

Auto Show Will Open Annual Engineer Day

Talks, Contests, Concert, Exhibit, Luncheon Planned

Program Starts at Ten O'clock;
Ends with Talk by Prominent Attorney in Evening

By ROSS MORRIS
Auto shows, talks, exhibits, contests, concert, and luncheon will be the features of the annual Engineer's Day program that will start tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The auto show will probably be the outstanding exhibition of the day. From the local auto sales companies, approximately thirty cars, trucks and tractors have been donated for the event. This display, in such volume, has never been attempted before but should attract considerable interest from the spectators,
engineers said.

Speaker
At 1:30 in the afternoon, a luncheon
will be held in the University of Nevada dining hall. At this time L. J. Foster of the department of the Interior and Bureau of Reclamation will speak on "The Experience of an Engineer."

The University of Nevada band will hold a concert on the campus quadrangle. The band has been doing spectacular work for this program, and will play several favorite selections. This part of the day's program will start at three o'clock.

Contests
Contest in the different branches of engineering will start at 3:30. Each engineering society will have a chance to show what they can do in the other fields and also try and excel in their own division.

The auto show will close at 6 in the evening and all of the exhibits will end at 7:15.

At the conclusion of a talk to be given by Author H. Connolly, a member of the Speaker's Bureau of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, the annual celebration will come to a close.

The talk to be given by Connolly, who is a prominent attorney of San Francisco, will concern the 1939 Golden Gate International Exhibition. The address is called "A Pageant of the Pacific."

This concluding part of the program will start at 7:30. At this time there will be a Columbia Steel Company's sound film on the "Construction of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge." Winners of the afternoon engineering
contests will be named after the film.

Five Coeds Named Queen Candidates For Mackay Day

Hansen, Dodge, Blum, Bell, and Erickson Are Co-ed Nominees
For Reigning Honors

With five choice candidates named as contestants for Mackay Day queen election and other objectives nearing completion, the Mackay Day committee, headed by Bill Johnstone, is practically prepared to make public the plans for the annual celebration to be held at the University of Nevada March 20.

Gen Hansen, editor of the Artemisia, Betty Blum, popular Kappa Alpha Theta member, Joyce Dodge, president of the Pi Beta Phi sorority, Gwen Erickson, active member of the Press Club and member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and Jane Bell, who served on the Homecoming Day committee and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta, were elected by their respective organizations as candidates for the election of the Mackay Day queen. The pictures of these girls were sent to Cecil B. DeMille, one of the few outstanding motion picture directors, to make the choice. Mr. De Mille selected Rita Jenson to be queen
last year and is making the selection again this year.

Cups to Be Given
Cups will be given for the blackest, reddest and best beard. The same kind of award will be given for the best women's costume, best man's costume,
best sorority song and best fraternity song. All these awards must be donated by the business men of Reno.

The celebration will include a football game that will be chosen after the game tomorrow afternoon. This game will be played in the afternoon after the luncheon that will be held in the gym. The celebration will be topped off by a big dance that will take place in the gym. The dance will probably be a typical pioneer or '49 affair
with the beards, cowboy clothing, miner's costumes, and a few tin-horn gamblers. The committee hopes that the women will enter into the spirit of the celebration and dress as westerners.

Barry Announces Editorial Staff For Co-ed Edition

Georgia Cooper and Staff of 11 Assistants to Handle Business Department

Work on the annual co-ed edition of the Sagebrush progressed rapidly this week, with Editor Eleanor Barry announcing her staff today.

Winifred Hiltonen will hold the position of Mackay editor. Work on the Mackay section of the paper will be complete today when all copy goes to the printer.

Ruth Goldsworthy and Anne Gibbs
were named associate editors, with Margaret Turano and Nina Boskiewicz assistants.

Norma Anderson will be woman's editor, handling the work Miss Barry regularly does each week.

Miss Goldsworthy and Miss Hiltonen will also handle men's and women's sports together, assisted by Betty Bowman, who will also be responsible for engineering news.

Head proof reader will be Jean Cameron, while Beverly Joyce will handle exchanges.

The rest of the staff will be: Helen Shovlin, Hary Handley, Margery Totman, Kathleen Meeks, Elizabeth D'Al-lesandro, Barbara Schmidt, Betty Burleigh, Sybil Furchner, Gwen Erickson, Gladys Blair, Margery Cliff.

There is room on the staff for all women who are interested and willing to work hard during the coming week,
the editor said.

Eleven co-ed began chasing ads yesterday under Women's Business Manager Georgia Cooper.

Women working on the business end of the co-ed edition include Eleanor Gardella, Juanita Elcano, Margaret
Johnson, Agnes Howell, Edith Salvi,
Clara Hanson, Cleora Campbell, June
Bradbury, and Esther Romano.

J. Smith Elected Y. W. C. A. Prexy

Frances Nickols, Molly Blakely,
and Ruth Rowe Win Posts
For Coming Year

Jean Smith was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. this week. Other officers elected were Frances Nickols, vice president; Molly Blakely, treasurer, and Ruth Rowe, secretary.

Miss Smith is a junior student in the school of arts and science, and has been active in Y. W. C. A., being a member of this year's cabinet as chairman of the Girl Reserves committee. She was also vice president of the organization this year. Miss Smith is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority.

Miss Nickols is also a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and is a junior student who has been active in the Y. W. C. A. for a number of years.

Molly Blakely and Ruth Rowe are also junior students, and have been on the cabinet this year. Miss Blakely is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, while Miss Rowe is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi.

Outgoing officers are Chrissie Finn, president; Harriet Cazier, treasurer;
Jean Smith, vice president, and Georgiana Harriman, secretary.

Members of the nominating committee were all the seniors on the cabinet, and a sophomore and junior representative.
All members of Y. W. C. A. were allowed to vote.

L. Fallon Chosen '38 Hoop Manager

Leland Fallon, sophomore student, was elected basketball manager for the 1938 season this week.

Named to assist Fallon as sophomore managers were four freshman students,
Carlyle Pribbernow, Harry Ackerman,
Fred Steen, and Vernon Wines.

Fallon succeeds Emery Graunke, who managed the '37 edition of the Wolf Pack. He is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Members of the selection committee include Prof. J. E. Martie, faculty representative, Bill Cashill, ASUN president, John Robb, representative from the basketball squad, Frank Showalter, Block N, Emery Graunke, present manager, and Robert Creps, executive secretary, a non-voting member.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Friday, 12. Delta Delta Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Normal Club.
Saturday 13. Engineers' Day, Kappa Alpha Theta.

The above pictures
are architectural drawings by two excellent architects
of Carson City, Herb Swinburne and Ed
Parsons, of the proposed gymnasium.
Walter States and Leo Ward, senior
students, who have been consistently
working for the gymnasium, arranged
to have the plans

drawn. The bill to provide the university
with such a structure
is now in the legislature, and its action will determine whether or not Nevada
will be able to have this necessary
need for a growing university. Bills
providing for the construction are now in the legislature.

Tennis Practice Begins; 11 Men Out for Sport

With a turnout of eleven players, varsity tennis practice began last Monday afternoon under the direction of "Chet"
Scranton, head tennis coach.

Led by James Herz, a ladder tournament will be held during March in which each member will challenge the two men above him for positions on the ladder.

Last year's varsity men were placed on the ladder according to their ranking at the end of the tennis season last year. Three new members have signed up, and will make a determined bid for higher ranking.

Players
Players now practicing and their respective positions on the ladder are:
James Herz, Anthony Leone, Craig
Moore, John Bawden, Jack Elliott, Wilton Margrave, Robert Leaver and Frank Goodner. The three new members are William Ogle, Clinton McKinley and Guy Patterson. Other students interested have been requested to sign up as soon as possible so that they will not be at the end of the ladder.

The first seven ladder men are lettermen from last year, and Frank Goodner was a member of the varsity squad last year. In Goodner is a man who has played a great deal of tennis in the city leagues and shows possibilities of heading the ladder.

Ogle is making his debut on the varsity squad and shows a great deal of interest in the game.

John Etchemendy proved to be a clever player last season, but is out as a track manager this year.

Bouts have been scheduled with the Cal. Aggies, Fresno, and local tennis clubs. A contest with Chico has been called off. Scranton sent a challenge to the University of San Francisco for April 17, but it has not accepted as yet.

Famous Naturalist Will Speak Here

Dr. James Needham to Lecture
To Students and Faculty at 10:30 Tuesday

Dr. James G. Needham, a naturalist of world renown, will deliver a lecture entitled: "The Place of Animals in Human Thought," before the students and faculty Tuesday morning at 10:30.
All classes scheduled to meet at that time have been suspended in order that students may attend the lecture, President Walter E. Clark stated yesterday.

Dr. Needham is now delivering a series of lectures on biology at Stanford university. He will be in Reno just one day, since he is accompanying his son here on business, and is devoting part of the time to lecturing before the university assembly.

He was a professor of entomology
and limnology at Cornell university, having taught there many years before his retirement, and headed the New York Entomological Field station for eight years.

Dr. Needham was the recipient of the King gold medal "for best work on the fauna of China" in 1930.

In addition to writing many papers on aquatic insects and educational subjects, he is an author of great note,
some of his most outstanding publications being "Elementary Lessons on Insects," "A Handbook of the Dragonflies of North America," "Manual of the Dragonflies of China," and "The Animal World."

He will be introduced at the assembly by Dr. Peter Frandsen, head of the department of biology at the University of Nevada. The lecture has been arranged for under the auspices of the committee on lectures and assemblies,
of which Dr. Harold N. Brown is chairman.

Press Club Dance Date Postponed

A no-date dance, which was planned
for this week-end by the Press Club,
has been indefinitely postponed, according to John Brackett, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

The dance, which was to have taken place of the traditional Press Club Mardi Gras, will be given sometime later in the semester.

Plans for a radio skit, which will feature the life of Dan De Quile, famous Nevada author, are being considered by the group, and will probably be presented over KOH later in the semester.

John Carr and Ty Cobb are gathering material from which to prepare the skit.

The Ruckus, Press Club's annual campus scandal show, will probably not be presented this year. The show was traditionally given on Friday at 11:25, but because classes are now given at this hour, a suitable hour for the presentation cannot be found.

"N" Mackay Day

Block N on Peavine Mt. will receive
its semi-annual coat of whitewash Mackay Day morning, Bud Showalter, president of the Block N committee said today.

The huge N usually receives its white coat the Saturday before Mackay Day, but due to the Engineers day celebration, the date was moved last year.

All freshmen will be required to turn out early Saturday morning for the work, in order that the whitewashing
will be completed in time for the Mackay day luncheon at 1:30.

All co-eds will be required to attend the painting, Kathleen Meeks, women's upperclass chairman indicated.

Definite plans will be completed next week, Showalter said.

Basil Kehoe Heads Scabbard and Blade For Coming Year

Foremaster and Johnstone Are Named Lieutenants of Group
At Thursday's Election

Basil Kehoe, prominent junior student, was elected Captain of Scabbard and Blade at a meeting held by the organization last night.

Harold Foremaster was elected first lieutenant and Bill Johnstone was chosen second lieutenant.

Dorence Jameson
was named first sergeant. The men who were elected
to offices in the honorary military organization were
bid into the society early last semester with the other junior members of the national group.

Kehoe, member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, entered the University
three years ago and enrolled as an Arts and Science student. He has worked on the stage crew for the last few years and has been very active in the Sagers, a work organization. He will take the office formerly held by Guy P. Morris, senior mechanical engineer.

A formal installation will be held April, which will consist of a banquet at the El Cortez. All members will attend this dinner and installation.

Howard Evans and Robert Leaver, junior officers, were named as a committee to arrange for the affair.

Morris, ex-captain of Scabbard and Blade, presided at the meeting.

Tentative Plans Made by Seniors

Tentative plans for the annual Senior Week were formed at a committee meeting last Thursday evening.

Initial plans for the week include the annual Senior-Faculty baseball game followed by a Delta Delta Delta tea on Monday. Tuesday, Sigma Alpha Epsilon honors with a tea, and on Thursday
the annual picnic will be held at Lake Tahoe.

Friday climaxes the week with the Cap and Gown Pilgrimage, followed that evening with the Senior Ball. No plans have been made for Wednesday.

The Senior Gift was discussed, but a definite choice has not been made. Suggestions included a public address system for Mackay Field, a hundred dollar scholarship fund, a stuffed wolf on wheels, to be used at rallies, or a silver plaque to hang in the Library, and on which prominent Senior names could be added each year.

Les Gray, Ty Cobb and Eleanor Barry compose the committee for arranging the program of the week's activities
which will include a list of all graduating seniors, and speakers during the week.

Similar in purpose and general rules
to Le Cercle Francais, the newly organized German club will have as its president for the following year, Eugene Jahn. Vice-president will be Clyde
Beck and secretary-treasurer, Felicia
Moos.

The first activity of the group will be the sponsoring of the German travel
films to be shown on the campus Tuesday evening. This production will be given with the help of Le Cercle Francais, which was formed several years
ago.

S. A. E. FOUNDERS DAY

Marking 81 years of fraternal organization, the local Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity observed Founders' Day
Sunday afternoon at the chapter house.

Professor Bixby, Ed Caffery and other members gave short talks. More than 20 alumni were present at the ceremonies. The local chapter has been established twenty years, being organized in 1917.

BEARDS CAUSE TROUBLE FOR ARTEMISIA

The beards on this campus are certainly causing a lot of trouble to some people.

One of the chief ones being offended
is Genevieve Hansen, editor of the Artemisia. One might wonder what the year book's editor has to do with beards,
but it is all a strictly proper business-like proposition.

Pictures of the men's groups cannot be taken until after Mackay Day, because all the beards would certainly spoil the looks of the year book. Consequently, only the group of pictures of the women can be taken while these obnoxious growths continue to sprout forth upon the faces of the prominent college men.

However, Miss Hansen has decided to bear with the aspiring "he-men" and has not made any fuss about the beards. She has just made the best of a bad situation, and is rapidly getting the pictures of the fairer sex out of the way.

Grad Is Wounded; Fights with Army In Spanish Revolt

Robert Hale Merriman, '32, was wounded in combat in Spain while fighting with the loyalist army, it was learned here today.

Merriman was commander of the international battalion which was known as the "Abraham Lincoln Brigade."

Merriman went to Europe two years ago on a scholarship from the University of California, where he had been acting as a teaching fellow in economics. In Europe, he spent most of his time in Russia
writing and publishing magazine articles.

With the expiration of his scholarship in January, Merriman went to Spain where he joined the loyalist army, and because of his military training, gained command of the brigade.

Married to Marian Stone, Nevada's first honorary major. While at the University of Nevada, Merriman was affiliated with the Sigma Nu fraternity.

German Students Form New Club

Der Deutsche Verein, a society for campus students in German, was formed Thursday afternoon under the direction of Dr. B. F. Chappelle, head of the modern language department.

Similar in purpose and general rules
to Le Cercle Francais, the newly organized German club will have as its
president for the following year, Eugene Jahn. Vice-president will be Clyde
Beck and secretary-treasurer, Felicia
Moos.

The first activity of the group will be the sponsoring of the German travel
films to be shown on the campus Tuesday evening. This production will be given with the help of Le Cercle Fran-
cais, which was formed several years
ago.

Casting Completed For Next Comedy ---"You and I"

Leo Bigham, Emily Tholl, Evelyn Bulmer Are Given Leading Roles in Barrie Play

Casting was completed this week for the production of Philip Barry's outstanding success, "You and I," with the selection of Leo Bigham to play the part of Roderick White, one of the leading males.

Directed by William C. Miller, "You and I" will be presented by the play productions department of the Associated Students, in April, the second drama to be offered by this group in the present semester.

The feminine lead, that of Veronica
Duane, will be played by Emily Tholl, junior student, and resident of Sparks who is making her first appearance in a campus production.

The character of Nancy White, the youthful mother, will be taken by Evelyn Bulmer, known for her portrayal of Jill, the flighty young lover, in the "Wind and the Rain." Etta, a maid, is played by Kathleen Meeks, who is renowned for her splendid work in "Hell Bent for Heaven," and other productions.

Leo Doyle, Bob Miller, and Allan
Rives, who will play Maitland White,
G. T. Warren, and Geoffrey Nichols, are all old timers, each having one or more appearances to his credit.

Contrary to previous statements the play "You and I" is to be presented in the Education building auditorium Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, April 13, 14, and 15.

The plot centers around the hectic
life of the household of a well-to-do
New York family known as the Whites.
The romantic interest is supplied by Veronica Duane and her fiancée Roderick White, who also provide many a laugh
with their antics.

Maitland and Nancy, or Mr. and Mrs.
White, pride themselves upon being modern parents who prefer to remain young, and boast that they place little restraint upon their children. The characters of Etta, G. T. Warren, and Geoffrey Nichols, weave themselves in and out of the lives of the Whites in such a way as to provide interesting dialogue and amusing comedy.

A no-date dance, which was planned

has been indefinitely postponed, ac-

Identical Proposals Ask Construction Of Campus Building

New Sticker Campaign Conducted
By U. N. Students; Tournery
Cars Bear Signs

Identical bills calling for the construction of a new gymnasium are in the ways and means committees of both houses of the legislature, while the University of Nevada student body continues an active campaign to amass
statewide support for the move.

The Blue Key committee in charge of conducting the push for the building on behalf of the student body, and all persons interested in the university, met with the ways and means committee of the assembly early this week to ask for the introduction of the original bill into the house. The original bill as drafted by the committee in conference with Comptroller Charles Gorman and members of the board of regents was not introduced when first presented, and the bill which was substituted for it later proved to have in it several unconstitutional features.

Again Press Bill
With more copies of the original bill
the committee again pressed the matter in the legislature, and succeeded in getting the bill in its original form introduced into the senate by Senator Foy of Washoe county. Later the same day, Tuesday, Assemblyman Bunker, chairman of the assembly ways and means committee, introduced the same bill into the lower house.

The assembly bill was numbered 334,
and the senate bill 108.

Referred to Ways and Means
The two bills were immediately referred to the ways and means committees of both houses. The bills now in the committees' hands call for a $280-
000 structure, with the state to supply $154,000 through a bond issue, and the other $126,000 to come from the PWA.

The student committee composed of Walter States and Leland Ward, met with the senate ways and means committee Tuesday afternoon and explained the financial plan incorporated in the bill. The plan calls for a bond issue to be redeemed within twenty years.

Sentiment toward the bill has been sounded by the committee, but not all members of the legislature would commit themselves to a viewpoint.

One Reading Necessary
When the bills come out of the committees, only one reading on the floor of each chamber will be necessary.

If both bills are acted upon simultaneously by the two houses, one of the bills can be allowed to die, as the two are identical. Then the usual procedure of sending the bill to the other house will be merely a formality.

The campaign being conducted by the student body took a new spurt last night, with new stickers pointing out that Nevada needs a new gym being spread over town and on cars at the state basketball tournament.

The Blue Key committee expressed hope to the student body that the bills would go through, stating that everything possible will be done between now and the adjournment of the legislature to speed action on the proposal.

Independents Win Hoop Championship By Downing K. A. T.

Barbs Show Perfect Form in Game; Have Won Two Athletic Crowns During Year

Another feather was dropped into their mythical hat when the Independent women defeated the Kappa Alpha Theta sextet by a score of 23-16, in a fast moving game played in the gym
Tuesday afternoon.

This was one of the games played in the new round-robin series which had to be started last week when the supposedly final clash of that series left a three-way tie between the Tri-Deltas, Thetas and Independents.

Teamwork
Tricky passing and clever floor work on the part of the Barb players gave them a decisive lead in the opening

Team Has Won 13; Lost Three Matches; Season Is Reported Successful by Naismith

3Co-eds Make Perfect Scores Last Week; Circle Ns Will Be Awarded Mackay Day

University of Nevada women are hitting the bull's-eye for the last time this year. Although there is one more week of inter-collegiate competition, the team is shooting all the targets this week, since only three matches are scheduled for next week.

The team has won 13 matches and lost three up to date. Included among the matches which were won, is that with the Reno Rifle team, which is composed of the crack marksmen of Reno. This is the first match with the Reno team that the university women have won for a number of years.

Bette Naismith, manager of the squad, says that she thinks the season has been very successful and averages up very well with past seasons.

Win All The team last week won all its matches with a score of 497. Scores of the teams they competed against are Kansas State 496, Georgia 492, and Northwestern 482.

Matches which the women are shooting this week are Pennsylvania State, Cornell, the University of Missouri, Connecticut State, Massachusetts State, the University of Kentucky, the University of Hawaii, and the University of California.

Perfect scores were made last week by Gertrude Polander and Lois Miller. Bette Naismith, Eunice Beckley, Ethel Graunke, and Grace Cantlon made scores of 99, while Betty Ina, Frances Smith, Dorothy Devore, and Mary Matthews made 98 apiece.

Circle "N" emblems will be given on Mackay Day to the ten women who have proved to be the most proficient marksmen throughout the season. According to Miss Naismith, it is probable that no freshmen will receive the emblem this year.

BRISTLY BEARDS BLOSSOM; ALL COLORS, SIZES

As the contestants in the Fuller Brush race—better known as the Whiskerino contest—turn into the final stretch this week, several of the outstanding competitors for the three coveted prizes seem to be racing neck and neck with the hair flying, or rather growing, furiously.

In the struggle for the reddest beard prize, Milton ("Maestro") Mapes, junior student, seems to be well in the lead with his flaming whiskers completely obscuring his face from the eyebrows down. ("Henna Jim") McNeely, however, is a dark horse in this field, holding down a fast-growing second.

Football heroes seem to be dominating the scramble for the blackest beard cup with All-Nevada stars Bud Showalter and Louis Nash likely choices. ("Brisbane") Brackett is an outside choice, and may come through with the help of a little fertilizer.

Aspirants for the best beard prize were considerably relieved with the announcement that Albert ("Black Forest") Manhan would not enter the race this year. Manhan won the contest last year and threatened to enmesh the whole campus in doing it.

Manhan's glory, however, is threatened to be completely overshadowed by a new hairy horror in the person of Raymond ("Camouflage") Hatton. So far Hatton's beard has only covered his entire head and shoulders, but a complete eclipse threatens.

These are only a few of the contestants, and more would have been mentioned, but aside from the color of their bristly growth, they cannot be recognized.

Finance Control Downs Sagebrush Semi-weekly Plan

Board Declares Twice-a-Week Plan Is Financially Unsound; Printing Said Too High

New Speed Graphic Camera Is Requested by Publications; Creps Gives Report

Finance control this week decided that the publications board proposal, providing for twice-weekly publication of the Sagebrush was financially unsound, and defeated the measure at a meeting in the ASUN building Tuesday evening.

Action came after the board had heard printing costs estimates and arguments favoring the plan from members of the 'Brush staff.

A proposal to purchase a new speed graphic camera for use on both publications was presented to the board by Ned Westover, and was carried over for action at the next meeting following investigation.

Westover gave prices for the new camera, and claimed the present machine now in use by the Artemisia to be inadequate. This camera was purchased last year.

Statement of the financial condition of the ASUN, prepared by Robert Creps, graduate manager, was read to the group and showed the students to have a surplus of $625.89.

two days the room stood unveiled. One morning the following note arrived from the girls of the Sagebrush staff, who were working in the student union building next door:

"Dear Sirs: May we suggest that you procure curtains for your windows. We do not care for a course in anatomy." Immediately the frat men returned the following answer: "Dear Girls: The course is optional."

WHITE SHOES APPEAR; SUN VANISHES

By I. M. AGINIT Blame the weather on Taw, Cashill and Turner!

Just as the groundhog tradition governs the advent of spring in other parts of the country, on the Nevada campus there is a superstition that the wearing of white shoes before Mackay Day is certain to bring on six more weeks of winter.

Only a few days ago it seemed that the balmy season of spring was here—all the signs associated with our favorite time of the year were evident. The sun was shining with a benevolent warmth, Si Feenster was casting a speculative eye out on the inviting lawns, co-eds discarded their winter coats (to the piper's delight), campus organizations were already planning the traditional social excursions to the nearby foothills, and young men's fancies commenced to turn, and turn, and turn.

Yes, spring was really approaching. And then! With malicious aforethought, those season-rushing groundhogs—Dick Taw, Bill Cashill and Charlie Turner—appeared in dazzling whites.

The logical outcome of this drastic action was not long overdue. The skies became overcast, cold and blustery winds blew, co-eds again donned the red flannels.

We earnestly hope you will throw snowballs at the next intrepid individual who breaks out in the whites prematurely.

Campus Players Initiate Neophytes

Five New Thespians Get Final Degree Last Night for Work in Campus Plays

Holding initiation rites last night, Campus Players, honorary-dramatics group, gave the final degree to five new members.

Taken into the group for outstanding work in campus productions were Kathleen Meeks and Furman Byars. Miss Meeks played in their lead in "Hell Bent for Heaven" and had a part in "Much Ado About Nothing" and "Double Door."

Byars held the comedy lead in "Black Flamingo" and "Both Your Houses." He was also in the recent production of "Wind and Rain."

Initiated for work on the stage crew were Willis Dalzell, Kirk Fairhurst and Ben Morehouse.

Five students elected, also were initiated into the Players. They are Charles Doherty, Beth Fredrickson, Clyde Keegel, Robert Quirk and Basil Kehoe. Doherty, Miss Fredrickson and Keegel were voted in for their work in the "Black Flamingo" and other productions. Quirk and Kehoe were members of the stage crew.

7 Coeds To Model At Fashion Show

Seven Nevada coeds have been asked to act as models in the fashion show to be sponsored by J. C. Penney company on March 13.

Coed modelers will be Margaret Hussman, Beverly Joyce, Dorothy Jones, Jane Bell, Janet Parish, Elizabeth Best and Kathleen Meeks.

The fashion show will be held at the State building and will feature new spring and early summer fashions of sport, street and formal wear.

Sauer, Kennedy Named by Board For W.A.A. Head

Election Will Be Tuesday; Each Office Contested; 79 Eligible To Vote

Alice Sauer and Kennedy Walker have been nominated for the office of president in the annual W. A. A. election to be held Tuesday.

Other candidates are: Vice president, Verna Bullis and Teletia Kirn; secretary, Gertrude Freeman and Betty Parish; treasurer, Eunice Beckley and Patricia Turner.

Both candidates for the office of president are junior students who are minor in physical education and have been active in intra-mural sports throughout their college career.

Verna Bullis has been an ardent student in the physical education department in her two years of college and won several of the events in the intra-mural swimming meet last fall.

Teletia Kirn was recently elected to the varsity basketball team. Gertrude Freeman and Betty Parish are freshman students, who were elected to W. A. A. last fall.

Eunice Beckley and Patricia Turner have been members of W. A. A. throughout college and have served on important committees.

The polls will be open from one o'clock to four. Only those girls whose names appear on the voting panels will be eligible to cast a ballot in the coming election. There are 79 old members and 22 initiates who may vote.

Reverse Dance Given by Sagens Said Successful

Declared by those present as one of the most enjoyable affairs of the school semester, Sagens' fourth annual reverse dance held last Saturday night also proved to be a financial success.

Ticket receipts turned in to Betty Kornmayer, chairman of the dance, at a group meeting Tuesday night, showed a surplus sufficient to warrant a portion being donated to the fine arts project painting to be done by Hans Meyer Kassel.

The check will be turned over to Marguerite Feutsch, president of the art group, within the next week.

Banquet Plans Plans for the banquet honoring the two graduating members, Evamae Beemer and Betty Blum, were discussed with tentative committees being appointed to secure a date, and set a place for the dinner.

Possible candidates for election to be held in April were discussed, with those eligible being singled out for group consideration.

Mackay Luncheon Committees Named

Final preparations for the Mackay Day luncheon were made at a meeting of the Home Economics group today.

The committees are different from previous committees this year because of the different type of lunch to be served.

Jeanette Williams will be in charge of the sandwiches and will be assisted by Loretta Collins and Gertrude Polander. The filling of the boxes will be taken care of by Aldene Branch with Margaret Pearson and Mary Stott helping her.

Equipment Equipment will be in charge of Jane Reid, Wilma Foote and Gwen Meginess. The senior committee, which will be in charge of the potato chips, is composed of Chrissie Finn, Marguerite Morgan and Agnes DeArmand.

Betty Kornmayer with Clarethel Masterson and Teletia Kirn to help her, will take care of the kitchen. Sara Swett, assisted by Dorothy Schooley, Helen Byrd and Lois Downs is in charge of the table setting, but freshmen girls will also be required to help.

The serving will be taken care of by Frances Smith, Mildred Woodward and Gertrude Freeman.

Margaret Cline, June Bradbury and Reveau Hansen make up the salad committee with Miss Cline as chairman.

Clean-up Group The final and one of the biggest jobs of all, the clean-up, will be under the supervision of Georgia Cooper, who will be assisted by Dorothy Palmer and Gladys Kuffer.

4 Co-ed Debaters To Enter Forensic Meet at Stockton

Beckley Erikson, Dignan and Williams to Attend Invitational Meet April 1, 2, 3

For the first time in the history of the university, four coeds will be sent to the coast to represent Nevada in debate.

Eunice Beckley, Gwen Erikson, Dorothy Dignan and Carol Williams will journey to Stockton to take part in the invitational forensic tournament scheduled for April 1, 2, 3.

Although the selection of these women is tentative, Debate Coach Robert Griffin announced that, barring unforeseen difficulties, this foursome would make the trip.

Two teams will be made up of the quartet, with Miss Beckley and Miss Williams forming one team, and Miss Dignan and Miss Erikson the other. All four women have been working on the question since late last year.

The event at Stockton is an invitational meet open only to class "A" colleges and universities in the far west. Each university is allowed to send two women's teams and two men's teams. It is not believed that Nevada will enter any men's teams in the tournament due to the added expense of sending the teams.

All debaters will argue the proposition: "Resolved, That congress should have the power to fix the minimum wages and maximum hours of industry."

Each of the women have had previous experience in debate. Eunice Beckley represented Las Vegas in the High School Forensic League tournament, and has taken an active part in university forensics. Carol Williams is the only freshman member of the team, and has the distinction of being the team's manager. She is also from Las Vegas, and competed in the high school debate tournament last year.

Dorothy Dignan gained her experience at the University of California, where she was on the women's debate squad. Gwen Erikson completes her last year in forensics and was a member of the women's intra-mural debate team three years ago.

Geographers report that Scotland is drifting toward Ireland.

ONE CASE WHERE WOMEN OUTNUMBER MEN

6 to 1! It sounds like the odds on a big race. It is a race, but not between horses or dogs, or anything else four legged.

It's between the men and the women on the Artemisia staff. It doesn't seem that the men are running a very good race, considering the fact that they constitute a decided minority on the staff, but have a majority of three to two on the campus.

One possible reason is that maybe (just maybe) the Nevada men have no literary aspirations, and another possible reason is, that maybe they figure there is too much work connected with the publishing of a year book.

At night when the women of the staff are laboring diligently over their work, one can look, even look hard, and nowhere can a man be found diligently laboring to produce one of the finest year books in the land.

The definite number on the staff has not been announced by Genevieve Hansen, editor, but she says the odds are a very fair estimate.

Sameth and Simas To Attend Meet

Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's physical education department, accompanied by Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor of physical education for women, will leave to attend the meeting of the American Physical Education Association to be held March 19, 20 and 21 at Fresno, California.

Representatives from all western colleges and universities will attend this meeting.

If the weather permits, the trip will be made by car. A New York store now offers shoe horns with two and a half foot handles for men with overdeveloped paunches.

Co-eds Outshoot Male Marksmen

Proving that women are better shots than men, the University of Nevada women's rifle team last Friday night defeated a team of Reno marksmen to the tune of 968 to 949.

The Nevada women will shoot another match with the Reno men's team two weeks from tonight. About seven women shoot, and the score of the highest five are taken. The men's team operates in the same way.

Gertrude Polander, sharpshooter for the women, made a score of 195 to tie with Clovis Bull, who is a student at the university, for high.

The match was shot in both prone and sitting positions. Women whose scores were used included, besides Miss Polander were: Frances Smith 191, Bette Naismith 191, Mary Mathews 191, and Eunice Beckley 190.

Men competing were Clovis Bull, with a score of 195; Al Ward 194, Clifford Eames 193, Dr. Claire Harper 189, Jim Archibald 178.

Betty Inda made a score of 190 to tie for fifth place on the women's team, and Lois Miller shot a 183.

When basketball was first played there were seven men on a side, then nine, eight and now five.

Women's Edition Will Feature New Mackay Pictures

A recent photograph of Clarence H. Mackay, personally autographed, was received this week by Eleanor Barry, woman's editor of the Sagebrush.

It will appear in print for the first time in the Mackay edition of the Brush, to be put out by the co-ed journalists under Miss Barry's direction next week.

For the past six years the same picture of Mr. Mackay has been used, taken when he dedicated his gift, the Mackay Science Hall, in 1930.

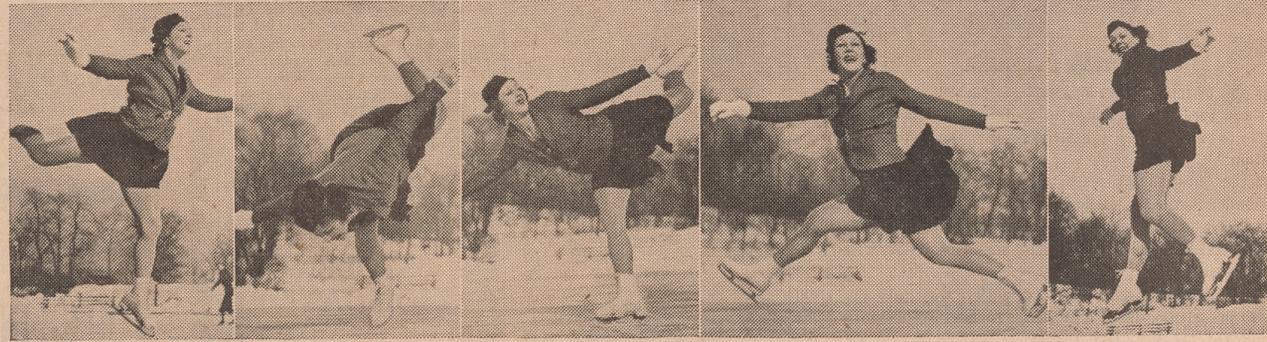

A picture of John W. Mackay, the father of Clarence, taken from a steel engraving in Virginia City will also appear in the 'Brush for the first time. The picture was taken by Ned Westover, staff photographer.

NOT THROUGH YET!

Plan for the issuance of the Sagebrush on a semi-weekly basis was literally nipped in the bud this week when Finance Control refused to sanction a month's trial under the twice-a-week plan, which was scheduled to begin on April 1.

Refusal to sanction the semi-weekly proposal came after the board had carefully considered the finance plan, which, as compiled by members of the Sagebrush staff, showed definitely that the paper could not be published twice a week, and keep its head above water.

The proposed change is, considering the present set-up in printing costs and facilities, impractical.

The condemnation of the plan does not, however, alter the good and sufficient reasons why the Sagebrush should be issued twice a week. Members of the Sagebrush feel that the change to a semi-weekly is inevitable, if the publication is to keep pace with progress of the university as a whole.

The issue is not settled. The Sagebrush editorial and business heads will continue to study the problem. They will attempt to have a feasible, financially sound operating plan down in black and white by the end of the year, which Finance Control can approve, so that the Sagebrush will be able to better serve the interest of the Associated Students by being published twice a week beginning next semester.

COLLEGIATE DRINKING

A recent poll of universities and colleges carried on by the Literary Digest, and recently published in the magazine gave some very interesting returns regarding the attitude of college students to the liquor question.

Some of the questionnaires sent to the heads of 1,475 colleges and to the student editors and leaders returned the following facts: "There is more drinking of alcoholic beverages and students are drinking more hard liquor than light liquor in most American colleges and universities."

The Digest announces that this information was gathered from reports of 645 presidents, deans and student leaders representing 581 American colleges "of every type of sectarian and non-sectarian school in the country."

Although the general trend seems to be toward a greater consumption of alcoholic beverages throughout the country the Digest epitome of its findings holds out rays of hope to those who are wont to fear that alcohol forms the open road to ruin for American youth.

"Drinking is on the increase everywhere, but there is relatively less drunkenness. Students abhor the drunk, admire the man who can drink like a gentleman. Most student editors agree that repeal has aided temperance. The majority favor education for drinking, not against it, as a solution for the liquor problem."

The survey indicated that prohibition days merely heightened the adventure of a drinking-man's life, and that with the fall of prohibition the thrill of law-breaking was removed with the result that hardened carousers drink more temperately than did their older brothers in the days of bathtub gin.

Although the increase in drinking in American colleges and universities becomes apparent with the survey, this increase hardly keeps pace with the general increase in the alcoholic consumption of Americans generally. When compared to foreign nations and their annual consumption of liquors, the United States is a backward nation indeed; yet, it is claimed that there is still more out-and-out drunkenness in America than in any other country.

Could this be attributed to the fact that Americans are only now becoming accustomed to the easy procurement of intoxicating beverages, and that they have not yet learned the methods of "handling" their liquor after the manner of ladies and gentlemen?

If that is indeed the answer, the consumption of liquor is due to increase even more in the next few years; but with this increase, drunkenness is due to decrease proportionately, both within the colleges, and without.

CONSTITUTION AMENDMENT

ARTICLE 4, Section 6:
Add word "skiing" to minor sports.
To Amend: Article 4, Section 7, Add Part g.

ARTICLE G: To be eligible for an award in skiing, a candidate must place for Nevada in at least two events in any meet recognized by the Pacific Coast Ski Union, or participate in the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Championship Meet.

The official award for skiing shall be a light weight coat sweater with a blue four-inch black N set in a blue six inch circle on the left chest, and a one-inch blue stripe above the elbow on the left sleeve for each letter won in the sport.

This amendment to become effective immediately.

Pedagogue Politics

By MAX JENSEN

Nobody wants to do any political prognosticating for the forthcoming student elections. Maybe the present day college student is pre-occupied with problems of statecraft on a broader basis—i. e., state and national.

At any event, there seems to be a dearth of possible candidates. Only two men are mentioned prominently for ASUN president, and there seems to be no competition at all for head of the associated women.

Perhaps the two favorites in the student body president field will find competition worth while after nominations are in. It would not surprise many if the list of nominees announced Mackay Day would include one or two men who, after a bit of thought, would seem to have the same qualifications to fall back on as do the two now most talked of.

As long as we're on the political subject, it is fitting that we note some of the legislative proceedings across the hall to the south.

The venerable old custom of growing beards for Mackay Day seems endangered if a bill of great importance introduced by Senator Ryan of Las Vegas receives the serious consideration it deserves.

In his capacity as member of the sanitation committee in the august body, the senator has introduced a bill to prohibit the growing of beards for Whiskerino and Helderado contests and celebration on the grounds that the growths are nothing less than "a breeding ground for disease germs."

We can't help but feel that the senator should concern himself with problems (and bills) which have more real intended benefit for the students of the university. We suggest that he concern himself with providing the University of Nevada with a new gymnasium. The student body would undoubtedly appreciate efforts in that direction a great deal more than they would any attempts to curtail the practice of growing beards.

Doesn't the senator ever recall having compared the health of the "old boys" to that of the present generation at a considerable loss of prestige of the latter. The "old boys" decorated their chins with natural growths, firmly convinced that nothing swayed the sweet female heart of the nineties so much as a dashing, shovel-shaped breeding-ground-for-germs on the button.

Coming back to the subject nearest our hearts, this column can conscientiously recommend only one man for the office of student body president from among the few who are considered or are considering it. He is that personable young John Robb, who we assume, has yet another semester or so to put in at this institution.

Powell and Hart are most likely to receive nominations, and we feel that the heat of the campaigning which will not mount into the upper brackets, will center about these two. Another possibility of seeing something interesting after Mackay Day and before election, crops up with the thought that perhaps the seven nations in the S. A. E. tong will push forward someone who can be called a dark horse. Kirk Fairhurst comes to mind, as does the late versatile manager Chick Wheeler.

Bets are being made that the office of AWS head will go to one of two leading women on the campus, Kathleen Meeks and Winifred Hiltonen. They seem the logical choices, but looking around we discover among others who would fill the position capably, Elizabeth Osborn, this past year's AWS secretary.

Alice Sauer, candidate for Women's Athletic Association, will do the Tri Deltis credit in the competition. There are other sororities who may have plans of their own. Gamma Phi seem to have a good bet in Norma Anderson, and Jessie McClure's name is mentioned to the Pi Phi as a gentle and well-meant hint, if they are wracking their collective brain for someone with possibilities.

Somebody just popped in with the suggestion that if this survey fails to mention Bette Naismith from the Gamma Phi house, we will leave ourselves open to a charge of blindness.

This is not the dirt column, but we can't help but speculate on what a boost for the old "love will find a way" theory the election of Robb and Naismith would constitute.

As a final gesture, just to prove we're not thoroughly idealistic, the social get-togethers scheduled on the social calendar for sorority and sorority, and fraternity and fraternity, and mixed groups at teas, may indirectly produce something surprising and sure for the nomination panel before Mackay Day. But—there are no combines on Nevada's campus.

This is not intended to belittle the offices, but we predict that the man elected will be obviously qualified because he wears a suit well and conducts an interesting meeting. There's some advantage in having had the course in parliamentary law. There don't seem to be any other basis of choosing your candidate.

In Japan today three out of four Japanese children 18 years of age are taller than their parents.

Study now—save midnight oil.

MAN O' THE WEEK

CHARLES ALLEN

WHEWUUEE—is about all one can say after reading the activity list of this week's man among men. Of course if preciseness is desired, the personality and abilities of "Brain Trust" Allen could be summed up into ten little words, "Wisdom flows from his pen and friendship from his heart."

Charlie has defied the traditional attitude toward backwoodsmen—his home is in the wooded country of Susanville—he has proven himself to have excellent capabilities, and common sense and how to make use of them.

As a football star, Charlie was one of the most promising proteges that ever hit this campus. His abilities at running blocks far exceeded any of those of the other players with whom he came in contact with during his freshman year of football. Charlie had something behind the eight ball that few others have—he knew he could play a good game of football, get his name and picture in the paper, plus being pointed out as one of the varsity players—yet he gave up these glories to devote himself to earnest study.

Such study has well rewarded him as far as many of the members of this year's graduating class are concerned, he is one of the luckiest men of the class—he is sure of a job. He was recently chosen by one of the big eastern electrical companies to begin working for them immediately following his graduation.

Besides playing football during his freshman year, he also won a place for himself on the tumbling team and has continued his work on this team throughout his college career.

As far as the campus is concerned, Charlie has been an "east-sider," devoting all of his intellectual abilities to courses offered on that side of the campus—especially in the mechanical engineering department.

One of the highest campus honors was awarded him last semester when he was given a bid to Phi Kappa Phi. Nu Eta Epsilon is another of the honorary organizations of which he is a member.

He served a term as president of the Math Club, the Associated Engineers and secretary of the student branch of Mechanical Engineers.

He is a member of Scabbard and Blade, was placed upon the honor roll three times, served on the Homecoming committee and has been awarded two scholarships.

For the past year he has been teaching classes in elementary college algebra. Records show that he has surprisingly large enrollments in these classes—not because he is an easy "prof," (he is definitely not) but because of his pleasing personality, and, as far as the feminine students are

WOMAN O' THE WEEK

ANNE GIBBS

And this week the spotlight of personality and popularity shines its rays on Miss Anne Gibbs, who hails from Fallon. Fallon is the land of melons, but Anne is an exception to her exports.

Gibbs came to the university four years ago, and has been doing herself proud since then. Along with being a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Anne has gained recognition in many other popular organizations on the hill.

According to the book, news stories are literature, so we are safe in saying that Anne has been very active in the literary world at our university. She has been a member of the Sagebrush editorial staff for the last three years, and has served the News Bureau for the same length of time. Her interest in journalism gave her a bid to Press Club, an organization of which she has been a member for the last three years.

concerned, it doesn't take long for such facts as that he is a good dancer, has a grand sense of humor and looks that keep movie scouts on the jump, to get around.

Charlie hasn't spent all his nights at home with a book under his nose—he has been around—and while around he seems to show preference to blondes, and it has never been very difficult for him to get blondes (red-heads and brunettes included) to show a decided preference for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen's little boy Charlie has made a record well worth being proud of. He's a student, a leader, a true Nevanadan, and a sincere friend. Your Alma Mammy will always be proud of the fact that you rested under her wing during your hey-play-and-larnin' days.

No, you're wrong. Anne did not spend all her time with activities. She has been reading a book along with everything else. We can be fairly sure of saying this, because she was on the honor roll for two years, and then Phi Kappa Phi, scholarship society, bid her to their group early this semester.

Anne is president of the Chi Delta Phi. This is her third year in this honorary English society: Cap and Scroll is another of her achievements, and there are others, but we will let Gibbs tell you about them.

According to Anne, she will teach school until some handsome and worthy young man comes along. Well, Anne, if you want a little advice here it is. You will be better off, and get farther, telling a bunch of kids what to do, than you will trying to tell one man what to do.

If the man is a farmer, you might even have to get up in the mornings and milk the cows. We aren't telling you what to do, but we can warn you. Good luck.

RENO BEATS THE LINCOLNS
Panaca was eliminated in the first round again. They shouldn't feel hurt, however, they forced Reno to their absolute limit, and displayed plenty of class in the first half, but it was the second half, as usual which spelled defeat. They faded and made only eight points in the last half.

Foul shots also helped in the lettering of the defeat. Reno made seven out of eight tries, while the Panacans couldn't connect with more than 2 of their eight chances. The last quarter was the maddest of mad houses. The score was 30-31 in favor of the Renos when a wild ball is retrieved by one of the Lincolns who rifles to his cohort under the basket. Said cohort is about to shoot when he is snowed under by the best four-fifths of the Renos. And then came disaster. The Lincoln is on the foul line, and Reno fans committed the unpardonable sin of booing and yelling while the poor Lincoln is trying to shoot. He misses both, and the timekeeper misses my ear by three inches with a gun. And so it ended.

That game was undoubtedly the most exciting to be played on the local hardwoods in years.

Trigero lost a tooth in a pile-up under the Lincoln basket. . . the broad gentleman on the Lincolns' bench was no less than profane with the referees, who in our estimation did an admirable job in such a fast game. . . the gym was more than overloaded, and we still are wondering if the people in the back part of the door could see the proceedings. . . the overcrowded conditions should strike a note in the hearts of the several legislators who adorned the sidelines. . . for the third time Panaca has been eliminated in the first round by one point.

THE CARSONS TRIP THE TALL VEGANS

Carson City beat Las Vegas. Mayhap we should say Congdon and Lencioni and Las Vegas beat Las Vegas but the Congdon and Lencioni element were the biggest factors in the submerging of the Wildcats.

When those Congdon and Lencioni men get playing basketball anything, even an earthquake, is liable to happen. Mere words don't seem to be enough to explain the activities of those two. They could be arrested and have the book thrown at them. They not only steal (balls) but also are accessories after and before the fact. They have the art of shielding down to a science. When one gets the ball the other gets well in front of him, and then the other breaks into, the open for the shot.

As Las Vegas came onto the floor their tallness made us wonder if the Carson's would be able to see the top of their heads. And the all doubt was erased as Captains Dunnigan and Lencioni met in the center of the floor and Dunnigan had to about kneel to hear the diminutive captain of the Carson say yes or no. But as the game went on we suddenly decided that size wasn't the factor.

It is still one of the wonders of the world how the Carson's managed to take the ball so consistently off the backboard. Vegas looked half asleep. Their height didn't help much. Wittwer of the Wildcats was a member of that swell Overton team last year. He, with Major were the only ones who paved the whole game for Vegas, while the Carson's just substituted in the final minutes of play.

Winnemucca's De Arrieta is one of the classiest looking ball players of the league, but he is practically the whole team. Virginia looked fairly good despite the loss of Charley Boegle in beating eastern lads.

Sparks will be the team for Carson to beat in the finals.

This writer has never had to high an opinion of Jake Lawlor, despite the fact that he once was one of the leading players on the Wolfpack basketball and football teams.

While his team went to the tumbling room during the half, George Hardman, one of the tumblers, was just finishing his dressing when Jake and his team came into the room. He told Hardman to get out, and George said he would, but first he went on to finish his dressing. That called for drastic action, Jake thought, so he hit George.

We are willing to grant that Jake and his team should have certain rights, but simply because he was mad was no sign he should hit George.

In the first place George had all the right in the world to be in the room and being a university student it seems that he had more right, but Jake didn't think so.

During the evening games he was picked up by the gentlemen of the law, but police records have no mention of the case. We always thought that the workings of law and order were very mysterious, but now we know.

Inter-Squad Football To Be Played Tomorrow Afternoon

"Ham" Robb and Kenny Powell Will Act as Team Captains in Tilt

With the first football game of the season scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock, Doug Dashiell, Nevada grid coach, has chosen two teams to battle each other for supremacy.

The Blue team, which will probably be the defenders because of the players' experience, will be composed of the veteran gridgers, while the White combination will be made up of the green-horns and "less-football knowledged" gridgers, who will fight for recognition and victory.

The game will be of two regular eleven-man teams with "Ham" Robb, flashy and dependable fullback, as captain of the Blues, and the Whites led by Kenneth Powell, speedy left half. These men were chosen as captains of their respective teams because of their experience as field generals. The appointments are for Saturday's game only.

The officials for the game will be Clayton Phillips, Nevada basketball star, Bud Showalter, and Bill Cashin, outstanding Nevada football players. The line-ups for the two teams were chosen Thursday morning. The starting line-up for the Blues is made up mostly of veteran players, with the substitutes nearly all new or inexperienced footballers.

The starting line-ups for the teams are:

Blues	Position	Whites
McKinnon	L.E.	Galloway
St. Clair	L.T.	Bryant
Nickovich	L.G.	Barsanti
Demosthenes	C.	Clayton
Brooks	R.G.	Stewart
Gustafson	R.T.	Ferguson
Basta	R.E.	Guild
Eaton	Q.	Carpenter
Metten	L.H.	Powell (c)
Grubbs	R.H.	Marone
Robb (c)	F.	Deverell

Those who will be used as additional Blue men are Kennedy, e; Frazier, e; Koocher, t; Stott, g; Shipp, c; Whitham, g; McGill, t; Garamendi, t; Calhoun, e; Fulton, e; Chickese, b; Kuhlman, b; Agee, b; Gravelle, b; Taylor, b. Additional Whites are Beko, e; Johnson, e; L. Sullivan, t; J. Sullivan, g; Dodson, c; Dickson, g; Dondero, g; Cash, t; Hilligus, e; Huebner, b; Peccolle, b; McMichael, b; Kinkel, b; Farris, b; Beloso, b.

From the outcome of this game, and the ability of the individual players, two teams will be chosen to meet on Mackay Field March 20. This game will be part of the annual celebration of Mackay Day.

Special Golf Rates Offered to Students

With a special rate of $3.00 per month given to University students, the Washoe County Golf Club will open Sunday, Kenneth Johnson, '33, manager of the course announced today.

Eighteen temporary greens are ready for use, and nine permanent holes will be ready as soon as the weather permits, Johnson said. The course, which is being completed by WPA workers, is one of the largest golf courses of this type in the United States.

A golf tournament between the university fraternities is being sponsored by the club, Johnson announced, with cups to be given to the winners. This meet will be held later in the spring.

The goodwill pacts ratified at Buenos Aires are not to be opened to European subscribers.

High School Teams Enter Semi-Finals In State Tourney

Sparks, Virginia City, Carson and Reno Play Tonight in Crucial Contests

The annual state tournament resolved itself into another Western district division tourney when four western division cage outfits, Sparks, Virginia City, Carson and Reno, fought their way into the semi-finals as a result of first night games in the University of Nevada gymnasium last night.

In the first game of the evening the Maroon and Gold team from Sparks completely crushed a fighting Elko quintet, 47-23. The game was a comparatively slow game with all members of both squads playing in the game.

Virginia City scored the first upset of tournament play when they knocked over a highly touted Winnemucca quintet, 29-12. Winnemucca, eastern zone champions, could only score one point in the third quarter and only four points in the entire second half.

Carson high school, 1936 state champions, continued clicking in tournament play tonight and dumped Las Vegas, 31-21. The Senators led by ten points at half time, and though outscored by one point during the second period still had enough stuff on the ball to come out ahead.

In an exciting climax to an evening of basketball, Panaca was nosed out by a fighting Reno team by one point. The game marks the third tournament in four years that the Panaca cagers have been sent into the consolation tournament by a one-point margin. Trailing by a 22-17 count at the end of the first half the Reno cagers carried the ball game to the visitors and outscored them by six points, holding Panaca to three field goals, and two foul shots in the second half.

BEARD PICTURES ARE TAKEN BY CAMERAMAN

University of Nevada's annual beard contest, currently in progress, may become an object of international attention, following the taking of some pictures early this week by International News Photos.

Robert Landry, photographer for I. N. P., which is a national picture syndicate, visited the Nevada campus last Tuesday morning and used his camera to some advantage.

The pictures—they are beauties—featured bearded desert rats John Brackett, Jerry Roberts, Max Jensen and Milton Mapes, annoying a shy Nevada maiden, Ellen Creek.

These pictures should be colorful, if nothing else, for they contained beards of every hue—black, brown, and red, respectively, in contrast to Miss Creek's golden blonde hair.

Landry has been stationed in Reno for two months to do features and "shots" of Reno life for the I. N. P. He has twice talked to Prof. A. L. Higginbotham's class in feature writing, his subject being news picture taking.

If the Reno pictures are acceptable, they will be published in newspapers and magazines over many parts of the United States, and probably in Canada and Mexico as well.

S. A. E. Leading Handball Doubles

With less than a week of play in the intramural handball doubles tournament remaining, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, undefeated in four matches, holds the lead.

In second spot is Beta Kappa, with five wins and one loss. Phi Sigma Kappa, which has won three and lost one, is third, followed in order named by Lambda Chi Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Nu (tied), and the other three groups, each with no victories.

Ten Yearlings Earn Sweaters For Basketball

For the second time during this school year a group of freshmen will be seen wearing new sweaters around the Nevada campus within the next month. This time, however, the sweaters will be worn as a result of the yearlings' performance on the 1937 freshman basketball teams.

Ten members of the frosh cagers were declared eligible to receive the sweater awards by Coach "Chet" Scranton today. The sweaters were awarded to the players under the same regulations as those governing the football awards, and took into consideration attendance, attitude, playing ability, and scholastic standings.

Receiving the blue sweaters with the white chenille numerals are Olinio Barsanti, Francis Congdon, Ira Farris, Paul Fife, Thurman Hall, Robert Herz, John Kinneberg, Pio Mastroianni, Gordon Thompson and Jack Rhoades.

George Deverell also earned a sweater in the sport, but was awarded numerals only, since he had already received a sweater in frosh football. Existing rules allow a first year man only one sweater during the year.

John Sala was also in line for a sweater award but injuries kept him out most of the year, and, as he had previously won a football sweater, he was given only the numerals. Robert Cameron and Earl Smith, also handicapped by injuries, were awarded numerals.

Others declared eligible for the white chenille "40" include Ross Ashley, James Bett, Ned Dickson, Leon Etchemendy, Marjorie Lawrence says:

"You must have a big voice to sing Wagner. My favorite role of 'Brunnhilde' in Wagner's 'Götterdämmerung' is a very exacting one. ### Sagers Propose Different Method Of Electing Men

Group Will Choose One Man Out Of Ten from Frats and Barbs Under Proposed Plan

Proposal Will Be Given to Blue Key for Approval; Group to Help in Mackay Day Work

Membership in the Sagers, men's local pep and service organization, will be chosen on a basis of one man for every ten members in each fraternity, Lincoln hall association and the Independents organization, if the motion unanimously adopted by the group Tuesday night receives approval of the parent organization, Blue Key.

After considerable discussion at a dinner meeting held at the Sigma Nu chapter house, it was determined that the organization as a whole, felt the various groups interested in the campus activities should have a more equitable representation in such service clubs.

The proposal which was put in tentative form, would provide that each group would have at least one member, with a maximum of one for every ten members computed on the basis of the least even ten.

Mackay Day Work
Talks were given to the group by William Johnstone, chairman of the Mackay Day committee, outlining the work expected of the Sagers in preparation for the Mackay Day luncheon, and for the athletic contests scheduled for the day.

Sagers were also instructed to report to President Charles Doherty for work, after checking in with their various fraternities in competition for the attendance cup.

Leland Ward, chairman of the Blue Key committee, which has been working for the introduction of the new gymnasium bill into the state legislature, outlined the work accomplished chiefly by him and Walter States to date, and asked the cooperation of the Sagers in getting a large part of the student body into the capitol Friday morning.

The committee hopes to have as many of the students as possible in the senate chambers Friday morning, when it is hoped the bill will come up for action in the senate.

A committee with Harold Foremaster and Melville Wilder as joint heads, and Sam Wilson, Charles Turner and Hudson Lee was appointed to investigate the incorporation into the Sager constitution of the proposed change in electing members.

Singers Take Part In Radio Program

Sixteen members of the University of Nevada Choral Club participated in a varied program sponsored by the engineers last Wednesday night at 7:30 in celebration of Engineers' Day.

Some time next week the Choral club will give a program of pre-Easter music on a radio broadcast.

Both the Little Symphony orchestra and the Choral club are working hard in preparation for the tenth annual spring concert, to be held at the Century Club under the sponsorship of the Century Club members.

The concert will be on April 22, and the program will include a variety of vocal and instrumental compositions.

A. W. S. Planning For Convention

Discussion of the Associated Women Students convention will occupy the main part of the coming A. W. S. meeting to be held next week, according to Betty McCulston, president.

The convention will be held at the University of Southern California from March 31 to April 3. Consideration of representatives is the primary interest of the meeting.

Entertainment will be provided by the tradition violators. Women performing will be Pauline Fritz, Catherine Kocotes and Gaynell Giblin. Any new violators will also be called upon.

Don't smoke in the buildings.

Fine Arts Group Sponsors Exhibit Of Water Colors

Under the auspices of the Fine Arts Club, an exhibit of water colors by California artists, working under the federal art project of the WPA, was shown in the library this week.

The exhibit was under the direction of Marion Uhart, appointed by Marguerite Fuetsch, president.

Included in the exhibit were 24 paintings by 12 different artists, among whom were Hilaire Hiller, Doung Kingman, young Chinese artist, Andre Rexroth of San Francisco, Lawrence Holmberg, Yvonne Udel and Alethea Ueber.

Among the featured works of the exhibit were Lawrence Holmberg's "Characters of Italian Comedy," and "Capitano," Andre Rexroth's "Composition," and Hilaire Hiller's "Black and White Cow."

The series of paintings was reproduced in large numbers for distribution in western colleges, libraries and schools because of its educational and artistic value.

Wood Will Speak To Math Group

Dr. Frederick Wood, head of the mathematics department, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Math club in the Mackay Science building at 7:30 next Thursday.

This will be the last regular-business meeting of the year, and new officers for the coming semester will be elected. Martha Ann Holcomb, Llewellyn Young and James Galvin are serving on the refreshment committee for the evening.

A picnic, planned for the April meeting of the group, will be held at the Lake Tahoe home of Miss Emily Ross.

WILL GIVE CUPS

Masque and Dagger, honorary dramatics fraternity, has decided to present a cup to the best actor and actress in the coming Nevada High School Forensic tournament, according to Melville Wilder, president.

Selection will be made by student judges selected by Professor William C. Miller. Standards will be set by the group at a future meeting.

Four Senior Home Ec Co eds Elected To National Group

Hansen, Fuetsch, Morgan, and Luke Receive Bids to Sigma Sigma Honorary

Four senior home economics students were this week bid to Sigma Sigma, a national honorary home economics society.

The women honored are Genevieve Hansen, Marguerite Fuetsch, Katherine Luke and Orpah Morgan.

Miss Hansen is prominent on the campus, being the second woman to be editor of the Artemia, University of Nevada year book. She is also prominent in many other activities.

Miss Fuetsch is president of the Fine Arts group. Katherine Luke is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and president of the Home Economics Club. She is also a member of the Mackay Day committee.

Miss Morgan is prominent in campus athletics and is a member of the Fine Arts group.

SIMAS RESUMES CLASSES

Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor of the physical education department for women, resumed her duties at the university this week.

Mrs. Simas has been convalescing at her home, following an appendectomy which was performed several weeks ago. During her absence Miriam Butler and Margaret Tolton carried on her work.

Debaters to Give Exhibition Debate At Bar Luncheon

Tuesday noon, four members of the University of Nevada debate squad will give an exhibition debate before the Nevada State Bar Association at a luncheon at the Golden hotel.

Louis Wiener and Emile Gezelin will answer the proposal: Resolved, That congress should have the power to fix the maximum hours and minimum wages of industry," which will be upheld by Bryce Rhodes and William Cashill.

This will be the third time this question has been argued before local organizations. Previous appearances were before the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

The arguments are limited to five-minute constructive speeches by each member of both teams, and rebuttals are eliminated. The debates are part of the preparation being given the speakers on this subject, which is the intercollegiate debate question for this year.

BETA KAPPA INITIATES

Five men were formally initiated into Beta Kappa fraternity over the weekend.

Men who received final degrees are John Borlan, Gordon Walker, Stan Klausner, Milton Parker and Harold St. Clair.

Following rites at the chapter house Sunday, an initiation banquet was held at the Elh Cortez hotel.

Blue Key Studies Application Forms

Consideration of the petitions turned in by men wishing to join Blue Key, and further discussion of the new gymnasium was the business of the Blue Key meeting held in the A. S. U. N. building last night.

Petitions that were turned in, and given Bill Johnstone, member of the group, to check on the scholarship, and possible members will be voted in next Thursday night.

Sherwin Garside, chairman of the directory committee, said that they had several directories on hand and that sales will continue for a few weeks.

BREAKS BOTH HANDS

Garnett Freeman, sophomore engineering student, fell from a haystack where he was tumbling at his home in Fallon Saturday, and broke both his hands. Freeman, whose hands will be in casts for two months, is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Campus Health Good Despite Accidents

Health on the campus seems to be good this week despite the fact that numerous students are appearing in class with bandages or a slight limp. There are no inmates of the University infirmary.

Richard Solt, junior Sigma Phi Sigma, is confined to his home in Reno with a light case of chickenpox.

Garnett Freeman, sophomore student from Fallon, is attending classes, but has two broken hands which he received in tumbling.
