Bonfire, Frolic and Parade All Well Received By Throng

MANY EXHIBITS

Taus Win the Cross Country, Tri Deltas Take Cups For Float

Celebrating the fifteenth Homecoming, students, alumni and campus organizations cooperated to make the three day program last week one of the most successful since the annual gala occasion was introduced in 1920.

The festivities were ushered in by the ruddy glow of the bonfire flames Thursday evening and brief talks from Carl Dodge, Homecoming committee chairman; Dean Adams, Coach Mitchell, Brewster Adams, Judge Souter and Miles Pike, alumni president, were heard by the assembled students.

Following the rally, Phi Sigma Kappa held a street dance in front of their Lake street house, which was decorated with varicolored lights for the event.

Friday saw the continuation of the celebration with alumni registration, opening of the engineers' exhibits, drilling contest, the soph-frosh field day and the Wolves Frolic.

'34 Man Registers First

H. E. Stewart of the class of '34 was the first alumni to enter his name in the alumni register, and soon after numerous other returning graduates had officially indicated their presence at the Homecoming festivities.

Clever engineers amused many visitors with a baffling array of scientific marvels and weird contraptions which comprised the bulk of their exhibit.

Fayette Hill '38 won first place in the drilling contest. He sank the bit 16 1/2 inches into granite rock in five minutes.

Losing their chance to merit the privilege of wearing the derby and white vest when they are seniors, the sophomores defaulted to the freshmen and did not appear for the scheduled field day. Not a single sophomore was on hand to support his class.

Frolic Held

The day's program was concluded with the Wolves Frolic, which was held at night at the Granada theater. Playing before a packed house, the presentation was declared a marked success. The supply of tickets was exhausted before the curtain rose on the first act, according to business managers.

Twenty-three Greek runners opened Saturday's Homecoming entertainment when they ran from Sparks to Reno in the cross country race. "Rosy" Hand, A.T.O., took first in the fine time of 21 minutes 59 seconds. A.T.O. also took team honors for the event.

Big Parade

A brilliant array of floats featured the annual parade, which was held at 11:30 a. m. Saturday morning. The column included the university band, the military department, the Reno high band and the American Legion drum and bugle corps, and was said to be the "best organized and most colorful" witnessed in some years by alumni and townspeople.

Approximately 5000 people saw the Pack bow to a fighting San Jose foot-

HOSPITAL BUSINESS DULL

As far as health goes for this week, the University of Nevada is a top-notch. A thorough check of all the hospitals in the city revealed that there are no seriously ill students in these institutions.

The head nurse of the university hospital is bemoaning the fact that business in her department is dull. Usually the fall season sees many cases of flu and other minor ailments.

ball team by a 10-0 score in the game played Saturday afternoon on Mackay field.

Gloom cast over alumni and students by the defeat of the Wolves was dispelled by the bright hospitality afforded the campus by the Delta Delta Delta sorority and Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, which held open house after the game for the campus.

Grads Banquet

Alumni gathered at the Century club Saturday night for their annual banquet and election of officers. Mrs. Sadlier, the first woman ever to hold the office, was elected president of the alumni association for the forthcoming year. She succeeds Miles N. Pike. Senator McCarran was unable to speak as scheduled on the proposal to gain a portion of Nevada's share of the Boulder dam proceeds for the university, but a committee was appointed to investigate the matter.

Dance Concludes Affair

Presentation of awards for the various contests during the three day celebration was the feature of the Homecoming dance, held at the Civic auditorium, which concluded the festivities.

Phi Sigma Kappa and Delta Delta Delta won the cup for the best fraternity and sorority floats, and Pi Beta Phi was declared the winner of the award for the best decorated house.

The Fine Arts group won the cup for the best organization float entered.

A.T.O. won the cross country cup, while Delta Delta Delta won the trophy for the best alumnae representation at the dance. S.A.E. won the fraternity award for alumni attending the dance.

The various awards were presented by Carl Dodge, chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Y. W. Abolishes Advisory Board

With the advisory board of the university Y.W.C.A. abolished, members of the cabinet will turn to campus faculty leaders for advice in the future, it was announced by Betty Howell, president of the organization.

Abolishment of the group was due to the fact that understanding of the problems of university women is more difficult for townswomen than for members of the university faculty, Miss Howell stated.

The advisory board was composed of about seven members made up of interested workers in the city Y.W.C.A. and it was their duty to advise the various committee chairmen as to their duties.

Mrs. Mae Simas, an active member of the board, and Miss Margaret Mack and Miss Verdie Fant will act in the capacity of advisers for the group.

MOONLIGHT RIDE SANS MOON FOR HORSEWOMEN

Indifferent to the fact that there wasn't a moon last Monday night, the Saddle and Spurs club held its long planned six hour moonlight ride.

Fifteen girls mounted their sturdy steeds about 4:30 in the afternoon and gayly rode out into the nearby foothills, where they dismounted after a seven mile ride and partook of a picnic supper of cube steaks, potato salad, buns, pickles and ice cream. Although the menu was somewhat unbalanced in its food value it was unnecessary to repeat the cry, "Food's ready."

Campfire songs and stories were the diversion for the remainder of the evening, after which the homeward ride was started. The trail which led to home seemed to be a very long and tiresome one, and though some of the riders were rather stiff and sore they all heartily agreed that it had been a grand trip.

Beta dance tonight and will be in the receiving line tomorrow when the pledges are presented at the annual presentation tea of the sorority.

Phi Sigma Kappa Holds Annual Street Dance

A feature of the annual Homecoming day celebration was the Phi Sigma Kappa street dance following the bonfire rally last Thursday night. The front of the chapter house on Lake street was gayly decorated with colored lights. Darrell Berry's orchestra furnished the music. Refreshments were served in the fraternity house to several hundred guests.

Alpha Tau Omega Costume Dance Tomorrow Night

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity will entertain at its annual costume cocomat dance at the chapter house on University terrace tomorrow night. Darrell Berry and his orchestra will furnish music for the affair.

Successful Frolic Presented to Big Audience Friday

Twenty-seven Acts of Mirth Are Well Received by Crowd

By MARY MILLARD

With a spirited kicking chorus, cleverly costumed against a modernistic set representing a "Wolves" summer resort, the annual Wolves Frolic, "Moanin' Becomes Electra," was presented to an appreciative audience at the Granada theater last Friday, October 26.

The "Frolickers," composed of sixteen well trained and beautifully costumed chorus girls, started the show in an exciting tempo and were more than instrumental in keeping the performance in a pleasant and entertaining mood.

"Desire Under the Maples," presented by Helen Lewis, Helene Per Lee, Carl Dodge and Ray Frolich, gave the audience innumerable "puns" and last minute jokes to laugh at, as the four characterized a peculiar home setting of mother, daughter, son and "villain."

The clown of the evening proved to be Ellen McFarland in her "haysced" tap dance. Appearing in a farmer's costume, Miss McFarland nonchalantly had the audience alternately laughing and tapping with her.

The big attraction of the evening was a sister act by Mary and Beth Stringham, who sang "Chios." The many encores were not all answered due to the shortage of time, but each of the three encores proved a huge success.

A "Charleston rhythm" act called "Ah! Wilderness!" gave the show the light comedy touch necessary in every vaudeville. The rhythm actors were Helen Lewis, Helene Per Lee, Ed Lozano, William Cheal, Charles Leavitt and John Brackett.

The act given by Mask and Dagger called "All God's Chillun Had Wings," was pronounced the biggest act of the show by popular opinion. Ray Frolich, Grace Semenza and Bob Montgomery, with their straightfaced acting had the spectators in constant uproar.

Berry's Band Clicks

The sixteen piece band, with Darrell Berry as director, clicked well and the music was exceptionally fine. An overture of University of Nevada songs opened and concluded the show in wonderful spirit. The two pianos afforded good background and pleasurable entertainment.

By popular approval "Moanin' Becomes Electra" was pronounced a success, and with the cooperation of Blue Key and the Wolves Frolic staffs it was a financial success as well.

William C. Miller was the director of the Wolves Frolic, Miss Ruth Ryan dance director and R. S. Griffin supervisor.

The Blue Key staff consisted of William Gelder, general manager Charles Nichols, assistant manager Ed Martinez, house manager.

The University Play Production staff was represented by Tom Morris, business manager; Griffith Macdonald, assistant manager.

Guy Morris, Don Macdonald, Russell Baker, Ross Morris, Darrell Cain and Gordon Macdonald took charge of the technical details of the show, with Lindsay Green as stage manager and Morgan Mills as assistant manager.

Economics Grads Keep Department Posted on Work

When home economics alumnae of the University of Nevada leave the college gates, contact with their teachers does not stop.

A novel system of maintaining professional touch between former students and the home economics faculty is in use in the department. The system has been worked out by Miss Sarah Lewis, head of the department.

About every five years Miss Lewis sends letters to the alumnae. The letter contains such questions as: How have you been able to apply the work you took in home economics? Was your work worthwhile? Would you take the same course if you had it to do over again? The alumnae are requested to make any suggestions which might aid the home economics course at the university. These suggestions usually refer to adding or subtracting courses from the curriculum.

When the answer is received, Miss Lewis writes a summary, which is placed on a sort of personality card. These cards have been kept from the time the student first entered the university.

Miss Lewis has been carrying on this work for fourteen years. Hers is the only department that keeps such close touch with its alumnae.

"Most of our girls get married, so they do not have a great chance to become widely known in home economics fields," Miss Lewis says. "The replies deal largely with the application of the home economic courses in the home."

Women Become 'Dance Minded'

Dancing has taken the university women by storm and they are fast becoming "dance minded."

A few weeks ago Miss Sameth's dancing classes performed for the teachers' institute, in hopes of giving the teachers new ideas and showing what sort of work college women do in the creative dancing field.

The dancers presented a native Swedish dance in the Wolves Frolic this year and they are now looking forward to the folk festival given this winter and the spring festival which will be presented in March.

The original plan of the organization was to be able to tour the state giving exhibitions of different forms of dancing and also to entertain upon request. Miss Sameth has announced that the group is at the present time open to any woman on the campus who is interested. The first meeting was held Tuesday.

Miss Margery Mullen spent the past weekend in Reno attending the University of Nevada's fifteenth annual Homecoming. Miss Mullen is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

"THAR'S GOLD IN THEM THAR CLASSES" FOR PROSPECTORS

Grizzled prospectors have reappeared upon the University of Nevada campus. Again this year, classes to assist them in their mining problems are being offered in the Mackay school of mines.

The instruction is a project of the Nevada Trade and Industrial Education department and the Mackay school of mines cooperates by lending its facilities.

Approximately sixty persons attended the first meeting, held last Monday, twelve of whom are women. An introductory lecture was made by Fred R. Gibson, who is conducting the classes for a period of three weeks. At the end of the period Gibson will move to another Nevada mining center and conduct similar classes. Gibson is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines in Golden.

Instruction includes both lectures and laboratory work, with about one-third of the time being used for lectures. Classes convene every night but Sunday and last from an hour to an hour and a half.

So successful were these classes last year that the trade and industrial education department feels justified in offering similar courses again this year, Theodore Overton stated. Overton is scheduled to instruct prospectors' classes in Silver City next week.

Approximately 800 persons all over the state received mining instruction from the project last year.

A resume of the lectures for the three weeks' period follows:

Discussion of igneous, metamorphic and sedimentary rocks; ore deposition by magnetic segregation and pegmatites; contact metamorphic deposits; formation of veins and classification of veins; deep, moderate and shallow veins; structural features of veins and ore bodies; ore shoots and secondary enrichments; treatment on outcrops, including erosion features, etc.; study of placer formations; smelter settlements; importance of sampling, and an outline of historical geology will be discussed.

Old, New Fashions Featured at Show Given by A. W. S.

A contrast between the old and new styles of women's apparel will be featured at the annual fashion show which will be presented by the Associated Women Students at their next regular meeting, November 9.

Sports and evening wear, furnished through the courtesy of J. C. Penney company, will be modeled by women students, two being chosen from each sorority and Manzanita hall, according to Florence Kirkley, chairman of the committee in charge.

In addition to the fashion show, entertainment will be furnished by Darrell Berry and his orchestra.

The show is given for the benefit of the women's loan fund, which has recently been established by the A.W.S., and a charge of 10 cents will be made for admission of students, it was stated by Nell Lozano, president of the organization.

Blythe Bulmer '33 visited her parents in Reno last weekend. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and is now teaching in Ruth, Nev.

The last women's interclass hockey game of the season was played October 25, with the upperclass men the victors by a score of 7 to 2.

Three girls were slightly injured in the game. Lois Miller received a cut over one eye, Frances Smith sprained her fingers and Nell Lozano has a bruised foot. There were no injuries in practice games.

All women who attended the required number of hockey practices and played in the interclass games are eligible for W.A.A. membership.

Art Head Invents New Style Paint

Miss Katherine Lewers, head of the art department at the university, has invented a new type of paint which is unlike anything now on the market, combining qualities of oils, water colors and pastels.

The paint, which is ground by hand, is easy to use and facilitates the working up of details. It can be softened after it has become dry, making it possible to complete a picture months after it has been begun.

Pictures on which this paint is used have no glare when they are hung, and have a velvety, bright, and rich surface.

Art classes at the university have used this paint successfully.

Chi Delta Phi Bids Honorary Member

In recognition of her interest in literary work, Mrs. Harriet Mills McKay was bid to honorary membership in Chi Delta Phi, national women's honorary English society, during the early part of last week. This is the first time in the history of the local group that a woman not connected with the university has been selected for membership.

Inez MacGillivray, president of the organization, said this morning. A graduate of North Dakota university, Mrs. McKay came to Nevada several years ago. She was affiliated with Alpha Beta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta while attending North Dakota, and since she has been in Reno has been active in the alumnae group of the local chapter of Gamma Phi sorority.

Miss Mary Willis of Ely was the weekend guest of Mary Millard at the Tri Delta house on Sierra street.

Electrical Show Is Well Attended

According to Professor Irving J. Sandorf of the electrical engineering department, the crowds seeing the electrical exhibits were larger this year than any other year of the exhibits.

Sandorf said that every other year some electrical company has sent exhibits, already constructed, to the electrical group for demonstration, but this year all of the exhibits were constructed in the laboratory by students.

U. C. L. A. FUROR

News of the expulsion of five student leaders last week, among them the student body president, at the University of California at Los Angeles by Provost E. C. Moore, on charges of communism has aroused a furor among universities and colleges on the entire Pacific coast. Looking at the case from the outside it appears that the head of U.C.L.A. has definitely put himself on a limb and sawed himself off, through magnifying a relatively unimportant issue.

Let it be clearly understood that the Sagebrush has no sympathy with communists or any of their ilk. It seriously doubts, however, that five students on the campus of U.C.L.A. could possibly turn that university over to a black bearded communist with a bomb under each arm. It also doubts that those five expelled students could possibly enter into an agreement with the National Student League, an allegedly communistic organization, to "sell out" the entire student body, particularly in view of the fact that those students were elected by a majority of the student body in the first place.

Provost Moore acted too hastily. The students under fire were merely attempting to hold an open forum and had as yet committed no crime against the government. Certainly the right of assemblage, guaranteed in the United States constitution, should nowhere be more vigorously upheld than at an institution of higher learning, a university. Most educators and statesmen declare in no uncertain terms that young citizens of today should take an active interest in affairs of their country's government. The U.C.L.A. episode would indicate that the reverse is true at that university.

Granting that there may be a radical element in some of our colleges, the Sagebrush cannot believe that the entire undergraduate world in America is apt to become so misguided and blinded by malicious propaganda that it will help overthrow our present form of government.

The provost of U.C.L.A. is in a decidedly awkward position. The Sagebrush ventures to predict that those students will be reinstated and the entire matter dropped within two weeks.

SENATE MASS MEETING

The University of Nevada senate seems at last to realize that something has to be done to stir the campus from its lethargy, if anything worthwhile is going to be salvaged from a fast dying school spirit. To this end it has declared a mass meeting, open to the entire campus, to be held next Wednesday night in the Education building.

The whole thing started in the senate meeting last night when it was realized, while discussing ways and means of managing the freshman class, that in reality the freshman class is the most spirited on the campus and that the upperclasses, namely, senior, junior and sophomore, are the dead ones.

What will come of the meeting is hard to predict. Whether the social organizations on the campus can shake themselves and really reform is a question. If not, little will be gained. If they turn out their members to the meeting and openly and actively go about bringing back some real spirit, we may have a student body worthy of the name. If they fail, things will go on as before, with sporadic attempts to inject school spirit by a rusty needle applied to an already alert freshman class. The freshmen are all right. It is up to the upper classes to give themselves a "shot."

NO OXFORD CANDIDATES

Reports from the office of Dean Maxwell Adams, chairman of the University of Nevada Rhodes scholarship committee, indicate that to date a complete lack of interest is being shown in the competition this year. Such lack of interest is depressing.

Sixteen graduates of this institution have been sent to Oxford in England to represent Nevada in one of the oldest and finest universities in the world. That of recent years a spirit of hopelessness has grown among Nevada students is recognized. This is because in 1930 Nevada and five other states were put into one competitive district, from which only four scholars are chosen yearly. Nevada students entertain the idea that they "don't stand a prayer" of being among the lucky ones.

Such an attitude does not speak well for a university having the high scholarship standing which ours has. The $2000 scholarship, with all its advantages of a broadened culture through travel, is certainly worth fighting for.

Nevada should be represented when the district committee convenes in San Francisco. If she is not, it will be a shameful reflection on the academic morale of our university.

HOT SPOT

A BONNIE BAE LADDIE WHO VOTES FOR SCOTCH AND AULD LANG SYNE

Accompanied by the shrill shrieks of a million patched and leaking bag-pipes, playing "Scots Wee Wee," comes this week a man into the hot spot who is indeed a brae bonnie laddie. Lacking only the kilts (and don't think he wouldn't show a pretty knee if he wore 'em and a feather in his hat, the campus' canny Scot Joey Boy McLeod takes his bow.

In making this selection we feel that nowhere else on the hill is a man of such transcendent, sterling qualities to be found, and to give you a brief picture of his colorless career we will start by saying that Joe has ever been a plodder and not a meteor. His statement is borne out by his sobriquet of the "G.O.M.O.C." (grand old man of the campus). Entering college the fall Nevada tied the Cal "wonder team." Mas has lived to see St. Mary's whipped, the second miracle in our history to date. The lad graduates in the spring '38 provided he doesn't die of hardening of the arteries before then and he claims that to be the third and final miracle. We hope.

Joe's outstanding characteristics is his laugh, which sounds like the mating call of the cuckoo bird. He will give his "call" on the slightest provocation, so if you hear a noise like a cageful of monkeys gone nuts don't shoot—it will only be Joe.

Women's English Society Receives Poems for Contest

Several poems have already been submitted in the poetry contest which is being sponsored by members of Chi Delta Phi, women's English honorary, during the month of November, Inez MacGillivray, president of the organization, stated this morning. The contest officially opened yesterday and will last until December 1.

Any woman on the campus is eligible to enter some of her work in the contest providing she conforms to the rules which are posted on the bulletin board in the hall of English. Miss MacGillivray said, laying particular stress upon the method in which the poems must be submitted, "One large envelope bearing a fictitious name must contain the poems and a separate envelope in which will be the entrant's real name along with the fictitious name. Not until the poems have been judged will the small envelope containing real name be opened, and the writer of the poem be identified."

Selection of the winning poems will not be made until the week following the close of the contest. At that time the winners will be announced in the Sagebrush and copies of the winning poems will be printed.

ONLY TWINS ARE BOYS

For the first time in approximately twenty-five years the University of Nevada can boast the enrollment of boy twins. They not only have the distinction of being the only boy twins on the campus but they are the only twins, as the two sets enrolled last year were members of the graduating class.

The twins are Gene and Glenn La Tourrette. Both are graduates of Reno high school, and are enrolled as freshmen this semester. They are S. A. E. pledges.

Kappa Kappa Psi Bids Seven Men

Pledges to be initiated this semester into Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary music fraternity, have been selected, according to Kistler Rivers, president.

A student may be pledged during his first semester in band, but in order to be initiated he must have one or more semesters of work completed. According to Rivers, pledges for next semester's initiation will be selected before Christmas.

Initiation ceremonies for the following will be held in December: Lyman Clark, Ellis Olander, Walter Fancher, Lindsay Green, Dale Hart, Al Manhan and Oden Romwell.

A regular meeting, in the form of a dinner, was held last night at the Colombo hotel. At the meeting committees were chosen for the spring concert and organization of the band trip to College of Pacific on November 9, took place.

Senate Minutes

A regular meeting of the student senate was called to order by President Cazier. Roll was taken and the minutes were read and approved.

President Cazier announced the selection by the executive committee of Marvin Turner as a representative to the managerial committee. Announcement was also made of the executive committee's move in sending letters to the presidents of various campus organizations requesting that they file with the A.S.U.N. president copies of the constitutions of their groups.

Forrest Bibb spoke in favor of the proposed amendment, which is to be voted on at the student body meeting tomorrow, empowering the publications board to put out programs for all athletic games. President Cazier announced that the voting on the proposed amendment adding the president of the Associated Women Students to finance control will be held tomorrow. Another proposed constitutional change adding the president of the band and the song leader to the rally committee will be brought up at that time, according to President Cazier. It was decided that the matter of changing the high school student body presidents' convention from the spring to the fall semester be dropped until a later date.

Problems of student affairs were discussed by the senate members. It was moved and seconded that there be held a "spiritual revival" Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the Education auditorium. The senate empowered President Cazier to select a committee to take charge of the affair. The following were named to serve in this capacity: Forrest Bibb, Herbert Peck, Bryce Rhodes, Raymond Frohlich, Paul Turner, Sallie Fagan, Neil Lozano, Mary Murphy. Cazier will act as chairman. There being no further business the meeting adjourned in regular order.

San Jose Downs U. N. Wolf Pack On Mackay Field

Homecoming Game Marked by Listless Playing on Nevada's Part

SCORE 10-0

Si Simoni Stars for Spartans, Scoring Field Goal and Touchdown

Playing the annual Homecoming day game at Mackay field before an estimated crowd of more than 5000 students, alumni and townspeople, the University of Nevada Wolf Pack went down to a 10-0 defeat at the hands of the San Jose State Spartans Saturday.

Dario "Si" Simoni, Spartan captain and tackle, was the outstanding player of the day, scoring all of the 10 points for San Jose. Just before the end of the second period he kicked a 31-yard field goal, scoring the first 3 points of the game.

Intercepting one of Haman's passes to Sauer in the last few minutes of the game, Simoni ran 40 yards to a touchdown, then dropped back to convert for the extra point.

Nevada began the game as if she meant business. Driving, passing and running, the Wolves penetrated far into Spartan territory again and again during the first half, but the final spurt necessary to carry the ball over was lacking.

Generalship Lacking

Poor field generalship was in evidence when Nevada, through a penalty gained possession of the ball on the San Jose 6-yard line. Failing in two line plays, the Wolves attempted a pass which was intercepted, ruining their chances to score.

A feature of the game was the punting duel which developed between Barr and Stockdale of San Jose and Haman of Nevada. During the game Nevada punted 10 times, averaging 40 yards from the point of kicking, while San Jose punted 15 times, averaging 42 yards.

Playing was listless throughout the whole game. Both teams lacked the punch necessary to make a spectacular game. Even the crowd in the bleachers was lifeless, responding but half-heartedly to the plays.

Fumbles were scarce, each team having fumbled only once, and recovering the ball each time. Nevada proved her passing attack to be weak, having attempted 18 passes, completing five. Two laterals were attempted, one being completed.

No player was outstanding for the Wolf Pack. Haman punted well, McDow made some nice returns and McDow made a few brilliant end runs.

George Adamson and Herbert Clark visited in Reno over the Homecoming activities. Both men are members of A.T.O. fraternity.

Thirty Hoopmen Practicing For Basketball Team

Junior Teams To Be Organized Next Semester, Martie States

During the first week of varsity basketball practice sessions, about thirty men have appeared in uniform on the gymnasium floor to try out for positions on the squad, Coach J. E. Martie stated yesterday.

"Most of the players this year lack experience," Martie said, "but they are lively men who want to learn and some good hoopsters should be developed from the group." The majority of the aspirants are underclass men.

As there will be no freshman team until next semester, Martie announced that yearlings who want some basketball practice are invited to turn out with the varsity tryouts until the frosh team is formed.

No junior varsity teams will be chosen until next semester, the coach added. All university basketball men will practice together until that time.

Beginning last Monday, practice sessions were held three times this week, and three will be held next week. After that, Nevada hoopsters will work out every day except Saturday and Sunday, according to Martie.

More to Try

The strength of the varsity basketball team probably will be enhanced when the football season is over, as several prospective varsity hoopmen are performing on the gridiron. Among these men are Tharp, Lansdon and Tapogna; three of the four men returning from last year's varsity. The fourth is Clayton Phillips, forward, who is now attending the practice sessions.

Haman, Robb and Hadlen are other gridmen who are expected to bolster Nevada's basketball strength after November 25.

Among players who are expected to show, besides Phillips, and are now attending practice sessions, are Joe Kelly, Stan Smith, Oly Glusovitch, De La Mare, Whitney, Ross Tannehill, Orval Tregellis and Ted Barnes, the latter two men transfers from Sacramento junior college. Bruce Gould, star varsity center of two years ago, is back again and has shown up for practice. Malcolm Jones, a member of one of the strong junior varsity squads last year, is expected to make a good showing when he appears on the hardwood.

Sam Arentz was a guest at the Lambda Chi house over Homecoming. While in Reno he was also the guest of his sisters, Miss Cornelia and Anna-Arel Arentz.

Sigma Nu Quintet Wins Inter-Greek Hoop Tourney

Lambda Chi and Sigma Phi Tied for Second Place in Tournament

Closing the annual interfraternity basketball tournament on Thursday, October 25, with a close win over Lambda Chi Alpha, the Sigma Nu fraternity, by virtue of a 1000 par cent standing in the league, captured the annual hoop trophy for the third consecutive year.

During the intramural season the Sigma Nus won seven games and lost none. In second place, the Lambda Chi and the Sigma Phi Sigmas are tied, with five wins and two losses each. At the bottom of the first division are the A.T.O. hoopmen with a 4-2 count to their credit. Phi Sigma Kappa, Lincoln Hall, Beta Kappa and S.A.E. follow in the order named.

One of the primary reasons for holding the intramural hoop tourney every year is to bring out any potential varsity material which might be concealed in the various Greek letter houses.

This year several men showed up well in the tourney and bid fair to aid Coach "Doc" Martie in building his varsity for the coming season. In the winning Sigma Nu team De La Mare, Jones, Tannehill and Smith were probably the most outstanding.

The Sigma Phi quintet seemed to show up best when Bawden and Moore were working at the forward positions and they may exhibit enough class to land berths on the varsity squad. Two of the Lambda Chis who displayed plenty of action and no little sharpshooting ability were Frunty and Christian.

Alpha Tau Omega players who showed well are Sutton, Secoy, Cavanaugh and Kelly.

The final league standings of the tournament follow:

	Won	Lost	Pct
Sigma Nu	7	0	1.000
Lambda Chi Alpha	5	2	.714
Sigma Phi Sigma	5	2	.714
Alpha Tau Omega	4	2	.666
Phi Sigma Kappa	3	4	.429

Spartans, Bulldogs Lead Far Western Conference Field

Nevada Drops to Cellar After Losing San Jose Game Saturday

CHICO IS STRONG
Leading Teams Meet in Fresno This Week; Chico-Aggie Tilt Scheduled

As a result of her 10-0 victory over the Nevada Wolves last weekend, San Jose State is now tied with Fresno State for leading honors in the scramble for the Far Western championship crown.

Chico State and the Cal Aggies are tied for second place with no wins and no losses.

Nevada and College of Pacific are tied on the bottom rung with one loss apiece.

The Nevada-San Jose tussle was the only conference game scheduled for the weekend. The game was marked by the spectacular playing of Si Simoni, Spartan captain and tackle, who scored all of the points for San Jose.

Chico Beats Teachers
Playing a brilliant game, the Chico State Wildcats completely routed San Francisco State Teachers college, a non-conference opponent, 33-0. The Wildcats scored in every quarter of the game, registering five touchdowns and a safety.

The fighting Fresno State Teachers eleven were bowed to the undefeated Santa Clara Broncos in a non-conference game at Fresno by a score of 19-0.

Wolf Cubs Meet Lassen Tomorrow

Nevada Yearlings Open Season Against Strong Team From Susanville

Taking the field tomorrow in its initial gridiron appearance of the season, the University of Nevada freshman football team will meet the Lassen Junior college gridsters at 2:15 p. m. on Mackay field.

Due to dropouts because of the lack of organized competition, there is a shortage of reserve material, but the yearlings are expected to hold their own. In weekly scrimmages with the

The California Aggies suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of the U.C.L.A. Bruins at Los Angeles, 49-0.

Bulldogs vs. Spartans
The highlight of conference games scheduled for this weekend will be the clash of the Fresno State Bulldogs and the San Jose Spartans at Fresno. The two teams are undefeated in conference standings and both will be eager to gain supremacy.

Chico will meet the Cal Aggies at Chico in another conference tilt. These two teams are tied for second in the conference league. College of Pacific will play a non-conference opponent, the California Ramblers, at Stockton tonight.

Nevada will remain idle with no games scheduled this week.

Conference standings to date:

	W	L	Td	P	Op	Pct
Fresno	1	0	0	7	6	1.000
San Jose	1	0	2	16	6	1.000
Chico	0	0	1	6	6	.000

varsity they have at times made creditable showings by more than holding their own.

Strong Record
The Lassen boys come to Reno with a creditable record, having routed the Reno high Huskies 28-0 two weeks ago and having handed the Chico State freshmen a two touchdown trouncing the week before.

Frosh Starters
The starting lineup for the frosh will find Basta and Smith at the end positions, Nash and Spitz at the tackle berths, Watson and McDonald as guards, Stewart at center, Kepi quarterback, Matten and Segerbloom halves and Lemmon fullback, Seaborn Caldwell frosh mentor, stated.

Wayne Van Voorheis was a guest at the A.T.O. house during Homecoming. He was a member of the class of '34 and is now living in Fallon.

Co-eds guards assigned by a U.C.L.A. sophomore women's organization to prevent students from walking on the university seal were ordered disbanded by the dean of women as "impractical." The seal is imprinted on the library floor.

Stanford Shares Pacific Lead With Washington Team

Pacific Coast Conference Reaches 'Torrid' Stage For Gridders

With all its upsets and surprises, football in the Pacific Coast conference has reached its torrid stage. Last Saturday's gridiron festivities left Washington and Stanford as the outstanding teams in the conference by virtue of their wins over California and U.S.C., respectively. Washington handed a 13 to 7 defeat to the Golden Bears from California, while Coach "Tiny" Thornhill's Indians from down Stanford way soundly repulsed the men from Troy 16 to 0.

Cougars Take O.S.C.

The Washington State Cougars, still in the running for the Pacific coast leadership, trounced Oregon State to the tune of 31 to 0, serving notice that they are one of the strongest contenders. They are tied with Stanford and Washington in the Pacific conference running.

Rivals of these teams are now gunning for Washington and Stanford in particular and as the football front stampedes into its first week in November much excitement is predicted.

Friday, Washington State will attempt to fare better than she did in her last clash with an independent team when she takes on the powerful St. Mary's team from Moraga valley. The Cougars' standing will not be materially affected by this engagement but the winning of this game would mean quite a bit to their coast prestige.

Huskies Unbeaten

The Washington Huskies, undefeated in any of their engagements to date, meet the boys from Oregon State. This is considered to be an easy victory for the Huskies, so they are in all probability pointing for their Stanford engagement the following Saturday. On the other hand, Stanford is faced by a comparatively tough assignment when they invade the Bruin territory to take on U.C.L.A. The Bruins exhibited a wealth of strength when they held their Bear cousins to a 3 to 0 victory. This game will probably give the Indians plenty to think about with little time to point toward the Washington game.

To round out the program the University of Oregon meets Montana while California takes on the favored Santa Clara Broncos.

Maude Russell, Y.W.C.A. Worker In China, Returns

Miss Maude Russell, Y.W.C.A. secretary in the interior of China, who has been active in that office for several years, will probably be recalled from office in the near future if she has not already been sent back to the United States, Y.W.C.A. workers reported here today. Miss Russell is employed in China by the national Y.W.C.A. organization but is partially supported by the University of Nevada and other Pacific coast universities. The national organization also helps contribute to her support.

She has been in China several years working among Chinese women and girls doing welfare work. She was a guest of the University of Nevada Y.W.C.A. three years ago and is well known to university professors and alumni.

Nu Eta Epsilon Elects New Men

Nu Eta Epsilon, engineering honorary fraternity, elected as new members Antonio Chavez, Philip McGuire and William Johnstone at a meeting held October 19.

It is the custom of the fraternity to elect the outstanding members of the senior class of engineers. Selection is based on high scholastic attainment. Though Nu Eta Epsilon is a local fraternity, its standards and purposes are the same as those of a large national engineering honor fraternity. Because of the small number of graduates each year, it has been impossible to meet the qualification necessary to obtain a charter in the national group. For that reason the local organization was instituted in May, 1923, so Nevada engineering students might have recognition for scholarship.

Under the constitution of Nu Eta Epsilon a president and vice president are elected every year by the members, while the secretary-treasurer is permanent. Professor F. L. Bixby is the present acting secretary-treasurer.

Each year one-fourth of the senior class is eligible for membership, one-eighth being elected in the fall semester composed of senior students, and an additional one-eighth during the spring semester consisting of juniors.

Students Invited To Club Dinner

All students are invited to attend a dinner to be given next Sunday, November 4, at the Federated church on North Virginia street, at 6:30 p. m., by the Campus club. The dinner is in honor of Glen E. Moore, who will speak on the subject of youth and religion. Moore is a graduate of the University of California and of San Anselmo Theological seminary. He is now pastor at the University of California at Los Angeles. Those planning to attend should phone Fred Hartman and make reservations before Sunday. There will be no charge for the dinner.

I. Q. of Freshmen Believed Improving

Psychology Tests Indicate Women Outrank Men in Intellect

Figures released by Claude Neet, instructor in psychology, indicate that this year's freshman class is 2.3 points more intelligent than last year's class, according to intelligent quotient tests recently given to the freshman orientation class. The class average is 103.15.

The women's group average was 103.9, while the men averaged 102.4 for the test. The men's average is 5.7 points more than last year's average, Neet said.

Woman Is Highest

Despite the higher group average of the women, the men took individual honors, taking four of the highest five places in the class. A woman from Reno high school was first. Two of the four men among the first five are registered from Tonopah, one is from Las Vegas and one from Burlingame, California.

Ten Highest Named

The ten highest scores were distributed among the following: George Bump, George Franklin, James Galvin, Tomasa Kamachi, Jessie McClure, Jack McCrea, Ben Morehouse, James Parker, Clinton Stephenson and Ethel Wines.

As usual the engineers ranked higher than the Arts and Science group, but the Arts and Science men rated 7.4 points higher than last year. No home economics students took the test this year.

Carson high school's representatives ranked highest, with the California high schools rating second. Tonopah was third, while Reno was seventh in a list of ten.

The tests are not used to aid the professors in grading or ranking students in classes, but are used by the deans of the colleges in advising students and in making comparative studies.

Mrs. C. Sadleir Is Chosen President By Alumni Group

Miles N. Pike Vice President; Secretary Re-elected for 23rd Time

Mrs. Charles Sadleir of Reno, formerly Miss Louise Frey of the class of 1896, was elected president of the University of Nevada Alumni association at the annual Homecoming banquet meeting of the group, held last Saturday evening at the Twentieth Century club. Mrs. Sadleir, who is the first woman president of the group, succeeds Miles N. Pike to that office. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta alliance. When interviewed, Mrs. Sadleir stated that she was particularly anxious to see a larger representation enrolled in the association. She said: "We have a university that is unique, one that we can be justly proud of, and one that an active alumni association can aid materially. The $1 paid annually by members of the association represents a real aid to the university when handled by an organized group. The association has a rather weak representation among the graduates of the past 10 years and I would particularly like to see a growth in the enrollment from those classes. I will pledge my full cooperation to the university, and if hard work will make a banner year possible we will have a banner year." Mrs. Sadleir also said that she would like to see Harry Frost continue as the alumni representative to the university coaches' committee.

Other Officers Elected

Other officers elected during the meeting are Miles N. Pike, vice president, and Mrs. Louise Blum Lewers, secretary. Mrs. Lewers is entering upon her twenty-third year as secretary of the association. She is a graduate of the class of 1895.

The following members were elected to the executive committee: C. D. Jamieson, J. A. Carpenter, Harry Frost and Hoyt Martin of Reno, and C. J. Sheerin of Elko and W. W. Anderson of Carson City.

Other Business

Other business discussed at the meeting included the possibility of PWA funds to continue the construction program for needed buildings on the campus and the possibility of the university receiving a share of the revenue from the Boulder dam. Approximately $600,000 will be realized by the state from the Boulder dam and the university and public schools will probably receive a large share of this money. The directors of the association were authorized to discuss these questions with the state legislature next winter.

Let's find out why Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna . . . in the fertile fields of Macedonia . . . along the shores of the Black Sea . . . grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

THESE Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes. Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
