

Campus Organization To Sponsor Lecturer

London Settlement Worker Will Speak Sunday on Campus

Muriel Lester To Be Honored
By Y. W. at Reception;
Lecture at 4:30

Muriel Lester, Great Britain's third greatest woman, will speak to university students and townspeople Sunday, December 16, at 4:30, in the auditorium of the Education building, Betty Howell, campus Y.W.C.A. president, stated this morning. Immediately following the lecture a reception will be held in Miss Lester's honor, at a place to be designated at that time. Arriving here from Salt Lake Sunday noon, Miss Lester is on her way to China and India, where she will continue her social and religious work. Lady Gladys Owen, a co-worker from Kingsley hall, London settlement house which Miss Lester established for the poor, is accompanying her.

Ghandi Visits Her
In order to house as many people as possible in Kingsley hall, Miss Lester and her helpers live very simply, allowing only five shillings a week for clothes and two shillings for pocket money. Last year Mahatma Ghandi stayed at Kingsley while in London, and later Miss Lester was Mr. and Mrs. Ghandi's guest in India for four months. During her tour through the United States Miss Lester has spoken to over 4000 university students, and because of her experience has been selected to lead the discussion at Asilomar, Y.W.C.A. conference, this year.

Miss Lester is being brought to Nevada by the committee on lectures and assemblies, under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A.

Three Given Bids By Cap and Scroll

Helene Stark, Elizabeth Frey and Grace Semenza were presented bids to join Cap and Scroll, women's upper-class honorary, this morning at the A.W.S. meeting.

Sarah Graves presented the bids, announcing that the women were chosen because they had been outstanding in college during the past three and one-half years. All of the women bid are seniors.

Cap and Scroll is a club organized for the purpose of developing the highest ideals on Nevada's campus by combining in organized form the women of the university who are leaders in student life and activity. Members are usually elected in the spring from the junior class, however, if any women are outstanding and eligible for membership in the following fall semester three may be elected.

Initiation services for the candidates will be announced later by President Sarah Graves.

Play Productions Expenses Reduced

That each successive play presented by the University of Nevada Play Productions is costing each individual student less is evidenced by the figures released yesterday by Wm. C. Miller, dramatic director, on the outlay and income in the presentation of Ibsen's "A Doll's House" last week.

Last year the plays cost each student approximately 8 cents per production, which was taken from the $10 general fee, not charged at the door. "A Doll's House" entailed expenses amounting to $76, with $81 taken in at the door, an average cost of but 2 cents per student, due largely to increased paid attendance from the faculty and downtown people.

"If the present trend continues," Miller said, "we will soon be presenting our shows without cost to the student body. That is the goal toward which we are working."

Five Engineers To Be Graduated

Although only five engineering students are scheduled to graduate at Christmas time, Frederick H. Sibley, dean of the college of engineering, stated today that this is "an unusually large number" inasmuch as the average number of engineers who graduate at the end of the first semester is only two or three.

The students who will graduate are: James Wallace, civil; Vladimir Kravetsky, electrical; Victor Promptoff, mechanical; Frank Sam and John Curtis, mining.

MURIEL LESTER

Social worker, who will address university students and townspeople Sunday afternoon.

MERRY CHRISTMAS! GRADES CAN'T MAR THIS HOLIDAY!

It will be a very merry Christmas this year for both faculty and students.

Grades will not be issued until about December 29, avers Miss Louise Sissa, registrar, which precludes any possibility of the arrival of grade slips casting any gloom over festivities.

The faculty will have thrust any feelings of guilt or doubt behind them long before Christmas, for their latest possible deadline for grades to reach the office of the registrar is December 24, and Miss Sissa emphatically requests that they make all possible haste in clearing up their final work.

Examinations have begun earlier than usual this year, which seems to indicate that the registrar's office may have the grade situation well in hand soon after the close of the semester, so perhaps they too may have a carefree Christmas.

Railroad Rates Go Into Effect

Students of the University of Nevada who will travel homeward for the Christmas holidays will be able to do so at bargain railroad prices. The annual rate fares offered by the Southern Pacific railroad went into effect yesterday and will run until the first of the year, with the return limit set at January 15.

On the Southern Pacific regular system round trip fares have been reduced to the original one way fare plus 50 cents. Under the rates, a round trip fare to San Francisco will cost $7.81, to Elko $9.74, to Los Angeles via Sacramento $18.61 and to Tonopah $10.35.

Astronomical Club Formed on Campus

The first step in the organization of an amateur astronomical association was taken Tuesday night when Professor G. B. Blair of the physics department was appointed temporary chairman of the group. George Humphrey was given the post of temporary secretary.

Following the appointment of temporary officers, a committee consisting of Professor Blair and Professor Vincent P. Gianella was appointed to draw up the constitution and by-laws of the group, to be presented at the next meeting of the association. Another committee, consisting of Blair, Gianella and Charles H. Gorman, comptroller of the university, was appointed to arrange a program for the next meeting.

During the evening a discussion on problems encountered in the building of amateur telescopes was held, with both Gianella and Gorman explaining work being done on the construction of their own telescopes.

The association was formed for the purpose of interesting Reno residents and students in astronomy, and it is planned to make the organization state wide in scope. The next meeting will be held in January at the call of Professor Blair.

Regents to Meet Here Saturday

The board of regents of the University of Nevada will meet on the campus Saturday afternoon for the transaction of regular business, Dr. Walter E. Clark said yesterday.

Members of the board are George S. Brown, chairman, Silas E. Ross, George Wingfield, A. C. Olmstead and Frank Williams. Miss Carolyn Beckwith is secretary of the board.

McMenamin Sole Nevada Candidate For Rhodes Prize

Bill McMenamin, senior student at the University of Nevada, will be the only applicant to appear before the Nevada Rhodes scholarship committee when it meets in January, C. M. Chatfield announced today.

Several tentative applications from Nevada students now attending other institutions failed to materialize as the closing date for filing passed this week. McMenamin will appear before the recently selected state committee, consisting of President Walter E. Clark, chairman, Prof. Paul Harwood, George A. Whitley and C. M. Canfield, on January 3.

In addition to serving on the Nevada committee, Whitley will act as a representative of Nevada on the district committee.

Competition in S. F.
If the McMenamin application is accepted by the state group he will go to San Francisco on January 7. There he will compete with students from California, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado for one of the two scholarships from this district.

These scholarships carry with them a value of about $2000 and offer unusual opportunities for study in liberal arts, jurisprudence, theology, engineering and the sciences. Part of the time provided for by the scholarships must be spent at Oxford, while one year may be spent in any other European or British college of the scholar's choice.

Vacancies Will Be Filled Next Term

Appointments to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of Jack Hughes and Herbert Peck as yell leader and song leader will be made at the beginning of next semester, James Cazier, student body president, announced today. If any basketball games should be played before the appointments are made, Emile Gezlin and Louis Wiener, assistant yell leaders, will be in charge of the rooting sections, according to Cazier.

Hughes was forced to resign his position as yell leader because he will be unable to attend basketball games and rallies this season, while Peck tendered his resignation as he expects to be graduated at the end of this semester.

Election Planned By Greek Council

The Interfraternity council will meet in Morrill hall in a special session Monday to be called by President Elmer Hawkins for the election of the officers for the forthcoming semester.

In the last meeting two suggestions were made for the tenure of office of the president and the other offices from a one semester to a two semester term. The other was to have the president and the vice president of each house automatically become the representative to the Interfraternity council.

Hawkins said that the trophies for intramural sports would be presented to the presidents of the respective houses next semester.

GEOLOGISTS SEE QUAKE PICTURES

A series of photographs of earthquake phenomena, which were taken by Vincent P. Gianella, associate professor of geology, were shown by means of lantern slides to his class in geology 8 recently.

There were numerous photographs of the destruction done by the recent Long Beach earthquake, taken by Gianella shortly after the quake. Effects of several quakes centering around Mina were also shown.

BERRY'S BAND TO PLAY Will Entertain at Elk Charity Ball In Tonopah Dec. 15

Darrell Berry and his campus band and the Stringham sisters will provide music and entertainment for the annual Elks' charity ball held in Tonopah, December 15, it was announced last week.

Those who will take the trip are: Mary and Beth Stringham, Darrell Berry, Lyman Clark, Dean Crandall, Clarence Byrd, Embree Raiford, Jerry Salter, Max Kepl, Claire Gilnet.

FROLIC GIVEN IN FALLON

A miniature Wolves Frolic was presented in Fallon by members of the show's cast Thanksgiving eve.

Over twenty acts, skits and musical selections from the original frolic were included in the show, which was well received by the Fallon audience, according to Darrell Berry and Clarence Byrd, sponsors of the presentation.

INCANDESCENTS BURN LATE AS EXAMS NEAR

With but 144 hours left in which to write term themes, "cram" for final exams, and do a semester's studying, midnight oil is being burned in all fraternity and sorority houses on the "hill."

Lights burn longest in the Theta house, with those in the Gamma Phi house running a close second. The Phi Phi and the Tri-Delt lights go out reasonably early.

Lights stay on longer at the Lambda Chi than at any other frat house. The Phi Sig lights are out by 11:30. Lights are out early at the S.A.E. house, too.

Manzanita hall is illuminated far into the wee hours this week. The "Maizies" are taking advantage of a good thing while it lasts, for their lights will be turned off at midnight next week.

Results of the last minute rush will be higher electric light bills and, perhaps, better grades.

Jeffers Elected Independent Head For Coming Year

Elwin Jeffers, prominent junior student, was elected president and senator of the Independent students during a short meeting last Wednesday afternoon. Jeffers replaces Ned Morehouse as both president and representative to the A.S.U.N. senate.

Because of the small number of women present at the meeting no election was held to pick a woman representative to the senate to fill the vacancy left by Mary Murphy, who was the Independent representing the women students.

It was announced by President Jeffers that a meeting will be held next Wednesday at 4:15 in the Student Union building for the purpose of electing a woman representative.

"All students who are not members of the dormitory associations or of a fraternity or sorority are urged by Jeffers to be present at this meeting in order that the vote be representative."

U. N. Armory May Be Constructed

A possibility that an armory for use by the Nevada Reserve Officers Training corps may be constructed on the campus was made known by Dr. Walter E. Clark upon his return from a meeting of the Land Grant Colleges association held in Washington, D.C., recently.

The construction of armories on land grant college campuses is being advocated by the association, and if the plan is approved one of the armories may be built at the University of Nevada.

Musical Concert Is Well Received At Century Club

Presenting its first concert of this school year, the University-Community orchestra Wednesday night gave its annual mid-year concert at the Twentieth Century club. The program was well received by a large and appreciative audience. Solists for the evening were: Mrs. Harriet Ihrig, who presented several violin selections, and Louis Raychel, flutist, who played three solos on that instrument.

The program was under the direction of Prof. Theodore H. Post, director of the department of music. The concert was made possible by the Century club and Mrs. A. J. Buell, chairman of the program committee.

The second appearance of the orchestra will also be in the Century club, Sunday, December 16. At this time the school organization will assist the Century club choral group in presenting its annual Christmas concert.

Band Fraternity Honors Initiates

In honor of the initiation of six new members, Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, held an initiation banquet at the Monarch cafe last Friday night. Kistler Rivers, president of the organization, presided.

Entertainment was provided by the new pledges. Those present were: Al Manhan, Lindsay Green, Al Fancher, Lyman Clark, Ellis Ceander and Dale Hart, new members, and Kistler Rivers, Darrell Cain, William Durbrow, Morgan Mills, F. D. Graves and Murray English, regular members.

Leola Hawkins Dies Suddenly Wednesday Night

Leola "Dolly" Hawkins, prominent junior student, died late Wednesday evening at the home of her sister on University avenue following an illness of ten days' duration. Funeral services will be held for her tomorrow, December 15, at 2 o'clock at the Ross-Burke chapel.

Miss Hawkins was well known in Reno, where she attended Reno high school and the University of Nevada, where she was enrolled in the college of arts and science. She graduated in 1932 from high school and was active in student activities there.

On the campus Miss Hawkins took an interest in dramatic activities, appearing a year ago in the Wolves' Frolic, annual A.S.U.N. variety show. She was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority. Members of that organization will attend the services tomorrow in a body to honor her, according to Elva Neddert, president, and the sorority insignia worked in flowers will be among the floral offerings.

The dance scheduled for this evening by the sorority and several other social functions have been called off.

"The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hawkins of Palsade, Nev., Miss Hawkins lived here with her sisters, Bertha and June, while attending college. Her father is employed by the Eureka railroad and is well known in eastern Nevada.

Rev. Brewster Adams will conduct the funeral services tomorrow and friends of the deceased have been invited to attend. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

Noted Engineer Will Speak Here

Nevada engineering students and faculty members will be the guests of the campus branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers on January 24, when Fred C. Scobey, world authority on hydraulic problems, will speak.

The speaker, senior irrigation engineer for the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, is scheduled to speak on "Recent Hydraulic Construction in the West." He is chairman of the irrigation division of the American Society of Civil Engineers and has been associated with drainage and irrigation projects in many sections of the country.

Research work done by Scobey concerning the flow of water in various types of pipe lines is extensively used by American hydraulic engineers. He is the author of numerous articles for the technical press journals and has edited several government publications.

Students Warned Of Cold Epidemic

Warnings against an epidemic of streptococcal throat infection that has already caused many students to miss classes were issued today by Mrs. Shurtliff, matron of the campus infirmary.

Students suffering from colds or sore throats were requested to report to the infirmary for treatment as soon as possible, in order to stave off any illness of major proportions.

Among students who have been confined at home because of illness recently are George Warren, Victor Arobie, Frank Smalley, Bill Blackledge, John Benson, Edward Dumont and Bill Cokrell.

Fine Arts Group Exhibits Etchings

Local art connoisseurs viewed a collection of etchings exhibited this week, at the Library building, by the Fine Arts group.

The exhibition consisted of both dry plate and etched plate pieces, which included five colored etchings, done by a young Austrian artist, depicting scenes in his native country.

The entire exhibit was loaned to the Fine Arts group by Charles F. Cutts, 643 Ralston street, Reno, local art collector, who has acquired a valuable collection of etchings during extensive traveling in all parts of the world.

NOTICE TO ALL INDEPENDENTS

There will be a meeting of all students who are not members of fraternities or sororities or of the hall associations in the Student Union building at 4:15 next Wednesday. This meeting is called for the purpose of electing a woman representative to the senate. Plans will also be made for next semester's activities. Ned Morehouse.

Statement Is Issued By Coach Concerning Football 'Shakeup'

A NEW HERCULES? PERHAPS; P. E. TESTS HELD

A new campus Hercules may now be walking on the campus since the freshman and sophomore track, tennis, swimming and football men grunted their way through the mid-year strength tests in the gym last weekend.

But the possibility is rather slim, however, since J. E. "Doc" Martie, head of the men's physical education department, said that he had heard of no such Hercules.

"The figures," Martie stated, "will not be available until the end of this semester or some time the next, but I'm sure that if any records had been broken some upperclass man would have been shouting it from the housetops."

Freshman and sophomore students must gather three times each year in the gym for "strength tests," while upper division men measure their chest expansion, height, weight, "bi-ceps, down and up," and "now take a deep breath and cough twice."

Strength tests and the idea of getting out of bed before 7 o'clock in the morning two days a week are what scare most of the men into begging the campus physician for medical excuses which have the magical quality of getting them permanently released from this trial.

Change in Grading May Be Proposed

Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the university, yesterday said that no suggestions of a change in the grading system now in use has been officially brought to his notice, although several suggestions to change the system have been made in recent years.

It has been reported that a group of professors are advocating a system which will call for gradings of "passing condition" and "failure," to replace the present numerical grading system now in use.

Clark, however, said that if such a change is proposed in a general meeting of the faculty, a committee to investigate the proposal would be appointed and a report then made.

Hill Greeks Elect Officers for '35

Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon officers for next semester were elected in the fraternities' meetings Monday night.

Alpha Tau Omega chose Brooks Park president, James McNeely keeper of annals, Robert Nelligan secretary, Cecil Cheal treasurer, Clarence Byrd reporter, George Hickey usher, William Johnstone sentinel and Merle Atchison chaplain.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon officers will be: John Sullivan, president; Herman Freudenberg, vice president; Lindsay Green, secretary; John Majors, warden, and Kirk Fairhurst, herald.

CLASS SCHEDULES FOR 1935 DUE AFTER CHRISTMAS

Class schedules for next semester will not be available until after Christmas, Professor H. P. Boardman, who is in charge of the committee now working on the schedules, said today.

Although considerable work has been done already, and the results will probably go to the printer by the end of the semester, the finished schedules will not be out by the time the students leave for Christmas holidays.

The original of the large class schedule blue prints is practically complete, and copies to be distributed to the various buildings will probably be finished shortly after Christmas.

Hicks Conducts Interviews in Elko

Dr. Charles Roger Hicks, professor of history and political science and special representative of the United States employment service for Nevada, assisted by Dr. Oliver C. Short, the special representative from Washington, D. C., is conducting personal interviews in Elko Tuesday for persons in that district who passed examinations given last September by Dr. Hicks.

Positions in Nevada state employment offices and national reemployment offices will be filled by William Royle, state director, from the list of names of the successful candidates.

Dr. Short returned to Washington after his work in Elko.

Campus Opinion Remains Divided On Coach Question

Coaches Committee Meeting
May Be Held Early
Next Week

MITCHELL STATEMENT Senate Executive Committee Declares Confidence Vote Unconstitutional

By FORREST BIBB
With the proposed confidence vote scheduled for Wednesday peremptorily called off by the action of the dictatorial senate executive committee, the question of whether C. L. "Brick" Mitchell will remain as Nevada football coach is still as much in the air as ever.

Vote Called Off
The vote, supposed to have been held Wednesday, was Monday night declared unconstitutional by the executive committee and was not held. The action of the committee was in itself unconstitutional inasmuch as it acted beyond its power.

Coaches Committed
The final decision seems now to be left entirely to the coaches' committee, but when it will meet is not known. It is rumored that some time next week a meeting will be called, but just how far it will go in determining on Mitchell's contract is not known.

Interviewed by the writer, Coach Mitchell, who last night returned from the Pacific Coast conference meeting at Palm Springs, issued the following statement:

Mitchell Statement
"Conditions that have existed at the University of Nevada for the past decade are such that no coach can possibly hope to succeed. Before I will even consider contracting my time to the Associated Students, the several factors mitigating against favorable results will have to be removed in some cases and readjusted in others."

Mitchell, who will leave Sunday night to attend the Far Western conference meeting in San Francisco, said that until the present conditions are entirely cleared up and a definite understanding reached he would not consider renewing his contract.

Meanwhile, factions supporting and opposing the coach continued their fight for the control of student opinion. Since the general vote was called off the campus appears to be as split as originally over the question, both sides claiming a majority.

Cases May Be Tested
It is generally supposed that individuals with cases to present for and against Mitchell will appear before the committee, but a definite answer could not be obtained from Graduate Manager Joe McDonnell, chairman of the committee. It was not possible to learn whether or not the committee members themselves were ready to vote next week.

Six New Senators Elected by Groups

Election of representatives to the A.S.U.N. senate occupied much of the time of fraternities, sororities and organizations this week, with the result that at least six students have been assured that they will serve in the governing body next semester.

Five of the students will serve in the senate for the first time, and include Walter States, Lambda Chi Alpha; Robert Butler, Beta Kappa; Florence Kirkey, Kappa Alpha Theta; Tom Morris, Lincoln Hall association, and Elwin Jeffers, Independents. Jeffers was elected by the Independent organization two years ago but did not return to school. Carl Dodge, Alpha Tau Omega, was reelected.

The newly elected representatives will be sworn into the senate when it convenes next semester.

New Lathe Installed In U. N. Machine Shop

With the installation of a new lathe in the engineering machine shop this week, the number of students which the shop will accommodate has been increased about 10 per cent.

The addition of the new machine completes a program of improvement in the laboratory which commenced in the early part of the semester with the installation of six large forges.

University Buys Talking Motion Picture Machine

Engineers Hear, See Prominent Lecturers With Aid of New Projector

University of Nevada students can now see and hear for the first time many of the world's leaders in art, science, engineering and literature give lectures right here on the campus on subjects in their respective fields.

Dr. Irving Langmuir, eminent scientist, first of the speakers in this series, talked at a meeting of the campus branch of the A.I.E.E. Wednesday night in the Electrical building, describing his work with vacuum tubes and hydrogen which led to the development of the atomic-hydrogen welding process. His talk was entitled "The Hottest Flame on Earth."

It is important to remember, of course, that these speakers do not appear in person but are presented by the electrical engineers with the aid of a new portable sound motion picture projector, recently purchased by the university. The words which emanate from this new machine are as clear and distinct as those heard in a regular theater which has talking equipment.

According to Stanley G. Palmer, professor of electrical engineering, the talking machine will be used in practically every department in the university for educational purposes. Palmer also said that it is now possible to obtain these films without cost on many different subjects in various fields and the list is gradually increasing.

Care and handling of the machine, known as the Holmes Sound-on-Film projector, will be left to the electrical engineers.

HOT SPOT

With a sigh we give you: THE RAMBLING WRECK FROM OLD NAPA TECH, KNOWN AS MALLITCH

This week we have chosen a prize subject to put under the microscope, Shoot and Be Damned Malloy, the Sierra Street Terror, who has finally arrived in the big time and hits the front page.

Mallitch, who hails from Napa, the home of the wandering —s, and what have you Ophelia, is quite a campus character (whose? the wolves holler). We understand that Mallitch was a bonfire baby before her college daze and the R.F.D. hasn't quite got

Sibley Criticizes Teaching Methods

In a recent issue of the Journal of Engineering Education, Dean of Engineering Frederick H. Sibley published an article on "Educational Waste," in which he stated that many of the wastes in educational time and money may be charged to bad methods of teaching in the classroom and laboratory.

Sibley states that "the objective of technical instruction is still in the main the storing of students' minds with facts instead of training them to think. It is inspiration and not facts that counts in teaching."

The engineering dean's article concludes with the suggestion that "of all wastes the greatest is that of educating the unfit."

the fire out yet. Smoke gets in my eyes, Petunia.

Malloy has a walk like a dyspeptic Pi Phi on the morning after, in fact she has a hard time getting her whole heel off the ground, the poor hee!

Love Life: Can I borrow your gas mask, Oscar?

Malloy's dancing is poetic, to say the least. It reminds one of the "Charge of the Light Brigade" or "Into the Valley of Death with Malloy's Five Hundred."

Her rise on the social ladder has been meteoric. It might be written into history under the title of "From Sheepherder to Football Hero (Thies, Cashill and the Block N society) in One Lesson." Helen is a triple threat gal, her pappy has three shotguns.

Malloy has such an appetite for milk that the Tri Delt is thinking of buying a cow. We don't know why they should go to that expense when there are already so many in the immediate vicinity (next door).

Every time Malloy steps back into the dance after a breath of air the chaperones run up and say, "My God, Lozano, you're wounded."

Where she can be found—as they have no phone under the Tri Delt chaperfield it might be well to call the solarium of the A.T.O. house, or the Madison-Sullivan opera house on North Virginia street.

We'll never forget the momentous time that Helen forgot she wasn't a doughnut down at the Little Waldorf—splash—surprise!

We'll close our little epistle with Malloy's theme song, "Lost in the Fog." I'm a ramblin' wreck from Napa Tech, I do not drink or swear or neck, And that's why I'm a ramblin' wreck, I betcha.

My motto is "I'll do or die," My fun I'll have—and later fry, The boys all like me, I dunno why, (But we do) I betcha.

This week your author became aware of the fact that he was in a position to make one of these beautiful love matches we're always hearing about. Will Austin, Signature love cub, dropped in and said that he figured that if he could get his name in the colyum his redheaded friend would be impressed with his worldliness. Always willing to oblige, kid; let us know if she's sufficiently impressed, maybe we'll try it out. Hi, Suery!

We hear that Garbo is practically out of business since "A Doll's House" was presented. Graf, however, has agreed to give the willowy Swede one more year to make her fortune, after which time she'll have to stand the competition or get out.

A certain fat man, our candidate for the rumble seat championship of the world, from a house on Lake street, is going to have to find himself a new steady wench if he can't give up demon rum and lay off these dancers out at the Tavern. When questioned as to whether or not his love knew of his goings-on he merely replied in characteristic fashion.

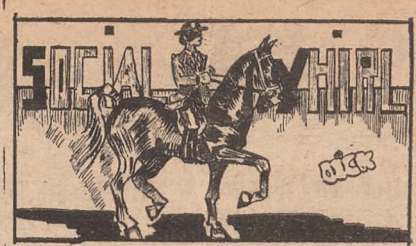

The Tri Delt has a hard time keeping their younguns in line when Lloyd and Paul, the Leonard twins, decide to make a night of it. The Three D card party the other night turned into quite an affair when Tucker and Erickson blew in, put on their impromptu floor show for the benefit of all the cash customers—in the persons of all the elderly ladies of the town. Boy, have they got troubles.

Cadet Drill Room Found Too Small By Campus Army

Because of the increased enrollment this year the R.O.T.C. unit at the University of Nevada has found the drill room on the top floor of the barracks to be inadequate, and plans are being made to clear the west room on the lower floor to accommodate half of the unit on Friday drill days, Captain H. W. Isbell, instructor, said.

When the room will be ready for use cannot be predicted because of the amount of work that will be necessary to remove the stove wood and electrical supplies stored there, and to install stoves.

At present the three companies are being rotated between the military room on the top floor of Stewart hall and the barracks, two companies drilling in the latter every Friday morning.

Lincoln Hall Gives Christmas Dance

Lincoln Hall association gave a Christmas dance on Saturday evening. The Christmas theme was carried out during the program and presents were given to all of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harwood and Robert Griffin were the chaperones. Darrell Berry's orchestra furnished the music.

Phi Sigs Entertain

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity gave a Christmas dance last Friday evening. Guests were presented with gifts from a Christmas tree decorated in a true Christmas style. Mr. and Mrs. H. Frost were the chaperones.

Sigma Nu Gives Dance At Coconut Grove

Sigma Nu fraternity entertained last Friday night with an informal dance at the Coconut grove ballroom. Decorations and favors were suggestive of the Christmas season. Richard Hillman and his orchestra furnished music for the social. Professor and Mrs. Harold N. Brown were chaperones for the affair.

Kappa Alpha Theta Formal Tonight

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will entertain at its annual winter formal tonight at the Riverside hotel. Chaperones for the dance will be Mrs. C. Phelps, Miss Blanche Wyckoff, Mr.

and Mrs. Robert Bankoffier. Darrell Berry and his orchestra will furnish music for the affair.

Lambda Chi Gives Christmas Party

A well attended Christmas party was given by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity last Friday night at the fraternity club. Each guest was presented with a Christmas present which ranged from a flatiron to a doll buggy. Chaperones for the dance were Dean Margaret Mack, Miss Louise Sissa, Professor and Mrs. J. A. Carpenter.

Gamma Phi Beta Postpones Dance

Gamma Phi Beta sorority has postponed its last dance of the semester until next term. The last social function of the semester will be the annual muffin worry, given by the pledges. The program will include a Christmas party and skits. It will be held next Thursday night.

Delta Delta Delta Holds Card Party

Delta Delta Delta sorority entertained with a series of card parties the last weekend at the chapter house. Guests were entertained both afternoon and evening and, following the card games, refreshments were served by the hostesses. Katherine Luke was in charge of the parties.

Faculty Plans for Christmas Party

Plans for the annual Christmas party to be given just after New Year's were discussed at the last meeting of the Women's Faculty club, which was held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Hill. Mrs. Murgotten, president of the club; Miss Sarah Lewis, Miss Edith Reubsam and Miss Charlotte Pope were co-hostesses with Mrs. Hill.

Mrs. Carl Stoddard read some of her original poems after which refreshments were served.

The Women's Faculty club is a purely social organization for the wives of the faculty and women faculty members.

- ... it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler

Women Students Vote to Abolish Activity System

A. W. S. Constitution Changed By Women in Last Meet Of Year

Student Loan Fund of Group Will Be Available by Next Semester

The Associated Women Students point system was voted out of the A. W. S. constitution this morning at a meeting of the group.

Other constitutional provisions abolished included the office of historian, the first meeting of the women's upper-class committee with the freshmen at the beginning of each year, and a clause regarding finances which was a duplication in the constitution.

Abolishing the point system means that the A.W.S. will have no record of women's activities and this will be checked only by the sororities and other campus organizations. The complicated system which has never been effective has been in operation for several years. The vote was unanimous, with Elva Neddnerlep, Elizabeth Frey, Helene Stark, Blanche Keegan and Cornelia Arentz explaining why it should be abolished.

Report Made

A report on the loan fund was made by Chairman Alice Lundberg. To date $50 has been turned in for the fund and girls will be eligible to obtain loans early next semester. The fund has been built up by contributions from the A.W.S., W.A.A., Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, Cap and Scroll and proceeds from the recent fashion show.

Frances Burke announced that $70 has been turned in as the final amount made on the candy sales sponsored by the A.W.S. this year.

President Nell Lozano announced that the big sister committee would function next semester and the membership would be the same as this semester: Inez MacGillivray, Betty Howell, Florine Maher and Helene Stark.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Dean Margaret Mack announced that the Stewart hall rest room would be closed if the women did not take better care of it in the future. She also asked that women having locks on the lockers turn in a duplicate key to her. This must be done by next week, she said.

Three freshman women tradition violators entertained with a skit and a poem. The girls are Mary Barbara Woodburn, Peggy Gill and Aldene Branch.

Alice Sauer entertained with a reading entitled "E'er Something."

Manzanita Plans Yuletide Dinner

Sunday afternoon, students and members of the faculty who board at the dining hall will have their annual Christmas dinner, Miss Margaret E. Mack, dean of women, stated today. The rooms will be decorated with Christmas trimmings and a tree, and Christmas carols will be sung. A number of guests are invited each year. Among those to be present this year are Dean and Mrs. Thompson, Dean and Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Post and President and Mrs. Clark.

Y.W.C.A. Floating Committee Meets

The floating university committee of the campus Y.W.C.A. held a meeting last Monday, when the point system was discussed.

Plans were also made for next semester, when various members will give talks on subjects of world interest. The general campus will be welcome at these meetings, it was announced.

Anyone who wants to go to Asilomar was urged to hand in her name to Mary Pappas, head of the committee.

Home Ec Women Prove Pudding Is Very Good Eatin'

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." So believe seven senior students of dietetics who proved this old adage last Friday by testing their scientific knowledge of cookery and calories in the home economics department.

Beginning at 7:30 Friday morning, the women prepared, served and ate three selected meals that had been planned in advance according to the needs of each.

The three balanced meals had been chosen beforehand from menus submitted by the women enrolled in the course, taking into account the calories and the vitamin and mineral content of the foods. They included a breakfast, a lunch and a dinner.

Contrary to the popular opinion that balanced meals are only an idea of the health faddists, every woman reported the meals to be scientifically correct, as well as dainty and wholly satisfactory.

The women expressed the opinion that the project was one of the most interesting and beneficial ever attempted by the class.

A.W.S. Loan Fund May Total $50

More than $50 in contributions from the various women's organizations will be received by the A.W.S. for the loan fund sponsored by this group, before the next meeting, scheduled for December 14.

Each of the women's societies and organizations, of which there are fourteen, gave $1 to the fund, and this, added to the $25 donated by the A.W.S. itself and $16 cleared on the fashion show, raises the total contribution this semester to more than $50.

Nell Lozano, president of A.W.S., who has charge of the loan fund committee, stated that loans were to be limited to $10. A new set of rules and requirements have been drawn up, which will be read at the next A.W.S. meeting.

Asilomar Delegates And 'Stuck-Up' Will Be Elected Today

Election of a "stuck-up" and two delegates to be sent to the joint Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. conference at Asilomar from December 26 to January 2, will be held today, December 14. The women who were nominated by the Y.W.C.A. cabinet as delegates are Dorothy Phillips, Alma Schiappacasse, Mary Corecco, Marianne Severne, Betty Howell and Rita Gunter. Two from this group will be elected as delegates and two as their alternates by a vote of all members of the Y.W.C.A.

The "stuck-up" will also be chosen today by a stuck-up committee composed of Mrs. Simas, Miss Mack, Frankie Burke, Verdie Fant and Betty Howell. The girl who receives this honorary position will be chosen on the basis of scholarship, personality, appearance and other important characteristics. The "stuck-up" works at the camp during the conference periods, and holds a very coveted place.

This is the second year Nevada has sent a representative in this position. Delegates to this conference are sent each year from universities of California, Utah, Arizona and Nevada.

STUDENT RECOVERING

Walter Bartlett, junior student, was operated on recently for mastoid infection at St. Mary's hospital in Reno. His condition was reported critical, but he is now believed to be recovering. Bartlett is a resident of Fallon.

When sophomores bent on initiating freshmen seized a young professor by mistake at the University of Tennessee, hazing of freshmen was promptly abolished by the startled faculty.

Champ Swimmer In Co-Eds' Meet To Be Discovered

The women's champion handicap swimmer will be found when the women's physical education swimming classes hold a closed meet at Moana Springs on the afternoon of Wednesday, December 19.

Handicaps will be imposed according to the ability of the swimmer, giving all contestants an equal chance in the events scheduled, which include relay, tandem and free style races.

The physical education 52-class will give lifesaving and artificial respiration demonstrations, and will arrange novelty swimming games for the contestants.

At a recent student election at the University of Missouri political science teachers were amazed at the complete understanding of political procedure shown by students when there were 200 more ballots cast than there were persons registered for the election.

A DIFFICULT TASK

When the "confidence vote" on the matter of sounding student opinion regarding the football situation fizzled out through the high-handed action of the senate executive committee, many members of the opposition felt that the student body had been unfairly dealt with. To be sure, many questions might be asked as to just what influences prompted the action, but the answers would be vague—the single fact remains that the coaches' committee is now invested with the important job of deciding the issue.

It cannot be denied that the students should have the ultimate say in this matter. Granted that even a general confidence vote would have been unrepresentative of true opinion in some degree and that Coach Mitchell would have been put in an awkward position, it is nevertheless true that the students who employ him should have the decisive voice in the matter of his retention.

Just how the coaches' committee meeting will be conducted is not entirely clear, but if the committee is a fair one it will give all those individuals opposed to renewing Coach Mitchell's contract a fair hearing and will judge the case in a manner which will serve the university to its best interests. Also it will give Mitchell an equally fair hearing.

As a committee, the members who will make this decision are ultimately responsible to the A.S.U.N. and they have a difficult task on their hands—that of satisfying an unknown majority. The Sagebrush has already stated its views on the situation and still believes them to be true.

The matter will probably be settled next week, and in the meantime the eyes of the campus are turned to the coaches' committee.

NEW SENATORS

With the ending of the present semester, many campus organizations will soon elect representatives to the A.S.U.N. senate, replacing senators whose terms have expired. The position is one of the most important that any individual could possibly hold, for it is in the senate that many of Nevada's problems must be solved.

In selecting their new representatives, the organizations on this campus would do well to choose one of their best potential leaders to send to the senate, a leader interested not in the slight honor of the position but in the sincere desire to improve many of the weak spots in our present form of government. There is much work to be done and if anything is to be accomplished the new blood coming into the senate must be strong blood.

Important executive positions will have to be filled by the newcomers. Representatives to the all-important finance control committee will be elected, and it is finance control that determines the financial well-being of our student body. Other committees of equal importance will have to be selected and, to a large extent, the caliber of those chosen for these jobs will determine the success of the coming semester.

The senate is the heart of our governmental system and it is imperative that the best material available be sent to it. The organizations must bear this in mind when they choose their new representatives and send capable men and women who will really work on the problems which face the student body.

"HUEY'S LATEST"

A picture appeared in the Nevada State Journal this morning under the heading of "Huey's Latest." The personable looking woman whom the caption is about is not, as one might suppose at first glance, the latest sweetheart of the autocratic Louisiana senator. It is worse than that. This one Helen Gilkison is the woman whom Louisiana State university students claim has been appointed to censor their school paper.

It is she who reputedly first saw the student letter in the Louisiana Reveille bitterly criticizing Huey Long for his intervention in university affairs and reported the matter to him. Senator Long undertook to dismiss twenty-six members of the Reveille staff for permitting this letter to appear and rewarded Tattler Gilkison for her sharp eyes by appointing her "censor." Most of the "culprits" reinstated themselves by writing letters of apology, but a few die-hards felt Long's full wrath in being unconditionally dismissed.

Since United States Senator Long undertook to run the whole "shebang" in Louisiana he has been sensitive to any criticism which temperamental editors might express. Through a stiff tax on advertising he punished effectually the New Orleans papers which got out of line with his autocratic policies.

It was the sharp sting of ingratitude which caused him to clamp down on the university's Reveille and appoint Miss Gilkison censor. After playing Lord Bountiful to the extent of making a senator out of a star footballer, paying the fares of students to the "big game," naturally he was irked at the letter criticizing him. Many question severely his act in appointing a censor for the college paper, with all its implications of violation of the constitutional principles of freedom of expression.

However, were a punishment to be suggested we can think of no better one than for Huey Long to have to edit the Louisiana Reveille with Tattler Gilkison spying on him twenty-four hours a day.

Records Elected Head of National Livestock Group

Dr. Edward Records, director of the department of veterinary science in the Nevada agricultural experiment station and Nevada state quarantine officer, was elected president of the United States Livestock Sanitary association at the annual meeting in Chicago early this week.

This organization, originally founded in 1896 to assist in Texas fever eradication among cattle in the southern states, has gradually expanded until it is now the largest organization of its kind in the world. It is composed of livestock sanitary officials and animal disease research workers from every state and Canada, and its scope of activity covers every phase of animal disease control, meat and milk inspection, and eradication work on every animal disease known to be transmissible to man.

Badminton Aces To Get Awards

Varsity awards will be given to the two women winning the interclass badminton tournament, and proficiency awards given to the runners-up, Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor in women's physical education, said today.

The tournament has been under way for the last week, being conducted in two divisions. Seniors in the Tuesday-Thursday group who are now ahead are Nell Lozano and Helene Stark, while Mary Mathews and Emily Tholl are first among the freshmen.

In the Monday-Wednesday section the sophomore team, composed of Orpah Morgan and Katherine Luke, holds first place. Freshmen in this group have not yet played off their games.

Engineers Discuss Joining A. S. M. E.

Final plans for making the campus branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers a regular member of the national organization were discussed at a meeting of mechanical engineers in Dean Frederick H. Sibley's home Tuesday night.

Much of the meeting, which was attended by about 20 members of the university group, was devoted to informal discussion on the Diesel engine and next year's Homecoming celebration.

Fulton Predicts Developments Will Assist University

John A. Fulton, director of Mackay school of mines at the University of Nevada, returning from southern Nevada after predicting that vast industrial developments would follow the completion of the Boulder dam project, stated that this development would bestow many direct benefits on the university.

According to Fulton, industrial development will furnish an outlet for university graduates, by increasing the demand for technical experts, and the university itself will receive financial aid through the increase in taxable wealth, brought about by this newly invested capital.

During his address in southern Nevada he declared that the market area for products manufactured here is exceedingly large, and urged that Nevada make its share of the power available at cost, to interest industry, as one of the prime factors in inducing men to locate here.

This speech was made before the annual Boulder canyon excursion of San Francisco engineers, a group of engineers interested in the Boulder dam project.

'Doc' Martie Will Whittle Hoopster List Down Soon

Prospective Stars Working Hard to Earn Berth on 1935 Pack

The worried expressions on the faces of twenty-five basketball players these days are probably not due to the approaching final examinations but to Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie's announcement that he intends to cut his squad within a few days.

Martie has been running his large number of candidates through arduous paces in the past week of practice, although he is still drilling mainly on fundamentals. With but three members of his last year's squad back for the coming season, "Doc" has been working so far on the inexperienced prospects who are not yet familiar with his system.

The majority of the candidates for the team are composed of sophomores, members of last year's classy frosh team; junior college transfers, and former junior varsity stars.

Martie said Tuesday that he is planning a practice game for Thursday, December 30, with one of the local athletic clubs. The first game of the regular schedule comes late in January, but Martie intends to arrange games early in the month between the two outstanding club teams in this part of the state, the strong Reno Printers and the colorful Virginia City Eagles.

Bruce Gould, varsity center of three years ago, has returned for another season to carry the Nevada colors and appears to be the logical choice for first string center. Gould towers over the 6 foot 3 inch mark, and this advantage of height, combined with his experience, will bolster the Pack considerably.

The places of last year's centers, Vic Carroll and Cecil Stowell, will probably be filled by Gould and Ross Tannehill. The latter, a former all-state player from Virginia City, and an outstanding performer on the Nevada frosh, has shown up well in practice.

Clayton Phillips is the only forward on the 1934 team to have returned for competition this year. Jack Hill and Bob Leighton, three-year men, have graduated, while Dan Ronnow failed to return to school, and George Tharp's athletic career was ended by football injuries last month. Martie has a wealth of material fighting for the vacancies left by these men.

Some of the outstanding prospects for the forward berths are: John Robb, football and junior varsity player; Orr Tregellis, Sacramento J. C. transfer; "Smoky Joe" Kelley, and Malcolm Jones, J. C. transfer. Two members of last season's frosh squad, Stanley Smith and Jack Roguin, will be used at either center or forward positions.

Vernon Tapogna and Allen Lansdon, having completed football season, have returned to compete for their basketball posts as guards. However, these men will be forced to the limit by Vic Arobio and Whit De La Mare, two clever ball handlers.

Oly Glusovich, former all-state player from Tonopah and a junior varsity regular last year, has been working in the first string guard position in several of the latest practices.

Ray Rodriguez and Ted Barnes, guards; Elmer Bawden, Les Gray and George Gattschalk, forwards; Jack Elliot and Craig Moore, centers, are some of the candidates who have been looking good in practice sessions.

George Hadlen has not yet reported for practice as he is recovering from a football injury which hinders his playing.

The Pacific coast should turn out some fine teams next fall as several of the strong teams this year were sophomore elevens. All of the schools in the Far Western conference with represented by comparatively young squads this fall. Graduation will hit San Jose and Fresno harder than any other schools in the league. Outside of the conference, Santa Clara looks to be a promising outfit for the 1935 season with twenty-five letter men expected to be ready for duty when given a cal next season.

With the holiday barnstorming tour definitely off, the Wolf Pack hardwood artists will probably face their first opposition of the season against some local club team. The regular playing schedule opens early in January against Olson's Terrible Swedes, a traveling aggregation from the mid-west. "Doc" Martie seemed none too pleased with this week's practice sessions.

Bill Hinch, veteran S.U.F. end, closed a colorful gridiron career Sunday, turning in an outstanding game against St. Mary's. Hinch, a former all-state basketball player from Virginia City, attended the University of Nevada several years ago, but failed to receive any notice from Nevada's football mentor, Coach Philbrook. He left Nevada, received a scholarship from S.U.F. and went on to gain all-coast honors last season. Although handicapped by injuries this year, he scored several of the Dons' touchdowns and made a

Three Jobs Given By New Student Employment Bureau

Of the twenty-three applications for part time work, 16 of which were male and seven female, received so far by the student employment bureau, three male applicants have already been placed, according to Joe McDonnell, head of the employment bureau.

The bureau is not for the purpose of creating jobs, as some of the applicants seem to think, but it is to place students when there are jobs to fill, McDonnell says. Although the bureau is trying to open new fields for jobs for needy university students, it does not create jobs.

No women have been placed as yet, because of the difficulty of finding places for them. All positions are open to women, but the only places where they are preferred to men are as clerks in department stores, as stenographers, as domestic help or as waitresses at the Century club. Miss Mack has charge of the placing of women students in homes.

New applications will be made out every semester, so that the bureau may have a file of the free hours of each student.

The total cost of the bureau has been $4, which sum was used for the purchase of a file, and mimeographed sheets for application blanks.

thrilling open field run against the Gaels Sunday.

Any possibility of a boxing team at the university this season was definitely set aside this week when it was announced that the financial situation didn't warrant such an activity.

The Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's college, termed by some writers "the luckiest ball team in the United States," once again comes forward to justify such a title. Last Sunday afternoon in the San Francisco university game, a Gael third string lineman grabbed a fumble out of the air and raced 63 yards to a touchdown and seven points, which was enough to win the ball game. This amusing incident happened in the last quarter after S.F.U. had led for the first three quarters of the contest by a 3 point margin. The final statistics were all in the losing eleven's failure.

To the Las Vegas high school grid-ders, congratulations! These boys from the southland have shown their heels to all Nevada high school opposition for four years. In defeating Fallon last Sunday on the Melonpickers' home lot the southerners exhibited just about everything that could be asked from a high school eleven whose material is of a comparatively light nature. Can it be the southern atmosphere, or just what is the cause of such a splendid record?

Beulah Cline, normal student at the university, attended the Las Vegas-Fallon football game in Fallon Sunday. Miss Cline is a graduate of Las Vegas high school.

Nevada Gridders Given Positions On Mythical Team

Three members of the 1934 University of Nevada football team were given all-conference honors this week when they were named on a mythical eleven picked by the Stockton Daily News. Vic Carroll was placed at first string tackle, while George Tharp and Dick Haman were given second team backfield berths.

The gridiron careers of both Tharp and Haman were ruined by unfortunate injuries suffered near the close of the season. Carroll will graduate this year, having completed three seasons of competition.

Carroll was given all-Far Western conference honors last season also, that time winning the first team fullback position. He was a bulwark of the Nevada line this year, leading the defense, and also snagging passes in the Pacific and Chico games for long gains. Carroll was paired at the tackle posts with "Si" Simoni, San Jose captain, who scored all his team's points in two games this season.

Tharp, a hard plugging fullback, led the Nevada attack with his powerful drives, ripping opposing lines to pieces by smashing charges. It was Tharp who crashed over for the Wolf Pack's touchdown in the memorable St. Mary's upset. He suffered two broken ribs and severe back and chest injuries in the C. of P. game which ended his future football playing and dealt a severe blow to Nevada hopes for next year.

Dick Haman, tall sophomore star, had been hailed by coast sports critics as one of the most promising backs in the west. His bullet passes had paved the way for the Nevada scores against St. Mary's and Chico, and his remarkable kicking kept the Wolf Pack's goal line from danger many times this year. However, permanent injuries in the Chico game wrote finish to a bright gridiron future.

Back the Pack in '34. Make this a real Nevada year.

All-Time Team Will Be Named By News Bureau

An all-time football team of the University of Nevada, comprising the 22 greatest individual players who have represented the institution from 1890 to the present day, is being compiled by the news bureau with the help of a group of former football coaches and players.

The team list is being prepared in accordance with a request from George Trevor, football editor of the New York Sun, one of the leading newspapers of the metropolitan area.

As no records have been kept of the players who have represented Nevada in the various games, it has been necessary to go through all of the year-books from 1890 to gather a team roster for each year.

From this composite list various authorities, who have played or coached football in and around Reno for the past 45 years, will select 22 men, 11 past 45 years, will select 22 men, 11 time team, and 11 as alternates.

U. N. Activities Widely Publicized

During the current football season the university news bureau gave Nevada more publicity than it has ever received before, stated Robert Creps, director of the bureau, this week.

"The past year has been a good one, and the news bureau intends to make next semester even better," said Creps. With the football season at a close, basketball news is of particular interest. Fifteen to twenty pictures of prospective players will be taken soon.

The bureau is working on questionnaires received from different eastern newspapers and several sports publications, such as the Spalding Football Guide and the Football Annual, in which summaries of the season's outstanding plays and players are featured.

U. N. Stock Farm Sale Defended by Samuel B. Doten

Declaring that the college of agriculture of the University of Nevada has not been harmed by the suspension of the university stock farm, Samuel B. Doten, director of the Nevada agricultural experiment station, spoke over the local radio station Tuesday noon.

The director said that in some ways the instruction in dairy husbandry has been made more effective than when the college had access to the university farm. He stated, "Arrangements were made by Robert Stewart, dean of agriculture, by which the university now uses the animals and mechanical equipment of a well managed commercial dairy. Business relationships in dairying are here emphasized. Experimental aspects are illustrated by visits to the Newlands experiment farm near Fallon."

The professor said in conclusion that the belief that the college of agriculture has been discriminated against in having its experimental farm taken from it is "erroneous and unjustifiable" because it is "out of line with the facts. In reality, since the closing of the farm in 1931 the college has gone steadily forward," Doten maintained.

Professor Doten has outlined a lecture course in agricultural experimentation which will include lectures in established courses in agronomy, animal husbandry, soils, dairying and other studies by the members of the station staff.

Terrible Swedes To Show Wares Here in January

With plans for a holiday barnstorming tour definitely dropped through inability to get guarantees from other schools, the varsity basketball season will open here on January 14 with Nevada playing Olson's "Terrible" Swedes.

Practice has been going on for over a month now and the team is rapidly whipping into shape. Those players who were out for football season will report immediately but will have a rest during the Christmas holidays, according to J. E. Martie, varsity coach.

The team will practice during the greater part of the holidays and will scrimmage the freshmen and play local teams in the two weeks elapsed before the first game.

There is a great deal of new material to choose from this year but few of the men are experienced. In the opinion of Martie, however, fans may look forward to a representative team this season.

Cal-Nevada Game Will Not Be Played Next Grid Season

Nevada's Wolf Pack will not meet California in their traditional contest in 1935, it was made known yesterday when the Pacific Coast conference football schedule was drawn up at Palm Springs, Calif.

Not only were the Wolves left out of the California schedule but they were not included in the games of any of the other teams of the Pacific Coast conference. For the past several years Nevada has been on California's opening game double header. The coming year the Bears will meet Whittier in place of Nevada on its opening date, September 28.

Aggies to Meet Bears
However, three members of the Far Western conference managed to secure games with the members of the Coast conference. The Cal Aggies will meet the Golden Bears, as usual, in its opening game, as the first part of the Whittier-Aggie-California doubleheader.

San Jose will meet the Stanford Indians in the latter's first game, also on September 28. The College of Pacific Bengals secured two games with strong Pacific Coast conference teams. The first clash of the Stagmen in the big conference will be against U.S.C. at Los Angeles on October 5. Then on November 6 they will give the Golden Bear a chance to avenge himself for the scare handed to him by the Bengals this year when they hold forth against "Stub" Allison's team in Memorial stadium, Berkeley.

The final meeting was concluded when the faculty representatives re-elected Professor H. C. Willett, University of Southern California, president, and Dr. Earl Earl C. Miller, University of California at Los Angeles, secretary.

Dana Re-elected
During the session Herb Dana was chosen to succeed himself as commissioner of the conference. He will be in charge of selecting all football and basketball officials.

WOMEN START RIFLE PRACTICE; SCORES ARE HIGH

Last Tuesday the women out for rifle started firing on the rifle range. There are six new firing points to accommodate the large number out for the sport. From the looks of the score cards there is going to be some real competition for the Circle N awards given the varsity in rifle, Coach Sergeant Hustis declared today.

According to Catherine Dondoro, manager, matches have been arranged with the Universities of Missouri, California, Vermont, Louisiana, Washington, Wichita, Maryland, Michigan, Montana, Carnegie Institution of Technology, Penn State college and Kansas State college. Challenges have been sent to other colleges.

Intercollegiate matches will start February 9 and last through most of March.

Simas Study Used In Legislative Bill

Studies made by Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor in the women's physical education department at the university, will be incorporated in the preparation of a bill for the consideration of the next legislature concerning the adequate enforcement of hygienic conditions in swimming pools throughout Nevada.

In making her proposals, Mrs. Simas has considered the regulations for swimming pools made in Washington, Oregon, Texas, Idaho, California and several eastern states.

According to Mrs. Simas, in so far as she can discover, Nevada is the only state which has no regulations concerning swimming pools.

"Hell week will be abandoned at the University of Tennessee," according to Dr. Sheliga of the school. The decision came after several students of both sexes had been forced to attend classes immorally dressed.
