Sutherland Makes Economic Survey In Opening Talk

Socio-Economic Problems Are Discussed by Professor In Address

Causes of Present Depression Chosen as Subject for Next Week

Bringing out methods by which economic theory can be applied to current socio-economic problems, Prof. E. G. Sutherland Wednesday night opened a series of talks on economic problems to be held throughout the year.

Prof. Sutherland gave a general survey of economic theory and also brought out the present day economic problems.

"The present depression has brought forcibly to the public the fact that our older economic system has not worked as well as it should and we are to determine in these meetings what is wrong with it and what must be done to improve it," the speaker said.

Discussion Held

After Prof. Sutherland had finished, members of the audience engaged in open discussion on the subject.

A tentative program of two talks a month has been arranged and more may be added later.

On October 23, Prof. Sutherland will talk on the "History of Business Cycles" and will stress the economic conditions leading up to the present depression.

Plumley to Speak

"Money and the Depression" will be the subject of a talk to be given in November by Prof. Alden J. Plumley. He will speak on the gold standard, devaluation of the dollar, relation of the quantity of money to prices, and all other problems concerning money.

The second November talk will be given by Cruz Venstrom on "Machines and Employment." This will include a discussion of overproduction, under-consumption, growing influence of labor unions, and the economic effect of high wages and short hours.

Milton R. Howard will open the December talks with a discussion of "Taxation" taking up the present trends in taxation, income taxes, sales taxes, property taxes and use of taxes to correct unequal distribution of wealth.

"Priming the Pump" will be the subject of the second December talk which will be given by F. B. Headley. He will explain the artificial stimulation of demand by means of relief agencies, mortgage relief, and building loans.

The January meetings will be led by V. E. Scott and L. E. Cline who will talk on "Farm Relief by Means of Control of Agricultural Output and Processing Taxes," and Prof. Alden J. Plumley who will use as his subject, "Marketing and Trade Restrictions."

These talks are open to the public. Prof. Sutherland said today, and everyone is welcome to engage in the discussions.

U. N. Publications To Get Equipment

Surplus Money to Be Expended By Board for New Materials

Needed equipment for the two campus publications, the Sagebrush and the Artemisia, will be purchased from $300 surplus in the publication's board treasury, it was decided this week.

A new camera will be bought for the Artemisia. In the past, the year book editor has had to use one of the local photographer's cameras.

The Sagebrush office will be furnished with a copy desk, a cut morgue, and new electrical fixtures for the editorial room.

In addition, $40 has been allowed to get one column cuts of prominent student leaders and members of the faculty, to be stored in the cut cabinet for use in the Brush, whenever the occasion arises.

The board had previously hoped to give a banquet for the publication staffs but decided that the equipment was more essential.

Programs for home football games were considered. The publication of the programs is under the supervision of Charles Leavitt, member of the board, and Gerald Roberts.

NEW TYPE FACE ADOPTED BY U. OF N. SAGEBRUSH

The Sagebrush this week makes its appearance in a new dress. A new type font, "Inter-type Ideal," has been adopted starting this week, and will be used in future issues. It is claimed that the new type face is easier to read and presents a neater appearance.

Leads Discussions

Prof. E. G. Sutherland of the economics department this week opened a series of discussions on socio-economic problems now facing the world. He will continue the series next week, and in following addresses other members of the economics department will be heard.

Stoker Submits Publication Profit Allotment Change

New Amendment Presented at A. S. U. N. Meeting This Morning

Pan-Hell Scholarship Trophy Is Won by Tri-Delts For Semester

Control of surplus funds earned by the Artemisia and Sagebrush would be taken out of the hands of the publications board under an amendment to the A.S.U.N. introduced by Robert Stoker, chairman of the constitution revision committee, at the student body meeting this morning.

The proposed amendment provides that one-half of all profit earned by university publications be turned over to the A.S.U.N. treasury and the balance be divided between the editors and business managers. Necessary outlays and money for other necessary equipment would be granted by the A.S.U.N. on requisitions from the publications board and on approval of finance control.

Text of the measure will be posted on the bulletin board and published in the Sagebrush, and students will vote on the amendment at the next regular student body meeting.

Today's A.S.U.N. meet was characterized by a lively spirit, with Press club pledges presenting a football burlesque. Presence of the university band, which opened the meeting with a selection, also added to the occasion.

Announcements made included Blue Key's social hour which will be held after the game tomorrow in honor of University of San Francisco students. There is no admission charge, Tom Morris said. Elwin Jeffers outlined the Homecoming day program and asked for the support of freshman in gathering material for the bonfire Thursday night which will open the celebration.

Inez McGillivray, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, awarded the organization's scholarship trophy to Delta Delta Delta for the sorority's record last year.

Louis Wiener, assistant yell leader and member of the rally committee, asked for student support at the rally tonight and at the game tomorrow. Sagers will be on hand to usher students to the cheering section.

The second student body gathering of the semester was adjourned after Carl Dodge announced the presence of visiting high school presidents, here for the convention, and urged students to show University of San Francisco students a "good time."

Before the students filed out of the auditorium, the assembly was led by Lindsay Green and the university band in "U of N So Gay."

Social Is Planned To Honor Visitors

An hour and a half immediately following the Nevada-S.F.U. football game tomorrow will be devoted to a social hour to entertain visiting San Francisco University students, it was decided at a meeting of Blue Key service fraternity, held Wednesday night in the Alpha Tau Omega chapter house.

No special program other than dancing has been arranged, but it was hoped that the visiting students would be able to "get together" with Nevada students.

Plans were also made to make next week's regular Wednesday night social hour a special Faculty-Student affair. Invitations will be sent to every member of the faculty. The plan is to promote a closer association between the students and the instructors.

Members also voted at the meeting to resume the white cap with the Blue Key emblem to be worn by the members when officiating at games and other affairs. The cap was abandoned last year.

High School Heads Open Convention With 22 Present

Dodge and Dondero Welcome Visiting Presidents To Campus

Meeting Features Round-Table Talks on Problems Of Schools

With 22 representatives present from various high schools in the Nevada, the first annual convention of Student Body presidents in the fall convened Thursday morning in the student union building.

Carl Dodge, A. S. U. N. president, and Katherine Dondero, A. W. S. president, addressed the heads at their first general meeting Thursday. The presidents explained the student government of the university and welcomed the representatives to the campus.

Ice Cream Man Picks Ethiopians To Defeat Italy

Italy is doomed to defeat at the hands of the stalwart followers of Halle Selassie, according to Hossain Afghan, campus pop-sicle dispenser. The information came in answer to a query this week. Hossain was a bit reluctant to be quoted because he said he could not read the accounts in local papers.

Hossain says that Italy cannot afford to send troops and munitions into the jungles of Africa without the help of the United States, and he is sure that we will not become involved.

Hossain is always ready and willing to give his opinion on such important questions and do his part to solve international problems.

S. F. U. Students Set for Invasion Of Nevada Campus

Three-Hundred San Francisco Backers Will Arrive Tomorrow

Program of Entertainment Is Arranged by U. N. Leaders

Three hundred University of San Francisco students will arrive in Reno tomorrow at 7:30 a. m. to witness the Nevada-University of San Francisco football game tomorrow afternoon.

The students will arrive on a special train, and it is believed that this is the first time in the history of the University of Nevada that such a large group of students have attended a game at Mackay field.

Plans for the entertainment of the visitors have been made by a group of Nevada student leaders, and campus service groups will assist in welcoming the visitors.

To Meet Train

A delegation of Nevada students, including the heads of service clubs, yell leaders and Carl Dodge, student president, will meet the train tomorrow. According to word received here from San Francisco, practically all of the senior class of the school will be in attendance, as will students from other classes. A number of San Francisco business men are also expected to accompany the students.

Rooting Section Planned

A rooting section will be reserved at the game for the visitors, and the Nevada band will do its part in welcoming the visitors by serenading the S.F.U. rooters.

Following the game, sorority houses will hold open houses for the visiting students, and members of Blue Key and Sagers will endeavor to secure "dates" for the visitors.

Arrangements have been made to have the San Francisco students entertained at local night clubs Saturday night.

The train will probably leave Reno Sunday night for the return trip to San Francisco.

Football Programs Will Be Peddled By Service Clubs

For the first time in several years, colorful football programs will be provided for spectators at all four games to be played on Mackay field this season, according to an announcement made this week by Bob Creps, graduate manager.

A staff headed by Gerald Roberts as editor, and Charles Leavitt as business manager, will be kept busy for the next five weeks preparing the programs.

The first program will be a sixteen-page affair with pictures of players from Nevada and the University of San Francisco squads. Included in the program will be feature stories explaining the outcome of games played by the two schools in years gone by, and a brief summary of the games played by each school so far this season. There will also be individual stories concerning outstanding players on each team.

Programs of the games to be played between Nevada and the College of the Pacific, Fresno State, and California Aggies, are expected to be similar to the program for the game with the Dons. Sale of the programs at games will be handled by Blue Key and Sagers, service organizations.

The feature articles in the program for this week-end have been written by Max Jensen and James Hart.

Young Journalists Meet on Campus In Third Conclave

Publication Leaders Discuss Problems With Future Editors

High School Instructors Hold Meet in Conjunction With Students

The third annual convention of Nevada high school journalists started this morning on the campus, with editors and business managers attending from 12 schools.

This morning was devoted to registration in the hall of English, followed with addresses by Charles Leavitt, president of the Press club, Winifred Walsh, business manager of the Artemisia, and Frank Sullivan, editor of the Sagebrush.

Following this the young journalists entered a round table discussion concerning the high school editors' problems.

Edward Montgomery, representing the Nevada State Journal and president of the Press club when the first high school editors convention was sponsored, spoke to the editors and business managers who gathered at the Kappa Alpha Theta house for luncheon.

Visit Plants

During the afternoon, the meeting adjourned until 3:00 o'clock when they met again for a trip of inspection through the Reno Printing Company plant, then going to the Journal Press room to see the U. of N. Sagebrush come off the press.

Completing the day's program, Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the department of journalism, will address the conclave at a banquet held in Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house tonight.

Tomorrow a business meeting will be held in the journalism laboratory in the hall of English with addresses by Dan Chiatovich, business manager of the Sagebrush, and Walter Bowrin, editor of the Artemisia.

Immediately following it a round table discussion will be held until 12:00 o'clock when the delegates will go to the Sigma Nu fraternity house for luncheon, Ned Morehouse, last year's editor of the Artemisia, is scheduled to give an address.

To Attend Game

After lunch the delegates will be treated by the Press club to the University of Nevada-University of San Francisco football game. Adjournment of the convention will be held at 2:15 just prior to the football game.

In conjunction with the editors' convention meetings of the advisors, under the direction of A. L. Higginbotham, are being held Friday afternoon was devoted to a round table discussion of "Objectives in High School Journalism Instruction."

Fuel for Winter Is Being Stored In Morrill Hall

With the approach of winter only a matter of time, and the cold feet and numb fingers a characteristic of the period even in a classroom, the fuel supply for the stoves in the Morrill hall classrooms is being stored in the halls outside the doors.

Morrill hall is the only building on wood-burning stoves being used to heat the campus without modern steam heat, the rooms. However, most of the students enjoy the atmosphere, which blends with the homely philosophy and the old lessons of the classics taught in the building.

WOLF MENTOR

Coach C. L. "Brock" Mitchell will lead his horde of howling Wolves into its second football game of the 1935 season tomorrow when Nevada meets the University of San Francisco Dons. Mitchell has one of the best teams of his career this year, and the Wolves are out to get their traditional "big one of the year" in the Dons.

Rated as one of the best outfits on the Pacific Coast, despite their previous defeats by Stanford and Santa Clara, the Hill-toppers bring to Reno a veteran squad of flashy performers. One of the largest crowds in many years is expected by Graduate Manager Robert Creps to witness Reno's first major gridiron clash in some time.

Following his usual custom, Coach C. L. "Brock" Mitchell of Nevada has not yet announced a starting line-up. Official selection of those who will engage in the opening kick-off is always made by the Nevada mentor just previous to game time. Much speculation is being made by the faithful fans who inhabit Mackay stadium nightly at practice sessions as to Nevada's opening team. Minor injuries have hit a number of the first-stringers and the team has undergone considerable juggling during the past week.

Nevada Students Will Lynch Don At Rally Tonight

Novel Feats Are Scheduled to Pep Up Renoites for Game

Organized Rooting Section Planned by Gezelin At Field

"The lynching of the Don" will be held tonight, when students will parade the streets in the second big rally of the year, ushering in the first home football game between University of Nevada, and the University of San Francisco "Dons."

"The Don," a large dummy garbed in a football uniform, with pick handles for legs, and a canvas face, will be hung to a lamp post, while students will cheer for another Nevada victory on the morrow.

The rally will be almost the same, with the exception of pajamas, as the last rally held a fortnight ago, before the St. Mary's game. Students will gather in front of Manzanita hall at 7:30 p. m. and will accompany the university band down Virginia street to the Riverside hotel, then over to Sierra street, and up to Commercial Row. At the corner of Virginia and Commercial Row, students will hold a "neck tie" party for "Senor Don."

Band to Play

At the various intersections the band will play, and songs and yells will be given under the direction of Emile Gezelin, head yell leader who will be in charge, and he with his assistants will lead the rally through the streets of Reno.

The Associated Students of the University of San Francisco signified their intentions of being well represented at the game Saturday, when they notified Carl Dodge yesterday, that a band of 300 rooters would accompany the team to Reno.

Organizes Rooters

In an effort to have one of the best rooting sections ever at Nevada, Gezelin said that he wanted all the university students to sit in the front section, which is immediately to the left of the front entrance into the stadium. The section to the left of this one, he said would be reserved for San Francisco students.

Gianella to Speak Over Air Tonight

Vincent P. Gianella, professor of geology at the Mackay School of Mines will speak over radio station KOH tonight at 8:15 on the subject of "Meteors." In his talk, Professor Gianella plans to discuss the occurrence of meteors, naming particularly interesting and well known ones, and the falls of meteors and meteorites which have been observed at different times.

This lecture is the second in the present series of radio presentations being sponsored by the university faculty as part of the adult education program. The talk by Professor Post on "Music" originally scheduled for tonight, and the musical program which he had planned to present at the same time, have been postponed because of the necessity for the band to be present at the football rally being held Friday night.

The talk next week will be given by President Walter E. Clark on "Homecoming."

Minor Injuries Beset Nevadans During Practices

Mitchell to Choose Starters Immediately Preceding Kickoff

Wolf Team Prepares Passing Attack for Match With Dons

For the first time in several years the Nevada Wolf Pack will play host to a "big-time" football team, meeting the University of San Francisco Dons on Mackay Field tomorrow.

Rated as one of the best outfits on the Pacific Coast, despite their previous defeats by Stanford and Santa Clara, the Hill-toppers bring to Reno a veteran squad of flashy performers. One of the largest crowds in many years is expected by Graduate Manager Robert Creps to witness Reno's first major gridiron clash in some time.

Following his usual custom, Coach C. L. "Brock" Mitchell of Nevada has not yet announced a starting line-up. Official selection of those who will engage in the opening kick-off is always made by the Nevada mentor just previous to game time. Much speculation is being made by the faithful fans who inhabit Mackay stadium nightly at practice sessions as to Nevada's opening team. Minor injuries have hit a number of the first-stringers and the team has undergone considerable juggling during the past week.

Ort Outstanding

In the backfield, John Ort, one of the stars of the St. Mary's game, appears certain to start against the Dons at quarterback. George Tharp, hard-plunging left halfback, has been hindered all week by a severe charley horse and will probably alternate with Kenneth Powell, who is handicapped by a badly cut eye. On the whole it looks like a team of cripples which will face the San Franciscans.

Dick Sauter has been kept out of practice for most of the week with a charley horse, and probably Gordon Miles, Oregon Normal transfer, will get the call to start at right half. Roy Caldwell, whose sterling defensive work against the Gaels won him much glory on the coast, will take over the fullback berth again. Allen Cromwell, second-string right half, has been kept out of practice by a severe cold.

Veterans Set

Of the linemen, only Frank Showalter and George Hadlen, both 200-pound veterans, appear certain of a starting position. Leg injuries have hit both Hollis McKinnon, giant end, and Harry Bradley, tackle, with the result that they may be slowed down considerably tomorrow. Gerry Dellanoy, who started (Continued on Page Six)

Military Policies Discussed by Reed

Workings of National Defense Explained by R.O.T.C. Professor

Colonel William L. Reed, professor of military science and tactics, addressed a large gathering of the faculty yesterday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Faculty Science club. His subject was "The Military Policy of the United States, and the National Defense Act of 1920."

Reed reviewed military policies from the Colonial period to date and pointed out the errors of these policies as exemplified in the Revolutionary war, War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, Spanish American War and the World War.

"The best illustration of the advantages of a definite national defense policy," Col. Reed stated, "was in the World War, when the United States armed, uniformed and partially trained 4,000,000 men and had 2,000,000 men on the European battle fields in time to decide the great issue. Since that time the United States has improved considerably in her national defense program, not only in the training of men but in her preparedness for any future world conflagration."

In a review of the various military elements provided by the national defense act, Reed made comparisons of the National Guard, Organized Reserves, R. O. T. C. and the C. M. T. C. He also suggested methods of improvement in our National defense program by having regular army enlistments raised to five years, by having officers in the reserve corps trained for two weeks each year at a special school, by having 50,000 trained new men added to the Organized Reserve each year instead of the 14,000 at the present time and by turning out 8,000 men annually in the R. O. T. C.

Mining Laboratory - Work Is Discussed By Prof. Palmer

Service of Analytical Bureau Sketched in Opening Radio Talk

Thirty-Thousand Assays Made Per Year by U. N. Department

Inaugurating the series of radio lectures sponsored by the faculty of the University of Nevada, Professor W. S. Palmer, director of the State Analytical Laboratory, spoke last Friday night on "Work of the State Analytical Laboratory."

History Traced
In his lecture, Palmer gave a brief sketch of the history and development of the laboratory, starting with the custom prevalent among Nevada residents from the first organization of the School of Mines in 1888, of bringing samples to the university for assay. The state did not take over this work until 1895, when an act of the legislature authorized the State Analytical Laboratory as a public service division of the university and provided funds for it.

"The purpose of the laboratory is to give the prospectors and residents of the State of Nevada, a place where they can secure an unbiased report on any mineral substance which they may discover in Nevada, and particularly to give those who cannot afford to pay for assays, a limited amount of free assaying, hoping thereby to aid in the discovery of new mineral deposits in this state," according to Professor Palmer.

2,500 Served
This work done by the laboratory has been much appreciated by thousands of people of Nevada, judging from the many letters on file, he continued. Over 2,500 different residents of Nevada a year are now being served, with a total of over 30,000 determinations being made yearly.

The work of the laboratory up until 1923 was under the direction of the director of the school of mines, but the increase of work at that time necessitated the appointment of another staff member of the School of Mines to fill that office. The work at the present time is conducted by staff members of the metallurgy department with some assistance from the geology and mineralogy department.

Assays Limited
In stating the limitations which are set upon the number of assays which one person is allowed, Prof. Palmer declared that it would naturally be impossible, with the limited funds and time available, and the number of people wishing assays made, to run an unlimited number for everyone. The restrictions in force now is that not more than two samples in 30 days may be submitted by any single person or group.

In concluding his lecture, Professor Palmer spoke of some freak samples

Zoology Sharks Express Dislike For Lab Frogs

Do you enjoy sitting beside a shady pond and watching carefree, little frogs leap and play?

You wouldn't if you had ever taken a course in zoology 2. "We never want to see a nasty, dead frog again," unanimously declared members of that class in a recent interview. "Six weeks of constant association with frogs is enough for us."

Various members of the class, while performing laboratory experiments, gave vent to the following "gripes":
Said Marilyn Rhodes: "They give the frogs chloroform and then cut them open when the poor little things are unconscious and can't get up to fight back! It's like shooting someone in the back when they are not looking."
The St. Mary's men have nothing on these babies when it comes to good, tough, brawn!" said Kenny Powell, football player, as he delicately butchered a big green frog. "I've been tackling this one for 45 minutes and still have not penetrated through the first layer."

As Ray Tennant eyed his inanimate victim wrathfully and with a ruthless gleam in his eyes, he said, "This frog is pickled. It's all full of wet, smelly stuff, and when I try to dissect it, it squirts!"

U. N. Orchestra Begins Practices

Attended by thirty students and townspeople, the first meeting of the University-Community Little Symphony orchestra was held last week. Plans were discussed for participation in a university music night at the Century club in November.

Enrollment this year is below normal, but Professor Theodore H. Post, director of the orchestra, believes that several other musicians will join the group before the first concert.

which have been submitted to the laboratory, some of real scientific interest, as the petrified wood containing gold, which was submitted several months ago and which has been the subject of much interested discussion since then, and some samples in the nature of practical jokes, such as assay slag, contents of old paint buckets, dried potatoes, red glass and many other things of similar nature.

Send the 'Brush home.

Lincoln Hall Men Initiate Members

Lincoln Hall held its annual Hall Association initiation Tuesday, adding fifteen new names to the membership roll. The new members were pledged to the organization two weeks ago at the annual stunt night and were given the final degree Tuesday.

Many older members were present at the evening's rites.
Those who entered the association are: Vernon Scott, Jay Robinson, Malcolm Nobbs, Robert Lauten, Allison Gibeau, Frank Walker, Frank Eastman, Claire Lorton, John Marean, James Borland, Herbert Ward, Chester Estes, Chester Burt, Frank Zadow, and Chester Jacobson.

Presiding officers at Lincoln Hall are: Tom Morris, mayor; Antone Primeaux, secretary, and Guy Morris, treasurer.

Survey Station May Be Placed On U. N. Campus

Possibilities of establishing a Snow Survey experiment station center at the University of Nevada was discussed last week by Dr. J. E. Church, head and professor of the department of classics with W. W. McLaughlin, chief of the division of irrigation, U. S. department of the interior, at Berkeley, Cal.

The experiment station center would be in cooperation with the division of irrigation and supervised by the Agricultural Experiment station here and the division of irrigation.

McCULLOUGH IMPROVES
Betty McCulloch who was operated on for appendicitis at the Saint Mary's hospital three weeks ago, has recovered and is returning to her studies next Monday.

Concert Group To Open Drive For Membership

A drive for campus membership in the Nevada Community Concert association will open October 28, under the leadership of student representatives elected from University of Nevada organizations.

Invitations are being sent this week to each of the sorority and fraternity houses, and to Lincoln and Manzanita Halls, by Mrs. Walter E. Clark, chairman of the membership campaign, asking the representative elected to attend a business meeting and buffet supper at the Clark home Monday night, October 14.

Possibility that Jascha Heifetz, well known concert violinist, and Jose Iturbi, equally famous pianist, will be among the artists to visit Reno is seen by the committee in charge, if sufficient membership can be obtained to assure a minimum of three major concerts.

Senate Minutes

October 3, 1935.
The second regular Senate meeting of the fall semester was called to order by Chairman Dodge. Roll was called and the minutes of the last Senate meeting were read and approved. The minutes of the last Executive meeting were also read. The fine list was read. It was regularly moved, seconded and carried that fines should be imposed for special meeting as well as regular meetings of the Senate. The minutes of the last regular Senate meeting held on September 5 were read and request from the floor of the Senate.

Rob Nelligan, chairman of the committee to investigate the possibility of a seal for the associated students gave a short report of the progress made by the committee. Discussion of the possibility of adopting an associated students seal followed. A motion was regularly made and carried that the Senate reject the proposal of such a seal.

The following committee panels were permanently approved by the Senate: Publications board, rally committee member, high school student body president's convention (with Don Connolly substituted for Louis Nash), executive committee, men's and women's upper-class committees, Homecoming day committee, and secretary of the A. S. U. N.

Under new business, Chairman Dodge suggested and recommended the appointment of a constitutional revision committee to take care of such difficulties as will arise from the athletic change made last semester. Because the Constitution requires that there be two assistant yell leaders, it was announced that the nominating committee must nominate an assistant. William Dale was suggested for the position.

A short recess was declared while the nominating committee drew up a panel for the revision committee and assistant yell leader.

The meeting was called to order and the following panels presented:

Constitutional revision committee, Bob Stoker, chairman; Tom Morris, Vic Carroll, Bill Cashill and Katherine Dondero. Assistant yell leader, William Dale.

The panels were accepted temporarily. A motion was made, seconded and carried that Walter States be added to the panel presented by the nominating committee.

Chairman Dodge explained that the regular student body meeting had been postponed a week because of the student body president's convention. Discussion followed concerning the allotment of surplus money from the publications. The matter was referred to the constitutional revision committee. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 8:35 p. m. CARL F. DODGE, Chairman. ELIZABETH JUNIPER, Secretary.

Elaborate Plans Made by Houses For Homecoming

Institute Week Expected to Bring Large Group to Sororities

Elimination of Float Duplication Achieved By New Plan

Although homecoming is two weeks away, sororities of the University of Nevada are making elaborate preparations to welcome grads and former students to their respective houses during the celebration.

Breakfasts, luncheons and dinners will be given by the houses to honor homecomers and arrangements have been made by the various houses to accommodate those who plan to remain at the houses during the week-end.

Approximately 250 sorority women are expected to return to the university by the six sororities. These will include grads and former students from Utah, California, Oregon and Nevada. An unusually large crowd is expected this year because many alums will attend homecoming activities while in Reno for the annual institute week.

Float Plans Complete

The usual note of mystery prevails on the campus as plans for the sorority floats are well underway. The new method of eliminating duplication of ideas has encouraged earnest work on this year's floats.

Margaret Turano and Margaret Piercy are in charge of the Gamma Phi Beta float; Julia Sibley, Kappa Alpha Theta; Joyce Dodge, Pi Beta Phi; Agnes DeArmand, Beta Sigma Omicron; and Ellen McFarland, Delta Delta Delta.

Beta Sigma Omicron sorority will sell Homecoming Day corsages during the parade and game this year and orders can be placed at any time with President Margaret Lyons.

Delta Delta Delta sorority will hold open house immediately after the football game as has been the group's annual custom for many years.

Groups to Honor Pledges at Teas

Pledges of Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Beta sororities will be honored at presentation teas during the next month to conclude the formal pledging season.

Pi Phi pledges will be presented at the chapter house on Sierra street October 19 and Gamma Phi Beta pledges will be presented November 9 at the home of Mrs. S. K. Morrison in Elm Court.

Judges of Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Delta Delta sororities have already been presented.

Membership Drive Ends October 18

The annual Y. W. C. A. membership drive will extend to October 18, according to plans of cabinet this week. Approximately 30 members have joined and at least 30 more are expected to join during the next week.

Membership cards will be sold daily in front of the library from 11:25 to 12:15 until next Wednesday. The drive will be concluded with recognition services in St. Stephens' chapel about October 22.

CABINET TO MEET

Y. W. C. A. cabinet will hold its weekly meeting Tuesday at 6 p. m. in the Mandarin cafe at which time the annual Asilomar gathering will be discussed. Plans will be made for a general meeting and a series of musical entertainment will be outlined. President Mary Corecco will preside.

Yearling Women Will Sell "Dogs" At U.S.F. Game

Twenty-four freshmen women, whose names come before "D" in the alphabet, have been chosen to peddle hot dogs and approximately the same number after "R" to sell ice cream at the game tomorrow.

A. W. S. is in charge of ice cream sales and W. A. A. of hot dogs, which Miss Bemis dietician at the university dining hall, will prepare for sale.

Every freshman woman who is asked to sell must comply or find a substitute. All food must be sold.

Those freshmen who disobey will be reported to the Women's Upperclass Committee and punished accordingly.

Upperclass Board To Punish Co-Eds

Twenty-four freshmen women will appear before the woman's upperclass committee Monday at 4:00, who will be punished for their failure to sell in the "Buy a Brick" campaign will be meted out.

"Anyone failing to appear will be dealt second offense punishment," said Miss Kirkley, chairman of the committee.

Those who are to appear are: Catherine Booth, Helen Brown, Fay Capie, Jean Chism, Elaine Cline, Gaynell Gillin, Thelma Gillies, Doris Jackson, Isabel Jaynes, Patricia Lannon, Beatrice Lansdon, Eloise Lyon, Dorothy Marks, Charlotte Michaels, Carrie Mountrose, Verla Mae Nelson, Gertrude Polander, Theodora Putney, Eleanor Rissen, Claire Smith, Marie Varnom, Mary Venturino, Vivian Williams.

Added to this list will be the names of those who did not appear to sell hot dogs and ice cream at tomorrow's game.

All names will be posted on the bulletin board.

Failure to get their "bricks" next Tuesday will count as a second offense for the above women.

Miss Kirkley further warned offenders that any girl up for the third offense will be "campused."

Sororities Plan Formal Initiations

Final initiation for sorority pledges are being completed this month at the various houses.

Kappa Alpha Theta will hold initiation ceremonies for six women October 13, at the chapter house. Those being initiated are Lois Darrrough, Aldene Branch, Norma Jean Mills, Elizabeth Best, Anne Gibbs and Jean Cameron.

Delta Delta Delta will hold rites for two sophomores tonight at the house on Sierra street. Those being initiated are Alice Sauer and Helen Heaster.

Last Saturday night, October 6, Betty Naismith was formally taken into Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Group Schedules Breakfast Hike

A breakfast hike, something new in the nature of hikes, will be staged by the University of Nevada Women's Outing club Sunday, October 13, between 7 a. m. and 1 p. m., according to Charlotte Robinson and Dorothy Roseberry, managers.

The destination of the hike is undecided. All women have been invited.

Pan-Hellenic Silent On Rushing Changes

Second Semester Rushing Removed as Possible Solution

That the University of Nevada sororities will thoroughly renovate their rushing rules is clearly indicated by mysterious meetings of Pan-Hellenic council during the past two weeks.

Two meetings have been held and a third is set for next week. Although the purpose is to revise the present rushing system, President Inez MacGillivray of the council refused to comment on or reveal actions of the council.

It has been previously pointed out by sorority presidents and members that the present system of rushing proved very unsatisfactory during the last season, so much so that houses have demanded a change.

Rumors indicated that second semester and second year rushing have been suggested to the council. All sororities will discuss the matter in their respective meetings Monday night.

Announcements of action taken by the council will be made by Miss MacGillivray when the rushing problem has been definitely settled, she said.

Dance Planned By Normal Club

At a meeting of the Normal Club Wednesday afternoon, tentative plans for a get-together dance were made. Purchase of Normal club pins was discussed and each member will be required to have one. Meetings will be held every other Wednesday afternoon, according to Anne Banovich, president of the group.

Following the business meeting there was a social hour in Artemisia hall. Tea was served and members entertained with musical selections. Miss Reubsam, director of the group, gave a reading.

Co-ed Marksmen To Practice Soon

With Sergeant Grant S. Huts as instructor, women's rifle will start the first week in November, Katherine Dondero, manager of the sport stated this week. Rifle, which may be used as a W.A.A. activity, is open to all women students.

At the conclusion of the season, ten women will be chosen for the varsity rifle team and will receive Circle N's. Rifle is an inter-collegiate as well as an interclass and intersorority sport.

Katherine Dondero, manager of last year's rifle squad will retain this position until a new manager is appointed.

Co-Eds Do Bit To Give Nevada National Record

University co-eds who save their "cents" to buy more "cents" doubtless deserve a lot of credit for Nevada's women being chosen the "perfunniest," per capita, of any in the country.

Governor Kirman was notified recently of this singular honor by the Perfume and Cosmetics Buyers Association, which is meeting in New York.

They asked him to send a delegate, or come himself, to get a scroll expressing the appreciation of the industry to Nevada's ladies for their extensive use of cosmetics and perfume.

Baptist Students Elect Officers

At a business meeting held Sunday night, October 6, the Baptist club elected officers for the ensuing year. Oliver Ness was elected chairman of the group with Ellen Creek being chosen vice-chairman; Merle Atcheson, treasurer, and Wanda Bell, secretary.

Rifles Purchased For Co-Ed Team

With the purchase of two new Winchester 32 rifles, the Women's Athletic association of the University of Nevada will have for the first time in its history, its own rifles for the women's team. The total cost of the guns was ten dollars.

Cap and Scroll, women's honorary organization, will hold its first social gathering of the semester in the form of a dinner meeting at the El Cortez next Thursday at 5:30 p. m. The meeting was postponed from yesterday. Active members include Mary Corecco, president; Winnifred Walsh, Inez MacGillivray, Evelyn Semenza and Alice Lundberg.

Margaret Piercy, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Delk of Tonopah, spent the week-end in Carson City.

Eleanor Barry and Mrs. Irma Loforth were initiated into Chi Delta Phi, national women's honorary literary society, Wednesday.

The two initiates were honored at a banquet last night at the home of Mrs. A. E. Hill with President Florence Gulating as toastmistress.

Plans were tentatively outlined for the annual poetry contest in the high school and regular monthly business and social meetings.

Brandis Marries University Grad

Ruth Brandis, senior student, was married to Albert Hayes Randolph, '31, at the St. Thomas Cathedral Sunday evening. The Reverend John J. Rowe of Virginia City read the services.

Mrs. Randolph is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brandis and is a graduate of Reno high school.

Randolph, following his graduation from the University of Nevada, attended the University of California at Berkeley, and is now employed by the Union Oil company in Reno.

RESURRECTION

It seems that at last the Pan-Hellenic council is again coming to life.

Following one of the most discussed rushing seasons in the history of the university when "anything goes" seems to have been the motto of University of Nevada sororities, steps are now being taken to clarify rushing rules and provide for more stringent enforcement of the code by the council.

Lengthy meetings of the council and considerable debate in sorority chapter meetings have been the rule during the past two weeks, and it is probable that within a few weeks the council will have some definite action to report to the student body.

As stated in a recent Sagebrush editorial, sororities did not in any way live up to the high ideals which they are supposed to inculcate in their members during the past season, and the "dirty" rushing heaped criticism not only upon the sororities themselves, but also upon the university.

Tactics such as were employed this year do not have to be adopted by sororities, and the weakness of the council in not enforcing its rules was apparent.

But changing rushing methods or even making slight alterations in the rushing rules can not be accomplished over-night. The council realizes this, and is proceeding slowly, endeavoring to arrive at some decision that will abolish to a great extent the deplorable incidents that were so frequent this year.

The student body should hope that whatever action Pan-Hellenic council takes will be for the best interests of the school and will clear up the too common practice of "dirty" rushing.

WELCOME TO NEVADA

The University of Nevada student body this week is again playing host to visiting high school student body presidents and journalists, and the Sagebrush welcomes these young people to the campus with every good wish for successful meetings.

Student committees have arranged extensive programs for their entertainment, but this is not the real reason for their visiting here. The conventions are not "get-togethers," but have the primary purpose of enabling the high school leaders to meet in round table discussions to solve problems confronting them.

There can be no doubt but that the conventions fulfill this purpose to a marked degree, and it is the wish of every Nevada student that some benefit is derived from the meetings.

In the past, the conventions have been held in the spring semester in conjunction with the annual forensic tournament, but a policy of holding the conventions in the fall when unforeseen problems are staring the high school leaders in the face is being instituted now for the first time. The logic of this move is apparent to all, and the good done by the conventions should be increased a hundred-fold.

The meetings also offer the high school students a chance to become acquainted with the University of Nevada and, at the same time, it gives them a clearer insight into collegiate life.

The Sagebrush hopes that the conventions are successful in every respect and that the delegates are able to profit from the sessions. But don't forget that there will be play in addition work, delegates. Enjoy yourselves during your stay; the campus is yours.

Letter to the Editor

Nevada has many distinctive qualities. These can be enumerated to great length, but this would serve no purpose. Nevada does need a distinctive school song. All of the songs that are commonly used by the students are taken from nationally recognized tunes. Nevada is and always will be an institution that is particularly distinguished from other similar institutions. We should have a song that will be recognized as belonging to our University whenever and wherever it is heard. The larger and more distinctive institutions of the nation have their songs. There are of course, institutions that are larger than ours, but these is no institution that can claim to be more distinctive than our own University of Nevada. The problem must be dealt with by some one who is now, or has in the past, been associated with our university. Is there someone within the student body, or within reach of some member of the student body, who can and will help in placing the University of Nevada even higher among that list of distinctive colleges throughout the nation?—C. L.

AN EPIC
(Dedicated to Mary Pappas)
Beside the house of Alpha Delta
The Sigma-Phi-Sigas dwell.
They frolic oft in sportive glee—
Or so the gossips tell.
One night about a week ago
An Alpha Delta maid
In searching for adventure
To the Sigma's backyard strayed.
The Sigma wash was on the line,
Shirts, sox, and BVD's.
The Alpha Delta laughed aloud
When she had spotted these.
With many a knot and many a twist
She tied the garments tight,
Then took them to the Sigma porch—
The house showed not a light.
But as she dropped the bundle there
Rude hands laid hold on her,
The paddle smote her fragile form,
Just where you may infer.
When sometime late the maid crept
home
This Alpha Delta pearl,
She left the Sig-Phi-Sigma house
A sadder, wiser girl.

Wolf Howls

We'd like to know what made John Dana lose his head and give his ring to Marie Barnes. It must have been the moon, or the night, or somthin' strange—for him to forget himself—or the rest of his admirers.

Stephens and Freudenberg "round-about-ers" from the S. A. E. house are living up to their reputation by taking in the town—or taking out the town—or something like that. A new gal every night—or a new night every gal—how-ever you take it.

"I'm in the mood for love" seems to be Les Tomley's theme song, (you of the old timers remember Les—the strong silent man of the A. T. 'Twas at the Blue Key social dance, That Dalzell, who was in a trance, Removed his (?) pin from off his breast And hung it on fair Betty West— But wait, poor Betty in ignorance Accepted the pin and left the dance. Meanwhile Sully of the good old Brush Congratulated himself as he left in a rush. For he had committed an awful sin— The pin that was hung was Sully's pin. Or was it? Anyway where was Sully last night, And where was Betty—we know where Dalzell was.

The Pan-Hell danx was the beginning of or the end of more than one escapade. For instance, the lovely romance between Betty "I faww down" McCuiston, and Joe "Dark-eyed Hero of the Campus" Cleary seemed to be on the rocks—what with Joe stomping out to leave Betty to go home alone. Don't feel too badly dear reader, for they are practically back in each other's arms again—if you can fancy them in that position while studying in the library.

Speaking of romances the one between Jessie "Sweet Young Thing" Sellman and "Feetball" Ort seems to flourish in as all new romances do. (Pardon us if we seem cynical—but we've seen it happen before). Anyhoo, Johnnie, there are more fish in the sea than have ever been caught—if you know what we mean.

Was Bud Berdino's face red when he read the marriage license notices yesterday and saw that he had gotten a license to marry some girl he doesn't even know—that's history. And what's more we would like to know what his gal is going to say when she sees it.

Ask Jack Groguin if two pints make one cavort—or better yet ask someone who went to the Pan-Hell danx to tell you whether or not he did cavort.

Hansen, Priest Married Sunday

Katherine Hansen and Perry B. Priest, both University of Nevada graduates, were married at the Hansen home in Yerington, Nevada, Sunday evening, October 6.

Mrs. Priest is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, and was active on the Desert Wolf staff while in university. She graduated in 1933.

Priest, who graduated in '35, was a pre-med student, a member of Omega Mu Iota, and particularly active in the military organization, Scabbard and Blade.

Guests at the wedding included several former University of Nevada students, among whom were Virginia Wheeler, Maxine Bondetti, Gladys Morris, Charlotte Pope, Philip DeLongchamps, and Francis Coddington.

Band Maneuvers Are to Feature U. S. F. Conflict

A lively program of entertainment between the halves of tomorrow's Nevada-San Francisco University football game is planned by the University of Nevada band, according to Professor Theodore H. Post, director.

Several maneuvers for display on the field have been practiced by the band this week under the leadership of Hal Lang, drum major. These will include the formation of an "N," as well as counter-marching and serenading of the bleachers.

The band will also play at the pregame rally tonight. Other future appearances by the group will include participation in the parades Homecoming Day, Admission Day and Armistice Day.

Advisers Discuss G. R. Projects

A meeting of the Y. W. advisers of the Girl Reserves was held Tuesday night, during which it was decided that all the clubs will work on the same projects. At the end of each month there will be a general get-together of all the clubs, and each club will tell what it has accomplished.

At Christmas time, a camp carnival at which all the work of the different clubs will be exhibited will be held. Some of the different projects that the clubs are considering are handicraft, dramatics, and new songs.

Wolf Cubs Drop Game to Lassen To Open Season

Passes Prove Frosh Downfall When Grizzlies Win 13 to 0

Yearlings Put Up Stiff Fight But Unable to Cross Scoreline

Lassen County Junior college proved too much for the Nevada freshmen when the two teams met on the Susanville gridiron last Saturday, and the Cubs went down to defeat, 13 to 0.

The game was hard fought throughout but the Grizzlies sweeping end runs and their aerial attack spelled downfall for the Nevada yearlings.

Lassens first score came after the California team had recovered a Nevada fumble. Aided by a number of penalties the Grizzly team soon worked the ball over the goal line. The second score came as a result of a long pass and run.

The starting lineup for the Cubs included: MacMeekin and Evans ends; Sullivan and Brooks, tackles; Ferrick and Nickovich, guards; Demosthenes, center; Carlson and Taylor, halfbacks; Bernardo, fullback, and Inman, quarter. Other yearlings who made the trip were: Richard Roche, George Edelme, Blake Speers, Leo McCuddin, Lester Agee, Kenneth Day, Frank Eastman, George Hinman, Martin Hannifan, and Walter Powers.

The two teams will meet in a return game on Mackay field, November 2 as a preliminary to the Nevada-California Aggie game.

Veterans to See Action on Field

Bent on making the San Francisco Dons the big victim of the season, four University of Nevada Wolves will attempt to do what they did in 1933 when they journeyed to the bay region and helped beat the San Francisco teams 12 to 7. These men are Tharp, Benson, Stock, and Hadien.

In the 1933 game Jack Hill ran 75 yards to a touchdown in the closing minutes in the third quarter. Marvin Turner scored the first points for the Wolves in the first period when he intercepted a pass and galloped 55 yards to a touchdown. Nevada entered the game as the underdogs, and by playing a conservative game registered one of the sensational upsets of the 1933 season.

Pep Club Elects Ten New Pledges

Election of ten new members to Sagers, undergraduate pep club, was announced yesterday by Oliver Aymar, president.

Those winning Sager membership include Ross Morris, Kenny Powell, Adam Paterson, Russell Byington, Melville Wilder, Richard Carville, Jim McNeely, Ted Olds, Bob Metten, and Charles Doherty.

First duties of the new members will be the lining of parking spaces at Mackay Field this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

Chico Defeats S. F. State 24-0

Of the teams that Nevada will meet during the coming season, Chico State was the only one to come through with a victory in the games played last week end.

Chico State defeated the San Francisco State eleven by a score of 24 to 0. Fresno bowed to the California Ramblers to the tune of 13 to 7; Stanford had an easy time defeating San Francisco University 10 to 0 and U. S. C., trounced the College of Pacific eleven by a 19 to 7 score. San Jose State drew a bye for the week.

According to the showing made by the representative teams, Nevada should have an even chance at least with all of the opponents it will meet this fall.

U. N., Bay College To Resume Rivalry

Tomorrow's game between the University of Nevada Wolves and the San Francisco University Dons renews a rivalry which has extended over a long period, with the Dons holding the upper hand during recent years. The games stand two to one, in the Hilltoppers' favor and Nevada is given an even chance to even up the score.

The game played in 1930 ended in the Dons having the largest score, having 20 points to Nevada's 13. The Dons were then known as St. Ignatius College and were nicknamed the "Gray Fog." Among their stars was "Big Bob" Fleckner, who is now frosh coach at that institution. His powerhouse drives were one of the main factors in their victory.

Among the men who starred for Nevada was Al Lefevbre, who was later to receive All-American honorable mention. Toby Guffey and Jack Hill also played a good game for Nevada.

In 1931 Nevada fared much worse, losing by a 40-7 score. This game was played in zero weather but did not seem to hamper the green and yellow jerseyed men in their scoring spree.

Perfect interference and runs by "Big Bob" Eleckner were the main features of the game which was witnessed by a very small crowd who braved the wintry breezes.

Among the Nevadans who turned in a good performance was Harvey Hill, freshman, who ran 65 yards to a touchdown for the sole Nevada score.

In the last game played between the two schools Nevada finally came out on the winning side defeating S. F. U. in a night game 12-7. This was their first contest under "Brick" Mitchell and the Wolf Pack played an offensive game which received much favorable comment on the coast.

The highlights of the game were the scoring of Nevada's touchdowns. Jack Hill, diminutive quarter, playing his third year for Nevada, ran 75 yards for one, while Marvin Turner, guard, ran 55 yards for the other tally.

Trackmen Practice For Distance Run

With the Homecoming cross-country race two weeks away, entrants in the marathon may be seen stretching their legs nightly on Purdy road or on the Reno-Sparks highway, over which the race will be run. Medical examinations of most of the participants were given this week.

Teams entered in the race so far include Jimmy Herz, Frank Leonard, Don Leighton, Stan Smith, and Homer Herz, Sigma Nu; Floyd Hand, Lockley Maul, and George Hickey, Alpha Tau Omega; Marvin Moler, Charles York, and Robert Deffoset, Bill Foster and Andrew Morby, Lambda Chi Alpha; Murray Moler, independent, and Harry Plath, Norman Nichols, Laird Wilcox, and Craig Moore, Sigma Phi Sigma. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa have also signified their intentions of entering contestants, but their men have not as yet signed up with Dr. J. E. Martie, who has charge of the event.

Inter-Frat Trophy Named for Donor

The intra-fraternity revolving "beer mug" will now be known as the J. C. Kinear revolving intra-mural sport trophy, it was decided at the intra-fraternity conference meeting early this week.

The cup was donated to the university in 1933, by Kinear, who is president of the Nevada Consolidated Copper Co.

It stands about 12 inches high, and is of solid copper, with a large handle on one side. On the front of the trophy is a large rectangular space on which will be inscribed the name of the trophy. Each year one small plaque is placed on it bearing the name of the fraternity which has amassed the most points in the intra-mural sports program.

The cup was obtained largely through the efforts of James Wallace, who, at the time, was president of the student body. The cup has been won the last two years by Alpha Tau Omega.

The trophy is presented at the annual "bean feed," which is held the last week in the spring semester.

After coming out of the tough St. Mary's game unscathed, the Wolf Pack has been hit hard this week by illness and injury. None of the hurts sustained by the gridders this week are serious but will seriously handicap them against the Dons tomorrow.

As yet it is doubtful if Dick "Rube" Sauer, first-string halfback, will be able to start against San Francisco. The Rube suffered a severe "charley horse" this week and has been unable to engage in active practice sessions.

The change in which Gordon Miles was moved up from the third team to take the place of the injured Sauer may have surprised some fans, but team-mates have been expecting an advance for the dynamic little halfback. Miles, who tackles and blocks with a vigor unequalled by any other backfield man on the squad, scored fifty-two points at Oregon Normal last season.

The cancellation of the Reno Garage-San Francisco Seals game Sunday was a disappointment to many university baseball fans who had hoped to see the coast champions in action. Several former Nevada U athletes who would have appeared against the Seals in Reno uniforms are: Jack Hill, Bud Beasley, Oscar Freitag and Jake Lawlor, who have been performing on the local semi-pro team this season.

Predictions for this week's Pacific coast grid games: Washington State over Oregon, San Jose over Chico, St. Mary's over Pacific, Santa Clara to take Fresno State. U. S. F.-Nevada? What do you think?

Tomorrow's contest appears to be a battle of the cripples. Reports from San Francisco indicate that four of the first-string players of the Hill-toppers are in no shape to play against Nevada. On the local outfit we find Messrs. Tharp and Sauer limping painfully about. Kenny Powell peering from a badly cut and bruised eye, and Al Cromwell confined to bed with illness.

Lambda Chi Alpha appears headed to undisputed possession of the volley-ball cup, defeating their strongest opponents, Sigma Nu, last year's champions, during the week. Other intra-mural sports are so far evenly divided up.

Women Students Canvass Campus In Brick Campaign

Sale of Tags Set to Close on Tuesday with Goal Set at 500

Committee Chairman Says Support by Students Exceptional

"Brother can you spare a dime to buy a brick?" This has been the plea for the past week of 114 freshman women participating in the annual "Buy a Brick" campaign sponsored by the Associated Women Students to raise funds for a new student union building.

In a sense the plea has a two fold meaning: (1) to support the campaign, and (2) to support the freshmen who are subject to punishment by the Upperclass committee should they fail to respond to the call for a salesman.

Ends Tuesday
The sale of tags will end Tuesday afternoon, at this time money and unsold bricks will be turned in to the committee. A prize will be awarded to the woman with the greatest number of sales to her credit. The winner of the prize last year was Georgia Cooper, Beta Sigma Omicron, who sold 120 bricks. According to Frances Burke, chairman of the sale committee, the campaign thus far has been very successful owing to the exceptionally enthusiastic support of the students and townpeople. The proceeds are expected to surpass those of previous years. To date the fund amounts to $15, half of which was netted from the sale last year.

Goal 500
The goal set by the committee is the sale of 500 tags, which would add $50 to the fund. Indication from sales show this quite possible. Assisting Frances Burke in the management of the campaign are: Florence Kirtley, chairman of the Women's Upperclass committee; Betty Simpson, president of Sagens Service organization; Joyce Dodge, Rita Winer and Janet Parish.

Hunt for Deer Is Nearly Fatal To U. N. Student

After having been lost in the wild and isolated Table mountain country in eastern Nye county for two days and nights, Clovis Bull, university student, wandered into the Page Brothers' cattle ranch exhausted and hungry but apparently none the worse for the strenuous ordeal.

Bull, with several Reno business men, went to the Table mountain district, 70 miles east of Tonopah, on a deer hunt. After having become separated from his companions, Bull became lost and wandered around in the vast forest reserve. His companions became alarmed and went to Tonopah for aid. Late Monday evening he wandered into the Page ranch, from where he joined his companions at Willow Creek 10 miles away. Bull, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bull, 230 Vine street stated that he killed a mule tail deer during his wanderings, but could not eat it because of lack of fire.

Contract Awarded For 1936 Annual

The contract for the printing of the 1936 Artemisia was awarded to the Reno Printing Company at a recent meeting of the finance control. It was given against the A. Carlisle Company bid. The engraving contracts will be announced soon, as all engraving has been estimated and submitted for bidding to various engraving companies.

Several cover sketches have been submitted by Weber-McCrea, H. O. Berger Company of Chicago, Bechtold Company of Chicago. These sketches are on approval, and as yet none of them has been accepted.

According to Walter Bowrin, editor of the 1936 year book, it will be 30 pages larger than the Artemisia of last year.

Religion, Philosophy Subject of Talk By Dean Thompson

Science and Religion Never Conflict, Audience Is Told

Address Is Third of Series on Religion Given by Faculty

Art, science, philosophy, and religion have all been developed by man in his attempt to adjust himself, said Dean R. C. Thompson in his address on "Religion and Philosophy" before a large audience of townspeople in the Mackay Science hall Thursday night. He devoted his lecture to an analysis of the conflicts and agreements of religion and philosophy.

"Science and Theology conflict, but science and religion never can," said Dean Thompson.

After relating science and philosophy, Thompson listed three schools of philosophy, the realistic, the agnostic, and the humanistic which are in some degree, wholly at odds with religion.

The idealistic school agrees with religion. This school argues that ideals are real, and religion accepts ideals and personifies them through worship.

Both assume that the universe is a "friendly universe" chiefly because of its dependability, and accept the theory that the order and dependability of the universe pre-supposes a mind great enough to account for that order, according to the dean.

"It is just as foolish to suppose that a Shakespearean sonnet can be read in a gallery of scattered type, as to suppose the universe to be there in that order by chance," he said.

Expressing his belief that man is steadily progressing toward those abstract qualities on which religion is based, Dean Thompson closed his address.

A few minutes of lively discussion followed in which Dean Thompson answered questions from the audience.

No announcement was made concerning next week's lecture.

RALPH MYERS RETURNS

Ralph Myers, '34, visited friends in Reno over the week-end. While attending the university, Myers was affiliated with the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity. Following his graduation he attended Stanford Law school, and is now employed by the Eastern Exploration Company in Goldfield.

Wolves Play Here

ed the season as a first-string tackle, is still held back by a bad side and hip injury which kept him out of the St. Mary's game and from active engagement in scrimmages.

Bacciarini Star
"Madcap Mike" Bacciarini is a half-back who promises to have the spectators on Mackay Field on their feet most of the game. He has speed, elusiveness, is a great passer, and a good punter. Mike is a "lean-to" runner with a deceptively fast stride. He will share with John Ohrt, Nevada's shifty running tailback, the duty of providing the crowd with thrills from open-field running.

San Francisco's running plays were stopped by both Santa Clara and Stanford during most of their contests this season while the passing attack had more success against the Broncos and Indians. From indications of practice this week, "Spud" Lewis intends to cut loose with a terrific aerial offense against the Wolves. Bacciarini to Bugge has proved a successful combination, and every opportunity will be taken to break the rangy Bugge in the clear, where he will probably form a cog in lateral pass plays.

However, in this line the Wolves will have a retaliation, for when Nevada takes to the air to gain yardage the Dons will have their hands full stopping them. Ohrt proved to be an excellent passer in the St. Mary's game and has four capable receivers in Cleary, McKinnon, Benson and Basta. In practice this week Bill Grubbs displayed real talent in chucking the ball, and may see considerable action. Nevada boasts a record of fifty per cent of their passes against St. Mary's completed, a good record for any team, especially against such tough competition as the Gaels provide.

Giants Matched
Two of the biggest men on the Pacific Coast may be pitted against each other if reserve strength is called upon.

Gene "Tiny" Cervelli makes the scales groan under his 250 pounds, while John Stock, Nevada tackle, also shoves the indicator around the 250 pounds mark. When these two portly but agile gentlemen get together the result may be another earthquake of the magnitude of the recent Santa Barbara upheaval.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos. Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.
