

Gripping Mystery Given Next Week By U. N. Players

'Double Door' Has Large Cast Starring Grace Semenza As Lead

A battle for power in an old New York family that culminates only on the verge of murder is the story hidden behind "The Double Door," a three-act mystery drama to be presented Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday in the auditorium. The play is under the direction of W. C. Miller.

ROMANTIC LEAD

Helene Per Lee, popular senior thespian and member of Kappa Alpha Theta, supplies heart interest in "The Double Door" to be presented next week by University Play Productions.

Juvenile leads are played by James Parker as the younger brother of Victoria, and Helene Per Lee as Anne Darrow, his fiancée. Both Parker and Miss Per Lee are appearing in their first major campus production, though each has had experience in minor roles in other plays.

Elaborate Stage Set Constructed By Drama Staff

Work on one of the most elaborate stage sets yet attempted began this week under the direction of Lindsay Green, stage manager for the "Double Door," three-act mystery drama, to be presented in the Education auditorium Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Margaret Robinson as Caroline, the spinster's sister, is completely dominated and controlled by her, but finally rebels bringing about the satisfactory ending.

The new set, which will depict a palatial library of a Fifth Avenue mansion in New York City of 1850, has been created by W. C. Miller, director of dramatics.

The supporting cast is composed of Norrison Beatty as Lambert, a detective; Sam Ackerman as Mr. Chase, the man from Tiffany's; Harry Gravelle as William, the houseboy; Willis Dalzell as Telson, the butler; Kathleen Meeks as Louise, a maid; and Jessie McClure as Avery, the housekeeper.

As the permanent scene for all three acts of the play, it will be complete in all of the details of early Victorian style, Miller said.

Mr. Neff, staid and stolid family attorney, and counsellor to Victoria, is played by Griffith MacDonald. Neff, despite his devotion to Victoria, realizes that she is too dominating, and aids in overthrowing her control of the younger set.

Helping Stage Manager Green in the construction are Morgan Mills, assistant manager; Darrel Cain, Kenneth Tedford, and Donald Macdonald.

Dr. John Sully, family physician and friend of the younger Van Bret, is the role portrayed by Carl Dodge, who turns in another excellent performance on the campus stage.

FAMISHED MEN TAKE HOPE

Perpetually hungry fraternity men will be delighted to read that another inter-fraternity council "bean-feed" will be given again this year. Tentatively set for the fourth or fifth of May, tickets will be out soon its being a strictly "stag" affair with only fraternity men invited. The custom was inaugurated last year.

Other officers selected are: Melvin Ruedy, vice-president; Morgan Mills, secretary; Frank Sullivan, corresponding secretary; J. D. Stephens, treasurer; and Orr Tregellas, warden.

Second All-Stag 'Bean-feed' Is Announced By Council; Nominations Are Opened for Officers

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon election brings the total of fraternities who have selected new officers to four. Other officers for the coming term are Bryce Rhodes, Sigma Nu; Bob Butler, Beta Kappa; and Darrel Cain, Delta Sigma Lambda. Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Phi Sigma, and Lambda Chi Alpha have not elected officers.

At their meeting held in Dean Thompson's room in Morrill Hall Monday evening, the inter-fraternity council opened nominations for officers for the coming year. Nominations will remain open for ten days and election of officers will take place at the next regular meeting of the council.

Addition to Graduate List

The name of Angelo Urrutia, business manager of the Artemisia, was omitted by mistake from the official list of graduating seniors for this semester. Urrutia is enrolled in the college of arts and science. The list, released last week by Louise R. Sissa, registrar, includes 128 candidates for graduation.

Signing of the honor roll was featured at the A.W.S. meeting last Friday. Fourteen women signed the scroll, which is a service roll signed by those students who have been outstanding in service to the Associated Women Students during a semester.

The scroll was introduced last spring semester, and the printing was done by Chaplain F. D. Graves.

Dean Margaret E. Mack was the first signer for this semester, followed by Nell Lozano, president of the Associated Women Students; Catherine Dondero, former secretary and newly elected president of the group; Evamae Beemer and Sarah Swett; sophomore and freshman representatives to the executive committee; Sally Fagan, chairman of the women's upperclass committee; Caryl Carman, women's representative to finance control; Blanche Keegan, president of W. ARTEMISIA CHIEF UPSET BY PECULIAR NAMES

Mistaken identities have had Ned Morehouse, editor of the Artemisia, running in circles, according to his own admission, for the past week.

For example, there's the case of Brooks Park, or perhaps it's Wallace Park. He confused Morehouse by signing his name as Brooks and being registered as Wallace Park. Just to complicate the Park situation a little more, there happens to be another collegian with the same name, only it's spelled Parke and his first name is Cecil.

Then there are William and Cecil O'Neal, supposedly two different people, who, much to Morehouse's disgust, turned out to be one and the same person.

Equally confusing are the two William Johnson's and the two William Johnson's who bothered Morehouse for quite some time. Perhaps the worst mix-up of all occurred because of the three Macdonald brothers, all of Lincoln Hall. They all sign their names "G. Macdonald," although one of them happens to be named Donald, while the other two go by Gordon and Griffith. An entirely different Donald Macdonald is also registered at the university.

After puzzles as confusing as these, such little things as spelling Jensen, with an "e" or an "o", spelling it Phillips or Philipps, Hansen or Hanson, do not bother Morehouse much. However, he had to admit that "Boczkiewicz" was a jaw-breaker.

Pre-Med. Students Are Dinner Guests Of Prof. Frandsen

Dr. Peter Frandsen, head of the biology department, honored members of Omega Mu Iota finishing pre-medical courses at the university, with a banquet at his home last Thursday.

Prospective graduates attending the banquet were: Max Kepl, George Burke, Bob Hansen, Emily Richards, Mrs. Houx, Perry Priest, John Sullivan, Darrel Berry, Nell Lozano, Lynn Gerow, Mary Williams and Dick Bagley. All of these students expect to go to medical school next fall.

Another banquet, to be given by the society, for graduating members will be held some time in the near future, according to John Robinson, chairman of the Banquet committee.

New members will not be elected until next fall.

Other officers named by Blue Key are Tom Morris, vice-president; Sterling Johnson, secretary; and LaRue Stark, treasurer. The men issued bids are members of the Sagers, the junior pep organization, with the exception of two elected from the student body at large for service to the campus.

Tennis Team Set For Coming Meets

Coach Scranton Schedules Games For Varsity Netmen

The varsity tennis squad has been narrowed down to eight men, who are practicing regularly in preparation for conference competition.

Coach Chester Scranton picked the squad last week after the completion of the ladder tournament, which has been going on for over a month.

Making up the squad, in the order of their ranking, are, Herz, Leone, Bowrin, Voorhies, Tapogna, Moore, Wanke, and Elliot.

The players have been severely handicapped by weather conditions. A match against the Reno Tennis club, originally scheduled for last Sunday, had to be postponed, and has been tentatively set for this Sunday.

A match with a combined team composed of players from Gardnerville and Carson has been scheduled for Wednesday at Gardnerville.

Phi Sigs Trounce S. A. E.'s As Greek Baseball Advances

In a game which kept spectators thrilled throughout, the Phi Sigma Kappa baseball team upset the strong Sigma Alpha Epsilon nine 12-9 last Friday afternoon.

Having nosed out Lambda Chi Alpha 5-4 last week, the S.A.E. players were expected to win the contest, and were considered strong contenders for the title.

The game was featured by expert pitching of Joe Jones, Phi Sig moundsman, while Flournoy, Tregellas, and Benson took turns chucking for the S.A.E.'s. McKinnon caught for Jones, while Barnes was the S.A.E. catcher.

Lambda Chi Alpha won an easy 19-3 victory over Beta Kappa Thursday. Steffens caught for the Lambda Chi's while the Beta Kappa battery was Tucker, pitcher, and Turner, catcher.

Monday's game, scheduled between the Sigma Nu and Lambda Chi Alpha, was postponed because of inclement weather.

Tuesday's game between Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Phi Sigma ended with a 7-3 victory for the Phi Sigs. Hadden pitched and McKinnon caught for the winners, while Robb and Caldwell were pitcher and catcher respectively for their opponents.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon handed Sigma Nu a 13-5 defeat yesterday in a game which was unexciting throughout. Benson's pitching for S.A.E. and Leighton's for Sigma Nu were comparatively good, but most of the time the moundsmen received poor backing. Tregellas, first baseman, and T. Barnes, third baseman for the Phi Sigs, however, played consistent baseball. C. Barnes caught for the victors and Olson was the catcher for the losing team.

VALIANT WOLVES

Paul Leonard, above, veteran Nevada distance runner, is counted upon to cop plenty of points in Saturday's meet with the Chico Wildcats. Leonard clips off the mile in 4:45 and runs the two-mile in 10:12. He will compete in both events. Douglas McDow, below, diminutive Wolf sprinter, is expected to annex points in the 100 and 200-yard dashes, his time for these events being 9.8 and 21.7 respectively.

Nevada Trackmen To Open Season As Host To Chico

Meet Will Begin at 2:00 p. m. On Mackay Field Next Saturday

Wolves Have No Entrants In Javelin and High-jump Competition

The University of Nevada track team will usher in the 1935 season here Saturday at 2:00 p. m. when it faces the Chico State Wildcats on the Mackay oval.

From their previous showings, the Wildcats will have a slight edge over the Wolves. Nevada has been hampered by poor weather for the past month, and its only competition has been the inter-fraternity and inter-class meets, while Chico has participated in two previous meets with San Francisco State and the University of San Francisco.

Chico pins her hopes on Hank Henry, sprint ace, to come through with a double win in the dashes, but he will have to step faster than his previous records of 9.9 in the 100-yard dash, and 21.9 in the 200, in order to defeat McDow who has negotiated the 100 in 9.8, and the 200 in 21.7.

Nevada's weight men, Gerow and Galloway, will have to heave the shot out at least 45 feet to beat Bud McCliff of Chico, and toss the discus 140 feet to beat his team-mate Matthews.

The broad jump is Nevada's best bet for a first and second place in any event, with both Richards and Havens of Nevada getting out over 22 1-2 feet, much farther than any of the Chico jumpers have made this season.

George Stade, Chico distance man, who has broken all his school's records in this event will have to cut down his time of 10.16 for the two mile in order to defeat Nevada's ace, 10.12. Leonard will also run the mile, with Hartman as his mate.

Dick Carville, Wolf vaulter, will have to soar over 11 1-2 feet in order to defeat Sherrod and Rizzi of Chico, while Zadow and Johnston will have to clip the hurdles in much better time than 26.6 for the lows and 18 flat for the highs, in order to come close to Haynes of Chico who runs the lows in 24.5, and Wray, who clips the highs in 15.6.

Lee Ward, veteran half-miler, who runs this event in 2:12 will have a hard time defeating Kuder of Chico to the tape, as he travels the distance in 2:01.

Nevada's 440 men, Gramke and Richardson, should force the Chico runners to the utmost, as both teams run this event around 54 flat.

Little is known of Nevada's relay team, but, judging from the calibre of the men running this event for Nevada, it should stand a good chance of defeating Chico.

Nevada will have to concede points to Chico in the javelin, and high jump, as it has no men to enter these events.

The high altitude, and slow track conditions should even the standings of these two teams considerably, and if Nevada can gather enough second and third places in the contest, it will have a good chance of winning its first meet of the season.

Rites Are Held For Shaughnessy

Funeral services were held this afternoon for John F. Shaughnessy Jr., former University of Nevada student, who died in Lewiston, Idaho, Saturday, April 13, following an emergency operation for appendicitis.

Shaughnessy was 22 years old and attended the university in 1933, where he took an active part in school affairs. He served as treasurer of the freshmen class and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He was a graduate of Reno high school, being student body president during his senior year. At the time of his death, Shaughnessy was employed by an oil company at Lewiston.

Shaughnessy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shaughnessy of Carson City. His father was former chairman of the Nevada public Service Division there. Surviving him besides his parents, are three sisters, Mrs. Grace Moore of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Eugene Kelly of Redwood City, Cal., and Miss Frances Shaughnessy of San Francisco, Cal.

An arts and science student, Koerner was president of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity during his senior year and took an active part in publications and affairs. He is in Reno on a business trip.

'BAL' BOA DIES THIS WEEK

"Bal" Boa, a figure that once received much attention, and notoriety in local newspapers as well as in the Sagebrush, died this week. A real oddity upon his arrival in Nevada, Bal died in obscurity; his novelty having worn off long since his first appearance here last October. Even the news of his death did not bring reporters rushing to the Agriculture building for an obituary.

Who was he? Prof. Charles L. Brown's boa constrictor. He spent his time peacefully in a large cage in the zoology room, waiting for his daily handout of mice, either dead or alive. Being a constrictor, he naturally preferred his rodent dinners alive, so that he could crush them to death before devouring them. He was supplied with mice from day to day by Ira La Rivers and other zoology students.

The snake's death, according to La Rivers, followed an injury which must have been inflicted by a playful student. The 35 inch boa had a big bruise on his body several days before he died, La Rivers declared.

Before his demise, the constrictor weighed approximately 100 grams, La Rivers said. Since his debut to North America, the snake increased in weight 50 per cent. The boa was sent to Brown last October by a friend in the produce business in Winnemucca who discovered the snake in a crate of bananas sent from South America.

Prof. W. S. Palmer Gives "Gold" Talk Over Station KOH

Discusses Physical Properties Of Precious Metal In Radio Speech

Bringing out the importance of gold in modern economic life and explaining why it is so valuable, Professor Walter S. Palmer spoke over radio station KOH Tuesday evening.

"While gold has many commercial uses, the great bulk of our gold has been used as a basis of our currency and as a medium of exchange between nations," Palmer stated.

He explained that gold has long been used as a standard and medium of exchange because of its durability, scarcity, and large value in small bulk.

"Although there is no reason why the government cannot develop a system based on some other tangible property, as long as a large part of the world puts more confidence in the value of gold than in the permanent value of anything else there will always be an insistent demand for the precious metal," he continued.

The speaker brought out the fact that although there is enough gold in the ocean to pave all the highways in the United States there is no successful commercial method to recover it.

"Should such a method be discovered the value of gold would be destroyed since the amount of gold in the ocean is 80 times larger than the total amount of iron which has been mined or is now in use in the United States," Palmer said.

He next brought out the physical properties of gold which give it such immense significance and stressed its malleability, ductility, durability, and color as the factors which add to the fascination of the metal.

This is the seventh in a series of talks given by members of the university faculty on the radio this semester. Two more addresses will be given, one by Dr. J. R. Young on "Vocational Guidance," and the concluding talk by Professor Jay A. Carpenter on "What Shall My Son Take in College?"

At the University of Paris a course in the appreciation of rare wines and liquors is given.

Artistic Talent Of Campsites To Be Exhibited

Campus artists will have an opportunity to display their talents at the exhibit being planned by the Fine Arts Group for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of next week. Elizabeth Young is in charge of arrangements for this special showing.

Several students have already signified their willingness to have their drawings shown, among them being Miss Young, Cliff Segerbloom, Ed Olson, Pat Stewart Ackerman. It is expected that more artists will also exhibit.

Last year a similar exhibit was favorably received by students and townspeople, Miss Young said.

The work of Antonio Sotomayor, a well-known San Francisco artist, was shown by the Fine Arts Group last Thursday and Friday and because of its reception, was continued over to Monday of this week. Done in water colors, the painting depicted life among the Bolivian Indians.

Weaving of Rugs Explained to Club

The designing and weaving of oriental rugs was explained to home economics students at the university Wednesday afternoon in a talk by Vincent Yardum, an authority on rugs from New York City.

An attorney by profession, Yardum said that he inherited his interest in rugs from his father, who was for many years an importer of oriental rugs in New York City.

He demonstrated the weaving and tying of oriental rugs on a small hand loom and exhibited types of rugs.

Ohio State coeds were recently taught how to use chopsticks.

Beta Sig Visitor Praises Collegiate Social Groupings

Fraternities Are Strongholds Of Americanism, Says Miss Collins

"On many university and college camps throughout the land today, men's and women's fraternities are the last stronghold of true Americanism." This was the opinion of Aimee Jane Collins, a graduate of the Hastings Law School of the University of California and national officer of Beta Sigma Omicron sorority who visited the campus this week.

Discussing the unrest now existing among students of various colleges and universities, Miss Collins stated that sorority and fraternity affiliations breed stability and conservatism as opposed to the radicalism growing among the independents.

"Because the students belonging to fraternities and sororities more commonly are from families whose financial status is above the average, these students are naturally in favor of the less radical tendencies," Miss Collins said. "The independent students, with nothing to lose in the way of economic security, are glad of a chance to develop individual leadership by heading some radical group."

Miss Collins' connection with sororities has given her a keen insight into the problems of university and college life, and she commended Nevada students highly for their stand against radical and insurgent demonstrations.

Badminton began this afternoon under the direction of Dorothy Roseberry, manager, who states that a class elimination tournament will be held, and possibly a round-robin tourney after it if time permits. The latter gives each participant an opportunity to play every other woman entered.

Interclass archery to begin April is also featured. Each entrant is entitled to shoot thirty arrows, or three rounds, scores being aggregated to determine the winners in each division.

National Officer Visits Campus

Miss Helen Price, student secretary of the Asilomar division of the national Y.W.C.A. discussed problems of the Campus Y. W. at a meeting with the cabinet Tuesday night.

Easter Pageant Is Well Attended

In a light, drizzling rain and before an audience of slightly more than 100 persons, the ninth annual Y.W.C.A. Easter Pageant was presented Sunday, April 14, on the University of Nevada quad, in front of the Mackay School of Mines building.

The pageant, an allegorical fantasy known as "The Vision of Sir Galahad," remains unchanged in plot and action from year to year. More than sixty persons take part in the annual presentation, the seven leading roles this year being taken by Jean Smith as Sir Galahad; Virginia Posvar, the Angel; Virginia Ravenscroft, the Woman; Thelma Armstrong, the Temp-ress; Peggy Gill, the Hermit; Doris Bath, the Mother; Janet Parish, the Trumpeter. The remainder of the cast was composed of Girl Reserve members from Reno High School.

Mrs. Joan Southward, who has directed each presentation of the pageant since its beginning, was again in charge. Fred Delongchamps, former University of Nevada student, repeated his role of the Voice, the only speaking part in the pageant. Musical entertainment was furnished by songs from Ralph Freese, and a violin solo by Mrs. Marguerite Donovan, accompanied by Mary Adeline Thompson.

Arrangement committees consisted of Mary Corecco, president of Y.W.C.A., Winifred Walsh, Genevieve Wakefield, Dorothy Phillips, and Georgia Cole.

Reno Merchants Defeat All-Stars

Going down for the second time before the Reno Merchants baseball team the university All-Stars were defeated last Sunday, 7 to 3.

The more experienced merchants proved to be good hitters, and clever base running by Canak, L. Johnson, and Pastovich proved to be the downfall of the All-Stars.

The university team is composed of players from Sigma Phi Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternities, and its roster includes: D. Dorsey, W. Christian, J. Dumont, T. Cashill, P. Azarez, G. Steffens, B. Cashill, and H. Foremaster.

Harvey Elected Manzanita Prexy

Opal Harvey, junior student from Winnemucca, was selected president of the Manzanita hall association, at a meeting held this week.

Other officers elected for the association were: Genevieve Hansen, vice president; Winifred Hiltonen, secretary; Margaret Piercy, treasurer. To be eligible for the presidency of the association, a woman must have been a resident of the hall for at least one year, and a senior student.

Plans were made at the meeting for a swimming party to be held at Moana Springs May 1, and for the annual Manzanita association formal dinner dance the last week in April.

Refreshments were donated by Claire Beemis and Anita Becas, matrons of Artemisia and Manzanita halls.

PLAYERS TO ELECT

The next regular meeting of Mask and Dagger, national honorary dramatic society, will be held following the presentation of "The Double Door" the end of this month. At this meeting election of new members will be held. Officers for the coming semester will also be chosen at this time.

TRACK SEASON OPENS

Opening the varsity track season next Saturday, the Nevada cinder and field men will be host to Chico State Teachers college trackmen on Mackay field. The Wolves, just in the process of re-building a strong team in this sport, will need all the encouragement and support possible and their student body should back them wholeheartedly.

In the face of forbidding odds, such as lack of sufficient material, poor weather conditions for training and limited financial backing, those men who are wearing Nevada's colors Saturday will nevertheless put up a stout fight. They will be urged on to greater efforts if the student body will turn out in force to prove it is behind them 100 per cent.

Nevada has had excellent track teams in past years and has now the nucleus for a great team in the near future. Although a slump has been experienced in this particular sport, that slump cannot last forever. Lets all pull together, talk up the meet and attend in a body. Pull track out of the slump.

THE CARNEGIE GIFT

The far-sightedness and generosity of Andrew Carnegie, America's greatest philanthropist, last week brought music and equipment to the University of Nevada which in time will build up this institution's department into one of the most modern in the West.

Andrew Carnegie, whose building up of the steel industry would have made him the first billionaire in this country, chose to put $350,000,000 of his vast fortune, into endowment funds for the betterment of English-speaking countries.

Given to the music department by the Carnegie Foundation incorporating the largest of Carnegie's American endowments, the equipment includes eight hundred recordings, a fine phonograph for their continuous reproduction, and vocal and instrumental scores of many of the selections. It means that music students will be able to hear for the first time the finest of music dating from the time of the ancient Greeks to the present, as interpreted by the world's artists. Young men and women who have never had the opportunity of hearing great music will be playing it in a creditable manner with the example of the masters before them. Books on different phases of music will further illuminate this most difficult but fascinating subject. Better still, the benefits of the Carnegie gift will be extended to the community of Reno in an ambitious series of adult education programs planned for next year.

This, in only a small way represents the "dream come true" of a poor boy whose early privations in Scotland aroused an intense desire to bring cultural and democratic advantages to a people down-trodden by the ruthlessness of the industrial revolution. Opportunity beckoned in far-off America, and with Carnegie's first job, which was in a cotton mill, began the realization of his dream completed by the acquisition of his steel millions. The gifts made possible by wealth represent all his personal tastes—his love of books, art, music, and the reforms he regarded most essential to human progress.

On the door of every Carnegie library throughout the United States is inscribed the motto that inspired all his philanthropic endeavors; "Let there be light." In Carnegie's tremendous fortune was the power to dispense that light, and he saw that it was dispensed where the need was greatest.

For twenty years prior to his death he distributed his wealth, always believing that a rich man's life should fall into two periods, that of amassing wealth, and that of distributing it. Carnegie could have been the country's first billionaire but he chose instead to put $350,000,000 of his money into endowment funds for the betterment of English-speaking countries. The smaller schools have been aided, rather than the larger ones and Nevadans are indeed grateful for the gift which he made possible.

Obviously, if all great fortunes were spent as wisely and as unstintingly as Carnegie's, there would be no hue and cry of "Down with the rich!" American college youth and the nation as a whole owe him a tremendous debt of gratitude.

NO MORE VANDALISM

The Sagebrush heralds with delight the new curbing installed last week on both sides of the driveway from the bridge to the campus gates, for which it has so long agitated.

At last the curbing has put a stop to the vandalous practice of certain persons in driving their autos over the sloping lawn south of the tram. How this abominable habit began is not known but the deep ruts carved annually on the lawn for the last three or four years have been a continual eye-sore to collegians walking to and from classes.

The person who next attempts to mar the beauty of the campus in this fashion, is going to be greatly surprised, and perhaps hurt too, when he smashes against the curbing, for the curbing will stand no arguments. Grounds officials are to be commended for taking steps to end this nuisance once and for all.

We will have to hand it to the Taus for putting on a fair little party for their pride and joy the "Prexie." The curious of the campus are still wondering how they got rid of the bar-room atmosphere before the arrival of their big chief something or other with so many of the boys handicapped—so to speak.

Companionate marriage may be alright for some people but we never expected to see such a smooth arrangement as the one existing between Zoe Hampson and the erstwhile campus love-man Frohlich. A few nights after he hangs his pin on her he is seen at the Pi Phi formal—with a Pi Phi—while the next night she is seen at the Campus Players dance with an old admirer, Sterling Johnson—they trade a dance and everybody is happy. How do they do it please? A Pi Phi seeking information wants to know. Will somebody tell everybody why the S. A. E.'s call "Orvie" Tregellas and why he burns so. MY FRIENDS:

As a native of Nevada and a former student of the University of Nevada, I need no introduction to most of you. Your interests are mine, and my interests are yours for the progress and prosperity of the University and Reno. I am standing squarely on my record as your City Attorney and request you to investigate and consider the same.

If re-elected I will continue to conduct my office as I have in the past, impartially and with the best interests of Reno and its citizens at all times.

I earnestly request your consideration and would appreciate your support in the coming City Election.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Editor:
 After perusing the Sagebrush from cover to cover, including the advertisements, I wish to offer my congratulations to the Student Body of the University of Nevada for the general morale and the progress which the student affairs has made in the past several years.
 It comes to my mind that a bronze wolf, placed at or near the entrance of the campus with a football at his feet, would be something to encourage student spirit. The memorials are a wonderful thing but let's have the wolf this time and give him a chance to challenge. Put him where we Nevada people can see and understand that the wolf is still very active and know that this class is still standing

A.T.O. Team Wins Intra-Mural Meet By Large Score

Tau Men Take First Places In Thirteen Events During Meet

Placing first in all but two events, the Alpha Tau Omega track team won the inter-fraternity track meet last Saturday with a total of 99 1-2 points. Lambda Chi Alpha second with a total of 35 1-2 points, Sigma Phi Sigma third with 12 points; Sigma Nu fourth with 10 points; Independents scored 6 points, and Beta Kappa 2 points.

Performing on a rough track and fighting a small wind, the contestants failed to better any records, but several close races made the meet interesting for the small crowd that attended.

Meet Success

As a proving ground for varsity performers, the meet was a success. McDow loafed through the sprints to win easily with Callahan following him close for a second place in both the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. In the 440 yard dash Graunke and Richardson ran a very close race turning in good time for their experience in this race.

Richards and Havens turned in good performances in the broad-jump proving their ability to gather points in inter-collegiate competition. Carville, by vaulting 11 feet showed marked improvement over his former attempts, and may add a few points for the varsity if he continues to improve.

Hand Outstanding

Among the freshman contestants, Hand won both the 880 and the mile runs, being the outstanding performer. With Paul Leonard, veteran varsity distance runner, completing his third year of competition this spring, Hand will be expected to carry the responsibility in those events next spring.

The results of the meet follows:

High hurdles—Maule (A.T.O.) first, Johnstone (A.T.O.) second, Wilson (SPS) third, Waite (L.C.A.) fourth. Time 17 seconds.

High-jump—Engblom (A.T.O.) and Wilson (SPS) tied for first, and Hawkins (A.T.O.), Becasas (A.T.O.), and Cummings (A.T.O.) tied for third. Height 6 feet 6 inches.

800 yard run—Hand (A.T.O.) first, Moler (Ind.) second, Johnson (A.T.O.)

Sparks Trackmen Down Opponents In Triple Meet

By virtue of winning the final relay, the Sparks high school track team walked away with first honors in a three-cornered meet held in the railroad city last Saturday between Stewart, Carson and Sparks.

The final results were Sparks 54, Stewart 51, and Carson 21.

Times and distances were exceptionally good for early season competition. Ivan Sorenson unofficially broke the state record for the 120 yard high hurdles, when he stepped off the barriers in 16.3. The existing record is set at 16.4, held by Wayne Spencer, also from Sparks.

Powers of Sparks carried off individual honors for the day, gathering 16 1-4 points, while his teammate, I. Sorenson, garnered 14 1-4 points to take second place. Wright of Stewart annexed 12 1-2 points.

Results of the various events were:

CHICO CATS

Nevada Trackmen Tackle S. F. Team In Second Meet

Meeting its second opponent of the current track season, "Brick" Mitchell's University of Nevada track team tackles the tough San Francisco State outfit at the bay region April 27.

The result of the meet Saturday between Nevada and Chico will provide a means of direct comparison of the two schools. Chico scored an impressive win over the San Franciscans earlier in the season.

San Francisco State has a well-balanced squad, with consistent performers in both track and field events. They are led by Stan Kuder, who turned in a 4:36 mile against Chico; and Rumar Stone, who copped 13 points in the same meet by winning the high and broad jumps and placing second in the javelin throw.

The Staters are well represented in the hurdles, with Morrison running the events in near record breaking time. Jones, Ebet and Hopkins will carry the brunt of their team's attack in the field events.

With an improvement in the weather conditions following the Chico meet, Mitchell's charges should greatly improve their performances in their respective events, and make a better showing against the San Franciscans.

Syracuse College elects a May Queen annually who presides at a pageant on the grounds of Yates Castle. A lantern ceremony is held at twilight on Crouse hill.

Lincoln Mermen Train For Meet; Contest Is Seen

The members of Lincoln Hall will hold their annual swimming meet at Moana Hot Springs, Friday, April 26, it was announced today.

Residents of the second deck have walked away with the meet in the past despite the combined efforts of the first and third decks to thwart them.

This year, it appears to be a different matter. Young blood has taken the place of the older veterans who have left the hall, and a clean hard-fought contest is in prospect. It is also possible that a few records will be set.

The varsity track team, competing in the only home track meet of the season this Saturday, is given but a slim chance to come out or the long end of the count. The individual performers in some of the events should pile up a sizeable total score but the size of the squad almost cuts down any possible chance of a winning afternoon.

The athletic interest on the campus for the remainder of the semester will be largely centered around the Greek baseball league. The down-the-stretch race for the circuit crown is now in

The faltering "winner-picker" has been attacked from all angles, in some cases unjustly, but this is one machine that "can take it," so to you laymen who are in a receptive mood the old faithful once again divulges the results of the coming weeks interfraternity horsehide arguments. Here they are:

Alpha Tau Omega—Sigma Phi Sigma: The Terrace men gave their best exhibition of the season in their last appearance against the Sigma Nu's and if improvement is continued, the Taus will advance their league standing in this fray.

Phi Sigma Kappa—Lincoln Hall: With Jones on the mound and the Phi Sig hitters up to par, you sideliners may look for a new high score for the season.

Beta Kappa—Sigma Alpha Epsilon: The Sigma Alphas take a rest in this tussle, preparing for tougher games to follow.

Sigma Phi Sigma—Sigma Nu: This should be a wide open game with the bases getting much traffic. Sigma Nus.

Lambda Chi Alpha—Lincoln Hall: The Hall boys will have to look to other pastures for their season's initial win.

The tennis squad is counting on a trip to Sacramento along with the track team the early part of next month. The squad possesses no Tildens or Vines, but the men, after a lengthy practice period this spring, count on doing a little bit of damage to some of the other championship aspirants.

The interfraternity track meet of last Saturday went the way of all Brush predictions. The Taus were in fine fettle, only being turned out of the scoring column in one event. No marks in the result sheet were exceptional but the individual performers gave varsity track Coach "Brick" Mitchell a good view of their ability.

AFTER A HARD SESSION..

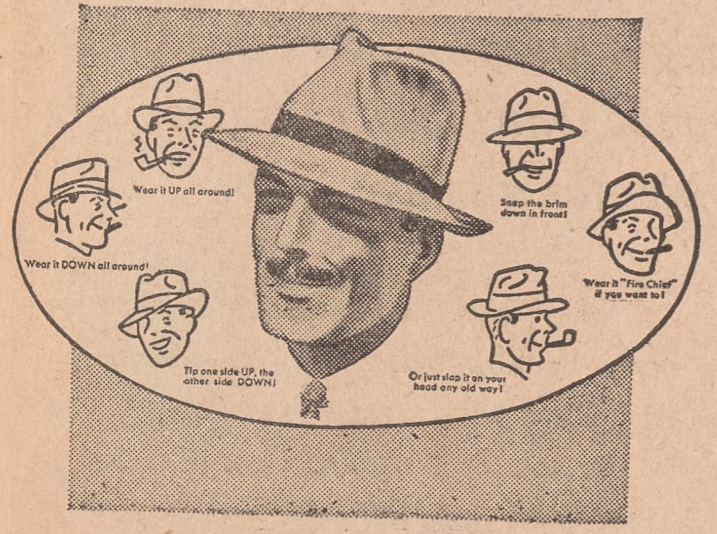

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

"I'M NOT ONE of those 'natural born students' you hear about," says Capers Smith. "I have to buckle down and study to get results. When I'm not hitting the books, I work in the college bookstore from 12 to 4 every day. It's easy to see how full my time is! When I feel tired or 'logy,' I know that I'm nearing the end of my energy. Then I always smoke a Camel. It revives me—restores my energy. And each Camel that follows seems to be even more chock-full of that mellow, rich flavor! I smoke Camels steadily. They never tire my taste. And Camels never make my nerves jumpy." (Signed) CAPERS SMITH, '36

"I'M A NEWSPAPER WOMAN. It's absorbing work—but I have to put in long, irregular hours. When I'm feeling 'let down,' I smoke a Camel to restore my energy and interest. Camels are a smoother smoke, too. They do taste better." (Signed) MARGARET E. NICHOLS

"IT'S A HARD, ACTIVE life—bridging the Golden Gate with the longest single span ever built. When I'm worn out, I light up a Camel. It quickly relieves me of tiredness. I smoke steadily—have for years. Camels never upset my nerves." (Signed) R. G. CONE, Engineer

Adult Education Program Planned By Administration

Lecture Series Supplementing Radio Talks Scheduled For Next Fall

Special Courses for Adults Are to Be Increased Under Plan

Elaborate plans are now being made for an extensive program of adult education, starting next fall, President Walter Clark announced yesterday.

The new plan calls for the continuation of the radio talks over KOH instituted this semester, and the carrying out of lecture series on individual subjects, such as the evening lectures on Geology made by Professor Gianella in the past several months.

The latter will probably include lectures on philosophy, music, psychology, literature, art, and various scientific subjects. The lecture program will be in charge of Dean Maxwell Adams, and the radio talks will be supervised by Professor Stanley Palmer.

The program, when in full operation, will be the third phase of an adult education plan in operation at Nevada. The other two parts have been available for several years but are not widely known to the public. One part is the adult courses, especially planned for teachers, that are available at odd hours, such as evenings and Saturday morning, and are given in the field of education, English, home economics, and related subjects, under the supervision of Dean Hall. The other part is the elimination of heavy fees to citizens taking regular courses that do not total over five credits.

ENGINEERING HIGHLIGHTS

Vincent P. Gianella, associate professor of Geology and Professor Thomas Thayer attended a joint meeting of the Geological Society of America, Seismological society, and the Paleontological Society at Stanford last week.

At the meeting, held Friday and Saturday, Gianella presented a paper on the "Comstock Lode."

The regular monthly meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers will be held next Thursday according to Henry Smith, president of the organization.

Nominations for officers will be held at that time in addition to the regular business meeting. W. C. Mason of California Culvert Company will be the speaker of the evening.

Journalism Grad Wins Recognition For Local Story

Coverage of Portola Fire Written by Jackson Is Praised

A news story by Joseph Jackson, '32, Nevada journalism graduate and reporter for the Reno Evening Gazette, is included in News Stories of 1934, copies of which have just reached Reno.

By selection of this volume, which is issued annually, the story by Jackson is recognized as among the best pieces of reporting during the year, Professor A. L. Higginbotham, in charge of Nevada's journalism work, and one of the editors of the book, stated this week.

Covered in Jackson's story was a devastating forest fire in the Feather River region of California last summer.

Johnson Honored

In a foreword to the story by Graham Sanford, Gazette editor, mention is also made of Kenneth Johnson, another Nevada journalism graduate, who served the Gazette as resident correspondent in Portola and aided in covering the event. Both Johnson and Jackson are former editors of the University of Nevada Sagebrush.

Jackson's news story is but one of four selected for the volume by Professor Higginbotham. Also chosen by him was a wire story of the discovery of a wrecked airplane in the mountains near Salt Lake City, written by George D. Crissey of the United Press. He was formerly in charge of the Reno bureau of the U.P. and is well known on the campus.

Prof. Selects Others

Other stories in the book chosen by Higginbotham include a human interest yarn from the Salt Lake Tribune, and the war diary of a San Franciscan, written by a reporter for the Associated Press in San Francisco during the longshoremen's strike.

Distinguished papers throughout the country and the chief news gathering associations are represented in the 67 news stories in the book.

The campus of Berea College in Kentucky embraces 5,400 acres of forest and fields.

There are 131 college graduates in the Ohio penitentiary.

Twenty-five Men Will Be Punished

Out of the total of forty-six men to be punished for breaking campus traditions, there remain but twenty-five whom the Men's upperclass committee is to chastise this week.

When asked what traditions had been broken and are to be punished by the more severe paddling, Vic Carroll, chairman replied, "The traditions broken were: not appearing at the painting of the Block 'N', and the wearing of cords by under-classesmen. Wearing cords is the more serious crime."

In the event of failure to appear at the meeting after their name has been posted on the bulletin board, the punishment ordinarily meted out to offenders is multiplied. Paddling is the method by which the wrong-doers are persuaded to regret the error of their ways—to what degree the persuader is applied is determined only by the committee.

Following are the freshmen listed for punishment this week: W. Gravelle, Fox, Galvin, Berning, Hall, Leighton, McLaughlin, Morehouse, Netherton, Parke, Porteous, Rice, Rossiter, Scott, C. Schurter, E. Schurter, Shone, Solt, Taw, Tennent, Tucker, Turner, Vaughn, Whiddet, White, Wilcox, Williams, Williamson, Winters, and Young.

Campus Players Dance Loses Money Is Report

The "Misfit" dance given by Campus Players at Moana springs last Saturday was not a financial success, according to Darrell Berry, president of the society, although it was "ace-high" in enjoyment and fun.

A full financial report on the dance will be given at the meeting to be held next Wednesday evening. At this time officers for the coming year will be elected and arrangements made for either a picnic or banquet to close the semester's activities.

Fraternity Council Discusses Changes In Board Policies

With many changes which involve fraternity pledging, dancing, sports, and the establishment of a council fund proposed, the revision of the Inter-Fraternity council constitution is rapidly nearing completion, according to Forrest Rhodes, president of the group.

All changes are tentative, and must be approved by a majority of the various fraternities before they will be effective.

At the suggestion of Dean R. C. Thompson, faculty adviser of the group, a law establishing a council fund will be included in the new constitution.

The purpose of the fund will be to insure payment of dues and assessments by the various fraternities and to pay financial obligations incurred by the council, such as the purchase of awards for intra-mural sports.

Under the plan as suggested by Dean Thompson, each fraternity will be required to pay $10 per year, due by the close of registration in the fall semester, for five years. Disposition of the accumulated fund can be decided at the end of five years. The new constitution, if revised as planned, will provide for a representative of the group to be present in the drawing up of all inter-fraternity athletic schedules. At present the schedules are drawn up by representatives of the various houses and J. E. Martie, physical education director in charge of intramural sports.

Another change proposed will prohibit individual fraternities from spending more than $75 for 100 programs and favors, and corsages may be purchased only for formal dances, with a limitation of expense.

Pledging rules which are in effect at present will be changed and modified. Penalties ranging from financial assessments to expulsion from the Inter-Fraternity council for violation of council rulings are being considered.

Any fraternity accused of breaking the laws will have ample opportunity to defend itself by means of a court composed of members of other fraternities.

The constitution will probably be submitted to the various houses for approval before the first of next month, Rhodes said.

"Sure, enjoy yourself," said Jim. "It's a ding good cigarette."

I was working way late at the office one night and ran out of cigarettes. When Jim the watchman came through I tackled him for a smoke.
"Sure," says Jim, and he handed over a pack of Chesterfields. "Go ahead, Mr. Kent, take three or four."
Jim said he'd smoked a lot of cigarettes in his time, but he'd put Chesterfield up in front of any of 'em when it came to taste.
... "and they ain't a bit strong either," is the way Jim put it.
That was the first Chesterfield I ever smoked. And I'm right there with him, too, when he says it's a ding good cigarette.
