Pack Will Leave Tonight to Keep Single Engagement

San Jose Loses to St. Mary's and Santa Clara by Close Scores; Beats C. O. P. Twice

Spartans Has Better Record Than Wolves; Are Favored to Win Over Pack in Both Games

BULLETIN

Forcing cancellation of the first game in the series with the San Jose Spartans because of interrupted traffic operations on the Southern Pacific lines, the University of Nevada Wolves will entrain tonight at 8:40 to keep the second game engagement on the San Jose floor. Ten Pack basketball players met last night at the Southern Pacific depot and prepared to take the night train when they were notified that trains were being held up, and so were forced to wait until tonight to travel to the California city.

Seeking to avenge the two defeats handed them last year, the Wolf Pack hoop squad will leave tonight for San Jose where they meet the San Jose Spartans tomorrow night in a non-conference game.

Team Delayed

Because of adverse weather conditions, the Wolves were unable to leave last night for the coast as had originally been scheduled. Ten players, accompanied by Prof. J. E. "Doc" Martie and Emory Graunke, basketball manager, entrained for the contests.

Beats C. O. P.

Although suffering defeats in two close contests to St. Mary's and Santa Clara, the Spartans are rated as a strong team in the bay region by virtue of two overwhelming defeats handed to the College of Pacific Tigers, last year's champions in the Far-Western circuit. The Washington Square quintet last year defeated the Pack in a two-game series played on the local court by large scores.

Wolves Win Two

Out of five starts this season the Wolf hoopers have won two and lost three. In their initial engagements of the season they lost a two-game series to the strong B. Y. U. quintet, and then completely turned the tables on an over-rated House of David five the next week.

In their initial conference tilts of the year, the Pack split a series with the Chico State Wildcats last weekend.

Probable starting lineups for tomorrow night's contest according to Coach Martie, includes Radetich and Glusovitch, guards; Robb and Kolbus, forwards, and Phillips, center.

Other squad members making the trip are Lansdon, Leighton, Bawden, DeLaMare and Croft.

Engineers Make Plans to Present 2nd Annual Show

Unique Exhibits to be Shown by Four Engineering Societies on March 13

Featuring two prominent engineers, many attractive and interesting exhibits, and a luncheon, the second annual Engineer's Day will be held March 13.

Letters were sent to Mr. C. H. Purcell, chief engineer of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, and Mr. Glen B. Woodruff, chief designing engineer of the same bridge, in hope these men might be able to be here the day of the celebration and speak to the members of the association at a meeting to be held that night.

Many ideas were presented, said Charles Allen, president of the organization, for features of the day. Some of the ideas were an auto show, including a historical display of progress the automobile; a possibility of demonstrating the progress that locomotives have made recently; The "first steamboat" might be put into operation on Manzanita lake; and the possibilities of driving a car off a platform located on the hill to the east of the university grounds.

Each engineering organization will have some form of display.

The miners will have a mill in operation and a rock exhibit using violet rays to show the fluorescence of various metals and minerals. The merchandise will demonstrate a steam locomotive in operation and a diesel injection. Civils have a testing laboratory and a bridge display.

Harwood Given Rhodes Scholar Committee Post

Appointed to Position Left Vacant By the Death of the Late Chas. Chatfield

Paul A. Harwood, associate professor of English, this week was appointed Nevada Secretary for the Rhodes Scholarship trust, it was announced today.

Professor Harwood, himself a former Rhodes scholar from Nevada, was selected and appointed by Dr. Frank Aydelott, American secretary for the Rhodes Scholarship trust, and president of Swarthmore college in Pennsylvania.

The post he will assume was left vacant by the death of the late Charles Chatfield, Reno librarian, who was a Nevada Rhodes scholar and an honor graduate of Oxford.

This position places Professor Harwood on the Nevada state Rhodes scholarship committee, the duties of which are to pass on students selected by the University of Nevada committee to compete for the honor of studying at Oxford. The students recommended by the state committee then journey to the coast to enter final competition with students from four other Western states.

At the present time, Professor Harwood and a Reno attorney, George Whiteley, are the only Rhodes scholars residing in the state of Nevada.

Mackay Committee Starts Work on Annual Festivities

Bigger and better awards are in prospect with a longer period of whisker growing when the annual "whiskerino" contest on Mackay Day will begin February 8, it was decided by the Mackay Day committee at a meeting held yesterday afternoon.

Must Have Excuses

Any student unable to grow a beard because of work or any other legitimate reasons must have his fraternal head hand in an excuse to the committee before February 15. This gives him one week after the beginning of the contest for his excuse to be considered by the committee members. The penalty for anyone to fail to abide by these rules will be decided by the upper-class committee and different fraternal organizations.

It was decided that the Frosh Glee, annual freshman dance, would be a semi-formal for the benefit of contestants trying for the greatly cherished beard prizes.

The beard prizes were not decided upon yesterday, but will be discussed at some future meeting. Last year cups were given to the reddest, the blackest, and best beards.

Speakers have not yet been selected, but plans are being made to have a member of the initial Mackay Day committee.

CAPTAIN COPES CANNILY; CAN'T COP CONTEST CASH

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Of all the people on this continent, William Randolph Hearst is probably the most talked of newspaper men. His feats of journalism are many and varied. He has sent expeditions into the far corners of the earth to make discoveries which have greatly aided mankind, and he has discovered many a famed personality. But one of his greatest discoveries was made on the campus lately when unsuspectingly Hearst uncovered a mathematical genius who had been in our midst for many months wholly unknown to even his most intimate friends.

"Genius Glows"

This man was Captain Henry Isbell of the military department. Few persons ever realized that the spark of genius glowed under the khaki tunic of the captain.

It all began when Hearst viewed with alarm the fact that his circulation along with the Republicans, was on the decrease. In an effort to lure unsuspecting readers to his fold, Hearst started a mathematical contest in which a football stadium was filled with a multitude of jumbled figures and to the mental giant who could get the total of all the figures, and a few new subscriptions, he offered lucrative rewards.

Captain Is Right

The golden opportunity thus availed itself and the Captain quick to take advantage of the enemy's maneuver, made a few simple mathematical computations and lo! and behold—the correct answer.

Urged on by his easy success Captain Isbell undertook the second and most difficult of the assignments. Many were the weary hours he spent trudging the sidewalks peddling Hearst subscriptions. His experience, battles, defeats, and

Pep Group Elects Members to Fill Many Vacancies

2 Upperclass and 8 Underclass Students Chosen from List of Thirty Eligibles

Initiation Rites To Be Held on February 4; Reverse Dance Plans Discussed

Ten women, out of a possible list of thirty, were voted membership privileges in Sagens, co-ed group last night.

Replace Members

Eight of the women selected by secret balloting are underclass students, while two have upperclass standing and are replacing members who have withdrawn from school.

Kennedy Walker, junior Arts and Science student from Sparks, was elected an independent representative to the group; while Virginia Posvar, junior Arts and Science student registered from Reno, was chosen to succeed the Pi Beta Phi representative Joyce Cooper who was withdrawn. A second vacancy left by the withdrawal of Jessie Sellman, also of Pi Beta Phi, was filled by one of the freshmen chosen to represent that house.

Tryees Bid

Tryees bid into the organization from the underclass group were Marie Belz and Eleanor Kruger, Independents; Betty Parish, Delta Delta Delta, Juanita Elcano, Kappa Alpha Theta; Betty Brannin, and Verna Bullis, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Alice Plath, Gamma Phi Beta; and June Bradbury, Beta Sigma Omicron.

Taken into consideration for eligibility was the willingness to cooperate on various projects on which all tryees were asked to work. Among these were the Buy a Brick campaign, pop sales at football games, eskimo pie sales at basketball games, and general attitudes and response toward all women's campus activities. Older members from all houses and Independents were present at the meeting giving each group equal representation in the voting.

Plan Dance

Plans for the annual dance sponsored by the group were discussed and President Beemer appointed a committee with Betty Kormmeyer, chairman, assisted by Betty Blum and Virginia Johnson to complete arrangements. Initiation for new pledges will be held February 4 with Jeannette Hutchins and Emily Tholl in charge of plans.

$2,234.35 Is Paid On N. Y. A. Payroll

The payroll for students working under the N.Y.A. for the two months ending January 19, totaled $2,234.35, according to Dean Margaret Mack, administrator for the University of Nevada.

There were 180 checks averaging $12.41 per student for this period which will end February 19.

For the month of December 19 to January 19, there were 80 students employed with the checks equaling $579.11, Dean Mack stated.

More Contests!

However, the Captain found himself competing with the best minds in the country all bent on the same mission—to relieve Mr. Hearst of some of his wealth—and he was finally informed that he had tied for the honors with a few others and that it would be necessary for him to perform certain other mathematical and psychological tests in order to eliminate some of the competitors.

Eagerly he set to work, and with little difficulty completed the second test, sent it in, and patiently awaited developments. They were not long in coming. He was informed that he was again on the top of the pile, but there were still not enough prizes to go around and it would be necessary for him to write an essay of 50 words on the subject of "Football."

50 Words Plus Title

But again they underestimated the ability of the Captain and he forthwith returned them an essay that would have put Francis Bacon to shame. But alas! For all his keeness, his mathematical ability and determination, he failed to include the title of his essay in the restricted 70 words and thus was eliminated.

THEY'LL GET 'EM ALL IN THE END

Ed Olson, freshman student, gets his just desserts from the University of Nevada upperclass committee. Olson wore "mole skins," a sophomore privilege. In his hand he holds the feared "pink slip" which the committee will hand out to all offenders. John "Ham" Robb, chairman of the committee, wields the paddle, while the balance of his committee looks on.

Men's Upperclass Committee Takes Immediate Action

Committee Puts Ban on Smoking in University Buildings and Class Rooms

WARNING, to all underclassmen and other tradition violators:

From this date henceforth the men's upperclass committee will be functioning in full force, and any violation of the traditions set forth in the constitution of the Nevada student body will be rewarded with strict and speedy punishment!

This edict was issued by John Robb, chairman of the men's upper class committee, after the body's regular meeting yesterday noon in the student union building.

The newly printed pink slips were handed out to each of the ten members of the group so as to enable them to present each tradition smasher with a summons on the scene of his "crime". Culprits may entertain no notion that they will be forgotten, since each member of the committee is equipped with a note book in which the violator's name and misdemeanor will be promptly written. A composite list of names will be given to Robb of all students given slips.

Several students have already been apprehended by the upperclassmen, and for purpose of their punishment the committee decided to have its first "reform" meeting Friday, February 5, in the Student Union building. To make sure the offender doesn't forget his date with the group, Robb will have a typewritten list posted on the bulletin board February 4.

Cold weather has driven most of the people on the campus indoors to smoke their cigarettes and pipes.

"During the past few weeks the committee has allowed this practice of smoking in the halls and rooms to continue," Robb said.

Because of the annoyance in the classrooms as a result of this practice, Robb announced that the committee has decided to enforce this tradition. Anyone desiring to smoke must either go outside or to the rest-rooms in the various buildings.

"The continued violation of the school traditions by a student will result in loss of all student body privileges," said the chairman, "while evasion of our summons will result in enforced double punishment."

The upperclassmen who will be on the watch for erring underclassmen are James McNeely, Melvin Redhead, Paul Aznarez, Blaine Oakley, Harold Herz, Clyde Keegel, Joe Cleary, Stan McNair, Max Jensen, and John Robb.

Tapogna Named To Head Aggies

Officers were elected and plans for sending a stock judging team to San Francisco was the main business taken up by the Aggie club last night at their meeting held in the Agriculture building.

Vernon Tapogna was elected president of the group and Wesley Kennedy was voted vice-president. Ted Demosthenes was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Sometimes in April, the exact date has not been set, the Aggie club will select a stock judging team from the upperclass members to go to San Francisco to represent the club in the contest.

Hudson Lee was appointed chairman of a constitution revising committee and Ted Ashworth and Buster Lund were named to assist him.

Bud Fallon, chairman, aided by Walter Cain and George Hardman will draw up a social calendar for the group.

Finance Control Accepts Budgets Totaling $2,640.47

12 Budgets Oked by Committee; A. S. U. N. General Receives Largest Grant

Twelve budgets totaling $2,640.47 for spring semester activities were approved by Finance Control last night. Robert Creps, executive secretary, presented a financial statement of the association students which was approved.

Largest Budget
Largest budget approved was the A. S. U. N. general and office expense for $470.00. A requisition for $325.00 for Student Union building maintenance was granted.

Mackay Day committee was given an expense account of $100.00 to defray the costs of the annual celebration, and the budget of $430.00 for purchasing athletic awards was passed.

Play productions and debate were granted requisitions of $424.00 and $388.20 respectively.

Women Budget Oked
Two women's groups, the associated women students, and the women's association were given $59.22 and $240.05 respectively to carry on their semester's activities.

Smallest allotment made was to the Fine Arts group of $11.50.

Other organizations whose budgets were approved are: Block N, $107.50, Band, $150.00, and university news bureau, $20.00.

All budgets approved were granted, although cuts were made by the finance group in many of them.

Senate Tenure Change Proposed

Recommendation that an amendment be placed before the student body to change the present senate tenure of office will be made at the next senate meeting, it was announced by Margaret Turano, chairman of the committee studying the matter.

Under the proposed change, senators will take office May 31, instead of January 1 as in the present system. This will eliminate much confusion and give more unity to the year's work, according to Miss Turano. The president will be able to begin his term assisted by a new set of senators.

Assisting Miss Turano on the committee are Jim Hart and Kenny Powell.

HONORARY MAJOR HAS HARD TIME WITH UNIFORM

By ROSS MORRIS
though it were especially tailored for the honorary major.

After this wonderful piece of work the camera man and those helping Katie to dress allowed a smile to cover their tired faces. The boots were put on and were large but not noticeably so.

Knee Pad Pants
Everything was going fine until they tried to get the Sam Brown belt to fit. The belt was buckled in the last hole and still the pants drooped to the knees.

The smiles vanished. Katie grew nervous. The camera man got peeved. At last an idea! An idea that was new and novel but never seen in public.

Rushing to the closet, Mrs. Meeks returned with an armful of coat hangers. Immediately the helpers grabbed them up and started to hang them on the back of the belt. In quick order the belt appeared to fit—from the front! The saber was put in place and the picture was taken.

Venture Successful
Two hours work for a picture that took only a part of a second, but Katie and Scabbard and Blade declare it was worth it.

Enrollment Total 932; Third Highest Mark

Publication Set For Next Week On Student List

Booklet to Include Names, Phone Numbers and Addresses of University Students

For the purpose of providing information regarding University of Nevada students, the Blue Key organization is publishing a student directory which will be on sale next week.

The names, addresses, and phone numbers of all university students, and heads of all organizations will be listed, as well as the heads of the main departments of the school.

The booklet 3 1/2 inches by 6 1/2 inches, is being handled by the Blue Key members. It will be available early next week and will be sold for 15c by Blue Key members. Sponsorin the directory is a non-profit venture—fifteen cents per copy will cover only the cost of printing.

A directory of this type has been in demand by down-town men wanting statistics regarding university students and Blue Key members expect to sell a large number of them.

This is the first time anything of this type has ever been proposed. The idea was originated by Sherwin Garside, who is in charge of the committee handling the affair. Other students on the committee are Oliver Aymarr and James Hart.

Committee Revises Membership Limits Of Phi Kappa Phi

Quota Is Changed from First Fifth To One-Eighth of Senior Class By Phi Kappa Phi

Important changes further limiting eligibility to membership in the Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national scholarship society, were made last week by a committee under the direction of Prof. J. A. Carpenter which revised the organizations by laws to conform with recent changes in the national constitution.

Stricter Requirements
Stricter requirements, smaller quotas, elimination of selection by colleges, and an almost wholly new selection system were included among these changes.

The former eligible quota of the first fifth of the senior class has been reduced to one eighth with the additional proviso that not more than ten per cent of the senior class of that year may be admitted. Prospective members are no longer to be considered by their individual colleges and their marks attained therein but rather their scholarship ranking in the school as a whole will be reviewed.

New Constitution
Under the new constitution the relative rank in scholarship of the applicants is obtained by dividing the average scholarship mark attained under the University of Nevada grading system at the time of the election, by the number of units carried per semester.

Dean F. H. Sibley, president of Phi Kappa Phi, states that in his opinion this measure will be one of great value in raising the prestige of the society in the eyes of the intellectual world and will bring into Phi Kappa Phi more brilliant scholars than ever before.

945 Registration Cards Taken Out By U. N. Students

President Clark Announces Mark As Third Highest Since the University Was Founded

Frosh Total 376 to Outnumber Sophs by 162; Juniors, 227; Seniors, 283

Nevada completed its second highest spring registration in the history of the university yesterday with a total enrollment of 932 students, President Walter E. Clark announced. Nine hundred and forty-five cards were taken out.

Only twice before has registration for the spring semester topped the nine hundred mark; these two years being 1931 when a record enrollment of 977 was made, and in 1936 when 907 students were in attendance at the university.

932 Cards

Of the 932 students, the men outnumber the women by over two hundred; there being 575 men and only 357 women. In class standing the freshmen with a total of 376, are the biggest class group and even outnumber the entire female registration. The sophomores are next highest with 214, the juniors have 149 candidates for graduation and there are 93 seniors on the books.

Only 12 specials are being carried, while 48 signed up as unclassified and 49 are doing graduate work. Contrary to rumor, the registration for the spring semester has not shown a drop from previous registrations, but instead has shown an increase well above the average spring enrollment, President Clark reported.

Spring Enrollment Smaller
"In the past 20 years the spring registrations have never surpassed those of the fall semester," the president stated, "and only once has it ever equalled it. This decrease averages from fifty to a hundred less in the spring semester than in the fall and is an annual occurrence.

Complete statistics of the total enrollment for the 1936-37 school year are not yet completed, and will not be ready until next week. Unofficial estimates give indications that the total school year enrollment for the year may set a new record, or come dangerously close to it, President Clark asserted.

Governor Kirman May Accept Bid To Military Ball

Lieut. Governor Alward Plans To Attend Outstanding Social Highlight of Season

Plans are nearing completion for the Military Ball that will be held next Saturday night at the Washoe County library building.

May Attend

Word was received from Governor F. F. Merriam of California that he would be unable to attend the dance. Governor Richard Kirman and Lieutenant Governor F. S. Alward of Nevada wrote that they would attend the annual event if circumstances allowed.

Morgan Mills and his ten piece campus band have many new and modern ballroom numbers to offer for the dancers. Mills and his orchestra have been playing for most of the major dances this year. He said that his band will built around the men who played for the Panhellenic dance last Saturday.

Novelty Features

Novelty programs, featuring the honorary major, were ordered last week. This is the second time the society has used this theme; blue swede covers with the picture of Kathleen Meeks centered in the upper half of the cover with the Scabbard and Blade insignia located in the lower right hand corner.

Wayne Kennedy, senior cadet officer, said that decorating will start late next week. Fourteen members of the society will assist Kennedy who is chairman, in decorating the hall.

To Receive Insignias

Twelve junior officers who became members of the Scabbard and Blade after their initiation two weeks ago, will receive their official insignia presented them by the honorary major. The officers receiving this award are Paul Aznarez, Howard Evans, Harold Foremaster, Dorence Jameson, Basil Kehoe, Robert Leaver, Hollis McKinnon, Ben Morehouse, Kenneth Tedford, Hermann Owens, Robert Quirk and Thomas Shone. William Johnstone will not receive his insignia because he was not initiated.

Play Productions Comedy Postponed Until February 23

Dave Goldwater Takes Lead as Young Student Receiving "College Education"

McClure, Byars, Wilder, Doyle, Bulmer, Shilder, Beatty, Rives And Erickson in Play

Merton Hodge's comedy of student life "The Wind and The Rain," originally scheduled to open on February 16 has been postponed till February 23 when it will be presented in the University auditorium, Dramatics Director William C. Miller announced today.

To Run Three Nights
The Comedy will be the first to be presented by the play productions department this year and will be given for three nights, February 23, 24 and 25. Postponement of the play was necessary due to the delay in selecting the cast and the necessity of holding more rehearsals than are generally required, director Miller reported.

"We are postponing the opening to give the cast a few extra days work, and thus to insure a perfect performance," Miller stated. "Quite complicated stage sets will also have to be erected which will take considerable time."

Scotch Boarding House
The setting of the play is at a Scotch boarding house which is dominated by a Mrs. McFie, played by Gwen Erickson, who plays mother to the numerous medical students living there.

The action revolves around the life of these students during their college careers. Central figure of action is Dave Goldwater, playing the part of Charles Tritton, a young and innocent freshman, whose slow transfiguration from a gangling adolescent to practicing surgeon provides the plot of the play.

McClure as Artist
His introduction to the mysteries of college life is supplied mainly by Jessie McClure, the young Scotch artist, who is largely responsible for the change in Goldwater.

McClure is aided and abetted by a trio of the medical school upperclassmen composed of Gilbert Raymond, John Williams, and Paul Duhamel who are played by Fuhrman Byars, Melvin Wilder and Leo Doyle respectively.

Will Alternate in Part
Goldwater's true love, the girl from home, is supplied by Jill Mantering which is to be played on alternate nights by Evelyn Bulmer and Betty Shilder.

This unprecedented procedure of alternating two persons in a part was decided upon by Director Miller because of the strenuous work they will be called upon to perform playing opposite Goldwater.

Norrison Beatty, as another innocent frosh, is also introduced into the mysteries of a medical school by the trio composed of Duhamel, Williams and Raymond.

The Villain of the story is Allen Rives who hides under the alias of Roger Cole who attempts to steal Jill Mantering away from hero Goldwater; lively action ensuing from the complications.

Second Time on Coast
The play is being presented for the second time on the coast by the Nevada thespians. It was chosen as the opening play for the Pasadena Community Playhouse and was warmly received.

It recently completed a two and a half year run in London where it was selected as one of the outstanding English plays of the year.

Sagers to Ring Bell For Meetings

Plans to reinaugurate the old tradition of ringing the student body bell which hangs over Morrill hall were formulated at the suggestion of William Cashill, student body president, at the regular meeting of the Sagers Tuesday night.

Four men were appointed by President Charles Doherty for each of the two nights of the Fresno State basketball series to assist the yell leaders in grouping students into two sections of the gymnasium.

U. N. Skiers In Meet at Lassen

Skating under the banners of the University and Reno Ski Club, members of the University of Nevada Ski Club competed against the major teams of California in a meet held at Mineral on Mt. Shasta, last week-end.

Each team entered its members individually, with no awards being made to the team performance.

Earl Edmonds, university skier, made a sensational showing in the slalom, and would have taken first honors had he not been penalized and forced into fifth place.

Wayne Poulsen led the Nevadans in points by taking second place in the slalom. Other university skiers making the trip were Ed Rose and Martin Arrouge.

NEW PLEDGES

Sigma Nu and Beta Kappa, fraternities, bring this week to a close with one new pledge. Gene Rowland, of Reno, pledged Beta Kappa and Chester Burt, of Goldfield, pledged Sigma Nu. Burt is a Sophomore student.

Make this semester different.

SIESMOGRAPH JUST MISSES BY 1,900 MILES

Although the machine didn't miss by far, there was found to be a slight error on the part of the seismograph very recently when it reported four earthquakes since the end of Christmas vacation and that one was a major earthquake in distant Tibet, approximately six thousand miles away.

Dr. Vincent Gianella, head in the seismograph department, said that there was a very distinct shock felt in Northern Tibet near the Kung Luhn mountains at the same time that the seismograph recorded one being there, but that he found it to be seven thousand nine hundred miles from Reno, instead of in Asia.

"For the past week, there have been no recordings by the instrument," Dr. Gianella said.

9 Teams to Start Intramural Debate

First intra mural debates will be held next week by both the men and women's teams of the debate squad, debate coach, Robert Griffin announced yesterday.

Debates will be held on Monday and Wednesday nights in the auditorium, two debates an evening being given. One debate will be held by the men and one by the women.

Six men's teams are competing in the tournament and the winner will be presented with the Ginsburg revolving trophy which is awarded each year to the winner of the intramural tournament.

The women will not be competing for any trophy, but the best women debaters will probably be selected to represent Nevada at the College of Pacific Invitational meet which is to be held late in March.

Both the men and women will debate the proposition "Resolved, That Congress should have the power to fix the minimum wages and maximum hours of industry." The question is being debated throughout the country and is the Phi Kappa Delta, national honorary debate society, question for this year.

The three women's teams are composed of: Gwen Erickson and Dorothy Dignan; Carol William and Eunice Beckley; and Kathleen Meeks and Lila Stoddard.

The six men's teams are made up of: Norrison Beatty and Don Purdy; Bill Cashill and Bryce Rhodes; Louis Weiner and Bob Miller; Hudson Lee, and Stanley Klausner; Homer Herz and L. Segelin; Francis Breen and Leo McCuddin.

Meeting Calendar To Be Drawn Up

In an effort to avoid confusion and the holding of too many meetings on the same night, a committee of three, with Ross Morris, junior student, as chairman will meet next week to present a schedule and a brief outline of its plans to the heads of all organizations.

At this meeting, it is probable, Morris said, that a definite calendar of meetings will be made.

"We believe," he stated, "that if all the organizations will cooperate the plan can be worked up very successfully." The committee composed of Morris, Oliver Aymar, and Mary Bockiewicz, was appointed at the last senate meeting.

Fink to Lecture On Boulder Power

Use of Dam in Electro-Chemistry In Nevada Will be Subject of Noted Speaker

The possibility of utilizing power from Boulder Dam to further the electro-metallurgical industry in this state will be discussed by Dr. Colin Fink in a lecture on "Industrial Electro-Chemistry," to be given February 1 at 8:00 p. m. in the auditorium of the education building.

Fink, who is one of the world's leading authorities on electro-chemistry, has made a special study of the possibilities of electro-metallurgical industries being established to make use of Boulder Dam power.

In his lecture Fink will tell of the progress made by industrial electro-chemistry in the past forty years. This process, which was given its major impetus by the harnessing of the vast power resources of Niagara Falls, is now used to turn out products such as aluminum, magnesium, beryllium, and sodium which cannot be produced cheaply in any other way.

Fink received his schooling at Columbia University where he is now in charge of the division of electro-chemistry, and at Leipzig.

Dr. Fink has been the recipient of many awards and medals and he was given an honorary doctor of science degree by Oberlin College for his valuable research work.

Plans Made for Annual Frosh Glee

The Frosh Glee committee met Wednesday for their dance which is to be given at the Twentieth Century club on February 27.

The budget was submitted to the board of finance control which met Thursday. A six piece campus orchestra has been secured and a dance program was chosen to carry out the theme which has not yet been disclosed.

The enthusiasm shown on committee work and among class members is genuine and with a month head start we have time to produce an actually successful dance, Carylie Pribbernow, Frosh Glee chairman said.

Chem Club Plans Meet Wednesday

The Chemistry club will meet for the first time this semester in the Physics lecture room in the Mackay Science hall Wednesday afternoon, February 3rd.

Dr. L. W. Hartman, head of the Physics department will talk on cathode rays and application illustrated with experiments. All students interested are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

"WE BACK THE PACK"

"MISERABLE NEOPHYTES" TO UNDERGO "HELL WEEK"

Shades of paddle thwackings, embarrassing exhibitions, sleepless nights, and all sorts of dirty jobs have been ruining the sleep of several of the younger males on the campus of late.

The reason for this queer situation is the approach of that annual fraternity ordeal "Hell week", and the worried ones belong to that class of individual whom the old fraternity man is wont to call "miserable neophytes," or the like.

These luckless few will probably go through terrible mental agony the two or three weeks preceding their doom, for, as if silent suffering was not enough, their "big brothers" love nothing better than to crowd around them and describe in glowing terms the pleasures of "Hell Week."

However, these pitiable creatures will eventually discover and apply those good sage words of upperclass advise, "hold on to the rope, its all been done before."

Press Club Makes Plans for Ruckus

Plans for the Ruckus, to be held sometime before mid-semester were discussed at the second meeting of the Press Club this semester, held Wednesday afternoon at the Student Union building, held Wednesday afternoon at the University, was put in charge of all preparations for the Ruckus.

The possibility of again starting the radio program sponsored by Press Club last year was talked about. John Carr was appointed to investigate the desirability of continuing them.

Several constructive projects recommended as worthy of consideration to the club by Prob. A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department, were discussed.

The meeting was conducted over by Gerald Roberts, president of the club.

Band Gets Large Number of Lies

With a large number of lies gathering in the box set up in front of the library members of the band expect their first dance that will be held in the El Patio Ballroom February 12, to be a success.

Tickets have gone on sale for this event. Each member of the organization has tickets to sell and will give you one for a reasonable sum of small change.

Morgan Mills, president of the band, said that those wanting to receive a free pass to the dance had better hurry up and get their lies in the box.

Engineers Propose Bay Bridge Tour

A visit to the San Francisco bay region on an inspection trip with possibilities of seeing five large western steel companies in operation, was planned at the meeting of the Associated Engineers Wednesday night in the electrical engineering building.

Charles Allen, president of the organization, said yesterday that a trip to the bay region and inspecting the bridges were being carefully considered.

If they take the trip, he added, it is possible that they will visit the Western Pipe and Steel Company, Columbia Steel Company's rolling mills, Judson Mills, American Can Company, and Hills Bros. Coffee company.

The date for the trip has not been set but left in the hands of the committee of Ben Morehouse, chairman, Loren Maxwell, and Kenneth Ward to decide.

"The group would like," said Morehouse "to take the trip when the special train goes to the Nevada San Francisco basketball game."

Pi Beta Phi Wins Shooting Contest For Second Time

Polander Makes Two Perfect Scores in Rifle Shoot; Inda and Smith Each Get One

Naismith Schedules Matches for Varsity Rifle Team with Other College Squads

With Pi Beta Phi winning the sorority rifle cup for the second consecutive year and Gamma Phi Beta coming in second, sorority rifle competition came to a close early this week.

Chief sharpshooters for the winning team were Gertrude Polander and Betty Inda. Both women are shooting their second year of rifle at the university, while Miss Polander has had previous experience in high school.

Perfect scores were made twice by Miss Polander and once each by Miss Inda and Frances Smith, Gamma Phi Beta.

Although the varsity team is not announced official until Mackay Day when the members receive Circle "N" Bette Naismith, manager, said that these three girls would probably be members of the team.

First matches scheduled with other colleges are on February 13, with the Universities of Wichita, Oklahoma, Washington, and Syracuse. Three matches are to be shot February 20 with the University of Illinois, the University of Maryland, and the University of Oregon.

On February 27 Nevada's sharpshooting women will compete with the Universities of Missouri, California, Nebraska, Northwestern, and Louisiana State.

Kansas State and the University of Georgia will Nevada's only competitors on March 6.

The team will face Penn State, the University of Missouri, Connecticut, Massachusetts State, the University of Hawaii, and the University of Michigan on March 13.

The season will be finished up on March 20 with matches with the University of California and the University of Kentucky.

Girls' Basketball Tournery to Start

The girls' basketball tournament will get under way next week with the beginning of inter-class games on Thursday. There will be five teams competing. Captains of these teams are: Kennedy Walker, Ruth Goldsworthy, Frances Nichols, Elizabeth Best, and Patricia Turner.

Intra-mural games will begin on February 23. Only four teams have signed up for participation so far. These are: Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta, Delta Delta and the Independents.

Any organizations desiring to enter teams are requested to notify Frances Nichols, chairman of the intra-mural committee.

Members of Physical Education 56, the class in refereeing, will officiate at these games. Members of the class, who will referee not only the games at the university but girls games between high schools in the state are: Elizabeth Best, Patricia Turner, Kennedy Walker, Edith Delmore, Ruth Goldsworthy, Frances Nichols and Eunice Beckley.

Cap and Scroll Initiates Barry

Formal initiation ceremonies were held in the University chapel Wednesday afternoon for Eleanor Barry who became a member of the Cap and Scroll women's honorary society.

A banquet in honor of the new member was held at the El Cortez after the initiation ceremony. An interesting talk was given by Dr. J. E. Church, head of the department of classics, who was active in establishing the society on the Nevada campus. Guests included Dean Mack, Miss M. Simas, Miss Eva Adams, the campus members and many of the local members.

At the present time memberships are held by Evamae Beemer, Betty McCusick, Marguerite Feutsch, Anne Gibbs, Genevieve Hansen and Eleanor Barry.

Helen Hill Named To Y. W. Board

Helen Hill, sophomore student, was appointed co-hostess to Marie Barnes, Dwyer, chairman of the hostess committee, at a brief meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet Tuesday night. The committee makes arrangements for the general supper meetings which are held throughout the year by the organization.

The World Fellowship banquet to be held February 2 in observance of the Y. W. C. A. peace movement throughout the world is to be arranged by Janet Parish and a committee under her direction. At that time reports will be made on the Asilomar convention.

"Several requests for membership cards have been made this semester," Chrissis Finn, president, stated, "and I want to urge anyone interested to join immediately."

Entertaining the Girl Reserves from the Reno high school sometime in February was discussed and Elizabeth Kollhoss was put in charge.

Pan-Hell Realizes Profit on Dance

The possibility of contributing a portion of the profits derived from its dance to the A. W. S. scholarship fund, or starting one of their own will be considered at the Pan-Hell meeting to be held Monday night.

This year's dance not only accomplished the purpose set down by the first pan-hell committee of furthering a spirit of good fellowship among the sororities but also a financial success.

In previous years the dance has only made expenses but this year a considerable profit was made. The definite amount is not known as yet because not all bills have been paid.

Norma Jean Mills, head of the council, said that some of the profits will be set aside to sponsor next year's dance so that it will not be necessary to assess the sororities as what the case this year.

Bowler Discusses Indian Education

Indian education in Nevada was discussed by Miss Bowler, of the Stewart Indian school at a meeting of senior education students yesterday afternoon.

Dean and Mrs. John W. Hall of the Education department sponsored the lecture, which was held at their home.

Touching briefly on the economic conditions of Nevada Indians, Miss Bowler also spoke of diseases among Indians and the Agriculture and Arts and Craft work sponsored at Stewart.

She exhibited a number of baskets and a few pieces of bead work that were made and patented by the Wa-Pi-Shone trading post of the school.

The members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority entertained friends at their weekly tea, Wednesday afternoon at the chapter house.

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will entertain Gamma Phi Beta sorority at a social hour Friday evening from eight till nine.

Coeds May Enter Telegraphic Swim Meet This Year

Plans for Intercollegiate Contest Discussed by Red Cross Life Saving Corps Members

Entrance in the Pacific coast telegraphic meet was considered at a meeting of the Red Cross Life Saving corps held at the Delta Delta house last week.

Intercollegiate Competition This event, which takes place annually, would make it possible for the University of Nevada co-eds to compete with those from other schools on the west coast of approximately the same size.

However, it is required that this meet be held in a tank 60 to 75 feet or over in length. It is a problem for the university students to find a pool large enough. Two possibilities have been considered: the outdoor pool at Moana which is not a regular pool, and the pool at Reno Hot Springs, which would have to be filled.

May Revise Events Discussion on revising the events for the spring swimming meet were held. Plans were made for an intermediate meet to be held separately from the regular meet. Miriam Butler was put in charge of the committee to complete the plans.

Because of the cold weather swimming will be postponed until next month. All women expecting appointments as examiners when H. W. Twilliger, Pacific coast representative for First Aid and aquatics visits the group in April, were informed that they should attend a few swimming classes to keep in practice.

Peggy Tolton, fellow in physical education Margery Hiskey and Mrs. Porter McKernon, students, were initiated into the corps, which is made up of senior Red Cross life savers and senior live saving examiners.

Attending the meeting were: Jean Cameron, Miriam Butler, Alice Sauer, Kay Booth, Jean Smith, Peggy Gill, Peggy Tolton, Mrs. Porter McKernon, Geneva Ellis, Gene Wines, Verna Bullis, Edith Delmore and Mrs. Mae Simas, instructor in the department of physical education. Kay Booth and Alice Sauer acted as hostesses.

Friday evening members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will be guests at the coffee-mint hour given by Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Alpha Delta Theta entertained guests at a card party on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Powles on Roberts street.

FASHION HINTS FOR THE FORMAL SESSION

Approach of one of the season's swankiest affairs, the Military Ball, again intensifies the eternal problem of what to wear.

Something very ultra is expected for an occasion like this—something extremely formal. Whether you go "empress" or "Juliet," here is the opportunity to dramatize yourself.

There is always a wide selection of styles at this mid-season period, but this year's clothes are especially gala. Two types of cut vie for first honors, the familiar "swing" and the newer narrow skirt style that usually goes with the empress dress.

Best fabrics include lace, velvet and the metallics. Prints are coming in, with some of the season's most sophisticated formals made of them and as bands of color on otherwise plain dresses. Beading lends a gay new note to many a jacket, neckline or sash.

Accessories are all-important for the first time in recent years, with pearls, gold and crystal in first choice.

Fashion authorities, however, warn you not to use too much or the wrong kind. Costume jewelry is still out, its place taken by the semi-expensive, pearls, crystals and gold.

New Dance Class Formed by Sameth

A new dancing group which offers U.A.A. credit to study the contemporary dance has been formed by Miss Elsa Sameth.

Two types of students are desired by Miss Sameth for the class—those who are interested in creating dances, and those who are interested in creating costumes and music.

It is hoped to find material in the organization for the Dance Symposium to be given at Stanford this year by various colleges of the Pacific coast.

The class is open to all women interested.

Mary Boczkiewicz will be hostess to members of Manzanita Association and their guests this afternoon at the weekly tea. Those helping her entertain will be Mary Pray and Mary Fox.

Home Ec Activity Schedule Released

A complete schedule of the activities of the Home Economics club was drawn up and released this week by Georgia Cooper, publicity director for the organization.

Set for February 9, the next meeting of the group will feature a "perfect hostess" discussion, directed by Mrs. Marsh, home ec professor.

The other activity for February will be a tea in the home ec rooms on the 26th with junior women in charge.

Mackay Day plans will be made on March 9 when the group meets, followed by a talk on French dress designing.

Election of officers is set for April 13, when the seniors entertain and projects for the year are exhibited. A silver tea is scheduled for April 23 with another tea on April 30, with the freshmen and sophomore women in charge.

Thetas to Hold Formal Initiation

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will hold formal initiation tomorrow night for eight women who were pledges last semester.

Jean Chism, Shirley Feutsch, Anita Jauregui, Margaret Johnson, Janet Holcomb, Josephine Seddon, Maris Maule and Dorothy Atchinson will receive degrees.

Following the ceremony a formal banquet will be held at the Twentieth Century club.

Harmonica Band Practices Weekly

Weird sounds issuing from Artemisia hall Monday afternoon after investigation proved to be merely the new harmonica band practicing.

Started by members of the P. E. 10 class under Miss Elsa Sameth, head of women's physical education department, the group is now open to all who desire to learn the art of playing the harmonica. The purpose of the P. E. class is to be able to accompany folk dances.

Geneva Ellis, by starting ahead of the group, has advanced far enough to use her harmonica next week in teaching a group of Girl Scouts folk dancing.

The next meeting of the group will be held in the basement of Artemisia hall at 4:45 Monday.

Reno high school upperclassmen protested charges that they had been frequenting downtown clubs and taking part in ragging, turkey trotting or other modern dances. The complaint followed the university action in forbidding these dances at college affairs.

A RESERVATION

The amendment submitted for student approval at the last A. S. U. N. meeting embodies many ideas which are fundamentally sound, but as a whole should be withdrawn and revised to meet the conditions which are prevalent in the existing relationship between the students and administration.

The objections registered against the amendment do nothing to change the fundamental idea of creating a director of publicity who will draw a small salary, but are mainly against the expediency of the projected amendment.

One objection is that the student body will shoulder all of the payment of the director who will be performing some functions which are of benefit to the administration. But that objection is cleared up if the administration will assume to pay an amount equal to that paid by the students.

The Sagebrush sees fit to have the amendment withdrawn and revised to incorporate the just liability of the administration as well as the liability of the students. There is no reason for the students to stand the expense of paying for publicity on activities from which the administration realizes the sole benefit, and therefore it seems necessary that the Regents be petitioned to "Pay a sum, which they may specify, to a student director of publicity, to conduct the publicizing of university athletics, and that this person be, preferably, the director of publicity employed by the A. S. U. N. to conduct the releasing of news to the state at large concerning student activities.

This combination is very necessary inasmuch as the duties as they are at present, under the News Bureau head and the graduate manager, overlap to the extent that it is hard to ascertain where the task of one ends and the duties of the other start.

That this director of publicity will be the sole agency from which news of the university will emanate, and that he will accept full responsibility for releases from his office is also important. Further, it is advisable to have the director work in conjunction with the president of the university.

Another objection is to the manner in which the director is selected. It seems that inasmuch as the payment of the salary of the head of the bureau means participation in the central treasury of the students, the finance control committee should be the body which finally appoints the director, with the sanction of the graduate manager, who sits in on the finance control meetings, and voices the sentiment of the Regents. It is proper, however, to have the publications board declare the eligibility of the candidates because it is in a position to determine the qualifications of those connected with the publications.

The director, under the revision, will be directly responsible to three groups. Namely, finance control, the graduate manager, and the publications board. Finance control because it would represent the views of the students; the graduate manager because he would represent the views of the administration, and finally the publications board because it is familiar with the duties to be performed by the director and his office.

It should also be made clear that the date which this new position would start will be at the beginning of the fall semester of 1937, as for obvious reasons, mostly financial, it would be physically impossible to start the new position this semester.

With those changes it would mean that the responsibility would not be shouldered entirely onto the student body, but distributed equally between them and the administration.

The idea of the amendment is good. The university has a definite need for such a bureau, with a head who is on the job at all times rather than contributing just part of his time, but the changes outlined above are necessary to complete it.

O. K. SAGENS

The Sagens this week made a significant move forward in the organization of a real women's pep and service organization.

For several years this group has been fundamentally a women's service society comparable to the men's Blue Key society. They have in past semesters moved more completely to the idea of service as well as being an honor group. But they have been handicapped by the lack of a large membership.

Sagens have attempted to inspire student spirit by cooperating with the rally committee, assisting in conducting rallies, and leading in the cheering sections, and have been met with a small measure of success only because of the smallness of their group.

With the new greatly increased membership the Sagens should become one of the leaders in women's service activities, and be a real asset in university activities.—C. D.

YOUR SOLEMN DUTY

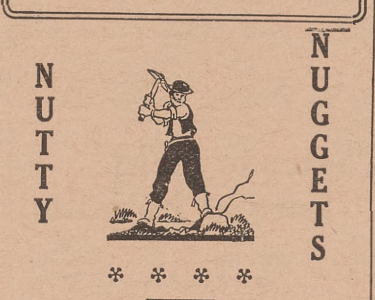

Today the radio lanes are filled with pleas for assistance to the sufferers in the stricken Ohio valley territory. National, state and private relief agencies are directing their entire efforts to the relief of those unfortunates, while college students in all parts of the United States have been requested to subscribe to membership in the local Red Cross chapters.

It seems that college students are in a position to better understand the need of those people than any other group in the United States, because most of the intensified studies in the universities deal mainly with the problems of society. But even as they may understand it, so do they ignore it. For that group has less contributors in its ranks than any other one.

The lack of money certainly cannot be said to be the reason for the dearth of cooperation, for there is hardly without exception a college student who does not squander the price of a membership each week.

The only reason can be said to be failure to recognize this responsibility. It is the solemn duty of every student in the University of Nevada to give this matter much thought and if humanly possible take out a membership to the Red Cross society NOW, while this drastic need for funds exists.—C. D.

Editor, the Sagebrush:

With the announcement that the celebration of Mackay Day will come two weeks earlier this year, interest in the annual Whiskerino is again being stirred up by discussion of the contest rules, which every year are altered to cater to some one's vanity.

We think that most of the men of the campus really like to grow the beards, despite their half-hearted griping about sore faces, etc. The Whiskerino is our best way of honoring those bewhiskered old-timers who indirectly have developed our university.

The chief "beef" concerns the length of the Whiskerino. Why not have a definite date which would be the last possible time one could go shaven, but any one that wished could start when they wanted, even now? If a man has the spirit to start much earlier, more power to him.

Also there have been stupid rules regarding the trimming of the beards. We believe that if the men are allowed to cut their growth in any unique style they want, more interest will be shown in the Whiskerino, both by collegians and others. The beard-growing at Ne-

IN THE SPORTLIGHT

SHORTS ON SPORTS FROM FAR & NEAR

By CHARLES DOHERTY

After a one year lay-off, following the 20-30 trouncing which the University of Nevada took at the hands of the Mad Morogans from St. Mary's a rivalry between the bay district college and the Pack will again be resumed. Repercussions of the startling defeat in the 1934 engagement are still occasionally heard. Football stock at the University would go to a new high if the Pack should succeed in upsetting the Gaels again.

When the Wolves and the Spartans appear on the San Jose basketball arena, rivals of the feudal nature will take place. Last year the San Jose student publication complained, "that for five minutes the Spartans were so busy dodging flying blocks and fists that they couldn't score." Wow!

San Jose has a real ball club this year. They lost to St. Mary's by a very narrow margin, and set the Far Western Conference Champs of 1936, College of Pacific, down twice.

That little college sponsors most every sport in the book. They have wrestlers who are making a name for themselves around the coast, boxing, swimming.

From all quarters we are hearing comments that it would be a good idea to make skiing a minor sport. This corner believes that as a minor sport it will bring more publicity to the University than any major sport excepting football, and that's something.

It is very necessary that this sport be adopted on the recognized university calendar in order for the team to compete in the Yosemite meet which is sponsored by the Pacific Intercollegiate Ski Union. Nevada has more than a good chance of annexing this meet if they can officially enter, otherwise they will be shut out in the cold.

Nevada has shown vast potentialities during the two game engagement with Chico on the local basketball floor, but at other times they simply bogged down and almost stopped. If the Wolves play like they are capable they can win most of the games on the schedule, otherwise it means the cellar again.

The University of Nevada ski club will show some interesting pictures in their meeting Wednesday night at the State building. The moving pictures are those taken by Dr. Frank Howard of the meet at the Auburn Ski club meet several weeks ago and show the Nevada stars in action.

Nevada's wrestling team has eight men signed and prospects of more joining later on.

If you have looked closely at the schedule in basketball you will notice that the Broadway Clowns will appear on the local hardwoods. That night is a good date to keep open to see some of the cleverest as well as goofiest basketball ever turned loose by five men. Last year they used to take the ball down under the goal and just pass it around in stead of shooting for the basket. They also like to pull their football play where the ball is centered and the end go down then the ball is given on a long pass to one of them. Besides that they throw the ball through their legs and cut up in general to make it a very entertaining hour.

Barbs, Lam Chi Tie in Handball

Independents and Lambda Chi Alpha tie for first place in the handball tournament at the end of the second week of play. Each team has two wins and no losses.

Several games have been postponed by these teams because their representatives could not show up at the time of the game.

Sigma Nu is in third place with three wins and only one loss. Sigma Nu has played each game as it comes.

Lincoln Hall has the cellar position with four losses and no wins. Each of their games have been given as a forfeit.

The department at the head of interfraternity sports said that to make these tournaments a success that each team should show and play. If more interest isn't shown several of the sports will be dropped from the schedule.

The ratings of the teams are as follows:

| House | Wins | Loses |
|-------------|------|-------|
| Ind. | 2 | 0 |
| Lambda Chi | 2 | 0 |
| Sigma Nu | 3 | 1 |
| S. A. E. | 2 | 1 |
| Betta Kappa | 2 | 1 |
| A. T. O. | 2 | 2 |
| Phi Sigma | 1 | 2 |
| Sigma Phi | 0 | 3 |
| L. H. A. | 0 | 4 |

ON INTER-FRAT COUNCIL

5 University Skiers Will Participate In Shasta Meet

U. N. Ski Club Plans to Show Moving Pictures of Skiers in Intercollegiate Meet

Accompanied by two instructors five University of Nevada men will journey to Mount Shasta Friday to represent the Reno and U. of N. Ski club in a meet lasting two days, Saturday and Sunday.

Prominent Instructor

Dr. Frank Howard a member of Reno Ski club, and Roy Mikkleson, member of Auburn Ski club are the instructors who will participate in the meet. Martin Arronge, Ed Rose, Wayne Poulsen, Donald Fanning and Earl Edmonds are university men taking the trip.

At a ski club meeting held Wednesday night the possibilities of getting a panel in the Artimisia were discussed.

Feature Moving Pictures

Next Wednesday night the club will feature a motion picture of some of their meets. It is believed that the picture will be presented in the Washoe County library building at eight o'clock. This picture is open to the general public.

The problem now facing the University of Nevada ski club is getting the administration to take over this sport so that the university skiers can represent the university in the intercollegiate meeting to be held February 26, 27 and 28 at Yosemite. Only college men are allowed to participate in these events the men will not be able to take the trip.

Sponsors Trips

The Reno and university clubs have been skiing in California Ski association meets. The trips to these meets have been sponsored by the Reno Ski club in both clubs are represented by the one team.

The meet at Yosemite is under the direction of the Pacific coast Ski union in which all the major universities will participate.

Eight Sign For Wrestling Class

Eight would-be grunt and groan artists have signed up for the U. of N. wrestling club and are holding tri-weekly workouts, under the supervision of James Coleman, assistant physical education instructor.

The class meets at 2:15 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturday afternoons, and at present the students are learning the fundamental holds and basic rudiments of the sport.

Arrangements have been made to purchase blue sweat shirts for the team members and at the close of basketball season the outstanding members of the team will give exhibitions in various parts of the state in conjunction with the annual scheduled tour of the tumbling team.

The club will also put on at least three bouts for the block "N" stag night on March 10.

Membership is still open to all men

Cub Five to Play Carson Saturday

Leaving here today, the freshman basketball team, accompanied by Coach Chet Seranton, will travel to Lovelock to play their seventh game of the season with the Lovelock high school five.

Following the Lovelock encounter the freshman team will return home to meet the Carson City quintet on the university court Saturday night.

The Lovelock team has been playing a new brand of ball this season and have several wins chalked up in their favor.

With the exception of one man who did not return to school this year, the Carson team is composed of their last year's championship material. The title holders of last year have not lost a game this year.

The freshman team lost to Reno high school last Saturday night by a score of 24 to 11. This was the first game that the cubs have lost this season. The freshmen made their fifth straight win by defeating Virginia City last Friday night by 26 to 17.

The present standing of the cubs' record shows five wins to their credit and only one lost.

Wolves Split Even With Chico Cats In 2 Game Series

Pack Wins First Contest in Hard Battle 24-23; Loses Second Game by 4 Points

Repeating their performance of last year, the 1937 Wolf Pack split a double-header with the Chico State basketball quintet this week end.

The Nevadans opened strong in the first encounter and took an early lead which until the final moments of the game was not threatened by the visitors. Seemingly outclassing the Chico cagers during the first half, the Pack's merry-go-round offense worked with efficiency and Radetich and Glusovich held down the Wildcats' scoring to one field goal and four foul buckets.

Acting Captain Robb together with Kolbus, his partner at forward position, worked smoothly together in piling up a substantial lead which the Chico quintet seemingly could not match. On the short end of a 22-13 score, the visitors started a rally that netted them nine points and a one point lead with only a few seconds to go in the game. Glusovich took the ball off the back-board and took it down the court but missed his long shot which Kolbus followed up and with an over-head shot sent the Wolves into the lead, 24-23, as the gun sounded.

The second game was fast throughout with the lead changing hands several times during the tilt until the last minute spurt of the Chicanos gave them a handy 21-17 victory to gain them an even break in the series.

The Pack's offense which had proved so effective the night before was completely bottled up by the Wildcats who besides doing excellent defensive work did some scoring for themselves.

Trackmen Take First Workout

Trackmen had their first workout of the spring semester in the gymnasium last Wednesday under the watchful eye of "Jim" Coleman, who is beginning his first year as head track coach at the university.

Many of the men who will form the nucleus of this year's team are unable to attend the exercises because of other activities. Several are playing on the different basketball teams and will report as soon as the hoop season is finished. Others have afternoon "labs" and are unable to report, but are working out on their own.

"The calisthenics will aid the men in getting into shape earlier in the season and is better than having them doing nothing," Coleman said. "All men interested should report Mondays, Wednesdays, or Fridays or any of these days possible."

Men reporting Wednesday were Prescott Wilson, Lockley Maule, Kenneth Day, Frances Breen, Charles York, Forrest Roman.

Freshmen reporting were Ivan Sorenson, John Clomi, and William Peccole.

Literary Society Votes to Suspend Annual Publication

Heavy Cost of Pentacle Is Blamed For Abandonment by Editor Eleanor Barry

Publication of the Pentacle, Chi Delta Phi literary magazine, was definitely abandoned last night. The honorary pledged its support to Desert, cultural magazine recently published by a group of Reno people and edited by Emily Richards and William Holmes. "Last year's magazine was very successful but it was a great financial drain, Editor Eleanor Barry said last night after the decision. "Since we do feel that there is a need for such a magazine we have decided to support "Desert."

The decision came at an Italian meeting at the Tri-Delta house. Passages from an old volume of Dante's Inferno were read by Eva Adams, alumni sponsor of the honorary and Italian refreshments were served.

Beth Frederickson and Evamee Beemer were in charge of the meeting, which was conducted by vice-president Genevieve Hansen, in the absence of Anne Gibbs, president.

Fine Arts Show Balzar Portrait

Outstanding among a group of portraits of prominent Nevada men by Professor Hans Meyer Kassel to be shown at the Fine Arts exhibit which opens February 1, will be a premier showing of portrait of the late Governor Fred B. Balzar. In addition to the portraits, two landscapes will be displayed.

Plans are now being made to raffie one of the landscapes, the proceeds of which will be used to finance the work on a portrait by Meyer Kassel of Dr. J. E. Church, sponsor of the group, Marguerite Fuetsch, president of Fine Arts said today.

Dr. Church holds seniority of rank at the University of Nevada and is internationally famous for his invention of a system of surveying snow.

Work on a portrait of Clarence H. Mackay, benefactor of the university, has been delayed.

The exhibit will be open for two weeks in the Fine Arts seminary in the library, with the exception of week ends, during the hours of 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. Tryees who wish to sit during the exhibit may get in touch with Marguerite Fuetsch, president of the group.

Garside Visits Campus

Blair Re-elected N. A. S. President

Prof. G. E. Blair, of the physics department, was re-elected president of the Nevada Astronomical society at its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday night in the Mackay Science building.

F. B. Headley, chief department of farm development, agriculture experiment station, was elected vice-president, and John L. Carlson, of the Reno high school, secretary-treasurer.

The important program committee will be headed by Prof. Horace Boardman of the civil engineering department.

Three talks were given at the meeting following the election of the officers. President Blair spoke of the weight of the earth which he gave as 6590,000,000,000,000,000 tons of material.

Professor Horace Ayres gave a talk on the relationship of navigation to astronomy, and Professor Boardman told of the apparatus used to measure the earth.

Arrangements are being made by the society to bring Dr. Myer, of the students' observatory of the University of California, to speak at the next meeting which will be held at the end of February.

Debate Cancelled Because Speakers Fear Winter Cold

Southerners Alter Tour Itinerary To Avoid Frigid Zone During Speaking Journey

Nevada's first home debate of the 1937 season which was scheduled with Drake University of Des Moines, Iowa for February 11 was cancelled at the request of the Drake debaters due to their fear of the rigorous Nevada weather.

Debate Coach Robert Griffin received a letter from the team this week in which they announced their regrets at being unable to meet Nevada, stating that it was necessary for them to maintain a strict schedule on their tour and fearing delay at the hands of the highly touted winter climate of Nevada they regretted that they would be forced to cancel the debate.

Rumor has it that the Drake team is planning a tour of the equatorial countries in place of the originally planned tour which included Nevada.

It is believed that the frigid air of this section of the country is detrimental to the health and vitality of these natives of Des Moines, the place where the tall corn used to grow before the drought, and where anthropologists have recently found evidence of an ancient tribe of Eskimos before they sought the warmer climate of the Arctic regions.

Unclaimed Texts To Be Confiscated By Campus Shop

Students whose books were not sold in the Y.W.C.A. must claim them this week or they will be considered as the property of the Y.W. women and will be set up for sale next semester with all the profit going to the general treasury of the group, rather than the usual ten percent.

Mary Catherine Blakeley, head of the project, said that the store will be kept from 9:30 to 10:30 Monday and Wednesday mornings and all Tuesday morning.

Sigma Nu to Give Degrees to Eight

Formal initiation for eight Sigma Nu pledges will be held Sunday morning at the local chapter house.

Initiates who will receive their five-pointed stars are Louis Carpenter, Albert Caton, Robert Cameron, Robert Record, Jack Lazaskas, David Goldwater, Clarence Heckethorn, Gailen De Long-Champs, and Robert Herz, who underwent "Hell Week" during the week end.

Broadcast Plans Complete for Ball

Time for the Grand March, which officially opens the annual Military ball, was advanced five minutes last night to facilitate broadcast conditions. The dance will start at 9:25, February 6, members of the society decided at an informal meeting in the armory last night.

During the reports of committees, it was brought out that the festivities would go on the air for a half hour broadcast, 9:30 to 10:00 o'clock, and, although the band will be required to play continuously, provisions will be made to allow partners to change between numbers.

Arrangements were also made at the meeting to initiate William Johnstone, who was not yet recovered from an appendectomy at the time of the regular installation two weeks ago. Johnstone will be formally initiated at a special meeting next Thursday.

Another possibility was of obtaining Michel Souris, or the French version of the very popular Mickey Mouse. A tentative date for the movie was set for the first week in March.

The club is also planning to bring a lecturer to the university in the near future. Gilbert Chinard, professor at the University of California, was named as a prospective speaker.
