

Eighteen Students Are Recommended For Graduation

Two Engineers, Four B.S. Degrees and Twelve B.A. Degrees To Be Approved

Candidates To Be Okehd by the Faculty Committee Headed by Dr. Clark

With the ending of the fall semester of this school year eighteen students joined the ranks of the University of Nevada alumni. Two engineers, four bachelors of science and twelve bachelors of art were approved and will be recommended for graduation by the faculty committee headed by President Walter E. Clark.

Earlier in the week Dean Maxwell Adams met with the arts and science faculty committee and they approved and recommended the students who will receive degrees.

Following is a list of the graduates, with their major and minor studies:

Bachelors of Art
John Francis Armstrong, chemistry, mathematics.
Richard O. Bagley, zoology, chemistry.

George W. Burke, zoology, chemistry.
Lucia Mills Devore, history, English.
Eleanor J. Fisher, economics, history.
Paul Clay Hellmann, Spanish, physical education.

Ruth N. Lyons, Spanish, history and education.

Helen M. Jenkins, Spanish, English.
Evelyn G. Matson, biology, English.
Lewis Pulsipher, English, mathematics.

Lillian Smith, economics, French.
Orville C. Tregellas, history, physical education.

Bachelors of Science
Darrell A. Barry, zoology, chemistry.
Rodney E. Morrin, physics, mathematics.

Tony Primeaux, agriculture.
Marvin Turner, agriculture.

Engineering
Tom Morris, mechanical.
Frank Kornmayer, civil.

Military Ball Set For February 6

Honorary Major Selection Begins

Candidates Asked of Coed Organizations, Choice To Be Announced Friday

First steps toward the choice of an honorary major to preside at the annual military ball to be held February 6 were taken this week when student candidacy slips were sent out by Guy Morris, Scabbard and Blade captain.

Sorority, Manzanita Hall, and Independent heads were all issued invitations to nominate a candidate. This is the first time in three years that the independents have been asked to participate due to the former lack of organization of the group.

The candidacy slips must be returned to Morris by Tuesday. A tea in honor of the candidates will be given Wednesday afternoon at Manzanita Hall.

Choice of the major will be made by the Scabbard and Blade members at a meeting Thursday evening.

Announcement of the choice will be made in next Friday's Sagebrush.

Frosh Glee Plans Started by Group

Preparation for the Frosh Glee, annual freshman class dance, was started this week as Gordon Thompson, class manager, appointed a committee to handle the affair.

Carlyle Pribbernow, student from Tonopah, will act as chairman of the committee. Other committee members named are Al Caton, Ross Ashley, John Barber, Tony Yrberry, Betty Parish, Carol Johnson, Maris Maule and Margaret Williams.

The committee will meet next week to formulate plans for the dance, which is scheduled for February 27.

Cadet Officers Issued Uniforms

Military uniforms were issued to 14 junior cadet officers last Saturday by Captain H. W. Isbell, assistant professor of military science and tactics.

In order to be eligible to act as officers' students must take two years of military training and be members of the advanced military class.

Students receiving uniforms are Paul Aznarez, Harold Evans, Harold Foremaster, William Johnstone, Basil Kehoe, Robert Leaver, Benjamin Morehouse, Robert Quirk, Thomas Shone, Kenneth Tedford, Dorence Jameson, Merrill McKinnon, Fritz Everett and Herman Owens.

'Wind and Rain' To Be Presented By Play Group

"The Wind and the Rain," a comedy drama of a Scotch medical school, will be presented as the first play of the semester by the play productions department on February 16, 17 and 18, William C. Miller, dramatics director, announced yesterday.

Written by Merton Hodge, the young English playwright, the production has been successfully staged both in England and the United States. It completed a two and a half year run at the St. Martin's theatre in London and recently completed an equally successful run in New York.

Six men and three women will be cast in the play which is to be a Masque and Dagger production and the majority of the parts will be taken by members and pledges of this national honorary society of dramatists.

This will be the first time that this play has been put on by any university on the Pacific Coast, Director Miller reported.

"Merton Hodge is comparatively unknown on the Pacific Coast and consequently his plays have been largely overlooked by dramatic directors in this section of the country," Miller stated.

"The play has an exceptionally fine plot that blends both comedy and drama into situations that should have universal appeal to the student body."

The setting is a Scotch medical school and the action involves the lives and affairs of the students at the college during their sojourn there.

"Life in the Scotch medical school will be found synonymous in more ways to that experienced at the university," Director Miller stated.

"The minor variations which will be noticed by one student body will include a barrel of beer which is a permanent fixture of the students' lodgings, and a course of study which compels the entering freshman to bring his own box of bones to be used in the laboratory work."

Merton Hodge is at present a practicing surgeon in London and a graduate of Dunedin Medical School in Edinburgh where the action of the story takes place. He is well known in theatrical circles for his English version of "Men In White," which played throughout the country and which was later made into a movie.

Castings of the play will be completed today and rehearsals will begin next week.

Colton Discusses European Affairs

"Unless some unforeseen blunder is made by one of the European diplomats there will be no European war arising out of the present crisis."

That was the quieting information given by Dr. Ethan Colton, world renowned authority on European affairs, last night. Dr. Colton spoke in the auditorium on the subject, "Behind the European Headlines," before a near-capacity crowd.

Every country in Europe is involved either directly or indirectly in the present Spanish crisis, Dr. Colton stated. He believes, however, that the World War is still too fresh in the minds of the people of Europe to involve them in another war.

"We know from the immediate supply of war materials which were available in Spain at the outbreak of the present conflagration that other nations in Europe were interested in the cause of both sides," Dr. Colton stated.

Dr. Colton substantiated the reports that the war in Spain is more than a local war, and that it is in reality a death struggle between the Fascist forces and the Communists, involving all of those nations in Europe which are ruled by either of these two forms of government.

Dr. Colton gave a second lecture this morning before the student body, in which he further elucidated upon the situation in Europe as it affected Great Britain and France.

Trackmen Practice Indoor Exercises In Bad Weather

Until weather conditions permit actual training on Mackay Field, trackmen will be given indoor calisthenics for conditioning, according to James Coleman, coach.

Calisthenic exercises will be given on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 2:15 in the gymnasium.

"All students who intend to go out for track," Coleman said, "should report for these conditioning exercises if their schedules permit them to do so."

Out of six cinder artists who won Block N awards last year, only four are returning for competition this spring. Lee Ward, distance runner, who was a member of the track squad two years ago, will also report for training.

Will Not Return

Doug McDow, speedy sprinter, and Paul Leonard, distance runner who last year won his fourth letter in track are the lettermen not returning. Lockley Maule, high hurdler, Ken Richards, who holds the Far-Western conference record in the broad jump, Emory Gramke, sprinter, and Jerry Havens, broad jump and weights, are the returning veterans.

The Nevada team will compete in four meets this year. In the initial competition of the season, the Wolves will travel to Davis, Calif., where they engage Chico and Cal. Aggies in a triangular meet.

Schedule Outlined

On April 10, San Francisco University will play host to the Pack cindermen in San Francisco, providing S.F.U. holds to the three year competition rule, Coleman said.

Two meets will be held in Reno, according to the present schedule. Chico State will come here on April 17, while Cal. Aggies engage the Wolf trackmen on April 24.

Jensen Elected Barb President

Max Jensen, junior student, was elected president of the Independent students at a meeting held by the group early in the week.

Jensen succeeds Sherwin Garside, who resigned the position, and he will take over the duties of his office immediately.

Two representatives to the A. S. U. N. senate were also elected, with Ruth Goldsworthy elected to succeed Marguerite Feutsch as woman's representative, and Sherwin Garside re-elected as men's representative.

Other officers chosen at the meeting were Kathleen Meeks, vice-president, and Christie Hermanson secretary.

The new representative to the senate was sworn in at a meeting of that body Wednesday.

Members present at the meeting discussed the possibility of organizing in a more compact group and the advisability of entering candidates in coming student body elections.

RODENT DESIRES LEARNING IS CLASS BELIEF

"There's a mouse at your feet, Mr. Silverwood."

This seemingly casual remark by Professor John Gottardi to his fourth-year Italian class was the cause of a few minutes of excitement last Friday morning.

It is generally believed that the mouse was in search of higher learning, although some students are inclined to discount the theory on the grounds that the mouse would probably find more enjoyment in a course in "foods and nutrition under Miss Lewis."

The visitor was welcomed by a general intake of breath and one suppressed shriek. When it became evident, however, that the visitor was prompted only by a "desire to know," the class relaxed and enjoyed the situation.

After a brief cruise around the room, during which only one girl jumped on a chair only four feet from the floor, the mouse left the room as quietly as it had come, through the crack under the door.

Debate Tourney Begins February 3

Six Teams to Enter Competition For Ginsburg Trophy, Each to Speak Five Times

Intra-mural debate competition for the coveted Ginsburg trophy will start on February 3, Debate Coach Robert Griffin announced yesterday.

Six teams will enter the competition and represent nearly every fraternity and association on the campus. The debates will be held on the round robin form of competition with each team debating five times and the team having the greatest number of wins at the end of the tournament will be awarded the trophy.

The schedule of debates is now being drawn up and will be released next week, Griffin reported.

The Ginsburg trophy is a perpetual award given annually to the fraternity or association whose representatives win the intra-mural tournament. Last year's winners were Charles Doherty and Lewis Pulsipher representing the Lambda Chi and Beta Kappa fraternities.

The proposition being debated this year is: "Resolved, That congress should have the power to fix the maximum hours and minimum wages of industry." This question will also be debated by the Pacific Forensic League at its annual debate tournament to be held at Willamette University in Salem, Oregon, this spring.

The entire squad is meeting twice a week with Coach Griffin for a general discussion of the question and several practice debates will be held during the month.

Scientist to Talk To U. N. Students

Dr. Colin G. Fink, one of the greatest authorities on electro-chemistry and electro-metallurgy in the United States, will give a public lecture on these subjects February 1 in the auditorium of the Education building.

Having been chosen by the American Chemical Society to make a lecture tour of the west, Dr. Fink will give from 25 to 30 lectures before sections of the society in the west.

In his lecture Dr. Fink will describe briefly new electro-chemical processes, and enumerate a number of important problems still unsolved, but for which, through electro-chemistry, a solution should soon be found.

Dr. Fink, who was a consultant in connection with Boulder dam during its construction, will also tell something of his work there.

Among the honors won by Dr. Fink are the Edward Goodrich Acheson medal and prize by the Electro-Chemical society, the Perkin medal by the Society of Chemical Industry and an honorary doctor of science degree by Oberlin college.

The lecture is being sponsored by the university department of chemistry and the local section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

NOTICE

The first meeting of the semester of Le Cercle Francais will be held Tuesday evening, January 19, at 7 o'clock, in Dr. Chappelle's office. An unexcused absence from the meeting will result in dismissal from the group. Emile Gezelin, President.

Pack Will Meet House of David Saturday Night

Colorful Team to be Put on Floor By Visitors; Center Is 6 Feet 11 Inches Tall

Wolves Are Ready for Last Game Before Opening of the 1937 Conference Schedule

Against the most colorful white basketball quintet in the United States, the University of Nevada Wolves will hit the hardwoods in the last preliminary contest prior to the opening of the official Far Western Conference schedule.

Composed of former college stars and members of the colony at Benton Harbor, Michigan, the show team has become one of the biggest attractions in American basketball.

Fighting to regain their former position in the Far Western Conference basketball bracket a mediocre Wolf Pack will enter the game the underdogs, having won only one of the engagements with the House of David.

Lead by three year letter man Clayton Phillips in the pivot position and augmented by the addition of Dick Kolbus and Joe Radetich, and the return of John "Ham" Robb, Whit DeLamare, and Oly Glusovitch, the Pack stands its best chance of beating the Davids in recent years.

Although not expected to reach the peak of condition until mid-season the Pack showed tendencies of good lasting power in the B. Y. U. engagements last week.

Particularly outstanding for heads up basketball were Dick Kolbus, flashy forward transfer from Sacramento Junior College, Joe Radetich in the guard position and John Robb.

J. E. "Doc" Martie is prepared to throw his shock troops into the fray to try and find out what they have to show before the beginning of the regular season.

Al Lansdon, veteran guard will probably be called upon to take care of the David's Art Stoelting, center, who stands six feet eleven inches.

Along with Stoelting are Greg and Artie Deim who are two of the cleverest ball handlers in the United States. Greg was a member of the Tri-state Olympic champs and contender for the national A. A. U. title, while brother Artie, another guard, was three years all-state guard, and a member of National A. A. U. contenders.

The two forwards, "Swede" Olson, and Don "Horsie" Peterson are two of the fastest and ablest ball handlers to appear with the House of David since the basketball team was started six years ago.

George Johnson, manager of the team, is one of the leading umpires in the American Association and is chief scout for the Boston Red Sox basketball team.

Nevada Debaters Will Meet Drake

Nevada's first inter-collegiate debate of the 1937 season will be held in the auditorium February 11 when a picked team from the varsity debate squad will meet the touring Drake University team of Des Moines, Iowa.

Nevada will uphold the affirmative of the proposition, "Resolved, That congress should have the power to fix the minimum wages and maximum hours as yet the team which will represent Nevada has not been selected. Debate Coach Robert Griffin announced, but two men will be selected later.

"The selection will be made upon the basis of experience and ability. We have nearly a dozen men working on the question at the present time and from this group the two showing the most promise will be given the assignment," Griffin said.

Drake is making a tour of the Far Western states and the Pacific coast, and meets Nevada for the first time on this campus. Drake is noted in the mid-west for its forensic abilities, being runnerup in the National Forensic Tournament held in Dallas, Texas, last year.

S. A. E. to Initiate Sunday, January 31

Initiation ceremonies for the 1936 pledge class of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity will be held Sunday, January 31, according to Adam Patterson, head of the house.

Although the names of the initiates have not as yet been announced, Patterson said that it is expected that this class will be unusually large.

Important Committees Chosen by Senators

Senate Appoints New Upperclass Committee Groups

With instructions from the Senate to begin prompt action against tradition breakers among the students, John Robb and Kathleen Meeks, junior students, were named to lead the men's and women's upperclass committees respectively.

Assisting Miss Meeks will be Avenell Manzoni, Evamae Beemer, Norma Anderson, Frances Nichols, Virginia Posvar, Nina Bozkiewicz, Eleanor Gardella, Rita Winer, and Winifred Hiltonen. Miss Meeks succeeds Mary Millard who resigned her eligibility as chairman.

With Robb on the men's upperclass will be: James McNelly, Joe Cleary, Stan McNair, Max Jensen, Mel Redhead, Blaine Oakley, Clyde Keegal, Paul Aznarez and Harold Herz. Robb succeeds Bill Guild, senior engineering student.

Bixby Is Named To Finance Post

New Appointee Succeeds Harwood; Other New Board Members Are K. Powell, J. McClure

Professor Frederick Wilson was re-appointed chairman of the Finance Control committee at a meeting of the Senate of the A. S. U. N. Wednesday night.

The new faculty member to take the place of Professor Paul Harwood who resigned his post last semester will be Professor Frederick Bixby of the Engineering department.

Bixby has been on the Nevada campus since 1918 when he began teaching in civil engineering. Since that time he has watched with keen interest the activities of the students, and has a thorough understanding of their needs.

Two students from within the Senate were appointed to serve on the board to take the place of Guy Morris and Genevieve Hansen, whose terms expired in January. They are Kenneth Powell and Jessie McClure, both junior students and members of the A. S. U. N. senate.

Spring Enrollment For Second Week Reaches 904 Mark

With the freshman class maintaining an unusual size this semester as it did last fall with a record enrollment, the completed enrollment figures released by the office of the registrar last night showed 904 cards completed of the 926 taken out.

Figures at this stage of the semestral enrollment period of last year show 869 completed cards with 891 out.

While this year's figures are considerably ahead of those of last year, present indications are that the enrollment for the spring semester of 1937 will not establish a record, promising to be the second highest in the history of the University of Nevada for the second school period.

Three former enrollment figures have gone above the 900 mark, with a semestral record being set at 977 in '31. "Normally," President Walter E. Clark stated, "we can expect about twenty people to complete enrollment in the last week of the regular enrollment period. It is reasonable to expect that enough will be added to the present 904 completed cards to bring the total up to a position of second to the spring semester records."

In two other years, the spring semester figures were 907 and 909.

The percentage of men enrolled so far this term is slightly above the normal, being about 62 plus.

Honor Society Offers Graduate Fellowships

Phi Kappa Phi student members at the University of Nevada are offered the opportunity of competing for two graduate fellowships which are being given by Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society.

The fellowships are awarded yearly on a nation-wide competitive basis.

The recipient of the scholarship will be given an award of five hundred dollars with which to carry on his work at a university designated by him, his objective being a higher degree.

Application blanks for this scholarship are being obtained from Dr. George W. Sears, chairman of the Phi Kappa Phi Scholarship committee. The blanks must be returned to the local committee by March 15.

From the applications made here, the scholarship committee will choose one person to enter the national competition. The winner will be chosen on the basis of personality, ability and incentive.

Nominating Group Offers Tentative Panels for Vote

Garside, Ferron, Lommori Given Executive Committee Posts; Hiltonen Is Secretary

Reuben Tuttle Appointed Song Leader; Five New Solons Are Administered Oath

Convening the first meeting of the spring semester, the A. S. U. N. Senate met Wednesday night in the A. S. U. N. building, with Student Body President William Cashill conducting the meeting.

Cashill appointed Richard Taw, Ruth Goldsworthy, Jessie McClure, Kenneth Powell and Ross Morris on the nominating committee. The committee withdrew to a private chamber to draw up panels of all the major committees to serve during the semester.

Finance control committee, Mackay Day committee, Men's and Women's upperclass committees, Executive committee, Secretary of the Senate, A. S. U. N. Rally committee, and Song leader were the panels presented to the Senate for tentative approval.

The executive committee as named by the nominating board includes Sherwin Garside, Joe Lommori, Barbara Ferron, and the president of the A. S. U. N. and the president of the Associated Women Students.

Winifred Hiltonen was appointed secretary to the senate and student body, Reuben Tuttle, song leader, and Oliver Aymar senate representative to the rally committee.

Ross Morris was appointed chairman of a committee of three to confer with organization heads in regard to the possibility of arranging meeting dates so that there would be no conflicts in the future.

Ruth Goldsworthy, Independent; Joe Lommori, Phi Sigma Kappa; Mary Bozkiewicz, Alpha Delta Theta; Winifred Hiltonen, Manzanita Hall, and Ross Morris, Lincoln Hall, were sworn in as new senators.

Johnstone Heads Mackay Committee

William Johnstone, senior student, was submitted on a tentative panel to the A. S. U. N. senate, as chairman of the Mackay Day committee.

Johnstone, who has been unable to attend school this semester because of illness will return next week. He has served on the committee in the past, and will be assisted by Louis Weiner, George Hardman, Sam Stark, James Hart, Louis Carpenter, Ross Morris, Kirk Fairhurst, Jack McCrea and the president of the Home Economics Club, Katherine Luke.

Mackay Day this year will be earlier than usual because of a conflict with the Easter vacation. The celebration will be held March 19 to 20.

12 New Members Sign Up for Band

With at least 12 new members signed up, the University of Nevada band has a record second semester enrollment of 50 students, it was announced by Prof. Theodore H. Post, director, this week.

Twenty-six of this number are from the military department, while 24 are from the college at large. Five of them are women. Besides the student band members there are also five volunteers who are taking the course without credit.

New instruments, supplied by the federal government upon fulfillment by Nevada of the enrollment requirement of band and R. O. T. C., arrived shortly before Christmas, Post said. The instruments, to be used this semester for rapidly and only a few of the 30 remain.

Rehearsals of the University Community Little Symphony orchestra are to begin next week, according to Post. There is a good lineup this year and the group plans to take part in the spring concert.

Any organization desiring to give any general campus affair during the semester will please get the date for it immediately so that some of the remaining Saturdays may be thrown open for group activities.

Margaret E. Mack, Chairman of Social Committee.

John Etchemendy was careless about his personal belongings. When his mother saw clothing scattered about on the floor, she inquired scantly: "Who didn't hang up his clothes when he went to bed?"

A muffled voice from under the covers murmured: "Under the covers, 'Adam.'"

Teacher (warning her small pupils against catching cold)—I had a little brother 7 years old and one day he took his brand new sled out in the snow. He caught pneumonia and in three days later he died.

She paused solemnly, impressively. The shocked pupils maintained a sympathetic silence.

Finally a voice from the rear of the room inquired, "Where's his sled?"

Little Audrey was driving down Virginia street and came to the corner of Second street. Her mother frantically grabbed the wheel and shouted, "Turn! Turn!"

Little Audrey just laughed and laughed and pointed to the little yellow sign on the corner, "NO-U turn."

Bob Zadow was looking through the telescope on top of Mackay Science hall in astronomy class the other night and was awestruck. He muttered reverently, "Gawd."

(Pretty good telescope.)

Anne Gibbs—Yeah, it is rather cute, isn't it?

A drunk was swaying back and forth on the sidewalk when the cop stepped up and asked him what he was doing and where he lived.

"Right here," said the boozey one, pointing to a house; "but I rang the bell and nobody answered."

"How long ago was that?" asked the bull.

"Oh, a couple of hours."

"Well, why don't you try them again?"

"Aw, to hell with 'em, let 'em wait."

Carpy—Aren't you getting thinner?

Winnie—Yes. I've lost so much weight you can count my ribs.

Ho—Gee, thanks. —Brigadier.

Coed Pep Group To Increase Roll To 21 Members

Within the next two weeks Sagens, undergraduate women's pep group, will increase its membership roll to 21 members from the present group numbering 13," Evamae Beemer, president, stated recently.

Out of some 50 tryees who have worked in cooperation with the group during the past season's football pep sales, eight will be selected on a point basis to fill the new quota. Those with the highest percentage of points will receive first consideration.

This will mark the initial time the freshmen women will be voted in as members. The new plan, however, will provide ample time to allow the pledges to become familiar with the work carried on by the Sagens, leaving an experienced group of women to continue the duties of graduating members.

Should the cold weather continue, the Sagens will not sponsor the sale of eskimo pies during university basketball games as has been done in previous years," Miss Beemer announced.

The group recently turned over $50 to the associated women students' loan fund which was realized from the sale of pop. Later on in the semester they will sponsor a campus dance, funds of which will be used in some manner beneficial to women students.

"Should present plans materialize newly elected members will receive their birds to the organization within the next few weeks and will possibly be honored at a banquet immediately following their election.

Beginning Band Course Offered

A class in band instruments is being given for the first time this semester under the leadership of Reuben Tuttle, assistant director.

The course, according to Professor Theodore H. Post, head of the music department, is intended primarily for education students who wish to become familiar with the theory and practice of various instruments and band members who are studying for additional technique.

There are about 10 students enrolled in the class so far, most of them music minors, as some degree of previous musical training is a requirement.

GRAD IS MARRIED

Lewis Pulsipher, graduate from the university last semester, married Marjorie Lee New Year's day in Mesquite, Nev.

Pulsipher, an education student, was prominent in campus debating and was affiliated with Beta Kappa fraternity. Mrs. Pulsipher, whose home was at St. George, Utah, is a graduate of Dixie River normal school.

NEVADA QUAIL RETURN FOR ANNUAL FEED

With a foot of snow on the ground, more than 2000 native Nevada quail have come to feed near the University of Nevada tennis courts. The quail come in at this time every year and are being fed every morning by A. E. McFadden, assistant on grounds, since all their natural feed has been covered up.

The quail first appeared here 16 years ago after a storm similar to this one and since then have increased from 15 to the present number.

Every summer they leave and stay in the hills near the streams with shrubbery around them until the first big snow of the winter. Then they return to their faithful caretaker who calls them to their feed with a special whistle, which causes them to appear from the trees in all directions.

McFadden has built a lodge for them near the tennis courts and this is where he feeds them.

In the summer the quail are gray with touches of blue and green, but now they have changed to their winter clothes of an almost solid black.

Post to Select 16 Glee Club Members To Fill Engagements

Sixteen students will be selected from glee club this semester to represent the campus when entertainment is requested by downtown organizations, according to Professor Theodore H. Post, director of the music department.

The plan to select a small group from the class has been carried out successfully in the past when enrollment in the glee club has been particularly satisfactory. This year there are 45 students in the chorus and the selection of voices is good, Post said. A small group is easier to handle in preparing for numerous engagements than a whole class.

The other project planned by the club is the annual spring concert, for which practice will be started soon. The program, when perfected, will first be presented in some neighboring small town to see if there are any noticeable defects.

Plans Launched By Press Group

A series of projects on which work will be started this semester was launched by the U. of N. Press club at its semi-annual banquet, held Friday evening at the El Cortez.

Honored at the banquet were eight new members, Jim Sullivan, Hudson Lee, Helen Shovlin, Ross Morris, Ned Westover, Gladys Blair, Elizabeth Juniper and Georgia Cooper. These initiatives were forced to perform at the banquet besides having to wear paper hats all day Friday as a part of their initiation.

Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, head of the course in journalism and member of the club, was the main speaker of the evening. He set forth the projects which the group will probably undertake this semester and explained them in detail.

Some of the projects which are already under way are the repairing of the Washington hand press brought in from Masonic, Calif., by three of the club members last semester; the furtherance of courses in journalism in Nevada high schools; a journalistic program to be presented by the radio, and cataloging of the Sagebrush cut morgue.

Other ideas to be taken up at a future meeting of the club include plans to establish a plaque in Genoa on the site of the first printed Nevada paper, and a series of meetings at which downtown speakers will address the club.

Biggest 'Lyre' Sought by Band

"Who's the biggest 'lyre' in Reno?" That is the question which Delta Delta Epsilon, local music fraternity, will attempt to answer prior to their first annual dance to be held February 13. Prizes for the best "stories," consisting of ten dance tickets, will be awarded.

Proceeds from the dance will be devoted to sending the band to the annual high school music convale to be held in Winnemucca this spring.

Judges for the contest will be selected from the faculty members of the university.

Freshmen May Obtain Orientation Notebooks

Students in Dean Maxwell's orientation class of last term who wish to keep their notebooks were requested this week to call at room 200 in the Mackay Hall of Science for them. Notebooks not claimed before the end of next week will be destroyed, he said.

W. A. A. Activity Calendar Released By Goldsworthy

Sport Season Opens This Week With Basketball; Plan Dinner For March 4

Riding, Swimming and Gothic N Initiation Set for March; More Dates Arranged

Tentative plans for the semester's activities were incorporated into a calendar for the Women's Athletic Association early this week, according to Ruth Goldsworthy who was in charge of the calendar.

The opening sport of the season, basketball, started last Tuesday and will continue every Tuesday and Thursday until March 4. Inter-class games will be played next week, and intra-mural contests will probably begin in two weeks.

Women participating in basketball and rifle will be the guests at a basketball-rifle feed on March 4. At this time varsity awards in these sports will be given.

Softball Offered
Badminton is scheduled to begin March 9, and will be played at the same hours as softball which begins March 14. This will be the first year softball has been offered at the university. The desirability of entering this sport on the schedule came as a result of the keen interest shown in the game over the summer.

Other activities include riding, which begins March 23, the swimming meet for possession of the intra-mural trophy March 16, and Gothic "N" initiation March 21.

The week of March 2 the senior committee will meet to nominate officers for the group, and election will be held Tuesday, March 16

Banquet Planned
The second intra-mural banquet will be held April 29 at which time the trophies won during the semester will be presented. Dates for outings and Faculty Play Day were left to be arranged later.

The annual G. A. A. play day sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association will be held May 1.

Sorority Rifle Contests Start

Although only a few women have reported to practice, inter-class and inter-sorority rifle competition got under way this week. The first inter-collegiate matches are scheduled for February 13.

Because of the lack of new women reporting regularly this year's varsity will be made up largely of members of last year's string, Sergeant Grant Hustis, instructor, said this week.

The first varsity matches are with the University of Wichita, the University of Oklahoma, the University of Washington and the University of Syracuse.

Challenges have been received recently from the University of Oregon, the University of Hawaii, Northwestern, the University of Georgia, the University of Michigan and the University of Nebraska.

Representatives of Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, and the Independents have been participating in inter-sorority competition this week but no team except Gamma Phi Beta is complete yet. The highest score shot this year was made last Tuesday by Eunice Beckley who shot 99 out of 100.

The sophomores are leading in inter-class rifle but very few members of any class have reported yet.

Sororities End Spring Rushing Parties Today

Second semester rushing ended today, after lunches given by several of the sorority houses. Silence began at the conclusion of the lunches and will continue until noon tomorrow, at which time bid lists will be announced by Mrs. A. E. Hill, Pan Hellenic lawyer.

All houses must have their bid lists in to Mrs. Hill by tonight. Most houses will hold pledging services during the weekend.

This is the first spring semester that there have been no formal parties by sororities for rushers. Due to the small number of new women registering in the spring semester, the Pan Hellenic council abandoned formal rushing and substituted informal dinner and luncheon parties in honor of the new women.

Rushing was limited to one week, and each house was allowed to ask a rushee to two dinners.

The council, headed by Norma Jean Mills, will meet later in the semester to discuss fall rushing rules and to recommend changes in the rushing.

3 Women Students Enroll in Engineering

Invading man's stronghold in the professions, three women have enrolled in the College of Engineering. They are Betty Bowman, mining; Genevieve Wines, mechanical, and Mrs. Emma Crabtree, civil.

Mrs. Crabtree, a former housewife, entered the university in the fall of 1936 as an unclassified student. She is mainly interested in architectural engineering, expecting to design buildings.

Mrs. Crabtree stated that engineering "runs in my family" as both her father and grandfather were engineers. She has always had a desire to enter the field, but had no opportunity until last fall.

When questioned as to where she will start work, Mrs. Crabtree was indefinite. However, she felt that Nevada was more tolerant towards women entering such fields. She has lived here 18 years.

Both Miss Bowman and Miss Wines have been studying engineering at the university for several years. Miss Wines is a sophomore. Miss Bowman will graduate in May.

Books Requested For Y. W. Store

Mary Catherine Blakely, chairman of the bookstore committee, announced this week that secondhand books are needed in order that the Y. W. C. A. bookstore may be opened next week.

Books will be received any time during the school day beginning Monday afternoon in the bookstore, located downstairs in Morrill hall.

Students wishing to sell their books are requested to mark their own prices on the inside cover of each book and the Y. W. C. A. discounts 10 per cent for their services in selling the book.

Y. W. Constitution May Be Changed At General Meet

Executive Posts in Group Filled At Cabinet Meeting Held on Wednesday Evening

Discussion of possible constitutional changes and election of officers to fill vacancies which have occurred since the last general election were the main features of the first cabinet meeting of the spring semester held by the Y. W. C. A. in their meeting room in Artemisia hall Wednesday evening.

Cabinet members feel that the present constitution is not specific enough to cover all questions that may arise, but have decided to leave further discussion and decisions until the general meeting which will be held early next week.

Georgianna Harriman was elected to fill the position of secretary which was left open with the departure of Doris Bath, former cabinet member and acting secretary. Janet Parish took over the former duties of Miss Harriman on the world affairs committee, Gene Wines was appointed as assistant to Frances Nichols in her social service work.

Besides discussion of constitutional changes at the next general meeting, talks and reports will be made by the Nevada delegates to the Y. W. C. A.-Y. M. C. A. convention held at Asilomar from December 27 to January 2.

Delegates to the convention were: Dorothy Jones, Chrisale Finn, Frances Nichols and Janet Parish.

Social Service Work Planned for Students

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Kolling, social service worker, who is affiliated with the Indian Service of the United States at Stewart, plans are being made to give students in either the department of psychology or sociology an opportunity to get actual experience in rehabilitation projects for the Indians.

Like projects have been attempted by Nevada students in previous years, but this one will be much more detailed in that it will affect the lives of Indians spread throughout Nevada and some counties of California.

If the plan is popular with the Indians, and is organized financially, it will bring about this rehabilitation and make them independent agriculturally, Miss Kolling stated.

Y. W. C. A. Store Open This Week

The Y. W. C. A. book store will be open all next week, according to Mary Catherine Blakely, who is in charge of the project.

Demand for used books has been considerably greater than usual and students are urged to bring their old books to the store as soon as possible.

Books are sold at prices set by the students themselves, with only a small profit of ten per cent going to the Y. W. C. A. fund.

William Crowell '34, former business manager of the Sagebrush, visited with friends on the campus this week. While attending the university Crowell was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Panhel Dance Theme Arranged By Coed Groups

Each sorority will be responsible for part of the decorations at the annual Pan Hellenic dance to be held in the I. O. O. F. hall next Saturday, Norma Jean Mills, president of the council, said this week.

A large facsimile of the organization's pins will be the keynote in all decorations. Blue and silver will be the general theme used in all other decorations. The admission tickets will be in the form of programs, and there will be prizes given to the fraternity and sorority with the largest attendance present.

Dance Semi-Formal
Elizabeth Juniper, chairman of the dance committee, said the dance would be semi-formal. This requires formal dress for women and dark suits for men attending the dance.

A six-piece orchestra will provide the music for the occasion. Chaperones for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Griffin, Dean and Mrs. R. C. Thompson and Miss Margaret E. Mack.

THAT MEETINGS CALENDAR

The first step toward a meetings calendar for campus groups was taken in the senate meeting held Wednesday night in the Student Union building when a committee was named to further investigate conditions and report back to the group at the next meeting.

This committee is ready to go to work in the interests of all the organizations on the hill. All that is necessary now is the whole-hearted cooperation of the organizations themselves to make the nebulous meetings calendar a working fact.

The committee will request the heads of the various groups to meet with them on a "date" board—at which time arrangements can be made for use of the Student Union building by all the organizations, but at different times so that there will be no conflicting meetings during the semester.

Arrangements can be made to take care of special "emergency" meetings which may arise from time to time, or, as in the case of the Med club, which has occasion to call special gatherings in order that the members may hear interesting talks by passing celebrities who are in Reno from time to time.

No organization, however, need have more than two "emergency" meetings in the ordinary semester, and a day set aside in every week for this sort of arrangement will be ample to take care of special meetings as the necessity for them arises.

ARISE, YE INDEPENDENT

There was a meeting of the independent students of the University of Nevada in the Education building Monday at which a new group of officers took posts to lead the group for the coming year.

This was the second meeting of its kind in less than a week. The first one was called off for lack of attendance, and there were thirty-five who answered rollcall at the second meeting. This is an excellent representation of an organization composed of, roughly, four hundred students!

A condition prevails on the Nevada campus that is unique indeed. In most schools, the bulk of the organization is contained within the ranks of the independent students—and the Greek letter groups contain only the "swells," the snobs who have no particular care whether a student government exists on the campus or not. Not so at Nevada, for, at Nevada, few swells exist.

Here the independents, for the most part, are those students who apparently are indifferent to organization—indifferent to the best needs of the student body as a whole; and the go-getters, the men and women who wish to organize and work for the honor and advancement of the university are those students who choose campus fraternal life.

Potentially, the independent students of the University of Nevada constitute the molding force of opinion and government here. Were they to get behind their leaders they would become a power with which to reckon—a condition which appears, at the present writing, to be almost Utopian.

The independent students, according to the A. S. U. N. constitution, are allowed almost twice the representation in all student affairs than is the case in any other group on the hill. A proof that the Associated Students stand ready to recognize the Independents whenever that body demands recognition.

We should like to see the independent students here take up a partial place in the sun. It is only fair that the university should have the right to a voice from half the population of the campus. But, we wonder if the non-Greek students here will ever coordinate their efforts to the point where they, as a body, can command the deference which is due them.

WHAT OF SKIING?

Sweeping into victory over strong coast aggregations the University of Nevada Ski club piled up the amazing total of 400 points to emerge in first place in the recent ski meet at Cisco, Calif.

Unfortunately it was not an official representation of the University of Nevada sports department, but rather a representation of enterprising students who took it upon themselves to take the sport, in which they excelled, to the top.

They represented the University of Nevada Ski club, organized because there was no recognition of skiing as a minor or major sport.

It seems that after such a striking victory over well-known colleges the administration and students have only one course open, that being to recognize this activity as a minor sport.

It has brought many columns of advertising which has an inestimable value to the university, besides being broadcast by the world famous Richfield reporter, and news.

The sport is inexpensive. The sponsorship of meets necessitates no outlay of money, the only possible expenditure being the expense of a five or six man team to the big western meet to be held in the latter part of February at Badger Pass in Yosemite National park.

A win in this meet, which is highly probable because of the excellent showing in the recent meet, would mean national recognition for the University of Nevada in this sport.

It is the opinion of the Sagebrush that the administration and students could not go wrong by accepting this activity on the minor sports calendar.

CAMPUS

Gone but not forgotten! K. A. T's Doris Bath is carrying on a torrid correspondence with Jack "Itchy" Layson, whose last romance was with a dame taking the cure. Some (busy) body will probably write to Bath at Oregon and put a bug in her ear to the effect that "Itchy" is in the process of completing plans to go to Hollywood and look up a former Scranton, Pa., high school crush, cine-actress Jean Madden.

The Kolbus lad also caters to the favor of the dude-ranch beauties, if the swanky yellow Buick is any indication. It is hard to decide whether the six weeks' reign is a handicap or an advantage, but Dick doesn't seem to rest much between bye-babe and hi-babe.

Here's something that will surprise you. Robb hung his brass on Nal-smith. The surprise is that you thought she already had it.

Near panic in the Artemisia office this week as Ginny Hansen gave away a bunch of old pictures from last year's yearbook. Chief among the rushers was one Goldsworthy, who zealously gathered up many various and sundry pictures of one certain Elwin Jeffers.

What's this we hear about Basketball Manager Emory Graunke blossoming out with a new car?

Why is Marg Tolton spending so much time in the library these cold evenings? Could it be that she is interested in books? We wonder.

Latest flash from the musicians' battle front: Rube Tuttle is starting a girls' orchestra. How do you get the lipstick off the instruments, Rube?

Then there's the story about a lad named Fairhurst who got on a train to see a gal by the name of Aldrich away, and got so absorbed the train was under way before he remembered he had forgotten to buy a ticket.

Time marches on—and the S. A. Es. continue to hang pins. This time it's Adam Patterson hanging the brass on Esther Romano.

The sparkler on Loretta Collins' left hand couldn't belong to Walt Powers, could it?

Speaking of sparklers, Marg Hiskey isn't doing so bad—or Earl Seaborn either for that matter.

"Squeaky" Peralta not only got himself a new car this year but also a new love whose only known monicker is "Divorcee."

Omgosh! These sparklers are deluging us! Here there's been one on a finger on the campus for a long time, and we can't figure it out. Will somebody please tell us whether the stone on Winnie Hiltonen's finger belongs to Carpenter or not?

Approximately one-third of the college students today would fail an army physician exam, and about 50 per cent of these young men do not possess sufficient physical skill to enjoy games.—McGill Daily Montreal.

3 Are Candidates For Special Degrees In Engineering

Three engineers who registered last fall have been advanced to candidacy for a professional degree in their respective engineering courses. This was announced by Frederick H. Sibley, dean of college of engineering, early in the week.

The three men now working for this degree are: Arnold Benson, electrical engineer, who graduated in 1928; Richard P. Bryan, civil engineer, who finished his regular work in 1921, and Raymond Hendrickson, graduate of '27, who is a mining engineer.

To be eligible for this degree a student must work in his particular field for five years and then return to the university and study in his course for a year. In the beginning of his second semester he is advanced as a candidate for the degree and then writes his thesis. The thesis must be accepted by the committee before the degree is granted.

CONSTITUTION AMENDMENT

TO ADD TO THE A. S. U. N. CONSTITUTION: Articles XIV—News Service bureau.

Section 1: The official publicity agency of the A. S. U. N. shall be the University of Nevada news service bureau.

Section 2: The management of the University of Nevada news service bureau shall be vested in a director.

Section 3: The director shall be appointed by a majority vote of the members of the publications board, and his term of office shall be for an entire school year.

Section 4: To be eligible for director of the news service bureau, a candidate must have senior standing and must have served on the editorial staff of the Sagebrush at least four semesters, one of which must be immediately prior to election.

Section 5: The director shall (1) be responsible for all material released through the news bureau, (2) select his own assistants.

Section 6: In case of incompetency, the publications board shall have the power to remove the director from office by a majority vote.

Section 7: As compensation for his services, the director shall receive $20 each month of the school year during his term of office.

Winifred Hiltonen RALLY COMMITTEE— Louis Weiner Reuben Tuttle Ollie Aymar, senate representative

A. S. U. N. SONG LEADER— Reuben Tuttle

President Cashill, speaking for the Block N society, presented the matter of the possibility of running a special train to San Francisco in February so that students might attend the basketball games and view the new bridge. One hundred and fifty students will be required to make possible the chartering of a special train. Suggestions were offered to have each senate representative carry the message to his organization for discussion.

Suggestions by Ross Morris and Silas Ross to have all organization heads meet to arrange schedules of meetings in order to avoid confusion and the holding of too many meetings on the same night led to the appointment of a committee headed by Ross Morris, assisted by Oliver Aymar and Mary Boczkiewicz, to further investigate conditions and report to the senate at the next meeting.

The matter of the tenure of office of senators as well as other officers elected in mid-term to serve from spring to spring being replaced by inexperienced successors was discussed. A committee with Margaret Turano, chairman, Kenny Powell and James Hart was appointed by President Cashill to investigate the possibility of an amendment to improve existing conditions.

Further suggestions were made that all senate members encourage the cooperation of every student with the upperclass committees in preserving the remaining traditions. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

William Cashill, Chairman. Winifred Hiltonen, Secretary.

Maybe your Dad remembers (WHEN HE WAS VERY YOUNG)

As small boys, many fathers now living knew the telephone only as a little used curiosity. It grew into today's constantly used necessity largely because the Bell System never ceased looking for the new and better way. It stayed young in its thinking.

Young ideas developed "conference service", enabling several nearby or widely separated persons to talk on one telephone connection. Young ideas steadily made long distance service better, quicker, yet cheaper.

Young ideas are at work day and night to make sure America continues to get more and better service for its telephone dollar.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

By CHARLES DOHERTY

"And a good good evening, ladies and gentlemen, this is the Richfield Reporter bringing you the ... broadcast of the Richfield news of the air."

So on the most prominent newscast of the Pacific coast Nevada received honorable mention for its sterling work during the recent ski meet at Cisco. Also the white and blue was mentioned on the KNX news. Too bad skiing isn't a recognized sport, so that when they say Nevada they don't mean the University of Nevada Ski club.

Nevada should win the Pacific Ski union meet at Yosemite park in Badger Pass this year. Last year they made a good showing, but this year, assisted by Martin Arrouge, Earl Edmunds and Ed Rose, along with last year's team of Poulsen, Fanning and Herz, the Silver and Blue should go to town.

Dick Kolbus, Joe Radetich, Johnny Robb and Clayton Phillips make four of a good basketball team, but unfortunately it takes five. De La Mare plays good ball, but he isn't of the caliber of those five men.

Take a look at the rule changes for basketball this year. A substitute can enter the game talking like a mother in law just home from a visit with her husband. The team is allowed four time-out periods and "hacking" rules have been softened a little. Watch the game and see.

Behind those beards beat hearts of gold. When the House of David runs onto the court tomorrow with their famed beards and tall players be prepared for a real show. Maybe not as flashy as the Broadway Clowns, the negro quintet, the House of David still makes any game interesting by not running up too big a score.

When someone slides up to you and says "the slalom run at Cisco is swell!" don't fumble with your reply, simply shrug your shoulders and say, "Is that so." After that you're on your own, and lord or somebody else help you.

The slalom is a glorified medley race. You practice for years to learn the turns and then you find a good hill with plenty of trees or anything with a lot of stakes. Then firmly lash your skis to your feet and "turn 'em down hill with a prayer." If you can't pray just turn 'em down the hill.

You dash in and out of the trees hoping that one does not jump up and slap you in the face. You go faster and faster and you don't know what to do. Finally you hit on the brilliant idea of falling down, but you're afraid to fall down, but more afraid to stand up so you fall down. When you pick yourself up and brush the snow out of your eyes and ears and rub the sore spot where the ski tips and smacks you in the head, you turn around and say to yourself, "I did the first one swell, but kinda slipped here," and then you make sure and tell yourself you're not afraid of the run but you guess it's time to quit. So you go down to the warming hut and give a lengthy tirade on the best form for a Christie."

One must not tell one what a mean run does to one; it seems that run is self explanatory. But Cisco, that's something else. Saturday morning, after a bad Friday night, you find yourself in a car headed in the general direction of the Sierra. The wind whistles into the car and it gets cold. Suddenly it's colder than ever as your car slides around the canyon. You get colder still. You look over one side and see the cliff and the jagged rocks below. You wish they would jockey the auto into them and stop your suffering.

Finally when you're brave enough to look up, you're in Truckee. You get out at Truckee and rest your elbows. Finally with spirits your spirit rises. You cross the place where some hardy ancestors of someone blazed a trail across the mountains. You start feeling sorry for them, and then you're heading down hill again feeling so sorry you forget about the "poor ancestors."

At last you're at Cisco, where the Auburn Ski club holds forth. You jump on your skis and set sail or just set. But after a strenuous day on the hills you exclaim with feeling, "Why didn't we start sooner," and then vow to meet the sheets on even terms.

For those who don't want to go up to Cisco there's Galena Creek. The forest service has fixed it up, including a good class C jump, two trails leading from the hills, a practice hill and a good practice slalom course.

One of the outstanding improvements is the new warming hut. It's a peach. Done in native rock, with the side boards oiled and burned with a torch to give it a rustic effect.

The general interest shown in skiing throughout the United States is being reflected here. More than 90 students have shown their intention of joining the university ski club.

Hundreds of war horses left in Belgium and France following the World war are now being returned to England to live the rest of their days in idleness by an English humane society.

Four Contests For Frosh Squad During Weekend

Strong Roseville Team to Meet Yearlings Tonight; Lassen J. C. Scheduled for Tomorrow

Nevada's freshmen will go into the second lap of their 1937 basketball schedule when they play host to three California basketball teams over the weekend.

The Cubs engage a team Friday that will make its appearance for the first time in this section of the country when they tangle with the Leles Market quintet from Roseville, Cal., on the university court at 7:40 tonight.

The second game of the weekend will be played as one of the preliminaries to the varsity's contest when the Cubs' "B" team engages the Lassen county high school quintet from Susanville at 5:40 tomorrow night.

Hoping to erase the sting of two straight defeats given them in football last fall, the Wolf "babies" "A" squad will take the court against Lassen county junior college cagers at 8:40 as the main preliminary tomorrow night.

The frosh have been showing up well in practice sessions this week following their victory over Fernley high school last Saturday. The first string is composed mainly of former all-State stars of last year and will probably include Earl Smith at center, Paul Fife and Bob Cameron at forwards, and Gordon Thompson and Ira Faris at the guard spots.

Others who will probably see action during the three games include Jack Good, Ross Ashley, Bob Herz, Eugene Peterson, Frank Roylance, John DuPratt, Thurman Hall, Ivan Sorenson, Jack Kinneberg, George Deverall, Jack Rhoades, Olinto Barsanti, Francis Congdon, Ned Dixon, Leon Etchemendy, Pio Mastroianni and John Sala.

Students to Teach Skiing Technique

Inaugurating a weekly course in skiing technique to assist students learning the art of how to successfully negotiate a hill on two slabs of wood started today under the direction of Nevada's leading skiers.

Assisting in instructing the technique are Wayne Poulsen, Martin Arrouge, Ed Rose and Earl Edmunds.

P. E. Classes Take Strength Tests

Results of the anthropometry tests given to men in the physical education department at the close of last semester are now being compared with the results of those given at the beginning of the semester, Professor J. E. Martie announced this week.

Anthropometry tests are given to the men in colleges throughout the United States for the purpose of determining the development of the body during the school year, and to show the benefit of competition involved in sports.

Tests are given as to the ability of the men to grip, lift weights and various other physical exercises.

Frosh Sweaters Ordered by Creps

Sweaters for 17 frosh football players were ordered this week by Robert Creps, graduate manager. The awards will be presented at the first student body meeting after the sweaters arrive.

Ability, scholarship and attitude were the main points, said Chester Scranton, frosh football coach, in selecting men for the awards. Each man had to pass 11 hours to be eligible for the honor.

The men who met with the requirements are William Peccole, Frank Belosa, Sam McMullen, Roy Stott, Leonard Carpenter, George Deverell, Ned Dickson, Robert Ferguson, William Heubner, Byron Hardie, Lowell Hillygus, James Peckham, Roy Shipp, Guy Brown, Robert Cash, John Giomi and John Sala. Each of these men will receive a sweater with a four inch set of "40" numerals. The numbers will be white chinelle with a background to match, and will be sewn on the front of the sweater.

Scranton also said that it is doubtful whether he will wait until the end of the semester to find out those men who will be eligible for basketball and track awards. Because it takes so long to receive the sweaters, Scranton said, he might judge scholarship at mid-semester.

Genevieve Hansen, Artemisia editor, said that she would take a group picture of the frosh award winners as soon as the weather permits. A group picture of the varsity men who were awarded All-American sweaters will also be taken.

Lincoln Hall Plans Winter Carnival

The annual Lincoln hall Snow Carnival will be held the latter part of this month, according to Al Gibeaut, chairman of the arrangements committee.

As has been the custom in previous years the carnival will be held at or near Truckee and will be open to all of the men of Lincoln hall.

The date has been tentatively set for Sunday, January 31. It is as yet impossible to determine the exact date because of variable weather conditions, Gibeaut said.

SMITH WORKS ON PAPER

Thor M. Smith, graduate from the university with the class of 1927, was recently appointed classified advertising manager for the New York Evening Journal. Smith went to New York City a few years ago from a newspaper position in Los Angeles. He is the brother of Jean Smith, junior student at the university.

Robb, Radetich Coach Jayvees

Two members of the Nevada varsity basketball team, John Robb and Joe Radetich, will coach the junior varsity teams this season, J. E. Martie, head coach, announced yesterday.

With over 35 men from which to pick their teams, a strong showing in the Reno City league this winter is assured. The squads are picked from players ineligible for varsity and from former freshman and fraternity quintets, although any student may turn out for the teams.

Coaching the Blues will be John Robb, first string forward on last year's varsity, while Joe Radetich, a transfer from junior college and playing his first year for Nevada, will direct the Whites.

A keen rivalry exists between the two squads and both teams rank high in the Reno City league.

Those who have signed up for the teams include Rebaleati, Summerbell, Waite, Azmaraz, Agee, Brandon, Radovich, Lacey, Imman, Waldren, Witham, Taylor, Kinkel, Metten, Gravelle, Best, Beko, McCrea, Urrutia, McEwen, Morris, Wines, Handley, Hinman, Goodner, Koocher, Zackheim, Mornston, Libbey, Lang, Kennedy, Rives, Powell and Callahan.

W. Poulsen Leads Nevada Ski Team To Cisco Victory

U. N. Ace Takes High Point Honors; Cross Country Race Features Meet

Led by Wayne Poulsen, the University of Nevada ski squad defeated four California college teams to win first place in the initial meet of the 1937 season held last week on the Cisco hill.

Out of the four events Nevada skiers tallied a total score of 400 points. University of California placed second with 201.25; Stanford third, 185.87; St. Mary's, 78.40; Cal Aggies, 77.82, and Pomona college, 36.9.

Poulsen took high point honors by winning the ski jump and the cross country race and placing second and fifth in the slalom and the mile and one-half downhill, respectively.

The feature event of the meet was the cross country race, with Ed Rose and Wayne Poulsen of Nevada and Robert Robinson of California running a neck and neck race down the final stretch. Poulsen crossed the line first, Robinson second and Rose third, their clocked time being less than five seconds apart.

The Nevada team was composed of Wayne Poulsen, Ed Rose, Earl Edmunds, James Herz, Martin Arrouge, Donald McMeekin and Donald Fanning. Nevadans placing in the different events were: Cross country, Wayne Poulsen first, Ed Rose third, Earl Ed-

Skiers to Compete In Two Contests

University of Nevada skiers will compete in two more ski meets this winter, one to be sponsored by the University of California at Cisco late this month and the inter collegiate meet at Yosemite park in February.

Nevada will be a strong contender in both meets as a result of its strong showing in defeating competitors from California, St. Mary's, Stanford and Sacramento Junior College at the recent meet at Cisco.

Nevada led the University of California, its nearest rival, by more than 150 points, and is in a good position to repeat this performance at Yosemite.

Slalom: Poulsen second (42 seconds), Edmonds fifth, Arrouge sixth and Rose eighth.

Downhill: Arrouge second (2:45.06), Poulsen fifth, Edmonds sixth, Rose seventh and Fanning tenth.

Former Pack Grid Stars in Pro Clash

Two former Nevada football players, George Tharp '35 and Victor Carroll '36, performed for the Salinas Lettuce Pickers in their battle with the Green Bay Packers, national professional football champions, last Sunday.

The Salinas team was held to one touchdown, with Tharp engineering the lone tally. Taking a kickoff in the first period, he ran it to midfield and then lateraled it to a teammate, who completed the run to pay dirt.

B. Y. U. Hoopsters Defeat Wolf Pack In 2 Game Series

Cougars Win First Contest by Close Margin; Lanky Visiting Center Leads Scoring

After defeating two other ranking basketball teams in the Far Western conference, the Brigham Young University five visited Reno this weekend and added two more victories to its string by twice defeating the University of Nevada varsity.

Though the visiting cagers have played almost continuously during the last week while on barnstorming tour they did not show the effects of the grind, and rolled up a total of 78 points to Nevada's 62 counters of the entire series.

Led by Giles, lanky center of the Cougars, the Utah cagers barely sneaked out a win in the first game of the series, 42-38, after leading the Wolf Pack by 15 points at halftime. Midway in the second half the Pack started a scoring rally that fell just five points short of victory.

The second game of the series was played under the visiting team's conference rulings, which do not eliminate the center jump, and was won by B. Y. U. with a margin of 12 points. The first half closed with Robb shooting a bucket to tie the score just as the gun sounded to end the half.

The second half was a repetition of the first until the Cougars scored nine points in rapid succession to clinch the game by a 36-24 score.

Both games were fast and rough, with the visitors outscoring the Wolves' 27 violations to 19.

Giles, rangy Utah center, was easily the most outstanding hoop ringer of both contests, scoring 36 of his team's total points. He was high scorer of both teams and rang up 11 field goals and a foul shot during the second evening.

Second in top scoring was Robb of Nevada, who scored 15 points in the two games. Robb was followed closely by Kolbus, who teams at forward with Robb, and who scored 14 points in the series.

Seniors Offered Library Award

Again this year the Amanko Office Supply company will offer its annual prize to the senior student adjudged to possess the best private library.

The prize, as usual, will consist of $100 worth of books, of the student's selection, which will be purchased for him at list prices, Professor A. S. Hill, head of the English department and chairman of the committee of wards, announced this week.

Libraries will be judged on the basis of quality and quantity alike, and prizes will be awarded during senior week in May.

Students interested in entering such a contest have been asked to make application to Professor Hill, who will in turn appoint a committee to investigate the applicant's library and report back to him for final selection.

Enrollment Falls In Engineering

With registration not yet complete, the college of engineering has a total of 182 students enrolled, according to Dean F. H. Sibley. Although falling below last semester's mark of 204, the enrollment is the same as the January, 1936, final total.

The school of mines leads with a total of 71 students. The others follow, with mechanical having 39, civil 38 and electrical 34 enrollees.

Three women are enrolled in the college of engineering. They are: Betty Bowman, mining; Genevieve Wines, mechanical, and Mrs. Emma Crabtree, civil.

Former Graduate's Death Is Announced

Georgia Alice MacNair, graduate of the University of Nevada with the class of '09, passed away this week following a year's illness.

While on the campus Miss MacNair was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, and received the M.A. degree in 1915.

Miss MacNair has been a member of the Northside Junior high school faculty for several years.

Semi-Weekly Plan Viewed by Board

The possibility of the Sagebrush becoming a semi-weekly paper was the main topic of discussion at the publications board meeting Wednesday. Leslie Gray, chairman of the board, stated that the board would go on record on this subject at a meeting sometime next week.

At the next meeting Walter L. States, business manager of the Sagebrush, will give a financial report to the committee and then the subject will be discussed from this viewpoint.

Leslie Gray and Ty Cobb along with three members of the Press Club that were appointed by Gerald Roberts, president of the club, will clean up and put the cut morgue in order. An index card will be prepared for the morgue by this group.

Scarlet Fever Epidemic Abated

The epidemic of mild scarlet fever, which has been present on the campus since last November, has at last abated, according to Dr. Vernon M. Cantlon, university physician.

Dr. Cantlon, however, warns that colds, bronchitis and other seasonal diseases are prevalent and adds that it would be wise for the individual to protect himself from these as much as possible.

At the present time only two students are confined to the university hospital, although numerous cases not requiring hospital care have been reported.

Three cases of sickness have been reported among members of the faculty. Professors Griffin and Lewis and Coach "Doug" Dashiell are recuperating from recent illnesses which have kept them from their duties for the past week.

Relations Group To Hold Election

Election of officers will be the main business transacted at the third meeting of the International Relations club to be held next Thursday evening at 7:30 in room 202 of the Education building.

Originally scheduled for last night, the meeting was postponed in order to give club members the opportunity of attending the lecture given by Dr. Ethan Colton, Fred J. Collins, faculty adviser for the group, announced.

"No papers will be read at this meeting as a large part of our time will be taken up with routine business, and any remaining time will be devoted to a round table discussion of international developments in the past month," Collins stated.

The Nevada chapter is one of the 200 International Relations clubs which are situated all over the world. The clubs are sponsored by the Carnegie foundation and are established to promote greater amity among nations.

Membership in the organization is unrestricted and anyone interested in international affairs has been invited to join. To date the club's membership totals 28.

Lambda Chi, Taus Tied in Pin Race

A total of eight pledges have been listed in the fraternity pledge race this semester. Although there are almost as many second semester pledges as there has been in previous years, no one fraternity can be accorded as a definite leader of the race. Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega are tied for the lead with two pledges and Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon each have one pledge.

The newly pledged men are: Lambda Chi Alpha, Raymond Garamendi and Lester Kitch, Alpha Tau Omega; Ivan Sorenson and Leo Bigham, Phi Sigma Kappa; Enhard Thran, Sigma Nu; John Duprat, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Earl Edmonds.

CANDY BOOTH TO OPEN

The Y. W. C. A. candy booth will be opened next week in the basement of Morrill hall, according to Ruth Rowe, head of the project.

Plans are also being made to set up temporary booths in the Education building on A. W. S. and A. S. U. N. meeting days.

Light Fixtures In Publication Offices Improved

Improvements in the A. S. U. N. building which began last semester with the addition of new offices were continued this week with the installation of new lights in the Artemisia and Sagebrush offices.

Following the purchase of new office furniture for the Sagebrush office, work was started early this week to install the new electrical fixtures in both publications offices.

Despite the low ceiling which drops the globes dangerously near a person's head, the new lighting system is a distinct improvement over the old bulb-and-cord fixtures which formerly graced the offices.
