Students Schedule Rousing Send-offs For Football Team

Pajama Rally Set to Herald Advent of Season Tonight

Businessmen to Unite to Wish 1935 Pack Good Luck At Game

Garbed in vari-colored pajamas, University of Nevada students will parade through the streets of Reno tonight in a mammoth rally ushering in the 1935 Wolf Pack football season, and tomorrow, along with the townspeople, will assemble at the train to send the Wolves on their way to San Francisco.

Meet at Hall

The rally will get under way Friday at 7:30 p. m., when students will form in front of Manzanita hall dressed in nocturnal attire, and will be led by Emil Gezelin, Nevada yell leader, down Virginia street to the Riverside hotel, and from there the group will turn over to Sierra street and will march up to Commercial Row and disband.

During the rally yells will be given at each intersection from Fourth street to the Riverside, and back on Sierra street to Commercial Row, where the group will disband after the singing of "U. of N. So Gay." The band, under the direction of Prof. Theodore H. Post, will accompany the march and will give several selections of various college school songs.

The Sagers, pep organization, will keep the group intact and in motion at all times and will assist in making this rally one of the best ever.

May Repeat

The rally committee urges everyone to attend this affair, as they are planning to make this pajama rally an annual affair; hoping to repeat this performance before each big away from home football game.

Saturday morning townspeople as well as students will assemble at the depot, where a short pep rally will be held before the St. Mary's special train leaves with the team and students for San Francisco.

The send-off has been largely supported by the business men of Reno, known as the Nevada Retail Merchants association, and they have appointed a committee of Tate Williams, E. H. Walker, and E. H. Chism, to assist the students in making this rally a success.

The rally committee, who is in charge of this affair, is composed of Emil Gezelin, chairman, Carl Dodge, Ellis Ceander, Tom Morris, Betty Simpson, Gerry Havens, and Lee Ward.

Journalists Pledge 15 New Members

Fifteen new members were elected to the University of Nevada Press Club at a regular meeting held Monday night.

Those elected were: Ty Cobb, Ruth Goldsworthy, Sherwin Garstide, Tom Prunty, Walter Bowrin, Leslie Grey, Murray Moler, Katherine Norrid, Willis Dalzell, Virginia Crosby, Ann Gibbs, Eleanor Berry, Margaret Turano, Charles Doherty, and Winifred Walsh. Members were chosen from a panel of twenty-five candidates drawn up by a nominating committee.

The pledges will be required to entertain at the next student body meeting, Charles Leavitt, president of the group, said today.

An initiation banquet will be held in the near future.

Insignia Planned For U. N. Cadets By Captain Isbell

A distinctive military insignia will adorn the shoulder of each cadet of the University of Nevada, before the end of the year, Captain H. W. Isbell of the military department stated today.

The emblem is small and consists of an outline of the state of Nevada, with U. of N. colored a deep blue and set in the silver colored outline. Captain Isbell is considering, as an added feature which will lend distinction to the insignia, the profile of a wolf's head. The plain, conventional uniforms of the Nevada R.O.T.C. will carry the design on the outside of the left shoulder.

The junior and senior students will be the first to wear the insignia, Isbell said, and the underclassmen will receive theirs probably early next semester. It was explained that quite a number of colleges distinguished their cadets in this way.

With an insignia such as this on his shoulder, Captain Isbell stated, "the University of Nevada cadet in training camps and in parades in other cities can be quickly and easily recognized."

Twenty Students Attend Tryouts For News Bureau

Under the supervision of Robert Creps, graduate manager, news bureau staff tryouts continued this week, with 20 candidates working on the editorial staff and five members acting as secretaries for the bureau.

Ty Cobb, manager of the bureau, announced the editorial staff as follows: Dorrence Jameson, Anne Gibbs, Ruth Atcheson, Winifred Hiltonen, Walter States, Max Jensen, Elizabeth Osborn, Jean Cameron, Ben Rotholtz, Stanley Netherton, Charles Doherty, Elizabeth Juniper, Kay Norrid, Ruthe Goldsworthy, Eleanor Barry, Gerald Roberts, Ernest Leonhart, Edward Connors, Pat Stewart, and Cletus Libby.

Those chosen as secretaries for the bureau are: Evmae Beemer, Gwen Erickson, Ruth Tucker, Maurine Graf, and Joyce Dodge.

Students Present Skits When Frolic Deadline Closes

Sororities and Frats Feature Specialty Numbers at Tryouts

Senate Meets to Discuss Attitude of Campus To Show

"We will have a Wolves' Frolic," students decided this week. Practice will begin Monday.

The question of what Homecoming would be like without a Wolves' Frolic was put to students by William Miller, dramatics director, at a special meeting Tuesday night. Poor turnout necessitated the action.

Call Meetings
With this thought in mind, immediate action was taken and all sororities and fraternities called special meetings Wednesday night in place of the usual social hour. At these meetings it was made clear that unless students turned out for final try-outs Thursday afternoon, there would be no Frolic October 25. As a result more than 100 students turned out for practice yesterday to present specialty numbers, skits, and black-outs.

Miller had not definitely decided on the skits he will select, but seemed pleased with the last minute cooperation. Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta, Beta Kappa, Alpha Tau Omega, and Lincoln Hall presented skits; ten women presented vocal and piano selections; a boys' quartet of three saxophones and cornet was submitted; and several solo specialty dances and comic orations were included.

To Draft Program
A tentative program will be drafted next week when skits are accepted and several acts perfected.

Miss Ruth Ryan, of the Ryan school of dancing, will have charge of the dance routines again this year. Both tap and olog choruses will be presented by seventeen co-eds who are: Georgene Roberts, Virginia Raitt, Marianne Severne, Lola Yvonne Stoddard, Doris Shaver, Jessie Sellman, Nell Kilpatrick, Frances Nichols, Pat Lannon, Esther Ramano, Ether Lalola, Ethel Trim, Frances Slavin, Virginia Jameson, Julia Sibley, and Louise Morston.

Ticket sales are in charge of Blue Key, service fraternity, and tickets will be placed on sale next week, according to Tom Morris, chairman of the sale.

Lindsay Green is production manager and Morgan Mills is stage manager.

Morgan Mills, stage manager for the University Play Productions bureau, today announced his staff for the coming dramatic season. Work on the preparation of sets for the Wolves' Frolic will begin immediately, Mills said.

Tryouts were held last week, and those who have been named to the staff are Ernest Leonhart, Ernest Larkin, George Dukes, Kenneth Tedford, Leo McCuddin, Ben Rotholtz, Gladys Blair has been placed in charge of properties.

Election of officers and plans for the semester's activities will take place at the first meeting of the Newman Club, Catholic student organization, to be held Sunday, October 6.

Plans for a strenuous membership drive are being made, according to Newman Club leaders, and it is expected that this year's membership will top last year's enrollment of 49 members by a wide margin.

University Band To Go With Team To Kezar Stadium

Money for Trip Furnished By Finance Control Committee

Band Will Serve as Nucleus For Nevada Rooters At Game

Thirty-six strong, the University of Nevada band, will accompany the seven hundred Nevada rooters to St. Mary's tomorrow to form the nucleus of the rooting section in Kezar stadium.

Funds for the trip were allotted to the band by finance control board at a special meeting Monday afternoon. The appropriation includes money for the round trip to the Bay region on the "St. Mary's Special" tomorrow morning, and for expenses of members of the organization while in San Francisco.

New Uniform Purchased
Leading the band will be drum major Hal Lang, who will make his first appearance this week-end as student leader of the band. A new uniform was recently secured for Lang, and its flashy tassels of silver and blue will add much to the spectacular baton twirling that he is expected to exhibit.

Also assisting in leading the band will be Professor Theodore H. Post, head of the music department, and Reuben Tuttle, newly appointed assistant of the band.

Several maneuvers to be exhibited on the field during the half have been worked out. These include the probable forming of an "N," and several other marching drills. The band will serenade the rival rooting section, during which time it will play Nevada and St. Mary's school songs.

Banquet Planned
After the game, members of the band will be guests of Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary music fraternity. The dinner will be under the direction of Morgan Mills, president of the fraternity.

It has been a custom for several years for the band to accompany the football team on at least one out-of-town game each season. Until last year the trip was made to California. Last fall the expedition was made to Stockton, where the band played during the College of Pacific game.

The enrollment of the band is higher this year than it has been in several terms. In addition to strength in numbers the organization has also been improved by a more complete instrumentation than in the past.

Members of the band playing in Kezar stadium Sunday include Herb Taylor, Robert Defosset, Kenneth Dimmick, Elmer Ford, Clarence Byrd, Gerald Salter, Ellis Ceander, Wilson Rebaleati, Albert Manhan, George Sears, Frank Clark, Lyman Clark, Bob Watson, Murray English, Jed Oxborrow, Robert Record, Jay Robinson, George Warren, Marvin Moler, Theodore Post, Clare Lorton, Reuben Tuttle, Richard Roche, Lido Puccinelli, George Hardman, Lincoln Liston, Hal Lang, Ted Ashworth, Guy Morris, Ed Barrett, Walter Fancher, Morgan Mills, Darrell Cain, Delvin Dean, Walter Elkins, and Murray Moler.

Miriam Butler was elected president of the Gothic 'N' society for the coming year at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the university gymnasium.

Other officers elected at the same time were Georgiana Hamman, vice president, and Ruby Hoskins, secretary and treasurer. Catherine Dondoro was appointed chairman of the committee to make plans for a Halloween party to be given in October in honor of the women's athletic association.

The society, which is an honorary organization for women, based on sportsmanship, scholarship, and participation in sports, has eight members this semester.

As a special activity the group will take an active part in the direction of W.A.A. affairs, and act as instructors and guides to the freshman women.

Answering a call made by Emil Gezelin, head yell leader, for tryees on his staff, Ben Rotholtz, and Willie Dale, reported for duty last week.

These students, along with Gezelin and his assistant, Louis Weiner, will be on hand at all the games to lead cheers, and to help keep the rooting section pepped up at games.

Gezelin said that he needed additional tryees, and that anyone wishing to try out for the staff should report to him as soon as possible.

Both of the new tryees are freshman students.

Pan-Hell Dance Being Planned For October 5

The annual Pan-Hellenic dance will be held October 5 at the Odd Fellow's hall. Inez MacGillivray, president of the council, said this week.

Eunice Eaton, assisted by Eva Mae Beemer, is in charge of the dance, and their committee will be composed of representatives from each sorority house.

Decorations will be supplied by the sororities on a plan similar to that of last year when each house decorated a corner of the hall with a facsimile of their pin.

Munching Mouse Masticates Mints

FOR SALE — SLIGHTLY DAMAGED—SIX CANDY BARS!
Instead of the prosaic candy booth sign in the basement of Morrill Hall a sign similar to those at fire sales will soon make its appearance.

For several nights an enterprising mouse has carefully gnawed holes in a box of candy in the Y. W. candy booth. Showing a great partiality for the bar known as a "Humdinger," Mr. Mouse has systematically sampled the lower left hand corner of six bars, daintily picking off the peanuts after eating the cellophane as an appetizer.

Unless some hardy engineer will set — and empty — a mousetrap the candy booth will soon be "closed for alterations," according to members of the committee.

Prep News Heads' Conclave Program Tentatively Given

Press Club Will Play Host To Young Journalists At Meet

Campus Journalism Students To Give Addresses At Convention

A tentative program for the meetings of high school publication advisors and journalism teachers which will be held in conjunction with the editors' convention October 11 and 12, was released this week by Paul Leonard head of the committee in charge.

The meetings will feature round-table discussions, with each session taking up one phase of high school journalism. At the first session the teachers will consider the topic, "Objectives in High School Journalism Instruction," and take up "The High School Newspaper" in the second.

A leader for each of the meetings will be previously designated from the high school heads to introduce the material and open the discussion.

Registration for convention delegates will open Thursday, October 10, and the advisors will be shown Professor A. L. Higginbotham's News Gathering and Writing class laboratory at that time, Leonard stated.

Prof. Higginbotham will cooperate with the Press club committee in the program for journalism heads.

The program for the editors will be definitely arranged next week when a committee meeting will be held. The committee, headed by Leonard, includes Lois Midgley, Eleanor Doan, Rita Gunter, Walter States and John Carr.

Startling Sizes Revealed in Army Shoe Distribution

The underpinnings of the masculine students who are partaking in military were very much in evidence during the last week.

One could hear voices of protest issuing from the military department as students were being given sizes, against which they argued volubly, in the special type of shoe required for that course.

The prize for the largest foot, whatever it may be, goes to Richard Nesbitt, sophomore, who wears a 12-B. A student who does not have to be shy of talking about the size of his foot is Ned Westover, sophomore, who is credited with having the smallest foot in the department, wearing a 6-C. A runner-up to that distinction is John Marean, who wears a 6 1-2-C.

The students of soldiery will now be given a chance to show their prowess as defenders as they have been issued their rifles. Prior to this, drilling was done without them; but drilling periods will now be more intensive in preparation for marching in parades.

The university military unit will march in three parades this year: Homecoming day, Armistice day, and Admission day.

Pan-Hell Dance Being Planned For October 5

The annual Pan-Hellenic dance will be held October 5 at the Odd Fellow's hall. Inez MacGillivray, president of the council, said this week.

Eunice Eaton, assisted by Eva Mae Beemer, is in charge of the dance, and their committee will be composed of representatives from each sorority house.

Decorations will be supplied by the sororities on a plan similar to that of last year when each house decorated a corner of the hall with a facsimile of their pin.

Large Attendance Of Alums Is Plan For Homecoming

1000 Letters Sent to Grads by Reunion Committee This Week

Spectacular Fireworks Display Will Be New Feature of Celebration

A record alumni representation at the Homecoming celebration this fall is the chief goal of the committee in charge of the affair.

"Every means possible will be used by the committee to encourage a record turnout of alumni, and no effort will be spared in achieving this end," Edwin Jeffers, chairman of the committee, said.

"Above all, if we can get Clarence H. Mackay here with us there will be no doubt about a record representation of alumni."

Invitations Issued
Approximately 1000 letters will be sent to alumni this week by the committee. Various fraternities and sororities on the campus are also making plans for reunions to encourage alumni to return.

A special letter is being engraved on parchment by Reverend F. D. Graves and will be sent to Mr. Mackay inviting him to the celebration. Various professors, student leaders and organization heads will sign the letter and it will be mailed this week.

Fireworks Added
One of the highlights of the three-day celebration will be the spectacular fireworks display presented through the courtesy of the Shell Oil Company.

At the meeting held Wednesday afternoon various fetes of the celebration were assigned to members of the committee. Walter States, parade; Neva Jones and Tony Primeaux, dance; Bill Goodin, bonfire; Emil Gezelin, rally; Bob Butler, lighting; Cletus Libby, cups; Frances Graf, secretary.

Botanical Institute Placed on Campus

Government Conducts Research On Indian Medicine Under NERA

With necessary funds being provided by the NERA, the Indian Botanical Institute has been functioning as a NERA project since June 5, 1935, at the University of Nevada.

The present work of this project is to gather from original sources data showing where and when the American Indian taught the white man the uses and medicinal values of native plants, and to assemble a library of source material in this field.

Index cards listing the botanical name, the common name, the Indian tribe to which the plant has been commonly known, and the use to which the plant has been employed by American Indians have been typed for over 8000 medicinal plants known to 30 Indian tribes.

The next step planned is the gathering and growing of these native American plants. One hundred acres of land are available for this part of the project at Stewart Indian school near Carson City.

Fourteen workers have been employed on the project and a further allotment of $11,500 to continue the work of the project has been requested from the Works Progress administration at Washington.

Students Inspect S. F. Bay Bridges

With a plan to spend all day Saturday inspecting bay region engineering projects, 35 members of the Associated Engineers left today for San Francisco. Sunday they will attend the St. Mary's Nevada football game.

Inspections will be made of the Atlas Imperial Diesel Plant and the Judson Steel Works in Oakland, Saturday morning.

In the afternoon the engineers will be guests of the construction officials of the Oakland San Francisco bay bridge.

Fine Arts Group Retains Leaders

Postponement of the election for the Fine Arts club was decided upon by the members at the first regular meeting held Wednesday evening. The present officers, Mary Virginia Murgotten, director, Annette Priest and Joyce Cooper, secretary and treasurer respectively, will continue until mid-semester. Water colors will be the special type of art to be featured this year.

High School Heads To Convene Here During October

Thirty-four Presidents Are Invited to Annual Meeting

Tentative Program Arranged For Annual Meet Of Prexies

Fourteen high schools have signified their intentions to attend the annual convention of high school presidents at the university October 10, 11 and 12.

Ray Armstrong, chairman of the committee in charge of the convention, sent letters to 34 schools and expects a larger representation at the conclave than in the past, because of the change of time for the conference to the fall instead of in the spring.

During the conclave, various high school problems will be studied and discussed at the business meetings held each morning.

The representatives will be guests at the various sorority and fraternity houses, where they will be addressed by various leaders of the campus. Special student body meetings will be held at Reno and Sparks high schools for the presidents.

High schools that are planning to attend are: Virginia City, Gardnerville, Yerington, Winnemucca, Fallon, Wellington, Eureka, Panaca, Reno, Sparks, Fernley, Austin, Montello and Dayton.

The tentative program drawn up by the committee is as follows:

Thursday, October 10: 9:30, registration at A.S.U.N. building; 10:00, first business meeting; 12:00, luncheon, at Delta Delta Delta; 2:00, student body meeting at Sparks high school; 6:00, banquet; 7:00, Blue Key social hour.

Friday, October 11: 8:30, breakfast, Pi Beta Phi; 10:00, second business meeting; 11:00, A.S.U.N. meeting; 12:00, luncheon, Kappa Alpha Theta; 2:30, student body meeting at Reno high school; 3:30, matinee dance at Reno high school; 6:00, dinner, Sigma Nu; 7:30, football rally.

Saturday, October 12: 8:30, breakfast, Gamma Phi Beta; 10:00, third business meeting; 12:00, Luncheon, Alpha Tau Omega; 2:00, football game, U.S.F.-Nevada; 6:00, dinner.

Youngsters Fight
Bob Smith and Pete Sawyer, two youngsters out for their first year on the Nevada varsity, are staging a real contest for the center position. Sawyer has shown considerable promise during the past few practice sessions and has an edge on passing ability, while Smith, twenty-five pounds heavier, will probably be called in to use his heft to stop the Murrading Moragans.

Nevada's greatest handicap in the past few seasons, that of weak reserve material, appears to be overcome this year. Mitchell has been working in some substitutes who are every bit as good as the first-stringers and many of the reserves are due to see plenty of action Sunday.

Board Discusses Activity Budgets

Finance Control Votes Wolves' Frolic Tentative Budget; Allots $600

Full expenses for the band to take the St. Mary's trip were approved at an executive meeting of the finance control committee Monday evening.

Budgets of all organizations were carried over until Wednesday, Oct. 2, when the committee will meet to consider them.

A tentative budget of $600 was passed for the Wolves' Frolic, Homecoming day show, with the condition that the show be given. This is an addition of $50 over last year's budget, but was approved by the committee because the show always turns in a good profit to the A.S.U.N.

Expenses were awarded Robert Creps, graduate manager, to precede the team to St. Mary's and arrange advance publicity. Creps will also check the gate at the game.

Carl Dodge, student body president, and Emil Gezelin, yell leader, were awarded funds to make the trip as has been the custom in the past.

Approximately 75 season complimentary football tickets were approved by the committee from a list submitted by Robert Creps and Coach C. L. "Brick" Mitchell.

GIANELLA WORKS ON SURVEY

Gianella, who is a recognized authority on the geology of the Comstock, acted in an advisory capacity for the group.

Twenty Thousand Expected to Jam Kezar for Game

Nevada Players to Leave Tomorrow to Open Season

Powerful Moraga Team Set To Avenge Defeat of Last Year

Accompanied by hundreds of ardent supporters, the Nevada Wolf Pack will leave for San Francisco tomorrow for its first and most important game of the season, the much-heralded clash with St. Mary's Sunday in Kezar stadium.

The contest is expected to attract the biggest crowd to witness a season-opener on the Pacific Coast in many years. Without a doubt, the game will out-draw any of the other opening games in the bay region this week-end by at least twenty thousand fans. This tremendous interest is principally the result of Nevada's startling upset last season of the highly-touted Gaels.

Changes Made
Coach C. L. "Brick" Mitchell, true to his pre-game custom, has not yet announced his official line-up, preferring to wait until game time to decide on the starting berths. However, a first-string which has been working together, with but two changes, in the past two weeks, will probably get the call to take the field first. This outfit includes Benson and McKinnon at ends, Showalter and Bradley at tackles, Sawyer at center, Nash and Hadlen at guards, Tharp and Sauer, halfbacks, Caldwell fullback, and Rodriguez, quarterback.

The principle change during the past week of intense practice was the replacing of Delannoy by Bradley, and of Smith by Sawyer, both changes being in line positions. Gerry Delannoy was injured in last Saturday's scrimmage, when a defective kidney pad slipped out of place just as he was struck during a pile-up. His hip was bruised and some ligaments in his side injured, making it necessary for the veteran to go easy in practice during the rest of the week. He will be able to participate against the Moragans Sunday, however, although Bradley will probably get the starting call.

Youngsters Fight
Bob Smith and Pete Sawyer, two youngsters out for their first year on the Nevada varsity, are staging a real contest for the center position. Sawyer has shown considerable promise during the past few practice sessions and has an edge on passing ability, while Smith, twenty-five pounds heavier, will probably be called in to use his heft to stop the Murrading Moragans.

Frosh Offenders Will Be Punished

Freshmen women under the impression that there are no campus traditions, and women who willfully break traditions, will be called before the women's upperclass committee October 15, Florence Kirkley, chairman, said today.

"We have not taken action to punish offenders before now in order that we might have a complete list, including those who appear at the rally in pajamas, and any woman falling to appear to paint the 'N,'" Miss Kirkley stated. Doctor's excuses will be accepted for failure of women to appear at the "N".

In a meeting of the committee Wednesday, Genevieve Hansen, junior independent student, was appointed secretary. Excuses for absence from future A.W.S. meetings must be given to Charlotte Robinson.

Green Announces New Appointments To Stage Staff

Lindsay Green, manager of the Play Production staff, announced several new appointments to his staff this week. Although the entire personnel of the staff has not been appointed, it will probably be rounded out later in the year, he said. The following have been appointed to assist Green during the year's productions: manager, Lindsay Green; assistant manager, Darrel Cain; advertising, Willis Dalzell, and publicity, Richard Stoddard.

Hicks Discusses Ethiopian Question

Faculty Science Club Hears Address on European Situation

The United States may find it difficult to maintain neutrality if a general war develops out of the present Ethiopian situation. Dr. C. R. Hicks, professor of history and political science at the university, said in a talk before the Faculty Science club Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Hicks, whose subject was the "Significance of the Ethiopian Situation," pointed out that France, Britain and Italy have competed for control of Ethiopia since the end of the nineteenth century. France and Britain now control about two-thirds of the total area of Africa and about five-sixths of its population, he said.

The significance of the Ethiopian situation will be found in its effect on the world's peace machinery, with the fortunes of the great powers, and with the reactions of the colored races, he stated. Hicks further explained that the League of Nations is weak, and that the Kellogg pact is inoperative.

"Britain cannot," he continued, "allow Italy to destroy British dominance in the Mediterranean and in the headwaters of the Nile."

Dr. Hicks explained that although France is inclined to support Italy in order to maintain the latter's support against Germany, she does not dare offend Britain.

"Russia," he averred, "is likely to support Britain against Italy because Russia might, in the near future, desire Britain's aid against Japan."

In summing up the Italian situation, the speaker said that Italy is dominated by Mussolini, whose policy is force. Mussolini feels that Italy must secure an outlet for her surplus population and for her more essential raw materials. Ethiopia offers him a solution.

"There are more colored people in the world than white people," Hicks said in conclusion. "There is a danger that, in striking Ethiopia, Italy will arouse the colored people of Asia and Africa to action against the whites."

Dr. Hicks was the first of a group of lecturers who will address the Faculty Science club on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

Former Nevadans Employed in Soil Conservation Lab

Information concerning the activities of Anthony Belmonte and Wesley Kennedy, former senior students of agriculture at Nevada and now connected with the Soil Conservation Service in Gallup, New Mexico, has been received here by Dean Robert Stewart.

In his letter to Stewart, Belmonte said both men had received promotions this month and are getting good salaries in their new positions. He has worked on one soil survey this summer but is now employed in the laboratory. Recently in a soil judging contest for texture, among the men of the company who represent almost every state in the union, Belmonte took second place.

Belmonte said that there is a demand in this service for men with soil, agronomy or range management majors, and he believes there is a place there for students from Nevada with any one of these degrees.

Both Kennedy and Belmonte expressed a desire to continue their studies through correspondence courses for the time being and later to return to Nevada for their degrees.

Four Women Bid To Chi Delta Phi

Four women of the university were bid this morning to membership in Chi Delta Phi, national honorary English society. Those bid were Eleanor Barry, Alice Mason Stauts, Frances Graf, and Betty McCuiston.

Membership in Chi Delta Phi is one of the greatest honors accorded to university women who are taking a major or minor in English. Bids are extended only twice a year to women who have had a 2 average for three semesters in English and a general average of 2.3 in all their work.

Initiation will be held sometime within the next two weeks. After the initiation ceremonies a banquet will be given at the home of Professor and Mrs. A. E. Hill. Professor Hill and Miss Katherine Rieglehuth are sponsors of the society.

At a meeting Tuesday, the resignation of Florence Gulling as president was not accepted.

Cosmic Principles Subject of Talk

Alden Sibley, Nevada Grad, Addresses Engineering Students

Telling of a theory of cosmic ray activity of his own that combines the principles of the famous Compton and Millikan theories, Alden Sibley, former Nevada and West Point student who is at present attending Oxford University on a Rhodes' Scholarship, lectured to more than 150 physics students and members of the university faculty last Friday.

Sibley was introduced by Dr. L. W. Hartman, head of the university physics department, and spoke upon the subject of "That phenomena of Nature—Cosmic Rays."

Having recently returned to this country from an extended research expedition to the Philippine Islands where he studied the intensity of cosmic rays in that part of the world, Sibley is now on his way to England where he will resume his studies.

The importance of the study of cosmic rays and the gaining of additional knowledge on the subject was particularly emphasized in the lecture. "All that has been determined since the time of Galileo about the stellar system or quantities has been through the aid of our sight and the telescope," Sibley said.

"The discovery of the cosmic ray," he continued, "will make it possible to go deeper into the study of the universe."

The principal use that cosmic rays can be put to, as determined at present, is that of bombarding the atom to break down that fundamental structure of science. "The cosmic ray is 1000 times more powerful than any source of power that has yet been produced by man," Sibley pointed out.

The instrument used by Sibley in his research is one developed by Professor Compton of the University of Chicago, under whom the former has been working. There are only seven of these instruments in existence in the world, one of which was on exhibition during Sibley's lecture.

Astronomy Club Hears Lecture

A visit to the Lick Observatory was described in a lecture delivered Wednesday night before members of the Astronomy Club by R. J. Aitken. Aitken described valuable apparatus and conveniences in the study of astronomy at Lick Observatory.

Aitken has been in astronomical work in California and vicinity for many years and is now retiring from the position of director of Lick Observatory in that state. He has for years been a close friend of Professor G. B. Blair of Nevada, president of the Astronomy Club.

Hansen Attends

Robert Hansen, a 1935 graduate, left Reno last week for Dallas, Texas, where he will enter Bayer Medical school to complete his training.

Hansen is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and while in college was active in Scabbard and Blade, military fraternity, and Omega Mu Iota pre-med group. His home is in Yerington, Nevada.

Applicants Lacking For Rhodes Award

No student of the University of Nevada has as yet signified an intention or desire to compete for the annually granted Rhodes scholarship.

University students seem to be particularly lax this year in taking advantage of this opportunity, said Dean Maxwell Adams, chairman of the university Rhodes scholarship committee.

If no applications are received by Tuesday, the university committee will inspect the records of men students and select one or two who can qualify, and find out whether or not they wish to do so, he said.

Dean Adams intends to have the university represented if any one is discovered who would have a chance and is willing to enter the competition. Applicants who go before the state committee will have distinct support if they are formally endorsed by the university committee.

Any man who feels that he would like to compete, knowing all regulations as posted, is urged to register his application immediately.

Ben Turner is now studying for his M.A. at the University of California. Turner is a graduate of 1933 and was a member of the local chapter of Beta Kappa fraternity.

ATHLETES SAY:
"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND"

JOSEPHINE MCKIM, Olympic champion swimmer. "One of my hard and fast rules in connection with smoking," she says, "is that I always choose a Camel. Camels are such a mild cigarette. I can smoke them steadily, and they don't interfere with my physical 'condition.' They never bother my wind. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

LOU GEHRIG says of Camels: "I like their mildness. They never interfere with my wind or my 'fighting trim.' When I feel tired after a game, I get a 'lift' with a Camel."

GENE SARAZEN: "It's important to me that Camels are milder. Extra millions are spent for the choice tobaccos in Camels. They never get my wind or upset my nerves."

LESTER STOEFFEN, U. S. tennis doubles champion: "No matter how steadily I smoke, Camels are so mild that they never get my wind. And Camels have a better flavor."

YOU'LL LIKE CAMEL'S MILDNESS TOO. Your own physical condition—your wind... your energy... the good health of your nerves—is important to you. So remember this about smoking: it is a fact that Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They are so mild you can smoke all you want. Athletes say Camels never get their wind or throw their nerves off key.

Sorority Council To Take Action On Rush Tactics

Pan-Hellenic Group to Meet Tuesday to Discuss Rushing
Prominent Women Approve Sagebrush Editorial Stand

Revision of rushing rules or a strict interpretation of the present rules is the only way of abolishing "dirty rushing," prominent sorority women agreed this week.

This decision was reached after an editorial in last week's Sagebrush attacked the methods used by sororities this season to gain pledges.

Inez MacGillivray, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, stated that the editorial was exactly to the point in its statements about the rushing season.

"At a meeting this Tuesday, rushing rules will probably be revised to meet conditions," she added.

"It may be said," stated Eva Mae Beemer, vice president of Delta Delta Delta, "that the editorial fits this last rushing season to a 'T.' Each phase of the season and its illegal policies were plainly stated and anyone can see that the conclusion of the article concerning the eventual abolition of sororities is very true.

Kay Norrid, prominent Beta Sig, believes that the only solution is the complete abolishment of sororities. "The statements in the editorial," she added, "are absolutely right in regard to the way rushing was conducted this year."

Frances Burke, senior, of Gamma Phi Beta, stated that "Little Woman, What Now," is one of the truest articles ever written on rushing tactics. "Something should be done immediately," she said, "to correct the condition and this can be done only by revising rushing rules."

"Every example used in the editorial has been proven," said Florence Kirkley, chairman of the Women's Upper-class committee, and prominent senior. "Rushing rules should be changed and the new ones should be much more strict in the future. Summer rushing should also be completely abolished," she added.

"Sororities have too much to offer to women to be abolished," Eunice Caton, president of Pi Beta Phi, said. "It is a deplorable situation when sororities cannot be trusted to comply with Pan-Hellenic rules, but the change must be effected by new rules and not by doing away with sororities."

The editorial was a blasting denunciation of this season's rushing tactics, which consisted mostly of breaking of silence, illegal parties and meetings with freshmen women. The use of "cinches" at the Pan-Hellenic lawyer's was also revealed. The editorial concludes, "There is only one thing to remember—this season's rushing has not brought favor to the sororities or the university, and if it cannot be markedly improved, Greek letter societies for women are open to serious criticism from Nevada taxpayers and, eventually, elimination."

Passion Play Set For Next Week
Students of the University of Nevada will probably take part in the Passion play which will be presented at the Granada theatre October 3.

Jim Arkell, freshman, is in charge of the sale for university students. A number of students will take part in the mob and angel scenes in the play. The matinee is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. and the evening showing at 8 p. m.

Hall Honor Roll Signed By Nine

Nine more signatures were added to the Manzanita Honor Book last week when all hall women with an average of 1.8 or better for last semester's work signed their names to the roll.

There is now a total of 17 signatures, this being the second year that the custom has been carried out. Four of the women were honored for the second time, as they had signed the book last year. These four were Ida De Nevi, Margaret Jensen, Anne Gibbs, and Genevieve Hansen.

The five new signers were Alice Sauer, Rebecca Taitel, Jean Cameron, Elizabeth Osborn, and Nina Bozkie-wicz.

Also featured at the first meeting of the year was the customary presentation of skits by new students in the dormitory. The skits were judged by a committee and "Shades of Nevada," an original skit by Lois Darrrough, Melva Lauritzen, Jean Horning, and Isabel Henderson, won first prize. Second prize went to Jeanne James, Barbara Ferran, Ruth Doolittle, Claretel Masterson, Eunice Beckley, and Marilyn Rhodes in the skit, "Flat Tire."

Tri-Delts Honor Pledges With Tea

One of the large social events of the year took place Saturday afternoon at the Century Club, when new pledges of Delta Delta Delta were presented to town and campus friends.

The affair was a formal tea, with active and alumnae members of Delta Delta Delta presiding as hostesses. Reno residents attended from 3 to 6 p. m., and the campus enjoyed dancing from 6 to 8 p. m.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon. Mrs. C. W. Mapes, Mrs. George S. Brown, Mrs. H. J. Gosse, and Mrs. F. W. Shattuck, presided.

Miss Orva Selkirk, as president of the sorority assisted in receiving the guests. Those standing in the receiving line included Mrs. Richard Kirman, Sr., Miss Claire Kirman, Mrs. Tasker L. Oddie, Mrs. James G. Scroggham, Miss Martha Scroggham, and Mrs. C. J. Sadleir, and the following pledges: Catherine Booth, Alice Jane Chism, Loretta Collins, Mildred Dillard, Barbara Farran, Gaynell Giblin, Betty Kornmayer, Claretel Masterson, Charlotte Michael, Margaret Pierson, Virginia Raitt, Georgene Roberts, Lola Yvonne Stoddard, and Ellen Wedertz.

Beta Sig Prexy Reported Better

Elma May, junior student at the university, who was operated on a month ago and was reported in a serious condition last week, was much improved today, according to reports from St. Mary's hospital.

Miss May is now able to receive visitors and will probably be released from the hospital within the next two weeks.

Brick Campaign Gets Under Way

The annual "Buy a Brick" campaign committee will begin its work this year the first week in October, it was announced this week by Frances Burke, chairman of the committee.

At this time, small tags representing bricks will be sold by freshman women and committee members. Bricks will be sold on the campus and in the downtown section for ten cents. At the end of several weeks, a prize will be awarded to the girls selling the greatest number of tags.

The campaign is held annually and is sponsored by the Associated Women Students. The plan was inaugurated in 1929 for the purpose of raising funds with which to eventually build a new student administration building.

Those serving under Frances Burke on the committee are: Betty Simpson, president of the Sagens; Florence Kirkley, chairman of the women's upper-class committee; Janet Farish, Joyce Dodge, and Rita Winer.

Y. W. HOLDS MEETING
The Y.W.C.A. held its first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. rooms in Artemisia hall. The chairmen of the different committees gave short talks on the aims of their committee. Refreshments were served by the Social committee.

The ball will not be given until next semester, but choosing the major will take considerable time. Scabbard and Blade, military organization which sponsors the dance, will make the selection.

Following are the bases of selection: upperclass standing, poise, activities, social intelligence and personality. Sororities are asked to select their candidates as soon as possible.

ON WITH THE SHOW

The Wolves' Frolic will be presented this year. This announcement was made yesterday, after a special meeting of the student senate had been called to arouse interest in the annual show, and student leaders had made an intensive drive to awaken interest in the show.

From the looks of thing now, this year's Frolic will be one of the best, but plans are not yet complete. More specialty acts are needed; more individual talent must be shown, and the entire show must be organized in time for the Homecoming celebration.

Those in charge of the show despaired of its presentation this year, and drastic action had to be taken to get enough acts for the show lined up.

Abandonment of the Frolic this year would have been fatal, but the students would have only themselves to blame. It is the students' show, and they must take part in it.

Not only does the Frolic afford a chance for the presentation of student talent, but it also contributes a considerable sum to the central treasury. This money is needed to carry out the activity program fully, and, unless the Frolic is given cooperation from every student, its loss will be keenly felt by all.

The Frolic is your show, and it needs your support. Go out for it.

BACK THE PACK

Tomorrow, Coach C. L. Mitchell and his Wolf Pack will leave for San Francisco where they will open the 1936 football season against St. Mary's Gaels in Kezar stadium.

Nevada has everything this year, and, from all indications, this season should be one of the greatest in the history of the university. The coach has worked up a team of hard-playing, hard-hitting men; new plays that will make the Nevada team more colorful than ever before have been devised, and the team has the backing of every student and every citizen of Nevada.

Interest in the team so far has been high, and this is as it should be. This spirit should be kept throughout the season, and the student body must show the football squad that it is for them no matter what happens.

"Back the Pack," the traditional Nevada slogan, is now the by-word of the campus. It should be retained as the student body slogan, win or lose.

AGO THIS WEEK --

From the Files of the 'Brush

40 YEARS AGO

Professor Wilson returned Sunday from a ride over the mountains on his bicycle. He went by way of Truckee and came back by the Placerville route. A social hop sponsored by the T. H. P. O. was given last Saturday in Stewart Hall.

There have been more than 80 applications for accommodations in Lincoln hall and about 40 in the girls cottage. The season of 1895-6 promises to be one of great progress in local athletics. The gymnasium now in course of construction will soon be completed and among the freshman already registered this year are several promising athletes.

30 YEARS AGO

A University Press club was organized last night by students prominently identified with college journalism. There are nine charter members, and membership to the organization will be limited to ten.

Delta Rho sorority entertained friends at a theatre party last Thursday evening.

A scoreless football game was played between the varsity and alumni yesterday.

George Springmeyer passed through Reno Friday en route to Harvard University where he will take up the study of law.

20 YEARS AGO

The opening football game of the season between Nevada and the Sacramento Athletic club has been postponed because of the inability of the club to bring its best players to the game.

Jay A. Carpenter, a Nevada graduate, read a paper at the annual session of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in San Francisco last week.

Y.W.C.A. entertained Michi Kawal, general secretary of the association to Japan, at a luncheon Tuesday afternoon.

10 YEARS AGO

The first football of the season will be played tomorrow afternoon on Mackay field between Nevada and St. Ignatius.

A barn dance terminating a two day rally will be given Saturday night in place of the traditional Frolic hayride. Sigma Phi Sigma entertained with an informal dance at their newly established home on North Virginia street last Saturday evening.

A rally to which participants are urged to wear pajamas or night shirts and bleacher hats will be held tonight. Kappa Alpha Theta entertained members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at an informal party at the sorority house last Friday evening.

1 YEAR AGO

A revamped Wolf Pack left Reno today for Berkeley where they will meet the University of California Golden Bears tomorrow afternoon. Five regular players will be out of the game because of injuries.

About 200 students will be on hand in the California Memorial Stadium tomorrow afternoon to "Back the Pack."

As a finale to two weeks intensive rushing the Pan-Hell annual dance was held last Saturday.

Sorority to Sell Nevada Corsages For Homecoming

White chrysanthemum corsages centered with blue chenille "N's" will be sold at the Annual Homecoming day game by members of the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority.

Special rates and free delivery will be offered to organizations buying the flowers in lots.

Money derived from the sale will be used by the sorority in house improvements. Georgia Cooper was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the sales.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, The Sagebrush:

I write in protest to your unfair and unwarranted attack upon the sororities on the campus which you printed in the "Brush" last week under the heading "Little Women, What Now?"

It seems to me that, although you were right in some of your accusations, you chose the wrong course of attack, implying that the only dirty system of rushing at Nevada is done by the sorority houses, and not by the fraternities, whose rushing gives off as unpleasant an odor as ours.

You lay great stress upon the practice of the houses of promising campus offices to rushees—yet you seem to have forgotten that the same practice is quite prevalent among the fraternities. Does it become cloaked in a halo of righteousness the moment the shoe fits the male foot as well as the female one?

Does a fraternity become exempt from the same degree of guilt as that heaped upon a sorority when members "knock" other houses, or do you choose to answer by saying that the purpose of men's social groups is not to "promote a higher mental and social culture"?

Please understand that I am not attempting to condone or pardon the obvious misconduct of which the sororities and their alumnae members were guilty. But, as I understand it, sororities are on a par with fraternities on this campus—both in observing rules with regard to rushing and the methods used in herding prospective pledges into the fold.

A new rule by the Inter-fraternity council states that a pledging card shall be filled out with information concerning the new pledge, signed by the president of the house (I may be wrong with the word "president"), and turned in to the office of the Dean of Men not later than 24 hours after pledging. I have authoritative information that only one house complied with this rule.

If you feel it a duty to "pan" Pan-Hell and the individual sororities, why not be fair and refrain from the implication that the fraternities occupy pedestals?

A SORORITY WOMAN.

Next week, look for the good old column. Secret! Brush correspondents are going down on every train and operatives have been placed in every joint in Frisco. So look out, the slightest indiscretion, and we'll getcha. Especially if some of the campus hot shots try and repeat their performances of last year.

"I want to be alo-o-o-one" means Pat Steele plaintively. The little gal went out to the Tavern alone the other night to listen to the pretty music and to commune with her soul (that's her story and she's stuck with it) but the big bad mans wouldn't let her be. Isn't that just too bad.

It's nice to observe that even these modern femmes have maternal instincts. Take the case of "Ma" Coton and her little Jones boy . . . one of THE Jones boys . . . why, he's practically on her apron strings all the time; that is, if she had any . . .

Fond mothers all over the state are rushing to enter their offspring in the baby show now being held in Reno. Latest entries, as reported to us are as follows: Nominated for Baby King, Deering Dixon, and for Crown Prince, Freddy Wood.

So nice to observe these romantic young lovers, who are oblivious to all else. Tom (Louisiana) Fields should take a bow as the typical southern gentleman. Apparently Ruth Acheon overlooks the southern accent. Ah, Me, isn't love grand?

It does our hearts good to note that most of the old campus romances are clicking: Nether-ton-Tucker; Paradis-Crosby; and Leonard-Erickson combinations are still intact.

Now we know what "Love-life" Basta thinks of Kathleen Meeks. He must believe she is the tops as anyone listening in on radio station KOH will tell you that he requested Merle Carlson to play "The All-American Girl" for Sam and Kathleen. Of course it might mean she's the sweetheart of six other guys—or make it the whole football team—it sounds better.

Hereafter we will present each week for your entertainment and approval a book title characteristic of your favorite professor's lectures. We suggest "HECTIC HALLUCINATIONS" by "Higgie" Higginbotham.

California Editor Challenges Gaels

Berkeley Student Charges Moragans Break Rule On Practicing

Charges that St. Mary's College, which plays Nevada September 29, had violated the Pacific Coast conference rules by starting football practice before September 15 were made recently by John Trager, sports editor.

In reply to the statements made by Trager, Edward "Slip" Madigan, coach of the St. Mary's team, declared that his boys were merely kicking soccer balls, while wearing gym shorts, and were in no way violating the rules when Trager happened on the field.

Trager in explaining his beliefs, said that when he visited the Moraga campus last week he found both the freshman and varsity squads at what he considered football practice. He further stated that the freshmen were using football shoes and a football, thus violating a conference rule.

While looking about the campus Trager was informed that the varsity was in the gymnasium. He immediately went to the building and tried to gain admittance. Unable to do so, he loitered about until he finally managed to get into the building. Trager went upstairs and there he witnessed the freshman squad running through plays under the direction of Jimmy Underhill.

Men Practicing

Returning to the athletic field, Trager saw men that he had every reason to believe were Joe Murphy, Herm Meister, Herb Schreiber, and Les Groux, all varsity members, taking part in informal passing and kicking, and later dividing into groups and going to opposite ends of the field and engaging in the running back of punts.

Although St. Mary's College is not a member of the Pacific Coast conference, they agreed several years ago to observe the conference rules.

The rule that St. Mary's allegedly violated reads as follows:

"With the exception for participation in regularly scheduled gymnastics classes, candidates for football teams shall not make use of football fields or equipment for participation in any form of training activities which involve cooperation between two or more men, or the running of any grid formations or organized practice of any sort."

Scribe Recalls Nevada Victory Over St. Mary's

With the Nevada football team prepared to meet St. Mary's in the opening game of the season, memories are recalled of the most "sensational upset" of last season when a fighting Nevada team subdued the Gaels 9 to 7.

Conceded very little chance to score on the powerful St. Mary's team, the Wolf Pack surprised from the very start of the game and before the first quarter ended had pushed across a touchdown.

The first score of the game came about when the Gaels made a poor kick early in the first quarter. Two passes from Sauer to Tharp and Hamen to Sauer placed the ball on the one-yard line, and after two attempts, Tharp carried it over.

St. Mary's scored in the second quarter on a series of passes from Schreiber to Erdelatz but the Nevada team was fighting all the way through.

During the third quarter neither team scored although the Gaels twice pushed down to the Nevada one-yard line. In both cases, Haman, star Nevada back, kicked out of danger.

The big thrill of the game came

Coaching Career Of Nevada Coach Is Traced Briefly

Clifford (Brick) Mitchell, varsity coach, who is now going into his fourth year at Nevada, is well versed in football. Before coming here he spent twelve years at various coast institutions coaching football.

In his three years at Nevada he has turned out one Far Western Championship team, another which tied for the title and last year's team which gained nationwide publicity in its victory over the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's.

He played football in the University of Oregon under the famous Hugo Bezdeck, being a member of the team which defeated Pennsylvania in the Rose Bowl in 1917. Through his performance in this game he was made an All-American end by Walter Camp, dean of American football.

During the war he joined the Marines for whom he played in seventeen consecutive games. On leaving the Marines he joined the coaching staff at Stanford for one year, from there going to San Mateo high school. In five years at that institution he turned out two state championship teams.

After that he joined the Golden Bears and was fresh coach for three years, when he was promoted to line coach of the varsity under Nibs Price.

with only three minutes to play when Tom Cashill, veteran Nevada center, calmly drop-kicked from the 30 yard line for the added three points necessary to win the game.

As an anti-climax the St. Mary's team began a desperate passing attack which culminated with a pass over the end zone to save the day for Nevada.

Following the surprising victory, Nevada was acclaimed all over the country. Papers in San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York acclaimed the Nevada team.

Over 500 students braved the cold morning air at 7:15 Sunday morning to welcome the team at the station and a reception was given in the Washoe county library building on Monday evening.

The "Hatlo hat" prize, awarded every week for the most outstanding football player was awarded Tom Cashill for the drop kick which beat St. Mary's.

S. A. E. Defeat By Lambda Chi Ends 4-Way Tie

Displaying unusual power for early season playing, Lambda Chi Alpha shunted the strong S.A.E. volley ball team from the four-way tie of last week's result.

Wednesday night Sigma Nu defeated Phi Sigma Kappa, leaving only Lambda Chi and the University Avenue team tied for first position.

Positions of the leaders up to last night were Lambda Chi, won four, lost none; Sigma Nu won four, lost none; followed by A.T.O. with three won, and one lost, S.A.E. with two won and one lost.

Results of the last week's play were: Sigma Phi Sigma beaten by Phi Sigs; A.T.O. defeated Lincoln Hall, Beta Kappa won by forfeit from Delta Sigs; Lambda Chi from S.A.E., Sig Phi by forfeit from Independents; Sigma Nu from Phi Sigs, A.T.O. by forfeit from Delta Sigs, Beta Kappa beaten by Sigma Nu, and Lambda Chi winning over Phi Sigs.

Pack-Gael Game Will Be Broadcast By Local Station

Students unable to attend the much-heralded Nevada-St. Mary's football game Sunday afternoon may be there nevertheless through the medium of the local radio station, KOH, which will recreate the game from telegraphic reports sent direct from the field to the broadcasting station.

The program, which is sponsored by an oil company, will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday, the starting time of the game in San Francisco. Ralph Freese, local announcer, will handle the Postal Telegraph reports being sent direct from Kezar Stadium and will broadcast, play by play, the game as it develops.

Most Pacific Coast broadcasting stations in the National Broadcasting chain will release the description of the game at the same time Sunday. The national hook-up is one of the first of the series of football broadcasts sponsored by the oil company.

S. F. U. Will Send Rooters to Game October Twelfth

Expecting more than 200 students of the University of San Francisco to come to Reno for the University of Nevada-University of San Francisco game October 12, the Junior Chamber of Commerce of the Bay city has sent word to reserve 200 rooms at a local hotel.

Word has been received from "Ed" Sweeney, president of the senior class, that plans are being formulated to bring the entire class to the game.

While no definite plans for their entertainment has been divulged by Carl Dodge, A.S.U.N. president, who is in charge of preparing the entertainment, he has indicated that several open houses will be held and that the U.S.F. men will be "fixed" up with dates.

Other entertainment will also be provided, Dodge said.

In conjunction with these plans, a

Engineers' Brawl Proves Success

Unusual contrivances and tricky apparatus of various kinds helped to make the annual Engineers' Brawl, held Saturday, September 21, in the gym, one of the biggest social successes of the year.

An entirely new scheme was devised for computing admission prices for women. The instruments used included a Thermopile and a micro-ammeter and worked on the principle of the creation of an electro-motive force by application of heat to the intersection of copper and iron wires. Harold Westfall, who directed the mechanism, and others of the electrical engineering classes plotted a curve based upon experiment and computed probable admission charges from it.

Other features of the dance included a mirror beside a glass tube of mercury, current in which shed a gruesome blue light on the objects reflected. Many graphs with such subject matter as capacity for studying and the effects of various liquids upon the span of life adorned the walls; and a very enlightening picture suggested the "mathematical equation of a woman's profile."

New letters were also procured to replace the old ones in the neon "Nevada" sign.

A cup bearing the inscription "From the Associated Engineers to the Sorority with the highest thermal rating," was presented to Kappa Alpha Theta.

Calls Are Issued For More Frosh Grid Managers

Si Ross, football manager, issued a call this week for four or five more freshman managers to help handle the football situation. Up to the present time four freshmen have turned out for the activity, adding to the three sophomore managers that were held over from last year.

The four freshmen managers are: Louis Denton, Bill Willison, Don Kinzie, and George Ardans. It is in the freshman managerial staff that additions are particularly needed, stated Ross, and he particularly urged fraternity presidents to encourage their freshmen pledges to go out for the activity, stating that it was a good one for any student.

Charles Wheeler, James Hart and Adam Patterson are the sophomore football managers.

It is expected that the sophomore managers will attend the St. Mary's game, but they will receive no remuneration from the student body, Ross said.

Pre-Med Group Initiates Nine at Midnight Degree

Nine new members were added to the roll of Omega Mu Iota, pre-medical fraternity, late last Saturday night when the annual initiation was held.

The customary ritual was given to all who received bids to the organization, followed by the midnight degree, after which coffee and doughnuts were served.

The new initiates are Irma Kitchen, Georgia Curnow, Dorothy Evans, Richard Taw, Charles Turner, Grant McGlaughlin, Ira La Rivers, Aldo Vaccino, and Merle Snider.

Plans for Homecoming were discussed at the meeting and it was decided to have a float in the Homecoming day parade as well as a medical exhibit on the campus.

The Omega Mu Iota skit for the Wolves Frolic has been accepted, according to Fred Hartman, president of the medical fraternity, and plans are now underway for the rehearsal of this skit.

Frequent lectures to the club will be given by Reno doctors and will be open to the public. Plans are now underway to secure an associate professor of the Bacteriology department of the University of California for one of the scheduled lectures.

Repairs Are Made To U. N. Buildings

Extensive reconstruction and repair work was done on the university grounds and buildings during the summer, Joe Lynch, superintendent of grounds, announced today. The work was carried on under the direction of the FERA administration.

A retaining wall, 335 feet long, was erected on the north end of Manzanita lake, paralleling the walk adjoining Artemisia hall and the Agriculture building. Flowers will be planted along this walk.

An automatic heating system was installed in the student administration building and redecorating work done, while improvements were also made on Mackay field and the women's athletic field. The women's field was enlarged 16,000 square feet.

Reconstruction and redecorating also was done in the Hall of English, the Education building, Morrill hall, and other campus buildings.

A store room was added to Lincoln hall, with considerable excavation work being done, and two bookcases, valued at $500 apiece, were installed in the library.

The Gaels will be captained for the Nevada game by Bucky O'Connor, hero of St. Mary's victory over San Francisco last year. O'Connor will alternate with Gerry Conless at right guard.

Nevada's speedy backfield will have to fly to keep up with a quartet of Gael backs who can travel the 100 in 10 flat. The speed will be taken care of by Hallman, Fiese, O'Laughlin, and Maxham.

"Mid Semesters" Worry Students

With less than three weeks until mid semester, students on the campus are trekking to the library to begin their semester's studying. Every night cars are lined up on both sides of the drive from the Orr ditch to the Hall of English showing the increase of students in the library.

On all sides are heard moans of exams so early in the season and few stop to realize that much of the semester has already passed.

Whether there is to be a new procedure followed as to scheduling of exams at mid semester hasn't been revealed as yet, but indications have revealed that no change in the past order will be seen for this year.

Manager Leaves For Gael Game

Bob Creps flew to San Francisco yesterday noon to herald the coming of the Nevada Wolf Pack, which tangles with St. Mary's Sunday in the opening game of the season.

While in the Bay region, he will give publicity to all of the papers in the immediate Bay area as well as appearing on several radio programs in San Francisco.

This sort of work is familiar to Creps as he acted in the same capacity last year during the football season.

The day of the game Creps will check the gate receipts for the university at Kezar stadium, and render the final financial report.

Music Assistant Named by Post

Reuben D. Tuttle has been appointed assistant director of the University of Nevada band, it was announced yesterday by Professor Theodore H. Post, head of the music department.

Tuttle, an expert trombone player, will play with the band in rehearsals and concerts and will assist Professor Post in directing. He will also give individual help to members of the brass sections of the band and will assist drum major Hal Lang in parades and other drills.

Obtaining his musical education from W. H. Bickett in Pacific Coast music circles for several years. He played with the Stanford band for one season, and for KFC's "Blue Monday Jamboree" several months.

Tuttle has lived in Reno for two years, and registered as a special student in the college of engineering here.
