Students Signing Petition; Over 500 Already On Lists

Greek Houses Support Plan Almost 100 Per Cent Barbs Signing

Documents May Be Presented To Board Of Regents Late Next Week

Approximately 500 student signatures have been obtained on the petitions for the erection of a new student union building, Richard Taw, A.S.U.N. president, announced last night.

Sororities, fraternities and the hall associations are responding almost 100 per cent to the call for signatures, and independents are being contacted as quickly as possible.

Direct opposition to the plan has almost died out, according to prominent students in charge of the drive, and more students are lending their support to the campaign.

To Be Called In

"The remainder of the required 600 signatures will be obtained during the remainder of the semester and the petitions will be called in before school adjourns for the holidays," Taw said.

They will then be presented to the board of regents for approval.

The circulars petition the board of regents to establish a fund for a new building by adding $2.50 to the A.S.U.N. registration fee which will be held and set aside by the board of regents in a special fund expressly for the building which shall be erected on the campus.

All assessments under the plan shall be collectible only as long as it is necessary for use toward the erection of such a building. The total sum to be collected from the students under the proposed petition shall not exceed $125,000. By the petition it is understood that all funds collected under this specific plan shall be held in a special fund to be used only in securing a student union building.

Blue Key, Sagers, Sagens, Cap and Scroll and all other service organizations of the campus are enlisted in securing signatures for the petition, which was released last week after the A.S.U.N. senate went on record as being in favor of the plan.

Language Group Holds Elections

Mrs. Adrienne Tuttle was elected president Tuesday night of Le Cercle Francais, French language student group at the university. Felicia Moos, senior student, majoring in modern language, was named vice president. Mrs. Tuttle replaces David Barber as president.

Other officers elected were: Georgene Roberts, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Hall, Dorothy Evans, Eleanor Gardella and William Arbones, student directors.

Dr. B. F. Chappelle, head of the modern language department, is adviser to the group, which is composed of students in the advanced classes in French.

Activity Program Is Planned By Alumni

With a definite program in mind to promote year around programs of activities and plans for increasing the enrollment in the University of Nevada Alumni Association, a meeting of the executive committee of the alumni group was held late this week in the Gladianos building.

First step of the proposal would be to increase the membership of the association to a point at which it would be possible to employ a full time secretary to devote time and effort to directing all alumni activities.

Some definite campaign in these two directions has long been advocated by Mrs. Louise Lewers, secretary of the association, and it is highly favored by Alan Bible, president.

Further discussion of the proposal will be held at a meeting in January.

Members of the executive committee who attended the meeting were Alan Bible, Mrs. Louise Lewers, Chester Seranton, Kerwin Foley, Blythe Bulmer, Mrs. Margaret Bankoffier, and Marshal Guisti, former president of the group.

3 EXTRA DAYS OF SCHOOL ARE EXPLAINED

Even though the students of the university must through necessity attend classes for three extra days this year, they may wring a small amount of satisfaction from the fact that they can laze around an extra week this summer.

Due to the fact that there must be a minimum of a full 35 weeks in every semester, it was necessary to subtract three days from the Christmas holidays this winter leaving only 11 free days.

However, as compensation, every time such an action is necessary it works out that such a year is preceded or followed with a summer vacation which is longer by a week.

Last year the summer vacation extended from May 10, 1937, to August 23, 1937, while the forthcoming vacation will extend from May 9, 1938, to August 29, 1938, or an extension of one week.

Students will also be interested to learn that the 1938 Christmas holidays will be almost three weeks long, beginning December 21 and ending January 9.

Cups And Medals Awarded To Coeds At Intramural Fete

W. A. A. Certificates Given To Ten; Volleyball Squad Is Announced

Swimming Certificates, Gold Medals, Proficiency Awards Are Also Given

At the intramural banquet which took place in the gym last night awarding of cups and presentation of medals was the main business. The supper was served in buffet style.

First on the program was awarding of W.A.A. certificates to Mary Sala, Edith Salvi, Meta Hunter, Mary Anxo, June Bradbury, Mary Urrutia, Ann Wedertz, Helen Westall, Ann Gamble and Mary Arentz.

Varsity Volleyball

Mary Mathews announced the varsity volleyball team, which consisted of Shirley Fuetsch, Eleanor Goldsworthy, Kennedy Walker, Betty Parish, Shirley Marshall, Earlmond Baker, Betty Kornmayer, Patricia Turner and Mary Mathews.

Women receiving proficiencies were Mary Anxo, Anita Capitani, Marcelle Bawden, Sarah Bawden, Margaret Harrison and Frances Nichols.

Swimming Certificates

The five women receiving varsity swimming certificates were Dorothy Kunsch, Betty Johnson, Ann Gamble, Mary Arentz and Helen Westall. Betty Brannin received her senior life saving certificate.

Gold medals were awarded to Frances Smith and Emily Tholl, and bronze medals were given to Verna Bullis and Gene Wines.

Skit Given

Members of Gothic N gave a skit telling of the requirements a woman must meet to be eligible to the organization. Those taking part in the skit were Betty Kornmayer, Patricia Turner, Frances Smith, Elizabeth Best, Emily Tholl, Frances Nichols, Kennedy Walker and Mrs. Mae Simas.

The volleyball trophy was awarded to the Independents; archery cup, "Independents"; swimming cup, Pi Beta Phi; tennis cup, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Student Tickets To Be Received

In order to keep a closer check on student body tickets, a space on the upper left hand corner of the cards next semester, will be left open for the comptroller's receipt number, student body president Oick Shaw announced this week.

The tickets will not be valid for any campus functions unless the registration receipt number is stamped on the card, Taw said. This provision is being made so that no one can use a card unless he has paid for it, and so that no one person can possess more than one card.

No further change except in the color of the card will be made.

Barnstorming Tour Grows As Aggies Schedule A Game

Wolf Pack Schedule Now Includes Nine Games In Ten Days

Bawden Is Out Temporarily; Squad Strengthened By J. C. Transfer

By ROSS ASHLEY

The U. N. basketball team's scheduled barnstorming tour assumed the proportions of an endurance contest this week when Coach J. E. "Doc" Martie announced the addition of another school to the list of opponents for the trip.

The newly-scheduled game is with the strong Utah Aggie squad, at Logan, Utah, on January 6. This contest will fill one of the two open dates on the program, and throw the Wolves into nine games in ten days.

Squad Strengthened

The squad was strengthened early this week when Ray Harris, transfer from Sacramento J. C., reported for practice. However, the addition of Harris, an experienced and steady guard, was offset by the loss of Elmer Bawden, first-string guard, who received a sprained ankle in a scrimmage Wednesday and is out of practice temporarily.

Martie stressed offensive play in practice this week, with the squad running through its point-getting formations and trying them against actual competition in scrimmage sessions. The players are beginning to handle the plays smoothly and to get their eyes on the basket, and look as if they are about ready to start clicking when they get into competition.

Coach Martie will probably pick a squad of ten men to make the barnstorming tour next week. The men chosen will report back immediately after Christmas, to get a little practice before leaving for Colorado on December 28.

Upperclass Women To Hear Offender

Third-Time Frosh Violators Scheduled To See Dean

With one offender, Nonie Goldwater, scheduled to appear before the women's upperclass committee, that governing body will hold its final meeting of the semester in the student union building Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

"The underclass woman was reported to have been sitting on the senior bench, for which offense she will have to scrub the bench with a toothbrush at a time to be decided by the committee," Nina Nina Bozkiewicz, chairman of the group said yesterday.

Two other freshman women, Elizabeth MacDonald and Catherine Gianella, each a third time offender, will appear before Dean Margaret Mack sometime next week.

All offenders will be required to put on an entertaining skit or song at the first student body meeting of next semester, Miss Bozkiewicz said.

Women serving on the upperclass committee will continue to hold their positions through the next semester. Appointments made in the fall semester by the senate hold over through the spring unless members are found uncooperative and unwilling to share in the work of upholding the traditions.

Coed Rifle Team Challenges Issued

Challenges issued by Nevada women's rifle team to ten other universities have been accepted, according to Eunice Beckley, manager.

The scheduled matches include Universities of Wichita, Maryland, Syracuse, Missouri, Cornell, Michigan and Washington; Beaver college, Connecticut State and Northwestern.

Fifty-five colleges will be challenged, with the matches played off during the spring semester.

There will be no rifle Tuesday. Scoring will be recorded after Christmas vacation to determine eligibility for varsity, Miss Beckley said.

Meeting Is Held By Chi Delta Phi

Christmas traditions and how they are related to the birth of Christ were discussed Wednesday night before the members of Chi Delta Phi, English honor society, by the Reverend B. H. Thomas of St. Stephen's chapel at their monthly meeting.

There was a short business meeting, followed by an hour spent in singing Christmas carols. Refreshments were served. The meeting was held at the Kappa Alpha Theta house and the Theta members of Chi Delta Phi were hostesses.

STOP WORRYING, GRADES OUT AFTER XMAS

If you are worrying about your grades for they will not be sent out from the registrar's office until December 28 or 29, according to Mrs. Rhodes, registrar.

Thus, they will arrive too late for the folks to change their minds about buying that much desired gift for you. It is a cinch you will be safe until then, because grades will be sent out then, only if the professors get them to the registrar's office by Monday, December 27.

Honor roll will not be made up until the spring semester begins, because of the short vacation over the holidays. Again, if you can "bull" the folks into thinking you made the honor roll, then cover-up later by saying the office made a mistake, you can make the holidays very profitable for yourself.

It is risky business however, as parents have a habit of checking up, and they are very apt to find that the office doesn't make mistakes.

Mrs. Rhodes informs all students wish their grades sent to any address not now designated in the office, to see her immediately, and have the address changed. If the address is not changed before Christmas vacation starts, the grades will be sent to the address now on file in the office, she said.

Ronzone Chosen Football Manager For 1938 Season

Dick Ronzone was elected football manager for 1938 at a meeting of the managers' committee last night.

Ronzone was a sophomore manager this year. He was elected from a group consisting of Clifford Quillo, Dave Langberg and Harry Ackerman.

Sophomore managers selected for next year are Fred McIntyre, Pete Fisher, Lee Conway and Bob Madison.

The committee of election consists of: Doug Dashiell, head football coach; Joe Lommori, student representative; George Ardans, present football manager; Hank Clayton, representative of Block N society; Dick Taw, A.S.U.N. president, and Robert Creps, graduate manager and non-voting member of the committee.

Ronzone, a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and Sagers, men's service organization, will succeed George Ardans to the position.

According to word received by university authorities this week, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is planning to send Sir Hubert B. Ames, distinguished Canadian lecturer, to the University of Nevada early next spring.

Ames will probably spend some week in April at the university lecturing before the students, and will deliver on the average of at least two lectures a day. Topics for the lectures will be outstanding questions of political science.

Sir Ames has been for seven years the treasurer of the League of Nations and has traveled through all parts of the United States and most of Europe.

New Ed. Courses Will Be Offered

Three new courses will be offered in the Education department next semester, according to Mrs. Helen Kannerberg, secretary to Dean F. W. Traner.

Education 59 is the "teaching of social studies." This course will be offered to seniors in education who are interested and to teachers in service. It will be taught by Dr. Harold Brown on Monday evenings.

Education 70 is the "education of exceptional children." This will also be offered to seniors and teachers in service. It will be taught by Professor J. P. Puffinbarger.

Education 56 is "Scouteraft" for women. This is offered for all women interested in Scouting. There will be a laboratory of actual work with the Scouts and a lecture to make out plans for Scout meetings. The lecture period will be Monday at 4 o'clock. This will be taught by Mrs. Mae Simas, physical education professor and head of the Reno Girl Scout council.

All three of these courses give two units of credit.

Students expecting mail from home are advised by Robert Prescott, university station superintendent, to call for that mail before leaving for home.

If packages, letters, etc., are not claimed by this time, they will be sent to the main office, he said. They will be held there until word is received from the student to whom the mail is intended. To avoid this difficulty, Prescott advocates that students leave a forwarding address at the local office.

GET YOUR MAIL EARLY OR "BAIL IT OUT"

Nothing new has been added to the document. Revision was limited to clarifying wordings and reorganization of the parts.

Members who have worked on the committee are Hudson Lee, Bette Naimsmith, Clyde Keegal, Richard Taw and Norma Anderson.

Deutscher Verein Re-Elects Officers

Members of the Deutscher Verein, university German club, unanimously re-elected the officers of the organization at a meeting held last night at the Mackay Science hall.

Eugene Jahn was retained as president, Clyde Beck as vice president and Felicia Moore as secretary-treasurer.

Seven Y. W. Coeds Chosen To Attend Asilomar Conclave

Delegates Leave For Meet In California During Xmas Holidays

Conclave Scheduled To Last A Week; Over 550 Girls Slated To Attend

Seven women selected to attend the annual Asilomar conference as delegates from the University of Nevada Y.W.C.A. will leave Reno for California Christmas night.

Jean Smith, Y.W.C.A. president, Lila Stoddard, Sue Hicks, Mary Records, Mary Pray, and Miss Eva Adams of the English department will represent Nevada at the convention. Funds to send the delegates were raised by a series of waffle breakfasts given by the college group, and were supplemented by contributions of the Reno Y.W.C.A.

Lasts A Week

Lasting for a week, the subjects dealt with in convention will include campus and world-wide problems.

A survey of the Nevada campus traditions, and their values is being taken by the Y. W. group, to be presented for discussion.

Dr. D. Elton Truethood, of Stanford, who spoke at the University of Nevada commencement exercises last year, will lead a discussion group. Other groups will be led by Dr. George A. Coe of Columbia University, and Dr. Kirby Page, author of "Must We Go To War?"

Any students interested are welcome to attend the convention, paying their own expenses to Asilomar, and $15 board and room.

About 550 delegates from the Universities of Arizona, California, Hawaii, and Nevada, are expected to be present.

Canadian Speaker To Lecture Here

Sir Herbert B. Ames Is Sponsored By Carnegie
Endowment

German Situation Is Outlined By Speaker

Jack Maack, downtown business man, spoke to a group last night on situations prevailing in Germany. The lecture was sponsored by the Deutscher Verein, German club.

"People of Germany have little freedom of speech; and radios, newspapers and magazines are controlled by the government," stated Maack.

He went on to explain that the people are forced to vote for the Nazi program whether they desire to or not. However, Maack said he believes that Hitler would still win by an overwhelming majority of the people if a fair vote were taken.

One of the greatest rearmament programs ever attempted is now being conducted by Germany. As many as 2500 planes assembled on "air day." Although these planes are commercial they can be changed into fighting planes within 24 hours, Maack said.

Every German youth is required to take six months of training in camps where strict military discipline is enforced.

Every school house is equipped with a box of sand in one corner, so that if a bomb is dropped on the school the sand can be used to put out the fire.

"I believe the finest schools in the world are in Germany, and are superior to universities in the United States," he stated.

New Constitution To Be Circulated

Copies of the revised A.S.U.N. constitution now in the process of being stenciled will be circulated for student approval early next semester, according to Richard Taw, student body president.

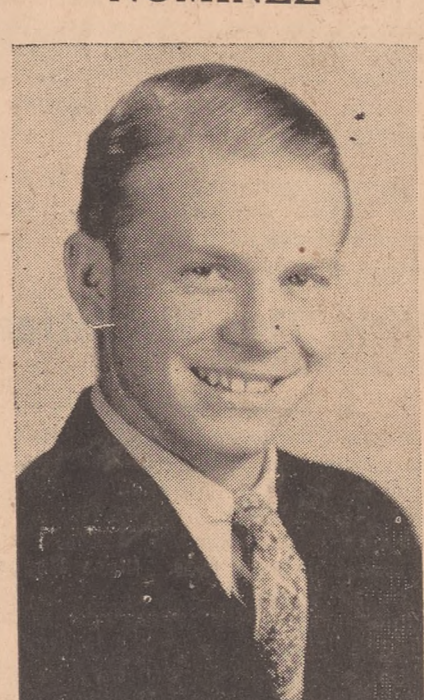

Nothing new has been added to the document. Revision was limited to clarifying wordings and reorganization of the parts.

Members who have worked on the committee are Hudson Lee, Bette Naimsmith, Clyde Keegal, Richard Taw and Norma Anderson.

Deutscher Verein Re-Elects Officers

Members of the Deutscher Verein, university German club, unanimously re-elected the officers of the organization at a meeting held last night at the Mackay Science hall.

Eugene Jahn was retained as president, Clyde Beck as vice president and Felicia Moore as secretary-treasurer.

Prominent Student Enters District Competition

Russell McDonald, senior student of the university, was selected yesterday afternoon as the Nevada candidate for the Rhodes scholarship by the state selection committee, eliminating Robert Miller and Marvin Moler.

McDonald, a graduate of Reno high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Malcolm McDonald of 323 Thoma street, Reno.

He will compete Monday with candidates from five other states in the southwestern district before the district committee in San Francisco. Four will be chosen from this group for the Rhodes scholarship award.

Prominent Student

McDonald will graduate at Christmas, completing the requirements for graduation in three and one-half years. An honor roll student, McDonald has taken an active part in student affairs. He was candidate for student body president last year and has served as president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is active in Blue Key, men's service organization, and held the head chair in the order of De Molay.

The states sending representatives to the district meeting are Colorado, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, California and Nevada.

The Nevada committee is composed of: Dr. J. E. Church, chairman; Paul A. Harwood, state secretary; George A. Whitley, Reno attorney and Rhodes scholar from Colorado, and Dr. S. Allen Lough of the University of Nevada chemistry department.

Professor Harwood will serve on the California state committee, meeting in San Francisco tomorrow, and on the southwestern district committee which meets Monday.

Chairman of the district committee is Dr. Robert Sproule.

Student To Speak Before Photo Club

A series of student lectures will be inaugurated tonight by the Camera Club when Roy Shipp, campus candid camera fan, speaks before the group.

The address by Shipp will probably be the first and the last of this year, but more lectures on different aspects of photography will be given next semester by club members. Shipp's lecture will be illustrated by colored slides and movies, furnished by a national kodak company.

Camera Contest Will End On January 15, 1938

The Camera Club contest started during the early part of the semester has only 29 more days until the closing date, Ned Westover, president of the group said. Camera enthusiasts are urged to "shoot" their pictures early and pick their best group of three as explained in the rules of the contest.

The contest rules are as follows:

It is open to all amateur photographers who enter a group of three pictures—one candid, one scenic, and one sport.

The pictures must be at least two and one-quarter by three and one-quarter inches in size. Smaller pictures do not show enough detail to be adequately judged.

Negatives of the pictures entered should be saved for future use if the picture is to be used for publication.

Pictures taken prior to the opening date of the present semester are not eligible.

The closing date of the contest is January 15, 1938. This will allow participants to "shoot" scenes, one of which may prove to be the artistic winner.

Quality will not be the main factor in judging the candid and sport pictures, but naturally will not be considered first in the artistic picture.

Surprise Party

A surprise party was given for Miss Edith Ruebsam by the Education 34 class Wednesday morning.

Christmas carols were sung and refreshments were served by the class members. Christmas stories were told.

Debate Activities For Next Semester Begin After Xmas

Intramural Tournament Will Begin In Second Week; Many Entered

Debate activities for next semester will begin immediately after the Christmas vacation, according to Professor Robert S. Griffin, debate coach. The intramural tournament will begin the second week of next semester, and several teams will be entered in the competition. At the present time there are thirty students who are trying for the university squad, and the intramural teams will be formed from this group. The Ginsburg trophy, given to the winner of this tournament, was won last year by Francis Breen and Leo McCuddin.

The question to be debated this year is, "Resolved, that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration in all industrial disputes."

Teams from Nevada will attend the Western States tournament which is to be held during the first week in April at Stockton, Griffin said. The Nevada team, composed of William Cashill and Bryce Rhodes, graduates with the class of 1937, took first honors at the meet last year.

During the second week in April, Nevada will act as host to the members of the Pacific Forensic league, which will hold its annual debate tournament on the Nevada campus.

Post Composition Is To Be Published

Word received from New York today said that the choral composition "The Last Lullaby" by Professor T. H. Post, music department head, and Don Harvey Bell of Reno has been accepted by G. Shirmer, Inc. for publication.

Sung last semester by the Campus Choral club at a musical recital held in the Twentieth Century Club, the piece was well received by the Reno audience. The melody was written by Professor Post and the lyrics by Bell. According to Carl Ingle, president of the New York music publishing concern, the composition will be released within the next few months. The piece was dedicated to Mrs. Dorothy B. Post.

Mrs. Rae Griswold Cunningham, formerly of Reno, and Earl Charles Behrens of San Francisco were married in Las Vegas last week. Mrs. Behrens attended the University of Nevada where she was affiliated with the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Behrens is political editor of the San Francisco Chronicle.

Course In Scouting Will Be Offered Next Semester

The University of Nevada, under the department of education, will offer a one credit course in scouting next semester to all men students. All students desiring to enroll are asked to apply at the office of the department of education.

Headed by W. E. Whidden, Scout Executive for Nevada, laboratory work in actual local situations dealing with boy problems will be given an hour weekly in addition to the regular one hour lectures.

The course includes not only a study of the nature of the boy and a review of aims and methods of education and their application to the program of scouting, but gives a complete picture of types of leisure time programs being offered boys in America today.

According to Whidden, the course will be given at a time suitable to the largest number of enrollees. Speakers will be brought to the course on the following subjects: The Nature of the Boy, Educational Objectives, Scouting Objectives, Scouting Methods of Education, The Project Method of Education, Program Building, Administration Ceremonies in Scouting, Education for Character, Scouting Applied to Life and additional topics.

The course was introduced on the Nevada campus last year. Similar programs are being instituted in the larger colleges of America.

With The Wolfettes

Women's intramural volleyball tournament ended last night when the Independents took the championship by defeating Delta Delta Delta 29-27.

Unorganized Independents defeated Gamma Phi Beta 48-39. Since Kappa Alpha Theta and Manzanita passed by mutual consent the scores for these two teams will stand as before.

The Independents led the rating of the intramural volleyball tournament, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta tied for second place, Unorganized fourth, Gamma Phi Beta fifth, Pi Beta Phi sixth, and Beta Sigma Omicron seventh.

Rules governing women's intramural sports were discussed at a recent meet of the intramural board. Nothing definite was decided upon, but several suggestions were made. Women on the intramural board who

Many Students Aid In Radio Programs

Group Will Not Broadcast During Xmas Vacation

Over eighty University of Nevada students and faculty members have broadcast over the air since the university air feature was inaugurated seven weeks ago, it was estimated today by Jack Morse, student director of the program.

"In the seven weeks since the organization of the Radio guild on the campus, membership in the radio group has grown steadily, despite many difficulties encountered in presenting such a feature each week," Morse said.

Working in hand with the guild is a class in radio technique who help arrange the program. Emerson Smith, KOH production manager, is in charge of the class.

The guild will not broadcast December 23 or during the Christmas vacation, according to Ben Moore, assistant director of the program. Work will be resumed, however, on January 6 of the new year.

assisted in drawing up tentative rules were Teletia Kim, chairman; Mary Mathews, Shirley Fuetsch, Betty Parrish, Rebecca Taitel, Anita Capitani, Frances Smith, Gene Wines, and Dorothy Schooley.

Women's basketball will start January 11, according to Mrs. Mae Simas, W.A. A. faculty advisor.

Janet Parish, basketball manager, will have charge of organizing the schedules. The basketball cup has been held twice by Delta Delta Delta, and once by the Independents.

Archery practice for the annual winter meet will begin January 9, Mrs. Mae Simas announced last week.

Anyone who has participated in the past is eligible to participate in the meet. "We would like to have at least sixteen shooting each week because only the four highest scores are sent in,"

Waffle Breakfast Nets Y.W.C.A. $18

With a net profit of $18, the Y.W.C.A. waffle breakfast at the Delta Delta Delta chapter house, Sunday, December 12 was reported a financial and social success by Jean Smith, president of the organization.

This fund will enable the Y.W.C.A. to send another representative to the annual Asilomar, intercollegiate student and faculty convention, December 26-January 6 at Monterey, California, Miss Smith said.

Members of Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega fraternities turned out 100% and several other houses were well represented at the breakfast.

Y.W.C.A. members on the committee were: Janet Holcomb, chairman, Sue Hicks, Kay Dalzell, Lois Holcomb, Isabelle Jarvis, Margaret Records, Lila Stoddard, and Mary Handley.

Mrs. Simas said.

Senior Life Saving tests were completed last week with six women passing.

Riding, golf, and tennis will not begin until about March 15, 1938, due to weather conditions.

Two tap dancing classes will be organized next semester under the direction of Miss Katherine Schnell. Classes in beginning and advanced tap will be given.

According to a certain health society, girls should be kissed on the nape of the neck. They maintain that it is more sanitary and the thrill is the same.

Semi-Annual Dance Plans Almost Complete

Plans for the semi-annual Blue Key "get-together" to be held at the beginning of the spring semester on January 4 are progressing rapidly, according to Kirk Fairhurst, president of the group.

The dance which is traditionally held by the service organization at the beginning of each semester to promote good feeling among students on the campus is expected to be held at Tony's El Patio Ballroom.

Over $200 was taken in at the door by Blue Key at the last dance, but members of the committee in charge of the affair predict that that sum will be exceeded this year.

Members of the committee placed in charge of preparations for the get-together include Ben Morehouse, chairman, Hudson Lee, Basil Kehoe, and Fran Breen.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Reuben Tuttle and his campus orchestra, Fairhurst said.

Beta Sigs Honor 49th Anniversary

Beta Sigma Omicron celebrated its forty-ninth anniversary Sunday evening. The alumni chapter entertained the members and pledges at the home of Mrs. Chris Wogan, 753 University avenue, at a keno party.

Many prizes were given, and gifts were distributed from a gaily decorated tree. Christmas carols were sung, after which refreshments were served.

Creel Is Awarded High Honor Medal By Farm Bureau

Is Second Westerner And Nevada To Receive The Award

Cecil W. Creel, director of the University of Nevada agricultural extension service, was one of two farm leaders who were awarded the American farm bureau federation's distinguished service award this week.

Creel, who was last month elected president of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, was accorded the high national honor by the federation at its annual banquet in Chicago along with Dr. H. A. Morgan, director of the Tennessee Valley authority and former president of the University of Tennessee.

Both men received the organization's distinguished service award gold medal and diploma which has been held previously by only 16 persons, one of whom is President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Creel was chosen for the award early last month before he was elevated to the leadership of the education group.

He is both the second westerner and the second Nevada to have received the award since its establishment in 1928. Mrs. Florence Bovett, secretary of the Nevada state farm bureau was accorded the honor in 1934, and was the second woman to be named to it.

Creel has been director of extension at the university for 17 years, and has during recent years been especially active through the land-grant colleges and otherwise in the interests of the American farmer. He is a University of Nevada graduate with the class of 1911.

Before returning to Nevada, Creel, in his capacity as head of the land-grant association, is conferring with President Roosevelt and members of congress in Washington on the relationship of the federal government to the land-grant institutions.

WHAT THE MAN THINKS OF HER DRESS—

Here it is, girls. At last the rugged individuals of the campus come forth with the long awaited masculine viewpoint.

Here is some advice for your New Year's resolutions, gathered from here and there, from the men about the campus.

LEGS are best accompanied by stockings, not net, and not skimpy little-kid kind we call bobby socks.

MAKE-UP is best in small doses—in the right places; meaning no lipstick on the teeth and no smears; meaning a shiny nose is better than too much powder; meaning no eye-shadow.

EYE-BROWS should not be plucked, but allowed to take their natural course, or politely coaxed into better patterns; meaning no extra twigs—no whiskers.

PERFUME is nice if it is casual, fresh, not heavy; a little goes a long way.

SCARFS are for the neck. Buy a hat in case of rain.

VEILS should be worn only with appropriate attire and then they should not be too long.

SKI clothes are for winter sports. Wear skirts on the campus.

HAIR should be taken care of. Here it is best not to let nature take its course. No friz, no fluff, no starched coiffure. But sleek smartness.

HEELS should be low. It's safer, more casual, better taste.

A Christmas dance will be held Saturday night at the house. Merle Snider's orchestra will furnish the music.

The Lambda Chi traveling secretary will visit the Reno chapter from the 16th to the 19th. He will be entertained by the various members during his stay here.

A Christmas dance will be held Saturday night at the Century club with Buddy Williams' orchestra furnishing the music.

The Sigma Nus will have a Christmas party from 5:30 to 6:30 Friday night. A turkey dinner will be held afterwards. Newton Crumley, an alumnus, is furnishing the turkeys.

Marion C. Brooks, University of Nevada graduate and Miss Ruth Brown will be married December 19.

Brooks is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and is employed by the Chiquita Mining Company. The couple will reside in Goodsprings Nevada.

Jack Don Layson and Doris Bath, university students were married Saturday morning.

Layson is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and Miss Bath is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

The couple will reside in Reno, and Mrs. Layson will continue her studies at the university.

Grad Helps Establish Officers' Association

Lieut. Willard T. Douglas, '37, graduate of the school of civil engineering, was one of a group of officers who established a chapter of the Reserve Officers' association at Elko, Nevada last week.

Douglas, who is stationed at district headquarters, CCC, Fort Douglas, Utah, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurlow Douglas of Reno.

The officers made the trip from Fort Douglas to Elko by plane. While in Elko Douglas met several of his Reno friends and former University of Nevada classmates, including Newton Crumley, Jr., '32, Fred Fader, '32, Granville Leavitt, '28, Pete Walters, George Gottschalk, and Paul Leonard, '35.

THE BAND BOX

By BOB PARKER

Mark Nesbitt and George Beattie playing double piano were the featured student talent at the Thursday night university variety radio show over station KOH.

Mary Cleary and her piano accordion, Eleanor Wyatt, ivory-tickler deluxe, Betty Shidler, songstress, and Oxborrow (Jed) and Walker (Gordon) deserve honorable mention for their efforts. The latter pair have received favorable comment on their "Hot-shot duos." Jed plays the clarinet and Gordon the guitar.

"Student musical talent is especially desired," said Jack Morse, student director of the program, "if you play a musical instrument, sing, etc, see us and arrange for an audition. We'll be more than glad to give you a chance on the air."

Discussing the use of the Carnegie Music Library at the university, Professor Post, concluded the semester's meetings for Tau Beta Rho, musical appreciation club.

The music library is made available to colleges and schools by the Carnegie Foundation. More than 800 recordings and 150 books on music were recently given to the University of Nevada.

During Christmas vacation, members of Tau Beta Rho will investigate the possibility of organizing musical appreciation chapters of music lovers in their home towns.

Extension service of music libraries of other universities was also discussed by Post, and the belief was expressed that similar methods could be used to make the Carnegie music library here at the university available to responsible local groups.

According to James Galvin, president of the organization, a string quartet may be organized and sponsored by the group next semester.

Now for the final whiny of the season:

"I didn't raise my daughter to be fiddled with," said the cat when she rescued her offspring from the violin factory.

... Which is as bad as the lament of the shipwrecked tuba player: "Two hundred and fifty women on board an' I gotta get marooned with my wife!"

ON THE CUFF

We see where publication of "The Last Lullaby," composed by Professor Post and Don Bell will be made soon. This choral number, written for girls' voices, has been accepted by G. Shirmer, Inc. of New York.

Another musical appreciation society, this time for townspeople, was recently proposed at a meeting of the Nevada Teachers association.

According to the critics, the past musical season has been one of the most outstanding in the history of the university. We heartily agree, and only hope that the coming semester will see as much good work as was done this semester.

Final presentation of the "Messiah" last Wednesday night at the Civic auditorium, drew many favorable comments. Many persons, skeptical of the talent supply in Reno and Sparks as well as the university, came away feeling that the university and community musicians and singers had presented an outstanding piece of work.

In a recent letter to Professor T. H. Post, music department head and conductor of the "Messiah," Dr. Walter E. Clark, university president, commented on the excellent rendering of the oratorio at the Sunday performance and commended the music department for undertaking the Handel masterpiece.

Post also announced today that the selection of Brahms' "Requiem," an oratorio similar to the "Messiah," may be made for presentation December next year.

Beginning next semester the combined groups on the campus will meet Wednesday evenings with the community group, it was announced today.

As now scheduled the regular choral club will meet on Monday afternoons, at the same time as now, and at 7:30 Wednesday with the community group. The newly proposed choral organization of 16 members, will meet in a special practice on Fridays at 4:00 p. m.

"The new schedule arrangement will facilitate the handling of the choral organizations," Post said, "as well as making it possible to give more thorough attention to the individual members."

Indications point to the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Pinafore" as the likely selection for the musical comedy proposed in conjunction with Mackay Day, in the spring of next semester. Several scripts of various operettas were received, mulled over and rejected. Pinafore, however, seemed to be the most likely in the opinion of Professor W. B. Miller, dramatics coach, and Professor Post.

SIGN UP—NOW!

Despite continued opposition in some quarters, students are rapidly signing the petition for the proposed new student union building, and from present indications, enough signatures will have been obtained by the end of next week so that the documents may be presented to the Board of Regents for approval.

A rough compilation of figures last night showed that approximately 500 signatures have been obtained, with a large portion of students yet to be contacted.

There are difficulties in circulating these petitions around so that everyone in favor of the plan will be able to sign, especially in cases of students who do not live in fraternity or sorority houses or dormitories. To remedy this situation, petitions are available for signing in any office in the student union building.

Don't wait to be approached. Your signature is needed, and needed now.

Drop in the student union building, and put your okay on a progressive move.

GOOD NEWS!

A welcome bit of news this week is the announcement that work on a new athletic field north of the campus will begin this winter or early next spring.

According to plans of President Clark, the new field will be approximately 400 by 400 feet, and will be used as a supplementary football training field, for intramural baseball, and other athletic events.

The need for an adequate field for intramural baseball has long been felt, and the new diamond, when completed, will give the Greek houses an opportunity to carry on the favorite intramural sport without danger of injuries, which have characterized seasons in the past.

Although the new acres may not be available for use for at least two years, it is another progressive advancement that can be looked forward to.

LETTERS To The Editor

To the Editor:
My purpose has been accomplished. The proposed $125,000 Student Office Building plan has been defeated by the students and now lies in state with the other foolish ideas proposed by the two-bit campus politicians.

However there were several derogatory remarks in the column, Letters to the Editor, by students who were afraid to sign their names and I feel that it is my duty to answer those remarks.

First: There seems to be the opinion among certain would-be politicians, that because I am a freshman, I should be denied the right to say whether I should pay an additional $2.50 a semester for an absolutely unnecessary Student Office Building.

Second: I don't know the facts. Of course the fact that statistics prove that college attendance is going down and will continue to do so should be overlooked. The fact that the main source of income to pay for the building is based in the assumption that the enrollment of Nevada will always remain over a thousand, thus allowing the collection of the annual $5,000. What would happen if the enrollment should fall to 750 of 800; where would the necessary $5,000 come from? The fact that the students feel they don't need an additional office building should also be overlooked.

Third: That I want publicity. That works both ways. The fellows who

Sagens Make Change In Constitution

The new Sagens constitution which was accepted by the student senate at the solons' last meeting has already been amended, Eunice Beckley president of the Sagens said last night.

The amendment which has already been accepted changes the constitution to read as follows: If a girl shall be dropped from the organization for reasons of inactivity, or lack of interest her place will not be filled until the following semester. However if a girl should resign for reasons accepted by the group, her place shall be filled immediately.

DORSEY NAMED PREXY

Duncan Dorsey was selected president of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity for next semester at the election held Monday night.

Other officers elected were: Harry Plath, vice president, Bob Vaughn, secretary; Ed Olsen, house manager; Clyde Keegel, senior censor; Don Cole, junior censor; Pat McDonnell, chaplain; Louis Nash, tyler, and Ted Bafford, historian.

started this plan didn't do it for the love of work.

Needless to say it was gratifying to read last week's editorial; it was just what was needed to kill your brain child. So here's a toast to those who worked so valiantly for their Office Building; may they be as peaceful as their dead proposal.

Ralph Stone.
(Editor's note: Well, anyway, I'll bet my father can lick your father!)

PICKLED PLATTITUDES

By MAX JENSEN

Brackett was found, with the Sagebrush, lock, stock, and cut morgue, under his left arm, laughing in a hideous "Black Chapel" manner at his new address at the corner of East street and the railroad tracks.

I trailed him with last week's copy to the express agency, below the depot, but didn't quite think he'd hide-out beyond the end of Commercial Row. He tells me those remarks he made about my column in last week's paper were just a joke, so we're on fairly good terms again.

About the best and only argument left against putting through the new student building plan is "I'm agin' it." The tenacity with which the anti-everything faction clings to this reason for not signing the petition would be admirable if it were applied to some really commendable campaign, say a movement to reduce the effect of sun spots on Japan's armament program.

What happened or what is happening to the theme song of the state? I mean the very good and popular slogan "One Sound State." I have a faint remembrance that somewhere, sometime, someone referred to the University of Nevada, in a nicely turned phrase, as "one sound university in one sound state." Lately, there has been reason to question the advisability of using that slogan in connection with the university.

What I'm getting at is: N. B., note: If Nevada is "One Sound State," and the university is admittedly not so sound, on one side at least and possibly on others, just what should prevent the state from surrendering part of its hitherto jealously guarded reputation as a financial rock of Gibraltar, in favor of maintaining the same kind of reputation for the state university? Not so long ago, the university as well as the state enjoyed a reputation for soundness. Perhaps the state has a firm enough foothold to tender a little aid to its institutions which are not so high and dry on the aforementioned financial rock.

It's a fine thing that the state maintains its reputation for soundness. Perhaps that standing among state governments should be maintained even at the expense of some of the state's institutions. It is possible that some people would take the opposite stand. In any event, with the mechanical and civil engineering schools at the university badly in need of funds, I am tempted to answer that Nevada is "One Sound State" with an idle question of "What for?" Laying myself wide open to derisive laughter and scornful dismissal, my impression of heavy financial management includes more than being free of indebtedness. If the highly-touted soundness of Nevada is more fact than fiction, may not the university expect some much needed funds from the state government, without urging the state anywhere near the brink of bankruptcy.

Levity is what I crave. I've been reading a very revealing article on the University of Chicago, where more excitement can be aroused in the student body over a philosophical dispute between brilliant young President Hutchins, and a faculty member, than over the exploits of Bruiser Benzovkovichoff at right tackle in the varsity line. Comparing the intellectual freedom and vitality of that institution to the very ordinary and stereotyped four years at the average university, from one of which I expect to graduate, is not a very cheerful picture to the senior, who sees the inevitability of having in a very few months to demonstrate his superiority as a degree holder. So, levity is what I crave.

But, before I turn to other sections of the paper for a few laughs, I'm going to read the following revelation for the third time, to be sure I said it right.

Underneath the bustling executive air which prevails at all times in Tammany Hall, B.S. (before Stone) known as the Student union-building, there is a tense under current of antagonistic competition. Inmates (in any sense you want to interpret the word) pass each other with hardly a glance, muttering monosyllabic grunts which pass for greetings. The outside senses an octopus-like jealousy in everyone, reaching out toward all other frequenters of the building.

There is an attitude of preparedness and tenseness on the part of everyone, from Creps, the man who tends the furnace in the basement, to Wilson, who gnaws pencils in his genius breeding garret in the top.

Strategic positions are maintained all times, from which everyone can watch everyone else. Then at the words, "I'll take you," from anyone, release and activity come spontaneously. Office doors bang, stair steps clatter as we pound down into the main lounge to witness the contest. Furniture skids across the floor, rugs crumple and slide, coats and sweaters are shed, spectators line the marked space, the challenger swings a couple of experimental rights and lefts, and the handball game is on.

Doherty just played the last set of Thursday's schedule with one who has held the title of the building off and on now for a day or so. I don't like to be boastful but Doherty lost to the fellow who dots the 's in this column.

All challenges are accepted in this perennial tournament. There are as many champions as there are generals in the Mexican army. They are deposed just as often, too. Drop in any afternoon.

If there is anyone in the building, not even barring certain members of the faculty who drop around once in awhile, I think I can arrange a game. All entry blanks must be in the mail not later than midnight, December 24. Simply enclose a self addressed stamped envelope, and a list of your free nights—oh, hell, no, that's my other idea.

PINE RE-ELECTED

Edward Pine was re-elected president of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at a meeting held Monday night.

Other officers elected include: Sam Basta, vice president; Gordon Thompson, secretary; Hudson Lee, treasurer; Ray Waldrom, usher; Joe Eadrich, sentinal; Milton Mapes, keeper of annals; and Harry Ackerman, palm reporter.

Editor's note:—By processes which I thought very ingenious, I managed to evade that madman Jensen for 13 days. But my Herculean efforts were not enough. He caught me. Result: look at his column. And when he finally snagged me he wasn't alone. I still think the only reason he caught up with me is because he had a female accomplice. So this week, I've got to run two columns—to sort of placate Jensen, and anyway, she is sort of nice looking. Here it is.

By SALLY
Since there seems to be a conspiracy working between ye olde editor and some of you readers to banish "Plattitudes Jensen," I have decided to take it upon myself to show you just how pickled one of these columns could be.

Of course I don't have some of the facilities that scribe Jensen has—such as were used in that diversion colored here and there by "draw two Eddie"—those being impossible since I am of the weaker sex and not allowed to take advantage of them.

What shall I pickle about? ? ? ? Oh yes, the student union building. President Tav asked for the women's opinion at the last student body meeting, but before I could drop my two pennies in, a motion in favor of the plan was made and passed.

I may be a bit late but perhaps a view or two of the women's angle of the whole thing might be enlightening, or don't you think so?—We want a new student union building—definitely! Have you ever, I mean you pipers, realized the disadvantages experienced by the fens? While you all stand out in front of the libe and other campus buildings. Now, if we had a room all our own in this up and coming new ASUN building, we could have a place to drag a puff or two, and perhaps do a little piping of our own. Well, the semester is in that last processes of winning up, is it not? What worries me though, is that very few people are in the banquet mood. Woe is me! I guess the good old days are gone forever.

The Campus Players did pull through with one the other night though. All would have been well if some guy hadn't picked what he thought an appropriate menu, we had ham—get it?

The ham wasn't bad though compared to some of the jokes passed around—especially ones like the young man who took his girl friend's suggestion and flipped a coin to decide whether he should have a date on the weekend or visit a phrenologist.

These YWCA waffle breakfasts are quite the thing but I have a nicker that says they would have bigger turnouts among the male element if they would guarantee three glasses of tomato juice with each waffle—that is, of course, if they insist on holding them on Sunday mornings.

The Press Clubbers managed to sandwich in a meeting between study sessions, and a very likely affair it was too. They even got down to making a good suggestion to the effect that instead of using their funds to support some already well-established banquet hall or other places of frivolity that the money be used to start a library for journalism students. I tell you, Nevadans are becoming serious minded, or at least some of them are.

I noticed on the bulletin board a notice—that naturally being the place where one notices notices—that the familiar Coffin and Keys sign was up. Might I

United States mail doubles during last week. . . Santa Claus swamped with demands from "good little boys."

This was the situation throughout the country as press time rolled around today, and many of the letters were from Reno celebrities anticipating the advent of Old Saint Nick.

Through special courtesy of the Old Yuletide hero we bring to you a few of the excerpts of these pleading epistles:
Dear Santa:
My Pack has vanished, and I am turning my eyes to new horizons. So, please, Santa if you can just send me a team like the Washington Redskins to keep the Wolves away from my door, and two big bags of luck. Yours, Douglas Dean Dashiell.

The next in line was a note from that prominent Reno poultry man. My Dear Santa Claus:
I'll be leaving on a long, long journey most any day now Santa. I'm going way up into Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming, so you be kind enough to send me some chicken feed and tend to those wonderful fowls of mine? As ever, "Doc."

And from a well-known local sports writer Santa received the following: Dear St. Nicholas:
I'm a hard-working young man; to me, time is money, so I would appreciate it if you would promote a few sport highlights in a Southern Nevada city for a certain writer to put in his column, because I'm getting tired of answering his letters. As always your good little, J. J.

And while I'm on the subject of Christmas letters, here's a little one of my own: Dear Santa:
Remember the boxing gloves you sent me last year for the Block N stag night? Well, this year will you please send me an opponent—one that will lay down for about 25 cents—because we may be ROBBED out of stag night again this year.

A good way of getting rich quick would be to lay your money on the following bowl contests: California over Alabama by seven in the Rose Bowl. Colorado over Rice in the Cotton Bowl, by six. Spearfish State over the Black Knux in the finger bowl by 1-0 (one team failing to show up.)

The eminent Mr. Ty Cobb, former Nevada student and present sports writer tried his best to place two Nevada players in the West Shrine game but failed. Both Cobb and Bob David, Santa Barbara representative tried to persuade the selectors to take notice to their respective candidates of which Sam Basta and Bill Grubbs were named. However, after several weeks of contacts with the committee in charge of selecting players, the following article appeared in a San Francisco paper: "T. R. Cobb (the name is a coincidence), able sports editor of the Nevada State Journal, wrote to plead the cases of two University of Nevada players. Bob David of Berkeley, took typewriter in hand to celebrate the qualifications of a Santa Barbara State College half-back, who, I gather, is a tremendous player. "Both letters arrived to late to be referred to Babe Hollingberry and Percy Loeey, the men who huddle on the Coast selections, and I hope Messrs. Cobb and David will forgive me for not exercising my 3.2 per cent influence with Hollingberry and Loeey."

A certain paper, after giving news items of a debate club meeting added, "there were rumors of refreshments, but the rumors were without spirit, and so was the punch!"

11 Tilts Scheduled For Yearling Hoop Team; May Be More

Over Forty Frosh Turnout For Practices; More Are Expected

Coleman Will Take Active Charge Of Squad Early Next Semester

Although 11 high school and junior college contests have already been scheduled for this year, Frosh Coach Jim Coleman is still looking for teams with which to fill several gaps on his schedule, he said this week. Besides the high school and J. C. games which have been scheduled, the cub hoopers will meet the Cal Aggie frosh in a two game series in the last contests of the season. Coleman expects to fill the open dates on his schedule with other frosh teams from Far-Western conference members or with other local or nearby teams.

Forty Frosh Out About 40 aspiring freshman have been turning out regularly for practice already this semester, and more will be expected to show up when the practice sessions begin next year. Coleman has not yet taken active charge of the squad but will start rounding the squad into condition immediately with the beginning of next semester. He has so far made no attempt to pick any outstanding men, but has numerous former prep school stars trying out for his team. The freshmen start their season immediately after returning to school for the spring semester by meeting Reno high school on the high school court on January 8.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: Jan. 14-15—Sacramento J. C. at Reno. Jan. 19—Sparks at Sparks. Jan. 21—Lassen J. C. at Lassen. Jan. 28—Reno at Reno. Jan. 29—Lassen J. C. at Reno. Feb. 4—Wadsworth at Reno. Feb. 5—Dayton at Reno. Feb. 12—Fallon at Reno. Feb. 18-19—Open. Feb. 23—Sparks at Reno. Feb. 25-26—Cal Aggie frosh at Reno.

Former Student Joins Frat At Missouri

Sherwin Garside, former student at the University of Nevada, now attending the University of Missouri journalism school, was initiated into the Kappa Sigma, social fraternity there recently. Garside took the journalism course here, and was head of the News Bureau. He was also a member of Blue Key, honorary service fraternity.

Rifle Marksmen To Be Chosen January 15

Tryouts for the 1938 men's rifle team will be held each Monday and Wednesday, the remainder of this semester, and until January 15, when a choice of team members will be made, Captain Isbell stated today.

Outstanding senior military students who are expected to bolster the team are: Tom Shone, Bud Owens, Bob Leaver, Hollis McKinnon, Dorence Jameson, Ben Morehouse, and Bob Quirk.

Nevada's rifle team has received challenges from the following rifle teams: New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts; University of Florida, University of California at Los Angeles, University of Pittsburgh, University of Maine, University of Missouri, Pennsylvania State College, Washington State College, and the University of Dayton, Ohio.

Nevada is sending challenges to all men's rifle teams in the United States and Hawaii, who have not already challenged the Nevada team, Captain Isbell said.

Action Pictures Shown By Ski Club

A two-hour show picturing famous ski jumping champions in action was presented a large crowd Wednesday night in the Education auditorium by the U. of N. ski club.

Taken in the Sierras during the many championship meets held there last year, the pictures gave a vivid account of numerous events, showing the thrills and spills of a ski tournament.

Sponsored for the primary purpose of raising money for the Ski club, the pictures were also shown to acquaint Nevada students with the sport and to arouse interest in the Ski club, Don McMeekin, president, said.

Dashiell Elected Head Of Coaches At Western Meet

New Conference Proposals Do Not Materialize At Meeting

Doug Dashiell, Nevada varsity football coach, was elected president of the coaches and graduate managers' group of the Far Western conference at the annual winter meeting of the conference last week.

The expected proposal to enlarge the conference, which, it was thought, might result in the inclusion of Santa Barbara State and the withdrawal of Chico State, failed to materialize. The Santa Barbara representative, Coach "Spud" Harder, was delayed by storms and failed to reach San Francisco in time to attend any of the sessions of the conference. It is thought that he might have been authorized to present the application of his institution for membership at the meeting, and that his inability to be present postponed the action until the spring meeting of the conference, scheduled for May 7, at Davis.

Next Meeting Date The meeting set the date of the annual conference track and field meet, and tennis meet, on May 7, also at Davis.

Chico State and the California Aggies were authorized to continue to allow freshmen to participate in varsity athletics because of the small enrollments of the two schools.

The gathering approved proposed football schedules for next year, and wound up its sessions by electing officers for 1938. Dr. E. L. Probsting of the California Aggies was elected president.

Uniforms Received For Military Men

Twenty-nine uniforms were received last week by the military department and issued to the junior officers of the battalion.

The uniforms, which are exactly like those of the senior officers, were ordered from Chicago several weeks ago, Capt. Henry Isbell said yesterday.

Cadet lieutenants who received their uniforms, are: John Barrett, Bill Byington, Ben Cardinal, Kenneth Day, John Etchemendy, Harry Galloway, Fred Laing, Fred McIntyre, Harry Mornston, Walter Powers, John Radovich, Allen Rives, Dick Roche, and Walter Wilcox.

Conference contests for the forthcoming season were scheduled during the meet, with Nevada being slated against all four conference opponents.

Nevada's conference games for next year are as follows: Oct. 8—Chico, here. Oct. 22—Fresno State, here. Oct. 28—College of Pacific, at Stockton.

Nov. 5—Cal Aggies, Woodland. Three other contests are to be on next year's schedule, but will not be announced until early in January, Dashiell said.

ARE MEN GETTING WEAKER? SCRIBE SAYS NO!

By MUSSEL BOUND Are men of Nevada getting weaker? This important question was being raised on the campus after tabulations had been completed on the recent strength tests given by the Physical Education department.

To say the least, they surely disappointed the idealistic dreams of the weaker sex. Formerly some man of brawn and muscles performed a Herculean feat or two, but this year we find many competing for the weakling class.

In previous years such men as Bill Grubbs, Harry Bradley, and Morey West set records which their classes were proud of; however, this year not one student was able to duplicate any record feats of preceding years.

In fact, the direct opposite seemed to prevail, as a few freshmen were able to chin themselves once only.

Let us reminiscence a little Bill Grubbs as a sophomore was able to jump back and forth over a hurdle 158 times. Even the recorder was fatigued after witnessing this feat. Morey West was able to chin himself thirty times. Harry Bradley, with his massive hands, almost broke the gripping machines. Yet today our freshmen and sophomores were unable to offer anything outstanding in strength displays.

Hank Bryant, football player, surpasses all other students over the hurdles with a total of 60 jumps.

Maybe this is the solution to this decline of masculine power. It might be only a joke that the students are playing on "Doc" Martie. The students are becoming so intelligent that the strength tests are only a routine that must be done to satisfy the whims of the P. E. department, and it seems that very few of them are exerting enough effort to work up a heat.

School Acquires Additional Land North of Campus

Large Athletic Field Will Be Built For Intramural Sports Competition

The University of Nevada this week came into complete possession of 26 acres of land north of Mackay field which will be used as a supplementary playing field for men.

The last payment was made on the property this week, completing transactions begun last year. Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the university, said today. The land, which was formerly part of the Evans estate, extends from the Western Pacific railroad on the east to Virginia street on the west.

A WPA project has already been approved by Washington and signed by the university as sponsor to level four acres during the winter.

Improvement Project
The expected project will begin during January or February and will probably be completed late in the spring of 1938. A watering system will be installed in the four acres, grass seed will be planted, and a baseball backstop will be erected.

Contrary to some expectations, the field will not be ready for the intramural baseball contests and may not be used for at least two years in order to enable the sod to become firmly implanted.

When the sod has become completely developed, the area will become a field upon which any football squads, other than the ones which need to be on Mackay field, can play.

When all work on the fields are completed, all baseball contests will be played on this turf as the area will include several football areas and at least two good baseball fields.

It is being planned to convert the ground now used by students as a baseball field into an extended women's field as soon as the men's playing fields are completed.

Press Club Hears Financial Report

Principal business at the monthly meeting of the Press club Tuesday night was the acceptance of the financial report by treasurer, Hudson Lee. Expenses of the high school editors' convention held last month were discussed, and the group decided to take action at collecting outstanding bills against three high schools who failed to pay the registration fee at the convention. Definite plans for next semester's activities, both social and business will be outlined at the first meeting to be held January 11, according to Max Jensen, president.

Publication's Board Will Submit Requisition

Members of the publications board will submit for Finance Control's approval a list of equipment needed by the Sagebrush and Artemisia, Max Jensen, chairman of the group announced yesterday.

The funds for the expenditure will come from a surplus of funds built up from the publications last year. One-third of the surplus from the publications in any one year is set aside for use by the board for either Sagebrush or Artemisia to be used within one year following the accrual of the surplus.

Publications heads have indicated that filing cabinets, additions to the cut morgue, and additional desk space is needed, but an estimate of needs and approximate cost will be made in detail by the editors and business managers before the requisition is presented to the Finance Control for approval. The next meeting of the Finance Control will be early next semester. John Brackett and Sam Wilson were appointed to list the needs of each publication.

Graduate Applies For Name Change

Elmer Herbert Johnson, who graduated from the University in May 1937 as a mining engineer, will be known by the name of Elmer Burrus, if a petition to change his name that was filed in the Reno district court early this week is granted.

While attending the university, Johnson was known by the name of Burrus. He adopted this name to avoid confusion in obtaining passports and visas which are frequent in his business. In the petition he states that Burrus is his stepfather's name.

The petition was prepared in Reno by Johnson's attorneys and then sent to him at Lima, Peru where it was signed and witnessed by the United States consul, then returned to Reno for filing. A hearing will be held on January 27 before Judge T. F. Moran.

The SAE freshmen will give the upperclassmen a dinner next Wednesday night. After the dinner a Christmas dance will be held with Morgan Mills' orchestra furnishing the music.

Here's a restful bit of information: Mr. Hammock is one of the officials of the Taylor Mattress Company of Taylor, Texas.

Meeting Is Held By Faculty Club

Members of the Education department furnished entertainment for the Faculty club at a meeting held Monday night.

Dr. Harold N. Brown, speaking on the "New College of Columbia University," told how this teacher's training school emphasized the responsibility of the student for his work.

It takes from four to five years to complete the course at the school, and includes an eight to ten months trip in Europe. There are no grades, but written statements are given by the instructors.

The school is restricted to 300 students and the admission requirements are high. A number of different types of tests are given before the student may enter.

Professor J. P. Puffinbarger spoke about what certain universities are attempting in the way of personnel, and guidance of procedure with their students.

Miss Edith Ruebsam discussed the independent study plans being carried on in typical colleges and universities which are designed to throw more responsibility for education upon the student.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed, and Dean and Mrs. Maxwell Adams served refreshments.

D. Clark Chosen For Internship

David G. Clark, '34, was this week selected for a surgical internship at the Presbyterian hospital in New York, according to word received by his father, President Walter E. Clark.

Clark was a pre-medical student at the university until 1934, when he transferred to Columbia university for advanced studies. He will graduate from the institution next fall.

The Presbyterian hospital is one of New York's largest and is directly connected with Columbia medical school.

STATE MAGAZINE FEATURES CAMPUS SCENES

The November issue of "Nevada Highways and Parks," the Nevada department of highways official bimonthly magazine, is almost entirely devoted to the University of Nevada.

The cover of the issue is a photograph of the gates of the university. All through the magazine are pictures and comments on the various buildings around the campus. There are views of students on the campus, and some scenes showing students at work in the classrooms. There are 16 pictures, each one showing a different phase of campus life.

The history of the university is traced from the time it was established in 1869, until the present time.

The title of the article is "Nevada University Credit to State." In a brief summary, the publication gives credit to the institution for its progress, beauty and high scholastic records.

President W. E. Clark, in a letter to Fred G. Gredlich, editor of the magazine, extended his appreciation for the appearance of the story, and the way it was handled.

Two hundred copies of the November issue were given to the university for its own purposes. About 15,000 copies of the magazine were printed, and they were sent all over the United States.

Group Will Hold Writer's Contest

Urging university students to enter, Edwin Semenza this week announced an original one-act play contest for play writers in Nevada, which is being sponsored by the Reno Little Theater group.

Rules for the contest are:
1. It is open to everyone.
2. The contest ends in March.
3. The three winning plays will be produced by the Little Theater afterwards.
4. The first and second plays will receive prizes of $20 each and the third play will receive a $10 prize.
