

3 Seniors Are Bid To Phi Kappa Phi Honorary Group

Allen, Bowman, De Nevi Receive Notice of Their Acceptance to Honorary Society

Executive Council Names New Committees to Serve for the Coming Year

In recognition of their outstanding scholarship, three senior students were bid to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary, last night.

Charles Allen, Betty Bowman and Ida Louise De Nevi, with averages ranging from 1.42 to better for three years' work, were elected to membership.

Initiation ceremonies will be held at Manzanita hall Sunday morning at 8:30, followed by a breakfast at which Dean Frederick Sibley, president of the group, will give the welcoming address.

Charles Allen, with an average of 1.36 for six semesters of work, in which he carried 110 hours, is active in campus affairs as well as scholarship. This year he heads the Associated Engineers, a member of Scabbard and Blade and acts as comanager of the university tumbling team. Allen is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity from Susanville.

Betty Bowman, mining student, has been outstanding in many campus activities during her three years. Miss Bowman is secretary of the Associated Engineers, a member of the Women's Athletic association, Gothic N and Press club. She has been active on campus publications and has served on several student committees. Miss Bowman is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority and is a Reno girl. Her average was 1.38 for 109 hours.

Ida De Nevi, with an average of 1.42 on 104 hours, is the only Arts and Science student to be named to the group. She is a member of Chi Delta Phi, honorary English society, and is from Dayton.

With the announcement of the new members the executive council of Phi Kappa Phi for 1936 and 1937 announced committees for the coming year.

Auditing committee—H. P. Boardman (chairman), F. L. Bixby, R. Irwin; scholarship—G. W. Sears (chairman), F. W. Trainer, C. C. Smith; banquet—Loretta Miller (chairman), Emily Ross, T. H. Post; reception—V. E. Scott (chairman), A. Lough, S. Lewis; special speakers—Meryl Deming (chairman), Margaret Mack, G. B. Blair; nominating officers—J. A. Carpenter (chairman), S. G. Palmer, Mrs. L. Ferris; graduate, undergraduate and alumni—S. W. Leifson (chairman), L. W. Hamman, A. L. Higginbotham; faculty—William Smythe (chairman), Kruz Vanstrom and Frederick Wood.

45 Prep Editors May Attend Meet

Journalism Teachers to Discuss Problems Met by High School Newspapers

Invitations to attend the Press club editors' convention have been sent to forty-five high schools in Nevada and northern California. Gerald Roberts, head of the committee in charge of the conclave, said today.

Representatives from high school newspapers and yearbooks will discuss mutual problems during the three day conference, set for November 12, 13 and 14.

Inez MacGillivray '36 will lead a discussion of high school newspaper problems. Harvey Dondero, graduate from the university and brother of Katherine Dondero, A. W. S. president last year, will lead a discussion on "What Shall We Do About Advertising in the High School Newspaper?"

A demonstration of mimeograph machines and of the variety typewriter will be a part of the program planned for the prep school journalists. The group will have a round table discussion on the problem of publishing a high school paper in the community newspaper.

The women delegates to the convention will be housed in Manzanita hall, and the men delegates will stay at the various fraternity houses. The high school editors will be guests of the university at the Chico-Nevada football game Saturday, November 14.

This is the third annual convention for high school editors sponsored by the Press club. The committee in charge, headed by Gerald Roberts, is made up of Mary Millard, Ethel Kent, Winnie Hiltone, Nina Boczkiewicz, Charles Doherty, Ty Cobb, Max Jensen and Ruth Goldsworthy.

GRUBIC WITHDRAWS

Bob Grubic, sophomore arts and science student and resident of Lincoln hall, withdrew from his classes Tuesday. Grubic plans to return to his home in Ruth some time next week.

Brush Will Name 'Average' Nevada Girl for Frolic

Who is the "Average Nevada Coed"?

The long sought for answer of the question will be settled Friday night when the Sagebrush runs the exclusive story of the average girl.

Of the eighteen coeds practicing nightly for the Wolves' Frolic chorus, one of them is going to be crowned by the Sagebrush as the average girl.

Trying out for the chorus, which will be cut to sixteen, are Doris Bath, Lola Yvonne Stoddard, Gene Wines, Virginia Morgan, Gail Moore, Esther Romano, Frances Nichols, Esther Laiola, Pat Lannon, Margaret Hussman, Charlotte Johnson, Ellen Hoffman, Louise Morston, Aldene Branch, Janet Holcomb and Mary Alice Plath.

150 Actors Ready For Wolves' Frolic

Twenty-one Acts Will Display Campus Talent for Annual Production

Hoping for a banner year in the annual Homecoming day show, the Wolves Frolic, consisting of student talent, more than 150 students prepared to go through their paces next Friday night for the annual production.

Featuring four chorus routines in the extravaganza, under the direction of Louise Mortensen, comely coeds will display university student charm with varied soft shoe and tap dances.

The eighteen girls reporting nightly for practice are all vying for the honor of the "average Nevada girl," to be chosen next Friday afternoon from the measurements of the dancers obtained by costume measurements. The winner, who will be named "Average Nevada Girl," must be a regularly enrolled student, and will be announced Friday night.

With twenty-one acts, varying from a trained horse performance to a men's chorus, William C. Miller, veteran campus director, is optimistic over the possibilities of the show. He said, "It should go over, but everything is up to performers when they are on the stage."

Acts scheduled for the show are the chorus, two blackouts, Theta-Lambda Chi skit, Gamma Phi Beta skit, piano solo, girls' trio, Sigma Phi Sigma act, A. T. O. skit, Tri-Delt act, glee club, Sagers' act, solo dance, magician act, solo guitar and the band numbers.

Schedule Drawn For Prexy Meet

Tentative plans for meetings and entertainment for the high school presidents' convention were drafted by the committee this week, according to Kirk Fairhurst, chairman.

With letters already sent out to 36 high schools in Nevada and northeastern California, the prexies will convene here on November 12, 13 and 14.

Registration will begin early Thursday morning, followed by a meeting in the A. S. U. N. building. In the afternoon they will attend a student body meeting at Sparks high school. The weekly social hour will be held in the gym that night starting at 7 o'clock, and the visiting presidents will be the guests of Blue Key.

The second meeting is scheduled for Friday morning, following which they will attend the A. S. U. N. meeting and a student body meeting at Reno high school.

The traditional matinee dance will be given in their honor by Reno high on Friday afternoon. The football rally will be the high spot in the evening.

Saturday they will meet for the third and last time and will wind up their conclave at the football game in the afternoon.

During the meetings, plans call for talks by Bill Cashill, Betty McCulston and by heads of various organizations, with Campus Players, Blue Key, publications board and several others definitely scheduled, Fairhurst said.

Working with Fairhurst on arrangements for this annual convention are Margaret Pierce, Barbara Ferron, Dick Solt, Jack Elliott, Hudson Lee, Ned Morehouse and Jessie McClure.

Students Favor Roosevelt to Win In Coming Race

212 Out of 332 Campus Voters Express Faith in Present White House Occupant

Six Students, One Professor Cast Ballots Favoring Lemke, Thomas and Browder

Students this week gave President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for reelection, more than 2-to-1 majority over his rival Republican candidate, Alfred M. Landon, in a straw vote conducted by the U. of N. Sagebrush during the last few days to determine the composite campus attitude towards the candidates.

Roosevelt polled 218 votes among the 332 balloting students and faculty members, with the young men and women giving the present White House occupant 212 of their votes, while the 14 faculty members who participated in the poll favored the president with 6 votes.

Landon was given a total of 107 votes for president, with 100 students choosing him as the highest official in the land, while the number of faculty votes for the Republican nominee totaled 7.

This year's straw ballot, the first conducted by the Sagebrush on a political question since the Roosevelt-Hoover campaign of 1932, was participated in by 318 students, a little less than one-third of the total registration. About one-fourth of the students voting, however, are eligible to cast their ballots at the deciding election on November 3, which was more or less representative of the total campus sentiment.

Candidates of the minor parties received little or no serious consideration from the students, who wrote in the names of the nominees of the Socialist, Union and Communist presidential aspirants—Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader, was voted in by two students and one faculty member. The Union party candidate, William Lemke, and the nominee of the Communist ticket, Earl Browder, each received two votes, both of the latter being cast by students.

Sagebrush canvassers scoured the campus this morning with ballots, presenting as many individual students and faculty members with the official ballot as could be reached. During the earlier part of the week some 50 students placed their votes, which were published in the Sagebrush last week, in the ballot box in the Student Union building.

Student interest in the spirited campaigns this year to elect a new president or retain the present head has reached an unusual pitch, with clubs favoring both parties actively functioning on the campus at present and boosting their individual candidate.

In the last presidential straw ballot on the campus in October, 1932, the Republican candidate, Herbert Hoover, polled 59 more votes than his rival candidate, of the Democratic party, Franklin D. Roosevelt. At that time 319 students expressed their presidential choice with 178 students favoring Hoover and 119 voting for Roosevelt.

Blue Key Starts Frolic Ticket Sale

Wolves' Frolic tickets were placed on sale by the members of Blue Key, honorary upperclass society, this week.

Blue Key members collect the money and give receipts. These receipts must be exchanged for reservations at the Gramda theater box office. Beginning Monday, October 19, the box office will be open daily from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Cletus Libbey, Blue Key head, stated this week.

Each member was given a quota of tickets to sell. These tickets range in price from $1 to $1.50, with 50 cent and 75 cent seats on sale at the downtown box office only.

Heating Plant Head Injures Right Hand

Thomas Carrol, superintendent of the campus heating plant, is minus about one-half inch of the thumb on his right hand as a result of an accident in the mechanical engineering laboratory yesterday morning.

Carrol was attempting to saw a rough piece of board with one of the power saws when the mishap occurred.

Thomas visited the doctor, had the injured member treated and bandaged, and went back to work.

4 HOMECOMING INVITATIONS ARE RETURNED

Emile Gezelin, chairman of the 1936 Homecoming committee and official director in charge of mailing invitations to the alumni scattered on all parts of the globe, doesn't know whether an unknown movement is taking place to move to other locations some of the small places in Nevada or whether someone is kidding him.

Anyway, he found out this week that the postoffice facilities serving Nevada did not believe him and his secretary when they addressed several of the envelopes containing the official invitations.

Back to the Student Union building came several of the letters, with the pungent notation stamped on the outside, "No such office in state named."

The letters were in the mails Monday afternoon but on Tuesday morning four unaccepted invitations lay on Gezelin's desk and four alumni received no invitations.

Some of the points in Nevada to which the letters were addressed and promptly returned include "Yellow Tiger Mine, National Nevada," "Hilltop, Nev.," "Vulture Mine, Wickburg, Nev.," and "Starr Valley, Nev."

U. N. Debaters May Enter Meet On November 23

Nevada Has Material and Funds For Western Tourney Forum At Pasadena, Calif.

Plans will be discussed next Tuesday night by the members of the university debate team as to the possibilities of entering the Western Association Forensic tournament at Pasadena on November 23.

If possible, two or three two-men teams will be sent to compete in the tournament, which will attract approximately 300 speakers from every university, college and junior college in the west.

"This tournament may be said to be similar to debating as the open golf tournament is to the golfing world," Professor Robert Griffin, debate coach, stated.

"Nevada has never before entered this tournament largely because of the fact that we have been handicapped in the past both by a lack of funds and a lack of material. This year the prospects are better than they have been at any other time, and if the necessary arrangements can be completed Nevada will be a ranking competitor in the tournament."

This tournament is sponsored by the Redlands university and will be held in Pasadena on November 23, 24 and 25. It will include debates, orations, extemporaneous and after-dinner speeches, and is expected to draw the largest assemblage of speakers of any tournament to be held on the coast this year.

Nevada's debate record for the past season was marked with distinction both in the debate and the oratorical competitions. Bert Goldwater was runner-up in the oratorical tournament of the Pacific Forensic tournament last April in Los Angeles. The team of Lewis Pulsipher and Bill Cashill reached the debate semi-finals in the same tournament.

Members of the present debate team include Emile Gezelin, Charles Doherty, Lewis Pulsipher, Bill Cashill, Homer Herz, Norrisson Beatty, Louis Weiner and Bob Miller.

Net Doubles Play Ends First Week

Play in the intramural tennis doubles got under way this week with every team engaging in the battle for the Greek championship.

Alpha Tau Omega defeated Lincoln Hall and Sigma Phi Sigma won by default from Beta Kappa. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won from Phi Sigma Kappa by default while the Sigma Nu team was downing the Independents. Lambda Chi Alpha broke into the win column by defeating Lincoln Hall, and the Sigma Phi Sigma team downed Alpha Tau Omega. Today the Independents tangle with Alpha Tau Omega while Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu will clash.

Next week's play will find Sigma Nu playing Lincoln Hall on Monday, with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Beta Kappa also clashing on this date. Other games scheduled for the week are: Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Independents; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Nu; Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Beta Kappa vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; Independents vs. Lincoln Hall; Sigma Nu vs. Sigma Phi Sigma.

No games will be played on Friday, time out being taken for the Homecoming celebration.

2 U. N. Students Will Take Part In Rhodes Tryout

Regulations Call for Two Years' Course of Study at Oxford for Winning Students

Alden Sibley Is Last U. N. Man To Be Granted Scholarship to English School

With three weeks left until the closing date of the annual Rhodes Scholarship competition, two Arts and Science students have announced their candidacy as representatives of the university, Dean Maxwell Adams, chairman of the university committee, announced yesterday. He refused to divulge their names.

"The Nevada state committee is allowed to send three representatives to Los Angeles for the final competition on December 21, and with this as an incentive we anticipate a large increase in the number of candidates within the next three weeks," Dean Adams stated.

Any university student who has completed at least two years, and preferably three years, of university work and who is between the ages of 19 and 25 is eligible to compete for the scholarship, the dean reported.

$2000 Stipend

The award carries a stipend of approximately two thousand dollars each year for two years' study at Oxford University in England," he said.

"And due to the fact that Nevada has not placed a candidate in Oxford for the last three years, the conditions are highly favorable that one of the three candidates representing Nevada will be selected this year."

Two examinations will be held to determine the four men who will be selected from the six western states including California, Arizona, Utah, Oregon, Washington and Nevada.

3 Men per State

Each state will select three men as its representatives. These three men are selected from an oral examination which will be given in Reno for the Nevada candidates early in December at the Riverside hotel. The state representatives then journey to Los Angeles where four out of their number are selected on December 21 by oral examination as the 1936 Rhodes scholars.

Alden Sibley, son of Dean Frederick H. Sibley of the college of engineering, was the last Nevada student to be granted a scholarship. Sibley received an award in physics in 1932.

Military Honorary Will Initiate 14

Formal initiation of fourteen junior Scabbard and Blade members will be held December 3 at the old Barracks.

Ben Morehouse, Francis Everett, Basil Kehoe, Dorence Jameson, Paul Aznarez, Tom Shone, Robert Quirk, Kenneth Tedford, Robert-Leaver, Hollis McKinnon, Harold Foremaster, Herman Owens, William Johnstone and Howard Evans are the fourteen initiates to be taken into this organization.

Morehouse will be the officer of the day. He is in charge of all the affairs that take place within his jurisdiction. Next in command is Kehoe, sergeant of the guard, who has little authority but many responsibilities to share with the officer of the day.

Following in rank are the corporals of the first, second and third relief, who are Jameson, Johnstone, and Aznarez, respectively.

Privates of the first relief are Shone, Everett and Quirk. Second relief are Tedford, Leaver and McKinnon. Third relief are Foremaster, Owens and Evans.

Charles Allen, chairman of the committee, stated today that each officer will have to memorize the twelve general orders and be able to recite them without hesitation when questioned.

Guy Morris, captain of Scabbard and Blade, said there will be a meeting early next week to discuss the initiation and decide upon a representative to send to the national convention.

Campus Democrats Plan Get-Together

The first get-together of the newly organized campus Democrats will be held tomorrow under the direction of Joe Cleary, president of the organization.

"We invite every student on the campus, regardless of political affiliation, to attend and guarantee each and every one of those present a good time," Cleary said.

The temporary meeting place will be in front of the A. S. U. N. building tomorrow at 2 p. m., from where transportation will be available to the scene of the activities.

"There will be adequate refreshments for everyone present, regardless of how many," Cleary stated.

'Cinches' Mailed To 457 Students By Miss Sissa

Men Students Receive More Notices Than Women; S. A. E. Leads Fraternities

A grand total of 457 cinches were placed in the collective mail boxes of university students this morning, warning them that if they do not show a better understanding of their studies, and then make the professors believe them, that they will fail in their courses.

The men students held their previously established reputation for receiving more delinquent notices than the coeds, by meriting 345 of the slips while the women were given 112.

In the division of the number of students getting the "little white slips," 210 men students and 78 women students qualified for the total.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity received more notices than any other men's social group, totaling 42, with 23 among the pledges and 19 among the members, while the Pi Beta Phi merited 17 cinches to lead the sororities, with 11 for the members and 6 for the pledges.

Beta Kappa received 17 notices and Beta Sigma Omicron received 3 slips to be at the bottom of the list among the social groups.

The number for Lincoln Hall and Alpha Delta Theta were not obtained late this afternoon.

Following are the fraternities and sororities in rank:
Sigma Alpha Epsilon 42, Phi Sigma Kappa 39, Sigma Nu 31, Sigma Phi Sigma 27, Lambda Chi 27, Alpha Tau Omega 20, Pi Beta Phi 17, Gamma Phi Beta 12, Delta Delta Delta 10, Kappa Alpha Theta 8 and Beta Sigma Omicron 3.

Cadet Marshals To Lead Parade

Guy Morris Announces Complete Line of March for Annual Homecoming Parade

The University of Nevada R.O.T.C. corps and Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary fraternity, have completed all plans for their part in the annual Homecoming Day parade.

Cadet Captain Guy Morris will act as parade marshal in full charge. Morris announced yesterday that the placing of all floats and organizations entered had been completed and the parade would consist of five sections. He said the line of march would be south on Virginia street to Mill street, east on Mill street to Center street, north on Center street to Second street, west on Second to Sierra and north on Sierra to Fourth street, where the parade will disband.

Morris said that the new cadet officers who have been appointed recently to cope with the increased enrollment in the corps have not yet received their uniforms. However, they will act as marshals for the various sections of the parade and have been assigned as follows:

Section one.....Dorrence Jameson
Section two.....Robert Leaver
Section three.....Ben Morehouse
Section four.....Thomas Shone
Section five.....Kenneth Tedford

The parade will form on Ninth street and the band and military unit will lead off in Section one.

Alumni Expect Record Turnout

Extensive preparations for the annual alumni participation in the Homecoming celebration are being made this week.

Hoyt Martin, president of the alumni association, said yesterday that, due to the revival of school spirit at the university and universal confidence in the Wolf Pack under the coaching of Doug Dashiell, there will be a record attendance at the Idaho game.

A record attendance is also expected at the annual alumni banquet, which is to be held Friday evening at the Hotel Riverside, not at the Century club as previously announced.

Especially honored will be delegates from three newly formed chapters in New York City, Honolulu and Washington, D. C.

Everything possible has been done to make the annual dinner the most enjoyable gathering that has ever been held. Martin promises an exceptionally good speech from Thomas P. Brown '99, whose father was president of the U. of N. from 1887 to 1889.

As usual, grads will be seated with their own classmates. School yells and community singing will be featured.

The women's upperclass committee wishes to warn all freshman women that the only excuses accepted for failure to take part in the N painting tomorrow will be sickness and work. Freshmen going to the Nevada-Cal Aggie game will not be excused. Mary Millard, Chairman.

Mackay Will Open Annual Celebration By Secret Signal

Program Expected by Committee To Draw Largest Crowd in Homecoming History

Visiting Alumni to Register in Student Union Building From 9 to 11:30 Friday, Saturday

Clarence H. Mackay, although unable to be present, will give the signal Thursday night for the official opening of the seventeenth annual Homecoming celebration when the activities that will feature the three-day festival begin on Mackay field at that time.

The manner in which the university's benefactor will participate in the opening will be kept a secret until the appropriate time, Emile Gezelin, chairman of the Homecoming Day committee, stated yesterday.

Plans Completed

Whipping final plans into completed form at their last meeting Wednesday afternoon, the committee expects the celebration to be one of the biggest and most successful ever staged for the return of the alumni to the U. of N. campus, where they will be the honored guests of students, university and townspeople on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Crowded with attractive events, the program for the three days' festivities is expected by Gezelin and the committee to bring once more to their alma mater one of the largest groups of alumni from points all over the world to participate in the celebration set aside for them.

With the Wolves' Frolic, which will begin at 8:15 Friday evening in the Granada theater; the football tussle between the Wolves of Nevada and the Vandals of the University of Idaho on Mackay field at 2:15 Saturday afternoon, and the mammoth parade on the downtown streets of Reno Saturday morning at 11:30 attracting the most attention from students and alumni, the Homecoming Day program is by no means complete with these events, according to Gezelin.

N To Be Lighted

The darkness centering around Mackay field Thursday night at 7:30 will be turned into daylight when the huge pile of boxes and other burnable material burst into flame and the Shell Oil company fireworks display splits the night air with its noise and colors the darkness above the field with its glow. Off in the distance on Peavine mountain the block N will light up with the red flames of numerous flares.

With these official beginnings and the several speeches and pep talks by President Clark, Doug Dashiell, Col. James Scroggum, Emile Gezelin, Sam Zackheim and prominent alumni at the annual rally, the 1936 Homecoming festivities will get under way.

Skiers Organize Club on Campus

Preparing for the coming winter sports season, Wayne Poulsen and Ed Rose, university veterans of the ski trails, this week posted a list of potential members of a university ski club which will be organized next week.

Enlisting the aid of university students who have had ski training, Poulsen said that the club was assured of backing this year.

Last year the A. S. U. N. provided funds to sponsor the team which captured third place in the coveted Yosemite competition against California, University of Washington and many other coast colleges, and it is hoped that the university may see fit to back the team this year.

Poulsen, one of the leading skiers on the Pacific coast, by virtue of his winning the California class B jumping championship last season, will act as coach of the squad, and will be aided by Ed Rose.

"All university students," Rose said, "are welcome to join the club. The first meeting will be held some time next week."

Social Hour Season To End November 4

November 4 will probably wind up this season, according to Tom Morris, chairman of the Blue Key social hours committee, this week. He gave as reason the fact that students would have to clear the gym on practice nights for the intramural basketball squads.

Wednesday's social hour will be postponed until the week following Homecoming in order to avoid conflicting with the annual celebration. Morris added. He also stated that all the get-togethers up to the present time have been social and financial successes.

Alumni Bulletin To Be Distributed To Nevada Grads

'Gay Nineties' Article Is Feature Of New Book Edited by Prof. Harwood

Undergraduates Contribute to Second Edition of Booklet Released Thursday

With eighteen interesting articles dealing with subjects ranging from university life in the last century to today's specific student and alumni problems between its gray covers, the 1936 "Alumni Issue of the University of Nevada Bulletin" was received here Wednesday by Professor Paul A. Harwood, editor of the yearly edition, and some 2500 copies of the publication were started on their way to alumni all over the world yesterday morning, Harwood announced.

Contrasting the college life of the "Gay Nineties" with the student life of today, Thomas Pollok Brown, 1899 graduate and son of Leroy D. Brown, president of the University of Nevada from 1887 to 1889, tells in "Along the Skyline of Memory," the feature of the issue, his experiences in a day when the university had a registration of thirty-five students and a faculty of two members. One of the faculty was President Brown, the university's first head, and the other was Hannah Clapp.

Humorous anecdotes of the student life on and off the campus during the 1890's are picturesquely described by Brown, who says in his article that students in those days were very discreetly referred to as "ladies and gentlemen." Occupying eighteen of the 110 pages of the illustrated edition, the article, with humorous tales of the "good old days," looks back on the college life of that time, bringing out some previously unknown history of the university and its students. The article is profusely illustrated with pictures of Reno, the university and its students at that time.

Five of the articles in this edition were written by students, two of them by Max Jensen, one by Murray Moler and two by William Cashill, A.S.U.N. president, who collaborated with Professor Harwood on one of the features of the publication.

The second edition of the "University Bulletin" also contains articles by John A. Fulton, director of the Mackay School of Mines; Professor Harwood, Marlon S. Merriman, Hoyt G. Martin, Louise B. Lewers, Lois Midgley, A. E. Cahlan, Catharine S. Huntley, Nicholas E. Basta, W. Scott Hill, and one article written anonymously.

Additional information about alumni of the university, including the marriages among them, changes of addresses, deaths, and their present occupations is contained in the back of the magazine, included in the "Bulletin" as an addition to the U. of N. Directory.

The front cover carries a sketch of Stewart Hall as it looked in the last century when the university consisted of only one building. Throughout the book are pictures illustrating the various articles.

AAA Heads Meet Here This Week

Representatives of farmers from California, Arizona and Nevada this week met on the University of Nevada campus.

The meeting was called to discuss the 1937 conservation program in the western states and was presided over by George E. Farrel, director of the western division of the Farm Administration.

Among those attending the meeting was Professor Robert Stewart, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Nevada.

Lawnmower Man Again Completes 3300 Mile Trek

After having walked 3300 miles, or the distance from here to Carson and back 55 times, Frank "The Lawnmower Man" has finished his last 1936 trek back and forth across the campus this year, he hopes.

Beginning about the first of April every year, Frank walks about two and one-half miles an hour for eight hours six days a week. Traveling most of his distance shirtless and barefooted, Frank succeeds in getting himself in condition to stand the rigorous months of winter.

For years the Lawnmower Man has been successfully gathering himself a fan which has been the envy of every student on the campus. Frank firmly believes that by "soaking himself in sunshine" while following his mower he immunizes himself against winter ills.

KOH to Dramatize Game at 9 P. M.

With the first broadcast of out of town games meeting with success, George KOH, head of the local radio station KOH, today announced that the game between the Nevada Wolves and California Aggies will be broadcast over the local station starting at 9 o'clock.

Leasing a wire from the stadium in Woodland, the game will be relayed to the local station, where it will be dramatized approximately ten hours before either of the local newspapers can cover the event.

"The reception of last week's broadcast by students and townspeople was gratifying enough to continue the broadcasts of all out of town as well as the local games," Ross stated.

Grads to Appear in 'Blind Alley'

Three university graduates will appear in the Little Theater production of "Blind Alley" at the State building tonight and tomorrow night.

This play, the first production of the Little Theater this year, is being directed by Edwin Semenza, graduate from the university with the class of 1930.

Graduates in the cast include Don Harvey Bell, '29, Margaret Martin Bankoffier, '34, and Berry McNally, '32.

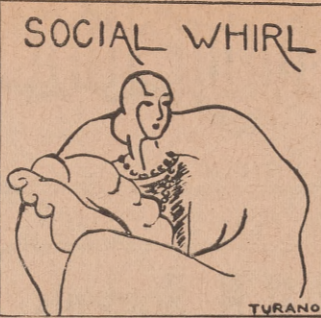

Former Professor Dies Suddenly

Edwin E. Williams, former associate professor of modern languages at the University of Nevada, died suddenly at his home in Round Mountain, Nev., yesterday, according to word received by friends here today.

A well known figure in campus activities while on the campus, Professor Williams was forced to retire several years ago on account of ill health.

He is survived by his wife and son Eugene.

Walter Christian, former student now employed in the Fernley high school, attended the football rally Sunday morning. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and was active in campus dramatics.

Alpha Delta Theta Holds Informal Tea

Alpha Delta Theta sorority held an informal tea last week at the home of Miss Isabell Scossa, 737 Evans avenue. Those bidden were Helen Haller, Effie Knight, Edith Salvi, Grace Anderson and Miss Eva Adams.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet to Hold Supper Meeting

Y. W. C. A. cabinet members voted to meet twice a month for the remainder of this semester instead of weekly as has been the custom.

The next meeting was voted to be the annual cabinet supper meeting. Tuesday, October 27, was the date set.

District President Visits Kappa Alpha Theta

Mrs. Dudley R. Clarke, district president of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was a guest of the local Beta Mu chapter last weekend. During her stay she resided at the Theta house.

Upon her arrival Friday morning a breakfast was given at the chapter house in her honor. That evening she was honored by a dinner, at which active members, pledges and alumnae were in attendance.

Saturday noon a luncheon was given with Mrs. Walter E. Clark and Miss Margaret E. Mack as guests.

That evening a second dinner was given in Mrs. Clarke's honor, with members of the advisory board as guests of the chapter house. The guests present were Mrs. Evelyn Reed, Mrs. Mae Simas, Miss Lucile Sanford, Miss Jess Roy and Mrs. Dorothy Himkley.

Manzanita Hall association will hold an informal dance tonight. Chaperones will be Miss Echo Loder, Miss M. E. Mack and Miss Virginia Hardger.

Delta Delta Delta Alums Honor New Pledges

The alumni of Delta Delta Delta gave a dinner for the new pledges of the sorority last Tuesday night at the Colombo hotel.

Gamma Phi Pledges To Be Presented

The Twentieth Century club will feature the presentation of the pledges of Alpha Gamma of Gamma Phi Beta Saturday, October 17, from 4 to 6 o'clock. Those to be presented are Freda Church, Mary Fox, Sybil Furchner, LaReene Henry, Martha Ann Holcomb, Helen Landers, Gloria MacDonald, Kathryn McCleary, Montana Olin, Mary Alice Plath and Virginia Vulch.

Chi Delta Phi To Hold Meeting

Carrying out a Russian theme, Chi Delta Phi will meet Thursday, October 29, at the home of Ruth Palmer.

Eva Adams, Norma Anderson and Ruth Palmer, in charge of the program, plan to have Russian art, literature and music as the theme of the meeting. Preceded by this, initiation will be held for Mrs. Lucia Devore, Miriam Clark, Elopa Van Sickle and Elizabeth Fredrickson.

Pan-Hellenic Dance Indefinitely Postponed

The Pan-Hellenic dance scheduled for tomorrow night will not be held due to the fact that so many students are planning to attend the Nevada-Cal Aggie game at Woodland. This inter-sorority dance will probably be held some time next semester.

Gamma Phi Beta Holds Dinner Meeting

Monday evening the Gamma Phi Beta active members and pledges met for their weekly dinner.

Elaine Cline To Be Hostess

Elaine Cline will be hostess to members of Manzanita Hall association and their guests this afternoon when she will pour tea for those attending at 3:30.

Those helping her entertain the association will be Maryem Morris, Edith Delmore and Nina Boczkiewicz.

Sagens Will Bid 8 New Members

Class Standing Restrictions Are Removed From Tryout Rules Of Organization

Eight new members will be added to Sagens, women's pep organization, early next semester. This announcement was made by Evamae Beemer following a special meeting of the group early this week.

One member will be added from each sorority house and three members from the Independent women students, increasing the membership to bring the total to 21 women.

Election to the group will be based on consistency in participating in football rallies, hot dog and pop selling, cooperation in the 'Buy a brick' campaign which will be held later this semester, and willingness to help in any other activity which the Associated Women Students sponsor.

Restriction of class standing has been removed. Freshman women are now eligible to work for membership.

Lists of coeds desiring to try out for the group will be prepared by a Sagen representative from each sorority and the Independent representative, and will be turned in to President Beemer next week.

Checkup on cooperation of tryees will begin at the Homecoming game a week from tomorrow and will continue throughout the remainder of the school semester. At the end of the tryout period those women most deserving of recognition will be given membership in the Sagens.

Another meeting has been called for Tuesday night to discuss Homecoming activities. In anticipation of a record crowd, the pop stand will be supervised by the Sagens.

California Teacher Talks to Home Ec

As a special feature of the home economics program this year Dr. Harriet Calvin of Oakland, Calif., gave a talk to the freshman and sophomore home economics students October 9, about her experience as a director in the Philadelphia schools.

Dr. Calvin just retired this year as director of home economics in the Philadelphia school system. She was the guest of Miss Sarah Louise Lewis, professor of home economics of Nevada, last weekend.

The Home Economics club will make signs for the Homecoming Day which will point the way up Virginia street to the campus and to the various exhibits and buildings on the campus. In the spring semester the club will have charge of the food for the Mackay Day luncheon.

Officers for this year are: President, Katherine Luke; vice-president, Orpah Mogan; secretary, Mildred Woodward; historian, Gertrude Polander.

48 Coeds Attend Y. W. Gathering

With a record-breaking attendance of 48 members, the first general meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday afternoon in Artemisia hall.

Chrissie Finn, president of the association, announced that the meetings would be held alternately on Mondays and Wednesdays. She asked for volunteers to sell forget-me-nots for the American Legion tomorrow. Only one girl volunteered, but it is expected that more will take part before tomorrow. Each girl who sells will get 10 per cent of the sales.

Entertainment was furnished at the meeting by Doris Bath, who spoke on gloves and handbags. Refreshments were served.

Campus Colors Will Brighten Your Wardrobe

It's Homecoming for your wardrobe, too—a return to color. College pennants, bonfires and yellow leaves lend a gay note to this season's clothes and offer innumerable possibilities for expressing your personality.

Don't stick to last year's shades because they "suit" you. Almost everyone looks better in colorful clothes. So try some of the new tones, peacock blue, plum, spruce green or cinnamon. If you can't have a whole new outfit, brighten up an old one with a splash of color in accessories of cherry red or acid yellow.

There are no rules this year. Stylists have devised some of the most exciting color combinations in history. Anything goes, from blue with yellow to wine with rose, and, more important than having all the odds and ends matched, is to have them in contrast.

Make your outfit say something. Dark colors are all right, but a dash of color sets them off twice as effectively. Here is that opportunity for originality you have been waiting for.

Red Cross Corps Asks for Charter

Women holding senior lifesaving certificates met Thursday afternoon and accepted the constitution which was drawn up by Frances Smith, who was assisted by Betty Bowman and Verna Bullis.

Immediately after the meeting a copy of the constitution was sent to the regional inspector of the Pacific coast division of the American Red Cross, for the purpose of applying for a charter for the branch corps to be organized on the University of Nevada campus.

Frances Smith was elected president, and Alice Sauer secretary-treasurer of the new organization. Miriam Butler was asked to act as captain of the group and Dr. Vernon Cantlon chosen medical adviser. Meetings will be held twice monthly at Moana, with $1 set for dues.

Coed Swim Meet Postponed 2 Weeks

The women's intersorority swimming meet which was scheduled for November 6 has been postponed until November 20, according to an announcement by Frances Nichols, chairman of the intramural board.

Due to the fact that the Nevada-College of Pacific game is on November 6, the date was changed in order to make it possible for those contestants and spectators to be present who would otherwise attend the game.

W. A. A. to Sponsor Pataky Concert

The Veronica Pataky concert which is to be presented on November 9 will be sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association. The group met Thursday afternoon to formulate plans for taking charge of the ticket sales. The city will be canvassed by mailing out cards to members of the Nevada Community Concert association.

A member of W. A. A. will call to collect the fee from those answering the cards, according to plans.

The scholarship given by W. A. A. each year has been cut from $75 to $50. This was done due to the fact that finance control cut the budget of W. A. A. The person chosen to receive the scholarship each year is selected by the incoming W. A. A. president, the outgoing president and the person who received the scholarship the previous year.

Also decided at the meeting was that the rent received from the W. A. A. cabin which is now being rented at Galena Creek should be used to buy new equipment for the sports included in the organization.

Eunice Beckley was appointed to head a committee of her own choosing to prepare a float to be entered in the Homecoming Day parade. W. A. A. has not entered a float for several years.

Pataky to Conduct Classes October 20

Veronica Pataky, who conducts a modern dancing school in San Francisco, will visit the women's physical education department next Tuesday, October 20. She will direct Miss Sameth's classes in dancing on that day.

Miss Pataky gave a concert starring her own students in modern dancing on Nevada campus last year, and is scheduled to appear here again on November 9.

Alpha Delta Theta sorority recently initiated into active membership Mary Boczkiewicz of Carson City.

The ceremony took place at the home of Mrs. Ed Powles, 460 Roberts street, with Avenel Manzonie, chapter president, presiding.

Florence Koocher of Reno was pledged to the sorority at the same meeting.

EMOTIONS STUDIED BY SELLER OF BLUE BOOKS

Viewing the human emotions of despair, bewilderment and unconcernedness which are visibly noticeable in facial expressions has been the fate of Miss Sissa and her staff as the students have slowly trudged to and from her office for the past week.

The weary pilgrimage has been in quest of the worry of many a student—blue books. According to Webster, the word blue means azure; low spirited; dismal, etc., and the definition of the word book by the same authority is a "collection of sheets of paper and other material, blank, written or printed. A combination of the two words needs no authoritative definition as far as many of the students are concerned; probably each has a slightly different version, out the main thought connected with them is one of worry, regret, sorrow and determined resolutions for future study plans.

Probably the only cheerful person on the campus as far as the "low spirited, dismal" collection of sheets of paper" are concerned is Miss Sissa. When questioned about them she replied with a smile that the sales have been flourishing and her coin box is nearly filled with student donations daily.

The books that are being used now are some of last year's surplus. "We have a new allotment of books to be brought into use whenever we need them," Miss Sissa said. The new books are of a lighter shade of blue.

3 Coeds Entertain At 20-30 Meeting

Presenting the songs that they will sing in the Wolves Frolic, Jean Smith, Peggy Gill and Mary Elizabeth Wood were featured on the entertainment program of the 20-30 Club last night.

An original song by Harold Herz, senior student, entitled "Sing-a-Song," "Sing, Baby, Sing," "Bye, Bye, Baby," and "Will I Ever Know?" were sung by the three co-eds.

Julia Sibley '36 returned to Reno last week from a two months' visit in Tennessee. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Punishment Fixed For Law Violators

At a meeting of the women's upper-class committee held Thursday at the Tri-Delt house the punishment for last week's offenders of campus traditions was decided upon.

The following women will have to perform before the next A. W. S. meeting and also carry placards advertising the Wolves Frolic for two days next week: Flossy Lou George, Margaret Handley, Myrtle Iabell, Yvonne Johns, Dorothy Kunch, DeLoma Lorraine McCard and Pauline Tobener.

Names of several new offenders were brought up and discussed. They will have to appear before the committee sometime next week.

The women who fail to appear to paint the N Saturday without presenting a legitimate excuse will be subjected to the above mentioned punishment.

Acute Appendicitis Strikes Hall Woman

Betty Emily was taken to St. Mary's hospital last Wednesday following an appendicitis attack. About 8:15, her room mate, Effie Knight, notified Margaret E. Mack, who called in Doctor Cantlon and a nurse. About 9:30, they took her from Manzanita Hall to the hospital where she was operated on Saturday.

She is recovering in the university infirmary.

Cornelia Arentz '36 visited in Reno Tuesday. She is now teaching at Smith Valley.

Fine Arts Club To Exhibit Work Of Coast Artists

An exhibit of water color paintings by two young artists of the Pacific coast will be presented next week by the Fine Arts club. The exhibit will be held open during Homecoming for the convenience of the returning grads.

At their meeting held Thursday afternoon Orpah Morgan was put in charge of the Homecoming float. Plans for revising the constitution were discussed and Jean Smith was appointed chairman of the revision committee. The purpose of the Fine Arts club was explained to the tryees by Marguerite Fuetsch, president of the organization.

The new tryees are Barbara Jones, Elaine Adams, Katherine McCleary, Marian Hart, Aldene Branch, Jean McMeekin, Margaret Pearson, Berna Hansen, Georgia McFadden, Betty Nelson, Ruth Rowe, Dorothy Kunch, Pat Meeker, Helen Byrd, Ethel Hardy, Ruby Ulrich and Eleanor Kruger.

It was further decided that a social meeting will be held next week, Miss Fuetsch announced.

Georgia McFadden will attend the Cal Aggie-Nevada game at Woodland today.

STILL NO ACTION

Again this week, as happened the two previous weeks, the men's upperclass committee announces that it has taken no action on the many violations of campus traditions by underclass men.

Almost every day on the campus there can be heard questions, which in essence are, "What's the matter with the upperclass committee, why don't they do something about these tradition violators?"

The Sagebrush does not propose to defend the upperclass committee for its failure to punish offenders, but we would like to point out that it is not entirely to blame. The majority of the blame should be placed on the A. S. U. N. senate and the upperclass portion of the student body.

The A. S. U. N. senate is to blame in that it selects the members of the committee, which is at present—and has been in former years—composed almost entirely of football players and engineers.

The Sagebrush does not mean to imply that these men are not entitled to serve on this committee, but merely wishes to point out that the time spent on the campus by these men does not give them ample time to check up on offenders. Football players, due to afternoon practice sessions, are not on the campus when most of the infractions are committed. The engineers spend most of their time on the east side of the campus, and therefore cannot be expected to catch offenders on the main part of the grounds.

The upperclass portion of the student body should be blamed in that it fails to report infractions to the committee. The committee, after all, is only the agent of the student body, and if the student body fails to cooperate in tradition enforcement the few traditions left on the campus will die the same death many others did.

ROOSEVELT LEADS

The Sagebrush straw poll of University of Nevada students which concluded yesterday and showed that the votes cast in the canvass gave Franklin Delano Roosevelt more than a two-to-one majority over his Republican opponent, Alfred Mossman Landon, indicated the sentiment that a representative majority of the students holds towards the competing candidates. There are several plausible reasons why the students cast their political decisions in varying directions.

One of the widely held beliefs concerning the political judgment of young men and women is the one that so many wiseacres declare is hereditary or acquired solely through the environment in which those first voters have grown up. The oncoming election—like many elections of the past—indicates that the young voters are not so strongly in favor of obeying the hereditary or environmental impulses caused by the older generations. Most of them are thinking for themselves, and arguing, holding and voting their convictions.

The political controversies that have been prevalent in student gatherings for the last several weeks have brought out arguments that were backed by a knowledge of the situation. Whether their information leads them to the right conviction—whatever that may be—is beside the point. That the students are reading and discussing and deciding for themselves is important and significant.

Also noteworthy is the large number of votes that were cast in this poll, indicating a long hoped for interest in contemporary affairs that have more bearing on the average student than he perhaps realizes.

Roosevelt's victory may be attributed to the NYA aid that has been received by the students from the present administration since the fall of 1934; his personality has captivated many of the students and, consequently, their votes; many of the students are financially better off than they were last year or two years ago and are feeling the pleasurable tingle of more money in their pockets and pocket-books, and some of them have thought out the situation for themselves, have weighed the merits of both nominees and have decided that perhaps Roosevelt would be the better White House occupant for four more years.

On the other hand, the Landon voters have also thought out the situation and, disagreeing with the acts, principles and theories of the president and his administration, have cast their lot with the Kansas governor. His ability as an executive of a state, his attributes as a potential president and his personality have weighed heavily in the decisions of those who have given the man their studious consideration. A definite reaction to the present executive accounts for some of the Landon votes on the campus this week.

Regardless of the outcome of the straw poll the Sagebrush necessarily and willingly remains non-partisan in the matter. It endorses no candidate, flaunts no political banners and has no political or personal interest in the campaigns. What it says in a political way is as a matter of attempted interpretation or explanation.

DOWN—NOT OUT

Though the Wolf Pack must go down on record as having lost the football game last Friday night at Salem, University of Nevada students have proved that they are aware of the fact that the team was not defeated.

The Wolves played a fighting game every minute they were on the field, and campsites showed they were grateful when they turned out to meet the train early Sunday morning.

There are three good reasons why Nevada lost its second game of the season. They are: first, the Pack played a good game of football against a team that played better football; they played on an unfamiliar field under lights; they played under a new coach using a system which has not yet been thoroughly mastered.

No explanation of the score is necessary, as is no alibi for Dashiell's men in their failure to bring home the scalp of the Willamette eleven. So long as Nevada's Wolves turn out the type of football they displayed at Salem students will back them 100 per cent.

The Pedagogue

The parking situation on the campus seems to get worse as time goes on. It is almost more than a fond hope to expect to find a place to park the "family bus" when you arrive on the campus later than 8:30. Even when the bell in Morrill hall peals out at 7:45 the best parking space on the grounds surrounding the campus is already monopolized.

I can't say that it makes anyone too happy or feel any too kindly towards the "powers that be" in the administrative offices when you see their automobiles parked on the drive. In fact, it even puts fire in the eye when "Pop" McFadden lays down the law to you, hands you a copy of the traffic rules on the campus only to find on a second glance that all the office force in Morrill hall are allowed the privilege of campus parking.

In our humble opinion, the members of the faculty are just as important to the wellbeing of the university as are the employees who take care of the lawn and campus buildings. Still the members of the faculty as well as the members of the student body are forbidden the pleasure of such privileges.

Not so long ago we complained of the parking situation. It seems that there ought to be a solution to the problem. What about some campus opinion? If you are as peeved about the matter as I am then let's hear from you.

We said several issues ago that this "One Sound State" hullabaloo was only the half of it. In a left-handed way we pointed out that we also have "One Sound University." But we were amateurish and didn't have the basic facts to support our perfection.

Do you know how we got this sound state, this state of "no income tax, no inheritance tax, no sales tax," this sagebrush tribe where men are men and women are glad of it? No, you wouldn't know. You're not degenerate enough. Leave that for the guttersnipe reporters of the far removed east who cloy the gullible public with the real facts.

Here, gentle students, is how our illustrious fathers got our sound state:

They began promoting a "tourist attraction for a dying city" until they had perfected a vice center which far outrivaled anything Al Capone ever had. "The whole state—its legislature, laws, citizens—has been warped to the one end, that strangers may be lured to Reno and there sheared of his or her wealth by Nevada's systems of legalized vice." The philosophy was that "You can't do wrong—we'll legalize it."

And we thrived. It was lucrative, but the state wouldn't admit it, to protect gangsters, gamblers and racketeers. Our forefathers were sour-grapes on California. California had sucked our mines dry. "But time passed. California grew staid and puritanical. Prohibition came. The hard-bitten Nevadans, seeking a new way to wealth, glimpsed the method."

Yes, our fathers were successful. We thrived. Ask County Clerk Elwood Beemes (that's how they spell it) says business is booming.

Reno is a city of back alleys. A picture of the space between two buildings proves that. It has also prospered to the point where it has a junior college (that's us).

Reno police cooperate with the underworld and do not, for the life of them, ever want a criminal to be libeled or restrained. The state gas-house has been used but once since being built. Truly this is the haven for vice—this is the "One Sound State."

The same instincts which make this state are the same instincts which send the public scurrying to the newsstands to read the facts. They are the instincts which Arthur Brisbane said were locked up in us 10,000,000 years ago or thereabouts, when we were crawling about in the slime. They are the same instincts which make us natives afraid to admit the facts and cause us to get mad and run amuck like red-headed apes when some innocent, naive pervert comes into our midst and scores a scoop on the inside dope on Nevada from "Bat" Dazler of Chestnut arena fame.

We shouldn't get mad. We should laugh at the bald facts. The madder we get, the more we read, and that boosts the circulation. So just laugh, junior collegers, and never condemn your parents for raising you in a vice-ridden state.

We hear it rumored that the W. A. A. may have to take a desperate step in order to keep their equipment up. Since the central treasury has seen fit to cut their budget this year, the hopes for the necessary equipment for women's athletic endeavors seem to be glimmering. No definite action has been taken by the group, but the women have been doing some very serious talking about the matter. If the Nevada coeds are forced to do something about earning money for their equipment, then it may be that W. A. A. scholarship fund may have to suffer.

In the past the money that W. A. A. has earned from the sale of hot dogs at football has gone into the scholarship fund. This fund is awarded each commencement in the form of a scholarship to the outstanding member of the junior class in W. A. A. It would be a black mark to the credit of the central treasury if their action on the women's budget would result in such drastic actions upon such a noteworthy project.

Ever since A. S. U. N. meetings have been scheduled for irregular days and different times, we have investigated the matter of A. S. U. N. meetings as set forth in the constitution.

Article II of the said document states: Regular meetings of the A. S. U. N. shall be held on or between the first and seventh days of each month during the university year, and may be held during the third week at the discretion of the president.

We are still curious as to what heading one would place the student body meetings. Are they regular, special or unofficial meetings? We still would like to know.

Grad to Speak To New Classes

Thomas P. Brown, graduate of the university with the class of 1899 who will revisit the campus at Homecoming, will speak to the junior-senior students in Journalism Thursday.

Brown will talk on the Washington, D. C., corps of correspondents, the news coverage they have to make and how they work. This will include the code of ethics under which they operate, how the president is interviewed and other sidelights such as the National Press club and the Gridiron club.

Brown, who has had considerable experience in newspaper work and as a publicity director, is now employed as the San Francisco public relations counsel.

Brown is the son of Leroy D. Brown, who was the first president of the University of Nevada after it was moved to Reno.

and we suddenly find ourselves on the last lap of the track. Most race fans tell us that it is the last lap that wins or loses the competition. Until now, the campus has passively reacted to the red, white and blue badges as compared with the yellow and black pins. Now with the campus political organizations getting under way it looks as if the last lap of the race is going to be heated and of wide campus concern. Let's hope for the best, and may the best man win.

Mackay Museum Receives Curious Mineral Specimen

Professor Vincent Gianella, head of the geology department, has just received a couple of specimens of a very rare and unusual mineral, polygorskite, which are to be placed in the Mackay Museum.

The mineral was sent to him by C. F. Park, of the United States Geological Survey at Metalline Falls, Washington. The polygorskite occurs in a vein in a mine near there.

The mineral, whose only value is as a curiosity piece for museums, is flexible and fibrous, occurring in thin, pliable plates. It is closely related to hornblende.

Because some plates look like do-skin, the polygorskite is sometimes referred to as "mountain leather."

Yvonne Siard, second year normal student, returned to her home in Winnemucca over the weekend. She returned to Reno Sunday evening.

Julia Arrobie, sophomore arts and science student, visited relatives in Lovelock over Saturday and Sunday.

500 Inches of Copy Released by Bureau

Five hundred inches of copy were sent out to papers throughout the state this week by the university news bureau service, according to Sherwin Gar-side, director.

Most of the material concerned the annual Homecoming celebration to be staged by the students next Friday.

The news bureau has been on the campus for three years and each week has contributed 400 inches or more to the papers in Nevada.

Claude Hunter needn't worry when he gets in the condition he found himself to be in Friday night. The watch dogs of the Sigma Phis will do right by their boys and see that they come home at the proper time and in the proper manner.

Another case of brotherly love. Devore takes charge of Beckley when Foremaster is away fighting for his dear old alma mammy.

Mining Department Given Specimens

Among six recent contributions to the mineral collection of the Mackay school of mines is an entire case of ore from the world famous Jungo mine of George Austin in northeastern Nevada.

Displayed with the ore is a page of photographs concerning the mine and owners taken for the New York Times rotogravure section. The pictures show Mr. and Mrs. George Austin, owners of the mine; a scene taken in the mine; the mill, and a panorama of the surrounding country.

Included among the gifts were some esopitite specimens from Bonnie Claire donated by Scott Jameson; several copper and silver ore specimens from Phillipsburg, Mont., the gifts of Guy Emery, and some original Packard mine silver ore given to the school by Frank Margrave.

L. D. Gordon of Fallon sent to the museum some hessite, a silver telluride mineral which is quite rare. The specimen was found in Jefferson canyon in Round Mountain located in southern Nevada. The common name given the mineral is grindstone ore.

From the Justice mine in Gold Hill the museum received several specimens of high grade silver ore, the gift of Robert Prince. All contributions have been placed in the display case of the museum in the mines building.

University Chapel Recovers Property

The bulletin board which was taken from its place on St. Stephen's chapel at Eighth and University avenue some time over the weekend was back in place a day after its disappearance.

Who "borrowed" the board, what they wanted it for and why they brought it back, remains a mystery. The case has been dropped since the "borrowers" have returned the evidence.

St. Stephen's chapel is sometimes called the University chapel and is used for Y. W. C. A. recognition services, by Cap and Scroll and by various other campus honorary societies.

Illustrating his lecture with numerous colorful pictures of the Alaskan "wonderland" and with witty remarks and anecdotes, Edgar C. Raine, noted lecturer and authority on Alaska, presented a travelogue of the far north a week ago Friday in the Education auditorium before an audience of townspeople and students.

The pictures were taken by the lecturer during a 30,000 mile trip made over a period of years. Raine has been living in Alaska for more than forty years, serving as a representative of the United States treasury department and as a traveler.

Taking the audience over the whole of the Alaskan territory, Raine pointed out the historical points connected with the scenes shown from the slides. In striking, natural colors, made realistic with the brush of an artist who accompanied Raine on the tour, more than 100 of the pictures were thrown on the screen.

Raine has been photographing the pictorial wonders of Alaska, he said, since early 1890. Scenes of the gold-rush variety that stirred Alaska and the United States just before the turn of the century, vivid illustrations of the fortune-seekers trudging over the famous Chilkoot trail, and shots of several of the towns made famous by the search for gold were shown with the lecture.

The speaker was introduced by Professor Irving Sandorf, who is a member of the committee on lectures and assemblies sponsoring the affair. He said that this lecture marks the third time the much traveled Alaskan authority has visited the University of Nevada campus. His first appearance was nine years ago.

Stressing the cultural, scenic and progressive aspects of Alaska in his lecture, Raine said that many misconceptions of Alaska are held by people who think that it is a cold, frigid land with no modern improvements or scenic beauty. His pictures illustrated the progress that the northland has experienced since it gained prominence as a source of fabulous wealth.

Kirman to Address Church Campus Club

R. H. Kirman, western regional director for the Boy Scouts, will give a talk Tuesday evening at the Federated church meeting for college students, William Moll Case, pastor, has announced.

Following the meeting the usual social hour comprised of games and refreshments will be held.

3 Sororities Tied In Tennis Play

The women's intramural tennis tournament now being played to decide the tennis champion among women's organizations has been granted extra time by the intramural board, although the games should have all been played off by October 1, Chairman Frances Nichols stated this week.

In the games played so far, the Independents won their match from Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta won their match by default from Delta Delta Delta and Gamma Phi Beta won by default from Manzanita Hall association.

Eunice Beckley is representing Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Ellen Creek is representing Kappa Alpha Theta and Beatrice Lansdon is playing for the Independent group. Miss Beckley and Miss Lansdon are sophomore students, while Miss Creek is a senior student.

The remainder of the games will be played off this week and the champion determined.

Crabtree, Galvin Give Math Talks

Math Club members, Helen Crabtree and James Galvin, were featured speakers at the second meeting of the group held last week in the Mackay Science hall, Miss Crabtree discussing the Maya counting system and Galvin talking on the proper use of the slide rule. Elizabeth Juniper, president of the group, arranged the program.

Following the regular meeting, refreshments were served. The refreshment committee is composed of Margaret Piercy, Ruth Palmer and James Galvin.

Constructive lectures by students and others will be featured regularly in meetings of the organization, Miss Juniper said, in order that use of mathematical instruments and systems may be made more understandable to the members.

Cap and Scroll Discusses Sagens Member Increase

The advantages of an enlarged Sagens membership were presented for discussion at a meeting of Cap and Scroll, women's honorary society, last Friday. Suggestions included an increased independent representation and representation from Alpha Delta Theta and Beta Sigma Omicron sororities, which at present have no representation in the group.

The matter was then referred to the Sagens' pep club. Miss Evamae Beemer, president of Cap and Scroll, announced that the next meeting of the society would be a supper meeting, and was tentatively set for next Thursday at the Colombo hotel.

Nevada Day Queen Candidates Chosen

Candidates for Nevada Day queen have been selected by all sororities except Pi Beta Phi. The queen reigns over the Nevada Day parade and dance.

Those selected were: Ethel Kent, Gamma Phi Beta; Fibrence Koocher, Alpha Delta Theta; Eleanor Barry, Beta Sigma Omicron; Evamae Beemer, Delta Delta Delta; Ellen Creek, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Marian Newhart, Artemisia hall.

Emma Aznarez, former student, visited friends in Reno last weekend. Miss Aznarez is now teaching in Yerington. During her senior year at university she was chosen queen of the Nevada day celebration and served as president of Manzanita association.

Barracks Is Used By Music Groups

The large room on the ground floor of the old barracks building north of Lincoln hall has been repaired and is being used for a practice room for the band, orchestra and choral club. According to Professor Theodore H. Post, head of the music department, a piano stands are in place.

Doors, windows and a stove have been repaired and new lighting fixtures have been added. The additional room was found necessary because of the enlarged numbers of the music groups. The repair work has been under the direction of Carl Horn, acting supervisor of grounds.

The band will be featured in the parade for Homecoming Day, according to Professor T. H. Post, music department head. It will also be a part of the bonfire rally to be held the night of October 23. The band has been practicing maneuvers in the Mackay field and will have something novel in store for these events, it was announced.

Wolves Prepared For Cal Aggie Invasion Tonight

Dashiell Is Optimistic Regarding Chances of Pack for Western Conference Packer Win

Mustangs Will Use Shock Troops To Stave Off Defeat by the Nevada Aggregation

WOODLAND, Calif., Oct. 16.—Arriving this morning for the annual conference tilt, the University of Nevada Wolves, under the direction of Douglas Dashiell, head coach of the Sagebrush squad, tonight prepared to open their quest for the Far Western conference championship with a win in their scheduled game tonight.

Handicapped by the loss of four potential players, Dashiell is looking for the win through his strong first string line, hoping that the forward wall can rip holes in the Aggie line big enough to let his speedy backs get into the open. The injured men include three linemen and one backfield man. Louis Nash, mainstay guard, has been lost to the squad by virtue of a bad charlie-horse. Duncan Dorsey, reserve center, injured his ankle Tuesday night in scrimmage and was not able to travel with the team.

Harold Foremaster, sparkling guard and one of the best blockers on the Pack, was forced to stay at home because of a slow healing knee injury.

Dick Taylor, diminutive halfback, was forced to the sideline this week because of a bad ankle but made the trip. Dashiell, on arriving, was optimistic over the chances of his team, stating that, "The Pack is tired of being pushed all over the Pacific coast, and I think they will win if the line will get enough offensive punch. They have the defensive tactics; all that is needed is the offensive punch."

"Crip" Toomey, local mentor, following the opening defeat by California by a score of 39-0 and win over Humboldt State 18-0 the following week, promised that his team was ready and willing to make plenty of trouble for the Nevada invaders Friday night under the arc lights.

Mustang History

Led by Captain Chris Graves, who last week celebrated his twenty-second birthday by leading the Mustangs to the win over Humboldt State, served notice that he would be one of the most elusive gentlemen of the pigskin roles in the Far Western conference this year.

During the game last week Graves scampered 65 yards to a touchdown for his first score during seven years of high school and college football.

Starting Lineup

For starters Dashiell will probably use McKinnon and Basta at ends, Walker and Showalter at tackles, Lommori and Bradley in the guard spots, with Bill Cashill, who played a whale of a defensive and offensive game against Willamette last week, in the pivot position.

Led by one of the five high scorers of the United States, Johnny Ohrt, co-captain of the Nevada squad, Dashiell's backfield will consist of Barnes and Eaton at the halfback positions and Trombley at fullback.

During the week's practice in the Nevada divorce capital Bob Eltringham and Ted Barnes, second string backs, showed evidence of settling down to serious work and giving the opening gun players a run for their money for the starting positions.

Reserve players making the trip are Brooks, Barnes, Morris, Caldwell, Campbell, Cleary, Ellingringham, Gallaway, Gravel, Gustafson, Lansdon, McDow, Metten, Miles, Nickovitch, Robb, St. Clair, Richard, Taylor, Tapogna, Watson and Kennedy.

Accompanying the team are: Jim Coleman assistant coach; "Chick" Wheeler, manager, and Lief McManus, trainer.

Frosh Yell Leader Tryees Work Out

Under the leadership of Sam Zackheim, the new frosh yell leaders held their first workout Thursday at 4 p. m. in the Education auditorium.

Concentration was centered on the Nevada fight yells to give the student body a new school spirit. In the past the spirit has been that of a pleading one in the yell of "Hold that line," but the main yell this year will be "Fight, Nevada, Fight!" which Zackheim hopes will put spirit into the team.

The freshman tryees for yell leaders are Marion Waring, Reveau Hansen, Carol Williams, Mary Kay Read, Chloe Colvin, Hugh Widaman, Frank Rosaschi, Leon Etchemendy and Ointo Barsanti. Others have signified their intention of trying out but have not yet handed in their names.

Wilfred Austin, member of Sigma Nu fraternity and former journalism student, has gone to San Francisco, where he will enter a business school. Austin, who was a sophomore last semester, is the son of George Austin, owner of the famous Jumbo mine in northeastern Nevada.

Rally Supported By Early Risers At Train Sunday

Proving their support of the football team, approximately one hundred students assembled at the Southern Pacific railway station early Sunday morning and displayed one of the peppiest welcoming rallies that has been held here for some time," according to Louis Weiner, yell leader.

Awakened by the boisterous yells and songs, "Doug" Dashiell, togged in a pair of pants and the upper part of his pajamas, came to the rear platform of the train and expressed his thanks to the students for their support.

Commenting on the game, Dashiell said, "We met a tough ball club Friday night and, in losing, the boys showed the same spirit you have shown by coming down here this morning."

Willamette Game Told by Mentor

'Most Bruising Game,' Is Opinion Of Veteran U. N. Gridsters on Northern Tilt

Although featuring long runs and a brilliant, wide open passing attack, the Nevada Wolves were sent to defeat by a stronger Willamette eleven last Friday night on the wet Salem field, despite a 98 yard touchdown run by Captain John Ohrt and a field goal by Pat Eaton.

Many other long runs by the Nevada backs were stopped by the Bearcats' experience in the mud, the 60 yard run by Bill Grubbs being one of these. Grubbs got away and went to the Willamette five yard line before being caught from behind.

"Ohrt's touchdown run was not a fluke but a rarely seen perfect play in which every member of the team took out his assigned man," said Coach Doug Dashiell in a statement made early this week. "The Willamette starting lineup consisted of seven men who are three-letter men and have been together all that time. They have a fine team and deserved to win, and the showing our boys made is even more commendable for that reason."

Coach Dashiell also said that some of the veteran members of the Nevada team told him that this was the hardest, most bruising contest they had ever played.

"The credit for the victory really goes to the Willamette line," added Dashiell. "Outweighing our linemen from ten to fifteen pounds per man, they had no trouble stopping our line plays, so the air route was really our only chance. Another department that functioned to our advantage was the pass defense. We intercepted many of the passes of the Bearcats which could have gone for long gains."

"I might add," concluded the Pack mentor, "that had the men at any time let down the score would have been much greater. Their strong fighting spirit kept them charging in there throughout the game and was a very fine thing to watch."

Margery Cliff, Vera Borrigger and Grace Anderson spent September 26 and 27 at their respective homes in Carson City.

Beta Kappas Win Horseshoe Titles

The Beta Kappa horseshoe doubles team of Eugene Grutt and Ted Ashworth won the intramural championship Wednesday afternoon when they turned down Fritz Everett and Jim Bett of Lambda Chi Alpha 21-5, 21-6, making this game their seventh straight win with no losses. Also, the Beta Kappas have practically cinched the horseshoe singles contest with seven straight wins and one more game to play with the Sigma Nus today.

Results of the doubles games this week are: Lambda Chi, Fritz Everett and Jim Bett, downed John Dolan and Don Leighton, Sigma Nus, 21-13, 21-14; Phi Sigma Kappa defaulted to Lincoln Hall; Beta Kappas won from the Taus, Wilson Rebaletti and Tillie Botti, 21-14, 21-13; Independents forfeited to Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Archie Smiley and Frank Hickey, Sig Phis, took the Independent team of Sherwin Garside and Bill Miller, 21-12, 21-19.

Horseshoe singles: Kevin Callahan, A.T.O., outthrew Bob Grenig, Lincoln Hall, 21-13, 21-5; Frank Hickey, Sigma Phi Sigma, defeated Glen Hagadorn, 21-19, 20-21, 21-17; Grutt of Beta Kappa won over Sherwin Garside, Ind., 21-9, 21-10; Lambda Chis won by a default from the Phi Sigs; Don Leighton, Sigma Nu, dumped Sherwin Garside, Ind., 21-14, 21-18; Phi Sigs defaulted to the A.T.O.'s; Frank Hickey, Sigma Phi, beat out Lincoln Hall, 21-18, 21-17.

California Fans Will Attend Game

Traveling about six hundred miles on a special football train, 150 students, band members, townspeople and gridsters from the southern California school are expected to attend the Santa Barbara-University of Nevada game to be played in Reno October 31.

If this quota, set by the Southern Pacific company, is filled, a record for the greatest number of outside rosters attending a Nevada game, and traveling the greatest distance, will be established.

Wilma Kiesner, chairman of the Santa Barbara rally committee, is urging students to make reservations immediately, and Fred Allred, student comptroller, warns them that the reservations are going fast.

A Gonzaga Bulletin columnist expresses the opinion that his school is just one more proof that there is "merciful and just God in heaven."

On a California campus several of the first class women appeared wearing the traditional freshman dinks, been determined.

Sagers' Chorus Making Progress

Under the direction of Margaret Tolten, women's P. E. instructor, the Sagers' dance chorus is making rapid progress, it was announced last night by Charles Doherty, Sagers' president.

Marvin Moler, a junior engineering student, presented the idea to the Sagers. Meeting with the approval of Doherty and the members the following men were chosen to dance:

Jack McCrea, Dorence Jameson, Kenneth Dimock, Paul Azarez, George Hardman, John Etchemendy, Thomas Shone, Hudson Lee, William Winters, Don Leighton, Prescott Wilson and Marvin Moler, who is chairman of the Sagers' chorus committee.

Last year the Sigma Phi Sigma presented William Miller, director of the Wolves' Frolic, with a male chorus. This stunt went over big with the audience, and because of this it is believed the work club's chorus will be one of the main features of the program next Friday night when the Wolves' Frolic is presented.

5 Greek Houses Enter Marathon

Five houses have definitely entered the cross country run to be held Saturday morning of Homecoming Day. The race is to start at the Sparks high school and the runners will travel along the old highway to University avenue. After running up University avenue they will make one lap around the track. The first three members of one house to cross the finish mark will win.

The A. T. O. house will enter Archie Albright, Michell Vuich, Louis Spitz, Ray Walts, Attilio Botti, John Ethe-mendy and George Friedhoff.

Louis Carpenter, Clarence Hecke-thorn, Ollie Aymar, Chesley Freemont and Vernon Wines are to represent the Sigma Nu fraternity.

Lambda Chi Alpha, last year's winners, will only enter three men, who are Marvin Moler, Fritz Everett and Pio Mastroianni.

Five runners will take to the four mile grind for the Sigma Phi Sigma: Craig Moore, Ben Moore, Harry Plath, Lester Agee and Harry Saddle.

S. A. E. will send forth Clifford Malone, Bill Moore, Thomas Horgan, Ben Cardinal, Francis Breen and Clyde Healy.

Salem Breakfast Honors Nevadans

Endeavoring to make the stay of the University of Nevada's football players pleasant while in Salem, the city's business men's breakfast club held a 7:30 a. m. breakfast at the Hotel Marion in the varsity's honor.

The meal was enlivened by several selections played by the Willamette university band and speeches were given by Mayor Kuhn of Salem and Coaches "Doug" Dashiell and "Spec" Keene concerning the forthcoming game between the two schools. The speakers were unanimous in their hopes of the continuance of athletic relations between the two universities.

After the breakfast the Nevada players were taken on a sightseeing trip of the town and the surrounding country by members of the club.

Bledsoe Has Charge Of Prep Hoopsters

Dan Bledsoe, former University of Nevada basketball star and present high school track coach, will have charge of the basketball team this year at the White Pine county high school.

Greek Council Votes To Give Cups Again

Cups will be awarded to winners in various intra-mural sports this semester, it was decided at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council this week when they voted against giving equipment instead of the customary trophies.

With over 300 men being seated at the interfraternity bean feed, the Council showed a profit of $14 for the event, Jim Hart, chairman of the committee, reported. Expenses totaled $67, while $81 was taken in, Hart added.

Physical defects and sensitiveness are among the causes for low grades, it has been determined.

Yearlings, Lassen Meet for Second Contest Tomorrow

Frosh Strengthened by Return Of L. Sullivan and Two Week Gap in Schedule

Heavy, Fast Lassen Backfield And Line Enter Game Fresh From Aggie Victory

By DON KINKEL

Hoping to reverse the score of the first football game on their schedule, the Wolf Cubs will engage the Lassen county junior college for the second time this year tomorrow afternoon on Mackay field.

The frosh will go into the game strengthened by the two-week rest gained by the gap in their schedule. The shaky offense in evidence when the two teams first met this year has been steadily improving, and the frosh hope not only to play a fine defensive game but also to unleash a fast moving counter-attack. The offensive and defensive play of the yearlings has been tried out under strenuous conditions, as they engaged in numerous scrimmages with the varsity this week.

Injuries have dogged the frosh throughout the season and so far show no intention of letting up. In a heavy scrimmage last week, Barsanti, a guard who has been showing great promise in practice and in past games, broke his foot and sprained an ankle, which will put him out of further competition for the rest of this season. In the same practice, Hillygus, fast moving end, suffered a pulled tendon and will not be able to play for the next few weeks.

A welcome addition to the team will be the return of Lawson Sullivan, who teamed up with Bob Ferguson at the beginning of the year to occupy the tackle berths. Sullivan has been on the sidelines since the first scrimmage with the varsity, but has been getting back into shape during the past few days and probably will see action against Lassen. Sullivan's return to the fold will enable Clayton, burly backfield man who has been filling the tackle spot capably in the first seasonal games, to return to his position as blocking half in the backfield.

Taking the field against the yearlings will be the same team that handed a defeat to the California Aggie reserves last week. A heavy, fast-charging line opening holes for Bennett and the rest of the Lassen backfield, will deal out plenty of misery to the yearlings. However, if the frosh display the same defensive that they have shown in practice and get their offensive to clicking when the breaks come their way, they will have better than an even chance to bring home a win.

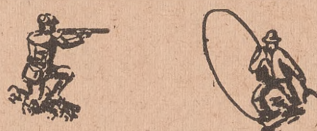

A possible starting line-up for the frosh may include Carpenter and Connolly, ends; Sullivan and Ferguson, tackles; Cheshire and Glomi, guards; Willard, center, and Everall, Maroni, Clayton and Marinovich in the backfield.

The game will be called at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Pataky May Dance At U. N. November 9

Plans are now being made in the women's physical education department to present Veronika Pataky, modern dancing concertist, again this year. At present, the date for the presentation of the concert has tentatively been set for November 9.

Frosh to Storm Peavine Mountain On 'N' Pilgrimage

According to campus tradition the frosh must paint the N, so up Peavine mountain they will storm with three barrels of lime, four dozen two-quart buckets, assisted by a truck. The supply committee, consisting of Chairman Bob Cameron, Carlyle Pribbernow, Robert Ogden, Ben Cardinal, Tom Hogan, decided at their meeting 4 o'clock Thursday that the four dozen buckets would be sufficient for about two hundred men.

The menu for the day is hot dogs and Coca-Cola. The food committee is made up of Chairman Juanita Elcano, Cleora Campbell, Dorothy Atcheson, Evelyn Bulmer, Shirley Fuetsch, who held their meeting in the A. S. U. N. building at 3:30 Wednesday.

Class Manager Thompson ordered all cars and frosh out at the Mackay stadium at 7:45 tomorrow. The Block N society and upperclass committee will go along to supervise the work.

Alum Invites Sent For Celebration

Sixteen hundred and fifty invitations urging alumni to return for Homecoming were sent out Saturday by the Homecoming Day committee with the cooperation of the Sagens, Sagers, Blue Key and freshman volunteers.

The invitations contain three pictures of the campus taken from this year's Artemisia, and a letter signed by Emile Gezelin, chairman of the committee, inviting all alumni to return for it.

Alumni living as far east as the Mississippi will receive these invitations. Most of them were sent to California and Nevada, Gezelin said.

Willis May Leave On Panama Trip

With the announcement that he may go to Panama on a banana boat, Ward Willis, freshman student, revealed here Wednesday that he is leaving school for a year in order to decide what his plans for the future will be.

Willis, a Sigma Nu pledge, has received a tentative offer of a job with a former high school friend from Ogden, Utah, who came through Reno last week on his way to San Francisco, but is as yet undecided as to his plans.

Dr. Church's Aide Sails From Europe

Carl Elges, assistant of Dr. J. E. Church, sailed this morning from Southampton for the United States on the Queen Mary.

After leaving the meeting of the International Commission of Snow in Edinburgh, he has been traveling in Holland, Germany, Denmark and Sweden.

Elges expects to take up his duties at the university by November 1.

Pep Groups Plan Work Schedules For Celebration

Gezelin Mails Out Alumni Invites To All Known Grads Living West of Mississippi

Presidents of the various campus service and pep groups met last night in the Student Union building to apportion work for the Homecoming celebration next week.

Sagers, men's organization, represented by Charles Doherty, volunteered to check boxes for the bonfire each afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

On Thursday this same group will set up the broadcast system on Mackay field which will facilitate the delivery of speeches by prominent faculty, alumni and student leaders during the rally opening the annual celebration.

The bonfire will be set by Blue Key and Sagers, while Sagens will aid in assembling students for the rally.

On Saturday gates and shrubbery will be patrolled by the military students and Sagers. Program sales will be conducted by Blue Key members.

All men and women will appear in the dress emblematic of the group which they represent. Sagers will appear in their familiar blue and white shirts, Sagens in their white shirts and blue tams and Blue Key in their white visor caps.

Letters of appreciation from Emile Gezelin, chairman of the Homecoming committee, were sent to the heads of the three organizations for the participation last week in addressing, stamping and mailing several thousand invitations to alumni in distant parts of the United States.

Jessie Sellman and Peggy Gill are planning to motor to the Cal Aggie-Nevada game.

Volleyball Tourney Tied Three Ways As Contest Ends

Lambda Chi, Sigma Nu and Taus May Hold Playoff Tournament For Trophy Possession

The intramural volleyball tournament ended in a three-way tie between A.T.O., Lambda Chi and Sigma Nu for the top spot in the percentage ranking. Each team added two victories to its total during the last week of play and remained in the deadlock which has existed since the half-way mark in the tourney. Next come S.A.E. and Phi Sigma Kappa, each having four wins and four losses.

A playoff tournament will probably be held to decide possession of the trophy.

Final percentages are:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Alpha Tau Omega	7	1	.875
Lambda Chi Alpha	7	1	.875
Sigma Nu	7	1	.875
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	4	4	.500
Phi Sigma Kappa	4	4	.500

Martie Thanks Military Police

Work of the university's R. O. T. C. unit in policing the last football game was fully appreciated as evidenced in a letter received by Colonel W. L. Reed, head of the military department, from J. E. Martie, head of the men's physical education department, early this week.

The following excerpt is taken from the letter which was posted on the military department's bulletin board this week.

"We deeply appreciate this service and want you and the boys to know that this donation of time and energy has not gone unnoticed by the department of physical education nor by the president of the university," Martie wrote.

Dashiell Foresees Wolf Pack Win Over Cal Aggies

Coach Expresses Opinion During A. S. U. N. Meeting Thursday In Education Building

McManus, Pack Trainer, Gives Slight of Hand Exhibition During Program

"I think we will win the Cal Aggie game Friday night—our line is tired of being pushed all over the Pacific coast. They will get an offensive punch from the will to win."

Coach Douglas Dashiell voiced this opinion yesterday morning at the A.S. U.N. meeting, in a talk that was one of the main features of the meeting. Leif McManus, Wolf Pack trainer and amateur magician, baffled the crowd that filled the Education auditorium for the second student body meeting this semester.

After a short business meeting during which the amendment proposing to revive frosh dinks was read, the meeting was turned into a rally to stir spirit for the Cal Aggie-Nevada game tonight.

Further entertainment was provided by a Sager initiation skit, in which four men, George Hardman, Harry Gravelle, Bill Winter and Jack CoCrea sang "Hail to Our Sturdy Men."

Charles Barnes announced that a special train would be run to the Col-

Annual Street Dance Is Set for Thursday

In accordance with a custom established several years ago, Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will hold their annual street dance Thursday night as a part of the Homecoming celebration.

Scheduled to begin immediately after the bonfire rally, the dance will be held in front of the chapter house on Lake street. The street and front of the house will be decorated with colored lights, as has been traditional in past years, according to Joe Lommori, house president.

Music for the affair will be furnished by a band wagon donated for the occasion by a downtown merchant. Refreshments will be served during the dance, Lommori said.

lege of the Pacific on November 6 if 150 students sign up with Russ McDonald or Bob Creps, graduate manager.

Yell Leaders Lou Weiner and Sam Zakeheim, and Reuben Tuttle, song leader, then took over the meeting and turned it into a pep rally.

Another little trick used by the Sons of Willamette is that their center had the jerks, or the D. T.s., and kept giving the ball a little movement before he centered it, pulling the Nevadans offside getting the men from the Sagebrush State five yards. This is borne out by the fact that during the game the officials gave the Willamettes some five yards backwards for that little trick.

Nevada's conversion twins, Pat Eaton and "Sunny Jim" Twombly, have never, as long as they can remember, had a conversion go astray. They have been blocked but never missed. It's a swell record.

Johnny Ohrt is one of the ten high scorers in the United States today, holding down the fifth spot. He also holds the record of the longest run, having light hipped his way from behind his goal line 101 yards down the field to paydirt.

The wows of the week: U. C. L. A. at Cal, with the Golden Bears due for a setback... U. S. C. will tangle with the W. S. C. and administer a serve "wacking" to the men from the rain country... Nevada should dump the Aggies to the tune of "Swing Me Around Again Willie." The final score should be in the neighborhood of 25-something.

"We Willie" Dale, the smallest man on the Pack, made a real impression in the scrimmages this week. He is the hardest man on the squad to bring down because of his smallness and his super elusiveness.

Elwin Jeffers, journalism graduate with last year's class, has been appointed editor of a booklet to be published by the state highway department.

1936 Yearbook Given Top Rating By National Group

All-American Classification Given To 1936 Artemisia for Only Other Time in History

Special Honorable Mention Given For Sports, Views Sections And Art Work

By MARY HENDLEY All-American honor, highest rating given to a yearbook by the National Scholastic Press association, an organization to rate annuals of colleges and high schools, was given to the 1936 Artemisia, University of Nevada yearbook, it was learned this week. The editor of the Artemisia was Walter Bowrin and the business manager was Winifred Walsh.

This is the first time since 1930 that the University of Nevada yearbook has been given this high rating although it has been entered every year. Only once has it ever won this high honor before, the other time being in 1928.

According to Genevieve Hansen, editor of the book this year, the National Scholastic Press association is a standard body for the purpose of rating annuals and is located at the University of Minnesota. The highest score that it gives a yearbook is 1000 and the score received by the Artemisia was 790.

The association gave special honorable mention to the Artemisia for the sports and views sections. The art work was also rated exceptionally high.

Although a great many other colleges of the same enrollment as the University of Nevada had their yearbooks entered, only two others received an all-American rating. They were at Washburn college, Topeka, Kan., and Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill.

The critics in the N. S. P. A. service have used as their guide and measuring stick "A Manual and Scorebook for Editors and Staff of Yearbooks."

"Frequent revisions of this publication have raised the standard of judgment and have resulted in a steady and marked improvement in yearbooks," Fred Kildow, author of the book, states.

At a yearbook editors' convention to be held in Louisville, Ky., October 29-31, the Artemisia will be one of the yearbooks exhibited.

Mining Graduates Send Copper Ore To Mackay School

A collection of copper ores from Minas de Matahambre in Cuba has just been received by the Mackay museum. These ores were presented by Dudley Homer, class of 1910, and Oliver Seymour, class of 1935.

Homer, who is manager of this property, the only important copper mine in Cuba, also presented the school of mines with a panoramic photograph, four feet long, of this copper producing district.

The museum also received from C. D. Woodhouse specimens of two rare minerals, torbenite and clinoclasite, from the Sheba mine in Pershing county.

The torbenite is a radio-active mineral containing uranium. This is the first time this mineral has been found in the state of Nevada. The clinoclasite is an unusual mineral of copper arsenide.

Dr. Harry C. Wheeler has given the museum a specimen of gypsum from Las Vegas wash near Boulder canyon. All of the specimens will be placed on display in the museum immediately.

Student Teachers Put Aside Books For Week's Rest

Approximately 80 practice teachers heaved a gargantuan sigh of relief today as they laid aside fairy tales, lesson plans and seat work for a week.

With state teachers' institute scheduled for Reno during next week, classes in all Reno public schools will be dismissed after Monday. Teachers will visit the Reno schools Monday and it would be undesirable to have students teaching at that time, the education department feels.

Many university faculty members are planning to attend the sessions of the institute. Meetings will be held in the Reno high school and the Civic auditorium, according to present plans.

Dr. F. W. Traner, head of the department of secondary education at the university, will present a revision of the constitution of the organization of teachers which will be discussed and put up for approval.

Debate Banquet Held in Sparks

Under the arrangements made by Lewis Pulsipher, the debate banquet was held in the banquet room of the Lincoln hotel in Sparks, Thursday at 8 p. m., under the direction of William Cashill, acting toastmaster, a member who toasted Robert S. Griffin, coach of the debate squad and also various other members. Cashill is a member of last year's squad.

Those who attended the banquet were members of last year's squad and all members of the debate squad in years past.

Those present were Charles Doherty, Robert Miller, Morrison Beatty, Homer Herz, Robert Joy, William Cashill, Louis Weiner, Emilie Gezelin, Melville Hancock, Mr. Griffin and Lewis Pulsipher.

Frosh Feelingly Fetch Firewood For Festivities

A solemn procession of wooden boxes moves silently up the dark, deserted street. The glimmer of an arc light outlines the shapes of the unhappy frosh, bent and twisted under their loads.

All day and all night these poor, imposed upon freshmen struggle to and from the campus, bringing material for the bonfire—five boxes or three tires being required of each yearling.

Here and there is a spark of enthusiasm as shown by one generous contribution of 22 boxes and another donation of a truckload of cardboard.

Some big, some small and some large. The frosh, Frank Menante and George Folsom, finally ended their trips after accumulating 122 tires for the big Homecoming bonfire.

More than 75 freshmen have turned out with boxes so far, with the women leading in production with a ratio of about 5 to 1, so it's a toast to the women.

Martha Holcomb contributed 25 boxes, while 60 per cent of the freshman showing with their endeavors were of the so-called weaker sex.

New Flower Beds Will Be Planted

Through the efforts of the university ground crew under the direction of Carl Horn, acting superintendent, five new flower beds are being prepared at various points on the campus.

There has been a shortage of flowers, caused by souring of the soil, Horn reported. However, a new system of drainage is being installed in the new beds and it is hoped that this souring can be eliminated.

No decision has been made as to the kinds of flowers which will be planted.

Dick Summerbell will spend Sunday with his family in Fallon.

Women to Start Fall Rifle Shoot

Rifle, the only women's intercollegiate sport on the University of Nevada campus, will begin as soon as the ammunition arrives. Bette Naismith, rifle manager, announced this week.

Thirty challenges are being sent out this week to other colleges in the United States and in Hawaii. The challenges will be shot off next semester after the intersorority championship has been decided. Last year the women's rifle team only lost three matches during its entire season.

Varsity members of the team who are back this year are Bette Naismith, Eunice Beckley, Jessie Sellman, Gertrude Polander, Elizabeth Osborn, Frances Smith, Marilyn Rhodes, Genevieve Hansen, Frances Smith, Betty Inda and Mary Mathews.

No assistant will be appointed until rifle has been going for about two weeks, Miss Naismith said.

"We particularly want to win our matches with the University of Washington and the University of Vermont, since we haven't come out on top with those two schools for a long time," Miss Naismith stated.

Bowman, La Rivers Classify Minerals

Under the direction of Dr. Harry E. Wheeler, the class in Paleontology, consisting of two members—Betty Bowman and Ira La Rivers—is engaged in determining the genera and species of a collection of trilobites.

The trilobites, which are crustaceans about 450 million years old, were collected by Professor Vincent P. Gianella in British Columbia in 1927. They have never been classified until now.

Ellen Lane, sophomore student, will spend Saturday and Sunday in Fallon at the home of her uncle, George Kenney.

Fossil Deposits At Wells, Nevada, Form Topic Talk

A large deposit of fossils, including elephant, horse and camel teeth, and remains of many human beings has been found near Wells, Nev., H. E. Wheeler, assistant professor of geology, said in a talk Thursday before the University of Nevada Faculty Science club.

"This deposit may prove to be one of the rare occurrences of this kind in North America," Wheeler said, "as there are only two similar deposits in this country—the Big Bone Lick in Kentucky and the asphalt deposits at the 'Rancho La Brea' near Los Angeles."

The discovery of these fossils tends to substantiate the theory that primeval man lived near Wells during the Ice Age. These animals and human beings were trapped in a quicksand deposit at a water hole.

"Through the finding of this deposit," Wheeler stated, "we may be able to trace the origin, evolution, migration and dispersion in general of this race of people."

Mackay to Open

Sigma Kappa fraternity will again hold its annual street dance at 9 p. m. in front of the chapter house on Lake street.

The visiting alumni will register Friday and Saturday mornings from 9 until 11:30 in the Student Union building, during which time exhibits of the Fine Arts group, the Engineering society and other campus organizations will be on display in the various buildings on the campus.

The engineering contest, usually held on the quad as a part of the celebration, will not be presented this year, the chairman stated. In the future it will be a part of the Engineers' Day activities, according to word given

Church May Start Classwork Monday

Dr. J. E. Church, who has been recuperating from an attack of pneumonia here at his home in Reno, is said to be much better. However, Dr. Church is still under a doctor's care and it is not known whether he will be able to take over his classes on Monday, as was formerly announced.

Dr. Church, internationally known as the inventor of a scientific method of measuring snow, was making an intensive study of the watersheds of western Europe when he was taken ill in Moscow, Russia, during the latter part of August.

He returned to Reno October 8.

out by Gezelin of an agreement last week by the committee and the Associated Engineers.

Described as a highlight of the programmed events in the alumni letters sent out by the committee and, according to all indications, promising to be the most entertaining feature of the festivities, the Wolves' Frolic curtain will rise at 8:15 Friday evening on numerous skits, short acts and dances by various campus groups.

The annual interfraternity cross country race will be a feature of Saturday morning's activities, beginning at 10 o'clock from the Sparks high school and ending at the U. of N. gymnasium.

In the parade, former student body presidents will ride as honored guests. Gezelin said yesterday that most of the past student presidents will be present. The mile-long parade will begin at the university, march down Virginia street, proceed to Center and then on Second street, where the display will dissemble. The Idaho-Nevada game will attract the celebrators at 2:15 as the next event after the parade. The alumni banquet will be held in the Riverside hotel at 7 p. m. Saturday, at which time alumni officers will be elected for the coming term.

Climaxing the eventful celebration is the Homecoming dance in the State building at 9 p. m. the same night, with a record crowd expected to be present to terminate the seventeenth annual year of homecoming of Nevada graduates.

The cups and trophies given as rewards to the winners in intramural sports, the fraternity and sorority houses with the best decorations and the organizations with the best floats will be on display beginning Thursday, Gezelin said. They will be awarded to the groups at the dance Saturday night.

A revolving trophy has been added to the awards now being given in conjunction with Homecoming Day activities by President Walter E. Clark, who has donated a cup to be presented on alternate years to the sorority and then the fraternity which has the best parade float. The sororities are being considered this year for the award. The permanent owner must win the cup three times, Gezelin said.

The four-page pamphlet invitations to the alumni scattered all over the world were being received locally Tuesday morning, the letters going into the mails Monday afternoon. Three large, blue-colored pictures of scenes on the campus are included in the invitation. Clarence H. Mackay's telegram of regret at being absent at this year's celebration was received by Gezelin recently, Mackay stating that "it is impossible for me to absent myself from the east this fall, as there is so much demanding my attention here." The renowned benefactor asked to be remembered "most cordially" to all of his friends at the University of Nevada.

On the committee besides Gezelin are Cletus Libbey, Walter States, Charles Allen, Mark Yori, Ross Morris, Maurice Sheppard, George Warren, Kathryn Luke and Jane Bell.
