Enrollment Mark Reaches New High As Doors Close

1006 Completed Cards Are in At Registrar's Office Thursday Night

Ratio of Men Students to Women Is Stabilized With Count of Enrollment reached a new high this fall for any one semester in the history of the University of Nevada with 1006 completed cards turned into the regis trar's office Thursday night. There are 1028 cards out, registration for teachers in this vicinity only remaining open until the end of this week. Enough of these cards are expected by the ad ministration to be completed so as to bring the final figure to more than 10 above the 1000 mark.

The new record for one semester ex ceeds the old record established in the fall of 1932 by 31 students. Nine hundred and seventy-five were enrolled that year. Last fall's enrollment came to a total of 973, two short of the 1932

Registration has been increasing sinc 1933, when only 911 students entered the University of Nevada in the fall semes There were 938 the next fall and 973 in the first semester of last year

The enrollment this fall in the fresh class is also a new record. first year students this fall beats year's record freshman class by The increase in the tota ment is more than accounted for the larger freshman class.

Sex Ratio Constant this fall's total, 594 are men and 412 are women, the proportion of the two being exactly 59-41. Any addition this week to the present total will no seriously affect this relationship.

This ratio between the men and women has not varied greatly during

One semester several years ago the proportion of men to women climbed to a little over 61 to a little less than 39. Over a two or three year period immediately following the economic upset in 1929, the enrollment of the women in proportion to the men climbed slight ly but steadily until the ratio reached about 57-43. The last two years has been the ratio swing back nearer to the

Historical Novel Written by Dean

"Manchaug," a historical novel of early colonial days, was recently written by Dean Frederick H. Sibley and published by the Christopher publishing

The book is the story of the Huguenot colony of Manchaug, depicting the manners and customs of the last years of the seventeenth century.

In a circular announcing the printing of the book, the publishing house has this to say of Dean Sibley:

"Professor Sibley is a noted authority upon applied science in the United States, and brings to his faculty work as dean of the college of engineering, University of Nevada, the mental im petus arising from a lifetime of study and research, founded upon the practical base of actual experience. He is the author of many useful text-books and monographs, but his literary interests and abilities are not confined to scientific subjects, as is clearly evident after reading this novel relating to the Huguenot settlement in New England, entitled "Manchaug," which is "some twenty leagues southwest of Boston.

'MYSTERY SNAKE MUST BE NAMED'-PROF.

The mystery snake which was donated to Professor C. L. Brown of the zoology department will soon have a name-or die as a martyr to science.

Experiments conducted to determine its origin, whether or not it is of the poisonous variety and what to do with it after it has been classified will soon be under way. Wth the aid of Dittmer's, a book giving any kind of snake information desired, it is hoped to find out at least just why the snake should be found in a shipment of bananas.

Professor Brown said that it would be a difficult task, especially when it is not known where the reptile came

Old Traditions Still in Force For Freshmen

Due to the failure on the part of th embers of the men's upperclass com nittee to hold the meeting scheduled or Tuesday night, there are no new ales or regulations for the conduct of freshmen, according to Chairman Bill Guild, who stated, however, that all rules in effect last year will be enorced strictly.

'This includes the wearing of cords by lowerclass men, use of the senior ench by anyone other than seniors and cutting campus by anyone," added

According to Giuld frequent applications of the paddle in the appropriate place will be the only authorized neans of punishment, the use of the lake being considered too severe. He had no statement to make at this ime concerning the painting of the

Cooper, Juniper Bid to Press Club

Georgia Cooper and Elizabeth Juniper vere bid into Press club at the regular meeting held Monday afternoon in the A. S. U. N. building. The bids extended at this time brings the membership of the group up to its quota of 35.

Several members who were late to the neeting were advised that fines for being late went into effect, and it was further decided that any member who was absent three times during the semester would automatically be droppe from the group for lack of interest Deciding that the club had too many activities already listed for this semeser, the annual Press club Ruckus wa ostponed until next semester.

It was thought advisable that all ledges wear newspaper caps upon the campus the day of the next A. S. U. N. meeting instead of having a skit pre sented by the new members at that

Gerald Roberts, chairman of the com mittee for the annual editors' convention, announced that plans were unde way, and also stated that letters to al he high schools inviting their newspaper editors to attend the convention will be sent out this week.

Students Recover From Operations

Miss Nelda Oppedyk, junior student, was taken to the university infirmary ast Sunday, after release from a down own hospital following an operation for appendicitis. She is reported recoverng and will be released from the inirmary in the near future.

Miss Emily Ross, instructor of mathmatics, is reported to be getting along fine, following an operation for appendicitis performed last Friday. She was allowed to receive visitors for the first resterday, and will be released from the hospital some time next

Ross Morris has returned to Lincoln hall to recuperate after an appendicitis operation performed last week. Alne will not attend classes for a few ported to be getting along nicely after an appendectomy performed last week.

Sissa Requests Address Changes

"It is very important the students who have moved to new living quarters since school started notify our office of that fact," Miss Louise M. Sissa, iniversity registrar, stated Wednesday. "It is often necessary in cases of leath and accident involving the stulent's family that we contact him juickly," she said, "and in many cases ve are unable to do this since the student has moved and left no address Miss Sissa also announced that the following students should see or get in touch with her early next week to diseuss important matters of registration: Ted Ashworth, Thomas Bafford, Sam Basta, Gladys Blair, Catherine Booth Chester Creel, Alice Jane Chism, Mrs. Lucia Devoure, Deering Dixon, Gwen Erikson, Chesley Freemouth, Sybil Furchner, Eugene Grutt, Mrs. William A. ### I. Q. Tests Given First Year Men By Prof. Irwin

How many freshmen are mental giants, how many are average, and how many are ranged in the nit-wit class? These are questions that caused wrinkles to appear on the brows of first year men and women this week as they went about the business of being tested for I. Q. rating by Professor Ralph A. Irwin of the psychology depart-

The student body will never know the answers to these questions, but Irwin will—and each frashman will -when all the tests have been corrected.

Intelligence tests are required of all freshmen. They are given as a part of the orientation course, and are used in checking up on delinquent students and helping others choose vocations best suited to their

Delta Sigs Lose Fraternity Rating On U. N. Campus

Social Group Relinquishes Its Charter; Prominent for Many Years in Student Life

Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity, which vas recognized as the official De Molay ollege fraternity, automatically passed out of existence as a social organization on the University of Nevada campus this week, reducing the number of fraternities actively functioning on the hill o seven.

Plans which were laid last spring to spirited revival of the group by Walter Stinson, special student in mining and Darrell Cain, education graduate of 1936, and several alumni members, did not materialize this summer or this semester, according to members of the fraternity, and its charter died out with the closing of registration Tues day. Walter Stinson, who did not return to chool this semester, was the only active student affiliated with the group who intended returning to the campu o revive Delta Sigma Lambda, which fell into decline the last three years Both Darrell Cain and Stinson made letermined efforts last spring to diseredit rumors current at that time that the organization had already passed into extinction.

The now-expired fraternity faces the possibility of never being reinstated on the Nevada campus in the future. Any attempt at revival of a previously established fraternity or the introduction of a new one on the campus will have to contend with more stringent rule and receive the consent of the university administration in the future, Pro fessor R. C. Thompson, dean of mer and adviser to the Interfraternity ouncil, said this week.

Functioning prominently on the U. of N. campus for nearly fourteen years, since 1922, it was a leader among the fraternities for a good part of that ime. Many of its members held im portant positions in student life while hey were attending the university. Among these campus leaders were Forest Bibb, 1935 graduate and at that ime editor of the Sagebrush, who is now editor of the Elko Independent; Ed Bath, 1934 chairman of the Mackay Day committee, and Dan Senseney, editor of the Artemisia in 1930 and now special writer for the Radio Mirror magazine in New York City.

The alumni members of Delta Sigma Lambda, who made determined efforts o stave off what was considered the nevitable exit of the group from the ampus, will not attempt to revive the organization themselves, Lawton B. Kline, 1927 graduate and instructor in modern languages, stated yesterday.

Nevada's Orator Will Be Selected

An open competition will be held early December to select an orator to repesent Nevada at the annual Pacific orensice league tournament to be held ext spring at Willamette university in Salem. Ore

According to Professor Robert Grifin, debate coach, the selection of the orator will be based upon the best writen and delivered speech upon any curent subject.

"We have exceptionally good material vailable on the campus this year, and I believe it will be possible to turn out a irst class orator if we have the full ooperation of the university," Griffin stated.

"I cannot emphasize too greatly the eed of preparation in this subject, and wish that all those who are interested would see me as soon as possible in order that I might cooperate with them in the selection of their topic and its preparation."

The vacancy on this year's debate eam is caused by the graduation of Bert Goldwater, who was runner-up in the oratorical contest of the Pacific Forensic league, tournament in Los An-

Bi-Monthly Meets Set by Block N

A regular meeting date, which calls or a session every two weeks, was established by the Block N society at heir regular meeting last night.

Meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, attend will be fined.

The society will be in complete charge of all home football games this year,

Tenative plans for the establishment of a "Stag Night" were discussed durng the meeting. A Stag Night, which would be something on the order of he women's She-Jinks, would include skits, acts and possibly interclass or interfraternity athletic contests, such as blind battle royals and wrestling Establishment of such an event would depend entirely upon the reaction of the male students to the proposal, Showalter A social program for the group was also discussed, and tentative plans made for a dance some time this semester.

Brush Tryouts End Next Week

Tryouts for the editorial staff of the Sagebrush will close next week, John Chorus Groups Carr editor, announced this week. All tryees who have successfully completed requirements will be placed on the regular staff, and their names will be added to the masthead of the Sagebrush, Carr said. Records of all tryees' work with regard to quantity and quality, missed deadlines and general interest are the basis for judging the eligibility of the tryees for staff members.

Church Is Unable To Leave Moscow

A cable received at the experiment station today reported the condition of Dr. J. E. Church as better, but he is still unable to leave the Bodkin hospital in Moscow, Russia.

The International Commission on Snow, over which Dr. Church was to preside, held its first meeting without him. It is believed that Carl Elges his assistant, and W. W. McLaughlin of the division of irrigation, will take his place. Elges said that he expected Church to arrive in Edinburgh soon.

Varsity to Engage Freshmen in Defensive Scrimmage Next Tuesday Afternoon

Foremaster Forced to the Bench As Result of Injury to Knee In Mock Game

BULLETIN

Kenny Richard, holder of the Far Western conference broad jump record, was put on the sidelines in definitely last night as a result of a broken foot received during football

Handicapped by early season injuries, Doug Dashiell, varsity mentor, last night stated that only one more scrimmage would be held this season.

"I can't take the chances of having the first string men on the sidelines for the opening game," Da-shiell said, "so we are going to hold only one more scrimmage this season."

Defensive Scrimmage Tuesday night Dashiell will run his arsity against the freshmen on defensive practice.

During the hour scrimmage Wednes day night, Harold Foremoster, 170 pound guard, slated to share the right guard position with big Harry Bradley, was put on the sidelines indefinitely as a result of a knee injury. Foremaster's injury leaves the left guard position with very little material. Bradley is suffering from a knee inury, while Brooks, another candidate for the position, is scheduled to undergo in operation next week.

Lommori to Return

Don Cole- prospect for the guard spot, also on the sidelines with an old knee njury, while Joe Lommori, regulated o the sidelines as a result of an old ack injury received in an intramural ball game, is expected to return to acive service next week.

Holding down the other guard position s Louis Nash, veteran of last year, and Tom Morris, letterman of two years ago, who will battle to get the first call spot. Stressing the need of good field generalship, Dashiell is meeting every night with John Robb, John Ohrt, Robert Metten, Kenny Richard, Neal Campbell and Bill Cashill in play calling. These men will be counted on to guide the team during Weakness Disclosed The most serious weakness disclosed n Wednesday's practice were the lack of timing and good blocking.

During the early phases of the pracice the backfield men consistently lost their timing and met with their interference piling up the play. In the later stages, however, after becoming accustomed to the contact, they smoothed out their timing and split the frosh line for good gains.

Particularly impressive was the passing. On the tossing end John fect passes into the hands of Cleary, McKinnon and McDow for healthy

Poor Blocking The weakest point of the varsity atack seemed to be their blocking. Losing their timing the Packsters failed many times in making contact and taking their men out of the play. This lefect, according to Dashiell, will be worked on until the timing is perfected and the blocks completed. Joe Cleary, wingman on last year's squad, and Kenny Richard, holder of the Far Western conference broad jump record, turned out for the squad The appearance of Cleary strengthens the end position, and he is slated to give Sam Basta a battle for the end position, while Richard is expected to materially aid the squad by making another man for the tailback position.

It is not yet known whether or no W. A. A. and the Sagens will cooper ate in the sales at these games.

Tea Will Climax Y. W. C. A. Drive Fine Arts Group

Freshman women will be the hon ored guests at the annual Y. W. C. A tea for all campus women Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 at Manzanita

This affair is the climax of the an nual Y. W. C. A. membership drive, which will be formally closed before the first general meeting, to be held

A fashion show of fall and winter styles will be the feature of the after noon's entertainment. As in the past the modeling will be done by two members from each sorority and two from Manzanita Hall association. Clothes loaned by local merchants will be worn

Arrangements were made for the tea in a meeting of the campus Y. W. C A. cabinet in Artemisia hall Tuesday night. President Chrissie Finn and members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet will be the hostesses for the affair.

The tea has previously been held each year during the second week of the fall semester. It was postponed this year in compliance with the new Pan-Hellenic rules which forbid upper class women in the vicinity of Manza nita hall during sorority rushing.

Brown, Lyon Married At Capital Saturday

Surprising their friends, George Brown and Eloise Lyon withdrew from the university last Friday and were married in Carson City on Saturday. Leaving early Sunday morning, the couple drove to Alameda, Calif., where they will spend a short honeymoon visiting the groom's relatives and friends They plan to make their home in southern Oregon, where the groom will be manager of his father's real estate hold-

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend J. L. Harvey of the Presbyterian church. Georgia McFadden and Robert Lauten presided as witnesses. Others present were John Burgess and Mrs. Joe Lyon.

Brown was a sophomore, having transferred from San Francisco junior college in 1935, and is affiliated with Sigma Nu, social fraternity. Miss Lyon is a graduate of the Humboldt county high school and had begun her second ber of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Miss Nina Stinson and Miss Catherine Armstrong, former students of the University of Nevada, were visitors here this week. They were on their way to Berkeley, where they plan to enter

Wa-Ne-Va Lodge May Be Rented

Arrangements have been made to rent he lodge owned by the Women's Athetic association, Wa-Ne-Va, at Galena creek, during the coming winter.

Mrs. Mae Simas, W. A. A. president; Emily Tholl and Miss Peggy Tolton visited the lodge last week and found it in a dilapidated condition. Repair sesvices were donated by members of the transient relief camp stationed there.

The fact that the government established its transient relief camp near the women's cabin, last year, Mrs. Simas said, no longer makes it an ideal spot for picnics and other recreational ctivities of Nevada. It is possible that the lodge will be sold after the year of renting is up.

28 Coed Pledges Are Reno Women; Sparks Is Second

California and Montana Are Only Other States Listed With Five Women

Houses End Two Weeks' Rush Period With 65 Frosh Women Accepting Bids

Twenty-eight coeds or approximately 43 per cent of the total sorority pledge list released last Saturday are Reno

Of the 65 pledged, Delta Delta Delta pledged 9, Gamma Phi Beta 5, Pi Beta Phi 8, Kappa Alpha Theta 5 and Beta Sigma Omicron 1, from Reno.

Sparks contributed the second largest number of pledges, with seven women accepting insignias emblematic of some Greek organization. Pi Beta Phi pledged four of the seven rushees, while Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Delta Delta added one and two, respectively.

California was represented by four women. Two of these joined Pi Beta Phi and one each pledged Gamma Phi Beta and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Only one state other than California was represented, that being Montana and the representative pledging Tri-Delt.

Fallon, Las Vegas and Gardnerville each was represented by four freshman women in the final list. All Gardnerville women accepted the button of one house, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Tonopah sent two pledges, both accepting the pin of Gamma Phi Beta. Elko had the names of two former high school students on the list. Wadsworth contributed two sorority women, both of whom added their names to the role of Beta Sigma Omicron.

With one representative each were Ely, Fernley, Hawthorne, Carson City, Smith Valley and Winnemucca.

Kappa Alpha Theta brought its pledge to 16 when it pledged Jean Chism as lent, after the official list had bee 58 ased.

enrhe final list of the women pledged by the various houses with the home of the pledges follows:

LET'S CHANGE IT

With the rushing season over and approximately 70 women pledged by the various sororities, two very glaring faults—the invitation system and the lack of Pan-Hellenic authority-stand out in the new set of rules under which rushing was carried on this year.

In one of these faults lies the major reason why the sororities always fail to comply with any set of rules. In the second fault lies the thing that robs the new set-up of a great deal of its value. It is this second flaw, by no means a minor one, but small in comparison to the greater defect, that places the emphasis where it does not belong—on the importance of rushees rather than the sororities

The invitation list posted on the bulletin board prior to each rushing party made it common knowledge just what girls were being rushed. While this system of sending invitations through Dean Mack's office undoubtedly takes a great deal of trouble out of the hands of the houses and removes a great deal of the personal contact that is supposedly "taboo," it defeats its own purpose. The names of those lucky enough to receive invitations are posted for the campus to read. Thus all importance is placed on these few rushees who are only a small part of the student body. If the houses wish to pick their girls rather than have the girls pick them, it would be well for them to consider that the emphasis should be placed on them rather than on a few freshman women.

This emphasis of individuals rather than groups is, however, minor in comparison with the great fault that underlies the Pan-Hellenic set-up at Nevada.

Last Thursday Pan-Hellenic council met and reprimanded several houses for infractions of the rushing rules. An occasional reprimand or a reminder seems to be the extent of Pan-Hellenie's power. It was known that each house was guilty and yet superficial explanations were accepted and the guilty houses got off with the reminder that more drastic action would be taken in the future.

Pleading that "it doesn't say we couldn't in the rules," these houses evaded the issue. Only two possible alternatives appear. The suggestion that the rules be made absolutely explicit is the first that comes naturally to mind. Even if this were done it would have no effect on the houses who will side-step if they know

The elimination of all rules and introduction of a rushing system similar to that employed by fraternities is the other possibility. Such a system would hardly be popular with the sorority women, who prefer the more formal way of doing things. However, it seems an eventual step if the six Greek letter houses fail to obey the rules and regulations they set up for their own conduct.

SHOULD IT BE 'CLARK FIELD'?

In his interfraternity bean feed address, Silas E. Ross, U. of N. graduate and member of the board of regents, suggested that the twenty-six acres now being acquired by the university through the efforts of Dr. Walter E. Clark, president, should be given the name "Clark field" as a tribute of appreciation.

The Sagebrush feels that Ross struck a right note when he made this suggestion; that it is no more than fitting that a dream of years, cherished by Dr. Clark, which finally bore fruit should be given his name, to serve as a lasting memorial when the present generation of college students have been graduated and strangers to the university come on to take their places.

WHAT'S WRONG, UPPERCLASS MEN?

The meeting of the men's upperclass committee, called by Bill Guild, chairman, for 8 p. m. Tuesday, turned out to be an ironical indication of what "Nevada's Year" is going to be, so far as the observation of traditions is concerned, for the only two to show up by 8:30 were Guild and Stan McNair, Lincoln Hall representative.

After scheduling the meeting for Tuesday only when it had been ascertained that this was the most convenient time for all members to be present, Guild was finally forced to give up and

It seems hardly necessary to point out the excellent example the upperclass committee sets up for freshmen to follow, because this is the group which is supposed to see that frosh attend student body meetings, stay off the senior benches, refrain from "cutting" the campus and abide by the myriad other regulations laid down in print in the frosh handbook.

These are the men to whom Nevada looks to build the morale of the freshmen, as well as sustain the morale of the upperclass men and women who do not happen to be on the committees.

Probably the strongest lesson taught in the "bible" is that which reads, "The men's upperclass committee has the power to paddle, lake or recommend the suspension of study body privileges of any student who breaks campus traditions."

During the past two years, there has been a steady decline in the importance of traditions and of their enforcement in the minds of the students. During these years the upperclass committee has been singularly inactive. The Sagebrush feels that this condition can be easily remedied if the upperclass group uses the power vested in it by the Associated Students, and forces those students who fail to recognize the importance of traditions to become conscious of them.

The upperclass committee is supposedly composed of handpicked men, chosen for their brilliant work and spirit displayed on various occasions in the past. Now that they have been chosen, t is their duty to the university to see that traditions, time honored, are observed and obeyed; and not to adopt the idea that their names shall stand as a symbol of a mythical law-enforcement group to strike terror to the hearts of freshmen.

The Pedagogue

Blue Key is still struggling along with ts weightiest problem—what to do with he social hour stag line. The best idea yet, we understand, is going to be emoloyed next Wednesday. The Keyers are going to put up a rope to keep the anguid males in their own pasture—and out of the way.

With the completion of the purchase of the new acreage north of the campus by the university, we are wondering if our fond hopes of last year are to be realized. Perhaps a new gymnasium is just in the offing. If the present interest in university athletics continues to grow as it has in the past six months, then our hopes may become realities. Only those people who are closely connected with the physical education department are aware of the insufficient housing of the men's and women's athletic endeavors. Do we hear any comment from those students who would be affected by such an undertaking?

It is beginning to look as if Nevada headed for its big year. First, the he college is enrolled this year. Secrar's office this year. Last and by no 8:10? neans least, is the fact that the final thousand mark by tomorrow.

Speaking of repairs and changes made ystem in the library. With the old able to. system it meant a headache and eye strain if much studying was done at ight in the library. It was thoughtful f someone to suggest such a change Here's to better studying and fewer

However, the expansion will not be without its problems. New pedigrees of competition such as touch football, are bound to spring up. Take touch football for an instance If it were installed when would it be played? In conjunction with the regular football season? We hope not. If we can rely upon the advice and complaints of past coaches that would mean the staravation of varsity teams. The interest now, even without touch football, looks like it is on the wane. Seventy-eight went out for football in 1927. Forty-five went out last year. Thirty-five are out this year and that is the cream of the campus. God help the skimmed milk-it's out doing and dying for the dear old "house."

Where, oh, where, in the present ntramural sports program is there any coom for any added sports? The competition is now so overcrowded that the Freeks hardly know whether they are oming or going. The program has grown without respect to unity or ounds. It has become increasingly ifficult to run off the schedules without mixups, forfeitures and a noticeable failing of interest. They are giving ping-pong a trial. By 1940, we predict, if additions keep on, the intramural sports program will be so large that each house will have to hand out ficient manpower to handle the various

Everything aside, we sincerely believe that the intramural program should be revised and revamped from stem to tern with the purpose of eliminating all the excess sports and to unify the whole thing. We should match the ad-welcomes letters to the editor on important questions confronting students, and will print them anonymously if desired, so long as the identity of the writer is known to the editor. Letters to the editor do not necessarily reflect the policy of the Sagebrush.)

Editor Sagebrush-It seems that quite few students have particular likes and dislikes at our fair college, but lew are willing to voice their opinions That is one reason why I am writing this and the other is that I am n full sympathy with these believers. I personally can see no reason why vomen students of our university living n dormitories have had taken away from them one of their late nights. Particularly impressive were John Willard of Fallon, Lawson Sullivan and Frank Beloso of Reno, Leonard Carpenter of Las Vegas, Riley Powell, Henry Clayton and Al Ma-

Willard at center showed plenty of fight and is as fast as they come. Sullivan at tackle continually broke up plays tagged for the goal line, while another big fellow, Clayton, made the varsity hop until he received a cut over the eye and was forced to the sidelines.

Beloso, flash of last year's Reno team, looked impressive in the one time he carried the ball after intercepting a pass and made his elusive way down the field for many yards; on the de fensive he hit hard and stopped many Carpenter at right end and Riley Powell at guard proved to be thorns in the side of the varsity all afternoon. Piling up interference and making almost impossible tackles, these two youngsters will be counted on plenty next year.

Maroni in the defensive half position broke up passes and proved to be a plenty fast man in covering plays.

The way John Ohrt and Joe Cleary click on pass plays would soften any old grad's hardened arteries. Cleary and Ohrt work together plenty nice and will be a hard combination to stop.

Ohrt seems to have a cinch on the tailback position, but Bob Metten, former Las Vegas star, is improving with each practice and will make Johnny step to keep the first call spot. # Forestry Course Arouses Interest

With approximately half of the entire arollment of the college of agriculture signed up for the new pre-forestry and A. T. O. and S. A. E. Houses; A. Lehenbauer, professor of biology and range management course, Dr. Philip director of the new division, believes it will be one of the most popular courses ever offered in the college.

The pre-forestry course was offered for the first time last year and was received with much interest from the beginning. Students are given training which enables them to enter a regular forestry school. The four year course of training is preferred by many universities, said Lehenbauer, but a student may at the end of his second year in pre-forestry, if their requirements are satisfactory, enter any of the regular forestry schools.

The preparatory course being offered University of Nevada is unique Kathleen Hansen. that its students are required to take some courses in all three of the colleges on the campus—agriculture, arts and science and engineering. Subrange through English, business administration, accounting, most of the sciences, mathematics and surveying.

Lehenbauer believes that the sudden nterest in this field is due to the policy of the present administration with regard to the conservation of natural resources and the taking over of more acreage and larger appropriations.
