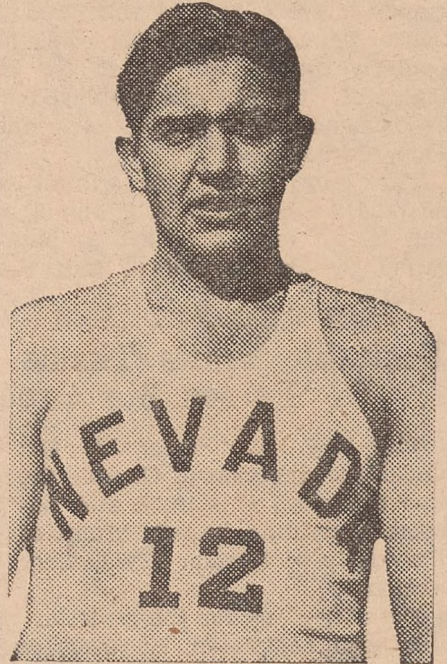

Annett to Leave For Venezuela

Norman T. Annett '32 will leave this week for Venezuela, where he has been offered a position in the cyanide plant of the Goldfield American Development company.

Annett was selected from a number of mining students of the university by Paul C. Schrapf '12, owner of the company, who recently visited the university.

SOPHOMORE GUARD

Vernon Tapogna, guard on the Wolf Pack varsity, is a sophomore playing his first year with the squad. Now occupying the regular berth at guard, he has earned this position through his remarkable playing and much can be expected from him in the next two years. He is a local boy, coming here from Reno High school, where he was prominent in athletics. Last year he was one of the mainstays of the frosh basketball team and has proved his mettle at that position on the varsity this year by his defensive work and dependable scoring.

Prep Teams Start District Tourney

Sixteen teams will probably be entered in the Western Nevada High School Basketball tournament, which starts next Thursday.

No definite action has been taken on the holding of a statewide tournament, as few people appear willing to take over the responsibility. Meanwhile, plans are progressing for the western zone tourney, with interest of local fans keen.

The gymnasiums of Sparks and Reno high schools will be the scene of the games on Thursday and Friday. The semi-finals will be held on the University of Nevada court Saturday. After a day of rest the finals will be held Monday night on the university floor.

The league leading Sparks quintet appear to be the favorites among the teams entered. The Railroaders have an impressive record for the season's play and have twice defeated the Reno Huskies, their chief threat. Several other quintets have been showing strength and improvement lately, and a dark horse may develop during the four days' play.

The complete list of western Nevada teams eligible for the zone tournament are Carson, Dayton, Fallon, Fernley, Gerlach, Gardnerville, Hawthorne, Lovelock, Reno, Sparks, Virginia City, Smith Valley, Stewart, Yerington and Wadsworth.

Basketball officials in this district seem to be waiting for some action on the part of the Block N society for leadership. The athletic society in the past sponsored the basketball tournaments and achieved a successful result every time. Recently, however, the society gave up the tournament sponsorship and the coaches' association took it over.

Ohio has 41 colleges within its boundaries.

FIRST AND THIRD DECK TEAM WINS LINCOLN HALL SWIMMING MEET AT MOANA HOT SPRINGS

The annual Lincoln hall swimming meet, held last Friday evening at Moana, resulted in a close victory for the combined first and third deck team over the second deckers, by a score of 37 to 34.

The competition was keen and the meet was anybody's until the last event.

The results are as follows: High dive—Louis Dellamonica, second deck, winner. Low dive—Louis Dellamonica, second deck, winner.

50 yard free style—Ken Richards, first and third deck, winner.

100 yard free style—Gordon Macdonald, second deck, winner.

Plunge—Won by Frank Howland, first and third deck.

Relay—Tie between Dellamonica, Gordon Macdonald and Griffith Macdonald, second deck, and Robert Best, Lubin and Howland of the first and third deck.

Judges were Jack Tedford, Guy Morris, Bob Marean and Professor Paul Harwood.

Frosh Basketeers Trim Prep Teams

Scranton Takes Team on Trip To Lovelock; Wins 25 to 20

Nevada's freshman basketball team, after suffering its first defeat of the season at the hands of Susanville, returned to their old form and decisively defeated two of the outstanding high school teams of Nevada last weekend.

Friday night, in a game played at Lovelock, the Frosh won a hard fought game from Lovelock High school 25 to 20. The game was close throughout, but the yearlings showed their superior ability in the closing minutes of the game.

Williams, guard, was outstanding for the freshman quintet, while Marucchi of Lovelock showed up well for the high school team.

Saturday night the Frosh turned back Yerington 22 to 13, in a game played at the university gym. The yearlings, after taking an early lead, were never seriously threatened and at half-time were leading 12 to 4.

Yerington came back in the second half in an attempt to even the score, but the Frosh defense was too much for them.

Spring Football Starts Thursday

Coach 'Brick' Mitchell Plans To Begin Practice Next Week

C. L. "Brick" Mitchell, head football coach, yesterday issued a call for all men interested in spring football to report to him March 1 at 5 o'clock.

Mitchell said that daily practice will be held from 5 to 5:30, with men playing in the annual intramural baseball tourney being excused if necessary. He also stated that men planning on turning out for varsity football next season should be on hand for spring practice.

This spring's workouts will see a new plan started by Mitchell. Instead of playing regulation American football, practice will be held in rugby, and will culminate Mackay day with a rugby game scheduled to be played between two teams to be picked by Mitchell.

J. D. Stephens, recently elected football manager, said yesterday that he will issue equipment for the practice sessions to men reporting on Monday.

Spring football is especially important, Mitchell said, because it is

Handball Doubles Tourney Begins

Sigma Phi Sigma Wins Singles Tournament in First Spring Contest

Intramural handball doubles started Monday with the Independents defaulting to the Sigma Phi Sigmas in the first match. In the next two contests Sigma Nu outpointed Beta Kappa and Phi Sigma Kappa won its match easily from the Delta Sigma Lambda in two very uneven games. To close the first day's play A.T.O. defeated Lincoln Hall in a colorless match.

Wednesday's play opened with a default by S.A.E. to Lambda Chi Alpha, and was immediately followed by another default by Beta Kappa to Sigma Phi Sigma. In the next match the Independents met the Delta Sigs, and in the last meet of the day the A.T.O.s tangled with the Independents.

King Basketball officially abandons his throne tomorrow night, giving way to the reign of the spring athletic program. Football practice is scheduled to begin March 1, with rugby scheduled to be played. Intramural baseball and the handball doubles tourney are holding the interest of Greek letter men, while for those with three bucks and a set of golf clubs the golf class is now in progress on the Reno links.

The advent of rugby to the Nevada campus, after an absence of a great many years, ought to make some of the alumni rather homesick. Back in the days when "paw" went to school rugby was the college craze, and did the Wolves turn out some fast teams! Read your old Artemisias.

This weekend's basketball series winds up Nevada's play until next December, and what a team Nevada ought to have in 1935. Leighton, Hill, Curran, Carroll and Stowell are graduating, leaving five members of the 1934 squad who will probably return next year. Ronnow and Phillips at forwards, some man from either the present frosh or junior varsity teams at center, and Tharp, Lansdon and Tapogna, guards, will make up the Wolf Pack next season. These men, plus the men on the junior varsity and frosh teams who have shown ability this season, will make the 1935 Wolf Pack a serious threat in the Far Western conference.

Gossip in the locker room early this week runs to the effect that the gatekeepers at Kezar will never learn. During football season someone pilfered the Nevada dressing room quite successfully, getting away with clothing and money. Then last week several parts of the Wolf Pack's basketball equipment disappeared. This is clearly the work of some grammar or high school students, but something ought to be done to stop this petty thievery.

And they say Hickey is some basketball manager. The basketball equipment did not arrive from San Francisco in time for the varsity practice Monday and was Hickey's hair turning gray trying to find shoes big enough for his proteges, Tapogna and Carroll, and small enough for Hill.

BACK-FIRE COWARD?

JANGLED NERVES

BANG!

It isn't cowardice— it's jangled nerves

No one likes a sudden, unexpected noise. But if you jump or even wince uncontrollably at such a time—check up on yourself.

It isn't cowardice. It isn't timidity. (You'll find many ex-service men doing the same thing.) It's jangled nerves.

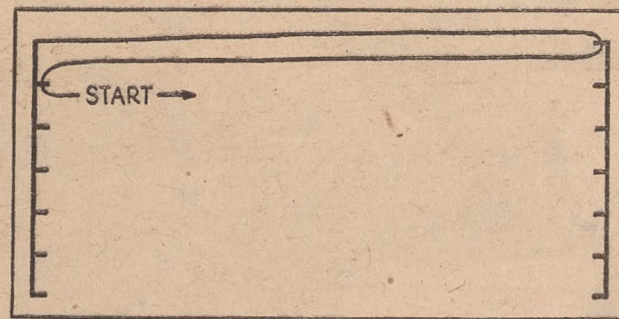

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

Get enough sleep—fresh air—reaction. And make Camels your cigarette.

For you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle the nerves of the most constant smoker.

How are YOUR nerves? TRY THIS TEST

Take a pencil in your right hand, hold it about two inches above the point. At the space marked "start," begin to draw a continuous line backward and forward (touching the little markers on either side). Stay within the side margins—your lines must not cross. Be sure neither hand nor arm touches the paper. Average time is 7 seconds.

Bill Cook (Camel smoker), famous hockey star, completed the test in 4 seconds.

Lions' Club Show Features Talents Of U.N. Students

Vaudeville Acts Directed by Nevada Dramatic Coach William C. Miller

Psychology Professor Young Edits Lions' Issue of Local Paper

Featuring many university students, the Reno Lions' club is sponsoring a vaudeville show March 5 at the Granada theater for the purpose of raising funds to publicize this section of the state.

A preliminary program as announced by the Lions is as follows: Acts by Blythe Bulmer, Anna Blundell and the University of Nevada tumbling class; Dale Hart and Fred Dunn in a clarinet duet; songs by the University of Nevada double male quartet; music by an old time German band; novelties by Denny Collett and Rosemary Gordon; a Sparks quartet, and Ruth Ryan's school of dancing. Gary Callahan and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Director Miller has as his assistants Ernest Mack, university play productions manager, and Herbert Peck, also of the university, who will have charge of the scenery for the show.

The purpose of the show, state members of the Lions club, is "to create more tourist travel to Reno, and to acquaint the tourist with the advantages and recreational opportunities he may find in Nevada."

Under the direction of J. R. Young, professor of psychology at the University of Nevada, the Reno Lions club yesterday edited the Washington's birthday edition of the Nevada State Journal. Professor Young acted in the capacity of editor in chief for the day.

Several members of Nevada's alumni also contributed to the production of the paper, including Hoyt Martin, former University of Nevada tennis star, who edited all sports copy, and Douglas Busey, Reno attorney, who contributed a tennis article.

About forty thousand copies of the twenty-two page paper were distributed throughout Nevada and northern California. The edition was divided into three sections, main news, news dealing chiefly with Lions' club activities and the third featuring the vaudeville show to be presented by the club on March 5.

Class Plans Series Of One Act Plays

A program of one act plays will be presented on May 2 by the class in English 90, which is studying the theory and technique of acting, according to William Miller, dramatic coach.

The plays will be chosen by a committee composed of members of the class. This committee will also choose student directors, in whose charge will be placed the complete presentation of the program. Each director will cast, direct and present the play assigned to him.

This program, as a feature of the college dramatic season, was discontinued several years ago. If sufficient interest is aroused by its revival it will be presented each year in the future as a finish to the year's dramatic activities, Miller said.

Chem Club Elects Stoddard, Winters

Electing two new members when they met this week, Sigma Sigma Kappa, honorary chemical fraternity, admitted Kirby Stoddard, senior student, and Joseph Winters, sophomore, to membership in the society.

Initiation for the new members is set for March 7, when the prospective chemists will demonstrate and explain an experimental problem to the Chemistry club.

Scholarship and personality are the bases on which selections are made, but only Chemistry club members are considered. Candidates must be majors in chemistry, having a minimum scholastic average of 2.

Finance Control Meeting Is Brief

Finance control held a brief meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Student Administration building for the purpose of attending to certain routine financial affairs.

Requisitions to draw on budgets were by several activities and were approved by the committee. A financial report was read by Joe McDonnell, executive secretary to the board.

Present at the meeting were Prof. F. C. Wilson, chairman; Dean R. C. Thompson, recently appointed faculty member to replace J. E. Martie, who resigned recently, and James Wallace, Wilma Chanslor and Forrest Bibb.

Neat Ankles, Well Rounded Hips, Banishment of Double Chins Are Subjects of Co-Ed Studies

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Neat ankles, well rounded hips and banishment of the double chin now take a place alongside Greek, mathematics and history in the modern college education.

Stevens college here has inaugurated a program for its 650 girls designed to aid pulchritudinous students needing a rounding-out of figure as well as personality, and not overlooking those with a little too much Mae Westish in body design.

Under the direction of Miss Katherine Lees, college dietitian, reducing and gaining menus are being served at special tables for students seeking a more slyphlike form and for those who could stand the addition of a feminine curve here or there.

Careful examinations as to changes in weight, condition of heart and metabolism are made of each girl given a seat at one of the diet tables. As a safeguard to health, each girl also is required to prove she is in actual need of adjustment of weight rather than in quest of a modishly thin figure.

At the special diet tables for the underweight, meals are particularly nourishing and high in caloric value. For this group provisions is also made for two hours of napping during the day. These rest periods, Miss Lees explains, are just as important in gaining weight as the diet.

For the overweight girls, a reducing class featuring vigorous exercises has been established to augment a diet restricted to 1800 to 2000 calories a day to assist in curbing unruly curves. Losses as high as 14 pounds in the last three months have been made by many of the girls. Students are not permitted to lose more than two pounds per week without a return to normal diet, for weight losses in excess of that amount are considered dangerous.

"Long one of the bugaboos of attending a girls' school and following the life of the dormitories has been the fear of gaining weight," says Miss Lees. "Many a fair co-ed has discovered by Christmas that her college education included not only rounding out of her personality, but the broadening of her figure to the extent of from 5 to 40 pounds.

"The tendency among co-eds to gain," adds Miss Lees, "may be explained by their easy access to 'jelly joints,' and tea rooms as well as 'mid-night feasts' and frequent boxes from parents at home. The excitement and restlessness occasioned by being away from home for the first time often is expressed in overeating, particularly between meals."

Surprise and non-duplication are the two most important elements in menu making, Miss Lees believes, and thus her menus are always kept a strict secret for the scores of college girl dieters she has in charge.

International Club Formed to Study Economic Affairs

Students Plan to Organize Under Sponsorship of Carnegie Endowment

The International Relations club of the University of Nevada, sponsored by the Carnegie endowment for international peace, was formally organized and plans laid for the remainder of the semester, at a meeting held Thursday evening.

Now, the club is composed of about eight university students, who are interested in social, political and economic affairs of a world nature.

The purpose of this newly formed club on the Nevada campus is to promote international understanding and good will throughout the world by the education of the young people. This is accomplished by having representative clubs in every state in the United States, and at least one club in each of the European countries. Miss Jones is the executive secretary of the International Relations clubs all over the world, and visits each club during her trips around the world, about once a year. There are 450 clubs.

Conferences are held each year in different sections of the country for the purpose of uniting the clubs and exchanging views about the problems dealing with our political, economic and social life.

The source of material for the International Relations clubs is varied. The Carnegie endowment sends out a fortnightly summary of international events, which is given to every member of all clubs. They provide current material of a worldwide nature. In addition, special pamphlets are distributed. Books on politics, economics and sociology are sent out free twice a year to the various clubs. At the present time the Nevada club has about twenty-five books that have been given to it by the Carnegie endowment.

The only prerequisites for joining the Nevada chapter are that a stu-

Faculty Club Hears Of 'Heavy Water'

Discussing the peculiar properties of "heavy water," latest scientific development, Dr. Meryl W. Deming addressed the Faculty Science club yesterday afternoon.

"Heavy water" was discovered by Professor Urey of Columbia university, and has been acclaimed the most important discovery of the century because of its relation to living processes. A hydrogen atom of unusual atomic weight is the principle underlying the unorthodox fluid, Dr. Deming said.

Microscopic life dies and seeds cannot germinate in the water, according to experiments made by Professor Urey. The effects of the water on higher forms of life is not known, as no experiments have been made in this direction, Deming stated.

dent have an interest in social, political and economic affairs of the world, and be willing to attend meetings in the form of discussions, twice a month, usually on Thursday evenings. So far no dues have been decided upon and will be left entirely at the discretion of the members of the organization.

Students desiring to join, who have not yet signified their intention of doing so, may come to the next meeting, Mr. Plumley and Mr. Feenster state, who are the faculty advisers of the club. This meeting will probably be held Thursday evening of next week, but regardless, there will be a notice on the bulletin board the early part of the week.

Students who have so far expressed their desire to join are Adelyn Rotholz, Mrs. Ann Hayden, Charles Worn, Ralph Mangum, Louis Wiener, Fransden Loomis, Brendan Donovan, Charles Koerner and Emery Graunke. The club is open to both men and women students on the Nevada campus.

200 PERSONS VIEW CAPLES PAINTINGS

Some 200 persons attended the exhibit of Robert Cole Caples' sketches held by the Fine Arts group in the lower seminar of the Library building this week, Mary Virginia Murgotten, director, stated today.

Caples is one of two artists in this state working under the CWA. He spends a great deal of time and patience persuading his subjects, particularly the Indians, to sit for him. Eight of the pictures displayed will be placed on permanent exhibit soon, Caples said.

The next Fine Arts exhibit will be held on March 5, 6, 7 and 8, and will be an exhibit of art in photography by Tod Powell of San Francisco.

Desirable Traits Theme Of 'Personality Group'

The Y.W.C.A. "Personality Group," under the direction of Camille Cerrita, was organized this week and has become a definite branch group of the University of Nevada Y.W.C.A. organization.

Definite plans for the semester have not been completed, however, and a series of informal discussions of "Desirable Personality Traits" will comprise the next few meetings, Miss Cerrita stated.

This organization plans to discuss those virtues which will improve personality and paying attention to the various traits which have significance to outstanding people. These will be considered in relation to the help they are in college but throughout life.

The next meeting of the group will be announced later.

Club Secures Hall For Masque Dance

The Press Club late this afternoon definitely secured the use of the State building for its Mardi Gras, to be held Saturday night, April 21, according to the announcement of Ed Montgomery, club president.

The Spanish-American War Veterans, who had previously contracted for the use of the auditorium on that date, have willingly complied with the request of the Press club and will hold their dance elsewhere, Montgomery stated. It was at first believed that the masquerade would have to be postponed or canceled when no suitable place for holding the affair could be had. Only the co-operation of the war veterans made possible the holding of the affair on the scheduled date.

Montgomery further announced that Callahan's ten piece band had been secured for the occasion and that cash prizes would be awarded for the two best costumes of the evening.

Each year Turkey and Greece ship us thousands of bales of fine tobaccos—

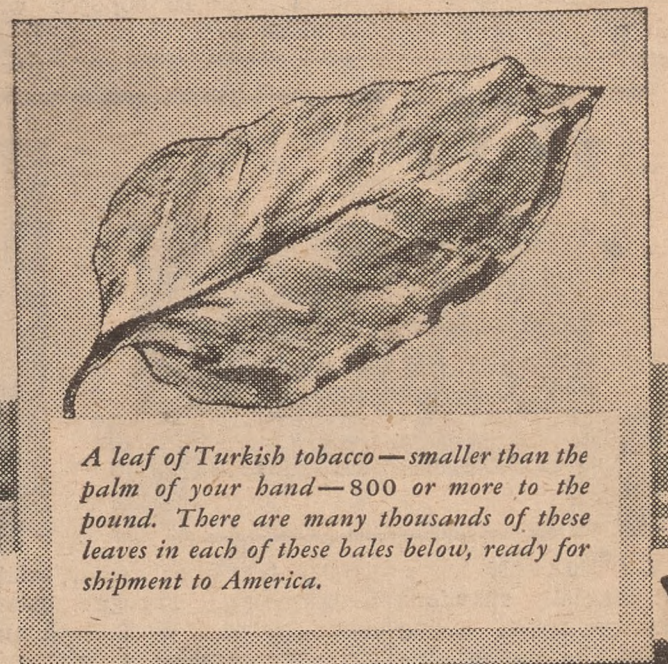

But why send 4,000 miles for tobacco?

... because spicy, aromatic Turkish is the best seasoning there is for a cigarette.

It adds something to flavor and aroma that no other tobacco can give. Chesterfield uses Turkish tobacco—from Samsoun, Smyrna, Cavalla and Xanthi.

Then it blends and cross-blends them with various kinds of choice home-grown tobaccos in the right balance to give you a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.
