

Class of '34 Outlines Celebration Program

Committee Makes Extensive Plans For Senior Week

Trip to Pyramid Lake, Faculty Ball Game, Dances Are Scheduled

PICNIC REVIVED

Senator Key Pittman Is to Give Address, Reverend Graves to Preach

By RITA GUNTER

As the final days of study draw near complete plans for a full week of festivities for members of the senior class have been presented by the committee. Senior week has always been a tradition at the University of Nevada for graduation classes and many of the activities of the week are carried on each year with little variation. Each year, however, some new idea has been carried out by the class.

For the first time in several years the class is planning to hold its senior picnic. The idea was abandoned several years ago, but this year it was decided to have an outing at Pyramid lake. Members of the class who are going will meet at the Student Union building at 9:30 a. m. and will start from there. Transportation will be furnished for those who do not have cars.

The picnic will be a full day of activity, with many things planned by the committee in charge. The program is not to be revealed before the picnic, said Clara Galvin, chairman of the plans for the week. The picnic will break up at about 10 o'clock in the evening, she said.

Another high point of the week is the annual faculty-senior baseball game, to be held on Mackay field. It has been several years since the senior men have won one of these games, although last year's contest ended in an 8-8 tie. In 1932 the faculty team won the game by a large score.

This game has always been one of the outstanding contests of the year, as this is the only time that the seniors are able to meet their professors on equal terms. The event is being handled by Alonzo Priest, and it is expected that indoor baseball will be played.

The faculty team will consist of S. C. Feemster, Charles L. Searcy, J. E. Martie, Chester Scranton, Harold Brown, Fredrick Wood, Clark Amens, J. R. Young, Ralph Irwin, P. H. Lehens. (Continued on Page Six)

Annual Senior Ball Is Set for May 12

Committee Is Planning Many Surprises and Good Time For Dance

Featuring elaborate balloon decorations and novel lighting effects, the annual Senior ball will be held May 12 in the State building, it was announced by the dance committee, which met Wednesday afternoon in the A.S.U.N. building.

Ticket sales for the affair are now under way and are being handled by the Sagers and the members of the committee.

Those in charge of the ball are Victor Carroll, chairman; Ralph Menante, Brookes Park, Juana Barber, Paul Turner, Elwin Jeffers, Dorothy Jackson, Sallie Fagan, Peaches Stark, Robert Maher and Clay Heilman.

U.N. Organizations Select Officers

The various campus organizations are busy selecting new heads for 1934-1935. Blue Key heads for the coming year are: Edwin Martinez, president; Elmer Hawkins, vice president; Robert Creps, treasurer, and Herbert Peck, secretary.

Manzanita Hall association: Emma Azarez, president; June McGuire, vice president; Opal Harvey, treasurer; Jean Cameron, secretary.

Gothic N.: Ruby Hoskins, president; Elizabeth Frey, vice president; Dorothy Gordon, secretary and treasurer.

Chemistry club: Dino Barenco, president; Melvin Ruedy vice president; Joe Winters, treasurer; Betty Bowman, secretary.

Other organizations are planning to hold their elections some time during the coming week.

Stanford Teacher To Speak at Honor Fraternity Dinner

A member of the faculty of the Stanford graduate school of business, Dr. Theodore J. Kreps will be the speaker at the annual Phi Kappa Phi dinner to be held May 12 at the Century club, Miss Sarah Lewis, president of the local organization, announced yesterday.

The banquet is one of the highlights of the honorary fraternity's annual activities, and is attended by members of the faculty, students and alumni. Honored guests are the newly elected members of the senior class.

Dr. Kreps will address the fraternity members on "Economics of the Recovery Program," using personal researches as the basis of his conclusions. He has been associate professor of statistics at Stanford since 1930. After receiving his B.A. degree from the University of Colorado in 1918 he attended Harvard, receiving his Ph.D. from that institution in 1928. He has been an instructor of economics there for several years.

Dr. Kreps was presented with the Rockefeller traveling fellowship, and on his return from abroad he became lecturer in geology at Colorado summer school. In 1931 he was a delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations in Shanghai. For the last four years he has been working on economic theories of his own.

R.O.T.C. Parades Before Officers For Inspection

Major From Sacramento Rates University Army Corps; Best Cadet Named

Culminating the year's work, the university's R.O.T.C. unit will pass in review on Wednesday and Friday of next week before the eyes of high army officers, it was announced this week by Colonel Brambila, head of the military department.

Fluttering flags, martial music and marching feet will disturb the customary tranquility of the campus on Wednesday, May 2, when Major Roger Hillsman, Sacramento reserve officer, inspects the cadet corps.

"Inspection of training and theory" is the official title of the examination Major Hillsman expects to make, according to Colonel Brambila. The major will also select the best drilled soldier in the unit, he stated.

General Sherwood A. Cheney, commanding general of the ninth artillery corps area, will be the inspecting officer on Friday, May 4. The general will make a "general administrative inspection." At Friday's ceremony General Cheney will also present the awards to the best drilled soldier and the best marksman in the unit, Colonel Brambila said.

"The public is invited to attend both ceremonies, but a special invitation is extended to officers and former military students."

"The corps received an excellent rating last year, and while we average up to last year's standard, it is difficult to predict this year's rating," the colonel continued, "because of the fact that different inspectors have different systems of rating a corps," he declared.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Elects Flournoy Head

John Flournoy was elected president of Nevada Alpha chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity last Monday night. Flournoy succeeds Eugene Sallet as house president. Other officers who were elected are John Sullivan, vice president, and Lindsay Green, secretary.

ARMY'S NEW SPRING FINERY Men Spruce Up for Annual Inspection GIVES CO-EDS HEART THROBS

Feminine hearts will beat to the tune of "There's Something About a Soldier" when the men of the university R.O.T.C. units appear in their new spring uniforms at the annual inspection to be held on May 2.

It will be a virtual fashion parade to see the army strutting and posing to display their spring outfits for the benefit of the admiring spectators.

Few Scholarships To Be Featured At Commencement

Depression Causes Cuts in Awards to Nevada Students

FUNDS CANCELED

Scottish Rite, Rachael Rand Gifts Among Those Canceled

"Fewer University of Nevada scholarships will be presented at this commencement than in past years because of the unnatural conditions caused by the depression," Professor J. A. Carpenter, chairman of the committee on scholarships and prizes, stated this week.

Since 1929 many of the funds have been canceled, or at least reduced in their amount. The Scottish Rite fund, which gave four scholarships of $150 apiece to freshman students, was discontinued two years ago. However, a new fund of $100 for freshmen taking pre-medical courses was added in 1931.

Three other funds have been canceled this year.

The Rachel Rand scholarship, established in 1928 for any two students, man and woman, working their way through school and making passing grades, was definitely discontinued. A $50 fund established by the General O. M. Mitchell Woman's Relief Corps in 1922, which was awarded to the sophomore enrolled in the Reserve Officers Training Corps, was also abolished. The third fund, which was established in 1921 as the Theodora Stubbs Fulton Memorial scholarship of $200 annually for an upperclass woman student, was discontinued for the year 1930-1931. It was renewed in 1932 with the reduction of $100.

The only scholarships left for the committee to decide upon are for juniors, although the heads of the departments choosing the recipients of special fellowships select them according to the class regulations.

"The decrease in the funds available is greatly regretted by the committee, since they realize there are many deserving and needy students on the campus," Professor Carpenter said, "and we hope that more funds will be donated by alumni or organizations by next year."

Artemisia To Be Distributed May First, Creps Says

Yearbook Will Feature New Ideas by Workers On Staff

The Artemisia, University of Nevada yearbook, will be distributed probably not later than May 1, Robert Creps, editor, announced yesterday.

"There is nothing cut and dried about this year's book," Creps said. "Every feature has been changed, new ones added and old ones dropped."

This is the earliest that the Artemisia has ever come out, being distributed in former years only two or three days before school adjourned.

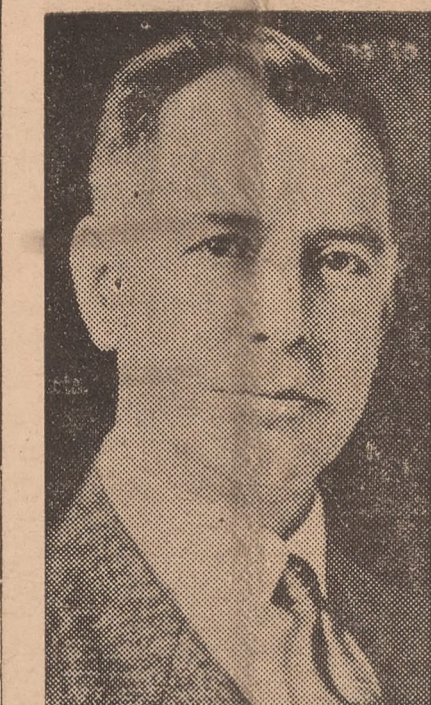

Due to a reduced budget, the book will be smaller than in former years, but its many new features give promise of making it one of the best ever published.

All headings are written in different style from that customary, while the introductions to the various sections are illustrated in unique fashion and written in staccato, modernistic literary style.

Lorraine Johnson Has Appendectomy

Lorraine Johnson, sophomore student, underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday morning at the new Washoe General hospital. Although her condition was serious, she is reported improving. She is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and was recently elected secretary for that organization. She will not return to school this semester.

KEY PITTMAN

Senator Key Pittman, Nevada senator in the federal government and leader in international affairs, as well as president pro-tem of the senate, is pictured above. He will deliver the commencement day address here at the exercises on May 14. Pittman plans to make the trip here from Washington, D. C., by airplane.

First Mardi Gras In 5 Years Will Be Given Tomorrow

King and Queen Will Reign Over Ball; Chosen At Dance

PRIZES GIVEN

Costumes Can Be Homemade, According to Chairman Of Function

Presenting the first Mardi Gras that has been held on the Nevada campus since 1929, the University Press club will sponsor a costume ball tomorrow night in the State building, with plenty of serpentine and confetti provided for the good time of all those present.

During the dance the king and queen of the Mardi Gras will be chosen by a special committee. The custom of having a king and queen preside is one of long standing and an important feature of the New Orleans celebration, from which the idea of the Mardi Gras ball was derived. Gay processions, costumes and colorful decorations are in the true spirit of Mardi Gras.

Regarding costumes, rented costumes are not required, it was stated by the committee in charge, but it was emphasized that no one will be allowed in the building unless some sort of an "outfit" is worn. The outfit may be plain cords, jeans, gingham or anything of that type. Two silver loving cups will be presented for the best costumes, one to a woman and one to a man.

Gary Callahan and his eight piece orchestra will furnish the music, while special entertainment will be provided by the Press club. A surprise feature will be held during the evening that promises to give everyone a choice bit of humor.

A great deal of time and money have been spent on decorations, Ed Montgomery, president of the club, announced last night. Large, colored dragons have been painted by campus artists and will be hung around the hall in order to give the dance a complete Mardi Gras atmosphere.

The masquerade is open to the entire campus and will be the first costume ball in five years, the president stated. Bids will sell for $1.

In that the affair will be of a "double date" nature, with men inviting women and women inviting men, a large crowd is anticipated.

The dance committee has announced that the affair will start promptly at 9 o'clock in the evening and last until midnight. No masks will be allowed.

Initiation, Election Held by Pre-Meds

Omega Mu Iota, pre-medical society, held its final formal meeting Thursday night with an impressive initiation for eight new members. Among other things that the neophytes had to do was meet one of the oldest members of the organization, "Phoebie," the zoology department's skeleton of a Chinese woman. Those initiated were George Burke, Jimmy Herz, Jack Becker, Nell Lozano, Kathryn Armstrong, Peggy Williams, Harvey Hill and Perry Priest.

After the initiation a business meeting was held, when officers for the coming year were elected and plans for the annual banquet were discussed. The new officers are: Max Kepl, president; Lynn Gerow, vice president, and Helen Records, secretary-treasurer.

Campus Receives Final Play With Much Enthusiasm

Laughter Greets University Comedians in Final Performance

DIALOGUE WITTY

Clever Plot Combined With Fine Acting Makes 'Tommy' Success

By CLARENCE BYRD

Playing before large crowds in the Education building, "Tommy," a comedy in three acts, completed a three nights' showing last night and brought to a close the dramatic season for this term at the University of Nevada. The production was presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

That the comedy was well received by the audience was indicated by the applause and laughter at the amusing situations to be found in the play. Most of those attending expressed their opinion that "Tommy" was one of the cleverest amateur comedy productions that they had ever seen.

The lines were witty and direct enough to give life and punch to the dialogue, while the scenery and props were typical of the production.

Well Received

It is the general opinion of those who saw the play that every one of the cast made the most of their parts, and that the characters of Mr. and Mrs. Thurber, played by Don Butler and Grace Semenza, were the high spots of the entertainment. Mr. Thurber is the typical father who tries to get the best for his daughter, though taking pains not to lose out himself. His wife, a "daughter under my wing" type, shows her changeable character in favoring the suitors for her daughter's hand with the greatest display of gifts and response to herself and to her trite jokes.

McIntyre Stars

Jean McIntyre, cast as Marie Thurber, gives a flawless performance in the lead role. She and Don Butler are the only members of the cast belonging to Mask and Dagger, honorary dramatic fraternity, and their acting shows experienced ability won from taking part in numerous university productions.

The part of David Tuttle is very ably handled by Ray Frohlich, who is at his best in roles such as this character. Tuttle, politician and a brother of Mrs. Thurber, is the "fixer" for his niece and her boy friends.

Clewett Favored

Richard Clewett and Carl Dodge, suitors to Marie Thurber, both show much ability in their respective parts, and make up in personality and good speaking voices what they lack in experience. The drunken scene, played by Clewett, is exceptionally good and won the favor of the audience.

In the minor roles Gwenevera Erikson and John Williams are cast as Mrs. Wilson and Judge Wilson. The former's time seems to be taken up with calling her son Willie, while the judge's ambition is politics. Both parts are well played.

The production was presented by the university play productions department and directed by William C. Miller of the English and dramatic department. Blythe Bulmer assisted in the directing.

"Tommy" evolves around the difficulties the Thurbers have in finding a suitable man for their daughter and the situation becomes more complex when politics, land sales and family troubles enter into it. The scenes for all of the acts are in the Thurber home.

Members of the university play productions staff are: W. C. Miller, director and member of Mask and Dagger; E. W. Mack, manager and member of Mask and Dagger; Darrel Berry, assistant; Marjorie Cannon, ticket manager; Fred Hartman, house manager; Tom Morris, stage manager; Russell Baker, Guy Morris, Morgan Mills, George Francis, Ed Lozano and Lindsay Green, assistants.

Executive Committee Throws Out Proposed Student Amendments

Student Leaders Will Take Office In A.S.U.N. Meet

Newly elected student body officers will be sworn into office during the last A.S.U.N. meeting of the year, James Wallace, student body president, announced yesterday. The meeting will be held May 4 at 11:25 a. m. in the Education auditorium.

The oath of office will be given to the following: James Cazier, president-elect of the student body; Nell Lozano, president of the Associated Women Students, and class managers for the 1934-35 term. The newly elected managers are: Paul Turner, senior class; Jack Hughes, junior class, and Bill Horgan, freshman.

These students were elected to office recently by members of the student body. They will take charge of the student government for the coming term of office.

Students Carry On Conversation Across Light Ray

Experiment Proclaimed as Successful by Young Scientists

With a flickering beam of light the only means of connection, Paul Hartman and Angelo Granata, senior engineering students, talked to each other across the quad, a distance of 75 yards, Wednesday night.

Hartman, who was stationed in the electrical engineering building, spoke to Granata and a small group of local journalists and guests on the top floor of Morrill hall. Hartman's voice was clearly understood and quite distinct.

In the experiment, Hartman spoke into a transmitting set in the electrical building and the tonal inflections of his voice caused a small neon light on the roof of the building to fluctuate in proportion to the volume of his voice. The fluctuations of the light were barely visible to the human eye.

Beams from the light were then reflected the length of the quad to Morrill hall, where the light movement was picked up on two photo-electric cells coated with caesium, a light-sensitive element. The action of the light on these cells caused an electric current to flow, and this current was amplified and then transmitted through a loud-speaker into the room.

Hartman explained the action of the light and the various pieces of equipment used in the experiment, and then transmitted music from both a local and a coast radio station across the light. The reception of the music was exceptionally clear.

The experiment was the first to be successfully tried out of doors, and culminated a year's work on the part of the students. A demonstration of the experiment will be made next week, and both students and townspeople have been invited to attend. With proper equipment, the experiment could be done across a distance of 20 miles, the students said.

Publications Board To Banquet May 12

William Crowell, who is in charge of the annual publications board banquet, has set the date for the banquet for May 12. As yet no place has been decided upon.

According to Crowell the affair will be formal and all attending are required to bring "dates." New members will be charged $7.50 and all old members will be required to pay $3.75 admission.

DILLINGER, 'MASKED SECRET,' ELEPHANT INVADE UNIVERSITY

Among other notables, John Dillinger, famous bandit bank robber, whom the police of an entire nation have been "gunning for," turned up on the University of Nevada campus Thursday morning. But there was something mysterious about the notorious gunman's appearance.

Instead of outwitting his pursuers with the cleverness of Robin Hood, Dillinger turned pursuer and, dressed in a convict uniform, chased a frightened sheriff through the campus at the business end of a pistol. Finally, amid much hooting, Dillinger and the sheriff disappeared into thin air.

The mysterious "Masked Secret" appeared Wednesday night throwing the social dance into confusion. Co-ed fled as the sinister bathrobed figure approached them, and the affair was climaxed when the lights went out.

Yet another surprise, an elephant whose legs coordinate very strangely and often not at all, was seen Thursday being led by a clownish individual.

The reason: Members of the University of Nevada Press club were merely taking steps to make the campus conscious of the Mardi Gras, costume ball to be presented Saturday night at the State building.

Proposed Changes To Constitution Are Declared Void

Executive Committee States Presentation of Revisions Not Legal

A.S.U.N. MEETING

Vote on Desert Wolf, Other Changes Put Off Until Fall Semester

By FRANK MILDREN

Temporarily postponing a move to revive the Desert Wolf, Nevada's defunct humor magazine, the addition of the A.W.S. president to the finance control board and two other minor revisions of the constitution, the student executive committee declared all amendments proposed at the special student body meeting held last Monday null and void according to the constitution.

The committee is composed of Jim Wallace, Florine Frank, Marthine Solares, Dorothy Nason, Herbert Peck and William McMenamin.

Jim Wallace, president of the A.S.U.N., announced that the committee's statement was based on article 4, section 2, part E, of the constitution which states that proposed amendments must be checked by the executive committee for wording before they can be submitted to the students, and article 14, section 1, which states that proposed amendments must be presented at a regular meeting.

Meeting Unofficial

The meeting Monday, called by President Wallace in order to discuss proposed changes in Nevada's traditions, was not a regular meeting, and therefore amendments cannot be voted on this school year as there is only one more regular meeting before school closes.

The executive committee also recommended that all amendments should not be submitted until next fall.

Fine Arts Exhibit Nevada Paintings

An exhibit of pictures of Nevada scenes, painted by Nevada artists, is being held at the university library this week, under the auspices of the civil works art project.

Typical Nevada scenes are being shown, with five oil paintings, one of "The Road to Pyramid" and a view of Slide mountain by Harry Metzger. There is also a view of Pyramid lake by Ivy Curnow; a painting of Jumbo mill by Sybil Huntington, and a portrait of desert flowers by Mrs. Huntington.

C. F. Cutts, a member of the CWA art board, said of the exhibits:

"Not only has this government aid assisted some of our local people but it has been the means of bringing to the university library building a group of most interesting pictures, where they are to remain permanently. There is merit in all of this and you should go and see it."

It was made known on the campus that Robert Caples will have another showing of his Indian studies soon.

Harold Curran Is Said Improving

The condition of Harold Curran, star athlete and member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, is very much improved, according to Dr. H. J. Brown, physician in attendance. He also stated that unless some very unexpected relapse occurred, the stitches would be removed today or tomorrow, and Curran would be able to leave the hospital. Curran, however, will not be able to return to his studies for at least a week following his return home. Curran was seriously injured ten days ago in the Sigma Phi Sigma-Alpha Tau Omega baseball game, receiving an intestinal rupture from a heavy belt buckle when he fell while attempting a steal from first to second base. An immediate operation was necessary and his condition was grave for several days, complicated further by the collapse of his lungs.

LONGER DANCES

All over the campus men and women students, including the leaders of the various university groups, are voicing a protest against the fact that the regulations of the university force all campus social functions to close sharply at 12 p. m. In a series of interviews last week, leading students protested against the short hours for dances and stated that they believe that dances should be allowed to last until 1 a. m. We believe that there are sound reasons behind their protestations.

The question resolves itself into determining whether dances are allowed to last until a later hour at other universities throughout the west and at the Pacific coast colleges and universities in particular since they are our nearest neighbors. We must know if we have a basis for protest.

At the University of California dances are allowed to last until 1 a. m. on Friday night, 12 p. m. on Saturday night and as late as desired (all night if necessary) on the night of the "big game." Similar regulations are in force at Stanford university.

At the University of Oregon, U. S. C., U. C. L. A., San Jose State college and other corresponding institutions, the dances are allowed to stay open until 1 a. m. Although we have not made a survey of the east, we are told by reliable sources of information that the hour of dancing is later also.

We do not know the reason for the present dance regulation. Perhaps it is a holdover from hoopskirt days and has not been discarded before because the students have made no protest.

We believe that it would be far better for the university faculty to hold a close supervision over the night life of students by allowing their dances to last until 1 a. m. than by forcing students to spend the last parts of their evenings in night clubs. Since dances do not last long enough to give the students a sufficiently large evening of entertainment, they leave the dance unsatisfied and many of them spend the latter part of the night at night clubs when they really do not approve of them and cannot afford to pay the high costs of such a form of entertainment.

We suppose that the best way in which to remedy the matter would be to have the student senate draw up a resolution asking for later hours for dances, have it passed by the A.S. U.N. in a meeting and then present it to the deans of men and women and the student affairs committee.

It is not too late, we believe, for this action to be taken before the term ends so that the rule could be put into effect at the beginning of the fall semester. We hope that the senate will take some action on the matter and put it before the student body.

START A RESERVE FUND

Finance control committee this year has proved that the school finances can be run on a business-like basis. Debts totaling $2600, accrued as a result of the bank failures of 1932 and injuries to a football player, were paid in full at the beginning of the fall semester, and the books will close at the end of the present term with a sight balance on hand. Yet in spite of this handicap, university activities have not been curtailed to a large extent and no activity has been injured to a very great degree.

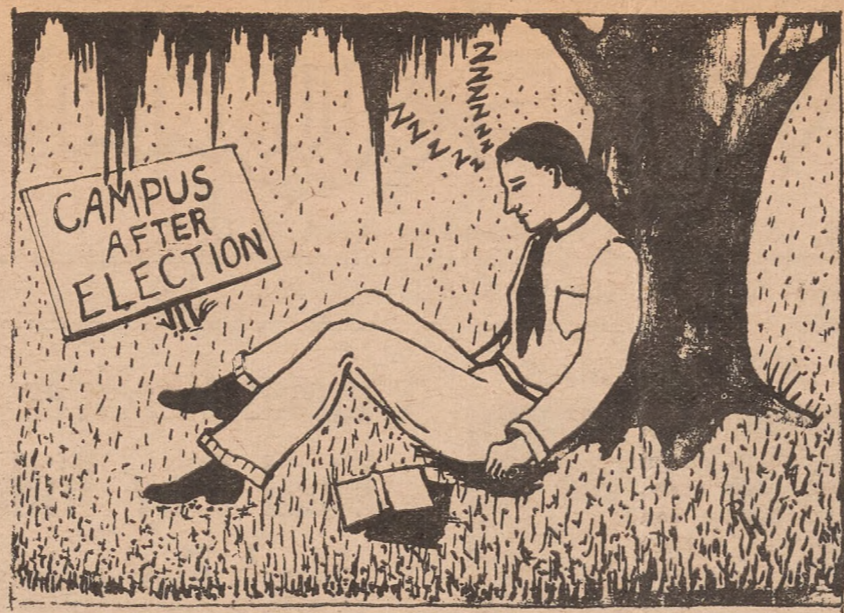

Yet finance control can go one step farther in its policy of conducting a business-like administration by establishing a reserve or sinking fund, and gradually building it up from year to year.

Such a fund would not work a burden on anyone. Five hundred dollars each semester could be taken from the student fees and in a few years a sizeable fund will have accumulated. This would not entail the cutting of the budget of any activity to a noticeable extent. With the same spirit of cooperation as was shown by activity heads during the last year, such a policy of saving might easily be carried out.

The importance of the students having such a fund cannot be overestimated. If a football player were to be badly injured during some game, his doctor bills would put a serious burden on the student finances and would perhaps run them into debt that would require several years to remove. Any number of such situations may come up without warning and put the student body in exceedingly distressful circumstances.

In private life a person who is not able to save a small portion of what he earns to tide himself over a "rainy day" is not considered a good manager or looked upon as a success in life. The same applies to a business group, only with much more force and is certainly a pertinent point for student consideration.

With the student body weathering the financial storm as well as it has, and closing the year with the ledger in the black, finance control can write another milestone in the history of student finances by starting the precedent of saving a definite portion out of each semester's income. Until such a step is taken, the students are facing the possibilities of financial embarrassment which may come at any moment and which requires years to overcome.

Here we are again, children, with some dope about the phillanderings of ye collegians of that wicked institution of higher learning, the U. of N. Picnics rather than final examinations seem to be taking the attention of a few of our perpetual collegians and it looks as if we will have a few of our seniors back for another year.

Martyr of the week is big chief "Losum Pantz" Joe McLeod, who, with a party of paleface friends, journeyed to Pyramid last Sunday. In the party were four squaws from Nevada sorority wigwams. During the day some practical joker made off with the big chief's pants. Ugh! Ugh! In the pants were the keys to his car. Guild Gray tried to short the ignition wires in the car and burnt out all of the fuses. What a mess!

Discouraged, the party then huddled in a cove while Gray walked seven miles for cigarettes and forgot matches; so they had no smokes. After spending the night in a cave, a buck Plute Indian brought the droopy palefaces into town in his model T Ford for $4.50 in white man's cash and three gallons of gas. Chief "Losum Pantz" stoically wrapped in a blanket tried to keep from shivering on the way home. Moral: Stay away from the water or keep your pants in sight.

Gianella Returns From Conference

Vincent P. Gianella, seismologist of the University of Nevada, returned last week from Berkeley, Calif., where he attended the annual meeting of the Pacific coast branch of the Seismological Society of America, of which he is a member.

Many of the leading geologists, seismologists and paleontologists of the Pacific coast gathered at the meeting to discuss the latest developments in their particular fields.

Gianella talked on "The Nevada Earthquake of January 30, 1934." He is a frequent contributor to the monthly bulletin of the Seismological Society of America.

Hey! That horse can't come in here! This was the outraged cry of Joe McDonnell, graduate manager, when "Cub" Frank Sullivan, pride of the Press club, insisted on parking the horse which the club used in a publicity skit for the Mardi Gras inside of the Student Administration building because "the sun was too hot" out in the street for poor Bessy. "Cub" had the horse half-way into the building before he and the mare were rudely bounced.

sweet young love of Dan Toquero and his light-o'-life is no more. A quarrel following the Tau formal was the cause for the split. What is this I have heard about the Newman club having two parties at which the amber fluid flowed in one week? It seems that someone misplaced one barrel of the liquid refreshments that were to be used at the club's Sunday picnic and it turned up in time for all the saints in the passion play to come down off their pedestals after the play, gather a few young devils to round out the crowd and combined radio music, beer and moonlight into a most "unsaintly" evening. "Garsh!" says one frosh, "how do you get in that club?"

Have you heard who "Whip" Salet's understudy as a political boss of the campus is? It is none other than beefy John Benson, a young Sig Alpha who has some very big ideas with which, however, we hear his frat brothers don't agree.

A bulletin was sent to the University of Syracuse recently from an unknown source issuing a solemn warning to the students to prepare for the inevitable return of Christ and His redeemed saints.

Clarence Mackay Solicits Aid for Band Over Radio

Clarence H. Mackay, chief benefactor of this university, gave a talk over the Columbia network last week, in which he solicited aid for the New York Philharmonic-Symphony society, as the chairman of the board of directors.

Having been interested in the symphony concerts for a number of years, in 1930 Mackay instituted a European tour for the orchestra, which is directed by Arturo Toscanini, world famous-orchestra leader.

In 1926 Mackay was awarded the gold medal of the National Institute of Social Sciences in recognition of his services to the public in connection with the development of musical art. He also holds the honorary degree of doctor of music from New York university.

Sophomores Win Archery Matches Between Co-Eds

Interclass archery matches between Nevada co-eds this week were won by the sophomores, with Barbara Clark making a score of 150. Katherine Dondero, also a sophomore, was next with 143, while Margaret Kormmayer, senior, made 137 points and Orpha Morgan, freshman, was fourth with 133 points.

The match, which consisted of shooting five sets of six arrows, making a total of thirty arrows, was participated in by approximately fifteen women students from the various classes.

The women have been practicing twice a week since March 7.

This has been one of the most popular spring sports and more interest has been shown in it than was shown last year, according to Mary Swett, women's archery manager.

The last event of the season will be the intramural matches.

Original Dances To Be Feature of Spring Festival

In spite of false reports circulated last week, the annual Spring festival will be held true to tradition, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The date for the affair this year was put forward so that it would coincide with the high school play day, which is also Saturday.

Highlights of the affair will be several original dances posed by members of Miss Sameth's advanced classes.

The title of the festival is "The Circle of Enchantment" and has its setting in Fairyland, the dances carrying out the sprightly scheme.

Various types of dances break the spell imposed by the gnomes and fairies on the mortals because they quarreled over the decoration of the Maypole.

About 100 women students will take part in seven dances, which are the dance of the fairies, the dance of the gnomes, the black nag, morris, Maypole and original dances.

Senior Bench Gets Scrubbing By Juniors

FLASH!

The campus gleefully watched two juniors industriously scrubbing the venerable senior bench last Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Sallie Fagan and Grace Semenza went carefully over the hot dusty face of this well known bench with small tooth brushes in an effort to stay the wrath of the seniors for having defaced their "holy of holies."

Women's upperclass committee is out for blood. It will pay freshmen especially well to watch their step these last three weeks, because they are being watched with "hawk eyes." There is to be another meeting of the women's upperclass committee when erring freshman women will be brought to task. Those convicted of breaking any campus traditions will be given a last chance to entertain the student body at the last A.S. U.N. meeting of this year.

Journalism Head Announces Choice Of Story for Book

This year's national publication of the outstanding news stories will include a story chosen from papers of Nevada and Utah, the selection being made by Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalistic department of the University of Nevada.

The story, clipped from the columns of the Salt Lake Tribune, will be placed in the volume, along with other stories chosen from papers located in all sections of the United States.

In the book seventy-five carefully examined stories will be combined, which have been judged the best by competent journalistic men of the country, out of the more than one thousand stories submitted for judgment and possible inclusion in the work.

This unique publication, henceforth to be published annually after a lapse of a decade, will be circulated throughout the nation about May 1. "The significance of a story of this sparsely populated region being included in such a book implies that the journalistic standards of Nevada and Utah compare favorably with those of any part of the country," declared Higginbotham.

"Such a model publication will probably be used extensively in all schools of journalism to point out to undergraduates just how our experienced newspaper men handle the news of the day in the best possible fashion," he stated.

SOCIAL SUICIDE

Are you a bore?

A bore is one who talks about himself when you want to talk about yourself.

You might remember that most of the time you talk to a dull person half the dullness may be on your side.

Cynics say that those who take part in social conversations are bound to be the bores or the bored; and that which you choose to be is a mere matter of selection.

A good rule to remember is that people who talk too easily are apt to talk too much. And above all everyone should stop and think before talking. Never in history was there ever a bore who was worse than one who just talked words to keep the conversation going.

Very often it is hard to talk to a person to whom you are introduced. In such a case you should introduce one topic after another until you find one in which he is interested. Search for a topic like the fisherman searches for the right fly and then waits for nibbles. Such as "Are you fond of shows?" "I'm thinking of buying a radio for my car. Which make would you suggest?"

Awkward silences come up often. In a case like this it is well to let the silence ride for a while and then to gradually break it by trying for a nibble.

Margaret Rawson '33 spent the weekend in Reno with her parents. She is teaching in Wadsworth.

et, Ruth Palmer, Norma Jean Mills, Mary Louise Durkee and Miriam Clark. In the absence of Marjorie Stout, president of the women's glee club, Ruth Palmer will take her place.

Military Students Drill for Annual Corps Inspection

Lieut. Wilcox Pleased as Unit Prepares for Visit of Inspector

Lieutenant H. B. Wilcox, instructor of the military department, has announced that he is well pleased with the equipment and personnel of his organization this year and is confident that it will pass the annual inspection which is to be held April 30 and May 1 and 2.

All equipment has been inspected and passed, new uniforms have been issued and the "outfit" is now "boning up" for the theoretical inspection.

Both the sophomores and the freshmen have been doing exceptionally good work and, according to Lieutenant Wilcox, are "ready to go."

"I am confident that we shall be able to face the inspection with a smile," he said. "Of course the outcome of the technical work is an unknown quantity, and the drill remains to be seen. The inspection may be compared to a football game; the success of the entire team depends upon every individual in it."

The practical inspection, which will be held Wednesday afternoon, May 2, will be open to the public. It will consist of individual competitive drill and regular inspection exercises. The university band will be out to assist in the exercises.

Former cadet officers, in addition to the inspecting officer, will act as judges for the individual drill.

A large crowd of students, faculty members and parents is expected.

Revolving Trophy To Best Hall Man Gift of Harwood

A revolving trophy is to be presented by Professor Paul A. Harwood, master of Lincoln hall, to the man who has performed the most service for the A.S. U.N. during the time he has been a member of the student body, through representation of Lincoln Hall association.

For a man to be eligible for this honor he must be an upperclass man and a member in good standing of Lincoln Hall association.

The trophy shall remain a permanent possession of the hall association and each year some man will be elected to hold this honor by his fellow associates.

A committee was chosen by Bob Marean, mayor of the association, to work in conjunction with Professor Harwood to select the three outstanding men, according to their record. These three names were listed and the association men will vote on the one whom they think deserves the honor.

Journalists May Form News Guild On U. N. Campus

Possibility of a Junior Newspaper guild being formed among journalism students at the University of Nevada is being investigated by A. L. Higginbotham, professor of journalism.

The Junior guild is affiliated with the American Newspaper guild, which is composed of actual newspapermen from all over the country. Such an organization on this campus would create closer cooperation with the regular newspaper activities, Higginbotham said, and for a student to be able to belong to such a guild while in college would be beneficial after graduation.

Springing up as a result of the NRA movement, the American Newspaper guild is comparable to the American Bar association or the American Medical society, and consists of working newspapermen.

This plan for some sort of student affiliation has already been adopted by a group at Washington and Lee university, and they are corresponding with Jonathan Eddy, executive secretary of the American Newspaper guild, in hopes that a workable scheme be devised.

Newman Group Repeats 'Calvary'

"Calvary," a three act drama of the sacred passion of the Lord, which was presented last week by the Newman club, was repeated Monday evening at the Newman club house of numerous students by university students and downtown people.

The play was directed by Helen Sanderville, graduate of the university, and the cast consisted almost entirely of university students. Those in the play are Ben Lyons, Maurine Graf, Paul Fontana, George Dobel, Robert Sullivan, Jack Belz, Frank Buru, Elinor Robinson, Esther Lalola, Stella Vucovich, Dorothy Gordon, Marian Brodie, Mark Yori and Gene Salet.

Professor Harwood will present the trophy Monday night at the regular meeting.

Professor Defends Campus Politics

Silas Feemster Says Student Methods Fit in With U. S. Practices

"Straight practical politics is the policy of this campus as far as I can see," Professor Silas Feemster of the history department asserted recently when questioned as to his viewpoint on the so-called steam roller politics practiced at the university.

The method now in use is standard politics, Feemster says, adding that it may be defended by the fact that the United States government and congress practice it.

Extremely well versed in political science, Professor Feemster has been following the student political controversy with deep interest. He says the fault lies not with the combine but with the opposing party for its lack of organization. At present the combine is in the majority, according to its vote, but considering its lack of organization the opposition played its strongest card in the recent election by running all of its candidates in the primary, because if one of its men received enough votes to necessitate a general election in all probability he would have won, said Feemster.

There is only one possible point of contention with the combine, ac-

GEOLOGY CLASS 8 SEES EARTH CRACKS

"Geology in the raw" was the theme of the day when Carl Stoddard and his geology 8 class trekked northward last Saturday to view fault lines and other evidences of primeval upheavals in the earth's crust.

The embryonic geologists discovered that the text books are not entirely abstract but deal with a real aspect of old "Mother Nature."

Another expedition of the class is scheduled for tomorrow, according to Stoddard.

Frosh Tracksters Win Victory Over High School Men

Yearlings Make Total of 76 Points to Win First Meet

The University of Nevada freshman track squad scored an impressive victory over Reno and Yerington High schools last week. The yearlings made a total of 76 points, while Yerington made 25. Reno High followed closely with 24 points.

The meet was originally scheduled to be a three cornered meet between the freshmen, Reno High school and Lassen Junior college. The Susanville boys were unable to attend. Yerington entered the meet on last minute notice.

The freshmen stepped into the lead at the outset and were never seriously threatened, taking 12 out of a possible 14 first places. The meet developed into a duel for second place, with Yerington finally emerging victor.

Haman, frosh star, turned in the best individual performance of the day. He had little difficulty in annexing first place in three events, although Friedhoff of Yerington pressed him closely in the high jump.

Rodriguez, Reno half-miler, won his event handily, giving the Huskies their only first place. Tralle, Yerington distance man, won the mile.

Competition in the pole vault was keen, with Robb, freshman, and Polish, Yerington, tied for first place at 10 feet. Cameron and Taylor, both Reno men, tied for third.

The results of the meet are as follows:

Mile—Tralle (Y) first, Stoy (R) second, Boti (R) third. Time, 4:55.2.

440 yard dash—Richards (F) first, Menke (R) second, Pincolini (R) third. Time, 53.2.

Shot—Haman (F) first, Smalley (F) second, Smith (F) third. Distance, 52 feet 3 inches.

Javelin—Smith (F) first, Polish (Y) second, Mangum (F) third. Distance, 136 feet.

High hurdles—Warren (F) first, Maule (F) second. Time, 16.6.

880 yard run—Rodriguez (R) first, Tralle (Y) second, Devore (F) third. Time, 2:8.9.

220 yard dash—Sagerbloom (F) first, Pincolini (R) second, Menke (R) third. Time, 23.2 seconds.

Pole vault—Polish (Y) and Robb (F) tied for first, Taylor (R) and Cameron (R) tied for third. Height, 10 feet.

Low hurdles—Zadow (F) first, Elcano (R) second, Shehady (Y) third. Time, 26.4 seconds.

Discus—Haman (F) first, Smalley (F) second, Domenico (Y) third. Distance, 131 feet 10 inches.

High jump—Haman (F) first, Friedhoff (Y) second, Robb (F) third. Height, 5 feet 9 1/2 inches.

Broad jump—Mangum (F) first, Polish (Y) second, Costello (Y) third. Distance, 19 feet 7 1/2 inches. Richards, promising freshman, who won the event in the interclass and intramural meets at the university recently, fouled out.

Relay—Freshman team first, Reno second, Yerington third. The freshman team was composed of Richards, Richardson, Callahan and Sagerbloom. No time was taken for this event.

The abbreviations used above are: Freshman (F), Reno (R) and Yerington (Y).

Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men at the University of Wisconsin, stated that our college men of today are mollycoddlers. He states that the reason for this is that the teachers are constantly on the alert to protect them from their own mistakes. He characterizes college men, especially seniors, as being "diamond-minded."

Fresnans Tackle Stanford Cinder Men in First Meet

Bulldogs Concede 40 Points By Their Mentor in First Indian Contest

FRESNO, April 28.—With a 74 to 57 victory over San Jose State behind them, Fresno State's Bulldogs were pointing this week for Stanford's Indians, whose lair will be the setting Saturday for the first Fresno-Stanford track meet in history.

Given no chance to score a victory, the Fresnans nevertheless will provide their share of individual performances and hope to make 40 points, according to Coach Flint Hamner.

First of all, the greatest high jumper of all time, Walter Marty, will try for a new world's record. Last week Marty missed 6 feet 9 inches by a slim margin. The week before that he missed the same height by the thickness of his trunks. On April 7 he cleared 6 feet 9 1/2 inches to better his own outdoor and indoor marks by almost one inch.

Second, the Bulldogs' great half-miler, Elroy Robinson, will fight it out with Chuck Nimmo in the 880. Unbeaten in two years of intercollegiate competition, Robinson has chalked up the fastest time in college circles this year, beating out Johnson of U.S.O. by ten yards in 1:54.7.

Third, "Peewee" Wilson, diminutive Bulldog, will give Meier and Klopstock of the Indians a hard battle in the 220 low hurdles. Running for the second time this season, without any practice at all, Wilson ran a 24.3 race on a soft track at San Jose. Now fully recovered from a leg injury, he is expected to push the two Stanford stars to the limit. The tiny Fresnan also broad jumps with the best of them, being a former world's interscholastic champion in this event. He cleared 24 feet last week.

Fourth, Stanford's Al Blackman and Fresno's Bob Harris will stage a neck and neck battle in the 440. Harris has made 48.9 this season and has not yet reached his peak. Three other Bulldogs are capable of 50 seconds, promising a close race in the relay.

Fifth, another thrilling hurdle race will occur between Meier and Klopstock and Fresno's sensational sophomore high hurdler, Jack Ward. Although he stumbled and fell last week against San Jose, Ward was not injured, and he has been consistent at 15 flat and better this season. He has run the high sticks in 14.7.

Marjorie Stout, Christmas graduate, has been appointed to finish the school term for Miss Beulah Leonard, former history instructor at the University of Nevada and for the last two years a teacher in the Gerlach school.

200 yard dash—Hill (N) first, Smith (C) second, Hart (N) third. Time, 9.6 seconds.
120 high hurdles—Haynes (C) first, Hromadka (N) second, Ubaldi (C) third. Time, 15.3 seconds.
Two mile run—Leonard (N) first, McDonald (C) second, Arentz (N) third. Time, 10 minutes 32.8 seconds.
880 yard run—Schneider (C) first, Yerarde (C) second, Ward (N) third. Time, 2 minutes 1.2 seconds.

Nevada Tracksters Are Defeated by Chico Men 80 to 50

Nevada Men Set Five New Records Turning in Fine Performances

Losing their first intercollegiate meet of the season, the University of Nevada track men met an 80 to 50 defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Chico State Wildcats. The Wolf Pack won six of the 15 events.

Five meet records were shattered in the contests, with Harvey Hill, veteran sprint man, turning in the best performance of the day. Hill ran the 100 yard dash in 9.6 seconds to set a new meet record, placed first in the 220 with another record breaking performance and was third in the high jump. Hill took high point honors of the meet with 11 points.

Other records were broken by Paul Leonard, who turned in a time of 4 minutes 33 seconds for the mile run. "Ole" Thies, who tossed the discus 131 feet, and Ross Hart, who broad jumped 22 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Although Hill's 100 yard dash time bettered the existing University of Nevada record, records made by Nevada men on fields other than Mackay field do not count as new university records.

Summary of the meet:
100 yard dash—Hill (N) first, Smith (C) second, Hart (N) third. Time, 9.6 seconds.

Mile run—Leonard (N) first, Schneider (C) second, Arentz (N) third. Time, 4 minutes 33 seconds.

440 yard dash—Jenk (C) first, Chesney (C) second, West (N) third. Time, 50.5 seconds.

120 high hurdles—Haynes (C) first, Hromadka (N) second, Ubaldi (C) third. Time, 15.3 seconds.

Two mile run—Leonard (N) first, McDonald (C) second, Arentz (N) third. Time, 10 minutes 32.8 seconds.

880 yard run—Schneider (C) first, Yerarde (C) second, Ward (N) third. Time, 2 minutes 1.2 seconds.

220 yard dash—Hill (N) first, Smith (C) second, Hart (N) third. Time, 9.6 seconds.

'Rabbit' Bradshaw Brings Net Players To Meet Local Men

Former University Athlete and Team of Champions to Play A.T.O.

With all indications pointing toward some thrilling matches, James "Rabbit" Bradshaw '22, is to bring a team of tennis players from the coast here to meet Doug Busey, Hoyt Martin, Kerwin Foley and "Hutch" Nenzel, well known Reno tennis stars. The games are scheduled to be played tomorrow at the Reno Tennis club courts.

Accompanying Bradshaw are Joe Coughlin, Stanley Alquist and Sherman Lockwood, all of whom are players of rank and former title-holders.

While attending the University of Nevada Bradshaw held the state singles championship besides his accomplishments in football, basketball and track, in which sports he was one of the most outstanding men in the history of the institution.

Coughlin, with Keith Gladhill, was intercollegiate doubles champion last year and former captain of the Stanford tennis team. He is also former Pacific coast junior singles titleholder and at the present time is a member of the team of the California Tennis club.

Being the former holder of Pacific coast intercollegiate singles and former national intercollegiate doubles winner, Lockwood is now tennis coach at the California Tennis club and at Stanford university.

Alquist was paired with Lockwood when they formerly held the national intercollegiate doubles championship. Both players used to attend the University of Oregon, while Alquist has been a ranking net man in California for years.

The four local players are representing the Reno Tennis club and Alpha Tau Omega alumni. Bradshaw is affiliated with the latter organization and the visiting team will be housed at this fraternity while in Reno.

James Herz will act as alternate to Nenzel in the doubles matches. He and Foley are both students at the university at the present time.

Bela Harcos '34 is managing the local team. He announced that the games will take place at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Saturday at the Reno Tennis club courts. There will be no admission charges, Harcos stated.

The Los Angeles Junior college has loudspeaking equipment for its track meets.

The supposedly weak Nevada track team kind of gave Chico State a surprise last week when the Wolf Pack broke five of the existing records at the Chico school. This bodes well for the 1935 track team when new recruits from the freshman team are sent into intercollegiate competition with the veterans from the present Wolf team.

It is expected that the Wolves will win their first intercollegiate meet of the season Saturday from the Cal Aggie team. Mitchell expects the Wolf Pack to place first in the discus, the dashes and the distance runs, and this plus several second and third places will probably give Nevada the meet.

The freshmen get their second test of the season tomorrow when they compete against Reno, Sparks and, possibly, Susanville. The outcome of this meet is as clear as the mustache on Martie's face, but the contest for second and third places between the high schools will be tight.

The average University of Nevada student is a well balanced Adonis, judging from the figures issued this week by the physical education department. The biggest surprise of the figures concerned the present freshman class. It seems to run to extremes, ranging from the big football players to kids that are about big enough in size to qualify for a grammar school. Yet the average size of the class is not big.

Louise Gastanaga '32, who has been teaching at Imlay, was rushed to Lovelock last week for an emergency operation. Lois Hutchinson, who is to graduate this May, is substituting for Miss Gastanaga. Both are members of Gamma Phi Beta.

Wolves, Mustangs Clash on Mackay Field Tomorrow

Little Information Obtainable Concerning Strength Of Davis Team

Staging their only home track meet of the season, the Nevada Wolf Pack will tackle the Mustangs from Davis tomorrow on Mackay field in what promises to be a closely fought contest.

Little information has been learned about the tracksters representing the Aggies, but Peck is rated as one of the best hurdlers in the Far Western conference and Wright runs the mile and two mile in record time.

Chico scored a win over the Aggie team several weeks ago by a score of 93-28, while Nevada made 50 points against the same team last Saturday.

Coach "Brick" Mitchell states that the contest should be close but "we ought to win by a small margin." He also believes that Nevada will take the same six first places as it did in the meet with Chico. This includes Harvey Hill in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Paul Leonard in the mile, "Ole" Thies in the discus, Ross Hart in the broad jump and Leonard in the two mile.

According to Mitchell, Harvey Hill should win his races easily although the time will be much slower than the last meet due to the condition of the track and a probable wind. Mitchell will enter Ross Hart in the sprints with the hope that a second or third place will be obtained.

A relay team composed of Dale Hart, Ross Hart, Harold West and Lee Ward has been working smoothly and Mitchell believes they can take the race although the Aggies also have a good relay team.

This will be the only chance for the local track fans to see the Wolves in action so a large crowd is expected.

C. of P. To Be Host To Conference of Coast Paper Men

STOCKTON, April 26.—The College of the Pacific will be host to a Pacific Coast Newspaper conference on May 17, 18 and 19. All of the four year schools in Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Arizona and California have been asked to send representatives. All of the junior colleges in the state and the high schools of central California have been invited.

It is expected that over 100 delegates will be present. The conference was authorized by the publications committee of the college. Bob Griffin is the general chairman of the affair, with Dr. Sibley, Bob Hammond and Cliff Crumney on the planning committee. George Challis is in charge of publicity and Fern Bryant of accommodations.

The program has been outlined and is being planned mainly to deal with the individual problems of the various representatives. Duke Meyer of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin and Irving Martin Sr. have already agreed to speak.

The University of Nevada editors and business managers, incumbent and elect, will attend the conference.

Cheney to Inspect Nevada Army Unit

Brigadier General Sherwood N. Cheney of the United States army will present medals to the winners of individual drill and marksmanship at an inspection to be held on the campus Friday morning, May 4, at 7:45, the military department announced this week.

Inspections will be held from now until the end of the semester each morning by the local commander, it was announced this week.

William McMenamin, editor of the Sagebrush, explained the two new traditions offered concerning freshmen wearing high school jewelry and the plan whereby all men should be compelled to grow beards for Mackay day. May 4 is the scheduled date for the last regular meeting of the student body this year. President Wallace stated that he would try to get the tumbling class to perform at that time before the business meeting. May 4 is also the day that proposed changes in traditions will be voted on.

There is an "anti-pun" society organized at the Stevens Institute of Technology.

A.T.O.s. Complete Province Conclave

The twelfth province of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity completed its biennial conclave Saturday night with a formal dance at the Washoe County Library building.

Eighty-five representatives from outside colleges and alumnae members attended the gathering.

Business meetings were held Friday and Saturday. Many fraternity problems were discussed, such as province business, problems that are common to all chapters, scholastic standing of the different chapters and financial conditions.

Arthur W. McCord of Los Angeles, the oldest living member of the fraternity, was also an honored guest. He spoke on the founders of the fraternity, whom he knew intimately.

bauer, Alden Plumley and F. L. Bixby. Against the faculty team will be Russell Elliot, Gene Salet, Harold Curran, Ralph Hromadka, Donald Brown, Lino Del Grande, Lowell Russell, Dan Harvey, John Dolan, Jim Wallace, Paul Fontana and Bill Gilmartin.

Programs of the activities will be given to seniors on May 1, according to Miss Galvin.

On Friday, May 4, the members of the senior class will go to the regular A.S.U.N. meeting, which will be held in the Education auditorium. Seats for the class will be reserved for the meeting.

Monday, May 7, the baseball game will be played on Mackay field, at 4 o'clock.

The senior picnic will be on May 8, Tuesday, at Pyramid lake. Everyone will have to bring his own lunch and dinner, it was announced.

May 9 will be the date for the traditional pilgrimage, when the seniors will meet in the Student Union building in their caps and gowns. From there they will go to the Haseman-Jones memorial, where William Gilmartin will speak. The next stop will be the bulletin board, with the principal speaker Katherine Slavin. Camille Cerrita will speak on the steps of Morrill hall. From Morrill hall the procession will go to the Student Union building. Dick Clewett will make a short talk at this point.

Continuing their trip, the class will march to the tram, Mackay statue and Mackay field. At these places Allen Young, Ina Johnson and Bud Beasley will talk.

Plans for the pilgrimage were presented by Donald Butler. Leading the procession will be Eugene Salet and Clara Galvin, followed by Marthine Solares and the members of the senior week committee. This pilgrimage also begins about 10:30 a. m.

Members of the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity will be hosts to the class on Wednesday, May 9, at a tea dance at their house on North Virginia street. The affair will probably be held from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

Thursday, May 10, has been scheduled for a tea dance by Cap and Scroll and Coffin and Keys, honorary fraternities on the campus. The dance will be held at the Alpha Tau Omega house during the same hours as the Sigma Phi Sigma dance.

Closing the social activities of the week will be the senior ball, with the senior class guests of the junior class. A grand march will be the main feature of the dance, led by Eugene Salet and his partner and Clara Galvin and her escort. Chairman for the affair is Vic Carroll, who says "the junior class is going to make the ball this year the best ever put on."

Saturday will be the annual tea for senior women and the mothers of the whole class. This tea will be given,

THE NEW 1934 FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT . . . BY WILSON . . . IS HERE

What is new in the industry for 1934 is best shown of a survey of lead-off items in the Wilson line.

Every branch of equipment is topped by a product whose novel and practicable features make it a true leader in the field.

The PANTS, HELMETS, SHOULDER HARNESS, JERSEYS, HIP AND KIDNEY PADS and SHOES are all N E W—and Wilson makes a major improvement in footballs with the new PERFECT balance football. The ball has been built with more pointed ends, giving it bullet-like precision in passing. The valve has been placed directly opposite the lacing, putting the ball into perfect balance. The off-balance ball lopes through the air; the counter-balance spirals smoothly and evenly, therefore it is easily controlled in flight.

amendment to revive the Desert Wolf. The magazine was voted out of existence by a majority of students who believed that advertising for three publications was too big a drain on the Reno business men. They also complained that it had fallen below the standards set by previous issues.

—about Cigarettes

As to the cigarette paper on Chesterfields

THIS reel of cigarette paper is sufficient to make 42,000 Chesterfield Cigarettes. It is of the finest manufacture.

In texture, in burning quality, in purity, it is as good as money can buy.

Cut open a Chesterfield cigarette. Remove the tobacco and hold the paper up to the light. If you know about paper, you will at once note the uniform texture—no holes, no light and dark places. Note also its dead white color.

If the paper is made right—that is, uniform—the cigarette will burn more evenly. If the paper is made right—there will be no taste to it and there will be no odor from the burning paper.

Other manufacturers use good cigarette paper; but there is no better paper made than that used on Chesterfields. You can count on that!
