Nevada Net Team To Make Cal. Ag. Invasion Saturday

Herz, Leone, Neville and Goodner are Foursome to Make Trip To Davis with Track Team

Tomorrow morning, four University of Nevada tennis stars will leave for Davis, Calif., where they will meet the Cal Aggies the following afternoon in the first scheduled meet of the year.

THE team of four players, which is making the trip, are James Herz, Anthony Leone, Stuart Neville and Frank Goodner. Herz and Leone will make up one team of doubles and Neville and Goodner will compose another.

FIRST YEAR COMPETITION Playing his first year of college competition, Goodner has developed into a potential member of the team, having beaten both Craig Moore and John Bawden for the fourth spot position on the squad.

Ranking players on the team are determined by a ladder tournament, held during March, and will continue for a short time yet. In this tournament, each member may challenge the two men above him for positions on the ladder, and the top four men compose the varsity team.

Twenty-One U.N. Frosh Will Enter Three-Team Meet

Yearlings Are Favored Over Reno and Sparks in Cinder Meet Saturday

As the initial meet of the year, the University of Nevada frosh tracksters will compete against teams from Reno and Sparks high schools tomorrow at 1 p. m. on Mackay field.

Having gone through an intensive three weeks of training, the Cubs are in good condition and, according to Coach "Jim" Coleman, they should make a good showing against the prep school squads.

A number of frosh cinder men proved their ability in the inter-fraternity meet held last Saturday and if they live up to their performance of last week, they should take tomorrow's meet by a wide margin.

Entered in four events, little Bobby Cameron, former Reno high school athlete, is expected to bring home the bacon in all his entries if he performs as he did last week when the Greek cinder men clashed. Cameron copped 8 1/2 points last week by taking second on the 220-yard dash, being first in the pole vault and being third in the high jump.

handicapped by having to start five feet behind the starting lineup, and running behind Walt Powers, took second place. Fred Laing, a newcomer in track from Reno high school, has been running the mile in very good time and should be a favorite to place in that event. Jack Rhoades, speedster from Las Vegas, is entered in the 100-yard dash, the pole vault, broadjump and relay, and will give his teammates a hard fight for high point honors. Others favored to take their events are George Deverell, Leonard Carpenter, Tod Sorenson and John Giomi. —Literary Digest.

Upperclass Holds "Batting Practice" For Erring Frosh

Seventy-two Yearlings Summoned Before Group for Failure to Report for N Painting

"Batting practice" was held yesterday at 12:15 in the Student Union building by members of the men's upperclass committee when 72 freshmen students who failed to show up at the semi-annual white washing of the 'N' last Saturday were punished.

Number Is Less
The number of men punished for tradition violation was considerably smaller than the number punished by last semester's committee, but the committee had to work fast to reach all of the offenders during the noon hour.

A small percentage of the freshmen who were scheduled to appear at the meeting failed to do so, and will be summoned to the next meeting of the group. They will receive a double penalty which will be increased each time they fail to appear at a meeting.

Offenders Listed

Paul Fife, Ed Folsom, George Folsom, Elmer Ford, Leo Foster, Chester Green, Stanley Guinan, Byron Hardie, Vitalino Hermosa, Evelio Hernandez, Carl Hill, Melvin Hughes, Eugene Jahr, Gerald Kennedy, Edward Lerud, John Locke, Robert Lowry, Freeland Lytle, Jack McGowan, Robert McLeod, Jonas Moore, John Naughton, William Ogle, Daniel O'Keefe, Ralph Osborne, William Osborne, Jed Oxborough, Robert Paille, John Parale, Thomas Parke, Robert Parker, James Paterson, William Pecole, Raymond Poe, Glen Ranson.

The next meeting of the committee will be held next Friday at 12:15 in the Student Union building.

R.O.T.C. History Traced By Isbell In Radio Talk

Tracing the history of public land grants to colleges devoted to agriculture and mechanic arts which would agree to maintain military training under government supervision, Captain H. W. Isbell gave a condensed exposition of the military department of the University of Nevada over KOH Tuesday night.

In July, 1862, Captain Isbell said, President Lincoln signed the Morrill act, which provided public grants of land to those colleges and universities of agriculture and mechanic arts which would maintain military training under government supervision as part of their courses of instruction.

"The mission of the ROTC," Captain Isbell said, "is to awaken in the student an appreciation of the obligations of citizenship, to prepare him to discharge his duties as a citizen and to qualify him as a leader, whether in peace or war."

The R.O.T.C. is the keystone of the arch of national defense and has furnished many gallant and able officers for all our wars. The unit at the University of Nevada, Isbell stated, takes justifiable pride in the important service it has thus rendered to the nation.

In the past four successive years, the University of Nevada ROTC unit has received the rating of "excellent" which is the highest rating the War Department bestows.

Hawaii Is Subject Of Adams' Talk To Faculty Group

Dean Maxwell Adams, vice-president of the University of Nevada, yesterday afternoon spoke to the Faculty Science club on the subject of "Personal Impressions of Hawaii."

Dean Adams spent six months vacationing in Hawaii last year and his colorful talk was concerned with the aspects of Hawaiian civilization as he observed it.

The last meeting of the Faculty Science club for this semester will be held Thursday, April 22. At this time, Professor A. J. Carpenter of the college of engineering will speak on the financial problems involved in the power distribution at the Boulder dam.

Professor Carpenter recently was granted a six weeks' leave of absence from the university in order to investigate problems in connection with the dam for the government.

Hansen, Libbey Return From Meet

Returning from a three-day trip to the California press convention of high school and junior college year book and newspaper editors at the University of California campus in Berkeley last Monday, Genevieve Hansen, editor, and Cletus Libbey, business manager, began the formulation of plans for a new system of management for the Artemisia.

Receiving their ideas from the California Blue and Gold, they plan to limit the choice for editor of the year book to three appointees to the junior manager's offices. The appointments will be made by the outgoing and incoming editors.

While at the convention as guests of the Blue and Gold, Hansen and Libbey attended round table discussions regarding the problems encountered in assembling the year books. They visited the Borden Printing company, where the new Blue and Gold is being printed and obtained a preview of the book.

Libbey compared the budgets of the Artemisia and Blue and Gold in a discussion with Frank Mitchell, business manager of the California year book.

Havens Awarded Clark Scholarship

Jerry Havens, senior student at the university, has received an economics scholarship at Clark College, Worcester Mass., according to an announcement made by the economics department this week.

Havens said this week that his acceptance of it was tentative but that if he did accept it he would leave some time in September. The scholarship is for a year's work.

Havens is a member of Blue Key, Block N, Sagers, Sundowners, varsity track team and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Summer Session Faculty Named

Teaching Staff to Include Eight Members of U.N. Faculty; Prep School Instructors on List

With the selection this week of the faculty for the summer session to be held, after an interval of five years, the plans for the six weeks' term are well under way.

Eight members of the regular teaching staff of the university are members of the faculty. Miss Eva Adams, fellow in English, will teach courses in English and the use of the library. A. L. Higginbotham, professor of journalism, will handle the journalism to be taught. Theodore H. Post, professor of music, will teach four courses in his department.

EDUCATION COURSES
Several education courses will be under the direction of Miss Edith Rueb-sam, associate professor of education. Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor of physical education for women, will handle hygiene and outdoor activity courses. Professor C. C. Smith, associate professor of history, will teach a number of courses along that line.

Others to be on the teaching staff are Marie L. Burgess, primary teacher from Oakland; Roger L. Corbett, Jr., principal of the elementary school in Winnemucca; Hazel Durham, teacher of art and music in the Ely schools; Roswell Johnson, director of personal service of the Institute of Family Relations, Los Angeles; Mildred Klaus, commercial teacher in the Reno high school and George B. McCracken, principal of the Churchill county high school at Fallon.

ADMINISTRATIVE
The administrative officers of the summer session include Walter E. Clark, president of the university; John W. Hall, dean of the school of education; Fred W. Traner, director of the summer session; Louise M. Sissa, registrar; Virginia Harger, matron of Manzanita Hall and director of the dining hall; Thea Thompson, librarian; Ruth Nash, assistant librarian; Claire Johnson, library cataloguer; Precious Johnson, loan desk assistant, and Alice Terry, assistant to the comptroller.

NEW FEATURE
A feature of the summer session is the demonstration primary school, to be provided by the university to serve as a laboratory in which teachers attending the session may daily observe progressive theory put into practice with children of the first three grades.

The work of the room will be organized on an activity basis, so that teachers may actually see how to initiate and develop a unit of work and to coordinate all subjects of the curriculum into the activity. In charge of the room will be Miss Marie L. Burgess, who has had charge of the primary demonstration school in two previous summer sessions.

IS MODERN YOUTH LEADING A QUIETER LIFE?

Students Who's Who Appears On Campus

The "Who's Who Among Students of American Universities and Colleges," in which are the names of ten University of Nevada students, appeared on the campus this week.

Betty McCuiston, Evamae Beemer, Anna Gibbs, Genevieve Hansen, Marguerite Fuetsch, Kenyon Richard, Silas Ross, Walter States, Tom Morris and Bill Cashill were among the 2300 students from 384 colleges and universities selected.

Whether the modern college student is leading a more quiet life is a debatable question, but reading as a hobby among students leads the field, according to the booklet.

The vocations chosen by the 2300 students selected range from banking to psychoanalyzing, with the majority preferring teaching and law.

Class officers—546 to be exact—seem to be the most outstanding students, with only 38 Phi Beta Kappa members appearing. Students with unusual honors were a climber (mountain, not social) and a fencer.

W. P. A. Artist To Speak To Class

Pat O'Brien, W.P.A. artist, again addressed education classes this morning. His subject, the making of life masks, was continued through two periods and concerned, primarily, the oiling of the face, application of the plaster, removal and casting.

In addition to his explanation of chip and piece molds, O'Brien described a group piece which he intends to make for the university. Subject of the work will be the progress of Nevada.

Also displayed were two pictures from O'Brien's collection, one of which, of Inca origin, dates back to 3000 B.C. The other was found in the catacombs of Rome and is approximately of the period of 150 A.D.

Math Club Plans For Annual Picnic

Holding their annual picnic, approximately 35 members of the Math club will trek to Lake Tahoe April 25, it was announced by members of the club.

Those in charge of the committee are Emily Ross, inspector of the Math club; Margaret Pierce, Frances Nichols, Betty Nelson, James Galvin and Ernest Jorgensen.

Included on the program will be baseball and volleyball contests.

Juniors To Elect '38 Class Manager Next Wednesday

Election of a class manager for next year will be the main business of a meeting of the junior class next Wednesday.

Robert Metten, present class manager, will preside over the meeting. Candidates for manager are chosen for their ability, scholarship and activities.

At the same time, there will be a meeting of the junior cut-day committee to choose a place to hold their picnic and to make plans for transportation and food. Cut-day, although tentatively planned for Thursday, April 22, probably will be changed to a later date, Willis Dalzell, chairman of the committee, said.

Debaters Favored

was avenged in the finals when Nevada decided Pasadena by a four to one verdict. The one vote against Nevada was rendered by the same judge who had voted against them in the semi-finals.

Extempore Speaking
In the extemporaneous speaking, Bryce Rhodes had the distinction of reaching the semi-finals, but was unable to compete in the finals as the time conflicted with the finals in debate.

Both Cashhill and Rhodes are participating in their last tournaments. Both have taken an active part in debate during their college careers, and are gold-key forensic men.

Rhodes has competed in over one hundred and twenty debates during his four years, and Cashill has more than a hundred debates to his credit. Both are intending to go on to law school next year.

Second Entrance
This is Coach Griffin's second entry into a Far Western tournament. Two junior teams went to Pasadena last fall, but were eliminated from the semi-finals. However, Cashill and Rhodes were the first senior team ever to participate in the Stockton tourney, and their victories over such a team as Southern California, which recently journeyed to Chicago and won the annual Mid-Western Tournament shows the strength of the Cashill-Rhodes combination.

Virtually the same teams will face Nevada in Salem in the P.F.L. tournament that competed against them at Stockton. The Salem tournament started yesterday and will conclude tomorrow.
