

'Both Your Houses' Plays Three Days To Large Crowds

Robert Miller Proves Star Of First Play Staged This Term

Ten of Cast in Production Make Debut on Campus Stage

By WALTER STATES
The first three-act play produced this year by the University of Nevada Production department was acclaimed a great success by capacity audiences when the comedy was staged Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the Education auditorium.

The play, "Both Your Houses," written by Maxwell Anderson, ironically depicts the government of the United States as a seat of graft and corruption and representatives as political grafters.

Miller Stars
Robert Miller, sophomore student who displayed talent in last year's comedy, "The Tavern," and star of this success, gave an excellent performance as a congressman, Solomon Fitzmaurice, who was admittedly dishonest.

Simeon Gray, a serious and well-meaning chairman of the house appropriations committee, was portrayed ably by Frank Stout. It was Stout's first appearance in a campus production.

Leo Doyle, another freshman student and versatile performer from Reno High school, also made his debut in university dramatics. He played the part of an honest and idealistic congressman from Nevada and gave a finished performance.

Beth Fredrickson, as an educated congresswoman; Betty Howell, as Bus, cynical secretary to the Nevada congressman, and Ellen Creek, who was cast as Marjorie Gray, daughter of the chairman, handled their roles competently. Miss Creek carried the leading feminine role.

Other members of the cast included Dean Turner, Fuhrman Byars, Wayne Kennedy, Lindsay Green, Melville Wilder, Clyde Keegel, Morrison Beaty, Richard Taw and Don Purdy.

Ten of the cast had never appeared before in a campus production, and five are freshmen.

William C. Miller, head of the university dramatics department, directed the play.

Fresno Bulldogs End Play to Win League Grid Title

College of the Pacific Places Second, Nevada Pack Is Third

Tourney Winners Undeclared In Circuit Games This Year

A well-balanced football team, combining a wealth of power and deception, won for Fresno State the Far Western conference championship of 1935.

Fresno, co-holder of the championship with San Jose last year, repeated its stellar performance and emerged the decisive victor over all its conference opponents, losing only to non-conference teams during the season.

Second place went to the College of Pacific who, though not the "giant killer" of last year, still was strong enough to take victories from the Cal Aggies, Nevada and Chico, losing only to the Fresno Bulldogs.

Nevada came out of last year's cellar position to beat Chico and the Cal Aggies but losing to the conference leaders, C. of P. and Fresno, thus putting them in third place with an average of 50 per cent. Nevada looked like a real threat at the beginning of the season but bogged down early to lose a close 7-6 game to the Pacific Tigers.

The College of Agriculture from Davis captured fourth place this year with a record of one win over Chico and three defeats to the three leading teams. Chico, a strong team in last year's conference play, this year went down to four straight defeats and thereby holds down the league's lowest position.

NOTICE

All campus organizations must have their deposits for the Artemisia paid by December 5 if they wish to have their pictures included in the book.

Kenneth Dimock visited his parents in Las Vegas during the Thanksgiving holidays.

SIPHON BOTTLE EXPLODES, CUTS STUDENT

Marshall Creel, sophomore student at the university who was severely cut about the face, head and hands when a quart siphon bottle exploded at the youth's home in Reno, last Thursday evening, returned to school this week.

Sagebrush Stock Reaches New High As Game Planned

Sagebrush, deferred, yesterday rose to a new seasonal high with reports that its meeting with Artemisia, subsidiary corporation of Nevada Campus Publications, on the field of athletic honor is near.

While Artemisia has been a neglected shoot on the winter market, reports of watering its stock to bolster its position on the newly established athletic exchange have been received.

The meeting will be held according to women's basketball rules, with one period of the game to be played under men's rulings. Officials for the match have not yet been chosen, although it is expected that the official whistle will be given to a neutral observer—at least someone who has not worked on the Artemisia staff.

Bibb Now Editor Of Coast Paper

Forrest Bibb, 1935 graduate and editor of the U. of N. Sagebrush in 1934-1935, who has been working on the Salinas Independent at Salinas, Calif., for the past four months, was recently appointed editor of the Castroville News, a subsidiary of the Salinas paper.

Upon the death of the former editor of the Castroville paper, Bibb was appointed to the position. The paper is located in northern Monterey county.

Bibb was employed by the Salinas Independent shortly after graduation, and has served with that paper until his recent appointment.

Wise Is Married to Pearl Stout of Reno

Francis Wise, former student and member of the class of '37, was married to Miss Pearl Stout of Reno last week.

Wise was a member of the 1934 varsity football team. He was forced to withdraw from school this semester because of illness.

Eric Young and Louis Weiner spent the Thanksgiving holidays at the home of Kenyon Richard at Visalia, Calif.

Chinese Student Talks on Orient

"Husbands and wives in China seem to be just as happy when their families do the choosing as when the marriage is of their own selection," Bernice Lam, senior student, said in a talk to history classes Tuesday morning.

Miss Lam, who is a native of Canton, believes that the old method, although it is not common today, was just as successful when the parents selected a husband for their daughter as when the young people were allowed to choose for themselves.

Because there is more opportunity for education, Miss Lam said, the younger people of China have a better chance now to become leaders.

"Girls are allowed the right to education and take an active part in school life," she declared.

"It is only comparatively recent that girls of China have been allowed to be seen with men at school and to attend dances. Girls' athletics have a prominent place at school now and women dress alike at school so that wealth, or the lack of it, plays no part in education."

Miss Lam, who is a senior student in home economics, plans to take graduate work at the University of California after completing her course at Nevada. She will then return to China to teach.

Miss Lam was born and reared in Canton, coming to America seven and a half years ago when he father came to the United States to get his doctor's degree in philosophy. Mr. Lam, now vice-president of the Bank of China, taught for ten years at an American school in China and has written several books on English composition.

Prof. Feemster Attends Funeral

Professor S. C. Feemster returned from York, Nebr., early this week after being called there by the death of his 92-year-old mother.

He left Reno by air last week in order to attend the funeral services, which were held in York Wednesday, November 29. During his absence his classes did not meet.

HERE'S WHY CAMEL'S MILDNESS APPEALS TO OUT-OF-DOORS PEOPLE

Henry Clay Foster, explorer, tiger hunter, and steady Camel smoker. He has struggled for many a weary mile through bush and jungle . . . faced many a tense moment when nerves were tested to the limit. Speaking of nerves and smoking, Foster says: "My idea of a mild cigarette is Camel. I've been in some tough spots, but Camels have never thrown my nerves off key, although I'm a steady Camel smoker and have been for years. Camels give me the mildness I want—better taste—the fragrance and aroma of choice tobaccos."

D'Alessandro and Louise Emminger Win Poem Contest

Margaret Turano Receives Honorable Mention For Work

Winning Poetry Will Appear in the Pentacle Next Week

Louise Emminger in the upperclass division and Elizabeth D'Alessandro in the underclass division were winners of the Chi Delta Phi poetry contest, judges announced yesterday. Miss Emminger, whose poem was titled "White Cliff," will receive an honorary membership in Chi Delta Phi, and Miss D'Alessandro, whose poem was "The Romance of a Raindrop," will receive $5. Margaret Turano, sophomore, received honorable mention for her poem, "Spring."

The winning poems will be printed for the first and only time in the Pentacle, Chi Delta Phi magazine, which will make its initial appearance Monday or Tuesday. The judges for the contest were Mrs. Gertrude Grymes Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Caffrey and Mrs. F. B. Bulmer.

Held Annually The poetry contest, which was held from November 1 to December 1, is an annual one, sponsored by Chi Delta Phi for campus women. It was started last year when Inez MacGillivray was president of the society. Lois Midgley won in the upperclass division and Margaret Turano, this year's honorable mention, received the $5 prize for the underclass division. Ruth Atcheson was in charge of this year's contest.

Essays, short stories and features by the members of Chi Delta Phi will be incorporated in the Chi Delta Phi magazine, The Pentacle, Eleanor Doan, editor, stated. The novel cover of the magazine was designed by Inez MacGillivray, art editor. "The distribution of the magazine will be statewide," Miss Doan said, "and all old members of Delta Alpha Epsilon have subscribed, as well as many students and faculty members."

The Pentacle is the first magazine of its kind to appear on the Nevada campus. The group plans to publish it every semester. It will be sold for 25 cents.

The editorial staff, headed by Eleanor Doan, is composed of Eleanor Barry, Kay Norrid and Anne Gibbs. Genevieve Hansen is business manager and is assisted by Ruth Palmer. Mrs. Harriet Mills McKay, honorary member of the club, is poetry editor.

Newman Students To Meet Sunday

The Newman club will meet Sunday evening to discuss plans for a semester-end social and other social events which it will sponsor soon, according to Dick Carville, president. Sunday morning the club will hold a breakfast in the church social hall.

The club sponsored a toy dog booth in the Catholic church carnival which was held recently.

Gothic N Feast Plans Are Made

A proposal to change the date of the annual Gothic N apple and banana feast from January to early this month was considered this week, according to Miriam Butler, president.

The feast is restricted to volleyball participants, of whom approximately 560 women will be invited. It will be held at the university gymnasium.

Jeanne Cardinal resumed her studies this week after a month's absence. She is now staying at the Kappa Alpha Theta chapter house.

Seniors Capture Volleyball Trophy By Taking Frosh

By defeating the freshman women's volleyball team 50-35 in the final game of the series, the senior team won the interclass tournament without the loss of a game.

The sophomore team defeated the junior team in a one-sided game resulting in a 52-27 score, to win second place in the tournament.

Final percentage rating of each class ended with: seniors 1000 per cent, sophomores 666 2-3 per cent, juniors 333 1-3 per cent and freshmen 166 2-3 per cent. Class captains serving during the tournament were: Seniors, Charlotte Roberson; juniors, Betty Bowman; sophomores, Helen Traner; freshmen, Beatrice Lansdon.

WITH THE WOLFETTES

Official rifle shooting for varsity competition began Tuesday. Practices have been held twice weekly since the early part of October. This year's varsity is limited to fifteen and of these ten will go eligible for circle N's.

A novice women's rifle team to be composed of freshmen and other beginning shooters is to be chosen soon. This group is limited to ten members.

Kansas State, Connecticut State, Cornell and Universities of Montana and Kentucky have written their acceptance of challenges to rifle contests with Nevada's team.

The Women's Athletic association will enter a women's swimming team in the interstate telegraphic meet, with headquarters at Puget Sound college, Washington, if a standard length tank of 60-75 feet is not included among the entrance requirements.

The team has held all practices in tanks averaging from 40-45 feet in length as there are no larger tanks in the vicinity.

The casualty-accident list of the women's physical education department bears no names on it for the fall semester.

Six upperclass women registered in P. E. 59 are eligible for the tests in basketball technique sponsored by the National Ratings committee.

These tests include a written examination on basketball rules and a practical test based on the applicant's ability to conduct and referee an entire game.

Those eligible for the tests are Miriam Butler, Mary Louise Carmody, Katherine Dondero, Georgianna Harriman, Dorothy Roseberry and Nelda Opedyke.

Women students were given the opportunity to make up class "outs" in games and dancing classes by participation in the annual folk festival.

Alice Lundberg, senior student, was appointed by Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor of women's physical education, to fill the vacancy in the local official rating committee left by the resignation of Verdie Fant.

This committee serves as the judge of the tests given by the National Ratings committee in basketball.

Others serving on the committee are Miss Frances Humphrey, instructor of women's P. E. in the Reno high school, and Mrs. Simas.

Sororities Start Volleyball Tourney

With the Pi Beta Phi volleyball team predicted as winner of the intramural volleyball tournament, six teams last night entered into the race for the trophy, which for the past two years has been won by that sorority.

Each team starts with 1000 per cent standing, and for each game lost a total of 200 per cent is deducted, the scores of the winning teams remaining stationary.

Tournament play will continue until December 19, when final games will be staged and the volleyball varsity chosen.

Following is the schedule for games, as announced by Verla Champagne, manager of the tournament:

December 10—Gamma Phi Beta vs. Independents; Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Manzanita Hall, and Pi Beta Phi vs. Delta Delta Delta.

December 12—Independents vs. Manzanita Hall; Gamma Phi Beta vs. Pi Beta Phi; Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Delta Delta Delta.

Here's the way we look at the smoking-tobacco question: Anybody can say, "My brand is best—please try my kind."

Our way is different. We say: "Try Prince Albert. We believe you'll like it. But, if you're not delighted, we make good on your purchase." And so, on the fair and square basis that you must be pleased, we ask you to try Prince Albert in your pipe. You'll like it!

Hits the Taste of College Men!

This unusual offer can be made because we know that Prince Albert is what college men are looking for in a mild pipe tobacco. They try it. They like it. That's the story of Prince Albert in a nutshell. Prince Albert is packed right—

50 pipefuls of swell tobacco in every two-ounce tin of Prince Albert

COURTESY?

University of Nevada students who attended the Nevada-Chico football game at Chico Thanksgiving day had much to say concerning their welcome upon their return to the campus this week.

For the first time this season, Nevada students, displaying their student body cards and believing that they would be admitted to the game by means of this card, were turned back and forced to purchase tickets.

Chico authorities stated that no clause in the contract for the game provided for the admission of Nevada students on their season tickets, and, if this is true, those responsible for the contract made a great error in not making certain that Nevada students would be admitted on their cards, just as at other games.

But even if there were no such provision in the contract, the Sagebrush does not believe that enough Nevada students attended the game to show any material effect on the gate receipts, while the cost of the tickets, in many instances, seemed high to students.

The least Chico State authorities could have done would have been to recognize the Nevada season tickets at their face value and admit the students to the game.

A LOSS

The University of Nevada lost one of its greatest friends this week when B. D. Billingham, for 27 years superintendent of the Reno public schools and a lecturer in the school of education at the university, died Tuesday.

Mr. Billingham was one of the leading educators in the west, and he played an important part in the building of the Nevada educational system. He was well-known to many students on the campus who had come into contact with him while attending the Reno schools, and he was able to include hundreds of students who had attended his classes at the university among his friends.

He was not a forward man, but he was able to impress his personality on all those who knew him, and, although he was not a Nevada man, the University of Nevada meant much to him. He was never too busy to give advice to students who needed it, and his assistance aided many a Nevada graduate in obtaining teaching positions in the state following graduation.

Mr. Billingham's services to the university and to the state were recognized by the administration, and an honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon him, making him one of the eighteen persons to be so honored. But the greatest honor that could be given him was given by the student body—to the students, he was a friend, and, as such, they loved him and respected him.

A NEW ERA

Today, University of Nevada students took the final step in completing the new athletic set-up which was agreed upon last spring, by granting formal ratification to amendments to the constitution which turn complete control of all intercollegiate athletics over to the administration.

This move was intended at the time of its institution to clear up the then existing athletic situation on the campus by giving the administration power over all athletic coaches, taking this control out of the hands of the associated students. It is to be hoped that this aim will be achieved.

So far this year, there has been no official announcement from the president's office as to whom the next coach will be, and there has been considerable discussion on the campus on this subject.

The students will have little to say under the new set-up, but one thing is certain. They must insist that there by no repetition of events such as have happened in the past. Every effort must be made to insure complete harmony in all departments, and, above all, every effort must be made to secure a football coach that will do his best for the University of Nevada.

It is not so important that Nevada win every football game, because such is almost an impossibility. But the coach can do other things—chiefly, keep up the morale of the football squad and act as a model for his men. This is the most important work of any coach, and with football as prominent as it now is, it is doubly important.

As in the case of all similar changes, there is bound to be friction and minor difficulties at first. This can only be expected, and this is where the student body comes into the picture.

To give the new set-up a fair chance will be the duty of every student at the university. Criticism will arise, but this should be constructive criticism. Difficulties will be noticed, and they must be settled on the campus and with the proper authorities.

But there should be little dissatisfaction under the new athletic system. Arrangements to handle other student activities have been made, and student leaders state there will be no curtailment in these activities. There will be fewer financial problems to be solved by the student body, and finance control board will be able to tell, with a fair degree of accuracy, just how much money will be available for extra-curricular work.

The University of Nevada will embark upon a new period in its athletic history January 1 when the new plan goes into effect, and, although the plan has been carefully worked out, much still remains to be done. The student body should be counted upon to do its part.

ITEN

From what we hear of all youse guys and gals over the week-end Thanksgiving must have all gone over with a bang. What with the Kappy Alphies free-for-all and the Tri Dillies open house for men, and the Tavern and the Country club doing such a big business it looks as if the collich kids were on the home stretch for a booming Xmas vacation.

"Get out your old rusty bustle—get in a hustle" for Tregellas' gal Phyllis is coming to town. That must be the reason why "Little Orvie" is going around with a grin on his face instead of the usual blasé scowl.

You coeds who would like a Christmas present had better get acquainted with Walter States—he has a bracelet with a Lambda Chi crest and will give it to the highest bidder—how he came to have the bracelet is a long story—but it boils down to this—he bought it for a girl—and now he doesn't know her any more—poor gal—I'll bet she didn't know he had a bracelet.

The Arentz-Rhodes hit of the week is, "I'm on a See-Saw." What with their romance being tops one day and on the rocks the next it looks like somebody is due for a fall.

These people who study together—must accomplish a lot—so the Sigma Phi Sigmas say after watching Virginia Kearns and "Scholar" Hill do their nightly homework—in the kitchen with the blinds up—little studying is done—but much fun is had.

You've heard the old gag about love triangles, but I'll bet you haven't heard of anything like this before. It's this way: Georgia Cole and Kenny Watson have been that-a-way about each other for some time, Helen Heaster has been wearing McNabney's pin. But times have changed and Helen is making a

"Love-life" Dana has another secret sorrow—and this time the affection must be mutual for he carries a diamond ring on his watch chain and is very sensitive when questioned about it—maybe it's because she gave it back.

We would like to know how Tommy Fields can think enough things to say when he writes three airmail letters a day to Ruth Atcheson. It may be devotion, but we'll guess it's hoopy.

For our all-Nevada team we nominate the following:

- F. "Gentleman George" Tharp—because he's so swell to the girls, and of course he plays football, too.
- H. "Iron Man" Grubbs—because he's a strong, silent ment.
- T. "Cherub" Showalter—because this manly little fellow is so tender and sweet.
- Q. "Optimist" Ohrt—because such faith should be rewarded.
- E. "Babyface" Benson—because "this big blond wing-man is noted for his defensive work."
- T. "Gary" McKimmon—because he looks so appealing in his shoulder pads.
- G. "Gigolo" Hadlen—because such sincerity baffles us cynics.
- E. "Meek" Basta—because he loves nice things.

Ago This Week—

FROM THE FILES OF THE 'BRUSH

FORTY YEARS AGO
The maple flooring which was ordered from the east for the gymnasium was burned in transportation. This will probably delay the finishing of that building for several months.

Plans for a university cycle club are being made. According to those interested, contests between the university club and the Reno Cycle club will be held regularly.

According to a decision of the board of regents all students must be vaccinated for smallpox because of the development of several cases among university students.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Members of Delta Rho sorority were entertained last Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Kate Riegelhuth.

The new walk from Manzanita to the dining hall (now the basement of Stewart hall) was completed last week.

The next issue of the Student Record will be published by the women members of the staff.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
A lecture by S. C. Feemster will be held at the University of Nevada.

Our candidate for the fascinating-est man on the campus would be Johnny Gottardi, idol of every little coed. How he manages to keep the sparkle in his eye and the shine on his shoes in this cold weather is beyond us. If any of you lads want the lowdown on his fatal charm just dash up to the language department any old day and note the color harmony, snappy ties, air of abandon and intricately folded handkerchief. Esquire's man-about-town has nothing on John.

He has the fury of a woman scorned.
G. "Sweet Pie" Stock—because he's so big hearted.

Honorable mention goes to Cleary because we've always needed a tenor on our team.

Dean and Mrs. Hall have invited the members of the education 63 class to sing Christmas carols at their home on December 13.

D. A. E., women's English society, held its last meeting of the year yesterday.

ONE YEAR AGO
The students of the university will take a confidence vote Wednesday on the question of renewing Coach C. L. "Brick" Mitchell's contract.

The last social hour of the semester will be held next Wednesday evening. The University of Nevada Press club will initiate fifteen members tonight at the Colombo hotel.

Charles Doherty returned to school Tuesday after spending the holidays visiting relatives in Las Vegas.

MATH PROBLEM
At the close of four months of hard work the ladies of a certain Dorcas society were so delighted with the completion of a beautiful patchwork quilt for the curate that everybody kissed everybody else, except, of course, the bashful young man himself, who kissed only his sisters, whom he had called for to escort home. There were just a gross of osculations altogether. How much longer would the ladies have taken over their needlework task if the sisters of the curate referred to had played lawn tennis instead of attending the meetings? Of course we must assume that the ladies attended regularly and that they all worked equally well. A mutual kiss counts for two osculations.

Pack Ends Season With 14-6 Victory Over Chico Cats

Tharp Closes U.N. Competition With Two Touchdowns For Wolves

Win Gives Nevada Third Place In Far West League Standings

Pulling itself out of the cellar into third place in the Far West conference scramble, the University of Nevada defeated the Chico State Teachers' college 14-6 in a bruising game played Thanksgiving Day.

Favors Wolves

Despite the close score, the contest was in Nevada's favor all of the way. The Wildcats were completely bottled up by the stiff defense put up by Nevada. The Wolf backs circled the Chico ends repeatedly for long gains which resulted in a large ground-gaining superiority.

Leads at Half

Nevada led 7 to 0 at the close of the first half. Both elevens scored in the second half. In the third quarter Smith, sophomore center, came out of the heap with a Chico fumble and a series of power plays and reverses advanced the ball to the three yard line where it was taken over by Tharp.

Reserves Play

Coach "Brick" Mitchell substituted freely during the game, giving nearly all of his charges a chance to enter the fray.

With only five veterans lost through graduation, the 1936 season should see Nevada as a serious threat in the scramble for conference laurels.

FROM THE SHOWER

Conversation in local sporting groups this week centers about the coaching situation at Nevada, the picking of various "all" teams and the Nevada winter sports team.

Among the names which are being more and more often mentioned as football mentor are those of "Rabbit" Bradshaw, Doug Dashiell, "Corky" Courtwright and Dick Hanley. All capable coaches, who would be glad to come to the university if conditions were more to their advantage.

The enthusiasm of the tryees for the Nevada winter sports team is really commendable. These boys have gone ahead and agreed to a dual meet with the University of California and intend to enter the Pacific coast collegiate contests, and say that if the university fails to support them they will go ahead and finance their own expenses.

The University of Nevada should give the winter sports team whole-hearted support, rather than let an independent organization show us up. The Auburn Ski club has announced its willingness to back the college skiers financially as a "University of Nevada team."

The California Ski News, a newspaper devoted to the activities of Sierra Nevada winter sports enthusiasts, features two Nevada athletes in a recent story. It states that several former teammates on the Auburn Ski club will be pitted against each other when the universities of California and Nevada clash in their proposed dual meet early in January.

Vanderbilt, who was sent to the Olympic tryouts last year, has been bested in competition by both of the Nevada boys. Both Poulsen and Rose have soared out around the 130 foot mark in their jumps last season.

Nevada will get some excellent coaching if the local youths are entered in the collegiate ski competition. Halvor Mikkelsen, California title holder and brother of the national champion, has volunteered to give the Wolves pointers in ski technique.

Sports Chief Picks All-League Team

Fresno Gridders Hold Many Positions on 'Brush Selection

An all-Far Western conference team was picked this week by the sports staff of the University of Nevada Sagebrush. The Nevada selections are to be sent to the Fresno State sports editor, who will compile the various teams sent in, and announce an all-conference team.

Four Wolves

Four Nevadans made the honorary team. At quarterback is John Ohrt, star Wolf safety man who showed better skill in every department of play than any other conference back.

Leads at Half

Nevada led 7 to 0 at the close of the first half. Both elevens scored in the second half. In the third quarter Smith, sophomore center, came out of the heap with a Chico fumble and a series of power plays and reverses advanced the ball to the three yard line where it was taken over by Tharp.

Cal Aggies Point To League Title

DAVIS, Calif., Dec. 2.—With a squad of forty basketball men, five returning letter men, and a season starting this fall, two months earlier than heretofore, the California Aggies with their new coach, George Stromgren, will make a determined bid for honors in the Far Western conference.

Wolves Pick All-Opponents' Team; Gaels Top List With Seven Men

Players from St. Mary's college of Moraga, Calif., Nevada's oldest rivals, head the list with seven places on the Wolf Pack's all-opponent team, which was picked by members of the Nevada varsity.

Four Galloping Gaels

Four Galloping Gaels were picked for the first team, while three gained positions on the second team. Les Groux, halfback, and Jorgensen, center, earned their positions by having caused the Wolves many uneasy moments.

Ski Enthusiasts Meeting Regularly For Practice Drill

Request for Financial Help Will Be Considered By Committee

More than twenty men are meeting with Ed Rose in the university gym as a result of the call for winter sports aspirants, and plans made in the meeting held last week to take part in the conditioning exercises under the direction of the veteran skier.

While the sanction of the budget for the sport is expected to be accepted or rejected in the finance control meeting next Monday, one member of the committee expressed disfavor to the move.

Those who approve the move say that the situation comes up in a peculiar manner and time, that with the administration taking over the athletic policies on the first of the year it would not be fair to slip this sport into the recognized list when the budget presented by the administration calls for only the three major sports and one minor sport to be financed by its funds.

Another objection also presented was that because the sport has not been recognized as a minor A. S. U. N. activity, finance control would be exceeding its constitutional rights to vote money for the sport.

Three men trying out for the Nevada team have proved their ability in ski and skate meets. Ed Rose and Wayne Poulsen have competed in many nationally recognized ski meets, and have annexed places in the finals of those meets, while Dick Sauer was a member of a strong hockey team when he lived in Chicago.

It is around these three men that the ski and hockey teams will be built.

Many of the men trying out are traveling to the mountains every week-end to get practice on the snow.

The first projected meet is in the intercollegiate meet to be held at Yosemite during the Christmas vacation. Later a dual meet with the University of California, and an intercollegiate meet between nine California teams and Nevada has been proposed by the Auburn Ski club at Cisco.

Veteran Educator

B. D. Billingshurst, superintendent of Reno public schools and a lecturer in the school of education, died Tuesday morning following a brief illness. He was one of the 18 persons to be awarded an honorary degree from the University of Nevada.

Concert Planned

ity of the work of the two groups by studying and presenting mixed voice numbers. In the Century club concert the singers will present an English, a German and an old French folksong in a cappella arrangements. These a cappella numbers are especially difficult to sing, according to Professor Post, requiring much study and rehearsal in order to sing the numbers without accompaniment.

The complete program of the mid-year concert follows:

1. Orchestra. "Babes in Toyland," Victor Herbert; "Humoresque," Tschalkowsky; symphonic poem, "Ghost Cities," Theodore H. Post.
2. A cappella, by choral club; "Swansea Town" (English folksong), William Nagel; "Be On Thy Guard" (German folksong), Noble Cain; "May Song" (old French folksong), Gevaert-Goodrich.
3. Orchestra. "Friml Favorites," arranged by Ferde Grofe; "Autumn Colitude," Robert Comer; "Spinning Song," Eilmenreich-Comer.
4. Solo, Miss Ruth Palmer, "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn," Godard. Violin obligato by Leota Maestretti, accompaniment by Dorothy B. Post.

B. D. Billingshurst Services Are Held

Reno School Head Served in Education School at U. of N.

B. D. Billingshurst, superintendent of Reno schools and lecturer in education at the University of Nevada, died Tuesday at St. Mary's hospital. Services were held yesterday.

He had been ill since November 24, at which time he was stricken with a heart attack. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Billingshurst received his education at Ohio Wesleyan, California, Washington and Columbia universities. Although admitted to the bar in 1908, he never practiced law because, in that year, he was appointed superintendent of Reno schools.

Having been previously active in teaching and school management, Mr. Billingshurst was very successful in Nevada. He planned, constructed and equipped all except two of the local school buildings, introduced the junior high school system, and wrote much of the school law.

In 1924 the University of Nevada conferred upon him the degree of doctor of laws. He was one of the 18 honorary alumni of this college. Until his death he had lectured in the education department and showed an active interest in the affairs of the institution.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Carrie E. Billingshurst of Reno, and two daughters, Miss Florence H. Billingshurst of Reno and Mrs. Ruth A. Wallace of Long Beach, Calif.

Clarethel Masterson, Delta Delta Delta pledge who underwent an appendectomy a week ago Sunday, was removed to Manzanita hall Tuesday.

Jeanne James spent the holidays with her parents in Las Vegas.

Club's Twain Skit Proves Success

A fifteen minute radio skit honoring Mark Twain was presented by the Press club last week over KOH.

The skit, an adaptation from Mark Twain's book "Roughin It," was written by Murray Moler, sophomore student, and depicts life in the early days of Virginia City when Mark Twain was a reporter on the Enterprise newspaper.

The cast included Walter States, Sam Ackerman, Willis Dalzell, Bill Elwell and Charles Leavitt, all members of the club. Tyrus Cobb announced the program.

A committee of Sherwin Garside, Murray Moler, Anne Gibbs and Kay Norrid was in charge of producing the skit.

The production, which was the first of its kind, will probably be repeated again next semester, according to Charles Leavitt, president of the Press club.

Reno Physician To Deliver Talk

A lecture on "Communicable Diseases and Their Prevention" by Dr. W. A. Shaw, widely-known Reno doctor, will be held Tuesday evening, December 11, in room 110 of the Aggie building, under the sponsorship of Omega Mu Iota, pre-medical society. The pre-meds will be in charge of the evening and the public is invited to attend.

Another trip to the Nevada State hospital Saturday was also discussed, but no definite plans were given.

Earn Letters

Five were on the freshman team last year, three are junior college transfers, and four have participated in football before at the university.

Joe Cleary, end; John Ohrt, quarterback, and William Grubbs, halfback, have transferred to Nevada from junior college and completed their first year of competition in the Far Western conference. These three men were valuable to Nevada pigskin tossers and will be expected to distinguish themselves next year on the gridiron.

Sam Basta, end; Louis Nash, guard; Robert Smith, center; Ray Rodriguez, halfback, and Kenneth Powell, halfback, are the five men who have come up from last year's freshman team. These men have two years of competition remaining and are expected to form a major part in Nevada's football teams for the next two years.

William Guild, end; John Stock, tackle; Roy Caldwell, fullback, and Harry Bradley, tackle, have played on former Nevada football teams and have made their first letter this year. Roy

Engineers' Meet To Close Term

The Associated Engineers will hold their last meeting of the semester next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Electrical Engineering building.

The program for the meeting will include the showing of pictures taken on the bay bridge trip sponsored by the Associated Engineers this fall, and discussion of a field trip to be held next spring.

The Mechanical Engineering society hopes to present a short film at the meeting also, but plans for this have not yet been completed.
