SECOND STORY

Here are the architects' drawings for the proposed new student union building. All that has to be done to turn these plans into actualities will be for the students to vote for the $2.50 raise in student body fees. Mathematical wizards estimate that actual construction of the building can start in eight years, after enough money has accumulated so that a bond issue can be floated. Their plan is one that will enable the students to pay both interest and part of the principal each year out of the yearly income from the fees. The proposed building will also have a basement, as large as either of the other floors, that will provide additional committee rooms, storage rooms, and a spot for a campus cafeteria if desired. The drawings were made by Delongchamps and O'Brien, local architects.

26 U. N. Gridders Awarded Sweaters For Competition

Powell Plays 393 Minutes; McKinnon Wins Fourth Award As Wingman

Sixteen Men Earn Sweaters For First Time During Past Season

Twenty-six members of the 1937 varsity football team and the football manager were awarded sweaters this week at a meeting of the Block N society. Each of the 26 players have played the required minimum of two games of 120 minutes of football during the past season, or have completed other requirements. George Ardans, football manager is awarded a sweater automatically after completing a season as junior manager of the team.

Powell High
High-minute man of the entire varsity squad was Kenneth Powell who participated in gridiron contests for 393 minutes or approximately four-fifths of all the games played by the Wolf Pack this season.

Following close behind Powell in the number of minutes played was Bill Grubbs, pile-driving fullback, with a total of 360 minutes or 6 complete games. Charles McIntyre, hefty center, was next highest "iron man" playing a season's total of 326 minutes.

Bob Metten and Harold Foremaster were awarded sweaters for turning out for the squad and for practice for three successful years. Foremaster was injured in the second game of the season which has prevented him from playing in any of the following games.

Four For McKinnon
The awarding of a sweater to Hollis McKinnon will mark the fourth time that the janky wingman has lettered as a member of the Wolf Pack. Because of far-Western conference rulings, McKinnon will be the last man in the conference to be four-letter man.

Of the complete list of 26 men receiving sweaters, 16 are receiving football awards for the first time. They are Charles McIntyre, Henry Clayton, Noel Bennett, Henry Bryant, Leonard Carpenter, Charles Whitham, Earl Brooks, Ted Demosthenes, John Sala, Joe Kievit, Steve Podesta, Delbert Stewart, Dick Taylor, George Ardans, Harold Foremaster, and Fred Galloway.

Galloway will be receiving his second Nevada athletic award, having previously lettered at track. Other men receiving Block N sweaters are Kenneth Powell, Bill Grubbs, John Gustafson, Sam Basta, Hollis McKinnon, Joe Lommori, Pat Eaton, John Robb, Jim Twombly, Bob Metten and Neal Campbell.

Musical Comedy Scores Received

Review of the scores of musical comedies recently sent for by the music and dramatic departments which are being considered for presentation on Mackay Day was held this afternoon by Professor T. H. Post, head of the music department, and Professor William C. Miller, dramatic coach.

Of the four scores which have arrived, "The Pirates of Penzance," "Pinafore" by Gilbert & Sullivan, "The Student Prince," and the "Prince of Silesia," one will be selected tentatively by the reviewers for the proposed operetta to be given in conjunction with Mackay Day.

Definite selection of the operetta will be made at a later date, Miller said.

Famous Detective To Address Students

Speaking of his experiences with the underworld, Dr. C. Ray Hansen, criminologist who was once "taken for a ride" by Chicago gangsters and lived among the Capone outlaws as an undercover investigator, will appear before the University of Nevada student body Thursday morning at 10:30.

Dr. Hansen will discuss the criminal justice of Canada and England, and will relate many of his experiences with the vicious organized crime circles of large cities.

Prominent Lecturer
As a crusader against gangsters, Hansen has lectured throughout the United States. He was honored officially by the Chicago bar association for patriotic and courageous services in criminal investigation.

Professor Harold N. Brown of the education department says of Hansen's lecture, "I am sure that the students will find this the most interesting program of the year."

JUNIORS OPEN FORMAL SEASON TOMORROW WITH ANNUAL PROM

After three weeks of preparation, the Junior Prom, first formal of the school year, will be held tomorrow night at the Century club.

"The dance will begin promptly at 9:30 p. m. because of the great amount of entertainment to be presented," stated Leo Doyle, chairman of the committee. Singing of "You Can't Stop Me From Dreaming," "Me, Myself, and I," and a medley of "Whispering" and "Cuddle Up," the quartet of Mary Fox of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Shirley Ferron of the Delta Delta Delta, Frances Nichols of Kappa Alpha Theta, and Mary Read of the Pi Beta Phi sorority will be one of the main features of the program.

Snider To Play
Merle Snider, former student at the University of Nevada, will play "Star-dust," and "I surrender, Dear" on an instrument that is similar to the xylophone except that it has an aluminum alloy coating. This is the only instrument of this type in Reno.

In a specialty number Reuben Tuttle, assistant director of the band, will show how the trombone sounds with different parts of the instrument missing. His orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

A large shield bearing the coat of arms "swing" with various instruments engraved on it will be placed behind the orchestra. The hall will be decorated with notes, bars, and other symbols of music.

Dance Program
The program for the dance is printed as follows so that the men can make out their dances beforehand.

The first four are fox trots, the first extra, a waltz, five, six, seven, eight, and the second extra are fox trots, the ninth a waltz, and the tenth a medley.

Members of the committee are Leo Doyle, chairman; Richard Summerbell, class manager; Leland Fallon, Donald Kinkel, Charlotte Caton, Margaret Hussman, and Lola Stoddard.

BEARCATS CHOOSE BASTA AS ALL-OPPONENT END

Sam Basta, star Nevada end, was selected for one of the first-string end spots on the all-opponent team chosen by the members of the Willamette football squad this week.

This announcement was received by Walter L. States, publicity director of the Nevada athletic department in a letter from Paul G. Sturges, Willamette publicity director.

The Willamette squad also said that the Wolf Pack was one of the strongest teams they played during the season, in which they played such powerful teams as Fresno State, San Jose State, Oregon State College, and Pacific. The squad ranked the play of the Wolves in every department except pass defense as excellent, and gave special commendation to the clean play and hard fighting of the Nevada players.

Dance Is Postponed By Pan-Hel Group

Jammed Social Calendar Is Cause of Coed Action

Because of an over-crowded social calendar for the remainder of the semester the annual Pan-Hellenic dance has been postponed until next semester. The decision was made after a committee meeting Tuesday, followed by a Pan-Hellenic council meeting.

The reverse dance will be given early next semester before too many organization dances are scheduled.

Whether the same theme will be used next semester will be left up to the committee in charge, Georgia Cooper, president of the council said.

Members of the committee are Norma Anderson, chairman, Jessie McClure, Lola Yvonne Stoddard, Mary Boszkie-wicz.

Banquet Meeting Held By Debaters

"Between-course-stories" were related by members of the university debate squad at their annual banquet and get-together held last Thursday evening at the Lincoln hotel in Sparks.

Robert Miller presided at the banquet and introduced the speakers. Professor Robert Griffin, debate coach, outlined plans for the coming intra-mural debate season.

Francis Breen, Leo McCuddin, Homer Herz and Robert Joy gave sidelights and personal interpretations of the recent debate tournament at Bakersfield, Calif. Announcement was also made of the Nevada-Iowa State Teachers' college debate clash to be held at the Rotary club on January 3.

The question which will be debated by the team is, "Resolved, that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to arbitrate all industrial disputes."

Christmas Social Planned By Barbs

Plans for a Christmas party social for December 13 were discussed at the regular Independent meeting Monday. A swimming party at Moana is to be included on the program.

Bob Defosset was appointed to select an emblem for the organization, and will report at the next meeting of the organization.

NOTICE

The women's faculty meeting will be held tomorrow at 1:45 instead of at 2:30, in the Home Economics department. A dessert luncheon will be served. Mrs. W. E. Clark.

Student Petitions For $2.50 Raise To Be Circulated

A S. U. N. To Vote On Proposal At Meeting Scheduled For Wednesday

Construction Of Building Can Start In Eight Years, Estimate

Petitions favoring a $2.50 raise in semester student body fees to be appropriated toward the construction of a proposed student union building will be circulated Wednesday following the student body meeting, Richard Taw, president of the associated students, announced last night.

With the approval of the proposed plan a new building estimated at $100,000 can be erected in a minimum period of eight years. Financial authorities place an eight year minimum before bonds can be floated, President Dick Taw said.

Student Vote Wednesday
The matter will be brought to a student body vote Wednesday morning at 11:25.

Tentative blue prints drawn by De Longchamps & O'Brien, Reno architect firm, were presented to a representative group of students last night. The plan calls for a two story 405 by 52 foot building, with a basement housing storage rooms, a workshop for Campus Players and a cafeteria.

The main floor is centered about Memorial hall, with rooms for the publications, office for the president of the A.S.U.N. and A.W.S., senate room, committee rooms, office room for the graduate manager, and a sizeable alumni room. The second floor would house lounge rooms which could be converted into a building-length dance floor.

Architecture would follow the present trend of campus building with the proposed edifice resembling the Mackay Science hall.

Venereal Lecture Made To Group

Doctor Stresses Medical Aspects Of Disease

Bringing the national campaign for the elimination of venereal disease to the U. N. campus, Dr. B. H. Caples, prominent Reno physician, lectured to Omega Mu Iota, campus pre-medical society, this afternoon.

Dr. Caples spoke on the general subject "Venereal Diseases," stressing the medical aspects of the topic and attempting to bring an interest in the campaign against the diseases to the campus.

For the benefit of the pre-med students, Dr. Caples discussed the sources, methods of contraction, and stages of the disease, and presented statistics as to the percentage of the population afflicted.

After the lecture, Dr. Caples presented moving pictures distributed by the American Medical Society, showing cases representing various stages of the disease, and methods of treatment now used in combating them.

A. S. U. N. Meeting To Be Held Dec. 8

Featured by a talk to be given by Silas E. Ross, member of the board of regents, the next A. S. U. N. meeting will be held next Wednesday at 11:25 in the Education Auditorium, President Richard Taw announced this week.

During the meeting President Taw will explain the new A.S.U.N. building petition to the students.

Index Of American Design Features Exhibit

Featuring the index of American design, a colorful art exhibit is being shown this week and next by the Fine Arts group.

The purpose of the index of American design is to record once-familiar objects, such as the cigar store Indian, and circulate them so they will not be forgotten. The cigar store Indian shown in this week's exhibit, refers to the decorative rather than the artistic ingenuity of its day.

All pictures of the index must have originated in America before 1900. The oldest subject on display this week is that of a Salem chair of 1760.

Only Have Shown
Because the collection is so large, only half of it is being shown this week. The exhibit next week will consist of the remainder of the group, and will thus consist of entirely different pictures. The exhibit will be open from two to five and seven to nine from Monday through Thursday, and from two to five only on Friday.

A patchwork quilt by Ellen Duncan is one of the most colorful displays. Pictures of saddles, spurs, and old furniture make up the greater part of this week's showing.

All pictures are by artists of the Federal Art Project and are shipped here from San Francisco. This is the second set of pictures the Federal Art Project has sent to the Fine Arts club.

The date of the next exhibit has not been set, but the pictures will be sent from the east, Peggy Gill, president said.

Press Club To Plan Activity Calendar

A calendar of activities for next semester will be planned at the next meeting of the Press club Tuesday evening. President Max Jensen announced that among other things the group will plan a social, a dance, and initiation skits for the new members.

The present officers will be retained throughout next semester, Jensen said.

Pack Schedule Is Partially Finished

San Diego State To Play On Thanksgiving Day

With a Thanksgiving Day game with San Diego State already scheduled, and games with each of the other members of the Far Western conference agreed upon, U. N. athletic officials are mapping a football schedule for the 1938 Wolf Pack, according to Professor J. E. Martie, head of the athletic department.

Coach Doug Dashiell will attend the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast conference at Del Monte on December 6, 7 and 8. Dashiell, Martie and Professor Paul A. Harwood, Nevada representative to the far-Western conference, will attend the meeting of that body in San Francisco on December 10 and 11.

At the meetings, Nevada will seek to schedule a Homecoming Day game with some other state university of about Nevada's size, and probably two other contests with suitable opponents.

Faculty To Meet Tuesday Evening

Featuring speeches by the members of the Education department, the Faculty club will meet Tuesday night in the home economics room in the Agriculture building.

Dr. Harold Brown will speak on the "New College of Columbia University."

Professor J. P. Puffinbarger is speaking about what certain universities are attempting in the way of personnel, and guidance of procedure with their students.

Miss Edith Ruebsam will discuss the independent study plans being carried on in typical colleges and universities and which are designed to throw more responsibility for education upon the student.

Refreshments will be served to those present by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reed and Dean and Mrs. Maxwell Adams.

Full House Views European Ballet

Playing to a packed house, many of whom were university students, the Jooss Ballet appeared in Reno Wednesday night as the second in the Nevada Community Concert series.

Internationally famous for a new movement in interpretive ballet, the company presented "Ballade," "The Big City," "A Ball in Old Vienna" and "The Green Table," a satire on international conferences and war.

Igor Gorin, Metropolitan opera baritone, will be featured in the third concert early in January.

YWCA Will Give Campus Musical

Only College Students Will Assist In Program

The Y. W. C. A. will present a musical at the Tri-Delt house Sunday afternoon with college students participating in the affair. Only classical numbers will be given.

There will be two piano duets, one by Doris Larson and James Galvin, and the other by Herbert Jacobs and Helen Collins. Piano solos will be given by Margaret Pierson, Dorothy Kunsch, George Sears, and Florence Butler. Glenda Wilson will whistle, Margaret Cline will play the marimba, and Mark Sheldon will play the French horn.

Next waffle breakfast of the Y. W. C. A. will be held at the Tri-Delt house December 15 from nine to 12 a. m. Coffee and waffles will be served to those attending. One waffle and a cup of coffee is 25c, and all one can eat for 35c.

There will be two more general meetings this semester, one which will be held December 8. The other will be in the form of a Christmas party, and will be held sometime before the holidays.

Co-eds Committee Begins Work Again

After a two weeks' rest, the women's upperclass committee is again raising its mailed fist and lowering it unceremoniously on the heads of the poor unfortunate that can't or don't seem to want to learn or abide by Nevada's traditions.

Anita Capitani and Mary Alice Cleary are required to appear before the upperclass committee Wednesday at 4 o'clock because of their failure to carry out the orders of the committee given to them on their first appearance.

It has been announced by Nina Boczkiewicz, chairman of the committee, that those who fail to take the punishment required of them by the committee at the appointed time will have their names sent to Miss Margaret E. Mack, dean of women, for further consideration.

FACULTY GIVEN TEA

An informal tea was given by the faculty of the Home Economics school this afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30.

Girls registered in any division of home economics were invited. The senior girls were given the honor of presiding over the new silver tea service.

Strong Appointed Fraternity Editor

Artemisia Plans Completed By Yearbook Editor

Appointment of Lawrence Strong as fraternity editor of the Artemisia was announced today by Sam Wilson, editor of the yearbook.

Wilson also stated that much progress has been made on the annual. The colors, material, and design for the cover have been selected, border design and colors for the pages picked, and every detail of the book has been planned. Assignments for the write-ups were made this week.

All December graduates must have their pictures taken at Goodner's before December 8, Wilson said. After December 8 no more pictures may be taken at Goodner's until next semester, when other schedules will be announced.

May graduates, Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, and Coffin and Keys' members may have their pictures taken either before December 8, or next semester.

Pictures will be taken of the Junior Prom Saturday night for the Artemisia.

The Royal Family Ready For Dress Rehearsal Monday

Fast Moving Three-Act Play Depicts Trials In Life Of Stage Family

Sixteen Thespians Comprise Cast; Ten To Appear For First Time

With dress rehearsal set for Monday night, and curtain call at eight o'clock Tuesday evening, the cast of "The Royal Family" has nervously been reciting their lines to any and all listeners for the past week.

The set was completed early last week and the costumes which were ordered from Blake & Amber of San Francisco arrived today.

The play, a fast moving three-act comedy, depicts the trials, tribulations, and comedies encountered by a long family of stage people.

Written by the team of George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, famed for "Showboat" and many other successes, "The Royal Family" played on Broadway a few seasons ago.

Produced by Ted Harris, it enjoyed a run of almost 350 performances, and was heralded as one of the outstanding comedy successes of the season.

Sixteen In Cast
Sixteen thespians, only six of whom are veterans comprise the cast.

Fanny Cavendish, the trouper of the family who has given her "all" to the stage in good and bad days is to be played by Evelyn Bulmer, who will be remembered for her work in last year's production "The Wind and the Rain."

Julia Cavendish, Fanny's daughter, who has been raised on the stage, but wants to give it up and go "floating down the Nile" with the man of her heart is portrayed by Celone Stuart, one of the newcomers.

Gwen, the youngest member of the Cavendish family, who is undecided whether to continue on the stage or marry Perry Stewart, is carried by Wilma A. Jones, another newcomer.

Perry Stewart, around whom many a family argument is centered because of his love for Gwen, and his insistence that she give up her career, is played by Kelly Eccles.

Kitty LeMoine, and Herbert Dean, a none too happily married couple who are also branches of the Cavendish family tree and who are continually trying to get ahead in the theatrical world are played by Kathleen Meeks and Robert Van Wagner. Van Wagner is making his first appearance while Miss Meeks is a veteran in campus productions.

Oscar Wolfe, the theatrical manager for the whole troupe is played by Mel Wilder, one of the veteran campus thespians.

Wayward Son
Anthony Cavendish, the wayward son who is continually dashing from town to town even to foreign countries to avoid impending entanglements with his many feminine admirers, will be played by David Goldwater, who is one of the better known, and most outstanding campus thespians. He has played in such productions as "The Wind and the Rain," "Both Your Houses," "Double Door," and others.

The remainder of the cast is comprised of Roger Fowley, Beth Fredrickson, Dick Sawyer, Jack Hansen, Lee Strauch, Beverly Jones, and Don Purdy.

If present plans for the proposed spring operetta are completed there will be only one other play given this year. Rehearsals for it will be called early in February, according to Prof. William C. Miller, university dramatic instructor.

Basil Kehoe is in charge of the play productions staff for the show.

Pre-Med Students Take Aptitude Tests

Thirteen Nevada pre-med students tested their aptitude for further work in medicine today, when they took the Standard Medical Aptitude Test prepared by the education committee of the American Medical Association.

The test, offered this year for the eighth consecutive time, is offered to all universities of accredited standing in the United States, and taken by thousands of pre-medical students in colleges throughout the nation.

The purpose of the test is two-fold. First, it provides each student with a means of gauging his fitness for a career in medicine, and second it forms a basis upon which medical schools may measure the qualifications of a candidate for admission. In previous years, students who made high grades in the tests subsequently ranked high as students at graduate schools so consistently that the test is now considered highly accurate in showing aptitude for medical work.

The test was open to juniors and seniors. The material covered by the test was the same for all students who took it, but the class standing of each student and the subjects he has taken will be considered in the grading.

Fee for taking the test was one dollar per student. The fee covered the cost of the materials of the test and of mailing. Students who missed this opportunity to take the test, and who wish to take it later, will be assessed five dollars for the privilege. The test will not be given in as many localities the second time, perhaps necessitating travel for Nevada students who wish to take it.

Former Student Sends Collection

A 235 specimen collection of microfossils, the gift of John Higginbotham, former student, has been received by the Mackay Museum through Silas Ross, regent.

The material, consisting of 36 species of foraminifera collected principally from bore holes in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valley, was gathered by W. T. Barbatt, geologist for the Standard Oil Company.

Each species is represented by from two to 15 individuals which illustrate variation in size and shape. These range in size from one-eighth of an inch, for the largest down to almost invisible grains. A microscope of moderate magnification is necessary in studying them.

Professor Gianella in commenting upon the collection said: "It occupies but a small space but is one of the most interesting and valuable additions we have had to the geologic collection."

HOLD UNIVERSITY SERVICES
Beginning Sunday, December 5, at 6:00 p. m., the University Chapel is holding a series of university services. Special groups will be invited to each service, but anyone who cares to attend is welcome.

Photography Club Attends Lecture

Basketball Pictures Will Be Shown At Meeting

"Nevada's basketball men in action" is the title of the moving picture to be shown by Ned Westover, president of the Camera club, at the next meeting of the group, December 9, at 7:30 p. m., in the Education building.

These pictures will demonstrate to the group the results of using the new type of Agfa film, which is four times as speedy as the fastest film in use today. The demonstration was to have been given last night, but the club did not hold its regular meeting at that slated time. Most of the members wished to be free to attend the lecture on polarized light, a subject of photographic interest.

Lecture Demonstrated
The lecture held last night in the Mackay Science hall was given and demonstrated by Howard Belt and George Prugh of the Bausch & Lomb Optical company of San Francisco.

The photography contest sponsored by the group will end next month.

WAR ON VENEREAL DISEASE

By B. H. CAPLES, M.D.

We are faced at the outset with a social problem—one that concerns the whole people. Statistics relative to syphilis are staggering and they could be quoted to you for hours only to leave you in a state of bewilderment. Let me quote only a few.

Roughly speaking, one in every ten Americans has syphilis. The percentage varies with the groups under examination. In certain sections in the South, the incidence among the Negroes is as high as 40 per cent. In one Indian village in this state the rate is 25 per cent. Here in the university, the rate may be as low as 2 per cent. Bringing it home to us, we, in all probability, have approximately 2000 cases in Reno and from 25 to 50 cases here at the university. Not all of these are in an infectious state but they constitute a grave menace to themselves and the community.

Just here let me clear up two questions often asked: "Are syphilis and gonorrhea the same disease?" Is there danger of a long continued gonorrhea turning into syphilis? The answer is "no" to both. They are entirely separate diseases.

Now to get back to our statistics. Sixty thousand children are born in this country every year with congenital syphilis. From 10 to 15 per cent of all insanity is due to syphilis. Without early and continuous treatment, syphilis cuts short the life of the individual. It costs this country ten million dollars a year to treat only the blindness due to syphilis.

Here are only a few of the highlights, but enough to indicate to you the challenge that syphilis constitutes to your generation. Yours especially, for syphilis is primarily a disease of youth, being most prevalent in the age group of 20-30 years.

How are you going to meet this challenge?

First, by not exposing yourselves to the possibility of infection by intimate contacts. Seventeen cases of syphilis developed in a high school group in one of our eastern cities following a party at which a kissing game was played—one of the boys having syphilis of the genitals. I have already spoken of the danger of sexual promiscuity.

Second, by early diagnosis and persistent treatment, if necessary. The beginning of syphilis is a small sore, sometimes insignificant, that appears usually on the genitals, sometimes on the lip or finger, occasionally on other parts of the body. This sore, known as a chancre, appears in from 10 to 40 days after exposure. Remember, especially if you have had sexual intercourse, that any sore appearing on the genitals is under suspicion. So is a persistent "cold sore." The first thing is a Dark Field examination. This is a microscopic examination, by a special method, of some of the secretion from the suspected sore.

These are the golden days of diagnosis for if the germ of syphilis is discovered, treatment can be started immediately

Reno Theater Group Presents Play

"The Silver Cord," production of the Reno Little Theater, will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at the State building.

Taking parts in the comedy drama written by Sidney Howard are Jean Eller, former university student, as Christina, Mrs. Mildred Edwards as Hester, Randall Ross as Robert, Tony Livingston as David, Leona Fowler as Mrs. Phelps, Mary Elcano as the maid.

The play deals with the tyranny of a mother who almost wrecks her children's lives with a perverted sense of mother love.

even before your blood test becomes positive. Your chance of cure, at this time, with intelligent and continuous treatment, over a period of 18 months, is approximately 90 per cent. Later your chances drop to 75 per cent or even lower. Remember, if you are infected, you must, after a few weeks, see your treatment through on faith. For all symptoms will disappear and you will probably feel as well as you ever did in your life. But don't stop. Trust your doctor and stick to him until he tells you that you are cured.

The great tragedy in the treatment of syphilis is that only one patient in five receives the minimum necessary treatment—one year. This means innumerable relapses and the late and terrible manifestations that are all around us.

Third, have a blood test. You owe it to yourself and to society. In those giving no history of syphilis and showing no active symptoms, 2 per cent have been found to be infected. This test will be given you free and in strict confidence by your own university laboratory. Already the pre-medical group of the university has volunteered to have this test done. This is a splendid step in the right direction and I trust that you will all follow it. It would be a fine and heartening gesture to the young men and women of America to have the University of Nevada take the lead in this battle.

These four points constitute the immediate program I urge upon you. If, when all is said and done, you shall have saved the pain, the anguish and the terror of but one syphilitic child, your work will not have been in vain.

Ski Club To Hold Numerous Outings At Winter Spots

Intra-Club Tournaments; Student Classes Are Planned By Group

First Outing Is To Be Held At Galena Before Xmas Vacation

Plans for intra-club ski tournaments and classes for students interested in skiing were adopted by the U. N. Ski club at a meeting Wednesday night.

The club will hold outings throughout the ski season, informal tournaments among the members of the organization will be held in connection with the outings, according to the plans announced by Don McMeekin, president of the group.

The first outing of the year will be held before the start of Christmas vacation. The club's cabin at Galena will be used as the site of the outing, if there is enough snow there. Otherwise, the club will go to Soda Springs.

Five expert members of the U. N. ski team will conduct the student classes, which will be held at regularly-scheduled times during the winter. Three classes, one for novices, one for intermediate skiers, and one for advanced students, are planned at present.

The club is conducting an active drive for new members. Dues are one dollar a year.

The Tri-Delts will have a candy pull this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Each member will bring a guest.

The Gamma Phi and the Lambda Chi held an exchange dinner Thursday night. Those who took part were Katherine McCleary, Sybil Furchner, Eunice Beckley, Rose Boggio, Dorothy Radcliff, Elaine Hines, Mary Fox, Wayne Kennedy Jay Waite, Richard Williams, Hary Stuart, and Charles Harris.

In the first sorority formal of the year, the Thetas will hold their "winter" formal at the chapter house tonight. Merle Snider's orchestra will furnish the music. The chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. John Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Martinez, and Mrs. Joselyn, house mother.

The ATOs entertained the Pi Phi at one of their weekly social hours Wednesday evening from 7 to 8. Dancing was the main diversion of the evening. Refreshments were served.

The SAEs and Tri-Delts held an exchange dinner Wednesday evening. Those participating were William Pasutti, Tom Horgan, Guy Brown, Francis Menante, Lawrence Devincenzi, Robert Madison, Shirley Ferron, Helen Collins, Virginia Snow, Sue Hicks, Dorothy Rowe, and Lola Stoddard.

The Theta pledges held a tea for friends Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30. A fashion show was given showing ski suits, and a ski display from J. C. Penney's was shown. Norwegian refreshments were served.

A Christmas dance will be held at Lincoln hall Friday night. Ray Sanot's orchestra will furnish the music. Chaperones will be Professor and Mrs. Paul Harwood and Professor and Mrs. H. C. Amens.

Engineers To Trek To Show After Meeting

A new type of entertainment will be featured at the meeting of the Associated Engineers next Wednesday night. After a short business meeting, during which plans for Engineers Day will be made, the entire group will attend the Granada theater.

Due to lack of interest in the club in previous years, this plan is being tried to encourage attendance.

The group will attend the show in a body and a special section will be reserved for them it was announced by Llewelyn Young, president of the group, today.

FASHION TIPS

By JANE FRISBIE

This weekend will be filled with the Junior Prom, and with plans for skiing as winter is just around that well-known corner.

To make Prom night a glamorous night go sleek and sophisticated in a simple formal with much jewelry—much meaning quantities of bracelets or innumerable strings of beads, not both! Costume accents are becoming more and more important with the increasing simplicity of the new dresses. Dig into grandmother's jewel case to see what you can find. However queer the old pieces are, they are bound to be smart.

The flimsiest, sheerest, and most luxurious stockings that show through that slit in your skirt or when your skirts whirl are necessary for evenings.

Any wardrobe that hasn't at least one dress that makes you feel as pretty and elegant as you can possibly feel is a washout. We found one particular formal that is guaranteed to prevent that. A black crepe with a wide girldle belt of scintillating sequins worn with a sequin bolero with long sleeves. Plenty of glitter. Need we say—no jewelry!

Don't forget to dress your hair as well as your body, particularly if your dress is plain. Feathers, veils, flowers, or clips chosen with discrimination may be arranged on your coiffure without making you look like the country lass gone Hollywood.

If your decollage is very low, bring your hair down on your neck. Otherwise pile it high on your head. Not too many curls if you are going to wear ornaments in it.

A word or two about flowers: the correct way to wear a corsage is with the flowers looking up at the face, not pointed down in a drooping position. If you have a slim waistline, pin your orchids (and such) at the waist.

On to the ski clothes which in themselves are sufficient incentive to take up skiing:

A royal blue knit jacket worn with a turquoise blue chiffon scarf in defiance of Old Man Winter!

A ski suit of white airplane cloth (they also make 'em in white gabardine) with a navy and red sash, but remember unless you ski well, don't buy a suit that will make you conspicuous.

A burgundy sweater worn with a burgundy and white checked tweed (yes, actually tweed) jacket and black wool trousers.

A jacket of grey ski satin, tough and

Coeds Begin Rifle Practice On Range

Other Universities Will Be Challenged Soon

Rifle, women's only intercollegiate sport on the Nevada campus, will be subject to stricter regulations this year than in previous semesters, according to Eunice Beckley, manager, who says that score books, recording every shot, will be kept by each marksman.

Actual shooting on a fifty-foot range in the barracks began Tuesday, after preliminary lectures in Stewart hall. Sergeant John T. Kelly, of the Nevada R.O.T.C. unit is instructing rifle.

Challenges to other universities will be issued within the next few weeks, and during next semester the intercollegiate matches will be shot. Intramural matches will be arranged between campus organizations after Christmas when squads will be picked.

Varsity women who are shooting this year are, Eunice Beckley, Bette Naim-Smith, Gertrude Polander, Frances Smith, and Betty Inda. Varsity rating is given to the ten women who have the highest scores throughout the semester.

Xmas Party Planned By Chemistry Club

A Christmas party will take the place of business for the Chemistry club this Friday. The party will be held in the library of the Mackay Science building at 7:30.

Dr. Deming will be in charge of the entertainment of the evening and Dorothy Evans is chairman of the refreshment committee.

thin like football pants worn with navy gabardine trousers.

For a suit that gives a slim, very special, smooth effect: plaid wool trousers worn with a white suede slip-over with knitted sleeves.

A suit that is "different!" Grey flannel plus-fours topped with a grey jersey. It will make you look very professional.

To keep your lips soft and smooth, use a paraffin lipstick in bright red because the rays of the sun do not get through red.

On your head wear a visor, a beret, a knitted cap, a ribbon, a fur-edged parka hood, a bright handkerchief or nothing at all!

Carr Advancing In Air Training

John Carr, graduate of the university with the class of 1937, who is now taking training at the army air corps training center at Randolph Field, Texas, recently completed his primary course and is beginning on the basic course.

Out of a class of 186 students who started the course four months ago with Carr, 101 are beginning the second course. Each course occupies four months, the final four months being given at the advanced school at Kelly Field, near San Antonio, Texas.

The basic course consists of instructions on formation, night, blind, and cross-country flying.

Carr was editor of the Sagebrush last year.

Beta Sigs Give Annual Banquet

Beta Sigma Omicron said "much obliged" to three persons who have been of particular service to the sorority at its annual "thank you" dinner held at the Lincoln hotel in Sparks, Monday night.

Hiney Cooper, Reno florist, Jack Westover, employee of Cooper, and Harold Hart, of the Peerless Yeast company, were the honored guests. Thanks were extended to Cooper for his help in the homecoming activity of the sorority, to Westover for his aid in the production of the Homecoming float, and to Hart for decorating for rushing parties, and the sorority presentation tea.

After an Italian dinner had been served, Georgia Cooper, president of Beta Sigma, presented the benefactors with gifts.

Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, faculty advisor, and Mrs. Harold Hart, sorority alumnae, were guests. Many members and pledges attended.

Church To Attend A G. U. Conclave

Senior Engineering Student To Speak To Group

Dr. J. E. Church, vice-chairman of the section hydrology of the American Geophysical union in the United States, will attend a meeting of the group at the University of California agricultural college at Davis on January 7-8.

Problems concerning erosion and conservation of water on the ranges, in the forests, and water shed will be discussed. Representatives from the States of Nevada, California, and Arizona which compose the South Pacific region of the union will be present. The last meeting of the society was held in Denver last June.

At the same time, a meeting of the Western Inter-State Snow Survey conference will be held. Robert Leaver, senior civil engineering student at Nevada, will give a talk on the snow on the western slope of the Cascades in Washington.

Moving pictures of Utah snow surveys will be given at this gathering, and plans for broadcasts concerning the conditions of roads, ski fields, and ski problems will be made, according to Dr. Church.

DO AMERICA'S FLIERS APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?

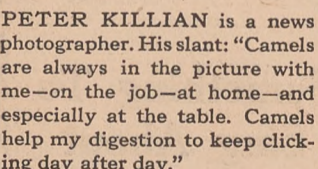

YOU bet they do! In aviation is one of the most discriminating groups of smokers in the country. The famous record holder, Col. Roscoe Turner, smokes Camels. So do test-pilot Lee Gehlbach, Capt. Frank Hawks, and TWA's chief pilot Hal Sneed—to mention only a few. As Col. Turner puts it: "I guess you've noticed that men in aviation are great smokers. And, from what I see, most fliers share my regard for Camels. They need healthy nerves. That's one big reason why so many of us stick to Camels."

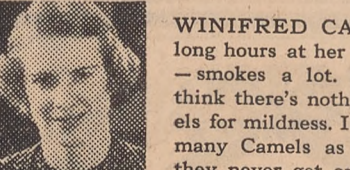

And many millions of Americans—more people than smoke any other cigarette in the world—give a hearty o-kay to Camels!

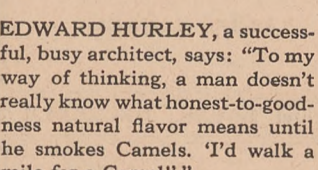

ARTHUR WALDO, JR. is a Senior in College. He says: "Working out a tough assignment often can make me feel all tuckered out. The second I feel myself getting tired, I like to get a 'lift' with a Camel."

PETER KILLIAN is a news photographer. His slant: "Camels are always in the picture with me—on the job—at home—and especially at the table. Camels help my digestion to keep clicking day after day."

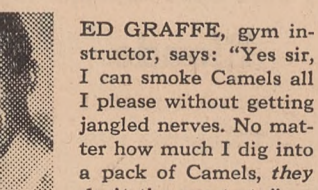

WINIFRED CASTLE works long hours at her editorial desk—smokes a lot. She says: "I think there's nothing like Camels for mildness. I can smoke as many Camels as I please and they never get on my nerves."

EDWARD HURLEY, a successful, busy architect, says: "To my way of thinking, a man doesn't really know what honest-to-goodness natural flavor means until he smokes Camels. 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!'"

Camel spends MILLIONS MORE FOR COSTLIER TOBACCOS! Camels are a matchless blend of finer—MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

ED GRAFFE, gym instructor, says: "Yes sir, I can smoke Camels all I please without getting jangled nerves. No matter how much I dig into a pack of Camels, they don't tire my taste."

ARE WE UNIQUE?

Is Nevada unique?
Or do Don Herold's remarks anent college students, which appears in this month's issue of Scribner's magazine, in general apply here? And if so, what about it? Do you agree or figure he's off a bit?
At any rate, here is his opinion, and a few recommendations. If you feel very strongly about the matter, write a letter to the editor—of Scribner's.
"One of the first things that should be taught college freshmen is not to act college. Perhaps the first week of their college year should be devoted to boiling the little fellows in oil and otherwise torturing them to get out of their system all desire to wear monkey caps and do snake dances. Then, if they persist in acting conventionally college, they should all be shipped to the Warner Brothers' studio in Hollywood to cut up in motion pictures about college life—a doom worse than Siberia.
"In short, this period of chastening would be a most excellent chance to wean college youngsters, as possible candidates for the intelligent Americanism, from our all-too-prevalent American weakness for labels, and for acting and dressing the part.
"There are, of course, in every college a few lusty little nitwits who lead in this collegiate babbittity. They should be smacked to earth by their more embarrassed classmates. It is the embarrassed who are right, but it is the healthy little babbitts who prevail.
"This goes, too, for after life, and I think that I have suggested a bit of pedagogy here by which the colleges can eventually improve American life as a whole. What America needs, for one thing, is fewer joiners.
"The best actors I know look like businessmen. Only the hams look like actors. The best writers and artists I know look like brokers or storekeepers. Only the phonies wear long hair and Windsor ties. The best musicians might be mistaken for chemists. The best college students ought to look the least college.
"If we can't get intelligent people from our colleges, we ought to close the colleges. And I think it would help a lot toward this end to smack all that is collegiate out of the freshmen before they are a week old."

New Books Added To Libe Shelves

Within the past two weeks 17 new books have been added to the shelves of the university library.
Among the collection are two books which are considered best sellers of the year, according to Miss Thea Thompson, librarian.
"Mathematics for the Million," by Hogben is not a novel, but is mathematics popularized. One of the reasons given for it being so popular is the fact that many students fail mathematics.
"How To Lose Friends and Alienate People," by Tressell, the other best seller, is a take off on the popular "How to Win Friends and Influence People."
Other books purchased are: Bagley, "The Teacher of the Social Studies," Bastian, "Editing The Day's News," Cleland, "Our Prehistoric Ancestors," Crowther, "Famous American Men of Science," Diemel, "Mechanics of The Gyroscope," Harding, "Legal and Ethical Phases of Engineering," Horn, "Methods on Instruction in the Social Studies," Kipling, "Indian Tales," Mendelssohn Bartholdy, "War and the German Society," Norton, "Play Streets," Peake, "Colorado Range Cattle," Robertson, "Modern Athletics," Sharman, "The Teaching of Physical Education," Sorokin, "Social and Cultural Dynamics," Tibbels, "The Circus Comes to School."

WOW! COLLEGE MEN GO FEMININE

The "collich" man of tomorrow! What a perfect specimen of feminine beauty he should be!
He will probably be flaunting silkened legs and powdered noses in the faces of his bewildered feminine admirers.
That the wind is blowing strongly in this direction is evidenced by a survey of college costs at Depauw university, Indiana. Tabulations show that the cosmetic bills of the men are proportionately almost as much as those of the women.
The average college man spends 40 cents a month for powder. The coeds average 8 cents.
It just doesn't add up, does it?
The desire for lovelier hair or the determination to keep the hair they have causes the Indiana college boy to pay 61 cents annually for hair tonic.
The average coed spends $200 a year more for clothes than does her boy friend. It still costs papa more to send daughter to school than it does to send junior.
The Japanese are some of the best felders in baseball. Their weakness is at the bat.
Nearly 200 Pennsylvania State college women worked out part of their expenses last year through jobs ranging from chaperoning to clerking in a telegraph office.

(Excerpts from an argument between a couple of local boys, known rather widely as the two technicalities.)
"I told 'im, if I can't get out of school and expect to make four or five hundred a month, I'll figure my time's wasted."
"We'll be lucky to get fifteen a week in that racket."
"What am I doin' here anyway? I can make plenty of dough working. I quit two fifty a month to come back to school, and he wants to flunk me so I can't graduate and get a nice little spot for fifteen a week. Hell!"
"Yeah, you're right."
"You're a pretty smart guy in econ. But I'm just as good as you in that stuff."
"So what?"
"I got a lotta practical knowledge on the stock market, and anybody that says J. P. Morgan is fair and above-board in some of these fluke utilities of his, doesn't know much in my opinion."
"In the eyes of the law—wait a minute, wait a minute—in the eyes of the law, Morgan never pulled anything with a twist."
"In the eyes of the law, huh? O. K. I admit you're right. But now you're talking technicalities."
"No, legalities."
"Well, legalities, then. What's the difference? If you want to get technical, what's life but technicalities?"
(Voice from Eddie on the other side.)
"Keep some of that money out of the market and sling it my way."
"O. K., boy. Two."
No sir, I always thought you were a pretty smart guy, but if you think Morgan's all right, I take it all back."

"I don't say he's all right. I said . . ."
"O. K., O. K., I take it all back."
"Now you take Oscar Aftermath, up there. He's got more brains than you or me or you or him. But I'll bet he don't get as far as I do."
"I'm a dumb cluck. Trying to learn that stuff from that guy so I can make fifteen a week. I had a chance to get fifty bucks a day in Spain this summer, but I turned it down. I'll get as far as Oscar."
"We're different guys than Oscar. He might get somewhere in his way but we'll get there with our personalities. Brains don't count."
"What if he has got brains? I suppose you think you got a better brain than I have?"
"Yeah, sure. . . . What was that again?"
"Oh, you do? You can get up there and throw it around with the pros and make me look like a monkey. You study."
"I do not."
"You admitted it to me once."
"Oh, no. I haven't cracked a book since I got out of high school."
"There you are. I never studied in high school. I never did study. I can take you away from books around something you don't know anything about and make a monkey out of you."
"All right."

Carnotite Radium Given To Museum

Professor Walter Palmer, of the mining engineering department, reported recently that a very high grade piece of carnotite radium ore has been given to the school by a Utah mine owner.
Howard Baisley, donor of the ore, is owner of the Yellow Circle mine in Moab, Utah.
Professor Palmer said that the ore is very unusual in that it is on petrified wood.

"All right. What do you do in a hurry-cane?"
"Get down in the storm cellar and let 'er blow."
"Nope, nope, buddy, you're only half right, only half right."
"That's only a technicality."
"There you go, bringing up technicalities again. Keep that out of this argument and we'll get somewhere."
"You brought technicalities up."
"Hey, Did I? Tell 'im who brought technicalities up."
"I said legalities. You rung in technicalities."
"O. K. If all you guys want to be against me. Go ahead."
(Second voice from Eddie on the other side.)
"I'm with you boy."
"O. K., Eddie. Two."
"I don't wanna argue with you any more."
"You'll admit I'm right?"
"Go away, go away. I don't wanna argue with you anymore."
"Twelve thirty. Let's get a hamburger and go home. I got a seven forty-five and six chapters of sociology to read."

SHORTS ON SPORTS FROM FAR & NEAR

By CLARENCE HECKETHORN

It was a very erratic football season that the University of Nevada Wolves completed Thanksgiving. The Pack started off with a bang, slowed down to a mere walk during the middle part of the season, and then gave another spark of the old Nevada spirit toward the end of the season.

The 1937 season is now history, what the Wolves will do next year is the question now before us.

Graduation will take eight first-string men from the squad. Dashiell's major problem next fall will be to replace these seniors.

McKinnon and Basta will be gone from the end posts. Both are rated as being among the best wingmen in the conference. To replace these two starters, Dashiell has his pick of Campbell, Sala, and Carpenter from the varsity, and Trigerro, Lemick, and Garamendi coming up from the frosh squad.

Campbell played his second year for the varsity this season. Injuries kept the diminutive sparkplug out of most of the contests, but even at that he managed to make his second numeral.

Sala and Carpenter are two members from last year's cub squad, who earned starting berths in many of this season's contests. Both are known as versatile players, being able to hold down positions on both the line and backfield.

Trigerro, Lemick, and Garamendi looked plenty good on the frosh team this season and will probably give the pre-mentioned ends plenty of competition for starting positions.

Grubbs and Twombly, two of the hardest driving backs hereabouts, will leave a gap in the backfield. Roberts, a transfer from Stanford, will be eligible for competition next season and may be able to replace one of the graduating line-plungers, but another good driver has yet to be found.

From the tailback position will go Robb and Metten. For this position there is plenty of prospects. Bennett will be back, and this man should be hard to beat next season. Yet he will be up against both Polish and Cobeaga from the frosh team. Polish was the backbone of the cub team this year and is a sure bet to earn a varsity post next season. Likewise, Cobeaga proved his ability this year and should see plenty of action in 1938. In all probability Dashiell will give Polish and Bennett different positions, as both should do a great deal of playing.

Other backs returning next season that will add to the strength of the Pack are, Taylor, Peccole, McMichael, Eaton, and Powell from the varsity; Van Wagner from the junior varsity; and Hoff and Linson coming up from the cubs.

Judging from the sources of potential material, the guard positions should be well-filled next season. The loss of Lommori will be greatly felt, but there are several experienced guards from this year's varsity returning as well as a number from the junior varsity and frosh squads. Guards that showed good this season and who are returning next year are, Brooks, Dickson, Whitam, Podesta, and Sullivan. Add these players to McDonald from the junior varsity and Robinette and Hepburn from the frosh and you have a list of guards that should cause any opposing line plenty of trouble.

For tackles there are plenty of prospects, but few with the experience and drive that is necessary. Freidhoff, Kievit, Loveall, Bryant, Brown, Radovich, and Stewart have all played this season and will be back next fall. One fellow that should be a sure starter for a tackle post is Spitz from the junior varsity. However, the loss of Gustafson next year will greatly retard the strength of the line.

McIntyre will return at center, as well as Demosthenes and Hardie. All these men were good at snapping the ball, but were weak on defense. Tobiasen, frosh center, was like a brick wall this season on the cub team and should make the veterans hussle for the starting pivot position next year.

There you have the bulwark of next year's football squad. Add that list to other Wolves who managed to get some experience this season and a few stars that may enroll in the university from surrounding junior colleges and you have the group of players that should carry the Nevada colors to many a football victory next season.

Several university ice skaters are eyeing Manzanita lake with great anticipation as the grip of winter is rapidly freezing the lake's water.

"Doc" Martie and his hoopsters should do very good this season by the performance of the players in practice this week.

Martie said, that due to the large number of men turning out he will be forced to cut the squad to about 15 members. The others will be listed on the junior varsity, which starts practice early next semester.

Because of incomplete returns from other schools in the league, the official far-Western conference football team will not be announced until next week.

Because the Hitler government allows any German traveler only $4 spending money with him, Christian Otto Winzen came from Germany to the University of Detroit, with just that much cash, although his passage and railroad fare had been paid.

Casaba Tossers Turn Out Monday For 1st Workout

Radovich, Robb Will Join Squad After First Of Week

New Candidates Will Give Veterans Hard Fight For Berths

With four members of last year's starting quintet on hand to form the nucleus of the squad, 18 varsity basketball candidates reported to Coach J. E. (Doc) Martie Monday.

Joe Radetich, Dick Kolbus, John Robb, and Elmer Bawden, who formed part of the regular line-up on the team that came within one game of tying Chico for the conference championship last year, are the returning first-stringers. Robb, a member of the football squad, will not join the squad until next Monday. The other men have been working out regularly in the gym.

Other Veterans
Don Leighton, letterman, and Dean Croft, and Walter Powers, members of last year's squad, are also available for service this season. Leighton alternates with Radetich at center, while Croft and Powers relieve Kolbus and Robb at the forward spots.

"Big John" Radovich, another football man, will strengthen the squad with his height, smooth floor work, and accurate shooting from within the foul circle. Radovich teamed with Kolbus to form the combination which was the main factor in winning last year's intramural tourney for S.A.E. He was ineligible for the varsity last season, but showed up as potential varsity material on the junior varsity "blues."

Ray Waldren, who was on the varsity squad for a while last year, is another promising man. Waldren turned in a stellar performance on the A.T.O. team which won the intramural tourney last month, and looks like a comer for varsity competition.

Jack Lazaskus, another big man from last season's junior varsity, reported for practice this week, although he is not in school this semester. He is expected to register next semester and turn out for the squad.

The serious illness of Blake Speers robbed the squad of another good prospect. Speers is just recovering from an attack of pneumonia and will not be able to play this year.

Gordon Thompson, Bob Cameron, Ira Farris, and Ollino Barsanti, members of last year's freshman team, and John Etchemendy, sensation of the intramural tourney, are out for the squad and will probably give the veterans a hot fight for varsity berths.

The average Southern college girl spends $579 a year exclusive of college charges, the largest item ($270) of which is for clothes, a study at Hollins College, Virginia, reveals.

Pack Is Defeated In Last Contest

The Nevada Wolves wrote the finish to the 1937 football season Thanksgiving day with a 41 to 7 defeat by Willamette in an erratic contest on Mackay field.

Although entirely superior to the visitors on the ground, the Wolves were helpless to stop their passing attack. Willamette scored five of their six touchdowns via the air route. The Nevada line turned in an air-tight defensive against running plays, stopping the Willamette thrusts cold.

A sparkle of the oft-mentioned Nevada razzle-dazzle flared up in the third quarter to give Nevada its only score. The Wolves worked the ball from their 43 to Willamette's 11-yard line with a series of passes and laterals. There Twombly received the ball from center, and lateraled to Powell who cut through right tackle and then laterated to Robb.

Robb fumbled the ball over the goal line where he recovered it for a touchdown. Eaton converted.

Freshmen Receive Rifle Instruction

Fresno Wins 20-0 For League Title

Freshmen military students were instructed in marksmanship on the newly remodeled range in the barracks this week as a forerunner to men's rifle team practice which begins Monday.

Captain Henry Isbell, commandant of the R.O.T.C. unit, announced that only those who scored 75 or better would be allowed to continue in instruction.

The shooting range, which is located in the barracks behind Lincoln hall, has recently been completely made over with new scrap iron reinforcements and wire target carriers.

High Rating Given To Cashill, Rhodes

Bill Cashill, former A.S.U.N. president and Bryce Rhodes, also a University of Nevada graduate received superior rating in a class of moot court arguments, according to word received here this week. Rhodes and Cashill work together as a team but in this case were opposing each other. Superior rating is seldom given in the initial arguments.

Cashill is applying also for a first year scholarship, several of which are to be awarded after the optional examinations in January.

Cub Hoop Squad Will Meet J. Cs.

With a schedule in prospect which will probably bring Nevada's first-year basketballers into competition with junior college aggregations, Coach Jim Coleman, frosh mentor, is beginning preparations for the year with practice slated to start next week.

Promising that the frosh hoop squad will follow the precedent set down by the yearling gridders, in competing with junior colleges, Coach Coleman stated that there would be fewer high school games than in past years.

Coleman expects to schedule at least two games with freshmen teams of other institutions during the far-Western conference meeting which will be held in San Francisco within the next few weeks, probably December 11. Sacramento junior college was also mentioned as a possible opponent for the Nevada cubs.

Eaton Confined In School Ward

Pat Eaton, varsity halfback, is now in the university infirmary nursing an infected shin bone, the result of an unintentional cleating by one of the Willamette players in the Thanksgiving game.

Neglect is caring for the injury caused the infection and Eaton was confined to the infirmary Monday evening as the wound began to swell and become generally troublesome.

Upon examination by Doctor Harper, university physician, it was advised that Eaton remain in the infirmary for the rest of the week, when it is expected he will be able to return to his home.

Province Chief Visits Tau House

In order to establish a closer relationship between the individual fraternities and the national organization of Alpha Tau Omega, Fred W. Peters, recently appointed twelfth province chief, paid the Nevada chapter his first routine visit Monday night.

Peters is a graduate of the University of California and has a definite interest in college life and organizations.

Peters spoke at dinner to the members and pledges of the Nevada chapter, and later spoke again at a pledge meeting.

Former Packman Is On Cadet Team

PENSACOLA, Fla. (Special).—W. J. Cockrell, former university student, and one time coach of the freshmen football team, is carrying his athletic prowess with him through Navy life, where he is firmly berthed on the Naval Air Station football team at Pensacola, Fla., and where he is stationed as an aviation cadet.

According to reports much of the startling success of the Flying Cadets on the gridiron is due to the work of Cockrell as full back.

After completing elimination training at Oakland, Calif., Cockrell was ordered to Pensacola nearly twelve months ago and will soon finish the Naval training course there. His successful career as a student at the Air Station entitles him to rating as aviation cadet in the fleet where he will resume his flying duties after a brief leave.

Astronomy Group To Meet Tonight In Carson City

Jim A. Grant Observatory To Be Inspected After Regular Meeting

Members of the Astronomical society of the university will inspect the new Jim A. Grant observatory in Carson tonight at the conclusion of a regular meeting of the group.

Mrs. Marion Bowen, owner of the observatory, will describe it at the meeting, which will be held in the American Legion room of the Heroes Memorial building. Tonight's meeting will be the first which the organization has held in Carson.

Other speeches relating to astronomy will round out the program of the meeting.

The society was organized by Professor G. B. Blair, who is now its president. Meetings are held about once a month, with members and guests hearing lectures on astronomy and occasionally gathering outdoors to observe interesting astronomical objects.

With The Wolfettes

By LOUISE LEONARD

Women's intramural volleyball was carried into the second week with seven games being played between the various organizations.

Delta Delta Delta defeated Unorganized Women last night, 35-24; Manzanita won from Gamma Phi Beta, 49-25; Kappa Alpha Theta defeated Independents, 36-27, and Beta Sigma Omicron led Pi Beta Phi to defeat by a margin of one point when the score totaled 30-35.

Referees for the games last night were Jean Chism, Katherine Starratt and Mrs. Mae Simas.

Last Tuesday evening Pi Beta Phi led Gamma Phi Beta to defeat by a margin of one point. Final scores tallied 32-31 in favor of Pi Beta Phi.

Results of games played last Tuesday are as follows:

Delta Delta Delta defeated Kappa Alpha Theta 41-25; Independents defeated Unorganized Women 43-30. Beta Sigma Omicron failed to appear, which gives Manzanita a game towards the final scores.

The present tap dancing class, under the direction of Katherine Schnell is progressing rapidly.

If there are enough girls interested in tap next semester, beginning, intermediate and advance tap classes will be organized under the direction of Miss Schnell.

The Campus Red Cross Life Saving corps will meet next Wednesday evening, according to Verna Bullis, president of the group.

Arrangements have been made to show pictures of life saving and swimming. The films have been obtained from the University of California.

Intramural volleyball schedule for the next two weeks is as follows:

December 7—Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Beta Sigma Omicron; Pi Beta Phi vs. Independents; Unorganized Women vs. Gamma Phi Beta; Delta Delta Delta vs. Manzanita.

December 9—Pi Beta Phi vs. Manzanita; Beta Sigma Omicron vs. Gamma Phi Beta; Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Unorganized; Independents vs. Delta Delta Delta.

SLIPPERY SWAN SIDESTEPS STERN SHADOWERS

By SUZIE

'Round and 'round they go and where they come out nobody knows this should have been the theme song of the crew in the boat that was endeavoring to catch the swan on Manzanita Lake last Wednesday afternoon.

The crew was trying to be nice to our swan and tell him in so many gestures that it was getting too cold for him and that if he would just sit still for a minute they'd help him out of the lake. The swan had a different idea, and had obviously decided to stay where he was.

The swan was very, very smart. He would let the boat come within inches of him and even condescendingly allow the crew to try either to hook or lasso his neck. Then by gentle but deliberate movement of his long neck he would elude the rope and hook by a twist and a glide, all done with perfect coordination.

Then came the anti-climax of the day's workout. A rope was produced and stretched across the lake in the hope of keeping Mr. Swan in one corner. The boat went around in tight circles preceded by the swan. Finally tired of that particular portion of the lake, the swan calmly took off over the rope and landed back in the middle. The race was finished with the crew tired and the swan in no better condition. Time lapsed and in the second hour, the crew gave up and left Mr. Swan, who had won the race by scores, to himself.

However, Thursday morning the swan gave up, perhaps it was the ice on the lake or a sudden decision that he would be caught anyway. He is now installed in his winter quarters at Idlewild Park.

December 14—Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Manzanita; Beta Sigma Omicron vs. Delta Delta Delta; Independents vs. Gamma Phi Beta; Pi Beta Phi vs. Unorganized.

December 16—Beta Sigma Omicron vs. Unorganized; Independents vs. Manzanita; Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Gamma Phi Beta; Pi Beta Phi vs. Delta Delta Delta.

Women planning to attend the intramural buffet supper December 16 have been asked to reserve places by signing in the gym.

Senior life saving tests started last week for about eleven women who have been training for the past semester.

Hicks Is To Speak At Professors' Banquet

Professor Charles R. Hicks of the University of Nevada history department will be the main speaker at the next meeting of the Nevada chapter of the American Association of University Professors, to be held December 16.

Besides this speech, Dr. S. Allan Lough, who is in charge of the meeting, stated that officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting.

Winter Archery Meet Is Planned

The second annual winter archery meet will be held the first three weeks in January 1938, according to a letter received by Mrs. Mae Simas, W.A.A. faculty advisor.

The women's section of the American Physical Education Association sponsors the meet. Headquarters are at the University of Oregon.

All results are to be marked on official cards and sent to headquarters at the end of each week. Scores will be added and ratings decided at the University of Oregon.

The University of Nevada will participate in the 15 and 20-yard matches. Women entering the 15-yard match will shoot 60 arrows 15 feet at a 36-inch target. Those entering the 20-yard event will shoot 60 arrows 20 feet at a 48-inch target.

Each team is composed of four women, and each woman can enter only one classification.

According to Mrs. Simas, there are several women at this university who show excellent possibilities.

"The University of Nevada should be able to make some good scores with the material we have to work with," was the statement Mrs. Simas made last week.

Those women who are eligible for the meet are Alma Twist, Anita Capitani, Sarah Bawden, Marcell Bawden, Mary Alice Cleary, Earlmond Baker, Romietta Ward, Virginia Snow, and Pat Meaker.

Practices are now being held in the gym.

NYA Funds Given To 92 Students

Ninety-two university students received NYA checks which totaled $1,343.85 this month, according to Dean Margaret E. Mack, who is head of the employment committee.

The total number of working hours during this period for the students was 3093.8.

Employed in various departments of the university, seven hold clerical positions, 19 are janitors, 17 do laboratory work, five hold positions in the library, one does mill work, one does museum work, 19 are readers, 12 are typists, two hold positions as assistants in the dormitories, one does intramural work, one does publicity work and three are coaches' assistants.

At the beginning of the school year only 76 were to be employed by the NYA. By the beginning of the first week all but about eight positions had been filled. During the year, more students needed aid so the additional 16 were added to the payroll.

THE BAND BOX

By BOB PARKER

Final check-in and rehearsal for band members last Thursday ended the semester's work for the musicians.

Government instruments, and university-owned sweaters, caps and capes which were given out to the members at the beginning of the term were recalled and the lists checked up. Reuben Tuttle, assistant band director, announced that the uniforms would be cleaned and repaired during the Christmas vacation in anticipation of the spring season's work.

There are now enough new uniforms on hand to take care of all members of the band, although no increase in the band rolls is expected next semester. Professor T. Post, head of the music department, announced that next semester's enrollment would be more restrictive in preparation for the Spring Festival to be held in Las Vegas next April.

Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary band fraternity, announced that new members would be initiated this Tuesday at a banquet to be given at the Lincoln hotel in Sparks.

At a meeting held last Thursday arrangements were made to increase membership and plans for an annual dance next semester were outlined. Hal Lang presided at the meeting.

Those who will be initiated December 7 include: William Pasutti, Clinton Hinman, Charles Tibbs, Peter Kelly, William McGee and Joe Moore.

The fraternity is restricted to men band members with one semester's work or more. At the present there are about 20 in the group.

A mixed musical program featuring campus talent will be given at the Delta Delta Delta sorority next Sunday afternoon according to Helen Collins, who is in charge of the arrangements.

The program will be given under the auspices of the campus branch of the Y. W. C. A. with nearly a dozen students participating. Vocal and instrumental numbers will be given and the program will get under way at 4:30.

Professor Post announced today that efforts to continue the regular practice of the Community Choral organization, despite the final presentation of the Messiah on December 15, have been made.

"This is very encouraging," said Post. "It reflects the willing attitude of the down-town people to cooperate in making the Messiah possible. Since so many members of the group have requested me to continue practice, and in view of plans for a coming musical operetta, I think it would be well worth-while to continue."

A new schedule for rehearsal practices will be given later on. The combined Campus Choral club and the community organization will probably work together on the proposed musical comedy, Post said.

Evidence that students are becoming increasingly interested in music is shown by the large attendance at community concerts and the increased enrollment in the various campus musical organizations.

More student cards have been issued to students at the university for the Community Concert association programs than ever before. A band of 82 pieces and a large Campus Choral club as well as a new musical appreciation group all combine to make the university more music-conscious.
