Clovis Bull Makes Single Score Of 352 Out of Possible 400; Hannifan Is Second

Led by Hannifan, with a total of 1570 points, the Independents took first place in the interfraternity rifle contest, which ended yesterday afternoon. With Hannifan in second place and Dickson tying with Freeman of the Lambda Chi Alpha team for fifth place, following Morehouse and McNeely, who took third and fourth spots, the Independent victory was clinched.

Since this was the first year interfraternity rifle competition was held, no points toward the Kinnear revolving trophy were awarded to the winners.

The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, totaling 1540, took second place, and the Phi Sigma Kappa by a margin of 10 points edged out Alpha Tau Omega for third spot by a score of 1390 to 1380.

Sigma Nu with 1190 counters placed fifth and Sigma Phi Sigma with 876 came sixth.

Each team was able to enter eight participants with the scores of the leading five being counted. Each contestant shot one round in the positions of prone, kneeling, sitting and standing, with a possible score of 400.

The scores of the different fraternal organizations and participants are: Independents—Bull, 352; Hannifan, 340; Dickson, 310; Day, 306; and Roche, 262. Total, 1570.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Morehouse, 324; Freeman, 310; Leaver, 306; York, 296; and Quirk, 294. Total, 1540.

Phi Sigma Kappa: Glomi, 308; Hilligus, 290; Jameson, 290; Willis, 264, and McCrea, 238. Total, 1390.

Football Murals Painted for Den

A football mural, painted by Cliff Segerbloom, is being put on the West wall of the Wolf Den. This is the first of a series of renovations and changes that are being planned for the Den in the near future.

The sole proprietor of the "just-off-the-campus hangout" now is Edward Conway who recently bought out his partner Robert Nelson. Conway is also owner of the Waldorf cigar stand and the Parkway hotel. Nelson has gone to San Francisco where he will engage in business.

New club breakfasts, lunches, and dinners are being planned, and new printed menus will probably be installed sometime this week.

Some new equipment has been installed in the kitchen and later on more will be installed.

A. T. O. Confers Degrees to 12; 17 Presented With Pins by Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Alpha Tau Omega initiated twelve men—Louis Neddenreip, Ed Beaupere, Leland Fallon, Milton Mapes, Fred Galoway, Gordon Thompson, James Peckham, Bill Saxton, Walter Christensen, Charles Tibbs, Earl Smith and Fred Steen. Climaxing the proceedings was a banquet at the El Cortez hotel, at which "Chet" Scranton and Dean Reuben C. Thompson were the main speakers.

Bernard Connolly, Charles Calhoun, Bob Ferguson, Tom West, Jack Call, Tom Horgan, Lawson Sullivan, Ralph Shearer, Will Pasnite, Wallace Smith, Lincoln Lister, Jack Sturatt, Jonas Moore, Ross Ashley, Francis Menante and Bill Yoe were the seventeen men presented with pins by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A banquet at the Lincoln hotel followed the ceremonies.

Beta Kappa and Phi Sigma Kappa will hold their formal initiations early in March.

Revised Charter Of Phi Kappa Phi To Be Voted On

The revised constitution of the Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, which has already been adopted by parts, will be presented for final adoption in its entirety at the next regular meeting of the society, Prof. Harold N. Brown, secretary of the organization, has announced.

The new constitution makes several radical changes in the policies and requirements of Phi Kappa Phi, particularly with those dealing with the admission of undergraduate students. Under the new constitution, students will no longer be considered as to their standing in their respective colleges, but their scholastic rank in the institution will be taken instead.

These changes were made to conform to similar ones recently made by the national body, and are expected to raise the standards and prestige of Phi Kappa Phi throughout the country.

Press Conclave To Be on Campus

Meeting on the campus of the University of Nevada for the fourteenth time, the Nevada State Press association will hold its annual convention in the Mackay Hall of Science tomorrow.

Among the delegates will be many Nevada journalism graduates, who are now on the staff of papers over the state. With Allan Dalbey of the Fallon Eagle in the president's chair, the newspaper men will take up the day's discussion in the morning.

Discussion Groups Four discussion groups will be held in separate rooms for the purpose of bringing up problems of specific or controversial nature and will permit members interested in these problems to exchange views and discuss the situation at length without the incumbent formality of the convention itself.

In charge of the job of printing session, which also includes printing in general, will be Harry F. Frost, University of Nevada graduate, now manager of the Reno Printing company.

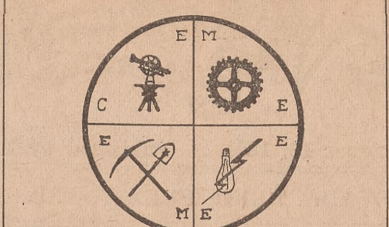

The newspaper business and management discussion group will be led by Leigh Sanford of the Reno Evening Gazette, while Paul A. West of the West-Holiday-Morgenson Co., Inc., national newspaper representative, will have charge of the advertising group discussion. News and editorial discussions will be led by Professor A. L. Higginbotham, journalism professor at the University of Nevada.

Session Highlight The highlight of the session will be on the afternoon program, when the principal speakers, George Morell, president of the Peninsula Newspapers of Palo Alto, Calif., and John E. Long, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers' association, of Los Angeles, Calif., will address the group. The Nevada State Press association was reorganized in 1923 at the University of Nevada and it is expected that this convention will bring twoscore newspaper men and printers to the campus.

Officers of the convention are Allan Dalbey of the Fallon Eagle, president, and Warren L. Monroe of the Winnemucca Humboldt Star, secretary. Monroe is a journalism graduate of the university.

ENGINEERS

Members of the staff of the state analytical laboratory are proudly displaying a new Heuser assay balance.

Professor William Smyth of the department of metallurgy explained, "It is the last word in assay balances. It will weigh amounts of gold 1/500 of a milligram.

"The balance is equipped with an automatic pan extractor which enables one to place or remove gold beads on the balance without opening the door of the glass case in which it is enclosed. It also has a multiple weight attachment by which weights are added to the beam by pushing keys."

The balance is an American product, manufactured in Salt Lake City.

The Mackay museum has just acquired a new ultra-violet ray lamp which will be used to set up a display of fluorescent minerals. This will be a new feature in the museum.

A newly described mineral, dakeite, named after the man who first recognized it as being a new mineral, has been received by the Mackay museum. Dakeite is a rare uranium mineral. The specimen received by the museum comes from Wyoming and was sent by Dake himself.

Tasker L. Oddie will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Rocks and Minerals club to be held February 17. Oddie, who was associated in the original discovery of Tonopah and has been prominently identified with the camp ever since, will speak on the early days of Tonopah. ### U. N. Astronomers Will Hear Talks

Doctor W. L. Meyer, professor of astrophysics of the University of California, is scheduled to visit the campus on February 25 and 26, according to notice received by Professor G. B. Blair, president of the Nevada Astronomical society.

Doctor Meyer plans to give various lectures while he is here, the first of which he will present on Friday evening, February 25, before the members of the Nevada Astronomical society. At this time he will speak on "Recent Achievements in Astronomy."

On Friday morning, February 26, Dr. Meyer will deliver his second lecture at received special invitations to attend the meeting.

An earthquake was recorded on the university seismograph at 8:42 Saturday evening.

Professor Gianella, head of the department of geology, said, "The recording was of great magnitude, the style moving through an arc of nearly two and one-half inches. It was not possible to compute the distance to the center of the disturbance, but apparently it was not far distant.

"This shock is the strongest recording for the past year, although it was not a very violent shock."

Annual Banquet Held by Debaters

Eighteen members of the debate squad met at the Lincoln hotel in Sparks last Wednesday night to celebrate the semi-annual debate banquet.

Held once a semester to welcome new debate members, and to promote better feeling among them, the banquet has become a traditional affair with debaters.

Debate Coach Robert Griffin presided over the dinner and acted as toastmaster for the after-dinner speeches which followed.

Short talks were made by Louis Weiner, Emilie Gezelin and Homer Herz about the Pasadena tournament which Nevada participated in last November.

Griffin made a speech of introduction to the incoming debaters and farewell addresses were made by Bill Cashill and Bryce Rhodes, who were attending their last banquet.

Attending the banquet were Eunice Beckley, Gwen Erikson and Dorothy Dignan, who had the distinction of being the first women debaters to attend the dinner, which has formerly been a stag affair.

Along with Coach Griffin, William Hatton, Homer Herz, Leo McCuddin, Hudson Lee, Louis Weiner, Bill Cashill, Bryce Rhodes, Stanley Klausner, Bob Miller, Lewis Carmody, Francis Breen, Norrison Beatty and Donald Purdy were the men attending.

Press Club Plans 'No Date' Dance

Radio Program Honoring Pioneer Nevada Newspaper Man Being Considered by Group

Instead of the traditional Mardi Gras, Press club, campus journalism group, will give a no-date dance March 13, members of the group decided this week.

In addition to the dance, other activities planned by the group include the annual Ruckus, the date for which will be set later. At present the student body meeting arrangement gives no provision for such entertainment.

Press club also plans a radio program, honoring Dan De Quille, pioneer Nevada newspaper man, to be presented later this semester under the direction of John Carr, Ty Cobb, Ruth Goldsworthy and Eleanor Barry. The script for the program, which will depict incidents in the life of De Quille, will be presented to KOH officials for advice, Gerald Roberts, president, said.

Committee in charge of the dance includes John Brackett, chairman, Gwen Erikson, Ross Morris and Hudson Lee.

Sagens to Fete 10 New Members

Arrangements have been made by Evamae Beemer, president of Sagens, women's service organization, to entertain the ten newly initiated women at a dinner next Tuesday night at the Colombo.

Short initiation ceremonies were held for the group Thursday, of last week in the social room of Artemisia hall. Emily Tholl and Jeanette Hutchins, initiation chairmen, arranged for the meeting.

New members were asked to consider various novel dance themes, one of which will be used in the annual dance of the group scheduled for March 6. Betty Kormmayer, one of the Delta Delta Delta representatives, was appointed by President Beemer as dance chairman, and working with her will be several of the new members. Choice of the hall and hiring of the music will be left to this committee.

Whether or not the group will sell eskimo pies at the one remaining basketball game has not definitely been decided. Should the cold weather continue, sales to promote money will be discontinued until the high school basketball tourney, which is held in the spring.

Pictures of the ten new women will not appear in the organization panel this semester, President Beemer announced. Only the thirteen women who have participated in, the entire year's activities will appear in the Artemisia.

Busey Explains Lincoln's Stories

Law School Education Necessary For Bar Success, According to Speaker

"The stories that Lincoln told typify Lincoln the lawyer," Douglas Busey, city attorney, told faculty members and students this morning in his talk in the Education auditorium.

"When Lincoln wished to appeal to the emotions of the jury he told them anecdotes and stories. He has received more fame from his stories than from his entire law practice," Busey said.

Many people cite Lincoln as an example when they wish to prove that law schools are not necessary for success in law, but Lincoln had the best law education possible for those days—an apprenticeship in a law office. Nowadays unless a lawyer has had a law school education he doesn't stand a chance to succeed.

"Lincoln much preferred to have a case decided on its own merits and, by precedent, he believed that anything fair should be produced as evidence and not kept out by technical objections.

"He was very quick-witted and often turned a mistake of his into a point in his favor by his quick thinking," Busey said.

Busey illustrated his various points about Lincoln the lawyer with some of Lincoln's famous anecdotes, proving his statement and further revealing the characteristics that have made Lincoln remembered by everyone.

"The first man that Lincoln defended for murder was executed, and the third case was the famous trial of Duff Armstrong. Lincoln freed Armstrong by his quick-thinking and presence of mind.

"Lincoln, who has been our greatest leader, was not our greatest lawyer in actual practice, but his theories have never had any equal," Busey said in conclusion.

The talk this morning was in commemoration of the birth of Lincoln 128 years ago. The speaker was introduced by R. C. Thompson.

Normal Club Planning Formal Dinner Dance

Plans for a formal dinner dance to be held on April 30 were discussed at a meeting of the Normal club held Tuesday afternoon.

Marian Waring was appointed to find out how much it would cost, and there will be a meeting next week to decide definitely if they will have the dance or not.

Fifteen U. of N. Sharpshooters Put on Team

Rifle Squad Will Enter Shooting Contest With Washington, Oregon and California

Fifteen leading sharpshooters were selected from the men's rifle team for the varsity team yesterday by Sergeant G. H. Hustis to represent the University of Nevada in a ninth corps area inter-collegiate gallery match this spring.

Those selected are Martin Hannifan, Ben Morehouse, Charles York, Garnett Freeman, Robert Leaver, Richard Roche, Clovis Bull, Kenneth Day, James Edmunds, Freddie Wood, Kenneth Tedford, Loyal Willis, Ned Dickson, Leo McCuddin and John Giomi.

The ninth corps includes all universities in California, Oregon, Washington and the University of Nevada.

Supervising matches start Monday and Hustis urges all members of the team to start shooting.

Shooting Positions
Shooting will be held in four different positions—prone, sitting, kneeling and standing. Prone and sitting shooting will be held the first week and the kneeling and standing the following week.

Team membership will consist of from ten to fifteen regularly enrolled members in the military department, of whom at least ten shall fire in each competition. The ten best scores, of each stage, will represent the record of the team in competition.

The competition will consist of four stages, each stage consisting of two sighting shots and ten shots for record. Each competitor will use on official target for each stage, the two sighting shots being fired on the sighting bullseyes.

The sighting shots will be followed immediately by the prescribed number of record shots. No other shots will be fired by the competitor during the firing of any stage of the match.

There will be two witnesses of each match, one of whom will be the professor of military science and tactics, or a commissioned or enlisted assistant know as the match official, will be designated for each stage of the match. The competitor must sign each target that he fires on and both witnesses governing the match have been complied with.

The time will be computed on the basis of one minute for each shot fired and extended continuously until the expiration of the time allowed.

Prizes consisting of a set of ten bronze medals will be awarded to the winning team.

Wrestling Planned For Clowns Game

"Jolting Joe" Keller will meet "Murderous Mel" Dobson in the feature wrestling bout to be put on during the half of the basketball game Tuesday night between Nevada and the Broadway Clowns.

Sponsored by the recently organized University of Nevada Wrestling club, the match will be a three minute affair of one fall. Assistant Coach Eddy Kulhan will referee the match.

This will be the first match put on by the newly organized club, and will be the first time a wrestling match has been witnessed between halves of a basketball game in the gym.

The club is composed entirely of college men interested in the sport and works out three times a week in the gym. It is under the supervision of "Doc" Martie and is being coached by Jim Coleman and Eddy Kulhan.

Other bouts are being arranged by Jimmy Ashbaugh, manager of the club, and if the match Tuesday night is a success more will be provided later.

Heavy Schedule For Frosh Five

A heavy week is in store for the yearlings starting Tuesday, when in a preliminary game to the varsity-Broadway Clown tilt the frosh will engage the strong Sparks high school team. Sparks defeated the strong Lovelock team which had previously defeated the frosh.

Friday and Saturday nights the cubs tangle with the Lassen junior college at Susanville and will also attempt to revenge themselves on the Lovelock quintet.

The frosh lost two out of three games played last week. The cubs managed to defeat the Fallon high school five, but lost to the Richmond Pullman and Virginia City teams.

Fife was the outstanding player of the night and did much to help the frosh take the Melonpickers to the score of 17 to 5.

The good fortune turned on the next game and the cubs were on the short end of the Richmond game. The score was 38 to 32.

They left town for their next defeat at the hands of the Virginia City team. The cubs played a bang-up game but were unable to match the Comstockers.

Many department stores offer, free, any number of extra layettes in the event of multiple births, provided the first layette was purchased in the same store.

Complete Track Schedule Given

Nevada's trackmen will engage in at least three meets, it was definitely decided this week.

These meets include a triangular meet at Davis, April 10, between the Cal Aggies, Chico and Nevada. The following week Nevada meets Chico at Reno and the Cal Aggies at Reno on April 24. The Pack will not meet Fresno and the College of Pacific until the conference meet is held at Chico on May 1.

Outstanding Nevada tracksters will probably be sent to compete in the Fresno relays, which are usually held on the second or third weekend in May.

A contemplated triangular meet between San Francisco State, Nevada and San Jose to be held April 3 was abandoned early this week.

The complete Wolf Pack schedule is as follows:

Chico and Cal Aggies at Davis April 10, Chico at Reno April 17, Cal Aggies at Reno April 24, meeting of all conference teams at Chico May 1.

Math Students To Talk to Club

Margaret Piercy will speak on "Egyptian Rhind Papyrus," and George Bump will give a short address on the "Mathematics of Probability" at a regular meeting of the Math club to be held in the Mackay Science hall Thursday evening at 7:30.

Following these addresses the club will be further entertained with games and refreshments. In charge of refreshments are Evelyn Bulmer, Betty Bowman, Jim Galvin and Margaret Jensen.

A short business meeting will also be held at this time with Elizabeth Juniper, president of the group, in charge.

THOMPSON RESUMES DUTIES

Miss Thea Thompson, head librarian, will resume her duties in the library next Monday after being confined to her home for the past two weeks with illness.

No additional help has been taken on during her absence, the rest of the staff working her shift.

Pan-Americanism Discussed by Club

Pan-Americanism was the topic discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the International Relations club last night.

Talks were given by Rebecca Taitel and Marshall Creel on the Pan-American trade policy in regard to the Monroe Doctrine. At the conclusion of the talks a round-table discussion was held by the club members.

Arrangements were made for two talks to be given at the next meeting of the club on March 11. Helen Shovlin is scheduled to talk on the possibilities of American neutrality and George Bump will discuss the dictators of South America.

Games Will Have

as underdogs will have a good chance to take the Wolves into camp. The Tigers have been beaten in their only two conference starts this year but have one of the most strenuous schedules in the conference.

Last year's conference champions, the quintet was hard hit by the loss of Les "Daddy" Russel, veteran guard, and Wally "Goggles" Hallberg, who was the 1936 high point man.

The spot left vacant by Russel is being filled by Ed Koehler, who came up to the varsity with no previous experience except freshman basketball.

Koehler has proved himself to be an expert defensive man and is especially expert at taking the ball off of the backboard.

Tall Guard
Alternating in the guard spot with Koehler is Bill Avery, who also plays on the varsity without the benefit of any previous experience. Avery is one of the best defensive men on the squad, is 6 feet 4 inches and knows how to use his height to good advantage in keeping opponents from scoring points. He is by two inches the tallest man on the squad.

Lloyd Hoffman, high scorer on last year's freshman team, is starting at Hallberg's forward post, but as yet this season has not shown the material equal to the former forward.

The other three starters on the team are all 1936 lettermen. Hal Kniveton, guard, flashes an occasional scoring spree, while the Parsons brothers, Mack and Beck at forward and center have done most of the scoring for the Bengal Tigers.

Following the game tonight the Pack will play another contest with the Pacific cagers tomorrow night. A win in both games will place the Wolf Pack even with the conference leaders, Chico State, as the Wildcats are not playing a conference opponent this week.

The Grand Coulee dam across the Columbia river will cost $63,000,000.
