

Rooters From South Will Invade Campus

Over 300 Gauchos Arrive Tomorrow By Train and Car

Nevada Students to Meet Santa Barbara Delegation at Depot Tomorrow Morning

Visitors to Have Special Section in Bleachers; Two Hour Social To Follow Game

By ROSS MORRIS
More than 300 strong, a delegation of rooters from Santa Barbara will pour into Reno tomorrow morning to take over the University of Nevada campus while they root and roar for their undefeated El Gaucho gridmen as they clash with the mighty "Blue Bombers" of Nevada in the afternoon.

Cars, cushions and catwalks will probably be the popular methods of obtaining transportation to what will likely be one of the outstanding games of the Wolves' season.

Two hundred or more will arrive on the "Gaucho special" Saturday morning. The group will consist of the football players, about 35 strong, approximately a 40 piece band, and the remaining 125 will be townspeople and students. Some hundred or more are traveling in cars and will arrive some time tomorrow morning.

Rally at Train
Displaying the revival of the Nevada spirit, all service organizations, Blue Key, Sagens, and any others, along with many students and townspeople, will flock to the local depot tomorrow morning. The backers of the Green and White, colors of the Santa Barbara State college, will be welcomed at 8 a. m. and marched en masse to the University of Nevada campus.

After arriving at the campus the visitors will be shown around to the different places of interest and a rally will be held in the auditorium.

Gaucho Band
The El Gaucho band, ranked high among the coast bands, will participate in the Admission Day parade scheduled to start at 10:30 Saturday morning.

This noted group of college musicians will also perform during the half-time at the football game along with the Nevada band, which is under the direction of Professor Post and Reuben Tuttle, assistant director.

Wilma Klesner, chairman of the Santa Barbara rally committee, along with the spirit of El Gaucho, is responsible for this representation. The expected crowd is the largest that has ever accompanied a football team to Reno and it also takes the prize for covering the most miles for a group this size.

The rooters from Southern California will have a reserved section on the 50 yard line in the bleachers on the south side of the field. Their team will be placed in the usual position of the visiting invaders, which is on the bench on the south side of the field.

Social After Game
Tom Morris, chairman of the Blue Key social hours committee, said that there will be a two hour social in the gymnasium immediately after the game. All U. of N. students will gather on the north side of Mackay field and sit in the bleachers that were put up by the Sagens at the beginning of the football season.

Louis Weiner and Sam Zackheim, with the cooperation of their women assistants, will lead the Nevada rooting section in various yells and songs. Professor Post and his band will take the west end of the students' bleachers and will keep the air ringing with Nevada songs and marches.

"Doug" Dashiell, Nevada's mentor, and his "Blue Bombers" will be located on the north side of the field facing "Spud" Harder and his fighting Gaucho eleven.

"Bill" Cashill, president of the A. S. U. N., said that he hoped that all students would be on hand to welcome the Santa Barbarans Saturday morning and that all students would portray the true Nevada spirit in showing the visitors a real time and making them welcome so long as they remain in Reno.

Alumni in East Plan for Annual 'Nevada Evening'

Hoping to recapture the spirit of the campus and the state with decorations of real sagebrush and a treat of pine-nuts, the annual get-together of the University of Nevada alumni of New York City and vicinity on November 6 is being planned by W. Scott Hill, association president.

Invitations of a reminiscent tone have been sent out to about 55 Nevada graduates "scattered from Schenectady to Philadelphia," promising an informal evening of pleasant memories and Nevada songs. The annual eastern reunion is always well attended, and is made in every way to remind the graduates of their fall days on the campus.

Plans have been made to include talks by Stanley Pargellis '12 and Virginia Higgins Stevenson '21. President Walter E. Clark will make his yearly trip east to attend the reunion and speak to the alumni on contemporary campus subjects.

Ski Enthusiasts Elect Club Heads

Electing John Robinson president, Elizabeth Best secretary-treasurer and Harold Herz vice-president, the University of Nevada Ski club held its first meeting in the Student Union building Wednesday night with a turnout of over sixty students.

A committee headed by Wayne Poulsen and consisting of Ed Rose and Tom Horgan, was appointed to consider a constitution for the group.

Prof. J. E. Martie was elected a senior member of the board of directors, with Wayne Poulsen as the junior representative. It was agreed to set a membership fee at a dollar and a half which will include a year's membership and an emblem to be worn by the members. A chenille circular emblem was approved.

Many famous amateur ski champions can be secured for instructing the members of the club, Poulsen said. Among those suggested are: Roy Mikkelsen, national champion in 1933 and 1935 and captain of the 1936 Olympic games ski team; Halvaar Mikkelsen, brother to Roy and a great performer in his own right; Rolf Wigard, California champion, and Martin Arrouge of Reno and the Auburn Ski club who is ranked among the first five in the nation's skiers.

An intercollegiate meet, to be held February 27 and 28 or March 6 and 7, will follow a series of contests held in conjunction with various ski clubs in northern California.

Cooperation of the Reno Chamber of Commerce was assured with the presentation of a plan by the group to have a joint meeting of the Reno Ski club and the university organization. This would supply the Reno group with some good material and bring financial aid to the student team.

Moore to Head R. O. T. C. Group in State Parade

Cadet Captain Craig Moore will act as battalion commander of the University of Nevada R. O. T. C. and Cadet Captain John Carr will be corps adjutant when the military unit marches in the annual Nevada Day parade tomorrow.

The parade tomorrow marks the second time in a week that the student soldiers have been on parade, their first appearance of the year being in the Homecoming parade last Saturday.

Many additions have been made to the military equipment at the university this year. In the celebration last week the unit wore new leather garrison belts. This week 160 pairs of shoes were passed out to the cadets.

New Arm Insignia
Cadet Commandant Captain H. W. Isbell said that the new arm insignia in the form of an outline map of the state of Nevada, with a wolf's head in the center and a golden scroll above the words "Battle Born," were ordered and should be here in time for the Armistice Day parade.

This will be the first time in many years that a Nevada cadet corps has worn a distinctive Nevada insignia and will do much to identify the local cadets when they attend the summer military camp, Captain Isbell said.

1936 Homecoming Ends Successfully With Alum Dance

Bonfire, Fireworks Open 3 Day Celebration of Seventeenth Annual Get-Together

400 or More Graduates Present At Close of Festivities on Saturday Night

Nevada's most successful Homecoming celebration was concluded Saturday night when more than 400 couples danced at the Homecoming dance in the Civic auditorium.

The climax of the three day festival was the unexpected victory of a fighting Nevada Wolf Pack over a powerful University of Idaho football team on Mackay field Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 6. The largest crowd in the history of the university, estimated at more than 6000 persons, swarmed Mackay stadium and cheered the Wolves on to victory.

Homecoming festivities were opened Thursday night with a mammoth bonfire rally at Mackay stadium and the lighting of the block N on Peavine mountain. As the large bonfire lighted the field and stadium, Emile Gezellen, Homecoming committee chairman, introduced the following speakers: Senator P. A. McCarran, President Walter E. Clark, Football Coach Douglas Dashiell, Professor R. C. Thompson, Student Body President William Cashill and Attorney Alan Bible.

Senator McCarran was the principal speaker of the evening and was presented with a Nevada banner by Dr. Clark.

Head Cheer Leader Louis Weiner and his assistant, Sam Zackheim, had no trouble in getting response from the crowd and assisted by the University of Nevada band yells, songs and music echoed throughout the stadium.

More Than 400 Alums
On Friday more than 400 alumni and former students returned to the campus and spent the day in registering, viewing the various organization exhibitions and visiting with friends and faculty members.

Friday's highlight, however, was the annual Wolves' Frolic, campus variety show made up of 22 fraternity and sorority skits and dance acts, which was presented at the Granada theater in the evening.

Saturday was the busiest day of the celebration, with the four mile inter-fraternity cross country race and the traditional parade being outstanding events of the morning. The football game took up the afternoon and it was followed by open house at most of the fraternities and sororities, an alumni banquet at the Riverside hotel at 7 o'clock and the dance beginning at 9 o'clock.

Tillie Botti, A. T. O., crossed the line first in the cross country jaunt and his teammates, Michael Vuich and Louis Spitz, finished fourth and fifth to give A. T. O. the intramural trophy.

Parade is Highlight
The Homecoming Day parade was perhaps the most colorful affair of the entire celebration. Every social group on the campus and nearly every organization was represented by a float. As hundreds of townspeople lined the streets, the procession, led by the University of Nevada band and the R. O. T. C. unit made a swing of the main streets in the business district. Prominent alumni, university officials and city officials rode in automobiles near the head of the parade. The novel floats comprised the rest of the parade.

Marshall Guisti of Reno was elected president of the Alumni association at the annual banquet of the organization, which was held at the Riverside Saturday evening. He replaces Hoyt Martin.

One hundred and fifty alumni heard Thomas P. Brown, son of the first president of the university and graduate with the class of 1898, speak of the progress made by the institution. Dr. Harold Wahlman of the Los Angeles alumni group, Dr. Walter E. Clark and Head Coach Doug Dashiell also made addresses.

Engineers Enter Industrial Show

The contribution of the University of Nevada to the Nevada Industrial show is an exhibit of the Associated Engineers. The show is an annual affair and is the high point in the Admission Day celebration.

The exhibit includes displays from the mechanical, electrical, civil and mining departments of the engineering college. The miniature bridge which the group used for their organization float in the Homecoming parade forms the center of the display.

Minerals from the Nevada mines were shown by the miners, while the mechanical students displayed the work done in metal by various students. The Nevada neon sign with its automatic lighting was the electrical contribution. The miniature engines, reproduced from large engines used by modern railroads, were also included in the exhibit.

DEAN WILL HOLD FIRST U. N. RUMMAGE SALE

The post office department has its deadletter office, the newspapers have their lost and found columns, but Nevada is to have a rummage sale of lost articles of clothing, books and student necessities in the near future.

As a magnet attracts steel, so does Dean Adams' office attract any loose article of clothing and learning that comes within its range.

Whether the pretentiousness of the office, Mazie Ryan's smile or the dean himself are responsible for the sudden lapse of memory is a question appropriate for any psychology midterm.

At present the closet in the dean's office contains: One pair of tennis shoes, slightly frayed at the edges; two hats of rather ancient vintage, both male; one girl's sweater, a coming necessity for these cold fall mornings; a pair of gloves, with all fingers intact; a spring hat, of rather chic appearance, and some twenty odd books ranging from Ely's "Outline of Economics" to Marks' "Better Themes," supplemented by a pair of binders, which have, as is usual of college binders, been subjected to very little usage.

Dean Adams is expected to set a time limit for the removal of this accumulation and after the time limit has expired the remaining objects will be sold at Nevada's first rummage sale.

Guisti Named Head of Alumni Group

Marshall Guisti '30 was elected president of the Nevada Alumni association for the coming year, succeeding Hoyt Martin '29, at the annual graduate banquet held Saturday night at the Riverside hotel.

Alan Bible '30 was chosen vice-president of the association to serve with President Guisti, while Mrs. Louise Lewers '95 was named secretary-treasurer for the twenty-fourth consecutive term.

The executive committee will consist of the officers and the following members: Frank Warren of Washington, D. C., Thomas P. Brown '99 of San Francisco, Dr. Harold Wahlman '22 of Los Angeles, Harold Coffin '26 of Honolulu, Scott Hill '23 of New York City, Douglas Castle '22 of Elko, A. E. Cahlan '20 of Las Vegas, Harry Frost '27 of Reno, Grace Semenza '34 of Reno and Blythe Bulmer '33 of Reno.

Thomas P. Brown delivered the principal talk of the evening and confined his remarks to the progress of the university. His father was the first president of the institution and Brown was graduated in 1899. He is publicity director for the Western Pacific Railroad company and resides in San Francisco.

Short talks were made by Dr. Walter E. Clark, "Doug" Dashiell, head football coach, and Dr. Wahlman. Hoyt Martin presided.

The alumni group passed a motion to place the statue of John W. Mackay, for whom many of the University of Nevada buildings are named, in Statuary hall in Washington D. C. The state is entitled to place statues of two distinguished citizens, now deceased, in the hall and has never taken any action.

The branch of the alumni association in Washington advised the group here that they had approved this action and requested that it be brought up at this meeting.

Messages were read from Frank Warren, representative of the alumni living in Washington, D. C.; Scott Hill, president of the New York City alumni, and Harold Coffin, representing the alumni in the Hawaiian Islands.

NOTICE
Chem club trees who are to be initiated into the group Wednesday will please contact George Dukes, secretary, by Tuesday afternoon. Margaret Jensen Vice-President.

Santa Barbara Grid Men To Invade Mackay Field For Non-Conference Tilt

Creek Will Preside Over Celebration

Evamae Beemer, Ethel Kent Are Attendants for Queen During Nevada Day Fete

Ellen Creek, senior student at the university and member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was elected Nevada's Admission Day queen Tuesday. Her attendants will be Evamae Beemer, Delta Delta Delta, and Ethel Kent, Gamma Phi Beta. Both are senior students.

Miss Creek is a member of Campus Players, university dramatic society, and has had parts in many of the plays produced by this organization. She is also a member of Fine Arts group and other campus activities. She graduated from the Reno high school and was the first woman president of the B. D. Billingsworth junior high school.

Miss Beemer was elected honorary major last year by Seaboard and Blade, is president of Sagens, women's pep organization, and of Cap and Scroll, women's honorary society.

Miss Kent is a member of publications board, Press club and is a member of the high school editors' convention.

Miss Creek will be crowned queen tonight at 9 o'clock in the Scott Motors display room at the Industrial show. Tomorrow she will head the Nevada Day parade in a float provided by her sorority. She will be the guest of honor at the Nevada Day dinner tomorrow night at the Century club, and will award the trophies won by the different units in the parade at the grand ball.

257 Alums Sign Homecoming List

With the largest number of alumni returning to their alma mater, the seventeenth annual Homecoming celebration was lauded as the most successful ever held.

Although many graduates did not sign up, there were 257 accounted for in the register, from all sections of the southwest. For the 1935 festival there were 39 members listed.

Harry E. Stewart, former mayor of Reno, was the oldest registered graduate. Stewart was the eighteenth student to receive a University of Nevada diploma, having graduated in 1894.

Reno members exceeded by far those from any other place. The delegation from California had 15 members. Missouri, North Dakota and Utah each had one representative. Other alumni were registered from various other towns throughout the state of Nevada.

Three Students Are in Hospital

George Loomis, Phi Sigma Kappa pledge, was taken to the Washoe General hospital last week with scarlet fever. He will be under quarantine for five or six weeks.

Herbert Chessher, who was taken to St. Mary's hospital this week, was reported greatly improved. Chessher is a freshman and played on the frosh football team until he was taken ill.

Helen Haller, who was operated on for appendicitis last week, is also improving. Miss Haller, who is a freshman student, will withdraw from school soon and will enroll in a Reno business college after Christmas.

200 Fans Sign Up For C. of P. Trip On November 6

Approximately 200 students, 55 of them band members, will "back the Pack" when the Nevada Wolves meet the C. of P. Bengals at Stockton November 6.

Plans for an eventful trip are being made by Rob Creps and Charles Barnes, who are in charge of arrangements.

The special train will leave here Friday morning at 9 o'clock and arrive in Stockton some time in mid-afternoon.

C. of P. students are planning to meet the Nevada train and escort the rooters to the stadium, where a pep rally will be held.

Although there will be no special train for the return trip it is probable that many of the students will return with the team Saturday morning. The return ticket is good for nine days.

Besides those students going by train many others plan to make the trip by car.

Bill Grubbs Wins Athletic Sweater

Chosen by a committee of three, consisting of George Ross, radio announcer, Joe Jackson of the Reno Evening Gazette and Murray Moler of the Nevada State Journal, Bill Grubbs, Nevada half-back, was awarded the all-American sweater donated by Herd & Short to the outstanding player in the Nevada-Idaho game played here Saturday.

Grubbs was chosen because of his touchdown run in the second quarter; his tackle from behind of an Idaho man who was in the clear for a second score for the Vandals, and for his all-around good playing. He was selected from a list of five men nominated for the honor.

There are to be two more sweaters awarded this season, one to the most valuable man in the College of Pacific game, to be played November 6 at Stockton, and another to the man selected as the most outstanding in the Fresno State contest November 26 at Fresno and all other games this season. It was announced that no one player will be eligible for the award more than once.

Trophies Awarded To Organizations At Alumni Dance

A total of seven cups and trophies were awarded to various campus organizations at the Homecoming dance last week for their entries in contests of the celebration.

Pi Beta Phi sorority was awarded the President Walter E. Clark revolving trophy, which was presented for the first time, for the best sorority float in the parade. The winning entry was in the form of a large flower corsage on a white float.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Eskimo igloo with the caption "All gone to Homecoming" was judged the best fraternity float.

Omega Mu Iota, pre-med organization, took first prize among organizations with its float, which consisted of a stork carrying a baby and facing a skeleton horse and skeleton doctor.

A large Homecoming ship docked at pier "36" in front of the Delta Delta Delta sorority house won that group a cup for the best sorority house decorations.

The "Bull Con" mine, depicting a typical Nevada mine of the "good old days" and complete in every detail, won the prize for Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity for the best fraternity house decorations.

The cup for the best sorority skit in the Wolves' Frolic went to Delta Delta Delta for its coed rope-skipping dance routine.

Flourishing guns throughout the audience as well as on the stage, the "Martin and the Coy" feud, based upon the well known hill-billy song, was presented by Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity members to cinch the cup for the best fraternity skit in the Frolic.

Mines Head Inspects Property at Jungo

John A. Fulton, director of the Mackay school of mines, has just returned from a trip to Jungo, north of Winnemucca, where he visited the famous mine recently discovered by George Austin.

Gauchos Prepare To Enter Heavy Starting Lineup

Dashiell Will Rely on Reserves To Carry Brunt of Vaunted Southerners' Power

Wide Open Brand of Football Is Promised Many Thousands Who Will Attend Game

By CHARLES DOHERTY

Coming out of the south prepared to defend their undefeated record, 35 Gauchos of the Santa Barbara State college, accompanied by more than 300 rooters, will invade the lair of the Wolves tomorrow afternoon on Mackay field.

Ready to open up with power and unbelievable ball flinging, an offensive which has netted them 113 points, the Gauchos will present a formidable starting lineup which will average 204 pounds in the line and 176 pounds in the backfield.

Led by Howard Yeager, a ten second hundred man, who is dynamite on end runs, laterals and forward passes, and Bob Morell, diminutive 155 pound left half, who splits tackle and the line like a sharp knife, the Gauchos will have 20 backfield aces who have piled up 814 yards from scrimmage and 72 points scored in five games.

Use Warner System
Breaking his speedsters into the open from behind a Warner system which he learned under "Pop" Warner at Stanford, "Spud" Harder, head man of the southerners, has a forward wall with four men weighing well over the 200 mark, and the other three men no lighter than 185 pounds.

Showing their defensive strength, the Santa Barbara team has not been scored on in the last three games and only 12 points have been made against them this season.

Reserves to Play
Facing that sort of opposition, Doug Dashiell, head Nevada mentor, presented a gloomy picture this week as he juggled his men to find substitutes capable of carrying out the stellar roles of the first stringers who are on the bench because of serious bruising received in last week's encounter.

Under the threat of possible injury to his mainstays the week before the most important conference engagement in the season, Dashiell will also be forced to keep several of his "first" men under wraps during the game.

Highly satisfied with the showing of the Pack during the Vandal game Dashiell named two alternative lineups, one of which will probably start the game.

Lineups Named
On the first line Dashiell named, Galloway and Campbell will hold down the wing positions, with Walker and St. Clair flanking them. In the guard spot two lightweights, Miles and Foremaster, will hold forth, while Al Lansdon will take the pivot position. Calling signals from the fullback position "Ham" Robb will guide the team with backfield mates Eltringham, who was shifted to the quarter position this week, and Barnes and Caldwell at the halves.

On the other team practically the lineup used against the Vandals will take the field. Cleary and Basta at ends, St. Clair and Shwalter at tackles, (Continued on Page Six)

Demos, G. O. Ps. Hold Open Forum

Democrats and Republicans met on equal terms last Wednesday evening in a combined debate and open forum sponsored by the Landon-Knox club and the Campus Democrats.

Supervised by debate department and chaired by Prof. Robert Griffin, debate coach, the debate was the first to be held on the campus this semester and gave the audience an opportunity to voice its opinions on the subject.

The constructive speeches were given from the platform by the two teams. The question debated was, "Resolved, that the Republican party should be returned to power in next Tuesday's election." The affirmative of the question was upheld by Carol Williams and Norrison Beatty, representing the Landon-Knox club.

The negative contentions were advanced by Lewis Pulsipher and Bob Miller representing the Campus Democrats.

Following the presentation of the constructive speeches, rebuttals were carried on in the form of questions asked by the audience.

Williams Services Held Tuesday

The funeral of Edwin Eugene Williams, former associate professor of languages at the University of Nevada, who died at Round Mountain on October 15, was held last week in Reno. Many former university students and friends of Williams attended the services.

A well-known figure in campus activities while he was on the campus, Professor Williams was forced to retire several years ago on account of ill health. He is survived by his wife and son, Eugene.

GRAD VISITS CAMPUS

Murray English, chemistry graduate with the class of 1936, returned to Reno to participate in the Homecoming celebration and to visit his parents. English is now working in the Western Condensing company laboratories in Petaluma, Calif.

Exchange Dinners Will Be Scheduled By Greeks Soon

Delta Delta Delta Opens Season With Banquets in Honor of House Presidents

Phi Sigma Kappa May Entertain Groups at Joint Dinner on Single Evening

With preparation for Homecoming over, sororities and fraternities are now completing plans for a series of exchange dinners which in the past few years have gained a prominent place on the social calendars of the various Greek organizations.

Delta Delta Delta sorority, which opened the season series last week by entertaining the presidents of the women's organizations, was hostess Tuesday night at a dinner honoring all fraternity presidents. Plans are being made by Jeanette Green to entertain faculty members and departmental heads on Tuesday evenings, while Friday afternoons will be devoted to teas alternately honoring a sorority and a fraternity. Later in the semester the Mothers' club and the Alliance will be guests at dinner, while a smoker is being arranged for the fathers later in the semester.

Houses Favorable
Kappa Alpha Theta, with Anne Gibbs in charge, will exchange dinners with all the fraternities and sororities as well as Manzanita Hall association. Though definite dates have not yet been set, the dinners will be begun within the next few weeks.

"A full schedule," according to Joe Lommort, president of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, "will make it necessary for our house to entertain the fraternities and sororities at a joint dinner on a single evening if such arrangements can be made." The date, though indefinite at present, will fall somewhere in the middle of November.

Harold Lang, social chairman of Lambda Chi Alpha, has as yet made no definite plans, but it is likely that house will continue the popular exchange movement.

Gamma Phi Beta dinner arrangements will be made by Lillian Guisti. "These dinners are very popular among the women and will be continued," said Georgianna Harriman, president of that house.

Though Pi Beta Phi, Manzanita Hall association, Bet Kappa, Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Sigma and Alpha Tau Omega have announced no plans concerning the exchanging of dinners it is very likely that these houses too will follow the example of the other organizations and promote sociability and good will through holding such gatherings.

Beta Sigma Omicron and Alpha Delta Theta will not enter into the series.

Labs Are Quiet Over Homecoming
For the first time in many years, the wheels of the engineering labs were at a standstill during the entire Homecoming celebration.

Many engineers were working on larger projects of the annual event, stated Charles Allen, president of the Associated Engineers, and they wanted to save the main attractions for Engineers' Day next semester.

Under the direction of Charles Keeler, chairman of the engineers' float committee, an exhibit of the different branches of the engineering departments were presented last Saturday morning in the parade.

Men who worked with Keeler on the float were Kenneth Ward, Elmer Bawden, William Devore, Louis Sanborn, Norman Smith and Howard Smith.

Greeks Entertain Returning Grads

A merry swirl of luncheons, smokers, dinners and open houses were provided by the various fraternal organizations of the University of Nevada in honor of more than 900 alumni attending the Homecoming Day celebration who are affiliated with the various fraternities and sororities.

Phi Sigma Kappa held the first social gathering with its annual street dance in front of the house on Lake street. They also had a dinner in honor of the alumni Saturday evening.

Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained their alumni with buffet luncheons held immediately following the game.

Beta Kappa entertained with a smoker and a dinner held at their chapter house Saturday evening. The Lambda Chi honored their grads at a dinner, also held Saturday following the game.

Alpha Tau Omega entertained with a buffet luncheon in honor of their returning alumni Saturday preceding the game and held open house from 5 until 8 Saturday evening. Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity also opened its doors to the returning students after the game.

The sororities also provided entertainment for their "Homecomers."

The Tri-Delt actives and pledges were hostess to 76 alumni at their annual alumni luncheon, held at the chapter house Saturday noon. They also held open house for visitors and students after the game.

Pi Beta Phi feted their alumni with a luncheon at the Century club Saturday afternoon. Ethel Frost acted as toastmistress and also directed memorial services for Margaret Campbell, sorority founder, who died recently.

Many of the returning Thetas used the chapter house as their headquarters, where they were entertained Saturday afternoon at the annual alumni luncheon.

Gamma Phi Beta also entertained with a luncheon Saturday afternoon and an open house from 5 to 8 Saturday evening.

Beta Sigma Omicron entertained with a breakfast at the El Cortez Saturday morning before the parade.

Freshman Injured In Auto Crash

Leonard Carpenter, member of the freshmen class, has returned to the in an automobile accident when the car in which he was driving went over a thirty foot embankment between Truckee and Colfax en route to San Francisco.

With the exception of a bad laceration of his right knee, Carpenter was uninjured. The car in which he was riding is the property of Bill Peccole. The damage of the machine was estimated at about fifty dollars.

Carpenter had received word that his mother was seriously ill in the hospital in San Francisco, and, having borrowed a friend's automobile, was driving late at night and had fallen asleep when the accident occurred.

16 Band Uniforms Ordered by Post

Sixteen members of the University of Nevada band who have not been turned out in the snappy blue and silver uniforms which distinguished the other 34 bandmen so far this season, were measured for their uniforms Tuesday and the order was sent in the same day, Professor Theodore Post, head of the music department, said Wednesday.

It is possible, Post added, that the uniforms may arrive in time for the College of Pacific trip, and they will certainly be here in time for the Chico game.

The uniforms and 28 band instruments will be furnished the University of Nevada by the United States government because the R. O. T. C. quota at the university has reached over 250 students.

The instruments were ordered two weeks ago and include all the essentials necessary for the instrumentation of a 28 piece band. Post said that band members were considering having the instruments sent by express instead of by the usual military route, but that nothing definite had been done yet.

The equipment will remain the property of the government but will be handled and issued by the music department.

Chem Club Tryees Qualify in Exams

Results of the competitive examination given as an entrance requirement to Chemistry club were announced last night by the executive committee of the group.

The examination was given to all tryees at the last regular meeting of the group and were corrected by Clyde Beck, president; Margaret Jensen, vice-president, and George Dukes, secretary. Dr. Allan S. Lough, faculty adviser of the group, supervised the examination.

Those qualifying for membership include Burke White, John Armstrong, John Barber, Frank Roylance, Betty Kormmayer, David Langberg, Ned Dickson, Jane Reid, Dorothy Kunsch, Gerald Kennedy, James Edmunds, Loretta Collins, Sam Stark and Bill McGee.

These students of chemistry will be initiated into the club at the next meeting, which will be held next Wednesday evening, November 4, in the Mackay Science hall.

French Society Holds Meeting

Le Cercle Francais, campus organization of students interested in French, held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, with Emile Gezelin presiding. Myrtle Cox was elected secretary-treasurer, succeeding Maurine Graf, who graduated last June.

Tentative plans for the presentation of a French moving picture were discussed, but final action was postponed until the next meeting of the group, scheduled for the early part of next week.

The organization plans an active year, with several programs of lectures by prominent French residents of Nevada and California. Last year Le Cercle sponsored several successful programs, the highlight of which was a lecture by the French consul at San Francisco.

Fine Arts Hears Covarruviz Talk

Under the chairmanship of Marguerite Fuetsch the Fine Arts group held a meeting last Thursday evening at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, at which Salvador Covarruviz, Mexican artist, spoke on Mexican art. After the meeting Covarruviz drew a sketch of each woman at the gathering.

Debate Seminar Fixed for Squad

In preparation for the Western Forensic tournament, which Nevada is entering for the first time this year, a seminar has been established in the library to assist the debaters in their work upon the question.

This seminar is arranged by Professor Robert Griffin, debate coach, in conjunction with Miss Thea Thompson, university librarian, and enables the members of the debate squad to utilize the reference material placed there for their convenience at any time. The squad is now working daily on briefs for the tournament.

Entrance is possible only by presentation of a signed identification card which is revokable at any time, and only the holders of these cards are allowed in the seminar.

Those members of the debate squad holding seminar cards are Emile Gezelin, Homer Herz, Louis Weiner, Charles Doherty, Morrison Beatty and Bob Miller.

The whole Wofford college football squad was jailed temporarily at Martinsville, Va., because one of the members tried to swipe a "no parking" sign as a souvenir.

Letter to the Editor

Editor The Sagebrush—Well, the sororities are at it again. And just as the university was getting cleaned up from the political graft which has been a carry-over from the time that we seniors were in our grades.

This year Nevada turned over a new leaf and spirit was brought back to the campus. Now a few of the "narrow-minded" women on the campus have to start the old combine. If any member of either sorority can show me that they did not have combine intentions at the election of the Nevada Day queen, I would like them to answer this letter.

Now don't get me wrong, I do not wish to imply that I think that the winner is not deserving of the job, as Miss Creek can fill it as well as any woman on this campus. But why not let her win the honor without the aid of a "clique."

Why don't you women of Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta cut the dirty politics and help Nevada keep the newly built up spirit instead of trying to throw a wrench into the machinery?

Plans Outlined At A. W. S. Meet Thursday Morning

'Buy a Brick' Campaign Will Be Supervised by Evamae Beemer And Members of Sagens

Joyce Dodge to Take Charge of Annual Parade of Fashions for Women Students

Meeting for only a few minutes at 9:35 yesterday morning, the Associated Women Students laid plans for its annual fashion show, outlined the "Buy a Brick" campaign, and a committee of Eunice Beckley, Orpah Morgan, Jean Smith and Patricia Meaker.

The clothes for the fashion show, which probably will be held next month, will be from the downtown stores. Two women from each sorority will be chosen to model the clothes. The fashion show usually includes everything from rough ski suits to shiny satin formals.

This year's drive to sell bricks for the projected Student Union building, which will begin in about two weeks, will be headed by the Sagens, with Evamae Beemer in charge of the campaign.

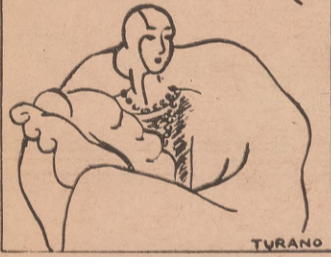

Began years ago, before Nevada had any Student Union building, the "Buy a Brick" campaign still makes it necessary for each freshman woman to sell five of the 25 cent tags to help further the campaign.

Stepping out in a novelty dance, a quartet of girls from Delta Delta Delta furnished the entertainment for the gathering, which drew only a small attendance.

The dance was also presented at the Wolves' Frolic and is a tap variation done with jumping ropes. The girls were Evelyn Bulmer, Barbara Ferron, Mary Margaret McGill and Charlotte Johnson.

Emily Tholl announced that Veronica Pataky, a Hungarian dancer who conducts a modern dancing school in San Francisco, and six of her students will give a concert here in the gymnasium on November 9. Tickets will go on sale next week.

SOCIAL WHIRL

A. T. O. to Entertain At Costume Party

Various and sundry costumes will be seen going through the window at the A. T. O. house as students climb up the fire escape to attend the annual Coconut dance Saturday night. A trip down a slide lands one on the dance floor sometimes spilling dancers. But, no matter, as all are there to have a good time.

John Gottardi and Chet Seranton will chaperone. And house members have been heard going around warning their dates that if the dance is like it used to be all those attending will be "coconuts" after they leave if they were not when they entered.

The Sigma Phi Sigma dance which was to be held this Saturday night has been postponed until November 14.

Sorority Is Hostess To Fraternity Heads

Presidents of the men's Greek letter fraternities were entertained at dinner Tuesday evening at the Delta Delta Delta house. After dinner bridge was enjoyed by those attending.

Those present at the dinner included Mrs. S. W. Shattuck, Mary Millard, Alice Sauer, Barbara Ferron, Claretta Masterson, Evamae Beemer, Beth Fred-

Group to Show Withers' Works

Beginning next week, the Fine Arts group will exhibit the works of Morin Withers of Berkeley, Calif. From Monday until Thursday the exhibit will be open from 2 to 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening. Friday the exhibit will be open only from 2 to 6.

Mrs. Withers' sketches were drawn while she was driving with her husband, who is a traveling salesman, through Nevada and northern California. The sketches are scenes of the towns in these parts. She started her career as an artist in San Francisco, in the old temporary quarters of the California School of Fine Arts that then occupied the site where the Mark Hopkins hotel now stands.

Unruly First Year Coeds Unpunished

Upperclass Heads Announce That Violators Will Be Chastised In Effective Manner Soon

Because of conflicting arrangements, freshman women who did not sell at games and attend meetings were not punished at the Associated Women's meeting Thursday, as had been planned.

Mary Millard, women's upperclass head, said today that a meeting of her committee will be held early next week, when a definite decision as to the course of action to be followed with the offenders will be made.

New names will be added to the present black list at the next meeting, which will bring the total to 25.

"The upperclass women aren't shrinking their duty," Miss Millard said, "but are just waiting for the opportune time to punish the unruly first year women in a manner that will make them realize their position on the campus."

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Holds Annual Meet

Members of the campus Y. W. C. A. cabinet held their annual supper meeting at the Colombo hotel Tuesday night.

All formal business was dispensed with and plans for the Nevada delegation to the winter Y. W. C. A. session at Astoria were informally discussed.

Those in attendance were Chrissie Finn, Harriet Cazier, Doris Bath, Jean Smith, Georgianna Harriman, Marie Barnes, Beverly Joyce, Mary Catherine Blakeley, Eloise Campbell, Agnes Howell, Ruth Stowe, Frances Nichols and Janet Parrish.

Beta Sigs Pledge Freshman Coed

Mary Prunty, freshman arts and science student from Sparks, was pledged to Beta Sigma Omicron sorority at formal ceremonies Monday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Prunty and sister of Tom Prunty, who graduated last May.

W. A. A. Initiates 23 Sportswomen

Banquet in Honor of Members Follows Ceremonies at U. of N. Gym Yesterday

The Women's Athletic association held initiation ceremonies at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon for those women who took part in sports for the first time this semester.

Twenty-three women fulfilled the necessary requirements for membership and were initiated. Gertrude Freeman, Shirley Fuetsch, Porter McKernon, Betty Parish, Dorothy Schooley, Geraldine Westfall, Orlanda Benetti, Betty Brannin, Cleone Stewart, Mary Elizabeth Wood, Betty Marie Shidler, Doris Chesnut, Jeanette Green, Jean Chism, Dorothy Atcheson, Jean Cameron, Delphina Gioicochea, Mangery Hiskey, Helen Landers, Maris Maule, Montana Olin, Nellie Roseberry and Mary Kunsch.

Following the ceremonies a banquet was held at the Silver grill in honor of the new members who have participated in the fall sport season, which included swimming, hockey, tennis and riding.

Next sport on the W. A. A. program is volleyball. Practice will begin next week, with Manager Verna Bullis in charge.

Women's Rifle Starts Thursday

The first meeting of women's rifle class will be held Tuesday, November 3, on the third floor of Stewart hall, Betty Naismith, manager, announced this week.

Rifle is the only women's intercollegiate sport on the University of Nevada campus. Thirty challenges have been mailed out this year to twenty universities in the United States and Hawaii.

After the champions in sorority matches have been determined, the national matches will be shot off. This is done locally, and the results of each match is then compared with the result of the match played by the particular competing team. Actual work in contesting for the championship will not begin until next semester. At this time an assistant manager of the sport will be announced.

Although the list is by no means complete at present, about 25 women have signed up to take part this year.

Beta Sigs Sell Flowers at Game

In accordance with a three year old tradition, members of Beta Sigma Omicron sold Nevada flowers during the Homecoming festivities on Saturday.

The flowers were white chrysanthemums with blue velvet Ns on them. Part of the returns will be used to help support the Pine Mountain school, national charity of the sorority, in Kentucky.

Women Try Out As Song Leaders

Added "pep" for the A. W. S. meetings is being planned by the women's executive board in having trouts for song leaders to direct the women in songs at the beginning and closing of each meeting. Three women will be chosen each meeting to lead each song. Virginia Posvan and Dorothy Jones have been chosen to play the piano for the songs.

To add interest to the meetings each sorority is to be responsible for one skit to be presented alternately each meeting. Beginning this week Delta Delta Delta will present the skit they had in the Wolves' Frolic, with Charlotte Johnson, Barbara Ferron, Lola Yvonne Stoddard and Mary Margaret McGill performing.

Plans for the annual A. W. S. fashion show were discussed and it was decided to have additional acts presented by the sororities, including dances, solos, piano numbers, comic scenes and variety numbers.

The annual "Buy a Brick" campaign was discussed and it was decided that the Sagens would take charge of it again this year with the help of the executive committee as well as the Associate Women Students.

The members of the women's executive committee are Betty McCulston, Evamae Beemer, Emily Tholl, Mary Millard, Dorothy Jones, Elizabeth Osborne, Eunice Beckley, Chrissie Finn, Norma Jean Mills, Genevieve Hansen, Marian Uhart.

Women Debaters May Meet U. C.

9 Women Represent Greek Houses In First Coed Team During Several Years

"The possibility that the women's varsity debate team will make a tour of the bay region debating against the women's teams of Oakland, San Francisco and Alameda next semester is extremely likely," Professor Griffin coach of Nevada's debate teams, stated today.

"The first debate of the season will probably be with the women's team from the University of California, held here sometime after January," Griffin added.

So far this semester Carol Williams, Beth Fredrickson, Lola Yvonne Stoddard, Gwen Erikson, Kay Booth, Louise Emminger, Betty West, Gene Wines and Betty Inda have signed up for intramural debate. A team will be chosen from each sorority house and the date for the first debate will be set before the end of the term.

The first meeting of all participants will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Hall of English.

According to Griffin, this is the first time in several years that the women have shown any active interest in debate on the campus. If it continues, Griffin believes, the season will be extremely successful.

English Honorary Initiates 4 Women

With the literature, art and music of Russia as the theme, Chi Delta Phi, national English honorary, held its bi-monthly meeting last night, when four women, Lucia Devore, Elona Van Sickle, Miriam Clark and Beth Fredrickson, were initiated.

Eva Adams, alumni adviser to the group, spoke on the literature of Russia, briefly tracing its history from the eleventh century and emphasizing the work of four outstanding Russian poets and novelists.

Russian music was represented by Ruth Palmer, who spoke briefly on its history and sang several Russian folk-songs.

Art in Russia was the subject to be discussed by Margaret Turano, who was ill and unable to present her topic.

Guests of honor at the meeting, which was held at Miss Palmer's home, were Professor and Mrs. A. E. Hill.

Set tentatively for three weeks from yesterday, the next meeting will be under the supervision of Genevieve Hansen, Nina Boczkiewicz, Ida De Nevi and Winifred Hiltonen.

Activities End Today For Saddle and Spurs

A moonlight ride ending with a picnic supper will wind up the semester's activities of Saddle and Spurs this afternoon.

Twelve rides have been held this fall under the direction of Sergeant Grant H. Hustis, with Lois Miller acting as manager for the sport. W. A. A. credit is given for women taking riding and all coeds signed up for the sport automatically become members of Saddle and Spurs, according to Miss Miller.

For Digestion's Sake . . . Smoke Camels

Smoking Camels with meals and after helps bring a delightful sense of well-being

MENTAL EFFORT TOO—especially long hours of study—builds up tension and puts an extra strain on digestion. When you're tired, get an invigorating "lift" with a Camel. And at mealtimes and after, "for digestion's sake . . . smoke Camels." Camels set you right!

EATING is one of life's real pleasures. And Camels make it even more enjoyable! Thanks to Camels, food tastes better and digestion goes along more smoothly. For it is a scientifically established fact that smoking Camels at mealtime and after speeds up the flow of digestive fluids . . . alkaline digestive fluids, which good di-

SECRETARIES

WHAT—AGAIN?
The combine machines started clicking again this week with the politically-minded sorority women supplying the motive power. "Combines are dead" was the watchword in last spring's election for student body president. But the well known fact remains that a combine put the president of the Associated Women Students into office at the same time.

It is also generally admitted, by everyone except the women in the two houses concerned, that the same machine put the W. A. A. heads into office.

Now with the competition among six sororities, the Independents and the hall association for Nevada Day queen, the same political maneuvering comes to the fore.

The Nevada Day queen was elected by two sorority houses. This became a rumor the night before the balloting when the candidate representing one of the two houses withdrew from the race on the flimsy excuse that she "was not a native Nevadan." It is very improbable that it took her house three weeks to find out that this was the only qualification stipulated by the Nevada Day committee.

The Nevada Day queen was elected by two sorority houses. This became a fact when the votes were counted. With the exception of a very few members who failed to get to the polls to vote for the woman they had agreed to support, both houses cast their votes as a bloc. This is a matter of facts and figures, not of hearsay or opinion.

The combine has started clicking again and like the proverbial ball that it resembles, it gathers momentum as it rolls. Also like the snowball that goes down hill and becomes larger with each bound it's hard to stop. It will leap over almost any opposition that does not put up a concerted front.

The women started it; it's up to them to finish it. May we have action?

KEEP TRAINING

The dismissal of a football player from the squad early this week for breaking training gives an indication of the point of authority which the coaching staff at the University of Nevada means to maintain at all costs.

The training which a team undergoes constitutes the backbone of that team in any crisis, and decides whether or not it will function as a unit and have the power to thrust over the winning points or whether or not it has the strength to fight off repeated attacks on the goal it defends.

Just as there are rules in the game itself, so are there rules in preparing for a position on the squad. No player has the right to consider himself outside the jurisdiction of authority, and it is for his own physical wellbeing as well as the aid he can give his team that he train diligently for his chance to enter a game.

The Sagebrush takes its stand directly behind Coach Doug Dashiell in his action, and will back him to the limit in maintaining an equal standard for all who would represent the University of Nevada on the football field.

A MEETINGS SCHEDULE

Conflicts in meetings of the various organizations on the "hill" have become so numerous as to constitute a real problem for students having affiliations with more than one of these groups. Attendance at one meeting necessitates sacrificing attendance at another, with the result that campusites having interests in more than one organization are forced to choose the one most suited to their needs and to allow their interest in the others to lag.

In the face of this unwholesome condition which has been born on the University of Nevada campus, and which may be classed as Nevada's major growing pain, students should take steps to remedy the situation by planning far enough ahead to bring meeting dates around on individual schedules.

The plan is quite feasible—all that is necessary to accomplish this is to have representatives from each of the groups meet in joint session early in each semester and work out a calendar similar to the one prepared for social events during each year.

A specified day of each week may be set aside to take care of "emergency" meetings of groups, thus avoiding any confusion and allowing students interested in more than one campus activity to pursue their affiliations with all of them.

Amendments to Constitution

To add to the by-laws of the A. S. U. N. constitution:
Articles 13, section 5, to read: All freshman (men and women) students of the University of Nevada will be required to carry from sun-up to sun-down on the university campus for the fall semester of each year, one frosh handbook. Violators of this tradition may be punished by the university upperclass committee. (This by-law to take effect in the fall of 1937.)

To add to the by-laws of the A. S. U. N. constitution:
Article 13, section 5, to read: All freshman (men) students of the University of Nevada are required to wear on the university campus, from sun-up till sun-down, during the entire fall semester of each year, the regulation frosh "dink." ## The Pedagogue

I wish we could express in good old fighting terms the spirit of the seventeenth Homecoming. We would of course need a seismograph to take the chattering of the old bones when we heard those yells boom out from both sides of Mackay stadium. This is Nevada's year and the nucleus is a fighting football team. Remember last year, when every game was just another game, and win, lose or draw, we didn't seem to care? This year a whole legion of leaders and things have ganged together to put the campus in tune. We must keep in step with the spirit of the Nevada Homecoming.

A good majority of students have been bemoaning the fact that despite the good spirit and everything, the yell leaders are giving us too much new stuff. We are of the opinion that they have given us far more than they have eliminated. The new yells are better and we'll back the yell leaders and the team with them. But, please leave us a few of the old ones, the ones we can put volume, tradition and spirit behind to rock Mackay field.

We still must hand it to the yell leaders for keeping the interest from lagging. That is the whole psychology for maintaining the spirited pace of "Nevada's year." We particularly like the half-time stunts, the cooperative yelling, and the standing up for players leaving the game.

Believe you me, if Nevada keeps on going we are going to have a name for ourselves. Coast papers have noticed our spirit and have said that we are not exactly conservative. In other words, the Wolf is no longer mild and submissive.

Vengeance on the Vandals. Gen Hansen can get it back on the Vandal yearbook editors who last year stated in their write-ups that the Vandals went out in their pajamas and toyed with the ailing Wolves. Vengeance with a smile, that's what it is. This year, they said that like Daniel in the lions' den the Vandals would come out of the Wolf lair unscathed.

Frosh who last week gave vent to the various indignities of the caste system can hardly be blamed. Every one of us, as we come up here (unless it's the activity men) feel a certain resentment at being told to do something for the alma mater. We don't get into the spirit of the thing until we're about a year along.

We'll admit that the caste system as such is lousy and that the days of the rah-rah boys in raccoon coats are gone. But, we must not forget that you get only what you put into the school. There really is nothing wrong with making a frosh do a few simple things. It seems that these balking frosh would

We got tired of seeing our column(?) passed off as a bull so we dressed it up with shorts. There was an idea to incorporate the two, but who ever heard of a bull in shorts?

The Herd and Short all-American sweater goes to Grubbs, who is every-body's choice. Somebody ought to give away a carton of Bromo-seltzer every week to the most deserving student, gridster or otherwise. Well, it sounded like a good idea, anyway.

Page Houdini. George Warren found himself too far gone to drag the body to the S. A. E. house after the street dance so curled up in the chesterfield of the obliging Phi Sigs and went to sleep. The mystery angle comes in with the revelation, by a sober Phi Sig (sorry to disappoint you) that Warren went to sleep in a white shirt and woke up in a blue one.

Well, it's a woman's privilege to change her mind, isn't it, Ellen? If a girl goes to a Frolic practice with a fellow, say Dick Roche for instance, and he goes back stage to work for a couple of hours, what's the poor girl to do, twiddle her thumbs? Not if some nice young pledge, say Charlie Matson, happens to be there. And how is a girl to know when it's time for the first fellow to return so she can get untangled from the second in time to go home with the first? In this she didn't.

Henry "Lefty" Mayer came in over the hectic weekend with tall tales of reformation. It's hard to believe that Mayer could lay off the demon; a cinch bet that he hasn't laid off of the women. But as for

Professor Irwin of the psychology department is going after his experimental data tooth and toenail. Have you been a subject of his attitude test yet? The purpose is to determine the average or prevailing attitudes of students, adults, etc. I understand that he will seek to determine whether students come to college conservatives and leave liberals. It is our guess that he comes full of hope and ideals and leaves sadistic and cynical. If that is liberalism, then we have it.

The erstwhile professor has also gone to the butchers' union, etc., in an endeavor to gather statistics. Good luck.

IN THE SPORTLIGHT

Nevada's 6-1-2-1 defense against Idaho worked like a charm. Now the maestro of the Blue Bombers is staying awake nights trying to figure out how to stop the Gauchos from Santa Barbara State.

Doug said, "If we could use three of the officials as a close secondary and our backs for the tertiary we might be able to stop the Santa Barbara laterals."

Jim Coleman scouted the Gauchos in their game with La Verne, and comes back with the report that they throw so many laterals it looked more like a basketball game than a football game.

All we know about the southern team in comparative scores is that they tripped up Whittier by a score of 25-0 and all "Rabbit" Bradshaw's Fresno charges would do against Whittier was 18-0.

They have scored 112 to 12 for the opposition, showing that they have a team of no little caliber on offense as well as the defensive.

When we think back to what Dashiell promised the student body last spring we find that both promises he made have been fulfilled.

He said, "Somewhere along the line we may beat somebody we are not supposed to." Need we say more.

Then he said that Nevada would have a team that would fight. They have come from behind and won three ball games, and fought brilliantly against many odds when the score was big against them in the other. That certainly is a team that will fight.

He told this writer confidentially last spring that he would rather win the Idaho and College of Pacific encounters than any other games on the schedule, and now he only has half-way left to go.

The condition of the Nevada football players is excellent. After play-60 minutes of bangup football they were still ready to go for some more. That is plenty.

It is very noticeable that Nevada has a real fighting football team.

In the Southern Branch game they were scored on first, but came back and won the game.

In the Willamette game they were almost snowed under but came back for a touchdown and a conversion and threatened three other times.

In the Cal Aggies game the boys from the Davis farm drew first blood, but then the Wolves began to battle and they came out on top.

The climax of the fighting Wolf Pack's 1936 schedule so far came when a heavier and more experienced Idaho scored first only to have the Pack retaliate and come back a score plus a conversion.

The goal line stand for four downs was one of the most thrilling things ever seen on the Mackay field, according to some of the "old guard" who viewed Saturday's game.

Dashiell is a hard man to interview. We asked him who the five outstanding men in the game Saturday were and he said, "Basta, McKinnon, Showalter, Bradley, St. Clair, Lommon, Cashill, Ohrt, Grubbs, Twombly, McDow, Eaton, Robb and Caldwell. Five, huh! You count 'em."

In these columns a few weeks ago appeared some highlights of the Willamette game. There was no intent of maliciousness on the part of this writer with regard to "Spec" Keene. The coach of a football team has too many worries of his own without the petty ones which develop from other quarters.

Ray Germain, sports editor of the Topah Times-Bonanza, wins the fur lined pretzel bender for last week's predictions. "We are perhaps placing ourselves in a very dangerous position by picking Nevada over the Vandals, but a win for the Wolves is entirely possible and we believe such will be the case tomorrow afternoon. At any rate our 10 cents is on the Wolves. Of course we are not predicting the score, but in football one point is plenty."

Wonder is "Goldie" Holmes is proud of his ex-stardsters.

This corner wishes to compliment Dashiell for his stand on training which was forcibly brought to our attention this week. If the team is going to be able to stand 60 minutes of hard football it must be in the best of condition. It is of course unfortunate that one man has to suffer when there were obviously more infractions of the training rules than that, but we hope it will serve as a good example for the rest of the team.

A letter from the south from Kent Wilson says, "After seeing the Oregon-U. S. C. game I would rate the Santa Barbara State outfit about two touchdowns better than Oregon. They are a very cocky outfit and I hope that you can knock them over."

Dashiell, Martie and Coleman and the powers that be are "clicking" for a game with the University of Hawaii

Gauchos to Enter Fray With Five Wins, No Losses

Santa Barbara Is Favored to Annex Southern California Conference Title

Yeager Averages 10.1 Yards When He Carries the Pigskin, Morelli Makes 7 Yards

By JOHN BRACKETT
With an impressive record of five wins and no defeats, the Santa Barbara Gauchos enter tomorrow's game against the Nevada Wolf Pack determined to keep their record clean.

Featuring a wide open style of play, with forward and lateral passes playing an important part of their offensive, the Green and White Staters have won all their games this season by decisive margins. Beginning their season against Cal Tech, who were completely routed by a 37 to 0 score, the Gauchos in turn defeated Arizona State 13-6, Redlands 13-0, La Verne 24-0 and Whittier 26-0. They have rolled up a total of 113 points against 12 for the opposition.

Rated as the favorite for the Southern conference title, the Gauchos will outweigh the Wolves approximately ten pounds per man. The average for the Nevada backfield is 173, while the Santa Barbara eleven averages 175. The Gaucho line averages 188, against 178 for the Wolves.

Gauche Mainstays
Mainstays of the Santa Barbara squad are the "touchdown twins," Howard Yeager and Bob Morelli, who lead as scoring aces in the Southern California conference. Yeager, in five games, has carried the ball 45 times, averaging 10.1 yards per carry, and has scored five touchdowns. Morelli, in 48 attempts, has carried the ball for an average of seven yards, and has scored seven touchdowns.

Morelli, held to one score last week-end against Whittier, led conference scorers with 42 points, while Yeager, who skirted end, went through tackles and snagged bullet-like passes for three touchdowns against the Posts, brought his total score for the season to 30 points.

Another Gaucho with an outstanding record for the season is Freddy Monson, fullback, who has rung up three touchdowns for the Green and White machine this year.

on a home and home arrangement. We hope they can get it. It would be a swell climax to a swell football season.

John Ohrt could play ball on any team in the Pacific Coast conference, said Ted Bank, coach of the Vandals, according to an interview printed in the University of Idaho Argonaut last week. The Argonaut continues, "This is high tribute indeed, considering the powerful backfields of Washington, Southern California and Washington State."

INDIAN SUMMER CALLS FORTH STUDENT SUNNERS

With warm, unseasonable weather still reigning, the rage for outdoor—not nature study—studying is very popular on the campus.

Following the precedent of Professor Silas C. Feemster, who conducts regular classes on the campus proper, many students are doing serious studying sprawled full length on the grass.

This week while the history professor held forth on the east shore of Manzanita lake, collegians outside his class were seen comfortably leaning against trees, pillars and stairs, and others sprawling in various reclining positions as they absorbed sunshine with knowledge.

Of course "Old Man Sun" is largely responsible for this revolutionary style of study, but the large following it has gained indicates that there must be something more to it—perhaps Nevadans are being converted back to nature or just believe in comfort first.

What continuance of such weather will produce in study methods is not known, but will probably be interesting.

Elm Tree Given To Football Squad

A Washington Bicentennial elm tree was presented to the University of Nevada football team by W. G. Platt, board member of the Nevada Horticulture society, because of their victory over Idaho last Saturday, it was learned this week.

The elm, which is one of the many which were distributed during the Washington Bicentennial celebration in 1932, has a certificate which makes its owners members of the American Tree Planters' association.

The tree will be given to the superintendent of grounds of the university, it was announced by J. E. Martie, head of the physical education department, and will be planted in the near future, he stated.

Students Request Many Tickets for Pacific Game Trip

With more than 200 requests on hand for the special train to be run to Stockton for the Nevada-College of Pacific game, Charles Barnes and Russell McDonald today indicated that the number of students attending the game will probably exceed four hundred by the closing date for sale of tickets Friday, November 6.

More than fifty members of the band will make the trip, while the pep organizations, Blue Key, Sagers, and Sagens, are attempting to get their entire membership to attend the game, Barnes said.

A special coach has been promised by the Southern Pacific lines so that the students may dance on the way down. "One of the benefits of this excursion ticket, Barnes said, "is that it has a nine-day return limit on any regular Southern Pacific train."

'Box' Marks Downs To Assist Fans

A new "box" has been purchased for the convenience of the fans at future Nevada football games.

The "box" designates the number of "downs" a team has had and is especially helpful to the spectators who are quite a distance from the game or

Botti Leads Taus To Derby Victory

Coming within one minute and eight seconds of the record set in 1928 by Fred Lohse, Tilly Botti, A. T. O. freshman, won the Sparks to Mackay field Homecoming Day race in the time of 22:42 to insure his team first honors in the annual event held Saturday.

Vuich and Spitz, in fourth and fifth places, respectively, clinched the team win, nosing out Marvin Moler, who was the third Lambda Chi Alpha entry to negotiate the distance, following Mastromanni and Everett, who took the second and third spots.

With Heckethorne in twelfth place and Fremont and Wines grabbing fifteenth and sixteenth honors, the Sigma Nu house took the third spot. Sigma Phi Sigma entries, Ben Moore, Craig Moore and Straughn, gained the fourth berth in team standings, and the S. A. E. runners, Breen, Cardinal, Healy and Moore, put their house in fifth place.

The first eighteen men to cross the line were: Botti, A. T. O., first; Mastromanni, Lambda Chi Alpha, second; Everett, Lambda Chi Alpha, third; Vuich, A. T. O., fourth; Spitz, A. T. O., fifth; Moler, Lambda Chi Alpha, sixth; Moore, Sigma Phi Sigma, seventh; Friedhoff, A. T. O., eighth; Walts, A. T. O., ninth; Breen, S. A. E., tenth; Cardinal S. A. E., eleventh.

Heckethorne, Sigma Nu, twelfth; Etchemendy, A. T. O., thirteenth; C. Moore, Sigma Phi Sigma, fourteenth; Fremont, Sigma Nu, sixteenth; Strauchan, Sigma Phi Sigma, seventeenth, and Healy and J. Moore, tied for eighteenth.

Wolf Pack Wins 7-6 Contest From Idaho's Vandals

Grubbs Runs 30 Yards for Score; Eaton's Conversion Is Good For Winning Margin

Coming from behind for the fourth time in as many games, the Nevada grid machine squeezed out their third victory of the season with the Idaho Vandals on the long end of a 7-6 score.

Playing before their own Homecoming crowd of 6000 fans, the Wolf Pack stubbornly held on to a one point lead in a game that suddenly was turned from a fast scoring wide open game to a tight defensive contest.

The Vandals started off when their star halfback, "Devey" Devlin, went through Nevada's line and secondary for 60 yards gain, but the lead of the Idahoans was shortlived when the "aerial" Wolves pulled one out of their bag of tricks in the second quarter to knot up the game.

Nevada's lone counter came when Johnny Oht passed to "Sookie" Bastia, who lateraled to Bill Grubbs, who took the ball on the Idaho 30 and went over for the score.

The conversion by Eaton was good and the scoring for the day was ended.

The Vandals threatened for the last time during the fourth quarter, when one of their frantic last minute passes connected with its mark and the runner was again hauled down on Nevada's four yard marker. Seemingly growing fresher with each minute of play, the fighting Wolves broke through the Vandals' line to smear the runner for losses, finally regaining the ball on their 11 yard line. Neither team threatened again during the game, which was finished with the ball in midfield.

Commenting on the game, Coach "Doug" Dashiell said, "The play of the line and the fight it showed, particularly during the second half, proved itself as being capable of holding its own against any line on the coast. There is no reason to believe that the ability to win will fall off," Dashiell continued, "and if the linesmen keep their fight, it will be the big effect during the rest of the season."

"There is no one man in the line that you can single out," he said. "The play of McKimmon, Basta, Showalter, Bradley, St. Clair, Lommori and Cashill was outstanding and of high caliber. In the backfield Oht, Grubbs, Robb, McDow, Eaton, Twombly and Caldwell fought hard and gamely, and turned in some good gains.

Greeks Report Over 400 Alums Return for Fete

Reporting the Homecoming celebration a success, the Greek houses disclose that over 400 returning alumni flocked to the banquets, dinners and other forms of entertainment given in their honor over the weekend.

Among the sororities, Delta Delta Delta led in number of returning grads, having had 76 alumnae present at the luncheon held last Saturday. Gamma Phi Beta alumnae, 60 strong, enjoyed the reception planned for them by the members. Kappa Alpha Theta had approximately 35 guests, while the Pi Beta Phi members were hostesses to 25.

Alpha Tau Omega reports 50 grads returned to the house for its celebration. Sigma Alpha Epsilon had about the same number, while the Sigma Nu house was occupied by 45 alumni members. Phi Sigma Kappa members were hosts to 35, 25 visitors came to the Lambda Chi Alpha residence and 18 returning grads were guests of the Beta Kappa house.

Sigma Uhi Sigma reported that between 35 and 40 graduates returned to the house during the Homecoming festivities.

Miners to Visit Tungsten Mills

Sunday the Crucible club will visit a mining mill and several mines in Pershing county, according to Frank Sharp, head of the miners.

Ott F. Heizer, manager of the Nevada Massachusetts Tungsten mines, expects to meet the group at Toulon, several miles from Lovelock, and conduct them through the mill where the tungsten ore is concentrated. The mill has been put into operation recently after many years of idleness.

From Toulon Heizer will take the party to Oreana, where they will be shown some unusual deposits of tungsten occurring with beryl.

While at Oreana, the Crucible club members will also visit the deposit of dumortierite, which is the only deposit of any commercial value in the world. Dumortierite is essential in the manufacture of automobile and airplane spark plugs.

In addition to the thirty members of the Crucible club planning to go, the following faculty members will also make the trip: Prof. William Smyth, Prof. Walter S. Palmer, Prof. J. A. Carpenter and Dr. Harry Wheeler.

Five Candidates Enter Competition For Scholarship

With but one week remaining in which candidates for the 1936 Rhodes scholarship may apply for entry blanks, five men have signified their intention of competing for the award.

November 7 is the last day in which entries will be accepted by the Nevada state committee, Charles M. Chatfield, secretary, announced yesterday.

"A total of five men have applied for the scholarship, three of them being university students and the other two graduates of Nevada," Chatfield stated.

December 17 has been set as the date for the examination of all applicants. From the total applicants three will be selected as Nevada's representatives to the regional meeting to be held in Los Angeles on December 23.

"Although the five members of the examining board have not as yet been named, Dr. J. E. Church and Prof. P. A. Harwood, faculty members, are definitely slated to serve as examiners.

Examination of the applicants on December 17 will be held at the Riverside hotel.

Closer Relations Among Women Urged by Group

Methods of promoting closer friendship among the various women and among the various women's organizations on the campus were discussed at a meeting of Cap and Scroll Wednesday night.

At a meeting next week with Dean Margaret Mack the group will make definite plans for gaining closer contacts among women students.

Members attending the dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Colombo hotel were Evamae Beemer, Marguerite Fuetsch, Betty McCulston, Genevieve Hansen and Anne Gibbs.

Laurada Jarvis, junior student affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta, returned to her home in Fallon over Saturday and Sunday.

Tryouts for the four women's and seven men's characters are being held Thursday and Friday of this week in the Education auditorium.

This is the first campus production of the year, and if sufficient interest is shown, according to Miller, the play should be well received upon the campus.

Dr. Fred W. Traner, professor in the department of education, was elected president of the Nevada Educational association when the group held its meeting in Reno last week.

Traner will serve as president of the group for the next two years. He stated that he has decided upon no definite policy for the association during his term.

As a member of the association for a number of years, Dr. Traner has been prominent in educational fields in this part of the country.

Our team has just finished its second "battering" ball game. There are members of the squad who haven't as yet recovered from the physical beating they took at Willamette. Twelve of our players who played most of the game against Idaho haven't recovered from the terrific fight they put up in that game. Two of these twelve have not been in suits this week. We may lose to the strong Santa Barbara team, and I am inclined to believe that we will by at least three touchdowns, but it won't be because our team is overconfident."

... This is the first cigarette I ever smoked that really satisfies me
Not strong, not harsh and it has all the flavor and aroma you could ask for.
That settles it... from now on, it's Chesterfield.
