

1936 Year Book To Be Distributed In Senior Week

University Life As It Benefits
The State Is Theme of Artemisia

Work by U. N. Artists To Be Featured in Special
Subdivision

Containing a section devoted to the eight outstanding seniors and senior picture panels in cap and gown, the 1936 Artemisia will be distributed in the Student Union building about the middle of senior week, announced Walter Bowrin, editor, today.

The view section has been increased this year and the campus views, finished in two colors, have been taken, which feature students in the foreground.

The theme chosen for the 1936 edition features the economic, political and social benefits the University of Nevada has contributed to the state. President Clark's message will present the theme.

New Features Added

A padded cover, done in a rusty gold and brown with a sketch of a campus landscape, an increase in the men and women's intramural sports section pictures and more "snap" pages of faculty and students will be some of the new ideas emphasized this year. Sorority and fraternity panels will be arranged in alphabetical order for the first time.

The yearbook will include a subdivision featuring the art work of Nevada students. Most of the work for this section has been contributed by Orpah Morgan, Sam Ackerman and Margaret Turano.

Eleven hundred copies will be printed and over 100 of these have been set aside for alumni. The board of regents has reserved 75 copies which will be distributed to all the high schools and libraries throughout the state and sent to several institutions in other states.

More out of town advertising than before and about 100 signatures, including all the state officials, have been secured by the business department.

Wire Cable Set Given to E. Es.

Electric Company Engineer
Gives Demonstration of Equipment

A set of wire cables, covering many fields in electrical construction work, was presented to the electrical engineering department last week by the General Electric company of San Francisco, Professor S. G. Palmer, electrical engineering professor, announced recently.

The set was presented after a demonstration by W. J. Deleahanty, cable engineer for the company, of various new electrical appliances, before the Nevada branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Professor Palmer said that the set, which includes 30 different types of cables and cable construction, will be added to from time to time by the company until the set is complete.

Scribes Will Picnic, Elect Next Week

Press club will give its annual picnic Friday, May 1, starting at 3:30 p. m., members decided at a meeting Wednesday.

The election of officers planned for this week was postponed until Monday, to be held in the Student Union building following the Sagebrush staff meeting. Nominated for president is Walter States. Anne Gibbs has been named for vice president, Margaret Turano for secretary and John Carr and Murray Moler for treasurer.

Retiring president is Lois Midgley, who assumed office after Charles Leavitt resigned early this semester.

New members to be elected to the Press club will also be nominated Monday.

Griffin Is Named Forensic Officer

Robert S. Griffin, University of Nevada debate coach, was recently elected vice president of the Pacific Forensic league during their meeting in Los Angeles. Griffin has just finished serving the organization in the capacity of secretary and treasurer last year.

Other officers chosen at the meet include: Professor Herbert Rahe of Willamette, president, and Professor Leland Chapin of Stanford, secretary and treasurer.

Nevada 'G-Man' Returns to Quad From Cop Duties

The University of Nevada's new "G-man" returned Friday from official duties.

Oly Glusovich, husky athlete, was drafted into federal service ten days ago for the purpose of aiding Federal Marshal George Turpin in escorting two prisoners to Seattle. One to stand trial there and another to be placed in the United States penitentiary at McNeill's island. While in Seattle Glusovich visited at the Sigma Nu fraternity house.

Nevada Speakers Return From Meet

Forensic Team Makes Good
Showing at Pacific
Conference

The Nevada forensic team returned early this week from the Pacific Coast Forensic meet after one of the most successful showings it has made during the three years it has been a member of the league.

Bert Goldwater, speaking on "Something for Nothing," annexed second place in the oratorical contest. He was defeated for first place by one point by John McCormick of Oregon State college. John McLeod of Willamette took third place.

In the debate contest the Nevada team was eliminated in the fourth round. Bill Cashill and Lewis Pulsipher upheld the affirmative side of the "State Medicine" question, while Cashill and Bert Goldwater defended the negative when Nevada drew that side of the question.

University of Arizona annexed first place in the debate contest, followed by University of Southern California. No third place was awarded as the teams which lost two contests were eliminated.

Bill Cashill became ill during the tournament which prevented him from entering the extempore speaking contest, which was won by Arthur Groman of University of Southern California. Groman of the U. S. C. debate team appeared on the Nevada campus in a debate with the Nevada team just prior to the tournament. Randolph Kester of Willamette university took second place, followed by Parnell Mahoney of Arizona. Groman also took first place in the after dinner speaking contest.

According to Griffin the contest for next year will be held at Willamette university in Salem, Ore. The following year it is scheduled for the Nevada campus.

Schools entered in the tournament were Stanford, Whitman college, University of Southern California, Oregon State college, Willamette, Pomona college, University of Idaho, University of Arizona, University of California at Los Angeles, University of Washington and the University of Nevada.

France to Award Medal to Senior

The French medal given to a graduating senior for superior work in the French language for the University of Nevada and the modern language department for the work being done in the language of the French people, will be awarded Commencement Day, Dr. B. F. Chappelle said today.

The award, which was established last year at this university, is to be given annually. It is awarded by the French ministry of foreign affairs through the French consul general at San Francisco.

The medal will be presented to the senior who has shown high excellence in French courses throughout the junior and senior years and who, in the opinion of the head of the department of modern languages, is most deserving of the honor.

"This does not mean, necessarily, that the student attaining the highest grades will receive the medal," stated Dr. Chappelle. "The selection will be based primarily upon grades, but appreciation of French history, culture, art and music are also determining factors in the naming of the recipient of the medal."

Hall Association Installs Officers

Marian Uhart was installed as president of the Manzanita Hall association for the coming year at a meeting held for that purpose Thursday evening at 7:30. Others who took office at that time were: Lois Darrough, vice president; Elizabeth D'Alessandro, secretary; and Edith Delmore, treasurer.

Outgoing officers were: Opal Harvey, president; Genevieve Hansen, vice president; Winifred Hillonen, secretary; and Margaret Piercy, treasurer.

Nevada Trackmen Meet Cal Aggies, S. F. U. Tomorrow

Injuries Keep Richard Out of Meet; S. F. U. Star May Not Appear

S. F. U. Is Slightly Favored
In Three Way Track
Contest

By WILFRID AUSTIN
Because of the doubtful appearance of Runar Stone, San Francisco State's star track man, and the injury of Kenyon Richard, mainstay of the Nevada squad, the three-way meet tomorrow with the Cal Aggies will be a closely contested event, with the Staters still slightly favored.

Stone was slated to chalk up 25 points for State and Richard would probably have taken the broad jump and a place in the 100 yard dash. As the present lineups read, there are no especially strong points on any of the teams.

Wolves Once Defeated

Although the Aggie team has already beaten the Wolves this season, the extra entry in tomorrow's meet will offset the former score because in a three-team meet the seconds and thirds are more evenly distributed.

State has already beaten Cal Aggies 76-55 and comes to the Nevada track with an evenly balanced, consistently good team, even though Stone may not represent.

McDow of Nevada will probably win the 100 yard dash, with Graunke a possible second if he is entered in the event. Neither Murphy of State nor Bream of the Aggies ran the 100 in less than 10.4 in recent meets. In the recent meets. In the Chico meet McDow ran the dash in 10 flat.

Havens Favored

The broad jump will probably find Havens of Nevada in first place, with Zadov of Nevada having a good chance to cop second place. The Aggies are expected to get a closeout in this event.

Although McDow ran the 220 yard dash in the Aggie meet nine-tenths of a second slower than the best time of Murphy of State, McDow should win this event on the home track.

Leonard of Nevada will be given some stiff competition in the mile and two mile, but unless he is off form he will probably come through a winner in both runs.

Although Carpenter placed second in the 880 yard run, with the Aggies, he is expected to do better, running on a familiar track. The 440 yard dash is anybody's race, with Graunke and Richardson of Nevada standing as good as any of the entries.

Favored in Weights

The weight men of San Francisco State, Jones and Ebert, who shotput and throw the discus should, from their records of this season, take first and second, respectively, in both events. Their distances in these events show far better than any made in the Aggie-Nevada meet. Jones hurls the discus 144 feet. The winning throw in the Aggie-Nevada meet was 116 feet. Jones' mark in the shotput is 42 feet 4 inches, with Ebert a few inches behind. Forty-one feet 5 inches won the shotput in the former meet.

Harkness of State will probably take the pole vault, doing consistently 12 feet. Dwely and Fritz of the Aggies may take the javelin, their records showing better than any of their competitors.

Banquet to Honor Publication Heads

Welcoming the newly elected publication heads to their positions, the publications board will entertain at a dinner dance May 6, at 8 p. m., at the Reno Country club, Elwin Jeffers, chairman of the board, revealed yesterday.

Outgoing publication editors and business managers will share in the festivities.

New heads to be honored are: John Carr, editor of the Sagebrush; Walter States, business manager of the Sagebrush; Genevieve Hansen, editor of the Artemisia, and Cletus Libbey, business manager of the Artemisia.

Members of the board who will be present include: Elwin Jeffers, chairman; Frank Sullivan and Dan Chiatovich, representatives from the Sagebrush; Walter Bowrin and Winifred Walsh, representatives from the Artemisia, and Charles Leavitt and Eleanor Doan, representatives at large.

LOMMORI, MILES RECOVER
FROM ILLNESS THIS WEEK

Joe Lommori, junior engineering student, and Gordon Miles were released from confinement at a local hospital after recovering from attacks of mumps, it was announced this week.

Lommori, member of Block N society, was injured recently when he fell into the ditch at the east side of the university baseball field.

Feemster Gives Final Lecture To Econ Forum

Tracing the development of modern government from almost the beginning of civilization down to the present time, Silas Feemster, associate professor of history, Wednesday night gave the concluding lecture of the semester to the Econ forum.

The meeting was in the home of B. F. Headley, member of the agricultural experiment staff and director of the forum.

Talks in the forum discussion series will be resumed again next semester, with about 15 speakers planning to make appearances before the group.

The forum was started last semester. Meeting every other week, the members listen to a lecture on some popular current topic and then discuss the subject for the remainder of the meeting.

Phi Sigs, A. T. O. Tied for Second; S. A. E. in Lead

The Phi Sigs yesterday stepped into a second place tie with Alpha Tau Omega in the intramural baseball tournament by winning from the Independents by default, with S. A. E. still holding first place. Wednesday they jumped into third place by defeating a depleted Sigma Nu team to the tune of 9-7. Jack McCrea was on the mound for the Phi Sigs and performed in his steady manner, while Don Leighton pitched for the Sigma Nus.

The baseball outlook is in a mixup with three or four teams now fighting for first place. Today the A. T. O. play the Sigma Phi Sigs, with the Tau team slightly favored to win. If this prediction comes true, the Taus will then be in a first place tie with Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Saturday the Lambda Chis and the S. A. Es. play off their game with either nine favored for the payoff.

Noted Musicians To Give Concert

Harp, Flute, Cello Masters
Are Last Recital Group
Of Season

The concluding concert of the current season will be presented in the Civic auditorium Thursday night by the Community Concert association, presenting the harp-flute-cello trio of Galzedo, Barrere and Britt.

Members of the University of Nevada band will usher at the concert, as they have done at the other three recitals of the season. Directing the users will be Professor Theodore H. Post.

Galzedo, Barrere and Britt are now on a national tour, appearing in cities all over the United States under the sponsorship of the National Concert association. They are one of the leading classical instrumental trios in the country and will present a program of varied musical literature.

The local concert association is planning an extensive program for next year, basing their selections of artists to appear upon the reception of the four programs received in Reno. This was the first season in several years artistic concerts have been regularly presented locally, and they have proved a complete success, according to Director Samuel Platt.

Admission to the concerts is association membership card only.

Aviation Training Open for Sophs

An opportunity for university students who will complete their sophomore year this spring, to enter the air corps' primary flying school at Randolph Field, Texas, is now open, according to dispatches received this week by Captain H. W. Isbell, cadet commandant at the University of Nevada.

For the first time since the flying school was started there are not sufficient qualified candidates on the eligible list to fill classes.

To be eligible for appointment as a flying cadet the candidate must be an unmarried male citizen of the United States and between the ages of 20 and 27 years. He must present a certificate from the office of registrar of a recognized university showing that one-half or more of the necessary credits for graduation from a four year institution or must pass an examination equivalent thereof. The applicant must be of good character, sound physique and very good health.

Students Present Shakespeare Play In Globe Manner

Jessie McClure and Goldwater
Star in Presentation
Of Comedy

Audience Thrills to Humorous
Air of 'Much Ado'
This Week

By RUTHE GOLDSWORTHY
With elaborate Elizabethan costumes and scenery in the style of the old Globe theater, the university Play Productions department, under the direction of William C. Miller, presented this week one of Shakespeare's best known comedies, "Much Ado About Nothing."

In the opening scenes the audience was for a time confused by the unfamiliar Shakespearean style of conversation. After the first few scenes the listeners became accustomed to the manner of speech, and the remainder of the play was highly entertaining.

Goldwater Stars
David Goldwater, in the part of Benedick, a young lord of Padua, gave an excellent performance. His colloquies were given with such feeling that the audience applauded. Part of the amusement in the play was furnished by the keen sarcasm in the wooing of Beatrice by Benedick.

Beatrice, the niece to Leonato, was well enacted by Jessie McClure. Miss McClure, who is a veteran to university audiences, proved herself capable of handling the somewhat difficult role of the sharp-tongued, witty young woman.

Clowns Favored
Sherwin Garsida in the role of Seacold, a watchman, and Charles Doherty as Dogberry, found great favor with their portrayals in the court scene.

Making her first appearance in a university production, Naomi Starr took the part of the timid Hero and played it with sympathy and in a convincing manner.

With the exception of a few very minor characters, who appeared slightly uneasy, the cast was excellent and worked to bring about a smooth, practically faultless performance. The cast included Leo Doyle, James Hawkins, Melville Wilder, David Goldwater, Frank Stout, Willis Dalzell, William Johnstone, Robert Montgomery, Norison Beatty, Chares Doherty, Marion Brooks, Sherwin Garsida, Walter Christian, William Cockrell, William Tyrrel, Naomi Starr, Jessie McClure, Ellen Creek and Kathleen Meeks.

Chappelle to Talk On Anaho Pelicans

The pelicans which inhabit Anaho island at Pyramid lake will be the subject of an illustrated lecture to be delivered by Dr. B. F. Chappelle in the Education auditorium Saturday night.

Moving pictures and slides, which have been furnished by Dr. B. A. Barrett of the Milwaukee Public museum, will accompany the lecture.

The pictures were obtained by Dr. Barrett during an entire summer spent at the lake, taking pictures and making observations. Dr. Chappelle worked with the Milwaukee expedition.

The Nevada State Audubon society and the botany and biology science students of the university will sponsor the lecture, which is free to the public.

Professor Stanley Palmer of the electrical engineering department has charge of the mechanics for the moving pictures and slides and the regulation of the loudspeaker.

Nevada Graduate Enters Ministry

Delivering the sermon necessary to complete his ordination requirements, Daniel H. Trevitt, graduate of the university, was ordained as a minister last Sunday morning at the Federated church of Reno.

The sermon given by Trevitt was on "The Marks of a Christian."

Immediately after the talk was completed Dr. William H. Oxtoby, president of the San Francisco Theological seminary, gave the charge to the ordained. When Trevitt graduates from the seminary on April 30 he will be installed as pastor of the Novata Community Presbyterian church.

Trevitt graduated from the University of Nevada in 1933 and since that time has been studying at San Anselmo, where the theological seminary is located. While attending the university he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

On Sunday morning the members of his fraternity attended the church service in a body to witness the ordination.

U. N. Journalists Don Coats, Ties By Court Order

Gently but firmly ousted from Judge Ben F. Curlier's court Thursday, four University of Nevada journalism students dropped their reportorial calm and left the courtroom a bewildered foursome.

It took a lot of explaining to the five star Jones boys by Bailiff W. A. Kelly that anyone, spectators or reporters, must wear coats and ties in the presence of the court. After recovering from their first shock and realizing that it was all in the education of the reporter, they hastily donned their courtly ties and coats and returned to demean themselves according to the decorum of the court.

Judge Curlier's ruling indicated that the precedent, one of old standing in Nevada courts, would be rigidly enforced from now on.

Senior Ball Plans Feature Diplomas

Committee Announces Senior
Men Only Ones To Be Admitted Free

Signs in the form of diplomas announcing the senior ball appeared on the campus and in downtown business houses this week.

The dance, which the committee promises will be the big formal of the year, is scheduled for Friday, May 8, in the State building. Decorations are being kept secret, but they will follow a senior theme, Emery Graunke, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday.

All senior men will be admitted free of charge, Graunke said, but escorts other than seniors who accompany senior women will be expected to pay the regular admission charge.

Men will be expected to wear the conventional attire for spring formal. This consists of a black coat and white trousers or white coat and dark trousers.

Admission will be $1 per couple, Graunke said, and Reuben Tuttle's orchestra will furnish the music.

Assisting Graunke in planning the dance are Louis Wiener, Wayne Kennedy, Ethel Kent, Gwenivere Erikson, Betty Jane McCulloch, Emile Gezzelin, Joyce Dodge, Oliver Aymar, Joe Lommori and Kirk Fairhurst.

Ayres Will Head Faculty Group

Professor H. C. Ayres of the mathematics department was elected president of the Faculty Science club at a meeting of that group Thursday afternoon.

Professor C. C. Smith, outgoing president, was chosen vice president of the organization and Dean Margaret E. Mack was selected to serve as secretary.

As a special feature of the meeting, Dr. B. F. Chappelle gave an illustrated lecture on the pelicans of the Pyramid lake region. Three full size reels of the lives and habits of the pelicans were shown. Chappelle explained that the birds lived in colonies, the Pyramid colony being one of seven in the United States and Canada. He contrasted the Nevada pelicans with those of other states and commented on the rarity of the Nevada species.

Math Club Holds Picnic at Tahoe

Spending the day playing baseball, volleyball and canoeing on Lake Tahoe, the Math club enjoyed their first picnic last Sunday, at the home of Miss Emily Ross, instructor in the mathematics department.

The picnic took the place of the April meeting of the group to which guests were invited. The group started from the Mackay Science hall at 10:30 Sunday morning. Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Wood chaperoned the affair.

Those present included Dr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Dilts, Mrs. H. C. Ayres, Miss Emily Ross, Miss Loretta Miller, Dr. Alan S. Lough, Inez MacGillivray, Florence Gulling, Margaret Jensen, Elizabeth Juniper, Charles Allen, Clayton Carpenter, James Galvin, George Bump, George Francis, Marvin Moler, Eugene Rollins, John Carr, Ben Morehouse, Lou Young, Ned Westover, Delvin Dean, Horace Ayres, Donald Wood and Fred Wood.

Finance Control Plans to Remodel A.S.U.N. Building

Committee Rooms and Offices
Will Occupy Unused
Floor Space

Group Permits Publications
To Keep Letterheads
For Next Year

With the possibility of remodeling the A. S. U. N. building as the chief topic of discussion, the finance control board met Wednesday in the Agriculture building. Chairman F. W. Wilson conducted the meeting.

The plan is to remodel the upstairs by laying a floor across the whole balcony, making a two story building instead of a mezzanine floor as is the present arrangement.

Committee rooms and offices could then be installed in the extra space made possible by this arrangement. The interior will also be refinished and several windows would be put in the north wall.

Contractors are to be called in to make an estimate early next week, according to Robert Cresp, who has been appointed to handle the job.

To Publish Bible
The board also appointed Willis Dalzell as business manager and Les Gray as editor of the fresh bible for next year. Dalzell will solicit ads for the booklet during the summer vacation.

A committee composed of Winifred Walsh, Frank Sullivan and Robert Cresp asked that the Sagebrush and Artemisia, the two campus publications, be allowed to keep their distinctive letterheads for next year.

At a previous meeting it was decided that all offices would use a common letterhead, but these two publications were allowed to keep their own.

Interfrat Council Calls Off 'Feed'

Houses to Sponsor Bean Party
As Get-Together for Men
Next Fall

There will be no interfrat council "bean feed" this year, the council decided at a meeting held Monday. This annual affair, which was scheduled for Monday, May 4, will be held early next semester and act as a get-together for the men on the campus.

The action taken by the council due to the fact that the baseball tournament now in progress among the fraternities would probably not be completed in time to present the Kinnear revolving trophy at the "feed." It would be impossible to use the university dining hall on the date scheduled also altered plans.

At the next meeting of the council new delegates from the various fraternities will be introduced and election of officers for next year will take place.

Dr. Church's Son Wins Scholarship

Donald E. Church '26, son of Dr. James E. Church, has been awarded the Michigan Brookings scholarship, according to word received this week from the University of Michigan, where Church has been majoring in economics.

The scholarship, which entitles Church to study at the Brookings institute in Washington, D. C., for one year, was awarded him on the basis of his excellent research work at Michigan on the problems of motor industry and the possibility of federal control of the trucking industry.

Church plans to work for his doctor's degree at the Brookings institute and the subject of his thesis will also be on governmental control of motor vehicle traffic. A feature article on this subject by Church was recently published in an eastern financial magazine.

Guy Morris Named Chairman A.S.M.E.

Guy Morris was elected chairman of the student branch of the A. S. M. E. at a meeting held Tuesday night at the home of Dean Sibley. Gene Rollins and Vernon Scott were elected vice chairman and secretary-treasurer. Jack Tedford and Charles Allen are the outgoing officers.

A report from the members who attended the A. S. M. E. convention at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena three weeks ago was given during the evening.

A visit to the new planetarium at Griffith park, the largest in this part of the country, was described.

'36 Commencement Looms as Second Largest in History

List Released by Registrar Subject to Change In Grades

Nine Are Listed for Masters; A. and S. to Graduate Many

With one hundred seventy-three students listed as eligible for graduation this year, the University of Nevada will confer degrees and diplomas Commencement Day, May 11, on what is expected to be the second largest graduating class in the history of the institution.

Six Short

Subject to change because of incompleting work and other causes, the total number of students receiving degrees falls short by six of equalling the largest graduating class, which received their degrees in 1934.

Eight master degrees will be conferred this year on students who have completed advanced work. One more was given in 1934. Two master of arts degrees, to Clyde E. Buchanan and Charles Sidney Nichols Jr. Robert N. Anderson, James R. Henrichs and Cary Kerby Stoddard will receive master of science degrees. Two civil engineering degrees will be given, to Hugo E. Hanser and Fred E. Roemer. A master's degree in mechanical engineering will be conferred on Edwin Douglas Murray.

Total 151

The total number of potential graduates to receive degrees this spring is 151, compared with 157 of the graduating class of 1934. The engineering college will graduate its second largest class this year with 28 students eligible for degrees as compared with the largest class in 1934 of 32 conferred degrees.

The college of arts and science will graduate 111 students this spring, with the college of agriculture granting diplomas to 12 students. Thirteen normal school students will receive two-year diplomas.

Forty-one students will receive teachers' certificates this year, qualifying them for teaching positions in their respective schools.

'Buzz' Morrison Dies in Air Crash

Former Student Killed When Plane Burns; Was S. A. E.

Gibson King "Buzz" Morrison, former student at the university and well known aviator, was killed at the Alameda, Calif., airport when his plane crashed and burst into flames. J. F. Long, Alameda, who was a passenger in the plane, was also killed.

Morrison had taken the plane to California for repair work, and was on a trial flight when the accident occurred. The plane crashed to the ground and caught fire, the intense heat forestalling rescue attempts. Both men are believed to have been killed instantly.

Morrison was born in Reno and was graduated from Reno high school. While attending the university he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and was active in student affairs.

He also attending flying schools in Tucson, Ariz., Kansas City and Los Angeles, and was granted a transport pilot's license in 1928. He had more than 2000 hours of flying. He also served as a pilot for the federal government in Mexico, being captured by rebels, and operated a flying school here for some time.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mabel N. Martin of Yerington; a child, and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. K. Morrison of Reno.

Education Prof Discusses Speech

Participating in the annual program of the Nevada State Association for Better Speech, Miss Edith Ruebsam, associate professor of education, spoke at a recent banquet held in the Century club on the latest developments in the field of speech.

"Until very recently better speech has been neglected in our eagerness to make rapid strides in other fields. Speech is so personal, so common a subject that we fail to realize the true importance of it until the subject is called to our attention. It has been only in the past few years that a sincere interest has been shown in the development of better grammar," Miss Ruebsam said.

A program of modern dancing by Veronika Pataky and a group of her students will be presented Monday, April 27, in the University of Nevada gymnasium at 8 p. m. by the women's physical education department, Elsa Sameth, head of the department, announced today.

The presentation will begin with an exhibition of dancing technique and the fundamentals used as the basis in the composing of dances by Miss Pataky and her group.

The dancers will be accompanied by music of gongs, cymbals, drums and piano. The accompanist, Pasquin Bradford, composed much of the music for the dances.

During the afternoon Miss Pataky will conduct a demonstration hour of modern dancing and its technique in the gymnasium for those students in physical education who are interested in this type of dancing. For admission to this hour a ticket for the evening performance is necessary.

Miss Pataky studied in her native country of Hungary and then in the Mary Wigam school of modern dance in Germany before she came to America. She is now conducting her own school in San Francisco.

Tickets may be secured from Janet Parish, Georgianna Harriman, Frances Nichols, Kellene Morris and Elizabeth Best.

Smoking Camels a Pleasant Way to Encourage and Aid Digestion

Hurry, worry, and strain tend to interfere with normal processes of digestion—actually slow up the flow of the digestive fluids. You sense a comforting "lift," a feeling of well-being, as you enjoy the delicate fragrance of your Camel.

It is a scientific fact that smoking Camels helps to keep digestion on its proper course, through restoring and increasing the flow of the fluids necessary to good digestion. Dine well! Smoke a Camel!

Camels open a new world of pleasure, where mildness and rare flavor reign supreme. You can smoke Camels steadily. They never get on your nerves or tire your taste. Camels set you right!

A RARE PLEASURE. Leisuredly diners enjoying the continental cuisine at Jacques French Restaurant, nationally famous cafe in Chicago. Here soft lights and impeccable service give the perfect setting for such dishes as Baked Oysters a la Jacques and other specialties of the house. And Camels add the final touch to dining. "Camels are most popular here," Jacques himself observes. "They are clearly the favorite with those who know fine living."

THE WINNER! Kelly Petillo, first in the Indianapolis Classic, says: "Smoking Camels during and after meals goes a long way in helping to keep my digestion in good shape."

Cercle Francais Sponsors Showing Of French Film

'Crime and Punishment' Draws Favorable Comment Of Critics

Proceeds From Motion Picture To Aid Club's Plans For Speakers

Harry Bauer, famous French dramatist, appears in the French talking film version of Dostoyevski's novel, "Crime and Punishment," which is being presented this afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Cercle Francais in the auditorium of the Education building.

The story concerns the development of the criminal mind, the execution of the crime and the psycho-psychological reactions which result.

Dr. E. F. Chappelle, faculty adviser of the Cercle Francais, said the French version has been credited as superior to the English version, which was shown in Reno some months ago. San Francisco audiences were so large during the presentation of the foreign version there that it was held a week over the original week's engagement.

This afternoon's performance was arranged especially for students of the Reno and Sparks public schools. Dr. Chappelle announced that the new screen purchased by the university will be used for both shows.

It is an all talking film in which French is spoken throughout, but some 600 screen lines in English make it understandable to an English speaking audience.

Tonight's presentation is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Sponsored by Club

The Cercle Francais, campus society of French students, have complete supervision of the presentation of the French film here. The project is not a money-making one and it has been announced that any money collected beyond the expenses will be returned to the public in the presentation of future films or out of town speakers on cultural subjects.

This year's officers of the club are: President, Emilie Gezelin; vice president, Jean Horning, and secretary and treasurer, Maurine Graf.

Professor Stanley G. Palmer, head of the department of electrical engineering, has taken charge of the mechanics with the aid of student assistants.

WITH THE WOLFETTES

Six advanced swimming students will be given final examinations beginning this afternoon, Mrs. Simas announced today. Preliminary tests were held Wednesday afternoon at Moana Springs during the regular swimming class period. Students who have been instructing the prospective examination candidates are Frances Smith, Lila Stoddard, Emily Tholl and Edith Delmore.

May 6 has been chosen as the date for the final social gathering of Gothic N, honorary women's athletic society. Present plans set Lake Tahoe as the scene for the festivities. Miriam Butler, senior, will be chairman of the outing committee.

Out of a total of 335 women enrolled in the university, 150 are registered in some form of physical education. One hundred thirty of these women are members of the Women's Athletic association, while 100 more are participating in only one sport.

Emily Tholl, recently elected president of the Women's Athletic association, left Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock for Minneapolis, Minn., to participate in the annual convocation of women's athletic associations. Miss Tholl made the trip by train and is expected to return April 30.

Winnemucca high school in the northern part of the state and Las Vegas high school in the southern portion are planning to sponsor play days for high school women similar to the one the Women's Athletic association will sponsor in Reno on May 2. Definite dates have not yet been set for the celebrations. Blanche Keegan, former student of the university, will be in charge of the Winnemucca play day.

Women registered in physical education classes have been participating in Danish exercises for three afternoons this week. Instruction has been in the gymnasium under the supervision of students of the advanced classes. Women with excess cuts have been taking part in the exercises as a means of making up missed classes.

All members of Gothic N, honorary women's athletic society, will act as ushers at the dance concert to be presented by Veronika Pataky Monday night at the university gymnasium. The women of the organization will wear their blue coats with the Gothic N insignia on them.

Twenty senior girls, students of the Stewart Indian school, visited the university Wednesday afternoon and were guests of the women's athletic department, where they witnessed the dancing classes at their regular class work.

While baseballs were flying and bats were swinging, a small doe stood innocently watching last week while members of the P. E. classes were playing

Poor Equipment Hinders Archers

Bow-Arrow Coeds Will Enter National Meet April 29

That women archers have not shown a great deal of improvement in their practices to date is because of improper equipment, Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor in physical education, said today.

The bows which the Robin Hoods are using are of insufficient strength to shoot 40 and 50 yards outdoors, which is the required distance set down by the International Telegraphic meet rules.

Nevada will enter the meet April 29 and it is hoped by that date the women will have improved despite their handicap. On April 29, 20 and 31 one round of 40 and 50 yards will be shot off by the archers. Eight women who have the highest scores will be chosen for the team.

In the intramural meet, which will start soon after the international tournament, the women will shoot only the last round, winners of the 40 and 50 rounds being determined by the highest scores made by the contestants during the big contest.

Mrs. Simas said that archery may be given in the fall this year.

THREE AMENDMENTS

Next week when the student body holds its final meeting of the year, student opinion on three amendments to the constitution will be expressed. These amendments concern tumbling awards, the allocation of publication surpluses and athletic awards.

The tumbling amendment is a follow-up on the recent proposal to make tumbling a minor sport and to present sweaters to participants. It was defeated, chiefly because of the expense involved. The present amendment has cut the expense tremendously, and provides for the presentation of circle N's to participants in the sport.

It is only fair to a group of students which has worked hard in its chosen sport and which has performed a recognizable service to the university that the participants be awarded and the amendment passed.

The second deals with publication surpluses, and is the third on this subject to be proposed this year.

The amendment provides that the one-third allotted the publications board be placed under control of finance control, with the money to be requisitioned solely by publications board for the benefit of publications.

Under the present system, there is no check on publications board, and any surplus accruing from publications can be spent by the board with no restrictions. The amendment will change this, and center control of this money in finance control—where it belongs.

This amendment was proposed by publications board itself and as such must be fair to publications. It does away with evils noticed in connection with other amendments, and it will remedy a situation that vitally concerns every student on the campus. It should be approved.

The third amendment, dealing with awards, is, without a doubt, an attempt to cut expenses in line with the present trend toward central treasury retrenchment, which must be done until the student body has had a chance to become acquainted with the new athletic system.

Under it, each athlete who qualifies under the rules set forth in the constitution will be allowed to earn his sweater in each major sport. But he will earn only one sweater per sport, the sweater to be a regulation sweater, with no stripes.

Each year, if the athlete earns another sweater, he will be presented with a certificate, suitable for framing, and in his senior year he will be able to earn a blanket, just as under the present arrangement.

The value of this amendment lies in its economy and, underlying it, is an endeavor to make the block N award of the University of Nevada a coveted trophy.

At present, athletes can win nine sweaters, each outdated as he wins the second and valueless. As a result sweaters are lent to fraternity brothers, relations and, in some cases, have been raffled off. The value of the block N has so degenerated that there is little pride in it, and sweaters supposedly setting the athlete off from his fellows can be worn by anyone lucky enough to have the proper connections.

Another section provides that to earn his letter the athlete must be eligible to compete again. This will prevent "tramp" athletes from wearing Nevada sweaters disrespectfully and will provide further incentive in bringing athletes up in their studies so that their value to the university will not be lost for a semester following each sport.

How anyone, block N men especially, who values his letter and who is willing to aid his university can oppose this amendment is a problem, yet this has happened because of a lack of understanding. It is hoped that each student will carefully read this amendment, and then voice his opinion next Friday.

Proposed Amendments

To amend article 7, section 7, to read:

Surplus funds of any publication shall be allotted as follows:

- (1) One-third of any surplus shall revert to the central treasury and shall be credited to the general A. S. U. N. account.
- (2) One-third shall revert to the central treasury and be set aside for use by the publications board, and may, thereafter, be requisitioned solely for the benefit of publications by the publications board with the approval of finance control committee. If any of this surplus shall remain at the end of the school year, the remainder of the fund shall revert to the central treasury.
- (3) One-third shall revert to the editor and business manager of the publication and be divided equally between them as a salary bonus.

To amend article IV to read:

Section 8 (f).—Tumbling: To be eligible for an award in tumbling a candidate must be a member of the team for at least two (2) semesters, have appeared in sixty (60) per cent of the scheduled exhibitions, and have been recommended by the coach.

The official award shall be a blue four inch block N set in a blue six inch circle. This award shall be known as the Circle N award for tumbling. To amend article IV, section 4, to read:

Any student winning a varsity letter in one of the major sports shall be entitled to wear the official insignia, which shall be: A blue coat sweater with a white six by six-inch block N over the heart.

(A) The initial award shall be the official insignia and a certificate.
(B) Each additional award in the same sport shall be in the form of a certificate.

(C) Upon winning three awards in any one major sport the student shall be given the official Nevada blanket. The blanket shall be 62 by 14 inches, of royal blue color with a 12 by 12 inch block N letter made of white chenille. There shall be a one-half inch white border around the blanket. The name of the winner of the award shall be in script in the lower right hand corner.

(D) No award shall be given until the athlete has established eligibility for further athletic participation.

To amend article IV, section 5, to read:

The only exception to section 4 shall be as follows: Any student who wins his letter in any major sport and who has won his letter at least once before in one other sport shall be given a choice of:

- (1) A blue V-neck sweater with a white six by six inch block N in front and center;
- (2) A white coat sweater with a blue six by six inch block N over the heart;
- (3) The official insignia.

Section 6 to read:

No student shall be eligible for more than one official award in any one sport.

The Pedagogue

We hear that because the women of the archery teams have not been provided with bows capable of shooting the distance required for interscholastic competition, they are working under a serious handicap which will probably defeat them in the interscholastic meet. It is indeed unfortunate that the university is unable to provide the equipment necessary to carry on a sport sanctioned by it.

Rather than permit the women to compete against impossible odds, the Pedagogue suggests that the authorities may do one of two things: either they can call a halt on archery or they can furnish equipment to keep it going. As for the students, they prefer to do things right or not at all.

With the coming of this gladsome spring season, now that the Easter bunny is once more in the mothballs, the Pedagogue feels the urge to come out of the indigo depths of pietyunish fault finding with which he has been afflicted during the inclement months of winter.

And so, in this benign mood, the Pedagogue sets forth to scatter orchids hither and yon; to administer a pat or two on the bent shoulders of a few of the faithful who really toil that students may become glided lilies of erudition.

First, to Bill Miller of the dramatics department. A tawdry or insincere piece of drama affects him much as pyrites of iron affect a mining engineer—it looks so good to the sucker but an analysis of it is utterly worthless. Miller has gone on, semester after semester, endeavoring to show the student body of our fair college the difference between the real thing and the fool's idea of a real thing. And it still looks a trifle hopeless at times when the college masses flock to see Dick Powell and Fred Astaire—oh, aren't they dah-rling!—in avowed preference to Shakespeare or any of his ilk. At that, we'll venture a guess that if youngsters from the grades up were exposed to Shakespeare via the "soc and buskin" instead of hearing it first from the lips of some instructor who neither understands nor appreciates it, college students would have no such deep-rooted aversions.

Josephine Knowles ex-'34 was married in Carson City recently to Howard A. Carr. Justice E. A. Ducker of the supreme court of Nevada performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Knowles, parents of the bride.

Mrs. Carr, a graduate of Reno high school, attended the university during the school years 1930-31 and 1931-32, where she was well known and very active socially.

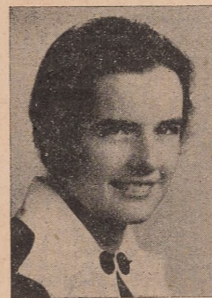

For having the intestinal fortitude to stand up and scrap for their rights regarding the surplus. If this campus, or any other organization similar, were to run on an ideal communistic basis in which everyone could and did share and share alike, there would be some justification for the pooling of the publications resources along with the rest, but since there is a highly disgraceful scramble for every nickel doled out by the finance committee, with all of the backbiting and haggling incidental to any dole system, it seems to the slightly astigmatic gaze that the board is doing the only sensible thing in keeping what it has rightfully earned.

Dark eyed, brown haired Cornelia Arentz, known to most student friends as "Cornie," didn't spend four blank years at the University of Nevada, as the written record of her numerous activities shows.

A graduate from Western high school at Washington, D. C., she entered this college and straightway became a member of the Sagebrush staff, the beginning of her interests.

She was on the debate team three semesters, and also worked on the high school forensic tournaments for three years, this being her last year.

Her junior year was the most eventful as she served on the junior prom committee, Panhellenic council and was elected president of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Proving a true "U. of Nster," she was chosen a member of the women's upperclass committee last year, and this spring ran for Mackay Day queen, one of the biggest honors bestowed upon a woman student.

Danger Foretold By 'Doc' Martie For Old Records

Doug McDow, Paul Leonard
Are Granted Chances
To Beat Marks

Richard May Be Kept Out
Of Meets Because of Leg Injury

Three university track records are in danger of being broken this season. If the Wolf Pack cinder stars continue their improvement and weather conditions do not prevent a full practice schedule.

Doug McDow has a good chance to crack the 100 and 220 yard dash marks, while Paul Leonard will probably lower the time in the mile run, according to Professor J. E. Martie, head track coach.

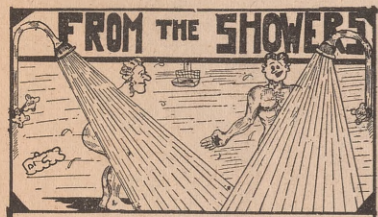

The present mark in the century, made, according to Martie, with the wind after jumping the gun, is held by Harvey Hill at 9.6 seconds. McDow has negotiated the distance in 9.9 several times recently and is capable of running the century in at least three-tenths of a second better.

Neil Scott's 21.6 second record in the furlong also will probably be off the books before the season is over if the red-headed former Lassen county high star is able to get in form. He will probably be at his peak for the conference meet in Fresno May 2.

Leonard, who made his fourth track letter in the Aggies' meet April 9, has made the mile in 4:29, four seconds slower than the mark set in 1915 by G. Ogilvie of 4:25.

Leonard will concentrate on the mile for the conference meet, leaving the two mile run alone for the afternoon, and is set in making a new mark for Nevada milers to shoot at for the next several years.

Kenyon Richard was set to break his conference and university broad jump record of 24 feet 7 3/4 inches, made at the conference meet last year, until he pulled a muscle in the Cal Aggie meet. He will not be available for competition in the tri-meet tomorrow and might not be ready to jump again until after the May 2 meet at Fresno.

Evidently some gentle reader or readers have become a little provoked at our trying to build up a Nevada track team on paper. At any rate, the following ballads, short and simple, will serve to cover up anything we have to say on track this week. Use your own tune—the authors didn't prescribe any. We offer them and duck.

A great quarter-miler was Graunke,
Who ambled along like a donkey,
But when his foot heeled
And he sped past the field
His horn he always would honk.

A red-headed man called McDow,
A very fast runner and how;
But so great was his speed
He always did need
Two extra legs on his shadow.

There was a young man named
Zadow,
Who thought he could hurdle his shadow,
But he yelped with chagrin
As he fell down agin
"I guess I'll have to get mad-o-
(heck). —Anonymous.

Coed Swimmers Hold Water Show

Women Exhibit Life Saving
Skill, Stunt Swim
To Galleries

With many interested onlookers, the University of Nevada swim class presented its aquatic demonstrations at Moana Hot Springs last Friday, April 17, under the direction of Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor of physical education for women, and Emily Tholl, P. E. minor.

The class opened the occasion with a pantomimed skit, in which a captain brings back from a sea voyage some gifts to his three daughters. The story was read simultaneously with the action by Emily Tholl.

Second in the program was demonstration of the different types of swimming and the history of its development from the eighteenth century breast stroke to the modern crawl. Mrs. Simas explained to the crowd the strokes and traced the history, one by one, while the women demonstrated them.

Next came an exhibition of the art of life saving by members in the class who have either passed their senior life saving examination or who will soon. The front and back strangle holds were broken, the approaches were shown and the different head carries were executed. A person was supposed to have been saved from the bottom of the pool, and a woman showed what she would do in case a boat had capsized in a lake. Pat Turner exhibited this, undressing to her bathing suit and swimming 100 yards, or seven times across the pool.

The highlight of the afternoon was the staging of the water designs. An "accordion" was the first acted out, with six women lying on their backs, every other one facing the north, and then, with a grip on the person's leg next them, all closing back and forth, giving an opening and closing effect like an accordion. Second and lastly was the "Fountain." This is a water design in which the women gather in a circle, duck under the water, emerging at the center, and then kick all together to form an immense splash, and gradually kick out to the edges of the pool still remaining in a circle.

Fans, students and backers should all turn out for the meet Saturday. Nevada is sure to stack up a few more points and look a little better in a three-way encounter. Nevada has some outstanding men—the only trouble is that there aren't enough of them. But by all means be out there.

Fresno State should present a real threat by the time the Far Western conference meet rolls around. Against the Stanford Indians the Bulldogs scored 37 points, more than U. C. L. A. did against the Indians. The Staters are particularly strong where Nevada is weak—in the field events. Rowland and ones consistently throw the javelin beyond the 200 mark and Wamerdam has cleared 14 feet 1/2 inch this season.

The Wolves may see a little more of Larry Arnerich, Spartan cage star who dealt defeat to Nevada this year. Coach Dad De Groot is seeing how he looks in the moleskins, and from all indications he will be in the San Jose backfield next year.

Capital Alums Plan 'Roundup' Dance

The annual "Roundup" of the University of Nevada alumni living in Washington, D. C., will take place this year in the form of a dinner dance to be given at the new Broadmoor hotel in that city.

The young are doing fine, but their means of living will be cut off shortly unless some other means of providing for them is found.

The fate of such neglected beings is one of the many things which makes the existence in the so-called civilized world not worthwhile.

Eight Engineers Inspect Mill City

Eight mining students, accompanied by Prof. Jay Carpenter and Dr. Harry Wheeler of the Mackay school of mines, spent last weekend at Mill City, visiting the tungsten mine there as guests of Ott Heiser, manager of the Nevada Massachusetts company.

This tungsten property, first opened up during the war, is now the largest mine of its kind in the United States.

The party spent most of Saturday afternoon on the 800 foot level of the Humboldt shaft, inspecting various phases of the work there, and later saw the new deep-well centrifugal pump installation below the camp. The mill, which has a flow sheet that involves several unique features, and the site for the new slime flotation mill which will be erected soon, were visited Saturday evening.

The original outcrop of the vein and the Stank shaft were visited by the group on Sunday morning, and the Rye Patch dam on the return trip Sunday afternoon.

This is the second year that junior and senior members of the Crucible club, mining engineering organization, have been guests of Heiser on their spring field trip.

Those making the trip were Roy Caldwell, Eldridge Nash, Emmett Spencer, Leslie Green, Fred Tong, Jean Horning, Betty Bowman, Hjalmar Burrus, Prof. Carpenter and Dr. Wheeler.

Frank Warren, announced that the dinner this year will see many new faces added to the alumni roll. Frances Armbruster '33 is secretary of the organization.

Many of the alumni attended a dinner given in honor of Senator Key Pittman and Congressman James Scrugham, former dean of the college of engineering, held recently in Washington, D. C.

Frosh Tracksters Face Winnemucca

Local track enthusiasts will witness a tri-cornered preliminary meet Saturday morning when the university frosh meet with Reno and Winnemucca high schools on the Mackay field at 9 o'clock.

A miniature decathlon will be hotly contested during the meet between Powers of the frosh and De Arrieta of Winnemucca. De Arrieta scored 28 points in a dual meet with Elko last week when he took first place in the broad jump, high and low hurdles, shot put, high jump, and a second place in the discus.

Powers will probably take first in the 100, 220 and shot, with possible points in the broad jump, high hurdles and discus.

The frosh are slated to win the meet without much difficulty. Besides Powers' points, Day, Friedhoff, Rodriguez and Roman should collect at least 25 points among them. Friedhoff, winner of the high jump at the state meet last year, will have a duel on his hands also when he competes against Genesy of Reno, who has marks almost as high as the Yerington jumper. Day should have little opposition in the javelin throw, and is a possible first in the broad jump, having made jumps of over 20 feet in practice.

Rodriguez beat all comers last year in the 880 and should repeat this performance in the meet Saturday, while Roman should win the platter event handily.

Cameron of Reno is a heavy favorite to win the high hurdles and pole vault, and his teammate Trigero will probably lead the way in the 440. A possible upset is seen in the 100 when Crawford of Winnemucca lines up against Powers. Crawford pressed Powers hard in the state meet last year, and seems to have improved greatly this year.

Freshmen who may be good for points Saturday are: Dale, sprints; Martinez, distances; Morrison, hurdles; Nobbs, high jump, and Edeline, shotput.

Support Reno merchants.

Junior Cut Day Is Well Attended

Responding to bulletin board notices, about ten carloads of juniors last Wednesday drove to Incline at Lake Tahoe to celebrate Junior Cut Day.

The party left the A. S. U. N. building at 10 o'clock and did not return from the lake until evening. A lunch, supplied by the junior girls, was served, after which swimming and various games were played.

This is an annual affair, for which all juniors cut classes to attend.

Frosh Discipline Said To Be Good

Recent activity on the part of the upperclass committee in punishing offenders for failure to observe traditions and other reasons, seems to have impressed the freshmen who are called by that committee to work on the track.

Guy Morris, upperclass committee chairman, said Thursday that no more lists of freshmen will be posted for work on the track this week. He also stated that, although Wood had not reported any delinquents yet, he expected to have a list of offenders on track work to punish with the traditional paddings soon.

The Sagers will take over the rolling of the track and other stadium work for the remainder of the week in preparation for Saturday's meet, making it unnecessary to ask the first year men to do further work.

Leg Injury Keeps Richard on Bench

Kenyon Richard, who has been on the bench because of a leg injury, will in all probability be unable to compete in the conference meet to be held May 2 at Fresno, according to Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie.

"If the weather is very hot he may be able to compete, but otherwise it is impossible that he will do so," was Martie's comment.

Martie hopes that Richard will be in shape for the Fresno relays which will be held May 16. However, the injury may keep Richard out of all competition for the remainder of the season. As yet the date for the Olympic tryouts has not been definitely set, but it is hoped Richard will be in shape by that time.

Future Farmers Hold Three Day Meet on Campus

Ferron Bunkey Chosen State President; Delegates Selected

Fallon Representative Wins Clark Public Speaking Award

Electing Ferron Bunkey of Bunkerville president for the 1936-37 term, the Nevada division of the Future Farmers association adjourned Wednesday after a three day convention on the University of Nevada campus.

Assisting in the convention were Dr. Walter E. Clark, honorary member of the group and donor of the public speaking F.F.A. trophies; the university Aggie club, sponsor of the seed judging contest, and members of the staff of the college of agriculture.

Elected delegates to the national convention to be held this summer were Cleo Frehner, Bunkerville; Owen Hughes, Bunkerville; Herbert Hackett, Panaca, and Lowell Erconbrock, Alamo. Other officers of the F. F. A. elected Wednesday are: Jack Wittwer, Overton, vice president; Herbert Hackett, Panaca, secretary; Mario Peraldo, Fallon, treasurer; Elliott Lima, Fallon, reporter, and R. B. Jepsen, Carson City, re-elected state adviser.

Dr. Clark Makes Award

Dale Miller of Fallon was the winner of the Dr. Clark gold medal for first place in the speaking contest, talking on "Conserving the Soil Resources."

He will represent the Nevada district in the western speaking contest in Bozeman, Mont., early in June, and will compete against representatives from ten other states. Ferron Bunkey was second in this contest, receiving a silver award, while Burl Hermansen of White Pine county chapter received a bronze medal from President Clark for third place.

The chapter at Alamo was the winner of the state Future Farmers of America crops judging contest for the second consecutive time. The team, composed of Lowell Erconbrock, Leonard Wadsworth and Glendon Tait, coached by Melvin H. Leavitt, made a total of 5848 points to win the J. C. Penney company trophy.

Harlan Fricke, Edwin Sarman and Marvin Settemeyer of Douglas county were second with 5807 points. Third with 5768 points were Cleo Frehner, Ferron Bunkey and Owen Hughes of Bunkerville.

Highest individual score of 2081.75 was made by Lowell Erconbrock of Alamo, followed by Won Willis, Panaca, 2044.15, and Edwin Sarman, Gardnerville with 2041.50.

Individual Awards Made

The winning boys in the individual crop judging events included alfalfa hay, Lowell Erconbrock, Alamo; alfalfa seed, George Frey, Fallon; barley, Jack Whitlock, Lund; wheat, Lowell Erconbrock, Alamo, and potatoes, Elliott Lima, Fallon. Tied for first place in the oats judging were Owen Hughes, Ferron Bunkey, Mario Peraldo, Elliott Lima, George Frey, Jack Whitlock, Verdel Lytle, Leonard Wadsworth and Don Weillis.

Radio Amateurs To Act Tuesday

Due to the great number of social functions scheduled for April 23, the radio amateur hour sponsored by the campus musicians has been postponed until Tuesday, April 28, announced Margaret Piercy, president of the group, yesterday.

Auditions for the broadcast were held last Tuesday and the names of those persons performing will be announced later, Margaret Piercy stated.

Concert Features Violin Selections

Mrs. Harriet Ihrig Is Soloist For University Musical Tuesday Night

With violin solos by Mrs. Harriet Barnum Ihrig as the feature of the evening, the annual spring concert of the University Community Little Symphony orchestra and the combined choral clubs was given Tuesday night before an audience of several hundred townspersons.

Mrs. Ihrig's solo was "Nigun," by Bloch. As her encores she played "Pine Pines," and original composition, and "Indian Snake Dance," by Burleigh. "Pine Pines" is one number of a "Sagebrush Suite," which Mrs. Ihrig has composed during her stay in Nevada.

"Song of Man," a cantata by the choral clubs, with solos by Mrs. Dorothy Post, was well received by the audience.

The concluding number was "Greetings of Spring," better known as "The Beautiful Blue Danube," a joint rendition by the orchestra and chorus, with the duet sung by Ruth Palmer and Jean Horning.

The concert brought to a close the activity of the music department with the exception of the "campus sing" at which the orchestra and choral clubs will assist and the singing of "Song of Man" by a selected choir at the baccalaureate services May 10.

Junior electrical engineers will make their annual inspection trip to the Drum power plant, located 75 miles from Reno in the Sierra Nevada mountains, next Tuesday. This plant, the largest P. G. & E. plant in this section, has been visited by junior electrical students for the past six years, and is particularly interesting both for its size and for the tremendous height from which the water falls—approximately 1500 feet. Another unusual part of the trip, according to Prof. Sandorf, is the ride down the mountain in a flatcar which is operated by cable from a hoist at the top. This car runs on a track inclined 30-30 degrees from the vertical and drops a vertical distance of 1200 feet.
