

Where And How Nevada Students Spend Vacations

In answer to one of the most commonly heard questions on the campus these days, namely "What are you going to do this summer?" the Sagebrush has attempted to give some of the replies. Here they are—take them for what they are worth:

1935 Artemisia Is Distributed To U. N. Students

Year Book Is Well Received By Campus This Week; Silver Theme

Novel Photographic Features Are Used By Editor In Publication

Featuring the state of Nevada's interest in silver as a theme, the 1935 Artemisia made its appearance on the campus yesterday morning. Copies of the yearbook were distributed to students from the old Chemistry building yesterday, and today, and copies will be issued again tomorrow.

Edited by Ned Morehouse and managed by Angelo Urrutia, the annual is divided into three books, Book I entitled "The University," Book II "The Campus," and Book III "Competition." Dedication of the Artemisia is to "The people of the state of Nevada, to those who have labored long and unceasingly for the return of silver."

The annual is individualized by a new photographic process called "photomatage," in which several pictures are superimposed and give an effect similar to a double exposure. Especially interesting is the photograph preceding Book II, in which a disappointed silver miner and his wife are represented by Edward G. Robinson and Aline MacMahon in a scene from the motion picture, "The Silver Dollar."

Jeffers to Edit '35-'36 Handbook

John Franklin Is Appointed "Bible" Business Manager This Week

Revision of the University of Nevada handbook for the next school year will be under the direction of a committee composed of Elwin Jeffers, editor, John Franklin, business manager, and Ruthie Goldsworthy, Eleanor Bateman and Eunice Caton as assistants, it was announced today.

James Cazier, outgoing A. S. U. N. president, made the appointments. Jeffers, a junior student, has been active in publications, being an assistant editor of the Sagebrush. He also represents the Independent students in the senate.

Franklin is also a junior and Sigma Phi Sigma's senator. He has had experience on the Sagebrush business staff.

Miss Caton is a member of the senate, secretary of the A.S.U.N., and is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. Miss Goldsworthy, Delta Delta Delta, is secretary of the W.A.A. and a member of Gothic N. Miss Bateman is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority. All three are upperclass women.

The handbook will be altered to include changes in the constitution governing the athletic control and other amendments approved this spring by the student body.

Distribution of the revised "bible" has been tentatively set for the first week of next semester, according to the business manager.

Chief Engineer Is Nevada Grad

Ira A. Herbert, graduate of the Mackay school of mines in 1925, is now chief engineer for the Presnello Mining company in Zacateras, Mexico. This company is one of the largest mining concerns in Mexico.

Prof., Mrs. Palmer Entertain Engineers

Graduating students of the electrical engineering department were dinner guests of Prof. and Mrs. S. G. Palmer at their home on University Terrace Thursday evening.

Music Fraternity Holds Final Meet

Delta Delta Epsilon, local honorary music fraternity, held its final banquet of the year at the Toscano Hotel last night, according to Kistler Rivers, retiring president of the group.

Seniors to Hear Farewell Sermon Sunday Morning

Baccalaureate Service May 1 Draws Large Number Of Persons

Rev. Brewster Adams to Talk To Young Graduates On 'Miracles'

At an occasion fully as significant as commencement because of its serious tone, graduating seniors will hear the farewell discourse and sermon this Sunday, May 12, at the traditional baccalaureate services conducted in the university gymnasium. President Walter E. Clark is the presiding official.

The service begins at 10:30 and invitations to attend have been extended to Governor Richard Kirman of the State of Nevada and other dignitaries and officials, as well as to members of veterans associations who will also be guests of honor.

Reuben C. Thompson, dean of men and professor of philosophy, will read the scripture to the new bachelors, following the delivering of the invocation by Reverend Herbert M. Peck which begins the impressive ceremony.

Prior to the invocation, the University-Community orchestra will open the program by playing the Grieg orchestral suite, "Sigurd, the Crusader," as being appropriate to the occasion. Professor Theodore H. Post will conduct the orchestra.

After the reading of the scripture, the graduates will hear the song, "On Great Lone Hills," taken from Sibelius' "Finlandia" suite, as sung by the American Legion quartet, also guests at the affair. A second song, "Morning Hymn" by Henschel, will also be given by the veterans.

Adams Gives Sermon To Reverend Brewster Adams, popular Reno minister and pastor of the First Baptist church, goes the honor of delivering the baccalaureate sermon to the young men and women who are ending their college days. His subject is "Miracles."

The whole congregation of friends and graduates will next join in singing the hymn, "O Worship the King," by the celebrated composer Haydn, and the orchestra will accompany.

Professor F. C. Murgotten, professor of languages, will deliver the benediction to the assemblage, thus concluding the baccalaureate service.

The complete list of guests of honor issued invitations includes Governor Richard Kirman of the State of Nevada, the Supreme Court justices of Nevada, United States District Attorney E. P. Carville, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Chauncey W. Smith, veterans of the General O. M. Mitchell Post No. 27, members of the American Revolution, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Thomas H. Barry Camp No. 7, United Spanish War Veterans, and American Legion veterans.

Frosts Establish Journalism Award

A $75 scholarship in journalism has been established this spring by Ethel Lunsford Frost and Harry J. Frost, both graduates of the class of 1927, Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the university, announced today.

The scholarship will be known as the William S. Lunsford scholarship, and will be awarded by the university scholarship committee upon the recommendation of the professor in charge of journalism.

An alternate will also be chosen by the scholarship committee. Half of the scholarship will be paid each semester to the winning student, and it may be awarded to either a man or a woman.

To be eligible for the scholarship, the student must be of good moral character, must show unusual talent or promise in journalism, must be specializing in journalism, and must be either a junior or a senior the year following the awarding of the prize. The student's scholastic average must not be lower than the general university average.

Final Exhibit Offered By Fine Arts Students

Featuring the work of Charlotte Meyer, noted Santa Barbara sculptress, the Fine Arts group today opened its fifth and final exhibit of the spring semester. The exhibit, which is being held in the seminar of the library building will be open over Commencement day, according to Virginia Murgotten, director of the organization. It is open to the public.

Dr. Walter E. Clark to Give 117 Students Diplomas Monday At Commencement Exercises

Traditional Rites Will Be Observed By Class of 1935

N. E. Wilson Chosen to Give Graduation Address To Students

Fifty-Fifth Graduating Class Ends College Career At Exercises

One hundred and seventeen senior students of the University of Nevada—the fifty-fifth graduating class in the school's history, will switch the tassels of their mortars from the left to the right side next Monday thus signifying that another college generation has completed its course of study at Nevada.

For Monday is Commencement Day, and the exercises that will draw to a close the undergraduate careers of these seniors will be held in the university gymnasium, starting at 10:15 a. m. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday morning at the gymnasium, and Rev. Brewster Adams will give the sermon.

The last day for these seniors will be a full one, if comparisons with Commencement Day attendance in past years hold true. Friends and relatives of the seniors will begin gathering at the gymnasium about nine o'clock. At 10:00 a. m. the academic procession, consisting of the graduating seniors, faculty members, university officials, guests of honor, churchmen and high state officers, will assemble at the south end of the quadrangle.

At 10:15 the procession will march to the gymnasium and pass through the large double doors. The officials and guests will take their positions on the platform at the east end of the hall and the graduates, passing down the aisles between rows of spectators, will come to a stop at their reserved section at the foot of the platform. The march will be accompanied by the University-Community orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Theodore Post. President Clark, who will preside, will then introduce Rev. Carl M. Warner, who will deliver the invocation.

The speaker of the day, Nathaniel E. Wilson of Reno, will then give the Commencement address, talking upon "Retrospection, Comparison and Ideals." Following his address, Mr. Ralph Freese, tenor, will sing two solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Adeline Thompson.

Professor Jay A. Carpenter, chairman of the committee on scholarships and prizes, will then make the award of the coveted gold medal and will announce the winners of scholarships, prizes and special senior honors. In addition to this, Masters Degrees will be awarded five graduate students by the heads of the departments under which they took their advance work.

Judge A. E. Ducker, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nevada, will then administer the Civic Oath to the candidates for the Baccalaureate degree, after which President Walter E. Clark will confer degrees and present diplomas to the graduating seniors, who will cross the stage, take their "sheepskins" and so realize the completion of four years of scholastic toil. The benediction, to be given by the Right Rev. Thomas Gorman, will close the ceremonies.

Tired spectators and happy grads will then swarm out the large doors to the lawn in front of the gymnasium, and the mingling of cap and gown with street clothes will impress a scene upon all that will be long remembered. Happy mothers and fathers and sons and daughters will enjoy for half an hour the realization of a dream which all have shared for years.

A request that graduating students sign the Book of the Oath in the president's office as soon as possible was also made yesterday by Dr. Walter E. Clark, president. The book is available in the president's office.

Graduating Seniors Feted At Annual Ball This Evening

With all graduating senior men and their "dates" admitted free, the annual senior ball, given by the junior class in honor of the departing seniors, will be held in the auditorium of the state building this evening.

The dance will be formal, according to J. D. Stephens, chairman of the ball committee. Sport clothes or regular formal attire will be acceptable, he said.

Music for the dancing will be furnished by Darrell Berry and his orchestra. Chaperones for the affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Walter E. Clark, Miss Margaret Mack, and Miss Louise Sissa. Assisting Stephens in the arrangements for the dance are Sterling Johnson, Jack Quaid, Raymond Armstrong, Robert Best, Dorothy Roseberry, and Frances Burke.

Seniors Dedicate Gift Trophy Case During Pilgrimage

A trophy case in the library to house the many cups and awards which have been won by the University of Nevada, was dedicated Thursday morning during the senior pilgrimage by Edwin Martinez, chairman of the gift committee.

The case, which stands at the foot of the main stairway, has been finished to match the woodwork of the interior of the building, and measures six feet high by six feet wide. The shelves are adjustable to allow for trophies of unusual size. Because of the inadequacy of the space in the cases in which the cups were formerly kept, it was decided that a new and larger trophy case in a more prominent position would be a suitable and appropriate gift.

Among numerous gifts under consideration by the committee were a sun dial, a stone bench on the east side of the library building, a statue of the official Nevada wolf, and statuettes in the foyer.

Assisting Martinez on the gift committee were Ben Sheahan, Helen Malloy, Blanche Keegan, Helene Stark, Brooks Park, John Sullivan, Merle Acheson, Marjorie Cannon, and Angelo Urrutia.

Nevada Collection Given To Museum

A picture of Governor Nye, first territorial head of Nevada, along with several other pictures depicting early Nevada life and a set of historical books, belonging to Miss Hanna K. Clapp, one of the first professors at the university, have been presented to the Mackay mining museum by Miss Frances E. Short of Reno.

A colorful figure in the early history of Nevada, Miss Clapp was known for her energy and fearlessness, and the story is told how she won the contract to construct the iron fence surrounding the Carson City capital grounds, after making careful estimates of the cost of construction.

Another story relates to her crossing of the plains in the '50s, when an Indian chief took a fancy to the energetic white damsel and approached the captain of the wagon train, offering him a handsome gift of ponies for her.

Miss Clapp always wore a man's vest, in which she carried a huge watch attached to an equally large gold chain.

Reserved Seats For Graduation Are Available

Reserved seat tickets for the Commencement exercises for the families of graduates may be procured at the president's office, it was announced yesterday. Only two tickets will be allowed to each graduating student.

A request that graduating students sign the Book of the Oath in the president's office as soon as possible was also made yesterday by Dr. Walter E. Clark, president. The book is available in the president's office.

Publications Board Banquet Is Given Wednesday Evening

Members of the university publications board completed their semester activities Wednesday evening at the annual banquet of the group, held at the Riverside Hotel. Clarence Byrd, board chairman, acted as toastmaster for the evening.

Short speeches were given by present publication board members and by the recently elected publication heads who will become part of the publication board when school opens next fall. These new members are Walter Bowring, newly elected Artemisia editor, Winifred Walsh, Artemisia business manager, Frank Sullivan, Sagebrush editor, and Dan Chiatovich, who will be business manager of the Sagebrush next fall.

Because of the graduation of two board members who were appointed by the senate early this semester vacancies will occur which will have to be filled from the student body by the senate next semester. Those members at large who are graduating are Grace Armbruster, secretary, and Clarence Byrd, chairman. The present editors and business managers of the student publications will automatically finish their terms of membership when the university closes tomorrow.

Principal Speaker Is Former Prof

N. E. Wilson, principal speaker of the commencement exercises, is a former member of the university faculty, serving as professor of chemistry from 1899 until 1906.

Previous to his appointment to the chemistry department, Wilson was chief chemist of the Nevada Agricultural Station, being named to that position in 1891 by the board of regents. In 1903, he completed a thesis on "The Alkali Soils of Nevada," and was awarded a master's degree from the University of Maine from which he had graduated several years before.

Following his resignation from the faculty in 1906, he opened the N. E. Wilson Drug Company in the Masonic Temple building which had just been completed, and began an active business career.

Wilson as a former mayor and councilman has been prominently identified with civic and fraternal activities of the city. He was president of the Reno Rotary club from 1914 to 1917, and is now representative to the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias, to which position he was chosen in 1908.

Education Prof Granted Degree

Harold N. Brown, professor in the education department, was granted a Doctor's degree in Education at the University of California last week. He wrote his thesis on "History of Public Elementary School System of Nevada, 1861-1934."

The Doctor's Degree in Education is a new degree which is being given by Stanford, University of California, Harvard, Columbia, and some others throughout the United States.

Dr. Brown, who has been at the University of Nevada since 1930, graduated from Kansas State College in 1923 and received his master's degree from Stanford in 1927.

Seniors Observe Traditional Rites During Pilgrimage

Class of 1935 Pays Final Visit To Campus Landmarks In Procession

First Halt Called at Tram Where Memories Are Recalled

In their last official visit to familiar landmarks on the Nevada campus, members of the senior class yesterday morning donned their caps and gowns for the first time to march to the annual senior pilgrimage.

The procession, under the direction of Grace Semenza, formed at the student union building below the university gates, and after a short history of the building was sketched by Caryl Carman, began wending its way around the campus.

The first halt was called at the tram where Sallie Fagan recalled what it had meant to members of the class and to those who had proceeded there. The group then proceeded to the Hestman-Jones memorial bench on the east shore of Manzanita lake where George Lohse eulogized the two former Deans of Men and asked that a moment of silence be observed in their memory.

At the bulletin board Grace Semenza pointed out that if all the various notices concerning students of the class had been posted on the board that had been kept a complete history of their four years on the campus could be written.

As the bell in the tower of the historic Morrill hall tolled slowly, members of the graduating class marched through its halls and down the center of the quad to the Mackay statue in front of the School of Mines building. James Thompson paid homage to John W. Mackay, and declared that he symbolized the spirit of the University of Nevada as well as the pioneer West of which he was such an integral part.

The Mackay stadium was then visited and John Flournoy spoke of the many triumphs and defeats which had been witnessed there, and added that more would be heard of the victories of the Wolf Pack in years to come. The group then sang the university song, "U. of N. So Gay."

The last stop in the pilgrimage was the Memorial Library. A song by the class in the main reading room, which was crowded with students attempting to wind up their semester's work, set a precedent for the pilgrimage.

Edwin Martinez, chairman of the senior gift committee, dedicated a trophy case the foot of the library stairs, and the procession disbanded.

The seniors were the guests of Cap and Scroll, women's upperclass honor society at a tea dance held in the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house later in the afternoon.

A picnic on the shores of Pyramid Lake attracted many members of the class the day before.

SCRIBE SAVES DAY FOR FINAL EDITION OF 'BRUSH'

It is the night before the 'Brush comes out (Thursday). We need copy. Here a reporter sits. He peers through the smoky haze in search of his fellow members of the fourth estate. Ah, there is one. No, he is here in the flesh only. His head lies on the "mill," and his snores resound through the deserted office.

Oh where, oh where, are they all! How well I recall them. Those eager faces, busily bent over clattering typewriters pounding out copy. Lots of copy. Reams of copy. To h— with copy.

All the nooks and crannies of this campus have been combed for news, and still we need copy. Where are those gifted ones who always smell out the scoops? Gone, gone.

Some have committed suicide over the futility of it all—they must have. Jones must be sick.

No. That isn't it. Now I remember. Examinations. Spring-love in bloom. Especially love in bloom. Hark. A footstep. It's only the editor. "Copy, Copy, Copy," he howls. "Where in h— is some copy."

Well, here it is!

NEVADA STUDENTS YEARLY USE 9,000 BLUE BOOKS

Nine-thousand blue books per year! Writing on both sides of the eight pages, U. of N. students would yearly fill 3,240,000 lines of writing, to be exact, 25,920,000 words!

Such are the statistics on the little blue-covered bundles of paper that students so begrudgingly pack to class with them along about exam time—and tear up so quickly when they are returned beautifully decorated with red and blue pencil marks.

According to Miss Louise Sissa, registrar, who has charge of handing out the books at two for a nickel, the total cost to the university is about the same as the retail charge, and the university does not realize very much on profits from their sales.

Jack Williams is going to take summer surveying before beginning his summer vacation.

Fred Tong will travel in Nevada and Utah this summer.

Larry DuFour will go to Vallejo, California to go into the auto business with his father.

Bud Doherty will work on a highway crew in Las Vegas.

Rita Gunter, junior student on the campus expects to leave for Lake Tahoe next week to take a job near Home-wood.

Orpah Morgan, sophomore student, plans to work at the Lake during the summer. It is expected that her sister, Ruth Morgan, junior student will accompany her.

Eunice Eaton has planned to spend the summer at her home at Lake Tahoe.

A.W.S. President Plans Activities For New Semester

Continuance Of Loan Fund, Buy a Brick Campaign, Are Semester Plans

Committees Will Be Chosen At First Meeting In September

With the last activity of the A. W. S. being yesterday, members of the Big Sister committee are planning letters to be sent to graduating seniors of the various high schools this week. The letters will be sent out in a week or two, according to Katherine Dondero, new president of A. W. S. Last year letters were sent out in June but due to the early closing of the schools the committee decided that letters should be sent out before the semester's close.

For the help of the incoming students an information desk will be placed in each building with upperclass students at each desk during the three days of registration to help the Frosh out of their difficulties, Miss Dondero said. Asked as to the women's Loan Fund, Miss Dondero continued that she hopes to get it so well established that it will be a permanent practice by future A. W. S. presidents. The loan fund was established last year by Nell Lozano after attending the conference of A. W. S. presidents at Tucson, Arizona.

As usual the organization will sponsor the Buy a Brick campaign which has been sponsored for several years with members of the Freshmen class selling the tags to the campus students. Last year the Frosh selling the most tags was given a prize by A. W. S. and the same practice will be continued this year it is expected.

According to Miss Dondero the first meeting of the A. W. S. will be held on the second Friday in September at which time the new members on the executive committee will be announced. The secretary-treasurer will be announced. This office becomes the office of vice president in the president's absence, Miss Dondero added.

Other committees and the chairmen who will be appointed at the same time are the Ice Cream sales committee which is for the purpose of getting money for the A. W. S. scholarship, and the Buy a Brick committee chairman.

Helping Miss Mack and Miss Sessa with their senior tea this year, was Mrs. Walter E. Clark and Miss Dondero, with the assisting staff of A.W.S. women including Jane Ellen Stoddard, Jessie Sellman, Rosa Bachman, Sarah Sweet, Alice Sauer, Billie Morgan and Margaret Pteroy. This is the second time that the A. W. S. has helped with the tea for senior graduating students, Miss Dondero said.

Historian Office Created by W.A.A.

Creating a new office in the women's athletic association Alice Lundberg, president, today appointed Orpah Morgan, sophomore student, historian of that organization.

Duties of the historian will be to keep a scrapbook of W.A.A. activities, and act as publicity manager for any activity that group may sponsor. Miss Morgan will resume her duties at the beginning of next semester.

Miss Lundberg has recently appointed managers for most of the major sports for next semester, and they will take office at the same time the historian is installed. The managers chosen are: Betty Simpson, swimming; Vera Champagne, volleyball; Jessie Sellman, dancing; Betty Bowman, hockey; and Norma Jean Mills, tennis. Basketball, rifle, archery, and badminton managers will be selected next semester.

High School Girls Gather on Campus

Over 200 high school girls gathered at the University of Nevada gymnasium Saturday for the annual play day given by the Women's Athletic Association of the University of Nevada.

Activities of the day included volleyball, baseball, aerial dart, tennis, and relays. The girls were divided into color teams, and after competition in all the events, the "yellow" team, under the sponsorship of Dorothy Nason, was judged the best. The other teams were sponsored by Sarah Graves, Helene Stark, Dorothy Roseberry, Nell Lozano, and Katherine Dondero.

At 1 p. m. a luncheon was served in the university dining hall, at which time toasts were given by Miss Mack and some of the university women.

The afternoon's activities during which most of the time was devoted to entertainment by delegates from the several high schools represented, was under the direction of Nell Lozano.

Awards were made by Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor in the P.E. department. The posture plaque was given to Carson, second place being granted to Yerington. Winnemucca won the poster contest and the poster submitted by Reno high school won second.

Among the university women aiding Nell Lozano and Dorothy Gordon were: Ruth Goldworthy, Orpah Morgan, Alice Lundberg, Chrissie Finn, Dorothy Roseberry, Katherine Dondero, Sarah Graves, Helene Stark, Dorothy Nason, Mary Louise Waltenspiel, Georgianna Harriman, Kennedy Walker, and Elizabeth Frey.

At the University of Michigan the interfraternity council voted to modify Hell Week by a vote of 38 to 1.

Upperclass Board Draws Regulations For Frosh Women

New rules and punishment for members of the next year's freshmen class were drawn up by the Women's Upperclass committee this week with Florence Kirkley, chairman, remaining secretive, however, about most of the definite plans for next year.

The offences of cutting campus, failing to paint the N, missing A.W.S. meetings, missing calls before the Upperclass committee, and sitting on the bench for the seniors will result in punishment in the form of sweeping the sidewalks, scrubbing the steps on their knees, and scrubbing the senior bench with a toothbrush.

New rules to be adopted this next fall are that no student can leave the A.W.S. meeting before the meeting is adjourned and the hymn has been sung. If they are seen leaving they will be called upon to apologize to the group at the next meeting. After the second time that they leave before the conclusion they will be required to learn the hymns of the university and sing them before the meeting.

Also, if any student is caught molesting property, Miss Kirkley said, they will be subject to the harshest treatment the committee can think up for them. The punishment will absolutely be left up to the discretion of the committee, she added.

If any student has been called up before the group more than three times they will be campused, and each time after the fourth time they will be campused for a week for each offence she continued.

Constructive work which will benefit the A. S. U. N. is one of the newest punishments which has been adopted by the new committee. This will be the punishment for failing to paint the N semi-annually.

Miss Kirkley would not disclose the other new rules and punishments which were decided upon by the committee.

At the first meeting of the Senate next semester, Miss Kirkley said, two new members of the Upperclass committee will be appointed. No one definite has been thought of, but they will probably be Seniors, she stated.

Members of the committee at present are Florence Kirkley, chairman, Alice Mason, Katherine Dondero, Genevieve Wakefield, Eunice Caton, Georgia Cole, Frances Burke, and Charlotte Robinson.

Ruby Bliss Given Gothic N Award

Ruby Bliss, senior student, was awarded a Gothic "N" senior blanket at the annual play day held Saturday.

Completing her requirements for membership in Gothic N in her senior year, Miss Bliss is one of six women to receive this honor. Elizabeth Frey, Helene Stark, Nell Lozano, Dorothy Gordon, and Dorothy Nason were awarded blankets at the Mackay day luncheon.

The blankets are awarded each year to senior women students who have been active in Gothic "N," W.A.A., and one other campus activity.

Initiates Honored By Chi Delta Phi

Initiates to Chi Delta Phi, English honorary society, were guests at a banquet held at the El Cortez hotel Tuesday evening.

Information regarding the principles, purpose, and ideals of Chi Delta Phi, was given the initiates in a short talk by Ruby Bliss, senior Phi Kappa Phi student. Professor A. E. Hill, and Miss Katherine Riegelhuth welcomed the new members and complimented them upon their exceptional ability.

Among those attending were: Inez MacGillivray, Ruby Bliss, Katherine Norrid, Mary Correcco, Grace Armbruster, Glenadell McQuerry, Zerna McQuerry, Alice Lundberg, Winifred Walsh, Florence Gulling, Amelia Zorich, Orva Selkirk, Lois Midgely, Eunice Caton, EvaMae Beemer, Mary Casey, Rita Jepson, Ruth Palmer, Anne Gibbs, Jeanne Camerson, and Ida De Nevi.

Professor Hill and Miss Riegelhuth were honored guests.

Pan-Hell Council Formulates Plans For Next Season

In order to facilitate matters when university reopens next fall, plans are how being made by the officials of the Pan-Hellenic council to handle the semi-annual "rushing," according to Inez MacGillivray, president of the group. The rules in general will remain the same as at present, with a few minor changes.

Rushing will start September 3 and will end September 9. The traditional period of silence will begin at 8 o'clock the day rushing ends and will not be broken until the preference teas at 3 o'clock, September 14. All arrangements for bidding will be handled by officials of the council, with the aid of Mrs. Scott Harrington, official Pan-Hellenic lawyer.

The changes for next fall will include the prevention of alumni members from attending any of the house functions during rushing. As was done this semester, an account of costs of the teas and dinners will be kept by the council in an effort to determine a fair limit of the amount any house may spend. The limit at present is twenty-five cents per function and it is believed by many to be too low, and efforts are being made to have the sum raised, Miss MacGillivray said.

English Honorary Elects President

Florence Gulling, junior student, was elected president of Chi Delta Phi, English honorary society at the meeting held this week. Miss Gulling replaces Inez MacGillivray.

Miss Gulling is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and has been consistent in maintaining a place as one of the first five students on the honor roll each semester. She has been active in Y. W. C. A. while attending the university.

Other officers elected at the meeting were: Alice Lundberg, independent junior student, vice president, Katharine Norrid, junior and member of Beta Sigma Omicron, secretary and treasurer; Eleanor Doan, member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, reporter.

Daudee St. Cyr To Wed Fallonite

Announcement of the marriage of Daudee St. Cyr, university co-ed, to Edwin Douglas of Fallon, was made on the campus this week.

The wedding will take place tomorrow in Lovelock, where they will make their home.

Miss St. Cyr is a junior student and member of Manzanita Hall association. Douglas is connected with the Sierra Pacific power company in Lovelock.

Through a Keyhole

By...
WANNA WENCHA

As this is the last chance keyhole will have to crack at the nefarious doings of Nevada campusites, it offers these few remarks upon the status of the column during the present school year: It is well-known that there are two classes of students—those who like to have their names in the dirt and those who don't. (The latter are in the minority). One group thinks that the stuff used in this feature should be cleverly sophisticated and the other thinks it should be ultra-sensational, telling all and sparing none. Both groups, whether they like it or not, raise their common voice weekly and shout "The Column's loose!"

There are two types of faculty members—and both think the column is in unutterably poor taste, and would like to see it abolished.

The question then is a tough one, for since all the studes would howl if the column were abandoned the problem resolves itself into one of trying to please the ones who want a dirty-dirt column, those who think it should be nice, and the faculty who think there shouldn't be one. The result is a situation analogous to the old man and the boy and the donkey. There probably isn't an answer as to what type of personal column can be a success and still not do anyone actual injury. Anyway, enough of this heavy dope, and on to more vital things:

The man of the week is unanimously chosen to be dashing Chet Scranton, the curly-haired adonis of the P. E. department. A special operator tells us that on the Tau barbecue last week "Chet" made a sobriety test, using a pig as a subject, with astoundingly successful results.

We are sure going to miss some of these graduating seniors who have been such excellent fodder for the Keyhole. What to do now that we no longer have lanky Libby Young, with her shoe episodes, her bizarre costumes for mardi gras and her hair-raising adventures with all the four star swains on the good old Nevada campus? . . . And then there are Sallie Fagan and Betty Howell, those two eccentric Thetas, whose varied activities in our midst have caused so much speculation as to just what was going on . . . Another we'll miss is Bill "McMooch" McMiniman, he of the bright yellow sweater and juvenile waywardness. . . And Ed Martinez and Joe McLeod, those two G.O.M. (grand old men) whose familiar faces have graced our gates these many years, and whose escapades, now buried in the past, would make the present generation "bad boys" look like pikers. . . Helene Per Lee, whose presence won't so greatly disturb campus Lotharios who would like to break up the Montgomery monopoly. . . Merle Atcheson whose occasional departures from the "straight-and-narrow" have afforded many a choice morsel. . . Peaches Stark whose Sigma Nu mixups have delighted everyone but herself and the nus. . . Ed Lozano and his one-hit-in-a-thousand gags which have proved amusing. . . the rest of these jolly ones, too numerous to chronicle here. . .

Another frosh crashes the column! Who? None other than this quiet Casanova, Lindon Castle. The half-pint yearling with his dulcet voice and aristocratic mien has half the one-year babes ga-ga! That boy should go places (he thinks.)

And how Hawkins, the Tau pug, did burn when receiving the colossal piece of art work contributed by the long absent D'Illo. It seems the striving artist had to attach a balling to the likeness of Hawkins to make him appear threatening.

And who's going to keep Messers Hawkins, Benson, Cummings, Dodge and the rest of that noisy gang, including their Theta playmates out of the house on their next Saturday night off, what with a new police chief promised for Reno?

It's a pity Cecil Cheal couldn't hold out until after graduation. . . especially after the fair damsel had flown up from San Francisco for the formal just a week ago. But the pride of the engineers (?) had to go trekking off to the bay region, and it wasn't to swim in the bay either.

St. Feemster may have lost the Senior-Faculty ball game by lack of support, but he looked like a million dollars curving three fast ones past McMenamin the boy journalist.

The boys, it is said, received quite a treat down at the Block N the other night. It seems that the parlor was dark and the room empty until. . . well, ask Lansdon, Beccas, or Savage for the first hand low-down.

No, it wasn't the Princess Barbara who held on to the Fallon play boy down Town House way the other evening. . . just a case of mistaken identity. And, incidentally, it's a cinch bet that the royal chariot will NOT be handed down to some deserving (?) college boy when the five and dime queen takes off.

And now that a process for taking the headache or hangover out of whiskey has been invented it is expected that the Phi Sigs or the Sigma Phi Sigmals will never call it a day. . . or night.

And now comes to life the interesting revelation that quite recently Darrel Barry bounced the price of two swimming tickets at Lawton's at the wee hour of FIVE A. M. and now wishes he had his money back.

Well here they are breaking into the spotlight again—Bryce and Cornelia. The latest is that he hung his pin on her as a reward for cutting her latin locks. As the gossips have it, Bryce doesn't like old fashioned girls so he bribed her to give up her remaining signs of virtue to wear a Sigma Nu pin. That must be why girls leave home!

Just because Julia Sibley has a house at the lake she needn't think she can get a share in the ice cream factory, for after all John can't be blackmailed until she has something on him. She shouldn't have long to wait, for after another weekend at the lake things out to be fairly well under control.

Prepare yourself for a shock dear readers. Ted Lunsford of '09 fame has slung his brass on Fran Slavin. Here we thought Fran had a yen for "The Farmer" Stoker, but he must have given away under the strain. But, there are gals and gals. Bob, so don't give up.

"When will nud be done?"

This young lady records the meaningless syllables spoken by the man.

AND, "How does kib like that?" Such questions sound senseless — yet they play an important part in making articulation tests on new types of telephone apparatus at Bell Telephone Laboratories.

In making these tests, 6336 meaningless syllables are spoken — while observers record what they hear. Comparison of sounds actually spoken with those heard, shows how well the new apparatus reproduces the many sounds of which speech is composed.

Such thoroughness is typical of Bell System methods. Years of inventing, improving and testing have led to the apparatus which transmits your words so clearly.

Phi Kappa Phi Plans Initiation For Tomorrow

Emily Ross and Carl Dunn Elected to Honorary Scholarship Group

Emily Ross graduate student, and Carl Dunn who completed his undergraduate work last semester, were elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi last Wednesday afternoon at the final official meeting of the honorary scholastic society.

Initiation of these two newly elected members will take place tomorrow afternoon at 6:30 o'clock in the university home economics rooms in the Agricultural building. Emily Ross, a graduate of Stanford University, will receive a master's degree in mathematics next Monday, while Carl Dunn will obtain his bachelor's certificate at the commencement exercises.

The annual formal banquet of the Nevada Phi Kappa Chi chapter will be held tomorrow evening after the initiation at 6:30 o'clock at the 20th Century club hall on Riverside Drive, according to Verdi Fant, secretary. Dr. J. Hugh Jackson, professor of accounting and dean of the graduate school of business at Stanford University will speak on "Dynamic Education," during the evening.

Officers of the scholarship society were elected at last Wednesday's meeting. Dr. Charles R. Hicks, associate professor of history succeeds Prof. John A. Fulton, director of the Mackay School of Mines as president. Fulton automatically becomes vice-president of the society. Harold N. Brown, assistant professor of education, was elected secretary. Miss Jessie Pope of the home economics department will be corresponding secretary next year, while Meryt W. Deming, assistant professor of chemistry, was elected treasurer of the society. Prof. Jay A. Carpenter, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the officers panel.

Members of which will not take office until next fall, the initiation and banquet being conducted by the present officers.

At mid-semester seven senior students were elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi. These are Merle Atcheson, William Johnstone, Blanche Keegan, Grace Semenza, Ruby Bliss, Glenn D. McQuerry, and Mrs. Ralph K. Wittenberg.

Sagens Entertain Outgoing Members

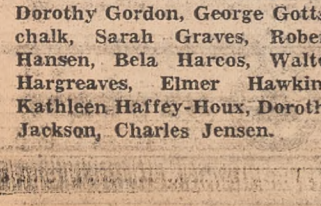

The Sagens, women's pep organization at the university, made plans at the last meeting of the group to entertain the outgoing seniors at a banquet tonight at the Tuscano Hotel.

Betty Simpson, president of the group will be in charge of the affair with several members working under her. This affair is to be the last affair of the group of the semester with the new semester next fall opening with a general get-together she said today.

Plans for the election of new members will also be postponed until next semester she added.

GRADUATING SENIORS

Nevada Graduates Are Chosen To Fill Political Offices

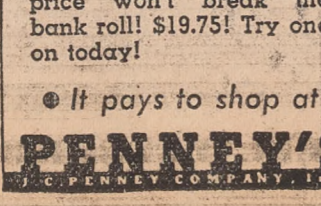

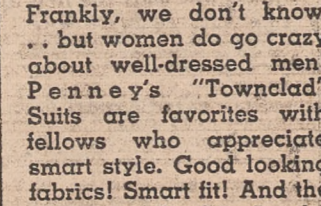

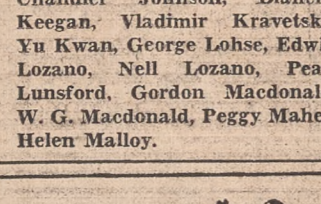

Law enforcement in the city of Reno for the next few years will be largely in the hands of graduates of the University of Nevada as a result of the recent city election and the general election last fall.

Violators of city ordinances will have to do their explaining to Douglas A. Bussey, 29, who defeated Leo Roy Pike, also a graduate, in the race for city attorney. Incidentally, it is said that these lawbreakers will have to do some fast alibing if they expect to escape the wrath of this 27-year-old attorney, in as much as he is a very capable prosecutor.

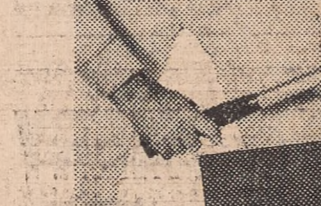

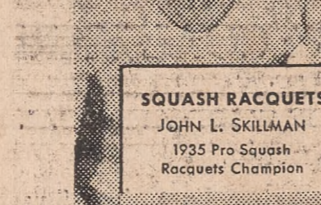

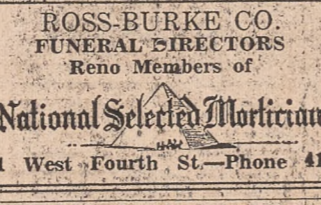

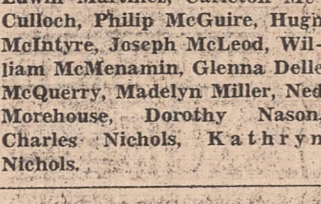

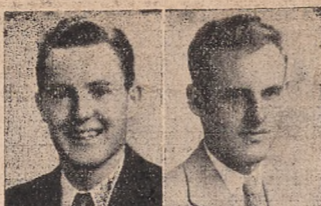

To those who might occasionally disturb the peace or commit minor offenses, let them remember that when Constable Calvin Bannigan, 33, and Walter Baring, former student, his deputy, get together, they make a very formidable pair. For that matter, either one of them alone is a very efficient peace officer.

However, there are some people who go in for law breaking in a big way and eventually run across the path of the district attorney, who at the present time happens to be Ernest S. Brown, graduate of the university in 1926. To these big time law breakers let it be said that Brown is a man who believes in strict enforcement of the law and proper punishment for those whose ideas differ radically from his.

New Senate Bill Would Add $60,000 To U. N. Income

With the introduction early this week of an amendment by Senator McCarran, of Nevada, to the pending senate bill increasing federal endowments to land grant colleges and agricultural experiment stations, the University of Nevada has a chance to benefit by an additional $60,000 annually should the legislation be enacted. The Newlands experiment station at Fallon would also benefit by the bill to an extent of $20,000 annually.

The amendment provides that of the ultimate annual allotment of five million dollars, $980,000 be divided equally among the states and the territory of Hawaii. The remaining $20,000 is to be prorated among the states in proportion to the farming population of each state to the total farming population of the nation.

It is not known how soon the proposed legislation will be acted upon. Considerable delay is expected, President Clark intimated this afternoon.

LIBRARIAN TO TRAVEL

Miss Claire Johnson, cataloguer for the Clark Memorial Library, will leave the university immediately upon the close of the semester for a trip to her home in Wisconsin. She will return to take up her duties in the library after a brief vacation.

Social Hour Cups Won By K. A. T.'s And Lambda Chis

Cups were presented to Kappa Alpha sorority and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity Wednesday night at the social hour for having the best attendance records at the weekly functions throughout the semester.

The race was close between the Thetas and Pi Beta Phi, while the Lambda Chis had no competition in the contest for fraternity attendance. The Thetas and Pi Phis had each held three winning attendance nights until Wednesday, when 44 of the 46 active Theta members showed up at the social hour to win from the Pi Phis who had 40 out of 45 members attending the affair.

The Lambda Chis had their cup won before Wednesday night, having won the attendance record four times before. Their closest competitors were Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, each fraternity having had more members at social hours two times.

Bill Gelder, representing Blue Key service fraternity, and chairman of the social hour committee, presented the trophies which were accepted by Genevieve Wakefield and John Dana.

Harold N. Brown To Receive Degree

A degree of Doctor of Education at the University of California will be awarded Assistant Professor Harold N. Brown, member of the U. of N. education staff, according to word received recently by Dean J. Hall, head of the local education department on May 17 at the University of California commencement exercises.

To obtain the degree Prof. Brown wrote a thesis on "The History of the Public Elementary School System in Nevada, 1861-1934." In a letter received by Dean Hall, announcing the award F. H. Swift, professor of education at California, wrote "Professor Brown has passed with credit the oral examination for the degree of doctor of education. He has made an exceedingly good showing, and his thesis constitutes an important contribution to the history of education."

Professor Brown has been a member of the Nevada faculty since 1930. He received his bachelor's degree from the Kansas State Teacher's College of Emporia, Kansas, in 1923. From 1923 to 1926 he was superintendent of schools at Tampa, Kansas. After leaving Kansas he held the position of supervising critic, Junior High School, Arizona State Teachers College. Brown obtained a masters degree from Stanford in 1927.

Receiving a salary and expense account as well as entertainment and rooms in a leading hotel, twelve men at the University of California have been picked to taste beer for a leading wholesale concern.

Nevada Is Fourth In Western Meet As Records Fall

Wolf Broad Jumper Breaks Conference Records In Long Leap

McDow And Leonard Collect Seven Points And Relay Team Gets One

Led by Kenyon Richard, diminutive broad jumper, the University of Nevada track team finished in fourth place in the Far Western conference meet Saturday with a total of thirteen points. Fresno State chalked up 84 points to win the meet, in which five records were broken and one equaled. Richard smashed the conference mark in the broad jump by almost a foot, leaping twenty-four feet, seven and three-quarters inches. The Nevada's jump was six inches better than any mark made on the Pacific Coast this season, and resulted in an invitation for him to compete in the Fresno relays tomorrow.

Wilson of Fresno, who was the favorite to capture the broad jump, also broke the old record, but by a considerable distance behind Richard. Paul Leonard, Nevada veteran distance runner, concluded a long career of outstanding track achievements when he finished a close second in the two-mile race. Rice of Fresno nosed out the lanky Nevada after a thrilling last lap sprint, winning by the narrow margin of one yard.

Spectators who attended the meet said that they believed Leonard could defeat the Fresno man if they met again. The Wolf star did not follow his usual plan of maintaining the lead with an even pace all the way, but instead kept behind Rice too long. The time was 10.03.

Handicapped by an injured leg muscle, Doug McDow of Nevada captured two third-places in the sprints. The time of 9.8, set by Holt of Fresno, which equaled the conference record, has been made by McDow three times this season on the poor Nevada track. If the red-haired speedster had been in good shape, his chances to establish a new conference record would have been excellent.

Nevada's relay team took fourth place in a contest won by San Jose in the time of 3:25.2.

Elroy Robinson, Fresno's star middle distance runner, turned in a remarkable performance in the mile run, setting a new conference mark of 4:19.9, which greatly lowered the old time of 4:28.8.

Rowland, another Fresno record-breaker, sent the javelin out 207 feet, bettering the former mark of 199 feet, 10 inches.

A new pole vault record was set by Warmerdam of Fresno who sailed over the bar at 13 feet, six inches. Jorgensen of Chico hurled the shot put 48 feet, 5 1/2 inches for another new conference record.

The entering colleges finished in the following order: Fresno, Chico, San Jose, Nevada, California Aggies, and College of Pacific.

Wilson to Visit Sons at Coast

On completion of his duties for the semester, F. W. Wilson, professor of agronomy, will leave for California where he will visit his sons, Tom and "Fritz," both of whom are Nevada graduates.

In San Mateo, Wilson will visit Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson and see his month-old grandchild for the first time. Mr. Wilson is the former Ina Winters and a graduate of the university. Continuing on to Los Angeles, he will visit Mr. and Mrs. "Fritz" Wilson. Young Wilson is employed by a Hollywood bank and was graduated from the university in 1932.

The Harvard university library is the largest library in the world. 3,602,040 books are located upon its shelves.

Greek Houses Help In Choice of Baseball Stars; Material Is Excellent For Next Season's League.

By BOB NELLIGAN
The tough task of selecting an all-star team from the many good players in the fraternity baseball league, which has just been completed, is one which has taken lengthy consideration and careful observation.

For several of the positions on the first-string, the choices were so close that one or two men could have been placed on the roster without any difficulty.

The team that has been selected was named only after each man on the various outfits has been "literally" put "on the carpet" and all of his various weaknesses and strong points have been well analyzed.

Furthermore, men from each house were asked in the past few weeks to select men on their outfits who they have seen fit to nominate for the all-house team. These nominations have been "shaken down" to the top-notchers and the men listed in the below ger who has given opposing pitchers much trouble this spring, is the outstanding choice for the left side of the pasture. "Lefty" took a turn or two on the mound but he finally found his proper spot when he went to the left side of the lot.

ALLEN LANSDON, master-mind of the Tau outfit, started the season at first-base and then later went to the center field post when the hill-toppers' outfield seemed to be a little shaky. Al has played lots of ball and is a capable fly-chaser and ranks high in the league's batting percentages.

TED BARNES, short outfielder for the Sigma Alpha's, is good enough for this league, anytime. He plays left field for the "farm boys" but we shifted him over to right to keep his name on the first string. Ted is a dangerous hitter and his ability in the field has been the talk of campus baseball critics.

JOE JONES, chukker for the champs,

'35 All-Interfraternity Baseball Team

Name	Position	House	Class
Orv Tregallas	First base	Sigma Alpha Epsilon	Junior
Jerry Havens	Second base	Lambda Chi Alpha	Soph.
John Flournoy	Short stop	Sigma Alpha Epsilon	Senior
Forrest Rhodes	Third base	Phi Sigma Kappa	Senior
Henry Mayer	Left field	Phi Sigma Kappa	Soph.
Allen Lansdon	Center field	Alpha Tau Omega	Junior
Ted Barnes	Right field	Sigma Alpha Epsilon	Junior
Joe Jones	Pitcher	Phi Sigma Kappa	Junior
Walt Christian	Alt. pitcher	Lambda Chi Alpha	Senior
Sam Basta	Catcher	Alpha Tau Omega	Fresh.
Hollis McKinnon	Alt. Catcher	Phi Sigma Kappa	Junior

summaries have been given the all-school positions:

The "Winnahs"
ORV TREGALLAS, a transfer from Sacramento Junior college, was almost the unanimous selection to hold down the first sack. Edmund Dumont, Lambda Chi Alpha first baseman, is a consistent man on the defensive side of the game but his weakness at the plate in most of his appearances has been evident.

JERRY HAVENS, playing classy ball in all of his games, stands out as the best second baseman in the league. This man, only a sophomore, muffed only a few of his chances during the season and his stick work has been good enough to put him in the front ranks among all the hitters in the loop.

JOHNNY FLOURNOY, playing his last year for the Evans Avenue organization, gains a close decision to hold down the hot spot in the infield. In all the games, Flournoy has hit when the hits were needed for scores and his fielding has been steady. Dorrance Jameson, the Phi Sig shortstop, is the second choice and has been given the alternate position in this spot. His erratic work in the field has forced him to take a back seat to the first-stringer.

FORREST RHODES, another veteran who has played his last interfraternity league game, gets the verdict to occupy the last sack. "Dusty" made some costly errors in a couple of the important games but his batting ability makes him the class of the league for this job. A notable scarcity of good third basemen in the circuit was much in evidence this year, with Rhodes gaining most of the votes cast in the selection. Lee Ward, an aggressive man who did a good job at this position for the Lambda Chi's, is shaded in the first string selection because of his inconsistent infield work.

HENRY MAYER, a southpaw slug-looks to be too good for the circuit on some occasions and then at other times he has appeared to be just another small-timer. However, he is still the class of the league on the mound with serious competition coming from two other men on the hill. Walt Christian and Jack Roguin, have shown plenty of ability on some afternoons but their work has been too erratic to put them on the first team. Bob Smith of the Hall outfit has shown some classy twirling but without any indication of support, what can any pitcher do?

SAM BASTA, backstop for the Taus, stands head and shoulders above any other catcher in the league. A first class hitter in all of his trips to the plate, Sam has also gained a mention from many critics as being the most valuable player in the entire league. Hollis McKinnon gets the nod over Charles Barnes of the S.A.E. crew for the utility catching job because of his fine arm. Not many bases were stolen against the Phi Sig's.

Phi Sigma Kappa Wins Intra-Mural Baseball Trophy

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity won the intra-mural baseball championship this week by defeating decisively Lambda Chi Alpha 13 to 1 and 13 to 2 in two consecutive games.

The Phi Sigs, playing airtight ball behind the superlative pitching of Joe Jones, had little trouble in turning back their challengers.

In the first game the Lake street boys had difficulty in solving Walt Christian's slants, but in the later innings they scored almost at will.

Steffens and Elliott played an outstanding game for the losers while Rhodes, Buru, Seymour and McKinnon aided the Phi Sigs.

The second game was a repetition of the first with the Phi Sigs taking a substantial lead in the early innings. The Lambda Chi's were still at a loss before the baffling offerings of Jones, and had to be content with but two hits.

Hadlen and McKinnon clouted home runs to increase their team's total.

Batteries were Jones and McKinnon Phi Sigma Kappa; Christian and Steffens, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Two Are Initiated By S.A.E. Group

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity initiated two men into the organization Tuesday. The new initiates are Jack Hanson and Adam Patterson. Victor Carroll, chapter president, conferred the degrees.

Following the initiation, a banquet was held at the chapter house in honor of the initiates and graduating seniors.

James Herz Wins First Round Match In Tennis Tourney

James Herz, University of Nevada single entry, reached the second round of the Far Western conference tennis tournament last Saturday, but was eliminated in his second match of the day.

The Nevada doubles team, consisting of Tony Leone and Walter Bowrin, dropped their first match of the competition. The doubles tournament was won by Fresno, it was announced.

Herz scored a win in the first round of the tournament over the College of Pacific entry, who was believed to be the strongest competitor in the meet, being rated as a favorite by sports writers. Herz, after engaging in this strenuous match, was called for his second round only fifteen minutes after his first one, and after taking the first set was too exhausted to maintain his winning streak.

The Nevada dropped the second match to the Fresno entrant, who went on to take the title.

council, announced early this week. Other officers for the semester will be Leland Ward, vice-president, and Cletus Libbey, secretary-treasurer.

Richard Is Lone Nevada Entrant At Fresno Meet

Being the sole representative from Nevada, Kenyon Richard, star broad jumper, will compete in the West Coast relays, which will be held in Fresno, today and tomorrow. Richard, who broke the Far Western Conference record last week with a leap of 24 feet, 8 3/4 inches, also holds the Nevada record with a distance of 23 feet, 8 inches. Nevada's broad jumper stands a good chance of taking first place. His last week's jump surpasses most efforts made by Coast stars in their previous efforts. Olson of U.S.C. is the only one having made a better mark with a jump of 25 feet 1 inch. The West Coast relays which are conducted by Fresno State college each year, attract stars in all events, and world records stand a good chance of being shattered by such individuals as Meadows of Southern California in the pole vault, Anderson of California in the dashes, and Sammy Klopstock of Stanford in the high hurdles.

Elton Hamilton, one of Pacific's greatest football men, has signed a contract as a pitcher with the Cincinnati Reds.

Fresno Bulldogs End Sport Year In Top Position

Individual Performances Are Nevada's Bright Spots For Season

Herz Conceded Outstanding Tennis Man In Annual Tournament

Climaxing an overwhelmingly successful athletic season the Fresno State Bulldogs copped the Far Western Conference track championship by a decisive margin and swept the conference tennis championship matches by winning both the doubles and singles last Saturday at Sacramento.

Nevada closed a disastrous athletic year (which was redeemed only by several outstanding individual performances. The Wolf tracksters placed fourth in the conference meet. They were led by Kenyon Richard, diminutive jump star, who leaped out to a new conference record and the best mark made on the coast this year.

In the tennis matches, which were held on the same day and in conjunction with the track meet, the Nevada doubles team lost out in the first round but James Herz, number one man for Nevada, survived until the second round. Herz defeated the favorite of the tourney in his first match after a grueling three set match and was forced to play his next opponent immediately following. Spectators stated that Herz looked to be the best man of the tourney and, had he been given sufficient rest would have come out on top.

Fresno State started out the football season by eking out a well-earned victory over College of Pacific 7 to 6 and went on to place first in the conference standing. San Jose and Chico finished up in that order while Nevada after its one flare of form against St. Marys did not live up to its capabilities and ended up at the bottom of the heap.

In basketball it was the same story. The Pack, severely handicapped by injuries and ineptitudes, started out like a whirlwind by defeating Chico State. The close of the season found the conference teams in the same standing as in football, with Fresno first and Chico and San Jose right behind.

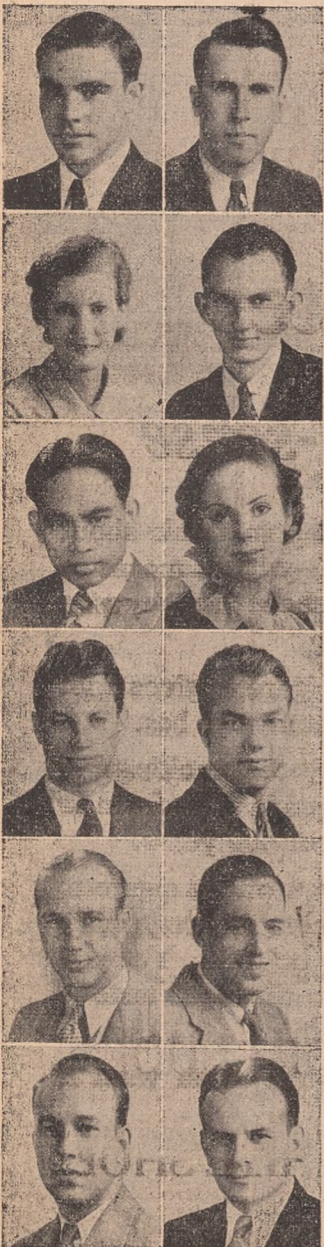

The 1935-36 season will find all the conference teams pointing toward Fresno. Nevada will have a considerably brighter outlook due to the fact that all the point-getters of this year will be returning for next season.

Wolf Den Owners To Take Vacation

With vacation time for students at hand, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross, proprietors of the Wolf Den, will also take a holiday. The Ross's will make a combined business and pleasure trip to British Columbia, Canada, for a month.

The Den, however, will be open all summer, under the management of Mrs. James Francis, a friend of the Ross family. At the opening of the fall semester, the university students will find the Den open for business.

A.T.O. Annexes Inter-Greek Cup; Takes 360 Points

Lambda Chi Place Second, Sigma Nus Third, In Competition

Alpha Tau Omega annexed the copper stein awarded annually to the fraternity rolling up the highest number of points in inter-Greek sports competition with a total of 360 tallies. Lambda Chi Alpha was second with 297.2, and Sigma Nu scored 196 to place third. The stein was presented to the Taus last Monday at the interfraternity "bean feed."

The Taus won first places in track, tennis doubles, horse shoe doubles and cross country, and tied with the Sigma Nus for first honors in volleyball. They garnered additional points in basketball, baseball, handball, and tennis singles.

Lambda Chi picked up fifty points in basketball, 80 in baseball, 60 in track, 40 in the cross country, and gained the remainder of their points by places in other events.

Nus Take 196 Points

Sigma Nu won the hoop race which netted them 100 points, tied for first in volleyball for 50, gathered 20 in track, and scored 16 more tallies in baseball, tennis, and horseshoe competition.

Sigma Phi Sigma placed fourth in the season's standing. They amassed 186.2 points, taking first in handball singles, tying for second in the basketball race, and placing in other sports.

Phi Sigma Kappa, baseball champion was fifth in the official standings with a total of 119.1 points. The Phi Sigs failed to pick up enough scores in other sports to place higher in the race.

The remaining contenders in the league were ranked as follows: S.A.E., 57.4; Lincoln hall, 30.6; Beta Kappa, 29.1; Independents, 10; Delta Sigma Lambda, 2.5.

Morris is a prominent junior student, and was recently elected the most valuable man residing in Lincoln hall during the past school year. He is a member of Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade and Campus Players.

Election to other offices was not held at the meeting.

Other Masque and Dagger members attending the banquet were Renee Duque, Grace Semenza, Professor Paul A. Harwood, Robert Griffin, instructor in English and debate coach, and Richard P. Hillman, '29, teacher and dramatics coach at Sparks high school.

Semester Marks To Be Out Soon

Grades for the semester will be mailed to students within the next two weeks, the registrar's office announced yesterday. Senior Angler Fulfills Dream Of Five Years

"It's like shooting lions in the zoo," said one disgusted collegian yesterday afternoon.

"Naw, it's worse than that," retorted a second. "It's as bad as hunting easter rabbits with cannon."

Whistling cheerily, all unconcerned, an unidentified angler tossed his line back out into Manzanita lake and hauled it in again with a wriggling bass on the hook. His companion added the unfortunate pices to an already respectable collection in his basket, and expectantly watched the angler make another cast.

A whole family of fish, including aunts, uncles, brothers, sisters, cousins and second cousins followed one another into the basket.

The crowd of spectators grew and pressed closer to the angler, a graduating senior with a slightly cherry colored nose.

Time passed, and further inroads were made in the finny population of the lake and slight havoc was wreaked on some of the spectators, who failed to duck the hook.

Finally a Brush reporter approached and queried, "I thought it was against the rules to fish in this lake?"

The angler turned. "So it is," he happily replied. "But I have waited five years to do this. How'm I doin'?"

Graduating Class Picnics at Lake

Forty members of the graduating class trekked to Pyramid Lake Wednesday for the annual senior picnic. With refreshments furnished by the class fund and lunches provided by women members of the class, the afternoon was spent in traditional hilarity.

The majority of those attending the picnic engaged in a baseball game while others enjoyed swimming in the icy waters of the lake.

One of the features of the senior week celebration, the affair was in charge of Bill Gelder and Elizabeth Young.

Annual Bean-Feed Is Well Attended

Intra-Mural Sport Trophies Awarded By Rhodes At Dinner

More than 100 men gathered in the university dining hall Monday night for the second annual "Bean-Feed," sponsored each spring by the Inter-Fraternity council.

Forrest Rhodes, outgoing president of the council presided at the dinner, and introduced the speakers of the evening. Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the university, praised the student spirit in a short address.

Other speakers were Bryce Rhodes, J. E. ("Doc") Martie, Prof. F. W. Wilson, and Dean R. C. Thompson. The purpose of the "bean-feed" and the need of cooperation between students and the faculty were stressed by the speakers.

Rhodes then awarded intra-mural sport trophies won during the past semester. Leonard Voorhies, handball singles player of Lambda Chi Alpha, was awarded the handball singles trophy, and Louis Nash of Sigma Phi Omega the handball doubles cup. Alpha Tau Omega, represented by Brooks Park, was presented with the revolving trophy and the intra-mural track cup.

The dinner closed with the singing of U. of N. So Gay.

Errors sped the final downfall of the Lambda Chi Alpha nine when the Phi Sigs clinched the baseball trophy Wednesday afternoon. The Lake street boys played a nice ball game and in winning the championship series, looked like the class of the interfraternity league.

Professional baseball lost a great hauler when Prof. Peemster decided to earn his spinach in a college class. He stood the senior's heavy hitters on their ears in Monday afternoon's Faculty-Senior game. Poor condition finally slowed his fast ball down, and the graduating team pounded him for numerous hits.

With the exception of a few bright spots, Nevada athletes have little to look back on the past sports year with pleasure. The St. Marys game, the hoop game with the Broadway clewms, Richard's broad jump at the conference meet, and places won by Leonard and McDow at Sacramento, include most of the high spots.

Fresno is now king in the conference, but perhaps the silver and blue will make a better showing next year.

Although defeated in every tourney played this spring, the net stars look promising. Nevada should place a strong team on the courts next year.

Spectators thought Herz the best man on the courts at Sacramento last week. He was defeated in the second round by the eventual winner of the tournament. The match was played almost immediately following Herz's first round, which is something of a valid alibi.

Football prospects for next year are not exactly bright, as even the most enthusiastic Wolf supporter must grant. Graduation, ineptitudes, and the over present injury bugaboo will all be on hand to handicap the 1935 varsity football squad. They will surely need all the backing students can give.

Survey Indicates Number of Grads In Each College

Arts and Science Graduates 77; Engineering Gives 34 Degrees

Only E. M. Degree This Year To Be Given to Leland H. Hinckley

A survey made this week of the number of students to be graduated from the three colleges comprising the University of Nevada shows that 67 will be graduated from the college of arts and science, 30 from the college of engineering, and seven from the college of agriculture.

Ten December arts and science graduates will also receive diplomas, raising the total to 77 for the year. Four engineers who graduated in December raise the roll of that college to 34. The number of graduates in the schools within the colleges are given here.

In the college of engineering, headed by Dean Frederick H. Sibley, bachelor of science degrees will be awarded to graduates, the electrical school receiving a total of eleven degrees.

E. M. Degree Given

Nine mining engineers will be given degrees from the Mackay School of Mines, and one graduate will be honored with the title of engineer of mines. Leland H. Hinckley, 28, wins this recognition for five years' active work in the mining field and is the only candidate this year from any of the engineering schools for the advanced degree. He now holds the B. S. degree.

The school of mechanical engineering will graduate eight men this year and the school of civil engineering will confer degrees on five.

Many B. A.s Conferred

In the college of arts and science 77 bachelor of arts degrees will be given. The school of education did not reveal the number of teachers to be graduated from that department, which includes both normal school and four-year graduates.

The college of agriculture will give bachelor of science degrees to two senior agriculture students and five women in home economics. Information concerning the graduating pre-medical students was not available since those students are enrolled in the zoology department and Dr. Peter Fransden, head of the zoology department said it is impossible to determine how many will continue on to medical colleges and nursing schools. No classification was made of pre-legal students.

U. S. Appropriation To Aid Engineers

Additional jobs for University of Nevada engineering students will be available this year in the U. S. Geological Survey and U. S. Bureau of Mines as a result of the 125,000 extra appropriation made by this session of congress for the expansion of field forces in those departments, John A. Fulton, director of the Mackay school of mines, announced today.

Congressman James G. Scrugham, through whose efforts the extra funds were made possible, in a letter to Fulton, said: "In my opinion there will be a considerable number of new technical positions open for University of Nevada students as a result of the extra appropriations."

Most of the $125,000 will be spent in the western states, Fulton said, with the strong likelihood that the state of Nevada will be given a substantial portion of that amount.

Fulton has written letters to the officials of the various bureaus asking that university men be given preference when the jobs are distributed.

Seven of the students expelled from Louisiana State U. have enrolled in the University of Missouri School of Journalism. "We want an education," they say.

Who the best dressed man and woman on the campus is will be determined at a feature dance given by the members of the staff of the Coloradoan, campus year book of the Colorado university.

General Malone Reviews Cadets This Afternoon

Medals Awarded Inspection Competition Winners By Officers

Making his first visit to the Nevada campus, Major-General Paul B. Malone, new commandant of the Ninth Corp Area, reviewed the Nevada R.O.T.C. battalion this afternoon on Mackay field.

During the review orders were published announcing the winners of company and individual competition at the annual spring inspection held May 1.

Major-General Malone presented the medals and the colors were presented to Company B for the coming year.

Kennedy is Best Drilled

Cadet Sergeant Kennedy was awarded the medal for the best drilled man. Members of the rifle team who made the highest composite scores in all stages of the Ninth Corp Area gallery matches were also given medals.

The highest score in the rifle matches was made by cadet Captain Wendell H. Duplantis who was given a gold medal. He was followed by cadet Ralph M. Ball who was given a silver medal for second place and cadet Lieutenant Walter M. Bowrin who received a bronze medal for third place.

Cadets Cited

Citation was made of the four other cadets who remained with Kennedy after the elimination during inspection. These men were: cadet Corporal George Devore, cadet Corporal Craig Moore, cadet Private Robert Montgomery, and cadet Private Vernon Tapogna.

The rating of the Nevada R.O.T.C. unit will not be known until mid-summer it was learned today. The results of the Nevada inspection will be compiled with similar western inspection and the rating made from this compilation.

Thirteen Men Are Elected To Sagers

In an election held Wednesday afternoon, thirteen under graduates were chosen for membership in the Sagers, campus service organization, according to Oliver Aymar, president. Initiation of the newly elected next semester members will bring the membership up to 30 men, or its total quota. Sagers after serving in that organization for one year become eligible to Blue Key, honor service group.

Those elected Wednesday were: Charles Wheeler, John Dana, Willis Dalzell, James Hart, Edmund Dumont, Paul Leonard, Louis Weiner, Emory Greenke, William Powell, Harold Foremaster, Tomatsu Kamachi, Emile Gezlin, and Bill Horgan.

Repairs Planned By Greek Houses During Vacation

Led by the Sigma Nus, who contemplate spending $5000 to completely remodel their house, the various Greek organizations on the Hill are going to do "quite a bit" of repair work on their houses during the summer vacation. The Sigma Nus will have a practically rebuilt house next Fall, according to members, and the repairs will probably take most of the summer.

Next in line in estimated cost of repairs is Alpha Tau Omega fraternity with about $2,000 planned to be spent upon completely refinishing the interior of their University Terrace mansion. Several hundred dollars are also to be spent upon furniture for that house.

Of the sororities, Gamma Phi Beta and Kappa Alpha Theta seem to be planning the most extensive renovations with the intention of remodeling the downstairs of their house completely and also plan to work upon the upper story before school starts again in August. The Thetas are also planning improvements, but are very secretive as to the extent and cost of the work.

Houses Remain Open

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Beta Kappa, and Lambda Chi Alpha all intend to keep their houses open during the summer, with several members of each house planning to live in them until Fall. In each minor repairs and refinishing is contemplated, but the actual work or its value in any case has not been determined as yet.

The Delta Delta Delta sorority intends to keep their house open this vacation but have not planned any remodeling as yet. Members of the Pi Beta Phi house are turning their house over to tenants for the three months instead of closing up. The Alpha Delta Thetas are the only ones planning to close their house completely, according to word received.

State to License Engineering Alums

All University of Nevada engineering graduates who desire to be licensed under the new law passed recently by the Nevada legislature must notify Professor Frederick H. Sibley, dean of the College of Engineering, before next October, he announced today. Engineers who are not licensed before that time will be required to take an examination, he said.

Expressing the hope that all qualified engineers in the state will be licensed in the future, Sibley said that the new scheme will ultimately put the engineering profession on the same basis as the legal or medical.

"This excellent plan," Sibley continued, "will protect the public against quack engineering practitioners just as in the fields of law or medicine."

As secretary of the advisory board, recently appointed by Governor Kirtman, Sibley will spend much of his time this summer formulating rules and regulations to put the new plan into operation, as well as work with other states, which have similar laws, for the purpose of working out a national scheme.

Chauncey Smith, superintendent of public instruction, is chairman of the advisory board and will assist Sibley in the work.

PETERSON RETURNS

Wilbert Peterson, former university student, will be awarded his bachelor degree at the Commencement exercises Monday. He arrived late this week to participate in Senior Week activities.

Peterson attended the university for three years, and during the past year has been attending college in San Francisco. He will be awarded his degree for having completed his fourth year at the California school. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

FORTY FACULTY MEMBERS FAIL TO FOOL SENIOR BALL NINE

An all-star aggregation of bewhiskered faculty ball players went down to defeat before the big bats of senior swatters in their annual contest held on Mackay field Monday afternoon.

The faculty diamond stars led their former students until the sixth inning behind the stellar hurling of Pitcher Feemster, but the veteran weakened in the closing stanzas and the fourth year men collected five runs to win the game 13-11.

Flournoy, senior pitcher, was easy for the faculty men in the early innings, but he strengthened to cut down the teachers in one-two-three order in the final frame.

A large crowd of highly-partisan fans witnessed the game, and a riot was barely avoided in the last inning when J. E. (Doc) Martie, manager of the pros, attempted to hurl a brick at Frank Buru, senior third baseman, while he was taking a fly. Another disturbance nearly occurred when Martie removed a base from the field, but umpire Walter E. Clark quelled the demonstration when he ruled Martie was within his rights because his team was on the short end of the score.

Chet Scranton was the outstanding man at the plate for the faculty nine, getting no hits out of 10 trips to the plate.

There is no need for a lot of whangdoodle talk about cigarettes — just plain common-sense

When you stop to think about your cigarette—what it means to you—here's about the way you look at it—
Smoking a cigarette gives a lot of pleasure—it always has.
People have been smoking and enjoying tobacco in some form or another for over 400 years.
Of course you want a cigarette to be made right. And naturally you want it to be mild. Yet you want it to have the right taste—and plenty of it.
In other words—you want it to Satisfy.

Scientific methods and ripe mild tobaccos make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.
