

Annual Christmas Musical Concert To Be Wednesday

The second annual Christmas concert of the University-Community orchestra and U. of N. glee clubs will be given in the Reno Century club Wednesday, December 12, according to Prof. Theodore H. Post, director of both organizations. The soloist for the concert, which is being sponsored by the club, will be Louis Davis, who will render several selections on the flute.

This Christmas concert will mark the first public appearance of the orchestra and glee clubs this year.

The program Wednesday evening will open with the playing of Edward MacDowell's "Woodland Sketches," by the orchestra. This will be followed by the Women's Glee club with three numbers—Lester's "Eyes Nocturne," Lassen's "Thine Cuban So Blue and Tender" and Rich's "An American Lullaby."

The orchestra will then play the "Ballet Suite" by Gluck. The combined glee clubs will follow with a spiritual "Steal Away" and Chantey's "Eight Bells" and "Away to Rio," as arranged by Bartholomew.

The fifth number on the program will be Frastorius' "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" and other "Christmas Card" numbers by the girls' treble trio, under the direction of Mrs. T. H. Post.

The soloist of the evening, Louis Davis, will then play a flute solo to be selected by himself. The concluding number of the Christmas concert will be a rendition of Grieg's suite from "Sigurd the Crusader."

The accompanists for the concert will be Dorothy B. Post, Sarah Graves and Helen Spina.

The concert is open to university students and townspeople.

Kappa Alpha Theta will give its annual winter formal at the Riverside hotel next Friday night. The chaperones for the dance will be Mrs. C. Phelps, Miss Blanche Wycoff, Miss Gertrude Wycoff, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bankoff. Music will be furnished by Darrell Berry's orchestra.

Lambda Chi Will Entertain

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity will entertain at its annual semi-formal dance at the Twentieth Century club tonight.

Chaperones for the affair will be Dean Margaret Mack, Miss Louise Sissa, Professor and Mrs. J. A. Carpenter.

Sigma Nu Holds Informal Dance

Sigma Nu fraternity will hold an informal dance at the Coconut Grove Friday night, December 8.

Professor and Mrs. Harold N. Brown are to be chaperones, and music will be furnished by Darrell Berry's orchestra.

Pi Beta Phi Will Initiate Keegan and Wines

Pi Beta Phi sorority will hold initiation ceremonies this Saturday for Merle Wines and Blanche Keegan. Following the initiation a banquet will be held at the El Cortez hotel.

Lincoln Hall Dance Tonight

Lincoln Hall association will hold its annual Christmas dance tonight at the hall. A novel Christmas idea will be carried out and music will be furnished by Darrell Berry's orchestra. Larry Carter is in charge of the dance.

Gamma Phi Beta Gives Dinner Party

Gamma Phi Beta sorority gave a buffet supper Wednesday night for active members, pledges and alumnae. Arlene Boerlin was in charge of the supper. Following the dinner a general get-together was held in the chapter house. The sorority plans to hold a get-together supper the first Wednesday of every month.

COMSTOCK LODGE GIVES U. N. TONG TROPHIES

Nevada is called the Silver state, and in the days of the Comstock lode the name was warranted.

Today the University of Nevada has apparently fallen heir to a large portion of that silver in the form of trophy cups awarded to the various sorority and fraternity houses.

Like the much publicized rats of Hamelin, the cups are of every shape and size, large, small and middling; some resembling the voluptuous outlines of Mae West, others built on the lanky lines of Garbo; some bright and shining, others dull and tarnished, but all the pride and joy of whatever organization happens to possess them.

Nearly 175 cups are distributed among the various groups. Alpha Tau Omega fraternity has a fairly large corner of the silver market on its mantle, some 34 cups, with Sigma Nu running a close second with 32. Gamma Phi Beta sorority is the sterling member of the Greek femmes, having a total of 20 trophies on which to expend silver polish.

Late market reports quote silver at approximately 55 cents an ounce. As long as the sons of Abraham flourish under the sign of the three balls, no Nevada sorority or fraternity can ever be laid bankrupt.

HOT SPOT

Our apologies, comrades—he insisted. BACK STREET FROHLICH PROMINENT PLAGUE BOY WHO WON'T BE LEFT OUT

We present for your entertainment (or are you easily entertained) none other than that prominent member of high pilla house, the mad thespian, member ex-officio of the Friday Afternoon club and president of the "We Love Frohlich club," none other than Raymond "Ain't It" Frohlich.

Perhaps, if you ain't never seen him, you lucky people, he's the fellow who plagues our campus (a Plague Boy). He has knock knees, pomegranate nose, rumble seat, wavy hair (from turning somersaults on a corrugated roof when a child) and so on for volumes.

As for his dramatic achievements he has played the parts of a small town big shot, a drunkard, and "Uncle Dave"—in the latter it took the audience twenty minutes to leave—(he was lame). What achievements! another university student inclined to get a contract, or did you know the Marx brothers were considering another partner? Incidentally he played in "A Doll's House," the big cream puff.

Frohlich has also played the part of a milkman, liquor salesman (he ran away from home to the big city), radio announcer (apologies to the federal radio commission), Tonopah mine mucker and several other "odd" jobs, so what could you expect Daphne?

Love life: Mrs. August Frohlich (only a mother could love that face).

'Tis rumored that Homer Glutz's new book, "A Fool's Errand" or "Coming to School," has been dedicated to Back Street (way back) Frohlich. The board of regents consider him their greatest liability at the university. So obnoxious has he become at times that he has been found twice in the campus incinerator, and when questioned Mr. Lynch only answered "I was just cleaning up the debris."

If you think he is a pain in the neck to you, I am eating my dinner off the mantelpiece. And so we let him go merrily on his way humming his theme song:

I wish I were a moron,
He doesn't give a damn,
I wish I were a moron,
My God perhaps I am!

'Tis rumored that true blue Lois takes advantage of Carl's operation Saturday morning—stepped out Saturday night (nice people) with an ex-Nevadan, none other than the Santa Clara big shot(?) Ah the fate of life!

The Lambda Chis have been informed that unless Wayne Kennedy stops manufacturing putrid puns the campus will be forced to subtract one

M. I. T. Man Tells Engineers About Studies at 'Tech'

Outlining the methods of education and fields of graduate study offered by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Dr. James L. Tryon, director of admissions to that institution, spoke to university engineers and faculty members last Monday evening at a special dinner. Monday afternoon the lecturer presented a motion picture showing "Technology in Action."

Tryon stated that undergraduate work at M.I.T. is confined to the fundamentals, while most of the specialization is offered as graduate study. The lecturer also indicated that the modern trends in engineering education called for some study in a field remotely removed from technical work in order that the students might be more versatile.

The speaker was the guest of honor at the banquet, which will conclude the activities of the Associated Engineers group for the semester. He was introduced by Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the university, who expressed the wish that more Nevada engineering graduates take advanced work at M.I.T.

member from the house membership. We thoroughly agree with the idea.

Rather than bursting its top off this week, the Brodie barometer goes to new depths with Oliver "Peewee" Aymer putting the skids under it. The brave little general opened the ice skating season on Manzanita lake by crashing through in inglorious fashion amid titters from Manzanita Maizies on the tram. "Ah, the injustice of the fair sex!" Olie was heard to grumble as he climbed out dripping icicles and slunk homeward.

We hear the Thetas are receiving by fast express a brass plated beer mug as a trophy for accomplishing the unheard of. Every gal in the house has a date for one of the six campus dances tonight. Believe it or not, Ophelia.

Things we want to know: Where were the A.T.O.'s when the lights went on? ... What Gamma Phi has two Sigma Nu pins ... Who was the lone woman at a certain fraternity party this weekend ... why Elva goes to the South Seas ... more about a certain house party this weekend ... why every one is having their appendix out ... why Marge Cannon doesn't comb her hair ... if Cornelia really loves Rhodes (please answer) ... and will we see you all after Christmas?

Sagers to Back Sale of Tickets For Basketball

Plans to aid in the sale of season tickets for the 1935 basketball season were discussed Tuesday night during the meeting of the Sagers. A committee, headed by Bill Johnstone was appointed to confer with Coach J. E. Martie on the plan. Definite steps on the sale will be taken during the next meeting of the group.

The next meeting of the organizations will be held next Wednesday night at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house. The meeting will start at 5:30 p. m., and a banquet in honor of the 19 new members recently elected to the group will be held at that time.

A secretary-treasurer will be elected during the meeting, and discussions on future activities to be carried on by the group will be held.

Nevada Students Injured in Crash

Erma Kitchen, freshman student at the University of Nevada, was hurt in an automobile accident south of Tonopah early this week, while three other students, including Barbara Clark '36, driver of the car; Noel Kitchen '37 and Fayette Hill '38 escaped injuries.

Reports indicate that Miss Kitchen's leg was fractured. Mrs. Clyde Fletcher, mother of Miss Clark, sustained several fractured ribs. The students were returning to college after the Thanksgiving holiday when the accident occurred.

Asilomar Delegates Will Be Chosen By Y. W. C. A. Soon

Three Women Will Be Sent to Attend Conference in California

Prominent Social Worker Will Make Visit to Campus December 16

Delegates from Nevada to Asilomar, Y. W. C. A. conference, will be chosen within the next week as registration for the conclave closes December 18, it was announced Tuesday at a general meeting of the Y. W.

Descriptions of Asilomar were given at the meeting by Frances Burke and Winifred Walsh who have attended past conferences.

Social Worker to Visit Here
Announcement was made of the visit that Muriel Lester, well known lecturer and social worker, will make to Reno on December 16. Miss Lester will lead the discussion at this year's Asilomar conference which will be on the subject of "Freedom in the Modern World."

Miss Lester is the founder of Kingsley Hall, London settlement house, and has been named the "British Jane Adams." Born in London, Miss Lester went on daily excursions through the London slums, finally succeeding in having her family build Kingsley Hall to help her care for the poor. She and her workers live in a condition of voluntary poverty at this settlement house which is in one of the worst slum districts in the world. Mahatma Gandhi stayed at Kingsley Hall during his recent visit to England.

It was announced at the meeting that any Y. W. C. A. member who is to be considered as a delegate to Asilomar should hand in her name to a member of the cabinet as soon as possible. The delegates will be chosen from this list, Miss Howell stated. Two delegates and one "stuck-up" will be sent by the campus organization. The expenses of the delegates will be paid, but the "stuck-up" will work for her board and room by waiting on table in the dining hall. The convention will be held from December 26 to January 2.

Folk Dances Will Feature Festival

Featuring American folk dances and old time songs and ballads, the annual Folk Festival, given by the women's physical education department, will be held December 15 in the gym, according to Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's P.E. department and director of the festival.

More than ninety women will take part in the various dance numbers, which, in contrast to last year's festival of foreign folk dances, will be almost entirely composed of early American square dances, reels and the like. In connection with these folk songs and ballads of long ago will be sung. From the Stewart school will come the only outside group on the program. They will do a series of their native Indian dances and songs. Only three foreign numbers will be given, a Scotch dance, a Swedish folk dance and a Mexican cucuracha.

Miss Sameth stressed the fact that the Folk Festival should be regarded as a campus affair and stated that after the festival, which will last about an hour, general dancing will be held for another hour, which she hopes will induce the men of the campus as well as the women to attend.

Seventy-two Women Sign Up for Rifle

Womens rifle practice started yesterday and will continue from 1 to 4 p. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Sergeant Hustis, women's rifle instructor, said this morning.

Seventy-two women signed up for rifle, making the largest enrollment for several years. Katherine Dondoro, manager, said today that she would probably appoint a freshman manager to assist her within the next few weeks.

Basketball Board Examinations Will Be Given Soon

Examinations to qualify university women as official basketball referees, by admission to the National Board of Basketball Officials, will be held early next semester, Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor in physical education, stated this week.

A local board of basketball officials was organized last year, and after functioning one year as a local organization, was admitted to the national board. The purpose of the board is to provide efficient referees who are well posted in the rules of girls' basketball, for the games on the campus, and in the immediate vicinity of Reno.

In order to qualify for membership a woman must be at least a minor in physical education and pass two examinations. One test is written and is based upon questions furnished by a national board of officials. The other is a practical test in refereeing a school game. Mrs. Simas, Frances Humphrey and Miss Verdie Fant will judge the ability displayed in officiation.

A salary is paid for officiating at all games at which paying audiences attend. Officials for the games last year were Dorothy Pope, Charlotte Pope, Elizabeth Frey, Margaret Kommayer, Blanche Keegan, Helene Stark, Madeline Miller and Dorothy Gordon.

Fellowship Is Open To Nevada Women

University of Nevada students may compete for the public service fellowship offered by the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, the president's office announced this morning.

The fellowship is designed for women students and carries with it a stipend of $1300 to be used for a year of graduate study at an approved college. The fellowship is in either history, economics, government or social science.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States, must have achieved a baccalaureate degree not earlier than 1929 at a college on the accepted list of the Association of American Universities, and must show ability in political science and promise in their chosen field. Further information concerning the fellowship may be obtained from Professor Emille J. Hutchinson, Bernard college, Columbia university, New York.

It was also announced that Nevada students may compete in the essay contest sponsored by the Italian Chamber of Commerce. The contest is open to graduates and seniors and prizes consisting of $100, a gold medal and a certificate will be awarded to the writer of the best essay on economic activities of modern Italy. Complete information may be received from the secretary of the Italian Chamber of Commerce, 99 Hudson street, New York.

Sagens Get Cold Shoulder In Effort to Sell Buttons

"Wanna buy a button?" For the past month this plaintive query echoed and reechoed across the Nevada campus, but to no avail. Only 75 patriotic persons rallied to the call of the Sagens who tried valiantly but unsuccessfully to sell their Red Cross buttons.

"I didn't know there were so many cold shoulders," one Sagen muttered after repeated efforts to "hang" her "pin." The Sagens bore up under this treatment for several weeks and then, sadly disillusioned, returned their remaining 925 pins and called it a day.

A. W. S. to Take Concluding Vote On Point System

Report on Ice Cream Sales Given at Final Meet of Campus Women

A final vote on the women's point system will be taken at the next A. W. S. meeting which will be held December 15. An attempt will be made at this meeting according to Nell Lozano, A. W. S. president, to close all business in order that the coming semester may open free from any left-over problems.

In addition to the decision regarding the point system, a full report on ice cream sales made during the semester will be given. Miss Lozano said that a total of $70.30 had been taken in, $25.00 of which will go for scholarships. An additional $25.00 will be donated to the women's loan fund, and changes in rules pertaining to this loan will be discussed at the meeting.

Miss Lozano stresses the importance of this meeting because of the decision to be made on the point system, and has requested that all women be present. A special feature will be furnished by Alice Sauer who will give a reading.

Big Sister Group Will Advise Fresh

The A.W.S. big sister committee will continue to function next semester, according to Nell Lozano, chairman of the committee.

The method of procedure, however, will vary from that of last semester in that only freshman women who request upperclass advisers will be given them. Heretofore each incoming freshman girl has been put under the guidance of some upperclass woman, who was supposed to advise and guide the younger girl.

The committee is composed of Betty Howell, Helene Stark, Florine Maher, Inez MacGillivray and the chairman, Nell Lozano.

Women's Groups Aver Basketball Game Sales Unprofitable

According to Blanche Keegan, president of W.A.A., and Nell Lozano, president of A.W.S., neither organization will sell ice cream and candy at basketball games this season.

Both officials claim that the sales do not bring enough profit to compensate for the time spent on preparations.

If the state high school tournament is held in the university gymnasium this year, W.A.A. will take charge of candy and ice cream sales, according to Miss Keegan.

Faculty Women Enjoy Holiday

Because the library and registrar's office were closed only on Thanksgiving day and Sunday, Miss Thompson and Miss Sissa were not so fortunate as other feminine members of the faculty, for whom the holiday served as a well deserved rest.

Dr. Jeanne Wier of the history department spent the weekend quietly recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident November 17. Mrs. Simas of the physical education department recovered from a bad cold which threatened to keep her from attending school.

Five other teachers had Thanksgiving dinner at Manzanita dining hall. Two of these, Miss Sissa and Miss Riegelhuth, were the guests of Dean Mack. Miss Lewis also had two guests, Miss Pope and her mother.

Y. W. Membership Rules Changed

Active work in the University of Nevada Y.W.C.A. is absolutely essential before any woman will be permitted to count the organization as an activity in her sorority, Betty Howell, president, stated this week.

The rule was made early in the semester, but the matter has been emphasized this week due to inactive members in the Y.W.C.A. organization. In accordance with the new rules for the order, all meetings, activities, dinners and lectures must be attended by members unless they are excused by the president. It is only in this way that members will become active, Miss Howell said.

The regular year's dues will not make a girl active and in addition to being recognized and obtaining a pin she must prove to Y.W.C.A. and her sorority that she is making Y.W.C.A. one of her major activities. Failure to comply with the rules of active membership in the organization will result in non-recognition of girls in the Artemisia Y.W.C.A. page, house activities and university activities numeration for seniors.

Gothic N Holds Annual Gathering

Freshman women interested in athletics were guests at the traditional Gothic N day get-together held at the university gymnasium last Tuesday afternoon.

Requirements for membership in Gothic N, upperclass women's honorary athletic society, were explained to the guests by Elizabeth Frey, president of the society.

Gothic N members, who are chosen from members of W.A.A., must have a 2.5 average for four semesters' work, and must have some activity other than W.A.A., Miss Frey said.

"To be eligible to wear the award women must have earned three proficiencies and one varsity rating, or three varsity ratings or their equivalents," she explained.

Members of Gothic N are chosen during the spring semester and are announced at the annual Mackay day luncheon.

Y. W. Instructs Indian Children

Work at the Indian reservation near Sparks by the Y. W. C. A. group is showing real progress according to Dorothy Phillips, chairman of the social service group.

Doris Bath, who takes charge of a Saturday morning children's hour, reports favorable progress in her division. She handles a group of eighteen Indian children between the ages of four and eleven, and every Saturday morning from 10:00 to 11:30 at the community hall of the village she reads stories and teaches games. At the fireplace they sometimes roast marshmallows or other days are given candy to eat.

The children have shown much interest in this weekly hour according to the Y. W. C. A. group.

RETAIN THE COACH?

The undercover skirmishing that has marked the athletic situation on this campus for the last year and a half has finally flared into open warfare, with students, alumni and business men of Reno choosing sides this week to fight over the torn carcass of student body morale a battle concerning Nevada's football coach. The battle is ugly in the last sense of the word, and in the final analysis it will be the student body as a whole, if one exists, that will suffer most.

Next Wednesday the members of this student body will cast a vote to ascertain which side is strongest—that which desires to retain Coach Mitchell or that which wishes to release him upon the termination of his present contract. From all preliminary estimates the battle will be a close one, marked by bitter animosity. The result of the balloting will probably determine the course which the coaches' committee will pursue in the matter of renewing Mr. Mitchell's contract. A delegation of students opposed to the coach requested the vote before the coaches' committee acted, and banding together held meetings discussing ways and means of ending Mitchell's services at this institution. Those who are supporting the coach drew up a petition for football players to sign favoring the retention of Mitchell and succeeded in obtaining the signatures of a great majority of the squad. Both camps are now engaged in recruiting soldiers for the war.

Reflecting over the entire incident, it is obvious that the student body is the goat simply because two men could not cooperate for the general welfare of the University of Nevada. Owing to the disjointed and complex athletic set-up which is the university's athletic system, neither of these men knew who was boss. Mr. Martie, basketball coach, held the job of director of athletics when Mitchell came to Nevada as head football coach. Because neither the latter's contract or list of duties named in the constitution mentioned such a director, friction immediately occurred.

A few unpleasant incidents arose, and many unwise remarks were made on both sides. Things went from bad to worse, there was no harmony between the coaches and the situation soon became downright nasty. Then Martie resigned all his student body activities and identified himself solely with his basketball duties and his work in the physical education department. It was hoped for a while that the problem had been settled, but it was soon found that such was not the case; that the animosity had increased rather than decreased. Students began to split in their views and take up arms for their champions. More vituperative talk was rumored to have originated from each side and eventually the student body found itself faced with the present dilemma.

All that has been said by the two men and just who is at fault for their differences is a moot question. The fact remains that the two men cannot get along and the student body as a result is in an uproar. What to do about it?

First it should be borne in mind that whatever action the students take in Wednesday's vote should be action which will be best for the university at large. Second, it should be borne in mind that the poor athletic administration machinery permitted this thing to occur. Third, it should be remembered that this silly personal quarrel has precipitated most of the trouble. Fourth, it should be recalled that Mitchell is an employe of the student body, paid by and responsible to it, whereas Martie as basketball coach receives no salary from the students and is responsible to the administration.

Proceeding on this basis it may readily be seen that if the student body is to clean up its own house it will have to patch up or get entirely new machinery for the benefit of its out-moded athletic system. It is self-evident that Mitchell and Martie will never come to an understanding and that one or both of them will have to go—no progress or harmony can be hoped for as long as both remain. This has been painfully demonstrated over a long period of time. An entirely new set-up must be inaugurated—until it is a house cleaning effected there can be no hope for our student body or its athletic activities. All sports will have to be brought under one department and placed under the direction of one head.

The Sagebrush has given unstinted support to Mitchell and the Wolf Pack during the recent season and has done all in its power to back the pack in every sense of the word. With the season now passed it feels that the first step toward cleaning up the present athletic situation is to deny Mitchell another contract. This attitude is not taken because the coach had a poor season and it is not based on the theory that he does not know how to teach football. It is based primarily on the fact that he has utterly failed to cooperate with other individuals concerned for the general welfare of the university and, because of this, is in large part responsible for the condition existing at the present time.

In addition, the Sagebrush is of the opinion that the coach, through inconsistencies has failed in commanding the wholesome respect of his men, which resulted in dissension on the team and a general laxity of necessary training. This, notwithstanding the fact that most of his players are supporting him at the present time. Before any clean-up can be made, Mitchell will have to go.

Regarding the new system, it will have to be set up after the forthcoming basketball season has been completed. At that time athletics should be grouped together and the student body select a staff that could coach all its sports, and have the staff accountable to and paid by the A.S.U.N. If Martie failed to cooperate and be amenable to the change he, too, by all means, should be released from his coaching duties.

Letter to the Editor

Editor Sagebrush—We have been observing with considerable interest the talk, arguments and published letters concerning the coaching situation at the U. of N.

We would like to list a few vital facts in support of the contention that "Brick" Mitchell should be replaced as head coach of the U. of N.

1. The football budget was larger this year than any year since Mitchell's advent here.
2. Poor student administration is assuredly not cause for defeats at the hands of such teams as the Cal Ramblers, San Jose, Pacific and Chico.
3. That Nevada can meet teams of "big league" facilities on an even basis as was demonstrated by defeating St. Mary's.

4. Former Nevada coaches have demonstrated their lack of ability as head coaches by the positions held by them now.

5. Failure of the students to choose all-American coaches instead of all-American players as coaches has given Nevada the name of "graveyard for coaches."

6. Experience this year in junior college, high school and three and four year varsity players should gladden the eyes of any coach.

7. Mitchell has repeatedly tolerated breaking of training rules in his and Coltrin's presence since the dismissal of two players in mid-year.

8. Mitchell is not a good football coach. His teams can't even block or tackle.

We repeat again, that Mitchell should be replaced by a man who can coach football, win games, cooperate with those to whom he is responsible, and most of all command the respect of all his players as a man and a gentleman.
Vic Carroll,

football players of great merit who by now should be fully qualified in terms of experience and performance to coach a Nevada football team at least as well as the present coach has this year.

I believe that a graduate of this university would be in a more favorable position than an outsider to cooperate with faculty, alumni and students because of the familiarity gained by him in his undergraduate days with the football set-up on this campus.

May I ask, "Why not give a Nevada graduate a shot at the coaching job?"
Angelo Urrutia.

Editor Sagebrush—Now that the football season is over, I find that there is a great deal of criticism on the campus concerning the way our football team was handled. Leaving my own personal reactions to the coaching situation out of the picture, I would like to state my views upon another kind of management that the students themselves must remedy.

There is a lack of centralization of authority for the management of student affairs. The sale of season tickets to the football games fell far below the sale under the old graduate manager system and the sale of Wolves Frolic tickets was in a jumble that took Joe McDonnell two weeks to straighten out. This is no reflection on the graduate manager himself. If Joe had the authority he could do a good job of handling our affairs.

It is too late to do anything this semester. An amendment to the constitution passed this semester provides that an amendment must be passed during the same semester in which it is proposed. If we are prevented from taking action this semester we can at least study the situation and be prepared to take action as soon as possible.

My personal opinion of the situation is that we must create an athletic department with the head coach as the central power. The graduate manager would assist the head of the athletic department as well as look after other student affairs.

The man who heads the athletic department may be either the football coach or the coach of any other major sport, but he would have the power to hire assistants and direct his department as he saw fit.

It is up to the students to provide a set-up in which the coach will have a chance to do as he pleases. Under present conditions "Pop" Warner would have a hard time coaching a successful Nevada team. Let's get together and do something constructive.

History Bulletin Board Installed In Stewart Hall

A new history reference reading bulletin board has been installed on the first floor entrance to Stewart Hall. The bulletin board has been prepared by the local F. E. R. A. workers with the assistance of the university carpenter.

It will contain a printed list of the reference books used by all freshman history classes. All those books which are owned by the University of Nevada library are marked with a check so that the student may see at a glance which works are available for use.

"The bulletin has been prepared with the expectation that students may not only be saved time, but also that the choice of reading on any particular subject may be made more deliberately and intelligently," said Dr. Wier, head of the history department.

Frats, Sororities Complete Portrait Schedule for Book

Groups Requiring Special Sitings Remain on Picture Schedule

Portrait sittings for the 1935 Artemisia have been almost completed, according to Ned Morehouse, editor. Lincoln hall was the last of the fraternal organizations to report for their sitting, and a large majority of the hall men had been photographed when the schedule ended.

Few Remain

All the sittings that remain to be taken are those which require a special costume, according to the editor. These include Scabbard and Blade, Coffin and Keys, Gothic 'N' society, Blue Key, Y. W. C. A. cabinet and Cap and Scroll.

No check has yet been made on the percentages of the full membership of the sororities who have had portraits made, so it is not yet known what houses have qualified for the free mounted panel for their chapter room, Morehouse said.

However, the Greek letter organizations will be given an opportunity to qualify during the first of next semester, in order that newly-pledged men and women may be included, and to make sure that all members will be included in the yearbook panel.

Assistant editors include Frances Graf, Annette Priest, Mary Louise Carmody, Marie Morgan, Helene Stark, Esther Lalola, Genevieve Hansen, Elizabeth Juniper, Ruth Palmer, June Bell, Oliver Aymar, Jack Raitt, Philip Shore, Glenn Harris, Russell McDonald, Albert Agee, Dorothy Scarlett, Murray Moler, Eleanor Doan, Dorence Jameson, Winifred Walsh, Orva Selkirk, Lindsay Green, Georgia Cole, Sam Wilson, Betty McCuiston and Ruth Bails.

Professor Silas Feemster of the history and political science department will leave some time during this weekend for Los Angeles, where he will attend the twelfth annual Institute of World Affairs. He will be away a week, returning some time after December 10, when the institute closes. Professor Feemster will take part in twelve round-table discussions and will present the subject for discussion at two of these.

"The Bearing of International Law between the United States and Mexico with Reference to Nationalization" will be presented by Feemster at the round-table discussion on Mexico. In the discussion on Europe he will discuss "German Foreign Policy in Eastern Europe."

Arizona vs. Wolves Rumor Is Spiked

The Arizona rumor was laid low yesterday and Nevada grid warriors have hung up their moleskins for the season. Joe McDonnell, graduate manager, announced at that time that the Wolves will not play a post-season game with the Arizona State Teachers' college, or with any other team, nor will the Pack play the Teachers next year.

Attempts were made to arrange a home and home schedule with the Arizona school but the expense involved forced authorities to drop the proposal.

A benefit game between Nevada and Arizona in San Francisco early this month had been proposed.

Alonzo Stagg's Pacific Bengals will meet the Arizona team instead of the Pack, it was reported this week. The game will be played December 8.

New Work Done On Rifle Range

Work on the construction of four new firing points on the rifle range in the barracks building was completed Wednesday, and was used for the first time by the women's rifle team yesterday.

The work was done on the A.S.U.N. appropriation of $50 to the Women's Athletic association and turned over to Sergeant Grant Hustis, who has been in charge of the work. Sheet metal covers the entire west wall of the building back of the new firing points, and deflection plates are set immediately in back of the targets. Bullets striking the plates will be deflected into a trough filled with sawdust and sand.

The new points have target slides that work by gravity. This does away with the old method of wheeling the targets back and forth from the firing points.

Gerow to Speak To Medical Club

Max Kepl, president of Omega Mu Iota, pre-medical fraternity, announced early this week that Dr. J. W. Gerow would be the guest speaker at a meeting of the organization to be held Wednesday, December 12, at 7:30 in the Agricultural building.

Dr. Gerow will address the members of the club and those interested in medicine on "Spinal Anesthesia." Members of the medical fraternity have issued an invitation to all faculty members and students to attend the meeting.

DE MOLAY BALL University Students Are Invited To Attend Christmas Celebration

Students of the University of Nevada are invited to attend the Nevada De Molay's Christmas ball, to be given in the Civic auditorium tomorrow night, according to Russell Byington, master counselor of the organization. The dance has been approved as an official campus function by Dean Margaret Mack.

Music for the ball will be furnished by Darrell Berry's orchestra.

Confidence Vote

Members of the student body have votes, one being the president of the Block N society, Tom Cashill, and the other the student body president, James Cazier. The chairman of finance control committee, Prof. Frederick Wilson, is a voting member, as is Professor Frederick Wood, a representative from the faculty athletic committee. Harry Frost, an alumnus, also sits on the committee as a delegate representing the alumni association.

Since these students felt that the coaches' committee was meeting too soon and that the committee was composed, they thought, of individuals favorable to Mitchell, they immediately met Tuesday afternoon and arranged a large meeting for that evening. From this gathering they sent a number of delegates to confer with the executive committee of the Alumni association, which was holding a meeting downtown to discuss the forthcoming coaches' committee election. These delegates claimed that the coaches' committee was trying to rush the matter of extending the contract for another year, and requested the executive committee to hold the matter up pending further investigation. This the committee agreed to do.

The coaches' committee met, however, and heard Mitchell's request for another year's contract at his same salary of $3600. No action was taken at that time and one of the faculty members did not appear, leaving the group short of a quorum. On Tuesday afternoon a group of Mitchell supporters started a petition to be signed by those of the football squad who would stand behind their coach and twenty-five names out of the entire squad of thirty pledged their faith in Mitchell. These men have all been contacted by the writer and have nothing but the highest praise for

Band N's Given To Five Today

Under provisions of an amendment voted into the A.S.U.N. constitution last year, five members of the university band were awarded N's at the student body meeting this morning for their services in the band.

Clarence Byrd, Kistler Rivers, William Durbrow, Murray English and Herbert Peck were the members honored. The award, which depicts a white lyre against a blue background with a blue N superimposed on it, was designed by members of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity, which sponsored the amendment.

Qualifications for the wearing of a band letter are five semesters' work in the band, student body membership and the recommendation of the faculty band director.

"Brick." In most instances players voiced condemnation for those who are opposing the mentor.

After the coaches' committee meeting on Wednesday, both groups have been active in rousing interest for their causes.

Tom Cashill, veteran Wolf Pack center, stated that, "As far as I'm concerned, if they will let Mitchell alone he will turn out plenty good teams for this institution. The man has ably demonstrated he knows football by tying for the conference in his first year and winning it last year. I'm standing squarely behind Mitchell and will do all in my power to retain him."

Trend of Votes

It is conceded by most of those vitally interested in the question that Cashill and Cazier will cast their votes for retaining Mitchell. How Wilson and Wood will vote, however, is as yet pretty much of a secret. Harry Frost, alumni representative, simply answered when queried as to his stand that "we (the alumni) are going to see that the kids on the hill get a square deal. We are not going to be rushed but will investigate the situation thoroughly."

Without a doubt the student vote Wednesday will have much to do with the manner in which the committee votes. As yet neither group concerned in the matter knows its own strength or that of the opposition. It was pointed out by those opposing the coach that many of the players who signed the petition did so because they had no alternative, feeling that to commit themselves would be a boomerang in the event that Mitchell is retained. Some hold jobs which they feel they would lose should they speak their minds.

On the other hand, those who support the coach are of the opinion that "sour grapes" on the part of a few troublemakers started the entire show. They feel that only a handful are really opposed to the coach and that a group of agitators is the only active force in the attack.

Just what influence the interested business men of the city will wield is a dubious question. Powerful in the past, in many instances they hold definite views on both sides of the question. Also the alumni will play an important part in solving the issue. As yet there is no conceivable combination of fraternities or sororities either for or against the question, as many of the houses are divided in their stand.

Woman Vote

The woman vote is entirely undecided, since preliminary surveys indicate that not a great deal of information concerning the question is held by them.

The vote was called for by the A.S.U.N. senate and polls will be open all day under a specially picked committee. It is to simply be a vote as to whether the majority of the student body are in favor of retaining the coach.
