DRIZZLES AND DROPS FROM THE FLOOD AREA

By SLUSHY MCGURGLE
Although the Orr ditch is rising by leaps and bounds, Pop McQuail and his grounds crew are confident that they can hold back the raging waters from washing out the levees.

Student union sector—Five battalions of the pipers have responded nobly to the plea of C. Ashill to save valuable A. S. U. N. property, including forty-six cents in stamps and two bottles of ink remover.

After 7,009,835 blotters had been used up in a frantic attempt to soak up some of the water from the library cellar, a desperate call went out for "more blotters" Clayton Phillips pledged the full strength of the Sundowners to be on hand tomorrow, in case no blotters are available.

Campus hospital—Gwen Erickson, one of the flood refugees, was brought in suffering from water on the knee. She was advised to discard her boots and wear pumps.

Sigma Phi Sigma house—Divers have been working for seven hours unsuccessfully in an effort to locate Duncan Dorsey, valiant house manager, who was sent down in the cellar to siphon out some of the flood waters two days ago.

Wadsworth, Nevada—A structure, believed at first by natives of this valley town to be the large, beautiful new gymnasium of the University of Nevada, came floating down the river this evening. Mayor Dan Pfeet rowed out and investigated, however, and discovered the edifice to be one of the type designed by the late Chic Sale.

Reuben McTootle announced today that community singing at tonight's game will be held with appropriate songs. Among the fitting titles will be "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," "Darkness on the Delta," "Stormy Weather," "River, Stay Away From My Door," and "The Desert Song."

The Sagebrush today wired relief headquarters in Washington to return the ten bucks we sent back last week for the benefit of the flood sufferers in the east.

Sigma Nu pledges, working a bucket brigade in three shifts, have been bailing out their cellar. In addition to bringing up gallons of flood waters, they have fished out three suitcases, five cats, some moldy potatoes, two Gamma Phis, and a text book. House officials were unable to account for the presence of the text book.

Coach of a western college basketball team (not Nevada, of course), to his team at half-time: "What's the matter with you bums? You look like a bunch of amateurs!"

She: "Do you know what good clean fun is?" He: "I'll bite. What good is it?"

Bud Showalter looked long and thoughtfully at the second question of his examination, which read: "State the number of tons of coal shipped out of the United States in any given year."

After pondering some time his brow cleared and he wrote: "1942—none."

Prof.: "Now, if I lay five eggs here and three eggs there, how many will I have altogether?" Gladys Blair: "I don't think you can do it, Prof."

Kenny Richard: "Waiter, what's this?" Waiter: "It's bean soup, sir."

"I don't care what it has been, the question is, what is it now?"

Beta Sig: "You give me such crazy kisses." Lambda Chi: "That's because my lips are cracked."

Absent-minded Professor: "Lady, what are you doing in my bed?" Lady: "Well, I like this bed. I like this neighborhood. I like this house and I like this room. And, anyway, I'm your wife!"

Beggar: "Say, buddy, can you give me two dollars for coffee?" Lommori: "I thought you guys always asked for 10 cents for coffee?" Beggar: "Yeah, I know, but I'm putting all my begs in one ask-it."

Reports have come up to us from San Jose concerning the game there last week. It seems that the whole Nevada team was playing considerably lousy, and one star guard in particular persisted in gumming up the works. As this man was the key in the offense, Doc Martie decided to send a telegram, signed by

SNOW PLEASURES RANCHERS; TROUBLESOME TO FACULTY

By BOB MILLER
The 26.9 inches of snow which the weather bureau reports fell in Reno lately, may have been a god-send to the ranchers of the state, but it was nothing but a lot of trouble and inconvenience to most of the faculty and student body.

Professor Edward Sutherland of the Economics department and "Doc" Martie of the P. E. department both reside in the country, which is a virtue in the summer, but a lot of trouble when it snows, as both will testify.

Professor Katherine Lewers of the Art Department has not been to her home in the Carson Valley for nearly two weeks. Last Saturday she attempted to get supplies in to her ranch. Four miles from Bower's mansion on the Carson highway she was forced to abandon her car in a snow drift and take to a sleigh supplied by a neighbor.

Even this mode of transportation proved unable to cope with the ten foot drifts that were encountered, and after a mile of it, the horse gave out the athlete's girl, in order to encourage the thick-headed one. At half-time Doc handed the player the telegram.

"Counting on you," it read, "I'll marry you if you win." Her name followed. The erring cager studied the wire for a moment, then pushed it away from him.

"Hell," he said disgustedly, "that ain't from my girl. She can't run a typewriter."

"Who is the biggest lyre in Reno?" the band boys are asking in their contest, which, incidentally, should net you a truly at least one free duet. This department nominates the gentleman who originally spoke thusly: "This is Nevada's year."

Students at the University of Illinois who wish to drive on the campus must pass a chauffeur's examination.

and Professor Lewers was forced to spend the night at a neighbor's. She was unable to get out Monday but arrived in Reno Tuesday after a sleigh ride to the highway, and by following a snowplow into Reno. She hopes to be able to get to the ranch this week-end.

On the campus things were gradually assuming a more orderly course after a rather hectic week. In spite of the snow, blizzards, and rain there were just as many amorous males besieging the sororities and halls, and statistics show that there were no more than the usual amount who failed to make the 11 o'clock curfew.

Even though the Tri-Deltas didn't turn their pledges out in the cold to shovel snow they kept their sidewalks clean, their cellar dry, and the roof intact.

Charley Keeler's paddle was given a rest at Lincoln Hall where his misbehaving frosh were given a snow shovel instead of a paddling by the upper-class committee.

Of the score or more of pledges of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house it was hard to find one this week, for every unoccupied pledge was immediately put to work shoveling snow. No casualties other than a few strained backs were reported.

Contrary to reports the big red barn of the Phi Sigs is still above water though every available pot and pan is being held in readiness if the roof starts leaking again.

The Sigma Nus were forced to disconnect the siphon, as the cellar was full of water. When the flood recedes the keg will be reinstalled.

Debate Tourney Set for April 15

Tentative date of the Pacific Forensic tournament to be held in Salem, Ore., has been set for April 10, 11 and 12, Professor Robert Griffin, debate coach, announced.

This tournament, sponsored by the Pacific Forensic League, of which Nevada is a member, is an annual competition of Pacific Coast universities who are members of the P. F. L.

Question to be discussed this year is: "Resolved, That congress should have the power to fix the maximum hours and minimum wages of industry."

Aside from debate, there will be competition in oratory, extemporaneous, and after dinner speaking.

"It is too early to state definitely who will represent Nevada at the tournament," Coach Griffin reported. "We will enter at least one team of debaters and probably also enter the extemporaneous competition."

Three Concert Stars To Appear Here During Semester

Three famous Metropolitan opera stars will appear in the Community concert programs to be held at the Civic auditorium this semester, Professor Post, head of the music department at the University of Nevada, said this week.

Toscha Seidel, famous violinist, will appear in Reno on Thursday, Jan. 11. The Russian Imperial Singers are coming on Thursday, March 11. Nino Martini, world famous tenor, makes his appearance here on Monday, May 3.

As in the past, Mrs. W. E. Clark will have charge of the sale of tickets.

U. N. Seismograph Records Quakes

Since the beginning of the 1937 semester the seismograph, quake reporter of the University of Nevada, has had a fairly busy time keeping tab on two major and two faint shocks occurring in varied spots of the earth.

The first, which recorded the worst record of the four, came early in January. Dr. V. P. Gianella, professor of geology in the Mackay School of Mines, said the quake occurred in the North Pacific ocean, approximately twelve hundred miles from here.

Twenty minutes later, a second one was reported and was figured to be very close to the former one.

The last two, hardly reported by the delicate recorder, came a few days later with little difference of time between them, the first happening about seven thousand miles away, either in Tibet or other parts of northern China, and the second quake being so faint that it was unable to be located.

Sibley Appointed Aide to Roosevelt

Alden K. Sibley, former student at the University of Nevada, was recently appointed military aide to President Roosevelt. As lieutenant in the President's military staff, he participated in the inauguration ceremonies at the capitol.

Sibley, entered the University of Nevada in 1928. In 1930 he received an appointment to West Point where he starred fifth in his graduating class of nearly 300 students.

Upon graduation from West Point, he received the Rhodes scholarship from Nevada and was given a three-year detail by the army to attend Magdalen college. He obtained the degree of Bachelor of Science and Arts at Oxford in 1936.

Since his graduation, he has been first lieutenant and stationed with the engineering branch of the army at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Lincoln Hall Men To Give Smoker

Preparations for the Lincoln hall smoker to be held either the latter part of this month or the first of next are already being formulated by the committee in charge of arrangements.

This committee which was elected at the meeting of the Lincoln Hall association last Monday night is composed of Eugene Gordonev, chairman, Elmer Isaac, and Bob Grenig.

The smoker is given annually by Lincoln hall for the men of the university faculty in the hope of promoting greater friendship between students and professors.

Claudette Colbert says: "My throat is safest with a light smoke"
"An actress' throat is naturally very important to her. After experimenting, I'm convinced my throat is safest with a light smoke and that's why you'll find Luckies always on hand both in my home and in my dressing room. I like the flavor of other cigarettes also, but frankly, Luckies appeal most to my taste."
An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.
Miss Colbert verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen, and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat!

IN THE SPORTLIGHT

SPORTS ON SPORTS FROM FAR & NEAR

By CHARLES DOHERTY

Nevada meets the fast traveling Fresno outfit on the hardwoods tonight and tomorrow night, and the fur should fly because this is one hump the Wolves must get over in order to be on their way to a conference championship.

Starting from this point the Wolves can win the conference championship by beating the Aggies, Fresno and C. of P. provided one of those teams beats Chico twice.

During the practice season the Bulldogs have lost to Brigham Young university and the barnstorming outfit from Montana State. They play strictly a fast breaking offense designed mainly at high scores, but also have two good guards on the defensive. Frank McClurg, sophomore guard, is one of the most dangerous men on the squad. Besides being a bearcat on defense he is second high scorer on the team.

Runner-up in last year's conference race, the Fresnoans are graced with sharpshooters, including "Ole" Soimila, center; Loren Nickels, high scorer on last year's quintet, and Arnie Weems, fast forward.

The man to man defense which the Wolves resorted to during the last few minutes of the second Chico contest was one of the best defensive shows seen on this campus in a long time. Nevada could use a little more of that type of defense in the rest of their games.

Las Vegas wants one of the University of Nevada football games down there. That only goes to show that Doug Dashiell still enjoys the popularity he had when he was head football mentor there.

It seems like it might be a good idea to give them a game. Remember the Cal Aggie game in 1935. Trucks, men and students got out early in the morning and removed some 12 inches of snow from the gridiron so that the game could be played. And then while it was going on there were flurries of snow which made the few spectators very uncomfortable. That game was a financial loss to the university, so why not, if the southerners are willing, let them post a guarantee to bring one of the later in the season games there, or sponsor a post-season game.

Statistics on Nevada Football
According to the statistics the university had a very successful season. A total of 2767 yards were gained in all departments by the Pack to a total of 2195 in all departments for the opponents. Although outgained in yards from scrimmage, 991 to 1252 for the opponents, the Wolves more than made that up with 959 yards gained from passes to 395 for the opponents. In ruckback of punts and kickoffs the Wolves outgained their opponents 817 yards to 548. Passing was the best offensive weapon of the Pack, completing 67 out of 143 passes thrown, for an average of 46.85 per cent. Their opponents threw 98 passes and completed 38 for an average of 27.32 per cent. Fifteen of the opponent passes were intercepted by the Nevadans, while only 11 of theirs were taken by their opponents. Nevada, by all departments, made a total of 82 first downs to a total of 78 for the opponents. And that's the statistical story of Nevada football during the 1936 season.

J. V. Blues Win Over Reno Print

The Blues of the junior varsity basketball teams won an easy game from the Reno Print Tuesday night of this week, with an upset score of 42-21. Led by John Radovich, tall center, the Blue team gained a considerable lead at the start of the game and was not pressed throughout the encounter. Radovich was high man for the college team with 13 points to his credit, while Taponga, of the Prints, led his team with 3 goals. Other team of the Junior Varsity, the Whites, played no scheduled games this week, but had a hard scrimmage with the Nevada varsity squad, giving them a good workout on Tuesday night. The standings of the Class A in the City League are:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Reno Print	5	1	.833
S.A.E. Alumni	4	1	.800
S.A.E. Alumni	4	1	.800
University Blues	2	1	.666
University Whites	3	2	.600
Block "N"	3	3	.500
Truckers	2	3	.400
Virginia City	1	3	.250
Reno M-Men	1	4	.200
Camp Idwild	1	4	.200

Fallon Hi Meets Frosh Hoop Squad In Fresno Prelim

'Green Wave' Team Is Strong Contender for Western Zone Top Honors

Strong Richmond Railroad Pullman Team Plays Yearlings Tomorrow Night in Prelim

University of Nevada freshmen tangle with two strong teams this week-end when they meet the Fallon high school five tonight and the Richmond Railroad Pullman team from Richmond, California, tomorrow night in preliminaries to the varsity games with Fresno state. The Fallon team is the best to represent the "green wave" in several years and is a strong contender for top honors in the western zone. Led by Ito, crack Japanese guard, and Waldren forward, the "melon pickers" are expected to provide stiff opposition for the yearlings.

Richmond Team
The Richmond Railroad Pullman team is believed to be made up of the same players who defeated the frosh last year, but at that time they were playing under the head of the Knapp Food Stores of Oakland. A fast, accurate shooting five, they play the "spot pass" type of offense the team is made up of former high school stars.

Tuesday night the frosh will journey to Virginia City to play a return game with the "hilltoppers." The frosh defeated Virginia earlier in the season, but the "Comstockers" are noted for their few losses on their home court.

A game with Carson high has been tentatively arranged for Wednesday night. Originally scheduled for last Saturday night, the game was postponed when the Carson highway was blocked by heavy snow drifts.

Lovelock Quintet Defeats Freshmen

By HARRY MORNSTON
The university frosh met their second defeat of the season when they lost to the strong Lovelock five by a score of 29 to 21 in a game played at the Pershing town last Friday night. Apparently in a slump, the frosh "cracked" in the second half, after playing good ball the first two periods and allowed Lovelock to pile up a lead they couldn't match. Led by "Pistol" Montrose, the Lovelock team looked to be invincible, and served notice that it will be a strong contender when tournament time rolls around. The team is made up largely of veterans, with Montrose, Gottschalk and Oleata crying the brunt of the attack. Montrose, with 16 points, was high point man for the evening, while Ferris was high for the frosh. Five also played good ball for the yearlings. The scheduled game with Carson high school for last Saturday night was postponed when heavy snow drifts caused the Carson highway to be closed. The game will probably be played later in the season.

SIGMA NU INITIATES TEN
Formal initiation for ten Sigma Nus was held Sunday afternoon at the fraternity house. Following the initiation a banquet was held at the Toscano cafe, honoring the new members. Those receiving degrees were Louis Carpenter, Albert Caton, Robert Cameron, Robert Record, Jack Lazaskas, David Goldwater, Clarence Hechethorn, Gailen De Long Champs, Robert Herz, and Clifford Quillic.

Longer Contract Signed by Shaw At Santa Clara

Lawrence (Buck) Shaw, formerly head football coach at the University of Nevada from 1925 to 1928, has signed a new five-year contract as head football coach of Santa Clara university. It was announced this week. The contract calls for a yearly salary of from $7,500 to $10,000.

Shaw first came to Nevada in 1923, when he served as line coach. During the two years he held this position he served under head coaches R. O. Courtwright and Charles Erb. In 1925, Shaw became head coach and kept this position through the season of 1928, when he left Nevada to take a minor coaching position in California.

Shaw went to Santa Clara in 1930, where he served as assistant coach up until last year, when he was appointed head football coach on a one-year contract. Under Shaw last season, Santa Clara gained national championship football honors.

Ohrt May Play Pro Football Soon

Rumors that John Ohrt, first string quarterback on the varsity football squad last season, had received a contract to play professional football for the St. Louis Cardinals, a major league team, remained unconfirmed today.

Ohrt, high scorer on the Wolf Pack last year, won recognition by coast writers by virtue of a 102 yard run against Willamette and other long runs against Far Western conference teams. In early season play he was one of the ten highest scoring back men in the country.

He returned to Sacramento early last night after a short stay here without confirming the report.

C. Fink Addresses Students, Faculty

Development of Electrochemistry In United States Stressed by Noted Professor

Speaking on "Industrial Electrochemistry," Dr. Colin G. Fink, professor and head of the department of electrochemistry at Columbia university, addressed an audience of students, faculty members and general public which nearly filled the Education auditorium last Monday evening.

Stressing the development of electrochemistry in the United States, Dr. Fink explained its influence on various industries pertaining to the manufacture of different alloys.

There are three types of furnaces used at present, the electrolysis, resistance and induction.

The first is in solution or in a fused state, and the last two are used for the very high temperature produced, Fink said.

He gave some idea on how electrochemistry has helped the power plant at Boulder, dam, Nevada, but said that a carbide industry should be developed there, as carbide is the basis of all chemicals.

During the lecture he illustrated many of his points with motion picture slides, which showed many industries that were developed quickly with the aid of electrochemistry.

Debate Banquet To Be Wednesday

A new precedent will be established by the debate squad next Wednesday night when they hold their semi-annual banquet at Sparks.

Formerly a strictly stag affair, the women debaters will join the men in this banquet for the first time since the inauguration of the affair.

20 debaters will lay aside their propositions, rebuttals, and constructive arguments long enough to take up their knives and forks, and enjoy this banquet given in their honor by themselves.

Debate Coach Robert Griffin is in charge of dinner and arrangements are being made by Bob Miller. Members of the group will make short talks during the course of the evening.

The debaters who will get at least one square meal this semester include: Dorothy Dignan, Kathleen Meeks, Eunice Beckley, Catherine Booth, Lila Stoddard, Louis Weiner and Leo McCuddin.

Norrison Beatty, Don Purdy, Stanley Klausner, William Hatton, Bill Cashill, Bryce Rhodes, Bob Miller, Julian Caraway, Hudson Lee, Homer Herz, Gwen Erikson, Emile Gezelin, and Coach Griffin.

Send the Brush home.

LYRE CONTEST ENDING, NOT MANY LIES

Lyre after lyre passes the ballot box, yet do any of them exert themselves to win fame? The answer is definitely no, according to Morgan Mills, president of the band.

Everyone always thought that there were plenty of lyres running around loose on this campus but although many people will never believe it, it seems that there are very few indeed.

Maybe they are timid and not inclined to show their prowess at inventing great long stories that they expect innocent people to believe.

Will it be that this campaign to find the biggest lyre in Reno will work at cross purposes with itself and defeat the cause by getting the people that are so used to telling "whoppers" so out of the habit that they will never again be able to think of a good one?

A free ticket comes with each of the biggest ones and that is something to work for.

The closing time for the contest has been extended until Monday. The winners will be announced and the free tickets will be mailed at that time.

Seven Traditions

members, we hope to raise this percent to 100 per cent, and with the exception of those students who are practice teaching or who are working, no male member of the hill will be exempt from raising a beard," Robb declared.

The students who because of various reasons cannot raise a beard must get in touch with a member of the upper-class committee and receive a written excuse which excuses him from participating in the early spring sport.

"There will be no excuse for not obtaining a permit to go unbearded, as a member of each fraternity house belongs to the committee. A member of Lincoln hall can obtain his pass from Stan McNair and Independents can be excused by Max Jensen. A man who is excused from participating must carry his slip with him at all times, so as to clear himself of all blame," Robb said.

To make sure that there will be no loopholes, excuses will also be left with Bill Cashill in the student union building.

The 50 members of Block "N" the upperclassmen's committee and the Mackay Day committee are armed with the pink slips, and are authorized to present them to any unbearded male they see on the campus and who has no excuse in his possession.

"This tradition provides Nevada men with an excellent opportunity to represent their school on the coast next week when the special train travels to San Francisco Thursday night," Robb declared. "I only hope that the men take advantage of this opportunity to revive interest on the coast in Nevada traditions."

SEASON SOCIAL CALENDAR REVISED BY DATE BOARD

The social calendar for the remaining months of this semester was revised this week when the social committee met and redrew many of the dates. ### Murgotten Voted Reserve Prexy

Professor F. C. Murgotten, of the modern languages department, was elected president of the Reserve Officers association at its last regular monthly meeting.

The association is composed of men holding commissions in the United States Army in the Reserve Officers Corps.

The Nevada chapter, of which Murgotten is president, is the only one in Nevada, and has a total membership of nearly 50 members.

"We are very desirous of having the junior members of the university R. O. T. C. unit attend our regular meetings, and we extend them a hearty invitation to join us in our activities,"

676 Student Cards Issued by Cashill

Approximately 300 students are not taking advantage of their $10 A. S. U. N. fee, paid at the beginning of the year, as William Cashill, student body president, reports only 675 student body cards issued to date.

The $10 A. S. U. N. fee entitles each student into all sporting and dramatic events during each year. As a receipt of this fee each student is issued a student body card, upon request by Cashill, which he must show for admittance to the college events.

Murgotten stated: "Previous to his election as president, Prof. Murgotten was association chaplain."

Crippled Nevada

They are considered to be one of the top teams of the circuit this year, and will give the Wolves considerable trouble.

Coach Stan Bonleske's team is composed mainly of the veterans that ended up the season last year in a tie with the College of Pacific hoopsters but lost to the Tigers in the playoff series.

High Scorer
 The visitors are paced by their high scoring center Olavi "Ooolie" Soinilla who has scored 44 points in the first five games of the season.

Radetich will have a rival in the flashy playing of Frank McClurg, sophomore guard on the State's team. McClurg is rated to be the most aggressive player on the visiting squad and is a particularly dangerous set-shot. Captain of last year's freshman squad at Fresno, he ranks second in the scoring column with 27 points to his credit.

The Staters high scorer of last year, Loren Nickels, though in a slump at the beginning of the season, scored 17 counters in the teams last game to regain his eye for the basket. He is tall and shifty and will give the Pack guards plenty of trouble.

The Fresno hoopsters have had no trouble in hitting the hoop this year, ringing up an average of 33 1-3 per cent of all field goals shot or one out of every three shots made to count from the floor.

Though the Bulldogs have a very poor average in their pre-season games, only winning two out of the eight games played, they have been up against some of the toughest opposition in this region including Montana State and San Francisco State.

They lost a two game series to the barnstorming Brigham Young quintet, losing the second contest only by one point after a five minute overtime period had been played to decide the issue.

STRONG MEN SLOWLY DISAPPEARING

By HELEN SHOVLIN

If Nevada men could no longer take the hard knocks that usually fall upon their shoulders, and had to depend on the women, it would be a topsy-turvy world. There is a definite indication that this may some day be true at Nevada.

In previous years men taking the anthropometry tests have set all time records in exhibiting the strength of the various parts of their bodies, but this year's crop of would-be strong men have failed to measure up to their superior ability.

Said Professor J. E. Martie about the situation: "The drop at the beginning of the semester is not in keeping with the other years. Men starting school in the fall usually have a store of surplus energy and are at the height of the physical ability."

Despite the fact that class as a whole has slipped, there are individuals who excel in particular feats. Morris West, a freshman student, can chin himself twenty times in succession. None of the members of the sophomore class could compete with him in this event.

Highest endurance results show two freshmen, James Bett and Robert Lowry, smashing the scores for the same event in the sophomore group where the highest score made by Prescott Wilson and Wilson Rebaletti could not approach that of the freshmen.

Charles York and Harry Galloway can maintain some herculean traits for the sophomores, however, in showing a big lung capacity.

In the past the healthy, husky college youths in Nebraska were the only ones that could compete with the high records of Nevada, but it wouldn't be hard

Geologist Speaks To Mining Clubs

Augustus Locke, prominent structural geologist, addressed a joint meeting of the Crucible club and the Rocks and Minerals club, Wednesday evening at 7:30 in their meeting room of the Mackay School of Mines.

Dr. Locke, who has been making a detailed geologic study of the Goldfield area for the past year, in the interest of the Calumet-Hecla company, spoke on the subject of the roll of mining engineering in the discovery and exploitation of future mines.

Among the guests present, was ex-senator Tasker L. Oddie, who remarked that Dr. Locke gave the best address he had ever heard.

Frank Sharp, president of the Crucible Club, presided.

to find competitors for high scores now. Even in the face of all these unfavorable facts, there probably isn't any immediate need for alarm. This is the first time that such a thing has happened, and Nevada's men will probably come back stronger than ever when the next results of the tests are computed.
