

Veteran Thespians Are Given Roles In Pulitzer Play

Climaxing three years of continuous attempts, the University of Nevada Play Productions, under the direction of William C. Miller, will produce "Hell Bent For Heaven," Pulitzer prize winning play of 1933, on March 3, 4 and 5.

Dave Goldwater, university freshman, will make his debut in campus productions with the lead in this highly dramatic endeavor which builds to the final tense climax with flowing smoothness.

Goldwater, veteran Reno high school thespian, will carry with dramatic lead of the religious fanatic, Rufe Pryor, who through his twisted mind attempts to kill Sid Hunt, portrayed by James Hawkins, who is in love with Jude Pryor, enacted by Kathleen Meeks, in order to win the favor of the mountain girl.

Miller Appears
The romantic leads are carried by Hawkins and Miss Meeks, while Robert Miller, appearing in his third major campus production in three semesters, carries the comedy character of David Hunt.

James Parker, who carried the lead in the 1935 spring semester play "Double Doors," has been given the part of Matt Hunt.

Veterans in Cast
Another veteran of the "campus kliegs" who will carry one of the major parts is Jessie McClure in the part of Meg Hunt, while Melville Wilder of "Both Your Houses" cast will take the part of Andy Lowry.

According to Miller, the part of Rufe Pryor is comparable to the villainy portrayed by Iago in Shakespeare's immortal play of wholesale slaughter, "Othello."

Miller also said, "This is the first time in three years that I have found sufficient material to put this play on, and I am sure that it will turn out to be all that I have hoped for."

Technical staffs will be announced next week, Miller said.

Brush Reporters To Be Awarded Writing Trophies

Two reporters of the University of Nevada, Sagebrush, an upper and lower classman, will receive awards at the completion of the year's work.

The winners will be judged by members of the editorial staff on the improvement they have made in a year's time. The awards will be in the form of silver loving cups.

This idea was started two years ago and dropped last year. It is hoped to make it an annual affair. It is planned to award the cups at the conclusion of the semester.

Members of the editorial staff who will judge the relative improvement of reporters included John Carr, Frank Sullivan, Eleanor Doan, Lois Midgley, Tyrus Cobb, Bob Nelligan, Elwin Jeffers, Rita Gunter, Paul Leonard and Leslie Gray.

Journalism Prof Receives Position On Ad Committee

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, in charge of the courses of journalism, has been appointed to the founders' committee of the National Committee of Advertising Critics, according to an announcement in New York this week.

The general national committee is being organized to aid advertising in the United States, and attempts to raise the standard of advertising by offering suggestions and awarding medals each year for superior advertising copy and campaigns.

Professor Higginbotham will be one of 15 on the founders' committee, which will be headed by F. A. Russell of the University of Illinois. The general committee consists of more than 100 professors of universities and colleges, recognized as advertising authorities, throughout the United States.

Sigma Nu Hopes For 30 Day Rest Blasted by Luck

Members of the Sigma Nu fraternity were this week attending classes they felt they could well have avoided had it not been for the fickleness of Lady Luck.

Roy Gomm, varsity basketball manager, became ill with what was believed to be smallpox. Rumors of a quarantine spread rapidly around the house and by evening the boys were almost sure of a pleasant, long-lasting confinement into which no thoughts of studying would enter.

But alas and alack! As Dame Fortune would have it, the "good-hearted" doctor decided to give the boys a break and not quarantine them. Instead, they were all vaccinated in order to prevent the very thing they wanted.

When Gomm returned in fine fettle three days later, he was not greeted as a long-lost brother. Was he not the cause of the whole mess? An unnecessary two weeks of studying and 16 sore arms were the charges against him. Incidentally, it was found out this week that Gomm had chickenpox instead of what his brothers hoped was smallpox.

Reno Youth Killed As Plane Crashes

Cadet Robert S. Atkinson, 25, Reno youth, and well known to many University of Nevada students, died last week as a result of a fractured skull received in an airplane crash at Kelly Field.

During the takeoff the right wing of his plane crashed into a water tank. He was rushed immediately to a hospital in San Antonio, Texas, where he died several hours later.

After graduating from Reno high school he entered Stanford university, where he studied law for two years, giving it up for flying. While at Reno high school he was active in athletic and dramatic work.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Atkinson, reside in Reno.

Quake Reported On Seismograph

A slight earthquake was recorded Saturday night on the seismograph at the Mackay School of Mines building. The tremor was very slight, and no reports from other stations which might have recorded it have been received yet. The center of the shock appeared to be located about 120 miles from Reno.

Seven other slight quakes were recorded on the instrument in one night, on January 13. They were very small and appeared to be centered in about the same place as Saturday night's shock.

DEAN RETURNS TO CLASS

R. C. Thompson, dean of men and professor of philosophy, was absent from his classes on Wednesday and Thursday because of a slight attack of influenza.

He returned to school today and conducted his regular Friday morning classes.

Howard Discusses Taxation Problems In Economic Forum

Milton R. Howard of the rehabilitation bureau last night continued the series of addresses on economic subjects sponsored by the economics department, speaking of present trends in taxation, including income taxes, sales taxes, property taxes and the use of taxes to correct unequal distribution of wealth.

More lectures are listed for the semester, with the next to be given early in February when V. E. Scott and L. E. Cline will speak on "Farm Relief by Means of Control of Agricultural Output and Processing Taxes." Others now being planned include an address on "Marketing and Trade Restrictions" by Prof. Alden J. Plumley.

The series was started last October under the sponsorship of Professor E. G. Sutherland and the adult education committee, and is intended to allow open discussion of the newer economic problems now confronting the world. Following the lectures, members of the audience are invited to take part in the discussions.

Press Club Ball May Be Closed To Student Body

The annual Press club dance, to be held later this semester, will probably not be open to the public as it has been formerly, according to present plans of the group.

In addition to the dance, other activities planned by the group include the Ruckus, to be held early in the semester, and probably another radio program similar to that dedicated to Mark Twain on November 29.

The Press club, composed of members of the business and editorial staffs of the various campus publications and students of journalism, tries to have some activity on hand all the time. Charles Leavitt is president.

Gardener's Post Is To Be Filled Later in Spring

Competent Man To Be Sought By the Campus Grounds Superintendent

The university gardener's position, vacated by the death of the late Jacob Mischon, will not be filled until spring or early summer, Joe Lynch, superintendent of buildings and grounds on the campus, announced this week.

Lynch said that he is contemplating a trip to the Pacific coast to select a man competent to fill Mischon's place. He said he will probably make the trip early this spring. The gardener to be selected will have full charge of the greenhouse, Lynch added.

Mischon, a familiar figure on the campus for more than 21 years and an expert gardener, died in a local hospital last year, December 27, at 80 years.

Bureau to Direct Rallies on Radio

If it's moral support the Wolves' basketball team wants, the news bureau will help them no end, according to Ty Cobb, sport news manager of this organization.

Tentative plans have been made for two radio rallies, to be broadcast over KOH preceding the College of Pacific and California Aggie series in Reno. This group has also forwarded a full list of pictures and records of the Wolf quintet to the Fresno papers in order that a publicity column may be carried through for the ensuing engagement of Nevada and the Bulldogs.

WARD IMPROVES

The condition of Leland Ward, who received a fractured skull in a motorcycle accident January 18, is reported as excellent. Ward will be confined to St. Mary's hospital for several weeks, but is able to receive callers now.

Wolf Tracksters Potentially Strong

Striking an optimistic note in behalf of Nevada's chances on the cinder path, Instructor Douglas McDow of the recently created track class stated that from present indications the Wolves should have one of the best track and field teams in many years.

At present the ranks of the class have been swelled by such personages as broad-jumpers Kenny Richards and Jerry Havens; Paul Leonard, Louis Carpenter and Marvin Moler in the distance events; Lockley Maule and Bob Zadov, hurdlers; Emory Graunke and Jack Richardson in the 440 and relay events. In the field events there is Clyde Healy in the javelin, Malcolm Jones and Paul Azarez in the pole vault. McDow will probably compete in the sprints and the 440.

Although the personnel of the class is somewhat limited at this date, new additions are expected with the conclusion of basketball and the winter sports season. Due to the fact that the tumbling team practices on Tuesdays and Thursdays, the track class will meet on Wednesday and Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock.

Campus Players Will Elect Soon

Plans for the election of a new president to take the place of Lindsay Green, who graduated in December, were made recently by members of the Campus Players. The election will be held during the next meeting of the group, it was announced this week.

The organization, which is an honorary dramatic society, will elect new members following the last showing of the play "Both Your Houses," it was also announced. No definite plans have been made for this as yet but will be decided upon after the choosing of the new president.

Anne Hunter, Beta Sigma Omicron, has withdrawn but will resume her studies next fall.

Council Discusses Intramural Cups

The awarding of trophies to the winning fraternities in baseball, handball and track was discussed at a meeting of the Interfraternity council.

Tentative arrangements for an interfraternity dance and bean feed to be held at a future date were made, but nothing definite has been decided as yet.

Initiation, Banquet For Twelve Coeds Is Held by Group

Twelve women were initiated into Chi Delta Phi, women's national honorary English society, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The initiation exercises, which were held in the home economics room of the Agriculture building, were directed by Florence Gulling, president of the group.

A banquet honoring Professor and Mrs. A. E. Hill, Miss Katherine Riegelhuth and the new initiates was held at the Golden hotel following the initiation. Miss Gulling welcomed new members to the group, and Ruth Palmer sang two songs, "If I Never Marry" and "Under the Greenwood Tree."

Louise Emminger, winner of the upperclass division of the campus poetry contest conducted by Chi Delta Phi, was initiated as an honorary member. Other women initiated were Elizabeth Osborn, Winifred Hiltonen, Norma Anderson, Elizabeth Best, Laurada Jarvis, Emily Tholl, Lois Darrough, Margaret Turano, Margaret Snyder, Nancy Bordewich and Nina Boczkiewicz.

To be eligible for Chi Delta Phi, women must have high sophomore standing, be majoring or minoring in English, and have an average of 2.00 in English and a general average of 2.3.

S.A.E. to Sponsor Province Conclave

Plans for the first Sigma Alpha Epsilon province meeting to be held on the Nevada campus are now being made by members of Nevada Alpha chapter, with delegates from chapters in western states to convene here March 5, 6 and 7.

A program of business meetings and entertainment is being outlined, with the feature of the convention to be a formal banquet in honor of the delegates. Chapters at California, Stanford, University of California at Los Angeles, University of Southern California, University of Arizona and Occidental in province Kappa, as well as alumni chapters will be represented, while visits from national and province officers will be in attendance.

The committee in charge included Melvin Ruedy, chairman, Willis Dalzell and Russell Poulsen.

Upperclass Chief Commends Frosh

Freshman women are beginning 1936 with the right spirit, Florence Kirkley, women's upperclass committee chairman, said yesterday.

Because the new girls have responded 100 per cent in selling ice cream at basketball games and obeying university traditions, the meeting scheduled last Monday for the trial of offenders was indefinitely postponed, Miss Kirkley said.

Monday's meeting was to conclude the present committee's term of office. Their successors will be appointed in a student body senate meeting to be held next week.

WITH THE WOLFETTES

The W. A. A. ski party scheduled for last Sunday afternoon has been indefinitely postponed, Frances Smith, committee chairman, said yesterday. Failure on the part of members to sign for intended attendance was the reason for postponement, Miss Smith said.

Thirty-six women have announced intention to participate in the interclass basketball tournament. The sophomore class, with fourteen women signed up, has the largest turnout of prospective players. The freshmen with ten players follow, and the juniors and seniors have six, just enough for a complete team.

Georgianna Harriman, women's basketball manager, has recovered sufficiently to walk without the aid of crutches. She received a painful ankle injury while participating in a practice basketball game last week.

All coeds intending to play in the present basketball tourney or the badminton tourney to follow later in the season must have passed a medical examination. A recent W. A. A. notice announces February 4 as the last day for medical examinations for women.

A toboggan upset in the mountains near Carson City Sunday brought injury to Margaret Snyder, one of the enthusiastic followers of the winter sport. The upset resulted in a pulled ligament in the leg. Miss Snyder has returned to classes this week, however.

The women's rifle team of the University of Nevada received a pistol shoot challenge from the University of Utah at Salt Lake City, but it will not be accepted because the women have no pistol team.

Diving is being taught to the women in the swimming classes this year, under the direction of Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor of physical education for women.

Sororities Plan Initiation Rites For Fall Pledges

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will hold initiation ceremonies for nine pledges February 9, according to Genevieve Wakefield, president of the chapter. Those being initiated are Helen Brown, Bernice Denton, Marlea Dodge, Ethel Gramke, Margery Hiskey, Margaret Hussman Dorothy Palmer Marguerite Rives and Betty West. That same evening there will be held a founders' day banquet.

Eunice Caton, president of Pi Beta Phi announced today that thirteen women will be initiated February 8. They are: Jean Rice, Charlotte Caton, Elna Jepson, Virginia Heany, Betty Inda, Gertrude Polander, Maxine Leonard, Eloise Lyons, Doris Chesnut, Martalad Cooper, Isabel Henderson, Harriet Cazier and Dorothy Devore. A banquet will be held at the chapter house the same evening in honor of the new members.

Special initiation ceremonies will be held at the Delta Delta Delta house February 2 for Catherine Booth and Barbara Ferron. Following initiation, breakfast will be served at the chapter house.

Concert Dancer Arranges Program

Tina Flade, noted exponent of the modern dance, will present a concert of dances of her own composition to Reno Thursday, February 6, at the Civic auditorium.

The concert has been made possible by the women's physical education department and the Women's Athletic association. The money collected from the sale of tickets will be used for the expenses of Miss Flade and the profits will be turned over to the Women's Athletic association scholarship fund.

Miss Flade will present a varied program composed of three groups of dances. The last group is known as the fire cycle, in which fire appears first as a sacred flame in the dance of "Fire Preservation," then the theme abruptly changes to the destructive force of fire. The last part of the cycle is the constructive elements of the fire and is called "Fire Purification."

Fuetsch to Lead Fine Arts Group

Marguerite Fuetsch was elected senior director of the Fine Arts group at a recent meeting. Other officers elected are: Junior director, Doris Bath; secretary, Kathryn Luke; treasurer, Mary Blakely; social chairman, Peggy Gill; publicity chairman, Orpah Morgan; historian, Jean Smith.

The exhibits which the group sponsor will begin around the middle of February. Maxine Leonard, Lois Darrough, Nancy Bordewich, Elna Jepson and Nina Stinson are now members of the group having fulfilled the requirements of the organization.

Thirteen Women To Lead Scouts

Thirteen university women have taken charge of Girl Scout troops in this vicinity.

Three troops have been organized in Reno schools, namely: Troop 1 at the Northside Junior high school, under the captainship of Mrs. Mae Simas, with Jean Horning, Louise Emminger, Betty Jane McCullough and Frances Smith acting as lieutenants; troop 2 at the Catholic school, with Alma Schiappauste, Mary Pappas and Mary Kling as lieutenants; troop 3 at the Montrose school, captained by Mrs. H. W. Isbell, with Ellen Ernst, Kennedy Walker and Mrs. Laverne Park as lieutenants.

In Sparks there are two troops being organized: Troop 1 under Alice Lundberg as captain and Verla Champagne as lieutenant, troop 2 under Mrs. D. Diltz as captain and Eleanor Bateman as lieutenant. Both of these troops are at the Robert H. Mitchell grammar school.

The university students in charge will meet in class with Mrs. Simas once a month in order to check over the work and talk over new plans. This class will meet some week night at 7 o'clock in the gym. Each troop is making definite plans for a full and active term and the school girls have turned out in large numbers to the meetings held so far.

Faculty Women Serve Banquet

The annual dinner of the University of Nevada faculty was served to about 90 people, including a few guests, recently in the university dining hall.

The dinner was followed by entertainment in the form of community singing and dancing. As special features, eight couples did the old square dance, and two of the men gave a Swedish dance. The numbers were given under direction of Miss Elsa Sameth.

The dinner was given under the direction of the Women's Faculty club, of which Mrs. John A. Fulton is president.

Y. W. C. A. Women To Compile Songs

The task of compiling the Y. W. C. A. and Asilomar songs into pamphlet form was assigned to Jean Smith at the Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting held last Tuesday night.

The pamphlets will be distributed at the supper meeting which is to be held at 6 p. m. in Artemisia hall next Thursday. Informal talks given by the Asilomar delegates will be the feature of the meeting.

Francis Slavin, junior student at Nevada, has been confined in the Kappa Alpha Theta chapter house with an attack of the mumps. Other residents of the house were said not to have been exposed and will continue to attend classes.

Annual Banquet Given to Club by Home Ec Faculty

The annual dinner given by the faculty of the home economics department for the Home Economics club was held last week. A program was also provided by the faculty members. Miss Sarah Lewis, head of the department, Miss Jessie Pope and Miss Mary Pattie were the hostesses.

Approximately five home economics pins will be awarded at the next meeting of the club to the women who have finished the required work. The meeting will be the second Tuesday in February.

Those attending the dinner were: Eleanor Bateman, Ruth Bails, Margaret Gorman, Neva Jones, Mary Louise Waltenpiel, Chrissie Finn, Marie Barnes, Marguerite Fuetsch, Genevieve Hansen, Aldene Branch, Doris Bath, Orpha Morgan, Frances Smith, Georgia Cooper, Agnes De Armond, Lois Downs, Margaret Hussman, Gertrude Polander, Dorothy Marks, Dorothy Palmer, Dorothy Devore and Verna Ballas.

Sagens Will Elect New Members Soon

A new member to Sagens, women's pep organization, will be elected to replace Annette Priest at the next meeting, Betty Simpson, president, announced this week.

Winifred Hiltonen and Betty Blum were in charge of the eskimo pie sales at the games last weekend, and freshman women not reporting will be punished by the women's upperclass committee. Three dollars was cleared at previous basketball games. The money will be used to pay for the Sagen panel in the Artemisia.

Jeanne Cardinal, formerly a junior student and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, withdrew from school this week because of illness. Miss Cardinal had to return to her home the first week of this semester and has not been able to return.

French Movies Shown Students

The lecture on "French Youth" given by Madame Aline Caro-Delvalle, under the auspices of Le Cercle Francais, Monday evening in the Education building auditorium was attended by a large audience and proved to be very successful, Emile Gezelin, president of the organization, announced.

Mme. Caro-Delvalle's talk was in French. She emphasized the major similarities between French and American students. She said that the French student took his work more seriously and has a great interest in political life. In France sports did not play such an important part in the universities, but recently French youths were becoming more interested in sports similar to those so important in America. Also French women were becoming freer, like those in America who already enjoyed a great deal of freedom.

After Mme. Caro-Delvalle's lecture she introduced the talking moving picture in English familiarizing the audience with the localities in the picture. The University of Dijon was the main feature in the picture, showing the living quarters, library and many places of historical interest. The summer session at the French university was emphasized, depicting the reception the townspeople gave to the summer students.

Dr. E. F. Chappelle, head of the modern language department, introduced the speaker.

Student Bookshop Makes $49 Profit

A total profit of $49.00 has been realized by the Y. W. C. A. bookshop for the year 1935-36, it was reported yesterday by Georgia Cole, who has handled the shop this semester.

Of this sum, only $14.00 has been taken in since the last registration, Miss Cole said. The bookshop spent a comparatively poor season, $25 being the parallel amount for this time last year.

The shop was kept open afternoons all this week in order that students might call for unsold books and collect the money due them for sales. All but one of the people requested to see Miss Cole on this account had come to the bookshop by Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Cole's committee consisted of Elona Van Sickle, May Parman, Louise Mornston and Orva Selkirk.

Miss Mary Pattie, instructor in the home economics department, returned to her classes after an illness of several days.

EVERY YEAR

Now that the honorary major is to be selected again for the annual Military Ball, the political, partiality angle is again raising its head on the campus to interfere with a strictly social function.

Year after year, the honorary majors are selected by a popularity vote within Scabbard and Blade itself—but the candidates are chosen within the sororities by sorority women. It is only natural that the women who put up whom they consider to be their best candidate should harbor the conviction that their candidate should win—and to insure this end they are willing to go to great length politically.

As long as the condition which is outlined above continues to exist "throat cutting" will also ensue, and the political situation will be such as to afford a potential hothouse for combines and factions.

To remedy this evil, the Sagebrush would propose that the members of the military group throw overboard the plan of allowing the sororities and dormitories to nominate their own candidates. We would suggest that the potential honorary majors be selected by a committee appointed within the group from the campus at large—that they be selected on the basis of popularity, beauty, personality and type, and, once selected, that they be elected by a popular vote of Scabbard and Blade, conducted behind closed doors.

The annual presentation tea could still be utilized in order that the men may become acquainted with the women for whom they are to vote, or it could be discontinued completely and the affair conducted in absolute secrecy—this would be left to desire of the Scabbard and Blade men.

Should the above plan be adopted, we are convinced that an important cog in an enormous political machine would be removed since it would be hardly possible for any house to instruct its Scabbard and Blade members how to vote if it did not know the names of the candidates being considered.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

A recent criticism of the present-day college system of education was printed in the columns of a Reno paper, which said in part, that:

"Like a butterfly caught in the soft meshes of spider web, it (the university) finds itself confused by contradictions, and opinions, and theories. It has taken the position that all this should be admitted to the lecture room and that its own resultant bewilderment should be laid out before the student with the result that the student is equally confused."

This is only a small portion of the article, but it, just like the remainder of it, affords food for thought, and that evidently was the purpose in the mind of its author.

There is no doubt but that there is a great deal concerning the present day college system that is faulty, and it is not the purpose of the Sagebrush to endeavor to answer all of these criticisms. That would be impossible and foolish—just as it would be foolish to state that our present system is perfect in every way or to say that it is altogether faulty.

But, the above quotation is entirely at variance with what is now considered one of the best means of education.

By presenting all these "contradictions, and opinions, and theories" to students, it is possible for them to form their own basic working philosophy of life.

No professor intends that his students should accept any one man's opinion as the gospel truth, and no thinking student will do so. If this is done, the fundamental purpose of a college education, which is to provide a student with the background necessary for a complete life, has been undermined.

The student has not formed a personal concept that will carry him through life; instead, he has just a prop that will carry him for a few years then fail him in the time of need.

The average college student of today does not care for dogma, and he refuses to believe all that he is told. He wants to know all he can of his subjects, and then he wants to retain out of this mass of information and contradiction that which he believes is right—that which he believes will best serve him, and that which will provide him with the courage and knowledge to face and to solve his individual problems.

No text book can give this to him; no theory that seemed perfect under the old order will fill his needs. But he must have one. And, to get it, he must form it for himself out of that with which he is provided in his classrooms.

"What do you think," the critic asks after stating his views. "What do you think," the Sagebrush asks him.

CAMPUS

We'd like to know why Ollie Ness and Will Austin had to walk home from the Tavern the other night—especially after meeting two divorcees with what it takes—to ride we mean.

There ought to be a law against people who have obsessions, such as Phillips and her cigar box mania. It seems she disrupted the first respectable S. A. E. dance of the year when she ripped down all the relics of past romances and jumped on 'em. Not only that, but she knocked open the band and all the S. A. E. Money flew around the room into everybody's pockets.

Maybe by this time the powers that ought to realize that something better to be done about the Ruckus. Ackerman's brainchild was the worst we've seen in years, but then we guess that Leavitt, the Tau Terror must've had something to do with it. It sounds like he really ran amuck when they wrote that script. But somebody had to be its mother, Ackie says.

Jerry and Melville know all the angles—what with pulling into Manzanita in the wee sma' hours—through the side window. How these Maizies get around—the town and everything else—is nobody's business but the dean's, and she was away.

Gunter and Vachina are the latest martyrs to the advancement of science. For two whole hours they sit and hold hands in a quiet room in the Ed building—taking each other's pulse. But Vacho couldn't find it. All for science—yeah, but it's too much.

Three faculty members would like to run into three furriners on this here campus—namely, Lord Baltimore and Joe and Angelo Pasquale, the great dialecticians. "I gotta soma nice Rhoda Island Rets," Angelo says to Doc Martie, while Joe invites Feemster down to see "some nica da goats." But what Lord Baltimore said to Dr. Weir is nobody's business. Pretty Fox we calls it.

"War's over"—the Graf-Tapogna family cries—and once again Dogears' blue jalopy is in the taxi business. But if Maurine ever finds out who was riding in the back seat the other night—page the League of Nations peace commission.

Bish Leonard ought to tie himself up nights if he keeps walking in his sleep—especially when he roams around where he shouldn't oughtta. For the inside dope ask a Sigma Nu; this paper is censored.

When a gal gives one of her boy friends a shovel, that ought to mean something—you figger it out. Anyway, Pat Steele gives one to Giotz Herz for Xmas. Now he's using it to keep Frohlich and Gerow away from Mary Eliza Wood.

And then there was the one about the dum frosh who wanted to enroll in Vat 69.

And is the campus laughing at the honorary major hopes. All those sweet smiles and goeey "hellos" were driving everybody nuts. Thank heavens that's all tea under the saucer for another year.

What happened to Cockrell—he looks like the remains of a hard fought battle. Maybe he got his chin scraped from bowing the ladies at the tea—or maybe Mazie caught up with him.

And here's some more senior gift suggestions, just to show that once we start something we keep it up until we're sick of it. Howsa abouts:

Beer bust.
A month for seniors instead of just a week.

A shave for Feemster.

A muzzle for Doherty.

Nevada R. O. T. C. Seeks Corps Flag

The University of Nevada cadet corps is probably the only one in the United States, according to Captain Henry W. Isbell, its new commandant, which is not provided with a full set of colors.

"This is truly a serious deficiency," said the captain when interviewed recently, "and one which we hope will be remedied in the very near future. We have had the national colors, of course, since the battalion was organized, the flag being part of its indispensable equipment, but, apparently, the procurement of its customary companion, the color of the organization, has heretofore been considered too big a job."

"A flag of this type, of blue silk, with gold fringe and tassels, bearing the seal of the state, with scrolls above and below bearing the words 'University of Nevada' and 'R. O. T. C.', respectively, can be obtained for about $150, and I believe this sum can be raised in time to permit the color to be presented to the battalion at its annual inspection by the corps area commander or his representative, about April 25. At any rate, the military department of the university will leave no stone unturned in its efforts to that end."

Pi Beta Phi To Hold Dance
Mrs. Ila Preston will chaperone the house dance to be given by the Pi Beta Phi sorority tonight at their chapter house. Morgan Mills' orchestra will furnish the music.

Tri-Delta Initiate Ten at Rites
Ten members were initiated into Delta Delta Delta sorority at a formal initiation held January 24. Preceding the initiation the pledges were honored at a formal dinner held at the chapter house. The administering of the degrees climaxed ideal week, a new innovation of the sorority.

The following women received their pins: Gladys Blair, Loretta Collins, Jeanette Green, Betty Kormmayer, Claraethyl Masterson, Charlotte Michael, Margaret Pierson, Wanda Shain, Georgene Roberts, Lola Yvonne Stoddard.

Kay Booth and Barbara Farrand will be initiated sometime next month, as illness prevented them from taking the degrees.

Jack McCrea was initiated into Phi Sigma Kappa last Sunday.

Statewide Ads Are Sought by Artemisia Staff

Work on the Artemisia is progressing rapidly on both the business and the editorial staffs. Winifred Walsh, business manager, announced that three-fourths of the ads have been obtained for the book, and at present the staff is trying very hard to obtain ads from all of the counties of the state. This is being done in order to further carry out the theme of the yearbook.

After many weeks of concentrated work, the editorial staff has completed the dummy, and work is now being pushed forward on trimming and mounting pictures. This will be completed in several weeks, as the mounted panels must be in the hands of the engravers by the fifteenth of February, about six weeks previous to the time they are usually sent in.

Much interest has been created in the yearbook, with one of Miss Lewer's art classes making the Artemisia subdivision pages its major art project this year.

INDEPENDENTS TO MEET
Sherwin Garside, newly-elected senator and president of the Independent association, will call a meeting of the organization next week, he announced today.

Possibilities of a track team and a baseball team will be discussed, Garside said. All men and women not belonging to any fraternal organization on the campus are eligible for membership in the association.

Spartans Capture Wolf Pelts in Two Non-League Tilts

Scoring Rally in Last Half Ends Nevada Hopes For Win

San Jose Hoopsters Take Wolves 43-35, 40-39 In Series

After leading all the way, the Nevada Wolf Pack dropped a close game to the San Jose Spartans when Arnerich, Spartan guard, dropped in the winning points from mid-court to pull the game out of the fire 40-39, allowing the Spartans to go home with victories in both games of the series. San Jose won the first night 43-35.

Wolves Lead
Nevada throughout the game in the Saturday tilt, only to have victory snatched from their grasp in the final seconds of play, after Tregellas had put the Pack out in front by sinking a field goal to make the score 38-39, only to pave the way for Arnerich's score.

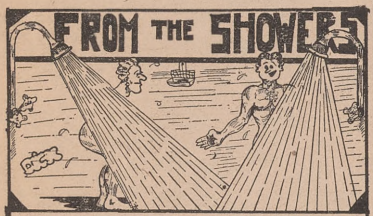

Nevada stepped out in the lead from the opening whistle, when De La Mare, Phillips and Smith netted 11 points to their opponents' 3. Nevada maintained this edge until the half, leading at the rest period 18-16.

Nevada again spurred at the beginning of the second half and the game continued with each side taking their turn at netting the ball, until Tregellas and Lansdon dropped in two field goals, and Robb added a foul shot, to put Nevada out in the lead by five points, with three minutes of play remaining. The Spartans went to work and knotted the score, and with seconds left Tregellas looped a free throw and Arnerich dropped in the winning basket.

Spartans Hot
The Friday night encounter found Nevada taking an early lead through the efforts of Tapogna, Phillips and Tregellas, but the Pack soon faded, and Downs, flashy Spartan forward, started throwing in baskets from all corners to put San Jose out in front at the half 21-17. At the beginning of the second half Nevada again jumped into the lead but soon lost it, and from then on it was nip and tuck until Robb but Nevada within scoring distance with a beautiful overhead shot from the foul line. With Nevada behind one point, the Spartans threw in a wave of baskets in the final minutes to take the game 43 to 35.

The score was no indication of the closeness of the game. Both teams seemed on a par, with first one making a basket to be followed closely by the other, keeping the score continually close.

San Jose used many reserves, keeping a steady string of men going in the game, which helped tie the eight Nevadans who saw action.

Quoting last paragraph of Nevada series story in Spartan Daily, sub-headed "What! No Gats?":

"The game started out with a close resemblance to a prison escape with every man for himself and no quarter asked—at least by the Wolves. For ten minutes the Martie-men had a great time with the Staters, giving gleefully and getting little retaliation from the San Jose five, which spent their time between evading flying blocks and trying to decipher the Nevada code of attack."

Fresno has two teams called the "breaker-downers" and the "builder-uppers." Possibly San Jose would call the Wolves the "bustem-uppers."

We commend the spirit of the finance control committee. Their action this week in granting a $50 "gift" to the Nevada ski team will enable the Wolf snowmen to participate in the Hoover trophy competition at Yosemite. This action will go a long way toward hurdling the red tape and what-not and establishing winter sports on the campus.

J. V. Teams Play Here Wednesday In City League

Eight games have been scheduled to be played this coming week by basketball teams entered in the city league. The two games scheduled by the University of Nevada's junior varsity teams, the Blues and Whites, are with the Reno Sporting Goods and the Druids and should provide the fastest games played during league competition of the week.

Next week's schedule is as follows: Tuesday, Feb. 4—At university, 9 p. m., Paragon Cleaners vs. Sons of Italy. Wednesday, Feb. 5—At university, 8 p. m., Reno Sports vs. U. N. Whites; at 9 p. m., U. N. Blues vs. Druids; at Billingshurst, 7 p. m., Brown & Cahill vs. Eagles; at Billingshurst, 8 p. m., Block N vs. Military Police; at Billingshurst, 9 p. m., Y. M. C. A. Golds vs. Bar JK.

Thursday, Feb. 6—At university, 8 p. m., Y. M. C. A. Varsity vs. A. T. O. Alumni; at university, 9 p. m., Reno Printing vs. Com. Truckers.

Scranton, Nevada freshman teams have enjoyed pretty high perfect seasons for the past three years. In 1934 the Yearlings lost only one game, and that to a Susanville quintet composed of all the stars in the Lassen territory. Last year the Cubs lost only two games, and this year, playing an iron-man schedule, they have lost only one game, taking on some of the best aggregations in Nevada and California. Playing an average of four games a week, sometimes two a night, the Frosh have been going great guns this year.

Down in the Bulldog kennel the Wolves are in for a tough time this weekend. We pick Nevada and Fresno to split the series. Fresno took two in a row from Chico, one of the games being won in an overtime session.

The Monday morning quarterback (proverbial) is still on the job. Overheard from cub reporter: "I can see myself working me into a lather writing up Nevada's crushing 6 to 0 victory over the powerful warriors of Santa Barbara State."

How long will they fool themselves? For the past decade Nevada has been trying to build up a class A team nationally by playing so far out of her class that it is pitiful. In the past two years Nevada sports have been in a slump. What Nevada needs now, and she has needed it all the time, is a good "builder-upper" schedule. A new coach, a good schedule, good material—the 1936 season should be a lulu.

Nevada's contests next year will be far from easy. The Homecoming Day game, besides being one of the toughest on the schedule, should be one of the most colorful in the history of the school. The Idaho Vandals will be the first Pacific Coast conference team to invade Mackay stadium. It will be a real "big-time" game.

Fans should begin clamoring for the appearance of the famous Idaho pep band on next Homecoming. The northern band was a great drawing card last season; Nevada gridders returned with glowing accounts of the fantastic actions and maneuvers of the musicians and said that the crowd paid more attention to the band than the games.

MARTIE ILL

Coach "Doc" Martie, head of the department of physical education for men, has been ill for the past three days with an attack of influenza, but will be able to take his team to Fresno in spite of his illness.

Reno High Downs Sparks to Break Two Year Record

Combining a fast-breaking offensive with smart defensive work enabled the Reno high school basketball team to break the two-year supremacy of the Sparks high five Saturday night by a score of 30-24.

The state champions showed little teamwork and at their best were unable to hit the basket. The Huskies' offensive started clicking early in the game and their tight defense kept the Railroaders from getting set. Cameron and Thompson of Reno were high with 16 and 10 points, respectively, while Fife was high for the losers with thirteen counters.

Showing the same caliber that carried them to the state tournament finals last year, the Carson high school basketball team won both their games over the weekend. The Senators defeated a fighting Stewart team Friday night by a 33-15 score. Although the Indians went into the contest as favorites, they couldn't cope with the hard fighting team from Carson.

The second game played at Fallon Saturday saw the Capital City team again come out on the long end of the 30-16 score to defeat the Melopickers. Hachquet and Condon of Carson each scored 12 counters to give their team the advantage.

Lovelock continued its winning streak this week by defeating Fallon 44-34 and Wadsworth 28-22. In the first game played Friday night at Fallon the Green Wave almost sprung an upset when they ended the first half on the long end of the score.

Wadsworth, stung by assertions that Lovelock would have little trouble in disposing of them, kept a packed gymnasium in an uproar as they lost to the conference leaders 28-22. The Rivermen led throughout the game until, staking everything on winning, a series of personal fouls gave Lovelock the game.

Virginia City defeated a fighting Yerington team 36-20. Although this was the first conference win for the Hilltoppers, the game served as a notice that it would not be the last. Boeagle of the winners was high with eight buckets.

Saturday night the Virginia five took the Hawthorne Serpents into camp by a 33-16 score. Every man on Coach Lawlor's squad saw action and Oester of the victors was outstanding with 12 points.

A stubborn team from Gardnerville finally broke into the conference ratings with a win when they trounced Smith Valley 16 to 7. The Smith Valley boys found it hard to register a bucket and had to content themselves by keeping the score as low as possible.

Conference play will be continued and the games to be played this week are as follows:

Friday, Jan. 31—Virginia City at Carson, Wadsworth at Hawthorne, Dayton at Gardnerville, U. N. Frosh at Sparks, Yerington at Smith Valley and Stewart at Reno.

Saturday, Feb. 1—Yerington at Car-

Nevadans Enter Three-Way Tie In Tourney Play

California Aggies and Chico State played the only conference game of the past week, with the Davis aggregation leading at the final gun by a score of 39 to 28. This win moves the Farmers in second place with one win and no losses. Fresno still retains the lead with two wins.

The College of Pacific quintet made its first debut to basketball fans over the past weekend by defeating San Francisco State decisively in its two encounters.

Friday night the Pacific five met the Teachers in Stockton and the following night in Kezar stadium. To date that is the only school which has defeated the San Francisco aggregation in two straight encounters.

Nevada was the only Far West-ern conference team to play over the last weekend, being defeated by the San Jose State five in two games played.

Following is the standing of the Far Western conference teams:

	W	L	Pct
Fresno	2	0	1.000
California Aggies	1	1	.500
U. of N.	1	1	.500
Chico State	2	2	.500

College of Pacific has played no conference games to date.

Tumbling Exhibition Will Follow Games

Basketball fans who attend the Nevada-College of Pacific basketball game on February 8 will witness a special show by the University of Nevada tumbling team.

J. E. Martie, who is head of the physical education department and who is coaching the tumbling team, stated that the exhibition will last for 45 minutes and will take place just after the basketball game. Many new stunts never before presented by the team will be introduced at this time.

Charles Allen and Andrew Morby have been appointed student instructors of the tumbling act, which is composed of the following members: Joe Keller, Jay Waite, G. Freeman, Louis Porteous, Kenneth Cusick (mascot), Hermann Owens, Howard Evans, Dorrance Jamison, Prescott Wilson, Paul Bohlike, George Bump and Harvey Kolhaus.

Exhibition trips are being planned by the team to various towns in the state, among which are Reno high school, Sparks high school, Hawthorne, Fernley, Carlin and Wells.

who have taken either first, second or third place in a national tournament. Only three men are admitted to this exclusive class each year.

Payroll for N. Y. A. Shows Decrease For Past Month

$965.50 Paid Out for Work Done at University By Students

With the payroll amounting to only $965.50, National Youth Administration checks were issued on the campus early this week. This sum includes all salaries for work done from December 22 to January 21.

Ninety-four names appeared on the regular payroll this month and two graduate students are also working, according to reports from Comptroller Charles H. Gorman's office. The smallness of the payroll was probably due to the fact that several of the workers did not receive their appointments soon enough to allow them to work full time. A great many students did not put in any time over Christmas vacation, which also made an appreciable difference, he stated.

Twelve per cent of the resident students at the university have been allotted jobs this semester, according to Frank W. Ingram, state director of the national emergency council. With the exception of janitor service, no student is allowed to work more than thirty hours a week or more than eight hours a day. Skilled service pays at the rate of 50 cents an hour, while 37½ cents is paid for janitor service, and graduate students may earn 60 cents an hour, Ingram announced.

Ingram also said that no former workers had been replaced this semester, but Dean Margaret E. Mack, campus NYA head, indicated earlier in the semester that several students had lost their federal aid when their scholarship fell below the requirements.

Serving with Dean Mack on the campus committee are Dean R. C. Thompson, Prof. Paul A. Harwood, Prof. C. R. Hicks and J. R. Lynch, superintendent of grounds. Dr. Walter E. Clark supervises all graduate work being done under the NYA.

C. C. Smith, associate professor of history and political science, received a painful injury to his wrist in a volleyball game at the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon. Smith was participating in a practice game when he fell, wrenching his wrist. He was back in class Monday morning.

Attend student body meetings.

Engineers Study Airplane Course

An aeronautics course is to be offered this semester in the engineering field, it was announced by Dean Sibley, head of the college of engineering. The course is not an accredited university course, but is being offered for those who have expressed an interest in such work.

Robert Anderson, graduate of the University of Nevada last May, will instruct the course, which will be given on Monday and Friday at 7:15 p. m.

Anderson is an engineer and has done extensive outside work in aeronautics while in college and since completing his work. In addition to instructing this class Anderson is preparing for his master's degree, which he hopes to complete in May.

Demand Increases For A. S. U. N. Cards

Rigid enforcement of the rule that student body tickets must be presented for admission to basketball games is believed to be responsible for the large number of A. S. U. N. cards already issued, according to Robert Creps, graduate manager.

Over 655 university students have called for their student body tickets which are issued at the graduate manager's office in the Student Union building, so far this semester. This is a very large number in comparison to the close to 900 persons registered in school for the spring semester.

Creps urges that members of the student body enter the door near the east end of the gymnasium when attending basketball games. If this procedure is followed, seats on the east end of the building, where the Nevada rooting section is located, may be secured.

Senior E. E. Men See Power Plants

Senior electrical engineering students made an inspection tour of two Sierra Pacific power plants near Verdi, Wednesday afternoon, in company with Professor Stanley W. Palmer, who conducted the inspection, while members of the plant staff demonstrated the operations.

This was the first of three inspection trips scheduled this semester, and was postponed from the first day of school because of weather conditions.

Nevadans Attend Snow Conference

Professor H. P. Boardman, head of the civil engineering department and director of the Nevada Cooperative Snow Survey, accompanied by Dr. J. E. Church, classics professor, George Hardman and Carl Elges, all of the agricultural experiment station at the University of Nevada, left for Pasadena Wednesday to attend a biennial meeting of the hydrology division of the American Society for the Advancement of Science and the western section of the Interstate Snow Survey association at the California Institute of Technology.

Each of the Nevada men will present papers on snow surveying and run-off forecasting.

A. J. Shaver and Vernon Armstrong, representative of the Sierra Pacific Power company; H. C. Dukes, water-master of the Truckee-Carson irrigation project, and George Sager, head of the United States weather bureau at Reno, also attended the meeting.

The delegation attending this year's conclave is the largest in the history of the meetings. Business will be concluded tomorrow.

During Dr. Church's absence his son, Willis Church '23, is conducting his classes at the university.

Research Chemist To Speak Here

Dr. Andrew C. Rice, assistant analyst at the United States bureau of mines, will speak to the Chemistry club on "Spectrum Analysis" Wednesday evening, February 5, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in room 215 of Mackay Science hall.

Dr. Rice is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and of Columbia university. Before taking up his work on the Nevada campus he was engaged in chemical research at Columbia. This lecture on spectroscopy should be of interest not only to chemists but to all who are engaged in the study of metallurgy or mining, according to club officers, and all those wishing to attend the lecture are cordially invited.

Astronomy Group Sees Eclipse Film

Two films were shown and officers elected for the year at the first meeting this semester of the Astronomical Society of Nevada, held Wednesday evening in the chemistry lecture room in Mackay Science hall.

The first film showed, in detail, the eclipse of the sun on August 31, 1932, and the second depicted changes taking place on the surface of the sun.

Following the films, officers were elected as follows: President, G. B. Blair; vice-president, R. C. Thompson, and secretary-treasurer, J. E. Humphrey.

Soviet Authority To Speak at U. N.

Dr. Ethian Colton, authority on Russian affairs and formerly of the Dakota Wesleyan university, will speak before an assembly in the auditorium of the Education building February 7 at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Colton will be introduced by President Walter E. Clark. His topic will be "Chances for Peace in Europe." The speaker is the author of several books pertaining to Russian affairs and has recently returned from a tour of Germany. He has also lectured widely throughout the United States.

Dr. Colton is one of the most outstanding speakers the University of Nevada has ever engaged, according to Prof. Irving J. Sandorf, chairman of the committee on lectures and assemblies, who is in charge of the arrangements.

The lecture is especially for students but the public is welcome.

Students at the University of North Carolina pay on the average of $24.50 for board and room.

Prof Undergoes Major Operation

Professor Fred W. Traner, head of the department of secondary education who underwent a serious operation Monday evening, was reported today by hospital authorities to be "as well as could be expected" and resting easily. He was taken ill Sunday.

Professor Traner's classes were resumed today under the direction of department teachers. There will be no interruption in his classes during Traner's absence, Dean John W. Hall announced today.

ENGINEERING

A notice was posted this week on the bulletin board of the E. E. building concerning awards distributed by the A. S. M. E. The Charles T. Main award is $150, to be given for the best paper submitted on a subject selected yearly by the committee on awards of the A. S. M. E., the choice this year being "Development and Distribution of Power and Its Effect on the Consumer." Two $25 awards, one to go to an undergraduate and one to go to a graduate student, for the best papers on any engineering subject or investigation, were also announced.

membership, who will be voted on at a meeting of the group soon. The committee making the selections is composed of Dean Sibley, Prof. F. L. Bixby and Dick Greulich.

Prof. Clark Amens discusses "broad" topics in his M. E. classes, but "skirt" that subject and you will have the reason why blinkers have been ordered for Prexy Butler.

An E. E. meeting will be held next Wednesday evening at the home of Prof. Stanley Palmer. C. E. Fletcher, general superintendent of the Sierra Pacific Power company, will be the speaker.

After playing and singing harmonies for the past few weeks, Prof. Post's harmony class made a visit to the electrical department this week and with the help of Prof. Sandorf and an oscillograph studied wave form of various harmonies in question.

Prof. Gianella's field geology class will go to the Lakeview summit on their trip tomorrow to view the intrusive phenomena in evidence there. Two weeks ago the members of the class spent the day working up the Truckee river, observing the evidences of glaciation along there and the Truckee lake beds. Last week the trip included a visit to the state penitentiary at Carson to see the Pleistocene mammoth footprints in the prison yard and a short hike in the Pine Nut range to see the limestone and gravel beds there.

Robert L. Horschman, C. E. '34, visited the campus Wednesday. He has been employed by the General Metals Recovery corporation near Tonopah, which for the past two years have been handling 100 tons of tailings per day in their mill, using cyanidation.

In 1621—
This picture shows how the Jamestown Colonists exchanged tobacco for brides. They paid "120 pounds of the best leaf" for transportation of each future wife who came to the New World from England.

In 1936—
And here is a picture of the modern auction warehouse of today where the same type of leaf tobacco is sold on the open market to the highest bidder.

There is no substitute for mild, ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette—and there never will be . . . and that is the kind we buy for Chesterfield Cigarettes.

In the tobacco buying season Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. buyers will be found at 75 markets where the Bright type of tobacco is sold, and 46 markets where Burley and other types of tobacco are sold.

All these tobacco men are trained in the tobacco business, and are schooled in the Liggett & Myers tradition that only mild, ripe tobacco is good enough for Chesterfield Cigarettes.
